Blood Donor Unit Not to Visit Tuscola

G. W. Landon, former chairman of the Tuscola County Chapter of the American Red Cross, received notice Thursday that on the present basis of blood procurement and the limited capacities of the laboratory to process this blood, it is not practicable to send the mobile unit out of the 40-mile radius of Detroit. "If, and when, the laboratories do increase their capacities and if the mobile unit is organized on a basis that will make it practicable to visit counties out of the 40-mile radius," the letter from the Detroit Chapter says, "we hope that you feel that you can again participate in the blood donor program. At present it would seem that the only way people in your community can take part in the blood donor program is by stopping in at our blood donor station whenever they are in Detroit."

"Salvage for Victory" Campaign Starts March 27

Committee Hopes Every Place in County Will Be Combed for Materials.

Tuscola County's "Salvage for Victory" campaign will start off with the first collection day to be held Friday, March 27.

A complete plan has been worked out by the county salvage committee, with the hearty cooperation of the Board of Supervisors, and it is the hope that every home, farm, store and factory will be combed for those materials so vital for national defense.

These materials are scrap metals, waste paper, old rags and old rubber.

Those who wish to help in the drive may do so in either one of two ways. They may take their own scrap metals to junk dealers, sell them and retain the money. The government does not ask that all scrap turned in be donated. It wants, and needs to get the scrap, and nobody is to be considered unpatriotic if he sells his own scrap material and keeps the money.

But if he does not care to sell the scrap, or if he wishes to donate it to a good cause, he may take it to the collection place in his own township and leave it there. County road commission trucks will pick up this scrap the following day, and the county salvage committee will sell it, turning the money received for the scrap over to the county Red Cross to be used as the latter organization sees fit.

At a supervisors' meeting a short time ago all the township leaders agreed to help in every possible way with the collection. If pamphlets are received in time from state salvage headquarters, they will be distributed through the supervisors to every house in the county. The supervisors have each designated a place within his own township where junk is to be left on March 27 by those who wish to donate. The place in each township for the collection follows:

In Almer, Fremont, Novesta, Junata, Fairgrove, Wells, Akron, Kingston, Elmwood, Gifford, Wisner, Watertown, Dayton, Ellington, Arbela, Elkland and Columbia, the collection place will be, in each instance, at the Town Hall. Columbia Township will have another collection place at Colling, as well as at its town hall in Unionville.

No Retread Tires for Passenger Cars in March Quota

Although under the tire rationing regulations a large number of people are eligible for passenger car retread tires, no tires in this classification are available for rationing this month because the Office of Price Administration did not set up a March quota for passenger retreads, George F. Childs, Tuscola County rationing administrator, said today.

Mr. Childs pointed out that it appears most improbable that a quota will be issued for April in view of the fact that the War Production Board did not authorize production of camelback in passenger car sizes in March. The only March quotas which Federal authorities have authorized for retreads apply to trucks and busses.

"We have experienced a flood of applications from passenger car owners who believe they can have their tires retreaded," he said. "It would save their time if they understood that in spite of the fact they are eligible for retreads, no quota has been made available."

Caro and Unionville Win the District Championships

Large Crowds Attend Thrilling Contests at the Cass City Tournament.

Caro snatched a last minute victory from Sandusky in a fitting climax to a three-day district basketball tournament held in the Cass City High School gym last weekend. With the score tied at 22 all and 10 seconds of playing time remaining, Parynik, Caro forward, followed in a rebound to make the score 24-22 and give his team the Class "B" championship. In the Class "D" championship game, Unionville had everything its own way and won by a 45 to 11 score. Approximately 700 people attended the Saturday night games.

On Thursday night, the Class "B" teams played their preliminary round. Marlette "tangled" with Sandusky in the first game. Sandusky's well balanced team was too much for Marlette and won by a 31 to 15 score. Beauty, with nine points, led Sandusky to victory. Daniels, Marlette guard, and the only veteran of last year's championship team, was high scorer for his team with six points.

Cass City High's hopes for a championship were dimmed Thursday night when an accurate shooting Caro team defeated it by a 28 to 16 score. Caro's zone defense hurried Cass City's shots and as a result, a large percentage of them were missed. R. Middaugh with 10 and Parynik with seven led Caro point-men to victory. Profit with six and Guc with five were Cass City's leading scorers.

Talks and Movies on Mexico Given at the Community Club

Mayor F. E. Congdon of Lapeer and Bill Noble of the Lapeer County Press gave talks and their motion pictures of Mexico at the March meeting of the Cass City Community Club held Tuesday evening. Both recently returned from a trip to Mexico, traveling there on a diplomatic passport issued by the Mexican government. Last June, on his first trip to Mexico, Mr. Noble interviewed President Camacho and the now famous artist, Diego Rivera, in Mexico City. The color movies, Tuesday, evening, included many of the picturesque scenes along the Pan-American highway and a bull fight. The pictures and talks gave the audience a better conception of Mexican life and scenery. Dr. Congdon is a member of the Lapeer board of education and expressed himself as favoring the teaching of Spanish in this country's schools.

The dinner was served by women of the Methodist Church and a quartet of Messrs. G. W. Landon, A. C. Atwell, Arthur Holmberg and George Dillman gave two vocal selections. Charles Keen served as piano accompanist.

Manley Asher, who has been associated with John Cole in an auto parts business, has sold his interest to his partner and is assisting his nephew, Harold Asher, at the Shell station. Mr. Knepper has moved to the Bardwell farm, a mile west and a quarter mile south of Cass City, and will devote his energies to farming the coming season.

State Farmers Are Urged to Move Beans to Dryers

Federal Government to Purchase All Offerings Not Taken by Buyers.

With assurances from the federal government that it will purchase all offerings of Michigan beans that are not taken up by other buyers, Leo V. Card, state commissioner of agriculture, is urging farmers to lose no time in moving their stores of wet beans to the dryers in order to avoid heavy losses from spoilage.

The government, Card said, will pay the seaboard price of $5 per hundredweight. The beans will be obtained for the military services, lend-lease requirements and by the Surplus Marketing Association.

Card received the government's assurance when he went to Washington as head of a Michigan delegation seeking modification of a ban on tin in canning beans. The group was informed that the use of tin was being prohibited for preserving foods that could otherwise be stored without deteriorating. Dried beans, it was stated, fall within this classification, and although further consideration is to be given the Michigan request, the outlook now is that ready cooked beans put up for sale in tin cans will disappear from the American table for the duration of the war. Three Ballots Necessary to Name Supervisor

J. C. Hutchinson Heads Republican Ticket; Others Named by Acclamation.

Monday's storm threatened to diminish the number who attended the Elkland Township Republican caucus Tuesday afternoon because of drifted roads. In fact, one of the three candidates for supervisor, wasn't sure that he would be able to attend himself until about two hours before the time set for the convention to begin, when his road was opened.

Township Clerk C. E. Patterson called the meeting to order and William Profit was chosen chairman and Audley Rawson secretary. The chair appointed Ed Golding, Ralph Ward and H. F. Lenzner as tellers.

Joseph C. Crawford, F. Delbert Profit and J. C. Hutchinson had announced themselves as candidates for the office of supervisor in newspaper notices. No one received a majority on the first two ballots taken. On the third ballot when 99 votes were counted, J. C. Hutchinson received the necessary number to place him in nomination.

The remainder of the ticket was nominated by acclamation. Charles E. Patterson was named clerk; Alex Henry, treasurer; William Helwig, highway commissioner; John C. Corkins, justice of the peace; Calvin J. Striffler, member of board of review; Ray Fleener, Edward Golding, Edward Buehly and Harold Greenleaf, constables. Chairman William Profit appointed Walter L. Mann, H. F. Lenzner and John C. Corkins as a Republican Township caucus committee.

Pupils Here Have Half Time Vacation Period This Week

Stormy weather and drifted roads caused one and a half days of vacation in the Cass City Schools Monday. The staff of instructors will attend the county teachers' institute at Caro, so pupils had a half-time vacation period this week. Drifting snow on Monday morning made it advisable to dismiss school at noon so school busses might return the children to their homes in safety and a holiday was declared until Wednesday morning when highway transportation was somewhat normal again.

At the teachers' institute today, the speakers are Robert E. Friers, well known traveler, who will give his lecture on "Latin America," and Dr. Henry Hitt Crane, pastor of Central Methodist Church, Detroit, who speaks on "Valiant Behavior."

Sugar registration and the rationing program will be explained by a member of the county rationing board.

Many Village Improvements in Last Five Years

E. B. Schwaderer's Regime Witnessed Many Advancements in Town Equipment.

When the council met Thursday night to receive the official report of the village election board and to confirm the choice of candidates selected at Monday's election, the five-year career of Eugene B. Schwaderer as village president ended. It has been a period of remarkable activity in an unusual number of major improvements completed in that space of time.

Foremost in the list was the completion of the village sewer system, nearly eight miles in length, and an Inhoff disposal plant at the river, a project started in 1936, while George W. West was president, and previous to Mr. Schwaderer's commencement as head of the village the following spring. These improvements, with a filter plant at the condensery, were completed in 1939 as a WPA project estimated to cost approximately $75,000.00.

Other noteworthy advancements in the village include the blacktopping of several streets, the erection of a pump house and the installation of a 250-gallon a minute pump for the waterworks system, the extension of sewer mains in Sixth and Church Streets, and the installation of water and sewers in the Auten Addition.

Mr. Schwaderer's friends allowed him to be relieved from his official duties as president this spring only because his frequent absences from town in his work as a highway contractor made it difficult for him to be here at times when village duties were pressing. Mr. Schwaderer and members of his administration are to be congratulated on their fine accomplishments.

McLellan Creamery Is Making Cheese

In about three months, local residents will be eating American cream cheese manufactured in Cass City. The "trial" batch was made at the McLellan Creamery Friday and the second series of cakes were turned out yesterday. As the cheese must be properly cured from 60 to 100 days, it will be several weeks before it will be on the market. A 5,000-pound vat, a cheese press and a curd mill were installed some time ago while the other equipment needed was already on the floor in the creamery department.

After the cheese has stood three or four days after its manufacture, it is dipped in paraffine heated to 240 degrees. This seals the cakes until they have been properly cured and are ready for cutting.

These men have agreed to offer uniform prices on scrap to all those who wish to sell their own at the dealers' yards. The prices to be offered are: For mixed iron, from $10 to $12 per ton if the scrap is free from wire, sheet iron and tin cans; for steel, $10 per ton if it is not mixed with wire, sheet iron and tin cans; for paper, 40c per hundredweight; for old rubber, 40c per hundredweight; and for old rags, $1 per hundredweight.

The junk dealers and their locations are as follows: In Vassar, Jake Greenburg, Lemuel Lee, Reeves Bros.; in Caro, Bush & Haines, Ed Lerman; in Kingston, Francis Peter; in Cass City, Manley Asher; in Fairgrove, Nick Shisko; in Mayville, H. A. Moss; in Silverwood, Lawrence Garica.

The junk dealers have likewise generously agreed to furnish men, without cost, to sort cast iron from other types, as cast iron is needed more than other kinds.

A few suggestions are here offered on how to get scrap materials ready for the collection day.

Flatten out all cartons and boxes. Tie in neat bundles, keep dry and clean.

Pile newspapers separately and tie in convenient sized bundles.

Keep metals, rags and rubber separately, in cartons and bags, if possible.

When this has been done, either take it to one of the junk dealers listed here and sell it, keeping the money if desired (or putting it into Defense Bonds or Stamps); or take it on Friday, March 27, to your township collection place.

In this way you can feel that you are doing your part, as all want to do, in helping our country to defeat its enemies and the enemies of all mankind.

Remember—Collection Day is Friday, March 27!

DELAYED MILK SEPARATION EXPLAINS BUTTERFAT LOSSES

The best time to separate milk is immediately after milking. If it's done any other time, the farmer takes it "on the chin" in the loss of butterfat which may range from a modest amount to a quantity equal to the production of one cow in a five-cow herd—depending on the temperature of the milk at the time of separation.

Milk comes from the cow's udder at practically body temperature—about 88 degrees. That's when the fat globules in the cream can be most easily separated from the milk.

Separated while the milk is at a temperature of 90 degrees, 125 pounds of milk containing 4 per cent butterfat will yield five pounds of butterfat. But the same amount of milk, separated when 60 degrees cool, will yield only 3.9 pounds of butterfat. The 1.1 pounds difference has floated off into the skimmilk—a deluxe dinner for the calves, chickens and hogs, but pretty expensive for the farmer.

This loss of 1.1 pounds of butterfat, as compared with practically no loss when the cream is separated warm, is like cutting a five-cow herd down to four cows. When the cost of feeding that extra cow is added to the price the lost butterfat would have brought, it is evident that a tidy sum is passed up during the course of a year. The only way to save this money is to separate milk at once. Letting it stand while some other chore is attended to is costly business.

There is another threat to the size of the cream check by letting milk get cold before separating. Bacteria begin their growth in the warm milk. If allowed to stand and cool slowly in the air, bacteria will begin their quick multiplication and hasten spoilage. Milk should be strained and separated as soon as milking is done, and the cream placed in a smaller cooling can in the cold-water cooler right away. It should never be mixed with the cool cream in the holding can.

Order that Seed Now for Garden

This week, not that sunshiny day in May, is the time to order garden seed, in order to obtain an adequate supply, is the suggestion of S. B. Apple of the Michigan State College horticultural staff.

Although serious shortages of seed exist for some vegetables, Apple reports, the food supply of the country is not likely to be reduced through the lack of vegetable seeds. Growers who place their orders early will find the supply will be adequate for many of the varieties and strains which they desire.

Seed growers, however, have been forced to cut down on the number of varieties, and concentrate on the more important ones. In some instances it may be necessary for the grower to use a second choice variety of some vegetables.

The home gardener will find it easy to make a second choice in varieties, and many find it necessary to make a second choice in the kinds of vegetables he wishes to plant. Thus, if spinach seed becomes scarce, he may easily substitute chard, mustard, kale, or turnip greens which, if properly harvested and cooked, are highly desirable.

Nearly all seeds are higher in price than last year, but Apple reminds that the cost of seed per acre is a small part of the total cost per acre. Most serious shortages at present are in beets, carrots, onions and spinach. The government is asking for additional acreages in tomatoes and peas for canning, and this fact, with the increased interest in home gardens, may cause some shortage in seeds.

The gardener may help the situation if he will do the following things: Look over his seed left from last year and use it if it tests high enough.

Make use of seed treatments in order to get a good stand of plants. Substitute wherever possible some variety, or some other kind. Buy from reliable seedman.

A Small Drop of Ink in the Want Ads

Defense Plants Work Overtime... Want Ads

By L. L. STEVENSON

Wildflowers will bloom in Manhattan in the spring. No, the city is not going to be given back to the Indians and will not be allowed to revert to nature. The wild flowers will be planted this fall by the park department. The place where they will raise their pretty faces in the midst of metropolitan surroundings is along Henry Hudson drive in the vicinity of Grant's Tomb. The varieties include daisies, black-eyed Susans, Queen Anne's lace, wild asters and golden rod, the inclusion of the latter being an indication that Commissioner Robert Moses is not a hay fever sufferer. Wild flowers will also be planted along a half-mile stretch of the belt parkway in Queens. They probably won't attract so much attention out there, however, as I am informed there are still some places in that borough where wild flowers grow naturally.

Having been put into a bucolic mood by the mention of wild flowers, trees come to mind since whenever I think of the country I think of trees and flowers. Shortly the park department will plant about 3,000 trees on private property. While 3,000 trees are a nice little forest, they won't turn the city into a woods. They will, however, help make it more like Paris. But instead of chestnuts, most of the plantings will be oriental plants and ginkgos. The reason is that those two species are well adapted to city life being hardy and more or less immune to carbon monoxide. Pin oak, Norway maples and elms will also be planted. The property owners pay $50 each for the trees. But the city owns the trees.

For no good reason at all, the old brain has shifted over to the subject of toys. Despite priorities, defense needs and the like, American children will have their full quota of playthings at Christmas time. This is on the word of Henry E. Luhrs, who should know since he is president of the Toy Manufacturers of the U.S.A. The toy interests, Mr. Luhrs said, are co-operating to the fullest extent with the defense program by working toward simplification of styles, elimination of design duplicates and the conservation of vital materials by adopting substitutes wherever possible. The industry uses only a comparatively small volume of such materials. For example, all the balls, inflated animals, balloons, blocks and other types of rubber toys require only 2,400 tons of crude rubber annually.

Toy are the reason for the sudden intrusion of games. It's a boom season for escape-type games, even some of the smoky night spots having taken to providing board games for patrons as a first aid to relaxation. A newcomer, which is assuming the proportions of a craze, is Bonanza, a brain child of Arthur Lord with the collaboration of his Yale classmate, Peter Arno, who supplies the art. A development of rummy, Michigan and poker, the game is said to stem from Mississippi river steamboat chance-taking technique of a century ago.

Writes a friend now safely back in his home town: "New York is sure one great town. I got lost in the Bronx, rode miles and miles in the subway for only a nickel and then had to take a taxi to my destination. Looked over Central park, strained my neck peering at high buildings, saw all the sights. Got charged a dollar for a poor drink in a nightclub, was overcharged and shortchanged by a taxi driver and got talked right mean to because I tipped a hat check girl a dime instead of two bits. Yes, New York is sure one great town. Glad I saw it, but give me Houston every time."

Ozzie Nelson was showing some out-of-town friends around Rockefeller Center and kept impressing on them how swanky the whole place was. Then they came out on the plaza and saw the penguins. "Look!" exclaimed one of Nelson's out-of-town pals. "Even the birds are dressed formal."

Dinah Shore feels that she is a victim of national defense. "Eddie Cantor and I posed for pictures on a tandem bike to illustrate the gasoline shortage," sorrowfully related the songstress. "When I got off, I tore my new silk stocking. And the silk stocking shortage is what I'm really interested in."

Black has stated in reply to inquiries about such a project. Black voiced this opinion in answer to reports that many organizations have undertaken such projects in the mistaken belief that they are serving a good cause. Will War Bring Unity to Irish?

In a world at war where maps change over night, there are few spots on the globe—and especially islands—upon which the map-maker is not forced to draw new boundaries.

As another St. Patrick's day rolls around there is speculation how much change war will bring to the map of Ireland. Geographically a single unit, the Emerald Isle has long been separated into two very distinct political divisions.

Northern Ireland, or Ulster—shown in black on the map above—is separated from Eire, or Southern Ireland, by political, economic and religious barriers. While Ulster has many more Protestants than Catholics and Eire is predominantly Catholic, Ulster's fate is hitched very definitely to Britain's, but Eire asserts much more independence of the crown.

There are many who believe that results of the war will change the map of Ireland by bringing about complete unity of Ulster and Eire and that all Irishmen will bury the shillalah.

This idea that unity as a result of war stems from the thought that Eire (its prime minister, Eamon DeValera, is a strong advocate of unity) might make Britain and Ulster agree to union in return for co-operation in a new strategy of the British Isles.

Bathing Cats
Many people have an idea it isn't necessary to bathe a cat, that a cat will clean itself. This is true to a certain extent but they should be cleaned in other ways. Here are a few hints: Tabbies should be dry-cleaned with hot bran in preference to a bath. The coat should be well brushed the right way. A soap bath is best for black cats—finish the job with a coat preparation to furnish gloss. A soap or bran bath is best for smokes and dinkish by brushing with ammonia and water. This will make the coat stand up well.

Croquette Varies
The croquette varies from 25 to 35 curls because of the hair. Thin and shingled hair can do with 25 curls—heavy hair and long bobs can take as many as 35.

Michigan War Week.

More than 5,000 Michigan business, labor, industrial and medical leaders have been invited to attend an industrial protection institute sponsored by the Michigan Council of Defense at the Masonic Temple, Detroit, March 26, 27 and 28. Lt. Col. Harold A. Furlong, administrator, announced. Purpose of the institute is to explain the requirements for blackout equipment, camouflage, industrial fire brigades and other protective measures.

The Victory Garden program for Michigan will have three distinct phases: The family garden, the school garden and the community garden. George Tomlinson, secretary of the agriculture advisory committee of the Michigan Council of Defense, pointed out. Community garden projects will be encouraged for municipalities and neighborhood groups, using vacant plots of land and pooling garden efforts and tools. School gardens will be encouraged for school students on land adjacent to school grounds. Home owners will be asked to plant Victory Gardens. An education program will be launched, Tomlinson said, by means of pamphlets and literature, and through cooperation of gardening clubs and other organizations, to aid the gardener in growing vegetables and other vital foods. The farm gardens program will be directed by the U. S. D. A. War Board.

A total of 3,464,126 man hours will be required to train the 853,795 men and women needed by the protective services of the Michigan Citizens' Defense Corps, according to Lt. Col. Harold A. Furlong, administrator of the Michigan Council of Defense. This estimate is based upon the hours of training requirements of the 15 protective services in the Defense Corps.

"Some idea of the training job involved is gained from the following comparison," Lt. Col. Furlong added. "Working 40 hours a week (with no vacation), it would take one man 236,608 weeks or 4,560 years to complete the training hours necessary for Michigan's protective services."

If everyone in the family insists upon the usual "two heaping spoonfuls" in every cup of coffee, then mother may not have enough sugar for her baking when the sugar rationing program goes into effect this month, according to Arthur H. Sarvis, state rationing administrator of the Michigan Council of Defense.

Although the original announcement declared that each person would be allowed three-fourths pound of sugar each week, it is possible that this amount will be revised downward to one-half pound.

Simple research reveals that in every three-fourths pound of sugar there are 72 teaspoonfuls, or stating it another way, just 1 1/4 cups. Assuming that there are three persons in the family, and each person uses four teaspoonfuls for coffee and cereal at breakfast, and two more at the evening meal, the total consumption for a week would be 126 teaspoonfuls. At that rate, mother would have about two cupfuls of sugar for a week's baking of cakes, pies, etc.

And if the OPA decides that one-half pound is enough, well, you figure it out.

STATE FARMERS

URGED TO MOVE

BEANS TO DRYERS

Continued from page one. Because of various factors, including weather conditions, the movement of the Michigan bean crop was slow in getting under way last season and large quantities of wet beans are still held by the farmers. Between now and May 15 is the period of spoilage and unless farmers get their crops to the driers they face severe losses, Card said. The commissioner pointed out that the capacity of the Michigan driers is sufficient to take care of little more than a million bags of beans by May 15, whereas the amount not yet dried is estimated at approximately 2,000,000 bags.

Bean canners may not lose out entirely in the tin prohibition order, as some of the government purchases, particularly for the armed forces and lend-lease, are likely to be by-passed into their plants for canning.

Styled Purse Mirror
Newest purse gadget for the woman who likes her handbag to contain all necessary makeup accessories, yet not to bulge, is a smoothly designed double-faced mirror, small and lightweight, with frame and handle of plastic in such alluring colors as emerald green, tortoise shell, or a new soft blue—decorative and practical, too, since, being patterned after a dressing-table mirror, it is easy to locate in the purse and convenient to use.

What Should You Save To Help?

WASHINGTON, D. C.—The following table issued by the Treasury Department is intended as a savings yardstick for the average income earner. It suggests how everyone of the 48,000,000 employed persons in the United States may participate in the war effort through the systematic purchase of Defense Savings Bonds.

"The job ahead of us is far bigger than most of us realize," Secretary Morgenthau declared in making the table public. "I know that the American people are ready to do their part to win the war. One of the ways we can do much more is by intensifying our effort in the purchase of Defense Bonds."

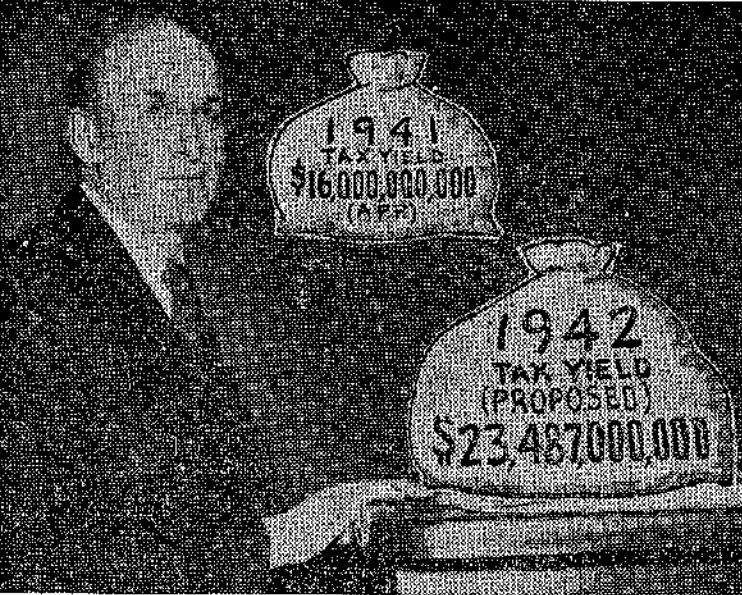

While persons without dependents may be able to set aside more than the suggested figures, persons with several dependents, or with other heavy family obligations, may be unable to save at the suggested rate, the Treasury Department pointed out.

WEEKLY NEWS ANALYSIS By Edward C. Wayne

Treasury Asks 7½ Billion Tax Boost To Carry Out U. S. 'Victory Program'; Sweeping Soviet Advances Continue As New Assaults Puncture Nazi Lines

(EDITOR'S NOTE—When opinions are expressed in these columns, they are those of the news analyst and not necessarily of this newspaper.) (Released by Western Newspaper Union.)

Secretary of the Treasury Henry Morgenthau as he presented a new 7 billion 610 million dollar tax program to congress. If approved by congress, the new taxes proposed by the treasury, added to the present total, would yield approximately 23 billion 487 million dollars in 1942. This would be an average of slightly more than $175 for every man, woman and child in the nation.

TAXES: War Not Cheap

The job of digging $23,000,000,000 in tax money out of the pockets of the people of the United States had been placed squarely before Secretary Morgenthau of the treasury, and he had placed a plan before the congress to accomplish this.

He had prefaced his announcement of the plan with the statement that it was a "victory program" and that "war was not cheap, but a million times cheaper to win than to lose."

The plan had called for a general doubling of income taxes between the bottom limit and $10,000, increases of corporate taxes, increase of excise taxes, and a raising of the social security payment rates.

One innovation was the secretary's suggestion that at least a portion of the tax be raised at the source, employers withholding weekly amounts from their workers' pay and turning it over to the treasury monthly.

Secretary Morgenthau admitted this might mean paying on two years' taxes at the same time after about July 1, but pointed out that it would reduce the burden the following March, and also would prevent taxpayers from spending in inflationary avenues to purchase goods that could not be produced, in sufficient quantity to meet the demand.

The first reactions of congressmen in general had been favorable. It was doubtful if the eventual tax bill would emerge in exactly the form as presented by Secretary Morgenthau, but that something substantially like it would be adopted was considered certain.

Samples of the Morgenthau schedules called for single persons making a net of $2,000, now paying $117, to pay $230; for married persons making $2,200 with no dependents, now paying $61, to pay $118; for married persons with two dependents (average family) making a net of $2,700, to pay $64 instead of the present $29.

RUSSIANS: Increase Pace

It had been expected that as the spring thaws began to set in the Russians would find the going more difficult, especially as Hitler made ready for his "spring offensive."

Some wonder had been caused when the Germans began issuing bulletins telling of enormous numbers of Red troops being shoved up toward the front, reports which were more or less confirmed from Red sources.

There were two possible solutions to this—either the Germans were preparing their people for the expected report of the loss of the Sixteenth field army, which had been trapped in the Staraya Russa district, or they were trying to convince the United States and Britain that Russia did not need and could not use additional lease-lend aid.

However this might be, observers had considered it more likely that Stalin, having placed a large group of generals in the background posts of training new armies, was putting these into the fight in order to halt the "spring offensive" before it could get going. To the westward the Russian army has captured large quantities of war materials.

It recalled statements of Napoleon and of the Germans themselves during the last war, that conquering the Russians was impossible because of their tremendous manpower, for countless thousands of new troops always appeared on all fronts, just when one thought them well beaten.

There were many who had expressed the belief that Germany, instead of driving the Russians back this spring, might, if forced to a heavy battle on two fronts, even be knocked rapidly out of the war altogether. Validity of this belief will be determined in the next few weeks.

POLICY: Change Toward Paris Indicated by Bombing

Though the British had systematically bombed enemy installations in occupied Europe, particularly those nearest the channel coast, Paris, except for the token bombing in 1940 had been virtually untouched by the war.

However, with a sudden day and night attack against the huge auto factories on the outskirts of Paris, Britain apparently had told the world that her policy toward the queen city of France had been changed.

A large squadron of heavy bombers, meeting considerable anti-aircraft fire, had flown over the city and suburbs all day and far into the night, dropping deadly loads in the neighborhood of the Renault, Citroen, Hispano-Suiza, Potz and Regnier motor works.

Vichy did not reveal the amount of the damage, but said there "were civilian casualties."

London had been terse about the affair, simply stating that the Renault auto factory, to France what Ford is to this country, had "become the symbol of French collaboration with Germany."

The company, said London, "is known to have been engaged in the making and repairing of transport vehicles, tanks and airplane engines for Germany."

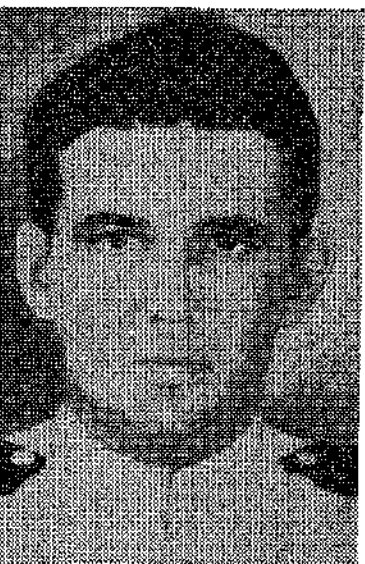

ACE: Made in a Day

From the Pacific theater had come the story of a determined attempt by Japanese heavy bombers, evidently operating from an island base, to put one of our largest aircraft carriers out of action.

The vessel, thanks to the vigorous defense of the pursuit personnel, escaped "without a scratch" the navy had reported.

Out of it emerged Lieut. Edward O'Hare of St. Louis, Mo., as the war's first "ace in a day."

The Japs came against the carrier with 18 bombers in two flights of nine each. Only two got away. Yet the attackers came in with such ferocity that one of them attempted a "suicide crash" with his load of bombs on the deck of the ship.

"So close was it" the navy had reported, "that he was shot down by point-blank anti-aircraft fire when less than 100 yards from his objective."

O'Hare got six of the enemy planes all by himself. The other pursuit fliers got the other ten. Two returned to the Jap base unscathed, apparently. Two American planes had been shot down, but the pilot of one was rescued.

STRATEGY: Decided Upon

While there had been little question that the Atlantic Charter and a possible spring offensive on the European front, plus the keeping of supply lines open to Britain and Russia were the primary American military objectives, a significant strategy had been decided upon in the Pacific theater.

This strategy called for the use of Australia as a base-ground and a hop-off point for the eventual winning offensive against the Japanese. There had been numbers of "token" bombing raids on Port Darwin and other points of importance to Australia, and the Aussies believed that these were laying the groundwork for an eventual all-out assault.

But it was with the offensive, not the defensive thought in mind that Australia was planning with the United States for supplies, men and munitions with which to make the continent a springboard for attack rather than defense.

MISCELLANY:

Puerto Rico: American soil on the Atlantic side had felt the impact of German shells. The tiny island of Mona off Puerto Rico which houses a CCC camp, had been shelled by a submarine.

New York: The Vatican radio had announced that food supplies, sent by the Pope to starving Greece, had arrived there safely and were being distributed.

Concluded from first page. 95 days? What had South Sea islands to do with the American way of life, anyway?

It all seemed far-fetched, didn't it? And yet we know today that we must make our present family automobile do for many years to come—two, three, five and possibly ten.

When present automobile tires are gone, many of them cannot be replaced. And this realization, too, in 95 days.

One immediate effect of Malaya on Michigan is a reverse in the trend of mobile shopping, a return of trade to hundreds of Main Streets.

Automobiles and good roads made Michigan a land of gasoline go-getters. We thought nothing of traveling 10 to 50 miles, or even more, to the nearest large city shopping in the morning, having lunch, enjoying a movie and hurrying back home in time for evening dinner.

Retail trends for luxury goods have been toward larger centers at the expense of small towns. One exception has been the large metropolitan centers—those over 500,000 population—where population and trading trends have been in the direction of decentralization.

Michigan Main Street, which steadily prospered during the 1930-40 decade, has an opportunity in 1942. Here is one of the unforeseen blessings in the war readjustments now fast unfolding.

Although signs were available in 1941 of coming events, who among us was convinced that we must do without—even in 1942—such commonplace commodities as refrigerators, washing machines, stokers, radios and girdles? The mechanical nature of modern warfare, plus the plain fact that we are five years behind the Germans in converting our industrial plants for war production, is bringing revolutionary upsets in our easy-going mode of living.

In 95 days we learn that democracy must become dictatorial to save itself from dictatorship, that we must deprive ourselves of freedoms so that we can save them, that a dozen expeditionary forces and our home units will require upwards of ten million men by 1944, that tens of thousands of women must replace men in war plants everywhere. What a change!

The prospect of outright shortages in many lines of civilian goods has brought on a wave of hoarding. January retail sales were far ahead of January, 1941.

Economists tell us that the national income for 1942 will be approximately 102 billions, taxes and savings 22 billions, leaving 80 billions to be spent. Yet the production of civilian goods, because of war priorities, will decline to 65 billions.

Here will come the pinch; 15 billions looking for a market that doesn't exist! More buying power vs. fewer things to buy. That's the making of inflation.

Five dollar silk shirts absorbed some of World War dollars. Railroad and bus transportation may combine to save Michigan's vacationland from a war-time depression. Certainly we Americans are going to spend more money for relaxation in 1942 than we did in 1941, surprising as this may sound. It will be the normal reaction to war nerves, and a healthful prescription to take.

but he's on trial daily—people judging his appearance. Robinson's Dry Cleaning keeps suits beyond reproach.

The home-town merchant who makes the grade in this critical period of fast-made adjustments will be the merchant who keeps his head—and uses it, too. Positive thinking, not negative thinking, is needed today. All thinking must be subjected to one paramount objective: Winning the war.

War is a temporary interruption to the normal way of life, a call for common sacrifices to be made willingly and cheerfully.

All this in 95 days! We're taking it on the chin now. Soon we're going to be giving it, blow for blow, sacrifice for sacrifice, to Adolph, Benito and Charlie Hirohito. We peace-loving Americans are getting mad.

DEFORD

The Farmers' Club will meet at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Hegler Friday, March 20. Potluck dinner will be served at noon.

In the month of April, 1891, the ladies of the Methodist Church at the Leek appointment of the Deford Circuit, met in the Leek Schoolhouse and organized an Aid Society with 12 members. This year, 51 years later, very few of that group are living. During the intervening years between that date and the disbanding of the Leek appointment, many others were added to the membership roll. As has been the custom for several years past, the former members annually have a reunion. This year the reunion will be held on the first Thursday in April at the home of Mrs. John Spangler, Cass City. Bring dishes.

Mrs. William Kelley has improved so much that she has returned to her home. During her critical illness, she was at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Clarence May.

Warren Kelley, Arnold Rayl, the Misses Ruth Tuckey, Velma Jean Locke, Virginia Kelley and Harriet Warner attended a banquet given at the Yale Methodist Church on Friday evening when a district meeting of the Youths' Fellowship Group had an evening session on that day and an all-day session on Saturday.

Mrs. McIntyre has been poorly for some time and has been at the Schwaderer home since before Christmas.

Sarah Munro was born in Ontario July 22, 1860, and has lived in the Thumb district for the last 50 years.

Funeral services were held from the Schwaderer home at 2:00 p. m. Tuesday. The Rev. Wendling H. Hastings, pastor of the local Presbyterian Church, officiated. Interment was in Elkland Cemetery.

Mrs. McIntyre is survived by three daughters and three sons, Mrs. E. Hunter and Mrs. E. B. Schwaderer of Cass City, A. D. McIntyre and George McIntyre of Saginaw, Miss Mary McIntyre and D. C. CARO AND UNIONVILLE WIN THE DISTRICT CHAMPIONSHIPS dale's determined team defeated Akron by a 29 to 23 score in a surprise victory in the first game of the evening. Akron had defeated Owendale twice during the season and was caught off guard by the "quick break" employed by Owendale. Farnum, with eight, and Pobanz, with seven, led Owendale to victory. Akron's leading scorer was Hansek with seven points.

Unionville defeated a strong Gageton team on Friday night, 38-24. Gageton's team, in ordinary years, would be strong enough to win a district title, but Unionville has an exceptionally brilliant quintet for a small high school and has a very good chance to win the state championship in Class "D." Matt Koreck, Unionville center, was the outstanding player at this tournament and made 18 points alone against Gageton. Russell, Kehoe and Walsh each scored six points and led in the scoring for Gageton.

On Saturday night with the district championships at stake, Owendale was no match for the strong Unionville team and were defeated by a 45 to 11 score. Guenther with 13, Koreck with 12 and Czernik with nine, were the leading point-makers for Unionville. Good with four points led in Owendale's scoring column.

The most spirited contest of the three-day tourney was the championship game on Saturday night between Caro and Sandusky. Sandusky was in the lead until three minutes before the end of the game when Way tied the score with a hook shot from the corner. Parynik then put Caro in the lead with his dog shot 10 seconds before the end of the game.

Score at End of Quarters.

	1	2	3	T
Sandusky	1	2	3	6
Caro	4	9	16	29

R. Middaugh led the scoring for Caro with nine points and Davidson with seven points led Sandusky.

About 2,000 people attended the three-day tournament. This crowd was efficiently handled by the men of the Cass City High School faculty. The Cass City Boy Scout Troop, under the direction of Ray Fleener and Hugh Munro, parked the cars in a systematic manner around the school grounds.

Chester Johnson and Kirke Martin of Saginaw were the referees and handled the games in a highly satisfactory manner. Orion Cardew was tournament manager.
