

THE FIVE PERSONS injured in this accident Saturday are all recovering according to hospital officials. Four of the five are still patients at Hills and Dales General Hospital. Cass City Patrolman Jim Jezewski waits for an ambulance to free one of the youths who was wedged into the back seat.

Hopes dim for college after ruling by district boards

Inability of several school districts to agree to the proposed Tri-county Community College has placed a serious stumbling block before supporters of the facility for the Thumb.

In a meeting Monday at Cass City High School the boards of the Huron, Tuscola and Sanilac Intermediate Districts reaffirmed a position taken Mar. 7 when the State Board of Education was petitioned for another vote for a Community College district here to include all of the school districts in the three counties with the exception of Millington and Crosswell-Lexington.

Most competent observers feel that there is little chance for voter approval of the college if all of the districts are included. Five districts in addition to the two excluded are on record as wishing to withdraw from the proposed college district. They are Peck, Mayville, Reese, Akron-Fairgrove and Unionville-Sebewaing.

And if these districts withdraw the base that remains may not be enough to support the program as outlined in the original plan.

It would be legally possible, Scott said, for Tuscola county to join as a unit, but it is very doubtful if such a merger would be approved.

The latest that I have from the State, Scott explained, is that long range planning calls for a community college to serve the Upper Thumb and if Tuscola were in another college district, Sanilac and Huron would be left out on a limb.

Even if it does, under existing conditions there is grave doubt whether or not it would be passed.

Ironically, nearly all educators, business leaders and industrialists say that there is a crying need for the facility in the Thumb, that it is possibly the greatest spur to growth that could be promoted. But it is the lack of people in the area that is holding back its construction.

It's a case, Scott says, of which comes first, the chicken or the egg?

LENGTHY PROCESS

If the State does okay another vote as requested again Monday by the Intermediate Boards, there is apt to be a long delay before the people get to vote.

Hearings will be necessary to hear petitions from the various districts who have signified they want to be ex-

FROM THE Editor's Corner

Telling it like it is appears to be one of those profound statements that are simple and apparently irrefutable.

This paper prides itself on telling it like it is and letting others do so, too.

But who really knows the way it is?

Larry Werner told me like it is for Werner last week and Cass City has been telling me how it is in Cass City ever since.

And the way it is today for me isn't the way it was in my college days. . . and not the way it'll be 10 years from today.

Change is constant; people remain the same.

There's little basic difference between bigots in the north or bigots in the south. And the unconcerned live in Detroit, New York, Chicago, and yes, even East Lansing, as well as Deford, Gagetown, Cass City or the 500-acre farm down the road.

Perhaps, change is slower in Cass City than in college-town and big-town because in small-town there's no hiding in the anonymity of great mobs of people.

When you challenge the establishment in rural-town your ideas and YOU have to stand close personal inspection. It's not an abstract involvement against the status quo, it's the nitty-gritty of facing personally the people you are talking to or about.

When you explode a bomb in a womb the results are rather staggering; when you light the fuse there's no place to hide.

Perhaps this is why rural town has friendly people, little crime, safe streets.

Rural-town worries about the war, the hippies, the election and the lawless violence.

Everybody worries about the immediate problems they face.

There is little difference in the basics between rural-town and big-town.

And that's the way it was, the way it is and the way it will be.

Ten persons were injured in automobile accidents reported in the area during the week, according to reports of area police officials.

Authorities at Hills and Dales General Hospital said that the five persons injured in an accident Saturday at the corner of Kelly and Cemetery Roads are all recovering. Four of the five are still hospitalized.

All were described as in good or fairly good condition. All suffered severe lacerations. Injured were Padgett Randall, 5, Charles Peasley, 23, Donald W. Mills, 17, Daniel Mills, 14, and Randall Horne, 14, all of Cass City.

Only Padgett Randall had been released from the hospital Wednesday morning.

The accident occurred when cars driven by Donald Mills and Charles Peasley collided at the corner of Kelly Road and Cemetery Road.

Baptists buy land for future growth

The First Baptist Church of Cass City is purchasing property owned by the Warren Kelleys adjacent to its present church site on Houghton street.

Included in the transaction will be the Kelley home and the greenhouse on Leach street. With the addition the church will own all of the land north of the alley between West and Leach streets, fronting on Houghton.

The Rev. Richard Canfield said that the acquisition was the first step in a long-range expansion plan for the church.

The 125-member congregation now worships in a church built in 1880 and remodeled in 1953.

In the remodeling, the auditorium was expanded to seat 240 persons, two rooms added to the basement and a new front added to the church.

An estimated average of 175 persons now attend Sunday services.

Perhaps because there is still room in the auditorium present tentative plans call for the first new building for the church to be a Sunday School and education building, but no definite building dates have been set, Canfield explained.

The Kelley home will be used as the church rectory. The former rectory now houses the Sunday School building and the pastor lives in a home on Houghton that is away from the church property. Plans call for this building to be sold.

The greenhouse will be torn down after it is vacated next spring by the Kelleys. Mrs. Kelley said that Cass City Floral will no longer operate a greenhouse after next spring.

However, the firm will continue to operate the flower business at the corner of Leach and Main.

The first expansion of the church was achieved while the Rev. Robert Weckle was pastor. He had been here one year after replacing the Rev. Arnold Olsen.

Pastor Canfield has served the Cass City church for nine years.

Boys reap benefits of Ware's Scouting dedication

Standing alone before a sea of young expectant faces Tuesday night at the Cass City Intermediate School Scoutmaster James Ware somewhat wearily started his ninth year helping area boys along the trail to good citizenship.

Working without any adult help with some 50 boys of the Cass City Scout Troop he leads is not a new experience for Ware and is not one which he enjoys.

It's a rare year, Ware told members of the Cass City Rotary Club Tuesday noon, that we have the dedicated assistants we had last year when three other adults gave their time and talents to Scouting.

More often than not, the Scoutmaster stands alone when it comes time to take charge of the troop and start Scouting for another year.

That Ware and his two predecessors, Keith McConkey and Harold Oatley, who have handled Scouting here for 25 years, have been determined, dedicated and successful is proved by the Scouting program in Cass City.

Already judged one of the strongest in the district that includes all of Tuscola and half of Saginaw county, Scouting is scaling new peaks this fall.

Instead of one troop that has served the community since Scouting started, today there are two. The second troop is sponsored by the Lions and now has 17 members. Scoutmaster of the new unit is Sherlock Frederick.

And it is from the sponsoring organizations that adult help must be secured, Ware told the Rotarians. Over the years, he explained, Rotary has furnished money to keep the troop going.

But today, Ware charged, getting money is the easy thing to do. To sponsor means to accept responsibility and to do this Rotary should provide adults for the program.

Supervisors will reconvene their October session Friday with a tentative settlement with the employee association of the county to place before the board.

The session had been adjourned last week so that the costs of raises for employees could be computed and a tentative budget be hammered out for next year.

Ware believes the real worth of Scouting is the training that the boys receive. We have no smoking and drinking rules in our troop and we teach a love for God and country. . . we try to start the boys on the road to good citizenship and feel this is important.

Ware feels it so strongly that he gives up innumerable

Not everyone was skunked on the opening day of pheasant hunting Monday. At least two Cass City nitrods reported success.

Phil Retherford of Cass City lagged a bird and saw another, hunting south of Cass City, and a party that included Russ Schneberger of Cass City reported excellent results somewhere near Decker.

In our party we bagged five birds, Schneberger said, and saw many more. I shot up a half box of shells. I could hardly believe it, he said with a wide smile of satisfaction.

But the two success stories were the exception that proved the rule. And the rule for the very few hunters who were in the fields was practically no birds at all.

Plan Halloween window contest

Plans have been completed for the second annual Halloween window decorating contest in Cass City sponsored by the Chamber of Commerce and directed by Mrs. Karen Wallace, art teacher at the high school.

In the initial effort last year, the work of the students won unanimous praise and proved to be one of the Chamber's most popular activities.

One complaint last year was that the decorations were removed too soon.

Chamber authorities have asked that merchants with decorated windows leave them intact through the Halloween week end. Authorities also request that they be lighted.

Plans call for the decorating work to start Tuesday and be completed Wednesday.

The students will be competing for cash prizes. First prize is $25. Second place earns $15; third, $10, and fourth, $5.

In other activities sponsored by the Chamber, it was announced that the annual free Halloween movie will be held Thursday, Oct. 21, at the Cass Theatre starting at 7:30 p.m. The movie is open to the entire family.

Feature movie will be "The Disorderly Orderly" with Jerry Lewis.

Plan Kennedy benefit

Friends of Ken Kennedy, the high school senior stricken in June when he suffered a broken neck while swimming at a school class party, will hold a benefit Nov. 9 at Veterans' Hall, a mile east of Austin Center.

The event is sponsored by the Sanilac NFO and Ed Deering, one of the promoters, says that the music and the hall have already been donated for the affair.

Included for the $2 donation will be an evening of dancing complete with lunch and refreshments.

Kennedy has been in the hospital continuously since the accident.

Most of the time was spent in St. Mary's Hospital in Saginaw. He moved to Detroit to Harper Hospital in mid-August and about a month later was transferred to the rehabilitation center in Detroit where he is now working towards recovery.

I BET YOU DIDN'T KNOW

By H. M. Bulen

In the entire history of the National Football League, only 13 different runners have been able to gain more than 1,000 yards rushing in a season. . . See how close you can come to naming all 13. . . They are Dick Bass, Jim Brown, Tony Canadeo, Rick Casares, John Crow, Beattie Feathers, John Henry Johnson, Leroy Kelly, Joe Perry, Gale Sayres, J. D. Smith, Jim Taylor and Steve Van Buren.

Here's an oddity. . . There once was a game in the National Football League between the Cards and the Lions, played on Sept. 15, 1940, in which the Cards gained only 14 yards during the entire game and the Lions gained only 16 yards during the entire game. . . Can you imagine seeing a game in which the two teams together could gain only 30 yards combined all afternoon! . . . Needless to say the final score was 0-0. . . But, oddly enough, these same two teams met later that same season and just the opposite happened. . . Both teams ran wild and the final score wound up 43-14.

See if you can name the only major post-season football bowl game that has been played in three different cities in its history. . . Can you name it? . . . It's the Liberty Bowl. . . The Liberty Bowl was first played in 1959 in Philadelphia. . . In 1964 it was held in Atlantic City, N. J. . . And in 1965 it was moved to Memphis, Tenn., where it is played now.

Win a war, hold a parade

By Dan Marlowe

Everyone loves a parade. The most historic parades have usually celebrated military triumphs, but men have never lacked other reasons for marching.

In ancient Babylon a great street from the Tower of Babel to the Ishtar Gate was laid out solely for processions. Egyptians paraded 3000 years before the birth of Christ. Scandinavian pagans imitated the course of the sun ritually with parades. The Incas carried the mummies of their ancestors through the streets on litters. The Greeks and Romans held processions of many kinds --- some sacred, some profane.

But it was in the celebrating of military triumphs that the parade came to full flower. In our own time we can recall the fantastic New York City welcomes afforded Generals Eisenhower and McArthur. The recipe for a truly memorable military parade, of course, begins "first win your war." Or at least don't lose it. The Roman triumph will probably be the best known of parades. In 46 B.C., Julius Caesar was escorted to the Capitol by 40 elephants. The relative austerity of a 40-elephant parade vanished with the republic. Only a generation later, a minor victory in Judea generated a triumph that included silver, gold, and ivory like a river of riches; rare jewels in such abundance as to seem commonplace; huge figures of the Roman gods, made from rare and precious materials; many kinds of beasts, all in rich trappings; floats three and four stories high, covered with precious stones sewn into cloth-of-gold. On one float an army attacked the walls of a town. Others showed defeated soldiers raising their hands in entreaty, firebrands being thrown into temples, and buildings falling under Roman attack.

For its own parades, the U.S. discarded elephants and chariots in favor of limousines. Ticker tape became the trademark of an American parade. In 1927 Charles Lindbergh returned to New York City and a blizzard of paper that the sanitation department weighed out at 1750 tons. In 1951, General McArthur was awarded 3249 tons. The greatest of all was probably the last. In 1962, John Glenn was given a 3474 ton welcome back from outer space. Soon after, re-usable magnetic tape replaced the old paper tape, so that thrift will probably make future efforts fall short. Also, the windows in nearly all new office buildings are sealed for efficient air conditioning.

In the times we live in, parades tend to be grim rather than joyous. Perhaps the two most memorable in recent years were the funerals of Winston Churchill and John F. Kennedy. Churchill's took the greater part of a day, displaying centuries of British tradition, perhaps for the last time. Because Kennedy was Commander-in-Chief, the parade at his funeral was traditionally military.

Mary Prieskorn succumbs after brief illness

Funeral services were held for Mrs. Mary Prieskorn, 68, at Little's Funeral Home Thursday, Oct. 17. She died in St. Mary's Hospital, Saginaw, Tuesday evening, Oct. 15, where she had surgery Monday following a stroke.

The widow of Otto Prieskorn, she was the former Mary Allan, daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. John Allan. Mrs. Prieskorn was born Sept. 7, 1900, in Elkton.

She was married June 25, 1927, in Bad Axe. The couple moved to Cass City in 1936 from Gots Corners where they operated a general store.

A Cass City business man, Mr. Prieskorn died Dec. 15, 1958.

Surviving are: a son Gerald of Cass City; five grandchildren, Cara Jo, Susan, Jeffery, Matthew and Rebecca Prieskorn of Cass City; and three brothers, Charles Allan of Jackson, Richard Allan of Phoenix, Ariz., and Jack Allan of Onaway.

The Rev. M. R. Vender, pastor emeritus of the First Presbyterian Church of Cass City, of which she was a member, officiated at the services.

Burial was in Elkland cemetery.

Cass City church in fall advance

A fall Sunday School advance began Oct. 20 at the Cass City United Missionary Church and will continue through Sunday, Nov. 10.

Oct. 27 is Family Sunday. Everyone will dress in old-fashioned clothes and a pot-luck dinner is planned.

Nov. 3 is Youth Sunday and special singing is planned. Rally Day will close the series Nov. 10. Mrs. Marge Randall will present her puppets. The evening service will feature a musical concert including the Shabbona Quartet. Harold Whittaker is Sunday School superintendent.

Last rites today for Hal Willard

Funeral services for Harold D. "Hal" Willard, 36, who succumbed Monday from heart disease will be held Thursday at 11 a.m. at Smith Funeral Home in Port Huron.

Willard is a former resident of Cass City and was a star athlete at Cass City High School where he played end in football and was a member of the basketball team.

Although still a young man, Willard had achieved athletic prominence and was widely known across Michigan.

Girl Scout event slated at Delta

A "Senior Speakout" will be held Saturday, Nov. 2, from 2:30 to 5:30 p.m. at Delta College.

This Girl Scout sponsored event is open to non-scouts in grades 10 through 12.

Discussions will focus on ways to change personal attitudes, to break down prejudice and to cement understanding among all people. Only girls in high school will participate.

There will be a popular rock band and cost is fifty cents.

Any girl interested in attending should contact Mrs. Dick Greenwood before Nov. 2. Her phone number is 872-2369.

He was a quarterback at Wayne State in 1954-55-56 and later served as coach and on the faculty at Wayne for 10 years.

He left WSU because of sports de-emphasis to become head football coach at Port Huron High School for two years. He was appointed athletic director by Port Huron Board of Education in July 1967, the post he held at the time of his death.

Willard was the fourth member of his family to die of heart disease at a comparatively young age.

Friends and associates in Port Huron have established a scholarship fund for the education of two children in the family and contributions in memory of Willard may be sent to Dr. Gerald S. DeGrow, superintendent of Schools, Port Huron.

Willard had received his BS and Master's degrees from WSU and did post-graduate work at the University of Michigan. He was a member of Omicron Delta Kappa, a national honor fraternity.

His wife is the former Joyce Fry of Cass City, who lives with their two children, Mark and Julie Ann, at 5294 Locustwood Ave., Port Huron.

Also surviving are two brothers, Harvey Willard and Louis Willard, both of Millford.

Burial will be in Port Huron cemetery.

Mrs. William Van Erp

Kathleen Elaine Rutkowski of Detroit became the bride of William Van Erp of Farmington Saturday, Oct. 12, in St. John The Evangelist Catholic Church, Ubyly.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Rutkowski of Ubyly and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Fritz Van Erp of Bad Axe.

Rev. Fr. Zigmunt Gaj officiated at the 9:30 a.m. rites. The church's center altar was decorated with a basket of white gladioli.

The bride wore a gown of white satin with crystals and mock pearls on reembroidered Alencon lace. It skimmed gracefully from a cowl neckline to an A-line skirt with detachable train. A beaded Alencon lace petal headpiece held her elbow-length bouffant veil with detachable chapel length tier.

Given in marriage by her father, she carried an Empire styled Delphi daisy centered with white carnations.

Miss Darlene Rutkowski and Miss Carol Rutkowski, both of Detroit and sisters of the bride, were attendants. Other bridesmaids were Miss Kathy Iutsko of Ubyly and Mrs. Patricia Sweeney of Lansing.

The matron of honor was gowned in a vanilla crepe and gold velvet shift with gold velvet coat. A gold velvet bow was her headpiece and she carried a bouquet of yellow Frenched carnations. The bridesmaids' gowns were identical in style and were moss green velvet coat over vanilla crepe shift frock. Their flowers were also Frenched carnations to match their ensemble.

The groom's brother, Robert Van Erp of Bad Axe, was best man. Groomsman were Marion Rutkowski of Ubyly, Franklin Sweeney of Lansing and Kenneth Sweeney of Mt. Pleasant. The couple's brothers were ribbon boys: Richard Rutkowski of Reese and Joseph Van Erp of Bad Axe.

Both mothers wore orchid corsages to compliment their ensembles.

A reception followed at the VFW Hall, Pigeon, where 275 families were guests.

The couple are graduates of Ubyly High School.

After a week's honeymoon to Florida, they will reside at 33414 Oakland, Farmington.

Local Baptists second in contest

The Sunday School of the First Baptist Church is in the fourth week of an annual advance contest with other GAMB churches in the area.

The Cass City church is in second place, according to Ferris Ware, Superintendent.

In conjunction with the inter-church contest, the local Sunday School is holding a mock election campaign with the entire school divided into two parties, the Ambassadors and the Crusaders. Departments and individual classes form wards and precincts.

Votes are obtained by personal attendance and by bringing visitors to Sunlay School.

Candidates are Dean Hoag for the Ambassadors and Frank Mosher Jr. for the Crusaders. Each week the candidates give brief talks, followed by demonstrations and rallies by their party members.

At the end of the contest the losing party will serve the winning party at a ham dinner.

Elect officers at Owen-Gage

Authorities at Owen-Gage High School announced today that class officers have been elected. They are:

Senior class: president, Kerry McKellar; vice-president, Greg Wissner; secretary, Margaret Lorenz; treasurer, Nancy Gettel; merit chairman, Debbie Cooley and Dan Haag; student council representative, Beckie Good.

Junior class: president, Randy Rayl; vice-president, Linda Wissner; treasurer, Jim Albrecht; secretary, Danny Powell, merit chairman, L. Lorenz; student council representative, Elaine Prich.

Sophomore class: president, Sue Comment; vice-president, Dale Kari; secretary, Aileen Zienh; treasurer, Marvin Barnes; merit chairman, Joe Lorenz and Dennis Dronella; student council representative, Mara Lee Albrecht.

Freshman class: president, Chris Stevens; vice-president, Shirley Prich; secretary, Tim Burrows; treasurer, Ken Haag; student council representative, Jim Rayl; merit chairman, Randy Howard and Willa Swastyn.

It's old age when the charm of living seems to lie in the past.

The measure of any kind of trouble depends on whether it's coming or going.

Behind the Counter

Aspirin

Did you know that scientists have classified 13 distinct types of headache — and they agree that simple aspirin is still the best way to relieve the pain in most cases.

The biggest category (though not the greatest number) of headache is the migraine type, of which the "classic" group includes temporary disorders of vision and muscle activity. When these persist after the headache itself has gone, they are classed as "homoptigic" and "ophthalmoplegic" headaches.

The "common" migraine includes those that occur at frequent, regular intervals and those associated with menstruation. The "cluster" headache is associated with flushing, sweating and runny nose. Then there's the "lower half" headache, which centers primarily on the mouth and jaw.

"Muscle contraction" headache results from sustained muscle tightening, and is sometimes called the "nervous" or "tense" headache. Some headaches are associated with the eye, ear, sinus, teeth or neck; some result from disorders of the cranial nerve.

Aspirin is not usually used for migraine headaches, but it may be combined with a sedative or tranquilizer to obtain the greatest relief.

In a way, aspirin is something like electricity — we've had it around for years, without fully understanding just how it works. We're just grateful that it does work.

LOOKING AHEAD?

Your crops are in and sold. (Or if they aren't, they soon will be.) But even though this year is drawing to a close, you should already be looking ahead.

Now, when your soil's nutrient level is at its lowest point, is when you should soil test. Then, on the basis of proper fertilization recommendations, you should apply fall plowdown fertilizer.

There are plenty of good reasons for both soil testing and fall fertilization. You probably know them all. All we want to say is that Cyanamid Farm Supply has the know-how and the products to handle both jobs.

One area of negotiations with the county employees has been definitely decided. A new job classification system has been established.

Under the new system, there will be 14 different job classifications for county workers.

Previously, the work force was divided for job purposes as deputies and clerks. Now there will be two classes of clerks, secretaries, deputy clerks, custodians and other positions in the courthouse and sheriff's office with different pay scales for each class.

In other action last week, the board elected Alton Reavy to succeed Nick Van Patten on the board of the Drain Commission.

Letters to Editor

Reason can cure narrow people

Dear John,

I imagine this is one of many letters that rally to the defense of "womb-like" Cass City. Since I'm indirectly referred to in the article by Larry Werner, perhaps I should respond.

Narrowness is characteristic of small towns. It's also characteristic of big cities. But that in itself shouldn't minimize the fact that I as pastor of the Lutheran Church and you as people of Cass City are narrow. Any reaction to Larry's article has to admit that. I used to believe that anyone living west of the Delaware River (I'm from N.J.) was under constant attack by Indians. Now that I'm living among the "Indians" I find they think all Evil in the world is concentrated in the Big City. So we're both narrow!

Narrowness and trivia do characterize human nature. How do you overcome human nature. My own conviction is that the Spirit of God is the one who teaches self-discipline. In practical terms it means that narrowness is overcome by being free to hear the other side of things. Narrowness is overcome when fear is replaced by knowledge. So be knowledgeable. Don't speak off the cuff any more than you have to. And when you get pressed for deeper insight, seek it. Read! Listen! Feel! In short, don't be led by emotion. Be led by common sense: intelligent reasoning.

So Larry thinks we're narrow. We are! Thanks, Larry for broadening our insight through your articles this summer.

So you think I'm not defending Cass City? You're wrong. I'm defending it by suggesting that it has the potential to overcome its faults. We all do. Me too!

Sincerely,
Pastor Richard Eyer

OVER 1/4 million dollars in property sold in 90 days, without any salesmen! And without any for sale or sold by signs to clutter up the property.

SHUCKS ! I am used to selling property and I don't get all those pimple signs and I don't put up a for sale sign when I get a listing (some are up for 2 years) nor after I have made a sale, bloat up like a frog in a hall storm, run up and down the street with a bundle of papers under my arm and stick a sold by sign on the property. (Some clutter the property for months.)

DUE TO THE many sales, I am desperately in need of listings! Particularly in the Cass City, Caro, Watrousville and Reese areas. Any property, any size - farms, homes, vacant land, hunting ground, river property, small farms, etc.

Quality education demands more money, say profs

COLLEGE AID

Greatly-expanded tax aid for the state's public colleges and universities is the goal of the Michigan Conference of the American Association of University Professors (AAUP).

A study shows that present funding falls woefully short of meeting the institutions' needs to provide for quality education. "It is our conviction that the next few years will be crucial for higher education in Michigan," the organization said. "If the practices of recent years are continued, they will buy Michigan a third-rate system."

State colleges and universities currently receive $226.6 million a year in tax funds. They have been assigned a "target" figure of $240.3 million for fiscal 1969-70 by Gov. George Romney.

The AAUP says the governor and legislature should refrain from clamping a ceiling on appropriations to colleges and universities and dole out whatever sum is necessary to make them the best in the country. "The state can afford it, and any other course is self-defeating in that it provides an inadequate education for the future leaders of the communities of the state," it said, pointing to economic studies showing that personal income rose 5.23 per cent in Michigan last year.

"Michigan is the seventh most populous of the 50 states; it is a major industrial state, and ranks in the top 10 -- as it should -- in gross products, average earnings and family income."

Specifically, the AAUP suggested the legislature appropriate not less than $700 per year for each freshman and sophomore enrolled at a state-supported institution, $1,300 for juniors and seniors, $2,000 for master degree graduate students, and $4,000 for doctoral

Retired teachers elect officers

Officers were elected at a regular meeting of the Tuscola County National Retired Teachers' Association Tuesday afternoon at the home of Miss Lila Kelly.

Miss Kelly is the president. Miss Mary Warren, vice-president; Mrs. Margaret Haire, secretary-treasurer, and Mrs. Clara Corte, legislative chairman.

Approval of the four planks for the MRTA platform was expressed. The planks asked for adequate State appropriation, cost of living adjustment, comparable treatment for all annuitants and earning without loss of benefits.

Vassar Boy Scout Rodney Jaynes showed slides of British Honduras taken during six weeks there last summer.

The April meeting will be at the home of Mrs. Clara Corte.

School's out for fall conference

Students will have a brief vacation Thursday and Friday, Oct. 24-25, when school is dismissed for the Michigan Education Region 11 fall conference. MEA officials say that more than 50 workshops will be offered at various educational centers during the conference.

degree and professional students.

Michigan State University and the University of Michigan, the state's two largest schools, now receive an average of $1,344 and $1,628 per student, respectively, in state aid.

The AAUP also called for additional funds to boost faculty salaries to an average minimum of $12,400 annually for professors, $11,170 for associate professors, $8,520 for assistant professors and $7,250 for instructors.

Highly critical was the organization of the state's present budgetary process, which involves a review of each school's tax fund request by the governor's office, the budget bureau, the senate appropriations committee and finally the legislature itself.

It said none of the agencies is properly qualified to determine the colleges' needs, yet they invariably pare down the spending blueprints.

"The annual scramble for appropriations by our institutions of higher education is highly wasteful of time and effort for all concerned," said AAUP.

"The process is crude, irrational and unsatisfactory. Neither the bureau, the governor, nor the committee is adequately trained or staffed to evaluate or reconcile the conflicting demands."

Suggested by the AAUP was legislation turning over to the State Board of Education full authority to scrutinize the spending requests and determine financial needs.

Another recommendation proposed the board establish "minimum support standards" for all institutions, based on the objective of providing quality education for all in Michigan who desire it.

"Finally," the AAUP said, "we urge all responsible officials to develop and agree upon a long-range state plan for higher education and more courageous than any of the preliminary drafts we have so far been furnished."

Jim Brown of Mason has been nominated to replace the late Rep. Charles J. Davis of Onondaga on the Republican ballot for the 59th house district seat in the Nov. 5 election.

Davis died recently of heart attack. He had served in the house since 1962.

Brown was tapped by the Ingham and Jackson county Republican committees under a state law granting them authority to select a ballot replacement in the event a candidate dies before an election.

Brown has a political background in Michigan. His grandfather, the late Vernon J. Brown, was lieutenant governor in 1945-46.

Sheriff refuses to rehire former deputy

Sheriff Hugh Marr said this week that he owed it to the people in Tuscola County who elected him sheriff not to rehire former deputy Milton Sarles.

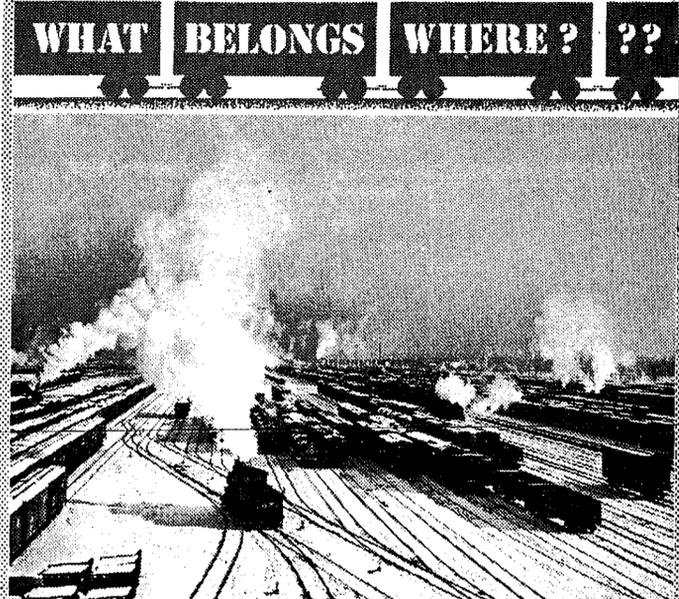

Marr's decision came after a second hearing before the State Labor Mediation Board when the sheriff was ordered to reinstate Sarles to his former position as road patrolman and repay him for time lost and for reasonable attorney fees.

The sheriff reported that Sarles had failed to obey his orders and was discharged because of it. Sarles says that he had challenged the sheriff over the way tickets were handled.

The sheriff had previously agreed to rehire Sarles at his former salary to work as turnkey but Sarles refused.

There had never been a job classification system for deputies in Tuscola County.

The case will probably now be settled in Circuit Court.

WHAT BELONGS WHERE? ??

The hub of a railroad—the classification yard. Could you, without training or experience, take charge here? Could you sort and "spot" thousands of cars, have them ready at the right time on the right track to go out with the right train?

But every day your mind performs an operation even more complex. You sort and classify your thoughts and impulses. You decide what is right and wrong. You determine which actions are urgent, and which can be deferred. You resolve that some goals are important, and others are secondary. And every decision affects your life, and the lives of others!

Preparing men and women—and boys and girls—to make the right decisions is one of the great functions of the Church. There are sound Christian standards by which life's choices should be sorted. There is confidence and strength for those who seek, learn and practice the true Way of Life.

CASS CITY, MICHIGAN - THURSDAY, OCTOBER 24, 1968

Extension group studies nutrition

Fifteen ladies attended the first fall meeting of the Cass City Extension Club at Crossroads Restaurant Monday evening, Oct. 14.

ORDER OF PUBLICATION
General
State of Michigan, Probate Court for the County of Tuscola.

Estate of Barbara L. Coulter
File No. 20383

It is ordered that on Nov. 13, 1968, at ten a.m., in the Probate Courtroom Caro, Michigan a hearing be held on the petition of William Ruhl, Executor, for license to sell real estate of said deceased. Persons interested in said estate are directed to appear at said hearing to show cause why such license should not be granted.

Publication and service shall be made as provided by Statute and Court Rule.

Dated: October 16, 1968.
C. Bates Wills, Judge of Probate.

Clinton C. House, Attorney for Executor, 6484 Main St., Cass City, Michigan.

Beatrice P. Berry, Register of Probate, 10/24/3

Mrs. Zella Vyse presided at the business meeting and informed the group that Extension clubs of Tuscola County would continue the cookie schedule for the Veterans' Hospital and the treats for the County Nursing Center.

Mrs. Avis Youngs read the secretary's and treasurer's reports. The lesson, "Nutrition for You", was presented by Mrs. Fred Pinney. She emphasized the need to exercise care in the choice of our food, both at home and away from home, and said that the large choice available makes it more necessary to be careful to attain well-balanced meals. She also stated that food experts are experimenting with imitation foods as a means to help meet the future demands of an increased population.

Each lady was served a snack made from imitation foods. The group will meet in November for a lesson on "Floor Coverings". The location will be announced later.

AROUND THE FARM

Dairymen to need permit to build

By Alfred P. Ballweg

This past week Gerald Thorpe of 2336 E. Deckerville Road, Caro, area dairy farm inspector for the Michigan Department of Agriculture, and Art Lied, Dairy Products Supervisor, Michigan Department of Agriculture, stopped by the office. Substantial progress has been made in educating dairymen to use the best known methods for producing clean wholesome milk low in bacteria count. However, every now and then some dairymen may get a little careless or does not use approved practices and disinfectants he knows should be used and "bingo", up goes his bacteria count.

It is to these dairymen that an educational program will be directed during the fall and winter to call attention to the need for strict compliance by dairymen in using only those practices that will assure milk with a low bacteria count.

It was also pointed out in our conversation that from now on when dairymen (Grade A producers) plan to remodel or build new facilities, they must first secure an okay of their building plans from the Michigan Department of Agriculture. This will help to spot mistakes that may cost the dairymen dearly if the error is not discovered before it is too late.

Plan now for retirement years

With the prospect of a longer life growing each year, some financial planning for these later years is in order...

She poses the question, what do you really want in retirement? She suggests the answer includes financial independence with an income that continues for a lifetime...

Miss Schroeter says people often have an exaggerated idea about income needs for later years, and she notes some guides to help estimate those needs.

A retirement time-table confronts everyone. Some people consider it with their first pay check. Others find retirement and future security especially important about age 30 when they must provide for young children...

Consider some steps to take toward financial security. Begin with setting a retirement income goal and putting aside a certain amount regularly.

If there is a gap between what you want and what you can expect, plan a way to bridge it. Finally, look to your present money management and determine if more money can be set aside for retirement.

At age 60, it is well to look again at the retirement timetable. Medical and hospital insurance should be checked to be sure they continue in force after age 65.

Since the death benefits on some insurance policies are reduced at 65, this can be checked with your insurance agent, stated the home economist.

Bone up on meat lesson

Dr. Portia Morris, Michigan State University Extension foods specialist, will come to Huron, Sanilac and Tuscola counties to teach Meat Cookery in a lesson entitled "Bone up on Meat."

The class, limited to thirty homemakers or chefs, requires advance registration at the County Extension Office in the Civil Defense Center at Caro, phone 673-3161.

Dr. Morris will offer an opportunity to review basic methods of cooking meat and other protein foods and to explore new ways of cooking meat. Questions concerning meat tenderizers, food value and costs will be discussed at the meeting.

The class will begin at 7 p.m. in the Civil Defense Center at Caro on Wednesday, November 6th.

"If It Fitz..."

Our cups must runneth over

BY JIM FITZGERALD

One of our leading space scientists, brain-drained from Germany, was moaning recently about how the U. S. is trailing Russia in the race to the moon. This is a typical example of old-country thinking. We'd better start growing our own scientists if imports such as Werner Van Braun can't find anything more important to fret about than the space gap. The thing the U.S. must fear is a bosom gap. Who cares if Russia is the first to give foreign aid to the man in the moon? The crucial crisis is whether there is a Russian girl who wears a bigger bra than Francine Gottfried. In this time of national peril, it would seem that our backward scientists must turn to Wall Street for guidance. Those capitalists can recognize the true significance of worldwide developments even when they are cleverly cloaked in wool. This was proven the first time Francine walked by the Stock Exchange. Certainly...you read about Francine. Her front has become the most publicized front since the allies opened the second front in World War II. Which is an apt metaphor because Francine has actually started another war in which it's what's up front that counts. As of this writing, it is still a civil war. But civil wars can easily spawn international entanglements, as all you boys and girls in Vietnam know, don't you? Francine measures about 45 inches around the breasts. She hasn't seen her feet since she was 10 years old. She dreamed she was a chest of drawers with the top drawer open all the way in her Maidenform

bra. When she walked down Wall Street, 5,000 lusty men and 32 pouting women turned out to stare. It took 50 cops to handle the traffic jam as America's business section paid homage to an anatomical section. This started the blouse-busting competition. Next came Gerri Stotts, a California bookkeeper who checks in at 47-29-39. I think I know where she keeps her books. Ronnie Bell followed Gerri down Wall Street. Ronnie is a 50-22-37 stripper. If an architect had designed Ronnie he'd have been jailed for creating a public hazard. It is dangerous to walk by her - but this didn't stop the capitalists. In their eagerness to salute Ronnie's achievements, they even got a little pushy. Ronnie was accidentally knocked to the ground. It took 5 men and a small boy to carry her from the scene. The small boy carried the feet end. My point is that it is obviously only a matter of time before Moscow enters the competition. Imagine the humiliation to the U. S. if Hilda Ruski should stroll down Wall Street and draw a bigger crowd than Ronnie, Gerri and Francine. Could this country still claim to be one of the top powers if Russia shamed our tops? I fear not. We have got to get hopping or, before you can say WOW, the Russians will be claiming they invented Jane Russell. It is up to our scientists. It is splendid for Wall Street to make our nation fully aware of its greatest monuments. But if it will take the men of science - the men who gave us the bomb and hid our windshield wipers - to protect these monuments from the Communist shadow. Even as a confirmed leg man, I realize the extreme importance of moving swiftly while our nation is still sticking out farthest in front. My suggestion to the scientists is this: Transplants. From cows to women.

Hawks meet Caro Friday

Misplays cost possible victory

Cass City usually saves one of its best games of the year for the Caro Tigers and the natural rivalry between the schools is always enough to get the players sky high without the use of any pre-game psychology. On the basis of the record, Caro will be the odds-on favorite to claw up the Hawks. The Tigers will be at home and in the Thumb B Conference ranks, just a shade behind front running Vassar and Frankenth. Cass City has only a win over Sandusky in five previous Conference clashes. With a little bit of luck, it could have been two victories in the five loop games instead of one.

The statistics:

	M	CC
First downs	12	7
Passes completed	2/8	0/2
Passing yardage	22	-
Rushing yardage	172	155
Total offense	194	155
Punts, average	3/37	3/105
Fumbles lost	1/2	3/5
Penalty yards	3/25	7/35

Zontians meet, plan projects

The Zonta Club of Cass City held their monthly dinner meeting at the New Gordon Hotel Tuesday, Oct. 15.

A report of the fall conference held at Traverse City was given by Edith Little, Helen Agar and Helen Baker.

Assorted mementos from Michigan were compiled for the box to be sent to Sweden, the club's friendship country. These were stones and products of Michigan.

The annual Senior Citizens' Christmas party, sponsored by the Zonta Club, will be held Dec. 8. The club's Christmas party will be held at the home of Helen Stevens Dec. 10.

Plans were formulated for the annual "Fun and Games" party which is open to the public. Chairman Elaine Romain, Edith Little, Lottie Konowski, Gladys Fort and Julia Murray are the committee.

Kathryn Gauer showed slides of her trip to Europe this summer. Countries included were Germany, Switzerland, Italy, Spain and England.

Plan Yule boxes for servicemen

Members of Good Shepherd Lutheran Ladies Aid are to bring items for servicemen's Christmas packages to the November regular meeting, Nov. 4. Other church members wanting to contribute are welcome to do so. Mrs. Elmer Voss is chairman of the project.

At the October meeting Mrs. Aurey Frederick and Mrs. Olin Bouck were cohostesses for a calendar party program. Mrs. Bouck also showed slides and told of the Associated Country Women of the World (ACWW) conference she attended at MSU in September.

THESE LOCAL WINNERS in the punt, pass and kick competition sponsored by Ford Motor nationally and Auten Motors locally, failed to win in the regional competition at Flint Wednesday. The boys were the best in various age divisions from among many youths who competed in the local contest at Cass City Recreational Park.

2 from Walbro finish schooling

Two employees of the Walbro Corporation completed a second-level course in Wittenberg University's Management Development Program Friday. They are Wilbert Neiman, final assembly foreman, and Clyde E. Wells, chief of quality control.

Wittenberg's program offers instruction in each of four levels to supervisory personnel from industry. Areas emphasized are human relations, economics, communications and business operations.

The Hawks were able to move the ball against the Red Raiders, but fumbles and penalties ruined several scoring drives last Friday at Marlette.

Defensively, the Hawks played tough football when it counted, stopping Marlette inside the five-yard-line twice. Missed assignments bugged the squad most of the night and Marlette reeled off several long gains because of it.

Neither team was able to score in the first half. In the third period, the winners capped the only successful drive of the night with a touchdown smash up the middle by Jim L. Amie that covered three yards. Jerry Smith kicked the extra point.

Cass City mounted a desperation drive in the fourth quarter to try to get back in the game. The team moved for 65 yards only to be stopped by a fumble.

Coach Bifoss said that the team blocked well on punt and kick-off returns and nearly went all the way on one of the jaunts. Neil MacCallum was singled out as the best blocker and the best defensive efforts were turned in by Tom Fulcher and Tom Guinther, Bifoss said. Mick Miracle was credited with a fumble recovery.

These are the things to look for in a great road car. And every day more and more people are finding them in the 1969 Ford.

Wider. The '69 Ford hugs the road with as wide a track as Cadillac.

Longer. The '69 Ford smooths your ride with a longer wheelbase than Chevrolet. Yet it turns in a smaller circle than last year's Ford.

Roomier. We've grouped all the controls in front of the driver, made our front passenger compartment so spacious people are calling it the Front Room.

Quieter. Our '69 LTD is designed to ride even quieter than the LTD that rode quieter than Rolls-Royce.

Record first-month sales of the '69 Ford tell us we've got a good thing going. A test drive will tell you.

Agent's Corner

Food fads can be dangerous

By Mrs. Ann Ross Extension Agent

Modern-day food faddists are still promoting the same kinds of wares as the fast-talking "medicine man" who sold miracle products 75 years ago. Today, consumers are protected by laws, but still food fads persist. Some highly advertised "health" products are as useless as those miracle drugs sold by yesterday's medicine man.

For example, vitamin pills are not necessary for people of any age, unless prescribed by a physician. A diet based on recommended servings from the four basic food groups is nutritionally satisfactory.

There are no known foods or vitamins and mineral supplements which will cure arthritis, rheumatism, or cancer.

Food fads and nutritional quackery are dangerous because essential nutrients may be lacking from the fad diet. Faddish foods are usually expensive. Also, reliable medical attention may be delayed while the consumer uses food products to treat his condition.

How can you separate food fact from fallacy? Ask yourself the following questions. Does the cure-all promise relief for a variety of ailments? Are miraculous results claimed? Are case histories or testimonials used to promote a cure? If the answers are "yes" -- beware.

Where can you get reliable information about a particular food product? Contact your physician; your state and local health departments; the Better Business Bureau; or your local Extension Office.

However, the best protection we have today against nutritional quackery is knowledge and application of the simple principles of nutrition, as found in the free bulletin "Nutrition For You" - available at your County Extension Office.

Uncle Tim From Tyre Says:

Dear Mister Editor:

Ed Doolittle, that claims the only good Democrat is one that's out of office and barred from voting, told the fellers at the country store Saturday night the Democrats was now trying to run the only Government in the history of the world that was losing two wars at the same time. He allowed the only thing the Administration was handling worse than the Vietnam War was the Poverty War.

Ed come to the meeting with a pocketful of newspaper clippings and he was riled up because he had saw where the professional pore has formed the National Welfare Rights Organization. The feller that heads up this new welfare union said it was started because the pore needed a new voice, Ed reported. The feller said the civil rights movement weren't moving and the War on Poverty was being lost.

One of the aims of the NWRO, Ed said, was sit-ins at all the places that has to do with giving tax money away. The reason these pore want to break up the welfare system is that less than 10 million of the 200 million people in this country is on welfare, and they say at least 30 million needed Government aid. The trouble is, the pore union says, not enough people knows their rights. The NWRO will hold free classes to explain to folks where and how to get welfare.

At the same time, Ed said, welfare services was growing faster than any part of the country's economy. In the last four year, his newspaper clipping said, the average monthly welfare aid to a family of four in New York City has jumped from $196 to $272, the cost has gone from $416 million a month to more than $1 billion, and 200,000 names has been added to the welfare rolls in the past year, in spite of the fact they was more than 250,000 jobs in New York City going begging.

He said he had said it at a session at the store last month and he would say it again. The only hope the Democrats got to stay in office was to get a majority of the voters on relief and they was coming pretty close to it now. None of them folks was going to bite the hand that feeds 'em, was Ed's words.

Mister Editor, when Ed declares war on the Democrats he is so loaded with reports and statistics the rest of the fellers can't get up much of an offensive. Several times Clem Webster of the Great Society butted in but Ed turned his hearing aid off and kept right on going.

Personal, Mister Editor, I didn't take no part in the battle Saturday night, but I'm about come to the belief that when the Government, Democrat or Republican, gits a tootholt it's as hard to stop as crabgrass.

Yours truly,
Uncle Tim

Get headed in the right direction-it's hard work to back up and start all over again.

School scribbles

By L. H.

Deford

BY: Rosemary Novak

The second graders have collected many colorful leaves for their bulletin board and have made colorful spatter pictures of leaves on black construction paper.

All the students are happy that there will be no school Thursday and Friday of this week because of Teachers' Institute in Saginaw.

Monday and Tuesday, October 28th and 29th, parent-teacher conferences will be held at Deford.

W. Campbell Elementary

The four first grade classes took a walk last Tuesday to see the colorful trees and many other interesting things that are on display in autumn.

The third grade also took a walk on Tuesday and wrote stories and drew pictures about their trip when they returned.

On Thursday, Mrs. McGrath's second grade and Mrs. Haythorn's first grade had a special treat. They visited the Rushio Farm on Cedar Run road and watched corn harvested from Jacques Picker Shelter Test Plot. They also saw the Registered Polled Herefords.

The students in Mrs. Quick's and Mrs. Weaver's rooms had what they described as a "hilarious time" last Friday making paper bag masks for Halloween.

JUNIOR HIGH FOOTBALL

by Paul Blifoss

Monday the seventh and eighth graders had practice to determine who will play against Caro.

Tuesday the Stricklands played the Boilermakers. Coach MacTavish led his team, the Stricklands, to a 20 to 0 victory.

Wednesday the Salas team played the Spartans. The Salas team beat the Spartans by a score of 49 to 39. This game was one of the best games the Spartans have played all year.

Thursday the Boilermakers beat the Spartans by a score of 19-0.

The standing score is:

	W	L
Salas	4	0
Stricklands	3	1
Boilermakers	2	2
Spartans	0	4

C. C. H. S.

Monday night most of the classes spent tearing down their float and cleaning up the location where they built it. If the places didn't pass student council inspection, the class (or classes) who didn't complete their clean up lost the $20 deposit required of them at the beginning of the homecoming week as an incentive to clean up.

The best part of making floats is tearing them down. . . you can take out all of your aggressions on the chicken wire and napkins, and it only takes about a half hour and eight people to finish.

Last week was the last week of the marking period. Needless to say, tests after tests were given. The last week of the marking period is almost as bad as homecoming. . . but not quite.

The Ski Club is sponsoring a powder puff football game Saturday, October 26, at 1:00 p.m. at the park. The Junior and Senior girls, coached by Dale Churchill and Jim Selby, will stand the Freshman and Sophomore girls, coached by Fred Ryan and Gary Vollmar. Guys will be cheerleaders for the event.

CLUB NEWS

Ann Starbmann was crowned queen of the Cass City High School Home-coming Friday night during the half-time ceremonies at the Sandusky-Cass City football game at Cass City Recreational Park. Outstanding floats were created for Cass City High School's Home-coming by the high school grades. The senior float was judged the best.

The Cass City Red Hawks fought from behind twice to tie favored Sandusky Friday night at the Hawk's Home-coming game. The score was 13-13.

An estimated 400-500 persons attended the open house at the St. Pancratius Church Sunday afternoon.

The Cass City Woman's Study Club will be one of the first organizations starting to work on a project for Cass City's centennial in 1965.

Plans were completed for the fourth annual banquet of the Sanilac County Historical Society at the organization's regular meeting Tuesday.

The Cass City Band Boosters are determined to secure new uniforms for the band and are in the midst of an intensive drive to secure items for a fundraising auction to be held Saturday.

Cass City is slated to get its annual fall face-lifting next week with the advent of the clean-up, fix-up and paint-up campaign to be held Oct. 28 through Nov. 2.

TWENTY-FIVE YEARS AGO

With 72 soldiers and 26 army trucks scheduled to come into Tuscola County the night of Nov. 8 for a county-wide pickup of scrap metal the following day, Nov. 9, the county salvage committee and American Legion posts are rapidly perfecting plans for the drive.

At a regular meeting of the Gavel Club held Tuesday evening, Dr. B. H. Starbmann gave an interesting and educational discourse on the subject of the appendix and appendicitis.

The Cass City Woman's Study Club met in the home of Mrs. Fred Maier Monday afternoon. An address was given by the president of the Michigan State Federation of Women's Clubs.

The Cass City football team continued its undefeated march by trouncing Sebawaing there last Thursday afternoon by a score of 26-7.

Prefacing the week of Girl Scout Service Days, members of that organization are presenting a program Wednesday evening, Oct. 27, in the Youth Center, to which mothers and friends of the girls and members of the Woman's Study Club are invited.

THIRTY-FIVE YEARS AGO

Cass City fans were given a real treat at the local gridiron Friday, when Cass City High School's football team romped up and down the field to thoroughly outclass the best team from Sanilac county, the Sandusky team.
