Four Meetings for Sugar Beet Growers

The first of a series of four meetings for sugar beet growers of Tuscola County will be held at the high school here on Monday afternoon, February 17, at two o'clock. A motion picture film, "Our Land Today and Tomorrow," will be shown. This was prepared by the agricultural department of the Farmers' and Manufacturers' Beet Sugar Association in cooperation with the Ohio State University and Michigan State College.

Similar meetings will be held at the Unionville High School on Monday evening, February 17; at Mayville High School, Tuesday, February 18, at 2:00 p. m., and at Fairgrove Town Hall, Tuesday evening at eight o'clock.

Lee Stewart, manager of the Caro sugar beet factory, is co-operating with Norris W. Wilbur, county agricultural agent, in planning these meetings.

Three Local People Have Names in Two National Magazines

Three young people of Cass City have their names in two periodicals of nation-wide circulation this month.

The Rotarian Magazine for February carries the halftone pictures of Jeanne Muck and Leslie Profit under the caption of "Club Cheers Club Steers" which states that "Cass City gains fame through Rotary stock project and champion." Jeanne Muck, Chronicle readers will remember, exhibited the grand champion 4-H steer at the Michigan State Fair last September, and Leslie Profit showed his champion 4-H Club steer at the Junior Livestock Show, Detroit, in 1938.

In a business announcement of the Shorthorn World appears the name of Maurice Joos as manager of the Hickory Knoll Stock Farm, a position he has held since last November. This farm of 183 acres situated 35 miles northeast of Detroit, has 53 purebred Shorthorns, 100 registered swine and 150 purebred sheep.

Farmers to Sign Up for the 1940 Sugar Beet Bonus

Farmers who intend to sign up for the 1940 sugar beet bonus will have seven places in Tuscola County where they may file applications, according to John M. Reagh, chairman of the Tuscola County Agricultural Conservation Commission. They are:

Friday, February 14, at the conservation commission's office at Caro from 8:30 a. m. to 12:00 m., and 1:00 to 4:30 p. m.
Saturday, February 15, Cass City Council Room, 8:30 to 10:00.
Saturday, February 15, Kingston State Bank, 10:30 to 12:00.
Monday, February 17, Rudy Bauer Bowling Alley, Richville, 9:00 to 10:30.
Monday, February 17, Fairgrove Town Hall, 11:00 to 12:00, 1:00 to 3:30.

Tuesday, February 18, Unionville Town Hall, 9:00 to 12:00.

Tuesday, February 18, Gagetown, Freeman's Store, 1:30 to 2:30.
Bonus payments in Tuscola County will total $255,000 in round numbers. The rate is $1.89 a ton in the Caro factory district, and is based on sugar content of beets. In the Sebewaing district, the rate is $1.82 and in the Bay City district it is $1.80.

Informal Digest of Intangible Tax Law Published by Michigan State Tax Commission

This outline is in no sense a comprehensive review of the Law, and no attempt is made herein to cover all provisions of the act. It is a plain English discussion designed to answer only those questions which most people ask. More detailed literature is available. The law is as simple as the taxation provisions of the State Constitution will permit.

The 1939 Legislature enacted the law which imposes annually, beginning in 1940, a tax on intangible personal property, reaching a form of wealth not heretofore taxed, for the most part. The tax is due on or before March 1, annually, beginning in 1941, or 60 days after the close of 1940. Corporations keeping their books on a fiscal year basis not coinciding with the calendar year, may apply to the Commission for permission to pay their taxes on this basis. Taxes will be due annually within 60 days after the close of individual fiscal years.

Intangible personal property taxable under the act includes money, stocks and bonds, mortgages and land contracts, accounts receivable, royalties, annuities—all credits or

Death Came a Week After Fall Down a Stairs

Sylvester B. Calley, for Long Period, a Resident of the Gagetown Community.

Sylvester B. Calley, 78, passed away Tuesday afternoon, February 11, at Pleasant Home Hospital here where he had been taken on February 5, suffering from injuries received in a fall down stairs. Mr. Calley had been at the home of Thomas Watson in Cass City since last November, and Wednesday, while coming down the stairs, he fell striking on his face. He suffered a compound fracture of the nose and other head injuries.

Funeral services will be held this (Friday) afternoon at the Angus McPhail home. Rev. Wesley Dafeo, pastor of the Gagetown Methodist Church, will be the officiating clergyman and interment will be made in the cemetery at Gagetown.

Mr. Calley was born in Saginaw January 9, 1863, and had spent the greater part of his life on the Calley homestead, a mile west of Gagetown. On April 7, 1885, he was united in marriage with Sarah Anne McLellan.

Mrs. Calley passed away on January 17, 1932, and their two children, Mary Cecil and Earl Jay, also preceded Mr. Calley in death. Surviving are his daughter-in-law, Mrs. Beulah Calley, and three grandchildren, Mrs. Howard Wood, Miss Wilma Calley and Richard Calley, all of Detroit.

Cramton Lectures on Balkan States

Remarkable, because of its contacts with many persons of royalty and political influence in Southern Europe, was the trip made by Circuit Judge Louis C. Cramton during the first World War. In a lecture, "From Bologna to Saloniki," illustrated with slides, he entertained members of the Rotary Club at their luncheon here Tuesday, giving them glimpses of life of peasant and prince in Italy, Greece and other countries of Southern Europe and a background of thought for reasons for the unrest in the Balkan states.

William Miller, program chairman, introduced Mr. Cramton. Unusual was the musical program. Willis Campbell, saxophone; L. I. Wood, cornet; and H. F. Lenzner, trombone, all members of bands in younger years, played several numbers. Charles Keen, who keeps up-to-date as school music instructor, helped out the old-timers at the piano. Frederick Pinney and M. B. Auten, to their surprise, were recruited at a moment's notice as vocal soloists for the occasion.

EVANGELICAL TRUSTEES ELECTED OFFICERS

At a meeting of the board of trustees of the Evangelical Church held Friday evening at the parsonage, W. J. Schwegler was chosen president; A. A. Ricker, secretary; and J. I. Niergarth, treasurer. All succeed themselves in these positions.

Plans were made for improvements of the church and parsonage properties.

Bernard Ross Will Be Manager of the Pinney Store

Bernard Ross, who has for the past three years been employed as bookkeeper and salesman at the Buick Chevrolet Sales, will assume the duties as manager of the Pinney Dry Goods Company on Monday, February 17. Mr. Ross has always lived in this community, being the son of Mr. and Mrs. John Ross. After graduating from the Cass City High School in 1933, he attended Ferris Institute at Big Rapids, Michigan, and was employed in Mt. Pleasant for a short time before coming back to Cass City to the position he has recently held. He has a wide circle of friends here, who will wish him well with his new responsibilities.

Mrs. Elizabeth E. Pinney, who has operated the business for the past seven years, is now retiring from active connection with it.

Community Club Father and Son Banquet Monday

Sam Grathwell, a speaker furnished by the bureau supplying entertainments for the local school, will address the Father and Son gathering Monday evening, February 17, on the subject, "Getting by Your Hoodoo." Grathwell has had an unusual experience in life. Reared an orphan, he first entered school when he was 19 and was graduated with the highest honor at Leland Stanford University at the age of 30.

The Father and Son program is sponsored by the Cass City Community Club and the banquet will be served by the Baptist Ladies' Aid. Men without available sons may secure a boy guest if they will telephone the local school before two o'clock on Monday afternoon.

Committeemen have been unable to contact every man in the community to join the Community Club for 1941. Those who have not been reached personally are requested by club officers to come Monday night, enroll as members and secure tickets for the Father and Son banquet.

I will be a candidate for the Non-Partisan nomination of Circuit Judge, for the Fortieth Judicial Circuit, consisting of the Counties of Tuscola and Lapeer, at the Primary Election to be held February 17, 1941. May I ask for your consideration and support?

Herman Fittinger, 76, met death by falling on a steel stake two miles south of Unionville, at 4:30 p. m. on Sunday. In the opinion of Coroner Lee Huston, Mr. Fittinger suffered a possible skull fracture in the fall which was caused by an attack of apoplexy.

Dentist Leaves the Sanilac Health Dept.

Dr. T. M. Dorsz, dentist with the Sanilac County Health Department for the last four years, has resigned effective March 1. Dr. Dorsz is going into private practice in Detroit.

The Children's Fund of Michigan, sponsors of the dental program in Sanilac County, are anxious to continue the dental program and will have a dentist there as soon as one is available. Dr. K. R. Gibson, director of the dental program, cannot promise a dentist at any definite time, as there is a shortage of dentists in Michigan. Likewise the new graduates from dental schools are being drafted into the army.

Arrangements are being made for the storage of the dental equipment in Crosswell until the new dentist should arrive. The program has been operating in Crosswell since January 13.

Novesta Farmer Has Had Telephone in Home 32 Years

Frank Hegler, who recently sold his 149-acre farm in Sections 22 and 27 to Adolph Woelsle of Bay City, has the record of having a telephone in his farm residence for more consecutive years than any other Novesta farmer. The telephone was installed 32 years ago this month in the Hegler household and has been connected continuously since that time.

A. H. Henderson had a phone placed in his farm residence about the same time, Mr. Hegler says, but a year off the farm broke the continuity of the Henderson connection with the telephone central.

The Deford Bank has had a telephone longer than any other institution in the township.

Locals Win from Sebewaing; Lose to Harbor Beach

The Maroon and Grey basketball team invaded Sebewaing Friday and handed the Redskins a 30-14 trimming. The locals set a scoring pace which enabled them to outscore their opponents in every quarter.

Sebewaing's fast-breaking offense did not click the first half, as the Cass City defense functioned in highly capable fashion to hold Sebewaing to three points the first half while collecting 14 points for themselves.

During the third quarter, Sebewaing made her threat to stay in the ball game picking up nine points to Cass City's 10.

The final period was played with both teams made up mostly of reserves.

Kefgen, Cass City center, led all scorers with 11 points, followed by Guc, Cass City, and Kling, Sebewaing, with six each.

Robt. W. McConkey Died on Wednesday in Detroit Hospital

Elkland Resident for Many Years, Served His District as a School Officer.

Robert W. McConkey, Sr., 72, for 30 years a farmer in the Cass City community, passed away at Mt. Carmel Hospital in Detroit on Wednesday afternoon, February 12. He had entered the hospital on Monday, February 3, and underwent an operation there the following Friday.

Robert W. McConkey was born on December 15, 1868, in Brockville, Ontario, and at the age of eight years he came to Tuscola County with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin McConkey. In early manhood, Mr. McConkey taught school in the Frenchtown District, west of Gagetown, and in Flint, and one year in South Dakota. For 13 years he engaged in sheep and cattle ranching with his brother, Benjamin, in Montana. For the next 13 years, Mr. McConkey was engaged in farming west of Cass City and the past 17 years on a farm in Elkland Township, northeast of Cass City. During most of these 30 years, he served the two communities as a school officer.

On February 14, 1900, he was united in marriage with Miss Clara Bingham of Gagetown, who survives him.

Besides his widow, he leaves four children, Robert B. McConkey of Augusta, Michigan, Mrs. Grant Smith (Mildred) of St. Clair, and Keith and Maynard McConkey of Cass City; nine grandchildren; two brothers, James McConkey of Springfield, Ohio, and Benjamin McConkey of Belt, Montana, and two sisters, Mrs. John Higgins of Pullman, Washington, and Mrs. Albert Brown of Portland, Oregon.

EXTENSION COURSES FOR TEACHERS START TONIGHT

Two new extension courses for Tuscola County teachers will commence this (Friday) evening at Caro, with Dr. Magoon as director, according to an announcement of Ben H. McComb, county commissioner of schools. A course in introduction to prose, English 108, will meet at 6:30. The second class, meeting at 8:00, will have subjects determined by the teachers present. Requests already made by teachers indicate a course in Shakespearean tragedy or one in composition.

State Capitol, Lansing—Stalwart partisans who take their politics seriously and who, likewise, believe devoutly in party responsibility, find Michigan's 1941 state government to be downright disturbing.

The "good old days," verily, are slipping fast into memories. Whether for good or bad, better or worse, we are headed in a new direction, come what may. As every action brings a reaction, as the pendulum swings invariably from one side to another, so Michigan is undergoing a significant change.

And it is all the result of a steady trend in public opinion—how we look at things.

Independence

When voters went to the polls last November, they did not act deliberately with cool, calm foresight to create today's bi-partisan rule at Lansing.

They merely voted for their favorites. Privileges of a democracy made it possible for them to choose simultaneously three Republicans (secretary of state, attorney general, and auditor general), and two Democrats (governor and state treasurer), while maintaining a Republican majority in each branch of the state legislature. And that's scrambling 'em a bit!

And yet the old-fashioned idea of putting one cross in one circle at the top of the ballot has been fading in Michigan for the past decade or so. A decisive bloc of independent voters crossed party lines exactly five times between 1930 and 1940 to elect a new governor at each election. Every two years, as a result of this flexible public opinion, old "rascals" would be turned out at Lansing and new "rascals" would be put in.

F. D. R.'s New Deal

At Washington in 1933 a truly political phenomenon occurred.

Franklin Delano Roosevelt began his famous "New Deal" with the aid of Republican Harold Ickes as secretary of the interior and Republican Henry Wallace as secretary of agriculture.

In New York City a dynamic coalition candidate by the name of Fiorella H. LaGuardia upset an entrenched Tammany.

Arthur Vandenberg, a man who has never been a politician in the true sense of the word and who has not been actively identified with party organization, became one of our outstanding independent leaders in the United States senate. The primary system, originally conceived as a remedy for boss-plagued conventions, paved the way.

In 1939 the voters of Michigan upheld in referendum a non-partisan judiciary, a reaction against a so-called political judiciary.

In 1940 the same voters stripped the legislature of its patronage powers and instituted a drastic and somewhat revolutionary program of civil service, jobs by merit.

Gymnastics

Concurrently, the independent voters in 1940 performed other mental gymnastics just as remarkable.

They cast a majority for Wendell L. Willkie, who was a lifelong Democrat until recently. They cast a majority also for Murray D. Van Wagoner.

Never in its history had the Republican party broke precedent nationally by crossing the party line in its selection of a presidential candidate. The man, not the emblem, proved to be the irresistible magnet.

But this change in political thinking has not been the exclusive virtue (or sin, depending on how you look at it) of any one party. Witness these acts: The late Governor Frank Fitzgerald appointed a study commission for civil service, and his successor, Frank Murphy, signed the legislative act. Governor Murphy then appointed a study commission to recommend reforms in parole and prison management, and when a Democratic legislature provided for a bi-partisan commission, Republicans did not move to revise it.

Bi-Partisan Trend

Today's current dispute over bi-partisan appointment of the state commissioner of agriculture is just another case at point.

An administration measure would take the commissioner out of politics through appointment by a long-term bi-partisan commission. Counter to this Van Wagoner farm reform is a McPherson-sponsored bill for the commissioner's appointment by the state board of agriculture, Michigan State College's elective governing body.

Also being kicked around at Lansing is the idea of letting bi-partisan boards appoint the state highway commissioner and the state superintendent of public instruction.

A 1941 legislative bill would have regents of the University of Michigan elected by non-partisan ballots.

And so the signs multiply. Michigan's bi-partisan administration appears to be, in part, the culmination of a trend of popular thinking that has disregarded party labels in an insistent quest for more efficient and responsive government. What will be the voters' reaction to this? That answer is yet to be written.

Repeatedly I have warned motorists about the hazards of slippery roads, fog, sleet and snow.

These conditions prevail again. At this time of the year, we are often times caught rather unexpectedly in bad driving weather.

A day that starts with sunshine and that, from all appearances, should be an ideal day for driving can suddenly become one of sleet and snow.

Icy roads require careful driving. Chains give added protection. They are not a positive guaranty that you will not skid, but tests have shown that they do help you to stop a car in a shorter space.

It's smart to drive carefully.

20 Valuable Prizes Given Away Other Entertainment

Farmers in Michigan are organizing in a one-hundred per cent American organization.

Milk must bring a price at least equal to the average cost of production. Plans are already made and we are about to take action that will bring us a just price.

The Farmer now gets one-third below parity and Labor through organization is getting over one-third above parity.

As Farmers we have had two years of the Milk Bill sponsored by the Michigan Milk Producers' Association. It was of no value, and moreover, it was detrimental to our best interest.

Letter from Boys in Hawaii—

"The islands are very nice with perfect weather at all times. It is far beyond our vocabulary to even attempt to describe them. We like being in the air corps very much. JUDGE CRAMTON WRITES YOU A PERSONAL LETTER

TO THE VOTERS:

Though the primary is so soon at hand, it has not been possible for me to make a personal canvass. I will not be able to talk with each one of you personally, soliciting your vote and answering any question or criticism concerning my work as your Judge the past six years.

Campaign Does Not Interfere with Court Work.

It has been my duty to carry on the work for which you elected me, and for which I am paid, and this has left me very little time for the business of being re-elected. Please understand, however, that I am very desirous of your vote and your influence. I have no political organization and only by the help of those who believe in me and my work can I win in the primary.

Asks the Usual Second Term.

I am serving my first term as Circuit Judge. I have tried hard to be an impartial, fair and honest judge. I am anxious that, by your votes, you declare that notwithstanding my mistakes and imperfections, you approve the record I have made. I ask from you the second term that has never been denied in this circuit.

Warns of Campaign Yarns.

The mess of campaign criticisms that has now been spread over the two counties by friends of candidates, by disappointed litigants and by others misinformed or heedless of the truth, comes back to me. Some criticism is well founded and will help me to avoid repetition of the same mistakes. Perfection is not to be reasonably expected from me, nor even from any one of my opponents. But as for me, you have the record I have made, just as it is. As to the others, you can only judge by their promises and their records in other work.

I ask you to beware of campaign yarns that are handed about surreptitiously, that never come out into the light of public discussion where answer can be made and exaggeration or falsehood be properly tagged.

The Farmers Mutual Receivership

Such a yarn is the report that one candidate will, if elected, "put an end to the whole Farmers Mutual mess in thirty days." He might better be expected to end the war in Europe. That receivership was created by, always has been and is now absolutely controlled by the Circuit Court for Ingham County and the Lapeer-Tuscola circuit does not now and never has had any control over it.

Not An Infallible Judge.

Many of you have been told of an amazing number of my decisions reversed by the Supreme Court. The number so currently reported has been a gross exaggeration. But I have been at times reversed and so is every Circuit Judge. And my record, if truthfully presented, compares very fairly with many other judges. The law is not an exact science and even members of the highest courts disagree and dissent. In one of my recent appeals our Michigan Supreme Court divided four to three. And it may be observed that, as practicing attorneys, none of my opponents have always won their cases in the Supreme Court. And these stories carry generally a suggestion of favoritism shown a member of the Lapeer Bar. As the attorney mentioned in that connection is now actively campaigning as a candidate against me, the favoritism has been evidently a campaign fiction only and may so be dismissed.

Too Lenient with Criminals?

"He's too lenient with those convicted of crime," is sometimes the charge. Maybess. I am not always sure just what is the thing to do. But I do what it seems to me, under the facts before me, what I ought to do. Most of these offenders are under 25, often under 21. Generally I have given first offenders, probation, a chance. Occasionally this has proven a mistake, but not often. But to send ten first offending youths to prison, because one may not make good on probation, would be itself a mistake too terrible for me to take responsibility for.

No Other Interest or Income

As Judge, I am forbidden to practice law and hence have no established law business to fall back on if I am not re-elected, and have no other business, no bank stock, no industrial interests. Judges are not expected to have other interests that may be money-making but may at times conflict. Hence judges are customarily re-elected who give honest and faithful service, even though they may not be the peers of Charles Evans Hughes and Felix Frankfurter. Thus the courts are customarily removed from personal as well as partisan politics. This year, in 33 of the 40 judicial circuits of Michigan the sitting judges are without opposition for re-election, though in every circuit there are capable young attorneys, ambitious for recognition and honor. Youth can wait. Most important is an honest, experienced, impartial judiciary for that is the very cornerstone of good government.

I ask your support, basing my request on my record. I urge each of you to vote at the Primary, February 17, and to see that others do.

Sincerely yours,
LOUIS C. CRAMTON, Circuit Judge.

Six Get Honors for Dairy Work

Six persons prominent in dairying in Michigan were named for plaques and recognition in the recent Farmers' Week at Michigan State College. Four received the award for lifetime contribution to the state's dairying and two were named as 4-H club record project winners.

The two youths are Robert McCrae, McBrides, and Milo Horrocks, Onaway. They received, respectively, $100 and $50 scholarships to Michigan State College from the National Dairy Products Corporation.

The lifetime awards went to four outstanding dairymen. J. D. Wedge, Allegan, was recognized for his work with Jersey cattle. He recently retired after being in herd test work since 1913.

Other awards announced by the college dairy department included a plaque to J. L. Carter, Lake Odessa, another Jersey breeder. Except for two years in Eaton County he has been on the same farm for 65 years since starting with his father. He has been in test work since 1921 although he purchased his first purebreds in 1907.

A selection of Harry Gleason, Three Rivers, gave honors to a Holstein breeder. He obtained purebreds and began dairy herd improvement test work in 1914. His son, Henry, a Michigan State College graduate, farms with him.

The fourth award went to Fred Knott, Niles, pioneer Guernsey dairyman. He began improvement work nearly 40 years ago and has made a reputation as an efficient feeder of home grown feeds produced on a well balanced farm. Earl Weaver and A. C. Baltzer of the college dairy department announced the awards in a banquet during Farmers' Week at East Lansing.

Retrieving a Letter

What would you do if you had mailed a letter and it was a matter of life or death that you intercept that letter before it reaches its destination? Most persons wouldn't know. But that letter can be intercepted if there is time. One simply goes to the post office, fills out a certain form, pays for a wire which is sent to the post office destination of the letter, and in a few days a notice arrives informing you to call at local headquarters for your letter.

Bowling News

By G. W. Landon, Secretary of Bowling League.

The leading Knapp team, who found themselves challenged last week by the Reid pinsters, now have an added burden to carry since they are now in a three-way tie for first place with the Reid and C. Wallace groups. The Wallace southpaws came into the picture by taking three wins from the F. Fritz aggregation and thereby claim their share of first place honors.

Maddened by a very uncompromising remark made toward him by a member of the opposing team, as to his physique and hitherto unorthodox style of bowling, Willis Campbell proceeded to unleash what turned out to be the best brand of bowling yet registered in the records thus far this season, when he amassed games of 202, 219 and 177 for a grand total of 598 pins. Opposing teams should take a lesson from this instance and confine their remarks to other channels or "Rotund" Willie may continue his savage attack on the innocent maples.

While the race for leadership as the league's high average bowler continues among several individuals, the records show very few changes. Reid's jump from fifth position to third, was the best showing, while Larkin came from ninth place into seventh. Landon added another point to his average to widen the gap between first and second place by two points.

Cass City is at present well represented in the Upper Thumb Travelling League, which has been operating for several weeks. Other towns with teams are Bad Axe, Elkton, Sandusky, Marlette and Caro. While Bad Axe is now leading, they are but one game up on Cass City, with the other teams in striking distance. This league brings together the better bowlers in the Thumb district which is indicated by some of the following high records which have been established to date: Cass City team, with a 2,867 pin total for three games; Marlette's 1,053 pins for one single game; A. C. Ball of Caro has a 626 pin total for three games; while Taylor of Marlette has the highest single game, 242. Bowlers from Cass City eligible to bowl in this travelling league and already with established averages are Parsch, Larkin, F. Novak, E. Fritz, Landon, Coleman, Knapp and C. Wallace.

INFORMAL DIGEST OF INTANGIBLE TAX LAW

Concluded from page one turns, each taking both exemptions, which would mean $20,000 in deposits for which there would be no tax. Some banks are paying the deposit tax for their depositors.

What was your average bank balance in 1940?

The Tax Commission has ruled
you may call your September 30 balance, the 1940 average. The date was set after September 30 had passed. Some date will be thus chosen each year.

If you think that September 30
does not fairly reflect your average intangible holdings for 1940, you may average by the month, quarterly, or semi-annually. But if you select one method of determining the average of one class of holdings, such as your bank balance,
then that same method determines the average of all your taxable credits the value of which changed during 1940.

There are two kinds of intangibles under the act: Non-income producing and income producing.
For non-income producing, the tax is a flat $1 per $1,000 of face value per year. For income producing,
the tax is 6 per cent of the income,
but in no case less than $1 nor more than $3 per $1,000 face value per year. If you hold intangibles for less than a year, you pay proportionately less tax.

The tax is too low to justify anyone trying to evade it. All federal income tax returns filed by those subject to this law, are open to inspection by the Michigan State Tax Commission. The state will get one-third the net revenues, informally estimated at from $3,000,000 to $5,000,000 annually; cities and counties the balance, in proportion to population.

The stock of corporations all of the property of which is wholly within Michigan, is not taxed. The stock of corporations all the property of which is wholly outside of Michigan, is fully taxable. Thus, to the extent that the property of any corporation is located within Michigan, its stock is exempt. The Commission has compiled a list of more than 20,000 corporations showing the percentage of taxability of their stock, and will furnish information concerning any company not on this list, of which ten thousand copies have been distributed throughout Michigan, to assessors, county and city treasurers, banks, building and loan associations and others who asked for this and other literature.

Stock in banks and building and loan associations is taxable at rates which vary for each such institution each of which computes this rate by means of a formula furnished them. Your bank and building and loan associations can tell you the taxable portions of such stock you own.

Mortgages and land contracts
are taxable unless the old Mortgage tax of 50 cents per $1,000 had been paid on them previous to September 29, 1939, the effective date of the act.

Accounts receivable are taxed at $1 a $1,000 if non-income producing; otherwise at the rate for other income producing intangibles. Corporations may offset receivables with certain payables. Worthless notes are subject to bona fide charge-offs; securities are not deemed worthless unless the process of liquidation has been completed. Money in a closed bank is taxable without deduction until re-ceivership has ended.

Persons with royalty or annuity problems not solved by study of tax return forms or other available literature should write the State Tax Commission, Intangible Tax
Division at Lansing.

No tax is levied on intangibles owned by the State of Michigan or any subdivision of government, nor on intangibles owned by certain benevolent, charitable, religious,
educational and scientific institutions incorporated in Michigan.
Railroads, telegraph and virtually all insurance companies are exempt because they already pay other specific taxes, but the stock of such corporations owned by others is not exempt. Banks, trust companies, building and loan, savings and loan associations and credit unions are exempt, though their stock is not. Nor are, of course, their deposits.

Deposits of Michigan residents
in out-of-state banks are taxable unless they are actually taxed outside Michigan and are used in connection with business where they are taxed. This applies to other intangible holdings as well.

In general, all intangible property having " situs " in Michigan, is taxable. To have " situs," it must be owned by a person living in Michigan, or it must be used in connection with business in Michigan, no matter where the owner lives. Corporations file lists of their stockholders with the Tax Commission.

The constitutionality of the In-tangible Tax Act has been upheld
by the Michigan Supreme Court.

Hot Porridge Offers Energy

Serving piping hot porridge for breakfast supplies energy-giving food at low cost when temperatures
drop and appetites soar.

Two common porridge faults are lumpiness and lack of salt, according to the home economics staff at Michigan State College. The lumpi-ness can be avoided by the right method of combining the cereal.
A quick way is to add the cereal slowly to rapidly boiling water, and stir until all the cereal is blended
in. Another way is to add the cold water to the cereal and to mix the two thoroughly before heating.

The standard amount of salt to add is about one teaspoon for every quart of water used in cooking cereal. This may vary according to taste, but it should never be left out, because it brings out the good starch flavor.

If porridge is made ahead of time, then allowed to cool, two or three teaspoons of water can be poured over the top to prevent a hard crust from forming. When reheating porridge, do not stir until the cereal is heated through. Otherwise lumps of the cooked cereal may form.

The homemaker operating on a limited food budget can serve one or more cereal dishes a day, in addition to bread at every meal.

If money is so limited that there's enough to buy only the minimum of fruit and vegetables,
at least half of the cereals served should be whole grain rather than refined so that this food furnishes some of the vitamins and minerals.

saves time—money—chicks.

Healthier Chicks

Authorities agree that electric brooding produces healthier chicks. Temperature is evenly controlled.
Chicks are free to exercise in the cold room when they want to. They develop faster and feather out better.
Mortality is reduced to a minimum.

Out of 300 day-old chicks started in an electric brooder
Feb. 6, 1940, on the
Robert Dickie farm,
Macomb County,
only eight were lost.

Lower Brooding Cost

Farmers are surprised to find that electric brooding costs so much less than other methods. On the Albert Rocker farm, in Macomb County, electricity for brooding 396 chicks cost $3.35 or less than 1¢ per chick.

CHURCH NOTES.

Church of the Nazarene, Cass City—Sunday, February 16:

Sunday School attendance last Sunday was 107. Let's make it better than ever.

11:00, preaching. You will enjoy this service.

7:00 p. m., N. Y. P. S., a good service for all ages.

8:00 p. m., evangelistic; a lively service with lots of good music. Twelve seekers at our altar last Sunday.

Will You Be My Valentine?

Just like Grandmother used to make—a 1941 version of the years-old sentimental Valentine which young and old alike will stuff into mail boxes on February 14. Not elaborate or frilly in style, this year's Valentine nevertheless bears the quaint, old-fashioned "hearts and flowers" message of love. And letter carriers will, of course, receive their annual cordial doorstep welcome, for, after all, they deliver the sweetest merchandise in all the world!

Pickle Packers' School Feb. 18-20

Michigan needs no "Peter Piper" when it comes to packing pickles, for the state grows and processes nearly one-third of the cucumbers eaten in the United States.

But to keep growers and processors informed, another of the annual technical schools for pickle and kraut packers is scheduled at Michigan State College to run February 18, 19 and 20.

Greater interest than usual is anticipated, says H. L. Seaton, member of the college horticultural department who arranged the program. Reason is that the pickle crop was light in 1940, so a more sizeable crop is desired for 1941. A year ago the school attracted 150 from 18 states and Canada.

Bacteriology, entomology and climate are on the first day's program. Soil tests, salting methods and a tour of the campus also are scheduled on the first day, with an evening meeting offering motion pictures on "The Romance of Spices."

Wednesday's subjects include more technical details, such as processing methods, studies of salts and sugars and spices. A banquet program is offered the visitor in the evening.

Additional kraut and pickle packing problems are up for comment and discussion on the third day. Twelve guest speakers appear in the three-day event. Members of the college staff who appear on the program number 11 and are from departments of bacteriology, horticulture, entomology, soils and chemistry.

Sheep Shearers Meet Feb. 17-18

Approximately a million sheep get sheared each spring in Michigan, so the Michigan State College short course schedules another sheep shearers' short course for Monday and Tuesday, February 17 and 18, at East Lansing.

Carl Hakes, Hanover, Michigan's champion sheep shearers, will be on the program to assist beginners. He will help E. S. Bartlett, Chicago, international known professional shearers. Custom shearers are invited to bring in their equipment for comments and suggestions.

First demonstration is scheduled at 1:30 p. m. Monday in the livestock pavilion with practice on shearing and tying of wool. Dr. L. B. Sholl of the college veterinary staff will perform diagnosis and post mortems on specimen sheep brought in to the conference. G. A. Brown, head of the college animal husbandry department, will aid in the discussion. C. L. Cole will outline record of performance work in farm flocks.

An evening meeting will be in the form of round-table discussion, led by C. M. Harrison, college specialist on pasture management.

More demonstrations of proper shearing and practice are scheduled for Tuesday morning. There will be information offered on wool grades and flock management. In the afternoon the group will complete the two-day course with a program at the Union building. Subjects offered will include portable sheep dipping equipment, contest shearing and custom shearing. E. L. Benton, specialist in livestock extension, has arranged program details.

Information on Vaccination for Bang's Disease

Many farmers are interested in the vaccination against Bang's disease and the following letter written to Willis Campbell of Cass City by B. J. Killham, extension specialist in animal pathology at East Lansing, gives valuable information on that subject:

"The vaccination procedure is not new; in fact, the particular strain of the germ which is being so much publicized now has been under investigation for some ten years. The vaccination includes injecting the live germ, Strain 19, into the treated animal. This particular strain has been so manipulated that it has lost many of its undesirable characteristics but it is still a live germ.

"If this germ is introduced into a calf between four and eight months of age there ensues a reaction which in most instances appears to build up a resistance against the disease which may endure for two to four years. There is danger, however, that even though the vaccination is applied to the young calf that about five per cent of the animals will become permanent reactors as the result of the procedure.

"I have advised the use of this material only in badly diseased problem herds, and its use should be confined absolutely to calves between four and eight months of age. Experiments have shown that if vaccine is injected into calves thirteen to twenty-one months of age that sixty per cent of them may be expected to react to the test a year or a year and a half after the vaccination. On this basis, we could expect that the majority of the mature cows would be made reactors through the administration of the vaccine.

"The Federal bureau is making every effort to confine the use of this vaccine to young calves where it may do some good and will probably do little harm. The application of the vaccine to older cattle should certainly be discouraged."
