Earl Masters of Greenleaf Township had "tough luck" Friday. Somehow or other, something happened and Earl had a flat tire. The tube was fixed at the Hendrick Gas Station at Wickware and the repair man was curious to know how far the car had traveled in 11 years without a "flat." The speedometer read slightly over 19,000 miles.

Gordon Thomas and Phyllis Lenzer Married Saturday

The chapel in the Michigan League in Ann Arbor was the scene of the wedding Saturday when Miss Phyllis Marie Lenzer, of Ypsilanti, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert F. Lenzer, of Cass City, became the bride of Mr. Gordon L. Thomas of East Lansing, son of Mr. and Mrs. Reginald Thomas, of Oxford. The service was performed by the Rev. H. I. Voelker, pastor of the Mack Avenue Evangelical Church in Detroit, and personal friend of the bride's family.

The bride approached the altar with her father who gave her in marriage. Her gown was of white marquisette over satin and fashioned with a short train. Her finger-tip veil of net fell from a seed pearl tiara and orange blossoms. Roses, lilies and Stephanotis formed her white bridal bouquet.

Her only attendant was her sister, Miss Shirley Anne Lenzer, of Cass City, whose pale blue gown, floor-length, was of marquisette over satin and was complemented with a bouquet of Johanna Hill roses.

The groom was attended by William Shea of East Lansing as best man, and Wilbur Luick and Robert Turner, also of East Lansing, seated the guests.

The altar was decorated with cathedral candles in standard candleholders and tall baskets of delphinium. Miss Janet Allured of Kinde played wedding music on the chapel organ, preceding the ceremony, and also the Bridal Chorus from Lohengrin by Wagner as processional and the Wedding March by Mendelssohn as the recessional.

A reception in the League gardens followed the marriage rites. Light refreshments were served from a table at which Miss Frances Lister and Mrs. Francis Rose, friends of the bride, poured.

Higher Prices Are Predicted for Food in Michigan

Military Situation Has Created Temporary Labor Shortage on State Farms.

By Gene Alleman, Secretary of Michigan Press Association.

Lansing—Unless present signs are wrong, Michigan consumers will pay higher food prices next fall and winter. Here are the reasons:

1. Our undeclared war, inducing thousands of young men into military service, has created a temporary labor shortage on Michigan farms.

2. Lacking even unskilled help to plant and to harvest crops, many Michigan growers are reducing their acreages.

3. Inflationary tendencies have already appeared, bringing a spurt in consumer purchases. Government purchases of canned tomatoes, for example, have depleted holdover stocks. One wholesale grocer reports that he has been trying in vain for 45 days to get a tomato juice shipment from a well-known Indiana packer.

"A large grocer recently came to my office and laid down a roll of 30 bills, each $100 in denomination," he related before the Michigan Food Council last week. "I couldn't promise delivery on his order. I couldn't even guarantee prices. It's the screwiest market I've ever seen!"

The above reasons are not limited to Michigan. They appear to be fairly general.

Leo V. Card, state commissioner of agriculture, gave an inkling of how the farm labor shortage is

Food Handling Establishments in Sanilac Are Surveyed

"Inspection of food handling establishments in Sanilac County is in full swing," says Hugh Donnelly, Sanilac County health unit sanitarian. Places being inspected under this program include restaurants, hotels, taverns and lunch stands.

The inspection of these places has a two-fold purpose: To protect the general public who patronize these eating establishments, and to educate the owners and their employees in the proper handling of food and equipment and to insure the greatest protection possible to the people who eat out.

The program as it is set up by the sanitarian, complying with the state standards, calls for several inspections of each place during the year. Those establishments inspected and approved by the health department are to receive cards to that effect. Those that are not so designated at this time may become approved at a future date after meeting the standards set up by the health department. The signs tell the patrons that the establishments displaying them have met with approval the standards for food-handling and therefore are "good places to eat," from the viewpoint of sanitation.

In these inspections throughout the year, special attention is given to the sanitary facilities and practices which include: Water supply, excreta disposal, hand-washing facilities, floors, walls and ceilings, tables, dishes, tableware, refrigeration, foods and their storage, garbage disposal, ventilation, light, screening, dish-washing and sterilization of equipment.

An award of five dollars for the pupil doing the best work from December 17 to June 17, presented to Keith Little, added interest and won considerable applause.

Steady Growth in Cement Block Manufacturing

Cass City Sand and Gravel Company's Plant Far Busier than Last Year.

"The demand for cement blocks from our plant far exceeds that of last year," Ernest L. Schwaderer, manager of the Cass City Sand and Gravel Company, told the Chronicle Wednesday. The blocks are not only being used locally but are being sold in many communities in the Upper Thumb counties.

The sales covering so large a territory has increased the business so that it is growing to a large volume and insures a steady employment to the force of workmen.

Two Pay Fines for Selling Firecrackers in Millington

The prospect for long profits on fireworks and firecrackers which George McPherson, 33-year-old hardware dealer of Millington, had planned on were cut short by a visit of Sheriff Homer Hillaker Saturday afternoon, who confiscated the stock valued around $40 and haled the dealer into Justice St. Mary's court. A fine of $25 and costs of $11.90 were assessed.

Donald Waterhouse, 19, of Millington, had a stock of 25 packages of firecrackers stored in his home which he was selling to youngsters of that southern Tuscola County village. He paid a $10 fine and $7.10 costs in justice court.

Sheriff Hillaker hopes that the example made of these two dispensers of firecrackers will halt the practice of selling them in the county.

Tuscola County's Finances Are in Good Condition

Tax Rate for County Funds Will Be Six Mills, Not 6 1/2 as First Planned.

Tuscola County supervisors, in their June session this week, adopted the report of the ways and means committee that the tax spread for county purposes be set at six mills. This will cover the amount needed for all county purposes including the county drain at large and the amount to be raised as a sinking fund for a new county jail. The report of the county finance committee shows more cash on hand at this time than last June, the expense of social welfare is much lower and still decreasing and fees received at the several county offices are increasing, all tending to place the county on a better financial basis. In April, the supervisors had considered a six and a half mills tax necessary for county expenditures.

Prosecuting Attorney Quinn told supervisors it appears that non-taxpayers had no legal right to vote on the proposition to raise a sinking fund for a new county jail at the April election, but as the proposition carried by a majority slightly over 1,000, it would indicate that if the vote of non-taxpayers were eliminated, the proposition would still have a majority favoring it. The opposition, it would appear by his statements, must produce the sworn statements of over 1,000 non-taxpayers that they voted favoring the proposition to overthrow the project.

Earl Laur, deputy sheriff, in charge of the driver's license bureau, had several hours added to his

Three hundred seventy-five persons attended the meeting in the school auditorium Tuesday evening to hear the governor's address. Mr. Van Wagoner assumed for the evening the duties of the state highway commissioner, an office he held before his elevation to the governorship, in presenting the bridge to the community. G. Donald Kennedy, present highway commissioner, was unable to be present.

An unusual feature of the dinner was the presentation of Governor Van Wagoner by Dr. George Bates of Kingston, pioneer physician of Tuscola County, who ushered Van Wagoner into the world on March 18, 1898. The governor was born in this county.

Miss Margaret Harwood played the wedding march and Miss Phyllis Putnam sang, "I Love You Truly." About 50 people witnessed the ceremony.

The bride was dressed in a floor-length gown of white, with tight bodice and square neckline, and carried a bouquet of white carnations and white roses. ## Keep Cool This Summer— It's Easy if You Know How Keeping cool during the hot summer months is an important problem. Whether you're at home, at work, or enjoying yourself on your vacation, heat can go a far way toward making life uncomfortable. There's nothing you can do to make the temperature go down, but the pictures below illustrate some tips that will help you be more comfortable. If they don't work, we recommend a week-end in Little America.

There's nothing like sitting on a cake of ice when the temperature rises. Of course, not all of us can follow this little fellow's example, but he's certainly got the right idea. Doctors advise heat sufferers to find as cool a spot as possible, and then take it easy.

Necessity is the mother of invention, or so they say. If you have an irresistible urge to cut grass or work off a little excess energy, better rig up an automatic cooling device like the one used by this practical woman. However, it's advisable not to do any more work than necessary in hot weather, especially not in direct sunshine.

This fellow seems as cool as a lake breeze as he licks a rapidly melting ice cream cone. Ice cream, cold water or cold (soft) drinks will go a long way toward giving you comfort. You will help your body stand the heat better if you put a pinch of salt in your drinking water occasionally.

And now here's just about the best way of all. When the mercury starts to boil, there's nothing more pleasant than swimming in cool water, especially when one can have such delightful company as this. Swimmers are warned that they are especially susceptible to sunstroke because the water reflects the sun's rays, thus increasing their effect.

Haying is well under way, but owing to the dry weather in the spring, it is rather a light crop.

On account of the corn borer being so bad last year many people here did not plant corn. Where it has been planted the pheasants are helping themselves as the tender shoots come up, so perhaps corn may be scarce this fall. A great many beans have been put in and in spite of the dry weather look fairly good.

The Memorial Day week-end holiday brought the inevitable death toll in the United States to 460.

Isn't this a waste of life? Approximately 380 people were killed by automobiles, the remainder by drowning and other accidental causes. People driving broadside into moving trains—others passing on hills and curves—many driving recklessly and carelessly through congested areas—these and other causes contributed to the total of deaths.

It is discouraging to realize that people talk a lot about safety among themselves, but given an opportunity to drive and the open road, they forget safety principles and violate all the rules of common sense.

On such a holiday, and the coming Fourth of July week-end, it is much better to sit on the front porch and "stay alive."

"JOB WANTED"

"Steady farm hand. Can do almost anything on the farm. Will work for a few cents an hour. No meals needed."

Now is an excellent time to increase your farm output and profits by hiring electrical help. It will earn its price many times over, especially now that farm workers are getting scarce.

Figure it out for yourself: You can use a ¼-horsepower electric motor steadily for ½c an hour, or a 5-horsepower motor for 10c an hour. For 1c worth of electricity you can hoist more than a ton of hay into a mow. And there are scores of other jobs that electric power can do on the farm at low cost.

Let your dealer or the Edison Farm Service Advisor show you how electric motors can be used profitably on your farm.

TRUTH about ADVERTISING
By CHARLES B. ROTH

CAN YOU READ LATIN?

THE law used to recognize the doctrine of Caveat emptor. That is Latin. It means "let the buyer beware." The doctrine for which it stood was simply this: When ever you bought from another it was your responsibility to see that you got your money's worth, not his.

If he were a dishonest man and wanted to cheat you, you had to protect yourself. The law wouldn't help. "Let the buyer beware," it said. Caveat emptor.

That doctrine, as unsound doctrines always must, has given way to a better one. The modern business man, if he expects to remain in business and warrant your patronage year after year, doesn't expect you to protect yourself.

He assumes the obligation of protecting you. He makes sure that his quality is high. He religiously subjects his product to tests. He introduces improvements. And he establishes a price which is the minimum on which he can remain in business.

For this change, which is one of the most important improvements in business, advertising has been largely responsible. Advertising has given a permanent quality to business.

Mrs. William McCallum is employed at the Caro State Hospital. The interior of St. Pancratius Church is being redecorated, the walls receiving a coat of light buff paint.

Jackie and Donna Mae Melitzer of Gagetown spent a few days the first of the week with their uncle and aunt, Mrs. H. J. Wells.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Colwell and children, Pearl and Allen, of Saginaw visited Mr. Colwell's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Colwell, over the week-end.

On Sunday, Mr. and Mrs. George Snyder of Elkton and Mr. and Mrs. Milton Hoffman spent the day with Mrs. Edith Rice, sister of Mrs. Snyder and Mr. Hoffman, at Gladwin.

Mr. and Mrs. Alex Milligan, daughter, Miss Marian, and son, James, spent Sunday in Detroit. Miss Marjorie Milligan, who attends the Detroit Business Institute, returned home with them to spend the summer vacation.

Morton Orr, as a member of the local fire company for about a quarter century, has responded to many alarms within the village: Saturday afternoon, it was his turn to be served by the department. A fire started in his tool shed. The fire fighters confined Mr. Orr's loss to the shed's roof.

Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Bigham and son, Basil, spent Saturday night and Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Bigham at Pontiac and also visited Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Bigham at Lum. Donna, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Bigham, returned home with them to spend a few days with her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Bigham.

ness. A man who advertises must be scrupulous in his integrity. He cannot write lies. He has to live up to all claims. This means that you, as a customer, can buy from such a man with absolute confidence.

Not long ago Owen D. Young, one of America's clearest thinkers and a great business executive, declared that:

"Dishonesty in various forms is becoming rarer in business. Whenever it occurs it is exploited in newspapers, because it is the unusual, not the common, thing."

"A store keeper may short-measure or short-weight his customer and make a little. He may even induce a clerk to short-measure or short-weight. But he cannot build a big business on that basis. Honesty and uprightness must exist in great business organizations."

And it must also exist in smaller business organizations, which expect to grow large.

Whenever a business man advertises, it is a sign that he wants to operate an honest business, one from which you can buy with confidence and trust.

Advertising is thus the guiding light which you can follow in getting more for your money.

Daily it leads millions of American customers to better values, to greater satisfaction, to the serenity which comes from dealing with men and organizations they know they can trust.

Our Boys in Camp—They do enjoy hearing from home. Harold Ferguson, son of Mrs. Phebe Ferguson, who is stationed at Camp Davis, North Carolina, and receives a copy of the Cass City Chronicle each week, writes home saying, "Tell the Novesta correspondent to give us all the news possible. We look forward to our home column each week." We shall try not to disappoint you, Harold. We hope all correspondents will remember the boys in camp. Send them what news you can in the Chronicle each week.

Brooder House Burns—A. H. Henderson had the misfortune of losing his brooder house and 150 small chicks Saturday evening by fire. It is believed that the stove exploded. Help arrived in a short time. They carried water to throw on the nearby buildings to protect them from fire.

Ralph Young lost three fine cows last week. When they investigated the cause of death they found a pail containing old paint which the cattle had eaten.

Falls Asleep in Tub—Firemen Rescue Him

COLUMBUS—Frank Nery, 34 years old, chose the wrong way to take a bath. He violated three unwritten rules—he left the water running, he locked the bathroom door and, most unwisely, he fell asleep. Water was rising to Nery's neck when firemen, called to his home, smashed open the door.

Finds Her Family, Lost for 39 Years

Mother Reunited With Two Sons and Daughter.

DETROIT—Thirty-nine years of sorrow and heartache were swept away in a small flat when Mrs. Mollie Hatch was reunited with a daughter and two sons who had thought their mother dead.

"We haven't had time to get acquainted yet," the daughter, Mrs. Asenath Keiser, smiled, dabbing her eyes with a handkerchief, "but we certainly are happy to have found each other. It's been terrible, all these years, thinking mother was dead and not even knowing where her grave was." The sons, George and Joseph, smiled agreement.

A tragic marital discord brought about the separation of Mrs. Hatch from her children in Rondo, Mich., in 1901.

"It was on August 19," Mrs. Hatch, white-haired and smiling, said promptly, proving that 39 years had not dimmed the moment when she was forced to abandon everything she loved.

In the years that followed, Mrs. Hatch traveled restlessly through seven states and Canada.

"I never stayed in one spot long," she said, "but finally I stopped in this part of the country." She has been in Detroit and Dearborn for the last 19 years.

In her 20-year travels, Mrs. Hatch lost all trace of her children. Until Saturday night, when her daughter arrived by bus from Canton, Ohio, the picture in her mind had still been that of a little, three-year-old girl.

A few days ago, Mrs. Hatch related, there began a chain of circumstances that was climaxed by the reunion.

"I met a family in Bayport," Mrs. Hatch said, "and they mentioned they were from Saginaw. I asked them if they knew my sister Kit. It's unbelievable, but they lived right next door to her."

"They notified the children. Joseph heard about it (he's been living right in Detroit, less than a half-hour's drive from me) and he came out Saturday to see if it was true."

"Joseph called me in Canton Sunday," Mrs. Keiser broke in. "I was so stunned that I fell down the basement stairs," she laughed. George, a World War veteran, arrived from Upper Michigan.

Texas Man Fined Under Law That Never Existed

SAN ANTONIO, TEXAS—The city commission's collective face still is pretty red. The commission belatedly passed an ordinance prohibiting parking in loading and emergency zones—three months after police began making arrests and corporation court began assessing fines under its provisions.

William Blanchet, assistant city attorney, said that the ordinance had been scheduled for passage three months ago but that, due to an "oversight," it had not been put on the books. Police, however, believing the ordinance in effect, began making arrests.

Now the city is wondering what to do with the fines assessed motorists for violating a law that didn't exist.

Dog Saves Man Felled by Carbon Monoxide Fumes

PITTSBURGH—Max Wise owed his life to a dog and two young boys who learned life-saving methods from their father, an expert.

Wise was overcome by carbon monoxide fumes while repairing an automobile in the basement of his home in Whitaker. The dog attracted Mrs. Wise, who dragged her husband outside.

Then she called police who tried to reach Gus McClelland, widely known for his work in life-saving. McClelland was at work, but his sons, Robert, 14 and Clair, 12, volunteered to try to revive Wise. They set to work with an inhalator and 45 minutes later Wise regained consciousness.

One-Armed Shoplifter Seized With Radio, Ties

NEW PHILADELPHIA, OHIO—The fact that he had only one arm apparently failed to handicap James Moore, 44 of Elkhart, Ind., who was fined $10 and costs in police court for shoplifting.

Patrolman Chester Truman charged that when he arrested Moore in a New Philadelphia store he found the following loot in his pockets and under his topcoat.

One small radio, four neckties, a hat, two shirts, twelve pairs of hose, two pairs of gloves, thirty-seven lead pencils, one sweatshirt and eighteen pairs of socks.

"What would he have done with two hands?" Police Chief Emery Gintz commented.

Michigan Bankers Oppose Establishment of Chain Banks

Michigan bankers, small and large, are unalterably opposed to the establishment of chain banks in this state, and are urging every member of the legislature to return to Lansing July 8th to over-ride the governor's veto of the bill that would prohibit this type of banking in Michigan.

These are the words of Samuel R. Park, veteran Caro banker and president of the Michigan Bankers' Association, an organization that includes all but 11 of the 465 banks and trust companies operating in this state.

Park's opposition to the chain system of banking is not founded on the theory that he is opposed to big business undertakings. He has been a successful banker in Caro for years and fathered many big business transactions during his career as a financier. He believes that banking should be a local institutional problem and that the financial structure of a community should be guided within its confines and not through a directorate controlled in other communities.

"We learned our lesson in Michigan back in 1933," Park said, referring of course, to the banking holiday in which a vast chain of banks played a prominent part. "Let's not have our banks faced with a situation such as that again. Michigan banks operating as independent units are serving their communities as they should, with the success of the community at heart. I dread to think that a large chain of banks would have the legal right to come into any community in Michigan and buy up the banking interests and control them from the larger financial centers. It's just not common sense and legislation should stand by its guns and pass the anti-chain bank bill over the governor's veto."

Michigan bankers are not taking potshots at the recently formed chain bank in the state, Park pointed out, but want to make it illegal to continue this practice or permit the present chain to broaden its scope into other communities.

TWO CASES APPEALED TO SUPREME COURT

Two circuit court cases in which John Joseph and William Joseph were defendants were decided by a jury recently in Tuscola County who rendered verdicts granting judgments to the plaintiffs, Fred Saunders and Evelyn Saunders. Attorneys for the defendants asked for new trials in court last week and their requests were denied by Judge Louis Cramton. They have since filed notice of appeal to the state supreme court.

New Triple-A Provisions for Beans

New provisions have been incorporated in Triple-A regulations to enable farmers to meet the recent request for more soybeans for oil and lima beans for processing, according to John M. Reagh, chairman of the Tuscola County Triple-A Committee.

The request for additional production of soybeans for oil is due to the fact that the flow of supplies from some of the normal sources have been interrupted because of present war conditions. Under these circumstances, some increase in domestic production of fats and oils is necessary to provide a normal volume for consumption without reducing present stocks.

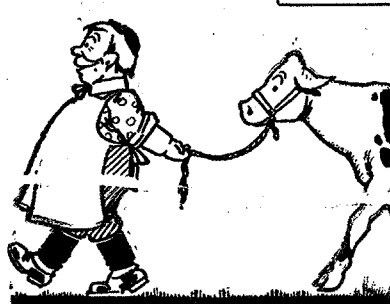

The Triple-A will encourage increased production of soybeans for oil by allowing farmers to increase their acreage for harvesting above their usual amount without incurring deductions in their farm payments. Farmers should be cautioned, however, not to increase their soybean acreage for grain at the expense of their feed supply. Those who decide to harvest a portion of the soybean acreage originally planted for hay should arrange for additional acreage of other forage crops in order to maintain food supplies.

Mr. Reagh said that the new provisions to increase the production of lima beans for processing is in line with increasing demands for more canned and concentrated foods needed by Britain. The new provisions are almost identical with the recently announced navy bean amendments. Complete details regarding the new regulations are available at the county office in Caro.

Cod Liver Oil For Treatment Of Skin Ulcers

By DR. JAMES W. BARTON
(Released by Western Newspaper Union.)

JUST why some ulcers on the skin are so indolent or slow in healing is often hard to understand. Sometimes eating more of the foods containing lime or taking lime direct—calcium lactate, gluconate, and a specially prepared chloride—stimulate old ulcers to heal.

Vitamin D as it occurs in cod liver oil has been found effective in healing old or chronic bone inflammations—osteomyelitis. The bone is scraped out thoroughly and the cod liver oil fills in the hollow left by the removal of the diseased bone. It was only natural therefore that physicians, particularly skin specialists, should try using cod liver oil in the treatment of old or chronic ulcers of the skin.

Dr. James R. Driver, Dr. G. W. Brinkley and Dr. Maurice Sullivan, Cleveland, outline their method in the Urological and Cutaneous (Skin) Review.

"After experimenting with various formulas for application to indolent ulcers this one was found to be satisfactory:

"Commercial cod liver oil—88 per cent.

"White wax—12 per cent."

The wax prevents the too rapid absorption of the oil in the dressings and when the dressing is removed it usually clings to the dressing, thus making it possible to prevent injuring the healing surface.

A generous amount of ointment, usually one-fourth inch in thickness, is spread on gauze or muslin, then covered with oiled silk or oiled paper, and bandaged in place.

A warm, moist chamber about the ulcer is thus produced.

Precaution to Be Taken.

Following the first application a marked activity (ulcer is no longer indolent) is generally set up, resulting in an increased amount of pus and the liquid part of blood. The ulcer soon assumes a ruddy, clear, healthy appearance and new surface skin can be seen growing in from the margins of the ulcer.

When this condition is noted, the dressing need be changed only every four or five days (instead of daily), and extreme care must be used to avoid injury, by wiping with cotton or gauze.

If any of the pus gets on surrounding skin it should be wiped off with soap and water.

Cause of Chills And Treatment

A PHYSICIAN walking along the street one morning felt some chills run down his back and throughout his body. He turned back home, removed his clothing, and climbed into bed. The family were astonished and naturally asked the reason for going to bed.

"I don't know what is the matter. I felt the chills and I find my temperature is up 2 degrees. I do not feel sick but something is likely attacking me and by going to bed instead of staying on my feet, I'll give my heart more strength to fight off whatever is coming."

A physician was called in, made an examination of heart, lungs, abdomen, but as there was no pain or other symptoms he was unable to locate any trouble aside from a little redness of the throat. The physician remained in bed almost a week as the heart rate was up to 120 most of this time. No definite ailment occurred.

When something is causing trouble inside the body anywhere, the blood from the surface goes to this point to fight it. This causes the chill or chilliness of the skin and is a distinct warning that some trouble—slight or severe—is present.

A chill, for instance, is usually a sign of a cold, of influenza, pneumonia or other acute ailments. The fever that follows the chill is really the effort of the body to fight off the ailment.

Bed, a hot drink, with hot water bottles at the beginning and end of the attack, is the best treatment.

Don't neglect a chill. It may mean very little, but, on the other hand, it may be the first sign of a severe infection.

Michigan Potatoes

If the 1941 summer is wet again, such as was the 1940 season, Michigan potatoes will need more than just grading to attract quality buyers.

In fact, Michigan spuds suffered last winter in competition with quality products from Maine and Idaho chiefly because the rains came at the wrong time. Many potatoes grew with large holes in the center; they wouldn't "hold up" in storage. Thousands of bushels were lost by rotting.

Like the art of horticulture, culture of potatoes requires spraying at the right times. But the weather is all-important.

For that reason the state's efforts to standardize Michigan food products by grading and packaging, prior to state advertising in out-state markets, have been only partly successful. Marketing leaders are becoming more and more convinced that Michigan growers must be sold first on the merit of scientific culture, inspected grading and uniform packaging before food advertising can really get results for them.

Alex Modrey left Tuesday for Detroit where he expects to secure employment for the summer.

in 1825 brought many immigrants from the East in quest of Michigan farm land.

Southern counties were first homesteaded.

In 1841, just 100 years ago, wheat was the leading crop in Michigan, and it was selling for 70 cents a bushel for a total value of more than $2,000,000.

Other field crops of importance were Indian corn, oats, barley, seed-clover, hay, vegetables and potatoes. Maple sap was favored for conversion into sugar.

Large quantities of fruit—apples, peaches and berries—were shipped from the fringe of farming country along Lake Michigan from near the mouth of the St. Joseph River to Grand Traverse Bay.

Livestock Gain

One effect of the depression was a shift in Michigan agriculture from grain to livestock farming.

The 1937 returns, for example, show an income from farm products of $246,000,000. Governmental benefits comprised less than 3 per cent. However, livestock and livestock products represented nearly 58 per cent.

The 1940 census listed, 187,589 farms in Michigan, an increase of 10.8 per cent over the number listed in 1930. The total acreage used for farming, however, is only slightly more than it was in 1930. Tractors are gradually taking the place of horses, and the 1941 shortage of farm labor may speed up this trend toward robotized farms.

It is in the increase of livestock that the picture has changed most. Here are the 1940 census facts:

	1940	1930
Horses and colts.....	844,475	381,357
Mules, mule colts.....	7,212	6,490
Cattle.....	1,540,168	1,287,838
Cows and heifers, 2 years old and over.....	968,764	737,766
Cows, heifers milked.....	383,553	146,104
Sheep and lambs.....	867,232	1,020,967
Hogs and pigs.....	585,993	374,180

Leading Crops

While two persons live in Michigan cities and towns for every person on a Michigan farm, the state occupies a unique place in the nation's agriculture. In the number of acres under cultivation, Michigan ranks 26th among the states. Yet only two of its field crops fall below tenth place.

We are first in cherry, peppermint, and spearmint crops.

We are second in strawberries, celery, onions, cantaloupes and field beans.

In a state whose resources are varied as they are in Michigan—copper, iron, coal, oil, salt, gypsum, wood for manufacturing and paper pulp, and 5,000 lakes for a tourist's paradise—access to food is of great importance to consumers. Again, Michigan is richly blessed.

EVERYTHING FOR HER NEW KITCHEN
(See Recipes Below)

REALLY PRACTICAL!

Whether the bride-to-be is bound for a six-room "dream house" or for a one-room kitchenette apartment, you can't go wrong if you give her a kitchen shower . . . one that's practical, of course!

And, knowing that some of you are anxious for new, clever, unusual ways to entertain, I'm ready with plans for a kitchen shower that's really different!

In Chicago's huge Merchandise Mart, where buyers from all over the country come to purchase kitchenware, I found a variety of inexpensive, yet durable gadgets which anyone about to be married would love.

To make the party practically all play and no work for the hostess, I decided to place the gifts on the table (see picture at top of column). When luncheon is over, everything is hers!

The tablecloth is of a fancy new-type oilcloth, and the place mats and napkins are none other than dish cloths.

An angel food cake pan serves as the base for a "gadget bouquet" centerpiece of measuring spoons and cup, carving set, sugar scoop, funnel, spatulas, pancake turner, strainer, tea ball, grater and other vital kitchen helpers.

The plates are pie tins. The flatware is a very inexpensive kind with gaily-colored plastic handles. And note the spice jars to the right which, because they're to be gifts, hold salt and pepper while doing double duty. They're from the Griffith laboratories.

The first course of the luncheon is a tart "Cardinal Salad, set on the table right in its aluminum ring mold. A tasty Beef Stew in a casserole follows. Iced tea is poured from a tall aluminum pitcher into matching "glasses." And rolls, all buttered, are served from a compact, serviceable bun warmer, which may be the hostess' gift. Dessert is Peach Upside Down Cake, served from a square cake pan.

*Cardinal Salad.

- 1 package lemon gelatin
- 1 cup boiling water
- ¾ cup beet juice
- 3 tablespoons vinegar
- 1 cup cooked beets, diced
- ½ teaspoon salt
- 2 tablespoons onion juice or grated onion
- 1 tablespoon horseradish
- ¾ cup celery, diced

LYNN SAYS:

There'll be lots to talk about at your party, and conversation, plus opening of shower presents may well fill up the allotted party time, but just in case . . . here's a clever game that suits a bridal shower to a "T."

To each guest pass a slip of paper titled "Things Found in the Bride's Home." Neat the title are these words (1) engar, (2) gothorpha, (3) elminol, (4) fufbet, (5) hiera, (6) rinficoen, (7) pavndorte, (8) blaet, (9) nurcaef, (10) pardyer, (11) kecol, and (12) pocarbud.

Ask each person to rearrange the letters in each of these 12 words to make them spell an article of furniture that would be likely to appear in the bride's new home.

The answers are (1) range, (2) photograph, (3) linoleum, (4) buffet, (5) chair, (6) chiffonier, (7) davenport, (8) table, (9) furnace, (10) drapery, (11) clock, and (12) cupboard.

To make the game more interesting, you might set a definite time limit. Collecting all papers after, perhaps, five minutes. Lollipops or some similar original, inexpensive gift may be awarded as first prize.

SO YOU'RE TO BE MARRIED!

The date is all set, invitations mailed, your dress, white and simply beautiful, is hanging in the closet . . . well, then the rest is easy. But, in case you're perplexed about the after-ceremony refreshments, whether they be in the form of a breakfast, garden reception or dinner, please read next week's column. Lynn will tell you how to entertain your wedding guests correctly, yet inexpensively . . . Watch for "After The 'I Do's'" . . .

Dissolve gelatin in boiling water, add beet juice, vinegar, salt and seasonings. Chill until slightly thickened. Fold in vegetables and mold.

*Peach Upside Down Cake.

- 1½ cups sifted cake flour
- 1½ teaspoons double-acting baking powder
- ¼ teaspoon salt
- ¾ cup granulated sugar
- 4 tablespoons softened butter or other shortening
- 1 egg well beaten
- ½ cup milk
- 1 teaspoon vanilla

Sift flour once, measure, add baking powder, salt and sugar, and sift together three times. Add butter. Combine egg, milk and vanilla. Add to flour mixture, stirring until all flour is dampened; then beat vigorously for 1 minute.

- 4 tablespoons butter
- ½ cup brown sugar, firmly packed
- 2 cups sliced peaches (fresh or canned)

Melt 4 tablespoons butter in an 8 by 8 by 2-inch pan over low flame; add brown sugar. (¼ teaspoon nutmeg may be mixed with brown sugar, if desired), and stir until melted. On this, arrange peach slices. Turn batter over contents of pan. Bake in moderate oven (350 degrees F.) 50 minutes, or until done. Loosen cake from sides of pan with spatula. Serve upside down with peaches on top. Garnish with whipped cream, if desired.

Canned pineapple rings, cooked apricots or prunes, or sliced tart apples may be substituted for peaches in this recipe.

Going back to entertaining the bride-to-be, had you ever considered a Recipe Shower? A new idea comes to mind . . . why not serve a luncheon at which every dish, from the appetizer to the coffee, is prepared according to some favorite and tested recipe of one of the guests. Have each recipe written on the back of a place card, collect these, put them into a file box (gift of the hostess) and present them to the bride-to-be.

A shower that calls for an almost negligible outlay of money on the part of those who buy the gifts, but which will help the young bride to do some real housekeeping, is a "dime" shower.

The five-and-dime stores are bristling with simple little things the bride will use every day without being aware of them. If you'll contribute two ten-cent items, you'll be doing her a real service.

Matches, gummed labels, paste and waterproof cement (to repair the china she's bound to break sometime or another), playing cards and score pads, plenty of tissue cleaners, electric light bulbs, little wire flower holders, assorted pads of paper for shopping lists or addresses — they're all so inexpensive when purchased separately, but how they do mount up in cost if the bride has to go out and buy the whole batch at one time!

"Pound of Milk" Means $4,320,000

Just coax another pound of milk each day out of each cow in Michigan and dairymen in a year's time at present prices can share added income in the state to the tune of $4,320,000. That's $30 extra for each of the 140,000 farms that are considered dairy farms in Michigan.

In addition to the added income the increased supply will help answer requests of the federal government in food phases of national defense, according to A. C. Baltzer, extension dairyman at Michigan State College.

Michigan now has an estimated 950,000 dairy cows, of which 30,000 are in test in dairy herd improvement or cow test associations. The testing association herds already are producing efficiently, Baltzer says, it's the other 96 per cent of the state's cow population, which produce 88 per cent of the total milk production, that can be more efficient.

"Dairymen do not need larger barns, more equipment, more tillable acres or enlarged facilities to produce an extra volume of milk," says Baltzer.

"Extra cash is available to the farmer who is able to get one pound more of milk daily from each of his cows. Figuring cows produce 305 days each year, the extra milk would have a value annually of $4,320,000. For each cow the increase annually in milk could be $4.60. It is worthwhile to spend a little extra labor, grain, feed and silage for this cash return."

It is estimated that the 920,000 cows not on test are producing four billion pounds of milk annually in Michigan. The four per cent of the cows on test are credited with 12 per cent or a half billion pounds of milk annually.

State's Peaches to Be Huge Crop

Cheering news for Michigan housewives comes from peach producing sections of the state where estimates have been made that the fruit likely will total 2,580,000 bushels, nearly a million more bushels than the 1940 harvest.

More cheering news is that many of the more progressive orchard operators are thinning out the small green fruit so that the fruit left to mature will attain a more attractive size.

That last practice is recommended heartily by H. D. Hootman, extension specialist in horticulture at Michigan State College. In fact, the thinning may make a few less peaches but housewives will be more apt to purchase and to can many of the peaches for winter consumption. That fits in with suggestions from the federal government that "food for defense" be laid away from home crops, permitting surpluses for Britain of more solid foods.

Now that the June drop is over, Hootman says, fruit growers can get busy thinning the peaches. Best practice is to allow six inches between fruits.

Growers who have seen industry and the army "siphon off" many young men usually available for orchard work and the prospective harvest are hiring boys and women as well as some of the Mexican beet workers. Men usually are assigned to the larger trees and the boys and women to the young or small trees.

Where the curculio has stung fruit, that is to be culled out when thinning. The curculio dies if the stung fruit is thrown out into the sunlight between the rows.

Science to Scan Plant Diseases

Michigan becomes a test tube state in mid-July when plant pathologists from all of the North Central states tour typical producing areas to observe any unusual plant diseases and controls.

Dates for the event are July 10, 11 and 12. Each year the group, numbering 50, selects a state for the event. This year under the chairmanship of Don Cation, research assistant in plant pathology at Michigan State College, Michigan is the subject.

The tour begins at 8:00 a. m. Thursday, July 10, at Stevensville. Berrie County fruit and vegetable will be scanned. Then the blueberry culture at South Haven is to be inspected, unusual in that the blueberry has no known diseases. Another stop during the day will be at South Haven at the Dow Chemical Company's spray research projects where equipment and methods will be studied.

Second day of the tour brings the visitors through the muck and celery districts between South Haven and Kalamazoo and thence to East Lansing for a banquet. In the evening event, Dr. I. E. Melhus, head of the Iowa State College botany department at Ames, is to lead a discussion on "The Role of the Phytopathologists in the Present Emergency."

Saturday, July 12, is to be devoted to a study of current work at Michigan State College. The visitors will see experiments useful in studying transmission of peach virus, breeding of celery for disease resistance, snapdragon rust resistance work, the studies of bacterial ring rot in potatoes and the root rot disease in pine at the college Pinetum. Other departments such as soils, farm crops, horticulture and botany will cooperate.

Smartly-Styled Knitted Clothes Ideal for Town, Country Wear

and white and tricot cord, both machine knitted of lightweight wool, make a wonderful casual suit for the country, as shown centered in the group. The softly tailored one-button jacket with deep revers has narrow yellow zephyr knit piping as its only trimming. This is a woolknit that won't sag or stretch, the perfect costume for casual country wear.

There is fine opportunity in the knitted realm to mix and match skirts and jackets. While most of the newer knit skirts have the pleated look there are also skirts with stylish gored flares. In jacket styles one finds endless variety. Wrist-length tailored jackets, often with small notched collars, novelty gold buttons and four patch pockets, are leaders.

One very stylish jacket is the shorter-than-wrist-length type, with slight easy blousing above a belted waistline. Stripes are often favored in jackets worn with plain skirts.

In dresses a popular choice is wool chenille that looks as if it is hand-knitted. Also a favorite is a collarless line plaid wool knit model with round neck, and buttons down to the waist.

Jacket sweaters are very important. They are interesting because of their novelty and variety. The cable stitch cardigan, which comes well down over the hips is a favorite type.

Novel trims in endless variety add zest to the jacket mode. One of the interesting decorative touches is narrow fringe made of the yarn of which the jacket is knitted. Enthusiasm for things knitted is reflected in a revived vogue for swim suits that are fashioned most intriguingly, a favorite model being striped and styled along princess lines. Red and white is the most popular color combination.

Underbrim Flowers

Here's how flowers are being worn on the underbrims of the new large summer hats. Those pictured are bright yellow. Milliners everywhere will tell you that there's nothing smarter than a touch of yellow on your chapeau. The biggest flower news of all is that it is very smart to pin natural flowers on your hat. Lots of girls have put roses and even orchids, real ones, on their hats. The hat above is black felt, tied on with a black tulle bow.

Fresh mimosa sprays are on the underbrim. The suit worn is black faille silk, with a snugly fitted jacket, over a Val lace and white batiste blouse.

Nylon Dresses

Nylon dresses are making their debut in the better-dress sections of leading stores. Daytime styles include afternoon types in navy with cape shoulders and finely pleated skirts. A model in black has an all-over shirred jacket.

Evening styles, including dinner and more formal gowns, have crisp full skirts.

Tissue-Like Crinkle Sheers

To Predominate in Summer

The major trend is "sheers for summer." There is a sheer character about most of the new summer fabrics. Perhaps this trend is most notable in the new tissue-like crinkle sheers. These come in dark as well as light flowery prints and therefore are practical, being washable and ever so good looking.

Cloque organdies in delicately flowered prints, marquisettes, tissue voiles, processed so as to be non-wrinklable, are all on the first-in-fashion fabric list.

The topic-making conversation throughout style centers at the present moment is black sheers for summer. Best-dressed women are voicing widespread favor for costumes done in black sheer. Perhaps this is a natural reaction to the wild color extravaganzas that has taken the world of fashion by storm. But whatever the reason, the fact remains that thin dresses and suits for summer are being given an earlier-than-usual promotion. Black sheers are referred to as "siren black," "black magic."

Hats of black shirred net, some huge of brim, will be worn this summer. Milliners are also turning out handsome large hats made of exquisite black lace. The vogue for black sheer is even extending to hosiery.

Roses, Strawberries Vie For Popularity in Prints

Roses and strawberries are contestants in the summer fashion picture. When you go "print" shopping, keep your thoughts centered on roses and strawberries. It is an open question as to which is leading in the print mode.

The rose theme appears in every conceivable form from tiny sweetheart roses to huge American Beauties.

The same may be said of strawberries. The very newest prints play up the strawberry in realistic colors.

Pioneer Gathering—

At the reunion of the old settlers, held in the Deford Church on Thursday, only 35 persons were in attendance. Those of the second and third generations evidently are forgetting those pioneers who made our present pleasant surroundings possible. We consider that the program presented was a very good one. The reminiscences given by Howard Retherford in the address of welcome, and those given by Mrs. Walter Schell in the response, also in the short addresses given by Mrs. A. J. Knapp of Cass City and Dr. George Bates of Kingston, were very interesting. Mrs. Ella Vance of Cass City was very entertaining in the selections given and which were also written by her.

A trio number was given by Mrs. Mack Little, piano, Miss Hacker, violin, and Miss Maxine Horner, voice. Mrs. Lloyd Hicks gave a reading, "Betsy and I Killed the Bear."

The third Thursday of June, 1942, the gathering will again be in the Deford Church.

Robert Brown of Caro was re-elected president, Henry Harris succeeds himself as vice president, Mrs. Phebe Ferguson was elected secretary-treasurer, and Mrs. Walter Kelley, program chairman.
