League's First Series Drawing to a Close

By Dr. B. H. Starmann, Secretary of Bowling League.

The first series of the Cass City Bowling League is rapidly drawing to a close. Only one week remains and the 1941 games will be over. Only two teams retain a mathematical chance of finishing in first place. Entering the last week, we find Reid's five leading Parsch by two full games. Last week Reid won two games from Collins while Parsch was losing two to Dr. Starmann. All other teams are mathematically eliminated.

The twelfth week brought forward another star to take his place in the spotlight. On Monday evening, Frank Haven really "turned on the heat" and when the smoke cleared away he found himself possessor of a new record three-game individual total. Frank hammered the maples for games of 200, 224 and 206 for a grand total of 630. Incidentally this is the first time this year that any member of the

3,026 Respond to Red Cross Roll Call in 17 Townships

Four Branches in Tuscola Exceed Quotas and One Is Near Its Goal.

Seventeen of the 23 township quota chairmen in Tuscola County have reported a 3,026 membership response to the Red Cross roll call. Their total quota was 3,575. "This proves," says Mrs. Bulen, "that we must get more men into Red Cross work."

The American Red Cross has launched an appeal for a minimum of $50,000,000 as an American War Relief Fund, through its Chairman Norman H. Davis. In making the announcement, he states that this fund is needed to provide relief for civilian populations bombed from their homes by the Japanese, and for those who are under threat of enemy action in the Pacific war emergency or upon the continent of the United States. Funds also are required for the humanitarian work of the Red Cross for men in the armed forces.

"Chairman Davis has set the quota for Tuscola County at $5,700 and this amount will be raised by the twenty-three townships in the county and will be in proportion to their population," says G. W. Landon, chapter chairman. "The fund drive is already being set in motion in every unit of the chapter organization and every citizen will have an opportunity to make his personal contribution."

Sweaters, Socks, Helmets and Watch Caps for the North Atlantic Patrol.

An urgent request has been issued the Tuscola County Red Cross Chapter to furnish knitted garments for the North Atlantic Patrol to be distributed among the men on ships and destroyers of this fleet. Sweaters, socks, helmets and watch caps are the articles needed and should be ready for shipment no later than January 31, 1942.

County Chapter officers have already ordered yarn to make up a substantial number of these garments and the yarn should be available to the different branch organizations of the county chapter by the first of the new year. All women wishing to have a part in this hurried call for knitted garments are requested to get in touch with their Red Cross organizations at once.

The women and girls of high school age have responded nobly throughout the county to the production program which has been carried on for the past two years and many of the branch organizations now have headquarters set up where women in the community can assemble each week to make new garments which up until the present time has all been for British War Relief. The last quota of dress materials is now about ready for shipment and all branch organizations having these materials should turn them in.

Navy Announces Modification of Physical Standards

A relaxation of physical standards for enlistments in the U. S. Navy and the Naval Reserve was announced this week by the Navy Department. In commenting on this action, the Navy Department stated that numerous men who in the past months have sought to enlist and have been rejected on the basis of minor physical defects will, because of the modification of physical standards, be encouraged to re-apply for enlistment in either the regular Navy or Naval Reserve for the duration of the emergency.

The Navy Department has requested that any person knowing of young men who had been barred from enlistment in the Navy and Naval Reserve because of minor physical reasons should bring this modification in physical requirements to the attention of these young men.

Applicants with varicose veins will be acceptable under the changed standards, this varicose condition to be corrected, if the condition is painful, at the Naval Training Stations to which the new recruits are sent. Hydrocele, another defect that formerly ruled out numerous applicants, will be corrected, if necessary, after enlistees arrive at Training Stations. Applicants suffering from hernia will be accepted provided their I. Q.'s are 75 or better. Applicants who possess 18 natural serviceable teeth, with at least two molars in functional occlusion and not more than four incisors missing, will be acceptable. All applicants accepted with defects requiring correction will be hospitalized. After correction of these defects recruits will be re-

New Use for Phone
If the socks of one Manorville, N. Y., man aren't being darned as well as they used to be, the New York Telephone company is to blame. Assigned to investigate a complaint about recurring static a repairman on one of the company's party lines discovered that a housewife in one of the homes served by the line had acquired the habit of removing the receiver from the hook and using it as a darning egg in mending socks.

ALL NOW STAND TOGETHER.

The die is cast and the United States is at war. It was not a war of our own choosing, but a tragedy forced upon us by the treacherous action of the Axis-led Japanese who, negotiating with us in a purported effort of their own volition to keep the peace, struck at American defenses in the Pacific.

All past differences among the American people have been forgotten. There were disagreements as to the proper foreign policy to be pursued while there was still hope and a chance that war might be avoided. But once the enemy has struck his blow, all disagreements must and have been forgotten.

The historic words of Decatur are remembered that it is our country right or wrong, still our country. This, of all times, it can be said that our country is right. Self defense is one of the first laws of nature, with the nation as with the individual. Treachery should always be punished and this is doubly true when the life or at least the future independence of a nation is at stake. We have been sucked into the maelstrom of world war now. There is no turning back, once this condition has occurred; it is impossible as well as unwise. The only thing to do now is fight forward to victory. This is the duty of every citizen, great or small. No matter how much material property one may possess, our lives are at stake and, what is even more precious, our right to liberty and the pursuit of happiness. This is the right which we all possess.

No matter whether or not we are individually beyond the high-meridian of life there is something each of us may do. We can leave this to the direction which may come to us from above in the common government, and to our conscience and our ability to render service.

There can be no backbiting, no regrets. The war can now not be avoided. It has come to us. We have accepted the challenge of the axis powers by declaring war in turn because it was the only honorable thing to do. But further than this it was the only possible thing to do.

Let us remember that now we are all Americans, equally interested in the preservation of American institutions, keepers of the present for ourselves and of the future for our children and our children's children.—The Republic-Tribune.

Trouble Develops
in Milk Strike

Spokesmen for the larger dealers, who surveyed receipts at 47 receiving stations in the 25 counties of the Detroit milkshed, said the Detroit Free Press Thursday morning, were hopeful of avoiding hardship for the city because of the milk strike, but recommended augmenting policing and perhaps special protection for pickup haulers.

Exchange of Letters on Occupational Deferments

Tuscola County United States Defense Administration Board, through its chairman, John Reagh, addressed a letter recently to Lt. Col. I. D. Brent, state adviser of occupational deferments at Lansing. "The Tuscola board," the letter stated, "has been advised that you are not aware of any shortage of experienced farm labor in Tuscola County. We submit to you facts to substantiate our belief that there is a very definite shortage of experienced farm labor in this county."

In presenting reasons, Mr. Reagh called attention that defense industries in Pontiac, Detroit, Flint, Saginaw and Bay City have drawn heavily on farm labor supply in the southern and western parts of the county; that the sugar beet industry requires much labor and it takes 350 farmers to operate the sugar beet processing plant for a 90-day period each year; that several hundred of the county's farm boys are already in the Army; that farmers are asked to increase dairy production by 4%, beef by 10%, poultry and eggs by 13%, and hogs by 10%; that to the shortage of farm labor was largely due the extensive damage to the county's 65,000-acre bean crop. Tuscola is one of the leading counties in dairy products, poultry, sugar beets, beans and small grains. To maintain not only present farm production, but to increase it, meant a need for farm labor increase, the board said.

In his reply, Lt. Col. I. D. Brent said in part:

"When we have no specific factual information regarding the shortage of experienced farm labor on any particular farm in any particular county, we have no other alternative but to state that fact."

"Responsibility is entirely upon the registrant and those interested in him to furnish local boards with full and complete information justifying and confirming their claims."

"The regulations give local boards the privilege in cases of appeal, or otherwise, of forwarding to this office the folders of all registrants who are appealing on occupational grounds. We are duty bound to study each folder, consider each case on its individual merits and facts, and reply with advice to the local board. If the folder does not contain clear-cut, definite information that the registrant is a 'necessary man' as outlined in the regulations, we must so advise the board. In studying these folders we look for evidences of good or bad faith, from the size and condition and economic situation of each family group, the size and condition of the farm and the crops, cattle, poultry, etc., thereon and from whether or not the farm is being operated on shares or by tenants, whether it is a family subsistence farm with or without surpluses, and whether or not it is an agricultural enterprise with considerable surplus, and the kind and nature of such surpluses."

Shoen on Furniture

In finishing furniture, to obtain a rich, semi-polished sheen, use clean, white cotton waste wrung out in water for the final rub. Cotton flannel may be substituted for the waste. This method removes any "stop marks" left by the felt rubbing pad used for the oil rub. Never use rubbing pads for oil to give the water rub, since water causes the pads to become hard and glazed. When a pad has become hard, soak it overnight in gasoline and brush with a dry scrubbing brush.

Outscoring their rivals in every quarter, the Cass City hoopers chalked up their second consecutive victory Tuesday night at the expense of Fairgrove High School. This is the first loss in three starts for Fairgrove.

Sickler and Profit led the scorers with seven points each, closely followed by Guc with six and Root with four.

Knitting Drive On For Army and Navy

Red Cross Expects Women To Volunteer.

WASHINGTON. — A large-scale Red Cross volunteer knitting program, reminiscent of World war days, to provide sweaters for American soldiers and sailors, was launched by Norman H. Davis, chairman of the American Red Cross, in letters to the secretaries of war and navy. He said "more than a million women volunteers in Red Cross chapters throughout the nation are eager to participate in the program."

The program is expected to produce 500,000 sweaters, most of which are to be given to hospitalized men and those garrisoned at island defense bases.

Mr. Davis also announced that Red Cross kits, familiarly known during World war I as ditty bags by sailors and comfort kits by soldiers, will be produced by chapter volunteers for service men in hospitals and at the island bases. The kits, containing such accessories as writing material, toilet articles, sewing kits and playing cards, will reach men at the bases as Christmas gifts, he said.

The chairman's letter to Henry L. Stimson, secretary of war, and Frank Knox, secretary of the navy, pointed out that these Red Cross gifts are not intended to meet the needs that are the responsibility of the army and navy. These Red Cross gifts are "luxuries" which will remind the men of the "unfailing support and interest of a grateful nation for its men under arms," Mr. Davis said.

Meanwhile, Mr. Davis announced that, in order to cheer up sick, wounded and convalescent British troops in the Middle East, the Red Cross is preparing to send 200 radios and 3,000 small paper-bound novels and mystery stories.

Naked Aborigines Attend School in Australia

ADELAIDE, AUSTRALIA.—Away up in the far corner of South Australia is one of the world's strangest schools.

Its pupils are members of the Pitjantjara tribe of aborigines. They wear no clothes and they come or stay away as they please. The school is not yet a year old, but it has 100 children on the roll and the average attendance is 40.

All instruction is given in the native language, but reading, writing and arithmetic form part of the curriculum. School opens each day with a communal talk during which the children are thoroughly bathed and dried.

After school the children return to their parents, who live the life of the true Myall native, eating what the bush affords and sleeping under the stars between two fires.

"For the most part the children are fair-haired, some golden, others even snowy," says their only teacher. "Brown-skinned and healthy, they are free from any disease. They have attractive features, are quick-witted, sensitive, well-mannered, affectionate and easy to control."

"Drawing is their favorite subject and singing comes second. With no appreciable previous experience of music, they now sing in two or three parts, and all seem to have a perfect ear."

British Peer and Wife Advertise for Employment

LONDON. — The following appeared in the personal column of the Times:

"Middle-aged Peer and Peeress; energetic, capable; former with military and business experience, good linguist (French, German); latter good organizer, two and one-half years' general nursing experience (London and Military). Desire suitable employment together with accommodations; no salary. London or near South or Southwest England preferred."

The advertisement gave a Times box number for answers of prospective employers.

Boom in Sales of Farms Born of Defense Program

WASHINGTON.—A boom in the sales of farms—the first in about 20 years—was attributed by government officials to the national defense and British-aid programs.

The rise in value of farm lands and rapid sales of these properties already has caused anxiety among some who remember the World war boom and crash. Government leaders have urged lenders who serve farmers to go easy on credit extensions and have suggested that farmers, traditionally burdened by mortgages, devote additional income to repayment of debts.

Swiss Trains to Carry Wounded War Prisoners

BERN. — A tentative agreement has been reached by which Switzerland will act as a transport intermediary for the exchange of wounded German and British war prisoners.

Under the plan the Swiss are to provide a hospital train with doctors and nurses. They will take the British to English channel ports, where the German wounded will be received.

Yule Tree Peril Easily Reduced

How to restrain the needle-dropping on Michigan's million indoor Christmas trees and at the same time keep these trees from becoming fire hazards in homes, schools, stores and churches involves the use of water, chemicals or even paint sprays.

Some of the technique suggested by A. J. Panshin, associate professor of forestry at Michigan State College, ranges from the use of a bucket of moistened sand to chemicals in solution. If the weather is not unusually warm and if trees have been cut within a month of the holiday, trees should respond to the extra care.

Here is the chemical solution described by Professor Panshin: Six grams of malic acid, five grams of citric acid and 15 grams of calcium carbonate are dissolved in three quarts of water. The base of the tree stands in this solution and water is added as the solution is used by the tree.

Tests by the United States Forest Service indicate Christmas trees retain their needles about two weeks if they stand in water. Just before the tree is placed in the container, the stem or large end should be sawed off an inch or two from the end, preferably at an angle or in a V shape. This gives the water free access to the fresh wood.

Christmas trees can be made nearly fireproof. The process is recommended where the risk might be great in using the tree for school or church programs. According to Professor Panshin, the secret is to replace as much of the moisture as possible with an absorbed chemical. The chemical is ammonium sulphate, obtained from stores that sell fertilizers.

The weight of the tree in pounds is divided by four. This amount of the ammonium sulphate is placed in a jar, crock or pail and dissolved in water, using one and one-half pints for each pound of sulphate. The tree is placed with the stem end in the solution and let stand in a cool place not in direct sunlight until most of the solution is absorbed.

State of Michigan, the Probate Court for the County of Tuscola. In the matter of the Holtz Drain.

A petition having been filed in said court by the County Drain Commissioner of said county for the appointment of a Board of Determination to ascertain and determine the necessity of the said drain, and Fred Hutchinson of Ellington Township, Edgar Ross of Wells Township and Neil H. Notice is hereby given, that on the 29th day of December, A. D. 1941, at 10:00 o'clock in the forenoon, said board will meet at the home of Mrs. Alice Retherford, Section 34, Novesta Township, for the purpose of determining whether said proposed drain is necessary and conducive to public health, convenience and welfare, at which meeting all persons and all municipalities interested may appear for or against said drain proceedings.

ALMON C. PIERCE,
12-12-2 Judge of Probate.

Lansing—Remember Pearl Harbor!

This cry is echoed throughout Michigan today. Vanished are the ardent debates about isolationism and interventionism. Gone are the partisan activities for immediate gains at the expense of the administration. Forgotten for the moment are the bickerings of labor leaders for jurisdictional control and closed shop benefits.

Something has happened in Michigan. It represents one of the most complete overnight changes in citizen attitudes this state has experienced in half a century.

The suddenness of the treacherous Japanese attack on American territory, while Japanese envoys were receiving our hospitality in presumed efforts to preserve the peace, came as a great shock to Michigan citizens. Those who had scoffed at the prospect of invasion—who had derided civilian defense activity as war-mongering—were among the first to raise their voices in demands for greater action, or in criticism at apparent unpreparedness and laxity.

Special Session

Because of mounting needs for money, observers here are forecasting that the governor will call a special session of the state legislature early in 1942.

At the first war-time session of the state administrative board, national defense needs in Michigan were discussed. State troops, organized to replace national guard units, number 3,200 men. These will probably be increased at once to 4,160 and later on to 7,500, the full strength point for the guard units they will replace.

State prison industries have been assigned the job of turning out needed military clothing. It was discovered that Michigan could not even assign 1,000 men to winter patrol duty except in their own civilian overcoats to keep them warm.

The daily maintenance cost of state troopers will be $4.50 to $5—an inkling of the coming cost to the state treasury if Michigan is called upon to use the home guard during the war.

Police Army

Civilian defense machinery is now going at high speed, thanks to preliminary organization undertaken by the state and county councils of defense in cooperation with the federal government.

Heading the volunteer units are the experienced technicians of the Michigan State Police, county sheriffs and deputies, and city police—a trained force of 7,100 men. The state defense council, clearing orders received from Washington, has asked local police chiefs to recruit auxiliary volunteers at once. It is expected that the combined strength of full-time and volunteer police guards will eventually approximate 30,000.

Experiences of England, for example, are being utilized by Capt. Donald S. Leonard of the Michigan State Police, president of the International Association of Chiefs of Police, who recently returned from England as a member of the LaGuardia study mission, to safeguard Michigan defense plants against damage from bombing and sabotage. Instruction courses are being set up for this purpose.

Fire Peril

Aside from the possible damage to defense industries through fire, a peril which is admittedly great, defense authorities do not foresee any immediate need for safeguards against air incendiary raids.

Yet, as a matter of precaution—a step which Pacific Coast states are taking belatedly—schools for volunteer firemen are to be established at once. Attention will be given to the acknowledged peril of industrial incendiary attacks—isolated fires or a chain of isolated fires which could become a disastrous conflagration under favorable circumstances.

Responsibility for conducting these schools in each community rests on local officials—again, a home obligation.

First Aid

As modern war is all-out involving civilians as well as the military, the importance of first aid and other protective services is being emphasized.

Volunteer nurses are wanted. Volunteer first aid crews are needed. Volunteer bandages and other equipment are needed.

Without hysterics, but with quiet thoroughness, local units of the Red Cross are expected to mobilize and train human resources in every community.

"It can happen here" is the slogan. And if it does happen here, we must be prepared for any contingency.

Sacrifices

Since the home front requires 16 to 17 trained persons for every man at the military front, Michigan has a definite responsibility and obligation.

Instead of momentary flag-waving, defense officials foresee continuous hard work, continuous sacrifice. A long, hard war is in prospect. Many sacrifices must be made. Strength of the enemy must not be underestimated—a mistake made by the English and even by the Germans in the recent Russian campaign.

Taking a view that years of sacrifice are ahead for all of us, what then should each person do? We suggest that you apply to the official defense authorities in your community. Then await orders.

Farmers should overhaul their farm equipment. Cooperative use of machinery and perhaps labor can also be studied.

Michigan will remember Pearl Harbor next month, next year, and years to come.

Steel Uses Most Water

New York's five boroughs consume only one-quarter as much water in 24 hours as is utilized by the steel industry when operating at capacity. Steel uses four billion gallons of water a day—trillions of gallons a year.

High Industrial Death Rate

The large tin mines in Kichiu, China, have one of the highest industrial death rates on record. Of the 50,000 children employed there, at least 15,000 die annually from accidents and arsenic poisoning.

CURTAIN

They were sitting on the davenport, discussing things of more or less importance. The lights in the parlor burned freely. Between them a barrel could have been placed without touching either. Then he began to expound reasons as to why he would make a good husband. Just then the lights went out. Up sprang the young man, quickly he located a fuse, and returned to find the lights on.

"See," he said, "how quickly I act in an emergency."

"Yes," retorted the girl, "but you also act like a boob."

Consideration

First Wife—Husbands are strange creatures, don't you think?

Second Wife—Yes, aren't they? John has to ask the men at the garage all kinds of questions about the brand and manufacture of oil and gasoline before he puts one drop of either in our car. ## This Week in Defense.

From the National Editorial Association Defense Advisory Committee.

While its envoys discussed with Secretary of State Hull means of maintaining peace in the Pacific, Japan's forces attacked the Hawaiian Islands, the Philippines, Wake and Midway Islands, Guam, Hong Kong and Malaya. In the attacks on American possessions there were approximately 3,000 casualties, one battleship and a destroyer were sunk, several other U. S. ships severely damaged and a large number of planes put out of commission.

Stating that "always will we remember the character of the onslaught against us," the President asked Congress to declare a state of war exists between the U. S. and the Japanese Empire. Following Congress's affirmative action, Germany and Italy—in accordance with their agreement with Japan—declared war on the United States. Almost immediately Congress declared war on the European members of the Axis.

Addressing the nation by radio, the President said "it will not only be a long war, it will be a hard war. . . . Not only must the shame of Japanese treachery be wiped out, but the sources of international brutality, wherever they exist, must be absolutely and finally broken. . . . with confidence in our armed forces—with the unbounding determination of our people—we will gain the inevitable triumph. . . . We will win the war and we are going to win the peace that follows. . . ."

Army and Navy Action

The President announced he had instructed the Army and Navy to take all steps necessary to U. S. defense. The War and Navy Department announced that the Army and Navy had beaten off attempted Japanese troop landings in the Philippines, sunk a 29,000-ton Japanese battleship, a cruiser and a destroyer, scored hits on the battleship KONGO; that Marine garrisons at Midway and Wake were holding out; that Navy Secretary Knox had flown to Hawaii.

Both the Army and Navy announced volunteer enlistments at a record level. The War Department asked Congress for legislation to register all men 18 to 64 years old and to permit use of men 18 to 45 for military service. Selective Service Director Hershey said it may be possible to raise the number of selectees in service from the present 800,000 to about 3,000,000 without using other than the 21-28 age groups. If Congress approves the induction of those from 28 to 35, now registered but deferred, another 1,000,000 might be raised, Gen. Hershey said. SS national headquarters directed all local boards to reclassify ex-Servicemen who have been deferred because of prior service.

Congress passed legislation removing the ban on U. S. Army men from serving outside the hemisphere. Congress also granted the Army and Navy permission to hold enlisted men for the duration.

Civilian Defense

Following air raid alarms in San Francisco and New York, the Office of Civilian Defense ordered all Pacific and East Coast and District of Columbia air raid volunteers on the alert. OGD Director LaGuardia announced enrollment of 950,000 air raid wardens and other volunteers and called for three times the existing permanent fire personnel, plus one air raid warden for every 500 persons.

The War Department asked all Governors to be "on the alert" with home guards and State troopers available to meet any situation; instructed special plant protection services to protect all arsenals, factories and storage depots against sabotage.

Director McNutt of Defense Health and Welfare Services asked Governor to complete mobilization of State health and welfare services. He also issued a call for young women to enroll in schools of nursing to meet critical shortages of professional nurses for the Army, Navy and civilian requirements.

Communications

The Navy initiated censorship on all outgoing communications and forbid publication of any naval information that might be of value to the enemy. The Army restricted information of troop movements except when announced by the War Department. The Maritime Commission requested the press, radio and other news channels to refrain from publishing information about merchant vessels in any waters.

The President authorized the Defense Communications Board to designate radio facilities of the nation for use, control, inspection or closure by Federal agencies. The Federal Communications Commission prohibited operation of amateur radio stations in all U. S. territory.

The Army and Navy announced casualty lists will be withheld from publication in order to avoid giving aid to the enemy in determining where and when and how many losses the U. S. had sustained. Families of casualties, however, will be notified immediately whenever possible.

Lend-Lease to Continue

The White House issued a statement that "the Lend-Lease program is and will continue in full operation. . . . The statement said "It was the German hope that if the U. S. and Japan could be pushed into war, that such a conflict would put an end to the Lend-Lease program." Germany and Japan, the President said, "are conducting their military and naval operations in accordance with a joint plan. . . . The American people must realize it can be matched only with similar grand strategy. . . ."

Aid to U. S.

The State Department asked the Pan-American Union to call a conference of Western Hemisphere nations in Rio de Janeiro in January. By December 12, Great Britain, Canada, Costa Rica, Guatemala, Australia, Belgium, Canada, China, Cuba, Dominican Republic, El Salvador, Free France, Greece, Haiti, Honduras, Netherlands Indies, New Zealand, Nicaragua, Panama, Poland, South Africa, and the Soviet Union had either declared war on Japan, severed relations with that country, or expressed willingness to cooperate with the U. S.

Production

Under Secretary of War Patterson called for production of all munitions on a 24-hour-a-day basis. The SPAB issued a declaration that the defense program had been replaced with a victory program. OPM Director Knudsen told his press conference the victory program calls for 1,000 heavy four-engine bombers a month and a 168-hour week for the plane, tank, gun, ammunition and shipbuilding industries as fast as men, materials and machines are available. Director Oulm of the OPM Contract Distribution Division, speaking in New York, said war production will double in 1942. Civilian Supply Director Henderson cut auto production to 60 per cent of December last year.

The President invited industry and labor leaders to meet in Washington December 17 to reach an agreement to prevent labor disputes.

Civilian Supply

The President told his press conference the very great shortage of most metals will necessitate use in war production of at least 50 per cent of the metals now going into civilian use. The Secretary of Agriculture issued a statement "we enter this struggle with greater reserves of food, feed and fiber than at any other time in our history."

OPM Priorities Director Nelson prohibited sale of new auto tires from December 11 to December 22 to stop a "buying wave" which started after Japan's attack. Price Administrator Henderson placed ceiling prices on flashlights, bulbs and batteries and asked purchasers of "must" items in coastal areas threatened by air raids to report all profiteering. He also asked for a nationwide campaign to conserve and accumulate waste paper.

Economic Defense

The Economic Defense Board prohibited exports to Japan and Japanese occupied territory, to Japanese nationals all over the world, and to China—except for shipments to the Burma Road via Rangoon. The Board also stopped exports of all rubber until further notice except in connection with Lend-Lease and to U. S. forces.

Treasury Secretary Morgenthau ordered a halt to any commerce or communication with Japan or her allies, ordered all borders closed to Japanese and froze all assets of Japanese nationals or businesses.

Stating that defense expenditure increases will have to be matched by increases in purchases of defense bonds and stamps, Mr. Morgenthau ordered an intensive sales campaign.

proclamation all nationals of Germany, Italy and Japan as "enemy aliens" and authorized the Justice Department to take into custody those considered dangerous. The Justice Department requested that all State and local officials leave the handling of aliens to Federal authorities to prevent persecution of law-abiding and peace-loving enemy nationals. All but 2,303 of the 1,100,000 Axis nationals in the U. S. were allowed to remain free subject to arrest on the slightest provocation, the Department said. The others, considered dangerous, were taken into custody and will be placed in concentration camps supervised by the Army.

LEAGUE'S FIRST SERIES DRAWING TO A CLOSE

Concluded from first page. League has had three games in one night all above two hundred. Yes sir, Frank, when you came to the front you really made a good job of it. Congratulations from all of us.

No team was successful enough to win all three of their games. Landon's and Auten's feud continues in all its heat. Guy gained a few pins on Meredith this week by out-bowling him 540 to 513. However, anything can happen between now and May. And, gentlemen, if a certain one of these two comes out on top my advice is for the rest of us to get out of town.

The "Five Hundred Club" has only eleven members this week. They are as follows: Haven, 630; R. McCullough, 582; Landon, 540; Gross, 536; Retherford, 514; Auten, 513; Kirtan, 509; Collins, 508; Keppen, 506; Croft, 504; and R. Wallace, 502.

A new series of games will begin shortly after the holidays and teams will be rechosen. I am taking this occasion to ask that all who wish to bowl after the holidays, sign the register at the bowling alleys before Christmas. If this is inconvenient, please sign at either of the banks or let your desire to bowl be known to any of the officers of the league. The more the merrier, so don't hesitate whether you have ever bowled or not. One thing is certain you can't learn any younger or get in on the fun any sooner.

This week instead of the regular ten, I am announcing fifteen high individual averages so that you might see who the captains will probably be.

Hen Houses Hold Either 30 or 300

Streamline farm poultry flocks after determining whether the family wants sufficient eggs and a bird to eat occasionally or whether the flock ought to produce that much plus at least two cases of marketable eggs weekly.

That is the suggestion of two men at Michigan State College who have collaborated in preparing a new bulletin titled "Laying Houses for Michigan." It is Extension Bulletin 233.

The bulletin is complete with pictures, diagrams and even bills of material listing what is necessary in constructing four sizes of laying houses and also materials necessary for roosts, nests and movable perches and dropping boards.

First decide whether the flock is to supply the family or is to produce an accessory income, says J. M. Moore of the college poultry department and A. J. Bell of the agricultural engineering department.

"The average hen today in a commercial farm flock lays four dozen more eggs than the average hen of 20 years ago," the authors point out. "The person who plans to build a laying house should answer first the question of whether the flock is to supply only the family needs or is to provide a portion of the farm income."

Moore and Bell recommend properly constructed housing for from 30 to 60 laying hens if the need is only for home use of eggs and an occasional Sunday dinner of chicken. For the flock that must produce an income, the birds can number between 200 and 400 layers.

Poultry houses described in plans and materials include the 24 by 24 foot strawloft house, the two-story laminated rafter house and two 20 by 20 foot shed type houses.

Scientific 'Drunk' Tests

The results of scientific tests for intoxication, where reckless or drunken driving is involved, are now admitted by courts in 30 states.

"It's about time this family ordered a TELEPHONE"

"Just think, for years this family thought that their home was modern in every respect—why they didn't even have a telephone! I never could understand it. I intended to leave them a note this year to tell them just what they were missing. I don't have to now, for they've finally ordered a Telephone—and not only that, they have included extensions for the basement and upstairs. I'm glad, for from now on their home will really be modern. What about your home? Surprise the family with a telephone for Christmas or an extension if you have service."

"And a Lighted Christmas Tree? Sure thing, Sonny!"

3 simple suggestions that are easy to apply to your home

1. A lighted Christmas tree. Set it near the window so neighbors and passers-by can enjoy it, too.

2. A lighted wreath or row of electric candles in every window. Simple, yet very effective.

3. Light up outside your house. String colored lamps on trees and shrubs. Outline your house with lamps. Floodlight door or windows.

What would Christmas be like without LIGHT?

THINK back to last Christmas and try to imagine what it would have been like without any of the sparkle and lift that Christmas lighting brings. It wouldn't have been much fun, would it?

This Christmas, make LIGHT the life of every party, let it gladden the hearts of young and old alike, let it express your good cheer and Christmas wishes for everyone. Start with a lighted tree and lighted decorations in your home, a lighted wreath in every window, and follow the growing custom of decorating the outside of your home with flashing colored lamps.

A Word of Caution

For several years past, many stores have been sold out of quality Christmas tree bulbs several days before Christmas. Don't be caught unprepared. Check over your decorations now and stock up with plenty of the bright, new colored lamps.

Ask us for a colorful folder showing many simple ways to light up for a brighter Christmas.

Purling Taught in 20 Counties

Another art that grandmother prized is being revived in Michigan as the click of knitting needles is taken up by special home economics classes organized in 20 counties in the state. The women are members of projects groups organized by the Michigan State College home economics extension service.

"We aim to teach the women not only how to knit but how to follow and interpret instructions," says Marjorie Eastman, college specialist in clothing.

Sweaters and socks, scarves or mittens all come under the instructions. How to "turn the heel," to "toe off" or the intricacies of the spiral "beanie"—a favorite head gear with Miss Teen Age—are no longer a mystery to these extension members.

The fashion for knitted garments as well as needs of the Red Cross have led to the flood of requests that have been received.

In Gratiot County the chairman of Red Cross brought samples of garments to the leaders' meeting. At least 500 women are enthusiastically learning the knit and purl formula from their leaders in this county alone.

Home demonstration agents and clothing specialists are assisting in directing the project, new to extension, in teaching the fundamentals of knitting and how to put it to a practical use for home or community needs.

The district Red Cross office supplied directions for use of extension members so that right in their own communities the home economics women may learn correct methods of knitting. The live-at-home or make-it-yourself program on Michigan farms has another boost in this program of home knitted garments.

FUND DRIVE FOR WAR RELIEF STARTS IN TUSCOLA COUNTY

Concluded from first page. sibilities for services to our armed forces and for relief to distressed civilians. To provide essential funds Red Cross today is launching this gigantic drive in which you can have a part.

"President Roosevelt on Friday, December 12, issued a proclamation in support of this action to raise this $50,000,000 War Relief Fund, and branch organizations throughout Tuscola County should at once devote full efforts to raising their quotas in the shortest possible time. We must not and shall not fail in this crisis."

"There are millions of our citizens who desire today to demonstrate their will to victory over the enemy," continued Chairman Landon. "Not all can be in the armed forces, and not all can volunteer their services for humanitarian work, but all can volunteer their dollars to arm the Red Cross to be their representative at the scene of battle and distress."

"Today is the day to demonstrate our high morale, our unity, our determination not alone to support our President and our fighting men at the front, but also to insure to our wounded, homeless and suffering fellow citizens in our Pacific Islands that we stand one hundred per cent ready to aid them through the Red Cross."

"Our challenge to the dictator nations can be made also through our support of the Red Cross in terms of money and supplies, sacrifices and hard work. Let the Red Cross be the spokesman for every community in America, so that what we do and what we give may be the triumphant expression of our humanitarian spirit and our faith in victory."

She attended Marlette Public School and with her twin sister, Donna Jean, was graduated from the school last June with the Class of '41.

She was saved early in childhood and was a member of the Decker Methodist Church and Sunday School. She loved to serve her Saviour whom she trusted throughout a lingering illness of over fourteen weeks with rheumatic fever. She was of a very patient disposition and her last words were in prayer to her Lord to relieve her suffering.

She is survived by her father and mother; brothers, Charles and Arthur; and her twin sister, Donna; two grandmothers, Mrs. Alice Adams and Mrs. May Stitt; besides many relatives and friends.

She was laid to rest in Marlette Cemetery, bearers being six young men. Six young women were honorary flower bearers.

She will be sadly missed in the home by her classmates, chums and friends, who mourn her early death.
