The couple were attended by Lawrence Sherk of Grosse Pointe. brother of the bride, and Mrs. Hubert Sherk, of Grosse Pointe, sister-in-law of the bride. Hubert Sherk, brother of the bride, gave his sister away.

During the ceremony, the couple stood in candlelight under an arch of evergreens and roses. Rev. Mr. Sherk, the officiating clergyman. was pastor of the Kingston Baptist Church for 15 years and moved from here to Brown City in 1940.

The bride was dressed in post man blue and her corsage consisted of white carnations and white sweet peas. The bridesmaid was attired in a beige dress and yellow baby mums formed her corsage. Mrs. Sherk, mother of the bride, wore a dubonnet and grey dress and a corsage of blue and white sweet peas, and Mrs. Hunter, mother of the groom, was gowned in a blue dress and her corsage was a creation of pink and white sweet peas.

The traditional wedding cake featured the bride's table at the dinner. Fourteen were present at the reception at the home of the bride's parents. House decorations were in evergreens and roses.

Mr. and Mrs. Sutphen are both graduates of the Kingston High School and the latter was also graduated from a business college in Pontiac.

American organization. Milk must bring a price at least equal to the average cost of Plans are already made and we are about to take acproduction. tion that will bring us a just price.

The Farmer now gets one-third below parity and Labor through organization is getting over one-third above parity.

As Farmers we have had two years of the Milk Bill sponsored by the Michigan Milk Producers' Association. It was of no value, and moreover, it was detrimental to our best interests.

We will also hear from Audley Rawson. State Representative from Tuscola County; Harry Atchison, State President of the Guild; and Claude L. Wood, State Vice President.

Fiendship often hinges on unsuspected circumstances -- the fact as to whether or not you have a telephone, for instance.

Those "spur-of-the-moment" gatherings that are really the most fun are usually recruited by telephone.

So if you're doing without, remember that a telephone, after all, is a mighty important contribution toward happier, friendlier living. And present low rates definitely remove it from the "luxury" class.

U. S. Meat Supplies Fall; 1941 Prices Will Go Up

WASHINGTON.-American consumers may have to pay higher prices next year for their bacon ham and beefsteak. The agriculture department said recently that slaughter supplies of live stock will be smaller in 1941 than in 1940 because unfavorable producer prices last spring discouraged breeding operations. Demand, on the other hand, is expected to be larger.

The rise in consumer prices, the department said, will be more pronounced for pork products than for family of Gilford. Other arrange other meats.

Knit Suit

For good skiing weather here's a sports set which will keep you snug and make you look charming all at the same time. It is a real piece of artistry in every detail. The babybonnet, mittens and sweater are trimmed with rows of heavy cable stitch, accented with rows of colorful embroidery. Knit them in sturdy, white knitting worsted for warmth and long wear. The embroidery gives high-color to the entire combination. The buttons re-peat the coloring of the embroidery.

If you have kept step with the millinery parade your coiffure is concealed under draped fabric contrivances that form part of the brim. Hairdresses worn under draped turban should fit snugly down over the back of the head to the very nape of the neck. These new and fashionable turbans trace their inspirahair.

Overshoes Have High, Low Heels Overshoes don't change much from year to year. They just become a little neater looking, a little more streamlined and a bit more decorative. But this year the principal news is that the makers of galoshes have finally realized that many women wear low-heeled shoes during the winter months.

So this season you will find even the velvet carriage shoes trimmed with black bunny fur, available in three heel heights-low, Cuban and high. These are extremely smart worn with a velvet trimmed cloth coat or one of fur. The familiar all-rubber galoshes are also made in the three heel sizes this year, and the toes are given a boxy look. You'll find a black on black contrast in these, with shiny rubber applied in a pat tern over the arch, and in a panel around the toes, and on the heels. There are low overshoes that look like grown-up rubbers. These are styled to cover the entire shoe, but stop below the ankle. In order to make these look like shoes they are given a smart suede finish and trimmed with shiny rubber for a suede and patent look.

Coats Can Serve

they are wearing their fur or cloth coats to look like capes. Here's their technique. They turn the sleeves in if coat is of soft wool or if this is not feasible they throw the coat about their shoulders nonchalantly entirely ignorning that it has

It is a practical gesture, for with the tailored jacketed wool suits now so fashionable it gives not only a "new" look to add the fur-cape touch, but worn in this easy manner there is comfort without a cum bersome "feel."

DEFENSE:

Parties Split

Congress debated President Roosevelt's plan to loan or lease munitions of war to Great Britain. Party lines were broken and politics forgotten both by political leaders in congress and through the nation.

Leading the attack against the bill within congress was Senator Wheeler (D., Mont.). Former President Hoover and former Gov. Alf M. Landon, the G. O. P. standard bearer in 1936, lined up behind him.

But President Roosevelt had the support of Wendell L. Willkie, who ran against him last fall. And in the senate he was supported by Senator Austin (R., Maine). Willkie suggested several changes in the measure, however. He proposed that a time limit be fixed during which the President will have exceptional powers to deal with embattled democracies. He also proposed that the nations to be given help be named in the bill.

Administration senators were quick to adopt the view. As the proposal moved into house and senate hearings, amendments were added to carry out the Willkie suggestions. Meanwhile Willkie and three of his friends were arranging to go to London during the first days in February. The head of the Republican party wished to see first hand just what was going on in England. He made application to Secretary Hull for a passport. The request was granted in three hours.

HELP TO ITALY: Germans Take Over Mussolini began to slip. In Egypt

the British bombed him out of the air while on the ground his troops were retreating farther and faster westward until it seemed as though all of eastern Libya would be lost to the Fascist empire. The Greeks were threatening the last line of resistance in southern Albania and there wasn't much for the Italians to fall back on after that.

More and more it became apparent that the Duce's Axis partner would be forced to send German troops to extract the Italians from the tangled mess. Even the Italian home front began to crackle, perhaps the first rumble of revolution Benito Mussolini was being referred to as Finito Mussolini. Only German planes appeared, at first piloted by Italians. The planes were sent to Albania. After that followed German "instructors" to teach the Italians how to fight in the air. Finally all pretense was dropped and Germans began to arrive in numbers, taking over Italian bases. Were the Germans invading Italy?

Perhaps not. Maybe it was only a case of holding Italy in "protective custody." Be that as it may, when Germans took up the battle themselves, Italy could no longer be considered an equal partner in the Axis. The Germans don't work that way. They dominated the fight. Mussolini needed their help and could get it only on the German terms.

Mediterranean War

The Germans' first attack came in the Mediterranean, off Cataina. Here the inland sea narrows down to a slight channel between Sicily and the North African mainland. Through this channel must flow all British supplies and reinforcements to Greece and Egypt.

through the channel escorted by the royal navy, including the 23,000-ton cruiser Southampton. Nazi dive bombers appeared in force and what is believed to be the first battle ever fought between war vessels and aircraft took place. The British admit both war vessels were hit. The Italians claim more were damaged. The battle ended at nightfall and the British ships made harbor. But the Germans sallied forth the following day and continued raids on British shipping in the Mediterranean for the five days. They said growers $25,000,000 worth of cotton goods free if they will reduce the acreage. Under the plan, cotton growers would receive stamps which would be redeemable at any retail store for cotton goods. Stamps would be given at the rate of 10 cents for each bound of cotton which farmers normally would have produced on the unplanted portion of their acreage allotment. For example, a farmer with a 10-10acre allotment, would receive $25 worth of stamps if he planted only nine acres, assuming that his normal yield was 250 pounds per acre. Voluntary reductions will not affect allotments under the 1942 program. By this method Wickard hoped to prevent further 'increases of surpluses under the government loan plan and also to increase employment in cotton mills, while allowing cotton farmers to plant more gar den and feed crops.

The Fleets

Many months ahead of delivery of ships which will give the United States a two-ocean navy, orders were issued which split the present war vessels into three "fleets." The main forces will remain in the Pacific, but there will be an independent command in the Atlantic and a third independent command in Asia. Rear Admiral Husband E. Kimmel was named commander in chief. He and President Roosevelt are old friends. They worked together in another defense problem-when Mr. Roosevelt was assistant secretary of the navy in 1916-1917. At the same time orders were issued to increase the navy personnel from 192,000 to 232,000.

More Planes

Dr. George Mead, aircraft production head of the national defense commission, announced that the nation's three largest automobile corporations had agreed to take a larger hand in the making of fighting planes. Ford, General Motors and Chrysler will make parts for 1,200 planes each. They have completed arrangements with Consolidated Aircraft, Douglas and Glenn Martin to make the assemblies. The cheapest of the 3,600 planes will cost $100,000.

Meanwhile there still is some dispute over the lack of aluminum. The Aluminum Corporation of America, which holds a monopoly, said production has more than doubled and that the firm is spending $15,000,000 of its own money for further expansion. Since aircraft today is almost wholly aluminum in the bodies, the demand is high and there yet may be a senate investigation over Alco's affairs and national defense.

Otherwise on the defense front: The North Carolina, first battleship to be built for the United States navy in 20 years, will go into commission April 11. A fighting plane built for the U.S. army attained a speed of 620 miles an hour in a power dive test. It was driven by a reserve officer, Lieut. Andrew C. McDonough. The speed of the plane is faster than sound, so that when it is heard approaching for bombing it is too late to duck-the plane already has passed.

Here is the latest picture of Prime Minister Winston Churchill of England shown as he watches anti-aircraft gunnery in action at a Royal Artillery establishment, "Somewhere · in · Engestablishment, land that 15 ships were sent to the bottom. When the truth can be learned definitely, it may be one of the "classic" battles of history, for it may establish what long has been a moot question-whether aircraft can successfully challenge armed surface craft.

Looking Ahead

The British felt the German force, now based in Italy, may be a definite challenge to the campaign in the Near East. It may mean that Hitler will seek to cut off all communications between England and Cairo. On the other hand the British still anticipate an attack on England itself. And they doubt that the attempt will be long delayed. German bombings of Irish cities were seen as "training" flights toward this objective. The British took no chances. They bombed "invasion ports" in Germany, Holland. Belgium and France nightly.

SCHOOLS CRITICIZED: By College Heads

Present-day educational methods are inadequate to cope with the needs of democracy, speakers told the twenty-seventh annual meeting of the Association of American Colleges. Dr. Theodore M. Greene, Princeton philosophy professor, and Dr. John M. Mason, president of Swarthmore college, led the discussion. The Rev. Edward V. Stanford, president of Villanova, agreed way.

Memphis. Schools were closed in the Carolinas and Tennessee. Five thousand were ill in St. Louis. In the first two weeks of last year, there were but 9,500 cases in the whole nation. The National Billiard Tournament went ahead without Willie Hoppe, the first time since he won the championship in 1910. In a preliminary appeared in the regulation dinner clothes for two days while his temperature was above 101. When Schaeffer learned about this he withdrew the challenge and the game came to an end. Most encouraging was that the type of influenza is a mild one, not the fatal type that swept over the nation like a plague in 1917. This year few deaths have been recorded. Nevertheless, national health service authorities advised people to avoid crowds, to get plenty of rest and eat sparingly of wholesome foods. Extra precautions were beindividuals.

ing taken in army camps. MISCELLANY: Lieut.-Gen. Lord Baden-Powell became famous in Africa in another war. Greatly outnumbered by Boers, he stood them off by sheer bluff and for 217 days stalled an attack. When he returned home to England in 1910, after a life-time on the Dark Continent, he was a national hero. He founded the Boy Scouts, dressed them in short pants, like those worn by the British colonial armies. Last year his health failed and he returned to Africa, where his dreams have always been. He died there at the age of 84, while other British soldiers, also dressed in the short pants, were again making British history in Africa.

As a partial solution to the farm problem created by the European war, Wheeler McMillen, editor of Farm Journal and Farmer's Wife. advocates the beginning of production in America of the two billion tons of vegetable oils, and of flax, jute, coarse wools, and long-staple cotton now being imported.

Would Be Noticed

If the earth's axis became vertical to its orbit we would notice the change because the days and nights would be equal in length throughout the year: there would be no seasons and the sun always would be directly above the equator.

Vitamin K

Vitamin K is the anti-hemorrhage vitamin. Its absence in the diet of animals and humans has been found to produce hemorrhages. It is one of the most important among the vital substances essential to life.

Walter had a heavy cold in October, lost 22 days at the office, so we got behind and he borrowed $300 to keep abreast of our obligations.

Running Into Debt.

Now this is what worries me. He does not like to talk finances with me, and I don't like to bother him. But by chance I learned that we are running behind with all our pay ments, and unless we have a streak of great luck—and in the winter real estate developments hardly move at all. I can't see how we are going to manage. What I want to do is to rent this house for a year, which we could do, move into a small apartment, live on our salary, and let the house pay for itself and its furnishings, which it would just do.

"When I hinted this plan to Walter he was amused and disturbed. He took me downtown to dinner and bought me gardenias, saying that I had let myself get into a housekeeping rut. When I said that money was an important element in married security he just laughed and said that he had been in and out of hot water all his life and certainly was not going to begin worrying now. He admitted that he had made our indebtedness 'an even five hundred' but that if the bank ever made any trouble, he could 'get it from someone.' He spoke of a 'second mortgage' on the house, but while it is unpaid for I don't think we could do that. Meanwhile he is anxious for a child; both the men in his office have small children and he says he is jealous when he hears them talking of them. But it seems to me we have no right to go ahead with a family, dearly as I would love a baby, until we are a little more out of the woods. Will you tell me what position I ought to take and whether I am unnecessarily worried? Moss Rose.

Breakers Lie Ahead.

Poor little Moss Rose has a real problem on her hands and certainly | the financial end of their bargain a there are breakers ahead. She and success, then both feel a confidence her Walter will lose their home, and and security that is the very base take to smaller quarters, and then and root of happiness.

For women get tired of bright promises that are never fulfilled; money shortage that is never ended; eternal humiliations from tradespeople. They know that these things aren't necessary, and they would rather work out their problems on a certain $100 a month, than have a dazzling rush of riches one week,

Wife's Right to Share Money

It is the right of every wife to share money responsibility, money planning. If a young husband refuses her that right, he has only himself to blame if she runs into extravagances, cannot account for what he gives her, and blames him for necessary economies. Nothing enrages a husband more than to discover that the little extra money, a bit of luck has brought him, has been blandly spent by his wife, or to open bills for all sorts of ridiculous expenditures that send his scheme for a budget tumbling down into fresh depths of debt. And nothing upsets a wife more than to find herself going about the daily tasks of beds and dishes thinking resentfully: "he told me I'd have to send Tom's shoes back and take Mollie out of dancing school, and then he plays poker and loses $60 in one evening! I can't have a maid even for three days a week, but he can loan Bill Porter a hundred dollars. He gave me a call-down for sending Mama a check for her birthday, and yet he says he matches the boys at the club every day to see who pays for the lunch!' Married love ought to be high above thoughts of money. But it isn't. Such reflections as these corrode the home atmosphere when apparently far more serious things are forgotten and forgiven. Money in the purse is a singularly healing thing; when Rose can look at a growing bank account with satisfaction, when Walter feels that his wife is as interested as he is in making
