Puterbaugh benefit set for Nov. 10

by Tom Montgomery
Editor

A freak accident over the summer forever changed the life of an area man who built a reputation for always being there for family and friends.

Now, his friends are working hard to be there for him.

Jennifer Ross of Cass City is heading up an effort to host a benefit dinner, auction and other activities for her lifelong friend, Brian Puterbaugh, who was critically injured in an ORV accident near his family farm in Sanilac County's Evergreen Township in late July.

The event is slated for Saturday, Nov. 10, starting at 5 p.m. at Gilligan's in Cass City and will feature a brat and hotdog combo dinner from 5 to 8 p.m., bake sale, raffles, a silent auction at 7 p.m., music and a euchre tournament beginning at 9 p.m.

"This accident has left him with a perilous journey ahead of him — just breathing on his own is a triumph, something we do without even thinking. It is going to be a long journey to get Brian back to Brian," said Ross, who noted Puterbaugh remains hospitalized. "The medical costs are astronomical, and with Brian always being there for everyone else, it's our chance to give back.

"(Our) goal is to assist the Puterbaugh family overcome this horrible event with financial ease and support. We need donations, and every little bit counts towards the end result, helping Brian be the best he can be."

Puterbaugh, 32, the son of Denise Osentoski and Larry Puterbaugh, suffered serious head injuries when he fell from the ORV he was operating on Shabbona Road east of Germania Road.

Sanilac County Sheriff's deputies said they believed a problem with one of the vehicle's tires caused the accident.

At the time, Puterbaugh was working on the family farm, according to Ross. "The cows had gotten out and Brian went to round them up. His father, Larry, who left minutes after to assist Brian, found him in the middle of the road, bleeding from the head," she said.

"The accident left Brian in the University of Michigan (Hospital) for weeks where the family almost lost him," Ross continued. "He acquired an infection and (extremely high) temperature, and he almost died. The doctors at the

Roggenbuck selected for project to protect children

A Tuscola County judge is among a handful of judges chosen statewide for a new technology pilot program designed to improve and increase the ability to intervene in cases of child abuse, neglect and endangerment.

The pilot program will bring the new technology to Tuscola County free of charge, according to Tuscola County Probate Judge Amanda Roggenbuck.

"It is great to be on the ground level of a program that will eventually help families all across Michigan. I look forward to working with the other judges and creating a system that will improve our ability to help all families in crisis," she added.

"The program has been something we have been working on for several months," Roggenbuck noted. "When I learned about the opportunity, I was thrilled to have a change to apply to be part of the pilot. I found out recent-

Meningitis cases growing

The number of meningitis case investigations continued to rise in Michigan last week, although the number of confirmed fatalities did not increase, according to Michigan Department of Community Health (MDCH) officials.

"As of Oct. 12, Michigan's case count of individuals associated with the multistate meningitis investigation is 41 cases total, including one epidural abscess, one joint infection, 39 cases of meningitis, and 3 deaths," said Angela Minicuci, public information officer for the department.

The MDCH is coordinating with the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention (CDC) and Food and Drug Administration (FDA) on the multi-state cases of fungal meningitis among patients who received steroid injections.

Officials had confirmed 25 cases in Michigan associated with the outbreak as of Oct. 9, including the deaths of a 56-year-old Genesee County woman, a 67-year-old Livingston County woman, and a 78-year-old Washtenaw County woman.

Nationwide, there were 119 cases and 12 deaths reported in 10 states as of Oct. 9.

MEMBERS OF THE Deford Dazzlers 4-H Club are already busy preparing for a new season of model rocket competition. Last year's team (above) finished 10th and set a flight record during their first appearance at the Team America Rocketry Challenge, the world's largest student rocket competition.

Dream Team Veteran Dazzlers team ready for another run at national model rocket competition

by Tom Montgomery
Editor

If Mark Hansen was a football coach, chances are good the Deford area resident would be talking to the media about returning a veteran squad of starters to the field this year.

Hansen isn't a football coach, but he and his wife, Patricia, are seasoned leaders who led a winning group of young model rocket enthusiasts to a national competition last spring, thanks to plenty of determination, skill and hard work.

And, the Hansens do have a veteran "team" — all members of the Deford Dazzlers 4-H STEM (Science, Technology, Engineering and Math) Club — returning for the coming year's model rocket competition.

Those "veterans" include students Catherine Gordon, who serves as the 4-H club's rocket team manager and safety supervisor; Dustyn Parrish, payload specialist; Peter Hansen, payload specialist; Chrysler Parrish, safety and recovery specialist; William Webster, engine section specialist; and Christopher Hansen, engine and simulation software specialist. Newcomers this year are Caroline Gordon, payload specialist, and Alexander Hansen, propulsion specialist and data collection/presentation specialist.

winds," he said. "We'll be in the air again sometime this month, depending on my work schedule and wind conditions."

Normally, at registration time, teams are in "design mode". From there, they progress to construction, flight testing and qualifying, according to Hansen.

"We are in flight testing mode and thrilled to be getting a head start, which could potentially lead to not needing to do so much practicing this winter in cold, snowy conditions."

The youths' hard work last winter paid off in a big way when they qualified to compete at the Team America Rocketry Challenge National Finals in May in the Washington, D.C. area. When all was said and done, the rookie squad from Deford came home with a 10th place finish and a national flight record, not to mention a $2,000 grant to help fund the coming season.

"We'd love to have another top 24 finish or even beat our 10th-place finish of last season. However, the challenge this year is very difficult," Hansen said.

He explained that students must design a rocket that will fly to 750 feet (800 feet was last year's goal), carry one raw hen's egg weighing 57 to 63 grams and riding horizontally within the payload tube of the rocket (in previous years eggs flew vertically — horizontal positioning makes them much more fragile), recover the payload section using only one 15-inch parachute (the section must stay aloft for 48 to 50 seconds, a narrower time window than previous years, while flying lower but falling slower, which creates some intricate design dilemmas), and the rocket cannot weigh more than 650 grams fully loaded.

On top of that, Hansen added, the time penalty has increased.

"Ultimately, we hope to qualify again and compete at nationals. Goal number 2 is a safe flight at the finals," he said. "Anything else is just icing on the cake."

30 brave the chill for the TA TA Trot

by Ryan Walker

Area high school cross country runners battled a stiff wind and cold temperatures while attempting to improve their personal best times during a recent meeting. The course began behind Cass City High School and weaved its way through Rolling Hills Golf Course, finishing back behind the high school.

Once the high school meet was done, another group of runners and walkers took to the course for a good cause — the second annual TA TA Trot 5K fundraiser.

The event was organized by the Pinktober Committee. The group received help from several volunteers, including Craig Weaver, who along with Jon and Deidre Zdrojewski, served as starters and timers for the race.

"We could not have done it without them," commented event Coordinator Joey Kreeger, who noted other volunteers essential to the event's success were Heidi Smith, Carrie

I doubt that Cesar Millan would come to Cass City, even if I could afford him. So I'm hoping there may be some dog whisperers among our readers who can explain my dog's recent behavior.

Shadow's always loved going for a walk, gets very excited at the prospect. But recently, even though we're traversing the same areas as always, she puts on the brakes every now and then and refuses to go any farther. She'll lie down and refuse to budge. It seems as if she's afraid of something, although I can't see or hear anything to frighten her.

I'm reminded of the biblical story of Balaam and his donkey in the book of Numbers. I would never beat my Shadow, and thus far she hasn't uttered a word, but I can't help wondering if she sees something I don't.

My only option is to drop the leash and walk purposefully on. Then she'll run to catch up and we'll resume our walk. It has me mystified.

Does this qualify as a sports injury? It's about as athletic as I get these days. When I play Ring Around the Rosie with my 2-3 year olds at church, I ordinarily just sort of squat at "We all fall down." The other Sunday, however, I managed to get my feet tangled up and really went down hard, twisting an ankle and landing on my shoulder. The kids thought it was great. "Do it again!" they cheered.

Maybe I'm getting too old for this.

The music wafting through the village from the Presbyterian Church has a pleasant, soothing effect, at least to our ears. We definitely appreciate it and thank whoever is responsible.

It's that time of year again - time for seniors to decide whether or not they can continue their health insurance and medications with enough cash left over for a loaf of bread and a can of soup. We're given a few weeks each year in which to choose, or change, a Medicare supplemental plan with a premium we can afford that will help cover the cost of our meds.

While wrestling with the 33 pages of drugs in the Formularies, one positive aspect occurred to me. I'm really thankful we don't have to take all those drugs!

Don't forget: get a flu vaccination

For many Michigan residents, fall ranks near the top when it comes to living in the Great Lakes State, with color tours, hay rides and camp fires all a part of enjoying the cool days and nights that autumn brings to the region each year.

Just don't forget, though, that Old Man Winter won't be far behind, nor will the coughs, stuffy noses and congestion that inevitably arrive with the change in seasons.

Okay, so you've heard this speech before, but because flu is unpredictable and how severe it is can vary widely from one season to the next, we figure it's worth reminding our readers to protect themselves from a few days of misery or worse this year.

Flu is a contagious respiratory illness caused by influenza viruses that infect the nose, throat and lungs. It can cause mild to severe illness, even death.

Officials with the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention (CDC) along with the Michigan and local health departments say the best way to prevent the flu is by getting a flu vaccine every year.

The options include "flu shots", inactivated vaccines (containing killed virus) that are given with a needle. The regular seasonal flu shot is "intramuscular", meaning it's injected into the muscle and is approved for use in people ages 6 months and older, including healthy individuals, those with chronic medical conditions and pregnant women. The vaccine protects against the 3 viruses that research suggests will be most common.

A high-dose vaccine for people ages 65 and older was first made available during the 2010-11 season, and for the first time, an intradermal vaccine (injected into the "dermis" or skin) for people ages 18 to 64 years of age is being made available this season.

Another option is the nasal-spray vaccine, a vaccine made with live, weakened flu viruses that is given as a nasal spray. The spray does not cause the flu and is approved for use in healthy people ages 2 to 49 years of age who are not pregnant.

It takes about 2 weeks after vaccination for antibodies to develop that protect against influenza virus infection.

Experts say the best time to get a flu vaccine is as soon as it becomes available. In other words, now.

Those at highest risk for developing flu-related complications include kids younger than 5, but especially children younger than 2; adults ages 65 and older; pregnant women; and those with a variety of medical conditions ranging from asthma to chronic lung disease to organ disorders. People who live in nursing homes and other long-term care facilities also should be vaccinated, as should those who live with or care for persons at high risk for contracting the flu.

Who should not be vaccinated? Anyone with a severe allergy to chicken eggs, people who have had a severe reaction to the flu vaccine in the past; children younger than 6 months of age, those with a moderate or severe illness with a fever, and people with a history of Guillain-Barre Syndrome.

Of course, if you have any questions, consult with your personal health care provider.

Slices of Life

by Jill Pertler
A quirky life

My life has always had undertones of goofiness. Orderly and predictable are not words to describe my comings and goings. Fifty percent of this relates my being a little haphazard. Another fifty percent is because I'm absentminded; the final fifty percent comes down to the karma of the cosmos (and the fact that I stink at math).

I believe I was born sort of kind of next to some type of black hole of illogical logic. I don't think I'm alone in this predicament. (All those who may be holed up with me feel free to applaud now.)

Sometimes things just don't make sense – in a way that makes you want to say, "Really?" Lately, I've found myself with an increased sensitivity to the senselessness, and have decided to document my observations. Here are the things that have actually happened – and are too embarrassing for anyone to have made them up anyway – in my real, recent life. Anything like this ever happen to you? (Please say, "Yes.")

- I kept getting Internet access fees tacked on my dumb phone bill and couldn't figure out how or when the phone was surfing the web (which apparently it was) so I had to block my own cell phone from online usage. What's next? I'm thinking about unfriending myself on Facebook.

- Ever woke yourself up because you were snoring too loud? Me neither.

- I'll be talking to one of my kids, but call him by another of my kids' names. Without missing a beat, I keep going – naming all the names of all the people in my family until finally, hopefully, I stumble upon the correct one.

- I went to the store for dog food and came out an hour later – after spending well over a hundred dollars – carrying five large bags. I got home and my logical and non-haphazard husband asked, "Where's the dog food?" His words were like nails on a chalkboard and at that moment I'm sure I could have been the poster child for the expression, deer in the headlights.

- Don't ask me to recite anyone's phone number, because I don't know phone numbers anymore. My dumb phone is smart enough to do that for me.

- I often hide food – like the good chocolate – and forget where it is. When I happen upon the stash at a later date, I am happily surprised with my good fortune. I haven't yet slipped and hid the ice cream in a non-refrigerated cupboard, but I fear it's a distinct possibility.

- My youngest son was sleeping over at a friend's house and I reminded him to bring his toothbrush. (He forgot last time.) I told him to put it in a baggy to avoid unwanted germs; you can't be too careful about germs. Later, when I went to brush my teeth, I noted my own toothbrush was missing. Seems young son and I had been sharing the same tooth-cleaning implement for weeks.

- I returned from grocery shopping and managed to lose the newly bought bread somewhere between the garage and kitchen. I found it later in the basement. Don't ask.

- The very same day, I returned to the store (because I'd forgotten dog food) and grabbed a multi-pack of socks for my boys because there weren't any clean ones at home and I knew I wasn't going to get to the laundry anytime soon. (Even though I obviously figured a way to make multiple trips to the superstore.)

Unfortunately, I could go on, but I think you get the idea. Cell phone confusion, grocery gaffes and toothbrush calamities aside, two truths can be said about a busy, imperfect life: it can be humbling and it can be fulfilling. Mine is both. Luckily I enjoy laughing – even when it is mostly at myself. Needless to say, I'm getting plenty opportunities to do that these days.

Letters to the Editor

Roggenbuck works hard for families

Judge Amanda Roggenbuck works hard for families.

I am an attorney and I have known Judge Amanda Roggenbuck for many years. I met her nearly 8 years ago when I was a new attorney and we represented competing parties.

Since then we have had countless cases with each other and I can attest to her character and her desire to help the people who come to court. I have also appeared in front of her, representing families, now that she is a judge. For as long as I have known her, she has been passionate about helping people. I have always found her easy to work with, honest and level headed.

She focuses on resolving the problems that bring families to court with common sense solutions while applying the law and Constitution. Since becoming the probate judge and assuming the responsibility for the family court cases, she has worked with the chief judge to create and incorporate a mediation program to resolve many of the cases that normally would require a trial. This approach allows families a chance to work out their dispute and find solutions without suffering through a trial. This approach tends to reduce the overall costs associated with a case and creates an environment that helps families resolve the issues that brought them before the court.

As an attorney who practices family and probate law, this is important because everyone wants the families that come to court to be successful, whether it is a custody dispute or a child abuse or neglect case.

Please join me in supporting her and remember to vote for Probate Judge Amanda Roggenbuck on Nov. 6.

Sincerely,
Heather A. Zang

The Michigan State Police (MSP) recently announced that nearly 700 pounds of prescription drugs were collected at MSP posts across the state during the semi-annual National Prescription Drug Take Back Day held Sat., Sept. 29, 2012.

The MSP partnered with the Drug Enforcement Administration (DEA) and other local law enforcement agencies for National Prescription Drug Take Back Day to provide a venue for citizens to dispose of unwanted and unused prescription drugs.

All 29 MSP posts participated in the one-day "Take Back" effort by serving as drop-off points for citizens to discard expired, unused and unwanted medications for destruction. In Caro, 21 pounds of prescription drugs were collected.

The Pinney Foundation is once again looking for worthy non-profit causes to help financially. Spokesman Dave Milligan says eligible organizations have until the end of the month to apply in writing for grant money from the local organization. Call Milligan at 989-670-4174 and he'll walk you through the application process.

Rich and Eileen Sopha often seem to find something interesting when they take on remodeling projects. The Cass City couple recently ripped down a wall at their Houghton Street home and inside was a newspaper copy of The Detroit News from 1941 and also a 1876 newspaper copy of "The Child at Home".

The older newspaper clipping was most impressive and the Sophas left us a copy if any of our readers care to check it out. While it's pretty neat, it didn't supply the Sophas with the same wow-factor as a re-modeling discovery in Detroit. There, under wood floors, the couple came across $1,300 in cash.

Helen Rayl attended the funeral of H. Richard "Dick" Carlson last week in Rochester, Michigan. Dick – like my dad – was a walker. His findings often made the news here at the corner of Oak and Main.

So when Ms. Rayl heard the Chronicle mentioned by name at Carlson's funeral services near Detroit, she thought it might make copy for "another Rabbit Track item."

As is the case almost always, I'm happy she took the time to share the story.

Regarding helmet law

State says ABATE officials' conclusion on stats premature

Opponents claimed that amending Michigan's helmet law to allow rider choice in wearing a helmet or not would mean an increase in motorcycle fatalities.

Recent data from the Michigan State Police and Secretary of State proves them wrong, according to members of ABATE (American Bikers Aiming Toward Education).

However, state officials say that conclusion is premature.

"We at American Bikers Aiming Toward Education — are concerned with motorcycle safety so we have been monitoring the effect of this helmet law modification to see what impact it has made," said Vince Consiglio, president of ABATE Michigan. "We used the Michigan State Police/Michigan Office of Highway Safety Planning data which compares motorcycle data between Jan. 1 and Aug. 31 for the last 2 years, and the numbers speak for themselves."

From 2011 (pre-amendment) to 2012 (post-amendment) fatalities dropped from 89 to 85 — a 4.5 percent reduction. Adjusting the data to show fatalities as a percentage of motorcyclists involved shows a decrease from 3.24 percent to 3.05 percent, which is a 5.8 percent reduction.

During the same time period, the number of registrations increased from 261,658 to 266,589. If the fatality rate is adjusted to the total of motorcycle registrations it shows that the fatality rate has decreased from .034 percent to .0318 percent since the helmet-law amendment — a 7 percent reduction, Consiglio said.

Last April, the requirement for motorcycle helmets was amended to allow adult choice for motorcyclists 21 and older, providing they completed an accredited motorcycle-safety course or had a minimum of 2 years riding experience.

"This data proves conclusively that the helmet-law amendment had no adverse effect on motorcycle safety," Consiglio said. "What does matter is car driver/motorcyclists awareness and motorcycle education, which we have advocated for and provided to residents of Michigan for more than 2 decades."

Michigan Office of Highway Safety Planning officials recently issued an official statement regarding the reported decrease in motorcyclist deaths, noting "the state's traffic crash, injury and fatality information for the current year is provisional and changes on a daily basis. It is not possible to conduct an analysis or draw conclusions regarding motorcyclist deaths until the entire year's crash data is finalized sometime in the spring of 2013."

"Today's snapshot of motorcyclist deaths from Jan. 1-Aug. 31, 2012, shows 91 deaths compared to 89 deaths for this same period in 2011," the statement continues. "In addition, incapacitating injuries for this same period from a year ago are up by 14 percent (441 in 2011 and 504 in 2012). These figures will continue to change as additional crash reports are submitted by law enforcement agencies throughout the state."

Because 40 percent of Michigan motorcycle fatalities are unlicensed—or unendorsed—motorcyclists, ABATE's goal in teaching motorcycle rider education classes and going into the drivers' education classrooms is to ensure that everyone arrives home safely, according to Consiglio.

"A motorcyclist has a responsibility to know how to handle his or her bike," he said. "However, a motorcyclist is much more vulnerable than a passenger vehicle occupant in the event of a crash."

A motorcycle endorsement on a driver's license is required by law to ride on public roads and can be obtained by attending and passing a motorcycle rider education class, which are available statewide for a fee. A list of Secretary of State approved Michigan Motorcycle Safety Program instructors, along with their locations and contact information can be found on the Secretary of State's website. ABATE Michigan supports public and private rider education. A current list of ABATE Michigan motorcycle rider education classes, locations and times can be found on ABATE Michigan's website.

Additionally, ABATE Michigan has partnered with public schools and private driving instructors to teach more than 75,000 new car drivers about motorcycle awareness, using resources donated by ABATE members.

ABATE is a non-profit organization dedicated to preserving the overall rights and promoting the safe operating practices of all Michigan motorcyclists.

A change in career? These jobs pay well

by Tom Montgomery
Editor

I've never seriously considered a change in careers, mostly because my personal talent pool is a bit on the shallow side. I'm not a whiz at fixing things, I know just enough about computers to be dangerous, and my athletic ability is pretty underwhelming.

Thankfully, I can write. Besides, working as a reporter can be pretty interesting, even if the field of journalism isn't typically known for offering big-time salaries.

And, even if I have to put up with some good natured ribbing from my smart aleck son regarding my chosen field. "It could be worse," I respond. "I could be a computer geek (like him) hanging around with all of the other computer geeks at SVSU."

Curiosity about other interesting careers and their pay scales got the best of me recently while surfing the net, and I landed at a website called Tech.com.

According to one article on the website, folks looking for a change of pace from the old 9-to-5 might want to consider becoming a submarine cook. An Australian cook on a submarine can earn more than $187,000. Even with only 6 years of experience, a cook makes as much as a junior admiral in the Australian Navy.

Not bad, but if that's not your cup of tea, you could install rigs, weld or lay pipe underwater, working as an oil and gas diver. These folks rake in $80,000 a year. Ever wonder what happens when somebody buys an airplane but just can't keep up with the payments? They can expect a visit from an airplane repo man (or woman), of course. I'm not sure what the qualifications are, but you can earn 6 to 10 percent commission on the resale price of each plane you repossess — that could add up to $10,000 to $900,000 per plane.

Those with special vocal cords might be interested in checking into a career as a voice-over artist. Experienced voice actors can earn more than $300 for about 5 minutes of finished audio work — $50,000 to $80,000 annually.

If you're mechanically inclined, you may qualify as an elevator mechanic with just a high school diploma and a certification that takes about 4 years of classes and paid, on-the-job training. You would also be qualified to service other machinery such as chairlifts, escalators and moving walkways. Salary? Roughly $70,000 a year.

I came to the last "unusual jobs that pay well" on the list and realized my son, now a college sophomore, will probably get the last laugh on his old man.

It seems his career goal — working as an "ethical computer hacker" — is both interesting and lucrative. These folks, trained to find glitches and weaknesses in the computer systems of businesses, can command salaries of around $120,000 annually.

Sort of takes the sting out of my "geek" jokes, you know?

5 YEARS AGO (2007)

Movie star. Catherine Gordon, age 10, shot a doe in early October with a bow and arrow near Deford. The first year hunter was with her father, Garrett Gordon, who videoed the heart shot.

Despite possessing 3 of the top 4 times at the Greater Thumb West cross country invitational held in Bad Axe, Cass City was narrowly edged by league champion Reese, 35-38. Red Hawk juniors Lukas Varney and Dewey Mabe finished first and second, individually, with times of 17:13 and 17:25, respectively, to lead Cass City. Joining the pair as first team GTW all conference performers is Cass City's Tyler Burke, who finished fourth with a time of 17:47.

For the third year in a row, the Thumb area branch of the Quality Deer Management Association (QDMA) has donated some much-needed equipment to the area DNR law Enforcement Division. QDMA officials recently presented DNR Conservation Officer Bob Hobkirk with 2 digital hybrid camera/video recorders that will allow DNR officers in Huron, Sanilac and Tuscola counties to capture images and/or video of illegal baiting and hunting activities. The cameras have the capability to burn the recorded images to disk, which can then be turned over to county prosecutors.

10 YEARS AGO (2002)

It started out as a laugh and turned out to be a nail biter as Reese and Cass City went into overtime Thursday before Cass City prevailed in the battle for first place in the Greater Thumb West, 55-52. The Hawks now have a 5-0 record in the league and Reese drops 3-1. Amy Howard led Hawk rebounders with 11, followed by Lindsey Hendrick with 9. Becky Hartel contributed 5 assists and 7 steals. Deidre Deering led Hawk scorers with 12 points. Reinert netted 14 for Reese.

Juggling a host of activities and commitments at one time is nothing new for Megan Ruthko, a full-time college student who also works a pair of part-time jobs and still finds time for family and friends. The 19-year-old Ugly woman added to those responsibilities in late August, when she was crowned the Michigan Bean Queen during the Michigan Bean Festival in Fairgrove.

Justin Wutzke, 14, Crawford Road, bagged a nice 8-point buck — his first deer taken on his first outing — during the recent youth deer hunt. The Cass City student downed the buck with a 20-gauge shotgun.

25 YEARS AGO (1987)

Cass City resident Rita Loeding is enjoying what she describes as the best of 2 worlds — owning and managing a budding crafting business while at the same time remaining at home to care for her children. Loeding, who says she's always enjoyed making various crafts, 4 years ago discovered a demand for her work. This year she made it official by registering as a wholesaler with the state. The work, especially this time of year, can get busy, she admits, particularly with 3 children — Elizabeth, 1 1/2; Daniel, 4, and Rikki, 5, at home. "I try to get a certain amount done each day," she said of craft work, adding that she usually spends 2 to 3 hours a day on the business, which she calls "Li'l Bits." "I don't take time away from the kids because that's the whole reason I'm doing this — so I can stay home."

Super fan Walt Goodall, 75, was honored at halftime of the Cass City homecoming football game Friday for his interest in high school sports. Goodall, who graduated from Cass City High School in 1932, attends nearly all Cass City sports events. He was named to serve as grand marshal of the parade, the first time that a marshal has been selected in Cass City. At the half he was presented with a pass good for one year for all Cass City athletic events, home and away. He also was presented with commemorative mugs. What's his favorite sport? He really doesn't have one. I like wrestling a lot, but track was always one of my best sports. Then, of course, there is basketball and football and cross country, he mused, when talking about his favorite. About the only sport where you won't find him watching is golf, which in high school isn't a spectator sport.

50 YEARS AGO (1962)

Money collected from Hills and Dales General Hospital employees through a "coffee fund," when workers paid for coffee received in coffee breaks at the hospital cafeteria, has been used to purchase a desk in the lobby. Following the suggestion of Mrs. Preston Karr, the small desk will be used by the volunteer Auxiliary workers at the hospital. The ladies help cut hospital costs by issuing visitors' passes at the hospital. They had been using a card table and the desk provides adequate space and drawers for the work of the volunteers, members of the Auxiliary.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry P. Wilson, Cass City, received word from J.W. Klinefelter, Lt. Cmdr., U.S. Navy, that their son, Harlan "Jim" Wilson has recently been awarded the emblem of qualified submariners. In his letter, Lt. Cmdr. Klinefelter wrote, "In the case of your son, it was most gratifying to award him his dolphins (the emblem) because his efforts and determination enabled him to qualify in submarines much earlier than the average man."

Coach Oarie Lemanski switched to the "shotgun" offense Friday night and Cass City rambed to its first victory of the year over Sandusky, 25-6. Pulling the trigger on the new offense for the Hawks was Walter Hempton, who handled the ball on the majority of plays, was the team's passer and also ran 25 yards for a marker. It was Hempton's first game of the year as the youngster had been shelved with injuries earlier in the season.

100 YEARS AGO (1912)

A game of football was played Tuesday afternoon at the local grounds, the contestants being Harbor Beach and Cass City and the result a score of 42-7 in favor of the latter team. From the beginning of the game until the close of the last quarter there wasn't a moment when Cass City was in danger of losing for they showed very plainly their ability to put it over the other team. Cass City's line-up was as follows: L.E., William Bien; L.T., Irwin Cooke; L.G., Marvin Dodge; C., Howard Hoadley; R.G., L. Copeland — Ray Yakes; R.T., Norman Cooke; R.E., Norman McGillivray; L.H., Harold Lee; F.B., E. Schwaderer; R.H., Cecil Brown; Q.B., Dougald Duncanson. Referee, Wickware; umpire, Glenney.

Last Sunday morning the attendants of the Baptist church witnessed a very pleasing ceremony when the young people presented the church with a pipe-toned organ. Just at the close of the sermon, while the congregation were singing, "Work for the Night is Coming," the young ladies and gentlemen of Mrs. Pfanning's and Rev. Hayward's classes moved to the front seats. Mrs. Chas. Anderson made the presentation speech in some very well chosen sentences and P.S. McGregory responded with a hearty acceptance.

"Tag Day" will be observed the Saturday before election, as a final reminder to the men of Michigan that women want the ballot. This will not be done in a sensational manner, but all over Michigan, the men will be presented with tags bearing "Vote Yes for Woman's Suffrage" on them. It is expected that over 200,000 male voters will be reached in this way, and that this silent appeal will surely win votes for the amendment.

Roggenbuck deserves your support

Support Judge Amanda Roggenbuck. Let me tell you why I am supporting Probate Judge Amanda Roggenbuck.

I have known Amanda for many years, in that time I have watched her develop as an attorney, a small business owner, a wife, mother, community advocate and a judge. She has always given of her time and talents to help her community.

Amanda organized programs to send care packages to service members who are away from their family and friends during the holidays, she collected suitcases for foster children, and has adopted families in need. She has always found time to be involved in her child's school and her family has attended Immanuel Lutheran Church for many years and I have observed the strength she draws from her faith when she is faced with challenges.

When you decide who to vote for on Nov. 6, please consider the following as well: Amanda was sworn in as Tuscola County Probate Judge December 2010. Since then she has updated the probate court, brought in money saving technology, organized the filing system, created a website to make the court more accessible to the residents, and created a variety of programs to assist the families that come to court.

Amanda has always been a motivated and dedicated attorney, business person, wife and mother. It is no surprise that she is also a dedicated probate judge. She works hard every day to help families through some of the most difficult and challenging times in their lives.

Please join me on Nov. 6 in supporting and voting for Probate Judge Amanda Roggenbuck.

Sincerely,
Norma Wallace

Cass City is a great place to live

Dear editor,

I went to Bay City to watch my grandson, Zach, and his friends play football against Bay City All Saints.

What a great game. They won with flying colors.

Anyway, I just wanted to say how blessed we are to have such a wonderful town with a beautiful and clean park. One of the best things is, what a great football field and track we have. Great coaches, too.

Some places aren't as fortunate as we are. What a great place to live and raise a family.

Sincerely,

Kim Donovan

30 participate in "trot"

Osentoski, Misty Delong, Brenda Battel, Liz Michalski and Katelyn Romzek. A large number of local businesses and individual sponsors also provided donations for the 5K.

Participants paid $20 to compete as well as make a donation for a great charity. They received a T-shirt, awards and refreshments as part of their sign-up fee. Anyone registering after the deadline donated an additional $5 to the entry fee. All proceeds went directly to the American Cancer Society.

About 30 runners/walkers tackled the course in an effort to test their endurance and make the public aware of the disease. "We do this fundraiser in hopes to raise breast cancer awareness," Kreeger said.

As soon as the final participants crossed the finish line, the winners were presented with medals and a round of applause. Many athletes quickly wrapped themselves in blankets or winter coats to offset the frigid temperatures. However, Mother Nature couldn't wipe the smiles off of anyone's face as they celebrated their accomplishment by replenishing their energy supply with fruit and water.

The top finisher in the male division was Hank Pijkeven with a time of 22:12. Shortly after Pijkeven came Rob Muntz at 23:51, Jesse Nye at 28:19 and Dustin Naegele at 30:41, and James Potestivo rounded out the top 5 male finishers with a time of 31:19. The top female runner was Karen Messing at 25:29. She was followed by Jaime Anthes at 26:53, Becky Klinkman at 26:54, Amber Skrent at 29:35 and Tammy Woodward at 29:52.

Pinktober activities will come to a conclusion Wednesday, Oct. 24.

There will be a business open house taking place from 2 to 6 p.m. throughout the village. From 4 to 6 p.m. will be the "Pink & Treat", a pre-Halloween trick-or-treat that will take place in town in front of businesses. "Party in Pink" is another activity set to begin at 6:30 p.m. at the Cass City Fit Studio. If you want to watch some male community members running in high heel shoes, check out the Mad Heel Dash sponsored by Thumb National Bank.

The finale of Pinktober is "Project Funway", slated for 5 to 8 p.m. at Rotary Park. Project Funway offers fun for the entire family in the form of a straw maze, face painting, a fashion show, prizes, cider, donuts, dunking for apples and much more. The Project Funway event also serves as the drop-off point for the window decorating contest ballots.

PUBLIC NOTICES

A Public Hearing will be held at the Municipal Building, 6506 Main Street, Cass City, Michigan

Monday, October 29, 2012 at 6:30 pm To consider the following proposed Ordinance

VILLAGE OF CASS CITY, 6506 Main Street, Cass City, Michigan 48726 – (989) 872 – 2911

ORDINANCE NO. _____

AN ORDINANCE TO AMEND VILLAGE OF CASS CITY MUNICIPAL CODE (CHAPTER ____ BUILDING AND BUILDING REGULATIONS, ARTICLE ____ TO BE AMENDED TO) READ RENTAL REGISTRATION ORDINANCE

THE VILLAGE OF CASS CITY ORDAINS:

Section _____

ARTICLE ____ RENTAL REGISTRATION

Section _____ Purpose and Intent.

The Village of Cass City recognizes the need for an organized inspection and registration program for rental properties located within the Village in order to ensure rental units meet all applicable building, existing structures, fire, health, safety, and zoning codes, and to provide an efficient system for compelling both absentee and local landlords to correct violations and maintain, in proper condition, rental property within the Village. The Village recognizes that the most efficient system is the creation of a program requiring the registration and inspection of rental property within the Village as defined in this Ordinance, so that orderly inspection schedules can be made by the Village or its Designate.

Section _____ Definitions.
As used in this Ordinance, the following terms and words shall have the following meanings, unless the context clearly indicates that a different meaning is intended.

“Commercial not residential purposes” means any premises not used for one’s residence.
“Village or its Designate” means the Village of Cass City or its Designate or any successor department or division that may be established.
“Dwelling unit” means a building, or portion thereof, designed for occupancy for living purposes and having cooking facilities and sanitary facilities, including single family residences and mobile homes.
“Landlord” means any person who owns or controls a dwelling, Dwelling Unit, or Rental Unit and rents such unit, either personally or through a designated agent, to any person.
“Owner” means the legal title holder or a Rental Unit or the Premises within which the Rental Unit is situated.
“Owner-Occupied Rental Unit” means a Rental Unit that is occupied in whole or in part by an individual whose name specifically appears on the deed for the property where the Rental Unit is located.
“Person” means any natural individual, firm, partnership, association, joint stock company, joint venture, public or private corporation, limited liability company, or receiver, executor, personal representative, trustee, trust, conservator or other representative appointed by order of any court.
“Premises” means a lot, plot or parcel of land, including the buildings or structures thereon.
“Rental unit” means any Dwelling Unit or a unit containing sleeping quarters, including but not limited to hotels, motels, bed and breakfast establishments, boarding houses, sleeping rooms, apartments, residential, commercial, or industrial property, including structures which are leased or rented by the Owner or other Person in control of such units, to any tenant, whether by day, week, month, year or any other term.
“Responsible local agent” means a natural Person designated by the property Owner as the agent responsible for operating such rental property in compliance with the ordinances adopted by the Village.
“Tenant” means any Person who has the temporary use and occupation of real property owned by another Person in subordination to that other person’s title and with that other person’s consent; for example, a Person who rents or leases a dwelling, dwelling unit, or rental unit from a landlord.

Section _____ Requirements.

1. No Person shall lease, rent, occupy, or otherwise allow a Rental Unit within the Village to be occupied, unless all of the following requirements have first been met.
2. The Owner of the Rental Unit shall have registered the Rental Unit with the Village or its Designee by completing and filing a current registration form with the Village or its Designee, as provided in Section _____ of this Ordinance.
3. An inspection shall have been completed to the satisfaction of the Village or its Designee.
4. A valid certificate of compliance shall have been issued by the Village or its Designee.
5. The current certificate of compliance shall be maintained at the office of the Responsible Agent or on the premises.
6. All fees charged by the Village or its Designee for the registration and inspection of the Rental Unit shall be paid in full.

Section _____ Registration.

It shall be unlawful for any Person to lease, rent, occupy, or otherwise allow a Rental Unit within the Village to be occupied without first registering the Rental Unit with the Village or its Designate and designating a Responsible Local Agent.

Registration Forms.

- Registration shall be made upon forms furnished by the Village or its Designate and shall require all of the following information.
- The street address of the Rental Unit(s);
- The number and types of Rental Units within the rental property;
- The residence address, telephone number, and where applicable an e-mail address, mobile telephone number, and facsimile number of all property Owners of the Rental Unit(s);
- Name, residence address, telephone number, and where applicable an e-mail address, mobile telephone number, and facsimile number of the Responsible Local Agent designated by the Owner;
- The maximum number of tenants permitted for each Rental Unit;
- The name, address, telephone number, and where applicable an e-mail address, mobile telephone number, and facsimile number of the Person authorized to collect rent from the tenants;
- The name, address, telephone number, and where applicable an e-mail address, mobile telephone number, and facsimile number of the Person authorized to make or order repairs or services for the property, if in violation of Village or State codes, if the Person is other than the Owner or the Responsible Local Agent;

Accurate and Complete Information.

All information provided on the registration form shall be accurate and complete. No Person shall provide inaccurate information for the registration of a Rental Unit, or fail to provide the information required for such registration. The registration form shall be signed by both the property Owner(s) and the designated Responsible Local Agent. Where the Owner is not a natural person, the Owner information shall be that of the president, general manager or other chief executive of the organization.

Where more than one Person has an ownership interest, the required information shall be provided for each such Owner.

Change in Registration Information or Transfer of Property.

Except for a change in the Registered Local Agent, the property Owner of a Rental Unit registered with the Village shall re-register within sixty (60) calendar days after any change occurs in the registration information. If the property is transferred to a new Owner, the new property Owner of a registered Rental Unit shall re-register the Rental Unit within sixty (60) calendar days following the transfer of the property. Property Owners shall notify the Village or its Designate of any change in the designation of the Registered Local Agent, including a change in name, address, e-mail address, telephone number, mobile telephone number or facsimile number of the designated Registered Local Agent within 30 days of the change.

If a transfer of ownership occurs and there is a current certificate of compliance on file, then the new Owner will only have to pay the registration fee upon the expiration of the current registration. It will still be required that the new Owner fill out a new registration form.

Registration Term and Renewals.

Registration of a Rental Unit shall be effective for three (3) years. All registrations shall expire three (3) years from the date of issuance of a certificate of compliance. The property Owner shall reregister each Rental Unit with the Village or its Designate, thirty (30) calendar days prior to the expiration of the registration of the Rental Unit.

Responsible Local Agent.

- The designated Responsible Local Agent shall be responsible for all of the following:
- Operating the registered Rental Unit in compliance with all applicable Village Ordinances;
- Providing access to the Rental Unit for the purpose of making any and all inspections necessary to ensure compliance with the applicable Village Ordinances; maintaining a list of the names and number of occupants of each Rental
- Unit for which he or she is responsible; and accepting all legal notices or services of process with respect to the Rental Unit.

Section _____ Inspections.

Rental Units shall be inspected and shall comply with the standards and provisions of the ordinances and codes adopted by the Village.

Inspections.

Except as provided in subsection 5-250(a)(3), all Rental Units shall be inspected by the Village or its Designate at least once every three (3) years. Prior to conducting inspections of those occupied Rental Units, the Village or its Designate may issue a temporary certificate of compliance as provided in Section 5- 251(b). The inspection shall not, however, eliminate an owner’s responsibility to register such Rental Units every three (3) years.

If the first inspection is in compliance with the Village’s Property Maintenance Ordinance and all other Village Ordinances, such Rental Units will have their next inspection waived. If a complaint is filed with the Village and the Rental Unit is found to be in violation of this Ordinance, therefore making said unit not in compliance, the following inspection shall not be waived.

Nothing in this section shall preclude the inspection of any Rental Unit more frequently than once every three (3) years.
Any current property with a valid Rental Registration certificate shall continue enforced until expiration when the property shall then be re-inspected.

Basis for Inspections.

Inspections may be made to obtain and maintain compliance with the standards of this Ordinance based upon one of the following:
A complaint received by the Village or its Designate, the Village of Cass City Police Village or its Designate, any member of the Tuscola County Sheriff’s Village or its Designate or a State agency, indicating that there is a violation of the standards or the provisions of any ordinance adopted by the Village of Cass City or any state law;

An observation by the Village or its Designate, the Village of Cass City Police Village or its Designate, any member of the Tuscola County Sheriff’s Village or its Designate, a State Agency, Village of Cass City Staff, Elkland Township Fire Chief, of a violation of the standards of a violation of the standards or the provisions of any Ordinance adopted by the Village or any state law;

A report or observation of a Rental Unit that is unoccupied and unsecured or a dwelling that is damaged by fire;
The registration, re-registration and certification of a Rental Unit as required by this Ordinance;
The need to determine compliance with a notice or an order issued by the Village;
An emergency observed or reasonably believed to exist;
A request for an inspection by the property Owner; or Requirements of law where a Rental Unit is to be demolished by the Village or where ownership is to be transferred to the Village.

Inspection Procedures.

Once the Village or Designate has determined that a Rental Unit is in compliance with all of the ordinances adopted by the Village and state law, the inspection required for issuance of a certificate of compliance shall be satisfied. The inspection shall then be valid for a period of three (3) years from the date the certificate of compliance is issued.

If, upon completion of an inspection, the premises are found to be in violation of one or more provisions of applicable Village ordinances and State codes, the Village or Designate shall provide the Registered Local Agent and/or Owner with written notice of such violations. The Village or Designate shall set a re-inspection date before which such violation shall be corrected. If such violation has been corrected within that period, the inspection required for issuance of a certificate of compliance shall be satisfied. If such violations have not been corrected within that period, the Village or Designate shall not issue the certificate of compliance and may take any action necessary to enforce compliance with applicable Village ordinances and State codes.

If there is a complaint filed on property with the Village or Designate, the Owner and/or Responsible Local Agent will be notified in writing. In the event that the complaint is of an emergency nature, as determined by the Village or Designate or Village of Cass City Police Village or Designate, it will require immediate compliance with adopted Property Maintenance Ordinance. If the complaint is not of an emergency nature, the Owner will have fourteen (14) calendar days to correct such violation, unless a longer period of time is granted by the Village or Designate, after which a re-inspection or written verification from Owner and/or Responsible Local Agent and complaining party that the violation has been corrected, will be required. If a violation is not corrected by the property Owner as required by this Ordinance, the Village or Designate may revoke the certificate of compliance.

If an inspection is initiated by a complaint and no violation is found to exist, no inspection fee will be assessed against the Owner of the inspected Rental Unit in compliance.

Where a re-inspection must be made to ensure conformity with this Ordinance or before a certificate of compliance is issued for those Rental Units that have been issued violation notices, the Village will charge a separate inspection fee for every inspection when the violation has not been abated or corrected.

If an inspection is scheduled and the Owner or Responsible Local Agent fails to appear, an inspection fee shall be assessed against the Owner and/or the Responsible Local Agent, and no inspection shall be completed until the inspection fee is paid in full.

Transfer of Ownership Inspection.

When there is a transfer of ownership of any Rental Unit, including an owner-occupied Rental Unit, and a current certificate of compliance exists for the unit, the Village or Designate shall require a new inspection. The new Owner shall comply with the requirements of Section 5-249(c) of this Ordinance by re-registering the Rental Unit within sixty (60) calendar days following the transfer of the property.

When there is a transfer of ownership of any Rental Unit, including an owner-occupied Rental Unit, then a current certificate of compliance does not exist for the unit, then the Village or Designate shall conduct an inspection within thirty (30) calendar days following the notification of the transfer of ownership as required by Section 4(c). If violations of this Ordinance or any other Village ordinance, code or State code or law are found, a notice of violation shall be issued to the Owner.

If ownership of any Rental Unit is transferred contrary to subsection (d) or (2) of this Section, or if the new Owner fails to re-register a Rental Unit as required by Section 5-249(c) of this Ordinance, the certificate of compliance and Rental Unit registration shall be deemed to expire within sixty (60) days of the transfer unless appropriate steps are taken to obtain a Rental Unit registration and certificate of compliance.

Within sixty (60) calendar days of the transfer of ownership of a Rental Unit, the new Owner shall notify all residents of a Rental Unit which undergoes a transfer of ownership while the individuals are residing in that unit, including a owner-occupied Rental Unit, of the transfer of ownership.

Section _____ Certificate of Compliance.

No Person shall own, operate, lease, rent, occupy, or otherwise allow a Rental Unit within the Village to be occupied unless there is a valid certificate of compliance issued by the Village or Designate for the Rental Unit. A certificate of compliance shall be issued for each building and Rental Unit.

Requirements.

A certificate of compliance shall be issued only after all of the following requirements have been satisfactorily completed.

Registration of the Rental Unit with the Village or Village Designate.

Designation of the Responsible Local Agent;

Payment in full of any and all required fees for registration, plus any penalties that may have been imposed on the property; and Inspection by the Village or Designate resulting in a determination that the Rental Unit and the property complies with all Village Ordinances and state law.

Posting of the Certificate of Compliance.

Temporary certificates of compliance may be issued without prior inspection by the Village or Designate for those occupied Rental Units which have not been inspected. Such temporary certificates of compliance may be issued as of the effective date of the initial registration and continue until an inspection date is established, to allow property Owners to operate such Rental Units until such time as an inspection may be made by the Village or Designate. At such time as an inspection is made and the Village or Designate has determined that provisions of this Ordinance have been complied with, the temporary certificate shall expire, and a certificate of compliance shall be issued according to this Ordinance.

Posting of the Certificate of Compliance.

The certificate of compliance shall be maintained at the office of the Responsible Agent or on the premises.

Section _____ Fees.

The Village Council shall establish by resolution an appropriate fee for registration and inspections.

If an inspection is initiated by a complaint and no violation is found to exist, no inspection fee will be assessed against the Owner of the inspected Rental Unit in compliance.

Where a re-inspection must be made to ensure conformity with this Ordinance before a certificate of compliance is issued for those Rental Units that have been issued violation notices, the Village will charge a separate inspection fee for every inspection when the violation has not been abated or corrected.

Section _____ Maintenance of Records.

All records, files and documents pertaining to the Rental Registration and Licensing and Rental Unit Inspection Program shall be maintained by the Village or Designate and made available to the public as required by State Law.

Section _____ Appeal, Severability and Captions.

Should the Village or Designate determine that the property is not in compliance with the Village Property Maintenance Code as adopted by the City, from time to time, and/or any other Village Ordinance, as amended, and for that reason deny the issuance of a certificate of compliance, or should a certificate of compliance be suspended or revoked upon a determination by the Village or Designate that the Owner has failed to maintain the property in compliance with the aforementioned codes, laws and/or ordinances, the Owner shall have the right to appeal such determination in the following manner:

The Owner shall file the appeal with the Village Council, in writing, within 15 days of the date of the determination from which the Owner is appealing. Filing of the appeal with the Village Council shall stay the suspension or revocation of the certificate of compliance until such time as the Village Council issues its final decision. The appeal shall contain a short and plain statement of the matters asserted by the Owner, including factual and legal bases upon which the Owner relies.

Upon receipt of the appeal, the Village Council shall schedule a hearing and provide notice of the hearing to the Owner by sending written notice by first-class mail to the address listed on the Owner’s application form. The Owner may appear at the hearing in person, by agent or by attorney. If the Owner, or his agent or attorney, fails to appear at the hearing after proper notice, the Village Council may proceed with the hearing and make its decision. The Owner shall be given an opportunity to present oral and written arguments on the issues of law and policy and an opportunity to present evidence and arguments on issues of fact.

The Village Council shall issue a final decision, in writing, setting forth its findings within a reasonable period after the hearing is concluded. A copy of the decision shall be sent by first-class mail to the address listed on the Owner’s application form and to the agent or attorney that appeared at the hearing.

The Village Council shall:

Affirm the determination of the Village or Designate in refusing to issue, or in suspending or revoking the certificate of compliance; or Reverse the determination of the Village or Designate and order the issuance or reinstatement of the certificate of compliance.

If the Village Council affirms the determination of the Village or Designate or there is no timely appeal, the Property shall be vacated until a certificate of compliance is issued by the Village or Designate.

The Village Council shall have no power to vary or modify any rules, regulations, provisions or ordinances.

Section _____ Penalty.

Any Person who violates this Ordinance shall be responsible for a municipal civil infraction fine of $500.00, subject to the procedures and sanctions contained in Village of Cass City Municipal Code.

State park offers ghoulish good times

October is a magical month for children of all ages. Store fronts and homes burst with fall colors as well as images of ghosts, goblins and ghouls, and parties and costume balls allow kids ages one to 100 to take on the persona of someone or something other than their normal identity.

October guides those who celebrate Halloween to the highlight of the month: trick-or-treating.

An annual Halloween precursor takes place at Sleeper State Park just outside of Caseville. The fall festival combines 2 elements that aren't experienced together at any other time of the year; a variety of Halloween-related activities and the opportunity to experience fall camping in Michigan.

The fun begins at the end of September and runs through the weekend of October 19-21. There are a variety of weather dependent activities that take place on the weekends during the month-long harvest celebration. This past weekend witnessed a campground full of enthusiastic, costumed campers.

Despite the ominous weather forecast, many campsites featured Halloween décor and spooky props. Sites that normally display the staples of camping such as tents and camp chairs were transformed to take on the appearance of haunted houses, graveyards and other macabre settings.

The first scheduled event began Friday evening at the camp host site. At 8 p.m., campers of all ages were invited to enjoy popcorn and a movie. The eerie glow of the campfires and Halloween lights all around the campground added a fun, fall touch to the movie. After the show, people meandered through the campground, viewing the decorations until plunging temperatures forced many sightseers to their own campfires to warm-up.

Saturday was welcomed by gray skies and breezy conditions. The dark atmosphere was an appropriate backdrop for many of the day's activities.

The host site held "Coffin Hour" beginning at 8 a.m. Coffee and hot chocolate were provided to wake-up and warm-up the campers from the previous night's chilly temperatures. Horse drawn wagon rides were offered for anyone interested in viewing the campground from a different vantage point than walking, and kids were able to enjoy pony rides.

In addition, there was a spooky treasure hunt that began at the host site and led participants throughout the campground. The clues were challenging enough for adults, yet young children could also be actively involved. Another activity was a craft hour, with children making a variety of Halloween themed crafts that they could take home as souvenirs.

One of the most popular activities took place on the beach north of Sleeper State Park, where kids and adults could try their luck at "Pumpkin Chuckin'". Participants each selected a miniature pumpkin and then wrote their name on it with a marker. Next, they waited in line by the water for their chance to launch their pumpkin down the beach. There were 2 volunteers, one on each side, who held on to a large slingshot while the pumpkin's owner loaded his/her projectile. The participant pulled on the handle of the slingshot and sent the orange sphere skyward.

The foreboding sky opened and heavy rain fell on the campground, and it appeared it would hang around for the beginning of the trick-or-treat period. The streets in Sleeper State Park were closed to vehicle traffic at 4:30 p.m. so the hundreds of trick-or-treaters could seek their sugary fortunes. The rain tapered off to a drizzle as the time for treats began, but the rain returned with a vengeance at 5 p.m. and continued through the 6 p.m. ending time. However, it didn't dampen the enthusiasm of the drenched ghosts and goblins.

The rain also didn't cancel Scarey-Okee or the professional storyteller Lois Sprengnether Keel. After the karaoke music faded, Keel enthralled the remaining guests at the host site with tales of terror and some stories that were on the lighter side.

In addition to the scheduled events, there were two on-going activities - voting for the Best Decorated and Spookiest campsites, and tours along a haunted trail that ran almost the entire length of the campground.

Normally visited by bikers and hikers, the trail was transformed into an exciting walk that had a number of props and stations set up to entertain the imagination and tickle the funny bone. Common Halloween characters such as skeletons, zombies, werewolves, witches, vampires, ghosts and aliens welcomed all who dared to enter the woods.

Puterbaugh benefit scheduled Nov. 10

University of Michigan have never seen anyone survive a temperature of that degree. They are now in waters that few medical professionals have treaded."

Puterbaugh is currently at Covenant Hospital in Saginaw and is awaiting a transfer to a rehabilitation facility.

"He had made some miraculous steps toward returning to himself. He is now off of dialysis and almost weaned off the ventilator," Ross said. "With all the good that has occurred with recovery, the medical costs are mounting."

Ross, who has been friends with Puterbaugh since the fifth grade, described the 1998 Cass City High School graduate as "one of the most caring, compassionate people I have ever known."

"One example of Brian's kindness was the time a group of our friends went fishing in Canada. While on the trip, their truck broke down and they had to call someone to help, and that someone was Brian," she recalled. "Brian drove from Snover to Canada to retrieve his friends. This is just one of the many examples of Brian's love and kindness."

Anyone interested in making a donation for the upcoming benefit is asked to contact Ross at (989) 912-0418 or Larry Puterbaugh at (810) 730-9713.

Michigan meningitis cases are growing

"As this is a developing investigation, the number of cases is expected to increase," Minicuci said. "The age range of current identified cases is 46 through 89 years old. All cases are linked to the 4 facilities in Michigan that received a potentially contaminated product, suspected to be the cause of the outbreak."

Interim data reveals that infected patients received an injection with one of 3 lots of preservative-free methylprednisolone acetate prepared by the New England Compounding Center (NECC), located in Farmingham, Mass. The 4 Michigan facilities that received shipments of the recalled lots are working with MDCH officials to notify patients who may have received the product between May and October and may be at risk for developing illness.

The facilities are: Michigan Neurosurgical Institutes in Grand Blanc, Michigan Pain Specialists in Brighton, Neuromuscular and Rehabilitation in Traverse City, and Southeast Michigan Surgical Hospital in Warren.

"These fungal infections are not transmitted person-to-person," Minicuci noted. "Infected patients have become ill approximately one to 4 weeks following their injection with a variety of symptoms. Patients who received epidural injections have presented with symptoms including fever, new or worsening headache, neck stiffness, sensitivity to light, and/or a new neurological deficit such as weakness or numbness, consistent with deep brain stroke. Those receiving joint injections may present with increasing pain, redness or swelling at the injection site. Some patients' symptoms were very mild in nature."

Anyone who received a steroid injection at one of the 4 Michigan facilities and is experiencing the symptoms described should immediately contact their physician or seek other medical attention.

Although individuals at risk have all received epidural steroid injections between May 21 and Sept. 26, the affected population does not include women given epidural injections at childbirth, according to the National Public Health Information Coalition, which reports it has confirmed all 75 health care facilities across the country that received the contaminated product.

Additional information about the Michigan investigation can be found at www.michigan/mdch.

Grimshaw says tax is a killer

The personal property tax (PPT) is one of the largest obstacles to job growth in the Thumb and around Michigan.

That point was made by Dan Grimshaw, Republican candidate for the 84th District State Representative seat, during a recent series of tours of major agriculture and industrial employers in Huron and Tuscola counties.

"The PPT is a job killer," said Grimshaw, a small business owner. "Keeping the personal property tax on employers will only send more jobs out of the Thumb, followed by workers and their families."

The personal property tax is a tax on the value of equipment used in business and industrial operations. Although it declines over time, new equipment installed as part of facility upgrades or company expansions results in higher taxes.

Grimshaw maintains that it makes no sense to tax the very equipment and investment that mean jobs for Thumb residents.

Roggenbuck selected for project to protect children

ly that I was one of 7 judges to be selected for the program from judges all over the state of Michigan.

"The pilot involves providing the judge and the selected court with a tablet (ipod), the technical support, Internet, software, applications and necessary programming to allow us to receive, review and either approve or deny and return petitions to caseworkers or law enforcement officers," she explained.

"The benefits include...the technology and all of the elements that I mentioned, (and) caseworkers and police officers will no longer have to leave a home or location where children are potentially in danger to take a petition to a judge. This reduces the wait time for children, helps to diffuse the situation in a more rapid manner and, if children need to be removed for their safety, it gets them and the case workers and police officers out of a dangerous situation as quickly as possible," Roggenbuck said. "It also means case workers and police officers don't have to spend additional time driving from a situation to a judge and back, saving time and wear on vehicles, and also allowing them to get back to their jobs in a quicker fashion."

Roggenbuck indicated it's too early in the process to estimate the dollar value of the program.

"It would be almost impossible for me to gauge the...savings since the program has not been fully implemented yet. We don't have a total savings, (but) this would not have been possible for our county to accomplish on our own since we have very limited resources," she said.

The pilot program is scheduled to launch later this fall.

Bulldogs celebrate homecoming gala with 70-14 decision

The Owen-Gage Bulldogs won much more than just their homecoming affair Friday with a one-sided

Vassar pass attack too much for Cass City

Cass City ended its Greater Thumb West gridiron campaign on a sour note Friday at Vassar. The Red Hawks slipped to 4-4 overall, 3-3 in the GTW, as the visitors had no answer for the Vulcan passing game during a 41-6 decision.

Using a triple wide formation, Vulcan quarterback Mike Pratt had his way against the visitors. Pratt completed all but one of his 14 pass attempts for 298 yards and 6 scores.

Trailing 14-0, Cass City got on the scoreboard late in the opening quarter when Watson Moore hauled in a pass by quarterback Dakota Hartel from 10-yards out. Hartel was 2-of-4 passing on the night for 18 yards.

Vassar, 7-1 overall, added 3 more markers before the intermission. "They hit us hard right off the bat and we could not respond," said Coach Scott Cuthrell.

Nathan Greaves led Vassar with 5 catches and 140 yards. He scored twice. Josh Bassett also accounted for a pair of markers, while Tom Palmer and Tanner MacKay each were on the receiving ends of touchdown strikes.

Offensive and defensive leaders for Cass City had Brenden Ricker and Braeden Perzanowski combine for 73 rushing yards on 23 carries, while Bobby Beyette collected 8 stops.

Cass City will travel to Caro this Friday for their annual M-81 clash. The Tigers are winless on the year.

victory over Merritt Academy in the Bulldogs' home finale.

With the 70-14 victory, Coach Steve Hollocker's Bulldogs also claimed a share of the Mid Michigan 8-Man crown, finishing 6-1 in conference play. The Bulldogs are 6-2 overall and will finish the regular season with a non-conference game Friday at Posen.

Andrew Fahrner had a big night, hauling in 2 touchdown passes and gaining 135 receiving yards for the winners, in addition to being announced the Bulldog homecoming king at the intermission.

Sophomore Bulldog quarterback Adam Retford threw for a season-high 160 yards, while on the ground, Hollocker said, "senior linemen, Mike Mandich and Eric Rievert along with freshman Devon Lorenz opened up big holes" for the back.

Benefiting were Jordan Kain and Quinn Smith. Kain, a senior, rushed for 115 yards and 3 touchdowns and junior Smith rushed for 158 yards and 3 touchdowns. Rievert scored a pair of 2-point conversions and Mandich chipped in one 2-point conversion.

Defensively, Fahrner closed out the game with a pick 6 to go along with his 9 tackles and fumble recovery.

Kain led the team with 10 solo tackles and Ben Good forced 2 fumbles, had 2 sacks and 8 tackles. Sophomore Antonio Torrez had 7 tackles and a fumble recovery. Mandich had 6 tackles, a forced fumble and a sack. Other highlights included a sack by freshman Dan Good and an interception by Quinn Smith.

"I'm happy with the win and proud of our effort, especially the seniors in their last regular season home game. Fahrner and Kain had big nights on both sides of the ball. I'm also very pleased with the development of our sophomore quarterback, Adam Retford, who stepped up and played a great game. We're happy to be healthy and at full strength heading into our final game and then the playoffs," said Hollocker.

DYNAMIC DUO. Bulldog Jordan Kain leads Quinn Smith around the corner in Friday's homecoming game in Owendale. The pair combined for 273 rushing yards and 6 touchdowns for the winners.

Red Hawks end regular season on positive note against Lakers

Coach Chuck Reed believes the Cass City soccer team will enter Division 3 district play this week on the heels of their best performance of the year.

That showing came Thursday against Elkton-Pigeon-Bay Port. The Red Hawks gave their visitors all they could handle before surrendering 1-0 to end play in the regular season. Also last week, on Tuesday, the Red Hawks bowed 2-0 at USA.

"The USA game was played in extremely windy conditions and this dictated play for most of the game. The game was even for most of the first half with neither team being able to set the pace and gain control," said Reed.

However, USA managed to score on a breakaway, putting the ball past keeper Justin Kerkau from close range and the one goal advantage carried into the intermission.

The second half went much the same except the Patriots started maintaining ball control, forcing the Hawks to chase and eating up the clock.

A late USA goal seemed to put the match away, but Red Hawk Marc Sheldon got his own breakaway scoring opportunity moments later.

"Marc had an open net that would have put the Hawks within one, but he put the shot over the crossbar," said Reed.

Nick Karwowski and Keith Lounsbury both had scoring chances late for the visitors, but the Patriot keeper was up to the task.

As windy as it was on Tuesday, it was nothing to compare to the weather on Thursday against the Lakers.

"A strong wind was blowing down the field for the entire game. It was raining and extremely cold. That being said, the Hawks played their best game of the season by far, frustrating the Laker attack and actually out shooting them for the game," said Reed.

The Red Hawk passing game resulted in consistent runs and scoring chances throughout the game and a tight defense kept the opponents from mounting any consistent threats.

Kerkau was solid in net, the only goal a result of a bad bounce, made tougher by the wind, according to Reed.

Reed also noted, "Dustin Miller, Michael Vogelpohl, Bransen Stimpfel, and Zac Clapper combined to play the best Hawk defense of the year with help from Nick McCoy, Jesse Nye and Garret Ferguson at the midfield slots.

Jose Torres, Sam Kolacz, Keith Lounsbury, Marc Sheldon and Nick Karwowski combined to put steady offensive pressure on the Laker keeper, but again could not manage a goal despite numerous chances.

"The Hawks played fast and aggressive against Lakers for the entire game, something they have only done in short spurts before. The result was a tight contest that was in doubt until the final whistle. Poor shooting is still a problem, but the shots were there for a change and the Hawks were not afraid to take them.

Aggressive defense put the Hawks in position to play both ends of the field, something that will need to carry over into districts next week," said Reed.

On Thursday, Cass City will meet the Birch Run/Mt. Morris winner in district action.

Dzielinski returns to action for Cass City

Meri Dzielinski returned to action for the Cass City volleyball team Thursday, but it wasn't enough to lift Coach Beth Howard's spikers past host Bay City All Saints in Greater Thumb West play.

It also didn't help that the Red Hawks were missing a few key players.

"We were short 2 of our starters. Even though the other girls stepped up, it wasn't enough to beat Bay City All Saints," said Howard.

"Meri played her first match of the season and played pretty well with only 3 practices under her belt."

The Cougars needed extra points to claim the opening 2 games that were decided by margins of 28-26 and 26-24. Cass City prevented a sweep on the night with a 25-19 win in game 3, but the Cougars claimed the GTW victory with a 25-22 victory in the next game.

Individually, Maegan LeValley had a huge game and recorded a team-best 18 kills, while Dzielinski had 9 kills. The Red Hawk offense also had Lauren Potter with 18 assists and Shania Chambers with 27 receptions.

Defensively, Chambers came up with 28 digs, while Andrea Mikolon was credited with 11 digs.

GARBER TOURNEY

On Saturday, Cass City met up again with the Cougars to open play at the Essexville-Garber invite.

And once again it was an evenly matched affair, as the 2 teams traded wins of 25-23 and 18-25. In the Red Hawks' final 2 pool play contests, Sanford Meridian came away with wins of 25-19 and 26-16, while host Garber collected wins of 25-12 and 25-18.

"It was a tough day all the way around," said Howard. "No one had a stand out day.

Among the statistical leaders for Cass City were Chambers with 33 digs and 31 receptions. Rachel Bartnik also played well on both offense and defense and posted 16 digs to complement 20 receptions.

Runners get in rehearsal for GTC league meet

Cass City got in a rehearsal over the weekend for this week's Greater Thumb Conference cross country league meet slated in Reese.

Coach Jon Zdrojewski reported that Ashtyn Janiske-Weiler ran her best time of the season and Erin Zdrojewski ran her second time of the season Saturday during the Reese Invitational.

Zdrojewski was fastest for the Lady Red Hawks on the day and completed the 5K run in 21:01. Next for the Red Hawks was Elizabeth Sanders with a time of 23:19, while Janiske-Weiler came in at 25:54, Elisabeth Milligan at 26:20 and Ilana Blattner at 31:37.

For the Red Hawk boys' team, Bransen Stimpfel (19:15), Jose Torres (19:23) and Keith Lounsbury (19:51) all broke the 20-minute mark, while Nick Karwowski crossed the end line in 21:28.

Schneeberger's ATHLETE of the WEEK

Schneeberger's honors Cass City Red Hawk Nick Karwowski as their "Athlete of the Week" award winner.

The Red Hawk senior is a 2-sport athlete and enjoyed a banner week in both venues.

On the soccer field, Coach Chuck Reed said Karwowski turned in solid offensive showings during a pair of losses to EPBP and USA to wrap up the regular season, while Saturday at Reese, Coach Jon Zdrojewski reported Karwowski was clocked at 21:28 for the Red Hawk cross country team.

Please contact Joey Kreeger at (989) 912-0059 if you have any questions regarding setting up a booth in town for the event. Dress up in pink and walk the streets and take note of the beautiful artwork done by community members and our local Cass City students.
