

FROM THE Editor's Corner

Two General Cable executives are leaving to assume the management reins of another company. Taking over the presidency is John Scandalos. The vice-president will be William Leverich. Scandalos was former plant manager at Cass City who moved up the Cable corporate ladder after leaving and Leverich is the current Cable plant manager. Details about the company have not been released.

The Chronicle misquoted the salary offered degree teachers in the story about negotiations last week.

The correct figures of the school's offer this year together with a comparison of the previous year's salaries are:

1967-68 BA degree $6,000 to $8,300.
1968-69 BA degree $6,500 to $8,600.
1967-68 MA degree $6,300 to $8,700.
1968-69 MA degree $6,800 to $9,000.

This year Tuscola County printed about 18,000 ballots and the order was received Friday afternoon with a Wednesday deadline for delivery.

These non-partisan ballots have three names to be rotated. It is necessary to run the ballots through the press, changing the rotation of the names after each 6,000 is printed.

The ballots then must be shuffled so that each of the names appears at the top in rotation. The sheets are then run through the press again, numbered and perforated for each of the 34 precincts in the county.

After printing they must be wrapped so that instruction and absent voters ballots are together.

The Chronicle worked Saturday, Sunday and Monday and delivered the ballots Monday afternoon. . . . a new record in production here.

Hendrick gets 4 months

Bruce Allen Hendrick, 27, of Bach Road, Cass City, was sentenced to four months in the county jail and three years probation Tuesday in Circuit Court, for breaking and entering. He was also ordered to pay a fine of $200 and costs of $200. Hendrick was charged with breaking into a cabin Dec. 27, 1967. Owner of the cabin is Fred Millis, of Crawford Road in Elkland Township. Benito Florio of Fairgrove, found guilty of assault with intent to do bodily harm June 18, was sentenced to a year in Jackson State Prison. He was allowed 123 days credit for time already spent in jail. Florio was found guilty June 18, after the jury deliberated for seven hours. The assault took place March 16. Wendell John Samson of Saginaw was sentenced to three weeks in the county jail and two years probation for driving with a suspended driver's license. He was also ordered to pay a $400 fine and $100 in costs. Samson was driving on M-46, between M-24 and M-53, Oct. 12 when he was pulled over by State Police for not having a license plate light on the rear of his truck.

Samson will be allowed to serve his sentence during his vacation so that he will not miss work. He will serve one week this summer and two weeks next year.

Shirley Bilicki, 14, of Kingston was killed Thursday, July 11, after being thrown from the back of a pickup truck when it was involved in a collision at Englehardt and Shabbona Roads. Driver of the truck was Max Bilicki, 51, the girl's father. Eugene Bilicki, 12, and Alfred Bilicki, 16, were also riding in the pickup and were injured along with the elder Bilicki. All three were treated and released from Hills and Dales General Hospital.

Ronald Voss, 23, of Deford was the driver of the other car involved in the accident. Voss was also injured and was treated at Hills and Dales General Hospital.

According to the police report, the Voss car was traveling west on Shabbona at about 55 miles per hour. As he approached the intersection at Englehardt Road, he saw the pickup, applied the brakes, but was unable to stop.

Voss was ticketed for failing to yield the right of way.

In another accident on Thursday, Rose Lee Ozorowicz, 7, was injured as a car driven by her father, Samuel Ozorowicz, 46, was forced off East Dayton Road in Wells Township. The driver complained of pains.

Both were treated by Dr. Donahue of Cass City.

Another passenger in the car, Andy Ozorowicz, 12, was uninjured. The auto was a total loss.

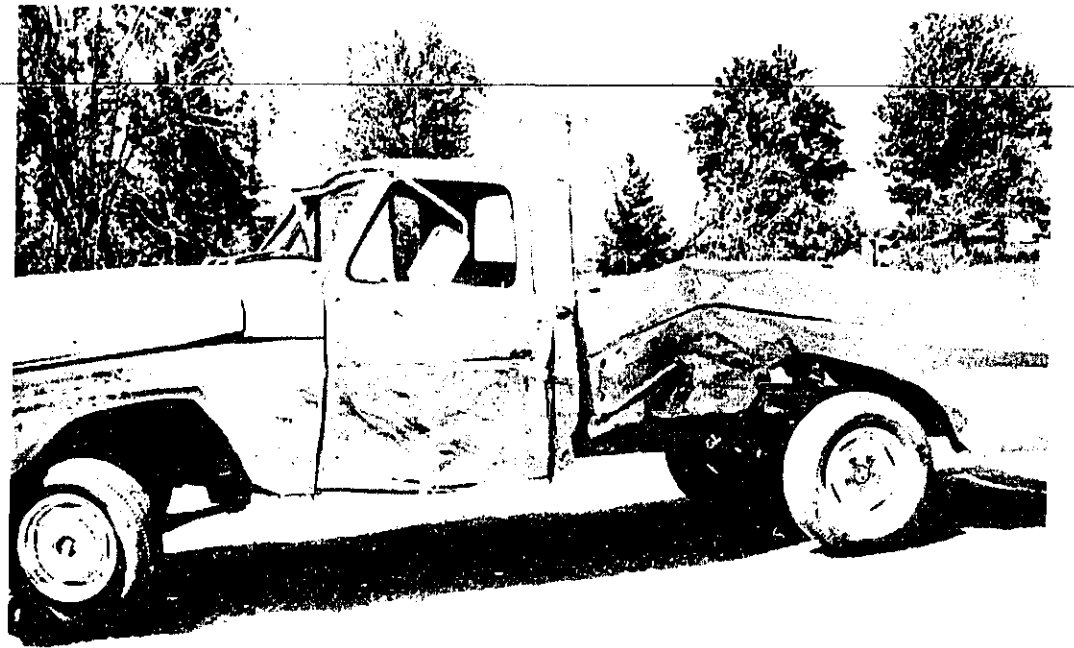

The Ozorowicz vehicle was reportedly headed south on East Dayton Road and as he attempted to pass a truck, a dog darted in front of the car. Ozorowicz tried to miss the dog, and in doing so lost control of his car which left the road and rolled over.

Ozorowicz was cited for careless driving.

A car owned by Howard Kelley of Caro was damaged Saturday while parked on East Dayton Road, where it was struck by a car driven by Ronald Leman-ski, 20, of Kingston.

Bargains, too

Sidewalk days fun for all

The talents of area hula hoop experts will be tested Friday at 1 p.m. in front of the Cass Theatre in a contest for trophies and prizes.

It's all part of the gala sidewalk sales spree planned by the Retail Division of the Cass City Chamber of Commerce.

The highlight event will be divided by three age groups including seven and under, 8 to 10 and 11 and over.

Contestants will be asked to make the hoop travel up and down the body at the request of the judges and anyone using hands will automatically be disqualified.

Chamber sponsors stress that the contest is open to everyone and urge every interested person to come and join in the fun. There will be trophies for the champions and a prize for every contestant.

FREE SHOW

The free show Friday will not start until after the contest is completed, Paul O'Harris, Chamber president, said. Friday's movie for children 12 and under will be "The Night of the Grizzly."

Saturday another all new free show will be presented in the afternoon. "The Last Safari" starts at 2 p.m. These shows will not be presented in the evening. Tickets for the shows can be secured from members of the Retail Division of the Chamber of Commerce.

There will be a galaxy of bargains on the sidewalks Thursday, Friday and Saturday. Many area merchants have made special purchases for the sale and others have drastically reduced regular stock for this sale.

You'll find bargains both inside and outside the store in this traditional selling event that promises to be bigger this year than ever before, Chamber spokesmen said.

Young Cass City challenges: 'Why not pot?'

BY LARRY WERNER

The lights are dim as you and your date sit on a couch in a room full of girls and guys sitting. It's "hard rock" time on the stereo. Bob Dylan's timeless, timeless wail insists that, "Everybody must get stoned." And the Beatles' psychedelic offer is, "I'd love to turn you on."

Then someone asks, "Why not?" One of the guys has picked up some marijuana from somewhere and he begins to pass a "joint" around. A few brave souls eagerly try it; a few status-conscious in-groupers are afraid to say no because of what others might think; you and your date squirm but finally relent as curiosity wins another battle.

It's great. You really hear music for the first time in your life and you notice things as you've never noticed them before. Suddenly, just being conscious is a fascinating experience. You're stoned.

The next day you begin to think about it from a different perspective than you were able to think about it before. You wonder how just another party resulted in your smoking "pot." And you wonder if you've done wrong. You have no great desire to do it again, and you aren't even hung over the way you were the morning after the night you drank six beers and a seven-seven.

The party and the questions are repeated periodically throughout the world of the younger generation, the sometimes-lost generation which has been asking, among so many other things, "Pot --- or not?"

POPULARITY INCREASING

Marijuana, "pot," has been increasing in popularity across the country. On some college campuses it is used by as many as 30 or 40 per cent of the students. Many are calling for its legalization, saying that since it is not physically addictive it should not be outlawed.

Recently, two minors were arrested in Caseville for sale of the drug. Parents whose teenagers frequently drive to Caseville for picnics and dances began to wonder if their children have had any experience with marijuana.

Could there be "pushers" or "users" right here in Cass City?

"We have never found evidence of any being used here," said Chief of Police Carl A. Palmateer. "The kids in Cass City haven't experimented with it yet, to our knowledge. We've got a damn good bunch of kids here."

School Superintendent Don Crouse said that he does not know of any cases of students using the drug.

Sgt. Weldon Forrest, commander of the Bad Axe State Police Post, likewise feels that there is little use of marijuana in the area.

"I don't think it is bad at all around here," Forrest said. "We get an influx after school lets out. Kids bring it in from other areas, but there is no ring selling the stuff. At least we have no evidence of a ring."

Thirteen Cass City teenagers were interviewed by The Chronicle concerning use of the drug by themselves and their fellow students. Estimates of the number of Cass City High School students who have used marijuana ranged from seven to 12.

GET POT AT CASEVILLE

"We can get it when we go to Caseville," a girl said. "Lots of kids come to Caseville from Detroit."

Law enforcement officials and the students agreed on at least one point: marijuana is not readily available in the area. Forrest pointed out that "pushers" of the drugs cannot afford to operate in the small towns, therefore the marijuana used in the area is brought in by those who have purchased it in the cities.

"There is not enough of it here to use regularly," one of the teens who had tried the drug answered. "In a place like this it is only up on week ends during the summer months." "Pot" is difficult to obtain in the area, but when it is made available at the Caseville dances there is a ready market for it. According to the village teenagers, a marijuana cigarette---known as a "joint"---usually sells for a dollar.

"You can go up to almost anyone at Caseville and tell them you have a marijuana cigarette, and they'll buy it," one of the boys said.

CARO GRASS

Another of the boys pointed out that swindlers are passing off many different types of homemade cigarettes as marijuana. One of the varieties being sold at Caseville is referred to as "Caro grass."

According to one of the boys, seven acres of marijuana were found growing wild in Caro. The "pushers" are apparently mixing small quantities of the poor quality marijuana with different kinds of dried grasses and selling the product as pure "pot."

"A kid who hasn't seen marijuana can get swindled on 'Caro grass,'" one boy said.

In Cass City and surrounding area, as is the case throughout the country today, opinion on the merits and demerits of marijuana is varied. Myth surrounded the drug for many years before research revealed that the drug is non-addictive and, many claim, less harmful than alcohol and tobacco. It was found that college students and college professors were smoking "pot," and certain respected individuals began advocating legalization of marijuana.

At Michigan State University, Dr. James Feurig, director of the university health center and team physician, said that legal restrictions on marijuana should be removed. He received considerable publicity for this stand, publicly he considered harmful to his professional image. So he dropped the issue.

But the issue has not been dropped by many others who are lining up either for or against the drug. Use has been on the rise on college campuses and in the cities. Recent arrests in the smaller towns gave rise to more opinions.

DRUG USE 'UNNATURAL'

"The use of any type of drug is an unnatural symptom," Crouse said. "Those who use drugs cannot find satisfaction in the everyday world. I think this is harmful. I think it is unhealthy."

"I don't know that much about the effects of marijuana," Palmateer said. "If it is a hallucinatory drug, and the kids get into a car, he's had it."

"There is no question that it is a danger," Forrest said. "It is unpredictable, reacts differently in different kids. Ninety-nine per cent of the kids won't touch it. You've got to watch those 'beatniks' and 'odd-balls.'"

The students advocated both sides of the issue. Some agreed with the school and law enforcement officials that the drug is extremely dangerous; some felt that it is no more dangerous than alcohol.

"If people can drink why can't they smoke pot?" one boy asked.

"I don't need it," a girl said. "And I don't think anyone else does either. Besides my father would kill me."

"It will drive you to heroin," a girl charged.

"You read too many books," retorted a boy. "That's like saying that all drinkers are alcoholics."

"If they legalize 'pot' they'll legalize LSD and heroin," a boy said. "If you stop it now, you won't have a problem later."

Those who had tried marijuana pointed out that the true effect does not come with the first use. One must "build up to a high," they said. The sensation was described as feeling "light-headed without the bloatedness of alcohol."

A girl, who said she never tried marijuana, thought she knew why it is used.

"We rebel authority," she said. "It's the thing to do. It's just a way of rebelling against authority."

Regardless of how they felt about the benefits and dangers of marijuana, members of both generations predicted that use will increase in the area. More people going more places more often will bring the drug here from the cities, was the consensus view.

The reasons given by Crouse and the students for only slight use of marijuana differed greatly. While Crouse credited employment and recreational facilities which keep the younger people occupied, the teenagers said there was little use simply because there was little "pushing."

MINORS GET BEER

"In a small community, there are ample recreation and job opportunities available," Crouse said. "There are not enough in the metropolitan area."

"There is nothing to do here," one boy snapped. "We take off for Caseville every morning," said a girl. "Cass City has been known as the only cemetery with two stoplights," a boy quipped.

"Instead of marijuana, the minors in Cass City drink beer," said another disgruntled boy.

On this last point, Police Chief Palmateer agreed. He told of finding 13 cases of beer stashed in a gravel pit by minors. "Marijuana is not a threat here," he said. "Our biggest threat is kids getting beer."

Another point of agreement between the police chief and the students arose concerning the penalty for sale of marijuana. The maximum sentence is 20 years.

"The penalty is too severe," Palmateer said. "What jury would convict a kid for 20 years for selling one marijuana cigarette?"

The teenagers unanimously agreed that the penalty is too severe.

"I think the penalty should be more than 20 years," Commander Forrest said. "Anyone who sells narcotics should be prosecuted."

A group of Cass City teenagers did not settle the marijuana issue with a friendly debate. Neither will condemnation of the drug by school and law enforcement officials establish once and for all in the Cass City area that "pot" is bad.

The American Medical Association deplored the use of marijuana, recently, on the grounds that there are too many uncertainties involved. According to the Bible however, it was Eve's fascination with the uncertainties surrounding the forbidden fruit which prompted her to take a bite.

Contemporary Adams and Eves are no different. The penalty is severe, but at parties and dances throughout the country---and even in the Cass City area---the wailing Bob Dylan and psychedelic Beatles are suggesting that everyone get "stoned" and "turned on." And the contemporary Adams and Eves are trying the forbidden fruit---marijuana.

"You can go up to almost anyone at Caseville and tell them you have a marijuana cigarette, and they'll buy it."

Each day in America 90 million cars, trucks and other motor vehicles pour 180,000 tons of carbon monoxide, 33,000 tons of hydro-carbons, and 17,500 tons of nitrogen oxide into the air.

Final tribute to Mrs. Auten held Saturday

Memorial services for Mrs. Virginia Auten, wife of M. B. Auten, were held Saturday at 2 p.m. at the First Presbyterian Church in Cass City.

Mrs. Auten died at Hills and Dales General Hospital where she had been a patient for two days.

Mrs. Auten was born in Caro Feb. 14, 1899, the daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Charles Wilsey. She was married June 16, 1920.

The Autens lived in Cass City following the marriage until her death.

Surviving, besides her husband, are: a daughter, Mrs. Alex (Charlotte) Schmidt-Fellner of New York; two sons, Fred and Charles, both of Cass City; a brother, Stuart Wilsey of Kalamazoo, and eight grandchildren.

A daughter and sister preceded her in death.

Dr. Marion Hostettler and the Rev. Melvin R. Vender officiated at the memorial services.

John Maharg in first WMU visit

John Maharg, who will be a freshman at Western Michigan University this fall, spent three days on the university campus during the past week for testing, orientation and registration.

In groups of 125 to 150, the new students live in WMU residence halls, take a battery of tests, meet with their counselors, register for classes and receive a get-acquainted tour of the campus. The orientation program began June 30 and continues through August 2.

Mrs. William J. Ehrlich

Miss Carol Ann Seeley and William John Ehrlich were united in marriage Saturday, July 6, at 4:30 in the afternoon in St. Agatha's Catholic Church at Gagetown. Rev. Joseph P. Friske, pastor, officiated.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Earnest Seeley of Cass City and the bridegroom, who is stationed with the US Navy at Great Lakes, Ill., is the son of C. J. Ehrlich of Ann Arbor and the late Mrs. Lucille Ehrlich.

For her wedding the bride chose a gown of white linen, fashioned with a stand-up collar of Venice lace with bands of lace on linen forming a toga skirt sweeping to a chapel train. Her matching Dior bow head-dress with lace accents secured an imported English illusion veil. She carried an arm bouquet of white roses.

Her flower girl, Diederick Thiel of Gagetown, niece of the groom, wore a gown identical to the one worn by the bride, made by her mother, Mrs. Mary Lou Thiel. She carried long stemmed miniature white mums.

Mrs. Barbara Generous of Gagetown, matron of honor, chose a Nile green linen gown, featuring brief sleeves banded with white lace, a high lace neckline and a lace banded A-line floor-length skirt. Matching the gown was her headpiece, a Dior bow with bubble veil. She carried white mums.

Bridesmaids, whose gowns and flowers were like those of Mrs. Generous, were the Misses Kathy Decker of Saginaw, Renee Rabideau of Boston, Miss, Renate Connolly and the bride's cousin, Joyce Seeley of Cass City.

Peter Leitman of Gagetown was best man. Other groomsmen were Gary McKellar, Jack Winchester, Richard Ehrlich, brother of the groom, and Kit Ricker, all of Gagetown.

Ben Drews of Cass City, as ring bearer, carried the rings on a satin pillow. Guests were seated by Dennis Thiel, brother-in-law of the groom, and Paul Hunter, both of Gagetown.

At 6:30 a buffet dinner was served followed by a reception at the American League hall at Sebewaing.

The bride was guest of honor at three pre-nuptial affairs. Mrs. Hollis Seeley hosted a miscellaneous shower. Co-hostesses were Mrs. Charles Seeley and the Misses Janis and Sherry Seeley. Mrs. Barbara Generous entertained for the bride when co-hostesses were Joyce Seeley and Renate Connolly. A personal and miscellaneous shower was given by Mrs. Ivan Paladi with co-hostesses Mrs. Roger Root and Mrs. Charles Peasley.

Following a wedding trip through southern Michigan and parts of Illinois, Mr. and Mrs. Ehrlich have taken up residence in Waukegan, Ill.

Sex film lecture slated in Sanilac

A two-part series entitled "A Basis for Sex Morality" is scheduled at 8 p.m. Monday, July 22, and Monday, July 29. The filmstrip-record series is by Dr. Bryan Green, British psychiatrist.

High school age guys and gals are invited to attend the series to be held at the home of Mrs. Ward Hodge, 301 North Germania, Snover. Parents are invited, too.

Dr. Green stresses the confused thinking today on sex morality, the use of double standards, the debasing of sex through commercialism, and the problems and opportunities of the newfound freedoms.

The famed psychiatrist develops some positive guidelines for behavior in this age of so-called "new morality".

The series, used in Reese last spring, is being shown by Extension Home Economist, Mrs. Ann Ross, Mrs. Robert Hodge and her teen 4-H foods members will act as hostesses. Mrs. Dean Statlberger, R.N., will serve as resource person.

Janet Russell at Farm Bureau camp

Practical training in citizenship responsibilities is being offered to 140 outstanding high school juniors and seniors during the annual Young People's Citizenship Seminar conducted by Michigan Farm Bureau July 15-19 at Camp Kett near Cadillac.

Janet Russell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Royce Russell, Gagetown, is attending the Seminar.

She is a senior at Owenton-Gagetown Area Schools, a member of Future Homemakers of America and a cheerleader.

Major discussion topics are: People and Governments Around the World, Americanism, Economic Systems, Participating in Political Parties, and the Challenge of Leadership.

Arriving at camp Monday afternoon, the group was welcomed by Elton R. Smith, president of Michigan Farm Bureau, and Ben Westrate, Camp Kett administrator.

County offers TB tests on Tuesday

Children enrolling in a Tuscola County school for the first time will be offered a Tuberculin Test each Tuesday from 8:30 to 10:30 a.m. during July and August at the Thumb District Health Department, 147 Lincoln, Caro.

The child will be expected to return on the following Friday from 8:30 to 10:00 a.m. to have the nurse look at the test and complete the record.

The regular monthly immunization clinic will be held Thursday, July 25, from 1:00 to 3:00 p.m. for children between the ages of three months and 15 years, who are in need of basic immunizations.

Mr. and Mrs. Bill E. Zeidler

The Lutheran Church of the Good Shepherd, Cass City, was the scene of the wedding of Miss Bonnie Lou Butler and Bill E. Zeidler Saturday, July 6. The Rev. Richard C. Eyer performed the rites at a 7:30 candlelight double-ring ceremony.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Francis A. Butler of Cass City and Mr. and Mrs. Carl E. Zeidler of Sandusky. Guests were seated by Ronald Voss of Deford, brother-in-law of the bride, and Mike Miggett of Unionville, cousin of the groom.

Music for the ceremony was played by Mrs. Fred Iseler. She also accompanied Charles Iseler as he sang, "The Wedding Prayer" and "The Lord's Prayer."

Approaching the altar on the arm of her father, the bride wore a gown of veiled organza. The Empire bodice was graced with imported pearl-accented alencon lace motifs and centered with a petite Dior bow. Alencon lace also edged the short sleeves and complimented the skimmer A-line skirt. Also enhancing the dress was a removable chapel length train. She wore a floor-length veil, of bridal illusion, held in place by a sculptured braided coronet. She carried a bouquet of white bridal roses, stephanotis and ivy.

Mrs. Ronald Voss of Deford was her sister's honor matron. Bridesmaids were Miss Norma Austin of Bad Axe and Mrs. John Stipe of Big Rapids. They wore princess A-line gowns of georgette in summer avocado green, featuring satin cowl necklines and back panels and brief sleeves. Matching bow bandeaux with short veils completed their ensembles. They carried crystal goblets centered with white candles and yellow garnet roses with ivy streamers.

Paula Butler, sister of the bride, was flower girl. She wore a party dress in avocado with a willow trim styled like the senior attendants. She wore a matching headpiece and carried a basket of white daisies. Roger Dobson of Bad Axe was best man for his brother-in-law. Groomsman were Kerry Stuart of Bad Axe and Robert Fry of Unionville.

Lee Zeidler of Sandusky was ring bearer for his brother. The satin heart-shaped pillow he carried was made by the bride's great-aunt, Mrs. Rudolf Lenz of Sebewaing, and her grandmother, Mrs. Ed Holzward of Unionville.

The bride's mother wore a pale beige lace dress and a brown cymbidium orchid. The groom's mother wore a pink lace dress with a pink cymbidium orchid.

Following the ceremony the couple greeted guests at a reception at the American Legion Hall in Unionville.

The guest book was in charge of Miss Mollie Bea Butler, sister of the bride. Relatives were present from: Flint, Saginaw, New York, Bad Axe, Pontiac, Detroit, Big Rapids, Fairgrove, Akron, Unionville, Bay City, and Auburn.

The new Mrs. Zeidler wore a white and black long sleeved dress with corsage from her bouquet when the couple left for their wedding trip. The newlyweds will make their home at 921 Daisy St., Apt. 9, Long Beach, California.

The bride is a graduate of Cass City High School with class of 1965 and a 1968 graduate of Ferris State College with an associate of applied science degree in dental assisting.

Prior to her marriage, she was employed in the office of Dr. P. J. Garety, Caro.

The bridegroom is a 1965 graduate of Bad Axe High School and joined the U. S. Navy following.

Mrs. Zeidler was honored with two pre-nuptial showers.

I BET YOU DIDN'T KNOW

By H. M. Bulen

Did you know that in the entire history of minor league baseball, there has been only one team on which every regular player went to the majors. . . It was the 1937 Newark Bears of the International League. . . Their regulars were (1B) George McQuinn . . . (2B) Joe Gordon . . . (SS) Nolan Richardson . . . (3B) Babe Dahlgren . . . (LF) Frank Kelleher . . . (CF) Bob Seeds . . . (RF) Charlie Keller . . . (C) Buddy Rosar . . . They won the pennant by 25 1/2 games!

Did you know that when the New York Yankees first entered the American League, they were not called Yankees? . . . Their nickname at first was "Highlanders" . . . They didn't become the Yankees till 1913. . . The name was given to them by Mark Roth, a New York sports-writer.

Has there ever been anybody in big league baseball history who played in over 100 games in a season and NEVER struck out? . . . It's never happened. . . The closest anyone ever came to that was infielder Joe Sewell who in 1925 played in 155 games, had 608 at bats, and struck out only four times all year.

Mr. Howard Clement, Chairman

Board of Supervisors

c/o Tuscola County Clerk

Caro, Michigan

Dear Sir:

I made my annual inspection of your County Jail on May 9, 1968. I was pleased to see the jail complete and operating so well. It would appear Sheriff Marr is trying to do a very good job of operating this unit. From a spot check of the records I believe he has a very good and complete set of records.

Let me commend the Board on a very fine building and the Sheriff for good operation of the unit.

Yours truly,

DEPARTMENT OF CORRECTIONS

Robert J. Russell

State Jail Inspector

RJR:dh

cc: Sheriff Hugh Marr

Moved by Woodcock supported by Goodchild the communication be accepted and placed on record. Motion carried.

4-H strength is teaching with involvement

The great strength of 4-H is in teaching youth through involvement. Some call it learning by doing; others refer to it as the demonstration method. Whatever the name, young people gain and retain knowledge most effectively when they can participate in the making. One of the testimonies to this educational principle is the success of the 4-H idea in over 75 countries. The basic fact that children learn best by doing has transcended culture and class of 4-H youth programs.

Experiences with rural youth work in Latin America, Africa, Asia and many parts of the United States, show that 4

Recruiter Jim Ruttman

Daugherty, MSU tops with area's top grid fan

Hugh Duffy Daugherty has won many fans during his 15 years as football coach at Michigan State. An area country club manager is so impressed with MSU's No. 1 Irishman that he hasn't missed a Spartan game since Daugherty became head coach in 1953.

POSING IN front of one of the many pictures of MSU sports greats at Sherwood Forest Country Club is Jim Ruttman, an avid fan who manages the club.

Erla's ties for first; set exhibition game

Erla's moved back into contention in the Uby Recreation League by turning the tables on Carling's of Bad Axe and handing the Beermom their first loss of the season, 5-1.

Erla's moved into tie for the league lead with the win. Local fans will have a chance to see the defending league champions in action Saturday night, July 20, when they face Sebewaing Farm Bureau in an exhibition at Cass City Recreation Park. Erla's is 6-1 and Sebewaing, 9-1, in their respective leagues.

The Foodmen coasted to victory in the crucial game with Carling's behind the five-hit pitching of ace hurler, Al Bosch. Bosch allowed five hits, struck out 11 and didn't walk a batter as he registered another in a long string of league wins.

He was backed by nine hits by his teammates. Wally Hampton, Jim Knoblet and Les Nichols each batted out two hits. One of Knoblet's blows was a circuit clout.

It was a close ball game until the seventh inning. Erla's scored once in the second and again in the fifth while Carling's picked up a run in the fifth.

With a narrow 2-1 lead, Erla's scored three times on four hits in the seventh to ice the victory.

DEFEAT NUGENT'S
Elwyn Helwig pitched Erla's

to another victory last week when Nugent's bowed Tuesday, July 9, behind a 13-hit Erla attack, 9-4.

Helwig allowed eight hits, but was tough in the clutch as he limited Nugent's to just a single run until the last inning.

Meanwhile, Erla's salted away the victory in the opening inning as they lashed out six of their 13 hits and chased across seven of their nine runs in the initial inning.

Helwig struck out eight as he went the distance. He helped his own cause with four hits in four tries for a perfect day at the plate.

Action brisk in Cass City church league

Grant-Fraser and the Cass City Catholics are turning the Church League race into a two-team affair as both registered easy victories during the week.

Grant-Fraser is still undefeated while the Catholics are a game behind with a 4-1 record. Shabbona rates as a dark horse with just one defeat in three outings.

Monday, July 8, Grant-Fraser defeated Deford in the first of two well played games, 4-1. In the nightcap, Cass City United Missionary bowed to the Catholics, 7-4.

Wednesday, July 10, Shabbona routed Cass City Methodists, 20-4. Arthur Severance and Richard Chapin hit home runs for Shabbona. The winners clinched the game in the first inning with an 11-run outburst.

Leslie Severance got the win and Bob Milligan was charged with the loss.

Friday, July 12, the Cass City Catholics walloped Decker Methodists, 37-1. Jim Turner was the winner and Lee Hirsch the losing pitcher.

The Catholics hit nine home runs, including three by Dave Bliss and two by John Maharg.

In the second game Friday, Grant-Fraser topped United Missionary in a slugfest, 25-15. Gary Mellendorf was the winning pitcher while Dave Sharard handled the mound chores for the losers.

Gary and Glen Mellendorf each hit circuit blasts.

"I've never met a man who is so sincere," Ruttman said about Daugherty.

The relationship between the jovial comedian-coach and the outspoken country club manager began several years ago, when Daugherty was an assistant to Head Coach Clarence (Biggie) Munn and Ruttman was manager of Jackson's Hotel Haze.

"The State team would stay there when they played Michigan," Ruttman said. "Duffy used to sit in the lobby telling stories, and I got to know him. When Biggie became athletic director in '53 and Duffy was named head coach, Duffy and I became very close."

Ruttman then became a loyal follower of Daugherty's team. He has attended every MSU regular season game since Daugherty became head mentor and has been at most of the post-season games in which Daugherty has coached.

Ruttman drives to games which are not played far from East Lansing and flies either commercial or with the team on long trips. He even made the Hula Bowl game in Hawaii when his favorite football coach was directing the East team.

"One year, my dog was at every game," Ruttman said. "It has not been easy for Ruttman to roll up this incredible attendance record."

He was in Jamestown, N.Y., on business during the week before a big game. On Thursday of that week, a snowstorm hit New York. Ruttman could not get a plane back to Michigan, so he rented a car, drove to Cleveland and took a plane to Flint.

On another occasion, Ruttman was taken to Spartan Stadium in an ambulance. It was a result of getting too close to Michigan State football.

At a freshman game in '63, Ruttman was observing play from the sidelines when a player was tackled while running around end. Ruttman was unable to jump clear.

When the football players and sideline observers upbilled, MSU's loyal supporter was lying on the bottom of the heap with a pair of broken ankles. Ruttman was hospitalized, but he insisted on attending the Saturday Michigan State-Illinois contest.

On game day, an ambulance stopped at the Spartan Stadium press box entrance. A stretcher was placed on the press box elevator, and James Ruttman was making another inconvenient journey to another MSU football game.

Ruttman finds recruiting for MSU a rewarding pastime, but he said that it is wrong to pressure high school athletes into playing for State.

"The satisfaction comes from watching these boys grow into men," Ruttman said. "I get back three times what I put into recruiting."

"But we don't believe in high pressure recruiting. If a parent or coach tell me about their boy, I relay the information to Michigan State. If they tell me they like this boy, I might take him down to meet the coaches and see a game."

"But I like to see the boy make up his own mind," he insisted.

Ruttman said that Daugherty insists on this type of recruiting. He says, "That's the kind of guy Duffy is."

And the country club manager will tell you more about the man who has inspired him to devote every autumn to a football team. He'll tell you about Daugherty's mother, Daugherty's locker room prayers and Daugherty's strategy.

If you ask him, he'll even tell you how he plans on getting to each of the Michigan State football games this fall.

Pirates roll to finish year undefeated

The Pirates capped an undefeated regular season championship with the play-off toga last week as they successfully defended both titles won last year.

Bowing to the champions were Tigers, 18-2, and the Giants, 7-4.

3 in fight for Minor Loop crown

The Angels edged into a half game lead in the tight Minor League race with two other clubs, the White Sox and Mets, in strong contention for the league crown. All three of the teams have been defeated only once. The Angels have won one more game than the Mets or the Sox.

The three contenders all won during the week. Monday, July 8, the White Sox overpowered the Dodgers, 32-15, with Joe Gruber getting credit for the win.

For the Sox, Dean Severance and Clarke Haire collected four hits and Gruber picked up three hits. Rodney Renner slammed two hits and Dean Alexander hit a home run for the Dodgers.

Last Wednesday the Angels defeated the Braves in a well played game. Rick Spencer and Rick Selby pitched for the Angels with Spencer getting the win. Mark Spencer was the catcher.

Friday the Mets topped the Indians 28-14 despite two towering home runs by D. McAlpine for the losers.

League authorities announced that all remaining games will be played on the Little League diamond.

John Maharg, who plays American Legion ball at Caro, was one of five players selected to play in a District All-Star game Wednesday, July 24, at Tiger Stadium.

The game starts at 12 noon and pits the seventh district against the eighth district.

Besides Maharg, Tom Bowman, John Johnson, Dan Muska and Doug Brining were selected.

Kennedys issue plea for blood

Dear People,

Kenny won't be able to write to you this week, he's just too sick. Thursday our Kenny developed what is called a stress ulcer and started to bleed internally. A blood transfusion was started but by Friday morning he was bleeding faster than two blood pumps could return fresh blood to his body so he was taken to surgery. Six hours and 18 pints of blood later they returned him to intensive care. He is doing fine now out he is still real sick.

God saved our boy for us and we know all your prayers have helped and now Emerson, Bonnie, Lu Ann and I would like to ask you for something else. Eighteen people cared enough to give blood that kept our Kenny alive. Will you give some to help someone else? To tell you just how much 18 pints is - the human body holds about 12 pints. Money can pay for this blood but money won't put the blood back into the blood bank for someone else to use. If it weren't for the blood bank you would have to spend an afternoon at a funeral.

Now will you spend an afternoon in Saginaw at the blood bank? You don't have to give it in Kenny's name, just help someone as someone helped us. The address is: Michigan Community Blood Center, Suite 108, Saginaw Professional Bldg., 1600 N. Michigan, Saginaw. Phone 755-0973 open 9 - 5 daily.

Thank you and thank God we still have our Kenny.

Maxine, Emerson, Bonnie and Lu Ann.

GOP candidates meet with women

All county Republican primary candidates have been invited to speak at a meeting of the Tuscola County Republican Women's Club Monday at 8 p.m. The meeting will be held in the basement of the Tuscola County Jail in Caro.

All interested Republican women are invited.

TOM RUSSELL AND DENNIS LITTLE of Cass City and Tom Jickling of Kingston participated in the swine judging clinic at the Michigan Swine Type Conference Saturday in Ann Arbor. The boys are members of the Tuscola County 4-H Club.

NFO selects bean queen candidate

Miss Cheryl Pettiprin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Pettiprin of Unionville, was chosen to represent the Tuscola NFO as bean queen contestant.

The meeting was held at the Sacred Heart School Wednesday evening, with members and officers attending from Huron, Sanilac, Lapeer, and Tuscola.

EDITOR'S CORNER

Leisurely country living is fast disappearing in the Thumb. Every two years for 17 years the Chronicle's commercial printing department has printed part of the ballots required in the county for the elections.

When we first started, three or four weeks was the standard delivery target for the work. The printing lead time gradually shortened and this year topped them all due to the confusion over rotation of names caused by a court decision.

Discussions on plans for activating meat and grain contracts were given by Frank Sageman, John Kuch, and Jack LeValley.

Members voted to donate $100.00 to the 4-H building fund.

Stine at CMU for orientation

Dennis Stine is one of nearly 300 prospective Central Michigan University freshmen who are participating in the second preregistration and orientation period July 18-19 on the CMU campus. Four more groups are scheduled for throughout the summer.

In addition to registering for fall classes, the young people are becoming acquainted with the campus, meeting many of their instructors and classmates as well as having their first experience with dorm living.

Record crowds at recreation

The annual summer youth recreation program is attracting more children than it has in previous years, according to Mrs. Robert Tuckey, director of the program.

"We have been averaging 50 to 60 children a day," she said. "I am very pleased, and I've had some capable help."

Mrs. Wayne Dillon, Judy Quick and Jean Russell are assisting Mrs. Tuckey.

The first major activity of the summer was a complete success. There were nearly 70 entries in the annual bike parade. Multi-colored decorations adorned the children's bicycles as they proudly strutted down Main St. behind a police escort.

On tap for this Friday is an Indian Show, and next Friday's special event is a pot show. Climax of the summer is a picnic scheduled for the final Friday of the summer.

Another favorite youth activity, especially during the recent hot spell, has been swimming at the park pool. According to Jerry Cleland, who is overseeing the entire recreation program, "Kids haven't been doing much else besides swimming."

Cleland said that the Little League and Minor League baseball programs have been very successful also. The regular season for Little League is finished, with the Minor Leaguers still going strong. Cleland said that additional activities may become necessary, and he assured that, "If enough kids are interested in doing any particular thing, we'll provide it."

Beware the dirty birds

BY LARRY WERNER

The birds are after me.
You'll probably doubt me like everyone else has, but it's true.
They have been after me for years, and I know that any day now my luck will run out and they'll get me.

You'll see. Someday, my mutilated body will be found near an aviary riddled from head to toe with beak holes.
It's terrible knowing that it is going to happen but unable to find a single soul who will believe or help.

I've told my friends about the feathered conspiracy being waged against me. But they just laugh. Some of my sadistic associates have been calling me in the middle of the night and sounding bird calls into the phone or leaving feathers on my desk.

I was talking with a friend
the other day.
"The birds are after me."
"You've been watching too many Hitchcock movies."
"I'm serious."
"You're crazy."

When I told my parents about the situation they told me a story about the little boy who cried "bird."

My problems started about 10 years ago when I used to roam the fields of Bay City with my trusty single-shot BB gun. They called me "Larry the Bird Killer," and my reputation spread like smallpox.
They tried to retaliate, even then. But I was deadly with that old air rifle.

When they decided that attacks on me were too risky as long as I was carrying my gun,
they began to harass my dog.
It was after this that I put transparent plastic covers on all the bird baths in the neighborhood.

The relationship between birds and me became steadily less cordial. I grew up hating all birds: Bluebirds, Blackbirds, Lady Byrds, Lynda Byrds.

During the last year, my old enemies have launched an all-out attack on me.

They began by following me
wherever I went. I found evidence that they were spending quite a bit of time around my car. About a year ago, the kamikaze attacks began.

While driving along I-75 one of the beasts flew a mission directly into the front of my car. Since that first incident
I've dug three of the monsters out of my grill, and last week, while driving east on M-81,
a bird flew directly at my windshield.

Fortunately, the glass was strong enough to repel the attack with little damage done except for a psychological unnerving of yours truly.

I wrote to the President about the problem. But he replied that he was already over-extended in defense commitments. He said the only assistance he could offer was napalm attacks on birds' nests if I could find three people who would claim that the attacks were Communist-inspired.

My mother says that I've been working too hard; perhaps I should take a vacation.
My boss says that I haven't been keeping my mind occupied;

perhaps I should start working on week ends.

Since a few of the attacks
took place in Tuscola County,
I decided to seek help from Sheriff Hugh Marr. Sheriff Marr asked me if I was old enough to vote. When I replied that I was, he assigned one of his deputies to protect me. When he learned that I am a resident of Bay County, the protection was removed.

I considered writing the Audubon Society but realized they have always been for the birds and would in all likelihood not believe my story. The National Rifle Association said they are quite busy right now but might send me a rifle and some birdshot if I would write a short note to my congressman for them.

So, you see, it seems to be a pretty hopeless situation.
People either refuse to believe there is a problem or are too concerned with their own self-interest to offer assistance.
It's an old story.

AREA ACCIDENTS

Lemanski was driving southeast on East Dayton when he failed to see a stop sign at Hurd's Corner Road. The driver reportedly applied his brakes but was unable to stop before striking the Kelley car, parked in a driveway.

Lemanski was ticketed for speeding and for running a stop sign. There were no injuries.

A black Angus cow was struck Sunday, on Koepgen Road, 1/2-mile south of Milligan Road,
by a car driven by Lorraine B.
Benkelman, 37, of Cass City.
Passengers in the car included Esther Reagh, 33, Robert Benkelman, 41, and James Reagh, 39, all of Cass City.

Two accidents occurred in the village within two hours Monday.

At 10:25 a.m., Mrs. Agusta
M. Steinhel, 47, and her six-year-old daughter, Mary Jean,
both of Cass City, were injured when a car driven by Charles Roller, 18, of Unionville failed to yield the right of way and crashed into the Steinhel auto.

The accident occurred at the intersection of Garfield and West Streets. Mrs. Steinhel was treated and released from Hills and Dales General Hospital. Mary Jean is listed in satisfactory condition.

Roller was ticketed for failing to yield the right of way.
Neither Roller nor a passenger in his car, Art Alegria, 18, of Akron was injured.

Cass City police were called to an accident again at 12:25
p.m., when cars driven by Mrs.
Thomas Proctor, 32, of 4794
North Seeger St., and Chris
Glaser, 79, of 4225 Sherman, collided.

The two cars collided as the Glaser auto was attempting to pass the Proctor car, which was making a left-hand turn. There were no injuries reported, and no tickets issued. Damage was minor. The accident occurred on Seeger St.

The five-day meeting of nearly 1500 members from 550 Zonta clubs in 33 countries concluded Thursday, July 11, with the installation of international officers.

One For The Road

Rangers and Indians

By Dan Marlowe

When we were kids we played cowboys and Indians.

The other day I encountered a whooping, gun-wearing bunch of 8-year-olds appalled in wide-brimmed, sombrero-type hats. "You're the cowboys?" I asked.

"We're the Rangers!" a gap-toothed redhead informed me proudly. He pointed to an at least momentarily discomfited opposition. "They're the gooks!"

Time marches on. Later I began to speculate upon the genesis of the term "ranger", an expression that had not been common coinage during my boyhood. A trip to the encyclopedia proved enlightening.

In U. S. military usage, a ranger is a soldier specially trained to act in small groups which make rapid surprise raids on enemy territory. The equivalent British term is commando.

In the U. S. the designation is also used for the Texas state constabulary, for national park supervisors (conservationists) founded in 1916, and for forest service wardens (firefighters) founded in 1905.

Ranger units have a long history. They originated during the French and Indian Wars in this country (1745-1763). Special units of expert woodsmen and marksmen were formed for scouting, screening, and harassing missions. Notable among these groups was Rogers' Rangers.

Both the Americans and the British used rangers during the Revolution. Daniel Morgan's Virginia Rangers and Thomas Knowlton's Connecticut Rangers were names that ring a bell even in the present day. On the British side, Butler's Rangers became infamous because of the cruelties practiced by Indians recruited into the ranks.

Rangers became cavalry during the Black Hawk War of 1832. During this period and that of the Mexican War, the detached duty of these groups, their independent attitude, and their distinctive appearance provided the initial basis for the association of the term "ranger" with irregular, paramilitary forces and operations.

They were also employed by both sides during the Civil War. The best known leader and the foremost exponent of ranger operations was a Confederate, Col. John S. Mosby.

Ranger units reappeared in U. S. military organizations during World War II. Used primarily in the Middle Eastern theater, specially trained and conditioned men made sudden, hard-hitting raids behind enemy lines, carrying out intelligence and demolition missions.

1950 found fair-weather ranger infantry companies employed in the Korean War. In 1951, however, it was decided that it was better to spread such individuals through conventional units which could benefit from their special combat techniques. With the exception of the Green Berets, the Army maintains no ranger units today although it still conducts special ranger training for individuals. In their toughness, their resourcefulness, and above all in their independence, Rangers have always had an appeal for American youth.

The Indians never had it as tough from the cowboys.

A LITTLE BOY shows off a big fish he caught at the State Park Lagoon in Bay City. The boy is 12-year-old Greg Mark, 6353 Wilsie Road. The fish is a Northern Pike, 30 1/2 inches long, weighing six pounds. Greg was visiting friends in Bay City when he hooked the fish with a spinning lure.

Gagetown Field Day a success

Saturday's Gagetown Firemen's Field Day was termed a success by Fire Chief Chuck Wright.

"Cooperation of all the firemen made the field day a success," Wright said.

The field day was held to raise money to equip a new fire engine purchased for the community by Elmwood Town-

Class of '58 holds reunion Saturday

The class of 1958 of Cass City High School held a reunion at Sherwood Forest Country Club, Gagetown, Saturday evening, July 13.

Of the 103 persons attending, 51 were class members. Mr. and Mrs. James Seals of Union City, former Cass City teachers, were guests.

Jack Laurie was toastmaster for an informal program following the dinner. Slides were shown of the senior class trip and graduation.

Printed programs were distributed giving brief commentaries on the class members.

Attending the reunion from a distance were Gerald Pelton of California, Roger Spencer of Colorado, Rev. Herman Rock of Georgia and Delores Lester Eldridge of Grand Bahamas.

Serving on the committee to plan another reunion in five years will be: Mrs. Joyce Frederick, Mrs. Joyce Bergman, Miss Sherry Seeley, Mrs. Janet Laszlo, Jack Laurie, Mrs. Ellen Toner and Mrs. Jane Mitchell.

It takes a clever man to make use of second-hand experience.

Michigan's "Mr. Deer" Retiring

Behind the Counter Visiting the Ill

Visiting the ill has been a part of our tradition for so long, many of us don't realize that it can create problems in the hospital, nursing home or even the private home of the sick person.

Among these problems: the psychological shock to the patient caused by those visitors who recall how badly so-and-so did under similar circumstances; who inquire if the doctor has ordered such-and-such a test (implying that he's a quack if he hasn't); who "sympathize" with the terrible way the hospital is run; who imply that the illness is not all that serious; or who inquire into the most intimate details of the sickness.

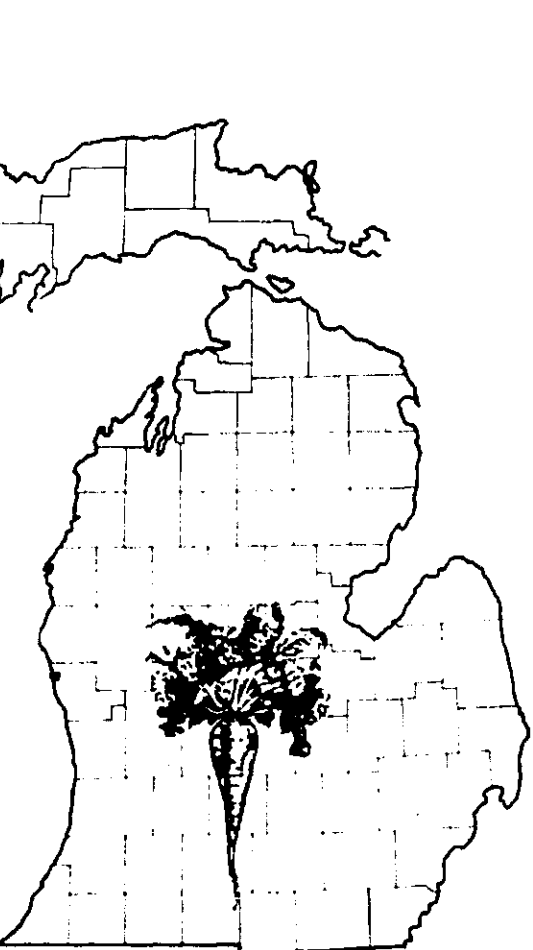

Then there are the visitors who stay too long, those who visit when they have a cold, or have spent three hours in a tavern; those who sneak in outside of the regular visitors' hours (thus disrupting meals, bathing or sleep); whose boisterous behavior disturbs other patients in the room—or even on the same floor; and those who spend most of their time socializing with other visitors to the sickroom.

Here are a few suggestions passed on to us by hospital personnel: Check first with the family, to see if the patient is able to receive visitors, and when would be a convenient time to visit. If you want to take along a little gift, again the family can be helpful in making suggestions; remember the patient may be on a diet, or prohibited from smoking, or may be upset by flowers. Be brief, be cheerful, be considerate. If you don't know the details of the illness, don't ask. Don't get involved in arguments, or bring bad news that will upset the patient. Unless the patient is smoking, or offers you a cigarette, don't smoke.

Perry family meets at Conant home

About 55 relatives and friends gathered at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Conant, rural Caro, Sunday, July 14, for the fifth annual Perry reunion. They are descendants of Joseph and Amanda Perry.

After a potluck dinner and visiting, a business meeting was conducted by Keith Perry, Bancroft. The following officers were elected for the coming year: president, Mrs. Lynn Perry of Keego Harbor; vice-president, Merritt Perry, Caro, and secretary-treasurer, Mrs. William O'Dell, Cass City. The oldest person present was Mr. Frank Seeley, Caro, and the youngest was seven-months-old Perry Troy Aleksink, son of Mr. and Mrs.

Anthony Aleksink, Cass City, and grandson of Mr. and Mrs. Lionel Perry, Caro. Stephen Ramsey of Beaumont, Texas, who is spending his vacation with his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Ellis VanConett, was the person who came the greatest distance. It was decided to hold next year's reunion at the Conant home on the second Sunday in July.

Prisoners participate in drug testing program

DRUG TESTING

Prisoners at the State Prison of Southern Michigan in Jackson are helping relieve human misery and prolong life through a volunteer drug testing program. Since 1964, when two pharmaceutical companies built testing facilities at the prison, about 20,000 inmates have participated in the studies.

Without the program, it would take many more years before some of today's "wonder drugs" would be ready for general use, prison officials say. Prisoners are attracted to the program by pay, a break in their otherwise colorless daily routines, a new sense of helping mankind, and recently, credit towards earning parole.

Although the two drug companies cooperate on some matters, such as screening prisoners, they work separately on testing effects of compounds. Pay varies according to the type and extent of medication being tested.

Sophisticated equipment is used to study curative benefits of different drugs, the most effective dosage, and possible side-effects. Tests are run on normal subjects since results would not be as reliable if tested on patients who were emotionally unstable.

Agent's Corner

By Mrs. Ann Ross

Extension Agent

A woman's work is never done -- especially when she has a job outside the home. The number of working women is increasing and over half of the working women are married.

Some of these women say their satisfaction in a job well done is the reason for going back to work. They view the salary as secondary to their sense of accomplishment. However, most women are working for that extra paycheck. Visions of new living room furniture or Susie at college may make a long day at work more bearable. But many women never consider what they are netting profit-wise.

Does it really pay to work? A few calculations will help you decide. Begin by subtracting the monthly deductions made in your income before you are paid. You had probably counted on these: income tax, social security and group insurance. But did you consider the new expenses incurred just because you took a job?

How about the costs for transportation, lunches, parties and banquets, coffee breaks, union or professional dues and uniforms? Once you've considered these your monthly salary begins to take a dive.

There is expense in looking nice on the job, too. New clothes and weekly hair appointments can add up to a large deduction in your profits.

You'll also need to subtract family expenses. Since you'll be away from home more, you might have to hire household help and laundry service. If you have pre-school children, the salary you pay a baby-sitter will take a big share of your profit. Those take-home dinners and mixes and dinners away from home can eat up more of your paycheck.

And don't forget that you have to pay income tax on your income. Your earnings are taxed at the rate of your husband's top figure or higher. So if his last $1500 of income is taxed at 30 percent, yours will be, too.

Once you've made these calculations, your expenses are about average if they total 35-30 percent of your earnings -- or as much as 50 percent if you hire a baby-sitter.

There are advantages other than the profit you earn. You might get benefits like insurance, programs or retirement benefits. It all depends on your goals -- are you working just for money? Then maybe you should take a closer look at what you're really earning.

ting welfare costs are sought as Michigan heads towards a $500 million welfare package for 1969-70. Operations of the state's Social Services Department for 1968-69 are already pegged at $437.7 million. This year $360.8 million was spent for welfare assistance.

With passage of the 1968-69 appropriation, the Legislature issued a stern warning to welfare officials -- not to seek additional funds. Since the federal government predicts that 500,000 families will be added to national welfare rolls within the next two years, Michigan welfare executives are caught in a bind.

"It seems the industrial north pays more and more to finance the program and has less and less to say about it," charges department director R. Bernard Houston. The number of new welfare recipients in Michigan could be considerable, putting new stress on the state's already strained resources.

A test case in Massachusetts is now pending on the question of residency requirements for indigents before they can receive welfare aid. If the courts lift the residency qualifications, it could encourage an influx of indigents to Michigan from poorer states and make a shambles of the state budget.

CASS CITY, MICHIGAN - THURSDAY, JULY 18, 1968

Harvey Asher dies after long illness

Harvey Asher died at Hills and Dales General Hospital Friday after an illness of two years. He was 47.

Mr. Asher was born in Novesta Township March 8, 1921. He was a patient at Hills and Dales for five days.

Surviving Mr. Asher are a son, James of Deckerville; a brother, Earl of Coldwater; a sister, Mrs. Leland Walker of Lambertville; his mother, Mrs. Bertha Asher of Cass City, and three grandchildren. Two sons preceded him in death.

Funeral services were held at 3 p.m. Monday. Rev. Donald Turbin officiated. Burial was in Caro cemetery.

Uncle Tim From Tyre Says:

Dear Mister Editor:

Clem Webster has figured the situation up one side and down the other and he has decided the voters in this country were called on to pick people for the wrong office. He was of the opinion we had ought to elect them pollsters, on account of they pick the winners for public office anyhow.

Usual, Clem looks on the bright side, most special when the Democrats was in office, but Saturday night at the country store he was down on the general state of politics. What was happening, he allowed, was that the tail was wagging the dog. Not only was the Government telling people how to run things instead of the other way round, but them pollsters was telling citizens what they was thinking instead of the other way round.

They used to say "as Maine goes, so goes the nation," allowed Clem, but now everybody just reads their favorite poll to know how we was going in any election.

Ed Doolittle, that seldom is agreed with Clem on anything, allowed that even a blind hog finds a acorn once in a while and that Clem had come up with a solid idea. Ed was full agreed with Clem that this country was being run like the big advertising agencies where you create a demand for a product and then sell the product. If the public was being told what it wants, it don't care, cause it thinks it thought of it first.

Farthermore, said Ed, politics in the United States was run at the convenience of the television networks instead of the other way round. What the candidates wants, Ed said, was "exposure" and they was more interested in being saw and heard than about what's going on in Government.

Zeke Grubb was agreed with Ed. He reported where a opponent charged Ronald Reagan with wearing makeup on his face and that his hair and teeth was store bought. Reagan's helpers immediate called a news conference to deny all the charges and answer all questions about Mr. Reagan's good looks. People was more interested in a candidate's deodorant than his issues, Zeke claimed. But when you got wimmen movie stars endorsing a certain kind of car muffler and selling a lot of mufflers you was living in a crazy world.

Personal, Mister Editor, it's a mystery to me why a feller would want to run for President nowadays in the first place. It's gitting where it was mostly a spending race and a candidate spends $10 million running for a job that pays $100,000 a year, and it was the only job in this country that don't offer no chance for advancement. No matter what you do after you're President, you're just a ex-President.

Yours truly

Uncle Tim

The honesty of a man's cries for justice are proven by his attitude toward others.

BRAD WRIGHT was awarded two trophies in racing competition at Ubyl Sat. and Sun. July 6-7. "It was kind of a joke", Brad said good humoredly. "I was the only contestant in the event both days." But if the race was a joke, the Cass City youngster's time was not. Sunday in one trip down the track he averaged 72 miles an hour and set a new track record for his class in the quarter-mile distance of 17 1/2 seconds.

Hostetler's Hodgepodge

Ambition and a lawn mower

By Marion Hostetler

I was surprised one morning a week ago to see Danny Nicholas driving a car with the handle of a lawnmower sticking out from under the hood. I soon decided it was a rear-engine car, with the trunk in front. Then I guessed that Dan had bought himself a new mower, and later the same morning his brother Terry told me I had guessed right.

Dan had kept quite busy this summer mowing lawns in our neighborhood, and I was happy to see that he has now gone one step higher on the ladder of capitalism. A capitalist is a man who owns some of the tools of production. Now that Dan has invested in better equipment he should be able to earn at least enough more to pay the interest on the money he spent for the mower. It's good to see young men like this who have ambition and initiative.

Speaking of interest, did you hear about the insurance man who was talking to a young couple about setting up a retirement program?

"Oh, I already have a retirement program started," confided the young wife. "I keep the money in a teapot."

"But think of all the interest you're losing."

"Oh, I did think about it, so every week I put a little extra in the teapot to take care of that!"

One time I was talking with an army doctor about battle fatigue. That seems to be the military equivalent of a nervous breakdown.

"Everybody is more or less neurotic," he said. "Everybody has a breaking point. If tension is a little too much for us, we may lose our cool and start screaming. If the tension continues to be more than we can handle, we may have a nervous breakdown. If a soldier can't adjust to battle conditions, he has battle fatigue and has to go back to a hospital for a rest."

I suppose one shouldn't joke about this condition which causes such unhappiness, but I enjoyed this explanation of the difference between a psychotic and a neurotic:

"A psychotic thinks that two and two make five. A neurotic thinks that two and two make four. . . but he doesn't like it."

On the serious side, the best explanation I've ever heard of what it feels like to be a neurotic was given recently by a psychiatrist.

"We have all experienced crises in our lives," he said. "They were critical days for us, and we knew they were critical, so we were under great tension. Well, for a neurotic, every day is a crisis."

Former Cass Cityan dies at Cadillac

Mrs. Irene Hendrick of Marlon, a former Cass City resident, died Monday, July 8, at Mercy Hospital in Cadillac, Mich.

Funeral services were held at Marlon Thursday, July 11. Pastors Earl J. Zagers and Jason Prest officiated and burial was in Greenwood cemetery.

Mrs. Hendrick was born Nov. 9, 1902, at Gagetown. Her parents were Mr. and Mrs. Barney Dolwick.

She was a member of the Seventh Day Adventist Church at Marlon.

Surviving are five daughters, Mrs. Steve (Lucille) Sweeney of Linwood, Mrs. Leone Cope-land of Decker, Mrs. Dale (Pauline) Brown of Cass City, Mrs. Edmund (Helen) Reder of Linwood and Miss Frances Hendrick of Marlon, and four sons, Thomas of Pontiac, Morris of Caro, Donald of Decker and Bruce of Cass City.

Also surviving are 30 grandchildren and two sisters, Mrs. Orris Reid and Mrs. Minnie Hall, both of Detroit.

It's impossible to make your mark in this world just using ditto marks.

SEEK SOLUTION
Men who search for the truth are only trying to prove the sincerity of their doubts.

If everyone always had perfect "peace of mind," nothing would ever get done.

Marcel Proust has written, "Everything great in the world comes from neurotics. They alone have founded our religions and composed our masterpieces. Never will the world know all it owes to them nor all they have suffered to enrich us. We enjoy lovely music, beautiful paintings, a thousand intellectual delicacies, but we have no idea of their cost to those who invented them, in sleepless nights, tears, spasmodic laughter, rashes, asthmas, epilepsies, and the fear of death, which is worse than all the rest."

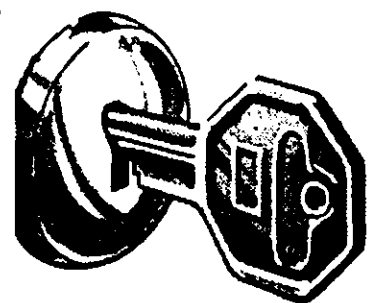

I met Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Barton here in Cass City a few days ago. They live in Bad Axe, and when I lived in Huron County I became acquainted with Mrs. Barton through her work with the Red Cross.

In those days the various ministers of Huron County took turns at conducting a morning religious program on WLEW, and one day Mrs. Barton said she had enjoyed my radio talk. Knowing her to be a Roman Catholic, I brashly protested, "But Catholics aren't supposed to participate in non-catholic worship services!"

"We're allowed to do it once in a while," she retorted, "just to keep track of the opposition."

Have you heard about the "metallic" age: gold in our teeth, silver in our hair . . . and lead in our pants?

Pvt. LeValley begins basic

Army Private Paul LeValley of Deford has been assigned to Company D, 8 Battalion, 3 Brigade, at the United States Army Training Center, Armor (USATCA), in Ft. Knox, Ky. He is the son of Mrs. Alice LeValley of Deford.

He will be learning fundamental skills for the next two months, including firing live ammunition under simulated combat situations, learning protective measures and first-aid for chemical, biological and radiological attacks. He will also be schooled in the use of modern arms.

Following the completion of basic training, Pvt. LeValley will participate in at least an additional eight weeks of either advanced instruction or on-the-job training to qualify him in a specialized military skill.

FROM THE FILES OF THE CHRONICLE

FIVE YEARS AGO

Ray Kilbourn, who began transporting Cass City students on his school bus in 1937, retired at 71. All of Cass City's buses except Kilbourn's are owned by the school. Kilbourn has bought his own buses and driven them for a flat fee. The association of Kilbourn with the school system has been a mutually satisfactory one, but the bus driver said his health would not permit him to continue the service.

John R. Aldrich, former resident of Cass City, was killed in an automobile accident on the I-75 expressway. Aldrich lost control of his car and smashed into the rear of a truck parked on the side of the road.

Plans are completed for the annual sidewalk days sale in Cass City. Amusement rides for the children at 10 cents a ride and bargains for everyone are highlights of the sale.

Three Cass City men and a Caro girl are recovering in Caro Hospital from injuries received in a head-on crash into a tree. Roger Peters, Gordon Peters, Kay Nickerson and Jim McDonald were involved in the crash.

TEN YEARS AGO

The final series of meetings

prior to the vote to decide whether Gagetown and Owendale school districts would consolidate was set for the Gagetown school. The action took place at the annual meeting of the Gagetown district. In other action, Tom Laurie was elected to the Gagetown board, replacing Harry Russell, who resigned.

A call was made for girls interested in being Cass City homecoming queen to register. Plans for the gala celebration, including a rodeo, are being finalized.

Cass City Postmaster Steve Orto announced that the new four-cent postage stamps are arriving. The regular four-cent, bearing the likeness of Abraham Lincoln, and special commemoratives are available to meet the new rate of four cents an ounce.

John Eifert, who has been hospitalized with a mysterious spinal injury for eight years, celebrated his 44th birthday in bed.

TWENTY-FIVE YEARS AGO

Sgt. Maynard H. Smith of Caro received the Congressional Medal of Honor for saving the lives of six crew mates on a Flying Fortress raid on St. Nazaire, France. The award was presented by Secretary of War Henry L. Stimson, in England.

Harold Oatley was named Dean of Boys at Cass City High School. He will also serve as an instructor in economics and government. He was a scoutmaster at Traverse City and has served as a director of a Boy Scout camp for several years.

The Gagetown School Board announced that the bonded indebtedness contracted by the district for the building project started in 1938 has been entirely liquidated. The project included a gymnasium, two classrooms and a heating plant.

Four Tuscola County residents on a pleasure cruise in Tawas Bay drowned. Dead are: Harry Bastone of Caro, Wayne Cross of Caro, Robert Peterson of Caro and Ida Minthorn of Reese.

THIRTY-FIVE YEARS AGO

William Patrick of Pontiac pleaded guilty to a charge of stealing 38 head of cattle from William Siller of Koyton Township. Patrick told the court that he was driven to the theft by starvation. He was sentenced to five years in Jackson State Prison.

The Zinnecker family held its reunion in the grove of the John Striffier Estate. Forty-four members of the family attended.

Lutheran Auxiliary meets at Kilmanagh

The Lutheran Children's Friend Auxiliary West Thumb Chapter No. 10 held its monthly meeting Monday, July 8, at St. John's Lutheran Church, Kilmanagh.

Devotions were led by Rev. Edward Reinker for the 11 members and 28 guests at the family night.

Mrs. Clarence Kern presided over the business meeting at which Mrs. Paul Roemer reported a balance on hand of $111.46. Mrs. Harold Rounds was elected delegate to the state convention Oct. 15, at Mt. Clemens. Mrs. Reinhardt Bauer was elected alternate.

Mrs. Roemer was re-elected treasurer, and Mrs. Alex Kovach was elected corresponding secretary.

Rev. A.W. Voges, executive director of the Lutheran Children's Friend Society of Michigan, presented a film, "Angel by the Hand."

Scouts to attend national conference

Three Cass City Scouts have been chosen to attend the National Explorer Delegate Conference at Colorado State University Aug. 18-22.

Craig Ryland, Tim McComb and John Bartnik will be among 2,000 elected delegates who will be representing more than 300,000 Explorers at Fort Collins, Colo.

The delegates will help to develop a national program which will interpret Exploring and expand this activity as a youth movement.

VOTE FOR CARL PALMATEER FOR TUSCOLA COUNTY SHERIFF

REPUBLICAN CANDIDATE PRIMARY ELECTION AUGUST 6, 1968

Let me ask you a question and I want you to think hard for the answer. Do you know of a county in the nation with a population of 45 thousand people where 28 traffic fatalities have taken place in less than 7 months? I can name one, Tuscola County. 28 persons needlessly dead from accidents.

I think that strict enforcement of the laws for everyone can go a long ways towards cutting down the county's death toll and I believe that I, as an experienced police officer, can achieve this.

I wish I could meet and visit with all the voters and people of Tuscola County and explain to each of them my feelings and ideas about more strict law enforcement in Tuscola County. However there is not enough time before the primaries Aug 6th to do this.

I do welcome any and all opportunities to speak to any Club, Organization or groups of people.

To reach me call Cass City 872-2250.

"If It Fitz..."

Charlie Brown for president

BY JIM FITZGERALD

The experts seem agreed that the presidential nominees will be Nixon and Humphrey.

Oh joy. I think the voting age should be lowered to 10.

Kids around that age had a presidential election during story hour at the Lapeer Public Library. They elected Charlie Brown of Peanuts fame. In nominating Charlie, little Anita Bommarito said: "Everybody can identify with Charlie Brown because he is a loser and everybody is a loser at one time or another."

Anita should make speeches for Nixon.

As reported by librarian Paul Malecki, the youngsters went through every election routine. First they held a primary. Here's how the voting went: Charlie Brown, 16; Eugene McCarthy, Al Kaline and Nelson Rockefeller, 11 votes each.

Charles Percy, 8; Richard Nixon, 6; Hubert Humphrey and Jim Fitzgerald, 3 votes each.

"I hate to tell you this, Malecki told me, 'but there was quite a negative reaction when your name was read.' 'What do you mean, negative?' I asked.

"They booed," he said. I had to ask.

Anyway, after the lynching of those 3 kids who voted for me, the youngsters held 2 nominating conventions.

The Democrats nominated Charlie Brown for President and McCarthy for Vice President. The Republicans gave the top spot to Rockefeller with Bozo the Clown as his running mate.

It was no contest in the runoff. Brown and McCarthy polled 63% of the vote. Rockefeller and Bozo got only 33%.

Malecki said the other 4% were spoiled ballots. I think he meant they had my name on them.

So there you are. If the 48 kids at the library story hour were running this country, I would not have to choose between Nixon and Humphrey next November. Instead, it would be Charlie Brown or Nelson Rockefeller.

The kids obviously did a better job than is expected from the national delegates at Chicago and Miami later this summer. And they did it without getting drunk, stamping their feet, wearing silly hats, or blowing hot air into a boisterous balloon of boredom.

The trouble with professional politicians is one of their big rules - "don't tell the truth, you might lose a vote." My boy McCarthy gave a good example in Lansing the other day. He said he could foresee circumstances under which he would support Rockefeller rather than fellow Democrat Humphrey. Big deal. I can foresee circumstances under which I also could vote against Humphrey. Such circumstances as, say, the election were held on a weekday, or I were breathing, or December followed November.

How in God's honest name could McCarthy ever support Humphrey, under any circumstances? McCarthy has said, hundreds of times, that he is a candidate for President for only one reason: he is saddened and disgusted by President Johnson's policies in Vietnam. Humphrey supports Johnson right down the line - in Vietnam or in a leap frog game. McCarthy and Humphrey should have trouble talking about the weather without getting into a fistfight.

But Michigan's Democratic politicians -- such statesmen as Gus Scholle -- were aghast at the idea McCarthy might favor a Republican over a Democrat. You just can't do that, even if Jesus Christ Himself is on the GOP ticket. McCarthy's advisers quickly advised him he shouldn't have said what he said. And McCarthy quickly went the route of most hungry candidates. He denied he said what he said.

When McCarthy weasled, he teetered toward the edge of the pedestal where I had installed him with high hopes. But he is still my choice over Humphrey. Because if it's going to be Nixon for the GOP, I don't want Tricky Dick running against his twin brother. And when it comes to the single most important issue -- Vietnam and your son's life -- Nixon can look in a mirror and see Humphrey. The people deserve an alternative vote for their money. It will be a foul blow if neither party gives it to them.

In which case I'll go to the library and vote for Charlie Brown because I'll sure feel like a loser.

53 attend reunion at E. J. Cooper farm

The Cooper reunion was held Sunday, July 7, at the E. J. Cooper farm on S. Crawford Rd., Deford.

Potluck dinner was served and games were played by the men and children. Fifty-three persons were present.

Attending were: Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Fox, Ward, Scott and David of Harrisburg, Ill., Mr. and Mrs. Glen Young, Terry, Sheila, Sandy, Gloria, Harold and Michael Young, Mrs. Ben Gruber, Valeria and Pam LaPeer and Kim Gruber, Mrs. Rudell Abney, Georgia, Vickie, Jeff and Damon Abney, all of Pontiac, Mr. and Mrs. James Godwin and Sharon, Mr. and Mrs. George Godwin and Beverly Cooper, all of Dothan, Alabama, Mr. and Mrs. Norman Cooper, Randy, Kenny and Rodney of Brown City, Mr. and Mrs. Gary Cooper, Wendy and Gary D. of Mayville, Mr. and Mrs. Ron Campbell, Greg, Faith and Lisa of Vassar, Mr. and Mrs. Roger Cooper of Cass City, Mr. and Mrs. Ron Montel of Deford, Cindy and Sheri Cooper of Deford, Mr. and Mrs. Emery Abney of Pontiac and Mrs. Nellie Fox of Harrisburg, Ill.

Eugene Nicholas gets assignment

Army Private Eugene D. Nicholas, son of Mrs. Maratha Nicholas of 4993 Maple St., is assigned to Company E, 19 Battalion, 5 Brigade in the United States Army Training Center, Armor (USATC), in Ft. Knox, Ky.

He will spend the next two months learning the fundamental skills of the soldier -- firing live ammunition under simulated combat situations, learning protective measures and first-aid for chemical, biological and radiological attacks, as well as being schooled in the use of modern arms.

Following the completion of basic training, Pvt. Nicholas will receive at least an additional eight weeks of either advanced instruction or on-the-job training to qualify him in a specialized military skill.

It seems that a necessity is a luxury that the Joneses have.

WHAT COLOR TV IS ALL ABOUT

Color TV can be a dream come true. Color TV can also be muddy, blurry colors you'll find hard to live with. Because color is much tougher to get than black-and-white, most old black-and-white antennas just don't have what it takes.

Today's color sets work best with an antenna made for color... like Channel Master's Color Crossfire-82. It's the compact antenna that cleans up color on all your channels... VHF and UHF, present and future. Also excellent for FM/Stereo.

Around The Farm Hail, 'halo' hit farmers

By Alfred P. Ballweg

This past week has been a buzz-saw type of week. Farmers who got hit so hard by the hail were realizing how severe the blow actually was. Some had insurance, some none and those who had insurance found it could not begin to cover the loss. I can recall that my folks, who were farmers, never carried insurance because Dad always said our farm was not in a hail area. I can recall that we never had hail damage more often than about once in 10 or 12 years.

In other parts of my home county there were farmers who got some hail at least on the average of every two or three years.

Hail losses today are more severe because farmer's costs are continuing to rise and a complete crop loss could put him out of business. Farmers should explore all types of crop insurance available to them. We have carried Federal wheat crop insurance on our North Dakota farm since the program first went in effect about 25 years ago. It has been only two times that we have collected a loss; therefore, the premium is very low. In the event of a complete loss, the financial blow doesn't come quite so hard.

As if loss from hail wasn't enough, farmers woke up to find many of their cranberry bean fields infected with "halo blight". This is a bacterial disease of beans common to the colored varieties, especially cranberry and kidney varieties. Halo blight can be identified by the halo-like greenish yellow areas, roughly circular, that surround the leaf lesions it produces. In early stages of development, leaves of bean plants infected with halo blight have a characteristic yellow color. Varieties like Sanilac and Seaway are more usually affected by common blight. However, common blight of these varieties is pretty well kept in check by using certified seed. Certified seed is grown from blight-free foundation seed stock.

Halo blight can be checked by spraying every 7 to 14 days when plants are six inches high with a copper compound. Your local elevator or farm chemical dealer can supply you with the proper fungicide.

According to Dr. Wayne Adams, bean plant breeder from Michigan State University, a program has been under way now for several years to develop a halo blight free source of certified cranberry seed. Seed of this variety has now been grown for three years in California in a blight-free area. This seed will be brought back to Michigan for increase in Northern Michigan for distribution to Michigan cranberry bean growers. Halo blight spores are carried over in the seed and top soil. When the farmer plants seed infected with halo blight, it may show up in just one plant and from there it can be spread by man, animal, insects, temperature and weather. Conditions this season are favorable for the development and spread of halo blight.

Here again if this loss to bean growers by halo blight can be stopped, think of the thousands of dollars that can be saved by growers, and again farmers can say thanks to research. Generally speaking each dollar spent for agricultural research returns several dollars in dividends.

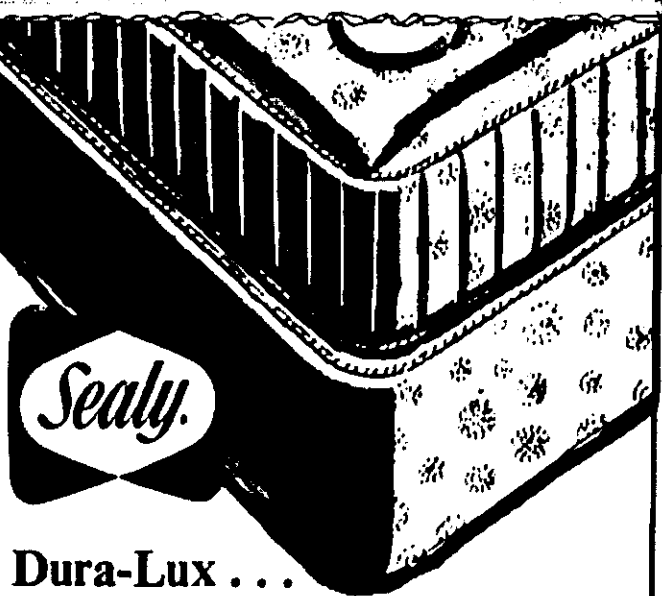

Speaking of agricultural research, on July 11 Dr. Wittwer, director of the Michigan Agricultural Experiment Station, visited Tuscola County, along with Dr. Wayne Adams, Dr. Fred Saettler, and Dr. Axel Anderson. They were interested in seeing and talking with producers of farm crops about some of the problems and needs of farmers for research that would be of most help to them. Along with the help of our farmers I was able to point out to them where research of past years is paying tremendous dividends and also where we need new and more research to save farmers those thousands of dollars, for example, they are now losing from halo blight infected cranberry bean fields.

NEW HOLLAND OR CASE — SELECT THE ONE THAT FITS YOUR NEEDS AND SAVE ASK US FOR A DEMONSTRATION.

New Holland's Model 975—a medium-size combine with harvest power to spare!

Check it out. Here's harvest power. Plenty of it. Whether you're planting narrow-row or wide-row.

Driving it is a big, brawny 85-hp engine, for example. Its got the heft to handle the heavy crops, the "push" for the tough conditions. Keeps you right on rolling till the crop's in.

And there's separating ability to match. The "975" measures in bigger than some of the "big" price combines. Extra-big strawwalkers and cleaning area are fed by an almost-40-inch-wide cylinder. The result is more corn—and cleaner corn!

And you'll get the job done in comfort with full on-the-go control of reel speed, cylinder speed, header height, reel height. Right from the cushioned contour seat. It's all standard equipment, too!

But best of all is the way the "975" is built to stay on the job till it's done. It's truly a powerful combine, built to do a powerful lot of work!
