Flames ripped through the Greg Keller residence early Sunday morning, forcing the family out of their home for the holidays, according to Bingham Township Fire Chief Lloyd Booms, whose department was called to the scene at 2:43 a.m.

"Keller's wife was wakened up in the middle of the night when she heard a crackling noise, and she woke her husband up," Booms said, adding the crackling sound was fire inside an upstairs bedroom wall of the 2-story wood frame house. "They got out with their 3 children and called" the fire depart-

Board fine tunes millage wording

Novesta Township officials fine tuned language for a special road millage request during a monthly township board meeting last week. Township Clerk Kathy

Newell reported the board decided to request 1.5 mills for 4 years. The proposal, which would raise about $35,000 per year, will be placed on the February bal-

If the request is approved, Newell said, one mill would be used for road maintenance and the remaining half mill would go towards road construction projects.

Township voters approved a special one-mill road tax for 3 years in August 1996. The vote was the township's third attempt in as many years to secure additional funding for road improve-

In a related matter, the board voted to seek cost estimates from the Tuscola County Road Commission for paving Kelly Road, from Englehart Road to Crawford Road, and Dodge Road, from Shabbona Road to Severance Road. Newell, who reported the board will also request estimates for gravel on Phillips and Elmwood roads, said no final decision will be made to proceed with the work until the township receives the estimates.

In other business during the Dec. 6 meeting, the board:

•Tabled a request from MMR Ambulance officials to increase the fees paid for ambulance service in the

'We're paying $2 (per resident) and they want to double it to $4," said Newell, who estimates the township population at about 1,500 residents. "They were very adamant that if they didn't get it, there would be no ambulance because they couldn't keep it going," she said.

•Tabled a ditch clean-out petition submitted by Englehart Road resident Francis Delong, pending clarification on the specific location of the ditch.

•Discussed residents' requests to extend a culvert and replace a guardrail at the intersection of Cemetery and Severance roads. The existing guardrail has been knocked down repeatedly, and residents feel the structure is too close to the roadway, Newell said.

•Noted there are 2 vacancies on the township's board of review. Anyone interested in serving a 2-year term is asked to contact the town-istration fee for any township official who wishes to attend the Michigan Township Association annual meeting scheduled for Jan. 19-21 in Lansing.

•Discussed the search for an individual or group to man the township's recycling trailer one Saturday each month. Officials are still looking for a replacement for the local Boy Scouts, who will no longer man the trailer after this month. Newell said the job pays $240 annually.

•Received a request from cemetery Sexton Connie Benitez, who asked that VFW Post 3644, Cass City. remove 2 stumps and plant 2 new trees at the cemetery. Newell explained that post members received permission from the township to removed the trees in an effort to prevent damage to a memorial.

Newell said the stumps in question are flush with the ground and don't represent a hazard, however, the board has been asked to pass on the request to the local VFW

O-G board okays new teacher pact

The Owen-Gage Board of Education unanimously approved a new certified staff contract Monday night for the district's 21 teachers, who will receive a 2.76-percent pay hike this school

The action followed an hour-long executive session.

The pact has already been ratified by the teachers, whose pay increase is in line with the county average, according to Owen-Gage Education Association President Sandy Parks.

The new contract replaces a 2-year labor agreement that gave the district's teachers raises of 3.75 percent and 2.8 percent in 1997-98 and 1998-99, respectively.

Under the pact, teachers' pay will range from $26,538 for a new staff member with a bachelor's degree to $42,791 for a teacher with a master's degree and 12 years of experience.

Parks, who serves as the union's chief negotiator, said there are few changes in the teachers' fringe benefit pack-

There has been a shift away from retirement incentives, Parks said. Now, she added, that money is being put into longevity pay, which rewards long term service. For example, teachers receive $500 in longevity pay after 12 years with the district, $1,700 at 15 years and $1.900 at 21 years.

In a related matter during the monthly meeting, Board President Paul Hunter appointed himself along with trustees Randy Howard and Brenda Kretzschmer to a committee charged with making recommendations for non-certified staff contracts. Trustee Jeff Faist will serve as an alternate on the committee.

In other business Monday, the board:

•Approved 3 of 4 additions to the district's recently approved Internet Use Policy. Added were a provision in which students who accidentally access improper information will not be disciplined if they immediately notify a teacher or supervi-

Teen sentenced in fatal crash

A Millington teen was sentenced to jail Friday in the 1998 traffic death of a Millington youth.

Matthew M. Mays, 18, was sentenced to 180 days in the county jail, with 90 days deferred, and 24 months probation for his plea of no contest to attempted vehicular manslaughter. He was also ordered to pay $900 in costs and fines.

The charge stemmed from the Sept. 27, 1998, death of Evan Paul Johnson, 12. Johnson was riding his bicycle in a residential area near his home when he was struck by a car driven by Mays, who was 17 at the time. Tuscola County Sheriff's deputies reported the boy was then struck by a pickup truck driven by Joshua Long of Millington, who was also 17 at the time.

Grinding out success

Vatter turns hobby into successful business

Joe Vatter got his first taste of sausage making years ago in the kitchen at Erla's Food Center and Meat Packing in Cass City.

Since then, the Ubly area resident has used his skills and experience to transform a hobby into a unique business of his own.

In short, Vatter is grinding out success thanks to a supportive family and the discriminating tastes of customers who will accept nothing short of "Joe's Recipe" when it comes to enjoying the fruits of their hunting labors.

"Every product that we make is distinctly different from the others," Vatter commented Friday in the custom processing facility at his East Cass City Road residence, where he and a handful of family members transform venison into a variety of treats, including summer sausage, smoked brats, smoked Polish and Italian sausage, breakfast sausage and jerky along with BBQ, snack stick, pepper, jalapeno and Cajun meat products.

"That's the key - this business offers a unique alternative to venison steaks and roasts. We have such a great variety.

"One of the big reasons we're successful is that we're very particular about what comes in here," added Vatter, who accepts only boneless venison from his customers. "The meat has to be clean and fresh.

"The quality of meat coming in is good, so the product is good."

Vatter, who has 20 years in the sausage-making business, recalled his start in Cass City. He had worked construction for a couple of years after school, and was getting ready to leave Michigan's oppressive employment picture at the time when Richard Erla hired him and introduced him to the sausage kitchen at Erla's.

Vatter, who has also worked for Maurer's Meat Processors near Ubly, took a job with Marshall's Distributing in Cass City 10 years ago. But the demand for his sausage recipe, recently renamed "Joe's Smokin Recipe", prompted him to set up shop at home while continuing to work for Marshall's.

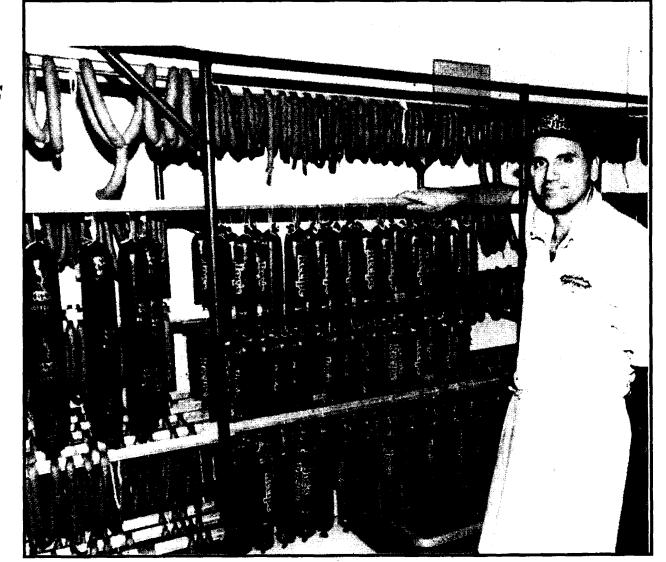

With the blessing of his employer as well as his wife, Ann, and daughter Rhea, 12, Vatter transformed a 25-foot by 12-foot garage into a processing facility with a single smokehouse.

"It started out as a hobby, but it turned into a full-time business 4 months out of the year. I average an additional 40 hours a week for sure" during the hunting seasons, he said.

"Every year, we expand we've grown that much," he said during a tour of the facility, which now measures 50 feet by 25 feet and includes a reception area, processing and packaging rooms, and 4 smokehouses, including one with a maximum capacity of 500 pounds of meat. Another 12-foot by 12-foot area serves as a cooler.

The facility is state inspected and licensed, according to Vatter, who said he incorporates inspectors' recommendations into his operation. During production, he added, when you aren't working, you're cleaning.

Please turn to page 5.

VETERAN SAUSAGE maker Joe Vatter says his original recipe is still the most popular, but the barbecue stick is a close second. Vatter has turned a hobby into a growing family business that is expected to process some 50,000 pounds of venison this year.

Meg's Peg Bubba Claus

by Melva E. Guinther

We really appreciate all the clever Christmas articles, as well as others, passed along to us by readers. If we don't print them all this year, we'll keep them on file for next.

Fred MacKay of Columbus, Ga., who must still be a northerner at heart, sent us this letter by author Chris Johnson last year, and we saved it for this Christmas season.

An open letter to the citizens of the Bi-City area from Santa Claus:

Dear ya'll:

I regret to inform you that, effective immediately, I will no longer be able to serve your area on Christmas Eve. Due to recent changes in my union contract renegotiated by North American Fairies and Elves Local 209, I now serve only certain areas of northern Wisconsin and west Michigan. I also get longer breaks for milk and cookies.

However, I'm certain that your children will be in good hands with my replacement, my third cousin from the South Pole, Bubba Claus. He shares my goal of delivering toys to all the good boys and girls, but there are a few differences between us, such as:

*There is no danger of a Grinch stealing your presents from Bubba Claus, who has a gun rack on his sleigh and a bumper sticker that reads "These toys insured by Smith & Wesson.'

*Instead of milk and cookies, Bubba prefers that children leave an RC and pork skins on the fireplace. And Bubba doesn't smoke a pipe. He does dip a little snuff, though, so please have a spit pulled by floppy-eared flyin' coon dogs instead of reindeer. I loaned him my reindeer one time and Rudolph's head now rests over Bubba's fireplace.

*You won't hear "On Comet, on Cupid, on Donner and Blitzen" when Bubba Claus arrives. Instead you'll hear, "On Earnhardt, on Wallace, on Martin and Labonte. On Rudd, on Jarrett, on Elliot and Petty."

*"Ho, ho, ho!" has been replaced by "Yeehaw!" And you also are likely to hear Bubba's elves respond, "I heard that!"

*The usual Christmas movie classics such as "Miracle on 34th Street" and "Ernest Saves Christmas" will not be shown in your area. Instead, you'll see some lesser known movies about Bubba Claus made in the late 1970s. Many feature Burt Reynolds as Bubba Claus, Jackie Gleason as a Grinch who says "You scumbum!" a lot, and dozens of state patrol cars crashing

*Lovely Christmas songs have been sung about me, including Elvis' "Here Comes Santa Claus" and Madonna's remake of "Santa Baby." Until this year, songs about Bubba Claus have been played only on AM stations in Mississippi. They include such classics as Mark Chesnutt's "Bubba Claus Shot the Jukebox", David Allan Coe's "Willie, Waylon, Bubba Claus and Me" and Hank Williams Jr.s' "If You Don't Like Bubba Claus, You Can Kiss My Icicle."

(If you happen to be from the south, just remember that I didn't write it.)

Reasons People Choose Cass City Schools

The Cass City Public School District is viewed as an excellent school system by both our community and neighboring communities. We are very fortunate to have a supportive public, which understands the value of having a strong and healthy public school system. Our children are provided quality educational programs in a safe and caring environment.

Over the year, many people have joined our community. One of the reasons a good number have chosen to live here, is directly because of our schools. I wish to share some of the reasons people have provided as reasons they used to send their children to our schools:

- *Love our Early Childhood Education Center
- *Like the option of traditional and multi-age elementary classrooms
- *Layout of the new middle school
- *Variety of high school offerings in addition to core subjects such as: foreign language, vocal music, advanced art, debate, forensics, theater, industrial arts, life skills, instrumental music
- *Reading Recovery program *Special education inclusion
- *Advance technology available for students *Well maintained facilities
- *Competent teachers and administrators

The Cass City Public School staff will continue to strive for high student academic achievement, while providing educational services in a safe environment in order for all students to become caring and productive citizens.

This crossed my mind last. week as I sat in my 33-yearold tent cooking on my 30year-old stove. I realized my boat has passed its fortieth birthday, also, and my tractor is nearly as old as I am.

I'm not complaining, though. There's something about old equipment I find reassuring.

Old equipment is like old friends. You have a pretty good idea what they will do and what they won't do.

I own a new tent and a modern camp stove, but the new stuff will never replace the old-timers. The old tent and stove have been through thick and thin, and I've witnessed every bit of it.

My wife and I bought the umbrella tent from Sears the year after we were married. We loaded our '64 Chevy with camping gear, tied a boat on top, and headed for Canada on a fishing trip.

The worst thing about that trip was my constant fretting about where we were going to freeze our fish. The second worst thing was we didn't catch any fish.

A few years later I noticed campgrounds in my home state of Ohio were empty all winter. Maybe I should buy a woodburning stove like the sheepherders used? Then I could go camping in the win-

Students share holiday spirit

Christmas is right around the corner and Cass City High School students are gearing up so that everyone in Cass City has a meal on , their plate and a toy under their tree.

Members of the Honor Society are getting ready to go door to door to collect food. They will be heading out Saturday, Dec. 18, between 9 a.m. and 12 noon. They are going to get to as many houses in town as possible. They call their annual event F.E.T.C.H, which stands for Feed Everyone This Christmas Holiday.

Dave Hoard, advisor for the National Honor Society, said, "It is a good opportunity for kids in NHS to help the needy people in the Cass City area.

This event has been going on now for years. The event used to be run by the high school student council but they recently turned it over to the National Honor Society. NHS hosts it, but they count on volunteers from the high school to help.

This year they even put boxes in each of the English classes grades 9-11 and in the government class for the seniors. The grade with the most food will win a prize.

They will also be running things a little differently this year. Along with going door to door, they will be riding on a hay wagon. The students will be singing Christmas carols to get everyone in the Christmas spirit. Everyone is encouraged to save a canned good or 2 to donate to program F.E.T.C.H.

Amber Dunn, head of the F.E.T.C.H committee, said, "We're going to try something new and hope to get a lot more people involved if possible.

If you have a high school son or daughter, encourage them to come and help out. It's a great feeling knowing

As I mentioned in a previous week's article, the high school recently held a Christmas dance. In place of money, students had to bring a toy at a minimum of a $5.00 value.

It was a huge success. The high school collected around 100 toys and $90 in cash. The toys were delivered to the former Kritzman's building where the Christmas for Kids station is headquar-

"It was really cool taking all of the toys. I had 3 garbage bags full of toys plus a box full. I was surprised to see how many kids brought toys. When I dropped them off at the Kritzman building, Mrs. Lohela was so excited", said Ashley Ouvry.

"Our Student Council had worked very hard to become more giving. As a result it has led the student body to be more giving. The result was displayed at the dance", said Mrs. Sean Zawilinski, advisor of the high school student council.

I would like to say that a lot of credit goes to Mrs. Zawilinski. Her example of hard work and dedication to school activities and school spirit has definitely influenced students to be better leaders and harder workers.

I attended the Christmas dance and it was a lot of fun. It's a lot more fun knowing that you are there having a good time and it is for a good cause. I couldn't believe all the toys I saw when I arrived at the dance. I also plan on attending F.E.T.C.H. You get to bond with classmates and collect food. I hope that a lot of kids come and help and that everyone has a great

Stop canal give-away!

Dear Editor, The Cass City Chronicle:

I wish to comment on a significance of the date of December 31, 1999, which I fear most Americans are unaware of. For if we do nothing to prevent it, our U.S. Canal in Panama, one of the world's most strategic waterways, will pass from our hands at the close of this year. I fear that the vast majority of Americans are unaware that Russia, China, and Cuba are already positioned to take control of our canal that is so vital to U.S. economic and national secu-

As Admiral Thomas H. Moorer, former chairman of the joint chiefs of staff, pointed out in the March 29, 1999, issue of the New American Magazine (headquartered at P.O. Box 8040, Appleton, Wis.): In 1996 while China was illegally pouring millions of dollars into Clinton's re-election effort, it was also funneling huge amounts of cash to Panamanian politicians to ensure that its front company, Hutchison Whampoa of Hong Kong, could move in when we vacate.

As the 1999 road construc-

In 1997 Panama turned over the American-built port facilities at both ends of the canal to Hutchison. Hutchison also has options on Rodman Naval Station, Howard Air Force Base, and other military facilities of ours to be relinquished this year, thus giving communist China not only the ability to deny us access to the canal at times when our national defense requires it but will put us at risk of Chinese missiles launched from Panama bases just 900 miles from our borders!

In view of media reports that the canal give-away treaties have never been legally ratified in violation of Article IV of the Constitution since the House of Representatives was by-passed when the senate and White House transferred the canal and zone alone, violating the separation of powers doctrine of our system of government, let's contact our congressman immediately and demand that this illegal canal give-away be stopped

It continues to be our goal to have 90 percent of our roads and bridges in good condition by 2007 and with the record amount of work completed this year it is safe to say we are well on our

Now with winter weather upon us, I'd like to remind everyone, on behalf of all snow removal crews, to adjust their driving habits to help make the season safer for all.

Please give all snow removal equipment as much room as possible when you're out sharing the road. Snow and salt trucks are large, heavy machines, making them more difficult to maneuver than smaller vehicles, especially on slippery

Their job is to clear the way for motorists, often working around the clock and weekends. It is important for drivers to remember not to crowd the plow, as there is often snow, ice and salt coming off the trucks and being discharged from the ends of the plow. When in doubt, slow down and give the drivers extra room.

Lastly, please remember it is against the law in Michishoulders. With the increase Ed Nemechek in the number of pickup trucks with plows, the incidence of snow being pushed into or across the roadway or shoulders has increased. This can make driving conditions more hazardous for every-

Vatter grinding out success in home business

"I would say the first year we started out with about 10,000 pounds" of venison, he said. "We've grown 10,000-plus pounds every year. We're hoping to hit 50,000 pounds this year."

At the peak of the firearm deer season, Vatter along with a sister-in-law, brotherin-law and father all work side by side, grinding, stuffing, smoking and packaging. Vatter's wife mans the reception area, which sees an average of 500 customers during the 16-day regular firearm season, while daughter Rhea operates the till.

"If it weren't for my family and Marshall's, I couldn't do this on the side," he noted.

Vatter credits word-ofmouth with much of his new business.

'We have people coming as far as Lansing and Grand Rapids, and we have people who are as local as Ubly. There are a lot of people from the Detroit area who hunt up here," he said.

Vatter says he listens to his customers' suggestions and tries to offer new services, such as vacuum packing, whenever he can. "The customers are number one to me. Marshall's has taught me that and I've learned that," he said.

'What I really love about this business is it really brings the family together," Vatter added. "It's a lot of work and a lot of hours, but the rewards are great.'

Green calls drain code bill balanced

Michigan House of Representatives last week adds environmental safeguards and increases public input concerning the state's drain code, according to the bill's sponsor, Rep. Mike Green (R-Mayville).

"This legislation represents a fair and balanced approach to a complex issue," Green said. "We have made common-sense reforms and brought the drain code up to House Bill 4803 was designed to replace Michigan's current drain code, which dates back to 1956.

The new code would improve environmental safeguards by requiring drain commissioners to examine the environmental impact of building new drains and maintaining existing drains, according to Green.

He said the legislation would also increase public participation; residents would have more opportunities for public hearings, and drain commissioners would be required to provide more information up front, including preliminary engineering analyses and cost estimates.

The measure would strengthen residents' rights by improving the appeals process by allowing resident appeals in circuit court, which would have access to all information presented at public hearings regarding a specific project, Green continued. Currently, he explained, drain commissioners are permitted to select which information is presented in

The legislation also provides for improved maintenance of existing drains, which must be inspected at least every 3 years. Under the measure, maintenance funds would increase from $2,500 to $5,000 per mile, giving drain commissioners greater resources for repairs.

Homeowners' property rights would also enjoy increased protections, according to Green. Currently, drain commissioners do not have to report property easements, but the legislation would require them to do so for all property easements in

Legislation approved by the the register of deeds office within 10 years of the law taking effect.

Finally, Green said, House Bill 4803 would establish a fairer assessment process.

Under the current system, he explained, there is no requirement for drain commissioners to consider the effect of the drain when making an assessment. Under the new legislation, however, drain commissioners would be required to base assessments on whether property will benefit from a new drain. Property improved by a new drain would, therefore, have a higher assessment than property not improved or damaged.

"For 3 years I have worked to build a comprehensive and thoughtful legislative package," Green said.

He acknowledged some criticism of the bill, but maintained the legislation is sound.

"The drain code is a very complex issue," he added. We have put together a package with bipartisan support. I understand that certain special interest groups are unsatisfied with some provisions. The nature of compromise is that no one gets everything they want. Considering the scope of the issue, this legislation represents a fair and sensible ap-

"I believe that Rep. Green should really be applauded for his handling of the bill." she said, adding it's evident Green has done his homework and understands the "nuts and bolts" of the drain code.

'This was a much-needed change," she said, adding the legislation, if approved, will not mean any drastic changes in how her office operates. "It's going to be a workable bill for Tuscola County."

Hawk cagers top Harbor Beach points as the Pirate offense

The preliminaries are over for the Cass City Red Hawk basketball team. Tuesday's game with Ubly was the last of 3 home games in a row. Now the Hawks go on the road Friday for the first Greater Thumb West league game of the season against the Lakers, one of the preseason favorites for the title.

Coach Jim Green's Hawks should be entering the game on a high note after the team posted a satisfying victory over visiting Harbor Beach Friday, 53-51.

The game was every bit as close as the final score indicates although both teams had sizable leads during the game. In the second quarter the Pirates forged in front behind Nathan Wruble, who scored 7 points in a 10-0 run to push the Beachers in front 25-16. Wruble was a oneman offensive force for the visitors and ended the night with 29 points.

At the half Cass City trailed 25-20 but the third quarter belonged to the Hawks. Craig Emmert came to life with 3 hoops and a free throw. Nathan Brinkman added a trey and 2 2-pointers in the drive that pushed Cass City in front by as many as 10

Tigers handle Hawks in opener

The visiting Caro Tigers withstood a late Cass City rally last Tuesday to win the opening hoop game of the season for both teams, 58-52.

The Tigers moved into an early lead in the first half, helped by the loss of Craig Emmert, who sat out much of the first half with foul trouble.

It was Emmert who sparked the Hawk surge after the intermission. Shut out in the first half, he scored all 16 of his points in the last 2 periods. Coach Jim Green said he was "happy with how we were able to come back, but Caro made the big plays at the crucial times.' The first of these key times came with 4:13 left in the third quarter. Trailing 25-16 at the intermission, Cass City, sparked by 3 baskets by Emmert, went on a 13-5 run to move within a point, 30-

The Tigers answered that challenge to score 10 unanswered points. Tek Wiegert and Pat Lewtschanyn shared the scoring load in the drive with 5 points each.

The Hawks made a second serious run at the Tigers late in the final period.

With 2:46 left in the game, Cass City trailed by a point again, 47-46, and had the ball. The first of 2 turnovers proved fatal as Lewtschanyn and Mike Osborn were deadly from the foul line, converting 7 of 8 opportunities, to propel Caro to the

The Hawks showed considerable strength on the boards, out-rebounding the Tigers, 40-19. But the team had trouble finding the basket, shooting just 33 percent from the floor. Cass City also had trouble taking care of the ball and committed 24 turnovers.

Helping the Pirates close the gap was poor free throw shooting. Cass City missed 6 charity tosses in a row in the last 2 minutes.

Cass City was ahead 53-51 with 18 second left and a wild shot by the visitors missed the mark and Cass City got the rebound. However, the rebounder stepped out of bounds and the Pirates had one second left. The pass was into the post and a desperation shot was launched as the final whistle sounded. It didn't come close and the Hawks' first win of the sea-

Cory Fritz became a house- Todd Squires. hold name in the Thumb over the weekend when he lifted visiting Owen-Gage to an exciting 61-59 North Central Thumb League win at Akron.

With the win, Coach Leon Westover's squad improved to 2-0 on the early campaign heading into this week's games with conference foes Port Hope and Peck. Friday's contest with the Pirates will mark the Bulldogs' home cage opener.

In Westover's gang's opening 2 tilts, the youthful Bulldogs have proven they can win the tight contest. They opened the season with a 79-71 overtime win at AuGres, before dropping Akron-Fairgrove Friday.

Against the Vikings, the 2 schools traded hoops for most of the opening half that ended with the visitors in front 31-30. Bulldog senior Derek Howard, who finished with 12 points and 4 assists, gave the visitors the onepoint margin when he swiped a Viking inbound pass and banked home a 25-footer at the buzzer. Howard's effort gave the visitors some needed steam heading into the break.

The Bulldogs added to Howard's theatrics with a 20-8 run to kick off the final half. Nathan Kain paced the visitors with 8 of his 12 points in the frame following the inter-

However, the Vikings used a 21-8 spurt of their own to draw even with the Bulldogs

Fritz then accounted for the game winner in the final moments when teammate Kain drove the baseline and delivered a beautiful bounce pass to Fritz, who had established position on the weak side. Fritz and Corbin Swiastyn led the Bulldogs' offensive charge with 14 points apiece. Swiastyn tossed in 3 of his team's 6 triples and added 3 of 4 charity tosses in a fine shooting display.

A balanced Bulldog scoring attack led to an opening game win Tuesday at AuGres, where 5 players reached double digit scoring totals in a 79-71 overtime victory.

As could be expected, the Bulldogs looked rusty in the early going, and trailed 21-9 entering the 2nd period. "We need to take better care of the basketball," said Coach Westover. "Thirteen of our 18 turnovers came on bad passes."

AuGres' Steve Stiff, however, appeared to be in mid season form and tossed in 14 of his game high 34 points in the initial half that ended with the Bulldogs trailing

The Bulldogs erased a 7point AuGres advantage in the final period where they nailed 4 shots beyond the 3point arc, including a pair from guard Mellendorf to draw even at 66 at the end of regulation Owen-Gage outscored the hosts 13-5 in the overtime period to earn the win.

Kain led the Bulldogs with 15 points. Swiastyn added 13 points, while Fritz and Mellendorf split 22 markers.

Spikers set to lift season curtain

Coach Beth Howard's rebuilding of the Cass City volleyball program enters its 3rd year Saturday when the Hawks travel to compete at the Caro Invitational tournament.

Howard, who inherited a program that won just 3 games in 1997, compiled 6 victories in 1998 and a career high 14 wins last season. She expects her squad to improve on its win totals again this season.

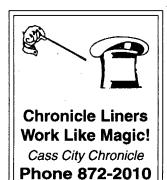

And although the Hawks will sorely miss the front court presence of Shelly Ulfig and Kara Mellendorf from last year's squad that compiled a 14-19-8 overall record, Coach Howard is excited about the upcoming campaign. Ulfig was a first team all-conference performer in her senior year, while Mellendorf earned honorable mention recogni-

"We are young and only have 3 returning players, (but) we have 3 strong attackers and also the height to stop other team attackers," says Howard.

Leading the list of returnees is sophomore Sara Homakie. Homakie, a sky high leaper, finished 2nd to Ulfig in kills last year and is expected to be the team's best offensive weapon. In her freshman season, Homakie received honorable mention all-conference hon-

Also expected to add strength on the front line to the Hawk lineup is returnee Heather Edwards. Edwards, a junior, is an up and coming hitter according to Coach Howard.

Both of the Hawks' front line hitters will benefit from the play of junior setter Monica Dorland. Dorland will be asked to pick up the void left by graduate Carrie Wentworth. Wentworth was selected a Greater Thumb West Conference honorable mention choice in 1999.

Nine juniors make up the bulk of the Red Hawk roster. Becky Bulla and Amy Polega are strong all around players who should see plenty of playing time in the early portion of the season. Kayla Wolschlager and Sherry Luana will add consistency to the Hawk lineup when on the court, while Holli Cooper will offset the loss of the Hawk twin towers along the front line. Junior Jaime Fluegge is the team's quickness player.

Coach Howard has added a pair of freshmen to the roster in Becky Hartel and Deidre Deering. Both are untested, but have impressed Coach Howard with their strong aggressive style of play.

Howard sees Bad Axe as the Roger Parrish collection. Items include an original turn of the century antique "Feather Christmas Tree" made in Austria or Germany of feathers dyed green and trimmed with red holly berries at the end of each branch. Other items on display include a large early oil painting on canvas of "The Christ Child", early framed large Lady Portrait prints, a water color painting of "Red Poinsettias", Roseville Pottery, crockery butter churn, 1902 "turkey feather" pattern glass kerosene lamp, toy telephone, and a red satin glass 'Gone With the Wind" lamp.

In addition, a very special item on display is a complete poetic description of every Christmas display of "Cass City Christmas Town - 1952" written by the late Mrs. William (Elena) Parrish, mother of Roger and Dale Parrish of Cass City, and Mrs. Kenneth (Waunita) Parker Watertown, Wis.

Copies of these poems have been given to the Cass City Historical Society and the Rawson Memorial Library of Cass City.

The public is invited to view the display.

5 YEARS AGO

The Cass City School Board will rent a room in the Jordan College building on Main Street if details can be worked out, and use it for an alternative education program designed to curb dropouts in the system.

Linda Guza, a special education teacher at the local school, is spearheading an effort to place donation canisters in area businesses for cancer stricken Arthur Thorp, 7, of Cass City. Arthur had a tumor removed from his brain in November 1993. Last month, a year later, a second tumor was removed. This time, it's been labeled as a form of cancer. After he had the surgery for the first tumor, he had 2 strokes, and there is a possibility that he will be blind.

Ethel Coller, who died in Cass City in 1987, is making a difference in the lives of 27 college students from Tuscola and Sanilac counties via a scholarship fund established in her will. Each of the recipients, who were selected on the basis of academic performance, financial need and character, has received a $1,000 grant for the fall semester. The scholarships are being issued from the $1.547 million endowment left by the one-time Snover teacher, who made her fortune in the stock market.

nging tree to return

Again this year, the Juniata Baptist Church of Vassar will sponsor a spectacular production of "The Singing Christmas Tree" for the general public.

For over 20 years, the rural congregation has performed a musical program almost every year from within a huge tree-shaped choir loft. The "tree" is decorated with live boughs, lights, and balls, to look like a giant Christmas tree. The structure is built so that the entire choir can get up into it.

Thousands of area residents have viewed the "Singing Tree" program over the years, and many are expected to attend this year's, which will be presented Dec. 18 and 19 at 7 p.m.

In connection with the musical program, a drama will be performed entitled "Then Jesus Came." The story told in this play has a humorous element, but delivers a strong and clear message. The songs that will be sung are both new and familiar, and will be heard before and during the drama.

The Juniata Baptist Church is located between Vassai and Mayville in rural Tuscola County at 5656 Washburn Rd. The auditorium seats 500 people, and a nursery service for babies will be provided. There is no admission charge but a free-will offering will and bits of meat can mean danger for your pet, especially a cat, according to Tuscola County Humane Society officials.

Cats can't spit things out because of those barbs in the back of their mouths. If the string stops moving through the tract, it can create an accordion effect that literally saws a hole in the intestines. Peritonitis follows and, often, death. Baking string should be placed in a plastic bag before disposing of it in a sealed trashcan.

People food such as table scraps and other fatty or sugary foods can cause gas-

Extra activity around your home with guests can cause additional stress for your pet. Try to keep your pet's routine as normal as possible.

Several holiday plants can be poisonous, Christmas cactus, Christmas rose, English holly, mistletoe, cedar, pine, poinsettia, juniper, elderberry, to name a few of the most popular ones.

Urge recycling of Christmas trees

Send your Christmas tree back to nature with the Christmas Compost Project. Your family had a great time choosing the perfect tree for your holiday. Now complete the season by sending your tree back to nature. Gather the family together and bring your Christmas tree in for recycling. Be sure to remove all ornaments and tinsel from your trees.

For each Christmas tree that you bring to the drop-off locations, you will receive a coupon for a free tree seedling that you can pick up at the Tuscola County Soil Conservation District Spring Tree Sale. Plant this free tree to replace the one you enjoyed this Christmas. Trees are a renewable resource that benefits everyone.

Each Christmas, 34 million trees end up in the landfill. Chipping Christmas trees into Christmas Compost (mulch) is the ideal alterna-

Yule dinner at women's club Ladies of the Owendale

Women's Club enjoyed a Christmas catered dinner Tuesday evening at the home of Joyce Sheldon. A festive decor with Christmas dinnerware complimented the bountiful meal. There will be no meeting in January. A discussion was had about the Valentine boxes for the February meeting. Fellowship was enjoyed the rest of the evening.

tive to sending them to the landfill.

Christmas Compost can be composted for later use in the garden. Christmas Compost can also be used around trees and shrubs to help retain moisture and to suppress weeds. If you'd like to take your chips home, please bring a bag. Bring your trees to recycle Saturday only, Jan. 8, from 9 a.m. to 1 p.m. to the Tuscola County Recycling Center, located at 1123 Mertz Rd., Caro, or the Vassar City Hall parking lot at 287 E. Huron St. in Vassar. Kappen Tree Service of Cass City is furnishing the chippers and manpower to create the Christmas Compost. Also assisting in the project are Kevin Stephens, who has taken on this program as an Eagle Scout project, Boy Scout Troop #562, Cub Scout Bear Den #1, Tuscola County Recycling and Tuscola County Soil Conservation.

Camp addition on tap

With one building project well on its way to completion, Bay Shore Camp of Sebewaing has begun another, racing the calendar to beat the firm arrival of snow and sub-zero temperatures.

According to Camp Director Lew Tibbits, the very visible Tabernacle addition has been halted at a stage he called "a little better than roughed in."

The 2-story structure duplicates the early 20th-century architecture of the original Tabernacle, and is attached at a 90-degree angle. The upper story is complete with vinyl siding and door-size horizontal shutters.

"There's still a lot of work to be done on the ground level," said Buildings and Grounds Supervisor Walter Latimer. "But we'll get back to it now and again over the winter. We've got the most of it under control."

In the meantime, Latimer

and crews of volunteer workers are concentrating on the second project slated for winter construction, the addition of a large multi-purpose room to the camp's biggest camper cabin.

The 1650-square foot addition will include a kitchenette, a large meeting/conference area and a fireplace. When finished, the entire facility will be, in effect, a selfcontained mini-retreat center capable of year-round opera-

"That's something that we've needed — and this area has needed — for a long time," asserted Tibbits. "At least once a week, we turn away a group looking for just this kind of facility. They're youth groups, men's or ladies' groups, pastors trying to find someplace to take their staff members on retreat dozens of them every year."

Maximum capacity for the retreat center will be 40, a figure set by the number of beds in the now-existing living quarters. The duplex cabin holds 10 sets of bunk beds and 3 sets of bath/restroom facilities on each side. The meeting room and living quarters will be separated by an airlock designed to keep warm air in the main areas and cold air out.

Cost of the addition is proiected to be somewhere in the $50,000 range and is in hand, thanks to a donor who believes a facility of this nature will benefit countless ministry-related groups. Tibbits and Latimer agree the completed Retreat Center should be available for booking by the fall of 2000.

House supports agriculture bill

State Rep. Mike Green recently joined House members in approving legislation protecting Thumb area agri-

"The backbone of Michigan agriculture is the familyowned farm," said Green, R-Mayville. "We can't afford to lose any more of them to wasteful restrictions."

Senate Bill 205 revises the 1981 Right to Farm Act and protects the property rights of farmers, allowing them to stay profitable and remain in operation.

The act was designed to prevent lawsuits between farmers and their neighbors. It created a new way to deal with noise and odor complaints, allowing the Michigan Department of agriculture to resolve more than 1,300 complaints.

In recent years, local ordinances have increasingly hindered normal farming activities by prohibiting glare, dust or odors from crossing property lines. Because of these restrictive regulations, Michigan farms have faced growing economic hardship, often forcing them to remove land from agricultural production. The measure supersedes these often-confusing regulations and replaces them with a new set of Generally Accepted Agricultural Management Practices created by the MDA.

GAAMP's deal with site selection and manure management and set guidelines on how far farms must be from neighborhoods and schools. They will prevent large-scale "hog hotels" from locating next to a school or residential area. In addition, local governments will retain zoning control.

"I worked long and hard to find a reasonable, common sense approach to preserve the crown jewel of Michigan agriculture - its family farms," Green said. "This legislation helps protect that priceless heritage."

"This new form makes it even easier to change the adtion," Secretary of State Candice Miller said. "It is important we have accurate voter registration files to ensure the integrity of the elections process. By automatically updating the voter registration address at the time the driver license is changed, this new form further reduces the potential for fraud in our elections system."
