Hanson: drivers not paying attention

Huron sheriff beefs up patrols

by Tom Montgomery Editor

Huron County Sheriff Kelly J. Hanson vowed Thursday to beef up patrols on the county's secondary roads following the latest in a string of traffic crashes caused by motorists failing to yield.

Sheriff's deputies were dispatched to the intersection of Gagetown and McAlpin roads in Grant Township Thursday at about 8:30 a.m. to investigate a two-vehicle personal injury accident.

"(The) Investigation revealed that a 2013 Dodge Journey driven by Ronald Kopacki, age 78, of Roseville, was northbound on Gagetown Road when he failed to stop at a stop sign. He then impacted with a westbound 2008 Chrysler Town and County driven by 61-year-old Robert Joles and his passenger/wife 62-year-old Christine Joles, both of Gagetown," Hanson reported.

'Mr. Kopacki had to be freed from his vehicle by the Owendale Fire Department using their Jaws of Life and he was flown from the scene by helicopter to a Saginaw area hospital," he said. "The Joles were transported to Cass City's Hills and Dales Hospital by the Elkton Ambulance Service, along with the Scheurer Ambulance Service. Also assisting at the scene was the Sebewaing Ambulance Service and the Central Huron Ambulance

"Unfortunately so far this year, accidents due to drivers basically failing in some form to yield the right of way of other drivers has increased in comparison to last year," Hanson said. "Examples of these types of acci-

Gangas closing the doors at Erla's later this month

by Tom Montgomery Editor

Erlas Foods owner Venu Ganga confirmed Thursday what the local rumor mill has been cranking out unsubstantiated for weeks: Erla's will close its doors later this month, leaving Cass City without a grocery store and nearly four dozen area residents without jobs.

The decision was based on a number of factors, including a shrinking population and competition for shoppers' hardearned dollars dur-

"It is not the fault of the community. It's not anybody's fault; it's economics, many factors. We cannot, a small store like us, compete with a Dollar General, we cannot compete with a Walmart. We can't.

ing some difficult economic times, according to Ganga, who blames neither the community nor loyal Erla customers for the closure.

"We tried everything (to make a go of the business), but at the end of the day, we're also human beings," Ganga commented during a recent interview in his office at Erla Foods. "The truth is, I lost everything in this deal. (But) it is not the fault of the community. It's not anybody's fault; it's economics, many factors. We cannot, a small store like us, compete with a Dollar General, we cannot compete with a Walmart. We can't.

"There are so many good people in the community. They need to know the truth, because there are 45 people losing their jobs," added Ganga, who took over ownership of the store in early 2011.

Fun By The Numbers

Like puzzles?
Then you'll love sudoku. This mind-bending puzzle will have you hooked from the moment you square off, so sharpen your pencil and put your sudoku savvy to the test!

Here's How It Works:

Sudoku puzzles are formatted as a 9x9 grid, broken down into nine 3x3 boxes. To solve a sudoku, the numbers 1 through 9 must fill each row, column and box. Each number can appear only once in each row, column and box. You can figure out the order in which the numbers will appear by using the numeric clues already provided in the boxes. The more numbers you name, the easier it gets to solve the puzzle!

Wildlife top concern at local newspaper

Protecting nature has gained Sen. Mike Green points here at the corner of Oak and Main Citizen-initiated legislation that would ensure decisions affecting Michigan's fish and wildlife are made using science and scientific methods received final approval from the Legislature with recent passage of the measure by the Michigan House of Representatives.

"I applaud my colleagues in the House for their diligent work," said Green (R-Mayville), who led support of the measure in the Michigan Senate. "It is imperative that the public policy decisions affecting Michigan's great outdoors and wildlife are based on sound science, not partisan politics or emotions.

"This proposal - brought forth by the citizens of Michigan - does just that."

The citizen-initiative was submitted to the Legislature with the verified signatures of more than 297,000 Michigan voters, well beyond the 258,000 needed. The state Senate and House had 40 days to either confirm or reject the proposal. An initiative is not presented to the governor for signature or veto.

The measure was previously approved in the Senate by a vote of 23-10, with five members excused, and ultimately passed the House with a 65-43 vote. With House passage, it is now law and will go into effect next year.

Under the law:

* Decisions affecting the taking of fish and game will be made using principles of sound scientific fish and wildlife management;

*Active members of the military would be able to receive free hunting, fishing and trapping licenses; and

*Additional appropriations will be provided for fishery management within Michigan and prevention, control and/or elimination of aquatic invasive species, including Asian carp.

Green described the proposal as one that was beneficial to Michigan wildlife and the millions of sportsmen and women who call the state home.

"The Scientific Fish and Wildlife Conservation Act was not a partisan proposal. It was a proposal to take politics and politicians out of wildlife management decisions and replace it with sound science we all agree on," "With its passage, Michigan Green said. sportsmen and women can be confident that our fish and game will be properly managed and, when necessary, protected so that our outdoor traditions and way of life can be passed on to future generations."

Thanks Mike.

Advice on the first day

It happens each year precisely on July 5. Sparklers and smoke bombs on aisle four are replaced with boxes of of a new school year, where they will sit at a desk and crayons and bargain notebooks and the back to school learn math and reading and science and a whole lot of season officially begins. I'm never quite ready for it. I other things about life you can't get from a book. Each usually put off the purchase of glue sticks and number 2 year is a milestone. Enjoy. (And study hard.) pencils for as long as I can because school supplies signify the end of summer.

time filled with new tennis shoes, a new grade level and new adventures. As they strap on their backpacks and head to the bus stop this year, I'll indulge in some

Kindergarten

If you have a teacher who can plink it out on the piano, you are lucky. Learn to sit in the circle and sing loud and proud. Make new friends whenever you can. Walk straight home from the bus stop. Hug your mom and dad when you get there and tell them about your day.

First grade Reading might seem hard right now, but do it anyway. It will get easier. I promise. If (when) you call your teacher "Mom" don't be too embarrassed, almost everyone makes that mistake once or twice. Make friends whenever you can

Grades two and three

Write stories using that great and powerful thing called your imagination. Remember, chapter books are really a bunch of smaller stories all put together. You can do it! Cursive handwriting is challenging at first, but it gets easier. Memorize the multiplication tables now and you'll never have to do it again. Make friends whenev-

Grades four and five

You're no longer a little kid, but are one of the oldest in your school. That probably feels pretty good. Your teacher might give you homework. Do it. If you get into a good habit of doing your homework now, it will be easier when you get older. Trust me. By fifth grade, you'll reach the age category of double digits. Getting older means things might seem more complicated than they used to be, and I'm not referring to schoolwork. Stay away from the social drama. Pick friends based on their personalities and sense of humor, not by the labels on their clothes or the logo on their backpack.

Sixth grade

This year might bring you to a new school and that can be intimidating. Remember, everyone is in the same boat as you. Besides, a new school is an opportunity to make new friends. Sometimes boys tease girls and vice versa when they like each other. This is the secret code of middle school. Don't get too caught up in it and remember, a little cologne goes a long way.

Grades seven and eight

You find yourself on the cusp of the teen years and in some ways you're on the fence between two worlds. What your friends think becomes more important than what your parents think. You are likely to hit a growth spurt soon (if you haven't already). This can make your body feel awkward, as though your legs are too long for the rest of you. This is perfectly normal and is a part of that word you learned about in health class: puberty.

Ninth grade At a time when social relationships dominate your every waking moment, it's never been more important to pay attention to your schoolwork. Take the hard classas you can. Don't let yourself get pigeonholed. Your struck the county over the weekend.

You are getting closer to becoming an adult with adult responsibilities like driving a car. This probably scares the pants off your mom, so go easy on her when she is in the passenger seat. You might find a part-time job. Lessons learned from getting to work on time and earning a paycheck can give you a sense of accomplishment and independence. Go for it. Keep doing your homework and making new friends.

Senior year

This year could feel like the pinnacle, or you might find yourself more than ready to be done with this so you can move on to the next stage of your life. I know. I also know that one day you will look back on your high school years and think they weren't all that bad. So enjoy, or at least go to class. Sing the school song loud and proud. Make friends whenever you can. Hug your mom and dad when you get home and tell them about

The ALS Ice Bucket Challenge has been the talk of the town (and country) for some time now, having raised millions of dollars for the ALS Association, which fights amyotrophic lateral sclerosis, also known as Lou Gehrig's disease. Part of the challenge is to make a donation to the ALS Foundation, even if you've had a bucket of cold water poured over your head.

What you may not know is that an ALS walk is being planned at Dow Diamond in Midland Saturday, Sept. 20, at 1 p.m., and that a Cass City area team - the "Hopeful Hearts" – will be participating.

Anyone interested in helping the team raise funds is asked to visit the website www.walktodefeatALS.org and search for "Hopeful Hearts", or http://goo.gl/UUuVOP to go straight to the team page. All donations go to the walk to defeat ALS.

Area residents are also encouraged to visit the Hopeful Hearts' Facebook page and post their Ice Bucket Challenge videos.

How about, Michigan harvested an estimated 30 million bushels of apples in 2013. The average apple harvest is about 19.7 million bushels, 828 million pounds, per year? Or finally, did you know Michigan is the second-largest apple producing state in the nation? Well, now you do.

The Michigan Department of Natural Resources (DNR) recently announced that a third official Michigan online hunter education course is now available at www.hunteredcourse.com/state/michigan.

A Michigan-based company, Hunter Ed Course offers its online hunter education course for $17.99. The course features lessons on safe, legal and responsible hunting practices and uses narration, closed captioning, interactive exercises and photos that replicate what a hunter will see in the field.

As with all of Michigan's online hunter safety course options, after taking the online course, students are required to attend the field/skills day portion of a traditional class and take the student examination in order to receive their hunter safety certificates.

'We're pleased to partner with Hunter Ed Course to offer Michigan residents another option for their hunter education class work," said DNR hunter education program supervisor Sgt. Tom Wanless. "We encourage students considering an online course to get their field day scheduled soon so that they'll be ready to head out into the field in the fall.'

Students will need to pre-register for the field/skills day before taking the online course. Upon passing the online course, they will be eligible to complete the field day with an instructor and take the written exam.

Students can search for a class in their area and find more information about Michigan's hunter education program at www.michigan.gov/huntereducation.

Michigan hunter education is required for all hunters born after Jan. 1, 1960. A hunter safety certificate is required to purchase a Michigan hunting license.

Happy belated TP Day, my friends!

> by Tom Montgomery Editor

I'm not sure how I missed it, but Aug. 26 was National Toilet Paper Day. Like many other folks, I appreciate toilet paper, especially if the person responsible for installing the next roll is refined enough to understand the intricacies and importance of hanging it properly. But more on that later.

As I missed all of the National Toilet Paper Day celebrations, I decided to look a bit deeper into this movement – er, effort – to recognize toilet paper, and I found some interesting background, although I couldn't find an answer to a question I've wanted to ask for some time – why do toilet paper makers spend so much money on advertising?

Aren't people going to buy their product if they don't see dancing cottonysoft rolls in between episodes of Dr. Who? Same goes for items such as feminine hygiene products – it's bad enough some wives/girlfriends get a kick out of sending their husbands/boyfriends off to the local drugstore to wander aimlessly through "those" aisles. Must he also hear about and see them during the pre-game show?

But I digress. A lot.

Anyway, here are a few interesting tidbits gleaned from the online Toilet Paper Encyclopedia, among other sources:

*The primary reason toilet paper is white is the same reason most toilets are, simply because white toilet paper looks cleaner than the natural brown-ish color the paper is before it's bleached (for those interested in the science of TP, bleaching can make toilet paper softer because it removes lignin, a polymer in wood that to some extent functions as a "glue" to hold the fibers together and makes the tree more rigid).

*About 10 million trees per year are used to make the world's supply of toilet paper (the average tree yields 810 rolls). People in the United States on average use 50 percent more toilet paper per person than other Western nations, primarily due to the reluctance of Americans to adopt water washing systems such as bidets.

*69 percent of people consider toilet paper the 20th century "convenience" most taken for granted.

*49 percent choose toilet paper as their "necessity" – even before food — if stranded on a desert island.

*Wiping your nose is the second most common use for toilet paper. The first

*In public restrooms, it takes an average of 71 people to use one entire roll. In an average household, the average roll of toilet paper lasts about five days (seriously?).

*The average person uses 100 rolls of toilet paper — more than 20,000 sheets — annually.

*About four billion people don't use toilet paper for various reasons (lack of trees, expense, etc.).

*It's estimated that roughly seven percent of Americans steal rolls of toilet paper in hotels or motels.

Oh, I forgot the most important statistic of all, and I'm hoping all you misinformed individuals out there will take notice: a whopping 72 percent of people hang the roll with the sheets going over, not under. The bottom line? Experts say folks who hang toilet the correct way are organized over-achievers who will eventually take over the world.

Okay, I made up that last part about taking over the world.

Down Memory Lane

5 YEARS AGO (2009)

Angela Lounsbury's vision for her professional future along with a shared interest she and her husband, Joe, have in mission work, recently led the couple to an adventure overseas that enabled them to help others see more clearly. Angela, 22, a 2005 Cass City High School graduate, and Joe, 24, who graduated from Cass City 2 years earlier, traveled to Guyana last month to volunteer their services at a clinic. Guyana is located on the northern coast of South America, bordered to the east by Suriname, to the south and southwest by Brazil, to the west by Venezuela, and to the north by the Atlantic Ocean. The trip was a great experience for the couple, who resides in Big Rapids, where Angela, the daughter of Mark and Carol Stoeckle, Cass City, is in her second year of studies the Michigan College Optometry.

The Red Hawks entertained Caseville and posted their first win on the season. Jalen Ferris scored 2 unassisted goals for the Red Hawks in the opening half, matching the point production of Caseville's Charlie Karafa as the teams entered the final half deadlocked at 2-2. Robby Simpson put the hosts on top for good with his first of 2 second half tallies, while Ferris' hat trick goal provided the hosts with a 4-2 gap. Caseville closed to within 4-3 on a goal from Serhiy Skrypka, but Simpson scored again to provide the final margin. Assistant Coach Ray Ferris praised the work of Michael Vogelpohl in the net, noting he recorded 15 saves.

Sixty-three people recently donated blood at a drive sponsored by the Hills and Dales General Hospital Auxiliary and VFW Post #3644, Cass City. Receiving a 5-gallon pin: Marilyn Mastie; 10-gallon pin: Melvin Shrock. First time donors were Jane Phillips, Tammy Laurie and Merideth Nizzola.

A Sanilac County teen's hard work and dedication recently paid off at the Michigan State Fair. Jake Leslie, 14, took home Grand Champion Pair of Market Steers honors. Smithfield Beef Group purchased the animals for $7,500 during this year's Junior Livestock Champions Auction. Leslie is the son of Bob and Kathy Leslie, Decker, and the grandson of Carl and Jean Gibbard of Bad Axe and Dale and Audrey Leslie of Decker.

Cass City spotted visiting Bay City All Saints a pair of touchdowns early in the first quarter and then came roaring back to post a 24-14 victory in the opening Greater Thumb West game of the year. Chris Landrith completed just one of 3 pass attempts, but it kept alive a TD drive. The pass was to Brad Langenburg who also led the team with 11 tackles. Cody Halasz picked up 79 yards rushing in addition to scoring 2 touchdowns. Nick Stoutenburg rushed 14 times for 105 yards.

Although Michigan Athletic and Rehabilitation Center (MARC) has always functioned as a department of Hills and Dales General Hospital, officials felt the name did not adequately reflect its status as a part of the hospital. With Hills and Dales gaining Critical Access Hospital status earlier this year, the decision was made to rename MARC. Therapy services will now be offered under the name Hills and Dales General Hospital Center for Rehabilitation, while the fitness services will be offered under the name Hills and Dales General Hospital Health and Fitness. "MARC will continue to offer the services we always have, just under a new name," new director Heather Hankin said.

Michigan's most experienced astronaut, Cass City native Brewster H. Shaw Jr., is keeping his career options open following the successful completion of his third space shuttle mission. Regardless of what he chooses to do next, however, it's likely the 44year-old U.S. Air Force Colonel will continue to contribute to the space program. Contacted Friday at his office at the Johnson Space Center in Houston, Texas, Shaw said it's uncertain whether he'll fly another shuttle mission. "I don't know; that remains to be seen. I'm keeping my options open right now," he remarked.

Sampson & Delilah employees raised over $522 to help battle Muscular Dystrophy. The group, who spent Monday washing cars and providing haircuts are Kim Wald, Beth Severance, Becky Jones, Bonnie Gaszczynski, Bob Cleland and Lauretta Cleland.

The Hawks opened the season with a 172victory over Owen-Gage Tuesday, August 29. The Hawks used superior over all balance to win. Herringshaw of Cass City tied for medalist honors with 41. Cass City Red Hawk football fans face a 145-mile round trip if they want to get the first glimpse of the 1979 team in action. That's because the schedule calls for a non-league tilt against Class B Standish, a team that Hawk Coach Don Schelke knows little about. The coach there now took a team to the State Finals and he is now in his second year, so I look for a rough game, Schelke said. Standish plays power football.

Aaron Anthes started racing cars before he was old enough to legally drive on the highway. And now, at 28, the Dodge Road, Gagetown, resident is having his best year yet. Saturday night at Auto City Speedway, Flint, he won all the races he was in to clinch the season championship there. He topped that off by winning the 50 lap (25 miles) season championship race at the track on Labor Day.

When Dr. Edwin C. Fritz founded his dental practice in Cass City in July of 1937 he was only doing what came naturally. After all he is the son of the late Dr. I.A. Fritz who was a dentist in Cass City from 1882 to 1946. There has been a Fritz serving the community for 97 years. Over the years that Edwin Fritz has been serving Cass City there has been tremendous changes in dentistry and all for the good, Fritz believes. Medical work runs in the family. Mrs. Doris Fritz is an RN and has been active in Hills and Dales General Hospital and in the hospital auxiliary. The couple has two boys, Michael Henry, adminand James E., working on his doctor-

New elementary teachers in Cass City Schools represent Campbell and Evergreen Schools. They are Mary King, first grade at Evergreen and Trudi Muszynski, art teacher for grades three through six; Janet Bedell, kindergarten at Campbell; Gail Grant, grades five and six at Evergreen, and Brenda Fulcher, second grade at Campbell.

This year's Hawk squad is light and inexperienced and the boys have been working hard in pre-school practices to get ready for the season ahead. But early season outlooks change drastically when it comes to head knocking time. That is scheduled this week when Cass City has a pre-season scrimmage with North Branch. That's when Coach Roland Pakonen, and assistant coaches Eric Wilmore, Jim Mastie, Russ Biefer and Dale McIntosh will be able to tell a little more about the squad, and learn who will be in the starting line-up when the season opens Sept. 13. Team members are Kirt Kendall, Greg Decker, Dan Erla, Mike Gruber, Mike Lowe, Ed Stoutenburg, Smentek, Wayne Brooks, John Mocan, Dave Eberline, Brinkman, Mark Phillips, Ed Kloc, Kyle Hopper, Guy Howard, Rod Hutchinson, Kim Copeland, Bill Ouvry, Steve Frederick, Grenholm, Jerry Toner, Rick Tuckey, Russ Schweikart, Bruce Tuckey and Ron O'Dell.

The animonth of September, it cost $3.00 and mal had died.

it will be Mrs. Craft's third marriage.

Ordinarily, "Kitty-kitty" means soup's on for the cat. However, if you're a 27-year-old teacher and "Kitty-kitty" is spelled Quiriquire, it means home for the next year. That's what it means for Margarita A. Lopez, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Regino Lopez of Gagetown. Marge, as she prefers to be called, left Monday, Aug. 31, from Tri-County Airport for Quiriquire, Venezuela, where she will teach for a year as an employee of Creole Petroleum, an Kevin Koch of Owen-Gage and Chris affiliate of Standard Oil of New Jersey. For an American teacher, Quiriquire also means a big salary, fringe benefits, recreation and a whole new way of life. Besides a higher salary, Creole Petroleum offers its teachers other fringe benefits such as 30-day vacations, profit sharing and free transportation.

New teachers greeted Cass City high school and elementary students Wednesday when they returned to school. The blaze started from a lighted oil stove, which a whiff of wind caused to flame up and start a fire on the wall of the building. Mr. Heller with the aid of an extinguisher attempted to put out the fire and finally seized the stove to throw it out of doors but it struck the door jam and the flames darted back burning him badly on the face and arms. Gangas set to close Erlas

'We've been struggling since (January). In 2012 and 2013, at least we were able to break even," he said, noting the bottom line began to drop sharply across the board – wholesale and retail, with retail sales dipping some 35 percent. We didn't know what to do because we were losing $40,000 to $50,000 a month."

Ganga said a significant number of his shoppers have been coming from the Marlette area, but those numbers started falling after a new grocery store was built in that village early this year.

Ganga tried to increase traffic – and sales – by investing in an in-store buffet restaurant this summer, but the venture failed to produce the results he had hoped for, and the restaurant was shut down after less than 2 months in operation.

Ganga plans to close the doors Sept. 25-26. He says the only hope he can see for retaining a grocery store in town is if a group of investors in the community wanted to take over the business and run it as a cooperative of sorts. "No individual can run this. Even if somebody will buy it, they won't make it because the community does not have the population," he said. "If you come up with a community-owned project, I will do anything in my power to help. That's all I can do."

Regardless, Ganga vowed to ensure all of his employees receive their full pay and benefits while the business is still open, and he intends to pay balances owed to local vendors. "There are so many good people in the community, I don't want to disappoint (them)," he said.

Ganga acknowledged the decision to close was a difficult one, but he also indicated he did everything he could think of to keep the business open.

"We cut back everywhere – whatever we could. We tried everything," he added. "It's a painful experience.

Ganga and his wife, Madhavi Yeluri, purchased Erla's Foods Inc. in February 2001, marking the end of a 57-year business tradition established by the Erla family. The couple moved to the Thumb from Vancouver, Wash., where Ganga was employed as a senior computer programmer, and quickly worked to reinvent Erla's by creating three separate enterprises within one company – Erla Foods, Redhawk Steaks and Erla's Distributing LLC.

"In 2013, our office handled nine related injury accidents, with four people losing their lives because of it," the sheriff added. "For that same period, our office issued 46 related tickets due to the accidents or violations of the same. So far this year, our office has handled 14 related accidents with three people losing their lives, and has issued 39 overall tickets related to not stopping.

"Even after pleas from our office for motorist to be more aware and alert to the roadway, these types of accidents continue to take a needless toll," Hanson said. "Beginning tomorrow (Friday) and for however long it takes, we will be adding extra patrols, as well as the Michigan State Police, primarily on our secondary roads, in an effort to combat this issue.

"Furthermore, after speaking with Prosecutor (Timothy) Rutkowski today, I'm encouraging citizens that witness these types of violations and who can identify the vehicle and driver, to call Huron Central Dispatch at 989-269-6421, to make a report so prosecution can be sought. Any cooperation and assistance will be appreciated as we try to turn this dangerous tide."

Sheriff's association: Time to think school safety in the Thumb

With area children back in school, the Huron County Sheriff's Department and the Michigan Sheriffs' Association is encouraging drivers to cut down distractions and concentrate on the road.

"Children are often eager to get on and off the bus because they are excited to get to school and they are also excited to get home and tell their parents about their day," Hanson said. "We would like to offer some safety measures for both students – and motorists – to help ensure safety for every-

Tips for Students

- * Always arrive at the bus stop early.
- * Prior to boarding, wait until the bus has some to a complete stop, the door is opened and the bus driver says that it's OK to board.
- * Once on board proceed quickly to your seat and stay sitting until the bus
- arrives at your school or other drop off location. * Do not move around on the bus.
- * Always walk on the sidewalk when preparing to cross the street near a bus. Make eye contact with the driver so that you are sure he or she sees you.
- * Never walk behind the bus.
- * If you are walking beside the bus, make sure you are at least 10 feet (10
- "giant" steps) away. Take extra precaution to make sure that clothing with drawstrings and book bags do not get caught in the hand rail or door.
- * Never stop to pick something up you have dropped while the bus is stopped. Wait until the bus has driven off to avoid not being seen by the

Tips for Motorists

- * Remember that children are unpredictable in their actions. Take extreme caution when traveling in a school zone.
- * If you live in an area where there are no sidewalks, drive cautiously. Be - more alert to the possibility of children walking in the road.
- * Be more aware of children playing near school bus stops.
- * Take extra time to look for kids at intersections, on medians and on curbs. * Enter and exit driveways and alleys slowly and carefully
- * Reduce any distractions inside your car so you can concentrate on the road
- and your surroundings. * Put down your phone – don't talk or text while driving!
- * Slow down and prepare to stop whenever you see yellow school bus lights
- * Never pass a school bus when there are flashing red lights. This is a sign that children are getting on or off the bus – and it's the law!

Traveling to and from School

- * Plan a walking route to school or the bus stop. Choose the most direct way with the fewest street crossings and, if possible, with intersections that have crossing guards.
- * Walk the route with your child beforehand. Tell him or her to stay away from parks, vacant lots, fields and other places where there aren't many peo-
- * Teach your child never to talk to strangers, accept rides from strangers or accept gifts from strangers. Remember, a stranger is anyone you or your children don't know well or don't trust.
- * Be sure your child walks to and from school or the bus stop with a sibling, friend or neighbor.
- * Teach your kids whether walking, biking or riding the bus to school to obey all traffic signals, signs and traffic officers. Remind them to be extra careful in bad weather. * When driving kids, deliver and pick them up as close to the school as pos- sible. Don't leave until they are in the schoolyard or building.
- * If your child bikes to school make sure he wears a helmet that meets safety standards. Research indicates that a helmet can reduce the risk of head injury by up to 85%.
- If your child rides a scooter to school, make sure she wears sturdy shoes, al helmet, kneepads and elbow pads. Children under 12 should not ride motorized scooters.
- * Be sure your child knows his or her home (or parents' cellular) phone number(s) and address. They should also know where you work, your work phone number, the phone number of another trusted adult and how to call 911 for emergencies.

RED HAWKS Ethan Montei (75) and TJ Moore teamed to sack Brown City quarterback Eric Burgess in Thursday's non-conference opener for both teams. Cass City won 30-13.

Cass City opens season with win over Brown City

by Clarke Haire Publisher

The Cass City Red Hawk football team showed they could take a punch in Thursday's season opener with Greater Thumb East foe Brown

They had no other choice if they wanted to emerge victorious, after the visiting Green Devils marched 78 yards on the game's first possession to take a 7-0 lead on Ryan Woods' 3-yard dive. Brown City found pay dirt without the aid of a pass as the visitors' offensive line controlled play early.

It wouldn't take Brown City long to get the ball back as Cass City fumbled on their first play from scrim-

Tyler Shearer pounced on the loose ball near the 35-yardline and 2 plays later, Brown City's Derrick Daws got behind the Cass City secondary and all-of-a-sudden the visitors were in front by 2 touchdowns. However, the marker was waved off as Brown City was called for an ineligible receiver down field and forced to

After surviving the Brown City threat, Cass City proved they could throw punches as well, scoring the drive the length of the field before a game's next 30 points en route to the 30-13 non-conference win.

Cass City recorded nearly 300 yards of offense that resulted in 14 first downs. The Red Hawks gained 221 yards on the ground.

"Great win. The kids stumbled out of the blocks, but fought back for a and a Josh Daniels fumble recovery great start (to the season)," said Coach Cuthrell.

Cass City used a 9-yard run by Sawyer Cuthrel, who ended the night netting 157 yards on 25 carries to lead all rushers, to register their first points that came with 1:45 remaining in the first quarter, Quarterback Mason Erla then hit end Jack Stern for the 2-point conversion and the hosts wouldn't look back.

Leading 8-7, Cass City would strike again in the opening frame after a Parker Haire fumble recovery gave the ball back to the winners on their own 38-yardline. An Erla to Stern pass accounted for the score that had the Red Hawks enjoying a 16-7 margin entering the second quarter that both team settled for at the break.

Erla completed 5-of-9 passes for 70 yards. His favorite targets were Stern and Haire, who split 4 catches. Also for the Red Hawks, Branden Horne and TJ Moore combined for 60 yards on 16 totes.

After the intermission, Cass City used touchdown runs of 5 and 27 yards by Cuthrell to take a commanding 30-7 advantage with just under 4 minutes remaining in the third quarter. Now it was Cass City's offensive line in charge after wearing down their bigger Brown City foes.

To Brown City's credit, they never stopped battling and were able to Cass City goal line stance stalled Brown City inside the 10-yardline.

Defensively, Cass City was paced by Jake Lawrence, Drew Loomis and Haire all with 9 tackles each. The Red Hawks also used interceptions by Cuthrell and Keith Lounsbury to keep the visitors from mounting a serious challenge in the final half.

Hawks enjoy success at Birch Run invitational

Coach Jon Zdrojewski reports that his Cass City Red Hawk cross country teams enjoyed success Thursday at the Birch Run Invitational.

"The men took 4th overall against some very strong teams. Bransen Stimpfel took first, despite a wrong turn on the course. He overran the distance and still won," Zdrojewski.

"Freshman CarLee Stimpfel took 5th and Jose Torres was back after missing the first meet with a stress fracture. He ran strong and finished in 16th place. Freshman newcomer Zane Wright ran a very good race for his first really big race and took 39th," according to Zdrojewski.

"I see this young man improving as the season moves along and he will be a better point getter soon."

Rounding out the Red Hawk scoring, junior newcomer Tyler Laster finished in the 98th spot and Jamison

Biskner-Kruse finished 105th. Turning to the Lady Red Hawks, Cass City placed 7th in the team standings. Erin Zdrojewski finished 13th to highlight the day. "Erin was feeling good despite her injury during the last meet, I expect her times to improve as she gets more comfortable running with the Low Gross: (40) Robinson soreness in her foot," Zdrojewski. Adding, "Josie Loomis ran a great race coming in 29th and I am expecting very good things from her this season. Freshman Lauren Fernald was the next across the line for Cass City in 43rd followed closely by sophomore Hope Wilson in 45th and freshman Savanah Walker in 46th to round out the scorers for Cass City. "These three ran great races and had strong finishes and I look for continued improvement from these ladies," said Zdrojewski.

The women's team had 2 other runners: freshman Kate Stimpfel finished in 65th place and exchange student Noora Ellonen in 67th.

"We had a great day of racing on the course in almost perfect conditions."

Guilds explained Thursdays exercises enabled firemen to practice in realistic conditions, with teams of
