A telegram received by the Tuscola County Draft Board Wednesday morning to postpone the induction of men who had attained the age of 28 years on July 1, or previous to that date, will eliminate four from the quota who will leave the county on July 8 for the Detroit induction center. They are Edgar Sherman, Mayville; Lyle Murray, Akron; Harland Legg, Kingston; and Elmer Mills.

The telegram came to the county board from national headquarters and the order was given immediate effect.

183 Register Tuesday.

Canada Looks to U. S. as Ally in 'Fight for Freedom'

War Propaganda Bobbed Up in Speeches Given by Host Officials at Dinners.

By Gene Alleman, Secretary of Michigan Press Association.

Lansing—Well, folks, we're in the war!

I had to go to Canada to find it out. For the past eight days I have been touring Old Ontario from Toronto to North Bay and from Ottawa, the dominion's capital, to Niagara Falls, as a guest of Canadian newspapers and the Province of Ontario.

While the junket was for tourist promotion rather than for war propaganda, the latter persistently bobbed up in speeches given by host officials at luncheons and dinners.

American editors heard Premier Mitchell Hepburn at Toronto and J. L. Ralston, dominion minister of national defense, at Ottawa. It can be stated without contradiction that Canada looks to a friendly neighbor but as an ally in what the British Empire grimly regards to be our common "fight for freedom."

Pink and White Setting Sunday at McComb-Collins Rites

A color scheme of pink and white was carried out in decoration when Miss Harriett McComb, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Floyd McComb, of Cass City, and Mr. Asel B. Collins of Cass City, son of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Collins, of Caro, were united in marriage at high noon on Sunday, June 29, at the McComb home. Rev. Frank B. Smith, pastor of the Baptist Church, officiated.

The ceremony was performed in front of the bay window in the McComb living room where tall baskets of pink roses and white lilies and a lattice-work of pink and white streamers formed a beautiful background. While the forty guests were assembling, Mrs. Stanley McArthur played wedding music, and Mrs. William Burns, sister of the bride, and Mrs. Fay McComb sang "O, Promise Me." As the wedding march was played, the bride approached the improvised altar with her father.

The bride's floor-length dress was of white marquisette trimmed in lace. Tiny buttons closed the back, and a long veil trimmed in lace fell from a lace cap edged in seed pearls. Miss Wilda Collins of Caro, sister of the groom and maid of honor, wore blue marquisette trimmed with lace and pink velvet ribbons. The bride carried delicate pink roses tied in blue ribbon, and the maid of honor carried a similar bouquet tied in pink.

Frank H. McComb of Cass City, brother of the bride, assisted as best man. Little Beverly Ann McComb, niece of the bride, dressed in pink organdy, carried a basket of pink roses in her role as flower girl.

After the ceremony, a wedding dinner was served at two long tables on the lawn under a tent by friends of the bride, Ella Mae and Ersel Glaspie, Rhea Gruber and Jean Tate, who wore pink and white aprons and caps. Place cards with pink wedding bells and a bride's cake and a groom's cake adorned the tables.

Mrs. Collins has been an alumna of Cass City High School less than a year.

July 4, 1776—Declaration of Independence—July 4, 1941

When Thomas Jefferson and his colleagues wrote the Declaration of Independence, they set forth for all time the basic principles of true democracy. They are just as true today as they were when they were adopted on July 4, 1776.

Almost insurmountable problems faced the tiny republic when it decided to tear itself loose from the powerful British empire. The battles of Lexington and Concord had been fought, and the colonies were actually at war with England, but many persons hesitated to take the irrevocable step of demanding independence. To explain and justify the decision to establish a new, democratic nation, the Founding Fathers wrote the Declaration of Independence.

NYA Out-of-School Program Aids 58 Tuscola Youth

Principal Project in the County Is Construction of Millington Farm Shop.

During the fiscal year ending June 30, 58 Tuscola County youth have been aided by the out-of-school work program of the NYA, according to a report from Orin W. Kaye, state NYA administrator.

Principal project in the county is construction of a farm shop building at Millington on which work has begun December 11, 1940. Much of the work done thus far was accomplished during the winter, in spite of adverse weather conditions. This one-story structure, when completed in August, will provide space for vocational educational training for both school youth and adults.

Clerical projects are supplying assistants to the offices of the bureau of social aid, county agricultural agents, sheriff, register of deeds and Cass City High School. Three girls who are working in the bureau of social aid office have secured private employment. Two boys are now working in that office.

Two mattress making projects are located at Deford and in the Wells Township Hall. Five girls and four boys on these projects are expected to make 500 mattresses at an approximate cost of $1.50 each. The mattresses will be given to low income families in the community.

At a project located in the state highway garage at Caro, ten NYA boys made a miniature park which was used as an exhibit at the Sportsman's Show in Saginaw.

At Cass City High School four boys are engaged in the construction of a janitorial supply room.

Last-Minute Warning to Drive Carefully

Excessive Speed Is One of the Major Causes of Holiday Accidents.

A last-minute warning to Michigan motorists to "slow down" over the Fourth of July holiday period lest there be a repetition of the Memorial Day tragedy in which 49 persons were killed in traffic accidents, was issued early this week by State Highway Commissioner G. Donald Kennedy.

"Excessive speed," Kennedy declared, "was one of the major causes of the fatal crashes during the Memorial Day period. By the simple process of reducing our speed, we can save many human lives."

Kennedy also hailed the work of the Boy Scouts and members of the Juniors Chambers of Commerce throughout the state in the distribution of auto stickers as a fine example of the interest being taken in the "49 Too Many" safety campaign now in progress. By their work, 750,000 motorists have been enlisted in the safety drive.

Said the commissioner: "Response to the governor's plea for cooperation of all citizens, all state, county and municipal officials to join in a great effort to reduce traffic deaths has been outstanding. Now it is up to the motorists by driving sensibly to make our highways safe over the dangerous period just ahead."

Calling attention to the fact we are now entering the worst month in the year for accidents, Kennedy Turn to page 4, please.

Chris Schwaderer, who is 88 years of age, and his daughter, Mrs. Leola Smith, left Wednesday for Colorado to visit in the home of their daughter and sister, Mrs. Hersey Young, at Fort Morgan. The trip from Detroit to Denver was made by plane.

Over 200 Attend Vacation Bible School Here

Children from 18 Rural School Districts Come in Busses and Private Cars.

A group of over 200 Presbyterian, Evangelical, Community, Baptist, Methodist, Nazarene, United Brethren, Mennonite and Church of Christ children may seem to be a heterogeneous assembly, and yet they made a united group when attending the Bible School at the Baptist Church for the eight days of vacation school. Closing exercises were held Wednesday evening, when parents and friends were invited to attend Demonstration Night. Three busses and four private cars brought in children from 18 different rural school districts in about a 10-mile radius of Cass City to supplement the group of children who attended from town to make an average attendance of over 200 children each day.

The Bible School hours were from 9:00 to 11:30 each day except Saturday and Sunday. The activities consisted of Bible memorizing, Bible drill, chorus singing, Bible stories, object lessons, and Bible Turn to page five, please.

Marl Bed Is Being Opened at Cass City

Ernest L. Schwaderer, manager of the Cass City Sand and Gravel Company, is superintending the excavation of 1,000 yards of marl from a bed in a 10-acre plot of the William Schwaderer Estate in Section 34, Elkland, located about a mile south of Cass City. The marl is being dug by a gasoline crane from deposits approximately five feet in depth and will be offered to farmers for liming their land. Should there be sufficient demand for the product, a large supply is available at that bed.

The marl is reported a very good grade by the Michigan State College. Two tests made by the college show an average of 93% calcium carbonate.

Two Rob One Night and Spend Next in County Jail

Sheriff Homer Hillaker Makes Short Work in Nabbing Young Bandits.

Sheriff Homer Hillaker made short work of locating and capturing two young men charged with holding up the country store of Ernest Reid at East Dayton on Wednesday night, June 25. The next afternoon Sheriff Hillaker came upon the youths in a hay field near Kingston, drew his gun and handcuffed Steve Cobar, 17, and Edward Holmes, 19, both of Ecorse. Before he had marched them 15 rods to his car, the youths confessed the hold-up, the sheriff said. The gun, a .32-calibre revolver, used in the robbery, was found behind the seat of the auto which had been used by the young men.

Slightly over $22 of the $28.75 which the two are alleged to have taken from the store at the point of a gun were recovered by the officer. Mrs. Reid, wife of the proprietor, and a woman customer were the only ones in the store at the time of the robbery.

Officers learned that the car used by the robbers Wednesday night bore an Indiana license plate and Thursday the sheriff learned that Turn to page 4, please.

The Bad Axe Grain Company suffered a loss between $40,000 and $50,000 when fire destroyed their elevator and coal sheds at their Carsonville branch Friday. The blaze started shortly after seven o'clock in the evening in the elevator and spread to the coal sheds and depot. Grass fires and flying sparks endangered nearby residences.

Firemen from Deckerville, Sandusky, Crosswell and Lexington assisted members of the Carsonville Fire Department and the flames were brought under control late Friday night.

INDEPENDENCE DAY.
On July fourth, 1776, a step was taken in the long battle for human liberty which was probably the largest advance that cause ever made in history. For on that day, the American people decided that the old restrictions that had obstructed their freedom were to be cast aside, and a new nation was to be born, based on democratic and republican principles, thus ending the rule of kings and tyrants.
The Declaration of Independence, under which the United States proclaimed its birth as a nation, had effects that spread all over the world. It inspired similar movements in many lands. When these foreign countries saw the United States winning a war through these principles, and saw it after the war, gaining in power and progress, they were moved to promote democratic movements of their own.

England steadily became more democratic, and democratic ideas spread in Europe. South America was swept by democracy, and all the countries of that continent eventually threw down the rule of kings and established republican governments.

These great changes would never have happened, if the American people had not given the first successful example on a big scale of the possibility of such governments.
The philosophers had dreamed of human freedom for centuries, but our people were the first to make the principle of democracy a great practical force in the world.

It is the sad fate today that many countries which had been democratic have come more or less under the power of dictators or partly so. Our people should show their faith that this is only a temporary reaction, and that freedom is bound in the end to triumph, by an enthusiastic celebration of their Independence Day. The celebration should show what democracy really means, that it calls for education, intelligence, generosity, and good citizenship.

A local man recently returned from a cross country trip. "The thing I noticed most," he said,
"was how little the people in many of the towns know about their own town and how little they try to sell it to strangers. Each town that we stopped at on our trip we would ask the filling station man what were the chief points of interest in his town. Most of them replied by saying that there wasn't anything of special interest about the town that they knew of.
On a number of occasions on talking later to others we discovered that there were some very interesting things about the town that we wouldn't have missed for anything.
The experience gave us the idea that most every tourist is interested in seeing the interesting things of the town that he passes through.
Local citizens of a town should see that every tourist who indicates a desire to see the interesting things of the town gets an opportunity to do so. It is possible that long association with the things a town has caused the local residents to cease to think of them as interesting. It is well to remember, however, that to the tourist who has never seen them they may be very interesting. Let's tell all the tourists who give us a chance the very interesting points about our town."

In the resignation of Charles Evans Hughes the United States Supreme Court, and the country as well, loses one of the greatest minds and characters of American public life. Few men have given the degree and quality of service to the country that Mr. Hughes gave.
For many years in high and influential positions he has been afforded the opportunity to give to the fullest to the nation his genius and his high type of talent.

Some one has figured out that 12,000 tons of tin cans are dumped annually in this country. The sad part of it is that many of them are dumped along the highways leading into town.

It was a surprise to everyone to learn that only about $75,000,000 in aid has been delivered to England. Most of the aid to date has been on paper.

It was not necessary for commencement speakers this year to warn the listening graduates that an uncertain future lies before them.

Two Minute Sermon

By Thomas Hastwell.

The Good Things I Have Done Today.

I overheard a man remark this week that he thought he was a pretty fair sort of a citizen. He said, "I do not wrong my neighbors, I do not get drunk, I do not break the laws,
I do not mistreat my family," and so on. I think there are, perhaps, many who live the type of life this man is living. They pride themselves on the mean things they do not do. They are no doubt entitled to credit for refraining from committing many of these acts if they are tempted to commit them, to steal, and cheat, and wrong their neighbor, and mistreat their families.

But how much better is it for a man, instead of adopting an attitude of mere negative goodness, to look upon the good things he has done. He may not rob his neighbor, but what good things has he done for him?
He may have abstained from many wrong and evil things, but what good thing has he done?

Rather than come to the end of the day with a collection of sins from which one has abstained, how much better, how much more satisfactory and worthwhile it is to say, Lord, here are the good things I have done today.

Parker, at Unionville. Mr. Parker

ston, formerly of Grant. All are

Sings Merrily On

Undaunted by a bomb which demolished his home, this canary sang merrily on when an air raid warden found him after a recent air raid on London. The bird was unharmed by the debris which covered its cage.

Advices Tune-up on Farm Repairs

"Lead," "register" and "shear" are three tune-up terms useful this summer to farmers whose labor problems are accentuated by movement of the usual extra farm labor into defense industries and army training camps.

Hours and days saved by proper preparation are involved in the suggestions offered by E. C. Sauve, member of the agricultural engineering department at Michigan State College. Mowers and combine harvesters are especially recommended for advance tune-up jobs.

Mowers with proper "lead" are adjusted so that the outer end of the cutter bar is about 1 1/4 inches ahead of the inner end when the end of the tongue is 32 inches above ground. In operation, the pressure of the grass moves the cutter back so it is in a straight line.

A mower is in register when the center of the section lines up with the center of the guard at the dead center positions. Substituting a pitman not suited for the mower is frequent cause for lack of register.

Shear is the proper relation between the stationary guard plate or ledger plate and the moving sections attached to the sickle bar.
Parts should run close but not binding. Parts must be in good condition.

On the combine, according to Sauve, the cutting mechanism can be checked as for a mower. Other parts can be brushed with a mixture of kerosene and lubricating oil to loosen parts rusted. After harvest, another brushing is advised so that further rusting will not occur.

Don't Cut Skins
Do not cut the skins from apples when making applesauce. Remove blossom end, stem and parts that are not good. When thoroughly cooked, put through a coarse sieve.
Made in this way the skins give the sauce a pink coloring.

Boon to Amateur Cook
A boon to the amateur cook is the

Shake Quilts While Drying
Launder quilts in warm, sudsy waeral times while drying and they will not need pressing.

Breaking Price Regulations

A PLEA FOR HUMANITY

By FRED W. BRAUN, the Safety Man.

"459 Americans Killed in Action." If you read that headline in this paper you'd be appalled at this terrible loss of life. Your fighting spirit would be kindled and you'd shout "revenge!" Well, that's exactly what happened last Memorial Day, just a few weeks ago, but there were no glaring headlines!

These people did not die in battle, they died in accidents—most of them in Automobile Accidents, and the peculiar aspect of this tragedy is the placid manner with which it is noted by the public. Is this sort of thing to be expected? Are we to continue to pay this terrible price every holiday on the calendar? Do we have to have wars to awaken us to the value of life, comfort and happiness?

What can be said to make people realize that there is no difference in death and injury on the battlefield and the same fate on the highway? A life is lost —it makes no difference how or why. If someone put a gun in your hand and told you to go forth and engage an enemy with the same weapon, you'd shudder—and perhaps resist, yet that's exactly what happens when you start out in your car on a crowded highway. Chances are if you're careful you'll avoid the enemy, "accident," and get to your destination and return safely. But one false move of carelessness and the enemy is upon you and your life—and often those with you—may be snuffed out in a second.

While it is true the safest place to enjoy the Fourth of July is on your own front porch with your car in the garage, it is not the intention of this writer to advocate staying at home. It is the principle of safety that is emphasized—safety on the highway—care, caution, and common sense! Stay alert, Stay on the Safe Side, Stay Alive!

Polish Saves Finish
Strong light eventually will damage the finish of a car that is left parked in the sun for long periods. Such damage is less likely if the car finish is kept clean and coated with a high grade auto polish.

Prohibited Eating Onion
The ancient Egyptian religion prohibited the eating of onions, but garlic was generously used.

Battle of Bunker Hill
The Battle of Bunker Hill was fought on Breed's hill. The original Bunker hill was about 2,000 feet away.

Coon's Age
A coon's age is an indefinite length of time, such as the number of years a raccoon may be expected to live.

DO YOU KNOW ABOUT THE NEW MAGAZINE TRUE COMICS?

IT IS different because it contains blood-tinting, exciting picture stories about real flesh and blood heroes, the heroes who made and are making history. Adventure stories that are all true and therefore more amazing than the impossible imaginary characters in other comics.

ASK YOUR NEWSDEALER TO RESERVE A COPY FOR YOU
Read it yourself on the way home. You will like it. It is so popular that each issue is snapped up by eager readers soon after reaching the newsstand. Mothers, fathers and educators everywhere acclaim it as a solution of the disturbing comic-reading habit of both boys and girls that is so much condemned by all who care how children spend their reading time.

No one offered a satisfactory answer to this problem until PARENTS' MAGAZINE launched this new publication that the world has been waiting for. ## Striking Prints News for Summer

Self-Fabric Trimmings Add Color, Life.

By CHERIE NICHOLAS

Prints this season are being used in many novel ways. The idea of self-fabric trim is the basic theme. Lending beauty to even the simplest daytime print frocks are decorative pockets and other trimming details of allover shirred self fabric. With equal attractiveness, other pockets are made of self-fabric ruching.

If you make your own summer print frocks you will find these little touches are easy to add, and they really work wonders in giving a frock a professional look. Another clever trick is to get some of the printed material finely knife-pleated, from which you can cut yokes and pockets.

A neat self-fabric treatment that you may like to try is the covering of button molds. These do not have to have the expert finish of buttons to be used as fasteners. By tacking these covered molds firmly together you can form cunning little decorative pockets matching them with designful button motifs at the neckline and on the belt.

Beautiful effects are achieved by cutting out flower motifs of the print and forming a border of them to finish off edges of yokes, pockets, sleeves, or hemlines.

However, it is the use of print appliques for evening wear that is making news. Gowns of monotone sheers are splashed here and there with appliques of enormous flowers, cut from the spectacular prints which are so fashionable for dine and dance party frocks. The flowers are so deftly applied that they look as if they were handpainted on their sheer backgrounds. In some instances, the skirt is entirely of the print, with a single cutout flower applied to the bodice, or vice versa.

So you see—prints trimmed with self prints are fast fashion news for summer, equally as important and applicable to daytime as to evening apparel.

Sheer Blouses

A sheery lacy blouse of the sort pictured is the answer to fashion's new lingerie trend. You can't have too many frilled, lace-trimmed blouses this season. With the variety of suits and the emphasis on blouse and skirt fashions, a blouse on this order becomes an absolute "must" in every wardrobe. The wide waistband can be tucked under the skirt or worn over it when the jacket is removed.

Fads and Fancies

If you want to give extra oomph to your simple daytime black or navy gown, try fastening the blouse down the front with three white flower buttons. Daisies show up effectively as do also large white lacy plastic disks. You can get white rose buttons too.

To look "like a picture" at home, wear one of the new cover-all pinafores. A few seasons ago the pinafore was revived for children, but this summer it has become a "must have" for every feminine member of the household. Make yours of gay eye-catching wash weaves. You can have them as ruffled and colorful and flowery as you please. The full all-round apron skirt ties in a big starched bow at the back, and the over-the-shoulder top is as feminine as can be.

Flower earrings that key to the flowers on your hat is fashion's latest whim. Ask for these new plastic flower earrings at the costume jewelry counters and be sure to wear your most flattering flower-trimmed hat so as to match the flower motifs in a pleasing ensemble. Add a flower bracelet if you care to.

Open Necklines, Cape

Sleeves Add Comfort
Necklines of summer dresses are different. Open necklines are being featured not only in the deep V-line but in the wide open U-shape as well. Round, square and triangular necklines also will be seen. These are edged with lace or are jauntily frilled.

Sleeves are just as new in type as necklines. The trend is more and more toward cape or roomy dolman sleeves that give the soft round shoulder effect.

Two new improvements in Cass City recently are the screened porch on the front of the Stanley McArthur home which was built almost entirely by the owner, and the sidewalk on the north side of Pine Street between Ale and Woodland.

Hot summer breezes suggested a boat trip to Mr. and Mrs. Clare Tuckey of Cass City and Mr. and Mrs. Carmen Warner of Brown City. For several days last week they went to Ludington, took a ferry across to Manitowish, Wisconsin, and came back to the Thumb via Chicago and Lansing.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles King of Pontiac were guests of Mrs. King's mother, Mrs. Hiram Willis, for the week-end. On Sunday, they and Mr. and Mrs. Alton Mark attended the Willis reunion at the Sanilac County Park at Forester. Among the 75 who attended the reunion, Mrs. Willis especially enjoyed chatting with the woman who took her to school for the first day many years ago.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Bullock and two children of Carmel, Indiana, are guests for a week at the home of Mr. Bullock's parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Bullock, in Evergreen Township. Clarence Bullock, who was graduated from the Cass City High School in 1927, says that Indiana had some warm days in June. "Last Friday, the thermometer registered 100 degrees in the shade," he said.

"It looks as though I would not get home much before the first part of August," writes Mrs. R. N. Holsapple, who is visiting friends in New York. Among her many interesting experiences, she describes this one: "We drove out into a couple of small towns near Jamestown where we had gone to the country schools together, and had so much fun getting our old friends to guess who we were, for some of them I had not seen for about 40 years. Most of them guessed my friend, but had to give up when it came my turn."

Colors Are Fresher, Dress Is Lovelier!

Friday morning, Mr. and Mrs. Hoskin, his mother and sister, both of Yale, will leave to spend the Fourth and the week-end in Lincoln, Michigan, visiting relatives. They will return home Sunday.

Too much insistence doesn't pay, decided Miss Elsie Buehrly, Sunday. When Miss Buehrly was physically urging the family dog to go after the cows, the animal objected by knocking her over and biting her several times. Miss Buehrly is still surprised when she sees the black and blue marks and the teeth indentations on her arms and legs, because the dog was usually a mild creature.

Mrs. Lenzner's sister, Mrs. George Mast, is still confined to her bed in her Sebawaing home.

Miss Emma Lenzner's birthday did not go unheeded on Saturday, June 28, this year. Twelve of her friends had a surprise birthday party for her on that day when they chatted, ate ice cream and wafers, and presented Miss Lenzner with a handkerchief shower. Many more friends remembered her with birthday cards through the mail. On Sunday, June 22, a birthday dinner in her honor was given at the William Simmons home near Gagetown.

Poor Old Dobbin has been supplanted again for it seems each year brings modern machinery to new uses and the farm horse is shoved into the background. The regulation farm wagon with hayrack and hay were donated by Charles Peasley, but the horse-power to haul the gay youngsters consisted of a farm tractor from the E. E. Binder farm. stated that last year 129 persons were killed on Michigan's highways and streets during the month of July. Of this number, 29 lost their lives during the Fourth of July holiday period, for an average of 5.8 deaths per day. It was shown the state suffered an economic loss of $3,900,000 from this cause in addition to the incalculable amount of human suffering followed from it.

Traffic on Michigan highways, already up as much as 30 per cent over last year, is expected to reach an all-time new peak over the three-day holiday period just ahead. "Fatal crashes," Kennedy warned, "will also show a sharp increase unless extreme caution is exerted by all motorists."

Because Michigan lakes and streams will attract hundreds of thousands of motorists as the nation celebrates its independence, trunkline highways are expected to be taxed to capacity. "If Michigan motorists would consult highway maps when planning their holiday trips," Kennedy suggested, "they could choose less traveled roads, especially for short trips, that would greatly relieve crowded conditions on the main arteries and would undoubtedly result in less accidents."

Kennedy pointed out that highways have been put in the best possible condition for the influx of recreational motorists and that highway facilities, such as roadside parks and picnic tables, would be inspected and cleaned daily during the holiday period for their convenience.

Bell, agricultural engineer, Michigan State College, will be in charge.

a car answering the description had been seen in the yard of a farm home, two miles west and a mile north of Kingston. It was at this farm that Mr. Hillaker located the two youths in a hay field and the arrest was made.

Sheriff Hillaker has notified the federal government of the youths' admitted violation of the Dyer Act in transporting a stolen automobile from one state to another.

The two young men pleaded guilty in circuit court Friday and were remanded to the custody of the sheriff to await sentence.

The flesh of healthy dogs will be dried and used as fodder. Dogs not so palatable, and the inedible parts of "eating dogs" will be converted into fertilizer to help increase rice production. Hides will be tanned for army shoe leather. Japan's dog population is estimated at 1,000,000 and the potential annual increase is estimated at 500,000. Annually 250,000 have been used for fertilizer.

Pleasant Home Hospital Was Opened Here 35 Years Ago

Thursday, July 10, marks the 35th anniversary of the opening of the Pleasant Home Hospital in Cass City. Dr. D. P. Deming, its founder, started remodeling the building in 1905 which up to that time had been occupied by the doctor's office, the Chronicle newspaper plant and the office of the Moore Telephone Company's exchange.

On the day of the opening of the hospital, July 10, 1906, the meeting of the Tuscola County Medical Society was held in Cass City and members of the fraternity were among the visitors at the hospital. Dr. and Mrs. D. P. Deming entertained the members of the society at their home on South Seeger Street, at a four-course five o'clock luncheon. Those present included Mrs. Clark, Livingston and Meredith of Caro, Dr. A. R. Arty of Mayville, Drs. McKenzie and Handy of Watrousville, Dr. Bates of Kingston, Dr. Howell of Deford, Dr. K. M. Morris of Gagetown, Dr. Carey of Novesta, Dr. Truesdell of Shabbona, and Drs. Treadgold, Hayes and Wickware of Cass City.

CIRCUIT COURT

Robt. Sherman of Flint, arrested on a charge of assault and battery with intent to do great bodily harm less than the crime of murder, following a beer garden brawl in Millington, appeared in circuit court June 26. The jury, given their choice of determining his guilt, if any, on one of three counts, decided Sherman chargeable with assault and battery. Judge Louis Cramton assessed a fine of $100 and costs of $75.

Arthur Gates was found guilty of contempt of court because of neglect of alimony payments. He promised to pay $5 weekly payments until the indebtedness was cleared.

Julius Zelent was given a judgment against R. Ferworn and Sophia Ferworn in the amount of $445.15. Costs of $7.10 were added to the amount.

The jury found no cause for action in the case of Elmer Colling vs. Arthur Hemer, a case appealed from justice court.

Two divorces were granted, one in the case of Wanita Bellamy vs. Donald B. Bellamy and the other in the case of Thelma Sugden vs. Mark Sugden. In the case of Norman Rhodes vs. Mamie Rhodes, the bill of complaint was denied by the court.

Norman Reiness was found guilty of non-support and was placed in the custody of the sheriff.

Joseph Crowell of Midland, former Vassar upholsterer, was remanded to the custody of Sheriff Homer Hillaker for failure to meet the terms of his probation. Convicted of larceny, Crowell had been ordered to make restitution and records showed that he was back about $300 in his payments. Judge Cramton said that $10 must be paid at once and $5 subtracted by his employer each week from Crowell's pay check and this amount forwarded to the court's clerk.

Leonard Guilds and Warren Kehoe, both of Cass City, appeared in court on similar charges. Convicted more than a year ago of larceny of parts from a drag-line power excavator belonging to Lewis Powell of Kingston, they were placed on probation and were ordered to make restitution of $100. Guilds was ordered Monday to pay $10 every two weeks until he had met the terms of his sentence. Kehoe is to do the same as soon as he recovers from an illness.

Items Gleaned from Reading Columns of the Chronicle's Exchanges.

Senator Prentiss B. Brown of Michigan has sent the name of Leon B. Atkins to the Postmaster General with the recommendation that his status as acting postmaster at Vassar, Tuscola County, be changed to that of permanent postmaster.

Two Fairgrove High School instructors return to that school for their eighth year next September. They are Raymond Garner, superintendent, and Carl Larson principal and athletic coach. Two others will start their third year there, Miss Barbara Wiggan of Byron, home economics teacher, and Miss Mary Panches of Belding as intermediate room instructor. Miss Wilma Hem of Illinois will return as English instructor and Miss Anna Marie Brand of Toledo is the new head of the primary department.

The warring nations of Europe were not the originators of black-out. Sebawaing has carried on the idea for years. "We do not, however, darken town out of fear of death-dealing aircraft but as a means of affording some measure of protection against the loathsome shshy," says the Sebawaing Blade.

"We have long since learned that by cutting off street lights and darkening store and home windows millions of the detestable winged pests pass us by on their nightly flight from the breeding grounds in the shoal waters along the bay shore. There's a new hatch each day, and the peak flight usually comes during three or four nights toward the end of June when billions of the flies emerge from the water to begin their short span of a day. To the majority the flies are at the most an annoying nuisance, but those individuals, who are allergic to them suffer symptoms not unlike hay fever—swollen eyes, congested nasal passages and coughing, plus an uncomfortable, itchy skin. We never could see the why of a fish fly."

When the truck driven by Carl E. Wilcox of Caro got out of control as it came down a hill in Lapeer early one morning last week, it crashed into a telephone pole, sheared it off, ran into a tree, tipped over and scrambled 120 dozen eggs. The truck was carrying 1,380 dozen eggs and 1,200 dozen eggs escaped "injury."

"GOLGOTHA"

The First and Only Talking Motion Picture of the Passion Play to Be Shown Here.

On July 7, ladies of the Methodist Church have arranged to show in the Cass City High School auditorium one of the most unusual talking motion pictures ever made. The title of the picture is "Golgotha," and it is the first and only talking motion picture ever made of the famous Passion Play. This motion picture presents the immortal story of the crucifixion of Christ in a spectacular and impressive manner. Critics everywhere have acclaimed it the greatest picture of its kind ever made. This remarkable picture should be seen by every man, woman and child in this community. A complete set of the finest talking motion picture equipment will be brought to Cass City for the showing of "Golgotha." This equipment includes a special projector, a complete sound system, and a modern screen. As a result, you will be able to see and hear this picture perfectly.

"Golgotha" Was Made at a Cost of $800,000, and with a Cast of Thousands.

"Golgotha" is not an ordinary motion picture. It is a spectacular and thrilling entertainment. In addition to being a highly entertaining and interesting picture, it also renders an outstanding moral, religious and educational service to every community in which it is shown. Golgotha is one of the most costly pictures ever produced. The average feature picture in Hollywood costs approximately $200,000, but it took $800,000 to make the great spectacle, "Golgotha." This is four times the cost of an average feature motion picture made in Hollywood. This will give you some idea as to the size and magnitude of this great picture. It was made in the Old Country, and all speaking parts are in

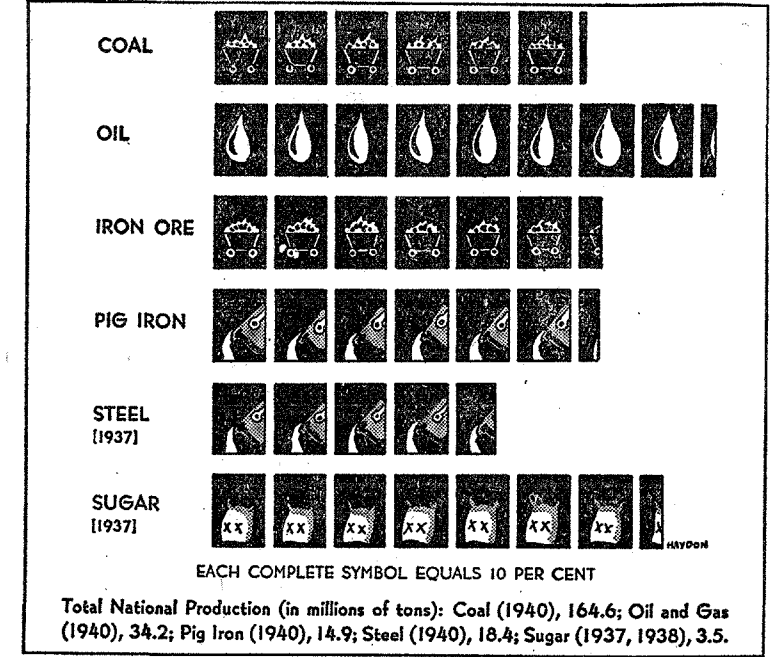

WEEKLY NEWS ANALYSIS

By Edward C. Wayne

Extending of Material Aid to Russia Poses Difficult Problem for British; U. S. Also Studies Soviet Aid Question; Early Reports on Fighting Are Vague

(EDITOR'S NOTE—When opinions are expressed in these columns, they are those of the news analyst and not necessarily of this newspaper.) (Released by Western Newspaper Union.)

Drawn from an authoritative source, the above chart indicates the total amounts of strategic resources produced in the entire Soviet Union. These items come from the Ukraine and Caucasus in the following percentages: Coal, 62; oil, 83; iron ore, 64; pig iron, 63; steel, 47; and sugar, 74. Thus loss of the area represents a tremendous blow to Russia and an important gain for the Nazis. This chart was released by the University of Chicago Round Table.

FIGHTING:

Clouded

The Russo-German war was odd in that it was being carried on without the benefit of war correspondents.

Of little value as they are in modern warfare, where they are scarcely able to keep up with the swiftness of events, and where they are just as apt as civilians of other types to become casualties themselves, they were badly missed in this, the greatest battle from point of numbers and power of all history.

It would have taken an army of them to cover a 2,000-mile front, to begin with, and in the second place, the Nazis barred all correspondents from the front, and the Russians did likewise. The Nazis were using "soldier correspondents," but the feeling among readers of communiques was that they were more than usually uncommunicative.

It was impossible to do more on a war map than to draw hazy lines, with arrows pointed at the districts where one side or the other claimed that the action was taking place.

Estimates of the number of men and machines in action were of the haziest conjecture, running all the way from 100 divisions on a side to 200, and the plane guesses from 2,000 on a side to 4,000.

There were even skeptics on the street who asked "who knows whether there's any fighting at all."

The answer to that was to be found on the Western Front, where bombing of England had been abandoned, and virtually German defense of the air. Hitler, said wiser observers, would not have permitted that unless the "real McCoy" in the way of a war blitz were going on at the Eastern front.

Both sides made the most optimistic claims. The Germans claimed "uncounted" planes shot down and destroyed on the ground; the Russians said the count in the first week was 387 for them, 382 for Germany.

The Germans claimed that they'd wiped out a whole division and that their blitz was moving forward on schedule and that a great victory would be announced momentarily.

The Russians countered with the statement that at no place had the Nazis moved into actual pre-war Russian territory, and that at some points their own troops were on the offensive.

One instance of the difficulty of getting facts from the communiques came in the battle of the Prut river, which the Germans first claimed to have crossed without difficulty; later said they had "established by hard fighting a bridgehead across the Prut," two days after they had previously announced an easy and swift crossing.

As to the Prut, the Russians said "10 barges of the enemy crossed a wide river under cover of a fog, but were hurled back later with terrible losses"—and this river was supposed to be the same Prut.

The Russians claimed Warsaw and Constanta, important cities in Nazi-occupied territory in flames, and heavy damage on Helsinki and Danzig. The Germans said they were burning up Leningrad, Russia's second most populous city.

MISCELLANY:

BROOKLYN, N. Y.: Public school children were given an emergency air raid drill, getting them "in on the ground floor" in case of air attacks on the metropolis.

LONDON: The RAF has 500 young pilots who were born in the United States, according to an official report. Most of them enlisted in Canada.

DAYTON, OHIO: Fred Snite, the "iron lung" daddy, is practicing with a portable outfit that will permit him to walk about.

'Hitler' Aids British

Muddled as the international situation is, here is another incident to add to the confusion. Pictured above is Mrs. Brigid Elizabeth Hitler, wife of Chancellor Adolf Hitler's step-brother, shown at her desk at her first day's work for the British War Relief society in New York. Mrs. Hitler points proudly to Aid Britain pin. Her work with the society is voluntary.

LEASE-LEND:

The Picture

The veil of secrecy surrounding the whole question of lease-lend aid to Britain, which had not been pierced very satisfactorily from the readers' point of view by President Roosevelt's 90-day statement, was pulled aside enough to give a more promising picture.

The disclosure came before the senate's commerce committee. It came in the form of a general survey by a number of shipping lines as to the increase in Red sea cargoes, which, presumably, were mostly of the lease-lend variety.

This was in a discussion of a house-approved bill that would place virtually all merchant ships operating from the U. S. under the control of the Maritime commission.

Ship operators appeared before the committee asking for "just compensation" for themselves and that this be included in the measure.

Then came the reports. One said that a large part of its 32-ship fleet was now in the Red sea business; another reported three ships now en route there; still a third said he had sent four ships there, and that he had 16 others in the same trade.

The attorney of the Maritime commission, testifying for the ship-operators, said the amount of lease-lend cargoes to the Red sea was "enormous."

ANY PANS?

Asks LaGuardia

"Little Flower" LaGuardia got under way his OGD, or civilian defense director, and made his first nation-wide appeal a plan to start a collection of scrap aluminum.

His broadcast appeal called for citizens to contribute everything from pots and pans to washing machines, and he set a goal for the nation of 20,000,000 pounds.

Reception depots will be maintained without charge, LaGuardia said. He asked not only housewives, but all hotels and restaurants to give. He wants everybody to make an inventory of all the aluminum utensils they can spare.

His list included "golf clubs, pots, pans, vacuum cleaners, picture frames, ice trays, measuring cups, kettles, double boilers, jar caps, refrigerator plates, toys and all things like that."

LABOR:

Not at Ease

Despite the final removal of all troops from the plant of North American Aviation, first and only factory to be taken over by the army in order to break a strike, labor was far from at ease, though there were many factors tending to improve the situation.

In the first place, assuming that the Communists actually were in back of some of the labor troubles, they now found themselves fighting for their lives (in Russia) against the Nazis, and as America was pledged to do likewise in the "all-out-aid" program, the Communists changed their front and were less likely to participate in defense strikes.

But, on the other hand, the basic desire of labor for a 75-cent an hour minimum wage as a sort of level at which they'd be willing to work hard and faithfully at most any sort of defense task, seemed not at all reduced, and this was sure to cause outbreaks in the future.

Example

For instance, 5,000 employees of the Sperry Gyroscope company voted to strike. Whether they would carry it out or not was problematical, but the specter of labor trouble was rearing its head in this concern, which makes the all-important bomb-sight.

These workers wanted a blanket 20 per cent wage increase. The company offered an unspecified compromise, then added the words, "take it or leave it."

The workers voted to leave it.

CANADA LOOKS TO U. S. AS AN ALLY IN "FIGHT FOR FREEDOM"

Concluded from first page.

can position by the following simile: "You have left the diving board, but you haven't reached the water yet. As a dive into war, it is the world's slowest motion plunge in history."

This Canadian viewpoint is not wishful thinking.

It merely reflects an acceptance without qualification of President Roosevelt's latest fireside chat.

The President's picture appears beside the picture of Winston Churchill on highway billboards promoting sale of Canadian Victory Bonds. At Toronto Wendell Willkie was accorded a welcome which exceeded in popular enthusiasm the organized reception given to the King and Queen. Dorothy Thompson, the American newspaper columnist, enjoys a fanatical following. Walter Lippman is well liked.

Canada in Clover

Now for some clear-cut impressions of Canada.

First, the dominion is enjoying a boom. Industrial production increased more than 25% in 1940 over 1939, and Canadian arms plants are now turning out guns, shells, and tanks. The gasoline tax was increased recently to 11 cents; the dominion excise tax (a hidden sales tax) is 8 cents.

The second bond loan was oversubscribed in June by more than 100 millions.

Canadians have money. They are spending it. (World War figures: Industrial output soared from 69 millions in 1913 to 489 millions in 1917, mostly in the provinces of Ontario and Quebec; agriculture, 127 to 384 millions.)

Loyal to King

Second, Canada is loyal to the empire and its symbol—the King—in support of the war.

I visited Camp Borden, largest of the dominion's military centers, where 1,100 men are being trained for overseas air service. Army troops, including armored units, number around 12,000 men.

I talked with two Norwegian flyers who are helping to train Norwegian refugees for overseas combat duty.

From the dominion's minister of national defense, a quiet-speaking, square-jawed individual, I learned that Canada's belated re-arming has resulted in sending 80,000 men to England—70,000 in the army and 10,000 in the navy and air force, while 1941 commitments are three divisions and replacement troops.

These men have been, or will be, fully equipped by Canadians at their own expense.

A few Canadian divisions may be only dribbles in contrast to the Nazi flood, estimated at 260 divisions. Yet Canada had only 10,500 men under arms when Hitler invaded Poland and England formally declared war. Like us, they were unprepared.

Friendly to U. S.

This current European mess is doing things to Canada.

And here you run into strange situations.

Canadians seem to be intensely loyal to the empire, yet they have become increasingly friendly with the United States. Economically, Canada is a part of us. Socially, they have more in common with us than with the British. Politically, they are a part of the empire—one of the units in the British Commonwealth of Nations, that loosely drawn system that holds together the outlying possessions ruled with traditional diplomacy from Downing Street, London.

One Canadian newspaperman, born in England, made this surprising statement.

"After all this is over, I hope we will be one country together."

Thinking of the English speaking union plan, I asked him, "Well, how about the King and the titled nobility? Where would they fit into the picture?"

He replied with candor: "They are symbols that are losing much of their traditional meaning. We are having more democracy today than ever before, and we like it. Many Canadians would like to see Canada some day part of the United States."

French Canadians

Everywhere in the province I heard critical comments of the French Canadians because of their alleged lukewarm interest in Canada's war effort and of Prime Minister McKenzie King's latest disposition to temporize with them because of political reasons.

Both criticisms may be unjustified. But there seems to be some ground for them in the fact that Canada's federal parliament at Ottawa has not enacted military conscription for overseas duty.

Home conscription exists in a half-hearted fashion, young men being trained for periods of four months only.

Three-fourths of the inhabitants of the Province of Quebec are of French descent, or French Canadians as we know them. They number three millions out of around eleven million, a force to be reckoned with. Tens of thousands cannot speak English at all.

The Canadian attitude exists that the French citizens of Canada are indifferent to the cause of the empire. Yet these same people are fanatically loyal to Canada itself, their adopted homeland.

The Canadian Effort

In summary, I believe that the following observations are true:

1. Canada is giving more in men and dollars for war than we Americans are for national defense. Their armed force of 250,000 men is an equivalent of 2,750,000 men in the United States. Her spending is on a colossal scale—so much so that one government official said: "We are getting fairly bilious talking about billions."

2. Canada recognizes an economic dependence upon the United States. This relationship has been apparently accentuated by events of the past year.

3. Canada is anxious to have the friendship and patronage of the United States.

4. Canadian leaders apparently are confident that we are becoming their allies.

"Good Yankee Talk"

Witness this statement in an editorial from the Ottawa Citizen, a liberal daily:

"There can no longer be doubt about it. President Franklin Roosevelt is taking the United States into war against Germany."

Again, this excerpt from the same editorial:

"When Mr. Roosevelt some weeks ago proclaimed the Red Sea open to United States shipping, Germany said that any United States ships appearing in the Red Sea would be sent to the bottom. Well, there are 25 United States ships on their way to the Red Sea now, or in the Red Sea; 25 United States ships carrying war supplies for General Wavell's armies. If Germany should sink any one of them, or fire on any one of them, there can be no doubt over what will be the answer of Mr. Roosevelt. His answer will be war—shooting war. Soon or late, that is coming anyway."

That is why, ladies and gentlemen, we're in the war—like it or not.

Such is reality as we found it in Canada.

Cows in 1905 Ate Pumpkins, Straw

Cows in the first cow testing association in America, the Newaygo County, Michigan, association organized in 1905, ate far different feeds than are commonly used today. Their fare included pumpkins, oat straw and buckwheat middlings.

Some of the early records were analyzed recently by A. C. Baltzer, extension dairyman at Michigan State College, to compare with modern feeding and more efficient production that is answering the 1941 call for greater dairy production as a means of national health and national defense.

In the 31 herds in that original association, the average cow in 1905-1906 gave her owner a return over feed cost of $20.99. In that same association today the average cow is giving its owner a return of $73.18 over feed cost.

The average cow in the Newaygo herds more than three decades ago produced 5,336 pounds of milk containing 215 pounds of butterfat. The Newaygo association average cow today is producing 7,065 pounds of milk containing 330 pounds of butterfat.

One bit of progress is found in the records. Every one of the 31 original herds was getting corn fodder, cut dried corn stalks worth $3 to $4 a ton. The most recent check on this feed in the Newaygo association indicated four herds reporting use of corn fodder and only 23 pounds fed to a cow in a season.

Marsh hay, timothy and carrots were other common feeds given the herds in 1905. Not a member reported use of alfalfa either for pasture or hay, although all of the member herds today get alfalfa and receive larger amounts of grain than in 1905.

Newest in Dog Homes

The newest thing in dog homes is a small doghouse with a pillow in it to sleep on and a fence inclosing a small runway fastened right onto the house—very much the same order as play pens for babies.

Scottish Dish Seasoned Plenty

So much salt and cloves went into every Scottish dish in the Fifteenth century that a modern diner's tongue would be pretty well pickled were he to follow accurately one of the old Scottish recipes.

Plenty Water for Car

When washing the car be sure to use plenty of water in order to reduce the chance of scratching the finish with accumulations of dirt and grit which may be adhering to the surface, the Automobile Club of Southern California suggests.

Difficult to Bag

A chamois sheep is difficult to bag because of its fleetness and the fact that it dwells in the highest parts of the Alps.

Wax Paper for Cleaning

Save the wax paper that bread is wrapped in. It is excellent for cleaning off oil and coal ranges after frying or cooking a meal on them.

MRS. BAUER'S ELECTRIC BROODER

On April 3, 1941, Mrs. Owen Bauer placed 308 new-hatched chicks under her electric brooder. Twenty-one days later she had 300 healthy pullets—as fine a flock as you could want to see.

This is nothing new for Mrs. Bauer. Each year she raises chicks with equal success on the Bauer's 166-acre farm in Lodi Township, Washtenaw County. She uses electric brooding because it gives her chicks the finest protection available and makes them develop faster. Dependable temperature control saves time, worry and chicks.

Thousands of other farm families are finding electric brooding the ideal and economical way to successful chick-raising. Your dealer or the Detroit Edison Farm Service man will be glad to answer any of your questions about electric brooding.
