Work underway this week Chemical winner in district's bond sale

by Tom Montgomery Editor

Taxpayers in the Cass City School District, who approved a $6.9 million bond issue last spring to fund a variety of major capital improvements, will be able to see their tax dollars at work starting this week.

The Cass City Board of Education approved the sale of bonds that will generate the cash during a special meeting last week. And board members didn't waste time getting the ball rolling on the work, awarding some $855,000 in contracts for paving, roof replacement and other improvements. In all, 3 financial institutions bid on Cass City's construction bonds, and the winning, low bidder was Chemical Bank, which offered an interest rate of 4.2708 percent. The rate translates into roughly $2.24 million in interest over the 12-year life of the bonds.

The other bidders were Comerica Securities (4.4477 percent interest) and Morgan Keegan & Company Inc.

(5.1505 percent interest).

School officials indicated they were pleased with the interest rate, which was made possible, in part, to a recent bond rating of A3 assigned to the district by Moody's Investors Service, a leading provider of independent credit ratings, research and financial information to the capital markets.

Following approval of the bond sale, board members heard a brief presentation from Chip Hendrick of R.C. Hendrick & Son Inc., Saginaw, the general contractor for the combined $6.9 million in capital improvement work.

Hendrick submitted contracts for several projects, noting all of them were the low bids and all came in under budget. He also indicated his firm is confident in the quality of work each firm will provide the district.

The board approved the following contracts:

•Saginaw Asphalt Paving, asphalt and concrete replacement at the high school, $438,500.

•Kenco Energy Service, air barrier and insulation at the middle school (in preparation for roof replacement), $70,000.

•Marlette Roofing, membrane roof at Campbell Elementary School, $65,851

•Valley Roofing, single ply membrane roofing at the high school, $258,668

•Malachino Floor Co., high school gym floor repairs and refinishing, $18,550.

•Jeff Hosky, artist, painting of the center court Red Hawk logo, not to exceed $3,500.

Hendrick, who said some of the work would be underway this week, also provided the board with a tentative construction timeline for the first 3 phases of improvements funded by the bonds.

The first phase, scheduled for July through September, includes replacement of concrete to meet the Americans with Disabilities Act at the early childhood education center. Projects at the high school are asphalt, sidewalk and curb and gutter replacement, gym floor work and roof replacement. Sections of the Campbell Elementary roof are also to be replaced, as is the bus garage parking lot.

Phase II is slated to begin Aug. 15 and be completed by Dec. 31, and includes replacement of exterior doors at the early childhood education center, and window replacement, sealing off pipe tunnels, replacing doors and frames, adding security locks, and new cafeteria and courtyard doors at Campbell Elementary.

At the middle school, the list includes security locks and new exterior doors, and at the high school, new exterior doors, new chairs for the cafeteria, re-keying the entire building, and new classroom furniture. Finally, the track is scheduled to be resurfaced, and the bus garage floor will be replaced and improvements made to the wash

Phase III projects, slated for May 1,

2009, through Aug. 31, 2009, include

new lockers at Campbell Elementary along with installation of a new heating system, and replacement of sinks and clocks. In addition, the new roof

School ups ticket and lunch prices Cass City students will be paying more for lunch and to attend sporting events in the coming school year. The board of education approved price increases for both during a special meeting last week. New Athletic Director Don Markel recommended increasing season athletic passes by $10, from $100 to $110 for families and from $70 to $80 for individuals. He also asked the board to set all high school gate admission tickets at $4 (students currently pay $3); to increase middle school tickets from $2 to $3; and to up the minimum age for senior sports passes from 62 to 65. Markel said the increases stem from increased costs for transportation and officials, and he noted the new prices reflect what most other area districts now charge. Rising costs also prompted Shari Bock, food service director for the district.

to recommend increasing hot lunch prices by a quarter, from $1.50 to $1.75 at the elementary school, and from $1.75 to $2 at the middle and high schools. The latest projections have food costs going up by about 5 percent, according to Bock, who noted school officials may also be facing a fuel surcharge in the near future.

Forning to personnel matters, the board welcomed some new members to the district's staff, including Stacey Bliss, who will serve as the new middle school social worker. The addition will allow Beth Howard to continue her job as social worker at the elementary school full-time instead of splitting her time between the 2 buildings.

gets state House nod

The Michigan House of Representatives last week voted to increase state funding for the state's schools, including those in the Thumb.

State Rep. Terry Brown (D-Pigeon) said the additional money -- $56 to $112 per student — will help to ensure that students receive the education they need to compete for good paying jobs in today's global workforce.

The plan, passed by the House on a 68-39 vote and now headed to the governor to be signed into law, also includes $75,000 each for Tuscola and Huron school districts to help students prepare for jobs in the rapidly expanding renewable energy in-

Tuscola County residents will decide a handful of races in the Tuesday, Aug. 5, primary election, which will usher in new leadership in Tuscola County, including the commissioner who represents the Cass City area. Tom Kern, the longest serving sheriff in Tuscola County history, meanwhile, is stepping down and will challenge incumbent District 3 Commissioner Donald P. McLane, although that race won't be decided until the general election in November.

District One Commissioner David J. Milligan, a Cass City Republican now wrapping up his second 2-year term in office, filed to seek reelection by the May 13 deadline, but formally withdrew his candidacy 2 days later. Barring a successful write-in campaign, Cass City attorney Amanda Roggenbuck, also a Cass City Republican, will be elected to the seat, Elkland, Elmwood, Fairgrove, Gilford and Wisner townships.

Prior to his election to the board of commissioners, Milligan served 8 years on the Tuscola County Planning Commission. He has also served on the Tuscola County Farm Bureau Board and the Michigan Bean Commission.

Roggenbuck, a Port Hope native, has been practicing law in Cass City since 2003. She specializes in estate planning, family law and abuse and neglect cases. Currently the chairwoman of the Tuscola County Enterprise Facilitation Board, Roggenbuck and her husband, Brian Ritchey, have 3 children

In District 3, Kern, a Democrat, will challenge incumbent Republican McLane in the Tuesday, Nov. 4, general election, for the right to represent Dayton, Fremont, Novesta, Kingston, Koylton and Wells townships. Kern's tenure with the sheriff's department spanned 38 years, including 20 years as sheriff.

In other commission races, incumbent Commissioner Thomas Bardwell, Republican, is being challenged by Democrat Warren Taylor in District which represents Akron, Columbia, 2, which is comprised of Almer, Ellington, Indianfields and Juniata townships.

A race is also set in District 4 -Millington, Watertown and Vassar townships where incumbent Republican Roy Petzold will square off against Marcus Jensen, also a Republican, next week.

In District 5, which represents Arbela, Denmark and Tuscola townships and the city of Vassar, incumbent Republican and board Chairman Gerald C. Peterson is running unopposed.

OTHER RACES

Kern's retirement from the sheriff's department has set the stage for a battle for his seat between sheriff's department veteran Leland Teschendorf, Republican, and Tim-, Adams, Democrat. # Ubly voters to decide bond issue

by Tom Montgomery Editor

The first day of school is still weeks away, but officials in the Ubly Community Schools have spent the past several weeks focusing on the new school year, and encouraging district residents to approve a financial boost at the polls next month.

Voters will be asked to approve a bond issue in the Tuesday, Aug. 5, primary election that, officials say, would make the 2008-09 school year and many more to come - more efficient and productive for students and staff alike.

The Ubly Board of Education last spring approved taking the bond issue to voters in an effort to raise $2,020,000 to maintain and update the district's buildings. If approved, all of the money generated by the proposal would be used for that purpose - by law, the funds cannot be used for salaries or other operating expenses.

The price tag is 1.17 mills for the next 15 years. For the owner of a home with a market value of $100,000, the cost would be roughly $60 annually The proposal stems from months of discussions among members of a subcommittee of the Ubly Community Schools' Strategic Planning Commit tee, which was formed in August 2006: and is composed of 20 to 30 school officials, parents and other members. of the community.

9.25 24 6 10100 Rides and animal auctions popular parts of fair

Why do you look forward to the Tuscola County Fair? People come to the Tuscola County Fair for a wide variety of reasons.

There are games, rides, food, 4-H shows, music, animals and more. The fair also provides a chance to meet new people. Those attending come from a variety of areas to see what the fair has to offer. This year, everything was very popular on Thursday, the day of the livestock sales. Many people of all ages enjoyed the rides and games. Both the small and large livestock auctions drew large crowds as well.

For Sandusky resident Scott Wadsworth, the fair Scott Wadsworth is a tradition. "I've been coming for about 6 years," he said. Wadsworth was one of over 100 people in attendance at the large livestock sale. He said he enjoys the fair because of all of the different things available to do. "It's something different than the everyday," he said.

Wadsworth spent a good amount of time at the livestock sale, but there are other parts of the fair he also looks forward to. "The games, rides and auctions are my favorite parts," he said. The Tuscola County Fair can be entertaining for people because it is always a bit different. Different people, different animals-these things draw people in. For Wadsworth, this is a big reason to attend. "The main reason I come is just to see the animals and the people."

The "Original Pancake House" in Solon, Ohio was selected for our breakfast meeting by members of the family that live in Solon. I can't give you an address.

Local knowledge proved to be invaluable, as the restaurant provided an array of foods and different breakfast dishes. The 10 of us each picked a favorite and due to the varied menu there was no duplication.

I ordered an Irish Omelet. It included corned beef hash, onions and other flavoring items. To my surprise, it also came with 3 pancakes. The omelet was wrapped around 6 eggs, 3 more eggs than expected. Esther ordered a Strawberry Crepe and it covered a dinner-size plate.

Each order was decorated with 4 or 5 fresh raspberries and I quickly gobbled up any that the crew shared with me

There are no half orders (I asked) and if you don't possess a gargantuan appetite a normal serving provides more food than you can eat. I shared a few bites, but still left more than half of the order. I can't quote exact prices, but none was over $10.

_For real big eaters give it an 8.5 on the 1-10 scale. For others it deserves a 7.

Best in the area? Last weekend a station in Caseville was selling gas at $3.79 per gallon. That's the lowest seen anywhere. Maybe that trip up north is not out of the question after all. Or maybe it is. Gas at $4.409 which we paid at Gaylord when prices were near the peak and gas last weekend in Caseville at $3.79 saves about $12 in the 400-mile round trip from Cass City to Boyne City. It's heartening to see the price fall, until you remember what it cost at this time a year ago.

EDC annual report: county has more jobs

Tuscola County Economic Development Corporation officials last week released their annual report for 2007-08, which shows the agency was involved in the creation and retention of 270 jobs over the past year. The report includes 24 major projects throughout the county, where 117 new jobs were created and 153 existing jobs were retained. It's estimated that the total employment figure translates into an annual payroll of nearly $7.7 million. Among the projects close to Cass City were assisting in the tax abatement process for Ceramic Systems, Cass City (10 jobs retained, 3 new jobs created), Walbro Engine Management, Cass City (10 new jobs created), and Vita Plus, Gagetown (30 jobs retained)

Tuscola County EDC Executive Director Jim McLoskey said that, even though many segments of the economy down, there have been some bright spots in the county over the past several months

"There were 7 manufacturing and agricultural processing firms that received tax abatement over the past year. Tuscola County municipalities have a strong track record of providing tax abatement to help companies locate and expand, and to hire more employees," he added.

Several businesses benefited from the free and confidential small business counseling services offered by the EDC, as well as from the EDC Revolving Loan Fund, which provides gap financing to local businesses, according to McLoskey. Thanks to an allocation from the Tuscola County Board of Commissioners, he noted, more businesses

Also hired was Tana Larkin-Shrader to teach special education.

The board also accepted "with regret" the resignations of teachers Michelle Anscomb, Sally Milholin and Lee Pavlichek.

IN OTHER BUSINESS

In other business during the special session, the board:

•Approved a resolution to eliminate the middle school exploratory posion and at the same time cr additional first grade position. School Supt. Ron Wilson said the hiring is expected to reduce first grade class sizes from 29 students to 22 or 23 students: •Approved a new academic integrity policy first reviewed last month. The policy outlines what constitutes cheating and plagiarism, and details penalties for infractions. ·Approved Wilson's recommendation to request bids for the purchase of tractor. The equipment will be purchased with monies from the district's 2008 construction bonds. •Approved the purchase of a used, 2007 pickup truck for $19,200 from Curtis Chrysler, Cass City. The truck will replace a 1993 model that the district will now offer for sale. •Authorized Wilson to sell unused and/or antiquated school equipment such as old desks, light fixtures and projector screens.

will be able to benefit from the revolving loan fund in the future.

'The EDC also provides assistance to retail, service and commercial businesses - both existing firms and startups," said McLoskey, who added the county appears to be consistent with a trend of more shopping being done locally.

"I have heard of a number of local merchants who say that the high prices of gasoline is causing shoppers to buy things locally, with not as many trips being made to Lapeer, Saginaw or Bay City. This 'shop local' campaign has been a long-term goal of the EDC and all chambers of commerce.'

The EDC's annual report also notes benefits provided through the EDC receiving grants and by providing grant administration for local units of government. Grants totaling just under $1 million were approved for the villages of Millington and Mayville, and for the Tuscola County Brownfield Redevelopment Authority

Serving as EDC board officers for the upcoming year are Dr. Doug Link as chair, Don Beavers as vice chair, and Curt Strickland as treasurer. Other board members are: Tom Bardwell, Bill Bushaw, Dave Gloer, Kent Graff, Joe Hembling, Colleen Langenburg, McLoskey, Myron Ortner, Kate VanAuken, Margie White-Cormier and Christine Young. Business owners and entrepreneurs who would like to learn more about the services offered by the Tuscola County EDC are invited to call (989) 673-2849. Board meetings are held monthly in different locations in the county and are open to the public.

•Met in executive session to discuss on-going teacher contract negotiations.

•Approved an annual resolution continuing membership in the Michigan High School Athletic Association (MHSAA).

•Held its annual reorganizational meeting/general business meeting. Doug Lautner, current board vice president, was elected board president; Trustee Craig Bellew was named vice president; and Treasurer Danny Haag and Secretary Randy Severance were reelected to their re-

The trouble that comes from advancing years is that "new" programs invite comparisons with similar programs used to remove us from tight financial and, yes, sexual situations.

There are other issues that plague us and are certainly filled with enough uncertainty to justify a whole series of columns. Like most of you, I have an opinion about all of them, but not enough facts to tell you why, so it's just an opinion without weight.

I can look back at the strikingly different attitude during the wars with Iraq and the war between Germany, Japan and Italy and the United States.

What called attention to it was the recent brouhaha over the change in status of West Point graduate Lieut. Caleb Campbell who was slated to join the Lions football practices until a last minute change in the rules required him to report for at least 2 years of service.

Most of the talk about his abrupt change centered on the effect it had on the Lions and the fairness of the last minute change for the lieutenant. There was little talk in the newspapers or unbiased newscasts on the loss of an officer in time of war. The general public now and then had an inaccurate appraisal of the strength of the opposition. I know that I felt that Japan was just a nuisance and Germany and its allies were the major enemies. History repeated itself when the vast majority, including army and political brass, felt the Iraq invasion would be wrapped up in quick order.

Now back to the return to duty of Campbell. One newspaper reported that the change in regulations was helped by the Navy and Air Force that complained that giving a star West Point athlete a way out immediately placed them at a recruiting disadvantage.

During World War II the conflict was the top priority in the services and the country. There was never a thought of a postponement of duty for any person deemed eligible for service.

The stars of the time - Ted Williams, Hank Greenberg, Hank Aaron, etc.were expected to serve and did so with gusto and verve.

After that war the support for wars in Korea, Vietnam and Iraq never beoth came the focus point above all ers that it was in World War II. One reason, indisputably, is that the number directly involved in the Iraq war is dwarfed by the number involved during World War II. Whatever the reason, soldiers were lauded then and those that were left behind were unreasonably disparaged.

MOC For the Cass City Schools, which will receive the maximum $112 per stadent, the increase translates into roughly $143,000 more in funding for the 2008-09 school year. However, that figure is dwarfed by the district's projected loss of another 64 students for the coming school year. If the prediction proves true, Cass City Schools loses $470,000 in state fund<sub>T</sub>

Cass City School Supt. Ron Wilson noted the district's per-pupil fundy ing will be $7,316 with the additional funding announced last week.

"I budgeted $100 (more) a kid in 3 crease, so it's $12 more, but it's still just a drop in the bucket," he said. adding the hike - about 1.3 percent won't offset the 3 1/2 or 4 percent rise in inflationary costs the district faces. "Certainly it's better than nothing," he said, "and I applaud the state, in tough economic times, for trying to give us something."

Brown was one of 68 House lawmakers to support the funding plan (39 members voted "no").

"We have to make sure that our children receive the high quality education they need to prepare them for the complex demands of working in today's global economy," said Brown, who worked in Thumb area schools for more than 2 decades before becoming a legislator and is a member of the House Education: Committee.

Under the plan, all Tuscola County schools will receive an increase of $112 per pupil in the coming school year. About two-thirds of Huron County schools, including the Ubly, Community Schools, will also get a $112 increase. All other Huron schools will receive an increase of at least $56 per student. In addition, the plan calls for $75,000 each to be awarded to the Tuscola and Huron intermediate school districts to provide engineering and science programs conducted, in partnership with renewable energy facilities such as wind farms and bigmass or ethanol plants.

Tuscola County officials are asking residents to approve 4 millage questions during the Tuesday, Aug. 5, primary election. All of the proposals are renewals that generate funding for various services in the county.

The requests include .25 of a mill to continue funding operational costs and equipment at the Tuscola County Medical Care Facility in Caro. The request, if approved, would remain in effect from 2009 through 2018 and generate an estimated $349,000 in the first year.

Voters will also be asked to renew .9657 of a mill for the years 2008 through 2015 for use by the Tuscola County Road Commission along with villages and cities for construction, repair and maintenance of primary county roads and major streets. The tax would raise $1,347,621 in the first year.

Another .4807 of a mill is being requested for renewal for county bridge and street improvements. If approved, the millage would be in effect from 2008 through 2015 and raise roughly $671,000 in the first year. Finally, county officials are requesting renewal of .15 of a mill from 2009 through 2016 for recycling services. The tax would generate about $209,000 in the first year.

The August 5 Sanilac County primary election will include a 5-way Republican race for sheriff. Current sheriff, Virgil Strickler, will not be running for re-election. This year's candidates, who would serve a four-year term if elected, include William Judkins of Carsonville, Gregory Ferriby of Applegate, Troy Mata, Michael Redman and Garry Biniecki, all of Sandusky.

Strickler is one of 3 incumbents in Sanilac County who is not running for re-election. James Bowerman, current Drain Commissioner for Sanilac County and Brian Sweeney, one of 2 Greenleaf Township trustees are also not running for re-election. Bowerman, however, is one of 3 running for District 4 Commissioner of Sanilac County.

The Sanilac County Drain Commissioner race is between 3 Republicans and one Democrat. Republican candidates are: Gregory Alexander of Carsonville, Brian Williams of Palms and Scott Western of Applegate. The Democratic candidate is Cheryl Collins of Marlette. The Sanilac County race for Road Commissioner is between Republicans Harold Donaghy of Sandusky, Lee Sweet of Deckerville, Carl Trigger of Carsonville and Terry Dwyer of Lexington. Donaghy is the incumbent. The elected road commissioner will serve a 6-year term.

For Sanilac County, District Commissioners will be elected to 2-year terms for all 7 districts. Incumbent John Merriman of Deckerville and Dean Berden of Snover are running on the Republican ticket for District One Commissioner. Joyce Wiley of Minden City is running Democratic. The District 2 Commissioner race is between incumbent Gary Russell and Michael Reisner, both Republican and both of Deckerville. Incumbent James Ruby and Charles Zampich, both from Marlette, are running as Republicans for District 3 Commissioner. The race for District 4 Commissioner is between 2 Republicans and incumbent Democrat Norton Schramm of Sandusky. The Republicans are: Alvin Kukuk of Sandusky and James Bowerman of Carsonville. Incumbent William Walters and Jamie Daws will be running for District 5 Commissioner. Both are Republicans and from Brown City. District 6 Commissioner incumbent Republican Donald Hunt of Croswell is running against Democratic candidate Richard Partlo of Yale. The District 7 Commissioner race is between incumbent Republican Judy Vincent and Democrat Dorothy Jackson, both of Lexington. The breakdown for districts is as follows: District One-Lamotte, Custer, Argyle, Austin, Greenleaf, Evergreen, Minden and Wheatland townships. District 2-Delaware, Marion, Sanilac and Forester townships. District 3-Marlette, Elmer and Moore townships. District 4-Bridgehampton, Washington and Watertown townships. District 5-Flynn, Elk, Speaker and Maple Valley townships. District 6-Buel, Fremont and Worth townships. District 7-Lexington Township.

30-plus seeking office in Huron

Huron County voters will be busy at the polls during the Tuesday, Aug. 5, primary election, as more than 30 candidates are seeking county offices.

The races include a whopping 5 newcomers vying for the office of register of deeds following incumbent Frances L. Holdwick's decision to retire this year. Seeking the 4-year term are Republicans Margaret S. Callender, Andrew R. Lockard, Jean L. Norton, Sheri L. Stanton and Vicki Sue A. Williams.

Huron County Prosecutor Mark Gaertner faces a repeat challenge from Timothy J. Rutkowski of Ubly in the August Republican primary election. Rutkowski, who most recently has served as assistant prosecutor in Tuscola County, unsuccessfully challenged Gaertner in the 2000 election.

A total of 14 candidates are seeking 2-year terms on the Huron County Board of Commissioners.

PUBLIC HEARING NOTICE

Notice is hereby given that the zoning board of appeals and planning commission of the township of Elkland will hold a public hearing on the 20th day of August, 2008 at 7:00 p.m. at the Township Hall located at 6691 Church Street, Cass City, MI 48726.

The purpose of the public hearing will be to consider the application by Homer Bailey for a setback variance and special land use permit for the purpose of installing a 10K wind turbine to be located at 4167 Crane Road on the property identified as tax parcel number property ID # 007-031-000-1000-04.

All interested persons are encouraged to attend the public hearing to ask questions or to make comments as to the application. Written comments may be submitted to the Clerk at 4693 Seeger Street, Cass City, MI 48726 at any time prior to the public hearing.

Norma Wallace Clerk

The candidates include 3 in District One, which represents Brookfield, Fairhaven and Sebewaing townships. Vying for the seat are Democrat challengers John A. Horny and Theodore D. Maule, and incumbent Republican Timothy Rujan.

In District 2 - Bingham, Grant, Paris, Sheridan and Sherman townships -Democrat William Lackowski is challenging Republican incumbent David G. Peruski in November.

There is also a pair of non-partisan races for judge in the county.

Huron County Circuit Court Judge M. Richard Knoblock is seeking reelection to a 6-year term and will face challenger Walter J. Salens, a Bad Axe attorney.

District court Judge David B. Herrington, appointed to the seat earlier this year by Gov. Jennifer Granholm, is also seeking election to his first 6-year term. He faces a challenge from Michael D. Otto.

For Evergreen Township, all 5 running are Republican incumbents and unopposed. Arthur Severance is running for Clerk, Audrey Leslie for Supervisor, Wayne Whittaker for Treasurer and Charles Hendrick and James Brown for Trustee.

For Greenleaf Township, the Trustee race is between incumbent Mark Battel, Melvin Hoppe and Vera Nicol, all Republicans. Running unopposed are Republican incumbents Judy Doerr, Clerk, Alfred Kosowski, Constable, Kirk Winter, Supervisor and Louis Laming, Treasurer.

Ballot questions for the August 5 primary will include 3 millage renewals and one bond proposal. The county jail improvements bond proposal will fund the cost of building a new jail for the county. The renewal of the county library millage will be one of the 3 millage renewals. If passed, the library millage will run for 4 years, starting in 2008 and going to 2011. It will be a 0.2 mill millage, meaning $0.20 per $1,000 of taxable value. The next millage renewal request is the senior citizen services millage, which will also run for 4 years, 2008 to 2011, and will be 0.2 mill. The final millage renewal request is a medical control emergency services millage. If passed, the millage will run for 3 years starting in 2009 and will go until 2011. Like the others, the millage will be 0.2 mill.

There will be multiple millage renewals and proposals for individual townships in Sanilac County as well. There will be a proposition for a road millage renewal and fire protection millage renewal in Argyle Township. A road gravel millage proposal will be on the ballot of Austin Township. In Evergreen Township there will be a millage renewal for road maintenance, a fire protection millage renewal for Greenleaf Township and a township road millage proposal for Lamotte Township.

Council awards sidewalk contract

In session for a second time this onth, the Cass City Village Council londay awarded the 2008 Sidewalk mprovement Project to the local firm f CSS Contracting, Inc., during its gular scheduled meeting.

Three bids for the sidewalk repairs were received and opened on July 24. The bids ranged from a low of $19,964 to a high of $25,650. Phillips Engineering, which reviewed all 3 bids, recommended that the village accept CSS Contracting's bid in the amount of 9,964, which was approved by a nanimous vote. Also submitting ds were Cass City vendors Rexander Concrete and Complete Concrete at $20,900 and $25,650, repectively. The bids were based on moving and replacing 1,200 linear et of 4" concrete sidewalk and 100 Bear feet of 6" concrete sidewalk at driveway locations.

Fillage manager Peter Cristiano said that the majority of the village's sidevalk improvements for 2008 will be along Third Street, but he encouraged other residents willing to foot 50 percent of the cost to contact the village Office for consideration.

While much of the council's regular business was conducted during a Fire special meeting held July 16 that endorsed tax breaks by approving resolutions to a 15-year extension of the Renaissance Zone and establishing an Industrial Development District on Church Street, Cristiano was able to inform the handful of people in attendance on the progress being made along Main Street.

Cristiano said village officials have met with the owners of the Roe building, 6535 Main St., and they have promised to compete their building and landscape the property by Sept.

Cristiano also said he has met with the owners of Coach Light Pharmacy and reviewed reasons to expand into the former connecting Old Wood Pharmacy building. Cristiano noted that parking concerns were alleviated with the new, proposed parking lot behind 6450 Main St. to 6480 Main St.

In other business during the 35minute gathering, the council also: •Presented Certificates of Appreciation to Eagle Scout candidates Tommy Brinkman and Thomas LeValley, who recently completed their Eagle Scout projects, and to the Cass City Rotary Club.

•Heard, during the citizen forum portion of the meeting, from Tuscola County sheriff candidate Leland Teschendorf, and Tuscola County

Road Commission representatives Jack Laurie and Jay Tuckey, who encouraged residents to vote during the primary election, Tuesday, Aug. 5 for or against - the renewal of 2 existing millages - one for primary road improvements and the other for bridge improvements. •Received and filed the June minutes •Received and filed the June minutes from the downtown development authority, economic development corporation and the planning commission.

•Accepted the financial statements ending June 30, 2008, which showed a cash balance of $1,301,203.

Mediation available for farmers

Farmers who are in dispute with the USDA or private agricultural creditors have recourse to a free mediation service through the Michigan Agricultural Mediation Program (MAMP).

The USDA sends out hundreds of adverse determination letters to Michigan farmers each year. Complex regulations make it difficult for farmers to understand why they received the letter, and how to address the issue so that they are in compliance. With the enormous sums of money at risk during every growing season, it is imperative for farmers to resolve the situation quickly or face huge financial losses.

The MAMP is designed to help farmers who have received an adverse determination letter related to loans, wetlands, conservation programs, crop insurance and more.

Farmers who call the MAMP are connected to one of 2 mediation centers in Michigan: the Dispute Resolution Center of West Michigan in Grand Rapids, which handles the west side of the state; or the HDC Center for Dispute Resolution in Caro, which handles Eastern Michigan and the Upper Peninsula.

The mediator schedules time with both the farmer and a representative of the USDA. During mediation, a trained volunteer leads both parties through a process of discussion so that they can resolve their differences. It is entirely confidential, while being much faster and more cost-effective for the farmer than other forms of appeal.

"We are very fortunate that the Michigan representatives of the USDA are extremely cooperative and forthcoming in mediation," says Jon Wilmot, executive director of the Dispute Resolution Center of West Michigan. "The representatives seek to help farmers understand the regulations and work towards a solution that meets the farmer's requirements as well as the regulatory requirements. We have an excellent success rate, with approximately 75 percent of disputes that come through mediation being resolved." Down Memory Lane

Dan Curtis was recently named general manager of Curtis Chrysler-Dodge-Jeep in Cass City. The announcement was made by Curtis' father, Pat Curtis, who owns the local dealership with his brother, Matt, as well as Pat Curtis Chevrolet-Olds-Cadillac in Caro. Curtis is a recent graduate of Northwood University, where he earned a Bachelor of Business Degree in banking and finance, and management. In his new position, the 1999 Caro High School graduate will oversee day-to-day operations along with management staff Mike Wagner, service and parts manager, and Mark Kerr, sales manager. In all, the dealership employs 9 people.

Cass City Rotary member Tom Proctor recently retired from his position as a Rotary Youth Exchange Program Correspondent after 31 years of involvement with the program. Along with 20 years as a correspondent, Proctor also put in 20 years as district chairman.

The winning team of Friday's 5th annual Hills & Dales Hospital Charity Golf Benefit included: Nick Chappel, Chris Maharg, Matt Ender and Derrick Bellew.

Area resident Pete Martin keeps himself busy with his hobby of crafting bird houses, bird, deer and squirrel feeders, tulips and decorative dogs and babies for people to put in their yard. Martin, who lives on Rescue Road north of Cass City, has been making his creations for about 5 months now. "I used to make tables and swings, all big stuff. But, I can't handle that now, so I do little stuff." Martin began making his crafts because he felt the need to become involved with something after losing his leg nearly one year ago. "I had to get into something." He knows a lot of townspeople, he said, after living in Cass City all of his life and Martin sells his crafts from his home and garage sales.

Harold and Joyce Polega have seen their share of accidents at M-53 and Bay City-Forestville Road since they by Saturday morning to ask what road she should take to find Gagetown. But moments later, Harold Polega heard the crash of metal, and he knew there had been another bad accident. Joyce said her husband immediately called for help and woke her up. She didn't hesitate, leaving to see if she could lend a hand. Polega wasn't alone. Deford area resident Rhonda Powell, a former neighbor of the Polegas, was on her way to work in Bad Axe when she also stopped to help. Michigan State Police troopers lauded both women for their assistance at the scene of the 2vehicle traffic accident that sent Compton and one of her children to the hospital. Troopers from the Sandusky post said Polega and Powell helped out with 3 young children who had been passengers in the Compton vehicle. "The 2 citizens remained with the children and even went with them to the hospital in Cass City - taking several hours out of their day to help the kids," said Trooper Kathy Nunn.

Brewster Shaw Jr.'s long-time goal of flying in space is getting closer. The Cass City native will be one of a crew of six on the Columbia space shuttle scheduled to be launched from Cape Canaveral, Fla., Oct. 28. A large contingent of Cass Cityans and ex-Cass Cityans is planning to go to Florida to see the Columbia take off from Cape Canaveral Oct. 28 with Brewster Shaw Jr. on board. Among them will be his parents, Brewster (Bruce) and Leone Shaw. The elder Shaw said their three daughters, spouses and children are also planning on going, a total of 11 persons. The astronaut's sisters are Mary Moore, of Birmingham, Margaret Maycock, Grosse Pointe, and Susan McGrath, Northville. Also planning to see the launch, according to Shaw, are Mr. and Mrs. Stu Merchant, Dale McIntosh, a close friend of his son from high school days, and Dale's brother, Bob, all of Cass City, and another close friend from Brewster's high school days, Jerry Ross of Walled Lake. Shaw Sr. said his son's wife, Kathleen, and their three children, Brewster III, Jessica, and Brandon, will also be at Cape Canaveral. The astronaut has asked Cass City village and school officials for some souvenirs from here to possible take taken by Art Randall. Persons with long memories will probably not be surprised. Before he got smart and became a banker, Art worked at the. Chronicle. He did just about everything. Started in the back shop and then went on the street selling advertising. (From Rabbit Tracks)

Beef eaters in Cass City may have: to change their tastes for awhile as: the shortage in meat begins to make itself felt in the area. Markets report shortages of red meat, wholesalers: cannot meet demand and cattle being sold continue to bring the highest prices in recent memory. Dick Erla of Erla's Food Center and Packing, Inc., described beef prices as "higher than hell," adding that the days of: cheap beef are gone forever. "We've lived 50 years with cheap food: prices," Erla said. "Now we have to start paying a higher price in order to give the farmer a fair return on his: investment."

In a meeting that lasted only one : hour Tuesday evening, Cass City Village Council voted to approve the purchase and erection of traffic signals at three intersections within the village. The signals, to be installed at the intersections of Rose and-Seeger, Main and Seeger and Ale and Main, will cost approximately $2,500 and will be installed hopefully before the beginning of school, although no firm date could be fixed for final installation.

CASS CITY CHRONICLE - WEDNESDAY, JULY 30, 2008

Candidates share their backgrounds, views)

With the primary election just days away, the Chronicle's editorial staff asked the candidates seeking office in Tuscola County as well as those vying for the 84th District Michigan House of Representatives seat to discuss their backgrounds and views. The following are their responses:

DISTRICT 3 COMMISSIONER

Tom Kern Democrat

I'm Thomas T. Kern, Deford, age 64, and I've lived in Tuscola County all my life. I've been married to Junanne for 43 years. I have 3 children and 4 grandchildren.

I have served in law enforcement for 38 years, 20 as sheriff. During that time I have worked in one capacity or another with every agency in the county as well as many of the township officials.

Now, I am retiring as sheriff and I feel I can contribute in a positive way. I would like to see better communication between the board and the elected officials in the county. Although money is a big problem for everyone these days, something has to be done to address jail and courthouse space problems.

The board also needs to take a strong look at all the money going out to the attorneys for some opinions that could be made by our prosecutor's office.

If elected I would advocate that the board communicate with the public as much as possible. People cannot always attend board meetings, so we need the information out as best as we can.

Donald McLane Republican

I am Donald P. McLane, 68, hometown of Mayville, and have lived in the community for 68 years.

My professional experience includes: worked in management 40 years, 7 years as plant manager; commissioner for 15 1/2 years and worked to balance budget, even through tough times; served on the Mayville village council for 6 years in the 1960s; served on the Mayville Fire Department for 16 years; a member of the Mayville United Methodist-Church; a member of the Mayville Lions Club; and a member of the Mayville Museum.

I served on the following boards: Tuscola Behavioral Health Systems, Michigan Works Thumb Area Consortium, Human Development Commission, HDC Senior Services Advisory Council, Region VII Area Agency Advisory Council, MAC Transportation Committee, health board, and the Mayville DDA.

I am seeking office because I am qualified and dedicated to continue working for the taxpayers of Tuscola County through experience, leadership, honesty and integrity.

My goals are to continue to balance the county budget and to assist the townships and villages on issues they may have, and to help the citizens of the county with their issues, and serve all the citizens for the betterment of Tuscola County.

the Year for Michigan and am a nominee for 2008. My years of working in the office have provided me with extensive knowledge of county history and records. I am dedicated to protecting the records and making the office as user-friendly as possible. I have been successful in computerizing the office and am now working on converting the old deteriorating books and microfilm into digital images so they can be viewed on the computers.

In the last several years, the Tuscola County Register of Deeds Office has been sued twice by title companies to obtain special, or free, services and copies. In both the state and federal suits, the courts ruled in the countv's favor, prohibiting the title companies from profiting at the taxpayer's expense. I feel my knowledge of the laws governing the office and my commitment to the residents of Tuscola County played a large part in being able look out for and protect the taxpayer's best interests.

I'm seeking office because I really love my job! I want to continue to update and digitize the records while preserving the old historical books. Because the office maintains all the recorded land records in the county (forever), it's necessary to have continual maintenance and to upgrade the technology as necessary so that the records will not be lost. I think one of the most important issues with public records is how to provide access without exposing them to identity theft. I have worked to establish a website where the general public can view the record indexes without coming into the office but have refused to sell digital records in bulk to title companies and data miners for distribution around the world. I also want to continue working to provide more information to the taxpayers about government services. I recently updated our office website with recording requirements, exemption charts, measurement charts, frequently asked questions and much more.

One of the services we will be providing in the near future is deed and transfer information to local governments by means of the Internet. I hope to continue serving the residents of Tuscola County by protecting their records and their rights.

Lee Teschendorf Republican

I have served the citizens of Tuscola County for 35 years as a deputy sheriff, patrol sergeant and for the past 22 years as jail administrator. During that time, I have maintained all the requirements needed to be a certified patrol officer and I am also a certified correction officer.

I graduated from Vassar High School and earned a Bachelor of Science Degree in criminal justice from Michigan State University. I have attended numerous specialized training courses in both the patrol and corrections fields. I also participated in and contribute to several public service organizations and am a past president and current treasurer of the Greater Thumb Area Fraternal Order of Police Lodge.

I have been married for 33 years to Christine and we have one daughter Kristen.

My position as jail administrator has provided valuable experience in the operation of the facility, managing a annual jail budget of approximately 2 million dollars, staff scheduling and training, reducing liability, commu nity relations and being in compliance with the jails standards set by the Michigan Department of Corrections. Over the years, I have developed an excellent working relationship with the courts, prosecutor's office and the County Board of Commissioners. This will enable me to be a know edgeable and capable contributor in helping solve the problems we are facing. When Sheriff Kern told me he would be retiring at the end of his term, Imade the decision to run for this very. important office. During my 35-year career at the sheriff's office, I have advanced through the ranks, earned the trust of peers, and maintained an honest work ethic and a high level of integrity. My experience and ability, to deal with all aspects of the criminal justice system will make me successful in maintaining the very competent office that serves you. There are problems that must be overcome with the most immediate being the jail overcrowding situation. In 2007, it cost the taxpayers approximately \$120,000 to board inmates in other county jails. This year has been worse and the daily count has been? running between 110 and 120 inmates while the jail can only hold 80. We have been sending between 30 and 40 inmates to other counties since February, and I anticipate the annual expense will be in the area of 200,000. My goal is to work with the courts and commissioners to develop a cost effective solution to this problem. Another issue that is very important  $\frac{1}{4}$ to public safety is doing our best to maintain the current level of road pa trol coverage. Since 1988, the citizens of the county have seen the need for patrols and voted a special millage to support it. At the current time, we are providing 24-hour patrol protection but often only have one unit avail able in the entire county. My goal will be to maintain our current patrols and,, make every effort to improve our effi-ciency and availability to the public M Our victim services program is also under a constant threat of funding reduction or elimination. The family seed business has been in Tuscola County since 1921. During this time, I was also on the Tuscola County Planning Commission (10 years), Reese Village Council (4 years) and Tuscola County Farm Bureau Policy Committee for several years.

My professional background and past experience offers Tuscola County something that very few counties get a chance to have; a drain commissioner with an engineering degree, technical experience in water management, practical hands-on experience and a farm business background. This along with my involvement in local government and organizations show my dedication to the area I was born and raised in.

I support an excellent work ethic and efficiency. I have also learned that honesty, integrity and common sense are qualities that are essential to a public office.

I am seeking the office of drain commissioner because I have a passion to tackle drainage problems. I have thought about running for this office since I moved back to this area. The time is right in my personal life and business life to pursue this office. I feel a need to offer my past knowledge and experience to Tuscola County. This should allow me to continue to keep our intricate drainage system operating properly, while also using my background and knowledge to keep the costs to the taxpayers down. I also want to stress the importance of our drainage system and how significant it is to the agricultural economic base of this county.

In the current fiscal climate of our county, I also believe the cost of operating every department must be contained and reduced. My goal would be to decrease the expense of the Register of Deeds office by at least 5 percent and develop ways to increase revenue. Technology has made great strides in record keeping, but can we afford the cost long term? Finally, I want to bring true service back to the term "Public Service". The citizens of this county deserve superior service from the people they elect and I assure you the Register of

Daniel Baugher Republican

I am Daniel Mark Baugher. I reside in Kingston, and have lived in Tuscola County since 1985.

I've been a small business owner for the past 25 years, involved in the remodeling and construction trade. Prior to that I worked in various machine and fabricating shops in the Detroit area working my way up through a variety of jobs from machinist to quality assurance manager to cost estimator. For a brief time I also worked as a welder at the Ford Rouge Plant in Dearborn Michigan where I am also proud to say I was born 50 years ago.

<sup>21</sup> I am a 1976 graduate of Fordson High School, Dearborn, a 1995 graduate of Detroit College of Business (now Davenport University) with a bachelor's degree in business administration, with a concentration in law. In 1993 I also graduated from Great Eakes College with a dual associate's degree in paralegal and business administration.

As an ordinary citizen of the great State of Michigan, having been born and raised here all my life I have witnessed the myriad of changes that have both been a benefit and a detriment to the economy of this state and our nation as well. Once, this state was the greatest producer of goods and services in the nation. We spawned the greatest inventors such as Thomas Edison and Henry Ford who forever with their ideas changed the landscape of this great nation. I carry this vision of greatness and Have the life skills to hopefully change the landscape of Huron and Tuscola County to once again be an economic center of the Thumb of Michigan, placing it back on the map as a productive region of the state rather than the unemployment capitol and decimated area which we will soon become if men of greater vision do not take charge. I am extremely concerned that this state is well on its way to a major decline similar to the one we experienced in the late 20s and early 30s. Without some drastic changes and improvements, there will not be anything to save in the way of jobs and or educational benefits for our children and their children to look forward to. Without businesses, taxpayers, and working residents this state cannot survive and with that decline also will be a decline in the social programs that make up our fabric and keep some people afloat in the boat of life. Contrary to a previous newspaper article written by an overzealous reporter, I am not in this for the money this job pays. I have children of my own and their future well being in this state is important to me as is the well being of every resident that chooses to hang their hat here. I would like to add that if you feel that the current situation of either this area of the state or the state as a whole is in wonderful condition, then continue with the present people we have in place making decisions that affect your future and present well being. If you think that there is now, more than ever, a need for greater change and forward momentum into the future, you must vote for someone who is going to fight for what it is that will propel us to a level of greatness this state once knew or, at the least, someone who is going to try beyond politics as usual. The top issues I wish to address while in office are: reducing the almost 9 percent unemployment rate Michigan presently faces and moving our residents toward better than minimum wage employment. Secondly, recapturing our position as one of the top producing states in this country and last, but not least, increasing the opportunities that our residents have in which to succeed in both the workplace and in the forward movement to prosperity that all deserve.

If elected I would strive to accomplish reducing unemployment, which may be the most difficult task we face in Michigan. With the loss of the automobile industry jobs that have fueled this state's economy, the key is finding a different work sector to replace this decline in opportunities. Educating workers is the specific answer for new job growth, in addition to business tax incentives for the lure of new employers to locate here in Michigan. We have lost too many jobs to outsourcing and relocated factories in the far reaches of the globe where workers are paid pennies for their sweat. Educated employees are companies' greatest assets.

Reducing taxes for the average wage earner, tax breaks for companies that relocate here creating jobs for our residents, and incentives for companies already doing business here that keep jobs intact and not outsource their work is one method. More jobs means a bigger tax base and more cash flow into the economy for goods and services.

We need to do away with wasteful and foolish spending that our state seems bent on continuing well into the 22nd century, and one opportunity is to decrease excessive spending. Common sense must dictate every fiscal move made and every dollar spent.

Terry Brown Democrat

I was born in Pigeon and am a lifelong resident of the Thumb, now raising my own family in Pigeon. My wife, Carol, and I have been married 25 years and have 3 children: Teresa, Bryan and Christopher. I'm 49 years old and an ordained minister, serving as associate pastor at Bay Port Commuof Christ My life's work before becoming our area's state representative centered on helping children and families. I worked for the Huron Intermediate School District in various roles from 1983, when I started as a school social worker, to after I was elected in 2006, when I was principal of the Huron Learning Center, a school for students with disabilities. I was blessed to work with such wonderful young people and families, and to work with my colleagues to help them reach their fullest potential. This work drew on my experience as a state-licensed social worker, with a master's degree in social work from Michigan State University. I also hold a master's in educational administration, with a supervisor of special education endorsement from Grand Valley University. My educational background has helped me understand how essential it is to invest in our schools and give our children the education they need to prepare for today's good-paying jobs. I am proud of successfully fighting for a plan that increased funding for local schools both years; for both years, Cass City schools and all Tuscola schools received the maximum increase. I strongly believe that our students deserve the same resources that those in richer districts get. I also secured $75,000 for our schools to help prepare students for jobs in the renewable energy indus-I am a charter member of the Huron County Council on Child Abuse and Neglect (CA/N) and the Huron Homeless Coalition and worked to establish www.thumbresources.org, a nonprofit Web site linking residents with social service organizations. The best preparation for representing Huron and Tuscola county residents well has been knowing our communities and living here my whole life. I care deeply about the future of our area, and I want to leave a better world for my children and yours. I'm proud to have grown up here and be raising my family here. I want our kids to feel that staying here is a good option for them, too. My faith and hope in the community I care so deeply about inspire me to work hard every day to improve our quality of life. I understand the challenges our families, workers, farmers, seniors and others face, especially during these tough times. I understand the urgent need to achieve priorities such as creating and protecting good-paying jobs, training our workers in new fields so they can support their families, and protecting the Great Lakes. I am committed to using my knowledge of our communities' values and needs to achieve positive change for us.

I have also made it a priority to seek out the opinions and ideas of others and to make myself available to all the residents of the 84th District. I have held coffee hours all around our area so I can listen to people's concerns, suggestions and questions. I have held town halls on topics including preventing foreclosures, identity theft, saving for your child's education, renewable energy and more. I also send out an e-newsletter to keep folks informed of what is going on at the Capitol, and everyone is welcome to call, write or visit my office with any questions or concerns they have. I strive to keep the lines of communication open.

When I ran for office in 2006, which was the first time I ever ran for elected office, I was endorsed by hardly any organizations. This time around, I am pleased to say that organizations I respect and care about have endorsed me because they recognize the work I am doing on behalf of my communities.

As I said last time, though, and I mean it just as much this time - the most important endorsement is yours. I never forget that representing the interests of Huron and Tuscola residents is my sole purpose for being at the state Capitol.

My primary goal remains the same each and every day: to create and protect good-paying jobs for Thumbarea residents. Many job-creation plans that I have supported, such as tax incentives for renewable energy providers, farmers and companies that hire Michigan workers, are not yet finalized, and I want to see those put into action.

Just as I have voted to cut state spending and sponsored the plan that took away judges' state cars, I am still working to cut lawmakers' salaries and benefits - including my own. We need a leaner, more efficient state government and we need to find and eliminate wasteful spending. I am pleased by the approval of the Great Lakes compact and other laws my colleagues and I enacted to protect our waters, and now we need to stop the trash haulers from Canada and other states that are flooding Michigan with garbage. A lot of work remains to be done to improve the quality of life in the Thumb and turn Michigan around.

I am doing everything I can to bring

Sulanowski, has been living on the property. He makes his living as a dentist in Elkton where he employs a staff of four.

Seven years ago I moved to Deford just down the road from my brother and shortly after I got involved with the community by joining the Caro Rotary Club and the Cass City branch of the AAUW. Later I joined the Tuscola County Republican Party and served as their chairman for 2 years.

My career in the field of advertising and marketing prepared me to serve in the Michigan House of Representatives in several ways.

First of all, the advertising business is tough and highly competitive. It required a great deal of strength, creativity and perseverance to succeed as does the office of state representative. In my 30 plus years in advertising I worked on more than 150 different accounts. That takes an ability to learn about businesses as varied as Chevy Trucks, Henry Ford Health Care, Borden Foods and Crain Communications just to name a few. As state representative, I will need to become familiar with issues that affect a variety of industries, organizations and people. As an executive, I had to inspire and manage a staff, manage budgets and meet with clients. As a state representative I will be charged with similar tasks. My clients will be primarily the citizens, workers and job providers of Tuscola and Huron counties.

In advertising I often had to work with very small budgets. The smaller your budget the more you need big ideas. Solving Michigan's economic problems and attracting job providers to our state will take big ideas.

I decided to seek the office of state representative because of our current state representative's propensity for raising taxes. Within a year and a half of taking office he voted to raise taxes three times. He voted for the highest tax increase in Michigan's history, he voted for a service tax, which caused a temporary government shut down before it was taken off the table, and he voted for the Michigan Business Tax with a 22 percent surcharge.

This kind of taxation would be bad enough during good economic times, but when Michigan is in a single state recession and leading the charts with the highest unemployment rate in the nation, it's inexcusable. Businesses are cutting back, shutting down or leaving Michigan followed by workers in search of gainful employment. Schools are losing students and consequently many dollars in federal funding. This kind of tax and spend approach only drives the economy down even further.

As your state representative I would vote to reverse some of these taxes, rid the MBT of the 22 percent surcharge and require transparency in spending. Taxpayers need to know how their money is being spent. Posting the state budget on a web site that anyone can access will encourage caution in spending.

My goal is to help create a business friendly climate for all job provider. We should be looking for ways to increase the tax base., I'm also in f vor of cutting legislators' salaries, nr 5 percent, a number our current state representative favors, but 50 percent Over 40 states in the U.S. have parttime legislatures. Our full-time legis lature is the second highest paid legislature in the nation. I don't believe the results warrant such extrava gance.

In addition, I am pro-life, pro-see ond amendment, and pro-limited government, and I will be voting accordingly.

good-paying jobs and economic development to our area. Our working families are hurting due to the loss of jobs from outsourcing and Michigan's changing economy. I believe we must use tax incentives to support business growth and attract major employers in emerging industries like renewable energy. We should be making wind turbines and all the components here in Michigan, which will create jobs at our struggling or closed auto parts plants.

As a member of 5 House committees, I have built bipartisan relationships that I want to continue to raise the profile of Huron and Tuscola counties and bring attention to our needs.

I will continue to work hard, stand up for working families and fight for our communities. I strive to overcome the partisan bickering that gets in the way of getting things done. I want to continue to use my work at the Capitol to show the rest of the state that the Thumb is an innovative, relevant place - a wonderful place with much to offer the rest of the state.

Soil erosion down 90% on CRP lands

Soil erosion has been decreased by 90 percent - to less than one ton per acre per year - on 25 million acres of highly erodible land enrolled in the Conservation Reserve Program. Most soils naturally regenerate at rates of 2 to 12 tons per acre per year, according to the Soil and Water Conservation Society. A generation ago, soil erosion rates of up to 40 tons an acre were recorded during the Dust Bowl. Today's new farming methods and tillage techniques have made erosion almost negligible, while enriching the soil in the process.

Novesta needs road millage

Dear editor,

The Novesta Township Board members ask for your support in approving a road millage renewal of one mill ($1 per $1,000 of taxable value) for a period of 4 years, 2009 to 2012. This request will be on the primary ballot Aug. 5.

No other tax returns more to you than money used to maintain and improve local township roads that you drive on every day. Township taxpayers are responsible for over 57 miles of secondary roads in Novesta Township, including side streets in the Village of Deford. Primary roads are the responsibility of the Tuscola County Road Commission and include in our township, one mile of Kingston Road, 6 miles of Deckerville Road, and 5 miles of Cemetery Road. All the remaining roads are supported by the township property taxpayers with the road commission performing regular maintenance.

In the last 3 years, the township board, through your support, has spent over $223,776.14 in paving, major road upgrades, dust control, regular maintenance and roadside mowing. Some of this money comes from the general fund with the remainder coming from the township road millage tax.

Some of the major road projects in the last 3 years: Kelly Road between Englehart and Crawford; Dodge Road between Shabbona and Severance; and Crawford Road between Deckerville and Shabbona. Many more of our roads are in need of major improvement and repair. It is the goal of the township board to improve all township roads where needed and wanted. We have all seen our muddy roads in the early spring, dusty and wash board roads in the summer and potholes in the winter. We will not be able to meet the challenge without your continued support.

Sweets donate heifer towards Paul DeLong scholarship

Lee and Bonnie Sweet of Deckerville, Michigan, recently held a dispersal sale of their entire herd of Angus cattle. They donated lot number one, a yearling, registered Angus heifer, Sweet Design Frontier 703, to the Paul DeLong Memorial Scholarship of the Thumb Jackpot Educational Program and the Michigan Angus Auxiliary Junior Scholarship Program.

The auction was called by Bill Sheridan, Sheridan Realty & Auction Co., at the Marlette Livestock Pavilion in Marlette. Sheridan sold the donated heifer with no charge of commission

A syndicate group of breeders and business from the Thumb area, the Sweet Heifer Project Founders, purchased the heifer for $2,650.

The proceeds from the sale of the heifer will be divided among the 2 scholarship programs. The heifer, now owned by the Sweet Heifer Project Founders will be awarded to a 4-H or FFA beef project member from Huron, Lapeer, Macomb, Oakland, Sanilac, St. Clair, or Tuscola counties. The purpose of the Sweet Heifer Project is for educational purposes. The educational process will start with the application process and progress through the different stages of the heifer development. The committee and project founders want this to be a rewarding experience for youth, help promote future beef industry leaders, and anticipate more heifer projects to be awarded to youth in the Thumb area.

The Sweet Heifer Project is a new addition to the 4-H & FFA Thumb Jackpot Beef Education programs which include the Thumb Jackpot Beef Show, Beef Blast, and the Paul DeLong Memorial Scholarship Program. All programs are available to 4-H & FFA beef project members from Huron, Lapeer, Macomb, Oakland, Sanilac, St. Clair, and Tuscola counties. Support for all education programs is provided by businesses and individuals interested in furthering education in the beef industry.

Interest and need are the criteria for obtaining this heifer. Youth should have one or more years experience in a beef project. Consideration will be ven to a youth who has adequate facilities and interest in a registered heifer project. Those individuals meeting criteria for consideration but lack the resources to purchase a heifer will be given consideration first. Applications are available from Jeannine Grobbel, District Livestock Extension Educator, (989) 269-9949 (ext. 612) or grobbelj@msu.edu. Applications must be postmarked or emailed by July 21. Additional heifer projects are expected to be awarded this fall, including a commercial heifer project as well as heifers representing additional breeds. Sweet Heifer Project Founders include the following breeders and businesses in the Thumb area: United Producers, Inc. of Cass City, Groveland Hills Farm of Ortonville, Meiburg Angus of North Branch, Ruggles Beef Farm of Kingston, Scott Farms of Clio, Elizabeth Bush of Snover, Cherry Creek Cattle Co. -Goheen Family of Deckerville, Thumb Cattlemen's Association, Blue Water Angus - Dr. Schroeder of Deckerville, and Bob Blumerich Family of Allenton.

CRAIG SWIDERSKI OF Kappen Tree Service says climbing is one of his favorite parts of his job. Safety is very important to the owners of the Cass City business and the company has a great safety record.

A day in the life of.... Safety priority one for Kappen Tree Service

by Emily Davis Staff Writer

Editor's note: The following is another installment in a series of stories entitled "A day in the life of..."

The stories, written by Chronicle summer intern Emily Davis, will appear regularly this summer and focus on a variety of professionals in the community, from a local contractor to a daycare provider to a veterinarian. The goal of the series is to share with our readers some insight into what it takes to tackle various jobs and why those interviewed decided on their chosen fields.

Safety is a clear priority for Kappen Tree Service of Cass City.

Kappen employee of 5 years Craig Swiderski said the owners are always doing their best to insure safety. Swiderski said that Kappen employees get many first aid handouts to read and sign to help keep their great safety record. "They're big on safety," he said. In January, Kappen Tree Service received the Michigan Occupational Safety and Health Administration (MIOSHA) Consultation Education and Training (CET) Division Gold Award for its impeccable record of safety and health. Kappen Tree Service has also earned accreditation from the Tree Care Industry Association. Swiderski said Kappen Tree Service employs about 121 workers Swiderski said on-the-job dangers can come in many forms. "There's electrical hazards, we use chainsaws, have to be careful when climbing, have to pay attention when other people are cutting," he said there are many dangers to the job. However, using caution and the safety regulations the company sets helps keep employees safe. With so much focus on safety, it makes Kappen Tree Service a good place to work. "It's a great place to work," Swiderski said. "They always look out for us in terms of safety."

Swiderski started working for Kappen Tree Service about 5 years ago. He was in between jobs and his father-in-law suggested he call Kappen and when he did he was hired. on the spot. Training for the job depends on if workers are a part of the International Brotherhood of Electrical Works (IBEW) Union. "If you're in the union, you have to go through , an apprenticeship," he said. "Otherwise you just learn by watching." Swiderski said that it probably takes about a year to become fully trained for the job, but it depends on the person.

Swiderski said he greatly enjoys working for the company. He said his favorite part of the job is when he gets to climb up into trees. His least favorite part is working on lakeshores. Swiderski said having to drag parts of trees up and down cliffs by lakeshores is not a fun part of the job. "You have to haul the wood by hand because the equipment can't get down there," he said. He added that this is probably the most difficult part of his job as well. based on the time of year, but it does pick up when storms hit. Swiderski said that after storms hit, he can put in around 88 hours of work in one week. Kappen employees can get called in to work at any time of the day or night. "I've had to go to work in Kingston for 3 hours at 7 at night," he said. Swiderski said how often he gets called to work in the middle of the night varies. "How often storms are is how often we get that busy." Swiderski said most of the work is done by crews of 2 to 4 people, depending on the job.

While most work is done outdoors, working with bucket trucks and chippers, there is some behind-the-scenes work necessary. "I'm mostly outside working," Swiderski said. "I don't do much paperwork, but there is some. Sometimes I'll go bid for a job if I'm in Cass City to help out, too. We also have to keep tree counts, how many trees we trim or cut down."

CASS CITY CHRONICLE - WEDNESDAY, JULY 30, 2008

rooms in an effort to eliminate the need to continue renting the former St. John School for kindergarten classroom space. Other items on the "wish list" were a new media center, gymnasium and library improvements.

However, school Supt. Ken Sweeney said the scope of the project was later revised with a strong emphasis on maintaining a building that was constructed in 1936.

"There (are) no building projects involved with it at all, just renovation and repair and upgrades," Sweeney said. The list of planned improvements includes roof repair/replacement, electrical upgrades, technology upgrades, a barrier-free entrance at the northeast entry of the school, replacement of several boilers in the heating and cooling plant, window and lighting upgrades, parking lot repaving and transportation-related purchases.

Although no time is a good time for another tax, Sweeney pointed out that Ubly has some very positive things going for it in terms of finances, starting with the fact that the district is currently debt-free.

School officials a year ago retired a 1991 debt that started out at 3.4 mills and was less than 3 mills last year. Money from that levy was used for several improvements, including classrooms that replaced portable buildings, a pair of computer labs and a multipurpose room.

"We understand that times are tough now," Sweeney said. "But we think that this project... is pretty minimal (in cost). I don't see any frills in it.

"We've always tried to maintain our building the best we could, and that's pretty much what we're trying to do with this - maintain our facilities and make it another 50 years," he added. Marc Tenbusch, who retired 5 years ago as the district's business manager after more than 40 years on the job, agreed, saying the goal of the proposal is to maintain and upgrade facilities that have been very well taken care of for many years.

These days, Tenbusch serves as treasurer of the Ubly Board of Education. He also has headed up the committee charged with promoting the bond issue, and he says comments made by residents have been largely positive.

"The sentiments that I hear are favorable. Then, of course, you hear the negative, too, especially the economy," he noted, adding that one of the biggest selling points is the district's debt position today.

Despite being in a business that works outdoors, Swiderski said the winter months do not slow down business. "We stay busy all year round," he said. "We work mostly for Edison and Thumb Electric in the winter and residential in the summer." Swiderski said many Kappen employees that work for Detroit Edison are members of the local 17 IBEW Union out of Detroit.

will be installed at the middle school, and the high school locker rooms will be renovated. Restroom upgrades are also planned at the high school, as are replacement of windows and expansion of the main offices. The agenda also calls for the purchase of 4 new busses and a van for the kitchen.

Hendrick noted the fourth phase focuses on various technology upgrades that will be determined by school officials over the next several months.
