Harold McLachlan Enlists for Service in Puerto Rico

Mrs. Alex McLachlan has received a letter from Lieutenant Donald S. McKenzie of the 42nd Ordnance Company stating that her son, Harold McLachlan, had passed a 13-week period of study very satisfactorily and has been promoted to the 52nd Ordnance Company on April 1. He is one of 10 draftees who requested discharge from selective service to join the regular army and leave Rock Island Arsenal for service in Puerto Rico. The 10 draftees are included in a group which also comprised 83 members and six officers of the 42nd Ordnance Company that were ordered to New York City, the port of embarkation for the voyage to Puerto Rico.

Boy Scouts Enjoy Week-end Outing

As a reward for winning in a contest nine Boy Scouts and their leaders spent last week-end at the Auten cottage on Lake Huron, a few miles from Port Austin. The contest was based upon personal performance of Scouting principles and Scouts' duties and has been running since the first of the year.

The boys who made the trip are Fred and Charles Apten, James McCoy, Kenneth Price, Jack To, Harry Wright, Robert Smith, John Sommers and Eugene Osborn. Robert Foy was one of the winners, but as he was ill on this week-end he was unable to make the trip.

From Friday night until Sunday night, the boys divided their time between eating, sleeping and playing games with a minimum of time spent in the duties necessary to maintain the camp. The feature of Saturday was the hike to Grindstone City and the abandoned quarry from which the village gets its name. The route was along the lake shore by the cliffs. Lunch was consumed by a small waterfall where a brook emptied into the lake. Much of the afternoon was spent climbing over the piles of stone and into the pits of the quarry.

A tired but noisy group of boys came back to town Sunday night. They pronounced the outing a success. The main regret was that the trip could not last a whole week.

Cotton Mattress Making Program Progressing in Co.

Mattress making was begun in earnest at two centers in Tuscola County last week—at Deford in the Novesta Town Hall and in Wells at the Wells Town Hall. A total of 35 mattresses have been made to date at these two places. They are turning out about nine mattresses per day now.

Fifty pounds of cotton and 10 yards of ticking are furnished by the Surplus Marketing Administration for each mattress. Applications may be made either at the county agent's office or the Tuscola County Agricultural Conservation office now and until May 1.

Work in five other centers in the county will begin as soon as it is possible to get a shipment of needles necessary for operating these places.

The report of the resolutions committee authorizing the county treasurer to attend the state convention of county treasurers, with his expenses paid by the county, was adopted. The committee recommended that the handling of crippled children's cases be left to the probate court and that the board go on record as being opposed to centralization of control.

The building committee recommended the purchase of a typewriter for the register of deeds' office, a swivel chair and rug borders for the living room and sheriff's office in the jail building, and various repairs for the county farm home. The report was adopted.

"DEAR BILL:

"I don't think I care to go out with you again. Most of last evening was wonderful. Bill. But the drive home spoiled everything. You behaved so nicely and acted so considerably up till the minute you got your hands on the wheel and we headed home. Then you suddenly were transformed into what seemed to me a bad-mannered and irresponsible gorilla. You yelled at people who had just as much right on the road as you. You disregarded white lines and signs put there for your safety. You scared my wife out by going at an absurd speed. That might have been considered smart once upon a time, but I assure you it's silly and childish today. Call me stuffy and prudish if you like. But I don't relish dying quite yet.

"Nor do I want to get in one of those accidents where I am just hurt. I have sense enough to realize that you and the rest of the boys wouldn't be ringing my phone if my face and body were ineptly rearranged by a smash-up in your automobile.

"So I don't think I'll go out with you again, Bill. At least not until you've grown up enough to behave decently as a driver, and not until you realize that you owe a certain responsibility to the person you ask to share your car with you."

Farmers Due to Get Fairer Share of Nat'l Income

Prospects of 1941 Farm Crops in Michigan Are Decidedly Favorable.

By Gene Alleman in the Michigan Mirror.

Lansing—Potatoes at $6 a bushel, eggs at $1 a dozen and sugar at 25c a pound are not expected in 1941 or 1942 war-time economy, such as was the case in World War I.

The farmer, remembering the price collapse that trailed the great boom, is inclined to be cautious and wary.

And Uncle Sam is taking a hand with reins on possible inflation.

Prospects of 1941 farm crops in Michigan are decidedly favorable, if not bullish. The Michigan co-operative farm reporting service at Lansing pointed out this month that winter wheat, rye and pasture were above average in condition. Corn, wheat and oats are above average, the estimate for oats being 27 million bushels compared with a Michigan average of 15 million.

Because of the mild winter, fruit prospects are also equally bright. And so it goes.

Brakes on runaway prices are to be applied at Washington through a special administration headed by Leon Henderson, the federal economist who accurately foresaw the "recession" of 1937. And at the same time a price ceiling is contemplated, a price floor has been ordered for some food products—pork, butter, eggs and chickens.

The net result should be more money in the farmer's pocket.

Consumption of food is not static; it does not remain stationary. The federal stamp plan for marketing is being studied.

Council Issues Cease Order on Double Parking Here

Coming Auctions.

Chas. Rohr will have an auction sale of household goods one block west of the Cass City Baptist Church tomorrow (Saturday) afternoon. Arnold Copeland will cry the sale.

Earl Spencer will have an auction sale of horses 2 miles south and 1 1/2 miles east of Cass City, on Friday, May 2. B. T. Furness is the auctioneer and Clinton Bruce is clerk.

Full particulars of these two auctions are printed on page 7.

On page 4 is an announcement of a community sale at Deford on Saturday, Apr. 26, with B. T. Furness as auctioneer.

State Police and Highway Dept. Insist that Traffic Regulations Be Enforced.

After a long period of leniency in the enforcement of the double parking regulations on Main Street, the village council has decided the violations must cease. The highway department and the state police are insisting the regulations prohibiting double parking must be strictly enforced in Cass City and for that reason the council will post signs that double parking will no longer be tolerated. No parking at the Main Street curb will be allowed within 20 feet of a street intersection and new paint lines on the street will indicate the positions parked cars are to occupy.

In the average town, autoists are required to park their cars parallel to the curb. In Cass City, angle parking is permitted by the highway department and state police. All auto drivers realize the advantages of angle parking.

An automobile driver will be permitted to leave his car on the street outside of the parking area long enough to go into a store and bring out merchandise he has previously purchased to his car providing he leaves another person in the automobile while he is absent.

Local business men are requested to leave their cars at home during periods of congested parking on Main Street and automobile agencies are asked by the council not to use the street for displaying cars when there are great demands for parking space.

Methodists Here Show Membership Gain the Past Year

Reports Show Good Work in Spite of Complex Reorganizational Procedure.

Dr. Frank Fitch of Port Huron was in charge Monday evening when the annual business meeting of the Methodist Church of Cass City was held. A fine representation of the official members were present both from Cass City and Bethel.

Reports showed good work being done in spite of the many somewhat complex reorganizational procedures necessitated by the uniting of the three branches of Methodism and the forming of the new Methodist Church. The women have the new organization well studied and working fine in both churches. The Sunday Schools are in the process of making such changes as will meet the new ideas in Sunday School work. The finance committee was able to report all bills paid to date. The Epworth League has made a fine record, winning the sub-district banner four times this winter. They have contributed $16 to the World Comradeship Fund which supports Carlos Gattinoni, a League director for the church in South America, and $15 for the support of the director in the Detroit conference. This is in addition to their own local work in helping in the support of the local church.

The pastor's report showed a net gain in membership.

EIGHTH GRADE EXAMS WILL COME ON MAY 8

Seventh and eighth grade examinations of Tuscola County will be held on May 8. County eighth grade graduating exercises will be held on June 6.

Village Employees Made Happy by Increase in Wages

The village council, in making plans for the improvements of village streets the coming summer, decided that two miles of blacktop would be a fine addition to that type of road constructed last year in Cass City. It is likely that the program will include that mileage when the sun comes out good and hot next July or August.

The council made members of the street cleaning department happy by raising their wages five cents an hour. C. U. Brown, street commissioner, will get $10 more a month.

May 5 to 10 inclusive were set as clean-up days in the village and the cooperation of all citizens is anticipated.

A petition to continue Third Street to the west from its present western end at West Street to Brooker Street was referred to the street and sidewalk committee.

President B. B. Schwaderer appointed the following council committees at Monday evening's session of the council:

Streets and Sidewalks—Sandham, Keppen, Asher.

Finance—Pinney, Patterson, Kinaird.

Budget—Sandham, Pinney, Keppen.

Lights and Water—Kinaird, Keppen, Asher.

Building—Sandham, Keppen, Patterson.

Park—Keppen, Asher, Patterson.

President pro tem—J. A. Sandham.

Baptist Younger Set Enjoyed Hobo Supper on Monday

The outcome of a two months' attendance contest among young people of the Baptist Church resulted in a delightful supper, which was enjoyed by 27 young people at the Baptist parsonage Monday evening. Two groups had previously been selected, one captained by Mrs. Smith and the other by Rev. Mr. Smith. Points were given each member for church attendance, Bible reading, Scripture memorizing, new members, etc.

As a penalty for losing, Mr. Smith's group entertained the winners at a novelty hobo supper. The supper took place in a room lighted by lanterns and the newspaper covered tables were uniquely decorated with bouquets of carrot tops and green onions. The main course of the evening was old-fashioned stew, served in cans. Each person was supplied with knife, fork, spoon, tin plate and handleless cup.

After the supper games were played. The young people were attired suitable for the occasion, the young ladies in house dresses and the young men in overalls or old clothes. Everyone agreed the party was a huge success.

Four "ins" are responsible for a great many traffic accidents:

1. Inattention.
2. Inexperience.
3. Incompetency.
4. Indifference.

Inattention is probably the outstanding cause of motor vehicle deaths and injuries today. Inexperienced drivers plus the new, modern machine with its high speed mechanism constitute a menace to safety. Incompetency rules with inexperience; people who are inexperienced in the handling of these new automobiles are also incompetent.

Indifference constitutes a devil-may-care attitude. Some people feel that they must be first to the turn and first to the stop light. They are indifferent to the rights of others and exhibit an utter lack of courtesy.

Defense Bonds Go on Sale at Post Office May 1

The United States Defense Savings Bonds and Postal Savings Stamps will be placed on sale in the Cass City post office at the opening of business on Thursday, May 1, as part of the national effort to make America impregnable.

Postmaster Arthur Little announced today that plans are nearly completed for this community, along with thousands of others from coast to coast, to do its full part at the opening of the savings program.

The new Defense Savings Bond is similar to the familiar "Baby Bond," of which more than five billion dollars worth have been bought by more than two and a half million Americans since 1935.

A Defense Bond may be purchased May 1, or thereafter, for $18.75. In ten years, this bond will be worth $25.00. This is an increase of $3 1-3 per cent, equal to an annual interest return of 2.9 per cent, compounded semi-annually. Any time after 60 days from the date of purchase, the bond may be redeemed for cash, in accordance with a table of redemption values printed on the face of the bond.

To spread investments widely among all the people in America, a limit of $5,000 has been set on the amount of these bonds to be bought by any one person in one year. The bonds are in denominations of $25, $50, $100, $500, and $1,000, all of which are sold for 75 per cent of their maturity value and all of which mature in 10 years.

For larger investors who can afford to purchase up to $50,000 worth of bonds a year, the Treasury Department has issued two additional kinds of Defense Savings Bonds, but these will be sold only through banks and by direct mail from Washington, D. C. They are intended for associations, trustees

Look at the FORD TRUCKS ON MAIN STREET!

IN VILLAGE, town, and big city—on farms and on the highways . . . wherever you look, you see Ford Trucks at work. There are more Ford Trucks at work on the nation's hauling jobs than trucks of any other make!

There are definite reasons why. Truck owners want a truck with the power, performance and dependability that Ford Trucks deliver. They want economy that starts with low first cost and continues with low operating and low maintenance cost. In Ford Trucks they get what they want!

It's no wonder Ford Trucks are as popular on Main Street as on Broadway! And they'll add to their popularity once you try them on your job. See your Ford Dealer today.

WHAT PRICE running water?

The price a family pays for being without running water cannot be figured in dollars and cents. It is measured in the things that matter most: in energy for the more important things of life; in days and years spent in needless, unsatisfying toil.

What does a family earn by this sacrifice? You save five cents worth of electricity if you pump and carry a thousand gallons of water. It's easy to see that pumping by hand is not a good way to economize.

Running water is cheap. And it isn't just a luxury on the farm. Water under pressure helps in many ways to make more money for the farmer.

Now it is easier than ever to have running water. Your farm implement dealer, hardware, department or electrical store can supply complete information about an electric water system for your farm.

keting of surplus food commodities helped to establish this fact. In county after county in Michigan where this surplus system has been put into use, families on welfare lists are eating more food.

Studies by the American Institute of Food Distribution reveal sharp variations in consumption by income groups. As income of the "submerged third" increases, total food consumption goes up.

Food prices tend to rise when spending is inflated.

Meats, for instance, register the highest percentage of price rise—from an index of 68.4 in February, 1940, to 83.6 in February, 1941. But this is an exception.

Foods generally have gone up only 6 points from March, 1940 to March, 1941.

dairy products, eggs and poultry will be stimulated by pegged prices during the next year or two. Prices will be kept at levels remunerative to producers.

Here is where the lend-lease act should help the farmer.

It is a story of surplus and shortage.

The surplus of wheat in the United States is 380 million bushels, greatest in our history. In South America wheat is being fed to livestock; Canada has stored enough wheat to provide for needs of the Dominion of Canada and the British Isles for the next two years.

Furthermore, federal triple-A experts concede that the prospect of the 1941 wheat crop, combined with the record carry-over, should be enough to take care of our domestic needs for nearly two years if farmers didn't grow another bushel of wheat in that time!

While surplus corn, estimated at 700 million bushels, can be converted into profits by using it as feed for hogs under a better price for pork products, a possible shortage is in sight for dairy products, meats, poultry and eggs and some fruits and vegetables.

Demand for these products comes from both Britain and from rising domestic consumption due to higher industrial pay rolls.

The government, through its surplus marketing administration, will bolster prices in the above group by going into the commodity market and buying up supplies in an orderly fashion. Supplies could be transferred to the British, Chinese or Greeks under the lend-lease act, or they could be released upon the domestic market to halt unwarranted, speculative price profiteering.

Will it work? Both the consumer and the farmer stand to benefit if prices can be stabilized and if disastrous inflation can be avoided.

Cost of Living
An example of price control that affects a Michigan industry is the pegging of copper at 12 cents a pound.

If copper had followed the law of supply and demand, as it did in the World War, it would be selling today for 20 to 24 cents a pound.

Even a small rise to 14 or 16 cents a pound would enable Upper Peninsula copper mines to prevent wage increases to miners. But it would also boost defense costs, now running at a dizzy pace of 16 billions for the current year.

Cost of living as a whole is not much above last year.

According to the March issue of Labor's Monthly Survey, published by the American Federation of Labor, "figures for February show an increase of 1.2 per cent over February, 1940."

Earnings
What is the case of the farmer in comparison to industrial wage-earners and stockholders?

In an economy where leading benefits are going to industry, it is inevitable that rural members of state legislatures would reflect dissatisfaction of the farmer with production-halting strikes in national defense plants.

As for the stockholder, corporation dividends in 1938 were $3,770,000,000; in 1940, $4,800,000,000, according to the U. S. department of commerce, even after new taxes had been paid.

(The 1940 dividend distribution was the largest in the United States since 1929).

As for the wage-earner, the weekly pay roll in manufacturing industries for January of this year was $228,926,000, compared with $189,000,000 for January, 1940. The average wage this year was $27.69 compared with $25.51 one year ago and $23.80 two years ago.

Compare these prosperity figures with Michigan's agricultural income for 1939: $271 per capita for a farm population of 830,000, and total farm income of $224,675,000. (The national average was $266; income in some southern states is pathetically low.)

Fairer Share
While these figures may seem dull to the consumer, who thinks usually in terms of cost of living, they are important to the Michigan farmer.

Price-pegging of certain food commodities at profitable production levels, accumulation of food reserves to stabilize consumer prices (and prevent speculative profiteering by the middlemen), and continuation of federal acreage restriction payments and parity payments all spell one thing: Better times for 830,000 people in Michigan.

The farmer, faced with prospect of good crops in 1941, is due to get a fairer share of the national income.

Such is the picture in April.

She was denied children of her own but her mother heart reached out to others and she mothered and reared four, three of whom were adopted, Harold and Howard of Mayville and Mrs. Greta Kitchen of Pontiac, and a niece, Mrs. Della Long, of Mayville, whose mother, Mrs. Ed Steele, a sister of Mrs. Chapin, passed away 24 years ago.

Besides the children, she leaves to mourn their loss, the husband, Horace Chapin; five sisters, Mrs. Mary Brandon of Mayville, Mrs. Martha Voden of Vassar, Mrs. Amy Robinson of Millington, Mrs. Sarah Duncan of Detroit and Mrs. Annie Alverson of Grand Rapids; two brothers, Sanford Wall of Mayville and Frank Wall of Mt. Morris; six grandchildren and a host of friends.

She was a faithful wife and mother, looking carefully to the welfare and good of her family, and always sincere in her religious life. She was a member of the Free Methodist Church for many years, and was faithful to its teachings.

Mrs. Mary M. Moore.

This and That

OVERTIME work was necessary

at Sommers' Bakery early this week to bake 450 dozen cookies which Girl Scouts sold in this community. That many dozen means 5,400 cookies which placed side by side along the pavement on M-81 would reach from—well, you figure it out. It means a lot of goodness as well as lots of cookies.

KINGSTON evidently needs more

THIS WEEK is National Foot

Health Week, Be Kind to Animals Week, Accident and Health Insurance Week, Retail Bakers' Week and National Notion Week. Seems as though we're justified in postponing that window washing job another week.

"WE MUST provide for a Memorial

Day program," remarked Village President E. B. Schwaderer at the council meeting Monday. "That's been provided for," replied Village Clerk C. M. Wallace, and the matter was dropped. One of these days, one of the village dads will tell President Schwaderer and Councilman Kinnaird that they were named the committee to prepare the program. Their appointment came several weeks ago when both men failed to attend a meeting of the council.

HE DROPPED into the newspaper office a few days ago and unburdened his mind regarding the double parking annoyance. "I left a Main Street store at two minutes after five o'clock this afternoon and found a car double parked at the rear of my car and another auto. Both of us had placed our automobiles in accordance with traffic regulations. Thought I would check up to see if double parking was really necessary. In the same block, on the two sides of the street, there were 17 empty spaces where this double parker might have placed his vehicle. After waiting 22 minutes after five, the double parked car was removed and we were able to go our way. This is but one time of many in which I have been inconvenienced because I parked correctly and another violated parking regulations in this manner."

Pay for New Ideas

CLEAN UP!

Now let us give this war a rest, The rout, the siege, the rally, And gayly shed our coat and vest, And go and clean the alley!

Let's gather up the dogs and cats Which have this life departed, And let tin cans and bricks and bats Off to the dump be carted.

In winter you may voice your views, Which you believe important, And base long sermons on the news, But in the spring you'd ortn't.

Then every abled-bodied man Should whoop the "Clean Up" slogan, And chase the old tomato can, The cast-off hat and brogan.

So let us clear our bulging brows Of trifling thoughts and narrow And gather up the old dead crows, And work the rake and harrow.

The rubbish left by careless men, And lazy human chesers, Will bring a lot of germs aches, And they'll bring punk diseases.

And forty million flies will come, As many microbes bearing, And round our weary heads they'll hum And keep us busy swearing.

Clean up! Clean up! On every block Let all the workers rally! No man should stand around and talk Until he's cleaned up his alley! —Walt Mason.

Origin of Roman Numerals

The origin of the Roman numerals V and X is not definitely known. It has been suggested that V or 5 represents the open hand with the fingers, except the thumb, held together. X or 10 is possibly double V.
