Circuit Judge Orders Not Guilty Verdict

Judge Louis C. Cramton, in the Tuscola Circuit Court on Monday, directed the jury hearing the case of George, Earl and Morris Colbath of Oscoda, to return a verdict of not guilty.

The men were charged with cutting the nets of Clare Thomas, Akron Township commercial fisherman on April 21, which had been placed in Saginaw Bay. No evidence was produced to show that anyone had seen the Colbath brothers cut the nets and the court's order came after the defendants' attorney moved for a directed verdict.

The case was appealed from justice court where a jury had returned a verdict of guilty.

Air Mail Message Is 16 Weeks on Way

If your mail is slightly delayed, consider the experience Grover H. Burke had the other day in receiving an air mail message sent July 14th last and received at Cass City on Tuesday, November 4, and then perhaps your impatience may seem trivial because of slight detainment.

Mr. Burke's air mail message was mailed at Rangoon, Burma, by Emanuel Norstead, chief engineer of the Steamer K. I. Luckenbach, and was 16 weeks in reaching its destination. Probably the post card was brought to the west coast of the United States by a Japanese steamer and vessels of this nationality are not making as frequent landings here as in former days.

Mr. Burke became acquainted with Chief Engineer Norstead during the trip he and Mrs. Burke made in January, 1940, from New York, through the Panama Canal, to Los Angeles.

Foresee Immediate Decline in State Sales Tax Revenue

Federal Government to Waive All Taxes on the Defense Operations.

By Gene Allemen, Secretary of Michigan Press Association.

Lansing—As predicted in this column last February, state aid for advertising of Michigan agricultural products is due to become a legislative issue.

An annual appropriation of $100,000, only $20,000 less than the amount granted for tourist advertising, is sought by a new agricultural advertising committee headed by W. F. Doyle, manager of the Michigan Chain Stores Bureau and former state senator from Menominee.

This objective was determined at Lansing at a meeting called by Leo V. Card, commissioner of agriculture.

The state legislature set aside $30,000 for allocation to state groups on a matching basis for advertising of Michigan products. When the State Supreme court upheld the apple advertising tax last winter, the rush for funds began. Requests totaled $64,000, more than double the sum at hand. The agreement for a $100,000 grant followed.

Doyle's interest in the advertising programs springs chiefly from co-sponsorship of "Michigan Days" last spring by independent and chain stores. Under the new advertising plan, one-fifth would be set aside by each group for promotion of "Michigan Days" annually for Michigan food products.

State tourist associations, each of which now receives $30,000 annually for advertising, have been cool to the inclusion of any amount for agricultural advertising in the legislative appropriation.

They have pointed out that farmers received a direct benefit from the influx of tourist dollars into Michigan from purchase of additional foodstuffs at resort centers.

Whether harmony can be maintained on this point, please.

Branch Banking Issue Still Alive

The people are going to be given an opportunity to vote on the branch banking issue in Michigan, Earl W. Delano of Allegan, president of the Michigan Bankers' Association, announced this week.

Petitions placing the question on the ballot if the next legislature refuses to enact legislation restricting branch banking, are to be circulated throughout the state in the near future, Delano declared.

With Governor Murray D. Van Wagoner successful in getting the present legislature to uphold his veto of the anti-branch banking bill, the Michigan Bankers' Association firmly believes that the people are strongly in favor of seeing banks in this state controlled through local interest, Delano pointed out.

Maroon and Grey Overpowered Scrappy Marlette

A Win Over Bad Axe Here Today Would Place Locals Second in UTA.

The Cass City High School football team overpowered a scrappy Marlette eleven Friday, 32-6, under the lights at Marlette. The large crowd who witnessed the game, in spite of the rain, saw the Maroon and Grey pile up four touchdowns each of which were on plays netting 50 yards or more. The other touchdown was scored from the one-yard line after having the ball brought into scoring position by a brilliant 55-yard dash by Profit, who stepped out of bounds just before crossing the goal line.

The Marlette defense was over-shifted to stop the local power plays and were very successful in the initial period of the game. Being hampered by a wet ball and wet field, the Maroon and Grey started a series of spinner plays and reverses which caught the defense napping. Aided by exceptional down the field blocking, Profit ran for three touchdowns and took a 20-yard pass from Strickland and scampered the remaining 35 yards for another.

During the last period, Marlette started a desperate passing barrage and Kloc picked one out of the air on his own 45 and ran through a broken field to score the last marker.

E. Smith of Marlette scored his team's touchdown in the second period after McMann recovered a Cass City fumble on the Cass City 25-yard line.

Line-up:
Cass City P. Marlette
Bishop E. Patrick
Karr LT. Wilson
Leitch LG. Hanchuck
Larkin C. Callender
Sweeney RG. McMann
Kolb RT. Callender
Root RE. Jones
Gue QB. P. Smith
Strickland LHB. E. Smith

Kloc FB. Sullivan

This week Cass City plays Bad Axe on the local field. A victory in the game will assure the Maroon and Grey of second place in the U. T. A. A. and keep her in a possible race for the championship. Bad Axe has lost to Caro 13-0. This is the last home game of the year and the whistle blows at 3:00 p. m.

ther Schell, a sister of the bride, and by Mr. and Mrs. Robert Beesley, all of Constantine.

In compliment to Mr. and Mrs. Catton, Mr. and Mrs. Schell have issued invitations for a reception in their home in Cass City Saturday evening, November 8, just a year after the marriage vows were spoken. Sixty guests are expected who will include relatives and friends from South Bend, Indiana, Drayton Plains, Saginaw, Wyandotte, Marlette, Kingston and Cass City. Candelabra lighting and baskets of chrysanthemums will provide a pretty setting for the event.

Mrs. Catton is a graduate of the Cass City High School, and of the Cleary Business College in Ypsilanti where she fitted herself for secretarial work. She now holds a responsible position in White Pigeon with the Wolverine Carton Company.

After his graduation from the Constantine High School, Mr. Catton was associated for two years with Thomas Geisler, funeral director at Constantine. Pettit-Seed Nuptials Here Sunday

Simplicity was the keynote of the wedding Sunday afternoon, November 2, in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Seed, on North Seeger Street, when their daughter, Miss Frances Isabelle Seed, of Cass City was married to Sergeant Kenneth H. Pettit, Selfridge Field, son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry A. Pettit, of Ferndale.

Preceding the ceremony, which was performed at 2:30 o'clock by Rev. Wendling H. Hastings, pastor of the local Presbyterian Church, Miss Ruth Schenk played "O Promise Me" by DeKoven, as a brief prelude, and the wedding march from "Lohengrin" as the bridal party took their places.

The room was lovely with baskets of chrysanthemums.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, was very pretty in her street length jacket dress of dusty grayed green with brown accessories. Talisman roses formed her corsage.

Miss Elizabeth Seed of Saginaw, her sister's only attendant, wore a cocoa brown dress with brown accessories and a corsage of yellow roses.

Sergeant Walter Collins, Selfridge Field, attended Mr. Pettit as best man.

Miss Schenk wore Johanna Hill roses.

Refreshments were served from a lace covered table centered with a tiered wedding cake surrounded by a garland of vines and flowers. About 40 relatives were present.

Mr. and Mrs. Pettit left on a three weeks' trip South after which they will make their home at Selfridge Field.

The bride, who graduated from Cass City High School, has been employed by the Michigan Associated Telephone Company for the last eight and one-half years in the Cass City office.

Presbyterian Rummage Sale will be held in the Council Rooms Friday afternoon and Saturday, November 14 and 15.—Advertisement 2t.

Farmers Are the Guests of Rotary Club Members

Guest Speaker Pays Tribute to Campbell's Leadership in Livestock Work.

Cass City Rotary Club members entertained farmer friends at a chicken dinner prepared and served by home economic students of the senior class on Tuesday evening at the school auditorium.

Rotary President Ernest Schwaderer extended a cordial welcome to the guests and W. L. Mann served as song leader with Charles Keen at the piano.

An unusual procedure at a gathering of this kind was the reading of the minutes of the last meeting of the club by William Miller, "assistant secretary." It became apparent, however, as the reading progressed that the assistant must have caught the trend of inflation in his recordings for idiosyncrasies of Rotarians were considerably enlarged and there was also a digression in the relating of activities of members of the club.

L. I. Wood, G. A. Tindale, A. C. Atwell and G. W. Landon were members of a quartet who sang very effectively two numbers, "Old Black Joe" and "Liza Jane." Charles Keen was piano accompanist.

Willis Campbell, program chairman, presented Robert Mackie, manager of the Metamora Farms, as speaker of the evening. Mr. Mackie is a native of Scotland and said he appreciated greatly his citizenship here. Many Americans, he said, do not realize what the United States offers its citizens in the way of privileges and advantages. Speaking of the world today, he said, conditions "across" are very acute and are becoming so in America.

Paying tribute to Willis Campbell and his leadership in 4-H livestock work in this community, Mr. Mackie said "Campbell can pick more winners in the rough than any other livestock man in the state."

Shingles Like Fish Scales

Bowlers in Their Mid-season Form

By Dr. B. H. Starmann, Secretary of Bowling League.

The seventh week of the season found the bowlers in their most consistent good form so far. The high team three-game and single game standings were shuffled considerably as were also the high individual scores.

Almost the unbelievable took place on Monday evening. Dr. Starmann's five rolled the highest three-game total up to that time, a 2,456, and still lost two games to the Reid aggregation. It is explained however, by the simple means of too much power in one game. The last game of the evening was a rousing 912, the first "900 game" of the current series. In this game, Dr. Starmann missed Walt Mann's high single game by two pins. Walt still leads in this department with a 246 bowled a month ago. Dr. Starmann had to be content with second place with a 244.

On the very next shift that night the Collins' five decided that about two hours were sufficient for the Starmann's to have the lead in three-game totals and blasted out a 2,493. Thus the three-game team total changed hands twice in one night. Collins' total was "sparked" by Frank Fort's 564 and Bob Keppen's 531.

In the individual high single game, besides Dr. Starmann taking over second place with 244, third place was taken over in this department by Herb Ludlow with a lustrous 236 in his first game.

Two teams managed to win all three of their games in the seventh week. Collins won three from Dr. Fritz and Auten won three at the expense of Tyo.

Yes, gentlemen, it was quite a week. There were no "600" scores but there were more "600's" than at any other time. Fourteen of them to be exact. They were as follows: Reid 571, Ludlow 569, Dr. Starmann 567, Fort 564, Ernie Schwaderer 552, Schwegler 550, R. McCullough 549, Parsch 546, Keppen 531, Jankech 529, Pinney 514, Warner 507, Auten 505, and Collins 501.

The week's results leave the Collins' five showing the way. They now lead Reid by one game. From now on it will be a "horse race," gentlemen.

1918—Armistice Day—1941—

A HUSH comes over the land . . . the clock strikes eleven! Traffic halts, wheels stop, work ceases. Men, women and children throughout America face the East. A bugle blows. Taps . . . for America's sons who made the supreme sacrifice on the battlefields of freedom.

With bowed heads we recall another November 11th when the last shot was fired in France. We pay tribute to the Unknown Soldier who sleeps in Arlington cemetery, and to the unnumbered thousands of our sons and big brothers who sleep, not in the glory of Arlington, but in the greater glory of autumn, on wooded slope or in sunny field, beneath the quiet stars.

"On fame's eternal camping ground their silent tents are spread, And glory guards with solemn round the bivouac of the dead."

Amid the imploring silence of this solemn hour comes the realization that the flower of America's manhood died not in vain, though the world is once more engulfed in the throes of war. They gave reality to the word, freedom. They gave us a rich heritage—to hold high the torch of liberty. The spark inherited from the legions of the fallen, who died in manhood's morning on the grand highway of freedom still glows in all American hearts today!

Red Cross Helps Solve Problems Of Our Recruits

Through Its Directors in Camps Red Cross Links Men With Home

Washington, D. C.—On the home and military fronts the American Red Cross is turning its focus on the man in uniform. In his behalf, more than 10,000 nurses are being recruited. Volunteers are donating their blood for a huge plasma bank. Red Cross women in chapters throughout the country are making 40,000,000 surgical dressings, and knitting sweaters for men in outlying posts and sailors on patrol. But these are just fragments of the story. In military and naval stations, the Red Cross is concerning itself with the personal problems of the service man, helping him adjust himself to military life. For the disabled, the Red Cross is on the job in service hospitals, helping to speed recovery of the sick through a morale-building program. In mobilizing a 2,000,000-man fighting force, the personal problems of the able-bodied man in uniform have in turn become problems of the morale divisions. Red Cross field directors stationed in all camps and reservations have been entrusted with the task of helping to solve these problems. Speaking in a nation-wide broadcast recently, Chief of Staff Marshall, of the Army, addressed the following words to Red Cross field directors: "When you help straighten out any of the great variety of tangles that human beings seem unable to avoid, you are helping to maintain morale on the home front and on the military front; you are helping us in training for defense." The disabled man in a service hospital also can look to the Red Cross for help in speeding recovery. Medical-social workers, trained for their specialized assignment, are on duty at Army general and Navy hospitals to aid service physicians, to act as a medium of communication with the families of hospitalized men and to conduct recreational programs for convalescents. The Red Cross provides recreational service for patients in all Army and Navy hospitals. Sixty-five new hospitals are under construction by the Army, and their recreation buildings are being equipped and staffed by the Red Cross as each one opens. As part of the Army and Navy safety programs, members of the national Red Cross staff are qualifying instructors in First Aid and Water Safety among the ranks of the enlisted man. The number of Army and Navy cases assisted by Red Cross field directors has increased in volume 140 per cent since Selective Service has been in operation. During the past year 126,515 cases involving active service men have been handled in the camps. The Red Cross recently made available $1,000,000 to meet an emergency need for athletic equipment for the Army and Navy. This need arose when Government appropriations for the purpose became exhausted. In addition to providing the Army and Navy with an official reservoir of nurses, the Red Cross is cataloging the nation's medical technologists. Through this program, in which approximately 3,000 technicians have registered, the Army and Navy will select such professional personnel as laboratory workers, dietitians, dental technicians, pharmacists and other categories of trained technologists.

Mare Island Is Enjoying Boom

Projects Under Way at Navy Yard Bring Housing Problem to Fore.

VALLEJO, CALIF.—This city, home of the Mare Island navy yard, is in the greatest boom of its history. It has been through booms before—notably the World war period which lasted from 1914 to 1921. But this boom promises to be the one that will out-boom all others for all time to come. The population has tripled, from 20,000 to 60,000 and the town has become a township. Federal, state and municipal authorities are striving in every possible manner to meet the crisis in housing, feeding, schooling, sleeping and other fields. The only thing that makes their load a little lighter is that everyone has plenty of money. Payroll Grows Steadily. The payrolls at the navy yard now carry 18,000 names and 1,000 more are being added monthly. Thrifty housewives who have a spare bedroom can make their pin money—or increase the family capital—by renting it to three men for eight-hour periods of the entire 24 hours, the men coming from the day, night and early morning shifts. Those who are lucky enough to get a room for the full 24 hours pay $12.50 a week and get two meals daily for $8 a week. As they make $58 a week they can afford this outlay. Automobiles from 20 different states take up every inch of unused space in the city and the latest traffic survey shows 2,000 cars an hour streaming past one intersection. Some workers find it easier and cheaper to commute even for distances of 100 miles. Federal Housing Added. More than 4,000 federal housing units are being constructed on the outskirts of the city. The federal government will also help the state and city in providing school facilities in August for 7,500 children instead of the usual 4,500. The children from the outside at present say "life is not so hot." But one reported it was just as much fun as when his "dad" worked on defense projects elsewhere. Three-room cabins rent for $60 a month and homes from $75 up. Trailers cost from $150 to $1,500. Staking space, not including gas and light bills, costs $3 a week—when there is any. Trailers in all the inhabited territory about the city keep residents supplied with ice, eggs, butter, meats, vegetables, bakery and other products without forcing anyone to have to "go to town" or "to the store" to fill their needs. Banks have had to double and triple their staffs to take care of the payrolls.

Paint Now Grades Fire Hydrant for Pressure
FALL RIVER, MASS.—The useful but usually dingy fire hydrant is a thing of beauty in Fall River now. The prettiness of the "plugs," however, is just another aid to firemen. Formerly the hydrants were chrome yellow with black tops. Now they are painted aluminum, with green, orange, red or black spigots. John W. Moran, superintendent of the waterworks, suggested painting the hydrants so firemen would know how much water pressure they could expect. Green, he says, tells the fire department to "shoot the works, there's plenty of water." It indicates that the hydrant is attached to 16, 20, 24 or 36 inch mains. Orange means only 10 or 12 inch mains are beneath the street and red calls for caution, as water is supplied by only six or eight inch mains. Black indicates a dead end in the pipe, where the water supply is lowest. On reaching a threatening fire, according to Moran, firemen can determine whether it would be more advisable to pump from the hydrant nearest the blaze or go to the one around the corner.

Even Experts Can't Tell Why Rubber Bounces
AKRON, OHIO.—The B. F. Goodrich company, one of the largest manufacturers of rubber goods, which maintains a laboratory that pries incessantly into the qualities of rubber, confessed that there is one thing about rubber it doesn't know. Goodrich doesn't know what makes it bounce. The question was put to the company by a man who had made a bet. As a matter of fact, the company tried to find out, interviewing its chemists, physicists and experts, but none could answer.

Accidents in Home Kill 33,000 Persons in Year
CHICAGO.—There's no place like home for accidents. The National Safety council reported in its latest volume on U. S. accident statistics that in 1940: 33,000 persons were killed in home accidents. Statisticians figured poor judgment as the personal factor most frequently involved in home accidents and disorders, or poor house-keeping, the mechanical factor.

The Cass City Home Extension Group met Tuesday in the home of Mrs. Lyle Koepfen. Miss Lura DeWitt and Mrs. Lyle Baridwell gave the lesson on rugs and rug making. They explained the choosing of right colors and suitable materials for the various rugs and how small rugs may be used. One should use only a few small rugs in one room and place them so that they are with the structural lines of the room. Too many small rugs used together give a disorderly and spotty appearance to the floor, it was stated. There are two reasons why it is a pleasure to make rugs. The first is the making of something useful from cast-off and worn-out materials. The second is the creation of something beautiful to make the home more attractive, the instructors said. A home-made rug is economical and it is beautiful. Many beautiful hooked, linked and crocheted rugs were shown as examples of the various types. Mrs. M. T. Lombard of Detroit was a guest at the meeting. The next meeting will be held in the home of Mrs. Audley Kinnaird with the committee, Mrs. Kinnaird, Mrs. E. A. Corpron, Mrs. E. W. Kercher, Mrs. R. N. Don't take my WORD for it!
—FRANK COLBY—
GESTURE

Noun. A motion of the body or limbs; an act of courtesy or diplomacy.

From the large number of questions received by this column about today's word, it is evident that many persons, even those of good education, are not sure whether the first syllable should be like "guess" or like "Jess."

The "g" must have the soft sound of "j" as in gem, not the hard sound of "g" as in get. The second syllable, -ture, as in picture, nature, furniture, signature, literature, etc., may be pronounced either "cher" or "tyoor," but never "choor." The New Webster's gives "cher" as "the natural pronunciation in general use by unaffected speakers."

Correct pronunciation:
First choice: JESS-cher
Second choice: JESS-tyoor
(Capitals indicate syllables to be accented.)

Note: Beau geste is a French term that means a graceful gesture or act intended to be pleasing or conciliatory. Beau rhymes with toe; the "G" in geste has the "zh" sound as in azure.

Correct pronunciation:
boe ZHEST

VASSAR SCHOOL GIRL

INJURED BY TRUCK

Dallas Ann Waldrop, Vassar school girl, received a deep cut on the right side of her body and bruises when she was hit by a truck driven by Alex Femberg on Division Street on October 29. Femberg told officers he did not see the girl walking along the road and did not know he had hit her until he was stopped and told of the accident by witnesses. The girl was on her way home from school.

Charles Schad, driving Gordon Stirtor's truck and traveling east, 1 1/4 miles east of Ashmore, pulled over too far off the road in meeting two other vehicles and the truck turned over with six tons of coal. In turning out, the rear wheels went off the tarvia and hit two mud holes, causing the driver to lose control of the truck. The accident happened on Wednesday morning.

TO YOUR Good Health

by DR. NATHAN S. DAVIS, III

COLD 'BUG' MEANS DANGER FOR MANY

"I've got a bug."

How often have you heard that said followed usually in a moment or two by a sneeze which, because of your nearness, may cause you to inhale not one "bug" but thousands of poisonous germs.

And as a result before long you have a "bug" and are sneezing. If you are fortunate, it will be as simple as that.

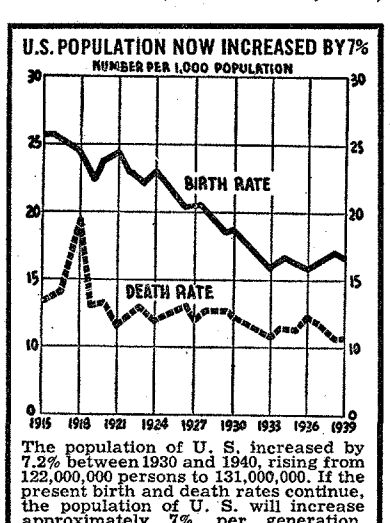

But beware. Because of the virulence and type of the infection, through poor physical condition, or because you may be over-tired, have an intestinal upset or other minor ailment that lowers your resistance, you may develop complications, such as sinus trouble, earache, bronchitis, or pneumonia.

The "bug" may even be one that means rheumatic fever, heart trouble, a kidney disease, or "blood poisoning."

The common cold, sore throats, and epidemic influenza are highly contagious. If one member of a family is stricken by one of these upper-respiratory throat infections it usually spreads to all the rest. If a child with one of these "colds" goes to school, hardly one in the classroom will escape.

Some persons will have many colds every year while another will not have more than one or two a year. "Colds" differ from season to season and from year to year. At one time, there will be little fever and the disturbance will be mostly in the nose. Another time, or even at the same time in another year, there will be fever and a sore throat.

"Colds" tend to increase as the sun moves farther south, the days become shorter and the ultra-violet rays fewer in the North Temperate Zone it seems, at least. So, also, there are not as many "colds" when the days become longer and the ultra-violet rays more numerous.

During the fall, winter and spring months, people are indoors most of the time and for food depend more on varieties that have been processed and preserved. So it would seem that a generally lowered resistance due to a combination of causes rather than to any special weakness accounts for the seasonal variation.

How can we avoid catching cold? A diet containing enough vitamins, minerals and proteins and a proper amount of carbohydrates is of great importance in keeping up resistance. Plenty of rest and exercise are also necessary.

It is most important also that we avoid crowds in street cars, stores and movies, in so far as possible, as it lessens the chance for exposure. Above all do not feel that you must visit every sick friend or relative. If you must visit those sick with a cold or if you have to care for them, wear a gauze mask over your nose and mouth, at least, so that you may inhale fewer of the "bugs" which have been scattered about by the patient sneezing and coughing. Sterilize the dishes and eating objects used by the patient and let him use paper handkerchiefs which may be burned. Put the patient in a room alone so the cold won't be spread to others.

If you have the cold, don't leave the house and, if you can, stay in bed. Keep other members of the family, especially the older ones and the children, out of your room. Don't go out and spread the "cold" to fellow employees, or to those near you in buses, street cars or trains! Don't go to the movies!

A little knowledge is a dangerous thing.

QUESTION BOX
Send questions to Dr. Nathan S. Davis III, Winnetka, Ill. (Enclose a self-addressed, stamped envelope.)

Q.—All the advertisements tell you about alkali in oranges, but when I drink much orange juice, I get an acid feeling. Could it be possible that I am allergic to citrus fruits? J. N.

A.—Orange juice contains an acid which is converted into an alkali in the body. It may stimulate too much acid secretion or it is quite possible that you may be allergic to oranges.

Plugging in Electric Radiator
Those who feel warmer when they hear the faint hissing of a steam radiator can now purchase a portable electric steam radiator that can be carried "by a woman" from room to room and plugged into any wall socket. Another new heating device is asserted to convert "cheap kerosene" into the newly announced dortane gas. It is said to be adapted especially for installation in coal and wood stoves and furnaces in remote areas that are not yet served by gas mains.

Nassau, Capital of Bahamas
Nassau, capital city of the Bahamas, was named after William III, prince of Orange, by acts passed in 1695 by the Lord Proprietors. These acts authorized the building of a city and forts to replace those destroyed by the Spaniards in 1694.

KINGSTON NEWS

Evelyn Palmerton of Hazel Park, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur Gilmore, and Andy Gergler of Hammond City, Indiana, were united in marriage at Hazel Park on October 19. The bride was born here and spent the early part of her life in Kingston. She graduated from Hazel Park High School in 1941. They will make their home at 434 Alexandrine, Detroit.

James Stewart departed this life on October 30 at noon in his home here at the age of 66 years. He had been in poor health for some time. He leaves to mourn his going, his wife; two sons and a daughter, Donald and Ford of Detroit, and Mrs. George Peter of Kingston. Funeral services were held from the Karr Funeral Home Saturday afternoon and burial in the Kingston Cemetery.

A number of Queen Esther girls from Deford and Kingston attended a missionary banquet in the Romeo church. Kingston was represented by the largest number in attendance.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Henderson and family and Mrs. Koppelberger were callers at the A. H. Henderson home Sunday afternoon.

Due to the furnace not being installed in the Baptist Church, there were no services in the church on Sunday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. B. E. Moore were in attendance at WMPC Church in Lapeer Sunday evening.

The extension group will meet with Mrs. R. C. Fox Wednesday, November 12, at 10:30 a. m., with potluck dinner at noon.

Mrs. Don Stewart of Detroit returned to her home Tuesday after spending a few days with Mrs. James Stewart and Mrs. George Peter.

The Kingston Literary Club met with Mrs. Wanda Burns October 28. After the business and social hour, the hostess served a lunch of doughnuts and coffee.

Mrs. S. H. Andrews is in poor health at the present writing.

The Hunter.

From Charles McCaslin, a veteran hunter, comes a newspaper clipping containing a poem, entitled "The Hunter," which Mr. McCaslin requests the Chronicle to print. Here it is:

I'll tell you a story of a crazy galoot,
Who went to the forest a big buck to shoot.
He said, "As a hunter I'm good I admit,
Whatever I shoot at is bound to be hit."

So he bought him a license, some shells and a gun,
The stuff that he carried weighed nearly a ton.

He had blankets and pillows, a cot and a chair,
And high rubber boots, he was rigged out for fair.

Then he packed up his auto and a trailer behind,
He seemed to have everything there he could find.

Then he jumped in the seat, gave the starter a kick,
He headed her North, at a terrible lick.

Next night about seven he pulled into camp.
He put up a tent on ground that was damp.
He ate some potatoes, some bacon and cake,
He said, "Well tomorrow I'll have venison steak."

At dawn he was out with his shells and his gun,
He saw some fresh tracks and found a deer run.
So he sat down to wait for that crafty old buck.

He said he was sure of plenty of luck,
He waited an hour then not far away
He heard sounds of hoofs and saw branches es sway.

Put his gun to his shoulder, pulled the trigger and "Wow,"
But instead of a deer, he had shot an old cow.

Then he hiked for an hour and suddenly stopped.
And up on a stump he gingerly hopped.
He shot through the branches, then over he ran,
To find he had murdered a good healthy man.

He was scared and discouraged and headed for camp,
But round in a circle he started to tramp.
He walked 'till the blisters came out on his feet,
He had nothing to drink or nothing to eat.

The night overtook him, he heard a hoot owl.
The hungry old Wolverines started to howl.
He loaded his gun, put his back to a tree,
And said, "I'll get him before he gets me."

His rifle was loaded, and already cocked,
"Twas ready for action and not even locked.
He leaned on the muzzle, the butt on his boot,
And that was the last of this crazy galoot.

For the lumberjack found him right where he had spilled, Found the man he had murdered and the cow he had killed.
Found his wife and his children were left destitute,
All on account of this crazy galoot.

It's a Fact

Strange things happen to food at high altitudes. In an airliner 10,000 feet up, a three-minute egg takes 12 minutes to boil, an ordinary cake collapses and soup in a regular vacuum bottle boils and blows the cork out.

Red Invisible

Red is an invisible color to some insects, and ultra-violet rays, which are invisible to the human eye, can be seen by certain insects.

tained between the food groups, including the Michigan Food Council representing the retailers, distributors and producers, and the four tourist associations is a matter of speculation. Whereas food advertising would be handled through the state department of agriculture, tourist advertising funds are allocated directly to the tourist groups which, in turn, must account to the state for their expenditures.

The tourist interests gave in to pressure from the administration this year by voluntarily setting aside $5,000 from their $30,000 annual grant for use of a $20,000 state-wide advertising program and the establishment of a central office at the capitol. During Frank Murphy's regime, the associations were threatened with outright scalping. Centralized state control

Defense Headache

Financial headaches, due to defense priorities and a rapid swing to "all-out" war production, are beginning to multiply.

Governor Murray D. Van Wag- oner, speaking at Washington, estimated gloomily that between 100,000 and 150,000 Michigan automobile workers would be thrown out of employment between January and July as automobile plants retooled for defense.

This would place a new drain on unemployment compensation funds and a new burden on relief loads.

Another bottleneck is being felt already in many small towns where non-defense industries are being hard pressed to get raw materials needed for defense.

Washington is being urged to speed the letting of arms contracts in advance of the 1942 unemployment slump. The lag in blueprints and tooling is always greater than the worker believes it should be. Even if the war must continue until 1943 and possibly 1944, as Washington is now assuming, industrial hard-times will prevail and inflated prosperity in many communities of Michigan unless red tape is slashed, action is ordered. Such is the governor's belief, and signs are bearing out his predictions.

Tax Headache

The federal government's insistence that all defense equipment and production must be tax exempt has sent chills up and down backbones of both state and county officials.

In Wayne County it is estimated that shutting down automobile plants will remove millions of dollars annually from personal property assessments. If defense equipment is tax exempt, what is going to happen? Figure it out for yourself.

Louis M. Nims, director of the state sales tax board, foresees an immediate decline in revenue if the federal government's policy prevails to waive all taxes on defense operations. Estimates of potential losses run from $5,000,000 to $15,000,000 although it is felt that eventually when the readjustment to defense production has been made the return of purchasing power will offset the temporary loss of revenue.

Farm Prosperity

At the Sault Ste. Marie state convention of the Michigan Grange, Dean E. L. Anthony of Michigan State College school of agriculture counseled farmers not to buy larger farms and more equipment from the new profits from higher-priced products in 1942.

Avoid the temptation, he warned, as an economic letdown from today's crazy spending is inevitable when the emergency ends.

"We should know that as soon as this war is over, the world will return to its land, exhausted and too poor to buy our products. We will have a farm machine built for an excess demand."

Civil Service

Political control of Michigan's state prisons is on the way out, according to Garrett Heyns, state corrections director, who says that the new civil service amendment will prevent the frequent turnover of wardens and state employees and make for new efficiency in our penal system.

In civil service tests, Warden Simon R. Anderson of Marquette prison and Warden Warren J. Dodge of Ionia prison failed to qualify for their positions.

Eligibles for their jobs include A. Ross Pascoe, chairman of the parole board; Joel R. Moore, former warden at Jackson (appointed by Murphy); Dr. Wellington B. Huntley, medical director at Jackson, and Homer Gellein, former corrections director.

LETTERS

Mrs. L. Bailey has received the following letter from Private Russell L. Dewey, Marine Dept., U. S.
S. Hornet, c/o Postmaster, Portsmouth, Virginia:

October 26, 1941
U. S. S. Hornet
U. S. Marine Corps.

Hello Mrs. Bailey,
I thought I would write and let you know what ship I am on and a little about the ship. You most likely heard about this new aircraft carrier that was commissioned last Monday, October 20. Well, I went aboard it early that morning, so we would be in time for the commissioning of the ship at 2:30 that afternoon. We went aboard up at the naval base called N. O. B. So we stayed there until Friday and then we moved back down Hampton Road to Portsmouth where I was stationed. So now we will be here for about a month and a half.

This ship is the best equipped and the latest model out today. It is just like living in a large hotel, but this one floats. We marines have our own sleeping compartment. And we stand guard every other day. And to give you some idea how large the ship is, here is how many men there are aboard her now, 2,170 men. Most of the ships don't carry that many men.
The length of the ship is 761 feet.
I almost forgot to tell you the name of the ship. It is called the Hornet and is a sister ship to the Wasp. You know you can get lost very easily on board this ship because it is so large. Just about every day since I have been here I have been lost about six times a day. You can very easily get lost throughout the ship. People may not believe this, but you can.

Well, this is about all I can write to you about this ship. I will be on the ship for two years I think.

"NAVY TRADE TRAINING GAVE ME MY START" SAYS PRESIDENT, SPERRY CORPORATION

THOMAS A. MORGAN (pictured in insert), president of the Sperry Corporation, world's largest manufacturers of aeronautical and marine instruments, received his early technical training in the U. S. Navy, in which he enlisted as a young man. "This has proved of great value to me in later years," said ex-sailor Morgan. Pictured above are new Navy recruits receiving electrical training at one of the modern equipped Navy Trade Schools. The Navy offers training to young men in nearly 50 different trades and vocations.

Opportunities for advancement, to learn skilled trades, for travel and adventure are identical whether a man enlists in the regular Navy or the Naval Reserve—and his pay, food, clothing, medical and dental care are the same.

Athletics in the Navy Stress Good Sportsmanship

You wouldn't think that Uncle Sam's men who go down to the sea in ships would have much time for sports—but they do. The Navy, considers athletics to be an integral part of a well-balanced Naval life.

Nearly every popular American sport is played in the Navy. There are football, baseball and basketball teams. Boxing, wrestling, track and field and swimming meets are enjoyed. Every ship and station has an officer in charge of athletics. He, in turn, has several assistants. All work together in producing winning teams, building competitive spirit between ships and fleets.

To play on a Navy team, a man must be physically fit for every contest. Boxers and wrestlers are examined carefully before every match to make certain they are "in the pink."

Each ship has its own baseball and football teams and when a ship comes into a Naval base a series of games are arranged with teams of other naval units. Spirit runs high and rivalry is keen.
During baseball season, when the ships are at anchor at sea, the sailors rig up large nets on deck and stage batting practice just as easily as if they were on a baseball field. Some bluejackets even take their golf clubs along and practice driving into the nets.

Here is a typical day's menu in the U. S. Navy:

Breakfast—Fresh fruit, Vienna sausage with tomato sauce, assorted cereals, griddle cakes with syrup, bread, butter and coffee.

Dinner—Vegetable soup, pot roast of beef, succotash, mashed potatoes, salad, bread, butter, coffee, chocolate cake and ice cream.

Supper—Liver and bacon, string beans, steamed rice, salad, stewed prunes, bread, jam and tea.

ing to Natural History. This rude shelter does for the dry weather. In the rainy season they move into mountain caves.

Kathleen Norris Says:

This Is Still a Man's World

(Bell Syndicate—WNU Service.)

We love the same things, and we talked of marriage and felt that ours was a serious affair. Ours was a deep devotion and for weeks our secret love kept us in a heaven of happiness.

By KATHLEEN NORRIS

THIS is still a man's world. Women have made mighty strides in the last hundred years, to establish certain rights for themselves and to do away with certain hoary old injustices. But you can't change matters as deep-rooted as masculine privilege and superiority in any one lifetime, and women still have a long way to go.

One reason why the males can assume the quietly-assured position of lordship is because many a woman isn't happy until she has convinced some man that he is little short of a god, and that she is a complete fool.

About once a week I get a letter from some woman who is worried because she fears Harry is looking at some other woman, usually an office associate. She neglects home and children, grows critical and tearful, listens in at the telephone, drops in at the office, reads letters, becomes nervous—in short, she does everything she can to show Harry that she has no individuality, no character, no reserves within herself; that she is just one more clinging vine, hanging on to the flawless male for comfort, love, life, everything. Sweet Alice who wept with delight when Ben Bolt gave her a smile, and trembled with fear at his frown, did not disappear with the Victorian era.

A More Pitiful Girl.

Even more pitiful than this married slave, who cannot build a life of her own, is the sort of girl who writes me, that because a boy told her he would stop loving her if she didn't do what he asked; and because she loved him so terribly, she has wrecked her self-respect for life.

Believe me, although girls are much more independent than they used to be, and much less talk goes on about the very low percentage of young women who preserve their chastity, it is an extremely unpleasant and dangerous thing for a young wife to have in her background the memory of an illicit love.

Besides the burning humiliation of discovering that her generosity has rather cooled than heightened his ardors, the girl has another price to pay. Her love for a man doubles when once she has given herself to him. She is plunged instantly in horrible misgivings for fear she will lose him. And in each successive instance her charm for him lessens.

Oh, there are sirens, of course, experienced married women who can play fast and loose with a lover until he is driven to distraction and suicide. But girls of 18 and 20 know nothing of these arts, and the boys who take advantage of them know it.

A Tragic Experience.

This is "Madelon's" letter: "A boy, who is fine in every way, and I had been going together for a year," she writes. "We love the same things, and although I am only 19 and Phil three months younger than I, we talked of marriage and felt that ours was a serious affair. Five months ago he talked to me of the long time we should have to wait until he is out of college and making some money, and asked me to seal our devotion and our engagement by giving myself to him. "For some weeks I would not

PRICE OF INDEPENDENCE

For many years women have struggled for freedom from stuffy conventions, for equality with men, for the right to plan their own lives. Today they study medicine. They run for political office. They fight side by side with men on the battlefields of the world. Then why should they be tied down by what looks like old fashioned standards of morality? Lots of women, some of them claim, have "gotten away with" illicit love affairs. Young girls risk their future happiness in a moment's carelessness. They really mean to be good, but they just can't resist temptation. Read what Kathleen Norris has to say about the price women pay for the wrong kind of independence.

hear of this, but he became sad, and reproached me for not loving him. Finally he took another girl to a picnic and paid so much attention to her all day, although I was at the picnic with my brother, that I told him I would hold out no longer.

"Ours was a deep devotion and for a few weeks our secret love kept us both in a heaven of happiness, but then, in his anxiety to get married, Phil told his mother of our affair. He said she did not seem shocked, but told him he must go to a business college his uncle runs in Springfield and take two shorter courses that would fit him to earn his living.

"Phil's father is dead. Phil and his mother then moved to Springfield, and although he wrote me four times immediately, his letters then stopped. I think now his mother hoped all along it would be like this.

But She Still Loves Him.

"Anyway, Phil did not come home for the long vacation; he and his mother and an old school friend of hers motored to California and had a wonderful time. Now he is at home; he has been here three weeks. I telephoned him at once and he sounded all right; later he telephoned and said he would see me soon. We then had a clam bake on the river. He accepted, but did not come, and sent me no explanation. Now I hear he is going with a very rich girl here, taking her to things and is at her house with her brother all the time.

"If he told his mother about us I am sure he would tell this girl, Mimi, too, and I feel as though I could not bear it. I suppose that despite all this I still love him; certainly there is no other boy in town half as attractive.

"My brother cut his foot this summer playing tennis, and the doctor gave me some tablets to soak in water to wash it. He said they are deadly poison. I have hidden three of them, and I feel sometimes as though that would be the way out for me; only I would hate to give a girl like Mimi the satisfaction of knowing that I would kill myself. Can you and will you help me?"

No, Madelon, my dear, I cannot. But time will. Time will make all this hot young flurry of passion and jealousy and weakness and shame like only a dream. It is a cruel enough dream, and hard enough to bear now, but get through the next year somehow; get through the agonies of seeing him married to a pretty, devoted and morally stronger girl, and the worst will be over. Then the future will hold for you a soberer and a wiser happiness.

Youngsters Roamed Cass City Streets Friday Night Looking for Fun and Finding It

Ghosts, goblins and small fry roamed the streets of Cass City Friday night, armed with boxes, sacks and with mother's soap. The majority engaged in harmless revelries. Masks, papa's thrown-away suit, mama's summer shoes adorned the tykes celebrating Halloween that night. Halloween is the one day, or night, that distinctly belongs to the youngsters—not necessarily the very young either.

The members of the Methodist Sunday School were entertained in the basement of the church Friday evening when a colorful effect was created by jack-o-lanterns. About 80 were present and came in costume. Games were played and refreshments were served.

A goodly number were also present at the Baptist Church when adults and young people gathered in the church basement Friday evening. The arrival of the guests who came masked was announced by the blowing of a horn as the guests came upon the bottom step of the stairs. The rooms were ghostly with black cats, witches, corn stalks, jack-o-lanterns and streamers of black and orange crepe paper. Irene Smith received a prize for the nicest costume and Marjorie Livingston, a prize for the funniest one. Various Halloween games were played and refreshments were served.

Tommy Schwaderer, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. B. Schwaderer, entertained seventeen of his little friends Saturday evening in his new home. The boys came in costume and enjoyed games and moving pictures. Refreshments were served.

On Wednesday evening, a Halloween party was held at the Baptist Church for the children. Thirty-seven were present and came masked. An uninvited guest held an important place on one of the tables in the basement, where corn stalks, black cats and lighted jack-o-lanterns lent a proper Halloween atmosphere to the party. Refreshments were served.

A Halloween party was held on Wednesday evening at the Birmingham School when students, parents and friends enjoyed a fine program. Mrs. Willis won a basket of groceries and Bobby O'Dell a sack of pancake flour. Pop corn and candy were sold. The money derived from the party will be used for furnishing hot lunches for the children during the winter. Miss Irene Hall is the teacher.

Mrs. Perry Livingston entertained the members of the Cradle Roll Department of the Sunshine Sunday School and their mothers in her home Saturday afternoon, October 25, at a Halloween party. Mrs. Livingston is the superintendent of the Cradle Roll Department.

Miss Barbara Jean Bardwell was a delightful hostess Tuesday evening when 80 friends met in her home on Third Street and enjoyed a Halloween party. The young ladies of the party brought boxes. The boxes, containing the lunch, were auctioned off later in the evening.

Miss Nancy Morris entertained a number of her friends in her home on North Seeger Street on Thursday evening when guests came in gala costumes. All sorts of strange apparitions stalked about the house where games were enjoyed.

Baltimore, Maryland, September 17, 1897, and was united in marriage with James Doerr in August, 1918. Mr. and Mrs. Doerr moved to Sandusky from Cass City 18 years ago.

Mrs. Doerr was a life-long member of the Methodist Church. She is survived by her husband; three sons, Harold, Anthony and Jack Doerr; and one daughter, Jeanne Doerr, all at home; two brothers and two sisters, all of Baltimore, and a host of friends.

Mrs. Sarah Elizabeth Young. Funeral services were held at 2:00 p. m. Saturday in Argyle Methodist Church for Mrs. Sarah Elizabeth Young, 90, resident of Cass City and vicinity for the last 58 years, who passed away in the home of her daughter, Mrs. Jacob Vatter, in Argyle Township, on Wednesday, October 29. Rev. William Firth, Deckerville, officiated. Burial was in Elkland Cemetery.

Mrs. Young was born May 7, 1851, in Lincolnshire, England, and with her parents moved to Ontario when she was 12 years of age and in 1883 she came to Michigan. She is survived by two sons and two daughters by a previous marriage: George Palmer, Deford; James Palmer, Argyle; Mrs. Sarah Smith, Peck; and Mrs. Vatter. She also leaves a brother, Alfred Bundy, Argyle, nine grandchildren and twelve great grandchildren.

Opportunist. An opportunist is one who meets the wolf at the door and the next day appears in a new fur coat.

Mrs. Charles Lee. Funeral services were held at 2:00 p. m. Sunday in the Owendale Methodist Church for Mrs. Charles Lee, 73, of Owendale, who passed away Thursday, October 30, in Hubbard Memorial Hospital in Bad Axe. The Rev. William Mertz of Bay Port and Rev. G. C. Whaley of Owendale officiated. Interment was in Caro Cemetery.

Caroline Ohmer was born in Pennsylvania September 3, 1868, and when 12 years of age came with her parents to Mayville. She was united in marriage with Charles Lee on June 3, 1891, and four children were born to this union. Two preceded the mother in death.

Besides her husband, she is survived by a son, Harold W. Lee, St. Paul, Minnesota; a daughter, Miss Carolyn Grace Lee, Lansing. She also leaves five sisters and three brothers.

Although Mrs. Lee has been poorly for some time, she was seriously ill only a few days.

Mrs. James Doerr. Mrs. James Doerr, 44, passed away Sunday night, November 2, in her home in Sandusky, following a long illness.

Funeral services were held at 2:00 p. m. Wednesday in the home. Rev. Karl W. Patow of St. Clair, a former pastor of Sandusky Methodist Church, assisted by Rev. Kenneth Burgess, present pastor of the church, officiated. Interment was in Elkland Cemetery. Claudia Mae Long was born in
