Others are as vitally interested in the five referendum proposals as they are in the presidential race.

Most observers feel that the 13,000-vote total of 1964 will be surpassed next week. It could be that the county returns will not be tabulated until late Wednesday as the glut of ballots are counted at the precincts. In 1964, Tuscola County went Democratic for the first time in its history as the voters repudiated Barry Goldwater at the polls. The rest of the ticket however, stayed solidly in the GOP camp, It is expected that the county will return to the Republican ranks behind Nixon who appears to have luke warm acceptance if not enthusiastic support here. It is likely that some of the Democratic strength will be drained by George C. Wallace and his American Independent Party.

haven't cast ballots since the 1964 election when Sunday Special propositions important to voters

Seldom have there been five propositions referred to the voters for action with the impact of the issues that will be decided by the electorate Tues-

Proposition one asks that the constitutional provision against a graduated income tax be abolished. If passed, it means that a sliding scale tax with no upper limits could be passed by the legislature.

The second is whether the State shall observe daylight savings time. A no vote means that the current switching of time in the spring and fall would cease and Michigan would remain on Eastern Standard

Probably of least interest to voters is proposition five that would allow officers to be elected to another state office while members of the Proposals three and four have found favor with nearly every political organization and impartial observers. Experts say that both should be enacted or rejected. They will open the way for a concerted attack on water pollution and accelerate the acquisition of public lands for recreational purposes. No new taxes are expected to implement the proposals.

See if you can answer this football question. . . Many people, surprisingly, seem to miss it. . . Does the entire ball have to be over the goal line for a touchdown, or can only part of the ball be over the goal line for a touchdown?...What's your guess? . . . Here's the answer. . . The rules say it is a touchdown when any part of the ball, no matter how small a part, is over the goal.

Did you know that a President of the United States was responsible for forward passing being part of football? . . . Prior to 1906, passing wasn't allowed. . . In that year, President Theodore Roosevelt told football leaders to open up the game to prevent the many injuries that were resulting because of concentrated line play. . . Roosevelt said if the rules weren't changed, he'd outlaw football . . Forward passing was then legalized, and thus, a U.S. President changed the course of American foot-

But once at the store the salesman says he's "fresh out" of the model and pushes a higher priced range. This has happened before and you suspect "bait" advertising to lure you into the store. What should you do?

Write to the Federal Trade Commission, Washington, D.C. 20260. This agency will personally investigate your complaint without divulging your identity. Its purpose is to protect you from false advertising (including those on radio and television), unfair business methods, and to preserve free and fair competition in the market place. In addition, it enforces the labeling of wool, fur and textile fiber products law and polices the Flammable Fabrics Act.

The best thing about last week was that it was only three days long!

Tuesday morning about forty students took the Preliminary Scholastic Aptitude Test (P.S.A.T.).

-Wednesday a student-councilmeeting was held. An amendment to the constitution giving future seniors preference over all the concession stands during football and basketball seasons was proposed. The amendment will be voted on during our next homerooms. (Two-thirds of the homerooms must pass the proposed amendment before it can be adopted.)

Mr. Cleland informed the council that it would be possible to have two foreign exchange students from South America come to C.C.H.S. in January for about 10 weeks if he is able to locate homes for them.

Other topics discussed were: having the annual Thumb "B" Student Council dance at Cass City; having five minutes between classes with no bells: (If you have ever tried to run around an entire school in three minutes, you can appreciate what the extra two minutes can mean!) and the possibility of having an honor study hall, which would consist of an elite group of students who really wanted a quiet place to study.

Also on Wednesday a short Senior Class meeting was held. Further directions for payment on the Senior trip and the major candy sale were discussed.

It was decided to pay $10 on the 10th of every month (or on the following Monday, if the 10th falls on a week end) instead of $10 every marking period.

FAULTY FORECAST

It didn't hold up; the forecast that draft law changes would cause a big drop in graduate school enrollments in Michigan this fall.

Officials at Michigan State University, the University of Michigan and Wayne State University report graduate student numbers are down only slightly from last year.

U-M enrollment is 8,337, a decrease of three per cent from 1967's fall term. MSUhas 7,700 students on hand this autumn, about the same as last year. Wayne State reports little change.

Nearly 90 per cent of Michigan's voters will cast their Deferments were issued to ballots on voting machines in Nov. 5 election, the

> The state has 4,067 machine precincts and 1,316 which use the paper ballots, Hare added.

Only four of the state's 83 counties --- Bay, Ottawa, Muskegon and Kalamazoo --- have completely converted to machines, But Hare says that 31 counties are more than 50 per cent converted and 66 counties have at least one machine. The changeover to machines was most pronounced between 1955 and 1958, Hare says, when the number of machine precincts climbed from 1,700 to nearly 3,300.

GRADUATED TAX?

Atty. Gen. Frank J. Kelley says the constitutional amendment for a graduated income tax Michigan is not selfexecuting. He says a slidingscale tax could only be levied with the authorization of the legislature.

Presently the Michigan Constitution restricts the state to a flat-rate income tax. State law limits all cities, except Detroit, to a one per cent levy on residents, and one-half of one per cent on nonresidents.

The amendment would remove the constitutional prohibition against villages, County coroner, reported that charter townships and school an autopsy has revealed that districts levying an income tax, Harold D. Willard, 36, of Port according to Kelley.

Dear

I treasure those hours we spent watching shaky, ghosty, fuzzy TV.

But, I've met someone new. He has a CHANNEL MASTER COLOR VECTOR TV ANTENNA!

Now I see what we've been missing. Crisp, Clear Color. Sharpest blackand-white.

I say it's fate. He says it's design ... Channel Master's unsurpassed antenna design

New landfill trench to cost $1500

A new trench at the Cass City Sanitary Landfill dump will cost the village some $1500, it was learned following the opening of sealed bids Tuesday night at the Municipal Building,

Three bids were received for removing an estimated 8,500 cubic yards of dirt. C. R. Hunt Construction of Cass City was low with a bid of 17 cents per cubic yard. Lee Dillon and Son of Colwood bid 19 cents and Robert G. Brady of Unionville, 23 cents per cubic yard. The contract was awarded to Hunt.

It is the second trench in two years required at the landfill. Village Engineer William Schram says that at the present rate of usage a trench lasts a little over a year. It is probable, he explained, that the village will need a new trench two years out of every three.

We, the firemen, of the Elkland Township Fire Department have not seen much publicity on the millage issue on the new fire hall in the Cass City Chronicle. This Nov. 5 election there is going to be one ballot that is called the H ballot and this ballot is for one mill for three years for a new fire hall. The firemen are backing this one mill for three years on the Il ballot so that they can have a fire hall that will hold all of their equipment which consists

I can also write a little, so maybe some of you will get answers to your letters. Most all of you ask if the time is dull and what do I do all day. It is tiresome but not copper tooling, metal tapping they should be an elective to boring, as most of the tiresome comes from good hard

CASS CITY, MICHIGAN-THURSDAY OCTOBER 31, 1968

Library board meets Tuesday

The monthly meeting of the Cass City and Elkland Township Library board was held Tuesday forenoon at the library. Three board members and the librarian, Mrs. Arthur Little, were present.

The terms of Mrs. Esther McCullough, representing the village, and Mrs. John Zinas a trustee representing the township, expire Nov. 1. The board has requested the reappointment by the village council of Mrs. McCullough to a four-year term. Mrs. Zinnecker asked to be replaced.

Members voted to combine the work of the secretary and treasurer at this time and those duties will be handled by Mrs.

I like to write columns that in her lengthy car is ign to buy amuse you with an only-slightly exaggerated account of the domestic tragedies which make bloody the brow of me, the average husband. But sometimes the chuckles and wisecracks come hard. Especially when I just read about Scotte Damaschke.

Scotte is a 2 1/2-year-old boy who lives with Mr. and Mrs. Frank Damaschke in Port Huron. They love Scotte and he loves them. They are the only parents he has ever known. But there is a problem. Scotte's skin is black and the Damaschkes'

This is a big hairy deal, of course. The Damaschkes want to keep Scotte. No one else wants him. But still, the couple have been in and out of probate, circuit and appeals courts for months. And the future looks like more of the same - endless legal battles plus the constant fear that any minute their boy may be taken from them.

Black people and white people just aren't supposed to live that close. Goodness, one judge wondered, who would that black boy expect to date when he is in high school? How would he explain the difference between him and his parents? These are real

But why? I spend a lot of time wondering why. I wondered extra hard recently when I heard from a friend whose daughter is seriously ill in Ann Arbor hospital. Some of the nurses and attendants in his daughter's ward are black and some are white. The patients also come in various shades. Please listen to what my friend wrote:

"They are color blind in the wards, where black children and white children lie side by side in their beds . You don't think in terms of black or white, but in terms of individuals and their problems."

"The important thing is that you find yourself not caring whether a nurse or an aide or a therapist is black or white or orange or green, for these people are doing important jobs and doing them well. The boy with e leg or the young girl that's paralyzed or the small child awaiting a new life with heart surgery - do you care if that child is black or white?

"I know I am guilty of oversimplification and perhaps too prejudiced by emotion, but when I see a black nurse tenderly holding a white baby with a tube coming out of its throat rocking it gently and murmuring words of compassion; or a white nurse gently tending to a black youngster that lies immobile and in pain; when I see this I am touched by the thought that color blindness is a wonderful thing, and all too rare in this world of ours today."

ALI TOO RARE, And that's why, some days, it's impossible to write funnythings about how I lost my bed also wasn't a disgrace for Cass City which played one of its better games of the year. If the club maintains the momentum displayed against the Tigers it just could fly to victories against the Lakers and against North Branch, The Lakers, one of the disappointments of the season, have a slightly better record than Cass City, but have not shown any improvement during the year. North Branch has one of its weaker teams, Hawks started slowly against the Tigers and got better as the game progressed.

Cass City's weakest quarter was the first when Caro rolled for its only legitimate touch-

Steve Holik capped a drive by going three yards to paydirt. The kick was missed, In the first play of the second quarter, Cass City fumbled and Don Gaudett picked off the loose ball and rolled 13 yards to score. Tom Bowman kicked the extra point.

That ended Caro's scoring and it was enough to win. Cass City was able to do little offensively until the final period. Starting on the 10 Cass City charged steadily down the field to the five-yard line from where Tom Guinther passed to Rob Alexander for five yards and the score. Alexander ran for the

Oldsters useful in volunteer work

By Rev. R. J Searls

We pass on this good advice to people with this problem. One sure way to new friendships and a sense of doing something that is helpful is to take on some volunteer work. Hospitals and schools report making excellent use of older volunteers. Untrained volunteers can do much to help the work of the hospital run more smoothly - by assisting the nurses, doing small chores for patients, and providing companionship for those who are lonely.

Volunteer school programs are also making good use of the elderly. This should start the mind whirling until you find just the volunteer program that fits you. Then watch the loneliness

The college freshman had gone to sleep in English class, so the professor threw a book "What hit me?" asked the freshman. "That ." replied the professor, "was a flying Chaucer."

Two drunks were walking down the railroad track, Said one: "These are the longest stairs I ever saw."

Estate of Barbara L. Coulter

File No. 20383 It is ordered that on Nov. 13, 1968, at ten a.m., in the Probate Courtroom Caro, Michigan a hearing be held on the petition of William Ruhl, Executor, for license to sell real estate of said deceased. Persons interested in said estate are directed to appear at said hearing to show cause why such license should not be granted.

Publication and service shall be made as provided by Statute and Court Rule.

The second one said; "Yeah, but what gets me are those low handrails."

I once was present after an automobile accident, where the drivers shouted imprecations at each other before the police "Made the scene," Both were members of the Negro race and I recall that one driver said something like this: "Why didn't you give me the right-of-way, Nigger." To which the other driver responded "Don't you call me a Nigger, nigger. Since then I have always tried to lend courtesy to any meetings Ihave had with colored people.

"The Detroit News" recently had a survey made, trying to discover what the Negro preferred to be called. According to the survey, most Negroes prefer to be called -- Negro. Second choice was Afro-American. The balance of the others liked to be referred to as black and colored.

More than 400 Protestant and Catholic women pounded the streets and sidewalks to prove that the poor pay more for less and that the color of a housewife's skin affects the price she pays. In the same store of a large Detroit drug chain on the same day a white woman paid $1.50 for twelve tetrocyline tablets and a Negro woman paid $1.75. The prescriptions for the two women were written by the same doctor.

The women found that drug store prices in the inner-city are far out of line with those in the suburbs or the outercity areas. Even chain stores in the poorer neighborhoods charge 5 per cent more than the same chain store in the suburbs or in wealthier parts of the city. These findings confirmed the results of a survey by the House Committee on Government Operations released in early August and dealing with prices in Washington, D.C., St. Louis and New York

The Detroit women found that in addition to higher prices charged by the same chain store in different locations, ghetto residents also have less of a choice with inferior shopping facilities in the inner city,

Professional parking meter thieves may never accomplish much in small towns, but they're giving fits to police in large sonville.

The thieves are organized, for one thing. They disdain the smash-and-grab techniques of the disorganized and un-organized, Parking meter thievery is big business. It is for the unprincipled professional, at any rate.

key to a successful in parking meter thievery is a key. Literally. Meters are opened by keys when the money in them is collected. To a knowledgeable few, parking meter keysare for sale or for rent from a firm in Kansas City which shall remain nameless.

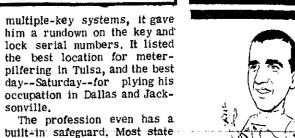

Midwest police recently apprehended a parking meter thief and found an interesting notebook in his possession in addition to dozens of keys. Each page in the notebook was devoted to an accumulation of information on the parking meter situation in a specific city.

The notebook told him, for instance, that a single key opened every parking meter in Moines, In cities with built-in safeguard. Most state courts have held that a theft from each meter is a separate offense, usually categorized as petty larceny. A single meter might contain only $5 in coins, but a thief can empty 200 meters a night. Under a separate offense law, the penalty is rarely more than a $100 fine and/or 30 days in jail, To the professional, this constitutes a mere slap on the wrist.

Nor is it only at night that these brazen individuals work, "All you need is a baseball cap and a uniform shirt of some kind," declared one captured pilferer. "Then you get yourself a sack to hold the coins and walk down the street in broad daylight, collecting the money and saying 'good morning' to people."

Some state legislatures are considering a law that would make multiple theft from parking meters a felony. Some lawyers believe, though, that the courts might strike down such a law, again on the premise that each theft is an individual

Many municipal officials are ignorant of the dimensions of the problem. For one thing, they don't realize how much revenue they're losing, Parking meter revenue fluctuates. Meters in Des Moines, a city of 225,000, averages $20,000 a month, for instance, but can vary from that by as much as $5000.

"If you're smart, you don't strip the whole cow," stated one meter-thief, "You might hit only every third box, You got to leave a little for the squares.*

Behind the Counter Caffeine

We often read about how dangerous" such-and-such a lrug is, if it's mis-used. The truth is, there's no drug that is absolutely safe under all conditions and for all people. Mothers tow that even as-pirin must be kept out of the reach of children who might swallow too many.

This is also true of many things we no longer think of as "drugs"—tobacco and alcohol are good examples. And now coffee and tea have been blamed for physical disorders, when drunk to excess.

For example, Dr. Hobart A. Reimann recently reported the case of a woman who seemed to suffer from a continual cold over a six-month period. She had a low fever and chills, couldn't sleep, and felt irritable. After losing 20 pounds, she was admitted to a hospital where her symptoms disap-peared within a few days.

Her problem, Dr. Reimann said in a recent issue of the Journal of the American Medical Association, was that she drank up to 18 cups of coffee a day. This represents something like two grams of caffeine twice as much as would be expected to produce mental confusion, vomitting, diarrhea, shivers and tremors, Coffee and tea contain chemicals known as xanthine alkaloids and these, taken in too great a volume, can induce symptoms that are mistaken for more common illnesses.

vinced agricultural changes will really surprise all of us.

Just around the county I believe we will be seeing farm land previously being rented, cash or crop shared, will not find renters in 1969. I believe these un-rented farms will be those which have commanded the highest dollar rent and those which are on the border line of crop yield productive capacity economics. The latter we most commonly refer to as submarginal land.

These high rent farms are those which are capable of top crop yields but the squeeze between crop value and costs beginning to cause too much risk to the profit potential for the renter.

I don't wish to infer here that the rent is too high for the landlord's investment value or soils productiveness. But the rental costs plus therenters' operating costs can be leaving them with very little or no annual profit over cash sales.

In some cases the renter should not have even rented extra land anyway. This rental of extra land could have caused him to increase his machinery investments so their costs became greater than the profit realized from the product sold from the rented land after rent and other costs were charged

What is to be the recourse of action by both the renter and landlord? This is a good question and I think the answer is in the hands of both. One course of action will be some type of give and adjust agreement between the two parties. For years M.S.U. farm management specialists have studied and recommended the most equitable of landlord-tenant rental agree-

They have found that where the crop-share renter supplies all the machinery and labor the landlord furnishes the same percentage of the crop costs in seed, fertilizer, spray materials, etc. as received by the landlord in crop value.

Therefore, if the landlord is to receive 1/3 of the value of the crop grown and does not work or furnish equipment, it would be most equitable that the landlord pays 1/3 the cost of seed, fertilizer, spray, etc, also. This general rule does not apply to a crop like sugar beets where extra hired 1. or costs are greater than occurs in cash grain crops and beans. With sugar beets tandiord receives less than 1/3 the return from the crop. This sharing of crop expenses and income has been more used in areas outside the Saginaw Valley than within this area. This was because the cost income squeeze was greater in these areas much earlier than in the valley. These farm operations had to follow this course of action so that both the landlord and renter could survive. Under a cash rental agreement the landlord may find he needs to lower his rental charge in order to find a renter.

I must say here that some of this farm land judged by the renter as not making him money may be capable of making money. Under this case the cash or share crop rent is not too much. There are many other reasons why farm returns are not made or even realized. The renter could be loosing income because his cropping practices need adjusting, he may have a business with an investment overload, the size of operation may have gotten beyond his efficiency and management control, his money management may need to be re-evaluated plus other reasons.

So before renting more or less land, be sure the returns expected will be in balance with the management input required.

1. Better carburetor cleaning. Keeps new carburetors clean and bright, cleans even dirtiest carburetors for better mileage, improved performance.

2. Better ice-proofing properties. On cool, damp days, ice may form on the carburetor throttle plate, causing annoying stalling. The new additive forms a slippery film one molecule thick on the metal surface. Ice never gets a chance to build up.

3. Better rust protection. The same molecular film protects metal surfaces against corrosion - in engine parts as well as the entire gasoline distribution system.

4. Better exhaust emission control. Works on exhaust emission devices, like Positive Crankcase Ventilation just as it works on the carburetor -- cleans and keeps clean, reducing the need for expensive maintenance.

5. Better ignition. A special compound in Premium 500 suppresses pre-ignition and sparkplug, fouling caused by combustion chamber deposits. Car performance is noticeably improved.

Uncle Tim From Tyre Says:

Dear Mister Editor:

You will recollect that back last Spring Bug Hookum was worrying about that age law that went into effect in June. Bug, that is more apt to rust out than wear out, was afraid the new law would fix it so's old fellers like us couldn't quit work if we wanted to. The fellers at the country store spent a whole session setting Bug straight on the law that pertects old folks from gitting fired or promoted just because they boneyfied reasons. First off, Bug was concerned say nothing about age, and he

Zeke Grubb was agreed with Bug that this anti-sex work law was going to cause a heap of favor of the system the Indians used to have fer running the country. In them days, said Zeke, the men did the hunting and fishing and the wimmen took care of everything else. Ever since, ever change in the work laws has been fer the worst,

Bug was agreed with Zeke that said Bug, if we was going hoglegal fer a person, male or fe-

Personal, Mister Editor, I was convinced a long time ago that the menfolks was leading this country wherever the wimmen wanted it to go. The fellers was agreed with me on this point, and Ed Doolittle allowed as how one of them candidates running fer President made a big mistake in not picking a woman fer Vice President, He'd won without even campaigning.

Yours truly,

Well, Mister Editor, Saturday night at the store Bug brung up another work law that has got him upset, this law that goes into effect December 1, about discrimination on account of sex. This law makes it illegal to say male or female help wanted in ads if you say one without the other, unless they was what the lawyers call on account of this new law don't had just got around to understanding that June law that gives old folks the right to loaf, Back in his younger days, Mister Editor, Bug was knowed as a real go-gitter. His old lady worked and he went and got her. Now he is worried because this new law might change that arrangement and make men compete with wimmen fer jobs.

Bug figgers they was going to be a heap of confusion about this new law. First off, it will be hard to decide when they was a boneyfied reason fer saying if the job calls fer male or female.

trouble. He said he was still in

FORMAL WEAR Ryan's Men's & Boys' Wear Cass City

was Zeke's words, this new law going into effect in December was backed by the wimmen folks, and he said the men had ought to git a few clauses in the law. Fer instant, wild on equal rights fer wimmen we had ought to have a section in the law that makes it ilmale, to git turned down by the draft board on account of sex. That'll fix 'em, allowed was Ed's perdiction.
