

Abuse Standards Are to Govern Tire Rationing

Two Applications Are Being Filed with Board for Each Tire Available.

With two applications filed for each tire available, the county rationing board will find the "Abuse Standard for Guidance of Inspector and Local Board" valuable assistance in deciding "Who's Who" when it comes to dealing out tires to truck and automobile owners in Tuscola County.

These new rules have just been received by the Tuscola County War Price and Rationing Board and they will be governed by the abuse standards even though an applicant is otherwise eligible.

According to the regulations, certificates for new, retreaded or recapped tires should not be issued

(a) if the tires to be replaced have been run beyond the point where they can be repaired or recapped as outlined in specifications for repairing and recapping;

(b) to replace tires that have developed ply separation due to overloading or through neglect in keeping tires properly inflated;

(c) when the tires to be replaced by new tires show evidence of abuse by having been run flat;

(d) when there is definite evidence of dual tires having been improperly matched;

(e) when there is evidence of wheels out of alignment and operator cannot show that steps have been taken to correct this condition;

(f) when there is evidence of brakes out of adjustment and operator cannot show that steps have been taken to correct the condition;

(g) when tires to be replaced show evidence of having been mounted on a bent rim, unless operator agrees to correct the condition immediately;

(h) when the tires to be replaced show tread or ply separation due to having been run at speeds above 40 miles per hour.

G. Reagh Reported Missing Finds Himself in Mexico

Mr. and Mrs. Ira Reagh at Branch, Michigan, had a few anxious days following Sunday, August 2, when they received a message stating that their son, Staff Sergeant Grant Reagh, was reported missing. A message from the young man received a few days later stated he had found himself in Old Mexico.

In a letter to his aunt, Miss Gertrude Striffler, of Cass City, he tells while making a fight from a California air field to Arizona, he became lost on the journey. Running out of fuel, he was forced to make a crash landing. From a dark complexioned group of natives who gathered as the plane burned, he found he had landed in Old Mexico, 70 miles from a telephone. None of the onlookers could talk English, so he had considerable difficulty in making contact with his friends in the good old U. S. A.

Letters from Men in the Service

From Seaman M. C. Ball.

Millard C. Ball writes his mother, Mrs. Ernest Ferguson, from Greenland as follows:

"We took a 500-mile trip down to one of the more prominent Eskimo villages and were out at sea most of the way. When we arrived at the harbor of the Eskimo village, small Eskimo boys came out in row boats and wanted 'tigrettes' and chewing gum. It was sure comical to watch the small fellows, some not more than six years old smoking in front of their parents. The women and girls were crazy over them, too.

"Another fellow and I went ashore to look the town over and try to make some 'swaps,' but they were too smart for us. We were told on the way up here that whenever we had any dealings with the 'Skeemoes' to let them have the best of the deal, for they aren't schooled as to the value of things. Believe me, if you don't watch yourself, you will get the socks skinned off of you in your deals with them.

"When I found I couldn't make any deals with them, I started sailing these folder type matches along the ground and watched the little kids pile up trying to get them. It didn't matter where they landed, in water, in mud or rocks, they always came up grinning, and would follow you around like a dog.

"I was surprised at the real mod- Turn to page 5, please.

Tired Tractor Operators Tractor operators who are working long hours to get caught up with spring plowing can not afford to overlook the fact that tractor and machinery accidents are more likely to occur when the operator is tired but still in a hurry. They must not forget that while the operator tires, the tractor is still moving along at the same rate of speed at the close of the day.

Mrs. G. H. Burke entertained twelve at a dessert bridge on Saturday. Everyone agreed that it seemed very nice to have Mrs. Todd back in her accustomed place. Prizes went to Mrs. Karl Ketchum and Mrs. A. A. Hitchcock.

We are still remembering that delicious chicken dinner at which Mrs. A. A. Hitchcock entertained ten of her friends Friday evening. We always marvel at such efficiency in small quarters. Bridge and rhum were played during the evening.

Mr. and Mrs. C. R. Todd and Angus II arrived Friday evening for the first time this season. Mr. Todd, who has been with the Packard Motor Company for some time, is now in the Production Efficiency Department of the Rolls Royce Airplane Motor unit of the Packard company and finds it hard to get far away from his defense job.

Mrs. Todd, who returned to Grosse Pointe Farms on Sunday also, will be back here the middle of the week with guests for a few weeks' stay.

A surprised and delighted household was that of the Ketchums when Karl, who was not expected this week-end, due to a trip to Washington, D. C., on defense work, arrived Saturday evening laden with prize products from his own Victory Garden. The whole thing was a real achievement as transportation these days is a rather uncertain quantity. Karl went around by New York finally to get home, as reservations by plane are almost impossible and by Pullman nearly as scarce, but he finally made it in rather good season.

Last Wednesday, Mrs. E. R. Wilson entertained at a bridge luncheon for twelve. The nautical blue table was laid with white fishnet cover, weighted with red bobbers and centerpiece, of red gladioli, white Queen Anne's lace and blue larkspur. Most effective, too, were artistic red, white and blue bouquets on the red fireplace chest in the living room. Miss Thelma Allen and her house guest, Mrs. Kerr, were guests from the North Shore.

Prizes went to Miss Phoebe Kerr, Mrs. G. H. Burke and Miss Georgia Kerr.

Garage Your Car It Will Last Longer

By this time nearly every person knows how hard it is to buy a new tire or automobile. But you can make your car last for a long time if you keep it in a good GARAGE. If you will drop in at Building Headquarters, we will show you how little it will cost to build a good garage. If your car is out under that "Sky Blue Roofing," it will not last very long. Invest in a garage and save.

Bomb 'em with JUNK

Let's blast Japan—and Germany—and Italy—with the chain lightning of destruction that can be built from the scrap in our cellars, attics and garages, on our farms and in our places of business.

Scrap iron and steel, other metals, rubber and waste materials. It will all be used to make tanks, ships, planes and the fighting weapons our boys must have. It is needed at once.

Sell it to a Junk dealer—give it to a charity or collection agency—take it yourself to the nearest collection point—or consult the Local Salvage Committee. . . If you live on a farm, and have found no means of disposing of your Junk, get in touch with the County War Board or your farm implement dealer.

Throw YOUR scrap into the fight!

Official U. S. Treasury War Bond Quotas for August

Washington, D. C., August 5.—While maintaining a tentative annual level of twelve billion dollars as its goal, the Treasury Department today fixed the August quota for the sale of War Bonds at $815,000,000 as shown by the accompanying map by states.
In lowering the quota from a billion dollars in July to $815,000,000 in August, the Treasury has given recognition to certain factors which may be expected to result in variations in sales over the 12-month period, such as the seasonal character of farm income.
These factors have been taken into account in determining each state's share for the national quota for August and will be given consideration in fixing quotas for subsequent months.
In addition to the state quotas as set out in the map there is a federal payroll allotment quota of $9,750,000 and territorial quotas as follows: Alaska, $760,000; Canal Zone, $213,000; Hawaii, $4,800,000; Puerto Rico, $440,000, and the Virgin Islands, $17,000.

VITAMINS

in your cooking—

...follow these simple rules for best results on your

ELECTRIC RANGE

Tests show that ONE-THIRD the vitamins in fresh vegetables may be lost through improper cooking before the food ever reaches your table. Your electric range can help conserve these important minerals and food values, and aid in the preparation of healthful meals for your family if you follow these simple rules:

(1) Use little water in cooking. Half-a-cup is ample for most vegetables. Water-soluble vitamins are boiled away and poured down the sink when you use large quantities of water, wasting the very things you pay for. By steam-cooking vegetables, this loss is held to a minimum. Avoid the vitamin-destroying effect of the boiling process.

(2) Avoid prolonged and violent boiling. The less time foods are exposed to high heat, liquid and air, the smaller the loss of their vitamin content. On an electric range, there is no large amount of water to be heated before the cooking can start.

(3) Use covered utensils and do not stir. Air destroys certain vitamins, and stirring simply puts extra air into the food. Always use covered utensils when cooking on the surface units of your range.

The new ruling allows for a larger margin of variation in the examination of the eye, ear, teeth, height and weight and it is probable that some rejected last week will pass the examination held next week.

Things to Do

- ROTATE tires for even wear.
- ALIGNMENT of front wheels should be checked frequently.
- CASTER and CAMBER of front axle has much to do about tire tread-wear.
- BRAKES out of adjustment wear tires faster than road-wear.
- INSPECTION by competent service-men will prevent trouble before it happens.
- LUBRICATION is the source of long-life for all machinery.

Save your WASTE FATS to make explosives

You can serve in a very large measure by a very small effort on your part. All you have to do is to bring in waste fats and grease to our market and receive 4 cents per pound.

1. The need is urgent. War in the Pacific has greatly reduced our supply of vegetable fats from the Far East. It is necessary to find substitutes for them. Moreover, fats make glycerine. And glycerine makes explosives for us and our allies—explosives to down Axis planes, stop their tanks, sink their ships. Millions of pounds of glycerine are needed and housewives can help supply them.

2. Don't throw away a single drop of used cooking fat—bacon grease, meat drippings, frying fats—every kind you use. After you've got all the cooking good from them, pour them through a kitchen strainer into a clean, wide-mouthed can. Keep in a cool, dark place. Please don't use glass containers or paper bags.

3. Take them to our market when you've saved a pound or more. We will pay you for your waste fats and get them started on their way to the war industries. It will help if you can deliver your fats early in the week.

FOUR THINGS NOT TO DO

- 1. Don't bring less than one pound at a time.
- 2. Don't bring your fats in glass containers or paper bags.
- 3. Don't let fats stand so long that they become rancid. If they do, the glycerine content is reduced.
- 4. Don't bring your fats on week-ends if you can avoid it. Help us by returning them early in the week.

Because of the secrecy of Ralph's leaving place, don't become alarmed. All troop movements and transfers have to be kept silent to keep information from the enemy as to our strength in various places, so it is really for us fellows that it is done, so you folks at home must understand. Although you would like to know of our movements, sometimes, it's to our benefit you don't. For someone would talk about where their boy was going and when they left the enemy would be waiting for them.

In case Ralph never explained to you what Aviation Engineers are, I will. The purpose of Aviation Engineers is to construct runways and air fields. They work only on land that is already taken and protected. So you see there is very little danger as to his being injured or killed. Also you might be interested to know a medical soldier is never a prisoner of war. If he is captured, he merely administers aid to the enemies' wounded. I hope I have explained this clearly enough so you will have a little more easier mind in regards to Ralph's welfare.
As for Ralph, he can adapt himself to any situation and serve as a good soldier under any conditions.
In closing, I wish you and yours the best of health and happiness and my wife says those wishes go for her too.
Ralph promised me the cookies but the boys at the post office forwarded them on. I am glad as I have a wife to cook me some and Ralph hasn't and you are his only means of getting home baking. He gave me some of your cookies before and they're mighty delicious.
Sincerely yours,
Sergeant Dan L. Myers.

AMERICA IN ACTION

By reducing the bulk in packaging thousands of items—from shovels to shells—being shipped overseas the army is, in effect, "building" ships.

Such packaging, the war department announced, is reducing cargo space nearly 10 per cent.

Besides saving cargo space, the army is also conserving on critical materials.

Some examples of the new packing methods are:

Clothing, formerly packed in crates and fiber cases, is now compressed-baled. Cans which were shipped separately in individual crates are now packed six to a shipment, the crate containing them being lighter. The space saving on this method amounted to 60 per cent.

Shoes which formerly were put in individual cartons are now shipped in bulk. Airplane wings were always forwarded edgewise. Now they are packed flat with an unestimated amount of space saved.

Over a period of many weeks at least 100 different types of motor vehicles manufactured for army use were repacked in an attempt to reduce the cubic measurements without affecting their durability or slowing down the reassembling at destination ports.

Not only must strategic considerations be taken into consideration by the army in its shipping problems, but the goods must be packed for transit to such varied places as Russia, Iceland, England, North Africa, India, Australia and China, besides those for shipment within the United States.

All types of weather, and all means of transportation will be testing the effectiveness of the army's new repackaging program.

Food Value of Avocado

The avocado has four times as much food value as most other fruits, with the conspicuous exception of bananas.

Soviet Armies Endangered as Germans Press Pincer Tongues on Timoshenko; AFL-CIO Parleys Try for Labor Unity; Probe Charges of Steel 'Black Market'

LABOR:

Another Crossroads

As "peace" committees of both AFL and CIO begin preparations for their meeting to bring about labor peace both Philip Murray, CIO president, and William Green, head of AFL, issued public statements indicating that they favored the objective.

There were definite signs, however, that the method of reaching the objective might encounter some difficulty along the way. For in one of his statements on the subject President Green urged that CIO: "come back to the AFL, the House of Labor."

Later in a speech to the important CIO United Automobile, Aircraft and Agricultural Implement Workers of America, meeting in their convention in Chicago, Philip Murray avoided all reference to this statement. But he did say: "... I hope, I pray, that their (the AFL's) attitude will have changed, that experience has taught the need for giving recognition to the aspirations and objectives of those organizations which make up the Congress of Industrial Organizations." "Biggest stumbling blocks in labor peace talks for the seven years that the two groups had gone their own way had been personalities and the refusal or inability of AFL to recognize CIO's organization of unions by grouping all workers in an industry into one union. AFL continued with some modifications to organize their unions through the craft system. Just how these two systems could be dovetailed where there is overlapping jurisdiction is what a peace committee had facing it.

DARK CLOUDS:

For Silver Shirts

The nation's first important sedition trial since the outbreak of the war came to a close when a federal court jury in Indianapolis found William Dudley Pelley, founder of the Fascist Silver Shirts, guilty of criminal sedition.

Pelley's co-defendants, Agnes Marion Henderson, his secretary, and Lawrence Brown, were found guilty only of conspiracy. The three were indicted originally on 12 counts, but the government counsel dropped one charge because the army and navy, acting under wartime secrecy, declined to provide official figures in answer to false statements made by Pelley regarding losses at Pearl Harbor.

Pelley was found guilty on every count in the indictment, 10 of them charging him with making false statements with the intent to cause, or attempt to cause, insubordination, mutiny and disloyalty among the armed forces. The 11th charge accused Pelley and his co-defendants of conspiring to do these things.

The three were associated in the Fellowship Press in Noblesville, Ind., where they published the Galilean magazine.

Stern Justice

Even as the erstwhile dictator of the Silver Shirts braced himself for the penalties ahead, the American public demonstrated again its stern temper when Federal Judge Arthur J. Tuttle pronounced a death sentence for treason upon Max Stephan, Detroit restaurant owner, for betraying his adopted country by befriending an escaped Nazi prisoner. Stephan had previously been convicted by a federal court jury. His was the first death sentence for treason under a 152-year-old federal law.

RUSSIA:

Crisis Mounts

Not only the oil resources of the Caucasus, but the fate of Marshal Timoshenko's southern armies as well were at stake in battles in which the Russ forces attempted to stem the Nazis' relentless pincer movements. The loss of the oil would be a crippling but not necessarily fatal stab at the Soviets. But the loss of Timoshenko's armies might well be a mortal blow to the Russians' future war effort.

The critical nature of the situation was underscored by the arrival in Moscow of Gen. Pollett Bradley of the United States army air forces, with a personal message from President Roosevelt to Premier Stalin. The American air chief who flew to the Russian capital on his emergency mission made no effort to hide this nation's anxiety when he said: "America is gravely concerned with the situation in this country, which is regarded as the focal point of the war."

Meanwhile one section of the Nazi juggernaut had swept on toward the Caspian sea while another pushed steadily into the northwestern Caucasus below Rostov.

HOUSEWIVES:

Face Job 'Draft'

Spokesmen for the manpower commission intimated that one out of every four American housewives between the ages of 18 and 44 may be needed in munitions jobs for this country to attain full war production.

It was indicated that a nationwide occupational registration of women might be undertaken as a means of cataloging the country's total feminine adult resources. Paul V. McNutt, manpower chief, has estimated that about 5,000,000 more women must be placed in war jobs by the end of 1943.

STEEL:

Probe 'Black Market'

In answer to charges that a "black market" in steel existed, where "immediate delivery was made from bulging warehouses scattered over the nation," two government investigations were immediately begun.

First probe was undertaken by Price Administrator Leon Henderson after charges made by Frank Higgins, associated with his father in a New Orleans shipbuilding yard, that his company had bought steel from such markets at higher premiums.

The second investigation was undertaken by Congressman Carl Peterson, chairman of the house subcommittee investigating the maritime commission's cancellation last month of the Higgins' company's contract to build 200 Liberty ships because of an alleged steel shortage.

Meanwhile, Chairman Harry S. Truman of the senate committee investigating national defense charged the navy department's bureau of ships with "negligence or willful misconduct" in connection with the construction of tank-landing boats. Senator Truman's charges contained in a letter to Navy Secretary Frank Knox referred to the navy's insistence on substituting its own models of tank-landing boats for ships of proved value built for this purpose by the Higgins company in New Orleans.

HIGHLIGHTS . . . in the week's news

GENEVA: Guglielmo Ferrero, noted Italian historian and foe of the Fascists, died here at the age of 71. Seven years ago his books were seized by the Mussolini government and he was forced to flee Italy. He had taught history at the University of Geneva ever since. Among his most noted books was "The Grandeur and Decadence of Rome."

WASHINGTON: Manufacture of typewriters, except for a small quantity to be produced for the government by one factory, will end October 31, it was announced by the War Production board in an order released here. The order likewise limited the production of most typewriter companies between July 1 and October 1 to 12 1/2 per cent of the machines sold by them last year.

CARGO PLANES:

Get Green Light

A "go-ahead green light" for the construction of vast cargo planes in months to come was given by both the army and navy.

Speaking for the army, Lieut. Gen. Henry H. Arnold, commander of the army air forces, told a senate military affairs committee that 21 per cent of all multiple-engine bomber planes to be produced for the remainder of 1942 will be cargo or transport carriers. Including all planes of comparable flying range, he added, 30 per cent of the total output will be essentially for cargo purposes.

General Arnold revealed that cargo and transport carriers now being produced are used to move paratroops and airborne infantry, to tow gliders and to carry supplies to combat zones. Planes are moving about 2,500,000 tons of material a week, he said.

Speaking for the navy, Rear Admiral John H. Towers, chief of the Bureau of Aeronautics, disclosed that the navy is speeding a huge program for building cargo planes.

INDIA:

Saint or Sinner?

Mohandas K. Gandhi, saint or sabotaging politician?

That was the enigma most Americans confronted in attempting to assay the character of the benign-looking Indian leader. For when Gandhi's All-India Congress stood pat on its determination to carry out a civil disobedience movement if independence were denied, the British government made public a collection of confiscated documents which it said indicated that Gandhi advocated a deal with Japan for Indian independence.

Answering charges of "appeasement" Gandhi said:

"I purposely incorporated the sentence about negotiations with Japan and if ultimately it was dropped and I associated myself with its deletion, I did so out of regard for my co-workers—not because I was uncertain as to what I meant to do."

What Gandhi meant to say was that he was using such a threat as means of bargaining with the British.

VICHY:

Heeds Pope's Plea

The voice of Pope Pius was raised in a protest to the Vichy government of their treatment of Jewish refugees in France. Speaking through the papal nuncio at the temporary French capital, the pontiff said he "neither understands nor approves" treatment given Jews and asked the Vichy government to stop "those inhuman arrests of defenseless people."

In consequence of the pope's protest, Marshal Henri Philippe Petain, chief of state, asked the German occupation authorities to limit the arrests of Paris Jews to those of non-French origin, to cease deporting French Jews to Silesia and to stop breaking up French-Jewish families.

It had been reported earlier that German and central European Jewish refugees, including those in concentration camps, had been marked for arrest.

The Pope's message to Marshal Petain was delivered by Mgr. Valerio Valeri when the Nuncio was seated beside the aged soldier-statesman at an official luncheon at the Vichy government headquarters.

SUBMARINES:

Lull Near U. S.

That American coastal waters are no longer a soft spot for German submarines was the view expressed by British officials in a communique from London. Consequently it was believed that Axis U-boats had been forced to seek other waters in which to prey on United Nations' commerce.

Adoption of the convoy system in the Panama and Caribbean areas plus increased air defenses were cited as coinciding with a decreased scale of submarine attacks.

American military authorities commenting on the recent drop in submarine sinkings, warned, however, that the Nazis might now be preparing to bring the full brunt of their overseas attack against the heavily convoyed supply lines across the North Atlantic.

Increasing Allied effectiveness against submarines was said to be due to the fact that the "bottleneck" regarding engines for submarine chasers, defensive craft and dirigibles has been broken and defensive craft are coming forward in greater numbers.

OFFICIAL UNITED STATES TREASURY MICHIGAN WAR BOND QUOTAS FOR AUGUST

WASHINGTON, D. C., Aug. 10.—Henry Morgenthau, Jr., Secretary of the Treasury, today announced the August War Bond Quotas for the 3,070 counties in the nation totalling $815,000,000.

The August quota for the State of Michigan is $36,750,000. In arriving at the county quotas for August the Treasury Department took into consideration major factors affecting incomes which in turn cause significant variations in sales during the twelve-month period.

Hereafter actual Bond sales in the various states will be compared with quotas on a cumulative basis. The amount by which sales fall short of or exceed quotas in any month will be added to or subtracted from quotas for future months. Quotas by counties are:

PALMATEER FAMILY REUNION HELD SATURDAY

The Palmateer family reunion was held Saturday at Rochester, Michigan, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Marklewitz, who is a granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Colwell of Cass City.

Family groups from Detroit, Pontiac, Saginaw, Decker, Rochester, Cass City and Spencerport, N. Y., attended, there being 50 present.

A potluck lunch was served at noon, which was eaten in the house because of the rain, and not on the beautiful lawn as was planned. Ice cream was served later in the day.

Due also to the weather, the ball game and barnyard golf were abandoned, but indoor games were enjoyed by both old and young.

It was decided the next reunion would be at the home of Mrs. Louisa King in New York.
