

E. B. Schwaderer Awarded M-81 Paving Contract

Local Contractor's Bid on the Four-mile Improvement Was $137,050.00.

E. B. Schwaderer, Cass City contractor, was awarded the contract for the construction of four miles of concrete pavement on M-81, starting at Caro village and running northeast towards Cass City. Mr. Schwaderer's bid was $137,050, which was approximately $500 less than the next lowest bidder. When this stretch of pavement is completed next spring, there will be left about seven miles of unpaved highway between Cass City and Caro. A portion of the new pavement will follow a new location from Patterson's corners, two miles northeast of Caro, across the farm land of Fred Shafer, with a long sweeping curve back to the present right of way, about a half mile east of the George schoolhouse. This will eliminate two sharp turns, one near the George School and the other at Patterson's corners.

The construction will consist of grading the road, constructing the necessary drainage structures and surfacing with 22-foot 8 1/2 inch plain concrete. The minimum labor wage scale set by the state is: Skilled, $1.12 1/2 per hour; intermediate, 75 cents per hour; unskilled, 50 cents per hour; watchmen, 30 cents per hour.

Curios from China Are Exhibited to Missionary Society

A most interesting meeting of the Woman's Missionary Society of the Evangelical Church was held Friday afternoon in the home of Rev. and Mrs. S. P. Kim. The program chairman was Mrs. Homer Hower and Mrs. E. W. Kercher reviewed the study book, "China Rediscovered Her West."

Mrs. Kim showed and explained curios and other articles which she and Mr. Kim brought from China, after serving some time as missionaries there. Miss Martha Striffler gave an interesting report of the 39th W. M. S. annual convention held recently at Albright Park, Reed City. Mrs. Kim explained the new study book, "The Seed and the Soil," by Richard Terrill Baker and also announced the Women's Missionary Society Branch rally to be held in Bay City on October 9. Miss Susan Bauernfreund, a missionary, who recently returned from Japan, will be the main speaker. The next meeting of the society will be held with Mrs. Samuel Helwig with Mrs. Ray Silvernail as program leader. Guests Friday were Mrs. Kim's mother, Mrs. I. G. Wehling, of Carthage, Illinois, Mrs. Nettie Otis and Mrs. Arminda Ball.

MEN TEACHERS OF SANILAC MEET TUESDAY

The men teachers of Sanilac County will meet Tuesday evening at Lexington for their get acquainted meeting for this school year. Their first session is a dinner meeting at 6:30. Superintendent H. M. Fickle, Lexington, is host for the fall meeting. All men teachers in the county are urged to attend. Reservations should be made with Superintendent Fickle not later than September 27.

Late Summer Extends Season at Oak Bluff and Resorters Return to Enjoy Fine Weather

Probably most people in this part of Michigan witnessed the display of northern lights or Aurora Borealis last Thursday and Friday nights which caused much comment in the press and over the radio. Chicago commentators were especially profuse in their flowery description and we notice in Malcolm Bingay's column in Saturday's edition of the Detroit Free Press his whole column is devoted to an attempt to explain the cause of the phenomena from a scientific standpoint which he finally admits has no sound and positive answer, and in his final statement suggests it may be only an "optical illusion." We do not agree or disagree with this statement but we do know that we were in our usual normal, sound mind, had not had contact with the "cup that cheers," yet illusion or no illusion, we must say that the Aurora was perhaps the most vivid that we have seen in years. Even after the shooting rays had subsided, the after glow continued until after midnight, lighting up the earth and sky like a full moonlight night. Friday night's display, while not so bright and vivid, was equally as interesting to watch. It

Barn on Wallace Farm Destroyed by Fire

The barn and machine shed on the farm of Mrs. James Wallace in Evergreen Township, three and a half miles west of Argyle, were totally destroyed by fire of unknown origin Monday morning. The fire was well under way when discovered at nine-thirty o'clock. Mrs. Wallace's son, Raymond, was able to get the horses out of the stable, but eleven head of young cattle and calves were burned. The barn was well filled with hay and also destroyed were about 1,000 bushels of grain. The loss is partially insured.

Cass City Won from Flint Beecher 20-0 Friday

First Game of Season Finds Locals Aggressive in Offense and Defense.

The Cass City High School football team inaugurated the 1941 football season by handing Flint Beecher a 20-0 beating Friday afternoon on the local field.

Flint kicked off to the Maroon and Grey, who took the ball on their own 30-yard line and on a series of running plays by Profit, Kloc and Strickland, took the ball deep into enemy territory where Kloc plunged through a hole in the line and raced 15 yards to score the first touchdown of the season. Strickland added the extra point by plunging off tackle.

During the second period, the locals carried the ball down to the Beecher eight-yard line and fumbled, Flint recovering. The Cass City line held for no gain on two running plays and forced Beecher to kick from behind their goal line. It was a bad pass from center and Ed Bishop pounced on it for the second touchdown. Root's placekick was blocked.

During the third period, the Flint team was on the march and was down in Cass City territory most of the time. Fumbles took away Turn to page five, please.

Guild Members Hear Address on Prehistoric Cities

Rev. Lester E. Williams, pastor of the Bad Axe Presbyterian Church, was guest speaker Monday evening when the Presbyterian Guild met in the home of Mrs. Leslie Townsend. Mr. Williams was a staff photographer when he spent a year in Palestine for the American Archeological Society and while there was on the staff of several excavating groups, where they were uncovering ancient cities with their monuments. He showed and explained "Caravan City," a selection of pictures taken while in Palestine. Among the places of interest was the city of Petrie, an almost forgotten place in the world today.

Rev. Wendling H. Hastings had charge of devotionals. Assisting Mrs. Townsend were Mrs. M. B. Auten, Mrs. Walter Mann and Miss Alison Milligan.

The next meeting will be held in the church on Tuesday evening, Oct. 21, when an interior decorator from the Hudson store will be the speaker. This will be an open meeting.

FRED KNOBLET AND "CASS CITY KNOBBY"

Fred Knoblet exhibited the champion Hereford steer in the open class at the Michigan State Fair in competition with 60 other steers. The Knoblet animal was also reserve champion of Michigan bred steers and was beaten only by a calf shown by Hendren Bros. of Webberville for grand champion of entire show.

The steer exhibited by Knoblet was selected as a calf from the herd of Herefords of Rinerd Knoblet of Cass City, the young man's father, as a 4-H project. At the state fair auction, this steer sold for 17 cents a pound, a price low in comparison with that bid in former years.

This is the second time that a member of the Cass City Livestock Club has shown a Michigan bred champion in open competition at the Michigan State Fair, according to Willis Campbell, club adviser. The first was exhibited by Carson O'Dell about six years ago.

Bridge Dedication Has Been Postponed

The dedication of the bridge over Cass River at Caro which was scheduled for October 8 has been postponed until Wednesday, October 22. It is planned to carry out the day's program as was outlined in the Chronicle last week.

The bridge completed this summer by Andrew T. Barnes, Cass City contractor, spans the river on M-85 at the eastern limits of the county seat.

20 Osteopaths at Eastern Michigan Society Meet Here

Twenty members of the Eastern Michigan Osteopathic Association attended the September meeting of the society in Cass City Thursday evening, September 18, when Dr. William J. Bradford, Jr., of Detroit spoke on diseases of the eye and their treatment and gave diagnosis hints.

A chicken dinner was served in the home economics dining room at the school building by members of the senior class. Several members of the society were accompanied by their wives and the dinner group numbered 31. Dr. McIntosh of Richmond was toastmaster.

Grange to Celebrate Diamond Jubilee

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Schwegler and Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Blades were hosts and hostesses Friday evening when the Cass City Grange met at the Bird schoolhouse. The program for the evening was in charge of the members having birthdays in September. An old fashioned school, with Mrs. Clifford Martin as teacher, Audley Rawson as school commissioner, and Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Reid, Mrs. Frank Hutchinson, Clifford Martin and Clinton Law as students, furnished a great deal of enjoyment. A number of games were played and a potluck luncheon was served.

The Diamond Jubilee which marks the 75th birthday of the organization of the Grange, will be Tuesday, Sept. 30, and the Cass City society will hold Booster Night that evening at the Bird school with a baking contest, baked goods to be auctioned off later in the evening. The public is invited to attend. A pageant, "History of the Grange," will be given.

The decorating committee for Booster Night is Mrs. M. D. Hart, Mrs. Frank Hutchinson, Mrs. Milton Hoffman. The baked goods committee is Mrs. Joseph Benkelman, Mrs. Ben Schwegler and Mrs. Floyd Reid. A potluck supper will be served after the program.

Final Clean-up

of crepes, spun rayons and figured silks, formerly as high as $4.95 and $7.95; Friday and Saturday at $2.29 at Priesskorn's, Cass City.—Advertisement.

Happenings in Thumb Towns and Villages

Items Gleaned from Reading Columns of the Chronicle's Exchanges.

The United States Marine Band will appear in two concerts at the Municipal Auditorium at Saginaw on Sunday, September 28, at 3:00 and 8:15 p. m. The appearance of this world famous organization is being sponsored by the Exchange Club of Saginaw for the benefit of the Community Chest.

Duck season opens October 1, and in honor of the occasion, Sebewaing has planned a two-day celebration on Friday and Saturday, October 3 and 4. Highlights on the program are trap shooting, motor boat, surf board and duck boat races, boat parade and band concert, trick shot experts, street dancing, clowns, water battle, softball games, wild life exhibits and movies, German band and hunters' ball.

When a live steer ambles into the banquet hall at Lapeer Wednesday, October 15, the diners are to be treated to something new in a combination of entertainment and education. The steer is to be sold on the hoof at auction, with Andy Adams, Litchfield, crying the sale. The stunt is designed also to attract attention to the annual Beef Cattle Sale scheduled for Thursday, October 16. Sponsors of the event include the Michigan Beef Cattle Breeders, Inc., the Lapeer Chamber of Commerce and the extension service of Michigan State College. Forty purebred beef animals are expected to be consigned by prominent Michigan breeders to the sale.

EXTENSION COURSE OFFERED TO TEACHERS

Professor T. R. Stearn of Michigan State Normal College, Ypsilanti, will meet with teachers who are interested in extension work from that institution. The first meeting will be Thursday evening, October 2, at 7:30, in the court room at Sandusky. This course gives undergraduate work which may be applied toward a degree or the renewal of limited certificates.

Crash Go the Old Milk Prices.

Facts on milk and milk prices. Milk prices in Flint are $2.40 per cwt. Members and friends of the United Dairy from Bad Axe, Gagetown, Deford and Cass City will meet at Cass City Town Hall, September 26, at 8:30 p. m. Speakers from Detroit and Flint will attend this meeting. If you would enjoy bigger returns from your milk, come to this meeting and learn the better prices that will be quoted.—Advertisement.

Lieut. Ferris Kercher Lands in Iceland

Lieut. Ferris Kercher sent a cablegram to his parents, dated at Reykjavik, Iceland, on September 18, which read: "Safe in Iceland." The message was received here on Monday.

Frederick Louis Sieland, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clark W. Sieland, of Caro and a graduate of the high school in that village in 1938, has enlisted in the Marine Corps. He has been transferred to the Marine Barracks, Parris Island, S. C. Upon completion of his basic training there, he will request transfer and assignment to the Marine Corps School of Motor Transportation, Philadelphia, Pa. Graduates of this school are assigned to duty with mechanized units of the Marine Corps from Peiping, China, to Iceland.

200 Stars at County Line Meet Here Friday

Eleven Chapters Were Represented in Gathering at the Masonic Hall.

One of the most enjoyable affairs of the Order of Eastern Star year was that held Friday evening in Masonic Hall when Echo Chapter was host to Eastern Stars of Tuscola County. The meeting was sponsored by the County Line officers. About 200 were present, among them guests from Port Huron, Midland, Bay City, Decker, Vassar, Caro, Kingston, Fairgrove, Unionville and Gagetown, as well as Cass City.

Mrs. Arthur Little, Worthy Matron of Echo Chapter, called the meeting to order and little Miss Lois Little sang "America," after which all took part in giving the salute to the flag.

Mrs. Little then presented Mrs. Genevieve Luther, Fairgrove, president of the line officers, who announced the program numbers. Chapters from Unionville, Vassar, Kingston, Gagetown and Cass City presented numbers.

A quartet from Unionville, representing very aged people, sang "When You and I Were Young, Maggie." Vassar gave an old-fashioned spelling bee with an exceptionally disgusted teacher. Kingston and Gagetown presented kitchen bands and Cass City gave a comedy skit, "The Fatal Necklace." Those in the cast were Frank Hall, Nelson Harrison, D. Kroll, Charles Mudge and Leonard Urquhart. The entire program was a laugh from beginning to end.

At the close of the meeting sandwiches, cake, friedcakes, tea and coffee were served.

Mrs. Mary Holsapple of Bay City and Mrs. Anna Ross of Midland, both past Grand Electas, were among the guests.

Man of 87 Takes His Life by Hanging

The body of William Meek, 87, was found hanging in the barn of his brother-in-law, John Wagner, in Indianfields Township on Saturday afternoon, September 20. According to the report filed at the county clerk's office by Coroner Lee Huston, death occurred between the hours of one and four o'clock. Mr. Meek had made his home with his sister, Mrs. John Wagner.

Cass City Fans Send "Larry" MacPhail Best Wishes and Memento from Town of His Birth

When "Larry" MacPhail, president and general manager of the Brooklyn Dodgers, looked over his mail the middle of this week, he found a package from his old home town of Cass City. It contained a picture of his birthplace at the corner of Main and Seeger Streets and all around the photograph were the signatures of thirty or more Rotarians who expressed sentiments such as "Nice going Larry!" and "We're Pulling for You!"

At the bottom of the photograph was the title, "Birthplace of Larry MacPhail," and under this was a line showing that the picture and sentiments came from the Cass City Rotary Club. The photograph showed the Cass City State Bank and the adjoining Lamotte Block. Mr. and Mrs. Curtis W. McPhail, parents of "Larry," occupied the apartment on the second floor over the bank building when the son was born here in 1890.

Cass City fans have watched the sport pages of daily newspapers with unusual interest this season, keeping tab on the Dodgers. The

Red Cross to Start Sewing Project Here Next Monday

Officers of Local Unit Were Chosen Monday to Succeed Themselves.

At the annual meeting of the Cass City Red Cross unit at the Youth Center Monday afternoon, officers were elected to succeed themselves in the positions held the past year. Mrs. J. I. Niergarth is chairman; Guy Landon, vice chairman; and Mrs. E. W. Kercher, secretary-treasurer. Mrs. Guy Landon and Mrs. D. Krug were appointed assistants to Mrs. Niergarth in the sewing department. Reports from different branches were given.

It was decided to open headquarters next Monday afternoon at the Youth Center to sew and knit as garments must be ready for shipment no later than January 1. Anyone interested in devoting time to this worthy cause is requested to call that afternoon.

Jury List for the October Term

Regional Meeting at Riverside Church

A regional young people's meeting comprising the Mennonite Brethren in Christ Churches of the northern Thumb region will be held at the Riverside Mennonite Church, two miles south and two and three-quarters miles west of Cass City, next Sunday afternoon at 2:30.

There will be special music and two speakers on the program: Rev. G. C. Guiliatt of Bad Axe and Rev. H. F. Abbot of the Colfax church. The meeting is open to all who may desire to attend.

SCHOOL BOARD MEMBERS MEET AT CARO TONIGHT

All school board members of rural and graded schools are invited to attend a meeting of the M. E. A. Department of School Board Members Friday, September 26, at 8:00 p. m. at the Caro High School. Dorris Stack of the State Department of Public Instruction will be the speaker.

Brooklyn boys are leading the National League by a narrow margin over the St. Louis Cardinals.

Leland Stanford MacPhail, born in Cass City 51 years ago, spent his boyhood days here and at 16 entered Beloit College. Four years later he went to work for a law firm in Chicago and before he was 25 years of age he became president of a large department store in Nashville, Tennessee. MacPhail was commissioned captain during World War I and he was wounded and gassed at St. Mihiel and in the Argonne. He received much publicity when he and five others drove up to the Kaiser's residence in Holland and tried to kidnap the monarch but were forced to flee by the arrival of Dutch troops.

"Larry" MacPhail's father, Curtis W. McPhail, established the Cass City State Bank here in 1882 which he conducted until the late nineties when he sold the institution to Auten, Seeley & Blair. Mr. McPhail died in Grand Rapids on May 10, 1939, and the remains were laid to rest in Elkland Cemetery here.

THE HIDDEN TAXES.

Perhaps you have no real estate or personal property on the tax roll and think you are quite free from tax paying. According to Roger W. Babson, famed economist, you are paying a considerable sum each year in hidden taxes.

Mr. Babson devoted one of his recent releases to showing graphically what enormous taxes are paid indirectly. Below are some of the facts which he brought out.

For rent: For each $100 we pay in rent, $35 goes for taxes.

For bread: From each 10 cents we spend for bread, 2 cents is paid in direct taxes and 2½ cents in indirect taxes.

For clothes: 52 different kinds of taxes are taken from each $100 we spend on clothes.

For light: Out of each $6 we spend for electricity, we pay $1 to the tax collector.

For phones: The average phone user pays $13 yearly in taxes for his service.

In general: Out of each $4 which the housewife spends, $1 is for taxes.

For shoes: Even shoes for baby include 140 different taxes.

For autos: The average motorist pays out the entire cost of his car within four years in taxes which are levied on the cost of operating it.

For drugs: Even a bottle of milk of magnesia carries 378 different taxes.

It is rumored that new automobiles will be difficult to secure as early as next spring. Production of automobiles is going to be cut down considerably more than is realized.

There are two kinds of friends; the friends who are friends because they like you and enjoy your company and the friends who are your friends because they want something you have, either your help or material substance. The last variety is as big a nuisance as the first type is a blessing. The friendship that has to be fed with favors is never worth the value of the favors.

A local woman, a few months ago, installed a budget in her household. She was going to manage efficiently her family affairs. Asked how she was coming along with it the other day, she said: Pretty good, I think. I am running it along the same lines that the national budget is run. I am spending all my income before I get it.

What the country needs is more good Sunday School teachers and more good Boy Scout leaders. Both are tasks of service that receive no material reward, little praise and not enough appreciation.

The aluminum collected in the recent drive was sufficient to build 2,800 planes. It was a good project even though the country might not have needed the aluminum. It gave millions a definite part, small though it was, in the defense program, and, from the economic standpoint, it gathered up from the four corners of the country little scraps of aluminum that in themselves, and by themselves, had no value and would have been thrown, perhaps, in the waste refuse pile and lost. By gathering them all together they made a total sufficient to build 2,800 planes—truly a saving worth making.

The man who has to resort to untrue statements to prove his point is on the wrong side of the argument.

The practice of society of engaging in periodical wars that consume its resources and bring it to the verge of moral and financial bankruptcy, is not unlike that of the man who works hard and saves his money and periodically indulges in a drunken, gambling spree that dissipates his resources and brings him back to work again broke and shaken in health to begin the vicious circle again.

Government regulations, a local business man said yesterday, has taken all the pleasure out of doing business. There used to be some pleasure connected with running a small business, but there isn't any more. The more help you employ the more records you have to keep. The happiest man these days is the fellow who runs a small business and does all his own work.

Lansing—Unknown to many citizens and forgotten by others:

That the first state university in the nation was the University of Michigan whose original charter, under the name of Catholopistemiad, was issued in 1817.

That the first state-wide public school system in the nation was established in Michigan in 1833.

That the first state agricultural college in the nation was Michigan State College, opened in 1857 at East Lansing under the name of Michigan State College of Agriculture.

Michigan eminence in education is a matter of pride to all citizens. At this time when thousands of young people are going to colleges throughout the state, when a host of boys and girls are finishing their first month of class study in public and parochial schools, take a backward glance at education and get a new inspiration for its future.

Cadillac's Landing

Two days after Cadillac founded Detroit in 1701, Ste. Anne's Church was established there. The parish is the second oldest continuously maintained parish of the Roman Catholic Church in the United States.

In 1793, after the American flag had been raised over Detroit, Father Gabriel Richard arrived as assistant pastor and soon took over parish responsibilities. He was first to advocate a state university.

In 1817, twenty years before Michigan was admitted to the Union, a charter was issued by the governor and judges of the Territory of Michigan for an institution of higher learning then known as the Catholopistemiad. The formal name, University of Michigan, was adopted in 1821, exactly 16 years before Michigan became a recognized state by act of Congress.

In 1837 the legislature created a board of regents of the university with twenty members. Plans were laid for a new institution. Because the Ann Arbor Land Company granted a site of 40 acres of cleared land, Ann Arbor was chosen for its location.

100-Year-Old Hall

When you visit the north wing of University Hall at Ann Arbor, you will find the original Mason Hall, built in 1841 to serve not only as the classroom of the new institution but also the students' dormitories and the scientific collections of the school.

Seven students comprised the first class that met in 1841. Their two professors were the Rev. Joseph Whiting, professor of languages, and the Rev. George F. Williams, who taught mathematics. Thus mathematics, Greek and Latin made up the first curriculum, a modest start for this great state institution.

The department of literature, science and arts later became the college of literature, science and the arts—mother of the present college of engineering, graduate school, schools of education, pharmacy, business administration, music, forestry and conservation. The college will celebrate the centennial of its opening with a full day's program on October 15, featuring an address by Dr. James Rowland Angell, president emeritus of Yale University, an alumnus of Michigan, and son of James B. Angell, illustrious president of Michigan from 1871 to 1909.

First in Teaching

Michigan's progressiveness in education is also shown by the fact, also little known, that the first chair of the science and art of teaching in the United States was established at the state university in 1879.

Co-education was introduced in 1870, and again the university pioneered in a custom that is observed nation-wide.

As early as 1837, when the state of Michigan came into official being, Michigan had led the nation in the establishment of free schools operated at public expense including grade or elementary schools, the academy or high school and the university. This plan was drafted in Marshall by the Rev. John D. Pierce in collaboration with General Isaac E. Crary, first attorney of Calhoun County and representative to Congress from 1835 to 1840.

Interestingly enough, the plan was nearly wrecked by a controversy over whether or not the Bible should be used in public schools. It was finally decided that a teacher might open sessions by reading the Bible, but could not comment upon the text.

From this small beginning education in Michigan has grown until today there are eighteen colleges and universities, six teachers' colleges, eleven junior colleges, eight professional schools, twelve pri-

On October 1, the Exchange Bank of E. H. Pinney & Son will have been in active operation at Cass City for a period of 30 years. The bank was established by E. H. Pinney on October 1, 1886. The founder's son, Edward Pinney, was admitted as a partner 13 years ago.

The old settlers of Novesta, Evergreen and northeast part of Kingston Townships met on September 20 at the home of William Patch near Novesta Corners in what might be called a pioneer meeting. About 70 were present including some from a distance. The oldest woman was Mrs. Daugherty in her 93rd year and the oldest man was Reuben A. Moshier in his 80th year. On the afternoon program, three papers were read by Mrs. Susan Slack, the R. A. Moshier family and John McCracken.

Miss Lena Brown received notice Wednesday that as honor student of the Class of 1916 she was entitled to a free scholarship in the collegiate department of Hillsdale College for one year.

Grover Burke received a dislocated shoulder in a fall last Thursday while playing third base on the Kingston ball team.

Miss Grace Lang is the new apprentice in Mrs. M. J. McGillivray's millinery store.

Cecil Brown left Friday morning for the state of Washington where he will be employed in a large water power plant.

Edward Glover, Charles Bixby and Daniel McGillivray left Wednesday for Schwartz Creek where they will be engaged in building a residence in that village for Herbert Frutchey.

Well Known for Writers

Challenging the literary reputation of its sister state, Indiana, Michigan can boast of a large number of literary men and women whose writings are nationally famous.

Rex Beach and James Oliver Curwood, both native Michiganders, wrote tales of early Michigan lumbering history. Stewart Edward White, now living in California, described life in Michigan lumber camps in "The Riverman" and "The Blazed Trail."

Harold Titus, member of the state conservation commission, lives at Traverse City. James B. Hendryx (born in Minnesota), adventure fiction writer, lives near Sutton's Bay, and Karl Detzer, another prolific writer, has a summer home near Leeland. At Detroit are Edgar A. Guest and Anne Campbell, bards of the press. Arthur Pound, native of Michigan, wrote many books dealing with the state's growth. Paul de Kruif, born at Zeeland, is the author of numerous books. Other Michigan-born writers—and this fact is probably little known to our readers—include Ring Lardner, Edna Ferber, Helen Topping Miller, and Webb Miller. Carl Sandburg, Chicago poet, lives near Benton Harbor, while Ernest Hemingway spent most of his boyhood in our state. William Lyon Phelps spends his summers in the Thumb. Advertise it in the Chronicle.

A Timely Warning Worth Serious Thought

may be hard to get this fall and winter

Already there are indications that mines will have difficulty obtaining cars, because of the demands of defense production for rolling stock, just as happened during the World War. It can happen again. Therefore it is just the part of wisdom to

A Peaceful Invasion

MICHIGAN will be subjected to a peaceful blitzkrieg during the month of October when about a half million small game hunters invade the brush, swamps, and forestland. The grizzled partridge hunter depicted above in friendly conversation with his dog is Charles Orwick of Lewiston, Michigan. He has hunted in every state in the union during the last 56 years. The Michigan partridge (ruffed grouse) may be hunted October 15 to November 5 in the lower peninsula and October 1 to October 20 in the upper peninsula.

The skies put on one of their most brilliant displays Thursday night caused by Aurora Borealis (northern lights). The lights appeared to be long shafts of white and sometimes red lights constantly moving and at times would appear as quivering rays shooting above huge pink clouds on the horizon, then again it would seem as though a huge skyrocket had burst in the sky. The beams made almost a complete circle instead of being confined to the northern sky. The display started shortly after nightfall and continued for hours in an ever-changing manifestation, but was most vivid between seven and eight o'clock. The Aurora Borealis was visible throughout the country.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Weydemeyer of Fortine, Montana, and Harry Campbell of Kalispell, Montana, spent a few days with relatives and friends here the past week. Mr. Weydemeyer had been absent from Michigan for 40 years. He is the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. P. R. Weydemeyer, pioneer residents of Cass City. Harry was an athlete here in his youthful days and carried home many prizes when he came to Cass City. He was a member of the national holiday programs. Mrs. Weydemeyer, before her marriage, was a teacher in the schools here, and Harry Campbell, her brother and a son of the late Mr. and Mrs. William J. Campbell, spent his childhood days in Cass City.

Tough

"Don't you know that the Edinburgh express is passing here directly at 60 miles an hour?" said the station master. "Come back, come back!"

The other slowly turned his head, and taking the pipe out of his mouth, replied: "You're awfully feared for your train!"

Making Sure

"There's an unexploded bomb buried here," said the British air raid chief, as he posted a warden. "Just keep an eye on things and blow your whistle if anything happens."

"O K," replied the warden. "But do I blow it going up or coming down?"

Motherly Advice

What did the mother pig say to the butcher?

"I didn't raise my boy to be a shoulder."

SLID IN

"Hey, Joe, hungry?"

"No, why?"

"See you're eating off the home plate."

Go-Between

First Maid—How did you like working for that college professor?

Second Maid—Aw, it was a tough job. He was all the time quarreling with his wife, and they kept me busy running between the keyhole and the dictionary.

Secretive

"My husband traces his ancestry back to Edward the Confessor."

"I guess mine must come from William the Silent; I can never get him to own up to anything."

Musk oxen were circumpolar in distribution during the Pleistocene, but they are now confined to Arctic Canada and Greenland.

Attics Give Up Gifts for Briton

Materials of All Sorts Are Donated by Americans To Help in War.

LONDON.—A look at the list of gifts to Britain's evacuees, bomb victims and members of the army, navy and Royal Air force reveals that a lot of American attics have been cleared during the last year—all to the benefit of men and women who are fighting Britain's war.

Leaders of the English-Speaking Union, which has been co-operating with the American branch of the organization as well as with other United States charitable organizations in collecting clothing and materials of every description to aid the war effort, said that only very rarely have they been sent gifts which could not be used by someone somewhere.

What might have been Uncle Ned's old cornet which looked like it had been kicked around in an attic for many years, now is doing duty in an army band which lost all its instruments in the evacuation of Dunkirk. Junior's football, which he left in the basement when he went to college, might now be doing service on a field near a Canadian encampment where American volunteers are teaching their British mates the rudiments of the game.

Many Garments Sent.

More than 65,000 garments and thousands of other gifts have been received from all over the United States. Most of the garments are hand-knit sweaters, sweaters, gloves and mufflers. They represent an enormous amount of knitting, purring and stitching by thousands of women in America.

Gifts have been received from Colorado mountain towns, from Chicago, Milwaukee, Roanoke, Va., New England, Cleveland, Cincinnati and California. Some of these are marked "To the men serving on the 50 United States destroyers" which were granted in the air base exchange. Others are designated for the men of the coastal patrol life saving service or the Royal Air force. But most of them are just sent to be distributed where they are most needed.

Besides the gifts of garments, Americans have sent more than $5,000 in cash to the union as well as 14 American ambulances, money for first-aid mobile posts, one complete surgical unit, a mobile feeding post and mountains of Red Cross and hospital supplies.

Offers of Homes.

Not the least important has been the offers of hundreds of homes in the United States to care for British children for the duration of the war.

"The American gifts have been more wonderful than it is possible to imagine," one organization official said. "The clothing is always freshly cleaned and the people in the United States seem to have a second sight when it comes to giving things."

"Whenever we need little girls' dresses, or sturdy trousers for boys, or shoes for bombed firemen or baby clothes for babies—in fact, about anything possible to imagine, we know we usually can count on them being in the next shipment. They usually are."

These gifts served immeasurably in brightening the lives of the fighting forces as well as the evacuees and persons who have lost their homes. Dolls, toys, magazines, books, ping pong sets, dart boards, tennis rackets, cricket bats all have been distributed from the American donations. Cigarettes, tobacco, candy, cookies and even fruitcakes and cookies which could be safely shipped without spoiling have been sent.

Concrete Made With Mica Base Proves Versatile

RALEIGH, N. C.—Concrete that can be sliced with a hand saw and punctured with an ordinary driven nail is being tested by the ceramics department of North Carolina State college.

During the recent Engineers fair at the college, William A. Scholes, ceramics research engineer, demonstrated the new material's versatility by several tests with ordinary carpenter's tools.

Scholes drove several nails into a block of the new concrete, which is made with vermiculite instead of sand. The block didn't split and the nails didn't bend.

He then sawed it into small sections with a hand saw. There were no cracks and the edges were smooth.

Scholes, conducting experiments with the new material for the Tennessee Valley Authority, hopes the vermiculite product will come into widespread use for building low-cost pre-fabricated houses.

Short Wedding Gowns; No Lapels in Italy

ROME.—The Fascist Fashion corporation said that in view of the wartime shortage of cloth, wedding gowns with trains must be considered in bad taste.

The corporation also said that men's suits without lapels would be the style this summer. Double-breasted coats were forbidden as a waste of material.

To Cut Christmas Trees Get Consent of the Land Owner

All parties wishing to cut, remove or transport Christmas trees, Evergreen boughs and other decorative materials within the State of Michigan are required to fulfill the requirements of the Perry Act as amended by the 1941 legislature. Briefly, this law states that no person shall cut, remove or transport within this state for any purpose, Christmas trees, Evergreen boughs or other decorative materials without having a written consent of the owner of the land on which the same is grown, whether such land be privately or publicly owned.

The law requires the commissioner of agriculture to furnish a bill of sale blank at no cost to all parties wishing to carry on the cutting and transportation of Christmas trees. Uniform bill of sale blanks have been furnished by the commissioner and they may be secured from the local county agent, sheriff's department, state police, conservation officers and headquarters or one may obtain same by writing directly to the State Department of Agriculture at Lansing.

Extension Group Hears Tribute Paid to Miss Dora Krapf

"Color Magic" was the subject of study when the Cass City Extension Group met Tuesday in the home of Mrs. D. A. Krug. Mrs. F. L. Morris gave a tribute to Miss Dora Krapf, one of the members who passed away during the summer. In closing, Mrs. Morris read a part of the poem, "If I Had Known."

Mrs. J. Ivan Niergarth announced that any person who could use a needle, would be gladly welcomed at the Youth Center Monday afternoon from one to five o'clock to sew for the Red Cross. Mrs. Niergarth urged that all who can sew or knit help in this worthy cause.

The group will have five meetings this year and the course of study is "Home Furnishings."

The committee Tuesday was Mrs. J. A. Sandham, Mrs. Krug, Mrs. Andrew Barnes, Mrs. J. D. Turner and Mrs. Albert Gallagher. Future meetings are:

November 4, at Mrs. Lyle Koepfgen's, with Mrs. John West, Koepfgen, with Mrs. John West, Mrs. Koepfgen, Mrs. B. Patterson, Mrs. H. Ludlow, Mrs. F. L. Morris and Mrs. L. Bailey as the committee.

December 2 at Mrs. A. Kinnaird's. The committee is Mrs. Kinnaird, Mrs. E. A. Corpron, Mrs. E. W. Kercher, Mrs. R. N. McCullough and Mrs. G. W. Landon.

January 27, at home of Mrs. H. F. Lenzner, with Mrs. J. Ivan Niergarth, Mrs. Lenzner, Mrs. W. McKenzie, Mrs. R. D. Keating and Mrs. B. Kirtan the committee.

April 11 with Mrs. Keith McConkey and the committee is Mrs. E. C. Calt, Mrs. McConkey, Mrs. Isabelle Bardwell, Mrs. R. A. McNabb, Mrs. H. Doerr, Mrs. F. Hall, Miss Lura DeWitt and Mrs. Ernest Croft. Mrs. Croft substituting for Mrs. Edith Bardwell, gave the lesson, "Color Magic." The group heard that the charm of a home can often be credited to the effective use of color in the furnishings. Colors and how they are made, dyes and dyeing were discussed. Dyes are put up in a number of ways, flake, powder, cake and liquid. One of the most important things in dyeing is to follow explicitly the directions for the particular dye one is using.

Rug making was discussed and members decided the kind of rugs they wished to make.

Mrs. Edith Bardwell told of her recent trip south and Mrs. Kercher reviewed the article, "You've got the biggest job in the world to do," written by Dr. Ray Lyman Wilbur, president of Stanford University. He said, "On what farm women do will depend, largely, the quality of rural life. And it will rest with them, perhaps more than with any other single group in our population, to determine America's future."

EXTENSION COURSES FOR TUSCOLA TEACHERS

Tuscola County teachers interested in an extension course will meet in Caro on Friday evening, October 3, at seven o'clock for organization. The course is under the direction of the Michigan State Normal College. Miss Grace Cooper will give instruction in Shakespearean Tragedies and Dr. Clarence M. Losell in Elementary Science, better known as Farm Crops. Three term hour credits are given on the first subject and two on the second.

Upland Game and Waterfowl Abundant in Thumb of Michigan

Upland game and waterfowl are more abundant in the Thumb district of Michigan now than last year, after favorable nesting and growing seasons, according to conservation officers and sportsmen interviewed and field observations and game counts made by the conservation department's game division men.

More pheasant broods and more young pheasants in each brood have been observed. One officer estimated that more than 5,000 pheasants had wintered in heavy cover about Rush Lake in Huron County. While the Tuscola wildlife restoration project south of Caro is best suited to rabbits, August censuses revealed most pheasant broods contained six or more half-grown young. Flocks of more than 50 birds have been flushed from harvested fields on the project, which includes 3,800 acres of wild land with much brush, surrounded by small farms.

A spring cottontail count in the Tuscola area disclosed one rabbit for every 15 acres, and as many as 12 rabbits have been seen along 15 miles of roadside during the summer, Thomas Osmer, of the game division, reports.

Conveniently located within easy driving distance of metropolitan areas of south central and eastern lower Michigan, the Tuscola area, except an 80-acre refuge on the east side, will be open to public hunting this fall. The area open to hunting has been posted with "Hunting Permitted" signs.

1941-42 Bowling Season Opens

By Dr. B. H. Starmann, Sec. of Bowling League.

On Monday evening, Sept. 15, the Cass City Bowling League opened its 1941-42 season. Interest was found to be as great as in previous years. Seventy men composing 14 teams opened the assault on the pins.

The first week, as in all sports, produced few outstanding scores. Many of the outstanding bowlers were rather disappointing to themselves and their followers. Even the "grand old man" of the league, Guy Landon, was far below form and posted a mediocre 477 total.

Three teams managed to survive the first week without defeat, the Larkin, Collins and Dr. Starmann teams winning all three games.

Individual high totals were Krug's 516 and R. McCullough's, Collins' and Juhasz's 510. Individual high single game among the regulars went to Collins who topped the pins for a 221 total.

We found our new members having a good time and many showing great promise of becoming quite adept at the game.

Team standings at the end of the first week competitions are:

	Won	Lost	Pct.
Collins	3	0	1.000
Larkin	3	0	1.000
Dr. Starmann	3	0	1.000
Reid	2	1	.667
Parsch	2	1	.667
Pinney	2	1	.667
Knapp	2	1	.667
Landon	1	2	.333
Ludlow	1	2	.333
Wallace	1	2	.333
Retherford	1	2	.333
Dr. Fritz	0	3	.000
Schweger	0	3	.000
Auten	0	3	.000

High 10 Individual Averages.

Not included in the regular averages is the 546 total rolled by Alex Tyo, acting as substitute for Larkin. Come on men, we can't have substitutes showing us how to bowl. Anyway, congratulations to Alec.

Elkland Extension Group Studies "Color Magic"

The Elkland Extension Group met at the home of Mrs. Wesley Hudson Tuesday, September 16, for an afternoon meeting. The lesson on "Color Magic" was presented by the leaders, Mrs. William Martus and Mrs. Edward Golding. Members learned that the art of dyeing is older than the textile industry. The Chinese excelled in this art as long ago as 2600 B. C. "Tyrian purple" is mentioned in the old Hebrew literature. This came from a yellowish-white fluid found in a tiny sack behind the head of shell fish. It took thousands of fish to dye a yard of cloth. The fish became scarce and purple became royal. Kings paid as high as $600 a pound for wool dyed with Tyrian purple. Then came the fall of Tyre and the dye industry became a lost art.

In 1856, William Henry Perkins, a young chemical student, was trying to produce quinine from coal tar. Instead of white crystals his result was a black molasses-like mass that turned purple under water. This came to be known as Perkin's Mauve and was the first of coal tar dyes. Today all of the household dyes are coal tar dyes.

Mrs. John McGrath, the recreation leader, conducted a few minutes of "active fun" after which the members decided on the kind of rug to make for their next lesson which will be held at the home of Mrs. Alton Mark. Mrs. John Reagh is the group's chairman.

A NEW Serial Novel, "Pathway to Paradise," by Maymie Greig, popular novelist, begins in The American Weekly with Sept. 28 issue of The Detroit Sunday Times, a story of romance, adventure and unusual situations in exotic surroundings concerning a glamorous heiress who decided to marry in accordance with a formula that shunted love into the background. Be sure to get The Detroit Sunday Times this week and every week. 9-26-1

Mr. and Mrs. G. H. Burke and Mrs. J. E. Wurm were in Saginaw Thursday, returning home via Bay City where Miss May Gault joined them to spend the week with her sister, Mrs. Wurm. Mr. and Mrs. Edward Gault of Pontiac also were here that evening so it was a sort of family reunion for the Gault family.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Ballard of Flint were here with friends, this being their first visit since their serious auto accident at Otisville in July. Mrs. Ballard, who was the most seriously injured, is recovering slowly and had the cast removed from her limb this past week.

Dr. and Mrs. Wickware and the Fosters took advantage of the fine week-end to reopen their cottage. Doctor left the rum belt here for safekeeping by the narrow margin of one point. One is as good as a hundred.

Mrs. Knapp and Mrs. Hitchcock, who have cottages here, were back here Sunday afternoon, bringing with them Mrs. Brooker, Mrs. McGillivray and Mrs. Holcomb.

Harding Ferguson of Pontiac and formerly of Cass City, who is assistant manager of the J. V. Pharmacy, was a business caller Sunday afternoon.

Miss Myrtle and Earl Holmes were also here over Sunday and Miss Grant's cottage was also open for the first time in several weeks.

Miss Myrtle Myers of Saginaw and Bay Port and her brothers were callers Sunday evening.

Not a Bolshevik
Whenever some one lets his beard grow too long or forgets to shave for a couple of days, his friends are likely to tell him he looks like a Bolshevik with so many whiskers. But this is another popular fallacy. The men of Russia do not wear any more whiskers than do men in other countries. In fact, there was enacted a law in Russia several years ago forbidding men to grow beards, and requiring them to be clean-shaven. So perhaps we look more like Bolsheviks after we shave than before. It is said that the reason for the Russian edict against whiskers was to get rid of lice and fleas.

Oak Bluff Breezes

members of the group are anxiously awaiting the gorgeous autumn scenery and are getting all their equipment in shape for action.

Swimming has been especially pleasant for the past few days and it is unusual to be able to take a dip in Saginaw Bay after Sept. 10. However, a change for the cooler is now taking place and this may spell fun for this sort of recreation and in two or three weeks now we anticipate that Oak Bluff breezes will develop into Oak Bluff gales, at which time we will be on our way out. This has been a splendid season here and we think it is no exaggeration to say the best in years and we regret its passing. However, we look forward to next year's opening and trust by then that world conditions will be partly corrected and people able to resume normal ways of living.

With this, we close our column until 1942, so until "the flowers bloom in spring, tra, la."

The commercial fishermen have set their nets again, so we are able to get fresh fish and on Friday evening a fish fry and bridge party was enjoyed at the Burke cottage in honor of Mrs. Cole and Miss Gault. Saturday, Mrs. Wilson entertained at luncheon two tables of bridge complimenting her guest, Mrs. Ralph Cole. High scores were won by Mrs. J. E. Wurm and Miss Gault.

Speaking of nice weather, summer's return engagement brought a return of many festivities and the past week was like mid-season in its whirl of engagements. On Wednesday, Mrs. E. R. Wilson of Lansing returned with her guest, Mrs. Ralph Cole, in time to join at spaghetti dinner at the Wurm cottage.

Mr. and Mrs. G. H. Burke and Mrs. J. E. Wurm were in Saginaw Thursday, returning home via Bay City where Miss May Gault joined them to spend the week with her sister, Mrs. Wurm. Mr. and Mrs. Edward Gault of Pontiac also were here that evening so it was a sort of family reunion for the Gault family.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Ballard of Flint were here with friends, this being their first visit since their serious auto accident at Otisville in July. Mrs. Ballard, who was the most seriously injured, is recovering slowly and had the cast removed from her limb this past week.

Dr. and Mrs. Wickware and the Fosters took advantage of the fine week-end to reopen their cottage. Doctor left the rum belt here for safekeeping by the narrow margin of one point. One is as good as a hundred.

Mrs. Knapp and Mrs. Hitchcock, who have cottages here, were back here Sunday afternoon, bringing with them Mrs. Brooker, Mrs. McGillivray and Mrs. Holcomb.

Harding Ferguson of Pontiac and formerly of Cass City, who is assistant manager of the J. V. Pharmacy, was a business caller Sunday afternoon.

Miss Myrtle and Earl Holmes were also here over Sunday and Miss Grant's cottage was also open for the first time in several weeks.

Miss Myrtle Myers of Saginaw and Bay Port and her brothers were callers Sunday evening.

most of their scoring opportunities.

The local offense began to roll again in the fourth quarter and after two successful passes to Profit and Siskler, Strickland raced 12 yards over his own left tackle to score the last touchdown. Root place-kicked the extra point.

The Cass City line played aggressive offensive and defensive ball the first half but their blocking bogged down the last half.

Not a Bolshevik
Whenever some one lets his beard grow too long or forgets to shave for a couple of days, his friends are likely to tell him he looks like a Bolshevik with so many whiskers. But this is another popular fallacy. The men of Russia do not wear any more whiskers than do men in other countries. In fact, there was enacted a law in Russia several years ago forbidding men to grow beards, and requiring them to be clean-shaven. So perhaps we look more like Bolsheviks after we shave than before. It is said that the reason for the Russian edict against whiskers was to get rid of lice and fleas.

NOTICE OF LETTING OF DRAIN CONTRACT AND REVIEW OF APPOINTMENTS.

Notice is hereby Given, That I, James Osburn, County Drain Commissioner of the County of Tuscola, State of Michigan, will, on the 14th day of October, A. D. 1941, at the SW corner of Section 1 (Schoolhouse) in the Township of Kingston, in said County of Tuscola, at 10:00 o'clock in the forenoon of that day, proceed to receive sealed bids until 12:00 o'clock noon of that day, when bids will be opened and publicly announced for the construction of a certain Drain known and designated as

"MUD CREEK & BRANCHES DRAIN," located and established in the Township of Kingston, in said County.

Said drain is divided into Seven Sections as follows, each section having the average depth and width as set forth: All stations are 100 feet apart.

Section No. 1 beginning at station number 0+00 and extending to station number 10+00, a distance of 1,000 feet, having an average depth of 2.5 feet and average width of bottom of 2.5 feet.

Section number 2 beginning at station number 0+00 and extending to station number 10+00, a distance of 1,000 feet, having an average depth of 2.5 feet and average width of bottom of 2.5 feet.

Section number 3 beginning at station number 0+00 and extending to station number 10+00, a distance of 1,000 feet, having an average depth of 2.5 feet and average width of bottom of 2.5 feet.

Section number 4 beginning at station number 0+00 and extending to station number 10+00, a distance of 1,000 feet, having an average depth of 2.5 feet and average width of bottom of 2.5 feet.

Section number 5 beginning at station number 0+00 and extending to station number 10+00, a distance of 1,000 feet, having an average depth of 2.5 feet and average width of bottom of 2.5 feet.

Section number 6 beginning at station number 0+00 and extending to station number 10+00, a distance of 1,000 feet, having an average depth of 2.5 feet and average width of bottom of 2.5 feet.

Section number 7 beginning at station number 0+00 and extending to station number 10+00, a distance of 1,000 feet, having an average depth of 2.5 feet and average width of bottom of 2.5 feet.

1,050 feet of 6 inch glazed tile in place. 600 feet of 6 inch glazed tile in place. The construction of said drain will include the construction of the following culverts and bridges, the location and of the type and size stated for which contracts will be let.

Said job will be let by sections. The section at the outlet of said Drain will be let first, and the remaining sections in their order up stream, in accordance with the diagram now on file with the other papers pertaining to said Drain, in the office of the County Drain Commissioner of the County of Tuscola, to which reference may be had by all parties interested, and bids will be made and received accordingly.

Contracts will be made with the lowest responsible bidder, and adequate security for the performance of the work, in the sum then and there to be fixed by me, reserving to myself the right to reject any and all bids, and to furnish such letting to such time and place as I shall publicly announce.

The date for the completion of such contract, and the terms of payment therefor, shall be as will be announced at the time and place of letting, and any person desiring to bid on the above mentioned work will be required to deposit with the County Drain Commissioner a certified check or its equivalent to the amount of One Hundred Dollars as a guarantee that he will enter into contract and furnish the required bond as prescribed by law. The checks of all unsuccessful bidders will be returned after contracts are awarded.

Payments for the above mentioned work will be announced the day of the Letting.

Notice is Further Hereby Given, that on Thursday, the 6th day of November, 1941, at SW corner of Section 1 (Schoolhouse), in the Township of Kingston, County of Tuscola, or at such other time and place thereafter, to which I, the County Drain Commissioner, aforesaid, may adjourn the same, the appointment for benefits and the lands comprised within the "Mud Creek and Branches Drain Special Assessment District," and the apportionments thereof will be subject to review for one day, from nine o'clock in the forenoon until five o'clock in the afternoon. At said review the computation of costs for said Drain will also be open for inspection by any parties interested.

WEEKLY NEWS ANALYSIS By Edward C. Wayne

Nazi Gains at Kiev and Leningrad Are Reported as Russians Continue To Claim Success in Smolensk Area; Cairo, Moslem Holy City, Is Bombed

(EDITOR'S NOTE—When opinions are expressed in these columns, they are those of the news analyst and not necessarily of this newspaper.)
(Released by Western Newspaper Union.)

WORLD: Doubting Nazis

News analysts and those who speak in guarded tones of information received through diplomatic channels in Washington were letting it be known that for the first time since the start of the war there was beginning to be a general opinion that Germany would not be the winner in the present war.

Discounting the Nazis' spectacular victories, which had many diplomats of conquered or menaced countries shaking their heads over the feeling of the "man in the street" of their countries as to the eventual outcome, the people, they had stated now, had changed, or were changing their minds about the situation.

ADOLF HITLER
Diplomats were doubting.

Three main factors emerged as the reasons:

1. The unexpectedly strong resistance of Russia.
2. The growing importance of American aid to Britain and the belief that this nation was drawing closer to actual participation.
3. Britain's growing mastery over the German air force, plus the ability of England to "take" the worst of the Nazi planes had to offer and to carry the fight back across the channel.

The fall of France, the low countries; German victories in the Balkans and Greece, had combined to spread the conviction through more distant points in Europe, Asia, Africa and South America, to say nothing of the United States, that nothing could stop Hitler.

Talk with diplomats in Washington had revealed that this conviction had gone—replacing itself with doubt.

GERMANS:

Their Claims

On the basis of German claims, the Russians faced a certainty of the loss of Leningrad; also the certainty that the Russian oil fields in the Caucasus would be reached and made a theater of war on the south.

The battle of the North Atlantic, they claimed, also was progressing favorably, with half a dozen sinkings reported since the President's speech and action sending the navy in pursuit of Nazi raiders.

Washington announced no further losses after the Montana, but it was hinted at the capital that such reports might be withheld until a considerable time after their occurrence as "military secrets."

The Nazis based their assertion on Leningrad on the fact that they had reached the city's outer defenses, that Leningraders were dynamiting buildings, and that the city was being subjected to steady air bombing and artillery fire.

On the south, the Germans asserted two crossings had been made of the lower Dnieper, either cutting Crimea off from the north or threatening to do so, and that though the river was 1,000 to 2,000 yards wide, considerable numbers of troops were passing over, with nothing before them in the way of natural hazards until the Don river should be attained.

The menace to the Caucasus was deemed imminent, and some saw in this an explanation of Russian pressure on and criticism of Bulgaria, seeing in the latter country a hop-off point for the sending of water-borne troops to the Caucasus region.

Russians:

Painting a vastly different picture of the battle, the Russians claimed continued victories in the center over determined opposition, plus reports that the Nazis, through losses, had been forced to withdraw half a million men from France alone.

Far from accepting the loss of Leningrad as a matter of cost, the Russians told of retaking an island in Lake Ladoga from the Finns, and of the repulse of a German air and water assault on the island of Oesel off the coast of Estonia.

CAIRO: Holy City

The bombing of Cairo, a holy city to the Moslems, which Britain had said, early in the war, would result in the reprisal bombing of Rome, Italy's holy city, finally had taken place, with the death of 39 persons and wounding of 93.

Immediately the British press had started the outcry "Bomb Rome Now!"

Though Alexandria, the port of Cairo, had been bombed repeatedly, the enemy planes had never bombed the city itself, and this event, the first, was not immediately repeated.

Nor was there an immediate bombing of Rome. However, the silencing of the Cairo radio, and the failure of the daily communique to arrive had caused many to believe that the British answer to the Cairo incident might be the launching of the long-awaited drive into Libya.

MINERS: Hit at Lewis

Trouble within the fold of the United Mine Workers of America, John L. Lewis' personal labor union, and the basis on which he founded the C.I.O., was the latest labor difficulty to claim attention.

It resulted when a committee charged with discussing a possible strike ballot instead returned a 50 cent assessment against each member each month.

Union members immediately set up a new committee, which met at Shenandoah City, Pa., in the heart of the Allegheny hard coal area, and made an odd demand.

They ordered Mr. Lewis himself to come before them personally and without delay and satisfactorily explain the assessment, or that they would go on strike forthwith.

An explanation was demanded.

The monthly dues of the union members now had been boosted from $1 a month to $1.50, and the miners were up in arms and the union trouble within the union was said to be spreading.

NAVY:

Building Cruisers

A new type of cruiser to chase Nazi raiders is under construction for the navy, it had been revealed, a report disclosing that work had started on six ships, each 27,000 tons, of a type never before built.

They are to be 17,000 tons heavier than any other cruisers now in the navy's possession, and only 8,000 tons lighter than our heaviest battleships.

They were being built at Camden, N. J., by the N. Y. Shipbuilding Corp.

They will bear the names of Alaska, Hawaii, Guam, Philippines, Samoa and Puerto Rico. The navy withheld all details concerning their speed or armament.

ALUMINUM:

A Critique

Newspapers directed sharp criticism at part of the OPM when it was learned that of huge allocations made for the purpose of building plants to manufacture 600,000,000 tons of aluminum a year, only one site had been selected and not one plant had been placed even in construction.

The original plan, outlined by OPM itself, had been to have the plants in actual operation next April or May, when the shortage of the metal will become acute.

Instead, even if the work gets under way now (which it is not) the plants cannot be in production until next fall at the earliest.

Records of the senate defense-investigating committee revealed that there had been a rift between Jesse Jones, RFC head, and Harold Ickes, fellow cabinet member over the sole contract which has been signed—which gives the Aluminum Company of America the right to build plants that would produce about half the estimated yield.

Power clauses in this contract are said to be the quarrel's basis.

HOOVER: Looks at War

HERBERT HOOVER
"When Hitler collapses..."

Some criticism of President Roosevelt's foreign policy, especially his latest steps, had been voiced by Herbert Hoover, former President, who still was inclined to "go along with the administration" in the chief issues.

His own position on the war issues was this:

1. Build an impregnable defense.
2. Give material aid to democracies.
3. Bulwark our freedom at home and conserve our strength for the stabilization of peace "when Hitler collapses because of his own overreaching."

His criticism of the President's policy was confined to the alleged violations of the Neutrality act, which Capitol Hill had said would be the next target of the administration. He said:

"President Roosevelt was right in protesting against the firing on U. S. warships and the sinking of merchantmen. But the policy of edging our warships into danger zones, of sending American merchant ships with contraband raises the most critical of all questions."

NEW YORK:

Traffic Jam

With all the biggest ships in the merchant trade either on the bottom of the sea or tied up at their docks, afraid to venture out, it was hard to believe that New York could be having a harbor traffic jam.

But such was the case when 104 ships of all nationalities except Italian and German paraded into port within 36 hours, leaving scores of them with nothing to do but to lie at anchor in the harbor, awaiting a vacant dock.

When one considered that an estimated 100 ships carried all the lease-lend aid to Britain since the plan was inaugurated, it gave an idea of the immensity of the cargo space represented in this merchant flotilla arriving in one American port on practically one business day.

PARIS:

Reprisals

Typifying stories of unrest from occupied Europe had been the tales coming out of Paris of sniping of citizens at Nazis, and of the executions of "hostages," military prisoners held by the German forces of occupation.

The box score at one point stood: Nazis, two dead and several wounded; "hostages," 13 shot by firing squads—none wounded.

The second Nazi was shot to death after the 13 had been executed, and it had been expected that the shooting of hostages would continue. At that point not one of the alleged actual assailants had been apprehended.

The forces of unrest also had their hostage, 20-year-old son of Lieut. Col. Alfred Herteaux, vice president of the Vichy party.

Paris newspapers asked a woman who saw the second Nazi fatally wounded to come forward and help the Germans with their investigation.

She is reported to have told a subway ticket-taker she saw the assassination. But she then disappeared and could not be found.

The man was shot the same day that the 10 hostages were executed.

VERMONT:

Goes to War

That rugged individualist, Vermont, of all the states in the Union, came to the conclusion that following the President's address she is now at war.

Both branches of the legislature adopted a resolution declaring that the United States had been in armed conflict since the speech on the subject of naval action in the Atlantic.

The approval of the resolution had this immediate effect: it put into operation a $10 monthly bonus for all Vermonters in the U. S. army, navy or marine corps.

A fund of $500,000 was set up for this purpose.

MISCELLANY:

Sofia: Russian diplomatic families had left the city, and the possibility of a Russo-Bulgarian declaration of war had been considered imminent.

Washington: Senator Gillette, Iowa, frequent Roosevelt critic, caused sensation by coming out for changes in the neutrality act to conform to the White House policy.

OH! WELL! GRACIE! SWAN SOAP IS FOR PEOPLE—NOT BIRDS!

BUT GEORGIE, WHAT'S MORE, PEOPLE ARE CRAZY ABOUT SWAN BECAUSE IT SUDS TWICE AS FAST! IN FACT IT'S 8 WAYS BETTER!

IF SWAN LATHERS TWICE AS FAST 8 TIMES, WHAT HAPPENS THE 9TH TIME?

WHAT HAPPENS IS THERE'S A LOT MORE SWAN LEFT—BECAUSE SWAN LASTS 4 LASTS

YES—SWAN IS 8 WAYS BETTER THAN OLD-STYLE FLOATING SOAPS! COMPARE! SEE!

1. Whiter! Pure and mild as imported castles!
2. Suds twice as fast!
3. Much firmer! Lasts and lasts! Won't warp!
4. Richer, creamier lather—even in hard water!
5. Breaks smoother—easily!
6. Smells fresher, cleaner! Doesn't turn rancid!
7. Feels smoother, finer-textured!
8. More real soap for your money!

SCHOOL NEWS*Carolan School.

Teacher, Agatha Seurynek.
Reporters, Rose Ann Freeman and Ruth LaFave.

Our school opened on August 25, with an enrollment of 38. New scholars consist of Bessie, John and Glen Miller, Betty and Madeline Adams, Doris Fritz and Horace McTaggart. We have four beginners: James Leiterman, Theron Robinson, Threase Miholic and Frank Salgat. . . . We have a lot fun on our new swings and slide. We had a ball game with the Lyman School and lost. . . . For art Friday, we made a leaf border for the blackboards and a hunting scene for window decoration.

Our librarians for the year are Teddy LaFave and Raymond Patanaude. We have $27.00 worth of new books ordered. . . . Our pictures were taken last Tuesday and we already have the returns. . . . The following pupils left during the month to attend the Catholic school at Gagetown: Jack Hool, Marilyn, Lawrence and Richard Langlois.

The following received certificates for being neither tardy nor absent during the month of September: Marie, Adam Dorothy and Ruth LaFave, Rose Ann Freeman, Jane, Keith and Pat Goslin, Shirley Patanaude, Madeline and Betty Adams, Audrey and Kenneth Beltz, and Douglas Salgot.

This is our first edition of school news. It will be published once a month hereafter.

RESCUE.*Birthday Celebration—

The following relatives helped Neil MacCallum celebrate his birthday on Sunday: William MacCallum of Bay City, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Jarvis and Mr. and Mrs. Arnold MacCallum and children of Owendale, Mr. and Mrs. Frank MacCallum and Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Tebeau and family of Grant. They all enjoyed a bountiful potluck dinner. The celebration came a day early as Mr. MacCallum's anniversary was on Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. Basil Toles and daughter, Mary Ann, and Mr. and Mrs. Frank Flodinski of Pontiac were week-end guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Maharg.

Mr. and Mrs. Allen Roberts and Mr. and Mrs. George Roberts of Carylon were Sunday guests at the Raymond Roberts home.

Harold Parrish of Kinde is working for William Ashmore, Jr., these days.

Kenneth MacAlpine of Elkton spent the week-end at the home of his grandmother, Mrs. DeEtte J. Mellendorf.

Miss Mildred Souden of Cass City spent over Sunday at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Luther Souden.

Mr. and Mrs. Jess Putman attended the funeral services last Monday at Bad Axe of Mrs. Putman's father, Frank Kavanagh.

Miss Elizabeth Blair was the leader of the League on Sunday evening.

Perry Mellendorf, volunteer for army service from Grant, left last Tuesday for Detroit. Last word received from him, he was at Fort Custer, Michigan.

Around $35 were taken in at the penny birthday supper at the Grant Church Friday evening. Everybody surely enjoyed Frank Wilson's pictures which he had taken on his western trips.

Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Maharg were dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Dodge of Cass City.

Mr. and Mrs. William Day were Sunday dinner guests at the Herbert Dulmage home.

Mr. and Mrs. William Ashmore, Sr., and son and Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Kozan and son called on friends in Bad Axe Sunday evening.

William W. Parker and granddaughter, Mary Ann Crouch, were dinner guests at the Arthur Taylor home and also called on other relatives here.

The first quarterly conference of the Grant and Elkton Methodist Churches was held at Elkton on Wednesday evening of this week.

Oscar Webber went to Ann Arbor Monday to have an operation.

William MacCallum of Bay City spent the week-end with relatives here.

Mrs. William Buchner of Detroit was a week-end guest of her mother, Mrs. Oscar Webber.

Mr. and Mrs. James Palmer of Argyle called on friends in Rescue Saturday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Peter Garety of Argyle were Sunday guests at the Oscar Webber home.

KINGSTON.

Rev. Mr. Clough was called to Bay City Sunday on account of the illness of his wife, who has been spending some time with her parents there.

Mrs. Don Lynch and children of Birmingham spent the latter part of last week with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Kenney, and attended the funeral of her aunt, Mrs. Martin Kenney, in Cass City on Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Lowe and daughter of Saginaw were entertained at the Arthur Henderson home Sunday.

IT TAKES FEED TO PRODUCE MILK

How Michigan's 143,000 dairy farmers feed 924,000 cows to produce 4,740,000,000 pounds of milk annually is a story that starts in the soil in the production of crops. Wise uses of typical Michigan feeds are essential, declares A. C. Baltzer, extension dairyman at Michigan State College. He estimates much of the state's 1,200,000 acres of alfalfa and 1,240,000 acres of corn annually go into milk production.

removed to Chicago to the home of her uncle, Dr. Thompson, who will give her osteopathic treatments.

Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Moore of Pontiac spent a few days with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. B. E. Moore, of Kingston and Mr. and Mrs. Hicks of Hemans, returning home Sunday.

Mrs. Eric Kelley returned to her home in Flint Sunday. Mrs. Harvey Tewksbury accompanied her to her home and will remain there for a while to care for Mrs. Kelley.

Little Gary Lawry is visiting his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. T. Harneck, this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Bass of Pontiac spent the week-end and Sunday with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Tom Bass and Mrs. Millard.

Clinton Ball and family returned home last week from their vacation.

Rev. and Mrs. B. A. Sherk were visitors at the home of their daughter, Mrs. Eugene Sutphen, Saturday night and Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Purdy are nicely settled in the new residence recently built and owned by A. J. Peter.

The new residence of Charles Schwaderer is nearly completed. It is a fine home and adds much to the residential district of Kingston.

Mr. and Mrs. B. E. Moore were in Lapeer and Royal Oak Monday.

I. S. Berman has sold his store building to parties in Bay City.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Peter and son, Dickie, of Pontiac are visiting their parents and other relatives here for a few days.

Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Holcomb and family of Cass City were Monday evening callers at the Arthur Henderson home.

Clinton Ball is cleaning and redecorating the store building vacated by John Burns in the early spring and expects to put in a full line of groceries. Mr. Ball is a very efficient merchant, having been in the grocery business for a number of years.

Ruth Greenleaf, formerly of Kingston and now of Detroit, was united in marriage to George Laws of Detroit Saturday evening at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Alex Greenleaf, of Kingston. Rev. B. A. Sherk of Brown City performed the ceremony. Miss Greenleaf was graduated from the Kingston High School in 1939. The couple will make their home in Detroit where both are employed.

Mrs. Raymond Knapp at her electric sewing machine

"The Motor does the work"

"I learned to sew on my grandmother's sewing machine, and used it for several years after I was married. But it took many hours of treadle labor to do the household sewing and to make and patch clothes for a family of six on a farm.

"For the past five years my electric sewing machine has done all the work. I just guide it, as my husband guides his tractor. It is faster and easier than the treadle machine, and gives me more time and energy for other things. I enjoy sewing very much!"

MRS. RAYMOND KNAPP

Mrs. Knapp didn't mention the cost of electricity to run her sewing machine, perhaps because it's hardly worth mentioning. It's less than a cent a day.

NECROLOGY

Milford E. Keyser.

The community was shocked on Monday evening to hear of the sudden death of Milford E. Keyser, well known Greenleaf Township farmer. Mr. Keyser, 61, died unexpectedly about 5:00 p. m. Monday, September 22, while assisting in loading beans at his farm, 6 1/2 miles east and 1 mile north of Cass City.

Milford E. Keyser was born at Adalaid, Ontario, October 6, 1880, and was united in marriage with Angeline Pinkerton on September 7, 1915.

Mr. Keyser came to Michigan when he was ten years of age, living in Port Huron for three years and then on the farm where he passed away.

Funeral services were held at 2:00 p. m. Thursday in the home. Burial was in Elkland Cemetery.

He is survived by his widow; one son, Hiram, Cass City; a daughter, Mrs. Harold Armstead, who lives on the farm with her parents; three brothers, Leslie, Tyre, and Mervyn and Vincent Keyser, Flint; two sisters, Mrs. Wesley Rowley, Foster, Oregon, and Mrs. Eva Spencer, Cass City. He also leaves three grandchildren, Carole Lee and Danny Keyser and Bobby Armstead.

Jay Doerr.

Jay Doerr, 45, died in a hospital at St. Henry, Ohio, Friday, September 19. Mr. Doerr, who has been employed by a transportation company in Detroit, was on his way to deliver a bus chassis at Union City, Ohio. He arrived at St. Henry about noon Friday and it is the impression of officers that as he was meeting a car he thought they were about to collide and jumped, falling under the wheel of the chassis.

The body was brought to Cass City Tuesday morning and lay in state in the Methodist Church from 10:00 a. m. until 2:00 p. m. when funeral services were held. Rev. Dudley Masure, pastor, officiated. Burial was in Kingston Cemetery.

Jay Doerr was born in Detroit September 10, 1896, and when he was four years old came to Cass City to make his home with Mr. and Mrs. John Doerr and grew to manhood here.

He leaves besides his foster-parents, a daughter, Mrs. Don Ervin, of Detroit, and a granddaughter, Sharon Ervin.

Jay Doerr was a member of the United States Navy for 2 1/2 years during the World War.

Erma Armstead.

Miss Erma Armstead, 18, daughter of George Armstead of Snover, passed away at Pleasant Home Hospital Thursday morning, September 25. Funeral arrangements had not been completed when the Chronicle went to press Thursday.

Blue Blood

The expression, "blue blood" originated in Spain, where light-complexioned persons whose veins have a blue appearance, claimed pure descent from the Spanish stock, without Moorish or Jewish admixture.

Largest Spider

The largest spider is the tarantula, native to Central and South America. It has a body as long as two or three inches. The feet and legs have a spread of from seven to eight inches in diameter.

MRS. GROUSE AND JUMPER HOLD THEIR BREATH

Hold your breath and hold it hard, As Mrs. Grouse and Jumper did, And learn how close the hunter came To where a-shake with fear they hid.

IT WAS very trying. My, my, my, I should say so! It was very trying indeed. Peeping out from under a thick low growing branch of a hemlock tree Mrs. Grouse and Jumper the Hare watched a man with a terrible gun coming nearer and nearer. Now if it had been Reddy Fox or Old Man Coyote coming Mrs. Grouse would have felt sure that she could trust to her strong wings to take her out of danger and Jumper the Hare that he could depend upon his long legs in case they were discovered. But a man with a terrible gun was a very different matter. Shot from that terrible gun could go so much faster than Mrs. Grouse could fly or Jumper could run that they would have very little chance of getting away unhurt, and they knew it.

Jumper had whispered to Mrs. Grouse to sit perfectly still, and this was the very best thing they could do. The hunter didn't know that they were there and if he didn't happen to look under that hemlock branch he might go right past without ever knowing that they were anywhere near. So in sitting perfectly still they were doing the very wisest and best thing.

But it was hard work, the very hardest kind of hard work. With every approaching step of the hunter it became harder. Mrs. Grouse set herself to spring into the air if they should be discovered, shut her mouth tightly and held her breath. Jumper the Hare set his long hind-legs under him ready for a sudden jump, laid his long ears back and held his breath.

Nearer and nearer came the hunter, his terrible gun across the hollow of one arm. He looked this way and that way and the other way. He was looking for Mrs. Grouse and she knew it. It seemed to her as if he must hear the thumping of her heart. Her bright eyes grew dark with fear as she watched him. It seemed to her she must, simply MUST fly. She couldn't understand how it was possible for that great man to look so happy, for he did look happy, when he was filling others with such awful fear. She almost wished that a great giant would come hunting HIM just for fun, and make HIM hide and shiver and shake with fear so that he might know just how she and Jumper were feeling that very minute.

But frightened as she was, a little bit of gladness crept into her heart. The hunter wasn't Farmer Brown's Boy and she was glad of that. Ever since the terrible time when she was frozen under the icy crust which formed over the snow one night last winter and Farmer Brown's Boy had found her and fed her and been good to her, she had a kindly feeling for him, and somehow, no matter what others said, she had a feeling way down in her heart that never again would he hunt her with his terrible gun as he once had done.

The hunter was so close now that he actually brushed the tip of the hemlock branch under which they were hiding. Would he look under? Mrs. Grouse held her breath and Jumper held his breath and both felt as if they must scream. He was half turning now. Would he look under? If he did, would he be able to kill both of them? Why didn't he go on? But he didn't. He stood still right in front of their hiding-place with his back to them and rested the butt of his terrible gun on the ground.

"I certainly ought to find that grouse somewhere around here," said the man, talking aloud to himself.

Origin of the word "church" is from the medieval English "chirche"; derived originally from the Greek "kyriakon" (the Lord's House).

SPECIALIST

In a southern village a small darky boy fell desperately ill with meningitis, and the village doctor sent for a specialist from the city. The victim was placed on the table for a spinal injection, and as the city man made ready the needle, other Negroes crowded the doorway of the little cabin. As the plunger was pressed home, the child gave one last quiver and died.

There was a deep silence among the onlookers until one of them in an awe-stricken voice, whispered, "Good Lord, he do kill 'em quick, don't he?"

True Enough

"Sound," said the schoolmaster, "is something that a person can hear, but neither see nor feel."

"Oh! I don't know," said the boy at the foot of the class. "I think I can prove that you are wrong in your theory."

The man of learning tartly suggested the lad give them an example.

"Very well," said the young man. "Yesterday you gave me a sound thrashing, the other pupils saw it, and don't you think for a minute I didn't feel it?"

CORRECT

"Do you go in for outdoor sports much, Miss Pert?"

"No, I go out for them."

Quick Thinker

"Where are you going, Smith?"

"To the doctor. I have a splitting headache and feel terrible."

"Well, when I feel that way my wife just strokes my forehead for about twenty minutes, with a few kisses thrown in for good measure, and soon all the pain is gone. Jolly nice treatment. Why don't you try it and save a doctor bill?"

"I will, thanks old man. Think your wife would mind if I came over now?"
