School Heads to Manage Christmas Seal Sales in County

J. I. Niergarth and R. A. Garner Have Longest Service Records of All.

Appointment of six school superintendents in Tuscola County to serve as community managers in the 1941 tuberculosis Christmas seal sale was announced this week by the Michigan Tuberculosis Association. They are: F. C. Burgess, Akron; G. R. Robinson, Caro; J. Ivan Niergarth, Cass City; R. A. Garner, Fairgrove; W. A. Phelan, Fostoria; and A. V. Shank, Reese.

Mr. Niergarth and Mr. Garner have the longest service records of all, according to Curtis M. Wylie, president of the association. Mr. Niergarth has been community manager since 1935 and Mr. Garner since 1934.

Of these towns, Akron had the highest pupil per capita sale for the 1940 seal sale, averaging 15 seals for each school child enrolled. Cass City came second with an average sale of 14 seals per pupil.

"The direction of community managers and the cooperation of those who help them in the seal sale is invaluable in the fight against tuberculosis," declared Mr. Wylie. "Christmas seal funds raised in this county are returned to it in the form of the association's health program which concentrates on health education and case-finding."

Each year educational posters and pamphlets are distributed among people here; motion pictures are shown; speakers are available; special health education programs, such as the story-teller, Princess Watassa, are provided—all for the purpose of teaching the public important facts about tuberculosis.

This year's seal sale opens November 24 and extends to Christmas day. Funds raised by Christmas seals will finance educational and case-finding work in this county through 1942.

$43,104.81 in Primary School Interest Money Sent to the Schools

The sum of $43,104.81 is being distributed among the school districts of Tuscola County as the second and final payment of the year of the primary school interest fund. This payment represents $4.13 for each of the 10,437 children on the school census list of the county. The first payment made several months ago was at the rate of $9 per child.

High school districts because of their larger school population receive the greater amounts of the apportionments. The second payment now being made will send the following amounts to high schools of the county:

Akron	$ 697.97
Unionville	896.21
Richville	607.11
Reese	784.70
Cass City	1,759.38
Gagetown	652.54
Fairgrove	602.98
Mayville	776.44
Caro	3,370.08
Kingston	536.90
Millington	1,119.25
Tuscola	822.14
Vassar	2,779.49
Fostoria	466.69
Caro	3,370.08
Kingston	536.90
Millington	1,119.25
Tuscola	822.14
Vassar	2,779.49
Fostoria	466.69

The first payment of school aid to districts spreading four or more miles will be made in January.

Rotary Club Plans Home Talent Play to Start Uniform Fund

Staid members of the Rotary Club will lay aside their sedateness for a season if plans suggested at Tuesday's luncheon of the society for a home talent production are carried out. President E. L. Schwaderer was authorized to appoint a committee of three to sponsor a vaudeville performance by which Rotarians hope to raise a quarter of the fund of $1,200 which the Band Sponsors' Club wishes to procure to purchase uniforms for the school band. Rotarians were told that not all would be required to perform, but an exemption privilege cost was set at $25.00 each. It looks now as though the auditorium stage will have to be enlarged to accommodate the large cast.

Past President Pinney, presiding at Tuesday's program, introduced William A. Kindley, representing the Investment Bankers' Association of America, as the luncheon speaker. Mr. Kindley announced his subject as "How Capital Goes to Work," and explained the steps necessary to place securities on the market for their purchase by investors.

Frank Reid was song leader. George Robinson of Caro extended an invitation to Cass City Rotarians to attend an inter-city banquet at Frankenmuth at which Caro, Vassar, Millington and Frankenmuth clubs will be hosts. At the suggestion of G. W. Landon, the local club earmarked $20 to defray the expenses of a 4-H Club boy to attend the International Livestock Show at Chicago next month.

Lansing—The threatened strike of C. I. O. workers in the Chrysler tank plant at Centerline, one of Michigan's key industries in national defense, has focused attention again on the role of the state mediation board.

The idea of requiring labor to serve notice of intention to strike and thus to permit voluntary mediation during a "cooling off" period was conceived during the 1939 state legislature. The late Frank Fitzgerald had sensed the public's critical reaction to the sit-down strikes of 1937. Labor peace became one of his promises, and the state mediation board logically followed when he was elected governor.

During the present emergency, Governor Van Wagener has made frequent use of the mediation machinery established by the state board. To seek a settlement of the Chrysler tank dispute, the governor appointed a special mediation committee headed by Thomas J. Donahue, chairman of the state board. The governor said to the press:

"I will do everything in my power to make sure that the continuous flow of tanks from the arsenal is not interrupted for as much as one day."

The rise here of labor disputes, some of which have seriously hampered defense production, is in rather sharp contrast to the cordial relations existing in England between unions and employers.

While strikes in war industries have been banned in England, the government's order was agreed to in advance by both labor and employers. Furthermore, it contained no penalty provisions against strikers.

In the first World War Great Britain introduced compulsory arbitration of disputes in war industries, and yet more than 1,500,000 munitions workers took part in illegal strikes during thirty-three months after adoption of the act in July, 1914. Compulsory arbitration is difficult to enforce.

Even the United States during the last World War never prohibited strikes or lockouts. The national war labor board was without authority, as is the present national labor mediation board, to enforce its decisions. Yet, the record

Locals End Season in Second Place in U. T. League

Won Eight Games and Only Loss Was the Encounter with Caro High.

The Maroon and Grey, Cass City High School football team, ended their season Friday by winning from a surprisingly powerful Harbor Beach eleven, 14-0.

Playing on a very muddy field, the fighting Beachers outcharged and outfought the locals during the first half, holding Cass City for downs on three occasions inside their own 20 yard line. The sensational passing of Robinson, Harbor Beach left halfback, kept the Huron County champs in Cass City territory all the second quarter. The Maroon and Grey line held for downs and neither team was able to score the first half.

Kloc took the opening kickoff of the second half and slashed his way back to mid-field. On the next play, Kloc again hammered the center of the line for 12 yards and a first down. Strickland and Kloc alternately smashed off tackle and over center, lugging the ball down to the Beacher 25 yard stripe and set the stage for a reverse play which put Profit out in the open

High School Plans Evening Classes for Young People Here

The Cass City High School is conducting a survey to determine needs for part time and evening classes for young people in this community. "We are especially anxious to be of service to persons who have not attended or not completed high school," says Supt. J. I. Niergarth. "We will attempt to organize classes in any field in which we have enough requests."

A course in Agriculture will be started about December 15 by Principal Willis Campbell. This course is designed especially for young people starting out in farming and will include units of instruction selected by the class.

Under the National Defense Program which is open to boys from 17 to 24, it is possible to offer an evening class of 15 hours per week in woodworking, auto and tractor repair, electricity or metal work with Orion Cardew as instructor. Courses will be organized as the need arises and the school administration expects to supplement the present instructors with people from town who are qualified to teach certain parts of these courses.

Despondent, Kingston Farmer Takes Life

Despondency caused by a long illness was the reason advanced by Coroner Lee Huston for Stanley Todis, 58, of Kingston Township taking his life Monday evening. Mrs. Todis, returning to her home three miles southeast of Deford, after milking cows in the barn, about eight o'clock, found her husband in a bedroom with a shotgun wound through his heart. The gun lay near the body. Mr. Todis had been ill for two years.

Mr. Todis was born in Poland March 11, 1883, and with his family moved to Kingston Township 11 years ago from Detroit. Besides his widow, he leaves four children, Frank Todis, Miss Stella Todis and Mrs. Frank Wolak, all of Detroit, and Mrs. John May of Deford.

The body was taken to the Munro Funeral Home where it will remain until eight o'clock this (Friday) morning. At 9:00 a. m. today, Rev. Fr. J. Bozek will conduct the funeral service at St. Michael's Catholic Church at Wilmet.

Nine Cass City Youths to Exhibit at Detroit Junior Show

For Past 11 Years, Local Club Has Shown 1 to 3 Champions Each Year.

Nine members of the Cass City Livestock Club will exhibit steers and lambs at the 12th annual Junior Livestock Show at Detroit on December 9, 10 and 11.

Seven of the local exhibitors will show steers and two will display lambs as follows: Shortorns—Leslie Peasley, Donald Doerr, Stanley VanVliet and Donald Koepfgen.

Aberdeen Angus—Leslie Smith, Kathryn Smith.

Hereford—Jeanne Muck. Southdown Lambs—Mickie Littler, Frances Koepfgen.

For 11 years in succession, Cass City youthful breeders have exhibited 16 champion animals at the junior show at Detroit. Champion animal exhibits have ranged from one to three specimens each year over this period.

Lynn Spencer started the program in 1930 when he showed the reserve champion steer. In the years following, champion exhibitors followed one another in the following manner:

In 1931—Lewis Horner, grand champion steer; Jim Milligan, reserve champion steer; Delbert Rawson, grand champion lamb.

In 1932—Ralph Rawson, grand champion lamb.

Dodger Manager Greatly Appreciated Autographed Plaque

During the World Series in baseball, "Larry" MacPhail, president and general manager of the Brooklyn Dodgers, received a package from Cass City Rotarians, which contained a picture of his birthplace at the corner of Main and Seeger Streets in Cass City. All around the photograph were signatures of 30 or more Rotary Club members who expressed sentiments such as "Nice Going, Larry" and "We're Pulling for You."

M. B. Auten, who suggested the idea to the club here, read a letter at their Tuesday luncheon, received from Mr. MacPhail, in which he says:

Brooklyn, New York
November 6, 1941

Cass City Rotary Club
Cass City, Michigan
Dear Friends:

I did not have an opportunity during the pressure of work before the World Series to write and tell you how very much I appreciated the autographed plaque of my birthplace. Right after the series I left on a vacation and have only just returned from the Canadian woods.

That gesture, on the part of the members of the Cass City Rotary Club, was one of the nicest that has ever happened to me. It is a fine thing to have and I am very proud of it.

I want to thank you all for thinking of me and I want you to know that I deeply appreciate the spirit which prompted you to send it.

With kindest personal regards, I am

Sincerely,
L. S. MacPHAIL.

Bishop R. J. Wade Addressed Methodists Here Sunday on Subject of "Security"

The Methodists of Cass City and adjoining territory heard Bishop Raymond J. Wade at three o'clock Sunday afternoon. The sanctuary of the Cass City Methodist Church was filled and all were in an expectant mood as they waited for the service.

Bishop Wade, who is non-resident bishop of the Methodist Church for the Detroit area, spoke on the subject, "Security." The bishop emphasized that our only permanent help or security were in God almighty. He pointed out that Christians worship, not Jehovah the Rock, who would be for us a God of Power, but rather, worship Christ, the God of Love, who beckons us; who reaches down from the cross and lifts us to Himself.

At the close of the service, the congregation adjourned to the parlor of the church for tea. This gesture was made in order that the people might have an opportunity to meet and talk with Bishop Wade.

Bankers' Week in Bowling League

By Dr. B. H. Starmann, Secretary of Bowling League.

The ninth week of the bowling season could have been named "Bankers' Week." Our two local bankers stole all the "thunder" and must be given all the credit.

On Monday evening, Auten helped himself to the lead in the "individual single game" department by pouncing out a 247 game enabling him to pass the previous high of 246 held by Walt Mann.

On Thursday night, not to be outdone by one bank, Fred Pinney helped himself to a "600" series. Fred is the second individual to reach this figure this year.

Two teams won all three of their games, Reid from Knapp and Landon from Retherford.

There were other very creditable scores but they were all dwarfed by the "Banker Duo." So we will close by just mentioning the "500 club" for the week.

WAFFLES AT NIGHT—GUESTS' DELIGHT!
(See Recipes Below)

OUT OF THE WAFFLE IRON

Waffles! Um! Crisp and browned to suit the taste—a queenly dish, whether you're a homemaker who delights in calling in your friends—a "home body" who caters only to the family—or a lone eater who simply likes nice foods.

It's fun to make 'em . . . it's fun to bake 'em. And waffle baking has made so many homemakers—young and old—waffle-party conscious, that we've included in this week's column games especially suitable for waffle parties.

So why not be a hostess who is different! Invite the "gang" in for a neighborhood "waffle feed." Your new deal in entertaining—whether your guests be club-women, daughter's pals, the high school basketball team, or hubby's cronies—will go down in social history. Mark our words!

Waffle recipes can be divided into two parts—the "ordinary" or "regular" waffle—good enough for anybody; and the waffles with frills and furbelows—gingerbread waffles, chocolate waffles, etc. So we give you some of each.

Waffles.

- (Makes 5 waffles)
 - 2 cups sifted flour
 - 1 1/2 cups milk
 - 3 teaspoons baking powder
 - 1/2 teaspoon salt
 - 3 eggs
 - 4 to 6 tablespoons melted shortening
- Separate the eggs and beat the yolks with the milk. Add the sifted dry ingredients, then the melted shortening, and last, the stiffly beaten egg whites. Pour into hot waffle iron and bake until iron stops steaming.

Variations for Standard Recipe.
Pineapple Waffles—Reduce milk in plain waffle recipe to 1 cup and add 3/4 cup well-drained crushed pineapple.

Date Waffles—Add 1 cup chopped dates mixed with part of flour from recipe.

Ham Waffles—Add 6 tablespoons minced cooked ham to plain waffles.

Huckleberry Waffles—Add 1 cup well-drained, canned or fresh huckleberries mixed with 3/4 cup sugar.

Nut Waffles—Add 1 cup finely chopped nuts to standard waffle recipe.

Spiced Waffles—Add 1 teaspoon cinnamon, 1/4 teaspoon cloves and 1/2 teaspoon nutmeg to batter for plain waffles. Nuts may be added to this.

Corn Waffles—Add 1 cup well-drained, canned whole-kernel corn to standard recipe.

Yeast Waffles.
(Makes 5 waffles)

- 1 1/4 cups milk
- 1 teaspoon salt
- 4 tablespoons melted shortening
- 1 yeast cake
- 1/4 cup warm water
- 2 cups flour
- 2 eggs

Dissolve yeast in warm water. Add salt and melted fat, then milk and flour. Stir until smooth. Let

LYNN SAYS:

Care of the Waffle Iron. Most modern electric waffle irons should not be greased, but extra richness must be put into the waffle batter. This should be poured on the pre-heated iron from a pitcher or with a large spoon.

With continued use, the cooking surface is apt to become brown, and it is a mistake to remove this unless it becomes burned or too thick. During the occasional scorings, great care must be taken not to get water into the connection plug or heating element. A damp cloth or a soft brush should be used to free the iron from excess batter or crumbs.

THIS WEEK'S MENU

WAFFLE PARTY

- Hot Bouillon
- Waffles Syrup Sausages
- Fruit Salad
- Homemade Chocolate-Mint Ice Cream
- Coffee Milk

stand over night, or 1 1/2 hours. When ready to use, beat egg yolks, add to mixture and then add beaten whites. Bake 4 minutes on a very hot iron.

Fruit Sauce for Waffles.

- 1/2 cup butter
- 2 cups powdered sugar
- 1 cup crushed berries
- 1 egg white
- 1 teaspoon vanilla

Cream butter, add powdered sugar and when well creamed, stir in white of egg and vanilla. Mix thoroughly and add berries. Chill. Makes a delicious topping for waffles when served for supper, dessert, or even late-at-night as a "snack."

Gingerbread Waffles.

- (Makes 6 waffles)
- 1 1/2 cups pastry flour
- 1/4 cup sugar
- 1/2 cup molasses
- 2 eggs
- 1 cup sour milk
- 1 teaspoon ginger
- 1/4 teaspoon salt
- 1 teaspoon soda
- 1 teaspoon baking powder
- 6 tablespoons melted shortening

Beat eggs until light. Add sugar, molasses and sour milk. Sift dry ingredients together and add. Beat until smooth. Add shortening and bake 3 or 4 minutes. Serve with ice cream.

Chocolate Waffles.

- (Makes 4 waffles)
- 1 1/4 cups flour
- 3 teaspoons baking powder
- 1/2 teaspoon salt
- 6 tablespoons sugar
- 2 eggs
- 1 cup milk
- 2 squares chocolate
- 4 tablespoons butter

Mix and sift dry ingredients. Add milk, beaten eggs, fat and chocolate which has been melted over hot water. Preheat iron 8 minutes and bake waffle for 3 minutes.

Apple Waffles.

- (Makes 6 waffles)
- 1 1/2 cups flour
- 2 teaspoons baking powder
- 1 egg
- 2 tablespoons butter
- 1/4 teaspoon salt
- 3/4 cup milk
- 1/2 cup chopped apples
- 2 tablespoons lemon juice
- Dash of nutmeg

Chop apples, add lemon juice and nutmeg. Let stand for 15 minutes. Sift flour, measure, add dry ingredients and add apples and butter. Heat waffle iron 6 to 8 minutes, pour on batter and bake 2 to 3 minutes. Serve with butter and brown syrup.

Here's a good game for your next waffle party. It's called CONSEQUENCES and is played as the old familiar Consequences. Paper and pencil are needed. Each person draws the head of a beast, bird or man, folds the paper over and passes it to the neighbor on his left. Each person then draws a body of beast, bird or man, according to his fancy, and again folds the paper over. The last item to be added is the legs and feet. The paper is to be folded again and passed to the neighbor on the left, then all are opened. The results may be astonishing.

Do You Know?

HOW BIG AMERICA'S BIGGEST INDUSTRIAL BOMBER PLANT WILL BE?

On 97 1/2 acres at Willow Run, construction on the Ford Bomber Plant has been progressing at a breath-taking pace since March of this year. Total floor area, including hangars, is to be 3,700,000 sq. ft. The plant will be 1,280 feet wide—3,200 feet long—requiring 25,000 tons of structural steel in building framework. End to end, the runways would make a roadway 44 miles long. A giant plant to build a giant plane.

HOW MANY BIG TANKS WILL FORD BUILD EACH MONTH?

Present plans call for a monthly output almost double that of America's entire tank production last year. $59,000,000 in added plant facilities would be required to handle this next big defense assignment given the Ford Motor Company. Already at its own expense, Ford has undertaken the enlargement of its steel-casting facilities in order to meet more quickly the tremendous demands of such production.

HOW BIG IS THE WORLD'S LARGEST PLANT FOR THE EXCLUSIVE PRODUCTION OF PLANE ENGINES?

Built in record time to meet America's urgent need for big Pratt & Whitney engines . . . the Ford Airplane Engine Plant has a total floor area of 31.3 acres. To support it, 65 miles of steel foundation pilings were needed. Inside, 6,000 tons of refrigerating equipment draws 2,800,000 cubic feet of air a minute into the building to give six complete air changes per hour. Designed for use during blackouts—the plant is expected to produce 40 engines a day.

On Thursday evening, November 27, the young people's choir of the Nazarene Church will present a musical program in the church when the following numbers will be given: Choir, "Lift Up the Cross"; duet, "He Called Thee," John Bugbee and Raymond Gingrich; reading, "They Too," Pauline Gingrich; choir, "Sometimes the Shadows Are Deep"; duet, "Pilot of Galilee," Lena May Cross and Viola Bemis; choir, "Heaven Is Near"; reading, "Disappointment," Irene Silvernail; choir, "Amen to Jesus"; solo, "He Cares for Me," Wilma Terbusch; reading, "The Starless Crown," Doris Cross; choir, "The Great Celestial Choir"; solo, "God Understands," Raymond Gingrich; choir, "Abide With Me."

Mrs. Martin McKenzie and Mrs. Archie MacAlpine were visitors in Bad Axe Tuesday.

"Pilgrim Travels from England to Holland and America" was the story depicted for the Thanksgiving program which was given by the children, chosen from groups of public school classes under Mrs. Zora Day, Miss Carolyn Garey and Miss Ruth Echenck, when the Presbyterian Guild met in the school auditorium Monday evening. Betty McCullum, a senior high school student, acted as narrator while the children presented each scene. Costumed characters sang and danced during the course of the program. The final emphasis was on the religious aspect of our Thanksgiving Day. Mrs. C. W. Hastings, in charge of devotionals, took her lesson from the book of Luke and in a very pleasing manner spoke of the many blessings we have but how often we take them for granted. A thank offering was received and gifts were brought for Sunset Gap Mission school in Tennessee. Refreshments were served by the committee, Mrs. C. W. Price, Miss Marjorie Milligan, Mrs. B. F. Benkelman, Jr., and Miss Verda Zuschnitt.

A Litany of Thanksgiving

Can we give thanks
In a world of crisis and confusion;
Misdirected, disintegrated, disillusioned;
Worn, torn, sad and suffering;
Foolish, fervid, felonious and fearful;
Can we give thanks?

FATHER, we thank Thee for Thy patience.
Sitting in silence, withholding Thy judgments;
Watching our willfulness, yet staying Thy wrath;
Grieved by our boastings, yet tenderly forgiving;
Knowing our natures, yet the Friend who forgives us;
Father, we thank Thee.

FATHER, we thank Thee
For the dawn of life's true meaning.
For the courage to face what we once feared
For our willingness to admit our social sinfulness and moral bankruptcy.
For our confession that we have acted insanely
knowing the consequences.
For the prayer of the faithful for a new world pattern of peace.
Father, we thank Thee.

FATHER, we thank Thee
For hearts that love and understand
For dreams that haunt us into action
For a hope that makes life livable
For a faith in eternal verities.
For the open road to service and victory.
Father, we thank Thee.

LOCALS END SEASON IN SECOND PLACE IN U. T. LEAGUE

and over the goal line. Root place kicked the extra point and Cass City led 7 to 0.

In the fourth period, Strickland intercepted a pass and took the ball back to the Harbor Beach 40 yard line. A series of plays took the ball down to the one yard line. Kloc hit center for no gain. Strickland was stopped at the line of scrimmage. On third down, a lateral pass from Guc to Strickland ended in a forward pass from Strickland to Root in the end zone for the last touchdown of the 1941 season. Root again place kicked the extra point to make the score 14 to 0. The ball game ended shortly after with Harbor Beach throwing passes in an attempt to score.

This was the last game of high school football for ten members of this year's squad which has completed a most successful season, winning eight games and losing one. The Maroon and Grey wound up in second place in the Upper Thumb League standings, a game behind Caro, the only team to defeat them this season.

Million Red Cross Volunteers Aid Defense Program

Washington, D. C.—Behind the front lines of U. S. defenses more than 1,200,000 Red Cross volunteers are on the job—making surgical dressings, knitting sweaters and giving comfort articles, learning the rudiments of emergency mass feeding and scores of other duties in an all-out effort for national defense.

The largest defense task now being undertaken by Red Cross volunteers is the production of 40,000,000 surgical dressings for the Army and Navy, according to Mrs. Dwight F. Davis, national director of Volunteer Special Services. The undertaking came to the Red Cross at the request of the surgeons general of the Army and Navy when a survey revealed commercial manufacturers could provide only ten per cent of the surgical dressings needed.

Home Service volunteers and Gray Ladies, whose duties are directly concerned with the man in uniform also are expanding their programs, Mrs. Davis said.

As a preparedness measure, thousands of women throughout the country are learning mass feeding and nutrition as members of the Red Cross Canteen Corps. Added thousands are being trained in the Motor Corps to serve as emergency drivers.

And the Lights

Sally—I don't like some of these modern dances. They're nothing but hugging set to music.

Dzudi—Well, what is there about that to which you object?

Sally—The music.

Bang!

Jack Fresh—What's the trouble, Jim? Aren't you working?

Jimmy Cartridge—No. I went down loaded six mornin' an' de boss said I ought ter be discharged, so he fired me."

Ultra-violet light rays have four times as much energy as violet rays and eight times that of red light rays, according to the Better Vision institute.

Blurred Grave Marker Reveals Date of 1714

PORTSMOUTH, N. H.—Five grave markers on Seavey island, site of the naval prison, long have caused speculation as to the identity of the persons buried there. Recently, after much scrapping, chipping and cleaning, the identity of one of the graves was established.

The legend of the marker reads: "Here Lyes Ye Body of Elizabeth Eastwicke, Wife to Stephen Eastwicke, Aged 31 Years, 2 Months and 20 ds. Died April Ye 16th 1714."

Further investigation revealed that the island's original owners were Thomas and Temperance Fernald and that the gravestones were on the Fernald's burial plot.

Attorney Defends Self; Tripped by Own Question

PASADENA.—When Attorney Clark Edwin Davis was arrested for speeding, he remembered above all he was an attorney.

Defending himself in police court he asked the arresting officer if he could produce a certificate of accuracy for the speedometer of the officer's motorcycle. He could not.

Police Judge Kenneth N. Newell, conducting the offense, asked Davis for a certificate of accuracy for his speedometer.

Davis paid a $5 fine.

DEDUCTION

"Say, ma!" said little Johnny. "I think our ash man is a real good Christian man."

"What makes you think that?" inquired his mother, in some surprise.

"Well," said Johnny thoughtfully, "the other day when he came to Mrs. Smith's house next door, he picked up their wooden barrel and raised it over his head to dump in his cart, and then the bottom dropped out and the ashes fell all over him."

"That was too bad," said his mother in a tone of sympathy, "but what has that to do with his being a good Christian?"

"Oh!" said the little fellow, "he then just sat down in the gutter and told God all about it, while he cleaned himself."

Mixup

A smart young thing got into the bus and stood—the seats were all taken. Immediately a gentleman arose, but before he could utter a syllable, she said:

"Thank you very much, I would just as soon stand."

The gentleman raised his hat and said: "I—"

Before he could proceed the young lady repeated her preference for standing.

"I—" he began again. "No, she would stand."

"Please," shouted the gentleman, "I am only trying to get out."

Red Cross, OCD Look to Volunteers For Civil Defense

Washington, D. C.—To the question, "What can I do for America?" the Red Cross is providing an answer for hundreds of thousands of men and women who want to do their part on the civilian defense front.

For women, the Red Cross is providing an 80-hour training course to recruit a corps of 100,000 Nurse's Aides. It is the Red Cross' newest project, undertaken at the request of the U. S. Office of Civilian Defense to relieve the current pressure on nursing facilities.

With thousands of nurses being taken into military service with our armed forces, civilian nursing has suffered a direct blow, the Red Cross points out.

Red Cross Nurse's Aides will serve as assistants to registered nurses, performing scores of important duties which will enable nurses to care for more cases. The Red Cross stresses that Nurse's Aides will not take the place of the registered nurse, but will serve in an auxiliary capacity.

On the more dramatic side of civilian defense, the Red Cross is gearing its far-flung disaster fighting machine to handle mass feeding, housing and clothing of evacuees under wartime conditions. In cooperation with the Office of Civilian Defense, chapters are strengthening disaster relief committees to cope with man-made disaster much on the same scale as relief operations following natural catastrophe. Organization along these lines includes preparedness measures for fires, explosions and epidemics which may be expected to result from accelerated industrial activity incident to national defense.

Strictly as a precautionary measure, the Red Cross is devising means of confronting emergency relief in the event of sporadic air or sea attacks, considered conceivable hazards in some coastal and boundary areas.

The need for First Aid in civilian defense has not been neglected by the Red Cross. Last year nearly 600,000 were trained in emergency treatment of the injured. This year the figure is expected to go much higher with special emphasis being placed on the formation of detachments which would serve as units in factories, offices, schools and other places where persons are Red Cross courses in Home Nursing and in Nutrition also are being expanded as a feature of the civilian defense program, it was pointed out. Mounting health hazards and the shortage of civilian nurses may at any time obligate the housewife—even the man of the house—to assist in caring for the sick.

Likewise, the Red Cross is placing greater emphasis on Nutrition courses designed to teach house-holders the art of purchasing and preparing well-balanced meals within the range of the family pocketbook.

Find Milk Can Best.

Searching for economical refrigeration containers, Hardin and De Gowin discovered after several experiments that "the commercial type of 10-gallon milk can" was most practical. Covered with insulated jackets, such cans accommodate 10 flasks and enough ice for 12 to 24 hours.

"The transportation of blood in these individual refrigeration units ought to be particularly practical under shell fire," the doctors said, "for the cans could be disbursed in many types of vehicles so that some would almost certainly arrive at their destination."

To test the banks, the physicians shipped two consignments of cans, one 720 miles by automobile and one 3,539 miles by airplane. The contents in both shipments were transfused to hospital patients requiring such treatment.

From 40 transfusions, there was only one unfavorable reaction, that of a patient suffering chills and fever.

Falcons Shot Down to Safeguard War Pigeons

LONDON.—The air ministry has declared war to the death on the peregrine falcon—the slayer of carrier-pigeons.

The predatory activities of these "fifth columnists" of the British air might well have led to secrets of vital national importance being found by the enemy in the nesting places of these birds in the cliffs of Solway.

Pay Roll Checks Carry A Pledge of Allegiance

SEATTLE.—Employees of the Pacific Car and Foundry company pledge allegiance to the United States once a week. On the back of each payroll check is stamped a pledge "to support and defend the Constitution and laws of the United States against all enemies, foreign and domestic."

AMHERST, MASS.—Five little words—prime, choice, good, commercial and utility—are the guides for buying beef. Prime is tops in the official beef grading scale but "choice" and "good" are most common at family meals, according to Massachusetts State college food experts.

Use Milk Can to Preserve Blood

Scientists Find Method to Refrigerate Liquid for Army Emergencies.

CHICAGO.—Two scientists have recommended the common milk can as an effective means of storing blood for army emergencies "under all military conditions."

The "milk can" bank was explained by Drs. Elmer L. De Gowin and Robert C. Hardin in War Medicine, published by the American Medical Association and the national research council's medical division.

Termining the product of their investigation "a new, simple method for collecting, storing and transporting human blood plasma," the Iowa City, Iowa, physicians said they had developed and tested a bank which would have the following recommendations:

Ability to withstand long distance shipment in any vehicle.

Easy maintenance by a supply sergeant or other enlisted man.

Use limited only by accessibility of snow or cracked ice for repacking every 18 to 24 hours.

Make Many Tests. The doctors disclosed that the new preservation method was equally applicable to whole blood and blood plasma (fluid part without red cells) but stressed the significance of plasma.

Physicians consider plasma of vital military importance because it can be used for quick transfusions without matching the type of the patient.

De Gowin and Hardin made the principal unit of their bank by fitting large glass flasks, in common use in hospitals, with rubber stoppers allowing self-closing needle punctures.

Tests showed the flasks could be immersed in ice water for long periods without leakage, and the contents safely administered directly from the flasks.

They found that the red cells would precipitate in 24 to 48 hours so the plasma could be siphoned into another flask. This discovery eliminated separating of red cells from plasma by "centrifugation," an impractical method when applied to large scale production because it requires "many centrifuges of large capacity not now in existence."

Next, the scientists developed a delicate temperature indicator, simple enough for layman or soldier to read. A supply sergeant or someone else, the doctors said, could discard flasks whose indicators showed proper temperatures had not been maintained.

At the Battery is a small basin where the boatmen may tie up their craft. In the summer, many tenebrous youngsters use it as a swimming pool though the water is polluted. The boat basin is really a monument. It was built by the city and turned over to the boatmen in recognition of their heroic conduct July 30, 1871, when the Staten Island ferry, the Westfield, blew up at her pier. The boatmen saved many lives. The boatmen of today carry on the tradition. Those who fall into the bay from the sea wall or who would seek a remedy for their troubles by leaping, usually are rescued by men of the Battery.

Battery park also interests me. Near the tall flagstaff is a tablet which marks the spot where the famous Liberty pole stood in the Revolution. When the British evacuated the city in 1783, they left their flag flying from the Liberty pole. Furthermore they greased it thinking it couldn't be climbed. An American soldier, David Van Arsdale, climbed the pole, took down the British emblem and hoisted Old Glory. From that day to this at dawn on Evacuation day, November 25, some Van Arsdale descendant has raised the United States flag to the top of the staff.

White ties and tails seem to be on their way to join the walking stick in oblivion. At least, the present trend is away from formality. A dinner jacket is now acceptable in many places where it was barred in the past. Invitations state either white or black tie if the affair is formal. Many a man goes directly from business to a dinner party and doesn't feel out of place because there are so many others who are not formally dressed. Also, soft collars and soft-bosomed shirts are worn with tuxedos. So far as I can learn, there are no mourners for the formal days or the past.

There are still places that insist on formal attire in the evening during the winter months. It's different in summer, however. The bars are let down at many smart places.

Couple Hears Son Is Alive After 30 Years

SEATTLE.—An aged Seattle couple, who for nearly 30 years believed that their son had died at sea, learned that he is living in Melbourne, Australia. Mr. and Mrs. John M. Pearson recently received a letter from their missing son, John, whom they last saw in 1905 before he "shipped out" for the Orient on a vessel.

Lights of New York

By L. L. STEVENSON

Despite the number of times I've seen it, to me, the Battery, down at the foot of Manhattan, is still New York's best free show. For one thing, there is the setting. Looking down the bay to the left is the East river ending its short journey from Long Island sound. To the right, the Hudson, having flowed from far upstate, reaches the bay. Beyond the East river is the busy Brooklyn water front. Beyond the Hudson is the Jersey shore with huge oil refineries sending skyward heavy clouds of black smoke. In the immediate foreground are three small bodies of land, Governors' island, headquarters of the second corps area of the army; Ellis island with its red brick buildings familiar to thousands of immigrants and Bed-loe's island on which stands the Statue of Liberty. Five miles in the distance, is Staten island. Beyond that, the lower bay and then the Atlantic ocean.

The setting of course does not change. Yet what goes on at the Battery does change with each passing hour. In fact, it is never the same. It is like a motion picture film with neither beginning nor end. The life and action are continuous. Tugs push barges here and there, sometimes their cargoes are merely sand or bricks, sometimes bawling cattle and then again freight cars; and it still seems queer to me to see freight cars sailing about the bay. At this season there are picnic barges and that trim white hospital ship goes up and down the bay. There are excursion boats. Sound boats and river boats. Trim yachts may have as companions grotesque derricks and grain elevators. In former days, there were great liners putting majestically out to sea or just as majestically coming into port. But now there is war.

Warships bound for or from the Brooklyn navy yard may also be seen along with many other government craft. The funny little ferry that plies between Governors' island and the mainland. The somewhat somber Ellis island ferry. Clumsy-looking cutters that take customs men, public health officers and newspaper men out to meet ships. Lean government patrol boats that slip in and out silently and the crews of which are singularly uncommunicative. The cutters and the patrol boats as well as various other government craft, tie up in the shadow of the Barge office, that big granite building, which, seen from the deck of an incoming ship, looks very much like an oversized firchouse.

At the Battery is a small basin where the boatmen may tie up their craft. In the summer, many tenebrous youngsters use it as a swimming pool though the water is polluted. The boat basin is really a monument. It was built by the city and turned over to the boatmen in recognition of their heroic conduct July 30, 1871, when the Staten Island ferry, the Westfield, blew up at her pier. The boatmen saved many lives. The boatmen of today carry on the tradition. Those who fall into the bay from the sea wall or who would seek a remedy for their troubles by leaping, usually are rescued by men of the Battery.

Caro Phone Strike Lasted Two Days

About 25 workers in the Moore Telephone System servicing the Caro community were idle from Friday morning until Saturday afternoon at which time the management and employers came to a temporary settlement of their differences.

Employees of the system returned to work when W. J. Moore, general manager, agreed to meet with the local union, a member of the International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers, Wednesday to start hearings on union demands for increased wages and improved working conditions.

The settlement was brought about by R. E. Lomasney of Detroit, a member of the state labor mediation board.

WEEKLY NEWS ANALYSIS By Edward C. Wayne

Congressional Neutrality Act Revision Permits Armed U. S. Merchant Ships To Sail Through Belligerent Zones; U. S. Faces Serious Labor Situation

(EDITOR'S NOTE—When opinions are expressed in these columns, they are those of the news analyst and not necessarily of this newspaper.) (Released by Western Newspaper Union.)

Everyone in Soviet Russia is learning the soldier's trade these days. Even the students in school. Here an instructor is shown teaching second-grade school students methods of bayonet fighting. Note that girls as well as boys are present for instruction in this class.

NEUTRALITY: Revision Complete

When the house voted 212 to 194 to permit the arming of U. S. merchant ships and allow them to sail through war zones into ports of nations at war it amounted to a repeal of the neutrality act's main provisions. For as the senate had already adopted the same measure, the administration's battle on this vital issue was over.

As a vote neared on the measure a warning came from President Roosevelt that its defeat would be evidence to Hitler that "the United States is disunited." For a while there were strong indications of a Democratic revolt in the house, as many members were reported to be demanding a firmer presidential stand on defense strikes in return for "going along" with the Roosevelt foreign policy.

When the President's warning, in the form of a letter to Speaker Sam Rayburn, was read before the house, it was inferred that assurances were being given that the strike situation would be dealt with and many members were reported to have then fallen in behind the White House revision plans.

Marked by a hectic battle on the issue, the principal fight centered repeal of the combat zone and belligerent port provisions. For shipping arming had already been approved by the house and senate tacked on the controversial provision when it passed the broader bill and returned it to the house for concurrence.

GERMANS: Fighting Front

Frank admissions from Berlin that the attack on Russia was entirely stalled no longer had been withheld as the Germans were finding it necessary to explain to the people the failure of their armies to capture Leningrad, Moscow or the defenses in the Donetz basin.

German press announcements blamed entirely the weather. It also was claimed that the Russian defenses, especially around Moscow, were based on the knowledge that the German mechanized army could not operate over fields and through woods on a terrain covered with snow and rain.

One communique said: "This has forced us to use roads instead of traveling cross-country, and these roads are literally minefields, especially the shoulders."

The defenses around Moscow were described as extremely powerful and intricate, including subterranean tank garages from which Red tanks would dash directly into battle and then circle and re-enter their "bunkers" after firing a few shots, and before the German attacking forces could organize their defense.

This system really gave the Russians movable fortifications. The German communique also said they were encountering flame throwers so concealed in the ground that only the nozzles were showing, and which could be operated from a considerable distance with devastating effect.

The Russians thus have been able to hold back the Nazi attack, Berlin frankly admitted, though it was claimed that at one point the assault had reached within 31 miles of the borders of Moscow.

Nothing was said about Russian claims that her troops were actually talking the offensive at many points.

FINNS: To Continue

Finland, in a lengthy reply to Secretary Hull's message urging withdrawal from the war against Russia, had politely rejected the plea of the United States, and, in effect, said that her objectives were not yet accomplished.

Thus the pressure from the hard-fighting and winter-acustomed Finns had continued on Russia's northern front, keeping a big portion of the Red's planes and armies in action, and complicating her defense.

BRITISH: Loss

Loss of the aircraft carrier Ark Royal was admitted by the British who said that the craft (claimed many times as being sunk by the Nazis) had been torpedoed in the Mediterranean east of Gibraltar. The 22,000-ton floating airfield was sunk while in tow after a submarine torpedo had struck her.

STRIKES: Galore

Highlighting the news of a troubled labor situation in the United States was the strike called for December 7, by 350,000 operating employees of the nation's railway systems.

The American Federation of Labor trades in San Diego, 2,000 members of which had walked out, crippling navy and marine defense projects, went back to work. At the same time the C.I.O. chieftains in the coal dispute in the captive mines walked out of the conference, and it began to look as though the army would have to take over and operate the mines.

In the steel-coal-mine strike, however, after a quadruple plea by President Roosevelt to John L. Lewis he had temporarily halted the threatened walkout of 53,000 workers and had sent them back to work pending negotiations before the national mediation board, trouble developed as soon as the board decided adversely to the closed shop demand.

Lewis had set his deadline, and only three days before that time the board, on which Philip Murray and other C.I.O. chieftains were sitting, declined to vote the closed shop. Murray and his aides had announced that they were quitting.

WAR: And Mr. Welles

Administration forces saw the approach of America's entry into actual hostilities as closer, not because of repeal of the neutrality act's main restrictive paragraphs, but as a result of increased pressure on this country by Japan and Germany.

Sumner Welles, undersecretary of state, and President Roosevelt himself, in their Armistice day addresses, had issued most solemn warnings.

Mr. Welles, in particular, said: "Another war may be forced on the United States at any moment by Japan or Germany."

"The tides are running fast. The heart-searching question every American citizen must ask himself is whether the world in which we have to live would have come to this desperate pass had the United States been willing in those years which followed 1919 to play its full part in striving to bring about a new world order based on justice and on a steadfast concert for peace."

He said that President Wilson, dying five years after he had laid the groundwork of such co-operative effort, "was laid to rest amid the apathy and the sneers of those of his opponents who had, through appeal to ignorance, to passion and to prejudice, temporarily persuaded the people to reject Wilson's plea that the influence, the resources and the power of the United States be exercised for their own security and their own advantage, through our participation in an association of nations for peace."

And Secretary Knox told a Providence audience that "the hour of decision is here," and that the nation should maintain itself in "instant readiness for defense." Of the Japanese situation, he said: "We have co-operated with every liberal and peace-loving element in Japan and we are still ready to co-operate."

"We have been patient while our rights have been violated. We are moved and actuated in the Pacific, no less than in the Atlantic, solely by considerations of self-defense."

Queen's Job

LONDON, ENGLAND.—A queen's job includes many things and here the camera-mans pictures Queen Elizabeth of England having her shoes "fitted" upon visiting a shell factory. In order to prevent accidents when entering the "danger zone" of the factory special attention must be given to fit and type of shoes worn.

ROME: And Hostages

Italy, by arresting 150 hostages in Yugoslavia as an aftermath of a Serbian uprising in which a large number of Italian soldiers and civilians were slain and wounded, had placed herself in position to go into the hostage-execution business in a similar manner to that of the Nazis in France and other occupied countries.

In the official casualty list in Greece and Yugoslavia issued by the Italians since their armies occupied those countries 179 Italian soldiers had been reported killed, and 128 wounded.

It was the first time since the outbreak of the war that the Italian command had resorted to the "hostage method" of control or reprisal.

MEDITERRANEAN: Battle Report

British warships, under the guns of a highly superior Italian naval force, had engaged a convoy in the Mediterranean, and had sunk several freighters, also three destroyers.

The British admiralty announced in a later communique that four more Axis troopships had been sunk, two sailing vessels sent to the bottom, and four other vessels damaged.

All of this was accomplished by submarine action, the British asserted. It was considered possible that the action might have been a prelude to activity by the British in North Africa.

MARSHALL: On Morale

Gen. George C. Marshall, head of the army, declared there was in progress a "sudden and widespread" attempt on the part of the Nazis to "sabotage United States munitions, utility and transportation industries—also the army's morale."

Already, the general revealed, there has been uncovered an Axis propaganda attack designed to disrupt army morale.

This campaign, using "clever methods" has succeeded already in upsetting the families of soldiers and has also misled some members of congress.

The general's daily mail, he said, reflects "German scheming through letters from families who are worrying about their boys in the army, who have been led to believe, for instance, that the soldiers lack food, proper shelter or medical attention."

"They come from members of congress who have been similarly misled."

He cited the various events indicative of disrupted morale which occurred during the summer.

ELEPHANTS: Circus Tragedy

The sudden death of 10 elephants in the Barnum Bailey circus at Atlanta was followed by a statement from the management that it was clearly a case of "elephant murder."

Autopsies determined what the poison was, and that it was an "inside job." Arrests had been promised.

The story had much "human interest," and it was expected that it would blossom out into detective fiction. Most of the animals that died were young for elephants, 30 to 35 years old.

MISCELLANY:

Berlin: The Germans claim that the British, since they took the air offensive on the west front had lost 1,744 planes from May to October, inclusive, while the German losses were only 376.

Philadelphia: Temple university students are planning to adopt a British university, and to provide moral and financial support to its students. The Temple organization will be called the Collegiate V (for victory).

Concluded from first page. shows that the board's decisions were generally accepted.

Morale Is Key

Captain Don Leonard, Michigan State Police executive, who visited England last summer on a national civilian defense mission, was impressed greatly with the high morale of the British worker in support of the government's war efforts.

He visited industrial plants in which men and women were working long hours daily to produce vitally needed tanks, airplanes and munitions. Any thought of depriving the government of defense material was considered by the British "man on the street" as subversive, unpatriotic, and downright sabotage.

"One factory was hit by bombs during an aerial raid," Captain Leonard relates. "The workers were so outraged at the Germans that they voluntarily increased their own production and stepped up the normal output 20 per cent for the next few months."

British labor unions are of long standing, contrasted to the newness of many unions in this country. The regular machinery for collective bargaining has been effective in adjusting disputes without recourse to interference in production.

Complacency

Since his return from England, the Michigan police captain has been appointed a special assistant to Mayor F. H. LaGuardia, commissioner of civilian defense, and has been "loaned" to the federal government for special service in promotion of civilian defense.

How has the average American citizen received the civilian defense program?

According to Captain Leonard, the attitude of Americans today is somewhat like the attitude of Britishers before the Nazi invasion of Belgium and Holland and the collapse of the French army. Britishers were unmindful of the possible dangers of bombing attacks from the air; invasion of the island was considered a fantasy; industrial production of war materials took an easy-going pace.

Lagging Morale

Because the United States has 3,000 miles of water between the Atlantic coast and Europe, the average American is complacently confident of the country's security from military attack, the captain observes. He is inclined to overlook the military hazards that would follow a few years from today should Hitler triumph in Europe; he is confident also that the Japanese are bluffing, that we will not be engaged in a two-ocean war with a one-ocean navy.

The combined result of such circumstances and thinking is a lagging morale with regard to defense production. Rise of labor strikes is current proof of it. Even the so-called "shooting war" on the Atlantic has not been enough to create a spirit of determination to defeat Hitler. We present this conclusion not in criticism of labor, nor in defense of any administration, but as an observation objectively borne out by the facts.

As Captain Leonard puts it, many of us still do not realize that our government has pledged America's entire national resources to secure the military defeat of Hitler, regardless of the cost.

A costly tie-up of tank production, should the C. I. O. strike actually develop, might create a 1942 political liability akin to the sit-down backfire that proved so disastrous to Governor Frank Murphy.

The public moves slowly, yet public opinion, once aroused, becomes a swinging pendulum that tends to go from one extreme to another.

Let's talk Turkey!

Ask Italy's Cafegoers To Drink Standing Up

ROME.—Italian cafegoers may have to drink their synthetic coffee standing up. Mussolini's newspaper, Popolo d'Italia, began a campaign to requisition cafe chairs and tables for conversion into armaments, claiming that their metal parts are more valuable on the battlefield than supporting cafe frequenters.

At this time of the year, everybody is thinking about eating Turkey—but let's "Talk Turkey" a bit. If you haven't a Telephone, we want to know why. You have to use a Telephone ever so often. We have about as good telephone service as you'll find anywhere and we are even trying to make it better. The service is low in cost.

Which adds up to—you need and use the Telephone—we have a quality service at a low price. Yet, you're not a subscriber. Why? As long as you are not a subscriber, we're both losing. We sincerely wish you'd come in or drop us a line so we can come to see you. We'll let you "Talk Turkey", too.

Shelling corn with a 5 hp electric motor on the Herman Brey farm, Monroe, Michigan

Now America's factories are shifting into high gear, stepping up production for defense. But of all the products flowing from this giant machine, none is more vital than food—product of the farm.

Every farm is a factory engaged in defense work, turning out supplies of food for America and the world, for today and tomorrow. The farmer's time and energy are at a premium.

In this task of producing more food with less man-hours, electric power is helping in many ways. For example, a boy with a properly applied electric motor can often do the work of several men without motors.

Now is an excellent time to gear up your farm to full production. For worthwhile suggestions on how to apply electric power to best advantage on your farm, call The Detroit Edison Company. Our Farm Men are at your service.

TO YOUR Good Health by DR. NATHAN S. DAVIS, III

BE CAREFUL OF TYPHOID MENACE

Typhoid fever has become so rare that an outbreak of four or five cases in a community causes wide publicity and intensive public health department activity.

Dr. Nathan S. Davis, III. Typhoid fever presents four stages: a formative stage lasting two to three weeks, an active stage of equal length, a declining stage of a week or 10 days and then a convalescent period of three or four weeks.

The veterans of the Spanish-American war remember that typhoid fever was almost as epidemic in camps in this country, in Cuba, Puerto Rico and the Philippines as was influenza during the last World War.

As a matter of fact there was a great deal of typhoid in France in 1914 and 1915 even though the protective inoculation had already been developed by a Frenchman.

At the time of the Mexican Border service in 1916, our troops were protected only against typhoid. But a number of cases of a similar though milder disease, paratyphoid fever, that had its source in infected meat, developed.

The improvements in water supply, sewage disposal, and in food sanitation have tremendously lessened the chance of infection with either of these diseases or with cholera and amoebic dysentery which are similarly carried and have also been epidemic in the United States.

Sometimes political officials who do not thoroughly appreciate the dangers, because they do not remember the conditions existing prior to 1900, neglect warnings and there is an epidemic such as that at the Manteno State hospital in Illinois in 1939.

Because preventive measures have made these water and food borne infections extremely rare, even the members of the medical profession begin to neglect them. Yet one of the most important benefits that will accrue to all who volunteer or are drafted for military or naval service, is the fact that all will be inoculated against typhoid and paratyphoid fevers.

GAGETOWN NEWS

Laughlin-Hunter and Laughlin-Dangel Ceremony Read—

Ivory tapers in cathedral candelabra cast a soft glow over the chancel of St. Felix Church in Hewelton when Miss Irene Laughlin and Miss Marion Laughlin, daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Laughlin, spoke their marriage vows to Carroll Hunter, son of Mrs. C. P. Hunter, and Clemens Dangel of Bad Axe, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Dangel, of Saginaw, Thursday, November 20, at 9:30 a. m.

The bride, Miss Irene Laughlin, chose for her wedding a street-length dress of hunter's green wool with matching jacket trimmed with fur and wine accessories and Miss Marion Laughlin, who acted as bridesmaid for her sister, wore a blue dress and fur trimmed jacket.

A wedding breakfast for the bridal parties and immediate families was held at the Hotel Morrow in Bad Axe. A tiered wedding cake centered the table which was lighted by tall white tapers in crystal candelabra.

A reception for the two couples was held in the church hall at Hewelton from 2:00 to 5:00 p. m. They received many beautiful gifts.

Mr. and Mrs. Hunter left after the reception for a honeymoon trip in northern Michigan. They will reside in Gagetown where the groom is a funeral director. Mr. and Mrs. Dangel will reside in Bad Axe.

Pre-nuptial affairs for Irene Laughlin were a miscellaneous shower at Hewelton by Miss Clara Latosky and Mrs. Irma Kennedy, and a kitchen shower by Mrs. Kenneth Maharg.

A bet of $17,000,000 to one dollar—how does that sound? The average man 35 years of age may ordinarily expect 17,000,000 more minutes in his life. That is what can be reasonably expected provided he does not violate all the rules of common sense while driving an automobile.

You and I and every other driver gamble those 17,000,000 remaining minutes to save just a few seconds. How often have we done this when passing on hills? How often have we passed people on a straight-away when there was very little clearance between the car ahead and oncoming traffic? We should not gamble such odds in dollars and cents, yet we gamble with higher stakes than that—our own life.

Let's be sensible about automobile driving and apply a little common sense and courtesy.

"NAVY INTELLIGENCE"

Is it necessary to be a high school graduate in order to enlist in the Navy?

No. Navy enlistees need not be high school graduates. All applicants will be given an examination containing approximately 100 questions. A grade of 50 per cent or better on this examination is sufficiently high to pass the Navy educational standards. However, a high school education will be valuable to the seaman during his Navy enlistment.

If I enlist in the Navy or Naval Reserve, will I be sent to a Navy Trade School?

All new recruits are sent to one of four Naval Training Stations and after a training period they may take examinations for entrance into Navy Trade Schools. Those recruits who pass their examinations with sufficiently high grades are sent to Navy Trade Schools before assignment to the fleet. While attending these schools, they will receive regular Navy pay and free schooling valued at $1500.

What is the greatest possible pay I can expect to earn during my first term of enlistment? It is possible to earn as much as $126 a month by the end of your first term of enlistment, and remember that your clothing, lodging, medical and dental care are all supplied free.

After I have served my term of enlistment, what benefits do I get for re-enlistment?

Depending on your rate and length of service, you can get a cash bonus up to $300 plus 30 days leave with pay.

What does the term "ash can" mean in the Navy?

An "ash can" is a slang term applied to the depth charge used to combat submarines. The average "ash can" is a container filled with approximately 300 pounds of T.N.T. and can be dropped overboard from a ship and so controlled as to explode at depths ranging from 35 to 300 feet. These are generally carried by the fast ships in the fleet, as a boat dropping a charge regulated to explode at 70 feet depth must move away from the explosion area at a speed of 25 knots or more. These "ash cans" are either rolled off the stern or shot from "g-guns" which hurl one right and one left simultaneously.

NECROLOGY

George W. Meddaugh.

George Wellington Meddaugh, 73, a resident of Bay County for 55 years and active as sheriff and justice of the peace for the City of Pinconning for 12 years, passed away in Pinconning Sunday after a six weeks' illness.

He was born in Sanilac County County September 27, 1868, and married Mary Schumann April 15, 1889. He is survived by his widow, seven children, 19 grandchildren, three great grandchildren, three half sisters and three half brothers.

Among those from a distance who attended the funeral Wednesday were Mrs. John Connell and Charles Woodward of Cass City and Mr. and Mrs. Chester Darling of Harbor Beach. Mr. Meddaugh was an uncle of Mrs. John Connell and a half brother of Mrs. Charles Cooke of Evergreen.

TREIBER CHOSEN DIRECTOR OF MICHIGAN STATE FARM BUREAU

Concluded from first page. bers and community groups. A resolution was adopted to oppose Senate Bill No. 1485 giving the secretary of agriculture power to establish minimum wages for farm labor. Under this bill, that is before the Labor and Education Committee of the Senate, any farmer who failed to comply with such regulations would be ineligible to receive agricultural benefit payments, federal crop insurance or government loans of any sort.

A resolution supported price control legislation that would recognize the parity principle as between labor, industry and agriculture and prevent any price ceiling being established on any agricultural commodity or products thereof at a price not less than 10% of parity. Another resolution called the attention of the administration of the Selective Service Act, to the agricultural labor situation and the need of a considerable number of trained and skilled farm boys being left on farms to maintain agricultural production. And the fourth resolution asked that sufficient sodium chlorate be released by the Priorities Commission to control bindweed on farms.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Smith of Colwood went to East Lansing on Wednesday, November 12, to attend pre-convention conferences. Mrs. Smith attended the Associated Women's Conferences and was awarded a pin for participating in the women's speaking contest. Mr. Smith attended a membership relation conference. Commodity conferences were held for sugar beets, beans and small grains, livestock and wool, fruits and vegetables, poultry and dairy. More than 600 farmers attended the open forum on Wednesday evening with E. A. O'Neal, president of the American Farm Bureau Federation, representing agriculture; J. A. Wischert of Detroit, C. I. O. research director, representing labor, and John L. Lovett of Detroit, manager of the Michigan Manufacturers' Association, representing industry.

DEFORD.

Mr. and Mrs. Chamcey Tallman returned home Tuesday from a deer hunting trip near Oscoda. Mr. Tallman got his deer about eleven o'clock Saturday morning, but did not return home Saturday, as his brother, Clifford Tallman, who was with them, had not shot his deer yet. On Sunday, all attended Indian Church at the Indian settlement near Oscoda. They saw some of the Cass City hunters but they hadn't had sight of a deer yet.

Always Eggs

Whether dried, liquid, or frozen eggs are used in baked goods, the unqualified term "eggs" is usually used on the label.

Let Pig Make Hog of Himself

Social graces are to be ignored when a pig takes steps to make a hog of himself. But if a farmer is wise, let alone hospitable, he makes certain a hog gets a balanced diet. According to V. A. Freeman of the Michigan State College animal husbandry department, it takes 11 bushels or more of just corn to make 100 pounds of pork. But when 42 pounds of tankage are fed, the corn requirement shrinks to 7 bushels and when 63 pounds of mixed supplement are fed it takes only 6 1/2 bushels of corn to add 100 pounds of gain.

U. S. Flour Sacks Clothe the French

Bags Become Garments for Children of Jobless.

VICHY, FRANCE.—Two hundred thousand sacks that contained the United States gift of flour to the people of unoccupied France have been transformed into sheets, aprons, bibs, dresses, shirts and underclothing for the children of French unemployed.

In an interview with the newspaper Journal a member of the unemployment bureau told how this had come about.

"One of our employees who was in Marseilles when the Red Cross was distributing the American flour happened to remark the flour sacks and to exclaim on the beautiful cotton material of which they were made," she said. "The Red Cross official present said that if they could be turned to useful purposes the unemployed he would donate them gladly. The gift was arranged and thousands of French unemployed women received the task of preparing and making useful things from the sacks.

"By scraping and beating the sacks after they had been emptied by the Red Cross, these women were able to recover 30 kilograms of flour from each 5,000 sacks. This flour was distributed among the most needy of the unemployed.

"In the endeavor to remove the trade marks and designs stamped on the sacks the women found that part of the cloth turned to a pale pink. This part has been used in making underwear. The work on all the articles is fine, and they are serviceable.

"The string that tied the sacks was sorted, combed and made into yarn, and with it the unemployed women have knitted more than 4,000 suits of rompers."

Dried Human Blood Used With Success in Clinic

HOUSTON, TEXAS.—Dried human blood plasma that can save life for as long as five years after being taken from the donor's veins was one of the chief chemical developments on display at the recent Texas Pharmaceutical association convention.

The product, perfected by a leading pharmaceutical firm, was released for general hospital use June 2 after more than 10 years' experimental work in clinics and laboratories under the supervision of leading scientists.

Its chief advantage is that it is usable after long periods whereas liquid blood is seldom kept more than four weeks.

"The product is made by freezing plasma to over 100 degrees below zero. With less than 1 per cent moisture when it is dry, it is sealed in vacuum containers and distributed for hospital or other professional use.

Liquid blood must be kept and transported with refrigeration but the dried plasma can be handled under adverse conditions, it was pointed out. Too, its use is extremely simple.

Secrets Are Safe With Army Women of Britain

LONDON.—The recent disclosure of the new air defense system now known as radio-location has exploded one of the oldest fables about women—that they cannot keep a secret.

Large numbers of women's auxiliary air force radio operators for months past have been doing their part in "radiolocating" enemy planes. Yet not a word of this most closely guarded of Britain's weapons has reached the outside world.

Just how well the W.A.A.F. kept silent was shown when the story of radiolocation was officially told. W.A.A.F. members not directly concerned in its operation were as surprised as the public.

In the past recruiting officers looking for likely radiolocation candidates were able to say only that the work would be "confidential and interesting." Now any young woman between 17 1/2 and 35 can ask to be considered for radiolocation work. If she has a nice clear voice, perfect eyesight, integrity of character and an above-average education the job is hers.

Water Hyacinth Removal In Bayous Costly to U. S.

NEW ORLEANS.—Water hyacinths, spreading with the speed of tropical jungle growth, block more than 2,000 miles of Louisiana's swamps, bayous and inland waterways. Government appropriation for the job of clearing these floating flower fields from the water was $180,000 for the year July 1, 1940, to July 1, 1941.

After 42 years of fighting this water traffic hazard, victory is in sight.

'Paralyzed Oath' Is New One to Courtroom

PORTLAND, MAINE.—A "paralyzed oath" has no standing in municipal court. Answering a charge of assaulting a woman, a defendant in the court said: "I'll take a paralyzed oath that I never struck her." The defendant explained a "paralyzed oath" meant, "I will be paralyzed by the Almighty if I don't tell the truth."

Local Hunters Are in the North Woods

The Chronicle last week carried a list of about 35 from this community who went to the northern woods to hunt deer. Others who have joined the ranks have their names in the following paragraphs. Several plan to remain until the end of the season on November 30.

Henry Ball and Stanley McArthur left Thursday to spend a week or ten days near Barton City. Lyle Lounsbury left Friday to visit relatives at Marion and enjoy the hunting while there.

Carl Stafford left Friday to visit his cousin, Norris Stafford, at Reed City and to hunt near Star Lake.

Alger Freiburger of Detroit arrived in Cass City Friday to accompany Otis Heath on a hunting trip to St. Helen. They were joined at Bay City by Edison Clark of Midland, uncle of Mr. Heath.

Josh Sharrard and Lawrence Bartle spent the week-end at Mikado. Stephen Dodge, Frank Hutchinson, Floyd Ottaway and Grant Hutchinson left Wednesday of this week to spend several days at Seney.

B. A. Elliott, Earl Harris, Avon Boagg and Keith Buehrly spent Saturday hunting at Mio.

M. E. Kenney and Wilfred Greguer enjoyed hunting near West Branch from Friday until Monday evening.

Arthur Little, Henry Tate and John Muntz are among the hunters near St. Helen. They expect to be gone about ten days.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Steele and Leo McLean returned Monday evening after spending the week-end in the north woods.

Cecil Larkin, Irving Parsch, Myles Coleman and Frank Novak left Friday to hunt near St. Helen.

Cigar Capital of World
Tampa, Fla., is called the cigar capital of the world. The Cuban section of the city is lined with shops and cigar factories, and over 1,500,000 Havana cigars are made daily.

Harmonious Pair
Printed flat mohair harmonizes well with mahogany for an informal setting. Mohair is excellent as an upholstery fabric as it is durable, washable and not likely to fade.

The Beautiful New CHRYSLER

A Thunderbolt FOR BEAUTY

Yes—a real thunderbolt of beauty! Its utterly stunning lines strikingly resemble that famous show model, The Chrysler Thunderbolt—"Car of the Future." Massive yet sleek—graceful yet dashing. Interiors are luxurious, modern... "Tailored to Taste!"

A Spitfire FOR POWER

Even more power! Power for the zooming age we live in—power from a new, more efficient engine. Combined with Fluid Drive and Vacumatic transmission, this new Spitfire is designed to conserve fuel. We've got a precision instrument called a "tachometer" on our demonstrators which shows you exactly how Chrysler's power transmission system gets more power out of every gallon of fuel.

A Wigard FOR EFFICIENCY

Far more extensive use of Chrysler's famous alloy—Amola steel—greater use of Oilite metals. No "roughed" bearings... Chrysler's Superfinish—with aircraft precision—conserves fuel and oil, increases performance, reduces wear.

An Eye-Opener FOR SMOOTHNESS

Smooth in line and smooth in action. Chrysler's now famous Fluid Drive and Vacumatic transmission reach new performance peaks with the new Spitfire engine. You flow from standstill into full action with the fluent smoothness of a gliding swan. Why shift gears?

THERE's a lot that's new... there's a lot that's down-right exciting in this new Chrysler. It answers the questions many people have been asking. It answers them in a way we're all glad to see.

It's a car that's built to the tempo of the day—but with an eye to the future. Come in and get acquainted with a truly great car.
