Akron Suffered $20,000 Fire on Monday Afternoon

Akron was threatened with destruction by fire Monday afternoon when a high wind raged. The Akron, Unionville and Fairgrove fire departments succeeding in confining the flames to three buildings.

The Ray Fritz residence, opposite the Akron High School, was first to catch fire and was destroyed. The fire was believed to have been caused by an overheated furnace.

The John Crandall building was ignited by the flying sparks and the attic of the Akron post office caught fire as the Crandall building burned. It was not until after 7:00 p. m. that the three fire companies brought the flames under control.

Damage, partly covered by insurance, was estimated at more than $10,000 on the Fritz home and furnishings at more than $7,000. Loss at the Crandall building was set at approximately $3,000. Damage to the post office was estimated at more than $800.

Additional Jurors Now Available for the Chadwick Case

Because so many persons in the county, especially on the east side, are more or less familiar with the details of the Clarence Chadwick case and may have formed decided opinions, attorneys have requested the drawing of more names for jurors. This was done at the order of Circuit Judge Cramton and the following 12 persons are now available in addition to the 24 whose names were drawn as jurors before the opening of the February term of circuit court:

Akron Township—Martin Whalen, Guy Kramer.
Columbia Township—Caroline Achenbach, Bruce Swaney.
Denmark Township—Frank LaForge, Fred Landskroner.
Fremont Township—Howard Knibbs, George Blasius.
Millington Township—Harvey Davenport, Claude Beagle.
Vassar Township—Nelson Spaulding, Roy Palmateer.
Chadwick is charged with assault with intent to do great bodily harm less than the crime of murder. Former Deputy Sheriff Orville Wilson is the complainant in the case, who, it is charged, was beaten into insensibility by Chadwick on the afternoon of January 25. The case will come to trial next Monday.

Caro Civic Leader Killed by Auto Saturday

Otto A. Zemke Has Held Many Positions of Trust at County Seat.

Otto A. Zemke, civic leader and business man of Caro, was killed instantly shortly after midnight Saturday as he was going home from a long day spent in his store.

R. D. Hewitt, 17, of Caro, driver of the automobile which struck Mr. Zemke, was brought into justice court Monday on the charge of negligent homicide, waived examination and was bound over to the circuit court.

The accident occurred as Zemke was crossing Frank Street, about a half block from his home in Caro. Hewitt was driving west on Frank Street. Two cars were double parked on the street, one headed west and the other east. As Hewitt went to go around these cars and then pull back onto the right side of the street, he hit Mr. Zemke, who was carried 102 feet from the spot, according to officers' measurements.

Mr. Zemke came to Eaton County, Michigan, in 1891 as an immigrant boy from Germany and there worked on a farm, saving his money to get a better education. He attended Ferris Institute, and at Big Rapids was married to Miss Anna R. Oleson on September 17, 1903. The same year he and his brother, Max Zemke, commenced the mercantile business of Zemke Brothers in Deckerville. In 1909, turn to page 4, please.

Missionary Rally at Evangelical Church Sunday

A missionary rally of the Thumb district of the Evangelical Church, sponsored by the Michigan Conference Branch of the Woman's Missionary Society, was held Sunday afternoon in the local church of that denomination. The main auditorium was filled to capacity and attendants came from Caro, Sebewaing, Kilmanagh, Elkton, Pigeon, Flint, Snover, Mooretown and Owendale.

Mrs. S. P. Kirn presided as chairman and Mrs. Mose Braun of Pigeon conducted devotionals. Mrs. G. F. Lenzer of Bad Axe sang an impressive solo, "One Sweetly Solemn Thought," with piano accompaniment by Mrs. Raymond McCullough. The address of the afternoon was given by Rev. J. W. Deckinger of Nebraska, a missionary from Japan, home on furlough. Similar rallies were held at various places of the Bay City District the first few days of this week. Mr. Deckinger was accompanied on the itinerary by the Rev. Mr. and Mrs. Kirn. Mrs. Kirn is a state officer of the Woman's Missionary Society.

Jury Disagreed in Accident Suit

Jurors, hearing the damage suit of Charles V. Stratton of Detroit against E. B. Schwaderer of Cass City, doing business as the Schwaderer Construction Company, failed to agree after deliberating nine hours last Thursday and were discharged by Judge Louis C. Cramton.

A peculiar accident July 26, 1938, two and a half miles west of Vassar on M-15 was the basis for the suit. The automobile driven by Stratton left the highway and hit a concrete culvert. Stratton received fractures of both legs and the skull, a punctured lung, lacerations about the head and body requiring 80 stitches.

In his declaration, Stratton charged that a gravel truck owned by Schwaderer, operated by Oscar T. Seely, an employee, failed to stop before entering the trunk line from a side road and to avoid a collision the plaintiff drove off the road. The defendant claimed the truck had been stopped 25 feet from the intersection, and was proceeding slowly toward the trunk line. The cars never made contact with each other, and the defense maintained that it was Stratton's own negligence and fast driving which caused him to lose control of his car. Damages of $15,000 were asked by the plaintiff.

Junior Class Poised for Annual Play

From usher to performer, from stage hand to musician, all who are associated with "Big Hearted Herbert," this year's traditional dramatic presentation of the junior class, are ready for the signal, "Curtain!" which will mark the beginning of a two-day performance. The play will be given Thursday and Friday nights, Mar. 27 and 28. The juniors have exerted themselves this year in the hope that the Class of 1942 may maintain the good standard of drama that has been established through the years.

For those who like comedy which can evoke laughter without resorting to slapstick action, "Big Hearted Herbert" should provide relaxation as well as an insight into the behavior of the "Herbert" type of person. The words "big hearted" are not to be interpreted literally, but ironically; for Herbert, in his efforts to steer his family into the paths of good living, becomes a well meaning tyrant. He cherishes the good, old ways and is annoyed by progressive changes in living. His annoyance is so intensified by domestic and business troubles.

Bowling News

By G. W. Landon, Secretary of Bowling League.

After coasting along in third place for a number of weeks, the "Buzz" Wallace maple chasers finally came to life and put on an exhibition of bowling that lifted them to the top of the league. Their three games totaled them 2,556 pins, which is the largest count turned in to date, and their one game for 917 pins also is high game rolled in the league. The Knapp and Ludlow teams both ran into difficulty during the week and will therefore have to be content in a two-way tie for second place. Retherford's team ran up a count of 899 pins in one of their games to give them third position in that department.

Four individuals posted worthwhile totals in their three-game series with "Buzz" Wallace leading the group with 596 good for second place, Dr. Starmann 558, Mac McCullough 556 and "Speed" Townsend 554. Culley Hamilton rolled one game for a 248 count which is second high game posted in the league. Four of the fourteen teams were all that made a clean sweep of their three-game series during the week. They are Landon, Larkin, C. Wallace and Ed Fritz. With only three more weeks left in the present schedule of games, the race is beginning to tighten up considerably and every bowler is on his toes trying to slay the timbers to the best of his ability.

The Merchants' League is also creating plenty of interest the same as the regular city league and the teams are every bit as closely matched.

Right now the Doerr and Bankers are tied for first, while the S. T. & H. and Farm Produce groups are close on their heels.

Over the week-end, four of the Merchants' team journeyed to Detroit where they were entered in the Chene-Trombley tournament, but were unable to post high enough totals to get into the money. However, the Merchants League did send their S. T. & H. Oil and Gas pinsters to the Almont bowling tournament on Friday, March 14, and this team came back with a total pin count that will probably bring them a good portion of the prize money. The following is the complete box score which at present leaves them high team in the Almont tournament.

No Ford has ever carried EXTRA VALUE quite so far!

We'd like you to see and drive the finest Ford we've ever built. You'll find its big body longer inside, greater in total seating width, and larger in windshield, than anything else in the Ford price field right now.

You'll find a great new Ford ride, too. A soft and quiet new ride that has surprised a lot of people and may surprise you.

And with its room and ride and view, you get Ford extra power with extra thrift, the biggest hydraulic brakes near its price, and a lot of fine-mechanical "features" found only in a Ford at low price.

If you are choosing a new car this year, you'll do well not to miss this Ford. And not just because we say so, but because the facts do!

GET THE FACTS AND YOU'LL GET A FORD!

In arithmetic the sixth graders are studying multiplication and division of fractions. . . . We received a calendar from the Junior Red Cross and we have our membership roll written on it. The March poster from the Michigan Tuberculosis Association also came. Emma Popp and Yvonne Palmer colored it. This picture shows a ship unloading America's first printing press at Harvard College.
The school received some Easter Seals from the Michigan Society for Crippled Children. . . . Wilda Ruth Zemke began school this week.

Concluded from first page.
Zemke Bros. erected a large store building in Caro and opened a department store which later became the Uhlman store. In late years, Mr. Zemke has conducted a ladies' furnishings store in Caro.
In 1917, Otto Zemke became a member of the village council. He served two years, and then retired, but was elected to that position in 1920, and every two years thereafter until 1928, when he became the unanimous choice as village president. He served as president for four years.
Long one of Caro's civic leaders, Mr. Zemke was a past president of the Caro Board of Commerce, a past master of the Masonic Lodge at Caro, a past high priest of the Masonic chapter and an elder of the Presbyterian Church.
Funeral services, held Tuesday afternoon at the Caro Presbyterian Church, were conducted by Dr. J. Leslie French, the pastor. Interment was in the mausoleum in Caro Cemetery.
Surviving are his widow, the former Anna R. Oleson, to whom he was married September 17, 1903, at Big Rapids; a son, Jack Claude Zemke, of VanDyke; three granddaughters; three brothers, Richard and Herman Zemke, of Vermontville and Erwin Zemke, of Caro; and a sister, Mrs. Frieda Cooper, of Marysville, South Carolina.

But for skillful driving on the part of Robert Cartwright of Unionville, Caro might have had a second automobile tragedy Saturday night. Driving northeast on North State Street, Cartwright swerved to the right to avoid hitting a pedestrian as the automobile was crossing the railroad tracks. The man started across the street in front of the car, and then ran into the side of the automobile. Day Sheldon, the pedestrian, received a cut over the right eye and a cut on the lip.

GREENLEAF.
Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Hoff and Mr. and Mrs. Dimmick of Detroit visited at the Archie McEachern home over the week-end.
Mrs. William Croft will entertain the Fraser Ladies' Aid on Thursday, March 27. There will be quilting and election of officers.
Mr. and Mrs. Archie McEachern entertained a number of friends on Saturday evening. Cards were played at five tables. High scores were made by Mrs. Dimmick, R. Thorpe, Mrs. R. Thorpe and H. McKay. A delicious luncheon was served by the hostess.
Mr. and Mrs. Neil McLarty and son, Neil, of Cass City visited at the C. Roblin home on Sunday.

Intangible Taxes Deadline Is March 25

The names of several thousand people allegedly liable to payment of an intangible tax have been submitted to the State Tax Commission for investigation. Some names have been submitted in writing; others by persons who have called at the commission offices to pay their intangible taxes.
No action will be taken by the commission until after March 25, the last day for payment of taxes without penalty save in those instances in which later dates have been authorized in writing.
Thereafter, the example of the federal government in administration of the income tax law will be followed. Every name submitted will be checked on, in the absence of an intangible tax return from such person.
Among those reported to the commission as prospective tax evaders: Individuals holding mortgages and land contracts; professional men with large amounts of accounts receivable; householders with cash in safety deposit boxes, and others who have more or less openly declared their intention of disregarding the tax.
Many of the reports have been made frankly by those paying their obligations and insisting that the commission enforce collection from persons who have in some quarters laid themselves open to the suspicion of contemplating tax evasion.

Important Announcement

In accordance with U. S. Government recommendations of making health-giving vitamins and minerals available in man's best and cheapest food and other vitamins and minerals essential to health and normal growth. Since the addition of these vitamins and minerals does not in any way affect the finished bread in appearance, flavor, or eating qualities, every housewife who strives to give her family a full supply of vitamins with meals will welcome the new source of Vitamin B1 now available in ENRICHED KREAMO BREAD. This tempting white loaf offers the same rich Vitamin B1 content as bread made with whole wheat flour.

KREAMO BREAD

ENRICHED KREAMO BREAD appears on the market at a time when government surveys point to a deficiency of Vitamin B1 in many American diets and it has been pointed out that A Healthy Nation Is Our First Line of Defense. Give your children's health the benefit of Vitamin B1 and Iron daily. Serve ENRICHED KREAMO BREAD with every meal. Look for the Red, White and Blue label on every loaf.

By giving a little, you are doing much for some crippled child. Take the case of Jerry. He was sitting in his wheel chair when he told me his story. In his early childhood Jerry had infantile paralysis, which left him with crippled legs. Official crippled children's services have been provided in the way of physical care throughout the years and special education has provided for his schooling.

Now Jerry is in his teens and after everything possible has been done for him, the boy is still in his wheel chair. He will spend his life so. As boy and man he will always have hours of leisure time to spend somehow.

Jerry is interested in art. He draws well and shows some ability with paints. Hence arose a problem. The parents were too poor to buy art materials for him. No public agency provided them and Jerry pined for paints and paper while he decorated the arm of his wheel chair with bits of his art.

Then a way was found to buy these art materials for Jerry. East-er Seal money turned the trick. In order to do things like this for boys like Jerry—

Eggs Shell Out High Food Value

An egg a day may not keep the doctor away, but it provides a package of the food values the housewife wants to get into the family diet, says Roberta Hershey, specialist in food nutrition at Michigan State College.

With hens March is a busy month. So are April, May and June. During those four months hens lay almost as many eggs as they do during the remaining months of the year, although production has been stepped up during the fall and winter months by efficient practices.

With the spring spurt in egg production now is a good time, Miss Hershey advises, to check up on eggs in the family diet. "

A NEW DAY DAWNS for the farmer

Life on the farm isn't what it used to be. It's a pleasanter, happier life for young and old, thanks to electric power.

The farmer is coming into his own: He has put electricity to work and is using it just as the manufacturer uses power in factory and shop—to increase his productiveness and his profits.

But what about your farm? Are you using electricity to the best advantage? Or are you still doing some tasks the hard way, the profitless way? If you do any job by hand that can be done with electric power, you are working for wages of about one cent an hour.

There may be many ways in which electricity can help you increase the earning power of your farm. Talk over your electrical problems with the Edison Farm Service Advisor. He will give you practical advice and information. He has nothing to sell. His job is to help you.

The Story of This Year's Easter Seal

Easter Seals sold in behalf of our crippled children are called "The seal of friendship" because the people who sell them and those who buy them to raise funds for handicapped persons are truly the crippled children's friends.

The story behind the seal is one of faith and hope to the little boy. He has faith in your generous response to his needs. He wants to run and play like other girls and boys but for the present has to be content with visions.

The crippled lad is shown on the seal in company with his pals: the bird alighting on the crutch symbolizes peace, and the horse conventionally making up a part of the clouds is a symbol of strength. The lad is looking wistfully to a new day of opportunity which his friends, the National Society, the State Society, and its local chapters, committees and friends, seek to provide through the purchase of Easter Seals.

As in previous years, many purchasers will consider the seals' values in terms of what they can afford to give. Whatever the amount, the local committee feel that friends will find it one of those self-satisfying investments that pay dividends in happiness that cannot be reckoned in terms of money. So during the short time left between now and Easter time, won't you see to it that your contribution, however small, will find its way to the Crippled Children Committee in your locality. Contributions may be left at either bank or in boxes placed in several of the stores in Cass City.

When Mrs. D. C. Elliott returned home from church Sunday morning, she was greatly surprised to find that several relatives had gathered at her home for a potluck dinner in honor of her 78th birthday, which was Monday, March 17. A beautiful birthday cake graced the table as the centerpiece.

Guests included Mr. and Mrs. P. H. Knight of Sterling, Mr. and Mrs. F. D. Johnson and children of Huntington Woods, Miss Adeline Gallagher of Highland Park, Francis Elliott of Bay City, Mr. and Mrs. G. E. Krapf, Miss Martha Striffler, Mr. and Mrs. B. A. Elliott, Miss Dora Krapf, Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Elliott and Mr. and Mrs. Albert Gallagher and children, all of Cass City.

She and her husband spent the most of their married life in Pittsfield, Mass., and on a farm in Novesta Township, south and east of Cass City, which she still owns, until they moved to a residence on South Seeger St. in 1923, where Mrs. Elliott still resides. Mr. Elliott passed away in June, 1933.

Mrs. Elliott has one son, B. A. Elliott, of Cass City; two grandsons, Francis Elliott of Bay City and Leonard Elliott of Cass City and two brothers, G. E. Krapf of Cass City and Wm. Krapf of Hornersville, Mo.

State Capitol, Lansing—Typical of a mental confusion which seems to prevail in Michigan, and apparently in the entire country for that matter, during these emotionally exciting days of 1941 is the current controversy over two amendments to Michigan's constitution to be submitted to voters at the April 7 election.

It may be news to you that Michigan, just having amended its constitution in November with regard to civil service, is again busy with new proposals.

And, paradoxically enough, the two amendments have to do with how we could amend our constitution in the future, or initiate new legislation and veto or uphold legislation already enacted.

Whereas the civil service amendment was instituted by popular petition, the two amendments for April originated within the 1941 state legislature.

Complications are few, yet interesting.

Petition Frauds

Last year the Michigan State Supreme Court ruled that election officials cannot go behind the face of petitions to challenge names and to prosecute persons who affix fraudulent signatures.

As the constitution now reads, any "qualified" voter is eligible to take part in instituting legislation, or asking for a referendum on legislative action, or even proposing an amendment to the constitution itself.

The flexibility of the word "qualified" and the difficulty of ascertaining the genuineness of signatures has led to abuses, particularly in the Detroit area. There a racket has sprung up whereby signatures for petitions are obtained for a price, and only careful and sometimes expensive checking can determine whether the signatures are real or faked.

Secretary of State Harry F. Kelly became convinced that action should be taken to curb this petition fraud. He summoned Oakley Distil, secretary of the Wayne County election commission. The net result was a recommendation to the legislature that petition signatures be limited to "registered" voters.

Interestingly enough, this recommendation was made after the senate judiciary committee had suddenly reported out a resolution containing other drastic restrictions and after the senate had suspended its rules and passed it to the House. Recalled back to the senate (almost an unprecedented accomplishment), the resolution was amended and was again passed by the senate by almost unanimous vote. The house then voted overwhelmingly in favor of it.

There was no trace of partisanship in the legislature's move.

Opposed by Reformers

And here is where the confusion begins.

In itself an avowed reform, the amendments have been condemned by the League of Women Voters, at least in hundreds of telegrams dispatched to legislators, and also, strangely too, by several well known reformers.

One is Professor James K. Pollock of the University of Michigan, so-called father of the 1937 civil service bill in its original form and a political science authority of considerable repute. He has labelled the amendments as being undemocratic in principle and hence not desirable.

John Lovell, long connected with good government movement in Wayne County, has also disapproved of the restrictions proposed.

Furthermore, the Detroit Bureau of Governmental Research, recently announced, in an analysis, that "there is no emergency requiring immediate action" and consequently that "minor changes should be deferred for consideration at the constitutional convention" should the voters decide in November, 1942, that such general revision was desirable.

"Resentment"?

The chief criticism against the two amendments centers on the use of one word, "registered," instead of "qualified."

So what? Well, for one thing, admonish the critics, this change would result in disqualification of from 25 to 35 per cent of those persons who are eligible at present to sign petitions.

For example, Senator Ernest C. Brooks (D) of Holland objects on the ground that the constitution reserves to the "people" the right to initiate. As he sees it, a "registered" voter does not fit the definition of being a part of the "people," although as far as elections go in Michigan, certainly popular government today is limited to voters who are properly "registered" by name and address.

Do you find this distinction finely drawn? Well, here is an ob-ervation that is easy to follow. It is by William Markland, able Lansing correspondent of the Detroit News:

"From numerous conversations of the last two months, it seems probable that the desire for a curb on the initiation of constitutional amendments arose largely out of resentment and irritation at the passage of the civil service amendment last November.

"If the amendments to be submitted in April are approved, it will be more difficult for the people to undo what they have accomplished, but when the right time and the right legislature comes along, the legislators can submit, as easily as ever, the proper proposal to do the job."

Small Loan Companies

One reason why the amendment controversy is marked with acerbity has been the interest and activity of small loan companies in zealous support of the proposed changes.

The connection between the two amendments and small loan companies seems strangely far-fetched, at first.

In the past decade the small loan companies have been harried repeatedly by both legislative and petition attempts to regulate the rate of interest to be charged monthly.

These assaults have been of two kinds: (1) Genuinely conceived as a social reform; (2) deliberately conceived for mercenary purposes and flying under false colors of "reform" in the cause of the "people."

As long as petitions can be obtained fraudulently, the small loan group reasons that their defense will continue to cost them many good, hard-earned dollars. They welcome with open arms these amendments because in preventing petition fraud the amendments would also ease their burden of defense.

At the same time it can be truthfully said that the small loan companies' interest in the changes was entirely unknown to Secretary of State Kelly when he studied the problem. It is just one of those coincidences that make the situation at Lansing so unusual.

Amendment Title

The titles to the amendments, as they will appear on separate ballots April 7, are even confusing in themselves.

The wording is lengthy and hazy. Instead of offering a succinct proposition of "preventing petitions fraud," which would automatically create a mental desire to vote affirmatively, the titles wander in loud terminology and leave the reader in the dark as to their real purpose.

The combination of all these factors (a reform being opposed by reformers, for example) has been to cloud the amendments with confusion, indecisiveness and even apparent contradictions—a condition that is surely in keeping with a greatly perplexed world and is perhaps a psychological by-product of our times.

Jesse Cooper Celebrated 88th Birthday Sunday

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Schell, Mr. and Mrs. Donald Schell and children and Miss Winnifred and Carl Schell spent Sunday at Drayton Plains, where they attended a family dinner in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Jaffery in honor of the 88th birthday of Jesse Cooper, father of Mrs. Walter Schell and Mrs. Jaffery. Children, grandchildren and great grandchildren numbering 34 were present.

Jesse Cooper was born in the southern part of England and left there when he was 19, coming to Oakland County at West Bloomfield. On September 14, 1880, he married Miss Susan Young and lived in West Bloomfield for two years, then moving to Kingston Township. They later bought the house, corner of Third and Leach Streets in Cass City where they made their home for several years until about 17 years ago when they moved to Marlette.

Mrs. Cooper passed away in Marlette February 28, 1937, and since that time Mr. Cooper has made his home with his children, who are George Cooper, Marlette; Mrs. Walter Schell, Cass City; Mrs. Julius Ehke, Detroit; Mrs. Frank Jaffery, Drayton Plains; and Fred Cooper of Kingston.

Despite his advanced age, Mr. Cooper is remarkably alert mentally. His mind is clear and his eyesight exceptionally good, never having worn glasses. He anxiously waits each day for the paper to keep up with the present world news.

Presbyterians to Dedicate New Hymnals Sunday

The Presbyterian Church will use its new hymnals for the first time Sunday morning, March 23, at 10:30 o'clock. A service of dedication has been prepared which will show forth some of the resources of the new book. This hymnal, prepared by Dr. Clarence Dickinson and other great musical authorities, has been acclaimed as the finest hymn book ever published in America. The contents of the book were arranged after a questionnaire had been sent throughout the church in an effort to find out what hymns congregations most often sang. Then much new material was added to give fresh impetus to congregational singing.

Handsomely bound in dark bluish green, and stamped with the name of the church in gold leaf, it is both good looking and useful.

Kite Flying Is Real Fun, Keep It Safe

As a safety measure for youths starting to fly kites at this time of year, The Detroit Edison Company has offered several suggestions to avoid entanglement and possible injury from overhead high tension lines.

An open field is the safest place for kiteflying, it is suggested. Construction of the kites is considered in suggesting that they be made of wooden frame sticks, use paper covering, cotton strings, tail of rags, with no metal parts and no tinsel string.

Other suggestions offered are: 1. Always fly your kite in large open fields where there is no possibility of the kite or string coming in contact with an overhead wire, radio aerial, light, telephone or trolley wires, or near high voltage towers.

2. Examine your kite to make certain that the frame is of non-conducting material, and that there is no metallic substance, such as wire, metal thread, etc., in the tail.

3. Examine the string. Make certain that you do not use wire, metal thread, or tinsel cord, which would serve as an electrical conductor. Also avoid the use of wet or damp string.

4. Electric shocks, bad falls, or both may result from climbing poles or trees near lines to retrieve kites or kite string which have become entangled in wires, cross-arms, or branches of trees. If a kite becomes entangled in such a manner, leave it, as no kite is worth an injury or a life.

Judge Upheld by Supreme Court

The decision of a jury in Tuscola County Circuit Court under Judge Cramton, in the suit of Theodore Rugenstein of Pinconning vs. the Estate of Herbert P. Orr, Deceased, was sustained by the Michigan Supreme Court.

Rugenstein was the driver of the gravel truck involved in a collision with the car driven by Orr, former state senator, in which Orr and his wife, Helen, were killed in August, 1939. The collision occurred at the intersection of the county blacktop road and M-46, three miles north of Vassar.

Last May, the circuit court jury gave a verdict in favor of Rugenstein amounting to $1,012.50. The suit was appealed by Attorney M. David Orr, Caro, brother of Herbert P. Orr, whose estate was defendant.
