CASS CITY CHRONICLE

Kelly: 3 weeks in jail

George Kelly of Cass City was sentenced in Circuit Court Tuesday after pleading guilty June 25 to a charge of carrying a concealed weapon.

Kelly was placed on probation for three years and sentenced to three weeks in the county jail. He was given credit for seven days. A fine of $100 was levied, along with costs of $200.

Kelly was apprehended by Bad Axe police officers early in March while driving at high speeds on M-81. After stopping Kelly, the officers spotted the butt of a .22 caliber pistol in the back seat of Kelly's car. Kelly entered a plea of notguilty with the justice of the peace. He changed his plea to guilty when he appeared in

Circuit Court. In another Tuesday Circuit Court case involving a Cass Cityan, David Lee Nichols, 27, of 6372 4th Street pleaded guilty to a charge of assault. A pre-sentence investigation was ordered, and sentencing was set for Sept. 24.

On Feb. 4, Nichols was involved in an exchange of gunfire with Grady Taylor, his next-door neighbor.

According to Cass City Police Chief Carl Palmateer, Nichols came home about 2 a,m. on Feb. 4 and found a dog owned by Taylor running loose in his yard, Nichols entered the Taylor home without knocking, and a fight started. Nichols was reportedly hit in the face.

Nichois went back to his house, picked up a 12 gauge shotgun, shot the dog and fired four times through the windows of the Taylor house, Meanwhile, Taylor had secured a gun and returned fire with two shots of his own.

When Palmateer arrived on the scene, Nichols was standing with a shotgun in his hand. Palmateer succeeded in talking him into putting the gun down. Tuscola County Sheriff's deputies and State Police troopers were also beckoned Concluded on Page 4

The Cass City Rotary Club honored Arthur Atwell, 76, Tuesday noon for 37 years of outstanding service to the club and to Cass City.

Rotary President Richard Drews presented a plaque to Atwell at the club's regular luncheon meeting Tuesday and said that it was for a job well done for a man who was always there when needed for the club.

The realities of our capitalistic system are taking toll even behind the badge of the sheriff's deputy. The loyal sidekick of the county's ace lawman is no longer content with a white hat and the satisfaction derived from public service.

The bride wore a sleeveless, A-line peau de soie gown with a daisy-patterned lace overcoat featuring a built-in chapel train. Her headpiece was a cluster of daisies which held a bouffant fingertip veil, She carried a colonial bouquet of carnations, white roses, daisies and baby's breath.

Mrs. Gary Suzor, sister of the bride, was matron of honor. Bridesmaids were Mrs. Russell Myers and Miss Sandra Faust, The bride's attendants wore gold satin sheaths covered with white daisy-printed organdy cages. They wore natural floral daisy headpieces and carried baskets of yellow and white daisles.

Michael Hayes, the groom's brother, was best man. Groomsmen were Robert White and Mark Kuhn.

The bride's mother wore a pink, A-line sleeveless sheath matching pink coat with white lace. Her accessories were white. The groom's mother chose a turquoise blue A-line sheath with matching coat and accessories. Both mothers wore red rose corsages.

A reception was held in the church parlors following the wedding and Mr. and Mrs. Hayes honeymooned in the Traverse Bay area.

What's the safest position to play in football -- the one that gets the fewest injuries? . . . A survey was taken last season and it showed that fewest injuries were suffered by those who play at the tackle position on the offensive line.

Do you know how many times in history have big league baseball teams finished a season in a tie for first place? . . . It's happened 5 times. . . First time was 1946 when the Cardinals and Dodgers ended the season tied for first. . . Next time was 1948 (Indians and Red Sox)... Then it happened in 1951 (Giants and Dodgers). . . 1959 (Dodgers and Braves) . . . And, 1962 (Giants and Dodgers).

Ever wonder how much money pro golfers tip their caddys when they win a big tournament? . . . According to the PGA, the pros normally give their caddys the first $1 000 they win and 2% of each additional $1,000 . . . This may vary from golfer to golfer, and if a caddy has been particularly helpful he may get more.

Whew!

Women are apt to do anything, Bob Chandler reported this week. He has been recounting all week how four women were returning from Bay City after a night on the town when the alternator quit and the battery failed on Colwood road.

Now anyone can have car trouble, Chandler says, but only women could come up with this solution: Instead of parking the car and walking for help, the ladies pushed the car from farm to farm at four a.m. while seeking assistance.

They finally found a farm with a phone and called a friend in Cass City who came and picked them up.

And what's more, they claim all of this is true, Chandler said, with a quizzical grin.

local school system. Last June More needs to be done, the some 4,000 diplomas were educators maintain. Presently awarded to Michigan people who 59 of every 100 people over age 25 in Michigan do not have a high school degree. An experimental program in southeastern Michigan this fall will attempt to "mass-educate" people in a five county area.

Educational instruction will be beamed from a UHF station in the morning and early evening. "Students" will use workbooks at home in conjunction with lectures. Any time the viewer feels qualified, he may take a General Educational Development examination from his local school. The GED award is equivalent to a high school diploma.

A second program is available for the 750,000 Michigan adults 25 and older with less than a ninth grade education. This basic program, financed primarily by the Federal government, is offered in 90 school districts of the state. Participants spend six to 30 hours per week in class either learning specific skills or working towards "graduation" into the high school completion program. Enrollment procedures are the same as for the high school completion program.

The Department of Education attributes growing success of the program to active support by the United Auto Workers union. The union encourages

Sell 2.8 million copies of soil

lithographs

Wilbur Kellogg, United States Soil Conservation Service Work Unit Conservationist at Caro, announced today that a set of 10-cent lithographs of a country scene in Michigan and 49 other States of America, plus Puerto Rico and the Virgin Islands, has turned into the most popular photographic series ever produced by the U.S. Department of Agriculture. During the last two years, beauty-loving Americans have bought more than 2.8 million of the "America the Beautiful" prints, including more than 390,000 singles and 47,000 sets. The series, now in its second printing, was developed by the Soil Conservation Service.

Verne Bathurst, in charge of SCS operations in Michigan with headquarters in East Lansing, said that sales of this State's colorful country scene now total over 52,960.

Captioned, "Cropland Once, Now a Farm Pond for Recreation," the Michigan scene pictures a mother and her two small daughters picnicking by a farm pond in a lovely autumn setting near Traverse City. The colorful series has been displayed in meeting halls, banks, outdoor fairs, museums and airports. Prints hang in homes, stores, schools, and libraries, and in many offices, including those of Congressmen. Foreign visitors have taken sets home with them, and a set was shown at a professional meeting in Canada last year.

"America the Beautiful" prints have been bought and framed for use as prizes and awards, cut up for scrapbooks and doll houses and used in TV shows and exhibits. The Tuscola Soil Conservation District used some as door prizes at their last annual meeting at Cass City.

Each print is in striking natural color and measures 15 by 20 inches on 20 by 24 inch paper, suitable for framing.

Kellogg explained that the Caro Soil Conservation Service office at 852 S. Hooper has blanks for these pic-

> Contrary to charges by critics, neither program operates as a "diploma mill," the department points out. Graduates of the high school completion program who entered Flint Community College earned higher grades than students coming directly out of high school.

> Students enrolled in the basic education program have increased their incomes, dropped off welfare roles, and many have entered the high school program. Last June a Jackson man who began the basic education program in 1965 was presented his high school diploma. In four years he had progressed from less than a third grade level to that of a high school graduate.

Continuing education programs for adults are offered by 229 districts in Michigan. These programs, which differ from basic education and high school completion, are entirely self-supporting. Students are

Viet Nam, He served his regular tour of 13 months, requested an extension, and when the first extension expired, he requested another. It was during this second extension that he was hit for the second time. Though disabled by a war which it is becoming fashionable to condemn, Bean reiterates his support of the administration's commitment. "The war is a harassment of the South Vietnamese," he said. "The North is trying to take over the South, and that is wrong. "If we pulled out of Viet Nam it would be very tragic. Once Viet Nam goes, where does that leave the rest of those countries."

But fighting in a war against human animals is behind Arthur Bean. He must fight against new odds. He will attempt to fight his way through high school after three years away from studying. He will attempt to fight his way through business school and into a civilian profession.

In the jungles Bean fought on two legs. He will be fighting his new battles with the help of wooden crutches because he believed it was his duty to fight the enemy in Viet Nam.

Mr. and Mrs. Roger S. Morse

Rev. Donald Turbin, pastor of the Cass City United Methodist church, officiated at the double-ring ceremony at two o'clock Saturday afternoon, charged enrollment, and a wide Aug. 10, which united in marrivariety of improvement courses age Miss Mary Helen Rexin of Cass City and Roger Sherman Morse of Sandusky.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Rexin and Mr. and Mrs. Sherman Morse of Sandusky are the parents of the groom.

With Timothy Knight as accompanist, Dale Bullock of Shabbona sang "O Promise Me" and "The Lord's Prayer."

The bride, given in marriage by her father, chose an Empire styled gown of Chantilly lace and acetate. The bodice and train were of lace.

Maid of honor was Miss Karen Anglbrandt of Sandusky and bridesmaids were the Misses Karen Roach of Saginaw and Vickie and Sue Schell of Sandusky. Their gowns were yellow, Empire style. The bodices were of lace and the trains were of chiffon, Arle Anglbrandt of Sandusky performed the duties of best man. Other attendants of the groom were Kenn Roach of Saginaw, Wally Marston of Sandusky and Greg Rexin of Farmington.

Mrs. Rexin chose for her daughter's wedding, a white shift topped with a lace coat. Her accessories were gold tweed. The groom's mother wore an aqua fitted A-line dress with which she wore white accessories.

White gladioli decorated the church for the ceremony and reception, which followed at the church. Saturday evening some 200 relatives and friends attended a dinner and reception in the Palms hall.

The groom, who was graduated from Sandusky high school in 1967, is a farmer. The bride was a member of the June graduating class from Cass City High School.

They left for a week's wedding trip through Northern Michigan and will make their home on a farm near Sandusky. Guests attended the wedding

Owen-Gage schools to open Aug. 27

All Owendale and Gagetown schools, including Gagetown St. Agatha grade school, will open for classes Tuesday, Aug. 27, with grade school children in the Owen-Gage public schools located in temporary facilities. Kindergarten in the Owen-Gage district will not begin until Aug. 28.

Temporary classrooms have been set up in the Gagetown gymnasium and cafeteria until grade school buildings under construction in Owendale and Gagetown are completed. According to Allen Fennell, superintendent of schools, tentative completion date is Dec. 7.

Owen-Gage district buses will run on the first day of school, Fennell said, Teachers and bus drivers are asked to report on Aug. 26 for an important meeting.

This new approach to language emphasizes communication instead of grammar, which may sound heretical to traditionalists, but should prove refreshing to the Willis-Campbell Elementary School students, according to Mrs.

Bernard Freiburger, elementary school principal. Linguistic English is a new approach to the old task of training children to speak and write their language. The child is not drilled on the mechanics of language, such as parts of speech. He is encouraged, instead, simply to use the language and only after self-expres-

"We will no longer simply rely on rules," she said. "We will have the children write more, express feelings more, and not be so concerned with capital letters and spelling."

A child begins school with some form of the English language, Mrs. Freiburger sald. In the early grades, the child is encouraged to use that language for the sole purpose of communicating and building confidence in his ability to express himself.

So what's all this talk about Negroes lately?

In case you haven't heard, a Cass City minister is concerned with the racial problem which is cating away at the American agle like maggots on a dead fish, and one of the village's leading families is also concerned, and other Cass Cityans have become interested in the project which Pastor Richard Eyer and the James Bauers have Negro youngsters from the city ghettos are visiting in Cass City. Interest and concern have manifested themselves in the form of talk about Negroes, and this is what it's all about,

Call it a sign of hope, and color the horizon bright, A small, rural, white community in Michigan's Thumb, which could be basking in apathetic isolationism, is becoming involved in trying to solve a problem which threatens to destroy a great country,

Perhaps it is too early to tell whether the village is really involved or simply showing random sparks of enlightenment. But a few have suggested that they would like to see me eat some crow for remarks I made about bigoted rural communities.

Make it southern fried, Not all villagers are concerned. There are those who are upset over the humanitarian behavior of those who feel a responsibility to do something. But those who have reacted to the news of the Negro vacationers in town with remarks like, "Oil your guns," are, I believe, an extremist minority, After talking with several members of the community about civil rights and wrongs, came to the conclusion that had underestimated village awareness and concern. I believed firmly that Cass City, like so many U.S. villages, was ignoring the moral obligation we all have of asking what we can do to make this --- as world to live in.

But there are some progressive thinkers in this village. The county as a whole may be conservative, but at the personal level I have been exposed to some ideas on civil rights which sound almost radical even to me.

Pastor Eyer of Good Shepherd Lutheran Church is coordinating this vacation program in his congregation, Mrs. Bauer was host to three children from Lansing who came to her through the Lutheran Human Relations Association

But bringing Negro children to Cass City for a week's vacation seemed small concession after a village resident offered a literary friend like Larry to the suggestion which prompted me to admit that I had misjudged the community.

President's Kerner core-city ghettos; providing for what confined to small, run-down housing projects, into adequate housing throughout the city and into the suburbs.

The suggestion I received is based on this idea,

"Why couldn't Cass City recruit 20 Negro families from the city?" was the question. "I'm sure we could find them jobs in the factories and could find them housing."

This brilliant idea, if adopted by hundreds of villages around the country, could thrust the rural community into the forefront in solving the race pro-

It would relieve much of the inner-city crush, would break down small-town prejudice and would demonstrate a wholesale change in the attitude of white America, which this country probably needs more than any-

Perhaps Cass City isn't able to accommodate 20 families. Then maybe 10 or five or three, This locally-conceived stroke of genius should not be ignored,

Perhaps some of you will think, as I did, that this represents a giant step forward in the area of race relations and perhaps some of you will work to follow up on the idea, And there will always be those who will say "Oil your guns."

But the mere conception of this idea and acceptance of the vacation project illustrate concern and a desire to become involved, which are so rarely found any more,

I found them quite unexpectedly, while passing through Cass City on my way to an uncertain future in a country besieged by domestic turmoil. And crow doesn't taste so bad after such a find.

Dear John,

I have never known a supply officer who was also a philosopher, and Larry Werner's old school chum, described in his column of 8 August, is no exception.

We are in southeast Asia because we do not want communists there. Corruption probably exists to some extent in all national governments and is practically a way of life in the orient. This is deplorable but is not likely to soon change and does not alter our national

It's too new. There are too many hues of gray enveloping the picture. The important thing is that you have, at least, tried to pry the eyes open and turn the heads of the non-committing society that harbors my ancestors, Although I doubt very much that the absence of our kids carrying a "roach" in their pockets is due to our recreational facilities or ample employment, I do believe that the more it is brought into the sunshine and clean air that, at least, it can be reviewed in a non-hostile environment. Then whether it becomes cancerous or benign in our area will be up to a better informed and less ignorant mind. I think it's a lot like sex education. If you can learn about it from a healthy

I think the nurses are getting tired of me, and I may get kicked out soon. All the news is good. All the tubes are gone and I can eat anything I choose. Dr. Barry says my incision is all healed and I've been taking my physical therapy in the whirlpool bath, so he is turning me back over to Dr.

Dr. Field says my broken neck bone is healed and I won't have to wear the neck brace again. So one month later I'm back waiting for a room at Harper Woods.

You are probably as tired of all my problems as Iam, so this will most likely be my final note until I can write a thank you that will probably take up a whole page in the Chronicle.

Things are looking up and I hope to see you all before too many weeks.

Very sincerely yours, SP/4 Tom Ellis

Around The Farm Thou shalt soil test

By Don Kebler

Every year as I make calls to diagnose crop problems, it appears to me that more farm operators than we care to admit are not taking full advantage of

This situation is not reserved to those who never, or very seldom, soil test, but to the diligent operators also.

It is surprising the number of crop problems, traceable to plant food needs, I have diagnosed even in the last three months. Many of these are identical to prior years' problems but on different farms and fields,

Here are a few examples of how even those operators who soil test annually lose the full value of their test results and fertilizer recommendations.

These operators first of all neglect to take a uniform soil sample so the soil test is not representative for the entire field. Secondly they delaytheir order until planting time and are forced to use a fertilizer of a different ratio than recommended. When it comes to adding micro-nutrients they apply them on the percentage of a mix basis rather than pounds of actual micro-nutrient requirements. For instance, where zinc is a known problem we recommend that 3 to 4 pounds of elemental zinc be supplied.

Claud Peasley, 74, dies in Novesta

Claud Peasley, a resident of Novesta Township, died at his home Thursday, Aug. 15, after an illness of a year. He was 74. Mr. Peasley was born in Greenville and was married to Mary Wilcox in 1918 at Manton. Following their marriage, the couple lived in Detroit, coming to Novesta in 1936, Mrs. Peasley died in 1959.

Mr. Peasley had served in the United States Army during World War I, He was a member of the Tri-County Post 308 of Cass City.

Surviving are three daughters, Mrs. Neil (Claudine) Hicks of Flushing, Mrs. Robert (Margie) Kitchen of Dearborn and Lucy Peasley, at home; two sons, Charles of Cass City and Lesley of Alpena; a sister, Mrs. Berneice Ballintyne of Muskegon; a brother, Ray Hay-maker of Delray Beach, Fla.; 16 grandchildren and five greatgrandchildren.

The Rev. David Altman of the Novesta Church of Christ officiated at services Saturday. Burial was in the family lot in Novesta Cemetery.

Cass City grad accepted at Bethel

David Sherrard, son of Mr. and Mrs. Leland Sherrard of R. 2 Box 460, Cass City, has been accepted for the fall term at Bethel College, Mishawaka, Indiana.

A June 1968 graduate of Cass City High School, Sherrard will join 170 other freshmen from 12 states, two provinces of Canada, and Mexico as they arrive at the school during the first week of September.

Bethel College is a four-year bate. coeducational, liberal arts college with a Christian atmosphere. Its wooded campus is located between Mishawaka and of Probate. South Bend, Indiana.

A farm operator applying 150 pounds of fertilizer containing 1% zinc will be supplying only 1.5 pounds of elemental zinc per acre.

Here is another shortcoming quite common among farm operators. These operators either forget a certain field is repeatedly producing crops showing a nutrient deficiency or don't recognize the problem. Good annual field crop history records, and the use of the same, would help eliminate these future nutrient problems. A knowledge of what crops require, and in what balance, is extremely valuable too.

It is true that soil tests and the application of proper plant : food nutrients doesn't tell how or when to apply the nutrients. However, the proper time and : placement is as important as: proper fertilization.

I have related just a few of the irregularities occurring which will adversely affect a crop's growth as far as plant food use and needs. A soil test can't prevent this. It is up to the operator.

A soil test can help to overcome these poor operator-responsible cultural practice. errors more than no soil test at all. So the operator who doesn't soil test has everything to lose, nothing to gain and this is exactly what he is experiencing.

Some farm operators are so neglecting their use of soil test information they are not even aware that there are reliable. micro-nutrient tests now available for manganese, zinc, and copper and magnesium, And why should they really? They have not studied their soil or crop needs through the use of the regular soil test. They have not applied recommended applications of nutrients as per test results. So how can they determine micro-nutrient needs?

There is one thing nearly certain: if the soil test based fertilizer recommendations are followed correctly and a crop doesn't grow properly, we can be more certain it is not so much a nutrient problem as it could be insects, herbicide, moisture, temperature. mechanical or soil physical problems.

Generic Drugs

In the continuing controversy over whether drugs should be prescribed by their chemical name or by their trade name, it's sometimes hard to understand how medicines can be "equal but different."

Medicines are rarely made up of just one ingredient. The main agent-that which has the most power to affect the body—is called "active." But acorn -- an idea -- in an effort there are others that are needed to carry the active ingredient through the body.

Two tablets may contain the same active ingredient, but will have different amounts.

And even medicines with equal amounts, of the active agent can be different. It may -made up into a tablet, ent kinds (or amounts) of nonactive ingredients.

That's one reason the argument continues: nobody can be sure that different amounts of active and non-active ingredients will have the same effect on the sick person.

For that matter, even the same dose of a drug made by one manufacturer may have different effects on two mem-bers of the same family. It's a difficult problem.

Fly friendly skies of the Thumb

By Dan Marlowe

In the upper Thumb, transportation to the metropolitan area of Detroit is oftentimes a dirty word.

No passenger trains. Few buses. Lots of automobiles, but the motorist desirous of picking up or delivering guests in Detroit must usually plan on taking a half day or more off from work.

All of us would have more visitors from outlying areas if it weren't for that drive to the railroad station or the airport. The visitors don't like it, either. Everyone involved would welcome an alternative to the present necessity for personal pick up and delivery.

way, wouldn't you go to Detroit more often?

Why shouldn't it be possible to schedule a round trip flight a day during the summer from Bad Axe to Detroit Metropolitan

Why shouldn't it be additionally possible to have the plane touch down in Sandusky, or Cass City, or Caro, or Lapeer to pick up additional passengers for the trip? Only one stop per trip however; otherwise the touchdowns would be too timeconsuming.

The idea would call for an investment in equipment in the form of at least a six-place airplane. Plus -- among other things -- insurance, depreciation, the pilot's time, and a percentage on the investment. Plus the project might easily need to be subsidized during its first two years of operation. Money would need to be

Why Hubbard Memorial Airport in Bad Axe as the focal point? Because of the area airports it is in closest conjunction to the extremities of the Thumb. And because the means are immediately at hand there, Airport Manager Vic Ingram is qualified to make the first flight tomorrow if the money and equipment is made available. He is presently working out cost factors involved in such a project.

Grant - Fraser adds play - off crown to Church League toga

Grant-Fraser made it an all winning season by breezing through the Church League play-offs with wins over the Catholics and Decker.

The biggest hurdle for the champions was jumped Thursday night when they edged the Catholics, 4-2.

The Catholics ended the regular season in second place after they lost a play-off game to Grant-Fraser. Gary Mellendorf pitched the win and Jim Turner was charged with the loss. Grant scored all of its runs in one inning late in the game to register the victory. Tuesday, Aug. 13, Decker won its first play-off game by powering past the Methodists 15-9. Lee Hirsch pitched the win and Bob Milligan was charged with the defeat. The Decker nine moved into the championship game by posting a win over Deford Thursday, 5-4. Hirsch posted his second victory of the week and Gary Kelley was the loser. In the title contest Saturday, Grant-Fraser turned lose its big guns to blast away to victory, 15-6. Rick Hartwick hit a circuit clout and Larry Hartwick chipped in with two round trippers to make Mellendorf's mound chores easy. Hirsch lost his first game in three starts during the week.

The champions scored six times in the first inning and coasted along until the sixth when they added six more to ice the contest.

Villagers' cottages hit by vandals

Cottages owned by Cass City residents were reportedly broken into last week.

The James Gross summer home at Oak Beach was entered and ransacked. Various articles were stolen. Entrance was gained by smashing glass out of the front door.

The Irvin Parsch cottage near Port Austin was the target of vandals who broke the rear window to gain entry. Nothing was stolen, according to Bad Axe State Police.

Self-sufficiency has never been known to secure efficiency.

Seems like a funny time to talk about replacing a furnace, huh? Actually, warm weather's the best time to make home repairs. Like replacing a cranky old heating system with modern electric heat.

And now's an especially good time to convert. Right now, your Edison-Approved Electric Heat Contractor will give you $100 for your old heating system when you change to electric heat.

Why electric heat? It's comfortable-really comfortable. No chill one moment nor blast of hot, dry air the next.

And operating cost is guaranteed. Call Edison for details, and some names of Approved Electric Heat Contractors.

So if your old furnace won't make it another winter, remember now's the best time to refurnace ... to modern electric heat.

Women should have equal rights

BY JIM FITZGERALD

"Believe me, I am not complaining," I told my wife, "but you are 1 kid and 5 years late." "Ok," she said, "what's this all about?" What it was about was an article I was reading about Ti-Grace Atkinson, head of the New York chapter of a new feminist group called National Organization for Women (NOW).

(Right here I will digress for a few sentences. I have long admired the clever people who name organizations so that the initials spell out the organization's goal or purpose. For instance, Miss Atkinson's group wants equality for women right NOW, buster, If it wanted equality next year the club would be named Ladies After Those Equal Rights (LATER), I once started a club called BACHE-LOR because I thought that was a great set of initials. But the best I could come up with was Boys Against Curvy Hers Except Lease Or Rent. We had a few meetings but soon disbanded because the members kept buying to protect their option money. They said they wanted more out of life than a pile of rent receipts. I've often thought that, given a better name, the club might have thrived and this would be a more beautiful world for a lot

Seddon reunion at Caro fairgrounds

The Seddon family held their annual family reunion Sunday, Aug. 11, at the Caro fairground pavillion. The 80 persons present came from Brown City, Caro, Cass City, Clarkston, Davison, Deford, Elkton, Flint, Kingston, Lapeer, Mayville, Millington, St. Clair Shores, Tawas City, Vassar and Washington.

After a potluck dinner, presiding officers Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Hampshire of Deford conducted the business meeting. Mr. and Mrs. Charles Wells of Vassar were elected president and secretary-treasurer for the coming year. The 1969 reunion will be held at the Caro fairground pavillion Aug. 10.

Copies of the family tree are available from Mrs. Charles Wells, Vassar. Members are requested to send any additional information, not included in the family tree, to the historian, Mrs. Mae McCrumb of Davison.

But back to Ti Hyphen Grace. She says that surveys prove the most likely candidate for suicide in our country is the 35-year-old woman with 2 children," I told my wife. "This is because marriage makes slaves out of women." "She is right," Pat said, "I would have shot myself long ago except then there would be no one to finish filling my Top Value stamp books,"

"What else does that woman say?" Pat asked. So I told her. Miss Atkinson says women dislike being housewives but they do not get a fair deal in the business world. Of 26 million women in the labor force, only 3 are lawyers, only 6% are doctors, only 11% are bank officers, only 10% are chemists and only 1% are engineers, Ti-Grace says the day must come when there will be complete equality between man and woman. But this can never happen as long as the institution of marriage exists.

"I say if you want full equality for women you have to eliminate marriage and the family," Miss Atkinson says. A woman should decide alone whether she wants children. If she does, they should be raised by special agencies, not by parents. This is already done in communal settlements of Israel and studies show that these children grow up to be as normal as people raised by Ma and Pa.

Lest you wonder, Miss Atkinson is not a crazed dropout from an Ann Landers correspondence course. She attended some of the finest schools in Europe and has about 6 months to go for her Ph.D. She is sincere in her conviction that marriage is a miserable mistried marriage once, for 5 years, and says never again, And she is no hatchet-faced suffragette. She is a former fashion model who should have no trouble finding a partner whenever she feels like a game of mixed doubles.

But no matter how glittering her credentials, Ti-Grace is still hung up on her hyphen or something. She is full of bologna.

I won't waste many words on that nonsense about giving your children to a "special agency" to raise. The kids at my house are as big a brats as any but I still get my biggest kicks from snarling at them every evening after work. Without kids, I would have to buy a dog to kick. Miss Atkinson has got to be kidding.

But what really bugs me is where oh where is my slave? I've been married to the same woman 13 years and I have still not been able to teach her the location of the garbage can. Each month of those years our water has needed softening. This is a simple but tiring process through which salt pellets are poured into some sort of a filter. But for all Pat knows, I soften the water with a hammer. She doesn't even know where the softener is. Those are only 2 examples of tasks I certainly wouldn't perform if I had a slave, And if I had a slave, I would not open doors for her, carry her luggage, and give her the last seat on the trolly. I would not work hard every day so that my slave could fill a nice home with wicker furniture I can't sit on. I would not jump and tremble every time my slave caught me forgetting to wring out a washcloth. I would not have to tell my slave how much I lost playing poker and I would not have to tip-toe at 2 a.m. for fear of awakening myslave.

And on and on. I agree with Ti-Grace that women and men should have equal rights. But I do not think my slave would accept the demotion, NOW or ever.

Older people need the same nutrients as the child or young adult -- the only difference is the amount.

As age advances, decreased activity reduces the requirement for fats and sugars. Excess calories become excess fat, and obesity increases the risk of ailments that can torment and actually shorten life after age 60 by 50 per cent.

But high quality proteins such as those found in meat and eggs are still essential to the senior citizen's dlet. So are the vitamins and minerals supplied by fruits and vegetables, Milk is important, too.

Loneliness, lack of appetite, faulty digestion and dentures can inhibit proper nutritional habits among older persons. Making mealtime more pleasant by sharing it with friends, eating out occasionally or listening to the radio can help whet the appetite,

Good food provides all the nutrients you need. Shun the peddlers of pills, tonics and food supplements who falsely promise the return of your youth. If you need a special diet, your doctor can recommend one. If you want nutrition information, contact your local Cooperative Extension Office for free pamphlets from Michigan State University.

car are really the proper critics of the gasoline you use. Some engines, like some people, can stand almost anything. But if yours is a high-performance, discriminating engine, these are the qualities in gasoline it would demand if it could talk:

 Smooth conversion to the proper gasoline vapor-air mixture to give fast starts and warm-up in any season and weather.

· Fast unleashing of high-octane, powerful components like platformate and alkylate into pure energy, with no wasteful knocking and the minimum of engine deposits.

· Clean, dry fuel, free of dirt, moisture and gum which would clog tiny passages.

 Additives that effectively stop corrosion and carburctor icing, that keep the spark hot and strong mile after mile, and that keep curburctors and exhaust parts cleaned to tune-up conditions for long mileage.

· Uniform quality, tankful after tankful, so that the engine is always eager to give top performance.

And, these are the qualities you get in new Leonard Premium 500. Try a tankful - it's a great gasoline!
