

Commissioners okay $149,159 to bolster county wage budgets

County departments are over their wage and salary budgets by nearly $150,000, according to a report made public Tuesday during a meeting of the Tuscola County Board of Commissioners.

According to the report, through June 30, county departments overspent their wage budgets, excluding overtime, to the tune of $149,159.03.

According to Commissioner Kenneth Kennedy, the largest funding gap came in the Sheriff's Department, which required a supplemental appropriation of $53,026 from the general fund.

Kennedy said that by the end of the year, the board could look for another $62,000 supplemental wage appropriation for the Sheriff's department.

Overall, he said, total supplements from the general fund to cover wages alone for 1975 could hit $210,000. He emphasized these funds were not planned on at the beginning of the year.

Much of the need for Tuesday's supplemental appropriations came as a result of new wage contracts negotiated with three county unions—the courthouse employees, Sheriff's deputies and District Court employees.

The board came under fire last year when it approved a new budget that did not allow for substantial wage increases. Since then, the three employee unions have all won pay hikes ranging in the neighborhood of seven per cent.

Other supplements approved Tuesday by commissioners included $25,246.40 to the Cooperative Extension Service. It was pointed out, however, that much of this money will be reimbursed through federal and state revenue sharing.

Other supplements approved included $12,487.50 for the Prosecuting Attorney's office, $9,947.30 for building and grounds, $9,351.75 for the driver's license bureau and $4,175 for juvenile probation.

Kennedy explained approximately $22,000 of the Cooperative Extension request for supplemental funding and about $20,000 of the Sheriff's request will be reimbursed to the county through the CETA (Comprehensive Employment Training Act) program.

When this year's budget was approved last fall, Kennedy pointed out, no salary hikes were built into it. The year before, five per cent was added for wage increases.

With this year's new contracts hiking wages from seven to 10 per cent, he said, that threw the whole budget out of balance.

Kennedy warned there is a possibility the county could finish in the red by the end of the year.

"The possibility definitely exists, although there are some in county government who would disagree with me," Kennedy said. "But without the federal revenue sharing, there's just no way we could do it."

Next year, Kennedy said, a more realistic budget for the county can be drafted, since new contracts run for 18 months. "We'll know what the costs are going to be and there'll be no way any department will be allowed to overspend their budget without consent of the County Board of Commissioners," he said.

He added that the county needs every dollar it can get. Had the property assessment freeze advocated by many county farmers become fact, Kennedy said, the county could have been in serious financial trouble.

Currently, the county levies a fixed 4.2 mills. That figure cannot be raised without a vote of the people, Kennedy said, and right now, that would be impossible.

LANDFILL

The board continued discussions regarding a countywide landfill system and agreed to study a county-operated versus a privately operated system.

Commissioner Maynard McConkey said the county has indicated to Department of Natural Resources officials it is in the process of complying with state law requiring counties to provide a solid waste disposal system.

McConkey said the county board is leaning toward a multiple site system, but might only operate one site at a time. Last fall, the board decided to look toward a multiple site system.

McConkey said hopefully the Cass City landfill could be integrated into such a county system and added he favored its continued use as long as it met state requirements.

Currently the landfill services Elkland, Elmwood, Elington and Novesta townships.

"I see no reason to close it," McConkey commented, "as long as it continues to meet state and DNR requirements."

He indicated no specific sites are as yet being considered by the board.

Gagetown trio wins $25,000

Three Gagetown residents are collectively $25,000 richer following last week's Michigan Lottery drawing held at Gaines.

And for Bill Downing, Mrs. James Molnar and Mrs. Nelda Phillips, it was a day they'll never forget.

"We were all shaking," Mrs. Molnar recalled as she looked over a photostatic copy of the initial $10,000 the trio received at the drawing. The remaining $15,000 will be paid next year.

"It was all I could do just to make my legs work," Mrs. Phillips said.

Downing kept his cool for most of the time.

"I wasn't too nervous until I got up on stage with the rest of the people," he said. "It was pretty exciting."

The group, known as the Gagetown DMP (Downing, Molnar, Phillips) Troika Club, had known they would be in the contest for about a month. They took second prize of $25,000 and just missed taking all the marbles—$200,000.

As the three $10,000 winners were determined and eliminated, the tension grew.

"We're all pretty psyched up on the number three," Mrs. Molnar said. "As it turned out, the big winner was wearing a number three and Bill had number two. If we'd had our three, we'd have gone all the way."

Even though they didn't hit the big jackpot, the trio was still delighted with their luck.

"After it was all over, we stopped and had a two-hour lunch in Flint," Mrs. Molnar said. "Then we stopped in Richville and celebrated. Then we stopped in Reese and celebrated. After that, we sort of ran out of places to celebrate, so we came home."

While it's the first time Mrs. Phillips has won anything in her life, Mrs. Molnar has had nine $25 winning lottery tickets in the past, along with one $50 winner.

Downing has also had a few winning tickets—but none as big as last week.

As it turned out, what proved to be the winning ticket almost never made it. It was in a group of tickets Downing was about to turn in—leftovers.

But before turning them in, he thought why not give it a try and eventually the partnership with Mrs. Molnar and Mrs. Phillips was formed.

Downing himself will get an added bonus out of his good fortune. Since the ticket was purchased from his store, Bill's Foodland of Gagetown, he'll receive a commission from the Lottery Bureau because he sold a winning ticket.

He said he isn't sure just how much the commission will be.

What plans does the trio have for their winnings? Nothing definite yet, but they're working on it.

Mrs. Phillips indicated she and her husband might like to take a trip to visit a daughter on the west coast later this year. Other than that, she isn't sure.

Mrs. Molnar and Downing aren't sure either, but the idea of a trip to Las Vegas has crossed their minds.

"But one thing for sure—we wouldn't take our winnings with us," Downing said, implying that they'd just use their money for the trip itself.

One thing's certain—all three plan to keep buying those lottery tickets.

After all, there's that grand prize yet to be won and the Troika Club would like to celebrate another stroke of luck someday.

A glow to know: your neighbors still care

Who says neighborliness is a thing of the past? It's alive and well, thank you, and living in Elmwood township. Just ask Ben Hobart.

Hobart found out what it means to be on the receiving end of his neighbors' generosity Monday when over a dozen of them pitched in to harvest 35 acres of his wheat.

They came following word that Hobart's wife, Joan, had died following a long illness. During her illness, much of the farm work took second priority.

Yet if the wheat wasn't harvested soon, it could have been lost. After the news of Mrs. Hobart's death reached the community, Hobart's neighbors dropped what they were doing, brought their combines and trucks and went to work.

By Monday afternoon, eight combines and nearly a dozen trucks were at the scene.

One of those lending a helping hand was Keith Goslin of Bay City-Forestville, involved in the Owen-Gage school district controversy, watched as supporters and opponents of his cause worked together with one goal in mind—harvesting the wheat.

Monday, ideologies meant very little. Helping a neighbor in need meant more.

Combine operators included Alvin Seurnynck, Keith Goslin, Pat Goslin, George Prich, Barry Hedley, Lawrence Langlois, Jim LaFave and Jack Laurie.

Truck operators included Leo Seurnynck, Dick Woods, Keith Goslin, John Prich, Vincent Sattelberg, Raymond Sattelberg, Wayne Dillon, Pat Goslin, Dick Ziehm and Barry Hedley.

Hobart, who had been awake most of the previous two nights keeping a vigil at his wife's side, smiled as he watched the golden grain being loaded into waiting trucks.

"It's one less thing he has to worry about right now," Keith Goslin commented. "With everything else he has on his mind, he didn't need to worry about losing this crop."

A sudden, violent thunderstorm could have turned the field into a disaster, flattening much of the crop.

Ben Hobart won't have to worry about losing his crop this year—thanks to the help of a lot of neighbors with big hearts.

"If you believe what's right, you have to believe she (Joan) knows about this," Hobart said softly. "You have to."

At one point, one observer commented that over a quarter-million dollars worth of equipment was in the field.

Hobart, who has long been

"What else can you do?" Goslin said. "Sure, I could have stayed home if all I cared about was my pocketbook. But I felt like this was the place to be. This is how you can help someone else."

Wayne Dillon, Cass City High School counselor and area resident, pitched in with a truck to help load up the harvested grain. Why did he come?

"It was the best way I could think of to help out," Dillon said. "I think this is really great. It shows that there are still a lot of good things happening in the world today. Here these guys are letting their own wheat go to help harvest Ben's. Where else could you find people like this willing to help out?"

Hobart, father of seven, had trouble finding the words to express how he felt at the sight of eight combines taking huge bites out of the golden wheat field as it glistened in the afternoon sun.

"It's amazing the number of emotions that go through you at a time like this," Hobart said as he watched the combines turn a corner, gobbling up more wheat.

"You just can't adequately thank these people. I look at it as a tribute to her (Joan) as much as anything."

At one point, one observer commented that over a quarter-million dollars worth of equipment was in the field.

Vassar herd stricken

No brucellosis in area cattle herds

A reported outbreak of brucellosis, an infectious cattle disease, does not involve any herds from the Cass City-Caro area, an official from the Michigan Agriculture Department's Animal Health Division told the Chronicle this week.

An earlier report had identified a Cass City area herd as one of 11 in which the infection had been spotted.

But according to Dr. Charles Cole, assistant chief of the Animal Health Division, the one Tuscola county herd is located in the Vassar area.

The largest outbreak involved over 800 animals under quarantine in Huron county. He said 236 animals from that herd have already been slaughtered.

The disease does not affect the quality of the meat for slaughter, Dr. Cole said. The infection confines itself to the animal's reproductive organs and can cause sterility. Left untreated, it could eventually kill the animal, he said.

Dr. Cole emphasized that there is no danger involved with milk from these dairy animals. "The infection is very susceptible to any form of pasteurization," he said. "Even exposure to sunlight will kill it."

He questioned published reports that the disease could be transmitted through drinking water used by the cattle involved. He said it is difficult to determine just where the bacteria originated.

"Brucellosis is nothing new," Dr. Cole said. "We've been battling it for years. Undoubtedly, this latest series of infections came primarily due to a lack of vaccinations."

He said the law requires that all cattle be vaccinated against brucellosis before sale.

He urged cattlemen to have all replacement cattle vaccinated as well as calves. He said the procedure is relatively inexpensive.

"Sometimes we get complaints when we don't have outbreaks of the disease for a long time," he said.

Dr. Cole said no hogs or sheep have been reported infected in the Thumb area.

A total of 11 herds, located in Allegan, Oakland, Dickinson, and Menominee counties, as well as Huron and Tuscola counties, reportedly have been infected.

Regarding the Tuscola situation, Dr. Cole said only one animal out of the 38-cow herd was found infected and that negative tests have already been run on the rest of the animals.

Dr. Cole said there's no way to put an exact dollar figure on the loss, but said each cattlemen is eligible for a $50 reimbursement from both state and federal authorities over the slaughter price for each animal destroyed.

"This still won't replace the animal," Dr. Cole said, "but it will help."

Dr. Cole said cattle are continuing to be tested throughout the state in an effort to quit it before it gets out of hand.

All infected cattle are branded and must be removed from the herd within 15 days. Symptoms are similar to flu without vomiting. Fever rises at night and drops by morning.

Area wheat

Tuscola county's wheat harvest was rated as "good" but not a bumper crop Tuesday by County Extension Director William Bortel.

Bortel said with about 50 per cent of the crop harvested, yields from "good" fields are averaging between 60 and 65 bushels to the acre. Poorer yields are ranging from 40 to 50 bushels an acre.

Good yields are down between five and 10 bushels to the acre from the 1974 crop, Bortel said, primarily for two reasons.

"One, when the wheat was filling out, we got hot, dry weather," Bortel said.

"A second reason is that we weren't able to treat our seed the same way we did last year. The Environmental Protection Agency banned

When all else fails read the directions. The gals that issue drivers' licenses wish that old bromide would be taken to heart by persons who receive the new form for easy license renewal. Drivers will be eliminating a headache for us and for themselves if they follow the instructions they receive with applications, they say.

Please, they add, do not fold, write on or mutilate the application. Just bring it to the licensing office and let us take it from there.

Applications that are tampered with make the job of the bureau doubly hard and often end up in a needless delay for the applicant.

A few weeks ago J.D. and Roy Tuckey bailed me out of trouble when they concocted a special spring to replace one that went kaput on the press. . . effectively shutting off production.

It worked so well that when the special one from the factory arrived I just put it in stock for future use.

I shouldn't have asked, but I did: Roy, how did you do it? I said over a cup of coffee.

He explained and I sat there nodding my head just like I knew what in the devil he was talking about.

After he finished, I confessed that he lost me at the start.

It was nice to know that there are others like me. You're my kind of mechanic, said Mike Weaver, in an off-beat challenge to my claim of being the most inept there is when it comes to things mechanical.

No matter what the business or what the size, management remains the name of the game. Good management can make most any business go.

I couldn't help thinking about this at Cedar Point Sunday. That amusement park is so well managed that mobs of people enjoyed themselves without any pain or strain.

The persons in charge have hammered out a program that takes care of any emergency imaginable before it happens.

Thousands of persons file in and out without delay and when lines form at the most popular rides they are managed so that there is no problem and the fun seekers are content because everyone goes in turn and even the casual observer can see that it's fair for all.

Even the college kids who are there making a buck during the summer don't display for an instant the boredom they must feel doing work that is a real drag.

Cleaning up cigarette butts and debris and handling crowds day after day in the same old way isn't designed to challenge the intellect.

But management has succeeded in making everyone work with the primary objective in mind. . . to please the paying customer.

That's good management and I've no doubt that it's reflected in that profit line of the balance sheet.

Leslie Sharrard dies Sunday

Leslie P. Sharrard, 62, Caro, died Sunday at Caro Community Hospital.

He was born Feb. 19, 1913, near Cass City. He married Evelyn E. Bills, Feb. 21, 1942, in Caro.

He was a retired construction worker and had been a lifelong resident of the Cass City area before moving to Caro four years ago.

He is survived by his widow; his step-mother, Mrs. Anna McComb of Cass City; one daughter, Mrs. Michael (Karen) Salgat of Caro, three step-brothers; two nephews and two nieces.

Funeral services were held Tuesday from the Huston Funeral Home in Caro with Rev. Arnold Burger of the Caro Assembly of God church officiating.

Burial was in Caro cemetery.

MARK D. SCHWARTZ, 17, became the first Eagle Scout from Gagetown Troop 589 during special installation ceremonies held Monday night in Gagetown. Shown with him are his proud parents, Mr. and Mrs. Donald Schwartz of 6421 Lincoln St. Schwartz is a senior at Owen-Gage High School and has been involved in school, civic and scouting activities.

Gym floor costs okayed

The committee in charge of letting contracts for the new floor in the Intermediate School has decided on a thrust-and-panel floor at a cost of $16,500.

For the money the school will receive a concrete cap over the existing sub-floor that will be at least two inches thick.

Before the cap is laid, Commercial Floors, the company doing the work, will fill grooves in the present sub-floor with sand.

The new floor is then expected to put the surface in A-1 condition. Supt. Donald Crouse said that the company has done similar work in other districts and comes highly recommended.

Another action decided by the board is the repairing of the roof on the east wing and part of the north side at the same roof level at Campbell Elementary School at a cost of $17,825.

FROM THE Editor's Corner

If I were a member of the Cass City School Board (praise be, I'm not) I'd be hesitant, very hesitant about signing a long term lease with the village for use of the park athletic facilities.

When it comes right down to it, I wouldn't sign. Not now. Not the way the situation shapes up at this moment.

And this is an abrupt about-face for me. I've always been a booster of the park location for football.

Always figured that the school district taxpayers were getting a good deal for their money. And they were. But it's a new ball game now. Maybe it is still a good deal for the school. Maybe. But again maybe it isn't.

Before I signed an agreement and started spending thousands of dollars I'd want to be sure in my own mind that the money shelled out would be buying the best possible program.

Frankly, I'd want a lot more information than I have today before I'd render a decision. Tops on my priority list would be a comparison of the cost at the two locations all down the line together with a projection on what is needed in the years ahead. More than a guesstimate.

I'd spend a few bucks now for an impartial appraisal of the cost of an athletic complex at the school.

I'd want to know what it would cost to bring a track to the school in the condition that we now enjoy at the park. Certainly it would be important to know what it would cost to convert our present park track to an eight-lane all weather facility. The kind that all schools are shooting for and the kind that will probably be in the district's future if interscholastic sports as we know them are to continue.

I'd like to see if a new baseball diamond and track would be better than, the same as, or not as good as the one we enjoy today.

It's generally agreed that new lights are a must regardless of location. Granted that a lighted football field is indispensable, shouldn't we all be concerned about a lighted baseball field and track, too?

Concerned, I said. That doesn't mean endorsement. But what if it should turn out that for a relatively small extra investment we can light everything? It might tip the scales in favor of a new location.

That may be far fetched. My mechanical ability is stretched to the breaking point when I try to change the ribbon on a typewriter.

The point is that I don't really think anyone has the answers to all of these questions.

Until there is some idea of the cost, how can anyone really judge what is best?

You realize, of course, no matter what course is taken there won't be any major improvements by this fall. If we are to continue on another year the way we are, why not use the time to the best advantage?

Start immediately to get at the facts so that by the end of this year a course of action can be decided.

As you can see, I'm not at all sure how I'd like to see the district proceed. But I'm convinced that the board would have much less trouble selling any new package if the taxpayers could see that the program presented was the result of a careful study, rather than rendering a snap judgement based on little or no research.

"If It Fitz . . ."

The game is never over

BY JIM FITZGERALD

What this nation needs is more of George Kell's super optimism: The Arab who will one day sell 20-cent gasoline has already been born and is currently getting all A's at the Abdullah School of Camel Lubrication in Princeton, New Jersey.

George Kell is the TV announcer for Detroit Tiger baseball games. No matter how far behind the Tigers may fall, Kell always retains hope. No matter how deathly dark the situation, he can always see light at the end of the runway.

If the score is tied, and the Tigers have a runner on 3rd in the 9th inning, Kell's optimism is easy. "Detroit has the winning run on 3rd base," he'll say.

Or the situation may be only slightly worse and he'll say: "Detroit has the tying run on 1st base and the winning run at bat." Or, as things get just a little desperate, "Detroit has the tying run at bat and the winning run in the waiting batter's circle."

Recently the Tigers experienced a terrible slump, losing something like 18 out of 20 games by lopsided scores. During such times, Kell is liable to say such things as:

"The Tigers have the tying run in the dugout and the winning run is in the runway between the dugout and the lockerroom, sneaking a smoke."

Or: "The Tigers have the tying run coming in on a bus from Toledo and the winning run is graduating from high school next week with 2 Tiger scouts attending commencement exercises."

Or: "Detroit has the tying run in the waiting batter's circle at a Pee Wee League game in Roanoke, West Virginia. The winning run is sparking in the eye of Stud Jacobs, former Tiger 1st baseman who now umpires in a woman's softball league in Boise, Idaho, and has the hot for a shortstop named Katherine."

It is easy to see how Kell's super optimism can be applied outside the ballpark.

My friend Joe was complaining because he has been out of work for 2 years and his wife left him.

"Cheer up," I told him. "President Ford and his economic advisors all agree the recession has bottomed out. This means they are running out of bottoms to kick, and yours may be one of them."

This made Joe sit a little easier, but there was still the problem with his wife. Joe used to write to Ann Landers for domestic advice and he was really shook when Ann admitted she couldn't get along with her husband, the finest man in the world, and she is getting a divorce.

"If Ann Landers can't get along with the greatest husband in the world," Joe asked, "how can she tell me how to get along with my rotten wife?"

"Cheer up," I told him. "Jean Dixon has just predicted that Dorothy Dix will soon be reincarnated as a cat. Dorothy was giving wise advice to troubled spouses before Ann Landers was old enough to tell a boy if he really loved her he'd wait. Just put a saucer of milk on your porch. The next time you see your wife, she will probably be something the cat dragged in."

Joe thanked me. "I really appreciate your optimism," he said.

"That's OK," I said. "Just remember that in the game of life, you never know who may be the winning run. Don't die on 3rd. That stranger on the corner may really be a Designated Hitter just waiting to knock you into the win column. The game is never over until the last out and even then you can still appeal to the commissioner's office."

"If this game goes into extra innings," Joe said, "I am going to throw up."

Plan special events for reading club

An average of 40 children have attended the story hour at Rawson Memorial Library on Tuesdays in June and July. The last one for this summer will be Tuesday, July 29, at 1:00 p.m. Special events are being planned.

The "Spirit of '76" reading club members will have until Aug. 16 to finish reading the ten books required to receive a certificate. Members are asked to leave the list of books read at the library by that time so that certificates can be prepared.

They will be given out at a party for reading club members Tuesday, Aug. 19, at 1:00 p.m.

AARP meets

July 10

The Cass City AARP chapter met Thursday, July 10, at the Elkland Township Fire Hall.

Clara Eberts, chairwoman of the volunteer committee, credited members with 62 hours of service during June. Membership Chairwoman Lena Patch announced four new members.

Noreen Partridge was in charge of the program which marked the fourth anniversary of the chapter.

Hostesses were Alma Seeger, Noreen Partridge, Christine Tyler and Catherine MacGillivray.

The next meeting will be held Aug. 14, at the fire hall. Gladys Fort, Clara Eberts, Lena Patch and Helen Little will be in charge of activities for the meeting.

Down Memory Lane

FROM THE FILES OF THE CHRONICLE

FIVE YEARS AGO

After years of delay and indecision, the Elkland Township Board this week completed negotiations for the purchase of a site for a new township fire hall. The site is just west of the Cass City Recreational Park. Price is $10,000.

Area school authorities were pondering the effect this week of the Supreme Court decision that makes it mandatory for the school to pay for books and supplies used by the children.

Thomas W. Spencer, Cass City High School football coach and teacher, notified

Superintendent Donald Crouse of his resignation last week.

Captain Fred Lapointe, Michigan State Police District Commander, this week denied plans for a "crack-down" on Tuscola county drivers as reported in a Bay City daily newspaper last week.

Junior varsity cheerleaders Lynn Rayl, Barbara Auten, Donna DeLong, Linda Koepfen and Cheryl Kozan spent a week at the Smith-Walbridge cheerleading camp at Syracuse, Ind., learning new cheers, pompon routines and crowd-handling techniques.

TEN YEARS AGO

Spearheaded by the appearance of Gov. George Romney and his wife, the Cass City Centennial celebration was off to a flying start Monday as the Cultural Center was dedicated and the first of six performances of the Centennial pageant presented.

Mrs. Dwayne Peters was crowned Centennial Queen during coronation ceremonies at the Coronation Ball held at the High School.

An estimated 40 persons met at the Greenleaf town hall Saturday night to try to decide whether or not a stock car track is good for the area.

Walbro Corporation became the third of Cass City's larger industries to become unionized Friday when employees voted 59-39 to have the UAW, AFL-CIO represent them at the plant.

Fire losses throughout the county during June totaled $22,300, Cass City firemen learned Thursday night at a Tuscola County Fire Association meeting in Richville.

TWENTY-FIVE YEARS AGO

The Elkland Roller Mills property at the corner of Main and Maple Streets has been sold to the H.O. Paul Company.

Tentative date for the opening of the first Detroit Edison office in Cass City is Monday, July 31, according to Milan Vance, Edison district supervisor in Caro.

Gay nineties girls will battle the bloomer girls in a rugged evening softball contest at the park July 31.

The Tuscola county selective service board has reopened its downtown office in Caro.

Oscar Brooks, who works for the H.W. Madison Co., reports that about six inches of rain accumulated on the tops of pickle kegs standing near the plant over the week end.

THIRTY-FIVE YEARS AGO

Robert Keppen, chairman of the committee who made application for WPA funds to provide additional recreational facilities for the athletic field in the Cass City Park, has been assured that work on the project will commence in the early part of August.

Two hundred seventy-five parents and children were present at the commencement exercises held in the First Baptist church Friday evening which marked the closing of the 10-day interdenominational daily vacation Bible School in Cass City.

Returning from a private preview of three new lines of Hudson cars for 1941, Otis Heath, Hudson dealer in Cass City, disclosed that the new Hudson cars began rolling off the assembly lines in Detroit two weeks ago.

Over 200 children jammed the Cass City swimming pool Monday.

A tradition of 152 years standing was shattered when President Franklin Delano Roosevelt was nominated for a third term by the Democratic convention in Chicago last week.

KETCHUM'S KNAPSACK

Cheering for the Tigers

By Jim Ketchum

Jim Fitzgerald, mild-mannered editor of the Lapeer County Press, has it in for Tiger sportscasters, especially George Kell. Fitzgerald's complaint is that Kell, Ernie Harwell, et al, give biased accounts of Tiger baseball games.

Fitzgerald reasons that these sportscasters, even though they are paid by the Tigers, should remain totally unbiased when reporting how the young, inexperienced Tiger outfielders drop fly balls or boot routine double-play grounders.

That makes about as much sense as Fitzgerald telling you how many foul-ups got into his paper last week, how many times someone told him off or how many complaining letters or telephone calls he received.

Since he strives to put the best possible face on the County Press (producing one of the best weeklies in the nation), shouldn't he expect poor old George or Ernie to do the same?

Back in 1968, when the Tigers were tearing apart their opposition on the way to their first pennant in 23 years, I don't recall Fitzgerald complaining about biased accounts of Denny McLain's fabulous pitching performances or how Mickey Lolich saved the series for the Bengals.

I doubt if Fitzgerald thought it biased as George and Ernie announced the Magic Number each day, counting down to pennant night.

When your side is winning, it's impossible to be biased. When they lose, however, it's another story.

If Fitzgerald thinks the Tigers have a bad announcing staff, then maybe he should treat his eardrums to what other baseball fans in other cities must endure each day.

Take Chicago. A fellow named Harry Karri, who broadcasts White Sox games, is a one-man cheerleading section. He brings pennants, pompons, megaphone and raccoon coat to the ball park and whoops it up in the name of the Pale Hose.

He makes no illusion to being impartial. As St. Louis Cardinal broadcaster in the World Series of 1968, I remember after the Tigers won, Karri bemoaned the fact that the Tigers, "down and out, flat on their backs," had somehow called on the grace of God and maybe even the baseball commissioner, and through no skill on their part, had actually beaten the Cardinals. This is unbiased?

Or take NBC's dynamic trio of Curt Gowdy, Joe Garagiola and Tony Kubek. A typical broadcast involves Garagiola's days (few) of glory with St. Louis and the time he got four hits in one game.

Then Kubek must recount his past heroics as a broken-down ex-Yankee shortstop whom Frank Lary struck out with regularity.

Add Mr. Gowdy who talks about everything but baseball and you have three jerks yacking away while the game goes on below. None of them know what's going on and don't particularly care.

So, Jim Fitzgerald, consider yourself lucky. George Kell and Ernie Harwell may not be totally unbiased, but at least they know what's going on. They probably hate seeing Ron LeFlore drop fly balls as much as you and I do.

But they know ridicule before the fans won't help. It'll take practice.

Meantime, if it really bothers you, Mr. Fitzgerald, there's always the switch on the front of your tube that'll bring peace and quiet with one flick.

If all else fails, you might try using it.

MRS. SHIRLEY BUSCHLEN was reported in "fair" condition Tuesday with injuries sustained in a car-truck accident Saturday afternoon on Main Street in Cass City. Her car struck a tree after being rammed from behind by a large semi-trailer.

Car-truck crash
injures Cass Cityan

A Cass City woman was listed in fair condition Tuesday in Hills and Dales General Hospital after the car she was driving was struck by a semi-trailer Saturday afternoon on Main Street in Cass City.

Cass City Police said a semi-trailer driven by Tim Lynn Brinkman, 20, of 4281 E. Cass City Rd., slammed into the rear of a vehicle driven by Mrs. Shirley Lee Buschlen, 37, of 4423 Koepfgen Rd.

Both vehicles were traveling east on Main Street at the Weaver Street intersection at the time of the mishap.

Police said Mrs. Buschlen had apparently stopped to make a left turn onto Weaver when she was struck from behind by the semi-trailer.

Witnesses at the scene said the truck was traveling between 35 and 40 miles an hour at the time of the crash.

After being struck, the Buschlen auto skidded another 260 feet before slamming into a tree on the north side of Main Street.

Police said the Brinkman truck skidded 28 feet before impact.

Brinkman escaped serious injury. He was ticketed for failure to stop in the assured clear distance ahead.

The accident took place at 12:15 p.m.

HURON MISHAP

An Uby woman was listed in good condition at Saginaw

General Hospital Tuesday following a Saturday accident that took the life of a Bad Axe motorcyclist.

Police identified the woman as Maurcen E. Sweeney, 20.

Huron County Sheriff's deputies identified the victim as Edward L. Delgen, 24. He died when his motorcycle collided head-on with a car driven by George Peisack, 71, of Harbor Beach.

The mishap took place on M-25, seven miles northwest of Port Hope.

Deputies said Peisack was headed west and in the process of a left turn off Lighthouse Park Road onto M-25 when the crash occurred.

Peisack told officers he stopped for the stop sign and did not see the northbound motorcycle with Delgen and Miss Sweeney as passengers.

Peisack and his wife, Mary, 65, were treated at Harbor Beach Community Hospital.

The accident took place at 11 p.m.

OTHER ACCIDENTS

Police reported several other area traffic accidents in the past week.

A Caro couple were treated for injuries at Hills and Dales General Hospital following a two-car crash late Friday afternoon at the intersection of Elmwood and Green Roads in Ellington township.

Tuscola County Sheriff's officers identified the pair as Donald Diskey, 22, and his wife, Kathleen. They were injured when their car collided with a vehicle driven by Alexander Braun, 55, of Caro.

Deputies said the Diskey vehicle was southbound on Green Road and collided with the eastbound Braun vehicle at the open intersection. Officers said both drivers apparently did not see each other prior to the crash.

The Diskeys were treated and later released. Braun was not seriously injured. Neither driver was ticketed in the 5:45 p.m. crash.

A Cass City driver and his two passengers escaped serious injury Sunday afternoon when the car in which they were riding went out of control and landed in a ditch on Cemetery Road, three miles south of Cass City.

Sheriff's deputies identified the trio as Robert Lee Pena, 16, of 4285 Doerr Rd., driver of the car, and Lawrence J. Bulla, 17, and James Rohleder, 21, both of Cass City.

Officers said the Pena vehicle was northbound and was passing another vehicle when the vehicle being overtaken applied its brakes. The Pena auto ran off the west side of the road and struck a mailbox and tree.

The mishap took place at 1:55 p.m.

Two area drivers were uninjured in a two-car accident Monday night on Koepfgen Road, just north of M-81.

Sheriff's deputies said cars driven by Kenneth Jay Kilbourn, 18, of Phillips Road, Deford, and Michael Edward Nicol, 20, of Robinson Road, Cass City, were stopped on the east side of the road. Officers said Kilbourn attempted to back his car up and failed to see Nicol's auto behind him, striking it.

Kilbourn was ticketed for failure to stop in the assured clear distance ahead.

The accident took place at 11:20 p.m.

Donate eyes of Gagetown man July 12

A pair of eyes from a Gagetown man who died July 12 at Hills and Dales General Hospital could give the blessings of sight to two other persons because of the co-operative efforts of medical and police personnel.

The eyes came from John Miklovich, 56, and were transported from Cass City to Vassar by Tuscola County Sheriff's deputies where they were picked up by the Genesee County Flint police helicopter and flown to the University of Michigan medical center in Ann Arbor.

After a two and one-half minute fueling stop at Bishop Airport, the eyes were flown to the hospital's helipad and delivered into the hands of medical personnel there.

The entire operation took place within an hour period before the eyes would have begun to deteriorate.

Miklovich's widow said the subject of donating the eyes had come up prior to his death and that they mutually agreed to the procedure. A special container was used to transport the eyes and to prevent deterioration.

BETTER HEALTH

Adverse Drug Reactions

BY DR. WILLIAM J. WELCH

"Yes, I'm feeling better, my temperature is normal and I'm not coughing any more. But I feel so weak. It must be that antibiotic you gave me."

Such is not an unusual comment these days, since people have become so hipped on the adverse side effects of modern medications. And to a great extent, they are unaware of the natural course of infectious ailments in an epoch when antibiotics cut short the duration of almost all such diseases, as if weakness after recovery were not an entirely appropriate reaction to the impact of the disease itself.

Furthermore, we are lucky that weakness is often all we do suffer from so many diseases, which when untreated used to kill us off by the thousands.

But somehow these days it has become fashionable to blame the treatment rather than the disease, and what used to be called "miracle drugs" have become the popular scapegoats.

Medical investigators, abetted by Armageddon-minded publicity with what obscure motives it is difficult to say, have contributed to this perverse tendency to emphasize the well recognized pitfalls in the use of today's potent medical armamentarium in a way that is quite out of proportion to the facts.

There need be no argument that medications effective enough to do one thing may be capable of having other effects, which can be undesirable, uncomfortable or even disastrous.

But it is also beyond argument that treating serious disease sometimes requires fighting fire with fire—always a chancy undertaking.

We would, however, do well to remember that the struggle is even less than chancy if there is no fire available to fight with. Before we had such fire, some of us remember how helpless we were.

It is equally beyond argument that powerful medicines misused, or prescribed casually, require exposure and correction.

But no truth is served when half-cocked headlines recklessly announce that a widely prescribed medication has just today been found to be a killer, that another causes cancer (only in the body of the story does it turn out to be in rats), and that untold thousands are dying each year because of the adverse side effects of modern drugs.

The widely prescribed medicine, labeled as a killer, may very well have side effects that require careful weighing against the effects of the disease it is meant to treat.

Perhaps medicine when administered in doses far beyond those used in people was associated with bladder tumors in a "susceptible colony of rats."

And sick people will surely die each year of disease that no medicine can cure, while well-meaning statisticians give black marks to the drugs they were taking.

Widely quoted figures that 60,000 to 140,000 deaths occur each year as a result of adverse drug reactions are a case in point.

In two carefully studied small samples of highly selected, very sick and debilitated patients on special wards of two university medical centers, it was found that deaths due to drug reactions numbered 11 in one study and 27 in another.

Ninety per cent of the deaths in one group and two-thirds in the other were in patients already mortally ill.

Yet these numbers, by the simple expedient of applying them as characteristic of the 32,000,000 patients admitted each year to U.S. hospitals, emerged in numbing headlines, stating that 60,000 to 140,000 Americans are dying each year because of adverse drug reactions.

The same grossly inflated numbers were even cited as the state of affairs before the Senate health subcommittee.

The alarming implications of such mathematical shenanigans force some of us to suspect either that someone has been very careless or has an axe to grind that we have not been told about.

Carl Webber,

65, dies

Thursday

Carl H. Webber, 65, a Port Hope businessman, died Thursday at his home following a short illness.

He was born Aug. 31, 1909. He married Norma Frazier, Jan. 11, 1967.

He was a World War II veteran and served in the European and Middle Eastern theatres. He was a member of the Port Hope AmVets Post and a life member of the Bruce Post VFW No. 1146, St. Clair Shores.

He is survived by his widow; his mother, Mrs. Laura Webber of Cass City; and four step-children.

Funeral services were conducted Saturday from the Ramsey Funeral Home, Harbor Beach, with Rev. Grant Lapham, pastor of the First Baptist church of Harbor Beach, officiating. Burial was in New River cemetery, Port Hope.

Your neighbor says

I'm basically happy

Are you basically a contented person? Are you happy with your life and your niche in the world?

Mrs. Betty Powell of Bay City-Forestville Rd., Cass City, says she is.

"We keep busy and we really don't have that much time to worry," Mrs. Powell says. "We live on a farm and I also work. So we just don't have that much time to worry."

Mrs. Powell says she likes to live by the motto "one day at a time". While she is contented with her life, that doesn't necessarily mean she looks at the world with rose-colored glasses.

"I'm happy with my life," she says. "But there are things around me I don't like." Mrs. Powell is employed as a waitress. She and her husband, Frederick, have three children.

McComb reunion held at park

The fifteenth annual reunion of the descendants of the late William and Louisa McComb was held Sunday at the local recreation park.

Seventy-five persons attended from Oscoda, Farwell, Tawas, Mio, the Detroit area, Midland and the Thumb area.

A business meeting and visiting followed the potluck dinner while the younger members made use of the park facilities.

Officers elected for the coming year are president, Robert Bullock of Lansing; vice-president, Mrs. Theron Eskilsen of Cass City and secretary-treasurer is Mrs. Phyllis Hennessey of Oscoda.

The youngest present was two-week-old Valerie Dutton of Saginaw and the eldest was Philip McComb, currently living at Provincial House. Present from the greatest distance was Jeri Lynn Shea of Oshkosh, Wis., who was visiting relatives in Michigan. Also attending were two couples from Midland, descendants of the late Daniel McComb, a brother of William McComb. The children of the late Floyd and Mabel McComb had 100 per cent attendance.

The 1976 reunion is planned for the third Sunday in July at the local park.

Reputation is built on things that have to be faced, have to be solved and have to be done.

Probe garden tractor theft at Rabideau's

Tuscola County Sheriff's deputies are investigating the theft of an $850 garden tractor from Rabideau Implement Sales sometime last week.

Officers said the theft occurred after closing hours. The tractor was owned by Delmar Gunden of Bay Port, and had been brought to the dealership for repairs.

Business owner Wayne Rabideau told officers the theft took place early last week.

Police have no suspects.

Sheriff's deputies are also investigating the theft of $100 worth of tools from a work site on Hoppe Road just west of Cedar Run Road in Elmwood township.

The tools, owned by L.J. Dillon of rural Unionville, were taken from a crane where Dillon was working. The theft was reported Friday.

Police have no suspects.

Two aluminum storm windows in storage at Kingston Lumber Company were smashed Wednesday, July 16, after vandals entered an open-type warehouse at the site.

Owner John C. Zalut told Caro State Police the vandals also set off a fire extinguisher in the building.

Police have no suspects.

Two bicycles were reported stolen from the Lee Hartel residence last week. Mrs. Hartel told Cass City Police the bikes disappeared July 12 and she delayed reporting the theft believing they would be returned.

Total value of the bikes was set at $180. The bikes were stolen from beside the house, she said.

Police have no suspects.

4-year license

When you next renew your driver's license, you'll probably get the new one to use for four years instead of three—unless you're what Secretary of State Richard Austin calls a "problem driver."

The four-year license proposal, recently approved by the Legislature, won't mean a reduction in traffic safety, Austin says.

That's because problem drivers will not be able to take advantage of the license extension. They'll have to renew their licenses every two years.

94th season

Tuscola County Fair starts gala week Monday

A week of excitement, fun and games for all begins Monday, July 28, when the 94th annual Tuscola County Fair gets under way at the Caro Fairgrounds for its annual run.

There's something for everyone, from carnival rides and midway games of chance to cotton candy, commercial and farm exhibits and grandstand shows.

Hundreds of exhibits are slated at this year's edition of the fair, a showcase of the community's life.

Here is a schedule of events for the week on a day-to-day breakdown:

MONDAY

Monday is entry day at the fair and a rush of exhibits is expected to fill the halls by noon.

While Happyland Shows puts the finishing touches on its colorful package of rides and thrills, senior citizens to preschoolers get their exhibits ready for the discerning eye of expert judges.

Four big days of harness racing will be kicked off with the Colt Stakes at 8:00 p.m. in front of the grandstands.

TUESDAY

Tuesday is kid's day at the fair, with reduced rates on rides and the midway. A grandstand show at 1:00 p.m.

will feature fun and games with prizes to be awarded to contestants. Bike races are also included.

A second big night of harness racing gets under way at 8:00 p.m. Many area horsemen and their thoroughbreds will compete against others from across the state.

WEDNESDAY

Horseman's Day, Wednesday, honors the contribution horsemen have made to the county fair over the years.

Three horse shows will be on the docket, including a pony pulling contest at 1:00 p.m., the Tuscola County Sheriff's posse drill team at 7:45 p.m. and harness racing at 8:00 p.m. will round out the day.

THURSDAY

Senior citizens, this is your day! All admissions for oldsters drop to zero all day Thursday until 6:00 p.m. All gates and an afternoon grandstand show will be free to all of the social security set.

Thursday is also Farmer's Day at the fair where they may enjoy harness racing at the grandstand at 2:00 p.m.

Future farmers will enjoy the 4-H and FFA Livestock Sale at 1:30 p.m. The state tractor pulling contest gets under way at 7:00 p.m.

Tuscola county's ambassador of the bean industry will be crowned at 8:00 p.m. by the 1974 queen. The 1975 Bean Queen will represent the county at the Michigan Bean Festival.

FRIDAY

Friday will feature the Michigan State Tractor pulling championships beginning at 12:00 noon in front of the grandstand. Dozens of the state's top tractors and drivers are expected to battle it out for top honors.

Those with lots of traffic frustrations will get a chance to vent them at the demolition Derby set for Friday evening at 7:30 p.m. The popular event is back for another year and features many local favorites in car-splitting crashes and smashes.

SATURDAY

Two horse pulling events, will kick off the action on the final day of the fair. Performances are set for 10:00 a.m. and 1:00 p.m.

Motorcycle racers will start fighting it out on the track at speed trials at 8:00 p.m., followed by the intense competition of the races at 7:30 p.m.

THERE'S MORE

Exhibit halls will be open each day of the fair, along with animal pavilions, the midway and concession stands.

Organizers are predicting a bigger and better fair than ever this year and invite everyone to attend. Those fair dates are July 28-Aug. 2.

A MONDAY morning fire extensively damaged this car driven by Daniel Gettel of rural Cass City on Kelly Road, three miles southwest of Cass City. Gettel told Elkland Township Firemen he spotted smoke coming from under the dashboard after he had stopped to investigate a generator problem. The fire broke out shortly before 10 a.m. Gettel was not injured. Damage was set at $1,300.

In separate accidents

Lose 2 grandsons in 1 day

Tragedy struck Mr. and Mrs. Nick Alexander of 4881 Hartsell Rd., Cass City, twice Tuesday, July 15, as two of their grandsons were killed in separate accidents.

Killed were Jim Alexander, son of Mr. and Mrs. Willard Alexander of Ft. Smith, Ark., and Rodney C. Grady, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Grady of Bad Axe, and formerly of Cass City.

The Alexander youth, 18, died from injuries sustained in a farm accident near his home Tuesday morning.

Later in the day, they learned Grady, 20, had died in an auto accident near Oscoda.

Alexander was born Dec. 25, 1956, in Ft. Smith. He was a 1975 graduate of Alma, Ark., high school.

He is survived by four sisters, Mrs. Sue Makowski of Ruth, and Julie, Janie and Joyce, all at home, his maternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. T.J. Gann of Ft.

Smith, and several aunts and uncles.

Funeral services were held Friday at the First Baptist church of Ft. Smith.

Grady was an airman 1st Class, and was stationed at Wurtsmith Air Force Base since November. He was born May 23, 1955, in Caro. He graduated from Bad Axe High School in 1973, where he was a member of the varsity football team. He entered the U.S. Air Force in February, 1974.

In addition to his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Grady of Bad Axe, and the Alexanders, he is survived by his paternal grandmother, Mrs. Mary Grady of Gagetown; four sisters, Mrs. Roger Talaski of Radcliffe, Ky., and Phyllis, Pennie and Theresa Grady, all of Bad Axe, and two brothers, Richard and Ronald, both of Bad Axe.

Funeral services were held Saturday at Sacred Heart Catholic church, Bad Axe, with Rev. Raymond Oswald, pastor, officiating.

A wake service was held Friday at MacAlpine Funeral Home, Bad Axe.

Burial was in the church cemetery.

Rockwell-

McQueen

reunion held

The 5th annual Rockwell-McQueen reunion was held Sunday, July 20, at Sanilac County Park. Eighty-seven attended from Royal Oak, Detroit, Trenton, Bay City, Minden City, Troy, Lansing, Marlette, Brown City, Sandusky, Snover, Port Huron, Clifford and Cass City.

The newest members of the family present were Michael Klee, 7 months old, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Klee Jr. of Minden City, and 9-month-old Brenda Rockwell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Rockwell of Snover.

The reunion will be held next year at the same place in July.

Milton Fox, 57, dies Friday

Milton Fox, 57, of Evergreen township, died at his home on Argyle Road, Friday, following a long illness. He was born June 30, 1918, in Saginaw county, son of the late Joseph and Alice Milan Fox.

He married Catherine McQueen, June 21, 1941, in Ohio. Following their marriage, they moved to Evergreen township from Huron county, where he lived until his death.

He was a member and Past Patron of the Decker Chapter No. 438 O.E.S. and a member of the Decker Lodge No. 479, F&AM.

He is survived by his widow; two sons, Michael of Caro and John of Snover; two daughters, Mrs. Melvin (Bonnie) Laming of Decker and Mrs. Richard (Lona) Cross of Clifford; six brothers, Leo of Caro, Melvin, Joseph and Aldo, all of Detroit, Howard of Indiana and Dean of California; one half-brother, Ronald Fox of Cass City; four sisters, Mrs. Ted Regulski and Mrs. Viola Singley, both of California, Mrs. Harry Williams of Florida and Mrs. Richard Walsh of Detroit; one half-sister, Mrs. Laura Stevens of Cass City; five grandchildren, and three step-grandchildren.

One son, Richard, preceded him in death.

A Masonic service was held Sunday evening from Little's Funeral Home, under the auspices of the Decker Lodge No. 479, F&AM.

Funeral services were conducted Monday from Little's Funeral Home with Rev. Milton Gelatt officiating.

Burial was in Elkland cemetery.

AROUND THE FARM

Bean damage report

By Don Kebler

In traveling around the county last week, I could see the growing crops take a new lease on life where adequate rain fell.

Many of those late-planted navy bean fields, showing leaves in various stages of yellowing, browning and die-back, are putting on new growth.

I saw herbicide damage on beans ranging from total kill to minor symptoms. However, much of the leaf yellowing, leaf margin die-back and growth stunting, I could not identify as herbicide-induced damage. What I saw made me most suspicious that the major cause was due to a tight soil in, around and below the bean roots. In these cases, the soil must have been gummy, compacted and highly water saturated two to three inches below the surface when beans were planted. The bean germinated, emerged and could not send its tap-root down and into this gummy soil. As a result, the bottom of the stem where the fibrous roots develop, actually turned upward and the fibrous roots grew laterally and shallow.

When the dry weather hit around the first of July the roots began to grow faster as the soil moisture level became more favorable. However, the plants on the more compacted soils ran out of push as the root area soil dried up faster than the sub-soil moisture could move up or the roots grow down. Under these extreme cases there was not sufficient soil moisture available to supply the plant needs, and the plant began adjusting its needs to the supply.

In making this adjustment the plant actually destroyed some of its own tissue to survive the stress conditions. This tissue turned yellow and some even died out from the stress. Also, borderline cases needing zinc showed zinc deficiency symptoms not because zinc was in poor supply, but not enough could be taken into the plant.

Quite a few calls came in regarding extensive feeding damage on Chinese Elm leaves. The skeletonized leaves supplied the food for the larvae of the Elm Leaf beetle. This larvae can be controlled with Sevin provided ing adequate coverage is made.

I wish to report about the upcoming Swine Barrow Show Saturday of the Tuscola County Fair. The swine committee met and are planning to award Grand and Reserve Champion barrows and first and second place carcass placings with trophies. I wish to point out here that the judging at this show is made on market class and not on breed classification.

Showmanship ability will not affect the marketing class placing. Anyone can enter at least two barrows between weights of 200 and 240 pounds, and who live in either Huron, Sanilac or Tuscola counties.

A reasonable preparation is encouraged, but no grade is placed on showmanship. Call your Extension office or look in the 1974 or 1975 county fair book under Open Class Swine.

Battle over courthouse takes shape

Battle lines began taking shape last week over the proposed construction of a $1.6 million courthouse annex in Sanilac county. Commissioners were scheduled to meet Wednesday to discuss progress of a petition drive by county voters to place the question on the ballot in a special election.

Commission Chairman Lloyd Severance said approximately 1,800 signatures will be needed by Aug. 11, to put the question before county voters.

The commission went on record favoring the proposal 5-2, during their July 3 meeting, with commissioners Sam Work and Don Albrecht voting against the proposal.

Severance says he believes there is wide county support for a courthouse addition which would nearly double the size of the present facility.

The proposal has touched off debate throughout the county between those who favor the project and those who believe now is not the time to move on courthouse expansion. If the petition drive is successful, as most observers believe it will be, Sanilac county voters will have the last word.

Severance said it is uncertain when an election would be held.

Snover couple

file $300,000

A Snover couple has filed a $300,000 auto negligence lawsuit in Tuscola County Circuit Court in connection with a July, 1972 traffic accident that took place on M-46, three miles west of Kingston.

William and Juanita Ferris of 1571 Main St., Snover, have charged Carl J. Blaesser of Vassar with negligence that contributed to the mishap. Also named in the suit is Nora McPhail of Vassar, owner of the vehicle Blaesser drove at the time of the accident.

In their suit, the Ferrises charge Blaesser failed to yield the right of way at the intersection of M-46 and Froede Rd., failed to signal and did not have his vehicle under control.

The suit further states that as a result of the accident, Mrs. Ferris lost a large amount of leg movement and required extended hospitalization and large quantities of medication.

The suit demands $250,000 for Mrs. Ferris and $50,000 as compensation for Ferris, who alleged he must spend large amounts of time caring for his wife.

The suit was filed Thursday.

DEAL IN FUTURES

To get the most out of any sermon, it's better to listen as a Christian — not as a critic.

Wm. Englehart, 94, dies Sunday

Some relatives are most liked for their shortcomings.

William Englehart, 94, DeFord, died Sunday at St. Luke's Hospital in Saginaw after a brief illness.

He was born June 30, 1881, in Cleveland, Ohio, moving with his parents, the late John and Sara McCloud Englehart, as a small child. He lived in the same home over 90 years.

He married Mary Hillman in Novesta township, June 26, 1940.

He was a past member of the Masons and the Odd Fellows. He was also a member of the Novesta Church of Christ.

He is survived by his widow and a number of nieces and nephews.

Funeral services were held Wednesday from the Novesta Church of Christ with Rev. Harold Prong, pastor, officiating.

Burial was in Novesta cemetery. Little's Funeral Home, Cass City, was in charge of arrangements.

WHERE TO?

He is a mighty small man—almost too small to leave his footprints in the sand. But he is starting out on his own. He is exploring, seeking, learning. Where will his footsteps ultimately lead him?

There are so many courses a child may take—so many that a person of any age can follow. But it is never too late to change direction, even if it seems as if a dead end has been reached. The beauty of life is that the word itself is synonymous with hope.

If the direction your footsteps have been taking you is disappointing, then turn toward the Church. Remember, the Church has survived for centuries against odds that would have annihilated a lesser force. That in itself is reason enough to give it a chance—to see what it has to offer.

Mrs. Harold Koch
665-2536

Mrs. Elizabeth Anthes returned to her home Thursday after staying with her daughter, Mrs. Mabel Ondrajka, following surgery. Thursday afternoon visitors and supper guests of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Koch and family were Hans, Hedwig and Chris Grundeman of Sterling Heights.

Mr. and Mrs. Franklin Koch and Debbie attended the wedding of David Weber and Maureen Shlacta at Frankenth Saturday afternoon and later the reception in Saginaw.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Jewell, Robert Jewell Jr. and friend Sue Hiltan of Detroit, Linda and Richard Jewell were guests of Mrs. Archie Ackerman and Archie Ackerman Jr. Sunday afternoon. Mr. and Mrs. Harold Koch, Ray and Janet attended the wedding of their nephew, David Weber, to Maureen Shlacta Saturday afternoon at St. Lorenz Lutheran church, Frankenth, and the reception in Saginaw.

A second tentative trip in the planning stage is a one-day trip on the Au Sable River Paddle Boat. If interested contact Mrs. Fred Nelson at 678-4115 or Mrs. Mabel Ondrajka at 665-2598 before July 31.

Meeting was adjourned and games were played.

Many from this area attended the wedding of Miss Loretta Wood, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lee Wood of Essexville, and Dan Hollister of Munger. The wedding took place at St. John's Catholic church in Essexville Saturday afternoon with the evening reception at the K of C Hall, Bay City.

Those attending were Mr. and Mrs. Keith Goslin, Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Seurynek, Mr. and Mrs. Leo Seurynek, Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Comment, Mr. and Mrs. Clare Comment, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Lenhard, all of Gagetown, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Wood, Mr. and Mrs. Pat Goslin and Mr. and Mrs. Al Goslin, all of Unionville.

Mrs. Keith Goslin reports that her son, Brad Goslin, is recuperating at Mercy Hospital in Bay City and would appreciate hearing from or seeing his friends.

Mr. and Mrs. Francis Schnitker and Lee Ann of Sebawaing were visitors of the Harold Koch family Sunday evening. Mrs. Rose Ann Kruse of St. Petersburg, Fla., arrived Saturday to spend some time with her father, Art Freeman of Gagetown.

AGENT'S CORNER

Sugar's place in canning

Aliene Mills - Extension Agent

Many county folks are concerned about omitting sugar in canning and freezing foods for their family either because of dietary problems, personal preference, or different sugar proportions at the time of use.

If a person in your family is a diabetic fruits should be canned or frozen without the addition of sugar or artificial sweeteners. The artificial sweetener that is recommended by the physician can be added after the fruit has been processed and is ready to be eaten. Artificial sweetener undergoes flavor changes during the high temperature of canning.

Sugar is not needed to prevent spoilage but to enhance flavor. It is possible to can or freeze fruits without sweetening -- in its own juice, in extracted juice or in water.

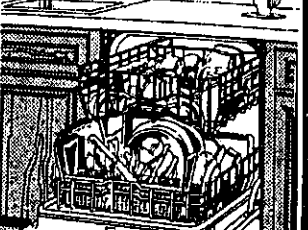

If sugar is omitted at the time of processing, the needed amount of sugar can be added to the fruit at the time of use. Each fruit and each use requires a different amount of sugar. If you prefer to add sugar at the time of preserving, be sure to indicate the amount of sugar along with the kind of fruit and date on the package label.

During the canning and freezing season, if you need to know recommended methods or have concerns, telephone

Mrs. Hobart succumbs Monday

Mrs. Ben (Joan) Hobart, 43, Gagetown, died early Monday at Hills and Dales General Hospital following a long illness.

She was born in Mecosta county, May 15, 1932, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John E. May. She and Ben Hobart were married Oct. 26, 1955, in Gagetown.

She was a 1963 graduate of Central Michigan University, and a former teacher in the Cass City school district. She was a cathachist and member of St. Agatha Catholic church and Altar Society, and a member of the Gagetown

Women's Study Club.

She is survived by her husband; four daughters, Marie, Ann, Kathy and Jane, all at home; three sons, Scott, Kevin and Clayton, also at home; one sister, Mrs. Ruth Abel of Remus; three brothers, Ken of Mecosta, Noble of Nederland, Tex., and several nieces and nephews.

A prayer service was conducted Tuesday night at Hunter Funeral Home in Gagetown, with Rev. Fr. Norman Van Poppelen, pastor of St. Agatha Catholic church, Gagetown, officiating.

Funeral services were conducted Wednesday from St. Agatha Catholic church with Fr. Van Poppelen officiating. Burial was in the church cemetery.

Virgin statue

set for

Cass City visit

The International Pilgrim Virgin Statue of Our Lady of Fatima will visit St. Pancratius Catholic church in Cass City during September, Saginaw Diocese officials announced this week.

Exact date of the visitation has not been set. St. Pancratius is one of 26 parishes to be visited in the Diocese during the upcoming tour.

The statue will arrive in Saginaw Aug. 31.

The Pilgrim Virgin Statue is honored as an image of the Mother of Christ who appeared at Fatima, Portugal in 1917 in a vision. Veneration of the image has been recommended by the teaching authority of the Catholic church.

PBB mixups seen ended

Thousands and thousands of dead animals. Law suits over where to bury them. More law suits over who caused the problem.

Remember last year's battles over PBB?

Somehow, a fire retardant chemical, known as polybrominated biphenyl, was mixed into feed instead of an experimental additive. When the problem was finally diagnosed, thousands of animals were slaughtered and the court action began.

Today, Michigan has what Agriculture Department officials hope is another tool to help avert any repeat of that tragic mix-up.

Gov. William Milliken recently signed the new law requiring that the agriculture director be notified immediately of any feed being recalled that may be of potential danger to animals or cause illegal residues in human food.

No such requirement existed when the PBB problem broke, and the Agriculture Department was not told that the feed had been recalled in January. "But we didn't know until May," a department spokesman said.

Milliken says the new law "will go a long way toward preventing incidents such as the PBB contamination problem."

Besides requiring the notification, the law calls for each feed manufacturer or distributor to obtain a state license. And it creates an inspection fee system based on the tonnage of feed sold.

The law also demands that the date of manufacture of lots, or coding of such a date, be placed on feed containers; and it gives the agriculture director power to promulgate rules and regulations and to revoke, suspend or refuse to license an applicant. That applicant then has the right to a hearing on the matter.

BUMPS IN THE FUTURE?

The higher costs of keeping county roads in good condition—coupled with lower income for doing the job—may point to problems in the future, warns the County Road Association of Michigan.

"As a result of declining tax revenues and continuing inflation in operating costs, most counties have had to reduce construction and maintenance, while some have been obliged to lay off employees," says Earl F. Rogers, engineer-director of the Association.

"We are very concerned about maintaining county roads, let alone making needed improvements, if the gap between revenues and expenses continues, to widen."

An association survey of Michigan's 83 county road commissions indicated a nearly 19 per cent average increase in county road system-maintenance-and-construction costs over the past year.

At the same time, Rogers notes, gasoline and weight tax collections—used to finance state, county and municipal roads as well as mass transit—decreased more than $128,000 during the first quarter of 1975, compared to the same period last year.

Rogers blames a decrease in gasoline use for the decline in revenue.

Highest cost increase uncovered through the association survey was for steel grader blades, now priced an average of 60 per cent more than a year ago.

CARE IN THE COUNTRY

If you're driving on country roads this summer, be careful.

Meandering down the back county by-ways can be a fine way to spend some time. But watch out for slow-moving farm tractors and other heavy machinery that might also be trundling down those roads.

Farm equipment must carry a slow-moving vehicle sign when it's on the roads, so be on the lookout for the bright-colored triangle.

Sidewalk Days—contests, bargains and fun for all

THE BALLOON contest drew contestants by the score Friday to Kritzmans'.

THOSE ARE EGGS being tossed back and forth during Friday's festivities at Old Wood Drug. Before it was over, there were several omelets on Main Street.

THAT CLOUD of flour dust hides contestants in the Flour Power competition Saturday afternoon in front of Old Wood Drug. Mike Lefler eventually huffed and puffed his way to victory.

WHAT WILL THEY THINK UP NEXT? A tire rolling contest, that's what. Here, a group of anxious contestants and supporters try their luck as Bob Bader (far left), Village Service Center manager and contest sponsor, looks on.

THERE WERE contestants aplenty for Saturday's tricycle races at Albee Hardware.

EVERYTHING WAS for sale during Sidewalk Days last week end in Cass City. Here, Charles Brown of Robinson Road, Cass City, displays a group of rabbits for sale at his sidewalk display.

HERE'S BILL ZEMKE guzzling his way to victory in Friday's beer chugging contest held at Jack's Bar. Zemke's prize—a six-pack of his favorite suds.

PAM HARRIS of Cass City displays her pet, Fred the crayfish, who took top honors as most unusual pet during Saturday's pet contest held at Quaker Maid.

Bill would compensate crime victim

The thief who sneaks into someone's home and makes away with a sack full of valuables may find himself paying the victim for his troubles.

That's the proposal put forth in Lansing by Rep. Dennis Hertel, D-Detroit.

"Under our usual process here is no justice for the crime victim," who often suffers a great financial loss as a result of the criminal act," Hertel says. While the victims are forced to work and scrimp to put the pieces together again after being robbed or vandalized, "the convicted are languishing in a jail cell, at taxpayers expense, or are out on probation, and the victim receives nothing," he says.

Reverse that situation and put the burden on the back of the criminal, Hertel suggests.

His proposal would allow the presiding judge, prosecutor or defense attorney to seek restitution payments. The judge would be authorized to approve any such request and order a payment schedule.

Hertel says payment would be made during the probationary period and, in some cases, could replace a jail sentence.

"This law has been in effect in Minnesota for two years," he says. "During that time, the program has had only one failure and is considered extremely successful."

The failure? A parolee, arrested for "passing bad checks, sent restitution checks to the county clerk. They bounced.

STUDYING U.P. STYLES

Mining, shipping and lumbering—the industries of Michigan's upper peninsula—may have had some effect on the way folks built homes and churches in that part of the state years ago.

The Department of State, in conjunction with Michigan State University, is looking into that prospect this summer as part of a history division's statewide survey of historic structures and districts.

An architectural survey team will be working in several U.P. counties, describing and photographing sites. They'll pay particular attention to any impact the area's industries had on building.

New allocations brighten CETA program outlook

The Thumb Area Manpower Consortium got its first look at firm allocation figures for three segments of the Comprehensive Employment and Training Act for fiscal year 1976 during its board meeting Thursday in Cass City.

For the most part, allocations to the three counties should remain fairly constant compared with last year's totals, according to Director Frank Lenard, thanks to fairly substantial funding from last year being carried over into the new year.

A total of $463,743 has been allocated to the three counties under Title II of the CETA program, Lenard revealed. Tuscola county will receive a total of $214,142.19, including $18,410.19 carried over from last year. Sanilac county shows the largest share, with $269,030.16, including a $158,872.16 carry-over from last year.

Huron county will receive $198,262.40, including a $40,404.40 carry-over from fiscal year 1975.

Under Title VI of the program, nearly another million dollars will be poured into Tuscola county alone in unemployment programs. Lenard said Tuscola county can expect $966,288.21, including a better than $133,000 carry-over from last year.

Title VI funding for Sanilac county is expected to total $571,356.33, including over $109,000 in carry-over funds. Huron county can look for $834,334.56, including $147,730.56 carried over.

Total new Title VI monies should reach $1,981,212, Lenard said.

What this all means is that CETA programs are less likely to be cut now than earlier believed. Board members were interested in knowing performance of some of the programs to date, and while they seemed satisfied with progress of Special Program for Employing Disadvantaged Youth (SPEDY) they were unhappy over an on-the-job training program and a classroom training program supervised by the Michigan Employment Security Commission.

So far, these two efforts have spent only $21,000 out of a budgeted $137,000. Lenard said he was disappointed with progress to date and said if improvement isn't shown, contracts with MESCC could be cancelled and another agency could be sought to carry them out.

pays participants minimum wage of $2.10 per hour. Once the program ends, he said, most participants will return to school.

Eligibility is based largely on family income. A person coming from a family of four earning less than $5050 per year would be eligible, for instance.

OTHER BUSINESS

The consortium board voted to take two per cent of total Title II and VI grants, around $60,000, for administrative costs. Another four per cent will go to the three counties for their costs of administration.

Lenard told the board he wants to phase the consortium into taking over prime sponsorship for work programs by Jan. 1, 1976. Lenard will make the pitch for consortium prime sponsorship when he meets with the three county boards of commissioners separately in the next few weeks.

Such a move would put the consortium in a better position to receive state and federal unemployment funds as well as creating programs to aid area unemployed. Board members agreed the consortium should try for prime sponsorship, but that now is too soon.

The board also approved hiring a fiscal officer with salary to be determined.

use of several chemicals we used before to control disease in wheat seed."

Bortel said one of the chemicals is scheduled to be released next year and this could help raise yields again.

He said most of the remaining wheat to be harvested is in the Cass City area and the eastern part of the county.

"The main problem we've had this year is getting the wheat dry," Bortel said.

Tuesday's sun and drying winds were obviously welcomed by area farmers anxious to get their grain harvested.

Area elevators reported no problems getting harvested wheat stored.

A crop of 40 million bushels is now forecast for Michigan, according to the Michigan Crop Reporting Service. A crop of this size would be about six per cent larger than the 1974 crop and more than double the 1973 crop.

According to the service, a 40 bushel per acre yield is equal to previous record highs. One million acres for harvest this year compares with 940,000 harvested last year. Only 568,000 acres were harvested in 1973, the service says.

Intermediate School District building as employee parking lot and will set up rules for it later.

In other business, the board approved a resolution to participate in a new Act 258 Mental Health Services Board for the county. The new act replaces the old Act 54 board and takes effect Aug. 6. In the resolution, the board appointed act 54 board members to the new act 258 body.

Local participation in the program will cost the county $32,000, McConkey said, based on a 25 per cent local and 75 per cent state participation. Next year, the match will be on a 90 per cent state and 10 per cent local funding.

The actual cost of participation, however, is not expected to drop sharply, due to increased costs for operating mental health programs in the state.

Commissioners also received a bill of $13,789.04 for surfacing the newly-purchased parking lot at the Intermediate School building.

The board also approved spending $2,897 as its share of a crime task force operating in Tuscola and Lapeer counties. The figure represents five per cent of the program's total cost.

NEWS FROM District Court

SPEDY

Roy Allen, coordinator for the SPEDY program, reported to date 357 persons are being employed, including 118 in Huron county, 166 in Tuscola and 73 in Sanilac county.

Through June 30, 255 persons were on the rolls for the nine-week program, including 153 males and 102 females. Of the total, Allen said, 246 were white, one black, two American Indians, and six of other background. The program also includes seven counselors, three aides and a nurse.

Allen explained the program runs nine weeks and Margaret Jane McDermid, Cass City, was sentenced to pay fines and costs totaling $200 after being found guilty July 8 in District Court of impaired driving. She was sentenced by Judge Richard Kern.

Floyd Larry Saries, Kingston, was found guilty of violating the open container law. He paid a $15 fine and $20 costs.

Miss Hall

dies July 16

Miss Irene Martha Hall, 68, a lifelong Cass City area resident, died at her home Wednesday, July 16, after a short illness.

She was born Oct. 1, 1906, in Novesta township, daughter of the late Charles and Kate Paul Hall. The home in which she was born was her home her entire life.

Miss Hall was a teacher in many of the country schools in the Caro, Gagetown and Cass City area. She retired in 1969 from the Gagetown Elementary School after over 45 years of teaching.

She was a member of the Michigan Education Association, the Tuscola County Retired Teachers Association and attended the Novesta Church of Christ.

She is survived by one sister, Miss Carrie Hall of Cass City, and several nieces and nephews. One brother and two sisters preceded her in death.

Funeral services were conducted Saturday from Little's Funeral Home with Rev. Harold Prong, pastor of the Novesta Church of Christ, officiating.

Burial was in Elkland cemetery.

Missionary falls back

Suddenly it's a race again in Church League

What a difference a week makes. Ten days ago the Missionary church nine had just about sewed up the regular season championship of the Cass City Church League with a two-game margin over their nearest competitors.

Then, thud! The roof fell in, the Missionaries lost two out of three and suddenly it was a race again.

The Missionaries stayed on top, a half game ahead of the Lutherans, but the crown is still up for grabs.

TUESDAY'S GAMES

Ed Stoutenburg pitched a fine game as the Methodists rolled over the Catholics, 14-4, last Tuesday. The Methodists were helped by the wildness of Dave Bliss in the early innings.

Mark McClorey rammed two hits for the losers while Stoutenburg and Randy Kozan with two hits each paced the Methodists' attack.

The Lutherans remained in the thick of the title chase as Al Romig pitched the club to an 11-3 decision over Alvin Mckee and Deford.

Dave Hoard and Ron Nurnberger slapped two hits each for the winners while Jim Martin connected twice for Deford.

Shabbona got on the winning trail with a 7-2 win over Deford as Les Severance bested Louie Tibbits Thursday. Severance was helped to the win by Bill Bader who lashed two hits while Tibbits and Greg Reynolds picked up hits for Deford.

When the Catholics get pitching, look out! They got it in the nightcap against Lamotte as Paul Bliss hurled his team to a 14-4 decision.

Paul and Chuck Bliss each collected two hits for the Catholics while Jim Rayl countered with a pair of safeties for Lamotte.

FRIDAY GAMES

All the teams still in contention for the title owe a vote of thanks to Colwood and Dave Smith. Smith blanked the league leaders as Colwood registered a 2-0 victory over Missionary.

Tim Binder rapped three hits for the winners while Rod Hutchinson and Roger Root slapped two hits each for Missionary. Gary Mellendorf who pitched well enough to win most games, took the defeat.

In the late game the Lutherans used a potent hitting attack to ride past the Methodists, 12-4.

Al Romig pitched the win and helped his cause with a circuit clout among his two hits. John Hacker chipped in with a pair of hits.

Don Galbraith hoisted a long one over the right field fence and collected two hits for the Methodists.

It was just too much Gary Mellendorf for the losers. Mellendorf pitched the win, a four-hitter, struck out 10 and contributed two hits to the Missionary attack.

MONDAY GAMES

The Catholics broke open a tight game in the fifth inning with a four-run rally and went on to defeat Church of Christ in a slugfest, 13-6.

Paul Bliss took the win. Brother Dave Bliss helped the cause with two drives over the left field fence numbered among his three hits. Paul Bliss got two hits while Ralph Zinnecker slapped two hits for the losers.

On again, off again Don Englehart had an off day on the mound and took the loss.

Most of the crowd was pulling for Deford to upset Missionary in the nightcap and they gave it a gallant try before falling, 3-0.

Local girls cop softball tourney

Deering Packing took top honors Monday at the second annual Kingswood Inn invitational girl's slow-pitch softball tournament, held at Kingston, racking up five straight wins.

The team slugged its way to victory by defeating Dayfox (Mayville), 15-7; Mayville State Bank, 17-0 in five innings; Fostoria, 17-13; Tyll's (Uby), 13-3, and Marlette, 11-5.

The Marlette contest decided the championship for Deering Packing Monday night, when the teams resumed the game called Sunday night due to darkness.

Pitcher Mary Fleming took the win for Deering, pitching five strong innings, with relief help from Sheila Morin.

Deering currently holds top slot in the Sandusky League with a 9-0 record.

Recreation Schedule

Here is a list of Summer Recreation Schedule activities for the week of July 25-31:

Friday, July 25-10 a.m.-noon - Nature Walk; 1-5 p.m., horse shoe tournament.
Monday, July 28-10 a.m.-noon - track and field day; 1-5 p.m., soccer.

Tuesday, July 29-10 a.m.-noon - 4-square low organized games; 1-5 p.m., soccer.
Wednesday, July 30-10 a.m.-noon - Dodge Ball; 1-5 p.m., relays.

Thursday, July 31-Swim at Sleeper State Park. Bring $1.00 and a sack lunch.

DEERING PACKING took top honors at the Kingswood Inn invitational slow-pitch softball tourney held last week end at Kingston.

Second row: Sheila Morin, Ann Ballagh, Karen Martin and Kally Maharg.

Second row: Al Pratt, Manager Scott Hartel, Randy Rabideau, Tony Doerr, Ross Ridenour, Jim Molnar, Coach Dave Romig.

THE CASS CITY NUMBER TWO team played well all year and qualified for the play-offs in the Thumb Babe Ruth League. The team threatened to upset the number one team Monday before falling.

Thumb loop in play-offs

Cass City's number one baseball team ended Cass City's number two team's season in the Thumb Babe Ruth League Monday with an 18-8 decision in six innings.

The younger ball players failed to win, but they threatened to pull the upset of the year in the early innings of the first play-off game when they jumped off to an 8-1 lead at the end of the second frame.

However, the older boys came charging back to go ahead at the end of four and then keep going for the win.

Earney Stoutenburg started for the number two squad and pitched well before he was kayoed by lack of support and a few key base knocks. Ken Martin finished up.

The number two team knocked starter Mike Richards out in the second and Clarke Haire took over and finished up to get credit for the win.

Paul Harmer ripped two for three for the losers while Ron Langmaid, four for four; Jeff Hartel, three for four, and Rick Rabideau, two for four, showed the way for the number one nine.

The number one team was to have played Uby, the league champions, in the second round of the tournament Wednesday at 5:30 p.m. The game is carded at Port Austin.

Indians claim fishing rights

Nearly 140 years ago, a federal treaty granted Chippewa Indians unrestricted rights to fish in Michigan Or did it?

And, if it did, do those rights still stand? Or did the subsequent Treaty of 1855 release Michigan from the earlier pact?

Those sticky questions are the topic of a case currently awaiting hearing before Michigan's Supreme Court.

Merchants alive in loop tourney

The Cass City Merchants are still alive in the double elimination play-offs in the Thumb Traveling League following the opening two games.

With a little luck the team could be in a commanding position instead of hanging on at the brink of elimination.

For the team opened with a 3-0 whitewash of Unionville and then lost a close, 5-4, decision to Akron in the second game.

It was in the second game that lady luck was needed. The young Merchants won just about everything but the game against the strong Akron nine last Wednesday night.

The team touched Akron's Lassiter for nine hits while Craig Helwig limited them to five hits.

But errors at crucial times, walks and key hits spelled victory for the Akron nine.

Things looked bright for the Merchants as they rambled to a 2-1 lead in the opening inning. But Akron bounced back with two more in the second to take the lead.

The Merchants tied it on Don Galbraith's long blast, one of three hits he picked up during the night, in the third. Things looked bright when Galbraith's third hit in the sixth resulted in a run and a brief one-run lead. But Akron rallied in their half of the inning for two markers and the victory.

Ken Lowe rapped out two hits to help the Merchants' attack.

The story in the opening victory against Unionville was Craig Helwig. He scattered six hits and chipped in with two hits of his own to get the Merchants off to a rousing start.

The game was a scoreless deadlock until the fifth when Helwig, Henry Cooklin and Jerry Toner singled in a two-run rally.

PLAY IN CASS CITY

Local fans were to have had an opportunity to see the Merchants and Caro in action in a double header against Class A Bay City MadeRite Wednesday.

The two teams are composed primarily of Cass City players and will play against Guy Manke, one of the best pitchers in the valley.

Girls' Softball

It's the Tigers all the way

The Tigers kept their perfect league record in tact at 6-0 last week, pounding out a 27-15 win over the Cubs in Girl's Little League softball action.

The Tigers got off to a head start with seven runs in the opening inning. They pushed across five runs in the second, fourth and fifth innings to notch the victory.

The Cubs managed five runs in the third inning and seven in the fifth, but it wasn't enough to overcome the Tiger lead.

For the Tigers, Jane Smith collected three hits, and Paula Butler collected five safeties and helped turn the first double-play of the year for the Bengals.

For the Cubs, Cindy Ware collected two hits, along with Vicky Lapp.

Pitcher Terri Agar took the win over Cindy Ware.

LIONS-REDS

The Lions clung to second place in league standings, taking a 16-11 win over the Reds. The Lions started things in a big way with five runs in the first inning and capped off their effort with seven runs in the sixth.

The Reds managed seven runs in the fifth inning, their only big frame of the contest.

Linda Wright collected two hits for the Reds, while Nancy Tonti and Tammy Rabideau each connected for two hits for the Lions.

Rochelle Messer took the win over Sherry LaPeer.

BRAVES-CUBS

The Braves handed the Cubs their second defeat of the week, white-washing them 24-9.

The Braves opened up with six runs in the second inning, four in the third and seven in the fourth inning, to put the game out of reach. Libby Hartel and Kelly Winter collected four hits each, with Sherry Stec and Deb Zawilinski adding three more.

Kelly Winter took the win over Cindy Ware, who took her second pitching loss during the week.

REDS-HAWKS

The Reds offset an earlier loss in the week with a 16-11 win over the hapless Hawks, who sank to their seventh loss without a win.

The Reds poured on the runs early, notching five in the first and seven in the second inning to put the game out of reach.

The Hawks managed four runs in the first and third inning, but it wasn't enough to stem the tide.

Lori Harrison was the bright spot for the Hawks, slugging a home run and collecting four hits for the game.

For the Reds, Shelly LaPeer connected for a home run, with Sherry LaPe: banging out four hits.

Sherry LaPeer took the win over Rita Gutierrez.
