

Delay districts' withdrawal

Community College plans push forward Tuesday

A decision about the number of school districts to be included in the proposed Tri-County Community College was to have been reached Tuesday in a meeting at Cass City High School, but will now be delayed at least until Oct. 21.

Plans were for the Intermediate Boards of Education of Huron, Sanilac and Tuscola counties to decide whether seven districts could be removed from the proposed community college district.

Because there was not a quorum present from the Huron County Board, a decision was delayed.

However, educators and members of the executive committee of the citizens' committee present, learned several pertinent facts from Dr. John W. Porter, associate superintendent of the Michigan Department of Education, who attended the meeting.

TWO MILLS ENOUGH

Dr. Porter told the group that the college district could still proceed with plans as outlined without the seven districts, provided that the vocational school be located with the community college.

Original plans had called for a vocation school in each of the three counties in the district. Under the new plan the district would have one vocational school located in conjunction with the community college.

Porter also told persons attending the session that the districts wishing to be excluded can leave with permission from the county Intermediate District. It will not take a vote of the joint boards to leave, according to the representative of the State Board of Education.

College boosters were also told that the State is ready to approve a college district without the seven districts wishing to withdraw, if an application is received.

School districts seeking to leave are: Akron-Fairgrove, Mayville, Millington, Reese, Unionville-Sebewaing, Crosswell-Exinton and Peck. These districts would like to annex to existing community college districts of Delta, Flint, or St. Clair.

However, according to William Scott, Tuscola County Superintendent of Schools, districts will not be able to annex to Delta since this district is established by county lines. All of Tuscola county could annex, but school districts would be prohibited, he explained.

Armed with this information, four members of the Executive Committee visited the Unionville-Sebewaing school board meeting Tuesday night to present the case for the college.

NEW VALUATION

If the districts were dropped, the state equalized valuation would drop from $455 million

Mrs. Gabler

sentenced for 1-5 years

A late night family argument, followed by a pitched battle with police earlier this year ended Monday when the pair were sentenced by Judge Arthur M. Bach in Sanilac County Circuit Court.

Mrs. Anna Gabler, 48, was sentenced for one to five years in the Detroit House of Correction on a charge of resisting arrest and her son, Eugene Petero, 17, received a suspended sentence of a year in a youth correction institution on an assault and battery charge.

The charges were reduced from felonious assault. The case stemmed from an investigation by sheriff's deputies of a family argument at the home in Decker, Norman Gabler, Mrs. Gabler's husband, was found by deputies walking down the road as they sped to the scene. He had been stabbed several times.

The deputies went to the Gabler home where Mrs. Gabler and her son resisted arrest. The deputies left for help and when they returned Mrs. Gabler ordered her German shepherd dog to attack.

Both officers were bitten before the dog was shot. Gabler was taken to McKenzie Memorial Hospital in Sandusky for treatment and was later discharged.

to about $270 to $300 million. A change in the law would make it possible to establish a college if one were approved, even if the tax levy were defeated in the same election.

The board of trustees would have official status for two years and the right to submit a tax levy three times, according to Dr. Porter.

When the college proposal first went to the voters in June, 1967, approval of both proposals was required. Both were defeated.

SCARCELY VISIBLE - with the diameter of a pencil is the hole made by the bullet entering the utility building at the Dick Hunt trailer home. When it crashed through the second wall the hole was about the size of a dollar. It was stopped by the frame of the trailer.

Bullet rips trailer

An errant .32 caliber bullet fired by Eddie Gruber, Cass City, narrowly missed entering the trailer home of Dick Hunt at Huntsville Park on Doerr Road Sunday.

The shot, which police estimated traveled 700 yards, hit a shed built along side of the trailer home, went through the shed's second wall, crashed through a skirt of the trailer and dented the trailer's frame. Two feet higher and it would have been in the trailer with my wife inside, Hunt said.

FROM THE Editor's Corner

The question is shall I settle for TV or ram on down to Detroit and try to finagle my way in?

My last World Series was in 1935 and I stood up all night to get a bleacher seat. In retrospect, I remember the carnival on the sidewalk better than the game itself.

Who made the hits or even who won this particular game has faded into obscurity. . . . I think it was the Cubs.

But I can distinctly remember being fifth in a line that stretched over twice around old Navin Field and how the three adults who dragged a friend and me along kept warm with coffee that was extra royal. Then there's the special camaraderie of standing in line for a common goal. It's almost like being a member of a team; as if there were a special significance in being nuts enough to light fires on the sidewalk and stand in line all night to see a bunch of paid performers.

Whatever the reason, there is always a common bond among the devoted and the banter and ribald jokes flow freely among strangers who wouldn't even nod as they passed by on an ordinary day.

The flow of coffee royal, the momentum of the day and the excitement of the series can get to you.

Most folks don't carry it as far as the five of us did 33 years ago.

It was the year that my buddy got "Frank Greenberg's home run ball" and gave it to me.

It had all the story ingredients: an older boy (15) giving a ball to a young friend after they had stayed up all night to see the game.

It was picked up by innocent mother, publisher of the Pinning Journal, and when the Bay City Times called for a story and a picture, a scared 12-year-old had a tiger by the all and was ready to let go.

How my august friends bolstered my courage and conked me into saying nothing, ranks right up there with selling cokes to Eskimos. . . . but they did and I kept the faith. When a wire service latched on to the story and it appeared in the now defunct Detroit Times, I thought all was lost.

It was not until about two weeks later that I stopped waking when the doorbell rang and to this day I don't know what happened to the real homer all that Greenberg swatted.

The one I got was one of several tossed over the fence by Lon Warneke, Cub pitcher, before the game started. It's like they say: TV is well but it's not the same as being there.

Wooden mains will go

New water system work underway

As good as the new water mains in Gagetown will be, it is doubtful that they will serve as long as the ones that they replace.

For over 96 years the village has been serviced by wooden water mains and the last of them will be removed when the village's planned $119,000 remodeling has been completed. The project was launched Tuesday noon when village dignitaries were present to see Mrs. Leota Ashmore, Clerk, turn the first shovel of dirt.

Following the ceremony, a luncheon was held with the contractor, Farmers Home Administration officials and village officers.

Mrs. Ashmore reports that actual construction has been promised within two weeks and that the new pipe will be ready for use by Jan. 1, 1969.

I suppose, she said, that the new elevated storage tank will be ready at this time, too. The village has authorized six-inch mains in the new construction. The work is financed by bonds guaranteed by the Farmers Home Administration.

The new tank has a capacity of 75,000 gallons and will replace a system with 10,000 gallon capacity.

Eugene Comment, president pro-tem, reported that the present system is a patchwork affair. Besides the wooden mains there is steel pipe of nearly all sizes, starting with two-inch, Comment explained. A new system in town was something that just had to be done, he concluded.

Accident roundup

2 injured in track mishap

For the second successive week serious injuries were sustained at the Thunder Road Speedway on M-53, a quarter of a mile north of M-81.

Details of the mishap were sketchy because the accident was on private property and no police report was available.

Saturday, an unidentified woman suffered a broken leg and Tom Starr, 15, suffered a concussion.

It was the first time that Starr, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Starr of Cass City, had attended a race.

The youth was struck in the head by a tire from one of the racing cars at the track.

Sentence 3 from Gagetown

Two Gagetown youths received five-day jail sentences for malicious destruction of property after they were arrested by Bad Axe State Police for damaging the overhead traffic signal at the main intersection at Gagetown.

A third youth was fined and the fourth allegedly involved in the affair pleaded innocent. Continued on page five.

Township officials set Gagetown meet

The eighth district meeting of Michigan Township Association will be held Oct. 11 at Gagetown, it was announced this week by Robert R. Robinson Jr., president of the association.

A "face to face" discussion with various elected officials is one of the highlights of the meeting.

According to his mother, Tom was watching a group of cars racing together when the wheel from a car that was trailing the pack came off and slammed the spot where he was standing. Starr was facing away from the trailing car and didn't see the tire that hit the back of his head, his mother said.

The youth was rushed to the hospital where his condition was good. His mother expected him to be released Tuesday.

OTHER ACCIDENTS

Two accidents involving area drivers were reported by the Tuscola County Sheriff's Department.

Robert Lee Warford, 29, Kingston, and Genevieve A. Warford, 48, of rural Cass City, were treated for injuries at Hills and Dales General Hospital following a mishap Friday on Colwood road, a half mile north of Dickerson Road.

Warford said that he had slowed down for traffic and his brakes threw his car into the ditch.

Injury was avoided in an accident Saturday morning at 1:45 a.m. when a car driven by Terry Lee Howard, 20, hit the rear of a car driven by Marna Lee Barnes, 16.

Howard said that he hit the Barnes car after passing another vehicle on Cedar Run Road, 1/4 mile north of Hoppe Road.

Howard was ticketed for failure to stop in an assured clear distance ahead.

A deer jumped in front of a car driven by Thomas L. Nicol, 71, of Cass City Saturday night on M-53, about eight miles southwest of Bad Axe.

Nicol suffered a cut on the forehead. His wife Gladys, 69, was not injured, but her glasses were scratched.

One deer crossed in front of the Nicol car and a second leaped in front of the vehicle, smashing the windshield and the left door glass.

Absent voters

ballots ready

Tuscola County Clerk Archie Hicks announced this week that ballots for the Nov. 5 election are in the hands of township clerks.

Persons seeking absent-voters ballots can secure theirs from their respective township clerk now, he said.

Prison term for Reddy

Donald Reddy, 41, former Vassar attorney and practicing lawyer in Tuscola county, is in Jackson Prison serving a term of 1 3/4 to 10 years for embezzlement.

Reddy had pleaded guilty to taking funds from an estate he handled for a client when arraigned Aug. 8. He had been free under bond while awaiting sentencing.

The jail term was passed Wednesday, Sept. 25, by Circuit Judge Steward Newblatt, Flint.

Judge Newblatt heard the case because Judge James Churchill, Vassar, disqualified himself because he knew Reddy.

A lifetime of sickness

Long, losing battle ends for Charles Lawson, 7

The long, hopeless battle for Charles Lawson is over.

Charles, the seven-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Lawson of Cass City, died from heart disease and cystic fibrosis Monday morning at Children's Hospital in Detroit.

The youngster had been doomed from birth, and life for him had been one stay in the hospital after another and continual treatment at home.

Charles was all blue when born, Mrs. Lawson said, and when he died was about the size of his sister who is two years younger.

Near the end he suffered constant pain in both legs and feet and his final trip to the hospital came just two weeks after he had previously been released.

The nearest to normal his life became was when he was in his yard playing for 15 minutes or so at a time in the early stages of his incurable disease. At the end he sat in his favorite rocker and watched television as long as he had the strength to sit up.

Two years ago his parents had been told that the boy would probably not live over a year unless a new miracle cure was discovered.

There were no miracles for Charles. In the seven short years of his life he consumed more than a full lifetime's quota of medicine and treatments.

receiving three different types of medication, plus treatments. At the head of his bed were an oxygen mask and tank and at the foot, a tent with a hose connected to a small motor that provided a cloud of medicated vapor so that Charles could breathe.

And three times daily the stricken youth required 20-minute massages to alleviate pain and restore circulation. Edward slept in his parents' bedroom so that they could care for him at any moment during the night.

The tremendous expense of caring for Charles was borne by the Crippled Children's Society.

There were six children living at the Lawson home and the father has been unable to work. He suffered from a bone injury in his ankle that required a graft to provide a new ankle joint.

An injury to his back made it impossible for him to sit up even long enough to eat his meals.

The family is supported from funds received from Aid to Dependent Children. "We have enough to get by on, but nothing for unforeseen expenses," Lawson explained.

FUNERAL SERVICES

Charles was born in Belair Jan. 29, 1961. Funeral services will be held at Huston Funeral Home Thursday at 2 p.m. in Caro.

Survivors include his parents; three sisters, Bonnie, Kathy and Louise; two brothers, Richard and Gerald, and a grandmother, Mrs. Jeannette Lawson of Caro.

The Rev. Ira Wood, pastor of the Salem United Methodist Church, will officiate at the final rites.

Burial will be in the Caro cemetery.

CHARLES LAWSON - no more pain.

THE LAND AND THE PEOPLE

THE CHURCH FOR ALL ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Jim has a college degree in agriculture—Helen, a diploma from junior college. And they're back on the land.

Less than five miles from the farm where they'll start their married life is a church. They'll be part of it.

For they know the greatness of the nation in which they were born; a greatness rooted in the land and the people.

It's the same land their forefathers tilled. It's got to be the same kind of people.

That's why there's a church less than five miles away... and why they'll be part of it.

Mrs. Baker new Zonta director

Mrs. Helen Baker of Cass City was named area director of Zonta International District 5 at the 21st annual fall conference at Traverse City Sept. 27-29.

About 400 club representatives attended, including Zontians from Ohio, Kentucky, Ontario and Michigan.

Monsignor Michael Behan, of the Grand Rapids diocese, was the principal speaker at the Saturday evening banquet. "Are Human Beings Going Out Of Style" was the title of his address.

Mrs. Helen Agar, Mrs. Baker, Mrs. Kathryn Gauer,

Mrs. Esther McCullough and Mrs. Edith Little attended. Mrs. Agar was delegate and Mrs. Gauer, alternate, for the Cass City Zonta Club.

Feed grain for more dairy profit

Higher producing dairy herds are fed more grain and have a higher feed cost than low producing herds. But they also return more profits than the lower producing herds, reports Alfred Ballweg, county extension agricultural agent.

Feeding grain to milking cows according to their production requirements is the best way to insure maximum profits from every cow.

A recent study of herds in Michigan's Dairy Herd Improvement Association program showed that production was increased more than 2,000 pounds of milk per cow per year, and income increased by more than $100 per cow per year by feeding grain according to production requirements.

Feed costs were increased about $25 per cow resulting in a net gain of $75 per cow above the cost of feed.

"That's $4 back for every $1 spent -- a good return on investment for managing your cow's feeding program," Ballweg commented.

The County Cooperative Extension Service office has a grain feeding guide for maximum profit. However, the feeding guide is not very beneficial without milk production records.

"The dairyman must know what each cow is producing and how much feed the average cow needs for the production," he commented. "Dairy production testing is a basis for recommendations. If cows are fed more than this amount and 'challenged' to produce more, they may make greater profits."

TERRI RABIDEAU

Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Rabideau of Cass City have announced the engagement of their daughter, Terri Sue, to James J. Groombridge, son of Mr. and Mrs. Wellington Groombridge of Decker.

Wedding plans are indefinite.

Deford Elementary

by Rosemary Novak and Lucille Hartsell

Deford's school showcase had quite a few visitors last week. Would you believe that among the distinguished "guests" were such things as frogs, toads, spiders, fish, butterflies, caterpillars and a praying mantis; however, by far the most distinguished "guest" was a mouse, which Mr. Grenevitch, Deford's principal, caught by the tail in his office!

The kindergartners have learned how to write the letters A, B and C, and are learning their colors.

The second graders are learning about vowel sounds. They are bringing pictures to class to put up on the bulletin board to show the different sounds.

With such good school spirit, the Intermediate School should be pride of the school system!

Mrs. Binder has fourteen students in her special education class this year. Last week they began to make hot pads of pop-sicle sticks and beads.

Mrs. Blanche Milligan's room is studying the universe. Her students are quite proud of a map of the universe that they made.

Mr. Stickle had planned to take the Intermediate School's student body to an assembly at the high school last Tuesday, but, as it turned out, they couldn't go because it rained.

Mr. Bifoss's seventh grade gym class is just finishing their fitness reports, and are starting a health class next week.

triple twist and double front and back somersaults on the trampoline. After the demonstrations, the Coles called on Joe Mark and Chester Gaszczyński for volunteers. Would you believe that in one easy lesson, Joe and Chester learned the back and front somersault?!

Other demonstrations included balance beam techniques and tumbling feats. After these demonstrations, attention was again focused on the tramp for a game of spaceball. In this game, a net is pulled over the tramp and the object is to throw the ball through a loop in the net, trying to trick your opponent so that he won't catch it. If he does miss, you win a point (5 points wins the game).

The Coles really made the game look simple because of their mastery of the trampoline, but when some students attempted the game, you could see that it was just a little bit harder than it looked. Louie Pierce, Dale Ashmore, and Dave Skiles tried the game and were challenged by Mr. Cole to one. Believe it or not -- they won!

The Journalism class went on a "field trip" last Wednesday. They visited the workshop of the Saginaw News.

Thursday morning the senior class officers had a meeting to discuss a pamphlet they received from Seniorama Tours to formulate questions to ask the company's representative, Mr. Vern Combee.

Mr. Combee came to C.C.H.S. Friday morning to discuss rates and dates for the senior trip. Tentative dates and rates have been established. Alright!!

Friday afternoon the Freshman class had a class meeting to discuss ideas for their homecoming float.

The last thing Friday was our Pep Assembly. During the assembly Mrs. Wynes introduced the varsity, junior varsity, and freshman cheerleaders, and each squad led a cheer.

We also had the spirit jug. Chalk one up for the sophomores!

The seventh and eighth graders have started their own school newspaper! Plans have been made to have the first issue "off the press" by October 23, 1968.

The staff consists of: Jeanne Alexander, acting editor; Sally Kolb, LaDonna Brown, Diane Burk, Natalie Rabideau, Pam Stickle, Susie Prieskorn, Patti Holcomb, and Cheryl Kozan, reporters; Paul Bifoss, sports reporter; Nannette Bauer, faculty advisor.

Ed Carter and Dennis Bartle have become expert painters! They volunteered to paint the Industrial Arts shop for Mr. Dillon, and they did a wonderful job. (Now Mr. Dillon is the envy of all the other teachers.)

Missionary convo at Assembly of God starts Thursday

A missionary convention is scheduled this week at the Cass City Assembly of God Church starting Thursday, Oct. 3 through Sunday, Oct. 6. Three speakers from the Assemblies of God Foreign Missions Department are slated at the services.

Thursday, Miss Naomi Dowdy will tell of her work in the Marshall Islands at 7:30 p.m. Miss Dowdy has ministered for three years in 15 of the thousand islands in the Marshall chain. She has also traveled in evangelistic work in Mexico. Curious and costumes will be displayed and a film shown.

Friday, David McCulley is the speaker at the 7:30 service. He has been in West Africa since 1950, in Liberia and Nigeria. He was also stationed in Biafra, where the civil war is now being fought.

At the Sunday morning service, at 11:00 a.m., the Rev. V. H. Shumway Sr. will conclude the convention. Missionary to Nigeria, West Africa, he was the first of the denomination assigned to this area. A sound film, including pagan dancing, heathen rites, wild animals and of their work, is slated.

Pastor Paul Cowan extends an invitation to the public.

Here's a little football test for you. . . See how many of these famous players or teams you can name from the colorful nicknames given to them. . .

Who were . . . "Mr. Outside and Mr. Inside" . . . "Galloping Ghost" . . . "Kentucky Babe" . . . "The Wonder Teams" . . . and the "Thundering Herd" . . . Here's the answer. . . "Mr. Outside and Mr. Inside" -- Glenn Davis and Doc Blanchard; "Galloping Ghost" -- Red Grange; "Kentucky Babe" -- Babe Parilli; "Wonder Teams" -- California's three straight unbeaten clubs of 1920-21-22; "Thundering Herd" -- Southern Cal's powerful 1925 team. . . How many did you get right?

Of all the football teams in the country -- high school, college and pro -- which one do you think has won the most games over the years? . . . Answer is Yale. . . Starting this season, Yale has won 619 football games in its history and there's no other football team anywhere with that many total wins.

Did you ever stop to think that even the greatest hitters in baseball fail to get hits more than 6 out of every 10 times they bat; and even the greatest passers in football fail to complete almost half the passes they throw!

Letter to Editor

Dear Mr. Haire,

It has been quite a while since I have written to anyone concerning articles which have been published in the paper. However an article appeared in your paper Sept. 5, which I feel warrants a few comments. I am making reference to the article written by Larry Werner concerning "Law and Order Chicago Style."

Due to my present occupation and assignment area, I was not able to witness the demonstrations of the "Police Brutality" that he alleges took place in Chicago. However—there are accounts of this action that appeared in The Stars & Stripes that list a completely different account of details than those listed by your paper. Also enclosed for your benefit is an article extracted from The Lexington Herald, Lexington Ky., which gives a slightly different picture than yours. This article is written by an individual who was in Chicago and observed this "Peaceful Demonstration" and has written her views of it.

If you bother to read the article in detail than you can see the difference. The point I am trying to make is the article that was printed generally reflects the views of the editor, who has a responsibility to his readers to insure that all the facts are presented, which allows the reader to then make up his own mind concerning the incident.

In this respect I feel that you have done an injustice to your readers by not screening your paper on this article - or had Mr. Werner so indicate that his column is a personal opinion and does not necessarily reflect the views of the editor.

There are a number of other comments which are reflected in the column that I wish I had more time to write about, but time is at a premium here and one cannot always do what he wants to. And again this would be a personal opinion, basically speaking and nothing is ever gained by the heated exchange of personal opinions. Before I close I would like you to pass on to Mr. Werner a couple of my points, for better or for worse possibly he can extract some good for future reference.

It appears from his picture to be rather young and possibly he has never traveled much either in country or out. He has never seen a ravaged land, that is left in the wake of a "Peaceful Demonstration" or that torn by war. He talked about the right to dissent, but where does dissent stop and treason start? Does it continue when it infringes on the rights of others?

We have witnessed many demonstrations that started out so called peaceful, but when the final count was tabulated at the end of a "Peaceful Demonstration", millions of dollars of property were destroyed, many individuals were injured and some killed. Who responsibility is it to curtail the demonstrators when they begin to infringe on other people. Its the law enforcements job, to the best of their ability. This at times can be accomplished by talking to individuals and in other cases it requires some, either show of force or openly using this force.

There are too many people screaming for the police to be handcuffed—because they are rough. These are the same ones who yell for protection when infringements on their rights takes place. It always appears that the minority has the loudest cry, and unfortunately receives the most attention, this has been proven in the past and I suspect it will appear more in the future.

I think before we criticize the action of those about us, we stop and reexamine the entire facts, those leading up to the problem and the final outcome. There are many problems arising in our country today which are going unchecked - but we are looking the other way. Crime is becoming an increasing problem, murder, looting etc., yet rather than assist the police, we ask for more restrictions to be put on them. Billy Graham, in one of his articles stated that "We are on a collision course with destruction", he has never been more true, especially in times like today. If people analyze all the ramifications of a problem and then present the facts, it is easier for the population to extract the ideas and facts, rather than to try and second guess some one or to formulate answers based on the personal opinion of another individual.

I suspect I best close this letter as I don't have sufficient time nor enough ink to continue with my own "opinion" of another opinion. However I do feel much better that I have written to you, whether it does much good or not, voicing my views.

Maybe next summer when I return we could exchange our views on different subjects and see how much they can differ. But now I have more pressing matters which must be taken care of. I thank you for letting me blow off steam. Incidentally I still enjoy The Chronicle regardless of opinions.

Frederick J. MacKay
 Cpt. Inf.

Editor's note: A column is always the opinion of the writer and is called a column because it is. The paper does not screen its columnists (except for libel) although in this instance it agrees with Werner.

Is your home going to turn into a desert this winter?

A lot of homes will.

In wintertime, people in houses with flame-type heating wake up mornings with that stuffed-up feeling. With hoarse, dry throats. Furniture dries out and starts creaking. Sound familiar? You bet it does. The best way to stop it is with electric heat. You see, electric heat isn't a dry or drying heat. So you usually don't need a humidifier. The moisture from bathing and cooking is all you need for natural comfort.

An Edison Approved Electric Heating Contractor will be glad to tell you all about comfortable electric heat. He'll figure your operating cost, and explain the guarantee. And now, your contractor's offering a $100 trade-in on your old heating system. Call him for a no-obligation electric heat survey. Look in the Yellow Pages under "Electric Heating—Equipment and Systems."

He'll show you how to turn your desert into an oasis.

New pumper on display at open house Sunday

The Elmwood Township-Gagetown Fire Department will show off its new $25,000 pumper to interested residents at an open house Sunday afternoon at the fire hall in Gagetown.

The pumper is one of a long string of improvements that the department has achieved since it became a combined township-village department several years ago.

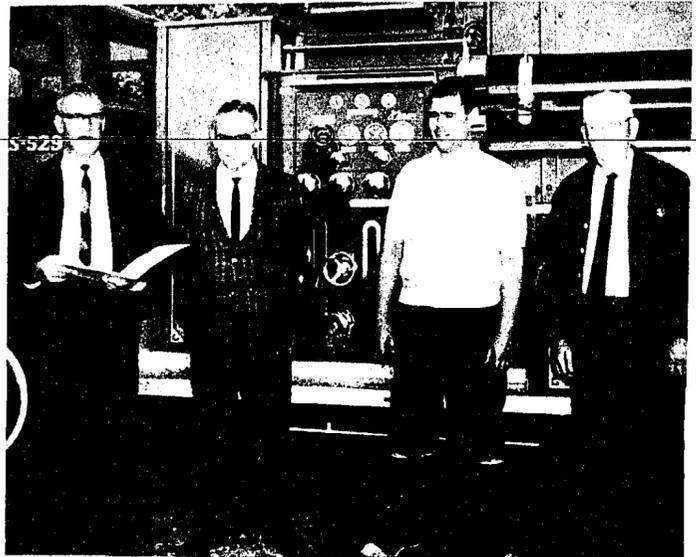

Although records are vague and memories about the origin of the department dim, authorities believe that the department was organized about 43 years ago when man-drawn hose carts were used to battle blazes.

In the last few years, Chief Chuck Wright reported, the department has added a new fire hall, a two-way radio and new hose, in addition to the new truck.

When the department was organized there were about six men. Today, the roster lists 18 regulars and four auxiliary members.

In addition to the new pumper, the department has 1938 and 1946 pumpers and a 1959 tanker. The new pumper has a capacity of 750 gallons per minute and high pressure fog fire fighting capacity.

Several of the firemen went to school to learn to operate the new equipment.

THIS NEW PUMPER is the latest in a long string of improvements for the Gagetown Fire Department. Standing in front of the new truck which cost Elmwood Township $25,145.32, are members of the fire department. From left: Joe Rocheleau, Ralph Mauer, Jim Sontag, Chief Chuck Wright, Orlo Wood, Doug Comment, Mert Hendershot and Adam Deering.

Rep. Harvey slates tour of district

Jim Harvey, U. S. Representative from the eighth district, will conduct his annual Congressional tour Oct. 11-18. Stops are scheduled in most communities in the five-county area.

Harvey will visit Cass City Friday, Oct. 11, from 2 to 2:30 p.m.

Other county stops Friday include: 9-9:30 a.m. - Mayville; 10-10:30 a.m. - Millington; 11-11:30 a.m. - Vassar; 3-3:30 p.m. - Caro, and 4-4:30 p.m. - Reese.

Thursday, Oct. 17, the trailer will be in Huron county and will stop at Uby from 2:45 to 3:15 p.m. Tuesday, Oct. 15, the Sanilac county stops are scheduled. Derkerville will be visited from 2:15 to 2:45 p.m. and Sandusky from 3:15 to 4 p.m.

Dispute Cable's weekly loads

Gary Stine, who handles trash collections in Cass City, said that the number of truck loads brought to the dump from General Cable as indicated in the council meeting Tuesday, Sept. 24, was exaggerated.

The figure released was 14 to 37 loads weekly. Stine says that the increase was from four to five loads to eight or nine loads weekly.

Justice Frank Rolka, Caro, sentenced Dennis Muska, 19, and Richard Hines, 19, to five days in the county jail and ordered them to pay fines and costs of $125.

Patrick J. Zuraw, 18, was ordered to pay a fine and costs of $70 while the fourth youth, Richard Ehrlich, 17, pleaded innocent and was released on his own recognizance to appear Oct. 27 for trial.

Self-Treatment

There's a medical maxim that runs: "The doctor who treats himself has a fool for a patient." The non-physician who treats himself is often in even more serious trouble.

I'm not talking about ordinary first-aid, or self-medication for a cold. After all, there are some things you don't need to bother a doctor about.

But there are many medical problems that grow worse when neglected, or not properly treated. Prolonged pain, for example, may be a warning symptom; a lingering rash or occasional bleeding may show that something else is seriously wrong. Several weeks of self-treatment in such circumstances is just plain foolish.

For example, a Denver man was in such pain that he chewed, daily, 10 tablets of a gum containing aspirin. He numbed the pain—and developed mouth ulcers as a result.

Or take do-it-yourself ear piercing. There are small devices with sharp points, now on sale, which are supposed to pierce the ears within a few days as they are worn. According to the American Medical Association, these can increase the chance of infection and the development of scar tissue.

You may not realize all the possible hazards, but a doctor won't pierce ears if there is any type of rash or infection, or if small cysts are present in the ear lobe.

It's not often that a professional speaker "loses" his audience.

It happened in California recently, though.

Presumably the subject matter of the talk is screened to assure no conflict with the group—think of the audience, but in this instance something—or someone—slipped.

Dr. Richard E. Farson, Western Behavioral Science Institute, La Jolla, Calif., addressed a meeting of the National-American Wholesaler Grocers' Association. Dr. Farson's speech began smoothly enough with his declaration that we were in an era of change.

Heads nodded sagely as he went on to say that change was becoming a way of life. Dr. Farson went on to state that this change would largely be symbolized by the discontent of the new generation and the have-nots of the current generation, and that increasing pressure would be felt for the satisfaction of non-material needs.

It was at this point that the natives began to be restless. The psychologist continued by indicating that changes will come faster all the time, and that where once a plateau was reached after considerable change, the future will find no such leveling off before another advance.

The business community, including the food wholesalers, must find ways of satisfying those needs, the psychologist advised. Even then, business will not solve the problem, since those demanding improvement will yearn for further improvement creating continuing discontent.

Whereupon a loud businessman-voice made itself heard in the audience. "With all these discontents aboard ship, Doc," it queried, "who's gonna do the work?"

Dr. Farson's reply was indirect. He told the wholesalers that they were failing to consider some important aspects of the future. For example, he said, a great segment of society will not be needed to improve the gross national product. At present, only about 40% of the population is contributing to the GNP. By the year 2000, he predicted, only 10% to 20% of the population will be in the working force. He also declared that he personally felt there was a difference between being productive and being useful.

By this time there was a collective glaze in the eye of his audience. At the conclusion of his talk, there was only a smattering of applause.

An observer could only conclude that the psychologist might have led his listeners up to the water trough of the brave new world, but he couldn't make them drink it.

More road funds for village, county

State gasoline taxes and license plate fees increased 9.6 per cent for the fiscal year ending June 30, and area counties and incorporated villages shared in the increase in the Michigan Motor Vehicle Highway Fund, Commission officials announced this week.

The increase came primarily from a boost from six to seven cents a gallon in the State gas tax.

Next year an increase in license fees should boost the total higher.

Tuscola county received $1,030,323 this year and $955,441 the previous year. The figures for fiscal 1966-67 and 1967-68 in other area counties are: Sanilac $981,625, up from $905,586, and Huron, $935,069, up from $874,896.

Cass City had over $2,000 more to spend on village streets as a result of the increase. This year's total was $23,516 as compared to the previous year's receipts of $21,476.

New law shakes up jury selection system

JURY DUTY

A new system for selecting citizens for jury duty goes into effect next year. More people will be called to serve, but the length of service is cut from three months to a maximum of 30 days.

Prospective jurors are presently selected by township supervisors and city aldermen from property tax rolls. They serve for 15 per day. The selection method was designed when Michigan was primarily an agricultural state and is not conducive to present modes of living, charges Lee C. Dramis, a Lansing lawyer who played a leading role in rewriting the jury law.

Workingmen find it difficult to support their families on $15 a day, and many ask to be excused for economic reasons. Persons who do not own real estate are automatically eliminated. This excuses about 80 percent of the men and 60 percent of the women in urbanized counties, Dramis said.

As a result, juries are now composed mainly of retired persons, housewives and persons with little or no regular demands on their time.

The new law specifies that voter registration lists be used instead of property tax rolls. A special jury board, appointed by the governor, will make the selection rather than supervisors and aldermen. A special mathematical formula will insure names being picked at random.

Exemptions under the new law are few: physical or mental disability, persons over 70, police officers and lawyers, citizens who do not understand the English language. The presiding judge may make other exceptions, but excusals are expected only rarely under the new system, Dramis contends.

New jurors will be selected by the jury board in May of each year. If lawyers agree, six-member juries may be used for civil cases. In the past, 12-member juries were required for all circuit court cases. Six-member juries will be used for both civil and criminal cases in the new District Courts which replace the present Justice Court system January 1.

A special provision in the new law makes an employer who fires a person because of his absence for jury duty guilty of a misdemeanor.

can revoke a commission. There are currently about 100,000 notaries public in Michigan. Complaints regarding improper notarization and overcharging of fees are frequent, according to the Secretary of State's office which processes applications. Seldom are commissions cancelled.

Efforts to establish higher qualifications have been unsuccessful. New legislation has been introduced, but it has not received serious attention from lawmakers.

MUCC meet set at Caro

The MUCC District 9 meeting will be held at the Tuscola County Conservation Club, a half mile south of Caro on M-24 and then east a quarter of a mile, Wednesday, Oct. 9, at 8 p.m.

All candidates for the State Legislature, State Senate and US Congress have been invited.

PTA GOALS

Three "vital" areas will receive concerted attention by the Michigan Congress of Parents and Teachers Association this year, according to the organization's president, A.B. Haist. The areas are sex education; crime prevention; and the relationships between student, parent, teacher, school administrators and school board.

During a 1967 survey among Michigan families, these three subjects were rated "critical." The organization hopes that each of the 2,000 local units will devote several meetings to the topics, and then build upon local interest with specific programs.

"If all the PTA units across the state will concentrate on these three major subjects, the PTA in Michigan can unite for effective study and positive action," Haist declared.

Many positive programs have been fostered in the past, but seldom has the organization aimed strongly at specific subjects. To help its 360,000 members organize plans of action, the group sponsored nine "program planning clinics" during August. About 400 officers attended the sessions.

NEED UPDATING

Most people seldom need the services of a notary public, but proper notarization of documents can avoid serious complications when legal transactions are made. Buying and selling agreements, transfer of property, publication of legal notices, and many other affairs must have signatures notarized. The notary public's responsibility is to verify the validity of the signature. Failure to do so may result in a costly court suit.

The importance of a notary public is in sharp contrast to the minimal requirements for the appointment. For many years now, applicants need only be 21 years of age, a resident of the county from which they apply, and be endorsed by a circuit or probate judge, state senator or representative. A $2 filing fee is charged by the state, $1 by the county clerk, and $8 to $14 for bonding.

"If It Fitz..."

Protesting from the sidelines

BY JIM FITZGERALD

No doubt about it. If I were 20 years younger I would grow a beard and carry a sign and bug the establishment.

And I would be more comfortable than I am today. Which is fat and forty and crew-cut.

What kind of a hippie is that? If I wore sandals my knees would cave in. But my heart is transplanted to the kids who stand up and holler at injustice.

I want to yell and march and picket and sit-in, too. But this is physical stuff which requires a certain amount of muscle and bravery. I wouldn't drive through Chicago without first trimming my sideburns. And Dr. Spock is in better shape than I am. Besides, I have to go to work every day or my family's world of credit cards will come tumbling down.

The bitter total is that I am too old, too cowardly and too busy to join the regular army of protesters. But I still have this gnawing to do my thing for the cause from the sidelines. To "do my thing" is young talk meaning you do what you do best for what you believe in.

So I write things like this and end up in earnest arguments at cocktail parties. And it is these arguments which make me feel like Rap Brown at a DAR meeting.

A "pillar of the community" was giving me the devil the other day. I don't use that cliché with a sneer. Henry is the type of man upon whom our towns depend for support and sweat. He gives his time and money to the hospital and Red Feather and his church. He's been a county supervisor and a city councilman. He's raised fine children and his grandchildren look like good bets, too. I admire Henry for his contributions. But he makes me cringe when he has 3 drinks and yells at me:

"Yeah, you write about brotherhood. But wait'll the niggers come to town and move next door to you. See how ya' like it then."

Or about the Chicago mess: "Those filthy kids with their dirty beards didn't get hit hard enough. The cops don't have to take that stuff from those bums. If they don't want to be cracked on the head, they should stay home. What are they doing there anyway? I'll tell you - it's all a Communist plot."

And on and on.

The Henrys of this country are my contemporaries, my friends. When I look in the mirror, I see Henry - middle-age, middle-and-up income, dark suit, chubby, short hair or bald and clean shaven. The All American Rotarian. Just what my mother had in mind when she enlisted me in the Boy Scouts.

But when Henry discusses anything more important than poker, golf or baseball, he doesn't sound like me. He bugs me, just as I bug him.

I can't get mad at a kid just because he wears a beard and sandals. So did Jesus Christ. And I can't condemn young people who make it known, loud and long, that they are against the Vietnam war. Some of the best informed men in this country are convinced LBJ has escalated us into a civil war that is none of our business. The young people have a legal and moral right to dissent. That's what this country is all about, Buster.

I can't get angry at any Negro who simply wants the same rights I was born with. I'm sickened by a civilization which insults Negroes (Indians, Puerto Ricans, etc) and forces them to be twice as good to get half as far. One of my sisters is still single and she has my blessing to marry the blackest man who'll have her - if she wants to.

Just like Henry, I'm against violence. But I can understand how and why it happens. A rock thrown by a sinned-against Negro is better aimed than a club swung by a bully cop.

If George Wallace can spare any law and order, I'm for it. But the Boston Tea Party was illegal. Unjust laws will always be broken by uncompromising men, such as Martin Luther King, who will pay the penalty to stah the national conscience.

At best, Henry thinks I'm nuts. At worst, he's sure I'm a card-carrying Communist. Either way, you have got to keep an eye on me. I belong to the country club but I'm not paying all the dues. Don't invite me and the VFW commander to the same party.

It's easy to see why Saturday is my most comfortable day. I never shave on Saturday.

Little tasks, well done, serve as a proving ground for the larger ones to come.

Losing streak continues

Bifoss gives boot to 5 for breaking training

Chalk off any chances for victory for Cass City's football team this year.

Following a dismal performance Friday against Bad Axe, Coach John Bifoss was forced to take disciplinary action against five members of the squad for breaking training rules and they have been suspended for the season.

All five played a great deal in the first three games and all are gone for the season. Included were two starting offensive backs and two starters on defense, Bifoss said. He declined to name the boys kicked from the squad, but said that most people will know who they are when they don't appear for the next game at Sandusky Oct. 4.

The offense for which the disciplinary action occurred before the Hatchet game was not discovered until after the game, Bifoss said.

Even with the five players, it is doubtful if Cass City would have been favored to win any of its games the remainder of the year. A not too strong Bad Axe team demolished the Hawks, 30-6, last Friday at Cass City Recreation Park and the offense looked confused and inept.

Coach Bifoss called it the club's worst game of the season. It was not a good over-all team effort, he said, although a few boys played well.

The visitors scored just about every way possible.

Dave Allen capped a drive with a one-yard quarterback sneak midway in the first quarter for the final touchdown.

Near the end of the period, John Rakowski picked off one of four Bad Axe interceptions during the night and raced 20 yards for the marker.

In the third quarter, Bill Neeb dashed two yards to score and Jim Apley passed to Tom Hanselman for the extra point.

A moment later George Tamblym cracked through the Hawks' forward wall to block a punt and Bob McBride recovered in the end zone for a touchdown.

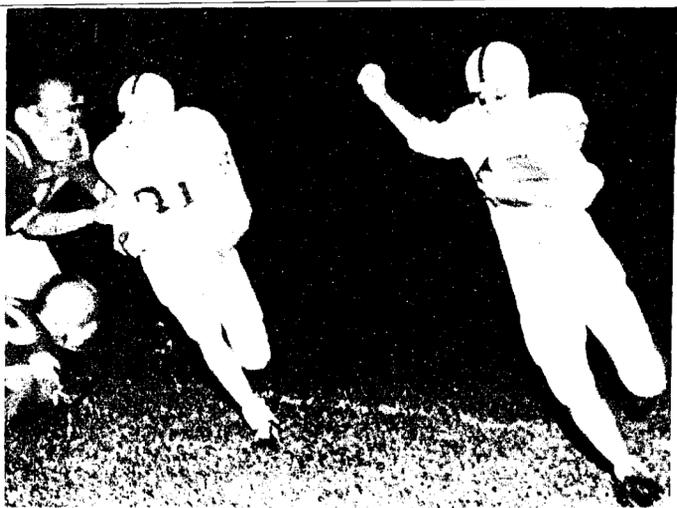

Later in the period Phil Case rambed 10 yards for the fifth Bad Axe tally, and then ran for the extra point.

The visitors' scoring mercifully ended early in the fourth quarter as George Tamblym capped a drive with a two-yard carry and Hugh McCracken carried for the extra point.

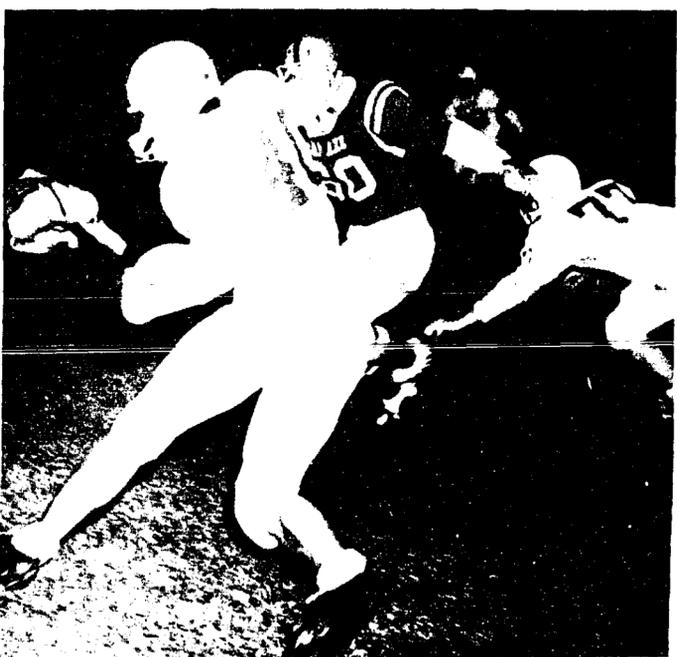

Cass City got on the scoreboard in the dying moments of the game when Larry McClorey went nine yards to score. It was a top individual effort as McClorey was hit several times but refused to go down. The extra point kick was wide.

Terry Brinkman was named the best blocker, especially effective on kick-off returns. Best on defense, Bifoss said, were Neil MacCallum and Mick Miracle. The team has been consistently strong at tackle and end, the coach said.

Scott Guernsey was also strong defensively and was credited with a pass interception.

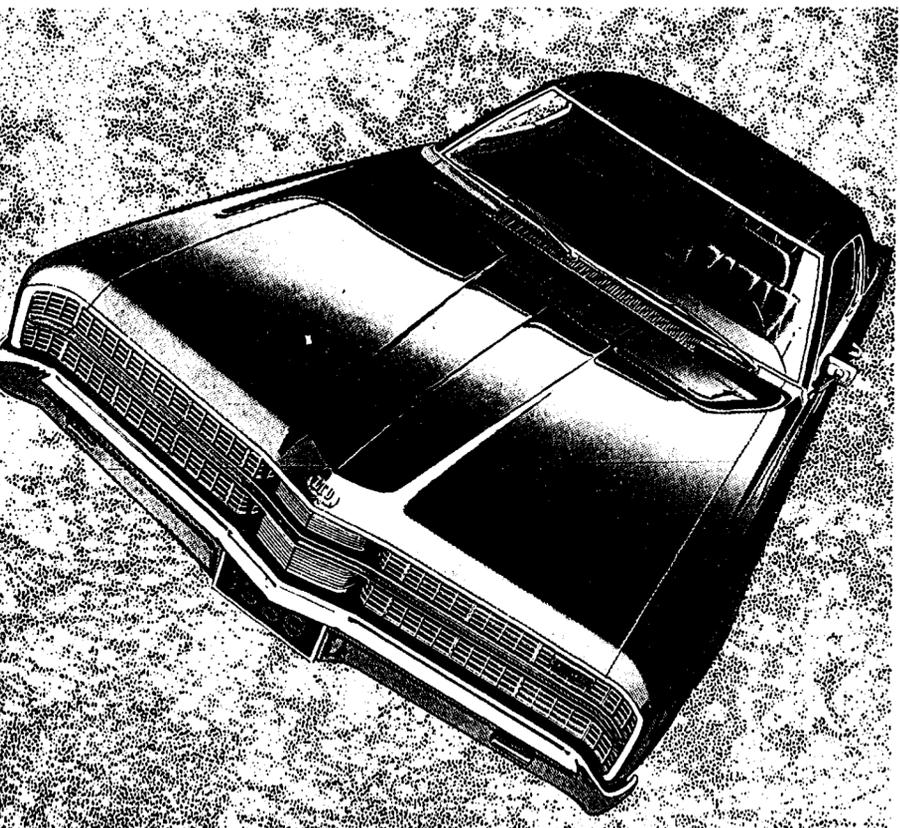

VOLLMAR was knocked out of bounds on this punt return as a Bad Axe player eluded a block by Phil Keating.

UNTIL THE DYING moments of the game, most of Cass City's offensive action came on returns of punts. Gary Vollmar almost scampered for a touchdown on this play but was knocked out of bounds at the last possible moment. Terry Brinkman (81) is helping with the blocking.

AAUW to sponsor art exhibit Oct. 4-13

An exhibit of Twentieth Century drawings assembled from the permanent collection of the University of Michigan Museum of Art will be on display at the Cass City Cultural Center Oct. 4-13.

This presentation is being sponsored by the Cass City branch of the American Association of University Women, with the support of the Michigan State Council for the Arts. It includes works by Picasso, Matisse, Calder and other masters of this century.

The Cultural Center will be open Friday, Oct. 4, from 7-9 p.m. and thereafter from 4-6 p.m. weekdays, and 2-5 p.m. on Saturday and Sunday. Group appointments to view the exhibit at other times may be made with chairman, Mrs. Lambert Althaver, 872-3465. School groups are urged to see this exhibit. There is no admission charge.

The Council, which was proposed by Governor Romney and established by the 1966 Michigan Legislature, provides a wide variety of programs and services in the performing, visual and literary arts, available to community groups and organizations throughout the state. For further information, write to Michigan State Council for the Arts, 7210 Woodward, Detroit, Mich. 48202.

Assisting Mrs. Althaver in setting up this exhibit will be Mrs. Edward Scollon, Mrs. Richard Drews, Mrs. Richard Eyer, Mrs. Robert Stickle, Mrs. Ivan MacRae and Mrs. Evans Parrott.

The GOOD GUYS are turning up the fever

All-New 1969 DODGE POLARA

The low-priced field takes a brand-new shape...

Just when other cars are trying to catch up to Polara's size, the Good Guys pull a fast one. 1969 Dodge Polara. It's still bigger and more powerful than its competitors—with an all-new shape that puts it way ahead of other low-priced cars.

with a new luxury feel...

Polara moves way ahead in luxury, too. All-new instrument panel. Foam-padded seats. Carpeting. Concealed windshield wipers. They're all standard. Along with a big 230-hp V8.

and more room to enjoy it.

For years, Polara's given you more room inside than other low-priced cars. This year's Polara's even better. With more shoulder room, hiproom, and rear legroom. See the Good Guys and their all-new Polara. They'll show you how you don't have to be rich to go "big car."

FROM THE FILES OF THE CHRONICLE

FIVE YEARS AGO

Mrs. Ben Benkelman Jr. was installed as the new president of the Cass City Woman's Study Club Tuesday at the home of Mrs. Belle Knapp. She replaces Mrs. Margaret Haire, retiring president.

Twenty Tuscola County Farm Bureau women joined other women at district six fall camp held at Camp Kett Sept. 25-26. Several Cass City Lions, their wives and guests toured the Leader Dogs for the Blind School in Rochester Sunday to see how monies contributed by the Cass City Club are being used to help provide those "Eyes in the Dark."

The Hawks were taken back in a game with Lakers Friday night when the game ended with a score of 16-0. The Cass City Woman's Study Club and Junior Women's Club will co-host the two-day East Central District of Michigan State Federation of Women's Clubs' convention Thursday and Friday, Oct. 10-11.

Nine members of the local Business and Professional Women's club were in Lapeer Sunday to attend a fall conference of district 5.

TEN YEARS AGO

The 40th wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Riner Knobel will be celebrated Sunday, Oct. 5, when their children will hold open house in the Knobel farm home southwest of town from 2-6 p.m. Relatives and friends are invited to attend.

Officers were elected and plans completed for a UNICEF campaign in Cass City Halloween night in a meeting held at Cass City School Monday evening. Mrs. Fritz Neitzel was named chairman.

The Cass City Red Hawks warmed up for their homecoming game Friday with Vassar with an overwhelming victory over Sandusky 50-0. The Cass City Homecoming Queen for 1958 is Carolyn Gross and members of her court are Mary Ann Hobart and Lois Dorland. They will reign at the homecoming football game with Vassar, the pep rally and the snake dance.

The Shabbona Extension Group met Tuesday, Sept. 23, when the lesson was presented by Mrs. Art Caister and Mrs. Gene Chapin.

The Evergreen WCTU met Friday with Barbara Coulter. Officers were elected and several "Rock of Ages" members were recognized.

TWENTY-FIVE YEARS AGO

The Rotary Club had members of the Gavel Club guests at a chicken dinner served by the Baptist Ladies' Aid Tuesday evening.

Two of the 11 districts in Tuscola County, Cass City and Reese, had exceeded their quotas for the Third War Loan Wednesday night.

Tuesday, Oct. 12, is the date of the first meeting of the fall season of the Cass City Community Club. Programs are being planned for the three autumn meetings.

This year Cass City High School has 40 members in its senior band. The band will be marching at the home football games.

At the clinic conducted by the Michigan Tuberculosis Association and the Sanilac County Department of Health in the courthouse at Sandusky Wednesday, Sept. 22, 82 X-rays were taken.

Cass City huskies outplayed Vassar all the way last Friday except for two inevitable touchdowns and a conversion, Cass City's squad finished with a 26-13 victory.

THIRTY-FIVE YEARS AGO

An event of outstanding current interest in the community is the presentation of a play to be given Thursday and Friday, Oct. 5 and 6, by a cast of over 100 local residents under the auspices of the Cass City Ladies' Band.

It was reported by Cass City Superintendent of Schools C. W. Price that, while many schools are reporting fewer pupils this fall, Cass City has more students this year than last.

The prospects for a successful football season for the Cass City high school team were greatly increased Friday at Harbor Beach when Cass City's squad defeated them 6-0.

Deford was a busy town on Saturday when the businessmen sponsored a team hauling contest, amateur boxing bouts and a free show.

4-H Clubs to sponsor barbecue

The 4-H Clubs and FFA Chapters of Tuscola county will sponsor a chicken barbecue Sunday, Oct. 6, from 12:00 to 3:00 p.m. It will be held at the New Youth Exhibit Building, Fairgrounds, Caro. The public is invited to attend and all proceeds will go toward final payment on the New Youth Exhibit Building.

The Tuscola County 4-H Dairy Science winner, Judy Campbell of Fairgrove, was awarded a special VIP Day by the McDonald Dairy in Flint Tuesday, Sept. 24. Highlights for the day included a tour of the McDonald Dairy plants, tour of WJRT - TV Studios, visit at Longway Planetarium, tour Sloan Museum and the banquet.

The annual 4-H Leaders Recognition Banquet will be held Tuesday, Oct. 8, at 7:15 p.m. in the Sacred Heart School, Caro. Speaker for the evening will be Mel Thompson, now with National 4-H Foundation.

Farm Bureau in annual meet at Caro school

The annual business meeting and banquet of the Tuscola County Farm Bureau was conducted Tuesday evening, Sept. 24, in Caro High School cafeteria with over 300 attending.

Special recognition went to the Kingston, Akron-Fairgrove and Unionville Chapters of FFA for efforts in the area of conservation and to Judy Campbell, Caro, and Allan Herman, Unionville, for outstanding 4-H project work.

Also honored were top community Farm Bureau groups, each receiving a ham and a personal gift for the secretary. Accepting awards were Kingston's Kingesta group with Bruce Ruggles, secretary; Group 38 of Kingston, Mrs. E. Cargill, secretary; Up & Atom, Mrs. Bob Schell; Arcola, Mrs. Leon Keinath, and North Elmwood group with Mrs. David Loomis of Gageton area, secretary. The Southenders group from Millington received recognition for having made the most progress.

Kay Davis, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Nelson Davis of Mayville, was chosen Farm Bureau Queen. She was sponsored by the Maple Grove group and will compete for honors at the state annual contest in November.

Three directors named to the county board were Gerald Hicks of Deford, Marvin Rupprecht of Vassar and Wilford Leix of Fostoria. Hicks and Leix were re-elected. Carl Keinath of Vassar, retiring director, was honored for many years on the board.

At the conclusion of the annual session, the board members chose to return all officers for the coming year: President Leon Keinath, Millington; Vice-president Gerald Hicks and third member of the executive committee, Fred I. Black of Fairgrove.

Bureau members adopted a series of resolutions. They urge increased efforts toward zoning in the county; a no vote to the daylight saving time proposal; that other tax sources be used for the Thumb Community College besides property tax; a continuation of bean supports; public education to damage and dangers of throw-away bottles; greater efforts against crime and support of the national sugar act.

Featured speaker was Charles Bailey of Michigan Farm Bureau. He spoke on changes and problems affecting farmers, listing an attempt to unionize farm labor and the dangers of strikes in Michigan's farm industry as one serious problem likely to hit this area next year.

Others taking part in the program were State Director Jack Laurie of Cass City and Dave Cook of Sandusky, regional man.

Services held for Mrs. A. Robinson

Mrs. Edna C. Robinson, 71, wife of Albinze Robinson, died Sunday, Sept. 29, in Hills and Dales Hospital, Cass City.

She was born in Elmwood Township, where she was a lifelong resident.

Services were held in St. Pateratus Catholic Church, Cass City. Burial was in St. Agatha Cemetery, Gageton.

Surviving are her husband; four daughters, Mrs. Woodrow Gill of Caro, Mrs. Robert Saffron of Forest Park, Ill., Mrs. Gerald Dean of Bad Axe and Mrs. Orley Watson of Gageton; two sons, Percy of Mayville, Theodore of Cass City, Francis of Ironwood and Theron of Caro; 37 grandchildren, 14 great-grandchildren and two sisters.

WOMEN SUFFER WITH BLADDER IRRITATION

Common kidney or bladder irritations affect twice as many women as men, often causing tension and nervousness from frequent, burning, itching urination. Secondly, you may lose sleep and have headaches, backaches and feel jittery, tired, depressed. In such cases, CYS-TEN usually brings relaxing comfort by curbing spasms in and around the bladder.

Putting-you-firsts:

(A quick tour of some of the thoughtful new features the 1969 Chevrolets offer that other cars in Chevrolet's field don't.)

Headlight washers

You push the windshield washer knob and hold it, and your headlights come clean.

Fluid is diverted to two jet nozzles at each light lens. Outer lights only on duals.

The spray removes up to 80% of accumulated dirt.

The feature is standard on 1969 Corvettes. It comes with the hidden headlights available on Camaro, Caprice and Kingswood Estate Wagons. It is available on all other models except Corvair.

Heated glass

In a moment your rear window will self-defrost.

Because we've built onto it a network of tiny ceramic strips capable of heating the entire surface.

Fog and frost disappear quickly and quietly. You just flick a switch.

The heated rear window is available on the 1969 Caprice Coupe and Impala Custom Coupe.

Pushbutton tire chains

You press a button on the instrument panel and the rear tires get a shot of "liquid tire chain."

You spin your wheels once, wait a moment, and you're off - with traction you wouldn't believe possible on slick ice, or packed snow.

Available on all 1969 big Chevrolets.

Steering wheel lock

When you own a car as desirable as the 1969 Chevrolet, you don't take chances.

When you leave it, you lock it. Not just the doors.

You lock the ignition, steering wheel and transmission lever, too.

Our new lock on the steering column takes care of all that.

Standard on all 1969 Chevrolets, Chevelles, Chevy Novas, Camaros and Corvettes.

Sorry, car thieves.

Power steering plus

The 1969 Caprice, Impala and Camaro are available with a new type of power steering.

Variable-ratio power steering.

What it does is give you faster steering with fewer turns of the wheel.

Variable-ratio power steering is particularly helpful in short, full turns.

And parking becomes unbelievably easy. You'll see.

Walk-in wagons

The tailgate swings open like a door on most of our 1969 station wagons.

Which in itself is no big deal. But wait, there's more.

We've built a concealed step into the rear bumper.

You simply step up, over, and in.

The way we build our wagons, you can do it without bumping your head, and without acrobatics.

Walk into a wagon soon at your Chevrolet dealer's.

AROUND THE FARM

Farmer shows how plowdown pays

By Don Kebler

Last week I was conversing with a farm operator. I have long felt to be a long time good agronomist plus farmer.

We were talking about harvest problems, crop yields and the year's growing season in general, when all at once he went into the subject of organic matter. What he said was music to my ears as his soil husbandry practices proved what we in soils have always said.

He related examples of his practices that proved the money-making advantages of organic matter plowdown. He stated he found increased crop yields on fields where alfalfa and corn stalks had been plowed under three years prior. Further comments related how he has always seeded alfalfa in his small grain and how his soils dried out slower, where corn stalks were plowed under in the fall, than when plowed under the next spring.

His incidence of bean root rot was greatly reduced and many years non-existent on his fields where a program of high organic matter incorporation was followed.

Two comments stand out among his many and they were: "A person who says it is impossible to incorporate organic matter, either as legumes or corn stalks and make money, is just fooling himself. The crop producing the organic matter residues may only pay for itself in returns but the increased yields of the following two or three crops will more than pay the difference."

I'll say here all his experiences with the advantages of organic matter incorporation are the same as research has proven to be facts.

It is my belief that many of our cash crop operators need not expand their operations in numbers of acres tilled to achieve their goal of an equitable standard of living. If they had practiced a program which incorporated organic matter faster than it was being lost from their soil, their crop yields could have been greater than experienced. They could have prevented themselves from being forced to farm by the calendar instead of farming under ideal conditions.

Their machinery investment and other operation costs would have been less and their gross cash returns less possibly but, their net return or profits could have been higher with a small farm operation.

It is a known fact that the only cash crop we have that will incorporate organic matter faster than is lost is corn. Our forage crops fed and/or plowed for green manure increase organic matter supply and so does rye and ryegrass green manure. A rotation of beans, beets and small grain not seeded are all soil organic matter depleting crops.

We speak of 35 to 40 bushel beans, 18 to 22 tone beets and 50 to 60 bushel wheat crops as being good yields today. I talked with elderly retired farmers who produced those yields in this area twenty-five and thirty years ago and used no chemical fertilizers, weed or insect controls.

They didn't annually achieve those high yields and neither do we achieve them today every year. But they did have one natural advantage. They had generally a better tilth advantage and higher soil organic matter supply than many of our farms today.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Severance entertained the Laing Farm Bureau group in their home Tuesday evening, with six families present.

Mr. Severance conducted the business meeting and led the discussion on "Air and Water Pollution."

Package Reporter Frank Pringle mentioned the rate of high cost insurance for the young driver and reported on the number of injuries during the past year of persons insured with Farm Bureau accident policies.

In October the Laing group plans to attend the Sanilac County annual meeting at the Farm Bureau Building in Sandusky.

In November the group will have a special dinner meeting. The committee to plan the dinner are Marie Meredith, Grace Wheeler and Mrs. Arthur Severance.

Uncle Tim From Tyre Says:

Dear Mister Editor:

I see by the papers where the number of people living on "social services" in New York City hit the one million mark last week. One official that was making comment on this fine new record said the city was sending $1 to Washington for ever nickel it got back. He was of the opinion this new "assistance" they was getting was what you might call living upside down.

It made me recollect, Mister Editor, what Josh Clodhopper said at the session at the country store last week about that Englishman claiming America

Treat fields for quackgrass control

Farmers planning on planting corn in 1969 can get a jump on quackgrass by treating fields this fall, according to Alfred Ballweg, county extension agricultural agent.

Atrazine can be applied before plowing at two to four pounds of active ingredient per acre any time from September to freezeup. If the two-pound rate is used, an additional two pounds of atrazine per acre should be added in the corn in the spring.

Plowing in the fall is not necessary, but control is increased by fall plowing or digging with a field cultivator just prior to freezing. In those fields where the total amount of atrazine applied is greater than two pounds per acre, corn must be grown for two years.

Amitrole-T applied to actively growing quackgrass seven to ten days before fall plowing at the rate of two pounds per acre also has proven effective, especially when atrazine is then applied at two pounds per acre in the corn the following spring. If freezing weather or "wintering-in" occurs seven to 10 days after application of amitrole-T, fall plowing is not necessary.

Amitrole-T applied in the spring on fall plowed land is not effective. Generally, amitrole-T is most effective when applied in the spring when quackgrass is four to eight inches tall. The area is then plowed seven to 10 days later. However, this procedure can delay corn planting. Again atrazine at two pounds per acre should be used in the corn.

was an insane asylum run by the inmates. A heap of the inmates, like them one million in New York, was having it pretty good. I reckon the rest of us was just living upside down.

I was reporting on this matter at the country store Saturday night and Ed Doolittle said they got this "assistance" tagged wrong, that it had ought to be called "assignment." He said all the Government was doing was taking money from one bunch of citizens and assigning it to another bunch. Furthermore, said Ed, this guaranteed annual wage they was discussing in the Congress wasn't nothing but taking money from them that work and assigning it to the bums, and it was guaranteed only as long as somebody keeps working.

Zeke Grubb said the Government was trying to help them that can't help themselves, and he was for that, but the trouble is we was like a goat with his head stuck in the fence. We can't figger if we can help ourself and work loose or just wait and hope somebody will come and git us out of the fix.

But Ed was disagreed with Zeke, said we was more like the boy that started leading a calf, but the calf growed up and now the boy was leading the bull wherever the bull wanted to go. Government has took over from the people, was the way Ed put it.

The storekeeper butted in to say that baby doctors final was catching up to the mood of this country. He has saw where doctors now say it's good for a young'un to suck a pacifier. The doctors figger, he allowed, as how it's more important to have a feeling of getting fed than to git upset when you realize you ain't getting nothing from the pacifier.

Ed said that was exact what he was talking about, that we now got this Great Sucking pacifier and we keep sucking on it. When he was a boy, said Ed, a woman that would give one of them "foolers" to her young'un was as bad as one that smoked in public. Nowadays the idea was to keep baby happy, even if it took $1 to git a nickel's worth of happiness. I was sorry, Mister Editor, I bring the subject up because I didn't git a nickel's worth of happiness out of it.

Yours truly,
Uncle Tim
