Cass City Sand and Gravel Co. to Give Sand to Fight Bombs Here.

The whistle at the plant of the Nestle's Milk Products, Inc., at Cass City will be used in sounding air raid warnings. Several short blasts will announce the beginning of a blackout and a long blast will sound the "all clear" signal. The village siren will not be used for the reason that it might be confused with a fire alarm, says R. D. Keating, zone vice chairman.

The Cass City Sand and Gravel Company has offered to furnish sand without cost to residents of this community for fighting incendiary bombs. Sand shoveled on the bomb cuts off its supply of oxygen and reduces the flame. The village truck will deliver the sand to residences and business places in the village on Tuesday, July 14. Citizens are requested to place baskets at the curb so that it will be convenient to leave the sand without any delay. Persons in the outlying rural district may secure the sand at the pit.

Air raid wardens and fire wardens of this community will have a meeting for instruction at the school building here this (Friday) evening.

A trial blackout to embrace all five counties of the Thumb of Michigan—Tuscola, Huron, Sanilac, Lapeer and St. Clair—will darken this area between 10:30 and 10:45 p. m., Sunday, July 19.

Of this amount, 12,547 pounds were reported by oil companies here within the past week. Their service stations have been used as collection depots during the campaign.

Woiden-MacCallum Nuptials at Pontiac

A quiet wedding was solemnized at the home of Rev. and Mrs. A. E. J. E. Bruce attended as best man. Following the ceremony, a dinner was served at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Bruce, Rochester, after which the couple left on a short motor trip. They will reside in Cass City where Mr. MacCallum is employed at the Nestle's Milk Products, Inc., plant.

Chain Stores Are Selling War Stamps

In the list of retailers who have war stamps on sale at their places of business as published in the Chronicle last week, the names of the Great Atlantic and Pacific Tea Company and the Kroger Grocery Company were not printed. The omission was unintentional on the part of the committee in charge who gave the list to this newspaper.

These two chain stores have been selling war stamps for several months here.

Let's go over the top in the War Chest Drive! Do your part now!

IF THE BOMBS COME

Prepare for a Raid Now

- 1 Clear the attic of all inflammable articles—Excelsior, waste paper, cardboard boxes, etc. Reduce to a minimum all attic storage of furniture or other objects which would hinder quick access to the whole attic in case of fire.
- 2 Have ready and at hand a rake, a shovel and at least a pailful of sand. Garden hose may be useful if the nozzle is equipped to throw a fine spray, and if you have a nearby connection in the house.
- 3 Have you the right kind of fire extinguisher? Take it to a fire station and ask whether it is suitable for use on incendiary bombs. If approved, use it on the bomb as directed. Otherwise use it on the fire around the bomb.
- 4 Prepare a refuge room where you may be as quiet and comfortable as possible during a raid. This should be in the basement, provided there are at least two exits (stairways, coal chute, large windows, etc.) It should contain a couch or cot, chairs, drinking water, candles, matches, blankets and perhaps a portable radio (preferably battery operated)—in fact anything to make you comfortable for a stay of an hour or so. Toilet facilities are also desirable.
- 5 Co-operate with your neighborhood air-raid warden. Accept his advice. Ask his suggestions.

During a Raid

- 1 Stay home. Your family and children are safer at work and in school.
- 2 Keep calm and cool.
- 3 Put out or screen all lights, when instructed.
- 4 Turn off lighted stove burners, but not the pilot light.
- 5 Keep away from windows. Don't look out. You may be hurt by shattered glass or an explosion on the street.
- 6 Go to the refuge room, or at least a floor above or below the street. Bombs explode at the street level. The basement is safest.

7 Do not telephone. The telephone lines will be needed. Your call might hinder the saving of a life.

Fighting the Incendiary

The most common type of incendiary bomb is made of magnesium and thermite, which may burn for fifteen minutes at intense heat. It will ordinarily crash through the roof onto the attic or upper floor. Do not approach the bomb for at least one and one-half minutes.

- 1 Shovel sand on the bomb. This cuts off its supply of oxygen, and reduces the flame.
- 2 SPRAY water (not a stream) on the bomb. This will cause it to burn out in one-third the normal time.
- 3 Put out flames on walls and floor with water or extinguisher.
- 4 Carry the bomb outdoors if possible. When the sand has subdued its burning, slide a shovel under the bomb, or rake it onto the shovel, and lift it into a pail which has two or three inches of sand in the bottom. Stick the shovel through the bucket handle and walk with the bucket in front of you.
- 5 Keep doors and windows closed. Prevent the spread of fire.
- 6 Search the building for incendiary bombs. An incendiary might be a "dud" or it might not burn the moment it strikes.

After the Raid

- 1 Stay indoors.
- 2 Don't telephone.
- 3 Turn on your radio. It will soon carry instructions.
- 4 Obey instructions of policemen, firemen or air-raid wardens.
- 5 Do not congregate around fire or explosion scenes. You may hamper the saving of life.

Surprised on 86th Birthday

Mrs. James Maharg was completely surprised Tuesday evening, June 30, when several members of her family gathered at the home of her son, Alfred Maharg, in celebration of her 86th birthday. Besides Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Maharg, those present were Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Maharg, Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Townsend, children, Betty and Tommy, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Maharg, son, Bobby, Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Dodge and Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Maharg. A potluck supper was enjoyed and Mrs. Maharg received many gifts.

Mrs. Maharg, the former Mary Gray, was born at Laurel, Ontario, June 30, 1856, and was united in marriage with James Maharg on January 9, 1878, at Orangeville, Ontario. They came to Cass City December 12, 1880, and settled on 40 acres of land in Grant Township, seven miles north of Cass City. Their farm was later increased to 480 acres.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Maharg were for many years among the most active members of the Heron M. P. Church, which was built across the highway from their Grant Township home. Mrs. Maharg, for many terms, served the Ladies' Aid as president. Later the members of the Heron Church united with the Methodist Church at Gagetown.

Mr. Maharg passed away September 5, 1938, and since that time Mrs. Maharg has made her home with her children.

Inter-Church School Program Ends Session

Approximately 75 adults listened to the demonstration program of the Inter-Church Vacation School pupils, given Friday evening, July 3, at the Methodist Church.

The program opened with a call to worship, sung by the Primary children, and "For the Beauty of the Earth" by the Juniors and the congregation. Rev. D. Masure spoke of the work of the schools and Rev. S. P. Kim offered prayer. Hymns were sung by the various groups with the responses sung by the Intermediate girls' group as a robed choir.

The Juniors dramatized the story of "Ruth and Jesus Going to Jerusalem," the drama being written and acted by the children themselves under the direction of their teachers, Miss Pauline Knight and Mrs. Woolley.

The smaller children of the Primary and Beginners' group gave a variety of dialogues, prayer and recitations.

The Intermediate girls, having studied "The Living Church," gave the results of that study in the presentation by Betty Hower and Lorene Muntz of the notebook work they did, in describing something of the history of the Christian church, its symbolism, its architecture and its purpose for today.

A large relief map of Palestine made by the Junior boys was on display, also a smaller one made by the girls in the same department. Handiwork completed by the smaller children was also on display in the adjoining room.

Certificates for faithful work and attendance were presented by Rev. Mr. Masure. An offering of over $8.00 towards the expense of the school was received.

Local Boy Scouts Win Many Swim Event Awards

Are Successful at Scout Camp in All Contests Except the Relay Race.

Cass City Boy Scouts returned home Friday from their trip to Sand Lake, 25 miles north of Baldwin, with a number of trophies and prizes won in contests with other troops at camp. The local Scouts won every swimming event in which troop leaders as well as members participated with the exception of the relay race. Bob Foy, patrol leader, received a blue ribbon from the camp staff for the best cooking and general conduct of his group. Kenneth Price, another patrol leader from Cass City, won second prize.

The local troop sent two prize winning mimics. Harry Wright imitated Popeye the Sailor, and Grant Little represented Walter Winchell. Wright was also recognized as the best fisherman and out-of-doors man.

Frederick Pinney, Scout committeeman, and Joy Smith, assistant Scout leader, accompanied the local Scouts to camp. Mr. Smith demonstrated wrestling to the boys at the lake.

Scout troops in the Traverse City district were represented at Sand Lake. Cass City Scouts, who are in the Bay City area, attended as guests. The local troop arrived on the afternoon of June 25 and the patrols set up tents and prepared their first meal. Each boy, upon entering camp, was examined by a doctor to test his physical fitness. Evening campfires with investiture services completed programs in which camp groups spent days filled with many activities.

Local Scouts spent a day at Manistee and enjoyed a swim in Lake Michigan. Incidentally, many of them admired a beautiful lady lifeguard on duty the day they spent there.

Members of the local troop are grateful to business men who furnished them with supplies at cost and others who assisted in making the outing possible.

Communion Table and Linen Dedicated

The third quarterly communion service was held at the local Presbyterian Church Sunday morning at which time a new communion table designed by Rev. Wendling H. Hastings and a copy of the sixteenth century table in North Gerney, England, was dedicated. The pulpit is of the type often seen in Old World churches. A complete set of communion linen, two new offering basins, a white silk brocade frontal for the communion table and Bible markers were also dedicated.

Some of the communion linen, given by the Guild, was imported from London, England. The offering basins were a gift from the board of deacons. The material for the front of the table was given by the Hastings and the Bible markers by Mrs. Grover H. Burke. Many of the members of the church assisted in various ways in the attainment of this goal.

Four were accepted as new members of the church Sunday morning, four new members joined the church Sunday, June 28, and four on Sunday, June 21.

Mrs. C. W. Hastings and Rev. and Mrs. Wendling H. Hastings left Cass City Tuesday for their new home at Lafayette, New Jersey. Rev. Mr. Hastings has accepted a call from the Federated Church at Lafayette. While serving as minister there, he will study at Princeton Theological Seminary. Mr. Hastings has been pastor of the Presbyterian Church at Cass City since Sept. 1, 1939.

Community Club Is Sponsoring War Chest Here

Dugald Krug Will Head Drive in Campaign to Raise $2,200.00 Here.

Responding to a nation-wide movement to secure funds with which to meet the needs of various organizations set up to cope with emergencies arising out of the war effort, the board of directors of the Cass City Community Club met Monday night and laid plans for a Cass City War Chest. It shall be the purpose of this chest to make contributions to worthy enterprises directly connected with the war program. By meeting all these needs from a single fund, it was felt by members of the board of directors that repeated drives and solicitations can be avoided. With the exception of the Red Cross, this chest should be able to represent this community and township in practically every phase of the war effort calling for contribution of funds. In setting up such a War Chest, Cass City is also following the example of hundreds of other communities, ranging in size from the largest cities to villages of its own size.

First to benefit from the war chest funds will be the U. S. O., worthy organization representing a consolidation of several service organizations that minister to the needs and comforts of men in the camps throughout the nation. In the county-wide drive for U. S. O. funds, the local community has been given a quota of $315.00. Beyond this amount money collected in the war chest drive will be placed in a fund to care for later demands of the same or related nature. This fund is to be administered by the board of directors of the Community Club, a representative group consisting of one pastor and one layman from each church in the community plus the superintendent of schools and one member at large.

Dugald Krug has offered to act as chairman for the War Chest Drive which will be carried out next week by a group of men following the plan of the U. S. O. Turn to page 4, please.

The Fourth—
The glorious Fourth has come and gone—the safest and sanest in years. Apparently it takes a war to slow people up a bit and the absence of firecrackers and fireworks was more than appreciated.

However, the usual holiday crowd was here and from the display of lights on Crescent Beach at night, we judge that most cottages across the bay were also occupied. It is a very cheery sight to see the twinkle of lights that comes from the north shore way on these dark nights.

Synthetic rubber

AND STANDARD OIL COMPANY (INDIANA)

Rubber... let's get it. Fast... and plenty of it! No matter who makes it or what it's made from!

We want to see America get the rubber it needs, whether natural or synthetic. We want America to get that rubber in the quantities required and in the shortest possible time, whether it is made out of petroleum, out of alcohol, dandelions, guayule, or sawdust. The main thing is to get the rubber! To those who are working to make rubber out of materials other than petroleum, we say, "God speed your efforts." Solving the rubber problem is necessary for winning the war and winning the war is our main concern. Much has been said about making rubber from alcohol derived from farm crops. We do a great deal of our business with farmers. We should like to see them having a hand in supplying the raw materials for rubber. We are working with petroleum because we understand it. At the request of the Government we have helped form Rubber Synthetics, Inc. In 1943 that company expects to put into operation at Gary, Indiana, a large plant financed by the Defense Plant Corporation to produce butadiene, which is one of the principal ingredients of synthetic rubber. Negotiation is now under way with the Government to supply that plant with a part of the petroleum raw materials required in its operation. Nevertheless, we urge a "green light" and all speed for any other practicable method of making synthetic rubber.

Russell Dewey really thinks the Marines are entitled to more recognition. At least one would so judge by reading a recent letter from him sent to the Mac & Scotty Drug Store. "I happened to read in the paper about you posting addresses and to tell the truth I was a little disappointed about that," he writes. "You mentioned soldiers' and sailors' names, but you left out the most important force, the U. S. Marines. You see there are quite a few of us out there now. We are shipped right out to the most important places. I think we should have a little credit and I thought I would remind you of that. Maybe it was a mistake of the paper. COMMUNITY CLUB IS SPONSORING WAR CHEST

Concluded from page one. Following much the same organization as that which functioned so well in the War Stamp and Bond Campaign conducted by the Minute Men. Every home will be visited and all donations, large and small will be welcomed. A tentative goal of $2,200 has been set for the township as a whole, which represents approximately one dollar per capita. Wheat Loans Made Available for Farmers

The Commodity Credit Corporation will make loans available upon wheat produced in 1942 and stored in approved public warehouses or eligible farm storage structures to any farmer who did not plant more than his allotment of 15 acres and the wheat grades number three or better. The loan value is $1.22 on number 2 wheat, plus 7 cents storage if held until April 30, 1942, says Charles B. Eckfeld, acting chairman of the Tuscola County Agricultural Conservation Association.

Contracts have also been made by the Commodity Credit Corporation for the manufacture of prefabricated wood bins to make it possible for farmers who are eligible for commodity loans to purchase these bins through their AAA committee.

Due to the fact that terminal storage and county elevator storage of crops this year will be extremely limited, it will be necessary that as much as possible of the 1942 production be on the farm.

'Don'ts' for Pups Here are some important "don'ts" to remember in the care of puppies. Don't feed your puppy potatoes, lima beans, peas, pork, cake, cookies or candy. Don't, just because your puppy is off his feed for a day or two, give him a dose of worming. Don't take your puppy visiting to other kennels—there always is the danger of distemper, puppies' most common enemy. Distemper is highly contagious and often is carried on your clothes, so exercise care when you make a personal call. Don't bathe your puppy until it is over six months old. Wipe him off, then use a coat, following the directions on the package or bottle.

Yank Wants Return Bout With Japanese

Helped China as Bomber In Sino-Jap War.

SHEPARD FIELD, TEXAS.—Dana Dodge wants to get a crack at the Japs, but it will be a return bout for him.

A private for Uncle Sam now, the serious-eyed Dodge flew as a major with the Chinese air force and used to bomb Japanese troops by dropping buckets of hand grenades on them. He is at this technical air corps center awaiting transfer to bombardier school.

Reading of the exploits of American fliers in Burma, he recalls his old outfit—"as romantic a squadron as ever you'd find."

They came from all lands to fight at Chungking and nothing was asked of their past except their ability to fly and shoot.

Dodge left the University of California with 14 others at the behest of a Chinese friend.

In China he was a machine gunner and bombardier with fliers whose equipment was 80 obsolete planes. Their duty was to protect thousands of square miles of Chinese territory.

"The planes had fewer instruments than a modern trainer," he said. "It took pilots with nerve and ability to fly them. China was fighting alone then and had to use anything available."

Dodge returned from China impressed with the courage and ingenuity of the Chinese. Almost without armament production—after losing their coastal cities—the Chinese fought a well-equipped army to a standstill.

"Sure, thousands of Chinese died," Dodge said, "but life is cheap in China and people are thinking of saving their country, not their lives. I never met a Chinese who wouldn't gladly die if he were sure of taking a Jap with him."

Courses of Pills Are Charted by Scientists

IOWA CITY, IOWA.—The secret of how a pill knows where to go to stop the pain is out. The pill doesn't know where to go.

It is for this reason that scientists in the University of Iowa pharmaceutical laboratories are working on experiments to perfect a new pill coating which will resist stomach digestion until it passes into the intestinal tract where it is needed.

Dean Rudolph A. Kuever says that mechanical stomachs and actual ones are being used to determine where pills go and when they disintegrate. Students are using their own stomachs for experimentation. They take harmless pills with different types of coating and observe the progress of the pills through their bodies with a fluoroscope.

Some diseases and illnesses can be treated effectively only if the pills do their job in the right places. In a few months experiments will reach a final stage, and we'll know all about the ways of pills.

Rector Reads Law and Gives Out Legal Advice

ST. LOUIS.—An Episcopal rector doubles in brass for his St. Louis congregation, acting as advisor in things both legal and spiritual. He is the Rev. Leighton H. Nugent. The Rev. Mr. Nugent began studying law during the depression, believing his knowledge would be a practical means to aid his congregation. He practices now without compensation and doesn't handle cases which would require lengthy court appearances nor cases for those persons able to employ an attorney.

He frequently appears in justice of the peace courts, however, to represent members of his congregation in matters ranging from accident cases to eviction and debt procedures. In addition, he draws wills, aids widows in probating estates and protects them from unscrupulous promoters.

Eat Properly and Live

150 Years, Says Expert BERKELEY, CALIF.—You can live to be 150 years old, if you eat right, according to Dr. Flora Rose, retired dean of the Cornell university home economics department. The 150-year life span can all be enjoyed with vigorous health, too, she said, if the proper diet is followed.

"Nutrition is the key to a life in which one may enjoy the maturity of experience with youthful vigor," she declared. Dr. Rose's dietary chart to longevity and good health includes consumption of a pint of milk daily, two vegetables, one green and the other yellow and raw; two fruits, one a citrus; and plenty of whole grain bread. Vitamin concentrates were recommended for persons who lead sedentary lives.

Milk Is Favorite Drink of Children

Youngsters Seem Interested In War Activities.

CHICAGO.—The average American boy and girl believe it will take the U. S. more than three years to win the war.

They own defense savings stamps and bonds. They spend most of their money in dime stores—and most of it for candy.

Their favorite drink is milk. Of all foreign countries, they'd like most to visit England when the war is over. The girls, however, have equal preference for Hawaii and Switzerland.

These are the results of the fourth national Reed poll of America's children, taken in schools, Sunday schools and in Y.M.C.A.'s the last week in January.

Asked how long it would take to win the war, children were more conservative than many adults. Thirty-one per cent of the boys and 33 per cent of the girls said "more than three years."

Twenty-nine per cent said two years and 21 per cent said three years. Only 14 per cent said less than two years.

Sixty-three per cent of boys and 64 per cent of girls polled owned savings stamps or bonds. More girls than boys spend most of their money in dime stores—57 per cent compared to 44 per cent. Grocery stores came next.

Candy headed their list of purchases—36 per cent of boys and 34 per cent of girls spending their money for sweets. However, 25 per cent of girls spend their money on sundries, such as jewelry, while boys reported no purchases in this field.

Asked to name their favorite drink, 40 per cent of boys and 33 per cent of girls said milk. Neither group expressed much liking for just plain water.

Ex-Soldier Wins Job Back as Army Beckons

YOUNGSTOWN, OHIO.—Ex-Soldier Clarence Wire had $646 and his old job again, but he expected to return to the army within a month. Wire was assistant manager of a Youngstown theater when drafted a year ago. He was released in November because he was 29. Wire's employer didn't want him back. Federal Attorney Don Miller threatened to sue the theater under the draft act provisions. Wire recovered his job and $646 back pay.

Money in Circulation Is Up $20 Per Capita

WASHINGTON.—Do you have $20 more in your pocket than you had a year ago? You would if all the money in circulation in the United States were divided equally among the nation's 134,000,000 men, women and children. The treasury reported that $11,484,091,310—$85.67 per person—was in circulation February 28 compared with $8,780,868,377—$66.13 a person—a year ago.

Norse Woman Tells of Struggle to Get Food

LONDON.—A grim struggle against starvation is described by a Norwegian woman, Mrs. Gerde Hansen, who recently escaped from Vagso island with her husband and four children. The family had an income of $80 a week, but even then was unable to buy sufficient food. "A typical meal was usually dried cod, a potato each and thin fruit jelly," she said. "This cost 75 cents or more."

Granddad in Army; He'll Make It Career

FORT MONMOUTH, N. J.—Pvt. Edward D. Martin is 59 years old and a grandfather, but today he was disclosed as probably the oldest army volunteer. Martin, a World War I veteran, was allowed to enlist because of previous service. "I think I'll make the army a career," Martin said.

Salute your home-town war heroes next Friday, July 17.

The occasion will be "American Heroes' Day." And the sponsors are Michigan's 90,000 retailers who exceeded quotas of bonds and stamps of all other states in May and who are out to do it again in July.

The national quota is a billion dollars' worth of insurance for freedom, a goal which may decide the fate of the system of voluntary savings. The alternative, already proposed, is enforced payroll deductions. So buy war stamps from your retailers next Friday!

Michigan retailers, like those in other states, find themselves literally "twixt the devil and the deep blue sea."

On the one hand is price control whose wholesale and retail ceilings were set for March, 1942. Small retailers who must replace merchandise, much of which was bought last fall at pre-March wholesale prices, are finding the profit margin of many items at current wholesale levels to be small indeed.

Manufacturers are being asked to absorb some of the wholesale price increase. This cannot be done in many cases, it is admitted, based on the experience of Canada which controls wages as well as prices. Either the ceiling must be raised, as has been done for several commodities, or Congress must provide subsidies to manufacturers. Such is the picture as given to us by Otis Cook, manager, Michigan Retail Institute.

And even then, according to Leon Henderson, federal price administrator, the threat of inflation still exists as long as ceilings are not placed on wages and farm products. In testimony before the House appropriations committee, Henderson expressed belief that there was "a very real danger" that "our present price ceilings will not hold." As an illustration that the purchase of war bonds and stamps has a direct relation to the fate of price control, Henderson went on to explain:

"What we will be able to do rests on the tax bill, and not only the amount of it but the nature of it, how much is withdrawn from current spendable income. It depends upon the amount of savings; it depends on the degree to which wages are stabilized; and it depends upon the course of farm prices, and it depends upon the rate at which the war effort proceeds."

With their business already in jeopardy, as the fate of the present price control determines in part whether we are to have further inflation, Michigan retailers are out to sell war bonds and stamps in July in an aggressive campaign. Both independent and chain stores are participating in the July drive.

The Independent Food Distributors Council, representing 200,000 independent grocers, has built its promotion around the Revolutionary War heroine, Molly Pitcher. There are Molly Pitcher war bond booths and there are Molly Pitcher wardens selling 25 and 10 cent stamps.

The Institute of Distribution, the national chain store clearing house for 16,000 retail outlets, is operating separately under a slogan, "Buy War Stamps—This Store's Best Buy."

Within a few weeks another big war campaign will break. Following the current collection of scrap rubber by the petroleum industry will be a steel salvage drive sponsored by the American Steel and Iron Institute, a glorified name for American junk dealers.

Endorsed by the War Production Board as a greatly needed effort, the junk salvage collection will seek to get every available piece of unused metal in Michigan.

An old flatiron will provide enough iron scrap to make two steel helmets or 30 hand grenades. An old heating radiator would make seventeen .30 calibre rifles; a medium garbage pail, one thousand .30 calibre cartridges. Even a wash pail can be converted into three bayonets.

That is putting scrap in terms everyone can understand. The tremendous demand for steel in war production has created a serious problem. The collection of scrap iron and steel is said by the War Production Board to be urgently needed.

A heavy tank, for instance, requires 56,000 pounds of steel for which 28,000 pounds of scrap can be used. A 3-inch anti-aircraft gun, which might possibly protect the Sault Ste. Marie locks during an air raid, requires 20,000 pounds of steel for which scrap iron can be used for 10,000 pounds.

Communities will be asked to spur their efforts by a house-to-house or farm-to-farm collection of scrap iron. This war is getting serious. We are not winning yet. Hence, Michigan is being asked to do its part, not only for buying of more war bonds and stamps, but in turning over to local junk dealers every available piece of unused metal and rubber. As the slogan makers put it, "Keep 'em Firing—With Junk."

'Fatigue' Tests on Steel Steel doesn't get tired and quit today, like it used to—for example, when you had to tote a big machine-shop tool box on "the old bus" in case steel parts should get that tired feeling and lie down on you on some lonely road. Now research has developed "fatigue" tests on steels destined for auto and plane parts, and other equipment. These tests, followed by endurance limit tests, determine quite closely whether the steel in question will go on faithfully doing its hard work for the life of the equipment of which it is a vital part.

WEEKLY NEWS ANALYSIS

Egypt Defenders Turn on Axis Armies In Struggle for Middle East Control; Nazi Spy Ring Smashed in Canal Zone; Allies' Wheat Pool Aids Famine Areas

(EDITOR'S NOTE—When opinions are expressed in these columns, they are those of the news analyst and not necessarily of this newspaper.) Released by Western Newspaper Union.

EGYPT:

Defenders Hit Hard

Even as parliament by a 475 to 25 majority voted its confidence in Prime Minister Winston Churchill after a prolonged debate over the Libyan defeat, reports from Egypt revealed that British imperials, heavily reinforced from the Middle East, had struck fiercely at the flank and rear of Marshal Rommel's Axis army to counter its assault on the main British positions.

At the same time it was disclosed that United States army air force and Royal air force planes had unleashed a terrific air offensive throughout the eastern Mediterranean area. In one assault on Marshal Rommel's supply port of Bengasi, hundreds of bombers rained destruction down on munition dumps and equipment concentrations.

Reinforcements of both men and material had strengthened the British Egyptian position in the battles on which rested the fate of Allied power in the Mediterranean and Middle East. Crucial battle area was the 40-mile wide strip of desert lying between the impassable Quaternary salt marshes and the Mediterranean shore.

Few observers had doubted that Prime Minister Churchill's position would be sustained. Facing his critics in the most critical period since the fall of France, Churchill had admitted that Marshal Rommel's victorious drive from Libya into Egypt had placed Britain in "mortal peril."

Meanwhile on the Russian front, the Nazis had opened a new drive north of Kharkov, while hand-to-hand fighting in the ruins of Sevastopol, Russia's last stronghold in the Crimea, had highlighted what the Reds termed "an extremely grave situation."

SHIPBUILDING:

Yanks Break Records

Hope that American shipyards would soon equal and then exceed the total sunk by Axis submarines was seen in a report issued by Vice Chairman Howard L. Vickery of the maritime commission which disclosed that 66 vessels totaling 731,900 tons deadweight had been delivered in June and that production was speeding ahead toward a level of 900,000 deadweight tons a month.

Admiral Vickery reported that 288 ships of approximately 2,544,000 deadweight tons had been delivered by American shipyards in the first six months of 1942.

SECRET SPENDING:

F. D. R. Accounts

How President Roosevelt spent $239,500,000 in secret emergency funds since the war crisis became acute in June, 1940, was revealed in an accounting which the Chief Executive presented to congress.

Eighty-seven per cent of the total was allocated to the army, the navy, maritime commission and Federal Loan agency, the President said. Large sums were spent to suppress subversive radio activities in connection with the German submarine campaign.

Important among expenditures was $52,000,000 for secret naval bases in the Western hemisphere, $12,000,000 for purchase of Australian wool for uniforms, $8,000,000 for development of air, rail and highway transportation in Latin America and $36,500,000 for construction of merchant ships.

NEW NAVAL BASE:

Mystery Explained

Why hundreds of American workers embarked for Northern Ireland last summer to toil on a mysterious construction project long before the United States entry into the world war, was explained when the navy department announced formal completion of a giant operating base at Londonderry, guarding the western approaches of Britain. Capt. William J. Larson, was placed in command of the strategic new post.

NAZI SPIES:

Rival Fiction

In a series of dramatic moves matching the thrills of a mystery best-seller, the United States Caribbean defense command arrested 20 alleged Axis agents and broke up what was believed to be a Nazi spy ring retelling submarines and supplying them with vital information on United States shipping.

Nineteen of the enemy agents were rounded up in a trap in Belize, British Honduras. The twentieth—a trusted employee of a labor recruiting office for the Panama canal—had been seized a few days earlier in the Canal Zone. The army disclosed that the leader of the ring was George Gough, a British citizen, who was a shipping executive in Belize.

Details of the seizure of the spies were disclosed by Lieut. Gen. Frank M. Andrews, chief of the Caribbean defense command.

WHEAT POOL:

To Balk Famine

With famine stalking many nations and wheat surpluses taxing the storage capacities of others, an agreement of historic importance to the future of the world's bread supply became effective when five nations signed a pact creating a vast international wheat pool.

Signers of the agreement were the United States, Great Britain, Canada, Australia and Argentina. The agreement, initiated at a Washington meeting last April, created a wheat pool of not less than 100,000,000 bushels for the relief of famine in war-stricken areas. It forecast international action toward control of prices, production and export of bread grains after the war.

The United States is to provide 50,000,000 bushels of wheat or flour to the relief pool and Canada and the United Kingdom 25,000,000. These nations, with Argentina would furnish additional supplies as needed on a basis to be worked out by their respective governments.

Agriculture department officials pointed out that benefits to American wheat farmers would be of a long-term rather than immediate nature. The agreement will have no effect on the 1943 farm program calling for a planted area of not more than 55,000,000 acres of wheat and assuring farmers of parity returns.

PRICE CEILINGS:

First Hole

First hole in the universal price ceiling instituted by the OPA was made when Price Administrator Leon Henderson announced that he was "compelled to take measures that will raise retail prices of the 1942 pack of canned and dried fruits by as much as 15 per cent and possibly more."

Henderson indicated that congress was to blame for this, because of special price concessions it granted to farm products and its failure to vote government subsidies to maintain price ceilings.

Throwing down the battle gage to congress, the fiery price official issued a statement in which he said that the $75,000,000 appropriation contemplated for the OPA in a bill passed by the house, or any amount below the $161,000,000 he originally requested, would cripple his agency and mean "in short that price, rent and rationing controls are all placed in jeopardy."

Mr. Henderson termed the canned fruit price situation "inflationary" and said it constituted "a serious threat in the battle being fought to maintain stability in the cost of living."

"This is not a satisfactory solution," his statement continued. "It is inflationary. It translates into retail price increases a burden that the government might properly assume as a charge connected with the war. This burden will fall heaviest on large families, especially in the low income groups who can least afford the added expense."

Rubber Hunter

His eyes as alert for rubber as a hawk's are for chickens, Petroleum Co-ordinator Harold Iokes was happy when he spied this 75-pound rubber mat inside the door of the White House. He told his chauffeur to take it to the nearest gas station to contribute to the rubber drive. When asked for a comment, a White House spokesman declared, "There's no complaint."

COMMANDOS:

Strike at Japs

Serving notice on Tokyo that the Australians, the Yanks and the Dutch were ready for hit-and-run thrusts preparatory to the general land offensive which Gen. Douglas MacArthur has promised eventually, Allied Commandos swept down on the big Japanese base at Salamaua, New Guinea.

Using the elements of surprise and terror which have made Commando raids on Europe so spectacular, the United Nations' raiders slashed through the defense screen and carried away prisoners, booty and information about the layout of one of the most important Japanese bases in the Southwest Pacific.

Salamaua, on the Huon gulf, lies 170 miles north across New Guinea from Port Moresby, last Allied outpost north of Australia. It was captured by the Japs early in March and ever since the enemy has been attempting to use it as a base for widening their occupation of New Guinea. It has served as one of the principal air bases for attacks against Port Moresby.

SCRAP:

U. S. Wants More

A "new and greatly intensified" program that will reach into every American home and industrial plant and increase the flow of vital scrap materials to the nation's war plants was announced by War Production Chief Donald M. Nelson and Lesling J. Rosenwald, chief of the bureau of industrial conservation of W.P.R.

The new program has a threefold objective:

- 1—To collect metals, and rubber and other waste materials which will flow through regular channels of trade.
2—To gather up waste kitchen fats, such as bacon drippings from households via meat dealers.
3—To collect tin cans in specified areas.

"The immensity of our task," said Mr. Nelson, "makes it absolutely necessary to step up the tempo of our national salvage program."

REPATRIATION:

Nazis Break Pact

Termination of the exchange agreement by which more than 1,400 American nationals were brought home from Axis territory in Europe resulted when Germany withdrew the safe conduct granted the Swedish liner Drottningholm which had docked at New York with 800 repatriated Americans and alien refugees.

The agreement for exchange of nationals held by the respective belligerent governments had provided for continued voyages of the Drottningholm under safe conduct until all Americans held in Europe and Germans held here were repatriated.

No reason was assigned for Germany's withdrawal of the safe conduct, but it was understood the Nazis cancelled the agreement to emphasize its "paper blockade" of America.

Suspicion that the Axis powers might be attempting to get saboteurs or spies into this country in the guise of friendly aliens, caused the government to institute the most rigid scrutiny of passenger credentials ever conducted in any east-ern harbor.

MISCELLANY:

MINNEAPOLIS: The American worker's pay check is now 34 per cent above 1939 levels while his living expenses are up only 13 per cent—net gain of 21 per cent, it was revealed in a family income study by Northwestern National Life Insurance company. Figured in terms of the family pocketbook, a typical wage earner's family has $50 a month more now than in 1939.

SNORING

The unfair part about snoring is that the individual doing the snoring enjoys sleep while he annoys others by preventing sleep. Snoring is caused by something interfering with the passage of air to and from the lungs; the obstruction can be at various points between lungs and outside of mouth and nose. To find out just what part of nose, throat or bronchial tubes is being partly obstructed requires careful observation by physician, nurse, or some member of the household.

The commonest causes of obstruction are:

- (1) Falling backward of the tongue when the individual is lying on his back.
- (2) An accumulation of mucous, large or small, in the nose or throat.
- (3) The muscles of the soft palate become so relaxed in sleep that the soft palate falls against the roof of the hard palate. This interferes with the passage of air through the nose when the individual is lying on his back.
- (4) The muscles controlling the vocal cords during deep sleep become greatly relaxed so that the throat becomes partially closed and air has less space to pass through this part of the throat going in and coming out of the lungs. Thus when one is awake and lets his throat hang "loose," as it were, thus closing the passage, the breathing in and out causes snoring.

Preventive Methods.

Now that some of the causes of snoring are known, what can be done about it?

There are cases where the obstruction is on one side of the nose. By lying on that side, the outer side or wing of the nose drops away from the division membrane (septum) thus giving a wide opening or passage for air.

When the cause of snoring is an accumulation of mucous in the nose and throat, vigorous blowing of the nose first through one nostril and then the other before going to sleep may prevent snoring.

Tying a handkerchief or band around top of head and under chin keeps mouth from hanging open.

Experience shows that if snoring individual lying on his back is disturbed and turns and lies on either side or on his abdomen, he stops snoring. If, then, he can be prevented from lying on his back by mechanical means, snoring may be prevented.

Head of Ground Forces a Hero

Lieut. Gen. McNair Credited as 'Trigger Man' of Modern Army.

WASHINGTON.—Lieut. Gen. Leslie J. McNair, a quiet, 58-year-old Minnesotan about whom the public knows little, has taken over command of the ground forces of the U. S. army.

He was chosen for the job when President Roosevelt recently streamlined the army's archaic administrative setup into three compact, co-ordinated divisions—ground force, air force and supply service. Lieut. Gen. Henry H. Arnold and Maj. Gen. Brehon B. Somervell have taken office as chiefs of the latter two units.

Designation of the sandy-haired McNair as head of the ground force under the new setup was regarded generally as a reward for the job he did as chief of staff of the army general headquarters which was set up after the outbreak of the European war to supervise building of the nation's land forces into a modern fighting organization.

'Trigger Man' in Program.

McNair is generally credited with being the "trigger man" in the army's modernization program. It was his duty to see that the record expansion program, including training and organization, was carried out; that selectees were fitted into the army, and that our overseas bases were properly equipped and manned.

Using his quiet, homespun and "few words" doctrine, he got the job done with a minimum of fanfare, to the great satisfaction of his superiors.

McNair eschews the capital social whirl and is a firm believer in plain living. This belief has contributed to a doctrine he has set up for all troops under his command—that they must have "iron in their blood" to withstand the rigors of modern warfare. He intensely dislikes grandstand and self-promoting tactics, and contends the individual must subordinate all to the service of his country.

A few days ago, McNair told a graduating class at the army's command and general staff school, Fort Leavenworth, Kan., that U. S. soldiers still need more training to be properly classed as "first line troops."

Need More Effectiveness.

"They are capable of fighting creditably, but with excessive losses, and with less than full effectiveness," he concluded.

This was regarded as a tip off that he means business in stressing his "iron in your blood" program for the 3,600,000 men who will be in the army by the end of 1942.

McNair was born in Verdale, Minn., and graduated from West Point. He served with the Funston expedition to Vera Cruz in 1914, and later in the border campaign against Pancho Villa. He is a field artillery officer.

During the First World War, he went to France with the A.E.F. and reached the temporary rank of brigadier general at the age of 35. He headed the command and general staff school until 1940, when he was made GHQ chief of staff. He was promoted to major general, and to lieutenant general in June, 1941.

McNair is married. He has one son, Maj. Douglas McNair, a field artillery officer like his dad, now at Killeen, Texas.

Prevention of Mental Disorders

Just a few years ago tuberculosis—consumption—was considered a fatal disease; the patient might last for months or even a year or two, but the disease would surely carry him off. Similarly with diabetes and pernicious anemia. Today, tuberculosis stands well down the list of the causes of death and to have tuberculosis is no longer a death warrant.

Similarly with diabetes and pernicious anemia. As long as diabetics take their insulin regularly they are safe, and patients with pernicious anemia have but to use liver or liver extract to keep alive.

What appears to be an even harder problem is the prevention and cure of mental ailments, yet Dr. Frederic H. Leavitt, Philadelphia, as guest editor of the Medical World, states this should be tackled just as tuberculosis was tackled and overcome. Tuberculosis, the great white plague, was captain of the legions of death. Through a campaign of education in acquainting the general public with knowledge of the cause, prevention and treatment, tuberculosis, in many places, has dropped from first to fifth place as a cause of death.

That the same results may be obtained in the prevention of mental ailments is the belief of the medical profession. It can be accomplished by a campaign of educating the general public as to the cause, prevention and treatment.

Dr. Leavitt points out the excellent results by educating the public about mental ailments obtained in the treatment of that "great destroyer" of the minds of young men and women—dementia praecox or persistent dream state—particularly by the treatment with insulin and metrazol shock.

Says Synthetic Rubber Will Be Ready in 1944

CHICAGO.—John D. Beebe of the B. F. Goodrich company predicts that the manufacture of synthetic and reclaimed rubber will enable the industry to supply both defense and non-defense needs by 1944.

He told transit members at a forum of the American Transit association that within two years increases in the production of reclaimed and synthetic rubber should provide a supply of 850,000 long tons.

Beebe gave statistics of plane, truck and other defense production as an illustration of where most rubber supplies would be going and said that his company considered the transit industry's present rubber quota too low and was making every effort to have it raised.

Britain Plans to Reduce Clothing Ration June 1

LONDON.—A reduction of about one-fourth in Britain's clothes ration starting June 1—from 68 coupons a year to a rate slightly over 51—was announced.

The reduced ration would affect persons mainly in sedentary occupations and those living at home.

An order was expected prohibiting double-breasted suits and trouser cuffs and limiting the number of pockets in garments.

Firemen Laugh at Sight Of Others Eating Smoke

The wind was blowing so hard smoke was being forced back down the chimney and through the heating system into two beauty shops, a hat shop and a hemstitching establishment.
