Linden Methodist Church Is Scene of Pretty Wedding

From Fenton Independent.

Miss Jean Miller spoke her marriage vows with Ralph Wilson Saturday night at eight o'clock in a double ring service read in the Linden Methodist Church by the Rev. G. R. Millard, in the presence of more than 100 guests. The bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Miller of Cass City and the groom is the son of Mrs. James R. Wilson of Flint, and the late Mr. Wilson.

Vases filled with fall flowers and tiffany baskets of the same provided a lovely setting for the marriage service. Mrs. Clayton Morrison of Fort Wayne, Indiana, sister of the bridegroom, played the wedding music.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of white satin fashioned with long fitted sleeves. A clip of seed pearls accented the sweetheart neckline and self covered buttons finished the back of the bodice from the neck to the hip line, which fell into a graceful skirt ending in a long train. Her double fingertip veil of net was edged with lace and fell from a tiara of orange blossoms. She carried a shower bouquet of yellow rosebuds tied with white satin ribbon.

Taxes Here Higher Than in England, Rotarians Told

Circuit Judge-elect George Desjardins of Lapeer, speaking at the Rotary Club luncheon Tuesday at Hotel Gordon here, on the subject, "My Reactions to the Present Situation," said that very definite opinions formed one week may have changed the following week. He suggested to his audience a course of reading of American history written prior to 1917 as well as that of historians of later date.

Twenty-five per cent of the income of Americans goes for taxes and that is 2% more than England is paying in these troublesome times. Many Americans may be hard pressed to pay next year's taxes and this is but a drop to what may be expected later. The greater tax burden here is directed to the man in moderate circumstances and for some it may become an intolerable burden, he said.

Americans have a right to freedom of expression and to tell their representatives their views on governmental affairs. He said as long as the people have freedom of speech and a free press, the possibilities of losing our democracy are remote. Eternal vigilance is the price of democracy.

William Miller was program chairman and H. M. Buley song leader.

Farmers Are Urged to Increase Food Production

Manufacturers of Farm Equipment Are Being Exempt from Priorities.

By Gene Alleman, Secretary of Michigan Press Association.

Lansing—Instead of plowing crops under, Michigan farmers are asked to grow bigger crops in 1942.

The reason is obvious. As Harry N. Scholler, director of the north central division of the AAA, said recently at a Lansing state meeting, "We've got to feed the army, the people and the people of Europe."

Thus a complete reversal of the doctrine of scarcity has taken place in less than ten years, and the reason lies entirely out of the farmer's or consumer's control.

For the first time in many years, the farmers are urged to increase food production. They are assured, at the same time, of a "profit."

This will be good news to families on rural routes and to business men on Main Street, but prosperity has its price and all is not rosy and bright.

Whereas in the last world war every available acre of land was turned under for growing of grain and the usual economic marginal use of land was completely ignored, this crisis is finding agricultural leaders prepared to get production results without sacrifice of soil conservation.

The sub-marginal land of low fertility will be left alone, according to present plans. Increased output will be affected through application of better farming methods.

Mechanized agriculture is going to occupy the stage. Manufacturers of farm equipment are being exempt from priorities, and logically so, if the front line of democracy is to extend back to the plow.

AAA Leader Scholler, speaking at a state meeting of more than

Many Heard the Girl Scout Program

A goodly number of townspeople took advantage of the opportunity to examine some of the work of the Girl Scouts Wednesday evening when a meeting, open to the public, was held at the Youth Center.

The twenty girls made a very pretty setting in their new uniforms as they sang songs, gave the salute to the flag and told what was expected of a Girl Scout. At the close of the program, guests viewed the exhibit of crafts. Rug making, knitting, drawing, painting and many other works of art were shown and helped to explain what the Girl Scouts accomplish.

This being Girl Scout week, the girls have been wearing their uniforms to school.

On Thursday night, the Scouts, both boys and girls, met at the Youth Center at 5:30 and all took part in a scavenger hunt after which the group met at the Boy Scout barbecue pit and each boy and girl was responsible for cooking his or her own supper. Prizes were awarded in the hunt. Games and ghost stories followed the supper and cider and pop corn were served later in the evening.

Hugh Munro is Scoutmaster and his assistants are Ray Fleenor and Harold Parker. Mrs. H. M. Buley is Girl Scout leader, Miss Elisabeth Coons is assistant and Mrs. Robert Keppen and Miss Edith Carlin, helpers.

Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. Alphonse Verschooe had been visiting with friends and were returning home when their car was ditched. Officers said that Verschooe had apparently lost control of the car. ## Red Cross Workers Hear Organization Activities Explained

Red Cross workers representing the several units of the Tuscola County Chapter met at Caro on Wednesday afternoon to discuss production work and to listen to Harry Studor of St. Louis, Missouri, field director in charge of this area, who explained army investigations and uses of Red Cross funds.

At a dinner of the group at Hotel Montague, Caro, that evening, Dr. Ray Willson, Caro minister, referred to the Red Cross as applied Christianity, in his welcome address.

Mr. Studer, in his evening address, said the Red Cross, a volunteer organization, has a large program in maintaining a line of communication between the men in the service and the communities which they leave to join the army. It is the only non-military organization operating in army camps, he said, and acts as a confidant for the men in service. It assists them in emergency furloughs, dependency discharges and in army hospitals. Production work is an outstanding feature of the Red Cross and the Junior Red Cross is doing a fine piece of work in providing entertainment features for patients in army hospitals.

Guy W. Landon, chairman of the Tuscola County Chapter, presided at the meetings. Morris Vandecar, saxophonist, with Miss Adams as piano accompanist, both Caro High School students, played a selection for the evening program and Fred Gussell of Caro contributed several piano numbers.

Lights of New York

By L. L. STEVENSON

One of New York's best-known links with the long past is Fraunces' Tavern at Broad and Pearl streets. Easy of access, it has been visited by thousands of tourists. It has a part in history, not only of the city but of the nation because of what occurred there December 4, 1783. On that day, George Washington's officers assembled in the "Long Room" on the second floor. It was a solemn occasion since they had met to say farewell to their commander-in-chief. After the farewell, Washington surrendered his commission. The "Long Room" is now very much as it was in Washington's time since the building has been restored by the Sons of the American Revolution and is open to the public, with many Colonial relics on display.

Not long after 1700, Fraunces' Tavern was built as a residence by a French Huguenot, Etienne de Lancey, a descendant of Guy de Lancey. Etienne de Lancey came by a small fortune in his homeland and emigrated to America where he established himself as a merchant and in time grew wealthy. De Lancey street, on the lower East Side was named after him. It is not known exactly what time the residence was changed into a public house, but in 1739 entertainments and dinners were known to have been held there. Fraunces opened his tavern there in 1762, but it changed hands several times before the Revolution. Then Fraunces regained possession and it has gone down through the years bearing his name instead of that of the man who built it.

Not far away from Fraunces' Tavern is another link with Colonial days in New York, St. Paul's chapel, on Broadway between Fulton and Vesey streets. As a matter of fact, it is the only church in New York that dates back to pre-Revolutionary days. Built in 1766 as a chapel of Trinity parish, after the burning of Trinity in 1776, it became the parish church. Among the worshippers were Lord Howe and Major Andre and the English midshipman who afterward became King George IV. President Washington and both houses of congress marched to St. Paul's after his inauguration at Broad and Wall streets for a service conducted by Bishop Prevoost, chaplain of the senate. Afterward, so long as New York remained the capital, President Washington was a regular attendant.

St. Paul's is unique in the fact that it turns its back on Broadway, the front, with the slim spire, facing toward the Hudson. In the old days, a pleasant lawn sloped down to the water's edge which was then where Greenwich street is now. On the Broadway portico is a monument to Maj.-Gen. Richard Montgomery, who on December 31, 1775, with Col. Benedict Arnold, led the assault on Quebec and was mortally wounded in battle. Congress ordered the monument in 1776 and Benjamin Franklin purchased it in Paris. It was shipped to America on a privateer. A British gunboat captured the privateer, but the gunboat in turn was taken by an American ship and in time, the monument reached its destination.

In St. Paul's churchyard are a number of old red sand stone grave-stones, badly treated by the passing years, on which are chubby faced winged cherubs. I have noticed them in cemeteries in Westchester county and elsewhere, but though I've made many inquiries have not succeeded in ascertaining their origin. Once a year, the path through the churchyard is barred. Pedestrians find it a convenient cut-off between Broadway and Vesey street and the barriers are erected to keep it from becoming public property.

While strolling on lower Fifth avenue just after leaving St. Paul's the other afternoon, I thought the New York of the past really had come back. Passing was an old-fashioned carriage with crests on the doors, riding behind were two footmen with cockades and pigskin tunics. The driver was also very correct, and in the carriage rode a lady who reminded me of pictures of Queen Victoria. Some day I hope to find out who she is.

At Broadway and Forty-second street, a furtive young man sidled up to me and whispered that he had a bargain in a diamond. He didn't say that it was stolen, but his manner indicated it had been. Just as he was on the point of taking it from his pocket, a detective came along and the young man disappeared, so I'll never know how big a sucker I look—or at least he thought I looked.

HALLOWEEN

Traditions which had their origin back in pagan times are revived each year on October 31 when Halloween is celebrated in many lands.

Today, however, an appropriately festive setting for Halloween is easily achieved with scissors, paste, crepe paper and ingenuity.

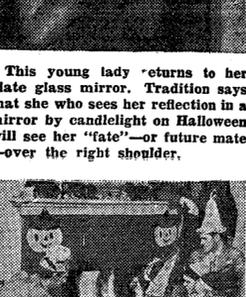

Some pumpkin! This young lady is well pleased with her efforts as she surveys the reflection in her full-length plate glass dressing mirror.

The custom of bobbing for apples is derived from ancient times when the Romans celebrated their harvest festival, forerunner of Halloween, by offerings of fruit and viands to the goddess of fertility.

This young lady returns to her plate glass mirror. Tradition says that she who sees her reflection in a mirror by candlelight on Halloween will see her "fate"—or future mate—over the right shoulder.

And no Halloween party is complete without a cheery blaze in the fireplace. Here guests may roast wieners and marshmallows, exchange ghost stories, and join in a song before hopping their automotive broomsticks for home!

Unique Time Piece The Chinese tell time with considerable accuracy by looking at a cat's eye. The pupil of the cat's eye becomes narrower as noon approaches, and wider as the afternoon wanes.

Seek Aid to 'Prove'
Births of Millions
Standard Certificates as Defense Move Asked.

WASHINGTON.—The federal government has proposed that all the states take immediate steps to issue a new, uniform type of "delayed birth certificates" which would help make millions of native born Americans eligible for defense jobs.
The war, navy and commerce departments joined in the move, noting that by the census estimates, about 60,000,000 persons born in this country were without documentary proof of citizenship.
In a letter to the vital statistics departments of every state, officials of the three departments urged adoption of a plan developed by the census bureau by which certificates would be issued on the basis of such prescribed evidence as hospital records, the family Bible and insurance policies.
These certificates would have the same force as those now issued at birth by many states.
A manual setting up uniform standards was submitted along with the request.
One likely effect foreseen from adoption of the plan was lifting of an increasingly heavy burden on the census bureau. Requests are being received at the rate of more than 16,000 a week for proof of United States birth from the census records.
The census bureau said that many states did not provide certificates at the time most of today's adults were born, and in other instances attending physicians neglected to make the required reports to state officials.
The joint letter to the state vital statistics departments said that "admission to the armed forces depends on citizenship as does employment in most government positions. Furthermore, several statutes provide that on certain types of restricted defense work citizenship is a prerequisite to employment."

Carbon on Plane Props
Helps Conquer Vibration

DAYTON, OHIO.—Tiny carbon strips are helping the army air corps at Wright Field to eliminate propeller vibration and increase the efficiency of its sleek new fighting ships.
Attached to propeller blades, the strips, ranging about seven-eighths of an inch in length, are connected through a fine wire to a device within the plane which records the propeller vibration at different speeds.
The slight vibration of a normal propeller is recorded in a shallow, wavy line. Abnormal vibration, however, results in a jagged series of peaks which increase in size as the variation increases.
The story is told of serious propeller vibration developing in an engine-propeller combination which had been tested, approved, and put into standard service.
From the pattern of vibration lines obtained in a flight test, engineers determined that the trouble originated in the motor. The engine was torn down, and it was found that the original gears had been replaced. The new gears, while satisfactory in tests, varied from the original to such an extent that destructive propeller vibration resulted. When proper gears were installed, the trouble ceased.

Some Pumpkins!

Pumpkins with faces! Don't you believe it?
Well, it's true.
An agricultural wizard by the name of John Cz (and we do mean Cz) of Madison, Ohio, is actually growing pumpkins that resemble anyone that Farmer Cz chooses to caricature. Take a look!

Smiling at you here is Farmer Cz who induces Mother Nature to produce pumpkins that resemble Jimmy Durante, Clark Gable, Greta Garbo, or—but just name your celebrity. He calls them "personality pumpkins" and finds growing them a lark. (Incidentally, he finds it quite profitable.) Here's the procedure:
Mr Cz first makes a plaster mold of the face he is wishing on the pumpkin, and then an aluminum cast from the mold. While the pumpkin is in its early stages of growth he imprisons it in the mold. Nature does the rest. When maturity is reached the mold is removed (as shown above) and Mr. Cz inserts eyes, skillfully tinted, and teeth. The result is striking, if not alarming.
Mr. Cz does not "personalize" all his pumpkins. People still like their pumpkin pie impersonal.

The committee on county buildings was authorized to widen the outside stairway at the infirmary sufficiently to permit patients to be carried down in cots in case of an emergency. Some sort of an outside emergency escape is to be provided for the nurses' room.

New Development in Life Insurance

A new development in life insurance, hailed throughout the country as the most sensational idea in forty years, is being announced in the columns of this paper this week by Lloyd Reagh, agent for the State Farm Insurance Companies of Bloomington, Ill.
We have long known of the economic advantages of life insurance; how it has enabled thousands of families to hold together when the death of the breadwinner might have otherwise been a blow from which the family could never have recovered. We know of thousands of boys and girls who have been able to go to High School and College because a parent had foresight enough to provide life insurance. And we know of many people who have been provided for in their old age because they saved for that time through life insurance. But the news in this new policy is that it is designed for the protection of the young man between 16 and 35 years old, at a time when his need for protection is greatest and when he is usually less able to purchase that protection than at any other time.
State Farm's "Chief Policy," as it is known, because it provides for protection the chief need, has been brought out at a cost that is even less than group insurance. It was designed to make protection so easy to own that no eligible young man can afford to be without it. It is presently being offered to families who already own a policy in State Farm.—Advertisement.

The remains were taken to the Douglas Funeral Home in Cass City where the funeral services were held on Wednesday afternoon, conducted by Rev. F. B. Smith, pastor of Cass City Baptist Church, and burial was made in Novesta Cemetery.

Charles Gage was born in Elmer, near Snover, 58 years ago, and most of his younger days were spent at Novesta Corners and at Deford.

One brother and two sisters are the only immediate family relatives who survive.

Navy Does Not Demand High School Education

Since Secretary Knox announced the enlistment drive for Uncle Sam's new Two-Ocean Navy several weeks ago, many young men have asked if they were eligible to enlist without a high school education.

Navy enlistees do not have to be high school graduates. Any ambitious and patriotic young fellow who wants to serve his country has that opportunity now by joining the United States Navy or Naval Reserve. Of course, he must be of average intelligence, good character and be able to pass certain physical and mental examinations. Now, more than ever before, the Navy needs men of that type.

All applicants, whether or not they have high school diplomas, are given an elementary examination containing about 100 questions. Those receiving a grade of 50 per cent or more satisfy Navy educational standards. Naturally, a high school education is helpful in the Navy, just as it is in civilian life.

The Navy has four excellent trade schools to which new recruits in either the regular Navy or Naval Reserve may be sent after a training period, providing they pass entrance examinations with sufficiently high grades. At these schools they will be trained in any one of nearly fifty skilled trades or vocations to which their aptitudes suit them and will receive free schooling valued at hundreds of dollars in addition to their regular Navy pay.

A supply of free illustrated booklets for all men interested may be secured at newspaper offices.

Tribute to Tobacco

Charles Kingsley's tribute to tobacco is as follows: "When all things were made, none was made better than tobacco; to be a lone man's companion, a bachelor's friend, a hungry man's food, a sad man's cordial, a wakeful man's sleep, and a chilly man's fire. There's no herb like it under the canopy of heaven."

Sterling Silver Not Pure

If sterling silver were actually pure silver metal, it would be too soft for ordinary use, particularly as tableware or as coins. The United States official specifications for sterling silver are 92½ per cent silver and 7½ per cent alloy. For hardening purposes, the alloy is chiefly copper. So it is not correct to speak of sterling silverware as "solid silver" or pure silver.

Household Hints

by Lynn Chambers

LET'S MAKE A DATE FOR LUNCH
(See Recipes Below)

FALL LUNCHEON

As the leaves begin to crackle and fall's favorite flower, the chrysanthemum, stirs in the sweet smelling earth, and fruit hangs heavy and ripe on the trees—do your thoughts turn to luncheons and bridge?

If they do, prepare to have one now, using as your theme the leaves, fruits or flowers that fall has to offer as a welcome change from summer luncheons you may have had. If you are having a pre-luncheon bridge, try carrying out the fall theme on the bridge tables with small vases of fall flowers, in candies, and decorations. Favors can be had using the autumn theme and prizes may be wrapped in the burnished fall shades or tied with ribbons of that color.

Whatever you do, have your tables and especially the centerpiece stunning enough to stimulate interest and conversation. It'll make luncheon and bridge afterwards a real success, and star you as a smart hostess.

Play up the oranges and yellow in food for luncheon, picking it up here and there in this dish and that with a touch of green to heighten interest. Do something unusual in the main dish by having a frozen or cooked fish fillet lightly creamed and well garnished. Simple to fix, a dream to behold, yet delicate to taste, here's your main dish:

*Creamed Fillet of Flounder With Mushrooms.

2 packages quick frozen fillet of flounder, cooked.

- 2 1/2 c. cooked fish
- 2 1/2 c. fish liquor or light cream
- 2 1/2 cups sliced mushrooms
- 6 tablespoons butter
- 4 tablespoons flour
- Salt and pepper
- Watercress

If using frozen flounder, cook in a saucepan, adding 1 cup boiling water and 1/2 teaspoon salt, and cook until tender. If using cooked fish, be sure it is well drained. Flake fish. Cook mushrooms in butter, until well browned, add flour. Add fish liquor and cream, gradually stirring constantly and cook until thick. Add fish and seasoning. Serve on hot buttered toast or in patty shells. Sprinkle with paprika. Garnish with watercress.

When serving the vegetables, pretty the platter by serving both the green beans, cut in long, lengthwise strips, and the carrots cut lengthwise, side by side. Or have a mound of carrots or beans in the center, and then have alternating mounds of green bean and carrot strips coming out toward the rim of the plate.

If you were to take a poll among your luncheon guests, you would probably be surprised how many

LYNN SAYS:

Sit up and take notice of fall's possibilities for table decoration. Cornucopias and centerpiece of fruits and vegetables interlaced with burnished leaves and brightly colored flowers certainly have a way with them and will do very nicely for your luncheon table.

Take a tip from the outdoors and make the most of the humble squash, apple, pear, or a spray of bittersweet. Let your fruit glisten and shine by rubbing with oil and then polishing to a high luster. For more permanent effects, have the fruit lacquered. Arrange pears, apples and grapes on doilies of autumn leaves and set on a mirror for the centerpiece, or have the fruit arranged from the opening of a squash. Dusky red or bright chrysanthemums look effective if arranged in a small squash. Any of these will give your table a smart note and also a piece of grand conversation for luncheon guests.

Speaking of nice touches, put a leaf of deep rich brown, or yellow, or a bit of bittersweet to the side of a placecard. This will be just fine to carry out the autumn theme of the centerpiece.

THIS WEEK'S MENU

- *Creamed Fillet of Flounder With Mushrooms
- Green Beans Corn on Cob
- *Orange Honey Bread
- Green Salad
- Peach Sundae Crisp Cookies
- Coffee

*Recipe Given

women confess to an extraordinary interest in rolls, bread and muffins. Here's a bread which highlights a luncheon perfectly and whose orange flavor gives just the right touch of piquancy to the meal:

*Orange Honey Bread.

(Makes 1 loaf)

- 3 tablespoons shortening
- 1 cup honey
- 1 egg, well beaten
- 1 1/2 tablespoons grated orange rind
- 2 1/2 cups flour
- 2 1/2 teaspoons baking powder
- 1/2 teaspoon soda
- 1/2 cup orange juice
- 1/4 cup chopped walnuts

Cream the shortening until light, then add honey gradually, and continue beating until well blended. Stir in the egg and the grated orange rind. Sift the dry ingredients together several times, then add them alternately with the orange juice. Stir in the walnuts. Pour the batter into a well-greased loaf pan and let stand 20 minutes before putting into oven. Bake in a slow (325-degree) oven for 1 hour or until well done when a toothpick comes out clean. If desired, 1/4 cup of candied orange peel may be added to the batter to give additional flavor, or may be substituted for the nuts.

I shall pass lightly over the subject of salads. Ours today follow nearly the same pattern as recipes printed in old cookbooks. But I would like to give you a recipe for a dressing. Used on a salad of hard-cooked eggs, lettuce, chopped onions and sliced radishes it's tops. Rub the yolks of two hard-cooked eggs together with 1 tablespoon of cold water until smooth. To this add 2 tablespoons of salad oil and 1 teaspoon each of salt, powdered sugar and prepared mustard, and blend well. Finally, add 2 tablespoons each of plain and tarragon vinegar. And last, but not least, here's a recipe for ice cream. Serve this with sliced fresh peaches topped with whipped cream.

Uncooked Custard Ice Cream.

- 1/2 cup sugar
- 2 eggs
- 1 1/2 cups top milk
- 2 tablespoons sugar
- Pinch of salt
- 1/2 pint whipping cream
- 1 teaspoon vanilla extract

Dissolve the 1/2 cup of sugar and the salt in the cold milk. Beat the egg white until stiff, add 2 tablespoons sugar and then beat in the egg yolks, one at a time. Combine with the milk and fold in the whipped cream and vanilla. Pour into freezing trays and stir every 15 or 20 minutes until firm. This may also be made in a crank freezer, but the amount should be doubled for the ordinary size of freezer.

If you desire to vary this recipe, here are suggestions:

Maple Ice Cream—Add maple flavoring to taste in place of the vanilla; about 6 drops will be needed.

Butterscotch—Substitute brown sugar for the 1/2 cup of white sugar.

Chocolate—Melt two squares cake chocolate and add to custard mixture. Four additional tablespoons sugar must be added as well.

Peppermint—Peppermint flavoring, oil of peppermint and enough pink coloring to give the desired color are added.

Landon Bows Second "600" of Season

By Dr. E. H. Starmann, Secretary of Bowling League.

The sixth week of the season produced the second "600" series to be bowled this season. Yes, my hearties, it was our old friend Guy Landon again. Bowling on the Thursday night shift, Guy put together games of 181, 226 and 205 for a grand total of 612. This bettered the previous high individual series of the league of 605 bowled by Guy several weeks ago. If the rest of us are not careful, we will find the league becoming a "one man show."

On the team side of the ledger, we find Ludlow's team again forcing themselves into the news by bowling another high three-game total. This time it was a 2,367 which gives them both first and second places in this department. Again, your reporter warns you to keep an eye on this aggregation.

Only one team succeeded in winning all three games this week. They were the Dr. Starmann team who won three at the expense of Retherford. However, it can be said that they needed it as they had previously lost six in a row.

Reid's, the league leaders of the week before, are now forced to share that spot with the Collins' five. Reid's were defeated twice by the Auten five, while Collins won two from Schwegler to move them into the tie. The league is bunched to the extent of seven teams being within two games of the top. This, of course, is what makes any competition interesting.

During the sixth week there were ten "600" bowlers. They were: Landon 612, Wooley 541, Gross 539, Knapp 536, Pinney 535, Dr. Starmann 530, Schwegler 518, Haven 510, Auten 503 and Keppen 502.

Team Standings.

Not Anxious

There was a knock at the kitchen door. When Mrs. Smith opened it, there stood a lanky youth, black as the ace of spades.

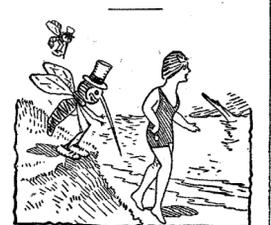

"Good maw'nin', ma'am," he said. "I is lookin' fo' somebody that wants somebody to do sump'n. You all doan know nobody that wants to hiah nobody to do nothin', does you?"

"That new hat makes your face look short, dear."

"Well, it's made my husband's face long enough, anyway."

HURRY FELLERS

"Hey, Jimmy, come quick, the open season's here."

Disputing

Deacon Jones was snoozing in the rear pew as the minister closed his sermon with the words, "we will close with a short prayer. Deacon Jones will lead." Deacon Jones opened his eyes and sat up with a jerk. "Tain't my lead, I just dealt!"

FARMERS URGED TO INCREASE FOOD PRODUCTION

Concluded from first page.

1,000 county committeemen at Lansing, urged farmers to avoid a wartime profit splurge of going into debt for purchase of more land, more machinery and "expensive" automobiles.

"Save your money, buy defense bonds," he pleaded, "so you'll be able later on to buy machinery and automobiles made by factories now working on defense orders. Thus we can keep the factories going and not have a post-war depression."

But the profits of 1942 production are not going to be easily realized. Big problems are the shortages of labor and farm equipment, and the two go together. Canada has sought to overcome them by mobilizing young women into harvesting brigades during the summer months. Such was done in this country to a limited extent during World War I, and the result was beneficial to morale as well as to farm output.

Food Prices—

Cooperative ownership of farm machinery is suggested by Leo V. Card, commissioner of agriculture.

Before a congressional committee at Washington, Commissioner Card strongly opposed price-fixing for farm commodities "at this time."

If there must be price-fixing, as some experts advocate, then the farmer insists on price ceilings for all commodities including labor. And immediately you run counter into a powerful pressure group at Washington, just as influential as the farmers themselves.

With the farmer opposing price-fixing and labor telling the government to keep hands off, the housewife or consumer is being caught right in the middle. Here is where the peril of inflation sets in, a threat of scarcity which prompts many persons to overbuy and thus to create an artificial scarcity, kicking prices upward and upward.

A recent analysis of commodity markets, made by the Associated Press, shows that prices paid farmers for major commodities have soared three to 47 per cent since June, 1940, and 18 to 68 per cent since January of this year! Wholesale butter has gone up almost 40 per cent since June of last year; cheese, 71 per cent; eggs, 88 per cent; hogs, 117 per cent; cattle, 24 per cent; lambs, 10 per cent; grains, 35 to 81 per cent. Lard is 128 per cent higher, pork loins 100 per cent more, ham 82 per cent up, and so on.

Airplane Production

According to the Aeronautical Chamber of Commerce of America, Inc., the airplane manufacturing industry has so increased plant facilities in recent months that it now has a production capacity of 1,250 planes a month.

Cynosure

A cynosure is a center of attraction, anything to which attention is strongly turned. The root meaning in Greek is dog's tail, and the word was originally applied to the constellation Ursa Minor, to which the eyes of mariners and travelers were often directed because it contained the North Star.

Hessian Soldiers

It has been estimated that about 30,000 Hessians were hired by the British to fight against the colonists in the Revolutionary war.

Lend-Lease—

Along with airplanes, tanks and other items needed for "shooting war," our government is committed under the lend-lease act of Congress to furnish many ship-loads of foods to Europe.

But the fact remains that there are record breaking surpluses of some foods for this time of year, and yet prices are going up persistently. Why?

Just as many manufacturers have contributed to a shortage of raw materials by hoarding them, so many housewives have helped to push up spiraling food prices by buying a dozen cans instead of one or two, or case-lots instead of a half dozen. Community men were quoted by the Associated Press as saying that buyers are their worst enemies.

Consumer groups, however, suspect that the middleman is profiteering at the expense of both the farmer and consumer. A state consumer committee was recently formed under auspices of the Michigan Council of Defense to investigate reports of excessive price raises.

Inflation—

If what the experts proclaim at Washington—economists such as Lubin and Henderson—an inevitable penalty which we must pay through inflation which is well under way, duplicating the World War inflation, will be a steady advance of food prices during the coming months.

Here you have the food picture in Michigan today—farmer, middleman and consumer.

Unemployment may exist in cities and towns, but there'll be no unemployment on Michigan farms in 1942. Home gardens will be larger; "root cellars" will be filled with more vegetables than usual; shelves of canned goods will bend under added weight. While the farmer will continue to exercise his inherited prerogative of complaining about the weather, he is going to be a lot better off than many city folks—and he knows it.

Thirty Blinks a Minute

The rate of blinking of the eye ranges from 2 to 30 times a minute, according to the Better Vision institute. Some persons normally blink their eyes more frequently than do other persons, and everybody blinks more than usual under emotional stress. A blink ordinarily lasts for one-fifth of a second.

Saved Man, Lost Auto

Louis Purdy of Pana, Ill., smelling smoke in a hotel, rushed into a room and rescued a sleeping man from a burning bed. Firemen tossed the bed clothing out the window, setting Purdy's auto afire and destroying it. Joseph Callahan, falling asleep while reading, slipped from his chair and landed on his own false teeth, which took a bite at him.

Washington Post March

John Philip Sousa's "Washington Post March" was dedicated to the paper of the same name and was first played by the United States Marine band under Sousa's baton on June 15, 1889, on the grounds of the Smithsonian institution in Washington, D. C.

Accidental deaths are increasing. The traffic toll for this year is 18 per cent higher than it was in 1940. The year 1941 will probably reach a record high in accidental deaths. War, diseases, floods, and accidents are taking lives daily. The automobile is responsible in a large part for the increase in the death toll.

We are moving too fast. Cars have passed me at a terrific rate of speed, only to drive on another half-mile and park at a tavern. What is the sense of this? It's smart to drive carefully.

Looking Backward at Events That Happened 25 and 35 Years Ago

Twenty-five Years Ago.
November 3, 1916.

Six dollar beans brought several large sized checks to farmers in this territory the past week. Friday and Saturday, $25,000 were paid out to farmers by the two grain companies at Cass City for this crop. John Delong of Novesta Township realized approximately $700.00 for a six-acre crop. John Goodall brought in one load of beans for which he received $425.01. Other one-load purchases were: Benjamin Schwieger, $358.50; Ray Wilson, $363.20; Harry Cooper, $410.80; W. J. Schwieger, $364.58. Patrick Toohy carried away a check for $910.60 for two loads and Jacob Hurley $798.15 for two loads. Postmaster Dodge had a much better day selling beans than postage stamps on Tuesday. For a few pounds over 160 bushels sold from his Elmwood Township farm he received a check for $929.80. Mr. and Mrs. James A. Greenleaf celebrated their golden wedding on October 29.

The upward trend of prices in food supplies has caused many to purchase early and in larger quantities than usual.

Laurence Keegan has severed his connection in the West Blacksmith Shop and is employed in Caro.

the village, a lecture course consisting of five numbers has been secured to help to while away the long winter evenings and at the same time receive some material benefit.

The Union Depot to be given November 9 under the auspices of the Presbyterian Ladies' Aid Society, is to be directed by Luella Z. Drake.

Chris Seeger, who has been making a prospecting tour in Northwest Canada, has returned to his home here.

John Reagh left Saturday for Owosso where he will pursue a course at the Owosso Business College.

An 18 horsepower Olds gasoline engine has been placed in E. A. McGeorge's elevator this week.

Ed Fitch and son, Arthur, who have spent the past few months in the Canadian Northwest, returned home this week.

J. D. Crosby returned home last Saturday from a delightful auto trip to Ypsilanti and other places.

Child Bearing Death Rate

The death rate from child-bearing among mothers in the United States is now four out of a thousand. This is a higher rate than in most European countries, but lower than it was several years ago in this country.

Why Do We?

The United States imported about 107,000 bushels of apples from Canada for the year ending June 30, 1940, and during the same period, exported about 125,000 bushels of apples to our Canadian neighbor.

MILK MAID STOPS SMALL POX SPREAD

Vaccination has been so successful in eliminating small pox that people are apt to become careless and fail to make sure that they and their children are immune to that dread disease. But there still are scattered cases which might cause a serious epidemic to develop in a community in

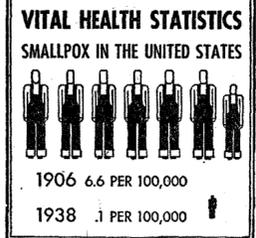

Dr. Nathan S. Davis III, which there were many who had not been recently vaccinated. We are too apt to believe small pox to be such a rare disease that it is no longer necessary to adequately protect oneself against it.

It is said that during the Eighteenth century in England 995 out of every 1,000 inhabitants had small pox; that one out of four who had it died. Nearly all were disfigured by the resulting scars. Most blindness was due to its ravages. While purposeful inoculation with small pox usually caused those so treated to have the disease in a milder form, it did nothing to reduce the numbers who had it.

About 1790, Dr. Edward Jenner, a country doctor in England, was impressed by the chance remark of a milk maid who said that those who acquired cowpox lesions from sores on the udders of cows did not get small pox. By questioning others, he substantiated her statement. Not thoroughly convinced, he decided to try an experiment and found a young boy who was willing to serve as the "guinea pig." Dr. Jenner inoculated this boy with cowpox (vaccinia) and after that lesion had healed, inoculated him with small pox. To his great gratification, the boy did not acquire that dread disease. He then commenced to inoculate his patients with cowpox and found that none of them, even though exposed to it, acquired small pox.

Dr. Benjamin Waterhouse of Boston soon obtained some of the cow-pox material and introduced vaccination into this country. He too met with opposition and to prove his case had to publicly expose his children, whom he had vaccinated, to those confined with small pox in the Pest House. Vaccination rapidly became popular, especially after it was learned that Thomas Jefferson had obtained some vaccine and inoculated himself and also, the members of his family.

As a result of this epoch-making advance in preventive medicine, small pox has been entirely eliminated in areas in which all are vaccinated regularly. However, in many districts, the people, the doctors and the public health officers are careless and many are not vaccinated. Small pox is too common in such places. Fortunately there have been no great epidemics in this country in recent years.

Victor Heiser in "An American Doctor's Odyssey" shows what might happen if such laxity should spread and if the advice of the anti-vaccinationists were followed. He tells of the special small pox hospitals, that had to be built each year in Manila until universal compulsory vaccination was really enforced and how small pox almost disappeared when it was, and returned when it was not.

Remember too that vaccination may render anyone immune for only seven years. Recently a father, a mother and four sons, aged 10, 12, 14 and 16, were vaccinated. The mother and father had had several previous vaccinations but the sons only one when they were infants. All six of the vaccinations took, showing that all had lost their immunity to small pox.

Have you done your duty to your country and been revaccinated?

To dig up a tree you must begin with the root.

Q.—I have had a touch of arthritis in my knees for a long time. It used to hurt me to go up and down stairs, but all the pain is gone now. When I climb stairs though my knees creek like the bones are rubbing together. Is there any danger in too much exercise? Mrs. P.

A.—Too much exercise is apt to cause the pain to come back, so be careful of this.

This FEED GRINDER runs itself—AND PAYS FOR ITSELF!

Ernest J. Reimold, Washtenaw County farmer, and his automatic electric feed mill

Farmers used to haul grain to the mill for grinding into feed. Today's farmer can't afford to spend time and money that way—and he doesn't need to. He installs an automatic electric feed mill.

Then he flips a switch and goes on about his work. Grain stored overhead flows through the mill automatically, and is ground just the way the farmer wants it. The electric feed grinder runs itself, without attention.

It pays for itself, too. Here is a typical comment from a farmer in Monroe County: "I save both time and money by grinding feed. My entire electric bill for lights, ironing and washing, pumping water and grinding feed is less than I used to pay just for having feed ground. And I have any mixture of feed at any time, freshly ground."

Install an electric hammer mill and you hire a hand that will work without supervision. Cost of grinding feed averages about 1c per hundredweight.

Sanilac Health Director Advises Vaccination in County

"Residents of Sanilac County who have not been vaccinated against smallpox in the last seven years should get vaccinated at their earliest opportunity by their family doctor," says Dr. Vida H. Gordon, director of Sanilac County Health Department. Eight new cases of smallpox have developed in Capac, some 13 miles from the southern border of the Sanilac County line, exposing about one thousand persons to the disease. One of these was in a factory, one in a high school, and one in an army induction center.

The incubation period for smallpox is two weeks so that if persons are exposed they must be vaccinated within five days in order to prevent an attack. About 6,000 children in Sanilac County have been vaccinated for smallpox in the last four years, so that there is less chance of an outbreak of the disease developing. This year another extensive program of immunization has been planned in the schools of Sanilac County.

LOCALS HAVE EASY TIME TROUNCING PIGEON 32 TO 0

Concluded from first page. just a question of how many times the locals would get into that pay dirt section. Kloc blasted his way through center for twelve yards and the second score of the game. During the second quarter, Profit added one touchdown and Strickland another. During the fourth period, Kloc again broke away to cross the goal line and Strickland added the point. During the fourth stanza, the Maroon and Grey team was made up mostly of reserves and most of the playing was done in mid-field.

Although the defense of the local line was ragged in spots, they opened up gaping holes on offense and good work in the field blocking enabled the backs to break away for consistent long gains.

With the exception of Root and Karr, who were on the sidelines with injuries, every player on the squad was used in the Pigeon game.
