When Bishop Raymond J. Wade announced the appointment of pastors at the Detroit Methodist conference session held at Flint few changes were made in the ministerial assignments.

Summer Bible School Starts on June 29

For the third consecutive year the Rural Bible Missions will conduct an interdenominational Summer Bible School in Cass City. The opening session will be on Monday, June 29, at 9:00 a. m. As in the past, this school will be sponsored by the Cass City Baptist Church. Rev. and Mrs. Leland Conner of Vassar, representing the Rural Bible Missions, will direct the school.

The original schedule was to hold the school for two weeks, but due to the necessity of conserving tires, it was decided to shorten it to one week. Sessions will be held each morning, Monday through Friday, June 29-July 3, 9:00 to 11:45 o'clock. On Friday evening at eight o'clock, parents and friends will be invited to witness the work accomplished by the children.

Buses will be used to bring the children from the several rural schools in the outlying districts of the community. The local Nazarene Church is contributing the use of their two buses, which, together with the Baptist Church bus, will afford transportation.

Each school session will be divided into class periods, during which the children receive instruction in Bible memorizing, Bible drill, Bible stories with object lessons, chorus singing, and church conduct.

All children from primary to high school age are invited to attend.

A bountiful potluck dinner served in the beautiful garden adjoining the Spangler home, was followed by the annual meeting, with Velore Collins of Flint, president, presiding. It opened with prayer led by Elmer Atwell and followed by group singing of "God Bless America."

Sixth Rural School Closes to Send Pupils Here

Dickhout District Voters Decide to Change Methods at Meeting Monday.

Citizens of the Dickhout School of Grant Township voted unanimously at a meeting Monday evening to send their pupils to the Cass City Public School for instruction. The vote stood at 11 to 0. This is the second rural school to take this action this spring, the Heron School, also of Grant Township, making the decision early this spring.

This brings the total up to six rural districts in this section of the Thumb to close their schools and send pupils here.

A few others are sending their eighth grade students to Cass City and continuing the instruction of the other seven grades under a rural teacher.

Grangers Celebrated Two Wedding Anniversaries

An interesting and enjoyable meeting of the Cass City Grange was held Friday evening at the Bird schoolhouse, when Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Moore and Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Blades were hosts and hostesses. During the business meeting, a memorial service was in charge of the chaplain, Mrs. Walter Schell. Mrs. Schell was assisted by Flora, Mrs. Floyd Reid. As the name of each departed member, seven in number, was read, a small corsage was laid upon the table.

The program, with Mrs. Frank Hutchinson as chairman, followed. A truth or consequences program furnished a great deal of fun, all questions pertaining to sugar saving. Consequences were many and while some rode hobby horses, ate dry crackers and tried to sing, others performed stunts fully as amusing.

At the meeting Friday night, two wedding anniversaries were celebrated, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Schell's, whose anniversary was that day, and Mr. and Mrs. Elwood Eastman's that came on Thursday. The tables were very pretty with pink and white streamers and bouquets of pink and white roses. Friday was also the birthday of Mrs. Schell.

The July meeting of the club will be the annual picnic, the place to be announced later.

Alexander A. Ewing Killed in Action on May 8

His Parents Received Word of Death Friday from Navy Commander.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles W. Ewing received word Friday of the death of their son, Alexander A. Ewing, who was killed in action May 8 and buried at sea. The letter mailed from c/o Fleet Post Office, San Francisco, California, and from Washington, read:

ALEXANDER A. EWING.

It is with the deepest regret that I am writing to inform you of the loss of your son, Alexander A., killed in action on May 8, 1942.

Alex, a friendly, loyal and cheerful shipmate admired and respected by all, was a credit to his family and to his ship. How deeply his absence is felt by all who knew him cannot be expressed in this letter.

My sympathy and that of all his shipmates goes out to you in your great sorrow. Yours very truly, DIXIE KIEFER, Commander U. S. Navy, Commanding.

Alexander A. Ewing was born November 26, 1912, at Cumber, and when four years of age came with his parents to Cass City and attended Cass City Public School. Twelve years ago, he joined the United States Navy.

Saginaw Bay Bible Conference Set for July 4 Opening

The large tabernacle at Bay Shore Park, Sebewaing, will be the scene of the opening of the eighth annual Saginaw Bay Bible Conference on the Fourth of July.

The Fourth of July rally will be featured by the well known and popular radio speaker, Dr. John Zoller of Detroit, director of the "America Back to God" crusade so well known in the Thumb area, and Dr. R. L. Moyer of the Northwestern Bible and Missionary Training Institute, a speaker of national reputation and popular with young people. The "Cloud Club," a national organization of young people banded together for aggressive Christian living and service will be present with the organizer, the Rev. Cecil Dye, of Saginaw.

Among the outstanding speakers this year will be Roy L. Brown, one time business man of Detroit and well known for his ability as a Bible teacher with large charts of his own design; the Rev. Earl G. Griffith, D. D., of Johnson City, N. Y., president of the Baptist Bible Seminary; Harry McCormick Lintz of California, one of America's most powerful and popular evangelists; Fred Kendall of Detroit, converted Hebrew; and Al TerMeer, the returned missionary from Africa, with his thrilling accounts of his work in Nigeria.

The music will be in charge of Elton Crowell, gifted musician, whose wife will preside at the piano. This couple will have charge of the children's meetings.

The bride's gown was of white silk faille, fashioned in Southern Colonial style with bouffant skirt and short puffed sleeves, sweetheart waistline and drop shoulder effect, created by a fine net yoke. The back of the gown was fastened to the waist by small covered buttons. Pointed sleeves of white faille were fashioned in glove effect. The Colonial effect was further carried out in the bonnet type headpiece worn by the bride, from which fell her illusion veil of fingertip length. She carried a Colonial bouquet of snow-white rosebuds and sweet peas, centered by a white orchid with a fuschia throat. The bouquet was daintily tied with tufts of white moline and white satin ribbon.

For traveling, the bride chose a beige chamoise dressmaker suit with aqua blouse and brown accessories. She wore an orchid corsage. After a week's trip through northern Michigan, the couple will reside in Wyandotte.

Miss Elliott's gown was aquamarine, fashioned with a full skirt of tulle over taffeta, a bodice and peplum of sheer lace with small bows of tulle, and a sweetheart neckline. Her Colonial bouquet was of rosebuds, shattered carnations and sweet peas, in several tones of pink with a note of orchid.

The bridesmaids' gowns were the same as the maid-of-honor, in a flesh pink tone. Their slippers were a tint of orchid. Their Co.—Advertisement.

Columbia and Akron Townships Hit Hard by Rains

Beet Workers Spear Carp in Fields Where Water Stood 1 to 2 Feet High.

Akron and Columbia Townships appear to be the hardest hit by rains which have frequented Tuscola County the past month and severely damaged crops.

Friday morning's early down-pour filled ditches in the northern part of Akron Township, and in some places they overflowed into farm fields and in several places worked havoc to sugar beet plantings. Mexican beet workers in some parts of the township were spearfishing carp where water stood from one to two feet high in the fields.

In Unionville, several business men found water in their basements when they opened their stores Friday morning and considerable damage was done to merchandise stored there. The territory near the Pere Marquette Railroad Station in Unionville resembled a lake Friday morning with water standing a foot over the sidewalks of the village in that section.

Herb Streeter, rural mail carrier, residing a mile east and a half mile south of Unionville, lost a barn approximately 36 by 50 feet in size when it was struck by lightning at 6:00 a. m. Friday. Some machinery was also destroyed by fire.

250 Attend the Day-Bufe Wedding Here Saturday

Miss Virginia Janet Day, of Wyandotte, daughter of Mrs. Zora MacLarty Day, of Cass City, became the bride of Mr. Frederick Randolph Bufo, son of Mrs. Frederick N. Bufo, of Wyandotte, Saturday afternoon, June 20, at four o'clock, at the First Presbyterian Church, Cass City.

The bride was given in marriage by her brother, Lt. John A. Day, of Fort Knox, Ky. Miss Janet Elliott, of Sacramento, California, arrived Wednesday to assist her cousin as maid of honor, and Mrs. Warr Jackson of Detroit, and Miss Kathryn Paner of Flint were bridesmaids.

Miss Eleanor Bennick, friend of the bride, and organist of the First Congregational Church of Wyandotte, played an organ recital preceding the ceremony. Miss Gertrude Lindberg of Wyandotte sang "Ich Liebe Dich" by Edward Grieg, after which the bridal party proceeded to the altar to the strains of "The Wedding March" from Lohengrin. The Rev. Wendling Hastings, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church of Cass City, gave the invocation.

The Rev. Norman Jackson, pastor of the First Congregational Church of Wyandotte, read the marriage ceremony. Miss Lindberg then sang "The Lord's Prayer" by Mallott. Mendelssohn's "Recessional" was played at the end of the ceremony.

Mr. Robert Bufo of Patterson Field, Dayton, Ohio, was his brother's best man. Ushers were Mr. Otto Bufo of Detroit and Mr. James Uram of River Rouge. The bride's gown was of white silk faille, fashioned in Southern Colonial style with bouffant skirt and short puffed sleeves, sweetheart waistline and drop shoulder effect, created by a fine net yoke. The back of the gown was fastened to the waist by small covered buttons. Pointed sleeves of white faille were fashioned in glove effect. Receives Call to Federated Church at Lafayette, N. J.

Rev. Wendling H. Hastings, minister of the First Presbyterian Church in Cass City since 1939, has received a call to the pastorate of the Federated Church at Lafayette, New Jersey. Mr. Hastings' resignation will be considered at a special meeting of the local church next Monday evening.

The Federated Church at Lafayette is a union of the Presbyterian and Methodist Churches of that community.

"The tire shortage is bringing new opportunities to small towns," states the U. S. Department of Commerce in a 1942 manual.

Therein lies a timely story of one sector of the Michigan home front. Every cloud has its silver lining, and the current problem of automobile transportation is no exception.

Whether automobile rationing will be ordered July 15 or September 15 is pure speculation. Announcements of federal and state officials, as well as members of Congress, have been openly contradictory and utterly confusing, and it is not known yet to the public at least—whether Michigan is to curtail automobile transportation through gasoline rationing or to solve the problem through other devices.

Winning the war is the primary concern of every Michigan citizen. It is the A-1 activity of every Michigan town—those communities whose populations do not exceed 10,000.

Believing that a "community guide book" for war work would be a valuable contribution to Victory, the bureau of foreign and domestic commerce of the U. S. Department of Commerce recently undertook the compilation of what is now known officially as a "Small Town Manual." It is a Main Street Bible of war work, and as such it contains a wealth of timely and valuable suggestions.

"Talk it over" is the first suggestion. Call a meeting of town and farm leaders to consider a full-fledged war program for your town. A Sunday afternoon or a holiday would be convenient. Get a band to furnish lively and patriotic music. Ask one of your ministers to deliver a short invocation.

A time limit should be set, and Turn to page 2, please.

Rural Carriers to Assist in Collection of Old Rubber

Total of 36,561 Pounds Has Been Gathered Here in the Past Month.

Rural letter carriers from the Cass City Post Office will cooperate in the scrap rubber collection and will bring to local collection depots old rubber gathered by their patrons and left next to rural mail boxes.

Twelve thousand eight hundred seventy-five pounds of old rubber were left at Cass City gas stations within the past week. This brings the total collection of salvage rubber within the past month to 36,561 pounds.

Less than a week remains in the all-important, nation-wide scrap rubber collection campaign and all citizens are urged to make a still greater effort to assure the collection of every possible ounce of available scrap. The campaign ends June 30. All service stations in the nation have cooperated in the campaign by paying one cent a pound for all rubber turned in.

The state quota in the current campaign has been set at five pounds per capita, or 26,250,530 pounds.

A late announcement from the Consumer's Division of the OPA has requested that rubber over-shoes and galoshes, either singly or in pairs, that are at all usable, be withheld from the scrap pile. The reason for this request is that in the near future pooling centers will be established for the exchange of these articles which will be urgently needed by the public.

Prieskorn Heads Cass City Rotary Club

Otto Prieskorn was chosen president of the Cass City Rotary Club Tuesday to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of A. C. Atwell. A. J. Knapp was elected vice president. Other officers who were elected in April, are: Secretary, Keith McConkey; treasurer, Leslie Townsend; sergeant-at-arms, A. J. Knapp; directors, E. L. Schwaderer, Arthur Little and William Miller.

Rotarian William Miller was the luncheon speaker and told of his experiences as chief engineer of tests and investigator of claims in the employ of the ordinance department of the U. S. Government from 1918 to 1921.

The Cass City club will attend an inter-city meeting of Rotary clubs at Bad Axe next Monday.

Dugald Krug's campaign for letters to the boys in service promises to produce results among Rotary members. At Tuesday's luncheon, he passed out slips to club members giving the names of young men from this community in the army or navy. Each Rotarian is to send a letter or card to the person thus assigned to him. Later on, the remaining name slips will be distributed in a similar manner and other messages are to be written.

Placing Farm Workers in Tuscola

The Caro office of the United States Employment Service announced that satisfactory results are being shown by the Tuscola County Farm Labor Placement Board in obtaining and placing farm workers.

Due largely to the efforts of Willis Campbell, principal of the Cass City High School and local representative of the board, a large number of workers have been placed thus far. However, unless additional help is obtained soon, it is estimated that the sugar beet crop will suffer considerable damage due to the recent heavy rains.

Mr. Campbell urges all farmers to advise him of their labor needs and also anyone available for either temporary or full time farm work to register with him. Persons fourteen years of age or over, male or female, are eligible for employment on farms and prevailing wages will be paid for all services rendered. It is hoped the citizens of Tuscola County will assist in averting the threatening crop disaster which would mean so much to our war effort.

Mr. Campbell can be contacted at his home in Cass City or by calling phone number 231.

Our Job Is to Save Dollars
Buy War Bonds Every Pay Day

enforced, on all speakers. Care should be used to include farm leaders who can discuss from the rural viewpoint what farmers might do in a cooperative effort.

Problems are numerous, it goes without emphasizing, and here are some of them:
Farm labor shortage, town labor shortage, transportation difficulties, salvage and scrap collection, shortage of machinery and parts, use of idle machines, plants and equipment, migration of skilled workers from your town, purchase of war bonds and stamps and housing of war workers.

For example, a farm labor shortage may or may not exist. It is a waste of time to speculate about it. Members of the Grange, 4-H Clubs, Farm Bureau and other farm groups can secure estimates from each of their own members, and each member can gather the information from four or five neighbors. In this way a town war plan can act intelligently on facts of your local situation.
Townsmen may be willing to give a few days to helping farmers get in the crop. Such a cooperative arrangement has been made by many Michigan towns—Vassar, Fowlerville, and Tecumseh being a few illustrations.

Salvage and scrap. Talk about the home front! Here is a direct challenge to Main Streets—collection of worn out wires, scrap iron, old broken machinery, and other vitally needed products for war production.

How about the old unused canning jars? Home canning and preservation should be encouraged to the fullest during the war. Women of each church, members of the Women's Club, or the Parent-Teachers' Association might sponsor a drive in the town war plan to round up all unused canning jars and get them into the hands of folks who will use them.

The home battlefield consists of many obvious and commonplace things.

Tapping sugar maple trees in a community "sugar bush" project is one of many possibilities. Victory Gardens are popular. Cold storage lockers may help to preserve fresh fruits for winter dinners.

Because glycerine is needed for making gun powder, housewives are urged to save their bacon drippings and fat. These can be collected at a central point and sold to the nearest rendering company. The local butcher can give you the information.

The money obtained from the sale can be used to provide prizes for war effort, purchase war stamps, or help the Red Cross or U. S. O.

Nutrition has soared into national prominence since the selective service authorities disclosed the regrettable fact that one-third of the men declared unfit for military service have had defects which could be traced either directly or indirectly to faulty nutrition.

Even the kitchen becomes a part of the home battlefield!

The women of your town will want to know more what kinds of food to buy, how to cook it so as to get the most nourishment, and how to keep it so it will retain its nutritive value.

Sewing bees is just another possibility, suggested by the U. S. Department of Commerce. Since wool is needed for our army, housewives may relapse coats, cut down adult's garments for children, re-knit sweaters, retrim dresses, and use the needle and thread to make and remodel family clothing at a minimum of expense and material.
Old used wool can be used again to make new warm woollens. Don't throw away any woolen garments no matter how badly worn.

Farm income is up. In 1939 the average farm family's income totaled $1,443; last year, $1,628, and 1943 it may reach $2,265.

"You probably will never again have as good a chance as now to improve business in your town," states the "Small Town Manual." "The tire shortage is bringing new opportunities to small towns. People can now be influenced easier than ever before to shop at home. Make sure that farm families choose your town rather than some other one to do their trading in."

There is the silver lining—and the big challenge. But a plan is needed. And when it comes to promotion, remember Burnham's often quoted advice, "Make no small plans—they have no power to stir men's minds." Such a community program, carefully conceived and consistently supported, may contribute much right at home in helping to win the war as well as improving business.

Vampire Bat

The vampire bat, like its unlovable relatives, does not get around much in the daytime. It is built for night work and is a crack flier, seldom bumping into anything, even in the tangled jungle. When the sun comes up the vampire gets back to its cave, hangs upside down and sleeps until darkness comes again.

What Octane Is

The knock characteristics of a gasoline are considered to be among its most important properties. This is indicated by its octane number. The higher the octane number the less apt the gasoline is to ping or knock in climbing hills.

...HOW THE

"Surge Recorder" helps improve your

ELECTRIC SERVICE

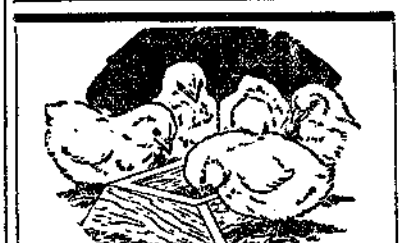

Because lightning is a frequent cause of trouble on electric transmission lines, the more we know about lightning the better we can develop safeguards against it... and the fewer times lightning will damage the lines and equipment that serve you.

Lightning "surges" travel along transmission lines like a wave in water. The wave rolls along until it strikes a sharp cliff, then dashes high and breaks over it. Similarly, a lightning surge moves along a line until it hits an obstruction—a transformer, generator, terminal substation or whatnot—and may then "flash over" the object that blocks its path. Lightning surges have entered substations and powerhouses, blown up switches, starting disastrous fires and destroying equipment. So it is important that we know as much as possible about the whims of lightning.

The small black box shown above houses a "Surge Recorder" used to measure the currents that flow in a lightning stroke. It is installed on some of the 24,000-volt lines of The Detroit Edison Company. Simply described, it works as follows: A piece of waxed paper is inserted in a gap between two copper blocks. A lightning "surge" jumps the gap, puncturing the paper and leaving a small hole. By measuring the size of the hole, the size of the lightning current may be determined, and valuable data collected on the nature of these destructive surges that wreak havoc on our lines.

The Surge Recorder is one of many developments that are "all in a day's work"—improvements designed to bring you better electric service at lower cost. The two go hand-in-hand. During the last twenty years, the average price per kilowatt-hour paid by our residence customers for electricity has dropped 46 per cent. The Detroit Edison Company.

GET YOUR SCRAP RUBBER INTO THE BIG SCRAP: HURRY!

Your country needs every bit of old rubber you can dig up... and it may avert gas rationing!

NATION-WIDE
Scrap rubber drive
ends next Tuesday
JUNE 30

* PRESIDENT ROOSEVELT has asked every American to get into this Scrap Rubber Drive. Here's a real opportunity for you to help speed the day of victory. Turn in your old rubber and help "give the Axe to the Axis."

And also remember, this drive may avert gasoline rationing. The need for this rationing in the Middle West is based not on a shortage of gasoline but on a need to save tires for possible future war use. If enough scrap rubber is provided by this drive, nation-wide rationing of gasoline may be avoided.

The petroleum industry has offered its thousands of service stations as convenient collection points during the drive. When you bring your scrap rubber to your Standard Oil Dealer, or to any other service station, the rubber will be weighed and you'll get your money at that time.

No oil company will receive one penny profit for this service. Each will turn the collected scrap rubber over to the government and be paid for it at the rate of $25 per ton (2000 pounds). The difference between the amount we pay and the amount Uncle Sam pays us has been pledged to the USO, Navy Relief, Army Relief, and American Red Cross.

The success of this drive—the ability of Uncle Sam to avoid the necessity of gasoline rationing—may well depend on the cooperation of every patriotic citizen. Get in the scrap rubber!

Don't delay! Bring the rubber today to your Standard Oil Dealer or Agent. He will pay you 1¢ a pound for your reclaimable rubber, such as: tires, tubes, boots, rubbers, hot water bottles, garden hose—anything made of rubber.

Whistle Stop

Having arranged an all-night fishing contest the local angling club went to the village inn until the time came to start.

At closing time they took up their tackle and moved off with dignity through the darkness to the bridge selected.

Seating themselves in comfort, they cast their lines over the parapet and fished steadily till the gray dawn was breaking.

Then, with a roar, the first morning train passed under the bridge.

ROLL OF HONOR War Heroes Decorated

One of the greatest heroes of the present war is Lieut. Edward H. O'Hare, who received the nation's highest military award, the Congressional Medal of Honor, when singlehanded he shot down five Japanese bombers and damaged another in one aerial encounter off the Gilbert Islands. O'Hare was decorated at the White House while a guest of President Roosevelt. He is a graduate of Annapolis.

Lieut. John D. Bulkeley, torpedo boat hero responsible for the destruction of at least seven Japanese ships, has been commended by ranking naval officials for "executing his mission successfully." Bulkeley was in charge of a motor torpedo boat that entered Binanga bay, Philippine islands, and torpedoed an enemy vessel of 5,000 tons. His mosquito boat was under the fire of machine guns and shore batteries.

Donald F. Mason, navy ensign, was awarded the Distinguished Flying Cross and Silver Star for sinking two submarines in the Atlantic area. His first sinking came when he dropped depth bombs on a submerged submarine. He reported the sinking with his famous message: "Sighted sub, sank same." Several weeks later he sighted another sub on the surface and destroyed it with depth charges. He has been in the navy since 1935.

Capt. H. T. Wheelless was awarded the Distinguished Service Cross for bravery in the western Pacific. The army Flying Fortress under command of Wheelless, became separated from its combat force and fought a running battle with 18 Jap pursuit planes for 75 miles, shooting down 11 of them, outdistancing the remainder, and landing safely although the plane was almost out of control. Two of the plane's engines were gone.

THESE VANDALS IN CREAM DAMAGE ITS GOODNESS

Bacteria are so very tiny that many thousands of them could be put on the period at the end of this sentence, yet the farmer must wage a continuous battle against them lest they deprive him of his livelihood.

The production of cream is a perfect example of this struggle. From the time the farmer draws the milk from his cow's udder until the minute he delivers the cream to the creamery or his cream buyer, he must be alert every minute lest bacteria get the upper hand, outsmart him and nullify the hours of care and attention he has invested in his product.

In the case of cream, the farmer must be doubly alert. For here he is dealing with a product which contains a small number of bacteria even as it comes from the cow's udder. Exposure to air causes these bacteria to multiply rapidly and unless this process is halted the product soon becomes unsuitable for food.

This is the reason dairy authorities urge farmers to separate the milk immediately after milking and then quickly cool the cream. Quick cooling puts a stop to the multiplication of the bacteria and preserves the quality of the cream.

But most of the bacteria which appear in milk get there after it is drawn from the cow. Carelessness in milking or insufficient attention to cleanliness are the principal reasons for the presence of this second batch of bacteria (illustrated above). Dust, loose hair, imperfectly cleaned utensils are among the principal external sources of bacteria. Once the causes are understood, the remedies suggest themselves. Milking a clean cow with clean, dry hands, the use of a seamless, hooded pail, with perhaps a filter-type strainer for further protection provides the complete answer, according to these same dairy authorities.

TURNING THE TABLES

The employer remonstrated when one of the employees asked for an increase in salary on the ground that he worked too hard.

"Why," protested the employer, "you have an easy time. Look There are 365 days in a year. Eight hours each day you sleep. That makes 122 days, leaving 243 days. Eight hours of every day you have all to yourself. That leaves 121 days. I give you an hour for lunch every day and that amounts to 15 days or more, leaving 106. You do not work on Sundays—52 more days off, leaving 54. You get Saturday afternoons off—another 26 days, leaving 28 days. You have two weeks holiday every summer and you take off about a week for sickness. Only seven days a year to work. Why should I give you a raise? You owe me money!"

AND THE KIDS

"Morning, Brown, how's every-thing at home?"

"The wife's well, thank you."

Setto Voce

Not long after he was appointed to the Supreme court, the late Justice Cardozo received an honorary degree from Williams college. When the exercises were over, he walked about the grounds with a few acquaintances. One member of the group took out a pack of cigarettes and offered him one. With a polite shake of the head, Cardozo declined.

"I suppose," said one man, smiling slyly, "that justices of the Supreme court have no bad habits?"

"None," agreed the eminent jurist, "that people know of."

Turnover

"How's business, Sam?" a Negro asked a friend.

"Lawdy, man, business am sho' good. Ah's bought a mule fo' ten dollars, swapped it fo' a bicycle, swapped dat fo' a mangle, swapped de mangle fo' a bedstead, an' Ah sold de bedstead fo' ten dollars."

"But," protested the friend, "yo' ain't made nothin' on the turnover."

"No, dat's right," admitted Sam, "but look at de business Ah's done!"

Sweet Mystery

Boogy and Woogy were driving along the highway one day when they came to a grade crossing with the usual sign: "Stop, Look and Listen." Said Boogy: "Woogy, those three innocent little words illustrate the whole scheme of human life."

Woogy queried: "How so?" Boogy replied: "You see a pretty girl. You stop. You look—and after that you marry her and have to listen all the rest of your days."

Postponed

The daughter of the house arrived home one night looking very sad.

"Whatever's the matter?" asked her mother.

"Oh, I thought John loved me," the girl explained, "but now I know he's not going to propose—at least for some time."

"How do you know?" asked her mother.

"Because he sent me a big box of stationery with my initials on it—and there's enough to last for six months."

And Good Night

Sam was employed in a village shop. He was completing his duties one night when his master's voice sounded from the head of the stairs.

"Sam, have you sanded the sugar?"

"Yes."

"And watered the milk?"

"Yes."

"Well, then, come upstairs for evening prayers."

FIRST AID ERRORS

One of the jokes of 20 years ago was the expression "the patient has had all his teeth removed but he still has his rheumatism." This "joke" died a natural death because while the removal of infected teeth sometimes stirred up the poisons around the teeth and these poisons increased the rheumatic pain, nevertheless within six weeks to six months in the majority of cases, there was actually complete or partial relief from pain. As this has occurred in so many cases, jokes about the teeth going but not the rheumatism are now seldom heard.

It would appear that some of our jokesmiths are now making fun of those who are taking courses in first aid to the injured. Thus a recent newspaper item recounted the experience of a group of first aid students who set a supposed fractured leg. After the leg was splinted, in attempting to place the victim in an ambulance, he fell off the stretcher and did break his leg. In placing him inside the ambulance, his head was outside the ambulance door a couple of inches and in closing the ambulance door his head received a concussion. He thus arrived at the hospital with a fractured leg and a head concussion. The item ended with the remark that "with a little more training this group could be sent against the enemy."

While most of us know how to splint a broken bone, stop bleeding, and treat shock, there is sometimes a lack of knowledge shown in handling head injuries. As almost 50 per cent of fatal traffic accidents show concussion—blow on head which shocks or shakes the brain without fracturing the skull—just what should or should not be done is important.

Dr. C. J. Potthoff, Minneapolis, in the Journal of the American Medical Association states that whether there is concussion or a stroke of apoplexy the care should be:

1. Keep the victim quiet. 2. Raise the head somewhat if the face is red; keep it level if the face is pale. 3. Give the victim no stimulants. 4. Apply an ice cap if available to his head.

We should try to remember these simple rules regarding head injuries.

Anxiety Is Cause Of Many Symptoms

A patient consulting a physician for the first time had a rapid heart beat, complained of indigestion and inability to sleep, had lost weight and was extremely nervous. The physician had the patient rest for a few minutes and gave him a magazine to read. However, when a second examination was made the patient still had the rapid heart beat and nervousness. The physician naturally suspected early goiter, but a metabolism test showed that while the body processes were working at a higher rate than normal, they were almost within the normal limits.

The physician then asked the straight question, "Have you anything on your mind; are you worrying about anything?"

The patient admitted that he was in a constant state of worry.

The physician then explained to him that the tenseness caused by worry and anxiety could cause all the symptoms present. The heart rate would increase, the stomach movements would be irregular and perhaps stop for minutes at a time, the nerves would be on edge, and spastic constipation or diarrhoea could result.

It would be well to recall the findings in 10 cases of Dr. Gilbert M. Beck, Buffalo General hospital, as recorded some months ago in the New York State Journal of Medicine. There is not a typical symptom or combination of symptoms of goiter that has not been observed in typical anxiety neurosis. It is caused by guilt, fear, or feeling of insecurity in the nervous or emotional type of individual. For instance, after a nervous or emotional upset such as a disturbing dream, the heart pounds, misses beats, and there is breathlessness, stomach and intestine disturbances, sweats, tremblings, head noises, weakness and feelings of warmth and cold.

QUESTION BOX

Q.—I have had two X-rays of my chest and nothing showed, but I get so many head colds that I keep worrying about getting tuberculosis of the lungs.

A.—As X-ray shows no sign of tuberculosis you should not worry. However, if you have the "other" signs—gradual loss of weight, tiredness, rise in temperature—get examination by your physician and dentist as some infection may be present.

250 ATTEND THE DAY-BUFE WEDDING HERE SATURDAY

Concluded from first page. lional bouquets were the same as the maid of honor, tied with a touch of aqua.

The bride's attendants each wore a single strand of tiny pearls, which were gifts of the bride.

Mrs. Day chose for her daughter's wedding a flesh peach gown of lace and chiffon. Her small flowered hat was of the same tone. She wore a corsage of white and delphinium, tied with peach.

The groom's mother was gowned in soft, green crepe with white accessories. Her corsage was of vari-colored roses, sweet peas, and gladioli blooms, tied in rose shades with a knot of green.

The altar was simply but beautifully banked with syringa blooms and white roses.

The reception in the church parlors for the 250 guests was held immediately following the ceremony. Mrs. Roy Briggs of St. Johns, Michigan, presided at the punch bowl and Mrs. William Eddy of Detroit, served the bride's cake. The refreshment table was attractively covered with a hand crocheted table cloth, centered with the five-tiered white bride's cake, which was ornamented by real white rosebuds and flesh tinted sweet peas.

Churchill-Roosevelt Meetings Presage New Action on Second European Front; Mediterranean Naval Battles Indicate Rising Anglo-American Air Strength

(EDITOR'S NOTE—When opinions are expressed in these columns, they are those of the news analyst and not necessarily of this newspaper.)
Released by Western Newspaper Union.

CHURCHILL: Third Meeting

For the third time within a year Prime Minister Churchill and President Roosevelt met face to face to discuss war problems, when the British statesman arrived unheralded in Washington for a series of conferences. Their first meeting occurred last August aboard ship and resulted in the Atlantic charter. The second was Mr. Churchill's visit to Washington last December after America's entry into the war. It resulted in the declaration by the United Nations.

This third meeting, following closely on Russian Foreign Minister Molotov's historic conferences in Washington recently, promised momentous consequences in the prosecution of the war. Two matters of pressing need—the opening of a second European front and further steps to curb dangerously rising Allied ship losses by Axis submarines—faced the two leaders.

Another leader of the United Nations to reach American shores was Queen Wilhelmina of Holland.

REDS VS. NAZIS

History Repeats?

Balaclava, famed site of Tennyson's poem, "The Charge of the Light Brigade," took its place in modern battle headlines as Hitler had rammed his massed power against the defenses of Sevastopol's fortifications.

The Crimean fishing port—Balaclava—where the legendary charge by the British occurred in 1854, was a fierce point of contention between the Russ and Nazi forces in the battle for control of the western Black sea coast.

Possession of the Sevastopol naval base was vital to the hard-pressed Russians, for it represented a powerful barrier to the approaches of the Caucasus oil fields—a prize which would give the Nazis coveted oil and bulwark their war effort.

To the north in the Ukraine, where the Nazis were attempting to straighten out their long circular line at Kharkov, battles raged doggedly, with Red army communications reporting successful counterattacks.

FATS AND OILS:

Housewives Contribute

Frying pans, pots and roasters in millions of American homes yielded up a harvest of fat as the national program to salvage grease and oils from the nation's kitchens got under way.

Fats collected in this household campaign will be used in making glycerine an important element in explosives manufacture. Meat markets everywhere will be collection agencies where housewives will deposit the salvaged fat. Butchers will then turn the fat over to the renderers.

In Chicago where a fat salvage program has been in progress for months past, it was reported that collections averaged 50,000 pounds weekly.

AUSTRALIA:

Japs Still Menace

Lest his countrymen be lulled into a belief that the battle of the Coral sea had removed all danger of a Jap invasion, Prime Minister John Curtin of Australia held aloft a warning finger. Declaring that "Australia can be lost," he declared if the commonwealth fell to Nippon, that Hawaii and the entire North American coast would lie open to Japanese attack and west coast cities would be in danger.

MEDITERRANEAN:

Axis Gamble Fails

As the swiftly moving battle for world naval supremacy shifted to the Mediterranean, Germany and Italy had made a supreme gamble by throwing every available airplane, submarine, torpedo boat and virtually the entire Italian fleet into an effort to knock out the British forces. The stakes were the strategic convoy routes supplying Axis-manned Tobruk and Malta.

That the Axis gamble had failed was due in part to the timely intervention of United States army heavy bombers which made their Mediterranean debut by scoring 35 direct bomb hits on two Italian warships, setting them afire and sending the whole force of 15 Italian warships scurrying home to port.

The epic sea and air fighting centered around two heavily laden British convoys—one leaving Alexandria for Tobruk and the other leaving Gibraltar for Malta. Both carried badly needed supplies for hard-pressed British garrisons.

In two days of death-struggle fighting, the British and Americans beat off Axis attacks, shepherded the convoys safely to their destinations, sank or damaged seven Italian warships and shot down 33 planes.

LIBYAN FRONT:

Nazi Fox

With the Suez canal as his eventually hoped-for goal, foxy Nazi General Erwin Rommel continued his harassing thrust against the British forces in Libya.

Whether Rommel's dream of a drive to the Suez and a possible link with Japanese forces pushing west would ever materialize depended on how stout was the British resistance. Tobruk, recently reinforced by a huge British convoy, was the immediate target. The tide of battle had surged back and forth, with the Nazi desert force registering a superiority in tanks and anti-tank strength. Hope for the British lay in receiving further supplies and replacements and in a wearing down of Nazi power due to its sustained exertions.

The seriousness of the Libyan situation was evident from the fact that the Axis offensive succeeded in splitting the British army—one force withdrawing to Tobruk to make a stand while the other withdrew to positions near Egypt.

ARMY PAY:

$50 for Bucks

Uncle Sam prepared to add at least $20 more per month to the pay check of every enlisted man in the nation's armed forces, when President Roosevelt signed legislation granting the first general military pay increase in 20 years. Non-commissioned officers, "shave-tails" and ensigns shared in the raise.

American soldiers and sailors thus became the highest paid fighting men in the world. The lowest grades—buck privates and apprentice seamen—will receive $50 a month, as against $30 formerly.

Officers above the rank of second lieutenant or ensign got no pay raises, but were allowed boosts in their subsistence and rental allowances.

One result was hoped for by sponsors of the new legislation—that was to eliminate recruiting competition between the army and navy. It had been charged that the navy had been in better position to obtain recruits since it could offer more attractive ratings. The uniform pay schedule would, it was believed, equalize the appeal of all services.

AIRCRAFT CARRIERS:

Lessons Learned

Lessons learned in the battles of the Coral sea, Midway island and the struggle for the Aleutian islands were applied by the house naval affairs committee when it approved an $8,500,000,000 expansion bill projecting a "five-ocean navy." For a definite swing to sea airpower was discernible in the bill's provisions calling for immediate construction of 500,000 tons of aircraft carriers, while postponing the construction of five 60,000-ton super-battleships.

This trend was the immediate result of the smashing blows dealt Japanese seapower in recent weeks by American airplane carriers and their accompanying forces. It was tacit recognition that a revolution in naval tactics has occurred as a result of the battles in the Pacific.

In place of the postponed battleships, the navy will rush construction of more than a score of aircraft carriers with escort vessels and submarines. Scheduled to be completed within a year, they will be distributed among naval forces in all areas in which Axis fleets are operating.

CHINA:

Japs Push On

As Jap armies drove deeper into China and two pincer columns were converging on the strategic 450-mile Chekiang-Kiangsi railroad, the China high command appealed again for an Allied blow that would divert the steadily mounting power of the enemy's invasion.

Discouraging news was made public in the announcement that Shanghai, an important station on the line and capital of Kiangsi province, had fallen.

With all highway sources cut off by the Japanese, China had to depend on giant American cargo planes to deliver supplies for her embattled armies. This trickle would have to be augmented to a full-scale flow of supplies if effective resistance was to continue by Chiang Kai-shek's armies.

PEACE TECHNIQUE

'Cooling Off'

A clue to post-war peace table technique was disclosed by Sumner Welles, undersecretary of state, when he advocated a "cooling off" period after the war before final terms are made.

In effect, the American statesman urged that both the victor and vanquished plan together and prepare an equitable settlement that would preclude future wars.

SUMNER WELLES

Speaking before a United Nations rally, Welles declared co-operation is no less essential in maintaining peace than in winning a war.

"The final terms of peace," he said, "should wait until the immediate tasks of the transition period—after the defeat of the Axis powers—have been completed and final judgments can be coolly and rationally rendered."

VICHY FRANCE:

'Discontent Grows'

Somber were the words 88-year-old Marshal Petain spoke to the French people on the second anniversary of his nation's military collapse.

Admitting that his recovery program had suffered many setbacks, the aged chief of state declared that "discontent is growing" and warned that the government must undertake sterner measures of punishment to stamp out unrest, public anger and greed.

Petaim made no reference to Pierre Laval in his brief radio speech, although he had declared recently that he and Laval are going along "hand in hand and in complete understanding."

Not only the opposition of the people, but a "slack and sometimes incapable administration" by the government was blamed by the Marshal for present conditions.

MISCELLANY:

VICTORIA: Canadian air force squadrons and Canadian anti-aircraft units have been operating for some days with the United States force in Alaska, it was reported by Lieut. Gen. Kenneth Stuart, chief of the Canadian general staff. This marked the first time in World War II Canadian forces have taken part in any operations with the United States army.

Oak Bluff Breezes.

Weddings come to Oak Bluff, too. Last week-end, Miss Mary Belle Grant became the bride of Mr. Walter Willets of Bay City. Mrs. Willets is one of our most enthusiastic residents. She has her degree from Ypsilanti Normal and has taught for a number of years in Detroit where she lives. Mr. Willets is a graduate of the University of Michigan College of Engineering and is a building contractor. The newlyweds will spend the summer on the ocean front at Newport News, Virginia, where Mr. Willets has a contract for a housing project for the government. Mr. Willets seems to be as interested in Oak Bluff as Mary Belle and has already added some new features to the cottage including an outdoor grill and equipment. We shall miss the Willets this summer but expect to see them in the fall and till then good wishes and best of luck.

Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Ballard and son, Freddie, were here from Saturday until Monday morning. Charles bids fair to becoming quite a carpenter and little Freddie seems to enjoy it too. We are glad to see Mrs. Ballard completely recovered from her serious accident of last fall.

Mrs. Alex Maxwell entertained her church group last Wednesday in the usual style to which they are accustomed, that is unusually good food, and if we are any judge, Mrs. Maxwell has some of the finest varieties of peonies in her garden that we have seen in some time.

Dr. J. E. Wurm was in Detroit on Saturday on business.

E. R. Wilson is finding a little more leisure for his cottage this season as the J. W. Knapp Co. are not opening their store on Monday until noon and keeping open that evening for defense workers to shop. This week-end Mr. Wilson's father accompanied him to the cottage to celebrate Father's Day.

Kenneth Wickware spent the week-end at Eutopia. Ken comes and goes like the Arabs in the night. Suddenly, we are delighted to see that he is here but as suddenly he is gone again.

The swimmers are enjoying the sport these days and the water has been fine.

The Stephenson boys have been in Myrtle Holmes cottage this week and with their friends seem to have a very good time.

Bicycling continues and the enthusiasm grows. We wonder if Henry Ford would loan us his ten passenger tandem bike from Greenfield Village as we understand a speed of 60 miles can be reached with that machine.

Next week-end will be Independence Day holiday. Inasmuch as this date falls on Saturday allowing a two-day holiday we hope to see all the cottages open and hope many will stay for many days. It is probable that the annual stockholders' meeting will be held during this time and a good attendance is anticipated. More definite information on this will follow by mail to members.

Miss Margaret McKenzie of Muskegon and Kalamazoo is expected this week as guest of her aunt, Mrs. Hitchcock, for the summer.

DEFORD NEWS

Smith-Russell Nuptials—

A marriage of interest to many Deford and Novesta Township residents is that of Miss Vera Jean Smith, granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Retherford, of this place. The following story about the wedding is taken from a Kalamazoo newspaper:

"The First Baptist Church was the scene of the wedding of Miss Vera Jean Smith of Kalamazoo, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Mark H. Smith, Kodiak, Alaska, and Norman Russell of Jackson, Fla., son of Mr. and Mrs. George Russell, Battle Creek, at 2:30 Sunday afternoon, June 14. Dr. T. Thomas Wylie, church pastor, read the service, music for which was presented by Miss Margaret Horn, Carson City.

"The bride was attired in a white lace gown fashioned floor-length and her veil of white lace fell fingertip length. She carried a showy bouquet of white snapdragons and white rosebuds. As the bride's only attendant, Miss June Selden, Pontiac, wore a floor-length gown of green chiffon and carried an old fashioned bouquet. Howard Williams, Battle Creek, performed the duties of best man.

"Following the service, guests were received at a reception at the home of the bride's uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Mason, Newell Place. Out-of-town guests present included Mrs. Howard Retherford, Deford, Mr. and Mrs. George Russell and Gordon Russell, Battle Creek, and Mrs. Elmer Sumner, Ferry. Other guests were present from Midland, Grand Rapids, Detroit and Battle Creek.

"Mr. and Mrs. Russell left immediately for Jackson, Fla., where they will reside. For traveling, she wore a green linen suit and matching accessories.

"Mrs. Russell was graduated from Western Michigan College. Mr. Russell attended Western Michigan College, leaving in his senior year to take the position as instructor in airplane construction and repair in the United States Navy."
