Think pink: ACS fundraiser on tap

by Tom Montgomery
Editor

The prospects of trying to top last year's hugely successful "Pinktober" celebration in Cass City might intimidate some folks, but don't count Joey Kreeger among them.

In fact, Kreeger is brimming with anticipation when it comes to the month-long campaign to boost awareness about breast cancer and raise money for the American Cancer Society (ACS).

During the third annual Pinktober celebration last October, Kreeger along with a team of other organizers orchestrated the local effort involving a variety of activities that raised more than $10,000 and drew hundreds of area residents to the village's downtown for the "Pink or Treat in the Street Finale" celebration.

"Last year it just really finally kicked in," Kreeger recalled, referring to the community involvement that made the 2013 project such a success. "It was amazing, so I think people are excited about it this year. It's like the whole community is getting together," she said.

"Everybody was calling me this year, asking, 'How can I get involved?' Everybody wants to decorate their windows again and have everybody wear pink to the homecoming game," Kreeger said. "It's like everybody is excited to do something together."

Pinktober 2014 will kick off in conjunction with the Cass City home junior varsity football contest Thursday, Sept. 25. The half-time will feature lighting of sky lanterns purchased in honor of cancer victims and survivors, according to Kreeger, who noted residents can purchase lanterns for $5 each at the Lions Pavilion, or pre-order them by contacting Shari Bock, food service director for the Cass City Public Schools, at (989) 872-2148. Last year, organizers sold 180 of the lanterns.

"That's also the day we bring the pink toilet down," Kreeger added. The activity involves a pink toilet that is placed in front of local businesses and generates donations of at least $20 every time a business owner pays the $20 to have it moved. "It's a really good fundraiser - sometimes it gets moved two or three times in a day," she said.

In addition, Christine Anthony, owner of Captured By Christine Photography in Cass City, has launched her annual Pinktober Cutest Kids Contest. Cute kid photos will be posted around downtown, and residents are invited to "vote" for their favorite by donating money in an accompanying canister.

The date for another popular event, the annual "5K Glow Ta Ta Trot", has been moved up this year to Saturday, Oct. 11. The 5K and 8K run and 5K walk were held in conjunction with the finale in 2013, but the numbers it drew left organizers a bit overwhelmed - there were nearly 180 participants compared to a previous high of 62 runners. The cost to enter is $30.

Also planned is a pumpkin launch Saturday, Oct. 18, starting at 1 p.m. in the parking lot at Cass City Elementary School. Organizers will be providing the pumpkins for $5 each, and the individual whose pumpkin is launched the farthest will receive a trophy.

Another Pinktober fundraiser - the second annual Elkland Township Cemetery Walk - is scheduled for Sunday, Sept. 28. All 150 tickets for the expanded event planned this year sold out within a week, and organizers anticipate donating all $1,050 of the proceeds to the ACS.

The cemetery walk, which is videotaped, features several local actors portraying notable citizens from the Cass City community's past, each dressed in period costumes and presenting brief programs about "their lives" at their gravesites.

Missing Cheboygan man found safe in Huron Co.

by Tom Montgomery
Editor

Huron County Sheriff Department officials say the search for a missing Cheboygan man ended on a happy note last week in the Port Austin area.

Huron County Sheriff Kelly J. Hanson said Deputy Jake Dhyse reported locating the man after he was dispatched to a business - the Corner Beverage - to check on the well-being of an elderly man at about 2 p.m. last Wednesday.

"Business owner Kelly Szymanski became concerned after having contact with the man, who appeared to be in a confused state of mind," Hanson said. "Once Deputy Dhyse arrived, it was determined that the man, Frank R. McCarty, age 82, of Topinabee, Cheboygan County, had been missing since (Tuesday night) and apparently is in the early stages of dementia and Alzheimer's."

"He also was the focus of a countywide search that had been initiated by the Cheboygan County Sheriff's Office. They, along with other agencies, as well as volunteers, had been searching the Cheboygan County area since he was reported missing," added Hanson, who did not say how the man made the trip from the northern tip of the Lower Peninsula to the Thumb.

Hanson said that McCarty was in good spirits and was transported to the sheriff's department in Bad Axe to be rejoined by family members.

Meet the candidates at public forum in Caro

by Tom Montgomery
Editor

Area residents interested in learning more about the candidates vying to represent them in Lansing will have an opportunity to meet them face-to-face next month.

The Tuscola County Human Services Collaboration Council (HSCC) will host a "meet the candidate" forum Tuesday, Oct. 7, starting at 6 p.m. at the Tuscola Technology Center in Caro.

"The HSCC believes it is critical that voters have accurate and meaningful information to help them make educated choices about candidates," said Susan Walker, HSCC community collaborator.

Candidates scheduled to appear include Dr. Edward Canfield and David Jaroch, who are vying for the 84th District House seat representing Tuscola and Huron counties and currently held by state Rep. Terry Brown (D-Pigeon).

Voters will also have an opportunity see and hear from state Senator Mike Green (R-Mayville) and his challenger, Ron Mindykowski, who are battling to represent the 31st Senate District. The district is currently comprised of Arenac, Huron, Sanilac, Tuscola and Bay counties, but due to redistricting will now be composed of Tuscola, Bay and Lapeer counties.

Canfield, of Sebawaing, defeated six other Republican candidates in the August primary election to advance to the Tuesday, Nov. 4 general election.

He previously ran as an independent candidate for the House seat.

Jaroch, meanwhile, was the primary winner over fellow Democrat Richard Badger, Mayville, in August. Jaroch, of Ubyly, has served as both a member of the Ubyly Village Council and Huron County Board of Commissioners.

In the Senate race, Green, who is wrapping up his first term as a senator, defeated fellow Republicans Kevin Daley and Jeffery Phillips in the primary.

Green previously served Thumb residents as the 84th District state representative from 1995 through 2001.

His opponent, Mindykowski, is a Bay City Democrat and veteran Bay City Public Schools teacher of 30 years.

During the upcoming forum, each candidate will have up to three minutes to answer three questions, according to Walker.

"In addition, the audience will write down questions that the moderator will read. Each candidate will have an opportunity to respond to those questions for a maximum of three minutes," she said. "The last 20 to 30 minutes will be reserved as a time to meet more informally with the audience."

The purpose of the HSCC is to promote the welfare of the community through the joint planning, collaboration and promotion of human services. More information is available by contacting Walker at (989) 673-2144 (ext. 30302) or via email at susaneawalker@gmail.com.

POET chief: farmers can take an even bigger role in energy future

POET Chief Executive Officer Jeff Lault joined more than 250 leaders from across Michigan's agriculture sector Saturday to highlight ongoing innovation in American-made ethanol.

Lault's remarks at the Michigan Agri-Business Association's 2014 Fall Outlook Conference focused on future potential for innovation in the ethanol industry, and the need for forward-looking federal policies like the Renewable Fuel Standard.

"The ethanol industry is now 10 percent of the U.S. fuel supply, lowering overall fuel costs for drivers and reducing our need to send money overseas for foreign oil," said Lault. "That's fuel produced here in Michigan by Michigan workers from grain by Michigan farmers, and it is investment that was prompted by the vision for a clean, domestic fuel supply under the Renewable Fuel Standard."

"We're now looking forward at new feedstocks and new opportunities for Michigan farmers to take an even larger role in our energy future, but to get there we need the Environmental Protection Agency to maintain that vision of a growing renewable energy economy," he added.

Less than two weeks ago, POET, in a joint venture with Netherlands-based Royal DSM, launched Project LIBERTY, America's first cellulosic ethanol refinery, which converts baled corn cobs, leaves, husk and stalk into renewable fuel. At full

Respiratory illness in kids on the rise, health officials report

Michigan Department of Community Health (MDCH) officials say they're receiving reports indicating an increase in severe respiratory illness in children ages 5 to 17 across the state.

MDCH is working with local health departments and hospitals to investigate those cases. At this time, Michigan has no confirmed cases of Enterovirus D68 (EV-D68) associated with the national outbreak, but state health officials are forwarding samples to the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention (CDC) for testing.

Fun By The Numbers

Like puzzles? Then you'll love sudoku. This mind-bending puzzle will have you hooked from the moment you square off, so sharpen your pencil and put your sudoku savvy to the test!

Here's How It Works:
 Sudoku puzzles are formatted as a 9x9 grid, broken down into nine 3x3 boxes. To solve a sudoku, the numbers 1 through 9 must fill each row, column and box. Each number can appear only once in each row, column and box. You can figure out the order in which the numbers will appear by using the numeric clues already provided in the boxes. The more numbers you name, the easier it gets to solve the puzzle!

Remind your college student to get a shot

That chill in the air is a harbinger not only of fall in Michigan, but also the coming of flu season, which means it's time to think about taking a few minutes to get a flu vaccination.

And while the very young and the very old are among those most susceptible to serious and even life-threatening cases of influenza, we're joining with state health officials in recommending that parents remind their college students to protect themselves as well.

The Michigan Department of Community Health (MDCH) is partnering with colleges and universities, as well as community partners, across the state to increase flu vaccinations among young adults. Each year, several healthy, young adults in Michigan die from the flu.

Influenza vaccination is the single best way to prevent influenza infection.

According to data from the Michigan Care Improvement Registry (MCIR), only 10.1 percent of individuals aged 18-24 years were vaccinated against the flu during the 2013-14 flu season. College students have unique risk factors that make them more susceptible to getting sick, such as close contact in dormitories and classrooms.

In an effort to raise flu vaccination among this age group, MDCH is launching a new challenge this year among Michigan colleges and universities. School health centers have volunteered for a friendly competition amongst each other to see who can get the highest percent of their students vaccinated against flu this season.

"Regardless of your participation in the challenge, MDCH encourages all Michigan colleges and universities to support flu vaccination among your students," said Dr. Matthew Davis, chief medical executive with the MDCH. "Assess the needs of your students and strongly recommend flu vaccination throughout the entire season. Begin now before the flu hits your campus."

There are currently 13 schools enrolled in the 2014-15 Flu Vaccination Challenge from around the state. They include Albion College, Aquinas College, Central Michigan University, Eastern Michigan University, Grand Valley State University, Hope College, Kalamazoo College, Michigan State University, Northwestern Michigan College, Oakland University, Southwestern Michigan College, University of Michigan, and Wayne State University.

Competition aside, the flu doesn't have to be a serious health risk if you follow the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention (CDC) recommendations, which include a flu vaccine for everyone ages six months and older as the first and most important step in protection against this disease.

There's no reason not to get a vaccine and certainly no lack of opportunities – vaccines are available at doctors' offices, clinics, pharmacies, and a number of other locations.

Sure, for many healthy people the flu can be little more than a blip on their fall and winter radar. Just keep in mind that five to 20 percent of this nation's population is infected with the flu annually, with an average of 226,000 hospitalizations and more than 23,000 deaths.

The Selfie

My husband and I recently went on vacation. He served as trip photographer because his phone was smarter than mine. I'm in a number of the pictures. You can see me smiling by the pool, standing on the beach, eating lunch on our condo balcony. We took lots of shots. He took care not to put his finger in front of the camera lens. Hardly any of our pictures are blurry.

We felt our trip was a photographic success – until we returned home and realized our blatant oversight. We'd neglected to take the most important photo of all: a selfie of ourselves. How in the world were we going to explain this blunder to our 572 cumulative friends on Facebook?

Despite our attempts to get the trendy and hip shots (we took photos of meals at restaurants as well as our feet on the beach) my husband and I aren't of the selfie era. We grew up during a time when cameras were cameras and phones were phones and neither tried to pass itself off as the other. When you loaded your camera with film, you pointed the lens outward and aimed at the world beyond yourself.

Times have changed. Our view of the world, through a camera lens at least, has shifted 180 degrees. The focus of our attention – the subject matter of our photos – has become none other than ourselves. Look At Me!

According to my computer's spellcheck, selfie isn't even a word. Autocorrect wants to make it selfish. LOL. We've turned our cameras on ourselves and morphed into a culture that believes it is all about me. Despite my inexperience taking selfies, I often think it's about me. I'm convinced of it. It's hard not to be – if we are honest.

I've come to suspect "about me" must be the human default setting. Like when a friend makes a random and obscure negative comment on Facebook and you wonder, "Is that about me?" Or when a co-worker complains about a certain character trait and you think, "Are they talking about me?" Or your spouse comes home from work in a sour mood and you are sure it must be because of you.

Rest assured, most of the time it has nothing to do with you (or me).

While this should bring us comfort, it often does the opposite. If something isn't about me, who is it about and doesn't that demean the meaning of me? This creates a conundrum, because in addition to believing things are supposed to be about us, we sort of want them to be – most of the time.

Embracing the idea that it isn't about me (or any of us, really) requires acknowledging that I am not at the center of things. Heck, sometimes I'm barely in the periphery. The spotlight isn't mine and now is definitely not the time for my close-up. (Unless it's a selfie.)

This is difficult to swallow and hold on to – to maintain – because of the default setting. It is contrary to our nature.

The popularity of selfies shouldn't surprise us, then. We might even question what took us so long to invent the newest form of creative expression.

Bathroom mirror selfies, group selfies, selfie with food, selfie with beverage (in front of a pool or beach), selfie with a pet, selfie in a car while driving, funny face selfie, my new tattoo selfie, duck face selfie, selfie with a famous person, selfie with your spouse – the possibilities are practically endless.

Next time we go on vacation, I'm going to make sure my husband and I remember to take one.

I just hope our arms are long enough.

(And anyone else he can get to help)

Officials with the Cass River Pet FriendZ say community support was overwhelming during the volunteer organization's recent "Cutting a Rug for Rescue" fundraiser in Caro.

According to Patricia Trisch, one of the spokespersons for the pet group, all the work and preparation paid off to help raise more than $2,900 – enough to assist between 58 to 97 pets, depending on the amount of financial help needed by the low income families that apply for assistance.

It has been a wonderful growing season for area gardens and Cass City resident Matt Lynch is proof positive. He stopped by the corner of Oak and Main streets last week to show me his home grown Dutch Cabbage that registered 18 pounds on the scales.

Impressive, yes, but I'd rather see Matt bring an 18 pound salmon to our office, which with the recent rains and cold nights should be pouring into the streams on the west side of the state.

Cass City's 4th annual Pinktober "Community with a Cause" is almost here. Tentatively, the event is slated for the last weekend in September through October, culminating with the "Pink of Treat in the Streets" finale on Wednesday, October 29th.

Some of the events planned during the month of October include: business window decorating contest, flush away cancer pink toilet fundraiser, cemetery walk fundraiser, and girls' night out.

If you would like to get involved with this worthy cause, call Joey Kreeger at 989-912-0059.

Also on tap in October is the Hills & Dales General Hospital annual Women's Wellness Health Fair. The fun event will run from 8 a.m. to 1 p.m. on Saturday, Oct. 11, at our local hospital and will feature speakers discussing women's health issues, health screenings, light refreshments and much more. Call Kathy Dropeski at 989-912-6365 for more details.

The time is now. The Michigan Department of Natural Resources (DNR) reminds hunters to check their antlerless deer drawing results and availability of remaining licenses at www.michigan.gov/hunt/drawings. Successful applicants may purchase their licenses online at E-license, at any authorized license agent or at a DNR Customer Service Center.

All leftover public- and private-land antlerless deer licenses will be sold on a first-come, first-served basis beginning last Thursday, Sept. 11, at 10 a.m. Licenses will be sold until quotas are met.

Circuit court news

Several appear on felony charges

The following people appeared in Tuscola County Circuit Court last week on various criminal charges:

*Terry L. Holcomb, 48, Caro, was sentenced to 2 to 15 years in prison following his plea of guilty to delivery/manufacture of marijuana, subsequent offense, Dec. 3 in Caro. He was also convicted of being an habitual offender (three or more prior felony convictions).

In addition to prison time, he was ordered to pay court costs and fines totaling $198 plus attorneys fees of $500.

*Timothy J. Block, 33, Flint, was sentenced to 365 days in the county jail, with worksite privileges, following his convictions on charges of breaking and entering a building with intent to commit larceny and larceny in a building Jan. 20-30 in the village of Fairgrove. He was also convicted of being an habitual offender (two prior felony convictions).

In addition to jail time, he was placed on 60 months probation and ordered to pay costs and fines totaling $266 plus attorneys fees of $500. Restitution in the case is to be determined.

*Carl E. Freeman, 51, Beaufort, S.C., was sentenced to 180 days in jail (deferred) and 24 months probation following his pleas of guilty to possession of marijuana, subsequent offense, and operating a motor vehicle with a high BAC (blood alcohol content) of .17 or higher May 24 in Millington Township.

He was also ordered to pay costs and fines totaling $448 plus restitution of $120.

*Teresa M. Allen, 44, Caro, received a one-year delayed sentence following her plea of no contest to possession of cocaine, heroin or another narcotic (less than 25 grams) March 6 in Elmwood Township.

She was ordered to pay costs and fines totaling $198 plus attorneys fees of $500.

*Eric M. Thompson, 21, La Grange, Ky., pleaded no contest to charges of home invasion, third degree, two counts of malicious destruction of a building (totaling less than $200 in damage) and breaking and entering a building - illegal entry without permission of the owner July 3 in the village of Akron.

A pre-sentence investigation was ordered in the case and bond was continued at $5,000. Sentencing is to be scheduled.

*Isaiah N. Moses, 16, Vassar, pleaded no contest to a charge of criminal sexual conduct, third degree, April 22 in Vassar.

A pre-sentence investigation was ordered and bond was continued at $100,000. Sentencing is to be scheduled.

*Alfred W. Murphy Jr., 35, Saginaw, pleaded guilty to a charge of driving while his license was suspended or revoked, subsequent offense, March 11 in Denmark Township.

He was subsequently sentenced by the court, which ordered him to pay costs and fines totaling $500 plus attorneys fees of $500.

*Anthony J. Cook, 31, Flint, pleaded guilty to possession of marijuana, subsequent offense, April 27 in Indianfields Township.

A pre-sentence investigation was ordered and bond was continued at $4,000. Sentencing is to be scheduled.

*Anthony A. Dare, 47, Clio, was sentenced to 180 days in jail (deferred) and 24 months probation following his plea of no contest to attending an animal fight May 27 in Arbela Township.

He was ordered to pay costs and fines totaling $198.

Nuclear dumping proposal focus of town hall meeting

State Senators Mike Green (R-Mayville) and Phil Pavlov (R-St. Clair Township) are inviting Bay and Thumb area residents in the 31st and 25th Senate districts to a public town hall meeting slated for Monday, Sept. 22 in Sebewaing to discuss legislative and other efforts to protect Lake Huron from a proposed Canadian nuclear waste dump.

The meeting will be held at the Sebewaing Township Hall, 14 East Shapsteen St., from 6:30 to 8 p.m.

Canadian officials propose to bury seven million cubic feet of radioactive waste less than a mile from the shore of Lake Huron, directly across the lake from residents of the Bay and Thumb regions.

Green and Pavlov are leading an effort in Lansing to halt construction of the dump. Their legislation has passed the Michigan Senate unanimously and awaits action in the House of Representatives. More than 60 communities throughout the region have recently passed resolutions in support of the measures.

More information is available by calling Green's office at (517) 373-1777.

Irony in the lot at Erla Foods

by Tom Montgomery
Editor

When was the last time you had to spend any amount of time searching for a parking space at Erla Foods? Probably the last time you couldn't find an empty space along Main Street in Cass City.

I went to Erla's after last week's paper hit the newsstands with plans to pick up a few things; eggs, some fruit, a roast, etc., and left with nothing, because the parking lot was packed like I've never seen before. So were the aisles, with shoppers pushing carts practically bulging with going-out-of-business bargains. I found eggs and fruit, but no meat, and decided an hour-long wait in line wasn't worth the trouble.

How ironic, I thought, as I maneuvered my way to exit the parking lot.

Don't get me wrong, I'm not criticizing residents for taking advantage of the deals. In fact, their presence will make it quicker and easier for the owners to tie up loose ends before closing the doors.

I guess the longtime family-owned grocery store's closing just didn't seem real until I saw all those people and all the empty shelves. How sad for the community, especially all of our senior citizens for whom a local grocery is more than simply a convenience, you know?

I've heard much of the local chatter in various conversations and on social media - "If the owners had just been more competitive with their prices...", "It only took them three years to bury the business...", "All they cared about was this or that...", blah, blah, blah. Sadly, much of these folks' information is, simply, wrong, because it's more entertaining to listen to the always-accurate grapevine than it is to check out the facts for yourself.

I've been a journalist for nearly 30 years now and I can tell you there's almost always more to a story than the press can publish.

Regardless, the critics will have plenty of time now to gripe on their way to Caro, Bad Axe or Sandusky the next time they need a bag of apples, a pound of ground round and a deli-fresh salad.

I suppose the reasons behind the loss of another business - and the community's only remaining grocery store - don't really matter now.

What does matter is how badly this town wants to continue having its own grocery, presuming another buyer decides to take the risk. Badly enough to shop locally a bit more? Badly enough to give the new owner(s) the benefit of the doubt as they try to make a go of it, rather than urging others to boycott the business because your brother, sister, Aunt Bertha, Grandpa Joe or whoever was laid off from that place "for no good reason at all?"

Being a small business owner in a small town is tough these days even without all the drama. Just ask the former owners of vacant store fronts anywhere.

In the meantime, I suspect a number of Erla's customers, like me, won't hesitate to agree that the old saying really is true - you don't know (appreciate) what you have until it's gone.

Down Memory Lane

5 YEARS AGO (2009)

You won't find many administrators whose educational backgrounds are as varied as Rocky Aldrich's experiences during his 28-year career. Aldrich has taught physical education/health, industrial education, math and driver's education. In addition to time in the classroom, he's served as an elementary principal, middle school principal and assistant principal over the years, working in private school, charter school and public school settings. He even boasts a stint in a one-room school. Aldrich has spent much of his career in Georgia - at one time serving as principal at a middle school with an enrollment of some 1,300 kids in sixth, seventh and eighth grades. But he couldn't look more comfortable in the superintendent's office in the Ubyly Community Schools, which boasts a K-12 enrollment of about 810 kids. Aldrich took over the reins as Ubyly's superintendent at the beginning of September, filling a vacancy left by the retirement of veteran Ubyly administrator Ken Sweeney, who served the district for 38 years.

Junior quarterback Justin Ketterer enjoyed a career night against the Bad Axe Hatchets Friday, leading Cass City to a 42-16 win. Ketterer, this week's Schneeberger's Athlete of the Week recipient, completed 8 of 9 passes for 139 yards with 5 of those tosses finding their way into the end zone. Ketterer also directed the Red Hawk offense to near perfection as they evened their record at 2-2, following a pair of losses to open the season.

A joint effort between Cass City's youth football program, the Gavel Club and the Pinney Foundation led to building a 12' x 18' shed at the Red Hawk practice field used to house equipment for the football program.

Cass City area residents will have the opportunity to share a piece of the past with their loved ones this Christmas, thanks to the efforts of the Cass City Historical Society and the father and son team of Al and Dave Eichler. The Eichlers are nearing completion of the local historical society's video documentary, "The History and Pioneers of Cass City - the first 150 years."

Wow! Here it is halfway through the regular Greater Thumb West league season and the Cass City Red Hawks are perched on the top of the league, along with USA Patriots, with a 3-0 record after their first win over the Lakers in 24 years. And it was a decisive win, 30-6, that sets the stage for a showdown battle with the Patriots on the road Friday. Defense was led by Jeff Stoutenburg, Scott Meeker and Brad Langenburg, each with 7 tackles. Cody Halasz closely followed them with 6 tackles. Nick Stoutenburg had 10 carries for 78 yards and Halasz ran 23 times for 140 yards.

Keith Pobanz is a familiar face in the Cass City business community, having sold cars and trucks in town for more than 40 years. He recently retired from Curtis Chrysler and is now working part-time as a realtor associate at Kelly and Co. Realty.

Members of the Cass City High School Marching Band will be hard pressed to top the pre-game show they presented prior to Friday night's home football contest against Lakers. The Laker football team refused to yield, its members continuing to drill as if they hadn't noticed 80-some musicians in uniform waiting for their opportunity to showcase the hard work they've put in over the past few weeks. Undaunted, Director of Bands Doug Burtch's charges marched through the Laker squad and emerged on the other side to cheers and applause.

25 YEARS AGO (1989)

This year's melon crop was literally the biggest ever for Cass City area resident Robert Wood, who brought a 20-pound specimen into the Chronicle last week. The melon measured 13 inches high and 3 feet in diameter.

It's the early bird that gets the salmon. Editor Tom Montgomery landed a 25-pound King Saturday fishing off the breakwall at Harbor Beach. He caught the big fish shortly after 5 o'clock. That's 5 o'clock a.m., not p.m., folks. They just about stopped biting when it became daylight, Tom confides. (From Rabbit Tracks)

Probably few area residents watched Saturday's airing of the Miss America Pageant as intently as 12-year-old Melanie Joles, who hopes to one day wear the national crown. That dream may very well come true some day for Joles, who along with Pam Broyles, 14, will represent Cass City in a national teen pageant slated for Jan. 31-Feb. 5 in Orlando, Fla., where they will compete for some $42,000 in prizes. Both girls won the right to compete nationally after dancing their way into first place in their respective age divisions in the Miss Detroit Pageant, held Sept. 9 and 10 at the Ford Auditorium in Detroit.

The Hawks took advantage of an easy early season schedule to win handily their first 3 games, including a 28-8 lacing of the Vassar Vulcans last Friday. The Hawks divided the ball carrying chores among 6 backs, with 4 of them getting 50 yards or more, led by Scott Dillon with 76 yards in 17 carries and Tim Englehart with 71 yards in 15 carries. The defense was led by Randy Johnson, with 2 solos among 8 tackles, and Dillon, with 8 assists. Greg Graham caught the only 2 completions of the game for Cass City, good for 24 yards and one touchdown.

General Cable is Cass City's biggest taxpayer. An examination of copies of tax bills sent out this summer showed the firm paid $15,449 in village taxes. That's for real and personal property taxes combined for general village operations (13 mills) and the new sewage plant millage (2 1/2 mills). The second largest was Walbro Corp., $9,982, followed by Provincial House, $6,694. The rest of the top 10 taxpayers are: Wickes Agriculture, $4,214; Detroit Edison, $4,016; Donald Smith (Hillside Apartments, which his construction firm manages but doesn't own), $3,720; Charmont Lanes, $3,519; Marshall Distributing, $2,562; Thomas Herron, $2,531, and Cass City State Bank, $2,309. The total paid by the 10 top taxpayers is $54,996, out of $249,615 the village will collect from all taxpayers.

Champions of the Cass City Golf League received prizes and trophies Sunday at the annual season ending tournament held at Scenic Golf and Country Club, Pigeon. Champion of flights two and three was Dick Hampshire and champion of flights one and two was Rod Wright. Jim Bauer always does his best at the season ending tournament. He won the handicap event last season and this year teamed with Ken Jensen to take the event again.

Super Buys at Old Wood Drug (The Corner Store With A Whole Lot More) this week: Hi Dry paper towels 49 cents; Coke 8 - 16 oz. $1.49; Bic Disposable Razor (3 pack) 62 cents and a 1/2 gallon of 2% milk only 89 cents.

Leslie Profit of Cass City has been named the "Manager of the Year" by the Klein Fertilizer Company. The award was presented at the annual "Manager of the Year" luncheon held at the Howell Holiday Inn Tuesday, Sept. 10. Profit is the manager of the company's fertilizer plant in Cass City. He has been with the firm since the plant was built in 1966. He was also Klein's "Manager of the Year" in 1969.

Five area dairymen were among 1,884 persons joining the Holstein-Friesian Association of America recently. The five include Donald Francis, Duane, Robert and Richard DeLong, all of rural Cass City. The group is the world's largest dairy breed registry organization in the world.

Three area students have been named to Who's Who Among American High School Students' eighth annual edition, it was announced this week. The three include Sheryl Batts, Julie Bills and Scott Hartel.

The good neighbor policy is alive and well in Cass City. I rediscovered this when a machine malfunctioned and I needed a small, odd-sized spring. Larry McClorey searched the spring selection at Walbro to come up with one that looked like it might work. Louis Salas cut it to size and installed it for me...only to find that it just wasn't the right one. After chasing all over town without success, a call to Jack McDaniel at Anrod Screen Cylinder Co. solved the problem. A spring Jack dug up fit like it was made for the job. (From Rabbit Tracks)

50 YEARS AGO (1964)

As a circus buff, Charles "Duke" Turner, owner of Western Auto Store in Cass City, is a firm believer in the collection of "Circusianna" or circus mementos and his collection consists of seven and a half hours of circus music, hand-carved circus figurines, circus pictures, his books and other odds and ends. Turner defines the circus as "an itch that's almost impossible to scratch these days."

"The circus was as American as apple pie, but it's disappearing from the American scene," he continues. "Kids of today don't realize what they've missed...something so great...it's a great pity."

Vernon Churchill, former Cass City area man, has been appointed to the faculty of Monmouth College, Long Branch, N.J. Churchill, a 1955 Cass City High School graduate, has taught for the past two years at Bullock Creek, near Midland. He has attended Michigan State University and Central Michigan University, receiving both his BA and MA degrees from Central. He is the son of Kenneth Churchill, Deford.

A member of the Cass City 4-H Livestock Club has been elected president of the Tuscola County 4-H Service Club. Mark Battel of Cass City was chosen to head the organization at a meeting of the group at the Wilbur Memorial 4-H building in Caro Sept. 17. Other officers elected for the 1964-65 program were: Faye Campbell of Caro, vice-president; Mary Graven of Fairgrove, secretary; Suzanne Kirk of Fairgrove, treasurer; Bob Carpenter of Cass City, reporter, and Francis DeLong of Cass City, parliamentarian.

Alex Henry is celebrating this week the 13th anniversary of his entrance into the grocery business in Cass City. Prominent in fraternal circles, good natured and a fair-minded man of integrity, Mr. Henry has built up a large circle of friendship in and out of business. Mr. Henry married Miss Bertha Davis in 1908. They reside on West Church Street, and have two children, Mrs. Donald DuFord (Frances) of Cass City and Delbert Henry of Detroit.

A Townsend Club was organized in Cass City Wednesday evening when the following officers were chosen at a meeting in the Town Hall which was attended by sixty persons: President, Charles Patterson; vice president, Mrs. Ella Vance; secretary-treasurer, Mrs. L.E. Dickinson. The club has fifty-five members. Fred Graham of Marlette presided as chairman at Wednesday's meeting of the club and addresses were given by Mr. McMannan of Bay City and Jacob Barker of McGregor.

A few friends of Mrs. Margaret Houghton met at her home Tuesday evening to help her celebrate her 88th birthday. Guests brought their suppers and enjoyed a pleasant evening. Mrs. Houghton, who has spent a number of winters with her daughter, Mrs. Henrietta Rowley, in Detroit and Lansing and last winter with a grandniece, Mrs. J.B. Hobson, in Mayville, is thinking of staying in her own home the coming winter.

As a mark of esteem and friendship to Dr. J.H. Hays, president of the Village of Cass City and president of the Board of Education, who left Wednesday for Ann Arbor to begin his duties as assistant to Dr. Darling, general surgeon at the University Hospital, 60 men prominent in the business and professional circles of Cass City gathered at the Gordon Tavern Monday evening to attend a banquet given in his honor.

Hugh Cooper, an Ellington township farmer, sold a 320-pound calf to local stock buyers Saturday that brought him the neat sum of $28.80. The animal was three days over two months old and a Grade Durham.

The west window of Treadgold's Drug Store contains a novel window display showing in miniature the grounds, players, score board, grand stand and spectators at the Marlette-Cass City foot ball game which will be played in the near future. Bottles and liniment and adhesive plasters are scattered along the side lines ready for any emergency cases.

Cass City will have a 24-hour daily electric lighting and power service as soon as the power plant is housed in the new municipal power house. This decision was made by the village council Monday evening. Dr. J.H. Hays tended his resignation as president of the village to take effect October 12. The election of his successor, who will serve until next March, is a duty for member of the council to perform at an early date. During Dr. Hays' term as president, the council sessions have been harmonious gatherings. There were several differences of opinion but never dissensions and the majority rule was always accepted with good graces. Mr. Hays proved to be an able presiding officer, well versed in parliamentary law. He has been a progressive and loyal citizen of Cass City, having the interests of the municipality at heart, and under his aggressive leadership several village improvements have been made and others are nearing completion.

Obituaries

Marjorie Hall

Marjorie Louise Hall, 67, of Cass City, passed away Sept. 8, 2014 at Covenant Healthcare-Harrison, Saginaw after a short illness. Marge was born Dec. 11, 1946 in Bad Axe, the daughter of the late Roy and Louise (Ewald) Krohn. She married Richard A. Hall in Elkton on July 19, 1969. She had a bachelor's degree in education from Central Michigan University and was a second grade teacher at North Huron School, Kinde, and at Unionville-Sebewaing Area Schools. She also worked in a nursing home in Kirksville, MO while her husband attended medical school, this was her passion, being that she wanted to be a nurse, but was never able to do so. She was office manager for her husband's medical practice for many years. Her biggest joy was time with her grandchildren, projects with them, doing recipes with them, and tending her flowers. Marge is survived by her loving husband of 45 years, Richard, son Charlie (Bobbi) Hall of Greenville, daughters, Heidi and Elizabeth (Dwight) Thabet, both of Cass City, and her grandchildren, Alex, Mitchell and Madison Hall and Anthony and Colin Thabet. She was predeceased by her brothers, Bruce (Barbara) Krohn, Ronald (Donna) Krohn and Kenneth Krohn. A funeral service was held Sept. 11 at the First Presbyterian Church, Cass City. Reverend Linda Graham officiated. Honoring Marge's wishes, cremation will follow. Memorials may be made to the First Presbyterian Church or to Hills and Dales Hospital. Please share condolences at www.thabetfuneralhome.com Arrangements were provided by Thabet Funeral Home, Cass City.

POET chief: farmers can have bigger impact

capacity, Project LIBERTY will convert 770 tons of biomass per day to produce cellulosic ethanol at a rate of 20 million gallons per year, later ramping up to 25 million gallons per year.

In Michigan, POET operates an ethanol biorefinery in Caro with a capacity of more than 50 million gallons of ethanol production each year. In addition, the plant annually produces nearly 155,000 tons of dried distillers grain (DDG), a high-quality feed by-product that provides added value to the livestock sector.

"We're proud to make a product here in Michigan that boosts our nation's energy independence and creates good jobs in our community," said David Gloer, general manager of POET Biorefining - Caro. "We employ more than 40 people and we know the economic benefits and job-creating potential our products bring to the state of Michigan and our nation."

"This is an exciting time for American innovation, and the economic benefits of ethanol here in Michigan speak for themselves," Lauth added. "Looking ahead, there is an enormous opportunity out there for the taking. To capitalize on it, it is absolutely critical for Michigan's agriculture sector and for our rural communities that the EPA stays true to America's vision of a growing home-grown, renewable fuel supply."

Across Michigan, renewable fuels like ethanol help support more than 22,000 good jobs and more than $4 billion in economic benefits annually, according to industry estimates.

POET, one of the world's largest ethanol producers, is a leader in biorefining through its efficient, vertically integrated approach to production. The 25-year-old company has a production capacity in excess of 1.6 billion gallons of ethanol and 9 billion pounds of high-protein animal feed annually from its network of 27 production facilities. POET, through its joint venture with DSM, also operates a commercial-scale cellulosic ethanol plant in Emmetsburg, Iowa.

Cass City's Dagmar Brown completes yet another Labor Day walk across "Big Mac"

If you know Cass City area resident Dagmar "Walker" Brown, you know where she'll be every Labor Day weekend.

And this year was no different, as Brown laced up her walking shoes and made her 55th trek across the Mackinac Bridge along with thousands of other residents from Michigan and beyond. It's a tradition that was established back in 1957, with Brown in attendance for all but the first two walks across the "Mighty Mac".

"It was windy and hazy on the bridge, but a nice day," Brown said of this year's walk, which again covered the five-mile span starting in St. Ignace at the north end of the Mackinac Bridge in the Upper Peninsula and ending in Mackinaw City at the south end in the Lower Peninsula.

"The crowd was estimated at 40,000. Gov. Rick Snyder and his entourage from Lansing led the walk," said Brown, who had a special meeting with the governor, sharing a hand shake and a hug.

Brown, a Hurds Corner resident who is retired from the U.S. Navy, the state of Michigan and McDonald's, has shaken the hand of every Michigan governor since G. Mennen "Soapy" Williams in 1959.

During the most recent bridge walk, she continued her tradition of dropping three new pennies into the lake "for good health, happiness and peace."

Pinktober celebration on tap

Thursday, Oct. 30, from 5 to 6:30 p.m. Last year more than 40 businesses and other vendors were on hand to distribute free treats and information downtown, where hundreds of youngsters and parents gathered, many in costume. Also returning this year at 7 p.m. will be the Cass City's Got Talent show. Some 250 people attended the show featuring 12 acts last year, and Kreeger says about 20 performers are expected this year. "Were looking for anybody, any age to come and show us their talent," she added.

Kreeger, who spearheaded as well as played a key role in organizing Cass City's first Pinktober celebration, indicated her hopes regarding this year's fundraising goal. "Last year our goal was $10,000, so we'd like to at least meet that," she said.

Kreeger explained the idea grew, in part, out of a desire to launch some sort of community-wide activity in the fall. She was also familiar with American Cancer Society programs that tied in with her business at the time - VIP Salon - such as donating wigs for cancer patients and providing free breast cancer screenings for women who can't afford them.

From there, she said, "It just all came together." "Obviously, this is about awareness - (for women) to get checked. That's the main thing," Kreeger pointed out, adding surviving cancer depends on early detection. "If you've got something, you've got to take care of yourself."

Anyone interesting in learning more about Pinktober or how to get involved can contact any of the following committee members: Kreeger (989) 912-0059; Misty Delong, 5K and 8K run and 5K walk (989) 872-1939; Christine Anthony, Cutest Kid Contest, (989) 670-8418; Marideth Nizzola, Pink toilet, (989) 912-9534; Carrie Luana, pumpkin launch, (989) 450-1729; and Pam Peters, (989) 912-5347.

Respiratory illness in kids on rise

Nationally, clusters of EV-D68 infections have recently impacted the pediatric population in multiple states.

The virus was first identified in 1962, but has been relatively rare until recently. Between 1987 and 2005, 26 cases were reported worldwide - in the past month, 19 have been confirmed in Kansas City alone.

Original reports described clusters of illness in Missouri and most recently Illinois. The majority of those cases had a previous medical history of asthma or prior wheezing. Currently, suspected cases are also being investigated in Alabama, Colorado, Georgia, Iowa, Kansas, Kentucky, Michigan, Ohio, Oklahoma and Utah.

Health officials say this particular outbreak is associated with an unusually high number of hospitalizations. Children's Hospital in Colorado has reported more than 900 cases since mid-August, for example, while Children's Mercy Hospital in Kansas City, Mo., has seen some 30 children per day with the illness.

Enteroviruses are very common viruses; there are more than 100 types. It is estimated that 10 to 15 million enterovirus infections occur in the United States each year.

Symptoms of EV-D68 infection can include wheezing, difficulty breathing, fever and racing heart rate. Most people infected with enteroviruses have no symptoms or only mild symptoms, but some infections can be serious requiring hospitalization.

Enteroviruses are transmitted through close contact with an infected person, or by touching objects or surfaces that are contaminated with the virus and then touching the mouth, nose, or eyes. There is no specific treatment for EV-D68 infections but supportive care can be provided.

Young residents with asthma are encouraged to be vigilant in taking their asthma controlling medications. In addition, Michiganders can protect themselves from enterovirus by taking general hygiene precautions:

*Wash hands often with soap and water for 20 seconds, especially after changing diapers.

*Avoid touching eyes, nose and mouth with unwashed hands.

*Avoid kissing, hugging, and sharing cups or eating utensils with people who are sick.

*Disinfect frequently touched surfaces, such as doorknobs, especially if someone is sick.

Customs agents foil poachers from air

Protection Air and Marine Unit helicopter contacted Sanilac County Central Dispatch at 9:13 p.m. after spotting subjects poaching deer on Schock Road near Russell Road.

"(They) reported seeing several shots being fired from a vehicle," Roff said. "Deputies from the sheriff's office responded to the area and were able to perform a traffic stop on the suspect vehicle."

Deputies subsequently seized two rifles from the vehicle as well as the carcass of a deer.

Roff noted the suspects - three males and one female ranging in age from 23 to 44 - were lodged in the Sanilac County Jail. "One of the suspects, a 31-year-old male, has been turned over to the U.S. Border Patrol for immigration violations," he added.

Roff said the Sanilac County Sheriff's Department and Michigan Department of Natural Resources Law Enforcement Division are continuing their investigation. The suspects' names were being withheld pending formal arraignment.

CACEALYA HORNE makes a good reception against USA Thursday in front of the Cass City bench. The Lady Red Hawks bowed in 3 tough sets.

Harbor Beach delivers Hawks maiden gridiron defeat, GTW wars next

by Clarke Haire, Publisher

Okay, the prelims are over. And we have learned that Harbor Beach is in a class all its own. The Pirates used a convincing 42-6 non-conference victory over visiting Cass City Friday to cement their claim as the Thumb's best gridiron squad. Red Hawk Coach Scott Cuthrell won't argue the point.

CASS CITY senior Josh Daniels (51) attempts to fire-up classmate Jack Stern during a first half injury timeout in Friday's GTW crossover meeting.

“Too many mistakes early, Harbor Beach capitalized on every one. They have a great football team. We need to learn from this one and get ready for Lakers,” he said.

EPBP arrives in Cass City this Friday for both schools' Greater Thumb West opener. Led by quarterback Dustin Kady, the Lakers stand unblemished on the season entering week 4. A win by upstart Cass City would go a long way in not only returning the Red Hawks to the state playoff race, but would also put them in the driver's seat of the GTW title chase. Fans can expect a good old fashioned smash mouth brand of football when the 2 schools meet.

To be successful against the pre-season GTW favorite green and white machine, Cass City will have to cut down on the mistakes made in their final non-conference tune-up. One area needing improvement is the Red Hawk's punt team. A high snap from center, a shanked punt, and an 85-yard return resulted in 3 first half scores for the winners.

Austin Seltz broke open a scoreless contest with his first of 4 touchdowns that came midway through the initial quarter on a 12-yard run. Seltz would strike again in the frame – this time on a 3-yard burst – and after 12 minutes of play Harbor Beach was on top, 12-0.

Seltz stretched the Harbor Beach advantage to 20-0 to open the second quarter on a 19-yard jaunt, and following a Cass City fumble, an 18-yard run by Brandon Pfaff extended the gap to 28.

Pirate senior quarterback Josh Schelke, who passed just once in the contest, made his presence felt just before the intermission when he accounted for the final points, zigzagging his way to the end zone on an 85-yard punt return.

Trailing 35-0, both schools would add scores during the final half. Seltz increased the Harbor Beach margin to 42-0 with his final marker, while Cass City became the first opponent to score against the hosts when Sawyer Cuthrell bulled over from the one-yard line with about 8 minutes remaining on the running clock.

Seltz led all rushers with 163 yards on just 14 carries, while Pfaff chipped in 47 yards on 13 carries. Oddly, Cass City controlled the time of possession and actually ran more plays on the night than the winners. Cuthrell collected 92 yards on 23 totes and Brandon Horne rambled for 61 yards on 6 carries. Red Hawk quarterback Mason Erla completed 3-of-5 passes for 18 yards, that included a pair of nice grabs by ends Jack Stern and Parker Haire.

Defensively, Cass City had Sam Bootz and Drew Loomis with 7 tackles each. Haire was next for the Red Hawks with 4 stops.

Still, Cass City advanced to the finals, defeating Bad Axe in 3 sets. The Red Hawks captured set one easily, 21-13, lost the second set in extra points, 20-22, and won the last set 15-13.

“The first set against Millington was a wake up match and we came from behind to win both sets and the match. After that we started to play,” said Cass City Coach Bill Potter. After trading sets with the Tigers, Cass City suffered their only round robin contest loss when Brown City recorded decisions of 21-16 and 21-12. Still, the Red Hawks were able to advance into the elimination rounds as the number 2 seed, ending their round robin matches with 21-16 and 21-14 wins over Bad Axe.

“At that time a bit of bad luck struck,” said Potter, noting middle hitter Sayge Cuthrell came down with an allergy attack, had trouble breathing and was taken by her parents to the hospital. “I was forced at the last second to rearrange our lineup, and we played missing a key player.”

Despite defeat, Cass City discovered they are capable of knocking off the defending GTW champions after going head-to-head with the Patriots following a slow start. “Cass City played hard, but still fell short of victory against the taller offense of USA. I can more easily see areas that we need improving when we play a strong team like USA. Sometimes a few mistakes are all it takes to tip the match out of your favor. Our players remained consistent, but in the end just couldn't pull it off. We will work hard on lowering our errors and with a few extra points, maybe next time we will be celebrating a win,” said Cass City Coach Bill Potter.

In game one, the Patriots jetted to a 12-6 advantage and maintained the spread en route to a 7-point decision. Then the Patriots looked like they would have an easy time winning set 2 as they jumped out to a quick 5-0

In the finals, Cass City looked poised to avenge their earlier setback to the Green Devils, taking set one 21-17, before falling 21-17 and 15-8. Individually for Cass City, Lauren Potter had 116 assists and 16 aces; Tara Nicholas, 36 digs and 6 aces; Allie Riddle, 37 digs; Taylor Rasmussen, 30 kills and 11 aces; Macy Dickinson, 32 kills and 7 aces; and Maegan LeValley, 50 kills.

Seven schools took to the courts at the annual invite that concluded with a 4-school single elimination bracket, based on best records compiled during 6 round robin matches for each school to open play on the day.

Cass City finished with a round robin record of 9-3. The Red Hawks started their tournament run with 6 straight wins, sweeping Millington, Mayville and Harbor Beach, before splitting sets with neighbor Caro.

“The first set against Millington was a wake up match and we came from behind to win both sets and the match. After that we started to play,” said Cass City Coach Bill Potter.

After trading sets with the Tigers, Cass City suffered their only round robin contest loss when Brown City recorded decisions of 21-16 and 21-12. Still, the Red Hawks were able to advance into the elimination rounds as the number 2 seed, ending their round robin matches with 21-16 and 21-14 wins over Bad Axe.

“At that time a bit of bad luck struck,” said Potter, noting middle hitter Sayge Cuthrell came down with an allergy attack, had trouble breathing and was taken by her parents to the hospital.

“I was forced at the last second to rearrange our lineup, and we played missing a key player.”

Despite defeat, Cass City discovered they are capable of knocking off the defending GTW champions after going head-to-head with the Patriots following a slow start. “Cass City played hard, but still fell short of victory against the taller offense of USA. I can more easily see areas that we need improving when we play a strong team like USA. Sometimes a few mistakes are all it takes to tip the match out of your favor. Our players remained consistent, but in the end just couldn't pull it off. We will work hard on lowering our errors and with a few extra points, maybe next time we will be celebrating a win,” said Cass City Coach Bill Potter.

In game one, the Patriots jetted to a 12-6 advantage and maintained the spread en route to a 7-point decision. Then the Patriots looked like they would have an easy time winning set 2 as they jumped out to a quick 5-0 gap. Instead, Cass City used a team effort to climb back and even the set at 12-12 on an Alliah Riddle ace. A Taylor Rasmussen tip even the score at 16s, while an ace serve by the Red Hawk junior had the score knotted at 18s.

The back and forth contest was tied at 21, 22, 23 and 24, before a Treiber block resulted in the overtime victory.

In set 3, it was Cass City leaping out in front, 2-0, before the Patriots went on a mini run, forcing Potter to call timeout.

The break in the action seemed to work for the home team as they rallied from down 7-3 to draw even at 12-12 on a thundering Maegan LeValley spike. Another Riddle ace serve, and spikes from Sayge Cuthrell saw Cass City enjoying their biggest lead of the night, 20-16.

But once Treiber rotated to the front row, she spearheaded a 9-1 run for the winners to end play on the night.

Individually for Cass City, Potter had 2 kills, 3 aces, and 21 assists while Dickinson added 7 kills and one ace. Riddle led the defensive charge with 11 digs.

Earlier in the week, Cass City kicked off their GTW schedule with a 4 set victory over host Bad Axe. The scores in Tuesday's match were 25-18, 25-17, 18-25, and 26-24.

“We started out strong winning the first 2 sets fairly easily. Then in set 3, Bad Axe went to a safer tipping game that we had trouble defending. That took a lot of our momentum and shifted it to them,” said Potter.

Adding, “At the same time they stepped it up with their defense, making it harder for us to score.”

LeValley posted 18 kills to pace the Red Hawks, who also had Riddle collect one kill and 10 digs, Rasmussen 9 kills, Nicholas 2 aces and Dickinson 2 aces.

GTW GAMES

CarLee Stimpfel finished with a first-ever posting below 18 minutes and finished in third place with a time of 17:50. Joel Patera (19:46) and Zane Wright (20:06) again ran good races and the Red Hawk scoring was rounded out with a newcomer to the team, sophomore Joel Collins, who had a good initial time of 22:04.

For runner-up Ubyly, Adam Grifka placed second in 17:11, Nicholas Swanson placed sixth in 19:17, and Jonathan Wright placed ninth in 19:46. Also for the Bearcats, George Selleke and Blake Schumacher recorded times of 19:57 and 21:37, respectively.

In the girls' competition, Ubyly posted team honors with 16 points and were followed by runner-up Cass City (35), Bad Axe (52) and Mayville (58).

The winners had 5 top-ten individual finishers. Janelle White registered a time of 22:16 to place third. Next to the finish line was Madison Brown in 22:18. She was followed by 5th place finisher Claire Hembrough (22:20) to round out the point winners for the Bearcats, who also had the ninth place finisher Emma Hembrough (23:31.4), the tenth place finisher in Shannon Particka (23:31.7) and the 13th place Better late than never. Rain postponed the Ubyly Invitational for a day, but when the 8 schools reconvened on Thursday, team honors were recorded by Cass City and Ubyly.

The Red Hawks captured the boys' competition with a narrow one-point decision over host Ubyly, 28-29, while Brown City completed the team standings with a distant 78.

Locally, Bransen Stimpfel took first in 16:14 – his career-best time - that lands him at the number 2 spot on the school's all-time record board.

For runner-up Ubyly, Adam Grifka placed second in 17:11, Nicholas Swanson placed sixth in 19:17, and Jonathan Wright placed ninth in 19:46. Also for the Bearcats, George Selleke and Blake Schumacher recorded times of 19:57 and 21:37, respectively.

In the girls' competition, Ubyly posted team honors with 16 points and were followed by runner-up Cass City (35), Bad Axe (52) and Mayville (58).

Schneeberger's ATHLETES of the WEEK

Schneeberger's congratulates Cass City brothers Bransen and CarLee Stimpfel as their choice for this week's Athletes of the Week award winners.

In addition to leading the Red Hawks to the team championship at the Ubyl Invitational, Bransen and CarLee, represented Cass City well on September 13 at the Nike/Holly Invite.

The Stimpfels competed with approximately 600 boys Saturday. Bransen won his division with a time of 16:04 and CarLee came in 19th with a time of 17:57.

Bransen then received a plaque for Star of Stars (Athlete of the Meet), the best male athlete out of divisions V, VI & VII.

The Stimpfel brothers also recently ran for glory on the 8-mile course around the perimeter of Mackinac Island. Bransen placed second overall with a time of 43:38 and CarLee placed 8th overall with a time of 47:43. There were approximately 1,250 runners entered into the Sept. 6 race.

Bransen, a junior, and CarLee, a freshman, are the sons of Tom and Sloane Stimpfel.

finisher in Olivia Lipskey (24:06).

Cass City was paced by Erin Zdrojewski. She used a season-best time of 21:41 to win medalist honors. However, she was far from the only Red Hawk to record season-best times.

Josie Loomis placed 11th for the Red Hawks with a season-best time of 23:56, while Lauren Fernald ran a time of 24:52 to place 16th.

Rounding out the Lady Red Hawk showings were Hope Wilson and Savannah Walker with career-best times of 24:37 and 25:12, respectively.

SUMMER'S ON AGAIN, off again heat has been replaced by cooler temperatures and other signs of fall, including a hint of color in the Thumb's woodlots and along village streets. While the annual color display brought by autumn is beautiful, few sights can compare to a sunset seen from Michigan's sunrise side.

Schuette urges FCC to clamp down on "robocalls"

Attorney General Bill Schuette is urging the Federal Communications Commission (FCC) to allow phone companies to utilize call-blocking technologies that would better protect consumers from illegal telemarketing robocalls and phone scams.

"Michigan consumers deserve access to any advanced call-blocking technologies that may help protect them against illegal and annoying robocalls from telemarketers," Schuette said.

Last year, the Federal Trade Commission received more than 100,000 complaints from Michigan residents about unwanted calls. Since January, Schuette's office has received more than 250 complaints from consumers who received an unwanted call, the majority from unidentified callers.

Call-blocking technologies including NoMoRobo, Call Control, and Telemarketing Guard, enable phone carriers to identify and block unwelcome sales calls at their customers' request. However, some phone carriers have not implemented this technology, in part because of the belief that federal law prevents carriers from blocking calls on their consumers' behalf.

Schuette noted phone carriers have expressed concern that the FCC's legal framework prohibits phone companies from determining which calls should be allowed to go through to a customer and which should be blocked. Last year, in explaining the obstacles that phone carriers face in implementing call-blocking technologies, US Telecom wrote to the U.S. Senate Subcommittee on Consumer Protection, Product Safety, and Insurance that "the FCC has concluded that call blocking is an unjust and unreasonable practice under section 201(b) of the Communications Act of 1934."

In a letter signed by 31 other state and territorial attorneys general, Schuette filed official comments today with the FCC. The letter urges the commission to recognize call-blocking filters as legally appropriate, if requested by customers.

In his letter to the FCC, Schuette asks for a formal opinion on whether an exception can be made to allow companies to block illegal telemarketing calls at the request of a consumer.

Schuette reminded consumers to sign up on the National Do Not Call list, which helps to deter unwanted and fraudulent calls and text messages, by visiting www.ftc.gov/donot-call or calling toll-free 1-888-382-1222.
