BELSHAZZAR RETURNS.

Burt Elliott, the accommodating rural letter carrier on Route 3 out of Cass City, enjoyed reading "Belshazzar" by Davis so much that he recommended it to friends. The last reader was so long in returning the book that the owner forgot who had it and last week advertised in the Chronicle's want ad column requesting its return.

Imagine his surprise when a copy of an earlier edition of the story which he had loaned several years ago was returned to him. He is still hopeful that the later edition of the book for which he inserted the want ad will also find its way home.

School Courses Found at Fault

Survey Finds They Fail to Fit the Pupil to Live in Democratic Society.

NEW YORK.—Ninety per cent of the courses of study now offered in the American public schools are inadequate and do not prepare the students to live in a democratic society, Dr. Herbert B. Bruner of Teachers college charged in a report of a fiveyear investigation.

A staff of research workers and assistants co-operated in the study. which sampled 85,000 courses in use in schools throughout the country.

Only 10 per cent of them have kept pace with the tempo of American life, according to Dr. Bruner. For the most part, the courses have not been changed in a quarter of a century. Such subjects as advertis ing, housing, consumer education and an improved standard of living have been almost neglected, the re-

Overhauling Urged. A "decided overhauling" of the school curriculum is essential, in the opinion of Dr. Bruner. This is particularly true today, he added, with the emphasis placed upon democratic way of living and the defense program. In examining the courses, the educator found that while Europe was mentioned 15,000 times, South America was referred to fewer than 100 times.

"Ninety per cent of our schools are not teaching the kind of things that will enable the children to live in a democratic society," Dr. Bruner said. "The schools deal with academic topics, which for the most part have not been changed or revised for numbers of years. They have not kept pace with the rapid tempo of present-day society."

A much-neglected field, Dr. Bruner reported, is that of gifted pupils, for whom not a single course is offered. Also there are relatively few courses for the kindergarten.

On the other hand, topics treated at great length in the social science courses are industries, transportation, communication, international and peace relations, education, finance, race problems, production and labor and capital.

Lack Timely New Content.

"One of the major findings emerging from the examination of these courses of study is that there is a great dearth of the kind of new content which is needed in our times,' "The new the report observes. material that does appear, however, is, in the main, better suited to current needs, and may be the forerunner of increased volume of similar content in the future."

"Glaring" shortages exist in certain fields, such as science, Dr. Bruner said, where there is "almost no mention of practical science in industry, in the home, or with reference to the consumer."

"The underlying philosophy of many of these courses prevents the content from assuming full significance," he wrote. "For example the idea that science should remain 'pure' stultified the social emphasis that might otherwise be present."

Chef Describes How to Carve Turkey Properly

Fine roast turkey reigns supreme over the American Christmas table. But no matter how large or small it may be, the obstacle of carving the bird must first be overcome before it can be enjoyed.

Since carving is almost an art in itself, a few expert suggestions are made by Maurice Gonneau, chef at a downtown hotel in New York. Before starting to cut the turkey,

FSA Will Develop Big Missouri Farm

To Be Sold to Those Moved By Defense Projects.

BUTLER, MO. - A 42,000-acre block of farm land, once owned by an Irish peer who wouldn't allow "drinkers or debters" to tenant his farms, has been bought by the FSA to rehabilitate persons moved from areas taken over by defense projects.

Lord William Scully, a tall, slender Irishman with a keen eye for rich land, came to the United States in 1850, dropped his title and before his death had amassed a fortune of $50,000,000. Scully left Philadelphia the year he arrived in the United States, mounted a horse and carrying a spade. He reached Illinois before his shovel turned up earth to his liking and he bought 20,000 acres there. Later he went to Missouri, Kansas and Nebraska, buying a total of 200,000 acres. The Scully farm in Bates county was his Missouri holding.

Scully died in London in 1906 after he had become a United States citizen and built up a reputation as an eccentric because of the modest way in which he lived and the business methods he used on his many farms. The Washington Post, in an interview with the Irish lord published October 19, 1906, quoted him as saying that he made money because he hired only tenants who knew their business. At Scully's death the land passed to his son, Thomas A. Scully, who held it until it was sold to the FSA.

Farmers moved off land taken over by the Fort Leonard Wood (Mo.) and Neosho (Mo.) defense projects will be allowed to lease acreage and the FSA said that the original tenants will be permitted to stay.

"My most valuable"

My daily helper!

Women everywhere are enthusiastic about the new electric cookers. For example, read what Mrs. Tracy Soleau says:

"I am so very pleased with my 18-quart electric cooker! I have been using it every day for fourteen months, in daily cooking, roasting and baking for a family of eight.

"I have had exceptionally fine baking results-whether it has been bread, pies, short-cake, or angel food cake. For everyday meals I have done everything but fry with my cooker. I can go on with my housework knowing the meal will be ready and well cooked.

"At a family reunion I was complimented on the flavor and brownness of my electrically roasted chickens. Eight of my friends have cookers now, all from seeing or tasting something I have cooked in "Last fall I cold packed more than 400 quarts of vegetables, fruits and berries. It was so simple to do and I have some of the most beautiful quart jars of raspberries, pineapple, strawberries, beets, carrots and string beans. They are as firm and delicious as fresh ones.

"In dollars and cents, and not taking into consideration the better cooked and more healthful food we have enjoyed, I feel that in the fourteen months we have had the cooker it has paid for itself. I consider the electric cooker my most valuable daily helper!"

NEW WAYS FOR YOUR BAKING DAYS (See Recipes Below)

made in a jiffy. weather setting in, you homemakers can return the hot breads and their baking into your schedules.

Or is there a bake sale or a bazaar included in the fall and winter schedule of your church or club activities? Nothing will fill the bill quite so nicely as a few trays of freshly baked biscuits, rolls, and bread.

Although cakes and pies can be baked at home by individual members, these hot breads can be made, oh, so quickly right in the church kitchen because they need only a few supplies and a few minutes to bake. They'll give your display a more complete array of baked goods and will also be a good substantial contrast to the fancier displays. To make things easy, serve them in pans (if you can spare them) to save time in making displays. If you're planning a sale of bakery goods, have one section of a table set aside for selling individual pieces of cakes, pie, cookies, or a roll. When people realize how delicious a mouthful is, they can hardly resist buying a bagful,

As a good starter, consider the possibilities of the humble bakingpowder biscuit.

Milk to mix

Sift the flour once, measure, add baking powder and salt, then cut in shortening. Add milk and mix just enough to hold together in large flakes. Pat to 1/4 of an inch thickness on a floured board and cut with a biscuit cutter. Bake in a hot oven (450 degrees) 12 to 15 minutes.

*Butterscotch Rolls.

Make baking-powder biscuits as given in the recipe above and pat on floured board. Brush with melted butter, sprinkle generously with brown sugar and cinnamon.

Roll as for jelly roll and cut in 1/2. inch pieces. Put 1/2 teaspoon of butter and I teaspoon of brown sugar in each muffin pan and lay the pieces of rolled dough on top of them. Bake 20 to 25 minutes in a hot oven (400 degrees).

LYNN SAYS:

Quick breads require less attention than yeast breads, but there are a few pointers about them you ought to bear in mind. Beware of overmixing the bat ter or dough. For the baking powder variety work the fat into the flour or mixed dry ingredients only until mixed. Then stop, quickly. Mix in the milk with a few whirls, but do not overstir unless you want tough, leathery biscuits.

The secret of good muffins is to mix the batter only until blend-Even the egg should be only slightly beaten. If you want the muffins high in peaks, add a tablespoonful or two of extra flour to the recipe. Honey, jam and jelly are indicated for muffins as grand pick-ups for meals.

Always measure ingredients unless you have the extraordinary quality of guessing accurately. There is such a thing, but it is rare, so remember to use standard measuring cups and spoons. Measurements are level unless otherwise stated.

Owens for most quick breads are hotter than for the yeast varieties. Set the meter correctly when heating and do not put batter or dough in until the oven has reached the desired temperature.

Christmas Spirit Interrupts War

Despite the horror and suffering among World war soldiers, the spirit of Christmas was not kept out of the trenches.

In "A German Deserter's War Experience," the author, an anti-government Socialist, tells of a Christmas celebration on the Argonne

"Christmas in the trenches! It a pine tree and decorated it with candles and cookies.

"At midnight the whole line of German soldiers began to sing Christmas songs in chorus.

"I shall hope to catch you under the mistletoe Christmas eve." "If you do, I warn you now, I'll be too busy to see you.'

First Settlers in Virginia

Had a Joyous Christmas Although thousands of miles from their native homes, the first Virginians did what they could to observe Christmas day. But there were no women, no children and no families in those first few years.

Despite this handicap, Captain John Smith writes "that the first Christmases were very merry. The extreme wind, rayne, frost and snow caused us to keep Christmas among the savages wheere we weere never more merry, nor fed on more plenty of good oysters, fish, flesh, wild fowl and good bread, nor never had better fires in England."
