Negroes well received

Vacation project termed a success

Pastor Richard Eyer of Good Shepherd Lutheran Church is smiling a lot lately.

Teachers ratify salary

The rumblings of teacher contract battles are echoing throughout the state and country, but in Cass City, the rumblings have subsided.

The Board of Education ratified the contract in total Tuesday while the teachers gave approval to the salary segment, leaving consideration of the non-monetary items for a later date.

Starting salary for teachers with a bachelor's degree is $6500 with a ceiling of $8800 after 10 years. The master's figures are: $6800-$9200.

This compares with last year's salaries of $6000-$8300 for a B.A. and $6300-$8700 for M.A.

"This contract places our district in a competitive position with other districts in the area," Don Crouse, superintendent of schools, said.

city ghettos could visit in Cass City for a week.

Most of the children are black. Most of Cass City is white. All of Pastor Eyer was apprehensive.

The children have stayed with area families, and the program has been unanimously acclaimed a success by the participating families. And the result has been a wide grin on the face of Cass City's young civil rights-minded minister.

"I'm real happy with the way things have gone," Pastor Eyer said after the week-long program.

He is happy because what could have been a ticklish situation which the participating families would regret, proved to be an educational experience which the families cherish.

"We've enjoyed having Tony," said Mrs. Don Doerr of 12-year-old Tony Ray who stayed with her family. "It does the children good to get out of the city, and it is good for my children, who have never been in contact with Negroes."

"My children haven't even noticed that there is a difference," Mrs. Doerr's comments were echoed by all of the families who were questioned about the program. The families saw two positive results: the Negro children enjoyed themselves and the exposure increased the hosts' understanding of the Negro.

In at least one case, a change in attitude was brought about. "I was probably as prejudiced as anyone else," Mike Weaver said. "After living with Pat, I've changed my opinion somewhat."

Pat Russell, 13, vacationed with Mr. and Mrs. Weaver. "I've learned to become more sympathetic with the Negro's cause," said Mrs. Weaver. "Pat's father has a good job at Ford, but because of their color, they are forced to live in a ghetto. Her family is a victim of circumstance."

New ladies' shop opens in village

"Talk Of The Town," a ladies' apparel shop, opened this week in temporary quarters on Main Street in Cass City.

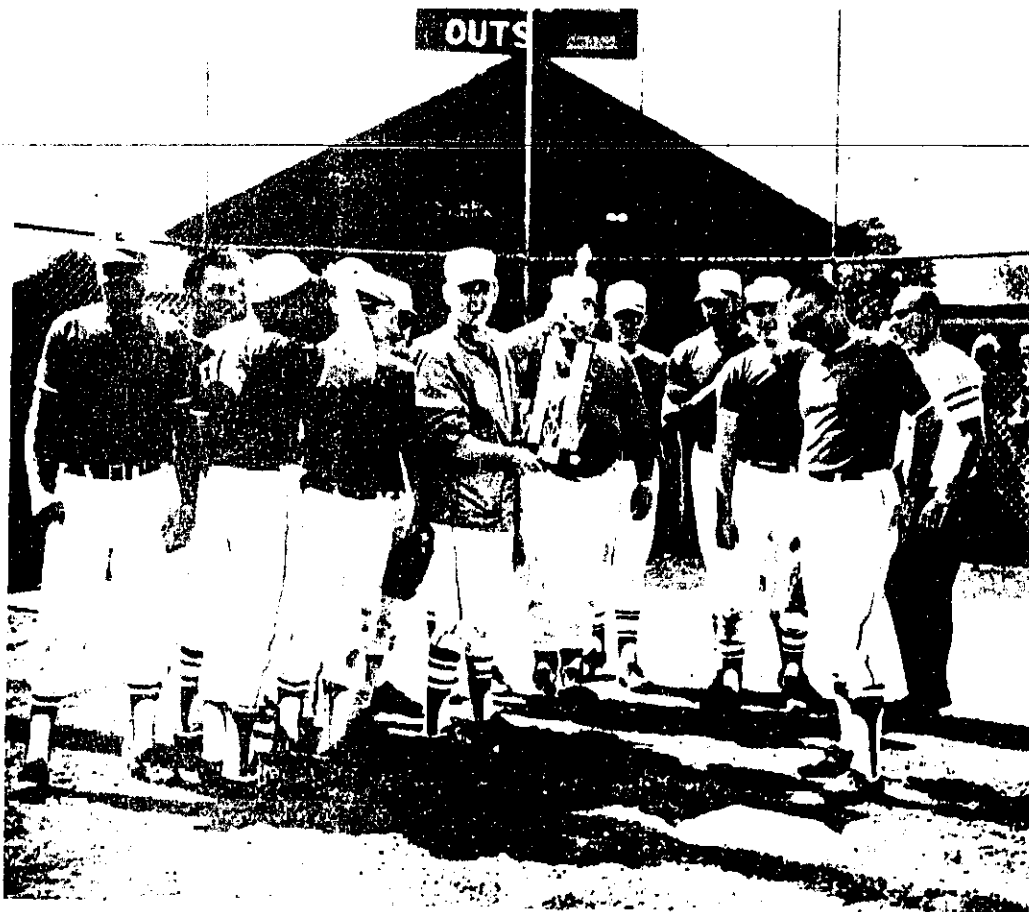

The firm, which is shifting to Cass City from Elkhart, features nationally advertised brands with the "accent on youth," Jim Hatch, owner, said this week. "We hoped to be in Cass City three weeks earlier," Hatch reported, in the building that houses the business offices of General Telephone Co.

However, construction hang ups at the new phone building have delayed plans so we moved here (next to Mac & Scotty Drug Store) until our permanent quarters are available.

Hatch is the assistant plant manager at Automotive Industries in Owendale. He lives with his wife and 13-year-old son in Elkhart.

Hatch has been a Thumb resident for six years. He said that he will close his Elkhart outlet after his store in Cass City becomes established.

The store will be operated by Mrs. Hatch and is now open for business.

Four killed, one hurt in fiery M-53 accident

Four persons are dead and one in fair condition at HHS and Dales. General Hospital after a two-car collision on M-53, just south of Apple Road, in Sanilac County, Friday.

Dead are: James Wallace MacQueen, 39, of Farmington, Mich.; Abel Ephraim Rivas, 22, 722 Studebaker, Warren; Timothy Ray Jones, 18, 1875 Ripley, Berkley; and John McCallie, 17, also of Berkley.

Robert Rivas, 21, brother of the driver of one car, is in fair condition with multiple fractures and contusions.

Petition for vote for Sunday booze

Tuscola County "boozers" will have their day at the polls after petitions with 1337 signatures were submitted to County Clerk Archie Hicks requesting that the issue of Sunday liquor-by-the-glass be brought to a vote. Gwen Cheek and Charles Mirros submitted 1337 signatures containing the 1337 names. Some 1954 names were required for a referendum, which will be part of the November ballot.

The County Board of Supervisors has voted the controversial proposal down twice, since the bill was allowed to become law without Governor Romney's signature. A local option provides that the county governing body must approve the sales before they are allowed at the local level.

Eight per cent of the electorate can petition for a referendum.

Sanilac State Troopers reported that MacQueen, a Chrysler Corp. representative, was driving south on M-53 in a company car prior to the collision with the northbound car driven by Rivas and carrying the other three victims.

The cars collided nearly head-on and ended up in ditches on opposite sides of the highway.

The gas tank on the Rivas auto apparently exploded and resulted in severely burning three of the occupants.

Robert Rivas was thrown through the windshield and free of the flaming car.

Cause of the accident is unknown. Investigating troopers speculated that the Rivas auto

Cass City hails Michigan's best

How sweet it is!

Cass City hailed Erla's 14-man softball team this week as the victors returned home as State Class C Softball champions following a week end of intense competition against the best in Michigan.

Cass City won the coveted toga and did it in convincing style: sweeping past the competition undefeated in four big games Friday, Saturday, Sunday and Monday.

It has been a long trail to the title for Erla's which has sponsored a softball team in the community for a decade... including seven years in the Ugly Softball League.

During these seven years, the Foodmen won just two district titles and had failed to cop a regional toga.

The team's best previous effort had been two years ago when it competed in Class B and swept to the finals of the regionals at Owosso before bowing.

The backbone of that team was the same as the one that brought home all the honors over the week end.

Dean Hoag, Dave Wilson, Pete Martin, Elwyn Helwig, Wally Hempton, Dan Erla, Al Bosch, Jim Knoblet and Jerry Hillaker were all members of Erla's 1966 squad that went to the regional finals and also played a leading role in bringing the 1968 State championship to Cass City.

Erla's coasted through the 12-team field from all corners of the Upper and Lower Peninsula, combining good hitting and strong pitching for the victories.

FIRST GAME

The first game for the Foodmen was a real laugh... after the third inning, Erla's whipped St. Louis, 10-2.

It took the locals a couple of innings to shrug off opening game tension and when they did they exploded for four hits and five runs in the bottom of the third... a lot more than Al Bosch needed to win.

St. Louis had touched Erla's premier chucker for a hit and a run in the second before the rally and he gave up another two hits and a single counter in the fifth as he coasted home with the first win of the tourney. Meanwhile, his mates were coming up with an 11-hit attack led by Helwig with three hits in four tries and Hempton and Hoag, who each slammed a pair of safeties.

A LONG WAYS

In the second game Saturday a team from Marquette came a long way looking for victory but dropped before the slants of Helwig in a pitchers' battle, 2-1.

Helwig fireballed his way past the Marquette nine for six innings, allowing just five hits and a single run in the third. In the second inning, Hempton rapped a triple and Dick Hillaker slapped a single to score Hempton. Hillaker stole second and rode home on brother, Jerry's, base knock a moment later.

That was the ball game. Bosch came on in the seventh inning and promptly struck out the side to preserve the victory for Helwig.

RALLY AGAIN

Erla's was forced to stage another of its patented tourney rallies Sunday. The champions trailed Grand Rapids by two runs almost before the spectators had settled in their seats.

A single and a home run by Doug Harlon put Bosch and his teammates in a quick hole and it was not until the fourth inning that they finally forged in front to register a 6-4 victory.

Erla's got one of the runs back in the third on a hit by Hempton and an error.

In the third a three-run rally put the Foodmen ahead. Hoag, Malsion and Dick Hillaker slammed hits and Hempton walked to set up the winning markers.

A two-run spurge in the sixth proved to be the winning margin. Hits by Malsion and Fox sparked the attack and broke the back of the Furniture City nine after they had rallied in the top of the sixth to tie the game.

CHAMPIONS!

The championship game was almost anti-climatic as Erla's mowed down Benton Harbor, the 1967 champions, almost dis-

FROM THE Editor's Corner

Reinard (call me Robert) Hamilton is a nine-year-old Negro child who cannot spell his name.

Robert has no father and is one of five children who lives in a house in Detroit's inner city.

Robert is courteous, clean and bright. He spent a week at our home.

And since Robert is too young to feel prejudice, and played with boys his age... also too young to give him a rough time... he enjoyed a tremendous week... didn't want to go home.

Robert learned that in Cass City "everybody has a bike" and "nobody steals anything." He ate all the fruit he wanted; gorged on Jell-O; visited the beach; learned about sugar beets and alfalfa and had free horseback rides.

Beautiful! But, I hope, Robert, that this taste of white, middleclass, rural living is as palatable at 19 as it is today at nine.

You see, Robert, you represent many of the problems that face the nation.

During your week here, we found out little about your family, except when we asked a direct question and then you answered in evasive or very curt terms.

You didn't know that we tried to shield you from the known bigots and I'm sure you failed to notice the covert glances as we walked down the street.

The biggest threat of all, Robert, is not the way you were treated, but the threat that you represented in the minds of many.

I'm sure that your arrival on the scene was heralded as the forerunner of a black invasion and while you, personally, were okay, how long would it be before your older brother or mother came to town?

And if you didn't do anything to change the thinking of any of these people, perhaps you did get them talking and thinking about the problem.

And if you did, Robert, you've done a lot.

We are happy and welcome you back next year.

Cass City views the candidates

The political machines have been mobilized in Miami and Chicago, and they have churned out a pair of candidates, one of which will probably be the next leader of the United States.

It is a long way from Cass City to either of these convention cities, and the typical big-name party delegate is quite unlike the typical Cass Cityan. But similarities arise out of a cherished American right: the option to hold and express political opinions.

During an election year, this pastime is nearly as popular as baseball.

Not all opinions filter their way from the rural village to the faceless political machines, but Americans express them just the same. And Cass City is all-American in this respect.

A post-convention telephone poll revealed that villagers' views are many and varied. Cass City, like the Democratic convention, can boast of little unanimous agreement on any aspect of the presidential race.

There are those in the village who vote for the man, those who vote for the party and those who would just as soon not vote. Regardless of what the views are, there are views. And Cass Cityans are ready and willing to tell you about them.

One of the major criticisms which has been directed at the two major parties is that they have nominated candidates who are essentially the same in political philosophy. Consequently, many claim that we in the United States have no real choice in '68.

Some villagers agree that Hubert Humphrey and Richard Nixon are essentially the same side of different coins.

"I don't like Nixon at all," said Mrs. Gerald Priesskorn. "I'm lukewarm on Humphrey. I don't know whom I'll vote for. I'll probably vote for Humphrey."

Mrs. Priesskorn, who calls herself "an independent," expressed deep concern about what she sees as a "non-choice" at a time when the country needs, perhaps more than anything else, a choice.

Richard Erla feels, likewise, that there is little variety in the supermarket of U. S. politics. Erla was a McCarthy supporter who is so disgusted with the choice of his party and the Republicans, that he thinks the best man for the White House is the third-party candidate.

"Truthfully, I don't think we have a choice," he said. "I think the best man is George Wallace. Wallace will surprise a lot of people. All the people I have contacts with in Detroit are voting for Wallace."

Some feel that Humphrey and Nixon are indeed different in what they have to offer America. Others believe there is a choice but feel it lies in the inherent differences between the Democratic and Republican parties.

Ed Golding and Alger Freiburger insist that Nixon and Humphrey are different as personalities. Golding, a Republican, supports Nixon. Freiburger is a Democrat and sticks with his party's candidate.

But neither Golding, township supervisor, nor Freiburger, a former delegate to the state convention, could point to specific differences between the two major candidates. "I think there is a difference between the men," Golding insisted. "I think we need a change because of the mess this country is in."

When asked to give specific differences between the candidates, Golding just repeated himself: "We need a change, and I think Nixon will give us a change."

Freiburger was equally vague about the reasons for his decision to support Humphrey. Where Golding espoused the need for change, Freiburger said, "Why change something which has been so successful?"

The former Democratic delegate spoke of Humphrey as part of an administration which has "been so successful." Freiburger's endorsement of Humphrey seems based on faith in the party.

"Humphrey will carry out the Democratic platform," Freiburger said. "He is well-qualified to carry out the platform."

Mrs. Clare Carpenter, a Republican, thinks "Nixon's the one," as the campaign buttons read. But her reasons, like those of Golding and Freiburger, fail to point up any concrete differences between the candidates.

Mrs. Carpenter, like Golding, points to the need for change. "People just won't put up with Humphrey and the way the present administration has let the country run down," she said. "Nixon will put the country back on the right track and won't use war and people's lives to make prosperity."

Mrs. Victor Guernsey, also a Republican, does not even try to differentiate between the personalities. She wanted New York Governor Nelson Rockefeller to win the GOP nomination. But "Tricky Dick" won out over "Rocky," and Mrs. Guernsey is supporting Nixon on the basis of his party affiliation.

"I prefer the more liberal wing of the Republican party," she said. "But I am inclined to stay with the Republican candidate. I believe in what the Republican party stands for."

Mrs. Guernsey admits that

It's Such a Big World

Some folks say that as we grow older the world grows smaller. Is that because of the wonders of modern communication and transportation? Or is it because when some folks grow older they become preoccupied with their own little orbit of life?

Junior certainly enters life completely preoccupied with himself. But once he begins to walk and talk—gosh how his world balloons!

That's why he needs the religious training our churches provide. His faith must keep pace with his burgeoning world.

And as grown-ups, in worship and Christian devotion, we need likewise the spiritual gifts our churches offer.

For it really is a big world. Full of challenges, opportunities, and promising tomorrows. It always looks that way to a growing soul.

Mrs. Robert F. Humann

St. Agatha Church, Gagetown, was the setting when Diane Jean Kain became the bride of Robert F. Humann Saturday, Aug. 24, at an eleven o'clock nuptial Mass performed by Fr. Joseph Friske.

The church was decorated with baskets of white gladioli for the ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Kain of Gagetown and the groom is the son of Mrs. Elizabeth Brese and Bernard Humann of Detroit.

She approached the altar wearing a white satin peau de sole gown fashioned with wrist-point sleeves and sculptured Alencon lace accented the bateau neckline, Empire bodice and floor-length skirt which fell to a chapel train. A matching lace mantilla and she carried an arrangement of white roses, ivy and a white orchid.

Mrs. Kathleen Mika of Milwaukee, Wis., was her sister's matron of honor. Bridesmaids were Linda Kain of Gagetown, sister of the bride, and Kathleen Lorenz of Detroit.

They wore apricot linen gowns featuring floral lace accents banding the Empire bodice and brief sleeves and floor-length skirts. Matching linen pillbox headaddresses with shoulder veils completed their ensembles. They carried nosegays of yellow mums, Zurlina roses and baby's breath.

The groom was attended by Richard Mika of Milwaukee, brother-in-law of the bride, and Leo Humann of Detroit, his brother.

Following the ceremony 200 guests attended a reception at the Elktion VFW Hall.

The couple left for a week's trip to Cape Cod, Mass., and will make their home at 20043 Schoenherr, Detroit.

Dick Szarapski heads reunion

Seventy-three persons attended the annual John Y. Brown reunion Sunday. Potluck dinner was held at one o'clock at the Cass City Recreation Park and the afternoon was spent at the Gun Club, southeast of Cass City.

Dick Szarapski was elected president and Charlie MacPhail, vice-president. Mrs. Gerard Marchand of Drayton, Plains will be secretary-treasurer.

Next year's reunion will be held at the Gun Club.

Letter to Editor

Sept. 3, 1968

Dear Editor;

Being the procrastinator that I am, it has taken me six years to write this letter. For six years I waited for someone else to write it, because I know many people dislike the system our high school has for buying and selling used books. I'm sure that every student who went to school Wednesday to sell his used books had the same feeling I had. It's a little distressing when you find that the new book you bought last year is no longer being used, or that you have to buy all new books. This can get a little expensive for parents who have two or three children in high school.

I don't see why Cass City couldn't rent their books like many schools in the area. This would most certainly cut down on the cost of books for the students, cut down on the confusion of getting books for the oncoming year, and eliminate the problem of having students who never seem to get all their books until a week or two after school has started.

I'm sure our school has a very good reason for handling their books in this manner. However, if there are enough parents who would rather rent their children's books, I feel our school should look into the matter and see if anything can be done.

Sincerely,
 Joan Maleck

Mr. and Mrs. John F. Generous

Renate Eleonore Connolly became the bride of John Francis Generous Saturday Aug. 24, in St. Pancratius Catholic Church, Cass City. The Rev. Fr. Arnold Messing officiated at the doubling ceremony at 3 o'clock for the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Milton Connolly of Cass City and the son of Mr. and Mrs. Elger Generous of Gagetown.

Dan and Tim Rabideau, cousins of the groom, served the Mass. Rosemary Fritz and Joan Asher, vocalists, were accompanied by Tim Knight at the organ.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, approached the altar wearing a gown of imported silk organza, fashioned with chintilly lace forming the scalloped elbow sleeves, sabrina neckline and Empire bodice. Lace appliques graced the modified sheath skirt which was highlighted by a detachable train which swept to chapel length. Her matching headpiece with pearl and lace accents held secure an imported English illusion veil and she carried a cascade of red and white roses.

Mrs. Barbara Generous, sister-in-law of the groom, was matron of honor and bridesmaids were Mrs. Judy Generous, sister-in-law of the groom of Fenton, Mrs. Carol Ehrlich of Zion, Ill., Miss Linda Krohn, cousin of the bride of Palatine, Ill., Miss Linda Kretzschmer of Owendale and Miss Arlene Hergenreder of Cass City.

The attendants wore lemon yellow saki linen gowns, featuring daisy applied bell sleeves, scooped necklines on Empire bodices and A-line floor length skirts, accented at the back with daisy applied floating panels. Matching petal headaddresses and bubble veils completed their attire and they carried a graceful crescent of lime carnations with lemon leaves.

Gerald Generous, brother of the groom, was best man and groomsmen were Paul Generous, brother of the groom of Fenton, Bill Dunn of Ohio, Elmer Adams Jr. of Royal Oak, Alvin Seuryneck of Gagetown, Dick Hunt of Cass City, Jim Connolly of Carsonville, cousin of the bride, and Dick Hunt were ushers.

Mrs. Connolly chose for her daughter's wedding, a beige Aline lace sheath with matching bolero and mint green accessories. The groom's mother wore a mint green sheath with white accessories. Both mothers wore corsages of white roses.

White gladioli decorated the church for the ceremony. A reception followed beginning with a buffet dinner at the VFW Hall, Pigeon, with about 500 relatives and friends attending.

The groom, a barber in Cass City, graduated from Cass City High School. The bride, a secretary at General Cable, also graduated from Cass City High School.

The couple left for a week's trip to Niagara Falls and Canada, and upon their return will make their home at 4209 S. Seeger St., Cass City, which they purchased.

The bride was feted with three pre-nuptial showers given by Arlene Hergenreder and Linda Kretzschmer, Barbara and Judy Generous and Mrs. Shirley Johnston, Mrs. Ada Hutchinson and Mrs. Jeannie Souliere.

Name officers at annual reunion

The Striffler-Benkelman reunion was held Labor Day at the Salem United Methodist church basement.

Presidents Dale and Louise Buehly presided at the business meeting, during which it was decided that the next reunion would be held the first Sunday in August at the Cass City Recreation Park. Jack Esau is the new president.

A memorial for six members of the family who died during the year was given, and the family newspaper, "The Broadcast," was distributed.

SPORTS FANS!

BET YOU DIDN'T KNOW

By H. M. Bulen

Here's one that's hard to believe. . . Johnny Unitas has NEVER won the National Football League passing championship! . . . That's right, he's never finished first in the official passing standings which are based on a combination of percentage of completions, number of touchdown passes, percentage of interceptions and average net yard gained per attempt. . . All these years Unitas has been considered the best passer in football, and yet, oddly enough, he's never been able to come out on top in those NFL passing statistics.

Did you know that for the first 27 years of football history, no players ever wore helmets? . . . The helmet wasn't introduced to the game until 1896. . . A player for Lafayette, George Barclay, designed and wore football's first helmet in a game that year.

Here's an odd, but true, fact about the highest scoring game in major college football history. . . As you might know, the all-time record was set in 1916 when Georgia Tech beat Cumberland 222-0. . . But did you know the game was cut to only 45 minutes, instead of 60, after Tech rolled up a 126-0 lead at half-time! . . . Just think, Georgia Tech was able to score 222 points, an all-time record, in only three-fourths of a game. . . And just think what the score might have been if they played the full 60 minutes!

4 die in Sanilac crash; village accidents minor crossed the center line and struck the MacQueen car. Only witness to the accident, Roger Dobson, 27, Bad Axe, reportedly saw the crash in his rear view mirror after the Rivard car had forced him to drive onto the shoulder of the road when the car and truck passed, travelling in opposite directions. The Romeo State Police Post reported that Rivard had been stopped at 1:25 a.m. near Detroit for speeding.

The Rivard brothers picked up Jones and Metcalfe, who were hitchhiking to Caseville, where they planned to spend the Labor Day week end.

Cass City firemen extinguished the fire in the Rivard car.

Minor damage and no injuries were the results of two minor accidents in the village.

David Lee Guinther, 19, of 4213 Doerr Road reported that his car was damaged Wednesday, Aug. 28, while parked in the General Cable parking lot.

The Guinther car was struck in the right rear fender by an auto driven by Mary Jane Amuck, 39, of Unionville. The accident occurred when Mrs. Amuck was entering the General Cable parking lot.

No tickets were issued.

Cars driven by Diana Jean Buchanan, 18, Bad Axe, and Helen M. Keyser, 27, of 4417 Woodland, Cass City, were slightly damaged Sunday on Leach Street.

According to Cass City Police, the Buchanan vehicle was pulling from an alley onto Leach when it struck the Keyser car.

Both vehicles were damaged.

Warts

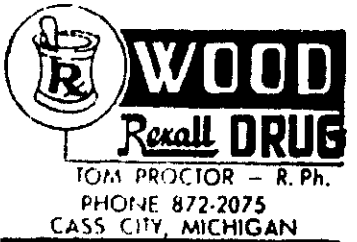

Cures for warts range from "the merely weird to the somewhat disgusting," it has been said. Your forefathers were urged to rub them with fresh lard, with milkweed juice, or with a grasshopper's "toe." Tom Sawyer believed that warts would be cured by burying a dead cat at midnight in a place where someone evil was buried.

Warts have been considered almost supernatural, in the way they come and go, but they are simply viral infections of the skin's outermost layer. They are not caused by contact with toads, but apparently can be affected by mere suggestion.

Warts most often occur on the hands, fingers, soles of the feet, the groin, and on the face and scalp. Treatment today depends on the location, size and number of warts.

One method is "cautery," by which the warts are dried up by sealing off the blood supply and nerve endings. An electric or superheated needle are used in this process, which seldom leaves a scar. Sometimes warts must be cut off, or an acid solution may be used to destroy them. Corn plasters may soften the warts so that they can then be scraped off.

Some doctors have hypnotized warty patients successfully, and suggestion therapy is widely used. Dr. E. W. Rosenberg, of Memphis, sometimes paints children's warts with a harmless ointment that glows under ultraviolet light. This "magic" convinces the children that the warts will disappear—and they do.

No one was injured.

Passengers in the Keyser auto were Patty Novak, 18, and the following Keyser children: Luana, 9, Diana, 8, David, 6; Dean, 5; Danny, 8, and Suzanna, 10.

Donald Buchanan, 15, was a passenger in the car driven by his sister.

Miss Buchanan was ticketed for failing to yield the right of way.

In other mishaps involving Cass City residents, three members of the Donald DeLong family suffered head and facial cuts when a car driven by DeLong, 41, struck the Military Street Bridge in Port Huron, Wednesday, Aug. 28.

DeLong's wife, Lucille, 43, and the couple's daughter, Connie, 18, were passengers in the car which hit the open bridge. The bridge tender and witnesses said that flashing lights and warning bells were working when the accident occurred.

DeLong was ticketed on a charge of failure to stop for a red flashing traffic device. The DeLongs were treated at Port Huron Hospital.

A Farmington woman was injured and a deer killed Friday in the only accident reported by the Tuscola County Sheriff's Dept.

Dorothy Erhard, 53, of Farmington was injured at 7:34 p.m. Friday when a car driven by her husband, John Erhard, 55, collided with a car driven by Wilma Hazel Dillon, 60, of Unionville.

Cite leaders for service in 4-H

Over 60 4-H leaders were cited for service to 4-H at last week's State 4-H Show which was held at Michigan State University. Plins were awarded for 20, 25, 30 and 35 years of leadership in 4-H. The awards were presented by the Michigan 4-H Foundation.

The Tuscola County leaders were: Mrs. Fred Black, Akron (25 years); Mrs. William Haske, Reese (20 years); and Mrs. Lewis Harper, Kingston (20 years).

The Champion Oxford ewe was exhibited at State Show by Merry Black, Fairgrove. Champion Fitting and Showmanship in Quarter Horses went to Grant Gettel, Kingston.

The Senior Livestock Judging Team placed 4th in the State, with 4-H member Tom Jickling placing 3rd place in high ranking individual. Other members on the team were Kathy Jickling, Kingston and Tom Russell and George Russell of Cass City.

The Junior Livestock Judging team placed 3rd in the State, with 4-H member Barbara Black, Fairgrove placing 9th high individual. Other members on the team were Bob DeLong, Cass City and Jim Koch, Millington.

In the State Horticulture contest the 5th place high individual was Margie Clarke of Cass City.

The Tuscola County Dairy Judging Team placed 12th in the State. The members on this team were: Roxanne Garner, Vassar; Dennis Opperman, Vassar; Randy Hampshire, DeFord; and Judy Campbell, Fairgrove.

In the Michigan Milk Marketing Tour evaluations, Dennis Opperman, Vassar was selected for the National Dairy Conference Trip to Chicago.

According to the police report, the Dillon vehicle turned in front of the oncoming Erhard car on Colwood Road, 1/4 mile south of Dickerson Road. Erhard was unable to stop in time to avoid the collision.

Neither driver nor Ann Hambleton, 82, of Unionville a passenger in the Dillon auto were injured. Mrs. Dillon was cited for failing to yield the right of way.

Charles Milacsi, 29, of Sebewaing was driving outside on M-4 in Wells Township at 8:58 p.m. Friday when a deer darted into the path of his car.

Milacsi was unable to avoid hitting the deer, which was killed. The Milacsi vehicle suffered damage to the front end. Milacsi was allowed to keep the deer.

Red Cross asks for ditty bags for servicemen

The Tuscola County chapter of the American Red Cross will send ditty bags to boys serving overseas again this year. Lilla C. DeBoer, executive secretary, announced this week.

Last year 459 bags were sent to Viet Nam and the Red Cross is hoping that this year's earlier start will result in more gifts to send overseas.

Mrs. Dorothy Stokes, Kingston, has announced that the WSCS, Past Matrons and Ladies Aid of East Dayton will make 51 bags.

Instructions on making bags and other information is available from the Caro office, Mrs. DeBoer said.

She also explained that she would like to have all of the ditty bags at the Red Cross office by the end of September.

Filipino pastor to address Baptists

Guest speaker at the Baptist Church Sunday, Sept. 8, will be Rev. Jose Latorilla, pastor of the Fellowship Baptist church of Bacolod City, Philippine Islands. He will address the congregation in the 11 a.m. worship service.

Sunday has been designated Rally Day by the Sunday School. Mr. Latorilla graduated from Doane Baptist Bible Institute and is one of the veteran pastors in the Philippines. He served as an evangelist after World War II. He has held many positions of leadership in the regional and national associations of Fundamental Baptist Churches in the Philippines and is the current chairman of the council of the Association of Fundamental Baptist Churches in the Philippines. He also serves on the board of the Philippine Association of Baptists for World Evangelism.

Award winning church series starts today

Beginning this week the Chronicle, in cooperation with 27 area merchants, will publish the famous and nationally-known "Support the Church" feature.

The series is acknowledged as the finest in the field of religious promotion and has won ten national awards. It is now appearing in over 1,000 papers in the United States and Canada.

The series has been endorsed by church leaders and is non-denominational. It carries an interesting and poignant message for people of all faiths.

The series will appear each week and will include a brief parable-like message illustrated with outstanding art work.

The first of the advertisements appears on page two.

2 guilty of breaking, entering

Two breaking and entering cases highlighted the Circuit Court docket, one defendant found guilty, the other pleading guilty.

On Friday, Richard L. Farnum of Vassar was found guilty of breaking and entering in a non-jury trial. He was sentenced to the county jail for 90 days, with credit for 13 days.

Farnum was charged with breaking into the Caro Tire Co. March 28.

Calvin Andrew LeBlanc of Kingston pleaded guilty to breaking and entering with intent to commit larceny at his arraignment Tuesday.

A pre-sentence investigation was ordered. Bail was cancelled, and sentencing was set for Oct. 8.

He was charged with entering the Gamble Store in Mayville.

STATE CHAMPS

Bosch saved his finest for the finish. With a State championship in sight, he removed all the stops and fired the ball past the runners-up almost at will . . . striking out eight and allowing just one scratch hit in the 6-0 victory.

And while magnificent Al was doing his yeoman's job on the mound his teammates were solving the slants of Pangman for six hits and as many runs.

All the runs that Eria's needed were scored in the first frame on a lead off hit by Hoag and a hit by Hempton.

But just to make sure, Eria's scored again in the sixth as Hempton cracked a circuit clout and added four more in the top of the seventh on two hits, a walk and an error.

With the win, Eria's collected the winners' trophy the same way they did the regional trophy . . . undefeated in tournament play.

NEGROES VISIT

The circumstance is called segregation. It prevents Negroes from living outside of the core city, where Pat and her eight brothers and sisters are confined.

Segregation is the product of prejudice, which probably exists in Cass City as it does in all cities, but which has barely made itself known during the stay of the young Negroes in the village.

"We have run into no problems," Mrs. Gerald Prieskorn said. She and Mr. Prieskorn were hosts to Leon Russell, a nine-year-old Negro. "The only thing I've noticed is a few stares on the street. I'm very pleased."

A few of the families reported minor instances of cruel remarks by other children, but generally, there was no negative reaction.

Mrs. Prieskorn hopes that the welcome atmosphere they have been exposed to in the village will prompt the children to aspire to something better than life in the ghetto.

"I hope the program has given these children incentive to strive for something better," she said. "It's worth a try."

The families all thought the program was well-structured in that it was not structured.

Issue plea for blood bank help

Authorities at the North-eastern Michigan Blood Bank this week issued a call for help to replenish a dwindling supply of blood and urged all interested residents to help when the bank visits Hills and Dales General Hospital Friday, Sept. 6, from 2 to 7 p.m.

The temporary shortage can be corrected if persons will replace blood borrowed or establish a personal account at this time, it was explained.

Kingston blaze destroys house

An unoccupied house on Ethel Road in Kingston Township was destroyed by fire Friday morning, according to Cass City Fire Chief Nelson Willy.

The house, property of the late George Cruden estate, was a total loss by the time the Cass City Fire Dept. arrived at 3:30 a.m.

Cause of the fire is unknown.

Librarian issues monthly report

A new high in monthly circulation at the Cass City and Elkland Township public library is reported for the month of August by the librarian, Mrs. Arthur Little. A total of 1416 books, magazines and recordings were checked out by patrons.

The greatest circulation was in youth and children's books with 598. Adult fiction checked out to readers was 539 and non-fiction books, 125. One hundred and eight magazines were circulated and 46 recordings.

Twenty-two new books were purchased. Eight were replacements for the youth section. There were six new westerns, three new mysteries and a number of light fiction suitable for youth and adults.

Two new non-fiction numbers include "Everyday Life in Bible Times" by National Geographic and "Ground Rules," the complete ground meat cookbook. New also are "The Hurricane Years" by Cameron Hawley.

This is a lengthy novel, the author's fourth, which includes "Cash McCall." Also new is "The Deadly Orbit Mission," by VanWyck Mason.

POLITICAL VIEWS

she does not like voting for the party, but this election year, when neither candidate satisfies her completely, sticking with the GOP seems to be the wisest course.

Many of those who believe there is no choice also believe the people have no say in who the candidates are. They claim the polls have indicated that Rockefeller and McCarthy have support of the majority, but the conventions chose men whose popularity is in the minority.

"The convention system is outmoded," Mrs. Prieskorn said. "Delegates in many states are not chosen democratically."

Mrs. Guernsey agreed. "Those things are cut, dried and settled," she said of the conventions. "People don't necessarily represent their areas. It is their own thinking or pressures. Humphrey and Nixon had it sewed up before the conventions started."

According to Erla, the conventions are not democratic in that the delegates are key party figures and there are few representatives of the "common man."

"And the delegates are run by the party," he said. "They have no choice."

Golding and Mrs. Carpenter, Nixon Republicans, said the Republicans reflected the majority's wishes in choosing their candidate but the Democrats failed to do so.

"Nixon, yes," Golding said when asked if his party followed the wishes of the people. "But I don't know about Humphrey. He was the choice of the convention, but not of the people."

Said Mrs. Carpenter: "I think the Republicans wanted Nixon, but I got the feeling, while watching television, that someone was cracking the whip to get Humphrey nominated."

It's called grass roots politics. The wheeling and dealing is carried on in the large convention cities, but opinions on politics can be found in the smallest coffee shop in the smallest town.

Opinions may rarely prove true, and the guesses are not always educated. But American politics is one area in which everyone is an expert.

13 file for senator primary

The list of candidates for the special primary election to elect a District 28 state senatorial replacement for retiring Frank Beadle included 13 names Tuesday, the deadline for filing.

Included in the candidates is Alvin J. DeGrow of Pigeon. DeGrow is one of two candidates from the Upper Thumb running for the position. The other is Alton Reavy of Akron.

DeGrow, 42, has a broad background in business, school, civic, fraternal, farm and veteran matters. He is past president of Pigeon Chamber of Commerce and is currently a member of its board of directors. He is a United Fund worker, an active member of Pigeon United Methodist Church and a Boy Scout leader.

He is also a representative of the district on Tri-County Community College Study Commission and was elected to the proposed Community College board of Trustees.

Senatorial District 28 includes St. Clair, Sanilac, Huron and most of Tuscola counties. Beadle's replacement will serve the remaining two years of the unexpired term.

Passing Through

Law and order Chicago-style

BY LARRY WERNER

Let's talk about law and order for a few paragraphs.

The Democratic National Convention in Chicago may not have produced much in the way of a presidential candidate, but it sure stirred up discussion about those three words which have rung and rerung from political podiums throughout the country and from left to right on the political spectrum.

Law and order.

Thousands of Americans in TV-land witnessed law enforcement officials battling with demonstrators often --- too often --- referred to as Hippies or Yippies. Following last week's telecast of these incidents, uninformed, but opinionated, armchair politicians from Alabama to Cass City were defending the tactics employed by Chicago Mayor Richard Daley's police force.

"Law and order must be maintained!" was the catch-all indictment of the anti-war protesters at the convention. "We cannot allow anarchy to run unchecked through this great land of ours."

Ring up a quick chorus of "God Bless America" and we can all follow Pled Piper George Wallace to the Promised Land of Law and Order where the government is always right and dissent is always treason.

Or if you are one of the few who recall that protest and dissent led to the concept of freedom in "this great land of ours," let's put blind patriotism and bandwagon ballyhoo aside for a minute and analyze rationally what happened in Chicago.

The inhumane handling of demonstrators in Chicago was not a victory for law and order. Quite to the contrary, it was an outright violation of a very cherished law of this land --- the law which states that honest dissent and freedom of speech must not be taken away. And if you call that exhibition order, well....

Political Boss Daley screamed, "Law and Order." Many of you TV-watchers heard him, and you concurred: "Law and order," when you should have been hanging your heads, as some of us did, ashamed of the naked fact that the constitutional right of honest dissent was being squelched with tear gas, mace and billy clubs.

That's right, Honest dissent. There were dozens of demonstrations held in Miami during the Republican National Convention, and there was no resultant violence. I am not referring to the racial violence which was only indirectly related to the convention. I am talking about peaceful demonstrations.

The Poor People demonstrated. Cuban refugees protested. And concerned Americans who believe sincerely that the war in Viet Nam is wrong demonstrated at the GOP convention. But you saw no mace sprayed into the eyes of these protesters. You did not see the Poor People clubbed senseless in Miami.

It seems as though the Republicans conceded that there is no place more appropriate for protesters to make their views known than at the very place where the potential new leadership of our country is being determined.

But Richard Daley and his political machine conceded nothing. The Chicago Machine was successful in halting effective demonstrations against the administration's policies in Southeast Asia. The Machine succeeded in stopping organized dissent which could have hurt the political chances of Daley's candidate, Hubert Horatio Humphrey.

And the Machine succeeded in brainwashing millions of Americans into accepting the view that the Gestapo-like show of force by the Chicago police was necessary for the preservation of law and order which was under attack from a group of uneducated, unshaven, long-haired Hippies and Yippies.

A few of us know better. We took a close look at those filmed accounts of the violence and saw that the demonstrators were not all unshaven and long-haired. We saw that the group included well-dressed young people, well-groomed middle-aged men and even clergymen.

Some of us have friends who had been planning for months to demonstrate in Chicago. They are not Hippies (whatever they are), but people like many of you in Cass City who realized long ago that this country needs a change.

Unlike you and I, who sat in front of our TV screens, these people wanted to make their voices heard by the party which stood a chance to make that badly-needed change. So they traveled to Chicago in an attempt to make democracy work.

But democracy did not work. Tear gas, mace and billy clubs worked. A corrupt political machine worked. A modified form of fascism worked.

And they called it law and order.

Art Club holds mystery trip

The Art Club mystery trip Aug. 21 included dinner at Klump's and the ladies browsed in antique shops at Harbor Beach.

Ten members and two guests, Miss Iva Hildinger of New Mexico and Mrs. Marg Strayer of Grosse Pointe Farms, were in the party.

Refreshments were served at Mrs. Francis Kennedy's in Uby.

The next meeting will be with Mrs. Guy Landon Sept. 18.

"HOLY COP CARS!" Cass Cityans were confronted with this rather ominous lineup of State Police cars Friday morning on Main Street. There was no cause for alarm, however, as the troopers were in town for a routine vehicle inspection. Cars were halted, and the inspection team checked for such things as defective equipment, no proof of insurance and no operator's license. According to the Bad Axe post, 30 tickets were issued.

Michigan Mirror

Strikes, millage plague schools

BACK TO SCHOOL

Some 2.5 million school children are scheduled to return to Michigan classrooms this month. Many may not attend opening day. By the last week in August about 140 school districts had not reached agreement with teachers over new contracts, according to the Michigan Education Association.

This does not mean that teachers in those districts will strike immediately. Some may; others will choose to begin teaching without contracts.

Educational programs will suffer in those districts where voters have defeated operating millage. Local school boards are in the difficult position of satisfying teacher demands and maintaining academic standards while voters refuse to authorize extra revenue.

Voters in 197 districts turned down operating millage requests this year, while 339 propositions were approved. When operating millage is defeated, school boards face an immediate problem. They must either call for another millage election or reduce expenses. Increased enrollments make cost-cutting difficult, and reductions result in over-crowded classrooms, inferior programs, and loss of qualified teachers. The inconvenience to taxpayers in loss of services is often more costly than the millage.

A number of educators believe that negative votes on millage propositions do not reflect negative attitudes towards schools. They suspect that a millage vote is one of the few places remaining where taxpayers can express dissatisfaction with taxes in general. No matter what the reasons, school children are directly affected by millage defeats. The Self-confidence is truly a name brand on any market.

Today a man is known by the money he manages to keep.

problem must be resolved primarily at the local level.

NEW TRAFFIC LAWS

Michigan State Police report that 2,123 people died on Michigan highways in 1967, and 151,297 were injured. It was the seventh year in which the death toll exceeded the 2,000 mark. Col. Fredrick E. Davids, director, comments, "This staggering loss of life, human suffering and financial waste is, at once, tragic and unnecessary. While exposure factors of more vehicles, more miles driven and more drivers continue to mount, individual attitudes and responsibilities seem to decay." Statistics show that the average age accident-prone driver in 1967 exhibited the same characteristics as in 1966. He is young, drives too fast for highway conditions, carries nine "points" on his driving record, and was probably drinking.

He caused an estimated economic loss of $405 million in 1967 alone, enough to build four Mackinac Bridges.

Lawmakers introduced about 300 bills dealing with traffic safety during the last two years. More than 10 percent became law.

Jack Green, managing director of Traffic Safety for Michigan, credits the 74th Michigan Legislature with "possibly the most significant record on traffic safety in more than a decade."

Most dramatic of all new legislation is that which:

- allows police to impound your car if you're driving with a suspended license,
- makes it mandatory for you to take a "breathalyzer" test if police suspect you're intoxicated, or face license suspension,
- limits the courts' and License Appeal Boards' options in hearing appeals under the implied consent law,
- requires motorcyclists to carry helmets on their vehicles, and wear protective eye glasses or have windshields when traveling more than 35 mph,
- regulates operation of snowmobiles.

Hold this up to your mirror—any way you look at it, we're behind you.

When we guarantee an electric water heater, we guarantee that you get all the hot water you need. That's right. All the hot water you need. Or you get all your money back. And you have a full year to make up your mind about it.

Satisfied? There's more. For large families we have an 80-gallon heater that provides plenty of hot water for about $5.03 per month in normal use. And for not-so-big families a 50-gallon heater that runs about $3.30 per month in normal use.

Still more. Edison's No-Charge Repair Service. No charge for electrical operating parts or labor. Got the picture? So, if you're not satisfied with your present water heater, why not consider a new electric one?

That'll put you in a good frame of mind.

Agent's Corner

By Mrs. Ann Ross
Extension Agent

To be honest or not to be honest -- that's what children learn at home. And you're the head teacher.

"Honesty" is a pretty big word for a little child. It means much more than not taking candy from the store. It means telling the truth to the people around him. Your child will think what you do is okay for him to do, too. So watch your step.

If you're honest with family members, friends strangers and especially with him, he'll probably follow your example. If he does, he'll have an important lesson that will stick with him for life.

Your conversations with him are his first-hand lessons in honesty. Don't fog reality over by constantly telling him how cute or smart he is. Someday he'll meet someone who won't hesitate to tell him differently.

If you're tactfully truthful and accepting of him no matter what he's like, it will be much easier for him to adjust to what others think of him. From your honest opinions, he'll learn to accept criticism outside the home.

Don't forget that this is a two-way affair. If you're honest with your child, let him be honest with you, too. When he criticizes you, he's trying his wings at being honest. If you fly into a rage, he might think others will do the same and begin being deceptively kind rather than kindly truthful.

So consider your reactions as well as your actions. Your child is watching you all of the time.

Down Memory Lane

FROM THE FILES OF THE CHRONICLE

FIVE YEARS AGO

Coach Carle Lemanski was pointing to enthusiasm as his team's chief strength as the Cass City Hawks began practice for the 1963 season. He pointed to enthusiasm because there was little else. Only 19 boys turned out for varsity workouts.

The Elkland Township Board was to vote on the supplying of gas to homes by Southeastern Michigan Gas Co. Township Supervisor Ed Golding predicted that the measure would be approved by the board.

James M. Wallace of Cass City was appointed district scout executive of the Paul Bunyan Council, Boy Scouts of America. He will coordinate the training and activities of the volunteer leaders who work with the boys in Chippewa District, which comprises all scouting units in the city of Midland and the southern part of Midland County.

Mrs. Arlington Gray of Decker was one of 245 students to earn degrees or certificates from Central Michigan University. Mrs. Gray was awarded a B.S. degree with majors in education, social science, biology and English.

TEN YEARS AGO

Coach Mike Yedinak greeted 59 football candidates as the 1958 team began preparations for the upcoming season. Coach Yedinak is boasting an experienced backfield with power and speed.

The Cass City Village Council yielded to the requests of some 40 Cass City merchants Tuesday and rescinded parallel parking on Main Street. The merchants apparently convinced the council that angle parking is more important than State and Federal aid which Cass City would receive for widening the street and installing storm sewers and curb and gutter.

Baldy's swept a double header from an all-star City League squad Thursday to cap a successful season for the four-team league. Elwyn Helwig pitched and defeated Bob Wallace in a 2-1 pitching duel.

The Cass City Woman's Study Club will start its 50th year in the community with a luncheon honoring Mrs. A. J. Knapp, past state president of the Michigan Federation and first head of the Cass City club.

TWENTY-FIVE YEARS AGO

Uniforms were issued to 30 boys for pre-school football practice. Those in attendance at the first practice were: Dick Root, Leigh McConnell, Dale Kettlerwell, Bob Ryland, John Bugbee, Melvin Fredericks, Bill Bird, Paul Molnar, Jim Champion, Ed Ross, Harry Wright, Bob Benkelman, Grant Strickland, Ed Karr, George MacArthur, Bill Zemek, Bob Foy, Dale Little, Dean Robinson, Bruno Kruzel, Jim Mark, Clare Kenney, Carl Buehly, Bob Atkin, Charles Auten, Bill Chapdelaine and Alden Asher.

Betty Wagner, after years of hoping, realized her dream of teaching in South America when she accepted a position in Maracaibo, Venezuela, to teach in an American school. Miss Wagner learned of the opening when one of her sisters overheard a conversation in a teachers' agency pertaining to possible openings in the Maracaibo schools.

THIRTY-FIVE YEARS AGO

Mrs. Hugh McColl, the oldest Cass City resident, recently celebrated her 93rd birthday. In honor of the event, the Rotary Club presented her with a bouquet of flowers. Mrs. McColl was also honored at a birthday party given by her daughter, Mrs. G. W. Landon. Football practice opened with 20 men reporting for the first workout. The opening game will be played with Harbor Beach. The Striffler family met in the grove 2 1/2 miles north-east of Cass City, known to them as "Uncle John's Woods," for their family reunion. C.J. Striffler was elected president and H. L. Hunt, secretary-treasurer, following a potluck dinner.

VOTE FOR
ALTON REAVEY
REPUBLICAN CANDIDATE
STATE SENATOR
28th District

At The SPECIAL PRIMARY ELECTION

SEPTEMBER 17

Due to the retirement of Senator Frank Beadle, a special election will be held SEPTEMBER 17 to select candidates for State Senator for the 28th District composed of Tuscola, Huron, Sanilac and St. Clair counties.

Tuscola County has a man that is well-qualified to hold this vital and important post. He is ALTON REAVEY, a veteran official of county government. He has represented Almer Township for many years as supervisor, has held all key committee posts and the chairmanship of the board of supervisors, has worked hard to develop master planning, economic development and improvement in local government. He knows the problems and he knows the people who can help solve them. He has been active in local affairs and is a veteran official of the county fair association. As a farmer, businessman and public official, REAVEY is qualified and experienced to deal with the problems facing Michigan... and he will give our county and our area the fair voice in Lansing that it is entitled to.

Pvt. Michael Root, stationed at Fort Dix, New Jersey, spent from Saturday until Monday with his wife, Mrs. Phyllis Root, at his parental home here.

ALASKA TRIP

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Sinclair arrived home Saturday, Aug. 24, after spending nearly two months traveling through Alaska.

They left July 2 for Fairbanks, from where they took a plane to the Arctic Circle, flying over Kotzebue, and then to Nome. They saw the whaling center, Mt. McKinley and several points of interest. They witnessed the damage done at Anchorage by the earthquake in 1964.

They came home by way of British Columbia and the western states. They went by car with a camper trailer and also traveled by boat and plane, a total of 11,000 miles.

The Sinclairs found unusual rocks in northern British Columbia and Alaska. They are on display this week in Cass City Floral's window.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Comment, Mrs. Elmer Kraus and Arthur Freeman spent Thursday and Friday in Mildmay, Canada, visiting Mr. and Mrs. Howard Johnson.

The Freeman family reunion was held Sunday at the cottage of Mr. and Mrs. Laurence Freeman in Casaville. Attending were: Mrs. Elmer Kraus, who is visiting here from St. Petersburg, Fla., Mr. and Mrs. Bert Bain, Charlene and Reld of Drayton Plains, who were here over the week end and until Monday, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Comment, Arthur Freeman, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Freeman, Mr. and Mrs. Clare Comment and family and the Laurence Freeman families.

Mr. and Mrs. Avon Oest of Detroit spent Sunday with Mrs. Julius Goslin. Miss Mary Rose Hall spent from Sunday until Wednesday with Mrs. Goslin. Mrs. James Woodcox and Jack Goslin were Thursday overnight guests of Mrs. Goslin, called home by the sudden illness of their father, Julius Goslin, who is a patient in Hills and Dales Hospital.

Richard Mereno, who spent the week with Albert Lopez and niece, returned to his home in Saginaw Friday.

SELF-APPRAISAL
Many men shiver in the cold just because they imagined they had the fire of genius.

FLEMING REUNION

The Fleming family reunion was held at the farm home of Mr. and Mrs. John Fleming, with Mr. and Mrs. William Fleming of Dearborn and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Fleming of Ann Arbor as hosts.

A cooperative dinner was enjoyed at noon with a surprise birthday cake for Mrs. Jane Fleming Blank of Cleveland, Ohio.

The afternoon was spent in games. Guests were present from Tucson, Ariz., Chicago and Bloomfield, Ill., Cleveland, Ohio, Dearborn, Detroit, Saginaw, Port Huron, Frederick, Shover and Shabbona.

Grifka completes infantry training

Army Private James J. Grifka, son of Mr. and Mrs. Alex J. Grifka, Route 2, Shover, completed eight weeks of advanced infantry training Aug. 9 at Ft. Lewis, Wash.

He received specialized instruction in small unit tactics and in firing such weapons as the M-14 rifle, the M-60 machine gun and the 3.5-inch rocket launcher.

Pvt. Grifka entered the Army in April 1968 and completed basic training at Ft. Leonard Wood, Mo.

He was graduated from Uby High School in 1965 and was employed by Saginaw Steering Gear before entering the Army.

Study Club starts 60th year

The Woman's Study Club will mark its 60th year of existence at the opening meeting of the 1968-69 season at 2:30 p.m. Sept. 10 in the Cultural Center.

Mrs. Alfred J. Knapp was the first president when the club studied Germany in 1908. Mrs. Raymond McCullough is the 1967-68 president, and this year's program is based on the international scene.

Hostesses on the reception committee are: Mrs. Herbert Ludlow, chairman, Mrs. Harold Perry, Mrs. Fred Maler and Miss Laura Maler.

A social hour will precede the business meeting and program. Dues will be accepted by the secretary, Mrs. Ernest Croft, and the program booklet distributed.

The booklet has been prepared by the Program Committee, Mrs. George Murray, chairman, Mrs. Harry Falkenhagen and Mrs. Ernest Schwaderer.

Albert Whitfield dies at residence

Albert Whitfield, 81, lifelong resident of this vicinity, died in his home Friday of a heart attack.

He was born Aug. 11, 1887, in Greenleaf Township. He and Mrs. Hazel Hall were married Oct. 9, 1949, in Cass City.

Mr. Whitfield is survived by his widow, a stepdaughter-in-law, Mrs. Leila Hall, and a stepgrandson, Richard Hall, both of Gagetown.

A World War I veteran, he was a member of Tri-County American Legion Post.

Services were held Monday at 1 p.m. Rev. Melvin R. Vender, retired Presbyterian minister, officiated. Burial was in Elkland Cemetery.

Uncle Tim From Tyre Says:

Dear Mister Editor:

Ed Doolittle told the fellers at the country store Saturday night he was thinking about taking up the preaching profession. He said the Lord couldn't save the country for the eternal life until we got it saved from the Congress. He reported he had been working on his first sermon, had took for his text "The Money Pipe System," and would like to try it out on the fellers.

Clem Webster, that had a hunch what was coming, offered a reserlation that Ed didn't have no license to preach and was agin him using the store for a pulpit. But the fellers voted down Clem's reserlation and told Ed to percede without interruption.

First off, said Ed, the Guv-ernment had got to be nothing but a money pipe from the taxpayer to the tax user and they was so many holes in the pipe the money never gits to the other end. He had some figgers from a Washington column writer where $53 million was assigned to the war on poverty in Detroit from 1964 through 1967 and ended up with only $13 million ever getting to the battelfield. The rest leaked through holes in the pipe, like one feller that was paying hisself $14,000 a year and paying his wife $11,000 to study the needs of the pore folks in Detroit that never got nothing.
And this same column writter had figgers where $37 million had gone through the money pipe fer a public housing project in St. Louis and all they done was tear down one story slums and build $37 million worth of three-story slums.

Zeke Grubb butted in to say he was agreed with Ed, that the Congress was demanding "truth in packaging" and "truth in lending" but was giving away billions fer aid to poverty and nobody but the Lord above knowed where half of it was going. He said he was in favor of a "truth in aid" law.

Ed said he appreciated them remarks from Zeke but he would like to git on with his sermon.
It wasn't too long ago, allowed Ed, that a man that was able to work and wouldn't work was a bum, but we don't have no bums no more. They have got on the permanent welfare rolls and was living high on the hog.
Fer instant, said Ed, one welfare worker looked into a case and the unemployed Daddy of the family was gitting $275 more a month than the welfare worker was making. It ain't no wonder, allowed Ed, that them Guv-ernment workers punches holes in the money pipe ever chanc they git. Ed ended up his sermon by advising that the people take the money pipe away from the Congress and launch it in space from Cape Canaveral.

Personal, Mister Editor, I think Ed had a pretty good sermon, but his church would move him on to another pasture the first time he preached it.

Yours truly,
Uncle Tim

Inflation:

a U. S. tradition

By Dan Marlowe

Did you think that our Revolutionary forebears bequeathed us a heritage of fiscal conservatism and sound money management?
Then think again.
Our present federal government can point the finger all the way back to the Continental Congress in defense of current inflationary policies.
Between 1775 and 1778 the Continental Congress along with several colonial governments issued nearly $500,000,000 in paper money to finance the Revolutionary War. By 1779, continental currency could be redeemed for only three-hundredths of its value; hence the old expression "not worth a continental."

By the end of the war, these notes were widely discredited both at home and abroad, but they had served a purpose.
Continental currency had financed the war. Serving as a substitute for taxation, and distributing losses over a long period of time, continental currency played an invaluable role.
It was a role played at the expense of patriotic users, however.

That wise old owl, Benjamin Franklin, spoke enthusiastically of the process: "The currency as we manage it is a wonderful machine. It performs its office when we use it; it pays and clothes troops, and provides victuals and ammunition; and when we are obliged to issue a quantity excessive, it pays itself off by depreciation."

One wonders just how many "depreciated" continental dollars Franklin was caught with after the war.

Oddly enough, continental currency in many instances is worth more today than it was during the period of its actual use. Printed on an excellent quality of paper with high rag content, much of it has endured to the present day. The paper was thick enough to be almost a cross between paper and cloth.
Thousands of pieces in extremely fine or even uncirculated condition are in the hands of collectors today.

Not so the Confederate money that whirled off the printing presses during the Civil War.
The paper on which they were printed has not withstood the test of time. Genuine Confederate notes today command premium prices, although these bills once covered Dixie "like the dew." And like their Revolutionary antecedents, their value in their own time swiftly fell to nothing.

Some of us can still recall the spectacular decline of the German mark during and after World War I. When I was a boy collecting stamps, million-mark stamps weren't at all uncommon.

Inflation, the watchdog that eventually bites unheeding governments.

Doesn't it all somehow have a familiar ring?

Philathea class takes bike hike

The Philathea class of the Baptist church held their monthly social meeting Tuesday evening, Aug. 27. It was a bike hike, followed by a wiener roast at the park on Third St. Fifteen persons attended.

Bill Ewald presided at the business meeting, when a class missionary project was discussed. Ferris Ware presented devotions.

The September party will be held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Wells.

"If It Fitz..."

George Wallace is not fair

BY JIM FITZGERALD

The shame of my life is that I served 3 years in a segregated army without protesting one peep.

The hope of my life is that my son was amazed to learn there ever was such a thing as a segregated U.S. Army. Onward and Upward, But man, it is a slow and agonizing trip.

I'm scribbling these thoughts after watching one of the splendid "Of Black America" TV shows. They are sponsored by Xerox, just about the only national advertiser with guts enough to lend its name to anything more controversial than "I Love Lucy."

This particular Xerox show told how the U. S. won World War II with 2 armies - 1 white and 1 black. Mostly, the blacks did the dirty work, finding what glory they could in toting cargo and driving half-tons. Most certainly they lived apart from the marvelous White Man, always in the shabby section of camp. This is how they fought for the Land of the Free.

Ten-year-old Eddie couldn't believe it. He also couldn't believe that, only 20 years ago, Willie Horton or Willie Mays would not have been allowed to play big league baseball simply because their skin is black. "That sure wasn't fair," Eddie said.

Ah, Out of the mouths of babes. It is sad that such unfair things could happen and still happen. The only encouraging thing is that, incredibly, we are a civilization which can measure fairness by the calendar. What was fair yesterday can be a dirty gyp today. We do wake up, but slowly. This is not right but it is better than a sharp stick embedded in the eyeball forever.

An earlier Xerox show dealt with slavery. A present-day plantation owner was interviewed. He mourned for the by-gone days when "our nigras" were happy and well behaved, just giggling and singing as they picked cotton all day, yassuh boss. This was before the meddling agitators came out of the north to tell southern Negroes that life looked better from the front of the bus except keep a close eye on the driver. But the plantation owner admitted he and his friends were getting "more liberal" as years passed.

"In what way are you more liberal?" asked the interviewer. "Well," said the owner, "we are beginning to realize that Negroes are human beings."

"What did you think they were before you thought they were human?" the interviewer asked. "Well, we regarded them as sort of big pets," the owner admitted.

No comment. I might throw up on the words.

My discouragement grows when the mail brings me such messages as this one, received last week: "Negro crime, riots and their population explosion grow worse and worse. Our only hope is Wallace. Psalm 140:1, Second Corin. 6:14 and 17, Exodus 21:12, 1, Amos 5:15."

There is nothing more depressing than a Bible-quoting bigot. Unless it is a Bible-quoting bigot who thinks George Wallace can save the world. You can hit me in the head with 1500 Bibles but you'll never convince me it is Christian to judge a man by his skin. If anyone's Bible says black people are born less worthy than white, then that Bible is wrong.

And there is no way you can sell me George Wallace as anything but an opportunist who shouts "law and order" when he means "keep the niggers in their place." And his followers know exactly what he means. Along with law and order you must have equal justice for all. You are not going to get it from a man who, as governor of a state, would physically bar a public university to black skin. Old law-and-order George doesn't talk about the law he tried to break when he took his famous stand in the schoolhouse door.

But this too shall pass. Wallace is not a fair man. This will be evident when, some day, my grandchildren will be amazed to read that a racist like George Wallace could have been a serious candidate for President of the United States.

The day must come when racism of all colors will be regarded as the distasteful freaks they are. If it doesn't my great-grandchildren may some day be surprised to read that the States were once United.
