Water High, Lovely Foliage, Cottages Open Says the Oak Bluff Reporter in News Items

Decoration or Memorial Day marked the opening of the resort season here, as is the case of all other Michigan resorts, and while the weather was everything but favorable and in spite of auto and tire restrictions, a good many of the local cottages were open and nearly all members of the association had house guests.

Speaking of weather, we had all varieties over the week-end—five rain and electric storms, with all the thunder and lightning thrown in—hail, fog, and at times, some sunshine—everything excepting a blizzard. Saturday's big electric storm came up from across the bay, was one of the most spectacular ever seen, coming out of a solid fog bank with vivid lightning playing in and out of the fog and an almost continual roll of thunder like heavy artillery. Possibly the echo from the bombardment of Cologne. This was the storm which brought the hail storm which, fortunately, did no particular harm.

The trees and other foliage have never been greener nor more love-

The Fledgling

Back of the transportation tempest on the Michigan home front, centering on the prospect of a July 1 restriction on automobiles, looms this question.

When will the war end? If we could peer into history and foresee the outcome of the Russian-German struggle on the Leningrad-Moscow-Kharkov fronts, we might find the answer.

As it is, Michigan citizens are apprehensive that drastic restrictions on automobile transportation, if instituted July 1, will deprive our tourist industry of $200,000,000 to $300,000,000 income. To us, that is very important.

A high official at Washington remarked the other day that the proposed plan for national gasoline rationing to conserve rubber had been unduly agitated. He termed the general alarm "a lot of newspaper talk."

Newspapers print the news, whether it is good or bad.

And the truth is that newspapers recorded factually the utterances of government officials, some of whom sincerely believe that at the present rate of tire use there will be only 10,000,000 out of 30,000,000 automobiles on the road by the end of 1943—next year! If rubber conservation is achieved, either by volunteer methods such as the "Pontiac Plan" or by coupon rationing of gasoline, together with requisition of tires on old cars and with salvage of other rubber stocks, it would be possible—so the press has been told—to keep more automobiles going by December, 1943.

You probably remember the headlines in late April that Eastern motorists would be given a basic

Pigs and Potatoes Leave Owners Quickly

"It really worked," Arthur Moore of Grant Township telephoned the Chronicle Wednesday. "I used a Chronicle want ad to advertise little pigs for sale. By 2:00 p. m. on Friday, the day the paper was dated, all the pigs had been sold. Could have continued selling pigs up to Tuesday had there been more on hand."

George P. Dodge of R. R. 3, Cass City, is another satisfied customer of Chronicle want ads. Mrs. Dodge telephoned the newspaper office Tuesday they they could have sold more potatoes had their supply been larger.

Big Storm Damages Many Telephones

It has been a long time since an electrical storm in Cass City brought down so much rain as that of Friday night. It literally came down in sheets. Lightning struck the apartment house of William I. Moore during the severe storm. It is thought that lightning followed a wire from an unused radio aerial and entered a room of Mrs. Grace Collins apartment near a window. A large mirror and a dresser were completely wrecked, two holes were blown in the wall, the window frame was scorched and loosened and a strip below the baseboard loosened. Two round holes were burned in the lace curtain, but no fire resulted from the accident. Many telephones were put "on the blink" during the storm.

Need to Establish More Christian World Order

Memorial Speaker Urges International Cooperation After the War Is Won.

The weather man has presented this community with various samples of his wares the past week, but the weather prevailing during the Memorial Day exercises at Elkland Cemetery, Saturday afternoon, was among the finest of May days. A large group of citizens gathered to attend the exercises, many coming from distant points.

The Cass City High School Band, resplendent in new uniforms, opened the program with a national air, Rev. Frank Smith, the chairman, offered prayer and the band gave a second selection. Rev. Dudley Mosure, pastor of the Methodist Church, gave the address of the day, speaking on the subject of "Honor." The program closed with the audience singing the "Star Spangled Banner," with band accompaniment.

In his address, Mr. Mosure said in part:

"On this Decoration Day, our thoughts turn to those whom we have loved long since, and lost a while. We cannot but think of them in terms of the faithful service they have rendered; of the loyalty they have showed, both to friend and country. We think of them, too, as men of truthfulness and integrity. And so, we come to honor them this day.

"We would also remember the men of this day and generation who are giving of their best to God and country. We remember them for their noble qualities, and most particularly for their personal sense of honor. Therefore, let us think of honor in these three ways: First, honor to one's self; second, honor to one's country; third, honor to God.

"The Father of Our Country, George Washington, was a splendid example of manhood, of the type of person who keeps personal honor ever at a noble height. Though Washington was a wealthy and in-

Cass City and Vassar to Play for County Championship

The Cass City High School baseball team has gained a play-off position for the county baseball title to be decided at Caro this (Friday) afternoon with Vassar. Both teams finished the season with one loss out of five county games. Coach Parker's boys dropped a close game to Mayville for their only loss in the county and Vassar lost to Cass City during their regular season game for their only loss of the year.

This is the first time Cass City has competed in a county championship game for a number of years and it will be interesting to see if Kolb can repeat his victory over Heinline, Vassar pitcher, who rated one of the best high school pitchers in the Thumb.

Track Meet. The thirty-sixth annual Tuscola County field day will be held at the Caro Fairgrounds on Friday, June 5.

At 3:00 p. m., the Tuscola County baseball championship will be decided in a game between the counties' two highest ranking teams.

Caro is again favored to annex the track crown with Millington running a close second. Some of the teams will be limited because of early graduation and loss of seniors due to trips and other commencement activities.

Tuscola Co. Fair to Get Additional Funds from State

Cancellation of the State Fair Will Swell Treasuries of 17 County Fairs.

With definite cancellation of the Michigan State Fair because the army needs the use of the extensive grounds in Detroit, arrangements are rapidly going forward for staging the state fair live stock exhibits at 17 Michigan county fairs, while the annual state 4-H show is to be held at Michigan State College in East Lansing.

Approximately $28,500 in premium money is to be offered the state fair exhibits at the county fairs and an additional $6,500 will go to the 4-H show, the total of $35,000 representing an appropriation made by the legislature and administered by the state fair board of managers. The amount is 60 per cent of the premiums offered at the state fair in livestock classes, the remaining 40 per cent having been made up from fair revenues, which will not be available this year.

The plan to distribute the state fair money at the county fairs was

Canning Sugar Registration in All Villages in Tuscola

County Clerk Geo. F. Childs, chairman of the Tuscola County Rationing Board, announced on Wednesday afternoon that plans are being made to appoint representatives in the eleven villages of the county to care for the registration of those who desire to secure sugar for canning purposes. Mr. Childs expects to announce the names of the representatives in the papers of the county next week. Present plans are that the remainder of June will be devoted for this registration.

Persons who desire larger allotments than those assigned by the representative in the villages may appeal to the county rationing board. This arrangement of a representative in each village instead of having but one place of registration at the county seat has its advantages. It will save time, tires and gasoline for residents of the county.

Mrs. Ida Cunningham and daughter, Miss Leota, of Saginaw were pleasant callers on Saturday with friends here.

Police Discover Lost Chord

The disappearance of a complete pipe organ from a neighborhood theater in Philadelphia baffled the manager but not police. The manager, Oscar Forman, reported the organ, unused since the advent of sound movies, had been in the loft of the Byrd theater when he last looked five months ago. After sleuthing for a few days, Detectives Edward Casey and Albert Jones announced the arrest of a 17-year-old usher who they said had admitted hauling the 824-pound organ away—piece by piece—since last November with the help of two friends.

Famous Linguists

The most famous linguists of antiquity were Mithridates, king of Pontus, who is said to have been thoroughly conversant with the languages of the 25 nations over which his rule extended, and Cleopatra, queen of Egypt, of whom Plutarch says that "she spoke most languages," and that "there were but few of the foreign ambassadors to whom she gave audience through an interpreter."

ration of two and one-half to five gallons a week. An OPA official made this announcement, and the press recorded it as news.

Harold Ickes, petroleum administrator, promptly said this amount was too low. Leon Henderson, OPA chief, was quoted as agreeing with Ickes. It was all a bit confusing.

When rationing did come and motorists were given three gallons a week for "pleasure driving," Congress was besieged with protests. The X-ration cards didn't help any either.

Ten Michigan congressmen asked Henderson to forego proposed nation-wide rationing starting July 1, terming the plan "unjustified, unwarranted, and unwise."

A quotation: "There is no shortage of gasoline or gasoline delivery equipment in Michigan which is a large producer. . . . For the purpose of conservation of rubber we suggest rational and consistent request for lower speed limits with, if necessary, an overall mileage limitation for the use of automotive transportation consistent with geographical conditions and public transportation facilities available in each section."

In other words, volunteer conservation of rubber tires and local mileage limitation rather than enforced coupon rationing of the OPA.

Does volunteer conservation really work?

Use of gasoline in the Midwest for civilian purposes during April indicated a 20 per cent reduction of automobile mileage compared with April, 1941. May mileage is expected to decline 25 per cent.

The Pontiac Plan for staggering work-shopping hours and sharing transportation reduced Pontiac traffic 10 per cent and increased the load of private automobiles from 1.3 to between 1.8 and 1.9 persons, as compared with a goal of 3.5 persons.

The OPA viewpoint apparently is that voluntary methods cannot accomplish the objective; that enforced rationing of gasoline is the only practical method for effective immediate rubber conservation. President Roosevelt hopes that synthetic tires may be produced in sufficient quantity to save us from transportation paralysis—but it is only a hope.

Since transportation rationing is linked inexorably to the European and Far East military fronts, what are prospects for an early victory?

Well, what do you mean by "victory?"

If the Russians can defeat the Reich in 1942 with the aid of supplies from the Allied Nations and perhaps a second military front either in the air or land, a German internal collapse is remotely possible next winter or next spring.

Military authorities seem to agree that the war outcome will hinge on what happens in 1942, that Germans are staking everything this year, that we (Americans) must gamble also on an immediate all-out effort to "win" the war despite our relative unpreparedness at this moment to do it.

In the Far East we have lost Manila, Singapore and Burma. China and Australia are pleading for planes which they probably will not get. Even if Hitler can be defeated in eight months, the Pacific front is 5,000 to 10,000 miles away. That means three to five round-trips a year for transporting men, equipment and supplies from the United States, even AFTER the European war is all over.

American war production will not be felt in tremendous force until 1943. We in Michigan are not blind. Our armed manpower will approximate 4,200,000 by December, 1942.

These ABC factors prompted Charles F. Kettering, chief of research of the General Motors Corporation, to forecast Allied victory by 1944 through an invasion of Europe. Defeat of Japan would be the next objective. And then, with the war won on all fronts, the Allied Nations would police the world during the armistice or "cooling off" period prior to the treaty, and then during the peace itself.

Does it not seem logical to conclude that many Michigan boys will not return home for many months to come, that conservation of rubber tires will be, long before final victory is achieved, an accomplished aim on our home front?

If the Germans triumph in Russia, seize the Suez or take over the French fleet, the Michigan transportation problem would be very insignificant, wouldn't it? And so would everything else, for that matter. Never in history has the fate of free peoples hinged on the outcome of events so world-wide in their cataclysmic effect.

The Wickwires and Fosters of Detroit opened their cottages on Saturday and will return for their vacations in July. They will be here for week-ends in the meantime.

Mr. and Mrs. William Zander of Saginaw were Saturday night visitors at the Burke cottage. "Bill" has some new winter scenes and early spring flower views in Kodachrome which are beauties. Mr. Zander is an electrical engineer with the Austin Co., who are building the new magnesium plant for the Dow Chemical Co. at Ludington.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Ballard of Flint and F. C. Ballard of North Branch were here over the week-end at their cottage and will return for their vacations later in the season.

We are not guaranteeing that this column will be a weekly "feature" this season, due to real and prospective travelling restrictions. If people are here, we will be glad to report the "uncensored" news, but from the present outlook we do not anticipate a very active season here or in any other of Michigan's resort sections. If this report is brief or occasionally entirely missing, it will be due to "lack of materials and priorities." "And that's the news to this moment."

TO YOUR GOOD HEALTH

LOWER BACK PAIN

When there is pain in lower back, physicians are usually able to locate the cause of the trouble because three of four cases are due to infection from other parts—teeth, tonsils, gall bladder—and one in every four is due to injury. Generally speaking, pain that is worse when the patient is at rest is due to infection and pain that is worse when patient is up and about is due to injury. However, there are a number of cases where infection or effects of infection and also injury are present in the same patient.

When the pain is not in lower back but in other parts of the spine and is not arthritis or rheumatism in the joints between the bones (vertebrae) the cause of the pain or disability may be hard to find.

For some time physicians and surgeons have been obtaining small portions of the soft tissues by means of suction or use of a tiny syringe or suction apparatus. This is one method of finding if lump, growth or sore in the breast or uterus is or is not cancer.

That small portions of the bones of the spinal column obtained by this method and examined under the microscope will enable the physician to tell what is wrong with the patient is reported by Dr. J. Valls and his associates of Buenos Aires.

A Safe Method.

By control under the X-rays and a special method of anaesthesia of the nerve and the bone itself a puncture is made directly into the bone. These physicians report that the method is safe and not difficult. Among the diseases found in these bones of the spine were tuberculosis, extension of cancer from other parts of the body, growths, cysts, a porous condition of the bone found in old age and chronic inflammation not due to any special cause.

While the cause of most cases of lower back pain or disability can be found, there are some cases of low back trouble and many cases where trouble is higher up, the cause of which is difficult to find. This biopsy method by enabling the physician to find the cause enables him also to prescribe the necessary treatment. However, the commonest causes should always be sought first.

What Can Be Done For Angina Pectoris?

When, as youngsters, we were playing a game that required much or continuous running, we would get a pain in the chest that made us stop in our tracks. By resting or walking, the pain would gradually disappear and we were able to play just as hard as ever. We called this getting our "second wind."

This pain that we had as youngsters is the same as grownups get when they exercise or eat too much. It is called angina pectoris and is due to the same cause—not enough oxygen in the blood supplying the heart muscle.

When we have a shock, other emotional disturbance, or face a cold wind, it may upset the proper working together of the heart and lungs; the blood does not get a sufficient supply of oxygen and the viselike pain in the chest may occur. Nature, the friendly force behind mankind, tries to help us when we are attacked by emotional disturbances or cold by stimulating the adrenal glands, situated one above each kidney, causing them to pour out an extra supply of adrenalin into the blood. This adrenalin, while lessening the oxygen supply to the blood going to heart muscle, opens the blood vessels wider so that the heart muscle will get more blood and prevent the pain.

Can anything be done for these patients whose blood vessels are getting hard and who have the attacks of angina pectoris? Dr. W. Raab, Burlington, Vt., in Annals of Internal Medicine, states that attempts to relieve the symptoms of angina pectoris by cutting down on the amount of adrenalin poured into the tissues, by means of X-ray treatments were successful in 76 of 100 patients. Sixty-two patients were entirely free or almost entirely freed from complaints or at least considerably improved for an average of 13½ months, 14 patients were moderately improved for an average of seven and a half months, and 24 received no help from X-ray treatments.

A.—I know of no cure. Soap and water help as much as most remedies.

Q.—Please tell me the cause and prevention of mouth ulcers.
A.—Mouth ulcers—stomatitis—in children may follow children's diseases or a run-down condition. In adults may be due to too hot or highly seasoned foods, bad teeth, stomach or intestinal disturbances.

EVAPORATION EXPLAINS "JUMP" IN BUTTERFAT TEST

NO INCREASE IN AMOUNT OF BUTTERFAT

It's natural to want to believe it—the idea that as cream sours its butterfat content increases—but it just isn't so. Take the word of experts whose business it is to check up on such things. They will also tell that this erroneous idea costs farmers many thousands of dollars each year.

Carefully controlled scientific investigations at the various agricultural colleges prove positively that souring does not increase the butterfat content of cream—it merely makes it look thicker and richer. What these tests do show is that the normal, natural evaporation of moisture from the cream in the process of souring causes an increase in the butterfat percentage, not in the actual content of the butterfat. This fact is illustrated in the chart above.

Eighty pounds of cream testing 30 per cent butterfat represent a butterfat content of 24 pounds of fat. Four days later the same cans of cream weigh only 75 pounds because of the five pounds of water evaporated. Testing this lessened weight of cream shows that the percentage of butterfat is now up to 32 per cent. But this has made no difference in the total amount of butterfat in the cans. The 75 pounds of cream, while testing 32 per cent, still contain only 24 pounds of fat. The amount of fat in the original 80 pounds of cream and the reduced amount after evaporation is exactly the same—24 pounds.

It is seen, therefore, that the farmer who lets his cream stand too long near the kitchen stove or other warm place is the real loser. For certainly he cannot get for this type of cream the best prices. Very sour cream is always way off in flavor, and off flavors grade down the butter made from it. The smart farmer takes care to guard the flavor of his cream all along the production line. One of the best ways is by frequent marketing. Experts recommend delivery of cream three times a week in summer, and at least twice a week in winter.

LINE EXTENSIONS for electric service

Because of the urgent need for copper in war industries, restrictions have been placed on the building of extensions to existing electric lines.

These restrictions prevent us from making extensions to our lines, except as follows:

As of March 26, 1942, no extension in excess of 250 feet may be made without specific authorization in advance from the Director of Industry Operations, War Production Board, Washington, D. C.

Priority preference to build does not include this line extension. That must be applied for separately, and we are glad to aid you in the preparation of forms, submitting your request for the extension to the War Production Board. Defense Plants, Defense Housing and other projects directly related to war industries are given first consideration by them.

Before making plans to build a house, home builders will save themselves much delay and maybe even disappointment if they will make these applications as early as possible. Any Detroit Edison Office can give further information.

New Fabrics and Designs Meet Increased Demand for Blouses

By CHERIE NICHOLAS

THE unprecedented rush for suits this spring is breathtaking. And with the acquiring of a new suit the one thing that never fails to happen is the sudden urge that comes upon one for a blouse wardrobe that will perform the trick of changing the mood of one's suit as magically as a chameleon changes its color.

The blouse program as set for the coming months is unusually versatile. Starting off with trim tailored effects individualized with smart styling details, it continues to carry on in a brilliant way with stunning costume blouses of handsome (often spectacular) fabrics climaxed by a procession of exquisite fantasies of beguiling femininity.

Blouse fabrics were never more interestingly varied as in this season, when modern textile ingenuity has reached a peak, especially in the matter of rayon weaves that leave nothing to be desired. Side by side, on the blouse hangers, you will find rayon materials including exotic bold-patterned print jerseys and acetate crepes, trim spun rayon shirtings in linen or challis finish, soft-bodied monotone crepes and an intriguing display of filmy sheers.

Prints are creating a sensation in the field of sports blouses, done often in gay South American patterns and colorings. A blouse that stands pre-eminently at the front in the style parade is shown centered in the above illustration. It is the full-blown rose print that everybody is calling for. Note, especially, the big floppy bow tie at the neck. These bow fastenings are of outstanding interest this season, so watch bows! The long bishop sleeves are also important.

Two chic tailored blouses (to the right above and below in the group) are noteworthy. The model at the top is a real "find." It is a classic in tailored simplicity, with the charm of a material, corded marquisette, which is to be coveted not only for its prettiness, for joy of joy! it launders to perfection and as easily as a pocket handkerchief. This blouse is skillfully designed with a fitted waistband for either tuck-in or over-bow wear.

Exquisite handwork finishing off all edges in contrast color is a nice trimming accent for the beautiful tailored blouse in snowy acetate rayon crepe shown just below this blouse in the above illustration. Note the stud-fastened cuffs and becoming turn-back neck.

Note the flowers in her hair. The wearing of flowers in this manner is an approved fashion, even in the daytime if occasion warrants. An effect of fragile feminine charm is achieved by the use of filmy rayon chiffon and fine lace edging for the exquisite lingerie blouse shown above to the left in the illustration. It features the new and extremely smart long bishop sleeves together with a high-low ruffled neckline which may be fastened primly under the chin for suit wear or opened low for dress-up moments.

A blouse that should be included in every wardrobe for formal wear is the long-torso type of handsome rayon flower print in gorgeous colors. (Released by Western Newspaper Union.)

AND IT WORKED

"Can you spare me a moment? I am not an insurance canvasser," said the man on the doorstep. "I do not want to sell you soap, toilet preparations, books, or anything of that sort."

The door had been closing, but paused in the movement. The householder was reassured.

"I do not represent a sewing machine firm, nor any who sell wireless sets, gramophones, electric cleaners, or motor-cars."

The door opened a bit wider. "I'm not a collector, either of rates, information, or accounts—I find it hard enough to collect a living myself."

The reassurances had their effect; no longer was there a sign of the door closing.

"I'm not a canvasser for any political party, and I don't want details for a directory."

The householder stared at him. "For heavens sake, what are you, then?" she asked.

"Ah," he said. "I see I have you interested! I represent a firm which deals in photographic enlargements."

YOU'RE KIDDIN'

"How about spending the winter in Florida, dear?"

"Nothing doing. They don't have any winter there."

Matter of Choice.

The Prospective Tenant (viewing house)—I think after all, a flat would suit us better.

The Caretaker—Well, sir, for me, I feel a flat so much like a prison; but then, of course, it all depends on what you're accustomed to.

Cared

We know a guy who stuttered so His talk could hardly be endured. Although he spent a lot of dough His habit wasn't cured.

A widow dame secured him; She won his favor in a walk; Of stuttering she cured him; He never gets a chance to talk.

Optimistic

Dr. Quack—I had a great many more patients last year than I have this. I wonder where they have all gone to?

Mrs. Wrink—Well, all we can do, Doctor, is to hope for the best.

TRY IT

Frank (timidly)—Wish I knew what you'd do if I should steal a kiss?

Ruth—Wouldn't take long to find out.

Not Interested

She—Doctor, you told me to show you my tongue, but you haven't even looked at it!

Doctor—No... it was only to keep you quiet while I wrote out the prescription.

An Easy One

The class was being questioned on the cardinal points of the compass. "If I turn to the east and look at the rising sun, what is left behind me?"

Boy—Yer shadow.

Warning

Flossy—Let's play housekeeping. You be the papa and I'll be the mama.

Franky—No, mom said we mustn't fight any more.

Skip It

King—How does the report begin? Secretary—It is greatly to be regretted—

King—Never mind the rest of it, we were licked.

Sensible

"Doctor, what shall I do for a sprained ankle?"

"Limp."

You Bet!

"The man who jumps at conclusions is liable to land in some queer places."

Maxim

"The bravest man is he who knows when to be afraid."

How True

"It would be all right if the man who doesn't mean anything wouldn't say it."

BOBBY COON'S CLOSE CALL

A CLOSE call means a narrow escape, a very narrow escape. And that is what Bobby Coon had when he tried to cross from the top of the big chestnut tree to the top of the big pine tree. You see Bobby's mind was so full of the idea of getting into that big pine tree that he forgot how bright the light from Mistress Moon was, so bright that, of course, the hunters at the foot of the tree would see him the very minute he showed himself.

He was half way along the great branch that reached over to the big pine tree when he remembered the moonlight, and just as he remembered he heard a great shout from the hunters down below and he knew that they saw him. It was of no use to turn back now, so he did the best thing he could do—hurried ahead as fast as ever he could.

Bang! Bobby had almost reached the big pine tree when the terrible gun carried by one of the hunters startled everybody in the Green Forest with its dreadful roar. It frightened poor Bobby so that he almost lost his grip. He heard a sharp, whistling noise. He didn't know exactly what it was, though he knew that it had something to do with that terrible gun. The fact is it was the shot tearing up through the air close to Bobby that made that whistling sound. At the same time something stung him sharply, so sharply that he almost cried out. Three of the shots had hit him, but because he was so fat they had not been able to go through him and do him any real harm.

With a little choking sob in his throat Bobby jumped for an outreaching branch of the big pine tree. It was lucky for him, very lucky, indeed, that he jumped just when he did. Yes, sir, it was lucky for Bobby Coon that he jumped just when he did, because—well because just as he jumped there was another dreadful bang from that terrible gun, and this time the shot struck the very spot Bobby had just left.

Bobby scrambled into the big pine tree, and there he drew a long breath. He knew that there he could not be seen easily from the ground because of the broad, protecting branches of the pine. He looked across to the big chestnut tree, and there he saw Farmer Brown's Boy just starting to climb down. It was his climbing of that tree that had forced Bobby to try to get to the big pine tree. Bobby felt in his heart that he hated Farmer Brown's Boy, and yet he had a queer feeling that somehow it was because of Farmer Brown's Boy that he was alive that very minute. And the fact is, it was. You see, just as the hunter with the terrible gun had put it to his shoulder to shoot at Bobby Farmer Brown's Boy had yelled, and that yell had so startled the hunter with the gun that he had missed. If it hadn't been for that yell from Farmer Brown's Boy there would be no more stories about Bobby Coon.

Farmer Brown's Boy pretended that he had yelled because he was excited and had seen Bobby trying to escape, but Mistress Moon looking down and seeing all that was going on, knew better. She had seen Farmer Brown's Boy smile, and it was a smile good to see, when Bobby had safely reached the big pine tree. All the other hunters looked disappointed, but Farmer Brown's Boy didn't, and because he didn't he took great care to keep in the shadows where the others would not notice his face. Bobby didn't know it and the others didn't know it, but all the time someone was doing his best to help Bobby Coon, and that someone was Farmer Brown's Boy.

located that they are not crowded by the long-season crops. Parsnips may remain in the ground all winter.

Broccoli—The crop will withstand cool weather and even light freezes. It will grow on almost any type of well-drained soil. For fall crop sow the seeds in a row in the garden during the last week of May or the first week in June.

Swiss Chard—Is an easy crop to grow and will supply greens throughout the entire year. It may be grown from early spring through midsummer to late fall and when the weather is not too severe, may be kept alive during winter by mulching the roots with straw, hay or other material. Will grow on any well-drained soil. To prolong the harvest season, many prefer to pull off a few of the outside leaves of the various plants, thus allowing the center and younger leaves to continue growing.

Lettuce Head—Plants should be planted in the garden six inches apart, in rows of twelve inches apart. When cool growing weather is prevalent in the spring, a good crop is likely to mature. Fall crop, the seed is usually sown in rows in the garden and the seed covered with a quarter to a half inch of soil. As the young plants develop their fourth leaves, they are thinned so that the individual plants will stand six inches apart in the row.

Parsley—We all like a good appearing dish and parsley is one of the prettiest vegetables for adding the finishing touch to appetizing foods. It requires no special gardening skill to grow. The seed is slow to start and unless the soil has been thoroughly prepared and moist at the surface the seed may not germinate properly. It is wise, after sowing the seed, to cover the row with cloth, which should be kept moist. When the seed is nicely germinated the cloth may be removed. Parsley will live through the winter. The plants may be potted in the fall to yield leaves for cutting through the early winter. A dozen plants will usually provide enough for the average family. The outer leaves are pinched off when needed, allowing the center leaves to continue developing. Side applications of nitrogen fertilizer during the growing season are recommended. Insects and diseases are not common to parsley.

Endive—This is a hardy plant to frost. It is grown mainly as a late fall or early winter crop which can be grown when early crops have been removed from the row. It is used principally as a salad or for garnishing. It thrives in well-drained and fertilized garden soils. As freezing weather approaches, the plantings may be protected with a mulch or winter covering so and being quite hardy may be used until early in the winter. Practically no insects or diseases attack endive.

Onion Seeds—Seed will be necessary this year, as sets are very difficult to purchase. Seed should be sown fairly thick in the row and covered with a half an inch of soil. The seed will soon start to germinate and plants will start growing and should be kept continuously growing until midsummer, when maturity usually occurs. To grow a large, well developed onion, the plants should be thinned out so they will not be too thick in the row.

Post-War Jeeps May Pull Plows

Michigan farms may soak up some of the flood of United States army jeeps after the war is over and before tractor production gains volume.

Federal engineers recently borrowed two of the quarter-ton cars and tested them out on some farm jobs such as plowing and harrowing. Bottom land was plowed seven inches deep at nearly four miles an hour. One 16-inch plow was attached. The army car burned 2.3 gallons of gasoline in plowing an acre of land.

The jeeps probably could perform farm jobs as capably as Michigan's famed doodlebugs which were converted from discarded autos, says O. E. Robey, agricultural engineer at Michigan State College. The jeeps are made for tough service and likely wouldn't have as many breakdowns as many of those converted doodlebugs.

Too low and too narrow for cultivating row crops, the engineers decided after making tests with the army jeeps.

Another complication indicated the military machine would work better on the farm if a slightly lower gear ratio could be installed and a lower hitch put on for plowing.

In comparison with the usual one or two-plow small farm tractors, the jeeps developed from one to three horsepower less on the drawbar, pulled about two-thirds as much and turned out about a third less horsepower hours for fuel used.

The 60 horsepower engine on the jeep can be made to drive through all four wheels and will exert as much as a 1,300 pound pull with almost no wheel slippage. The car equipped for army use has six speeds forward and two reverse.

Snail in Boy's Arm

Remember the nursery rhyme about little boys being made of "snakes and snails and puppy dog tails?" A physician lanced a lump on a boy's arm in Coats, N. C., and found therein a live snail—shell and all. He said the snail apparently had been there for years but wouldn't hazard a guess on how it got there.

Doubly Smart

Yes, you are seeing double! Matching boutonnieres of fresh flowers, one on each lapel, make a novel decoration on smart new suits this spring. This is a style recommended to out-of-town beaux who will want to wire greetings that will outshine local competition. If it's a single corsage she wants for her new spring costume, carnations, gardenias and combinations of variegated colorings are all good guesses. Daisies and violets, as pictured above, make charming twin lapel pieces.

The Flowers That Bloom

On Your Dress, Tra-La!

Among the highlighted fabrics for spring, smooth surfaces predominate. The worsteds are particularly smart, as this spring is starting off in a decidedly tailored manner. Faille, wool jersey and knits continue strong.

This season's prints glory in novelty and color. Important are the new butterfly prints, the lace-patterned types and gorgeous florals. Amusing, also, are the vegetable prints, cabbage roses in full bloom and the apple motifs. There are more plaids, stripes and checks than ever, and the "dotted" theme persists.

Bows Run Rampant Over

Necklines and Pockets

Necklines are having a frilly time of it this spring. Jabots are as frothy and white as snow drifts, or fleecy clouds on a summer day. Collar and cuff sets in pastel blues or pinks are ever so good this season. There's also a rush for huge, softly tied bows or sprightly butterfly ties. Bows also trim pockets and cuffs and are posed at the shoulder. In fact, bows are apt to light anywhere on one's costume and be fashion-right.

Loose Curls

No tight curls, all extremely loose and very feminine looking, is the new fashion edict. Shorter bobs are assured, always with an easy-to-manage promise. Pompadour versions will continue to be worn and the "trick" is to wear your hat back to show the pompadour.

'He Knows It's Good'

After many years in show business, Charles Frohman was thoroughly familiar with the idiosyncrasies of authors, and knew that everywhere a writer went his ego went along. Once during a lawsuit, he was called as a witness, and was questioned by one of the attorneys.

"Mr. Frohman," said the lawyer, "when an author comes to you with a play, he thinks it's good, doesn't he?"

"Oh, no," was the reply.

"What, he doesn't think it's good?"

"He knows it's good," corrected the manager.

The Score Card: Latest reports reaching me assure us that: we have enough black pepper and most spices for at least two years. Coffee and cocoa supplies are adequate from South America, and tea stocks are still good.

Domestic fats and oils will have to replace imported palm and coconut oils used for frying fats, soaps and oleomargarines, and homemakers must conserve all soaps and frying fats carefully.

Tin will be available for canning foods that cannot be preserved in other ways, but you will be wise homemakers if you learn to use dried fruits properly, and can from your own defense gardens this summer. Be kind to your kitchen equipment and gadgets made out of tin, for there will be no more after that is used.

Pineapple is still being planted and shipped to the mainland, and no serious shortage is yet noticeable.

Cool and Decorative—Salad-Muffin Luncheon

(See Recipes Below)

Spring Luncheons

As spring spreads its fragrance and gaiety once more across the days, do your moods turn to thoughts of exquisite, gracious luncheons? Yes, to be sure, they do. You get lovely visions of picture-plate luncheons, crispy green salads, tiny, moist sandwiches, the tinkle of china on cool, crisply laundered cloths, centerpiece of delicate flowers.

But this year's luncheons are different from last year's. The plates are pictures to behold, true, but the menus are kind to purse strings and food shortages.

A bowl of colorful greens, curly endive, crisp lettuce, tossed together with grapefruit and orange sections with red silvers of strawberries are perfect with these muffins and all you would want for luncheon.

It is further ordered, that public notice thereof be given by publication of a copy of this order, for three successive weeks previous to said day of hearing, in the Cass City Chronicle, a newspaper printed and circulated in said county.

This Week's MenuGuest Luncheon*Assorted Salad PlatterFruit SaladEgg Salad in Tomato CupsMolasses-Nut Muffins orCheese Rings*Coffee or TeaRecipes Given.Egg Salad in Tomato Cups.*(Serves 4)*4 medium sized tomatoes*1 package cream cheese*1 tablespoon finely chopped green onion*2 tablespoons finely chopped green pepper*1/2 medium sized cucumber, chopped*3 hard cooked eggs, chopped*1/2 cup mayonnaise*Wash tomatoes, peel. Slice off top, and scoop out the center. Toss the other ingredients lightly together and fill the tomato cups. Chill well and serve on lettuce.*All three of the salads given can be served on one individual platter. Arrange them attractively, a scoop of the chicken salad, a fan of fruit salad, and then the tomato cups. Your platter is complete for a luncheon and a very pretty sight to behold! A hot muffin to accompany and a fragrant cup of tea or coffee completes the luncheon.*On the other hand, if you prefer salad bowls which the guests will serve themselves, here are ideas:*Greens: chunks of lettuce, watercress, sliced green onions, radishes.*Oranges: Use sections on a bed of curly endive or curly garden lettuce, with raspberries or strawberries for color.*Vegetables: Cooked green beans in lengthwise slices, carrots, raw or cooked, in silvers, cooked lima, chopped ham.*Fruits: Beds of lettuce, lengthwise slices of bananas, berries in season, cheese balls dipped in chopped nuts.*Dressing makes an important addition to salad, and many times this is left to your own preference. For, if you like, have the choice of two permitted for your guests. Save sugar in the little ways, is our motto, so here is one way to do it. This dressing uses molasses for sweetness.*Piquant French Dressing.*1/2 cup salad*1/2 cup vinegar*1/2 cup chili sauce*1/2 cup pure, dark molasses*1 teaspoon salt*1/2 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce*1 tablespoon onion, grated*Mix all ingredients together and beat thoroughly.*When you invite your friends over for salad and rolls for these luncheons, this may seem like so little, but it's guaranteed to make a hit if you do the little details up right. Have the salads crisp and cool and well blended. If having rolls, these should be piping hot for contrast. If you don't feel inspired to make rolls, then do other things like getting ready-made rolls and pretty them up:*Toasted Long Rolls: Split, butter and sprinkle with grated cheese. Pop into the oven until cheese melts. Serve hot.*Cheese Rings: Use day-old bread and cut rings with a doughnut cutter. Brush with butter or salad oil, dip in cheese, and bake in a moderate (350-degree) oven until golden brown.*Orange Biscuits: Add grated rind of orange to a baking powder biscuit recipe. Roll and cut. Dip a cube of sugar in orange juice and press into top of each biscuit. Bake in a hot oven 12 to 15 minutes.Lynn Chambers will be happy to give you advice on your luncheon or salad problems. Write to her at Western Newspaper Union, 210 South Desplaines Street, Chicago, Illinois. Please enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope for your reply.(Released by Western Newspaper Union.)*Official U. S. Treasury MICHIGAN WAR BOND QUOTAS FOR JUNE
