

New Registration for 21-Year-Olds Is Set for July 1

Local Boards to Make Records Between 7:00 A. M. and 9:00 P. M.

Every man in Michigan who has attained his 21st birthday since October 16, 1940, and before midnight July 1, 1941, with a few specific exceptions made by Congress, must register with his Local Selective Service Board on Tuesday, July 1, it has been announced by Col. E. M. Rosecrans, state director.

Colonel Rosecrans emphasized that the registration of the expected 33,000 new registrants would be conducted under the immediate

All other persons who, for any reason, failed to register at the first registration, and who are now subject to registration, may also register on July 1.

Every man subject to registration should register with his own local board if at all possible, the state director announced. Persons away from their homes on registration day, however, may register at the nearest local board, and their registration cards will subsequently be transmitted to the local board having jurisdiction over their residence.

No Gasless Sundays Probable for Michigan

Present Indications Are that State Is Not Apt to Have a Shortage.

By Gene Alleman, Secretary, Michigan Press Association.

Lansing—No gasless Sundays are in prospect for Michigan this summer.

Furthermore, according to present indications, we are not apt to have a shortage here of petroleum products, although such may be the misfortune of the East.

This is the assurance from William Palmer, secretary, Michigan Petroleum Industries Committee, with headquarters at the capital city. Palmer, former member of the state senate for three terms, is a member of the state civil service commission.

Restrictions on the public use of gasoline and oil would be a hard blow to Michigan because of its adverse effect on the tourist business, foremost in Northern Michigan and the Upper Peninsula.

Transfer to Britain of 50 sea-going tankers is the cause of the oil transportation bottleneck.

The shortage is confined solely to the East, Palmer points out, and it has prompted introduction in Congress of the Cole bill to authorize construction of pipe lines from Texas to New York at an estimated cost of $140,000,000.

Michigan has approximately 400 miles of oil pipe lines; Standard Oil of Ohio recently acquired con-

The Washington

MERRY-GO-ROUND

DREW PEARSON & ROBERT ALLEN

Washington, D. C.
RAILROAD TEST

For National Defense chiefs, June holds a special significance. It will indicate whether government operation of railroads may be necessary.

In June the nation's railroads will meet their first crucial test of whether they are adequately equipped to handle the enormous increase in freight resulting from the defense program.

When the wheat harvest starts in the Texas Panhandle and continues north, the carriers will be on the spot to prove their determined contention that there is no shortage of freight cars, and that they can cope with the great demands of the defense program without the government taking them over as in the World War.

Railroad moguls are fully aware that they face a decisive showdown, and they are making tremendous efforts to meet it.

Twenty-five thousand cars have been mobilized to handle the Texas crop and a strict rule has been laid down that they must be kept rolling. Cars will not be allowed to be used for storage purposes. If a shipment can't be unloaded without delay, cars will not be released.

Cars will be peremptorily recalled if shippers don't load. Circuitous routing is being eliminated. And the railroads themselves are now distributing the materials and equipment they will need months hence, so that the maximum number of cars will be available in the peak season next autumn. This alone is expected to release 20,000 freight cars.

Mechanized Cavalry.

It took a war in Europe to do it, but the U. S. army is now doing a whirlwind job of replacing cavalry with tanks and armored cars. Even Secretary of War Stimson's aide, Col. Eugene Regnier, has gone in for mechanization.

Commenting whimsically on this the other day, Secretary Stimson said: "After riding horses all his life, Gene is now commanding the first reconnaissance battalion of the First Cavalry division. He rides in a bantam scout car and has armored cars and tanks under his command. I tell him this is strange for a man who has sworn that horses are the only thing in life. But he says it takes the brains of a good cavalryman to handle a mechanized unit."

Note—Colonel Regnier deserted his swivel-chair job in Washington for El Paso, Texas, where Gen. Innes P. Swift commands one of the most active army posts in the country.

Consentient Objectors.

Announcements that 1,100 conscientious objectors will report to non-military training camps in the next few weeks are a lot of hokey. Real fact is that only 201 draft registrants have even been classed as genuine religious objectors.

Out of the 6,000,000 questionnaires received from draft eligibles, less than 2,500 sought exemption on the ground of religious scruples. Of this number, 201 have been OK'd so far. They will train in eight camps as follows:

Fifty at Camp Patapsco, Elkridge, Md.; 14 at Grottoes, Va.; 12 at Lago, Ind.; 32 at San Dimes, Calif.; 10 at Richmond, Ind.; 40 at Marietta, Ohio; 32 at Colorado Springs, Colo.; 10 at Cooperstown, N. Y.

While operated by the government, the camps are financed by private funds, supplied chiefly by the Quakers, Mennonites, and United Brethren. In some instances the men pay their own costs, at the rate of $35 a month.

Australian Opinion on War

Prime Minister Menzies of Australia held some very important conversations with high Washington officials during his recent visit. In these talks he expressed every confidence that Britain would win the war, but he was hard-boiled and realistic regarding the time necessary for a victory.

Coming from Australia, which has a detached and unbiased view of the situation, his opinion is important.

"During 1941," he said, "all of Britain's effort must be concentrated on defense.

"During 1942 we can really begin to concentrate our efforts on building up a real war machine.

"And in 1943—with America's help—we can take the offensive, and we will win the war."

MERRY-GO-ROUND

S. court of appeals makes the third judicial reward for a member of the famous senate lobby investigating committee, whose sensational exposes of utility lobbying led to the holding company law. "What is a soldier of fortune, Pa?"

"A soldier of fortune is a vagabond who fights for anybody who asks him, and then puts up an awful yell for help from his own country when he gets into trouble."

Women Don't Change

An historian says that women used cosmetics in the middle ages. They still use cosmetics in the middle ages.

Doesn't Need Any Maid—There's a gentleman to see you.

Employer—Who is he?

"A gentleman with a mustache."

"Tell him I've got a mustache!"

Knows Plenty Now

"Can't see why I should buy your book," said the farmer to the persistent canvasser.

"Why, it will show you how to be a better farmer."

"Listen, son," said the elderly man impressively, "I'm not half as good a farmer now as I know how to be."

No Duck!

"Mamma, there's a man here at the door to see you."

"Does he have a bill?"

"No, mamma. Just a plain nose!"

Pvt. J. W. Crane
Writes from Honolulu

Mr. and Mrs. James Crane have received three letters recently from their son, Private James W. Crane, stationed at Honolulu, from which the following excerpts are taken:

14th Bomb Squadron
Hickam Field, May 8

Dear Folks: I received your letter and was surely glad to get it. I am on half detail this month. It surely is a nice job. I can do what I want to on Saturday and I don't have to drill or stand inspection.

I was up town to the Waikiki Theatre and saw a good show. That program that you heard over the radio from Waikiki Beach is sent to the mainland every Saturday. It's a nice program and I enjoyed it very much. I have seen it once when I was down there. I have three more letters to write tonight so that they will catch the boat Friday.

Dear Mother: I thought I would drop you a line and wish you a happy Mother's Day. We are going to have a party Friday night for this squadron only. We are going on maneuvers sometime this week or next, so the major said today. Enclosed are some pictures of me.

I will say aloha for now, but will write soon.

May 28.

Dear Folks: I received your two letters and also the papers, and was surely glad to get them. I couldn't write letters because we were out on maneuvers in the woods. Two other buddies and I were on a machine gun crew. The other buddies carried rifles. We had packs on our backs and we had pup tents in the packs that we slept in. We also had steel helmets. We were only out there for about two days but we had a lot of fun. Of course, our bed wasn't so soft because we slept on the ground, but we didn't mind. The chow surely was good out there and did I ever eat. We got up at three o'clock in the morning before it was daylight, but we didn't mind it.

The Jolly Family

GETS TO WORK ON TIME

"Who gets the use of the bathroom first?" was a standard morning argument in the Jolly home 'til Pop decided to shave in peace. He found it fairly simple to install a second bathroom on the first floor. "I've increased the value of our home," he says, "and certainly solved a problem."

Every home needs a second bathroom. Most people say they can't afford it until they discover that the average monthly payment on such a room with our plan is only $9.80

If Swimm' Holes Could Talk . . . They Might Say:

It's been some parade, what with swimming suit styles changing each year. From the percale "longies" of the 1800s, we've watched women's suits get smaller and smaller . . . and the designs and fabrics prettier and prettier.

"Back in '66 were the days! Young ladies sure had fun dabbling in the water. Swimming? Oh, some of them tried it, but of course their percale suits were a bit cumbersome—they weighed 75 pounds when wet—and then, too, their frilly bathing hats weren't at all waterproof!"

"Jersey suits? Well, they were the vogue about the turn of the century when modest misses still insisted on sleeves, collars, full skirts, and all the trimmings. Active swimming was still out of the question."

"'Twas 1910, or thereabouts, that women donned real knit swim suits. And what pace setters those models were—gone were the sleeves, the high necklines . . . and the skirts actually ended above the knees."

"Now you're talking," one swimmin' hole said, watching 1941 swim suit versions marching toward the water's edge. "Yep, believe you've got something there!"

Insane Patients Cured

A recent reliable survey showed that about 40 per cent of patients in hospitals for the insane are cured or so improved they can return home. The best hospitals return 60 persons to normal life. The New York hospitals show that at the end of 15 years only 17 per cent of the patients (excluding deaths and transfers) are still under treatment. In the Boston State hospital an analysis of 4,000 cases showed 19 per cent had to stay 30 days or less; 56 per cent six months or less; 56 per cent one year or less. At the end of 10 years (excluding deaths and transfers) only 3 per cent remained as "incurable."

Count Sheep; Stay Awake

A leading authority on the subject, Dr. Louis J. Karnosh of Cleveland, says counting sheep, reading in bed or other mental gymnastics that require concerted thinking are merely tricks for the repression of unpleasant ideas and actually lead a person away from, rather than toward, sleep.

Onychophagist

An "onychophagist" is a nail biter. According to an eminent doctor such persons suffer from mental conflicts and feelings of inferiority. Children are the most common onychophagists but some grown persons bite their nails until they gnaw into the flesh. It is always a sign of nervousness of a serious nature which should be treated by a competent doctor skilled in emotional and mental problems.

When the walls of a cesspool become coated with slime, the only way to restore it to moderate efficiency is by a long period of disuse. If this is not possible, the only other thing to do is to make another cesspool near the first and lay an overflow pipe from the old into the new one.

He Served 3 Flags, Ready for the RAF, Jailed for Bigamy

Canadian Judge Is Puzzled Over Rare Case, Gives Him 9 Months.

TORONTO.—Veteran of service under three flags and applicant for enlistment under a fourth, Donald Willis, 27, was sentenced to nine months in reformatory for perjury and bigamy, with probable deportation to the United States to follow.

Willis, who served in the United States army in Hawaii, and later fought for Finland and Norway, and who was awaiting enlistment in the Royal Air force, admitted having married a Toronto girl in Hamilton, but pleading that he believed his first wife, Mary Kathleen Krouse, whom he married in New York in 1937, had divorced him.

Willis testified that he enlisted in the United States army at the age of 17. He admitted serving 14 months in Alcatraz prison for assault.

Fought With Norse.

He stated that upon Russia's invasion of Finland a year ago he enlisted in the Finnish air force, serving there until the end of the campaign. Later he made his way to Norway and served in the air force there with Commander Hans Bugge, now in command of Norwegian aviators training in Toronto.

After collapse of the Norwegian campaign, Willis flew with Bugge to England in a captured German plane. Later he came to Canada, trained with the Royal Norwegian air force and received an honorable discharge to permit him to qualify for a commission in the British or Canadian air force.

Willis testified that on arriving in Canada he was informed that his first wife had launched divorce proceedings against him and that he had assumed he was free to remarry.

"I don't know what to do with this man," Judge Otto Klein commented. "He has a remarkable record."

"He is a man of restless disposition, enterprising, energetic, and of such a mentality that he would not inquire too closely into what was best for him," E. G. Black, defense counsel, pleaded. "But his motives were right, and he has always been on the right side. He is the impulsive type."

Crown Disagrees.

W. O. Gibson, crown prosecutor, stated that he did not agree with the defense estimate of Willis' character.

"He left Kathleen Krouse to go to Finland," the crown added. "I believe he used the same means to attract this Toronto young woman, as he did to lure the young woman who became his first wife."

"Everybody loves a soldier," Judge Klein observed — "nine months!"

Honesty Saves Him From Long Sentence in Jail

ST. LOUIS. — Carl ("Babe") Spikes was hauled into federal court at St. Louis charged with possession of bootleg whiskey.

When Judge John C. Collet asked him if he wanted a lawyer the defendant refused, explaining, "You don't need a lawyer when you're going to tell the truth." He then pleaded guilty.

"Have you had any trouble with the police?" the judge asked.

When Spikes answered that he had not, Judge Collet pointed to Babe's record of 28 arrests in 13 years.

"Oh," replied Spikes, "I thought you meant real trouble."

"You have some redeeming features, Babe," the judge smiled. "Your candor and bluntness. I'm only going to give you four months in jail."

Check Suspect Trapped By Movie Star Photos

CHICAGO.—A passion for collecting pictures and autographs of movie stars resulted today in the arrest of Harold Rose, 37, Hollywood, Calif., on charges of passing worthless checks.

He was bound over to a federal grand jury under $2,500 bond on a charge he passed about $10,000 worth of bogus checks, most of them drawn against insurance companies, during the last two years. Rose said he had worked in Hollywood as publicity agent for screen and radio stars.

He was arrested here on tips that alleged victims had recognized his automobile at Louisville, Ky., and Indianapolis, Ind., en route to Chicago. The car was covered with pictures of Rose, posing with film celebrities.

Discoloration of aluminum kitchen utensils will not harm food cooked in them. No dangerous chemical reaction takes place. Aluminum keeps bright if washed in hot soapy water and wiped dry and then occasionally polished with a reliable aluminum cleaner.

In a new South Dakota flour mill, the heat generated by friction in the grinding machine is so great that the heated air it creates is drawn off by a fan and washed, and is sufficient to heat the entire six-story building except in very cold weather.

Defense Industries Spur Requests for Birth Records

Due to the defense industry requirement that employees prove their citizenship to get jobs or hold them, more people than ever before are requesting certified copies of their birth certificates from the Michigan Department of Health.

"During the first five months of this year, we have looked through our 10,000,000 records for 53,000 birth certificates," said Dr. H. Allen Moyer, state health commissioner. "This is almost three times the number for the same period in 1940 when the total for the year reached an all-time high of 100,000."

Michigan birth records go back as far as 1867 and certified copies of them may be obtained from the Michigan Department of Health or from county clerks of the counties in which the births occurred. A statutory fee of one dollar is charged for copies obtained from the Department of Health. The fee is usually less for copies obtained from county clerks.

CIRCUIT COURT.

Attorneys for John Joseph and William Joseph, who asked for a new trial for their clients, were denied their request by Judge Cramton in circuit court Monday. Judgments were assessed against the Josephs in a suit brought by Evelyn and Fred Saunders a few weeks ago in which a jury rendered the decision.

The case of Elizabeth Molner, administratrix of the Estate of John Molnar, deceased, vs. Lawrence Tobias and Bruce Tobias was dismissed.

Paint for Glass

A paint made with white lead, linseed oil and turpentine, applied to clean, dry glass, will adhere very well. Colors or paints of lighter gravity than white leads are best mixed with good coach varnish and turpentine or benzine for first coat, and a little added coach japan will hasten its hardening. The principal condition for adhesion is perfect cleaning of the glass surface before applying.

PROTECTION- FOR HEALTH AND FOR PROFITS

FARM FAMILIES need electric refrigeration perhaps more than city folks. Because on the farm more food must be stored; and refrigeration is needed to protect profits as well as health.

Special refrigerators have been designed for farm use. They are roomier. And they have variable shelf arrangement to allow storage of large quantities of fruit, vegetables, poultry, meats, eggs and milk.

The photo above shows Miss Nancy Dykes and the eight cubic foot refrigerator on the Alexander Dykes farm in Lapeer County. Mrs. Dykes keeps many dozens of eggs for convenient and profitable marketing. Dressed poultry is quickly and safely chilled. Frozen desserts are enjoyed by the whole family.

Your electrical dealer will be glad to show you the various shelf arrangements and other modern features that can be yours with these new, roomier farm refrigerators.

Variety of Laces Introduced Into Summer Fashion Picture

By CHERIE NICHOLAS

LACE, a favorite material down through the centuries, is this season soaring to new heights in the fashion domain. Lace nowadays is being used in more ways than was thought possible in yesteryears. It is entering into every phase of fashion.

This could not be so were it not for the amazing variety of laces now being manufactured—laces so versatile that they can be used as dependably and satisfactorily as any fabric.

It challenges the imagination to realize that the usefulness and adaptability of lace has been made to cover such vast scope. Today this fabric is being fashioned into every kind of apparel—bathing suits, redingotes, hats, gloves, and most significant of all, stunning tailored jacket suits. Lace used for suits looks as if it might be a choicely patterned open weave mesh, but it isn't. It's sturdy. Next time you go on a shopping tour, look at these new meticulously tailored suits. You will see them in white or colors, and in navy and black.

There seems to be no end to the enchanting fashions that are being made of lace. Citing a few of the newest lace entries, there is the long evening coat of pastel Alencon lace over a matching sheer dress, also the practical-to-wear daytime redingote of fabriclike cotton lace, and lace capelets and stoles that are newer than jackets to wear with sheer summery dresses.

To look your radiant best at daytime summer occasions wear a simple frock of lace in a delectable color. The two frocks shown in the foreground of today's photograph illustrate this idea. The fact that the skirt of each model is pleated means that lace and pleats are continuing to play a charming duet in the new summer style picture.

The model to the left is a slimming dress in a sheer lace. The bodice has a low V-neck in a flattering line. Shirring at the waistline gives it easy fullness. The skirt whittles the figure into slimmest of its stitched pleats. Imagine this lovely model in any color you like, for it is available in all the newest shades.

To the right in the picture a lace dress for the fashionwise woman is shown. It is a type that may be worn to bridge parties, afternoons at the club and so on. It is a classic for the woman who would dress becomingly and tastefully. The skirt is knife pleated. The bodice is detailed with a grosgrain cord bow tie at the neckline. The dress is made of a delicate looking lace, softly feminine and very practical.

Centered in the picture is a jacket dress in lace. The dress with a jacket can be worn on formal or less gala occasions. It is always a welcome fashion, especially if it is lace. This model, in a dainty flower-patterned lace, has a mite of a jacket entirely scalloped with a tiny collar and puffed sleeves. The cunning jacket is wearable with other gowns. It would be especially effective worn with a black net evening gown or with a flower print that repeats the jacket color. (Released by Western Newspaper Union.)

Middy-Type Dress

For you who sew it is easy to keep in style by using good fabrics and simple patterns. Just now midday type two-piece dresses are very much in the fashion picture. It is dresses of this sort that require dependable materials. One of the perfect "finds" this season in the white goods collections is serge-ahed. It launders beautifully, is amazingly inexpensive and is wearable. It is just such simple frocks as this that young girls want most this season.

Vegetable Jewelry

Out California way vegetable jewelry is quite the rage. CBS Star Helen Wood strikes a new style note with a necklace of corn kernels. Almost the only item that hasn't as yet made its appearance on midday's neck is a string of potatoes. These necklaces are made of various gaily colored seeds and pods, with alternate brass beads and coral chips. Best of all, they're both light on the neck and pocketbook.

Paris Fashions Turn Masculine in Style

New suits in today's Paris fashion parade are finished with masculine precision, but a saving feminine touch is introduced by organdy blouses with frilled fronts and field flower bouquets for mannish lapels.

Closely fitted redingotes in patterned wools and silks, fine-striped wools and pencil-striped dark fabrics are among the collections. One house features tailored silk suits in checked surah and double-breasted models with horizontal stripes.

Loose backs in plain and printed crepes have full skirts shirred to hip yokes. Some are trimmed with linen, while others have linen boleros, with paillettes.

White pique trims frocks and coats, and sailor hats.

For young girls there are checked silk dresses to be worn with linen redingotes and bolero suits of checked wools embroidered with white soutache.

Silhouettes reflect the masculine line above the hips. Shoulders are natural and waists slim, and slim hips are emphasized.

Lace-Trimmed Blouses Worn With Cotton Skirts

From all indications the cotton evening skirt worn with a lingerie blouse is going to be a leading summer fashion. The one liked best is the full peasant type, made of a bizarre flower print topped with a wispy lace-trimmed snowy white blouse. Very attractive skirts are being made of gay plaid gingham, also of colorful sheer, crinkled cottons. Skirts of cotton lace, with dark jersey fitted bodices, or long-torso middie of jersey seem to please the smart set. The 'teen age also has a yen for skirts made of flowered glazed chintz.

Lower Heels

Good news! It is interesting to know that shoes are being built for comfort as well as smartness. The latest models are made of indestructibly soft leather, and the heels are much lower.

trol of the pipe lines from Mt. Pleasant to Toledo through which crude oil is transported to market. Michigan producers at Alma, St. Louis and Mt. Pleasant have been transporting crude oil from the Illinois fields for local refining. For that reason the Michigan refinery output is greater than our oil production would indicate.

Appointment of Secretary of the Interior Harold Ickes as petroleum coordinator for national defense has again ushered in an era of federal control, reminiscent of the NRA days when Ickes was administrator of the oil code.

Oil Reserves

With a surplus in the Southwest and a shortage in the East, Michigan's oil industry is prospering.

Early developments in drilling test wells yielded only meager returns, and it was not until 1928 that the Mt. Pleasant pool was discovered. The state's production in 1935 exceeded 15 billion barrels; in 1939 it reached an all-time high of 23 billion barrels and has since declined to a little under 20 billion barrels. (Natural gas production, however, has been rising sharply.)

The production curve was declining until early this month when a substantial pool was discovered near Reed City. Drilling is now going on in 50 out of our 83 counties. As the Osceola County Herald, weekly newspaper at Reed City, proclaimed in a happy headline:

"Folks, we're in the money now."

Defense Confusion

Because organization of the Michigan Council of Defense was authorized only a month or so ago by the state legislature, confusion has been inevitable in certain national defense activities. Here are examples:

1. The state prison industries are making 10,000 arm bands for use of the American Legion in Michigan in civilian defense. Action was taken without knowledge of Col. Harold Furlong, administrator of the defense council. One reporter last week asked: "How does this fit into the council program?" The colonel had to admit: "It's news to me. I learned about it for the first time in the newspapers."

2. Washington agencies have been flooding mayors for pleas to form civilian defense agencies under guidance of F. H. LaGuardia, newly appointed national director of civilian defense. Yet the defense council has been awaiting instructions from Washington as to procedure.

In a situation as unprecedented as today's mad scramble to arm ourselves overnight, dizzy inconsistencies are perhaps inevitable. Colonel Furlong, fortunately, is a patient man.

Can Britain Hold Out?

According to K. T. Keller, president of the Chrysler Corporation, a shortage of tools is slowing up production of army tanks at the new arsenal. While 80 per cent of the machine tools have been installed, the assembly line is awaiting arrival of the remaining 20 per cent.

Raymond Daniell, New York Times correspondent who recently visited the Detroit arms plants, has pointed out that between blue prints and finished products there is a "tremendous time lag." New tools have been designed and made. And when the demand is ten times greater than the supply, you simply have to wait and make the best of it.

This "time lag" appears to be the crux of the British problem. As Daniell aptly phrases it, "Great Britain must hold out through this Summer and Fall. This is a cold hard fact on which most of the industrialists agree."

Labor strikes in national defense plants serve only to lengthen the "time lag" a bit more. With an invasion of England being forecast by many observers, including William Shirer, whom you have heard many times on the radio from Berlin, the big issue is: "Can the British hold out another three or six months?"

Strike Against State

The recent strike of liquor store employees against the State of Michigan, declared by Attorney General Herbert K. Rushton to be a legal impossibility, poses an interesting problem in labor relations. The late Calvin Coolidge jumped to the White House because of national attention given to his forceful handling of the Boston police strike while he was governor.

The Michigan C. I. O. union has demanded $150-a-month minimum and $190-a-month maximum for store clerks and warehousemen. Rushton has ruled that the state cannot make wage contracts with anyone; in substance, a worker cannot strike against himself!

It is no secret that union organizers are becoming apprehensive over inroads being made by government into fields of private business. They also see another rich field of pay-rolls available for collective bargaining.

An ironical aspect to the whole situation is that Governor Murray D. Van Wagoner is being embarrassed by the same group which he recently befriended by successful settlement of the Ford strike at Dearborn, resulting in a C. I. O. organization victory.

State Socialism

The general situation was recently described by Philip Murray, president of the CIO, as follows:

"It must be apparent to everyone by now that slowly and inexorably the government is assuming many of the functions which have been those of private industry."

"Whether we like it or whether we don't, it is happening. And there is no telling where or when this process will be stopped."

F. H. LaGuardia, newly appointed national director of civilian defense, came to near parting of the ways with the CIO when he warned that government "does not and cannot recognize the right of any group to strike against the city."

And the New York mayor was re-elected last time on a labor ticket!

Bribe Quiz

If one-tenth of the rumors are half true which were circulated openly during the 1941 legislative windup at Lansing, there would be ample basis for a grand jury inquiry into existence of so-called "slush funds."

Rep. Loomis K. Preston, St. Joseph, startled a luncheon club recently when he recited a thrilling tale of the bad, wicked state capital—how he was offered a roll of bills "big enough to choke an ox." He also confided that Rep. Gail Handy, Eau Claire, had been offered $2,000 to vote a certain way on a certain bill.

Reminded by the attorney general that it is a violation of the law for anyone to offer a bribe, let alone for anyone to accept one, the Berrien County representative (incidentally, an attorney) has been a bit evasive and was summoned to appear here for questioning.

Sand Bag

Rumors of this kind have always persisted in legislative sessions, and occasionally they are manufactured deliberately for propaganda purposes. The rumors also go both ways, for example: One lobbyist confided to this writer that the 1941 session was marked by legislative attempts of a petty type to "sand bag" lobbyists for release of important bills from committees, or to prevent their release from committee.

Preston's charges, however, were directed at what he termed "undesirable" lobbyists.

One thing is certain. Bribe rumors have been numerous, and the attorney general's office is fully aware of them.

A majority of legislators, who are both conscientious and honest, undoubtedly would welcome a thorough inquiry.

Buy Coal Now

Citizens are being advised by defense agencies to lay in their winter supply of coal now.

Reason: Production at mines can be stabilized; winter shortages may be forestalled.

Today's fuel prices, however, are already higher than they were in mid-winter, and further increases appear to be inevitable.

Providing summer discounts are available and "staggered" delivery can be arranged (in order to avoid another bottleneck), the state defense council concurs in the recommendation. The situation is not serious as yet, and "early birds" should be able to realize savings.

Vulture Found

A rare Ruppel vulture, great North African bird, was found mysteriously in a New York back yard about 10 years ago.

FILLED WITH SPICE 'N' EVERYTHING NICE . . .
(See Recipes Below)

REFRESHMENTS PLUS!

Summer nears. You think of lots of things—new, crisp, cool clothes . . . vacation trips . . . gardening . . . and yes, even parties, especially gay ones that call for a minimum of "home work."

I think I understand. You love to have people in your home. In spite of the warmness of June days, you want those of your friends who remain in town to drop by often for conversation, relaxation and refreshments. But, of course, you want what you serve to be easy to make, delicious, entirely different from anything that you've ever served before, and economical. In the last two of these points, I've found homemakers hold a unanimous opinion.

So today I'm going to give you what I think are ace-high ideas on easy entertaining. I'm sure you'll find the recipes worth trying.

Dessert bridge parties will do wonders to round up the "Mrs." crowd who feel free, after feeding hubby and the children, to don dress-up frocks and skip out for dessert and an afternoon of fun. If your friends don't play bridge, substitute another hobby, but the serving of dessert upon the arrival of guests can nevertheless be carried out.

Serving dessert when guests arrive gives the hostess lots of leeway. She doesn't have to keep in mind that her friends will be going home to dinner soon, as she does with later-on refreshments. And, she can provide a really filling dessert.

Pictured at the top of the column is a dessert which I'm sure will answer your desires. It's Tropical Gingerbread.

- 2 eggs
- 1/2 cup brown sugar
- 1/4 cup pure molasses
- 1/4 cup melted shortening
- 2 1/2 cups flour
- 2 teaspoons baking powder
- 1 cup boiling water
- 2 teaspoons ginger
- 1 1/2 teaspoons cinnamon
- 1/2 teaspoon cloves
- 1/2 teaspoon nutmeg
- 1/2 teaspoon baking soda
- 1/2 teaspoon salt

Add beaten eggs to the sugar, molasses, and melted shortening; then add the dry ingredients which have been mixed and sifted, and lastly the hot water. Bake in small individual pans, or in a greased pan, in a moderate oven (350 degrees F.) for 30 to 40 minutes. Top with whipped cream and sprinkle with shredded coconut.

With this dessert, you'll want to serve a beverage . . . coffee, tea or perhaps an iced drink of fresh fruit mixture.

Vanilla mousse is the basis for a number of appetizing desserts, and is a good party refreshment in itself. Among the many variations are peanut brittle and chocolate fudge mousses.

To make the vanilla mousse, fold one cup of confectioners' sugar and two teaspoons of vanilla into one quart of heavy cream that has been whipped. Fold in four egg whites which are stiffly beaten.

Spread the mousse into two large refrigerator ice trays and place in the freezing compartment of your refrigerator, or, freeze in your ice

LYNN SAYS:

In thinking of party foods, I remembered these few suggestions my mother passed on to me. Maybe you'll find them helpful.

To remove pecan meats whole, cover the shells with boiling water and let them stand until cold before cracking them.

Chocolate cakes usually call for unsweetened chocolate. This blends with the cake mixture much better if it is cut in small pieces and melted, rather than grated.

Rhubarb juice is a good substitute for iced tea as a basis for iced fruit drinks.

cream freezer. Allow three hours for the freezing. This recipe will yield two quarts of mousse.

For a crunchy surprise frozen dessert for your guests, serve peanut brittle mousse. To make it, crush 1/2 pound of peanut brittle with a rolling pin and fold into the vanilla mousse before it becomes solid (about 1 1/2 hours).

If it's an extra-special party you're planning, I've included a special dessert-bridge menu in today's column. You'll spend more hours in the kitchen preparing these particular foods, but they're so-o-o-o good that your guests' ohs and ahs will amply reward you for your efforts.

Cream Sponge Cake.

- 1 cup sifted cake flour
- 1 teaspoon baking powder
- 1/4 teaspoon salt
- 1/2 cup cold water
- 1 teaspoon grated lemon rind
- 2 egg yolks, unbeaten
- 3/4 cup granulated sugar
- 2 egg whites, unbeaten
- 1 teaspoon lemon juice
- 2 tablespoons granulated sugar

Sift flour, baking powder, and salt together three times. Add water and lemon rind to egg yolks, and beat with rotary egg beater until light colored and at least tripled in volume. Add 1/4 cup of granulated sugar, 2 tablespoons at a time, beating well with rotary beater after each addition; then add sifted dry ingredients, a small amount at a time, beating slowly and gently with rotary beater only enough to blend. Beat egg whites until they form rounded mounds when beater is raised; then add lemon juice and 2 tablespoons sugar, and continue beating until stiff enough to hold up in moist peaks. Fold into flour mixture. Pour into two ungreased 8-inch layer cake pans, stirring lightly while pouring. Bake in moderate oven of 350 degrees F. for 30 minutes. Remove from oven, and invert on rack until cakes are cold. Fill with Orange Chiffon Cake Filling according to directions below.

*Orange Chiffon Cake.

- 2 8-inch Cream Sponge Cake Layers
- 1 envelope plain, unflavored gelatin
- 1/4 cup cold water
- 4 eggs separated
- 3/4 cup granulated sugar
- 1/2 cup orange juice
- 2 tablespoons lemon juice
- 1/2 teaspoon salt
- 1 tablespoon grated orange rind

Make and bake the Cream Sponge Cake Layers, following the recipe.

Meanwhile, soak gelatin in cold water 5 minutes. Place beaten egg yolks, 6 tablespoons sugar, orange and lemon juices, and salt in double boiler. Cook while stirring until like custard. Add gelatin, and stir until dissolved. Remove from heat, stir in orange rind, and chill. When mixture begins to thicken, fold in meringue made by beating egg whites until frothy, but not dry, and folding in 6 tablespoons sugar gradually, while continuing to beat until stiff. Prepare cake layers for the filling by placing one layer on a cake plate; make collar of double waxed paper about 3 inches high to fit tightly around edge of cake; secure with pins or paper clips. Pour orange filling over the top of this layer; top with second cake layer; then place in refrigerator to chill until set. Before serving, remove waxed-paper collar from cake. To add finishing touch to top of cake, place lace-paper dolly over top layer, sift confectioners' sugar over it, and remove dolly carefully to preserve design.

AGAIN

Adv. Another time; once more.

The vogue of giving today's word the British pronunciation "a-GAYN," to rhyme with "a pain," seems, happily, to be waning. But President Roosevelt, one of the few stylists among public speakers today, always gives to again and against the long "a" (ay) sound of gain, main.

Sticklers for precision, however, prefer the pronunciation which the dictionaries recommend for United States use. The second syllable should rhyme with hen, men.

Correct Pronunciation: uh-GEN. (Capitals indicate syllables to be accented.)

Question: To settle an argument, will you please tell us if there is such a word as somewhere? Low Seventh.

Answer: Somewhere is a very respectable adverb, meaning "at some time or other." This word is frequently used by H. G. Wells. For example, writing of prehistoric man in "The Outline of History," he states: "But somewhere he began definitely to sow."

Other some- words which have dictionary support are: somewhere, somehow, somewhere, somehow, and somewhere. (Bell Syndicate-WNU Service.)

Defense Exhibit Will Be Feature at Michigan State Fair

Michigan's part in the re-arming of America—a role regarded by many as more vital than that played by any other single state—will be vividly exhibited as part of the ninety-second Michigan State Fair, Bernard J. Youngblood, general manager of the fair, announces.

The exposition will take place at the State Fair Grounds at Detroit from August 27 to September 7, inclusive.

Youngblood, who has just returned from Washington, where he conferred with Congressional and military officials relative to the military feature of the Fair, said he expects the feature to be the most impressive national defense exhibit ever placed on display in this country.

Located on the huge Mall directly across from the orchestra shell and along both sides of the beautiful Civil Center near the main entrance to the fair grounds the military exhibit will include airplanes, tanks, blitz buggies, trucks and other Army transportation units, field artillery and anti-aircraft guns, hospital units and field kitchens. A detachment of soldiers, probably from Michigan's own Fort Custer at Battle Creek, will be detailed to and bivouaced on the grounds throughout the fair.
