Cass City board fields coach concerns Monday

The resignations of 2 long-time teachers in Cass City Schools and a complaint about the handling of players on the junior varsity baseball team highlighted the regular meeting of the school board Monday night at the school.

Leaving the system will be Kathy Iseler who has taught in the elementary grades for 25 years. In a letter to the board, she said that she appreciated her years in Cass City and planned on spending more time with her grandchildren. A surprise resignation was submitted by George Bushong, Bushong is a 30-year veteran in the system. He was band director for 20 years. He switched jobs and for 10 years worked to establish and coordinate the school's computer department. He plans to work for Taylor Publishing Co. selling and servicing yearbooks. He will also serve as a consultant to the school when needed.

Tom and Gin Lounsbury appeared before the board to complain about the way the junior varsity baseball team handled players. They said that 8 members of the team including their son, Joe, were called bench guys. They seldom got to play and were even not allowed to play in 2 practices. How can he get better if he isn't allowed to practice, she asked.

Tom Lounsbury said that he questioned coach Ryan Pritchett about the problem and he said that he would do whatever he could to win. That means using the most talented players and said that players on the bench were learning that not everything in life comes easy.

Trustee Dave Knight said that he was hearing 2 different versions and asked why the coaches were not present to present their side of the case. Athletic director Jeff Hartel said that he told the coaches that he didn't feel it was necessary for them to attend.

The discussion switched to what the coaching philosophy should be for all sports. To examine the issue a committee was formed. Randy Severance, Dave Knight and Teresa Rabideau will speak to the coaches and check with other schools to see how they operate their athletic programs.

OTHER BUSINESS

Donna Emerson and Yvonne Sherman told the board about the Butterfly Garden/reading area under construction near the new Campbell Elementary School Library. They said that special recognition should be given to a former teacher, Dortha Quick, and Dave Nicol for their financial support and volunteer efforts.

The board voted to leave Cass City as a school of choice except for the seventh and eighth grades where admittance will depend on enrollments. It's projected that each grade will be near the maximum with an average of 27.8 students in the seventh grade and 27.2 students in the ninth grade.

The annual year-end school lunch is scheduled for 12 noon Monday, June 11, in the high school cafeteria.

Knight was appointed to represent the district at the Tuscola Intermediate School District election slated Monday, June 4. Candidates for 2 6-year terms are Nancy Lathem and James Brown of Cass City.

Cass City was presented with "good sports" awards for the volleyball and wrestling teams. The awards are based on crowd and team actions during district tournament play.

County okays additional space

Tuscola County Courthouse employees have spent years working in cramped quarters, but now they can look forward to a little more elbow room following the county board's recent approval of a plan to add more space.

Commissioners, working with TSSF Architects, have looked at number of options to relieve the overcrowding, according to county Controller Michael Hoagland.

Those options include the purchase and renovation of an existing building at 420 N. State St., adding onto the county annex building, and construction of 2 freestanding buildings on county-owned property on Cleaver Road.

Hoagland said commissioners felt the option with the most potential is construction of one freestanding building behind the existing courthouse. The structure will be connected to the courthouse by a vestibule. "Court Street will be vacated. The village has already agreed to that," he noted.

The biggest selling points for this option, Hoagland explained, are expansion potential and security.

The building will allow for future expansion through construction of additional floors, he said. "This is step one in solving the space issue. To do this, ideally, we really need 2 or 3 floors, but for now we can take some of the immediate pressure off with this first floor."

As for security, Hoagland continued, entrance into the new building will be through the courthouse, so all visitors will be subject to the new security system in place just inside the front entrance.

Other advantages, he said, are convenience, with all county departments remaining centralized, and construction of a stand-alone building will maintain the historical integrity of the existing courthouse building.

Hoagland estimated the 13,000-square-foot building will cost $1.7 to $2 million. Officials expect to bid out the project in the fall, with construction getting underway in the spring of 2002.

"The board has been able to set aside, at this point, $1.2 million, and we're confident we can, over the next couple of years, set aside the money to complete it," he said. "It will take continued fiscal discipline, and you have to complement the board for embracing a pay-as-you-go plan. There's no bonding - they're going to finance it on their own.

"It's a very good solution and it ties into our financial capabilities."

Hoagland said construction will take 6 months to a year to complete, with the facility opening in late 2002 or early 2003.

Plans call for the prosecutor's office and all district court operations to move into the new facility. "That will free up about 7,000 square feet in the current courthouse," he said.

Commissioners in November 1998 sought voter approval for a $6.5 million courthouse expansion/renovation project designed to

Elkland officials ready to crack down on junk

Elkland Township officials are asking residents who are storing old, inoperative vehicles and other junk in their yards to clean up their act.

The first request is coming in the form of an advertisement, published in the Chronicle, outlining the township's Junk and Dismantled Car Ordinance. The second request, if necessary, will come in the form of a letter.

If it takes a third request, officials say violators can expect to face legal action.

Township Supervisor Dan Erla said Elkland Township Board members have been discussing the issue along with ways to best deal with violations of the ordinance. The consensus, he added, was that the township needs to take some form of action against those who are ignoring the local law. "If we have an ordinance and don't enforce it, why have an ordinance?" he said.

Erla said the violators will have 30 days after the township ordinance is published to start cleaning up their property. "If we don't see any movement (after that), then we're going to take it to the township attorney, and she'll send them a letter," he explained. Residents will then have another 30 days to comply or face legal action.

Erla said the crackdown may not eliminate the problem of junk cars and other property in residential areas, but he believes it will be effective.

"We're not going to get all of them, but if we get the worse ones - where it's really visible - the others will clean up," he said.

The ordinance prohibits parking or storage of "junk, unused, partially dismantled or inoperable motor vehicles, house trailers, tractor-trailers, machinery or new or used parts on any public right-of-way, public property or private premises.

Violators can be charged with a misdemeanor punishable by up to 90 days in jail and fine of up to $100 or both. Each day that violation continues to exist constitutes a separate offense.

Deputies investigate death of motorist

Huron County Sheriff's deputies say a medical problem may have caused a Cass City motorist to leave a roadway near Owendale last week.

The driver, Daniel L. Cooper, 47, was pronounced dead at Schenker Hospital in Pigeon following the 5:13 p.m. accident.

Deputies reported Cooper was southbound on Caseville Road, north of Sebawaing Road, Tuesday when his vehicle left the road, struck a ditch bank and came to rest in a field.

Owendale fire fighters arrived at the scene to find

Cooper unresponsive, according to reports, which state the firemen performed CPR until a Scheurer Ambulance crew arrived.

Fairhaven police also assisted deputies at the scene. The accident remains under investigation.

Making the call

MHSAA honors Erla for 40 years of officiating

Dan Erla's hobby provides him with exercise, some excitement and plenty of satisfaction.

But it also opens him up to some very public criticism. In fact, there have been times when he and his partners found themselves making a hasty retreat to avoid a confrontation with overzealous parents.

Erla is a sports official. It's a job that has taken the Cass City man to basketball, baseball and football games at schools throughout the Thumb for years.

Erla is among dozens of officials who were honored for their service during the Michigan High School Athletic Association's (MHSAA) 22nd annual Officials' Awards and Alumni Banquet, held May 12 in Lansing. Officials presented him with a gold plated whistle encased in a pyramid-shaped award during the ceremony.

Erla, who was among a select group of officials honored for 40 years or more of service, got his start in officiating in 1958. "I was doing games up in Sebawaing. I started doing the junior high games, and Gib was my first partner," he said, referring to Sebawaing resident Gilbert Mueller, who was also honored as a 40-year MHSAA Mid Thumb official. "That's how I got started. We used to work men's and women's basketball games. There was a men's league here, and we started doing JV games. Then we branched out into football."

Over the years, Erla has officiated at junior high, freshman, JV and varsity contests, although in recent years he cut back to working primarily JV and varsity football games.

"I don't know of any school I haven't worked in one sport or another, from Port Austin down to Imlay (City)," he said.

"I really do like football, and it's a good way to stay in shape. It really is."

Erla recalled his training back in the 1950s involved working with more experienced officials. "The guys kind of took us under their wing," he said. "(Today) they're trying to recruit young guys, and they've got a

Memorial Day rites scheduled

by Starr Golembiewski Staff Writer

Monday's Memorial Day services will honor veterans who fought and died for their country.

"A lot of towns don't make a big day out of Memorial Day, but Cass City is old fashioned," said Jack Esau, a lifetime member of Veterans of Foreign Wars Post 3644, Cass City.

This is Esau's 42nd year as Master of Ceremonies for the Memorial Day services.

Weather permitting, at 7 a.m. VFW members will line the entrance of the Elkland Township, Novesta Township and Grant Township cemeteries with over 200 large flags to honor veterans, Esau said. "It's quite impressive," he added.

"It's an emotional service," said Norma Wallace, Elkland Township clerk. "Seeing the flags makes you very much aware of who's fought for your country."

The parade starts at 10 a.m. from Chemical Bank, 6363 W. Main St., and proceeds to Elkland Township Cemetery. Among the groups slated to participate are the Girl Scouts, Boy Scouts and Cass City High School's band.

Veterans wanting to participate in the parade can meet at the VFW Hall, 4533 Weaver St., Esau said. "We encourage all veterans to come and wear their uniforms if they can," he added.

The program will start at 10:30 a.m. The Rev. Mark Todd, pastor of the Living Word Church of God, Cass City, will be the guest speaker, and a firing squad along with the Cass City High School Band will display their talents.

Novesta's Memorial Day program starts at 1 p.m., Esau said, and will feature the same speaker.

The Grant Township Memorial Day service will be held at the Grant Cemetery on Bach Road, Gageton, Sunday May 27, at 2 p.m. The Owen-Gage band will play and march throughout the cemetery with area veterans, and the Rev. Donald Ault, pastor of the Gageton Nazarene Church, will speak. In addition, there will be a flag-folding ceremony.

Well, Mother's Day has come and gone again, and no doubt a lot of preachers trotted out the proverbial "Virtuous Woman" (from Proverbs, chapter 31) that Sunday as a role model for wives and mothers.

You can't deny the woman's virtues. She's the biblical Martha Stewart, for goodness sake. And like dear Martha, some of us have just about had it with her.

I have a sign in my kitchen that says "Martha Stewart doesn't live here. It's a good thing." (Actually, anyone entering my kitchen wouldn't need the sign.)

Anyway, this wonder woman from Proverbs was on the job early every morning and late every night, and she never got tired.

She had uncanny business sense, engaged in profitable real estate transactions and ran a vineyard successfully, while never once neglecting her family.

(And anyone else he can get to help.)

The full-blown tourist season starts with Memorial Day, but someone forgot to tell the hoards of bike riders touring on Sunday. Between Ludington and Baldwin on U.S. 10, a distance of 25 miles, we noted hundreds (no exaggeration) of riders traveling alone or in groups. We counted one group with 24 bikers.

Sometimes a restaurant can be average and still have a feature worth noting. One of them is the Old Hamlin Restaurant, 122 W. Ludington Ave. in downtown Ludington.

The fish dinners were good, not exceptional. One was whitefish and the other walleye. It included a salad and soup bar. The walleye was $7.95 and the whitefish $8.95. Give it a 6 on the one-10 scale.

The dinners also came with homemade bread. Not the "homemade" variety that a store buys in a nearby bakery. We had 2 types, white and orange. It was great and wonderful. While the rest of the meal rates a 6, give the bread a 10.

Just a reminder. As usual when a holiday falls on Monday, the Chronicle delays publication for a day. The paper next week will be on the newsstands Wednesday and delivered through the mail on Thursday.

The Haire Net

If you were looking for the positively worst time in the last quarter century to raise funds in Cass City, now would be the winner hands-down.

General Cable is closing. Walbro Corp. is looking at ways to slim down its employment costs. The market has gone into a sharp reverse and energy costs have skyrocketed.

The community has been tapped for the erection of the Assisted Living Complex now under construction. Dairy prices have plummeted.

That doesn't leave much for the committee working for a new indoor swimming pool to be optimistic about. It wouldn't have been surprising to see it quietly fold its tent and call it a day.

That hasn't happened. Not yet. There is a glimmer of hope that the $1 million needed, in addition to the three-quarters of a million dollars announced in grants from 2 sources, might still be raised.

There has been a response from one of 36 letters sent to philanthropic foundations asking for grants. If it should mature into a sizeable grant there still might be a new indoor pool at the school.

Without it there is no chance at all. The committee has decided not to seek a millage tax to raise any of the needed funds. Potential donors don't want to commit and then later face a tax also.

The low-key fund-raising campaign has raised about $140,000 in pledges. How much would be needed from the prospective grant to make the project viable? All Chairman Ed Fox says is that it needs to be substantial. My guess is that a minimum would be $200,000 to $250,000. Even that won't guarantee the pool and senior citizen walking area.

If after all options have been explored and the drive comes up short by $100,000 or less the thought here is that the no tax edict should be re-considered.

It would be criminal if $1.650 million would be lost if so close to the goal. There probably never will be another opportunity like this one. A chance to make our school more attractive in these days of school choice. A chance to make our community more attractive to residents and potential residents alike.

We have until June 30 to see it all come together or fall by the wayside.

The back forty

Racial profiling has been much in the news recently. City police departments are spending a lot of time determining if racial bias is a factor in deciding who gets stopped for traffic violations — and how folks are treated after they're stopped.

I think most departments might as well admit they have a problem and get busy trying to fix it. It's probably not possible to eliminate all biases, however.

We're all guilty of profiling in various forms. I find myself engaging in gender profiling, age profiling, and 18-year-old kid driving a red Corvette with the top down profiling.

Folks who live in farm communities are probably as subject to profiling as anyone. I've walked down the streets of San Francisco with the strong conviction that everyone around me thought I had just fallen off the last turnip truck.

And I've sat in farm country cafes with the certain knowledge I was the only stranger (foreigner) in the place. One can almost hear people on the street. "There's a stranger in the cafe. There's a stranger in the cafe!"

I look at the floor and wonder if my boots are too shiny. Then, I thank my lucky stars I'm not wearing the yellow ones today.

Sometimes the suspicion gets so thick an outsider is tempted to shout, "O.K. I'm a chicken thief! Put me in jail!"

It doesn't pay to lie to the locals, however. I can tell you that.

Years ago I ate lunch in a little Idaho town where a semi-truck occupied most of Main Street. When the waitress served my coffee she asked in an off-hand way, "So, what are you doing in town?"

I explained I was interviewing ranchers for a weed control newsletter.

"Oh, and I suppose your next appointment is at 2 o'clock with Frank Johnson," she said.

"Yes, it is," I said. "But how did you know that?"

"That's my husband," she said. The best case of outsider profiling I can think of involved 3 black men who robbed the bank in Near Center, Ohio, years ago. (I changed the name of the town to protect the innocent.)

There's no question race played a part in the capture of these fellows. This wasn't racial profiling, however. It was more bad judgment than anything else.

When these men decided to rob that little bank they apparently forgot there were no black people in the community of Near Center — and probably hadn't been in 30 years. They compounded their error by stopping for lunch at the cafe across the street from the bank! (So much for the element of surprise.)

Finally these guys made a cardinal mistake for small town bank robbers. They waited until they got to the bank to put on their masks.

That might work in the city, but it's not the way to do it in a small town. If you plan to rob one of these little banks, you might as well put on your mask before you leave home. They're going to see you coming, anyway.

By the time these fellows got the loot in their car there were road blocks on every highway, side road, and cow path in that end of the county. Racial profiling? Not really.

Extremely poor planning it seems to me.

from the desk of Ken Micklash, Superintendent

School Year Ending

Another positive school year is coming to an end. We should all be extremely proud of our students and all that they have accomplished this year. Our student body consists of a vast majority of young individuals who are truly focused and serious about obtaining the best education possible.

Two important events, graduation and the last day of school, are just around the corner and I wish to pass on specific information about these dates.

Graduation for the Class of 2001, will be this Friday, May 25, at 8:00 p.m. in the Cass City High School Gymnasium. To me, this is the most exciting night of the school year. Seeing the graduates with their excitement and mixed emotions as they are about to enter the next phase of their life is very memorable and rewarding. The entire community is welcome to share in this special event.

The last day of school, which may be one of the most exciting days for our students, is Friday, June 8. This will be a half-day for students with elementary and middle school students being dismissed at 11:45 a.m. and the high school students at 11:55 a.m.

We are currently working on a new contract which will include the calendar for the upcoming school year. Next year's school dates will be announced, as they become available.

Have a happy and safe summer.

Questions can be sent to me at 4868 N. Seeger St., Cass City, MI 48726. Thank you!

Mental Health Matters...

May is Mental Health Month

The Surgeon General states that one in five Americans live with a mental illness. That is someone's father, wife, brother, daughter, grandparent, neighbor or friend. But many people do not seek the help because they are afraid of what other people may think. Red Hawk Beatby Cass City Senior, Katie HackerBaccalaureate

This past Friday was the last day the class of 2001 walked through the doors of Cass City High School as students. During the seniors' last day there were many laughs, hugs, and also tears. It's hard to even imagine that the class of 2001 has finally made it through school, but for many there are still years of school to come. The class of 2001 has surely come a long way and will always be remembered as the class of changes.

This past Sunday, some students from the class of 2001 gathered together in the high school gym to celebrate in a traditional ceremony known as Baccalaureate.

Randy Diebel opened this special event with a prayer. Kandace Hansen then sang a solo and introduced Ken Fisher, an amazing speaker from Indiana, who gave a sermon. Then Holli Cooper performed an interpretative dance, and then Chuck Emmert gave a wonderful sermon. He talked about how we should never forget who we are and always remember three words "and then some." Both gentlemen did an excellent job talking and they were greatly appreciated by all the students and parents. Laura O'Dell also sang a solo and Amy DuQuesnay ended the ceremony in prayer. The entire service was excellent and there was a pretty good turn out.

The class of 2001 will have their final farewell this Friday as they walk across the stage with their cap and gown on and receive their diploma.

As each graduate walks across the stage they will be taking a part of Cass City High School with them, but they will also leave part of themselves there.

We have made so many memories and learned so many lessons, but the hardest thing will be to say goodbye.

Letters to the editor

Pool is worthwhile project in village

Dear Editor:

As many Cass City area residents are aware, the effort to raise funds for the construction of an Indoor Community Pool is underway. As the project moves towards the end of its initial pledge phase, June 30th, the Committee would like to inform and update the community about its current status, address any lingering concerns that may remain, and to request their assistance in making this important addition to our community a reality.

The Olympic-size lap pool, with an adjacent aerobic area for walking and other exercise, is planned for construction at the middle school. The decision for its location was reached due to the cost-effectiveness of adding to new construction, the proximity to the Village Park Complex, more central location for village residents, and to eliminate the need to transport younger students in the system to the high school campus. Alternative access to the pool area for community users will prevent disruption to the students during the school day.

The current pool project cost is estimated at $1,750,000, with $750,000 support provided through the generosity of local donors, who designated their monies for the construction of a community pool. It is hoped that an initial commitment of $250,000 can be raised through public donations during the pledge drive. We have achieved a significant start with pledges exceeding $80,000. A crucial component to the project is the acquisition of grant monies through foundations and corporate funders. While unsure of what type of "bricks and mortar" support this will generate, are requesting a minimum of $500,000 from the larger corporations.

Questions have been raised by citizens regarding the possibility of millage support. While initially listed as a last-resort possibility, the Pool Committee has taken a stance to not utilize a millage referendum to support this project. This appears to be reflective of the stance of community members through our discussions with them.

Concerns have also been raised regarding use of the pool. While owned by the school, a Pool Authority will be established consisting of both community and school members to ensure that a significant portion of use will be public, at least 30% as indicated by our donors. In addition, concerns have been raised regarding the Indoor Pool's use in conflict with the current Village Pool. It is not the intention of the Committee to interfere with the use of the current Outdoor Pool, but to coordinate activities to be mutually beneficial. The use of both pools can be unique and complimentary.

Ongoing maintenance and support of the pool has also been a question for many. Because of the tremendous year-round, health, safety and social benefits of the pool to our children, Cass City Schools has agreed to provide support for its ongoing maintenance. These funds are derived from monies designated for capital improvements. It is expected that this type of support can be maintained, though none of us are able to predict the future of any type of funding linked to public entities. Before committing this support, the maintenance cost of several other facilities were considered, and it is believed the estimated fee of $100,000 is accurate and reasonable. Other support for the pool will be user fees, and other forms of public support/fund raisers.

While some view the pool as a recreational luxury, the main consideration from the Pool Committee arises out of concerns for safety and health. Living in a Northern climate promotes a sedentary lifestyle for all age groups, and many traditional sports promoted for youth are typically not engaged in as we age. Swimming is a lifelong skill that can promote health and reduce the effects of debilitating illness. It is also an issue of safety.

According to The Prevention News, drowning is the second leading cause of death among people age 1-24. It is estimated that with enrollment in swimming and lifesaving, more than 500 school-age children's lives could be saved annually. This should be a concern of parents who live in a state surrounded by lakes and the growing popularity of backyard swimming pools.

The health benefits of physical activity are well known. According to a report of the Surgeon General, it reduces the risk of premature death from heart disease, of developing diabetes, high blood pressure, colon cancer, helps control weight, builds healthy bones, muscles and joints, and improves flexibility. Awareness has increased regarding the psychological effects of physical activity to combat depression and anxiety, and promote psychological well-being.

National concern regarding the fitness of our children is growing. Our children are showing early signs of cardiovascular disease, and obesity. Inactive children have higher blood pressure and serum cholesterol levels. A National Children and Youth Fitness Study indicated that many youth do not engage in physical activity that promotes long-term health or participation. Inactive, unfit children often grow into inactive, unfit adults. The leading cause of death for Tuscola County, and Michigan residents, is congestive heart failure, that often leads to hospitalization. Heart disease is considered an illness of preventable hospitalization, due to the ability to prevent the onset or management of the condition. Physical activity is an important component of disease prevention and management.

Two activities often recommended for adults, especially older adults, are walking and swimming. Swimming and aquatic exercises are beneficial for those with heart disease and an especially important low-impact activity for those suffering with arthritis, and other degenerative conditions. Swimming activities for our children can also be beneficial, whether through school-based physical education or after-school competitions or recreation. The Center for Chronic Disease Prevention and Health Promotion stresses community support for in-school and extracurricular programs to meet these needs. While not all community members take an interest in swimming and aquatic activities, it does provide a significant opportunity for those who are disabled, young, or old, to promote their health and well-being.

The social benefits of providing a community pool is to provide positive alternatives after school activities for youth and their families, and to promote Cass City as a proactive community in which people strive to provide healthy activities. The specific benefit of having a pool available in the school system is to provide an opportunity for all our school children to learn to swim, not just those who have access to the Village Pool and the cost of lessons, albeit reasonable.

We, the Pool Committee, understand that pledging to this project takes sacrifice to provide substantial monetary support. We are sensitive to the economic difficulties Cass City has experienced with the loss of manufacturing jobs and current farm economics. However, we also believe the Indoor Community Pool is a worthwhile project, for safety, health, and yes for fun too! Cass City has demonstrated its ability to pull together to provide its citizens with the best of living in a small community. We hope you can help us demonstrate to our donors by June 30th, that we can add this significant addition to community through public support.

Chairman offers update on pool

Cass City Indoor Pool Update

1. The Cass City Indoor Pool Committee recently made a major policy change. At their regular bi-weekly Thursday night meeting the committee voted unanimously not to support a millage referendum to finance construction of the proposed pool. The possibility of a millage vote at some point in the future was having a det-erimental effect on the pledge drive.

2. The drive recently passed the $100,000 mark. An interim target of $250,000 by June 30 is the current goal.

3. A large Michigan foundation responded to the request letter sent out in April. They expressed an interest in supporting the project, but requested more information.

Radios of the past keep heritage alive, Holik says

by Starr Golembiewski
Staff Writer

Passing down a way of life, or heritage, is what Cass City resident Lawrence Holik said he did when he donated about 8 radios to the Cass City Historical Society in April.

The Communications display is at the Cass City Municipal Building until July, said Katie Jackson, president of the historical society. "I think that in some way we should keep our heritage alive," Holik said. "It's nice that younger people can know about the older communications." Younger generations need to know what the older generations went through, he explained, because "those times weren't really that good."

His interest in radios came from listening to them when he was 14 years old, and that's when he also taught himself how to build them and take them apart.

One of the reasons Holik collects radios is the challenge of fixing them, he said. "It's just a good hobby because you have to know what you're doing and I think you need to keep your mind occupied—radios do that," he added.

Holik, 77, has over 100 radios dating from the 1920s to the 60s, and he has heard almost everything from his SX24 Halliater radio.

Of course nothing beats the old programming, said Holik, and his favorite show was the Lone Ranger which was broadcast out of Detroit. He also recalls listening to Hermit's Cave, an old radio show that told ghost stories. But one of the scariest stories was War of the Worlds, which was part of Orson Well's Mercury Theatre radio show, he said.

Holik recalled listening to War of the Worlds, which was broadcast when he was about 12, or 13. The program claimed that the world was being invaded by aliens, and the sound of the explosions made it believable, he added.

"It made you kind of nervous because Wells made you think it was true," Holik said. "It was so realistic that it got in your mind and made you scared."

Late night radio sometimes broadcasts older shows now, he said, but he doesn't always have the time to stay up and listen. "I don't spend as much time as I would like with radios because I have to get the lawn mowed," he said.

Even with the constant growth of the pesky grass he still makes time to find older radios.

Holik subscribes to the Michigan Antique Radio Chronicle, which helps him locate swap meets and flea markets where he finds most of his radios.

"I think the Halliater is the best radio because they're sharper," he said. "You can pick out stations on the same frequencies with a good aerial and a Halliater."

Holik warns that people going to these meets have to know their stuff when it comes to radios, or else pay high prices.

Holik's son, Tom Holik, often goes with his dad to these meets, but their tastes differ because he collects Emerson radios from his birthdate in 1962. Tom's middle name is Emerson and his dad said that's why he's interested in the brand. He added, "It's hard to find radios by Emerson because people throw them away. Tubes for them are hard to find."

NOT JUST radios, but TVs as well, are at the Communications display. Lawrence Holik also loaned records, record players, and TVs to the Historical Society.

Your neighbor says

FBI is flexing too much muscle

The FBI is flexing too much muscle by withholding documents from Tim McVeigh's defense team, according to one Cass City resident.

McVeigh, 33, was scheduled to die by lethal injection in Terre Haute, Ind., May 16 for the 1995 bombing of the Alfred P. Murrah Federal Building in Oklahoma City.

The FBI withheld thousands of documents from McVeigh's defense team, prompting U.S. Attorney General John Ashcroft to postpone his execution until June 11.

"I think McVeigh is probably guilty, but the FBI should've turned in those papers," said Russ Schneeberger, owner of Schneeberger Furniture and Appliance for 45 years.

"The FBI has too much power because they should get more information before jumping into a situation," Schneeberger said.

"It's a major thing for McVeigh that the FBI kept back those papers," he added. "It should all be out on the table."

"BEFORE GOING TO SEE DR. DeSANTIS, MY HIP WAS WORN DOWN TO NOTHING."

It was very hard for me to do the things I enjoy, like golf. Swinging the golf club kept getting harder for me to do. Even standing started to become very painful. I knew it was time to go see Dr. DeSantis.

He told me I had arthritis in my hip and I would need a hip replacement. I was very confident in Dr. DeSantis' diagnosis and told him the sooner, the better. He explained the procedure to me and gave me brochures to read and a video to watch. Soon I would be back to golfing.

It's been three years since my hip replacement and I'm doing great! I'm still working out at the Michigan Athletic Rehabilitation Center in Cass City. It seems like the more exercise I get, the better I feel.

Thanks to Dr. DeSantis and staff, MARC and staff and Cass City Hospital, my golf swing is better and I'm back to walking.

Fire safety guidelines offered

Home can be a safe haven — or a deadly trap — in fire emergencies where smoke or security bars block exits.

Once a fire starts, a person has about 3 minutes to escape the overwhelming effects of smoke, poisonous gases or superheated air. On such short notice, residents of a household need to be prepared and even rehearsed to act fast in this terrifying situation, AAA Michigan advises.

"When trapped, rational thinking and calm action are the keys to a safe escape," says Jerry Basch, AAA Michigan Community Safety Services manager, who offers the following guidelines. They are based on the importance of preparing for fire emergencies with planning and practice.

- If smoke is present, crawl to the door and keep as close to the floor as possible. If necessary, hold your breath and close your eyes.
- Feel the door with the back of your hand. Before opening a cool door, face away, brace and open it slowly to escape.

- If it is hot, do not open it.
- If there is heat and smoke, seal off cracks around doors and vent with cloth or rugs.
- Signal for help by hanging a sheet or other light-colored article on the window ledge. If the window has security bars, weave the sheet through the bars. Make sure the door is closed before opening the window.
- To avoid being locked in by a security door, plan ahead by placing a key at arms length from the door so that you can get it quickly."

Basch advises, "Put the key safely on an object near the floor because if you are caught in smoke, you'll need to crawl as close to the floor as possible because smoke rises."

Last year, 143 fatal fires occurred in Michigan homes. Moreover, 44 children under age 10 died due to fire, representing 18.3 percent of all fire deaths - the most for any age group. Because of their vulnerability, adults should emphasize to children the danger of trying to hide from a fire. Review and practice emergency plans with youngsters regularly. Plans should include a safe meeting place outside for the family.

Smoke detectors are your best protection in a home fire. Install them on every level of your home and especially outside every sleeping area. Test smoke detectors monthly by pushing their test buttons, and install new batteries twice a year when you change your clocks for daylight savings time. "Tragically, last year 77 percent of fatal home fires in Michigan occurred in homes without detectors or with ones that failed," says Basch.

Bulldogs claim 3rd straight NCTL title

Owen-Gage collected its 3rd straight North Central Thumb League baseball title Thursday with a pair of lopsided victories at Port Hope. With the wins, Coach Chad Mellendorf's Bulldogs improved to 13-1 in conference play and to a lofty 22-3 mark overall.

The NCTL champions used a pair of huge innings to collect both ends of the double header.

The visitors exploded for 11 runs in their first at-bats and then rode the arm of Nathan Kain to victory. Kain went the distance in the initial game, holding the Blue Stars to just one hit, while fanning 6.

Several Bulldogs contributed a pair of safeties in the win led by senior Nick Warack, who delivered a double and home run. Shane Mellendorf added a double and single, while Corbin Swiastyn and Earl McKee each contributed a pair of singles.

In the nightcap, Owen-Gage struck for 15 runs in the 3rd frame en route to an 18-3 decision.

Kain homered to lead the winners. Also adding to the Bulldog attack were Mellendorf and Warack who each slapped doubles.

Cory Fritz was credited with the win, fanning 5 and surrendering 3 hits.

CASEVILLE

On Monday, the Bulldogs traveled to Caseville and swept both ends of the NCTL twin bill.

The visitors handed the Eagles losses of 15-4 and 20-3.

Mellendorf and Swiastyn combined to handle the pitching chores for the winners in game one. Mellendorf started on the hill and fanned 2 in the opening frame. Swiastyn worked the final 4 innings and whiffed 4.

At the plate, Swiastyn belted a home run to go along with 2 singles.

Game 2 saw Owen-Gage score 13 runs in the 2nd frame to help register a 20-3 win.

Cory Fritz spread out 3 hits and fanned 4 to earn the win on the rubber.

Matt Gaeth enjoyed a perfect outing at the plate recording 3 singles in 3 trips. Fritz helped his own cause with a double and 2 singles.

RED HAWK Talisa Talaski (with ball) makes a play for hosts Cass City in Friday's soccer contest with North Branch.

Red Hawks bow to North Branch

The Cass City lady soccer team ended a busy week of competition Friday suffering an 8-0 non-conference defeat to visiting North Branch.

The visitors wasted little time in putting the game away as the Hawks were a step slow the entire game, and could never establish any kind of pace or consistency in the game, according to Coach Chuck Reed.

The Hawks will look to rebound from the defeat when they return to Greater Thumb Conference play Thursday against Bad Axe during their final home match of the season.

SANDUSKY

On Wednesday, the Hawks traveled to Sandusky with only 12 healthy players and played to a 1-1 deadlock.

The hosts scored in the opening 30 seconds of the contest, but Cass City came back to put constant pressure on the Red Skin keeper for most of the game.

With only one substitute and several people playing out of position, the Hawks found it difficult to score. However, a late run by Stacy Sullins provided the game's only other score.

Coach Reed said Heidi Cheng got extensive playing time and again showed that she will be a force in the future. Erica Delamarter moved up to a midfield position and also played well.

Coach Reed pointed to the play of senior Johanna Hoelzle for helping the visitors' keep pace with Sandusky on the night.

"She (Hoelzle) controlled the mid field area and supported everyone else as needed, definitely playing one of the better games of her career," commented Reed.

LAKERS

On Monday, the Lady Hawks came out strong and played their best game of the year, according to Reed, against visiting Elkton-Pigeon-Bay Port before bowing 3-0 to the more experienced team.

"Anyone who still doubts that soccer should be a varsity sport needed to be at the soccer field for the rematch with Lakers," said Coach Reed.

The guests enjoyed a 2-0 advantage at the half, but could not mount any consistent play against the fired up Hawks.

Witkovsky was outstanding in goal and the entire defense stepped up to frustrate the talented Lakers. Crystal Sattelberg, Laura Auten, Megan Powell, Talisa Talaski, and Delamarter all played strong games along with Allyson Bell at midfield and Stacy Sullins at forward.

Owen-Gage sweeps Port Hope

Coach Barb Adams' Owen-Gage Bulldogs handed hosts Port Hope losses of 11-1 and 14-9 Thursday during a North Central Thumb League doubleheader.

Sophomore Kelly Zaleski didn't allow a hit in the opener and fanned one in 4 innings of work to earn the win on the hill for the visitors.

Zaleski helped her own cause at the plate with a solo home run. Bulldog senior Erin Salcido also provided the winners with a round trip-per that resulted in 2 RBIs, while Ashley Adams slugged out 2 safeties including an extra base double.

In the nightcap, the visitors scored 6 times in their final 2 at-bats to complete the sweep.

Sarah Rievert was the pitcher of record for the Bulldogs, while Dee Fritz was credited with a save. The pair surrendered 4 hits and whiffed one.

Salcido added her 2nd home run on the day to pace the Owen-Gage offense. Kelly Tomich and Stephanie Dorsch added singles.

CASEVILLE

Earlier in the week, on Monday, the Bulldogs traveled to Caseville and suffered a pair of NCTL losses.

Eagle hurler Katie Quinn was the winner on the mound in both tilts.

Quinn bested Zaleski 9-6 in the opener and Fritz in the nightcap, 5-2.

At the plate, Tomich and Melissa Ziehm recorded a pair of hits in game one, while Salcido led the late game attack with 2 singles.

Red Hawks improve on softball diamonds

Maybe the answer to the woes of the Cass City Red Hawk softball team is to play more games each week.

Coach Dave Hoard's charges crowded 6 games into 4 days last week and won half of them.

That may not be great, but it's considerably better than the team's overall record of 8-21.

The week didn't start well as Cass City dropped 2 close games to Mayville in Greater Thumb West competition.

A big fourth inning rally enabled the Wildcats to edge the Hawks, 7-5 in the opener. Cass City had edged in front 3-1 going into the bottom of the fourth when the winners exploded for 5 runs to send Deidre Deering down to defeat. In the rally the Wildcats collected 4 hits, including a home run by Buckmaster.

Lawless pitched the win, giving up 8 hits. Three of the hits were by Katie Hacker who rapped a double and 2 singles.

The 5-4 loss in the nightcap was a tough one for Hawk supporters. Cass City, behind good pitching by Lindsey Hendrick, was in front 4-3 going into the last inning when Mayville scored twice to win. A walk and 2 hits did the damage.

The Hawks scored twice in the first inning when Deering walked and Hacker lashed a triple and later scored. Cass City scored 2 more in the third on hits by Hacker, Kayla Wentworth and Danielle Guilds.

Lawless pitched the win, giving up 7 hits and 3 walks.

HARBOR BEACH

The Hawks swept visiting Harbor Beach Wednesday behind some great pitching by Deering and Hendrick.

In the opener Cass City broke open a tight game with 6 runs in the sixth inning to win, 7-1.

With just a little bit of luck Deering could have pitched the team's first shutout of the season. Only an overthrow from the outfield trying to nip a runner at third base allowed the Pirates to score. That came with 2 outs in the last inning when the outcome of the game was no longer in doubt. Deering pitched a 3-hitter. Binder allowed 8 hits, 2 by Hacker, and was the loser.

Cass City lashed out 15 hits in the nightcap to make it easy for Hendrick to rack up a 15-1 win. She walked 3 and allowed just 3 hits. Learman took the loss.

The Hawks scored in every inning but the fifth. Big innings were the fourth when the team scored 5 times and the sixth when 6 more runs were added.

Wentworth rapped 2 doubles and 2 singles in 4 trips.

YALE GAMES

Cass City backed Deering with a 10-hit attack as the Hawks won the opener with Yale, 4-2. The Hawks scored twice in the first inning as Elise Pasant led off with a double and Deering also doubled to score her. Deering later scored as Wentworth singled.

What proved to be the winning run was scored in the third as Manisha Raythatha was safe on an error and Wentworth singled. Pasant, Wentworth, Deering and Tessia Zawilinski each had 2 hits.

It was a different story in the nightcap. Pasant opened the game with a single and that was it for Cass City. Staley held the Hawks to that lone safety as the Bulldogs won a laugher, 14-1. Hendrick took the loss as Yale pounded out 13 hits.

Yale wins pair from Cass City

Only games against Brown City Thursday remain in the regular season as the Hawks managed to salvage just one win in the 6 games played last week. The attention will be on the pre-district games. The pre-districts will be May 29 with the districts to follow.

It was a dismal afternoon for the Cass City Red Hawks Thursday when the Yale Bulldogs won easily in both games of the doubleheader.

In the first game, mercied after 5 innings, the Hawks could do nothing with the slants of Witalec who hurled a shutout. The Bulldogs won 10-0. Witalec allowed just 2 singles, both by Tyler Bader.

The game was over for all practical purposes when Yale exploded for 6 runs in the third inning. Guthry Laurie was charged with the loss.

The Bulldogs continued to pound the ball in the nightcap to chalk up a 9-3 decision. Hawk pitchers allowed 18 hits. Dan Vandecar took the loss. The Hawks picked up 7 hits including 2 each by Nate Brinkman and Matt Ender.

Hawks split with Pirates

Cass City High School's baseball losing streak came to an end in the first game of a double header Wednesday as the Hawks won 4-2 behind some stellar pitching by Joel Brinkman and excellent relief help by Tyler Bader.

The Hawks squeezed out single runs in the second, third, fourth and fifth innings off the Pirates Sopezynski to take what appeared to be a commanding lead going into the last inning.

Up to that time Brinkman had been dominant, allowing 3 scattered hits and as many walks.

What seemed like an easy win for Cass City turned into one in which the Hawks were in very real danger of losing. Brinkman tired and suddenly lost control, walking the first 2 batters. A single by Sweeney scored the first Pirate run of the game. Bader came on and with the bases loaded allowed just one more run. The potential tying tallies were left at second and third.

Leading the Hawk attack was Guthry Laurie with 2 hits in 2 attempts.

It appeared as if the Hawks were on their way to a double bill sweep when they opened with 4 runs in the first inning, but the Pirates kept pecking away to win, 6-5.

After the first inning outburst the Hawks were able to score just once more in the sixth inning. Chris Maharg started and was relieved by Bader who took the loss.

Kramer held the Hawks to just 4 hits, 2 of which came in the first inning.

Mayville rolls past Cass City

The Mayville Wildcats rolled past the Cass City Red Hawks Tuesday on the heels of some fine pitching and timely hitting. The host team won the opener 6-2 and the nightcap 14-3.

Cass City opened the first game with 2 runs in the first inning, but was blanked the rest of the way. In the Hawks' first at-bat Zach Glaspie singled, Nick Turner doubled and Matt Ender singled to account for 3 of the 6 Cass City hits in the game.

Mayville countered with 3 runs in the first, another in the second and salted away the win with 2 runs in the fifth.

Young went the distance for the win, allowing no walks and striking out 4. Nate Brinkman took the loss. Glaspie and Ender with 2 hits each paced the Hawks.

Milostan collected a pair of singles for Mayville.

The Wildcats pounded out 18 hits in the nightcap to make it easy for Pioch to pick up the victory. The Hawks were limited to 3 singles, one each by Glaspie, Dan Vandecar and Matt Stoutenburg.

Nick Turner started and took the loss. Eight of the starting 9 for Mayville collected one or more hits.

BOB DOUGLAS (from left), Full Score Music North manager, Tommy Bays, and Jeff Spencer play an older Gospel tune inside the new Cass City business.

Full Score North

Music store open

A few friends and the love of playing music helped open Full Score Music North.

Located at 6439 Main St. in Cass City. Full Score offers more than just music lessons. Promoting artists, providing instrument repairs, consignments, and supplies to school bands are other services the store offers, according to Bob Douglas, store manager.

Playing music with the shop owner, Ken Snyder, a Saint Clair Shores resident, for 15 years is how Douglas got involved with opening the shop. Douglas said he approached Snyder with the idea of opening a store in Cass City, where Douglas lives. Snyder already owned Full Score Music South located in Saint Clair Shores.

"(Snyder) knew I was a good guitar player and could run the store," Douglas said.

Douglas has one employee that is his friend and fellow musician, Jeff Spencer, also of Cass City. Spencer promotes local talent as well as repairing instruments and giving lessons.

"Bob and I were playing music one night and he said 'you can teach, right,' and I said 'yes,'" Spencer said of how he got involved with the store 4 months ago.

"We just got into promoting but it's working out pretty good," he added. "I spend a lot of time doing it."

One of the artists the store promotes is Tommy Bays, a Caro resident. Bays plays country and blue grass music and is originally from Kentucky. "I'm new in town and these guys are pretty good musicians," Bays said of Douglas and Spencer.

The store promotes mostly acoustic artists, but Spencer said they would promote anyone.

Unionville church marking 125th anniversary in 2001

St. Paul Lutheran Church was organized Feb. 14, 1876, but the church's roots date back even farther, according to church members, who provided the following historical account:

Lutheran settlers in this area had been more fortunate in securing spiritual care than elsewhere. Even before 1850, the Rev. J.J. Auch and the Rev. J. Roeder had been sent as missionaries to the Chippewa Indians at Shebahiyouk (Caseville), Sebewaung and Wishkawking (Unionville). This was before any white men had settled there.

As Lutheran immigrants arrived, they were also served by these missionaries. Because the first concentration of Lutherans was in Sebewaung, a church was organized there in 1851 and the Rev. Auch became its first pastor.

For quite some time, the Unionville Lutherans were members of Immanuel Church, Sebewaung, and made their way to Sebewaung as best they could to attend services. Later they met in homes for services at which Sebewaung pastors officiated.

St. Paul's Lutheran Church was organized by 7 Lutherans who met in Unionville and adopted a constitution drawn up by the Rev. Hahn of Sebewaung. The charter members were Jacob Strieter, Albert Strieter, Gustav Strieter, Rueben Bade, John Leyrer, Christ Hahn and Ludwig Bayer. Matthias Bitzer and John Wolf were also accepted as members at that first meeting.

FIRST CHURCH

In 1877, the congregation bought a lot and house one-half mile east of Unionville where they worshiped until 1881. In 1880, Albert Strieter donated one acre of land southeast of town on which to build a church, which was completed in 1881. A parsonage was added nearby.

From the very beginning the congregation maintained a Christian Day School in which the secular subjects as well as religion have been taught. At first, the school was taught by the pastor. As early as 1880, however, reference is made to a Miss Mary Gremel as assisting the pastor.

On Aug. 26, 1883, the congregation called Pastor C.A. Geyer as its first resident pastor. Before this St. Paul had been served by Pastor Hahn of Immanuel, Sebewaung. Following Pastor Geyer were pastors Mahlberg, Beyer and Duerr.

Although all its pastors had been members of the Missouri Synod, the congregation first joined the Michigan District of the Missouri Synod in 1885.

As the church grew, more and more of its members lived in or near Unionville. Because the roads were poor, the old church location proved very inconvenient, prompting the congregation to move to a new location in Unionville after purchasing one acre of land from Arthur Strieter for $100.

The church was moved Feb. 10, 1895. Later, a parsonage, barn and shed were also constructed on the property. The church was used both as a school and house of worship.

NEW CHURCH

On Aug. 12, 1895, the Rev. F.J. Wilkening was installed, and he served the congregation for 36 years. During his service the church grew rapidly, so in 1901 the congregation bought the current property. The new church was built in 1903 at a cost of $7,000.

In 1914 the congregation purchased 4 more adjoining acres of land and built 2 frame buildings on it. One was used as a speaker's stand and the other as a refreshment stand for outside mission festivals and school picnics.

In the fall of 1920 the congregation celebrated Pastor F.J. Wilkening's 25th anniversary as pastor of the church. That same year, a call was sent to W.F. Fenske, a graduate of Concordia Teacher's College, River Forest, Ill., to be the first permanent teacher, organist and choir director.

For some time, a need for a school building had been felt because classes were being held in the church building. In 1922, a school was erected at cost of $16,000 in the face of many difficulties and unfavorable public opinion. At the time there was strong sentiment against parochial schools.

The school proved to be a fitting monument and testimony that church members valued the day school as the most effective educational agency of the church. Members of the building committee were Charles Ewald, William Hahn and George Bitzer.

The church observed its 50th anniversary July 4, 1926. The teacher's house was built that same year. In 1935, a new organ was purchased and dedicated. Pastor A.W. Wilkening was installed Aug. 12, 1931, and he served until 1954. He was followed in January 1955 by Pastor Otto Koenig, who along with his wife was killed in an automobile accident in January 1960. In the fall of that year, Pastor John Heidinger was installed, serving 2 years, followed by the Rev. Harold J. Schlicker (1963-1981) and the Rev. Paul Stohlman (1981-1993). The current pastor, the Rev. Michael Allen, was installed Nov. 27, 1994.

WORSHIP SERVICES

At first, all worship services at St. Paul were conducted in the German language. As St. Paul members married non-German speaking spouses, the congregation began having English services in 1922, enabling couples to worship as a family. With the passing of Pastor Koenig in 1960, the German services were discontinued.

By 1946 the interior of the school was completely redecorated. Enrollment had grown to such an extent that the congregation deemed it necessary to hire a second teacher. In 1951, the 75th anniversary of the school, the congregation decided to build an addition of one classroom, lavatories and a furnace room for an estimated $40,000.

In 1961 the congregation

Miller, Michigan's official historian.

"Each museum and historic site captures a different and exciting aspect of Michigan's history in its original setting that travelers will enjoy learning about."

Nine stops on the pathway through Michigan's history range from frontier forts to logging camps in locations surrounded by some of the most scenic settings in Michigan.

New books at library

No Great Mischief by Alistair MacLeod: In 1779 Calum MacDonald was exiled from Scotland and set out with his wife and 12 children for the New World. By the time he landed at Cape Breton he was a widower and a grandfather. Two hundred years later another MacDonald tells the story of growing up in Cape Breton. Alexander is orphaned as a young child and his desire for a family connection leads to 2 exciting stories: a summer spent in the mines with his wild older brothers that ends in murder and, much later, his tender care for one of those brothers who is dying.

A River Out of Eden by John Hockenberry: Francine Smoholla is a U.S. government's marine biologist fighting to save salmon threatened by the dams that supply Washington's hydroelectric power. She is also a Chinook Indian and that puts her in the middle between technology and environmentalism. She has seen the catastrophic effects the dams have had on her tribe's ancestral lands, livelihood and traditional way of life. The Chinook are prime suspects when power company workers and forest service employees start turning up dead with native harpoons in their backs. Francine begins her own investigation to find out if the Chinook are really involved and protect the community if she can. When heavy rains threaten the stability of the dams, an old Indian prophecy of apocalypse may be fulfilled.

Secret Sacrament by Sherryl Jordan: Gabriel Eshban Vala has wanted to be a healer since he was 7 years old and a dying woman asked for help that he was unable to give. From then on Gabriel stood firm against the demands of his father and even his Empress in order to follow his dream of healing the sick. When he finds himself unexpectedly in the land of Shinali, Gabriel develops a deep respect for these people and becomes more disenchanted with his place among the powerful rulers of the Navoran Empire. He is caught between loyalty to his own Navoran people and his new love for the Shinali, Gabriel must make a choice. The fate of 2 nations hangs in the balance. And so does his life.

Keeping Faith by Jodi Picoult: When Mariah White catches her husband with another woman for the second time in their marriage, a divorce ensues. The couple's 7-year-old daughter, Faith, is a witness to her father's unfaithfulness. Because of these experiences, Mariah develops depression and Faith begins to converse with an imaginary friend. Mariah isn't worried at first, but when Faith starts reciting Bible passages, develops stigmata and begins to perform healings, her mother begins to think that Faith is actually seeing God. A controversy develops and Mariah and Faith are besieged by believers and unbelievers until the media gets involved and everything really gets out of hand. Soon there is a battle for custody of the child and experts from the medical profession and organized religion try to determine the truth.

Ethanol production in sight Corn growers laud vote for Renaissance Zone

Michigan Corn Growers applaud the Michigan Agriculture Commission's vote to support the application for an Agriculture Processing Renaissance Zone by Michigan Ethanol, LLC, moving Michigan closer to in-state ethanol production.

Within the motion Michigan Agriculture Commissioner Nora Viau, a partner in Three V Ranch, a beef cattle operation in Escanaba, stated incentives like Agriculture Processing Renaissance Zones are necessary to not only attract, but also retain agriculture processors in Michigan.

"The Michigan Agriculture Commission supports the agriculture processing development projects proposed by Michigan Ethanol, LLC," she moved.

Michigan Ethanol, LLC, applied for the Agriculture Processing Renaissance Zone status allowing for a state and local tax abatement for 15 years. However, the school district can still receive $90,000 a year to replace the taxes that would be generated from the ethanol facility.

The next step for Michigan Ethanol, LLC, is the Michigan Economic Development Council, where the application will either be accepted or denied.

Jody Pollok, executive director of the Michigan Corn Growers Association, said the Michigan value-added agricultural industry is one step behind other states because of the state's high infrastructure and utility costs. "In Michigan, one of the few incentives we have to attract agricultural processors is the Ag Processing Renaissance Zones."

Michigan Ethanol, LLC, is the proposed 40-million gallon ethanol plant for Vassar Township. The plant will utilize more than 14.5 million bushels of Michigan grown corn, and raise the price of corn 5 to 10 cents per bushel for a 60-mile radius surrounding the plant.

Broin and Associates, Inc. of Sioux Falls, S.D., an ethanol industry leader in design, engineering and operation of dry mill ethanol plants, is working with Michigan Ethanol, LLC.

"Michigan Ethanol, LLC, will be the first value-added corn processing facility in Michigan," said Clark Gerstaecker, Michigan's Corn Growers Association president, and corn grower from Midland. "The price of corn right now is close to what our grandparents received. We need this facility to help give farmers an incentive to stay in business."

2 million expected to travel Memorial Day weekend

More than 2 million Michiganians will travel during the upcoming Memorial Day weekend — a 20-percent increase over last year — fueling an estimated 3-percent increase in summer tourism volumes and spending, according to a recent AAA Michigan survey of 500 state residents.

In addition, 47 percent of those surveyed said they plan to travel sometime this summer — a 6-percent increase over last year.

Nearly half said higher gas prices influenced their travel plans. But rather than cancel a trip, the majority said they would reduce its length. In fact, 61 percent of all respondents intend to spend their travel dollars in Michigan.

As of May 7, the statewide average for self-serve, regular unleaded was $1.913 — 43.1 cents higher than a year ago.

"The results suggest that the urge to travel is strong, regardless of rising gas prices and a slowing economy," said Larry Dickens, director of Vendor Relations for AAA Travel Agency. "We saw a similar pattern last year when gas prices hit over $2 a gallon in June, but the vast majority of summer vacationers continued to travel more than 100 miles from home."

For Midwest travelers planning a summer vacation in Michigan, the 5 most popular driving destinations are: 1) Mackinaw City; 2) Traverse City; 3) Sault Ste. Marie; 4) Detroit and 5) St. Ignace, (based on projected 2001 AAA Trip Tik® requests).

Michiganians leaving the state by vehicle prefer 1) Niagara Falls; 2) Chicago; 3) Toronto; 4) Washington, D.C. and 5) Sea World (Ohio).

AAA Michigan's survey contacted 500 Michigan residents. Respondents provided these insights into Memorial Day/summer travel:

- Heavy traffic is a concern to the majority of those who plan to travel (54 percent), most of whom will leave earlier than they usually do and others planning to take an alternate route.

- The majority (85 percent) will travel by car, truck, van or RV. Seven percent will travel by air (up 2 percentage points from 2000).

- The average traveling party will be between 3 and 4 people. Twenty-seven percent will stay in a hotel, motel or resort; 22 percent will stay with relatives; 19 percent will use an RV or trailer; 15 percent will rent a cottage.

- Weather is not a major consideration for most travelers. Seventy-three percent said they would never cancel trip plans if rain or cool temperatures are predicted.

- Forty-seven percent said they have summer travel plans between the Memorial Day and Labor Day holiday weekends. The 78-hour Memorial Day weekend officially begins at 6 p.m. Friday, May 25, and runs to midnight Monday, May 28.

During Memorial Day weekend in 2000, 18 people were killed in 18 fatal crashes in Michigan, an increase from the 17 killed in 15 fatal crashes in 1999. Nine, or 69.2 percent of the 2000 victims who had safety belts available chose not to wear them. Alcohol was a factor in 9 of the fatal crashes (50 percent).

During the Memorial Day weekend AAA Michigan's "Bring 'Em Back Alive!" Holiday News Service will provide updated reports to alert motorists to traffic problems. "Bring 'Em Back Alive!" signs will be posted at 31 Operation CARE rest areas statewide, where complimentary coffee and refreshments will be available.

In Michigan

Report; teens better off

Michigan teens are doing better than their counterparts in most other states on a number of measures, according to the state-by-state report released this week by the national KIDS COUNT project at the Annie E. Casey Foundation.

The state outdid national declines on several measures, particularly in its teen birth rate.

Mirroring national trends, Michigan saw improvement on 7 of 10 measures of child well-being.

Overall, the most substantial gains in Michigan's child well-being occurred among adolescents where rates of teen births, teen deaths, and "idle" teens all dropped by a third between 1990 and 1998. ("Idle" teens, ages 16-19, are neither attending school nor working.) Michigan's composite ranking has climbed to 28th among the 50 states as compared to 33rd in 1990, according to the national KIDS COUNT Data Book 2001.

Michigan's 33 percent decrease in births among high school aged teens was much more substantial than the nationwide decline of 19 percent. Teen births in Michigan dropped from 36 of every 1,000 teens, ages 15-17, giving birth at the beginning of the decade, to 24 in 1998, well below the national rate of 30.

Michigan's rankings for its teen birth rate (19th) and teen death rate (15th) placed this state in the top 20 states. Deaths among Michigan teens from accident, homicide or suicide dipped from 73 among 100,000 teens, ages 15-19, in 1990 to 48 in 1998.

"These dramatic improvements for Michigan teens are particularly heartening," said Jane Zehnder-Merrell, senior research associate at the Michigan League for Human Services and state project director for Kids Count, "Clearly the federal and state efforts to prevent teen pregnancy and local initiatives to promote youth development and safety are making a difference."

"Idle" teens provided the state with its best ranking — 13th among the 50 states. Seven percent of Michigan youth, ages 16-19, reported not attending school nor working in 1998, compared to 10 percent in 1990.

"We can probably credit the job opportunities in Michigan's boom economy for this decline in idle teens since no improvement occurred in high school dropout for this age group over the same period," said Michele Corey, Community Advocacy Coordinator at Michigan's Children. "Today's children need at least a high school diploma to earn a living wage in this economy, function as informed citizens, and guide the next generation."

Other measures showing substantial improvement between 1990 and 1998 included the infant mortality rate, dropping from 11 to 8 infant deaths per live births, and the percent of underemployed parents, falling from 35 to 27 percent. Child deaths also declined from 30 to 26 of every 100,000 children, ages 1-14, and child poverty eased slightly — from 19 to 18 percent.

On the other hand, similar to the nation, the state saw a rise in single parent families — 28 percent of families with children in 1998, and in low-birthweight babies at 8 percent of live births. Michigan did not worsen as much as the nation, however, on these 2 indicators.

The single parent family measure gave the state its second worst ranking — 34th among the 50 states. Despite improvements in the trend period, Michigan's infant mortality rate earned the state its worse ranking — 36th of the 50 states. An infant born in 35 other states has a better chance of surviving her first year than one in Michigan.

The report also noted that half a million of the state's children live in "working poor" families — where family income was less than twice poverty level ($27,000 for a family of 3 in 1998), and at least one parent worked 50 or more weeks a year.

Supt. Ken Micklash enthusiastically reported on a new state-wide program that will evaluate all school districts in the state. The report will be compiled by Stand & Poor's and will be a complete evaluation of all operations in each district. It will not be used to compare one district with another, Micklash said, but as a guide for each district to see their strengths and weaknesses.

The board okayed the borrowing of up to $1.1 million if needed before state aid money is received. Also approved was securing a $250,000 credit line in case of short-term needs.

The realignment of the Greater Thumb League in 2001-2 caused by the withdrawal of Yale and Cross-lex received formal board approval.

She has worked at CMU's campus newspaper, CM LIFE, for about 2 years as a general assignment reporter. This is her first job with a publication outside of LIFE.

Most of her college career was spent focusing on academics and working full-time. She is a member of various international honor societies, including Golden Key and Phi Beta Delta Honor Society for International Scholars.

Golembiewski studied abroad at the University of Cambridge in England last summer.

As a Chronicle staffer, she will cover a variety of news and feature stories along with general photo assignments this summer. She will also be responsible for producing and organizing copy and photos for the Chronicle's annual Cass City Fourth of July special section, which will be published in late June.

After leaving the Chronicle in August, Golembiewski plans to work as a reporter for another weekly or daily newspaper.

ease overcrowding, provide adequate security and complete barrier-free improvements. However, residents soundly defeated the request, 11,948 to 5,550.

"What the board has done since is to try to tackle these problems incrementally," Hoagland said.

Commissioners first invested about $1.1 million into the courthouse heating and cooling plants. Another $190,000 was then spent on the security system.

"Our latest accomplishment has been the $380,000 to make the building barrier-free, and that's about done," Hoagland said. The final phase of that project — installation of an elevator — is scheduled for completion by the end of June.

program you go through and it helps you out." There have been a number of other changes in officiating as well, according to Erla, who said today's pay is about $50 for a varsity basketball or football game, compared to $15 for 2 games when he started. "But gas was only 17 cents (a gallon) then," he joked.

"There's a lot of paperwork now," Erla continued. "If you put a kid out of a game, you've got to fill out a report and send it in to the state. 'The guys really don't like to (eject a player). We talk to the coaches, because once he's out, he's gone for tonight and next week.'"

Erla figures he could count on one hand the number of players and coaches he has personally ejected from a game. "Most coaches are good guys, 95 percent. But you've got about 5 percent, and they're jerks," he said. "The coaches rate us (officials), but it would be nice if we could rate the coaches."

Those ratings have a bearing on which officiators work tournament games, but over the years that process has really been infiltrated by politics, he noted.

Erla said athletes seem to be bigger physically today, but their behavior on the field can still be largely attributed to the guidance they receive from the sideline.

"The coach makes a lot of difference," he added. "If the coach has control, there's no problem, but if the coach doesn't have control..."

And then there are the spectators. "Sometimes fans get hostile," he acknowledged, adding a part of officiating is accepting the fact that some calls are going to be missed. "Yes, it happens. People say, 'yea, there's a make-up call, but there are no make-up calls. You have to take the criticism. If you miss it, you miss it.'"

"The best thing to do, if someone really gets on you, is just look at them. That's all you have to do." When it comes to fans looking for a confrontation after a game, Erla refuses to get into a debate. "I just tell the guys (other officiators), 'don't talk, we're leaving'. I wasn't a guy to listen to it."

Despite the drawbacks, Erla says he still enjoys his time on the field or hardcourt. "The thing about it is, it takes you away. It just gives you something else to do," he said. "And I've always been fortunate to have good partners or a good crew. 'If I didn't enjoy doing it, I wouldn't be doing it.'"

HILLS AND DALES General Hospital recently held an "Employee Recognition Tea." Receiving their 5-year service awards were Barb Hollenbeck, Lou Ann Williams, Lillian Gibbard, Greg Hanby, Dawn Rick and Dee McKrow. Missing from the picture are Dr. Arshard Aqil, Mary Ann D'Addezio, Margaret Schaar, Ann Ypma, Michele Latimer and Barbara Henderson.
