THE HOME FRONT IN MICHIGAN

From Branch Office of War Information.

There probably aren't many Americans who still are naive enough to think that this is going to be a war easily won—not after the grim news of the past fortnight.

Since Pearl Harbor, 44,143 U. S. soldiers, sailors, marines, coast guardsmen and members of the Philippine scouts have been killed, wounded or are missing (probably prisoners of the Japs). Their sacrifices and the sacrifices of the homes from whence they came emphasize the pettiness of those who complain of restrictions on their normal lives.

Our ships are being sunk faster than we can replace them.

The situation on the Russian front is grave.

Such dark news must make us realize the sort of war we are in—that greater sacrifices will be necessary on the Home Front, as well as on the field of battle, before the victory is won.

On the Home Front, our one concern must be to see that every bit of material we can provide goes to make weapons for our troops and that there are trains enough and trucks enough and ships enough to take these weapons where they are needed.

This great task may be subdivided into three main jobs:

The job of supplying materials for our factories—which includes the important work of salvage and saving;

The job of production—which enlists all of the energies of a vast and constantly growing army of American craftsmen;

The job of transportation.

Local Library Received $168.59 from the State Fund

The Cass City Village Library has received two checks totaling $168.59 from the State Board for Libraries, according to Mrs. Alice Nettleton, treasurer of the library board. These checks are grants from the State Aid to Public Libraries Fund.

These grants are not "hand-outs," but they are a lively incentive to local initiative. To be eligible for its share in the general library fund, the Cass City Village Library had to have an appropriation during its last fiscal year preceding July 1, 1941, equal to or greater than the average of the last three fiscal years.

Truckers Asked to Avoid Overloads in Beet Hauling

Normal Loads Are Recommended in Interest of Economy in Tires.

Haulers of sugar beets this fall will be asked to avoid overloads in the interest of saving truck tires. Loads should conform to the recommended capacity as an overloaded truck is more wearing on tires than one which carries a normal load.

Applications for new tires for cars filed with the Tuscola County Rationing Board have greatly exceeded the supply this month. Fifteen had filed and the allotment for July was three.

Recapped and retreaded car tires for defense workers and farmers have been sufficient for the demand this month. The new tire allotment for truckers in the county was 99 for July and all will be assigned to applicants.

Three Generations of Brides Marry in Mrs. Moore's Home

A lovely wedding took place on Saturday evening, July 25, at Cass City, when Miss Bernice Ruth Silvernail, daughter of Mrs. Stephen Moore, of Cass City became the bride of Theron Berry of Pontiac, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ira Berry, of Caro at a service read in the home of the bride's great-aunt, Mrs. Alice Moore, by the Rev. E. Ray Willson, D. D., pastor of the First Methodist Church of Caro. The ceremony was performed in front of a large window under an arch of white, overhung by a large white bell and a background of potted ferns and baskets of gladioli.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her brother, Norman Silvernail, of Saginaw, wore a floor-length gown of white brocade with long train, a sweetheart neckline bordered with seed pearls, long pointed sleeves, and a long veil, which fell from a halo of seed pearls. She carried an arm bouquet of white roses.

Mrs. Fred Berry, sister-in-law of the bridegroom, was matron of honor and wore a floor-length gown of pink chiffon. She carried a shower bouquet of Johanna Hill roses. Miss Pauline Silvernail of Saginaw attended her sister as maid of honor. She wore pale blue chiffon, also floor-length, and carried a bouquet like that of the matron of honor.

Fred Berry of Caro assisted his brother as best man.

Refreshments were served to 47 guests. The bride's table was very pretty with bouquets of flowers and a four-tiered wedding cake, topped with a miniature bride and groom. Guests were served by the Misses Irene, Blanch and Marie Silvernail, cousins of the bride.

Following a short trip through the North, Mr. and Mrs. Berry will make their home in Pontiac where Mr. Berry is employed at defense work.

The bride was graduated from Cass City High School with the Class of 1941 and has been employed in Pontiac for nearly a year.

Mrs. Berry is one of three generations to be married in Mrs. Alice Moore's home. Her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Pfann (Jennie Buckingham), were married March 8, 1896, Mrs. Pfann being a sister of Mrs. Moore, and her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Silvernail (Hazel Pfann), were also married in Mrs. Moore's home.

Out-of-town guests at the wedding were Mr. and Mrs. Ira Berry and daughter, Ellen, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Berry, Caro; Mr. and Mrs. Roy McKellar and son, William, Mr. and Mrs. Stephen Moore, Jr., Pontiac; Mr. and Mrs. Emory Berry.

Letters from Men in the Service

From Sgt. Spencer.

Through the San Francisco, California post office, Sergeant Robert F. Spencer writes to his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Spencer, at Deford:

Dear Grandmother and All: I received your very welcome letter July 1. I surely was surprised to hear from you, but tickled pink. I decided to answer right away.

The weather here is perfect as usual. The camp we are located in is in a very healthy climate. It is a great deal like Arizona weather. Of course it is winter here now. The 4th of July is in mid-winter. It will be much warmer or hotter I should say in December and January. It hasn't rained here for months but the rainy season brings plenty of that. Our "spring" floods will come around Hallowe'en time.

It seems rather strange to be in a world where everything is backwards. They even drive on the opposite side of the road. The one nice thing about it is that I am feeling fine and I haven't had a cold since I have been in this country. I slept on the ground for a couple of weeks and didn't catch cold then either.

We had movies a few nights ago. We are supposed to have them once a week. The last pictures were about five years old but better than none at all.

An army orchestra visits us about every three weeks and they play all the latest songs and often the old favorites. We also have soft ball games now and then so you see our entertainment is pretty good considering that we are in a war and everything.

Well, folks, I've got a lot of dirty clothes that just won't wash themselves so I guess I'll get at them if I can get some soap. It is quite scarce here at the present time.

Whenever you can find time to write please do so. I am always glad to get a letter from home. Yours was the first in two months.

As ever, BOB.

From Winton Roblin.

Denver, Colo., July 23, 1942.

Mr. Lenzer: Your letter was a very pleasant surprise to me and I certainly appreciate the Chronicle. You have no idea how we fellows in the army

Let us see what progress we have made with each of these jobs.

The War Production Board moved once more to assist the flow of critical war materials to those points in our industrial system where they are most needed. Changes in the priorities system were made in order that the WPB may know the supply and requirements situation and meet the most important needs of our fighting men, even though it means further curtailment of goods for civilians. We no longer have enough to go around. We must put the weight of our production where it is most needed.

Restricting the use of war materials is one way of combatting the material shortage problem. Salvage is another. We must have scrap metal to win the war. The great new salvage drive is on now—and there is no excuse for half-heartedness or half-measures on the part of any city or any town or any individual.

Here's another chance for free Americans to prove that a free people can do a better job than the slaves of a dictatorship.

The Nazis need scrap metal, too, and they are going after it. A recent Berlin radio broadcast for the German Home Front said Hitler had ordered all unused iron and steel confiscated.

"Active support of the total action will be brought about by the uniformed police," said Herr Hitler—in other words, by Himmler and the Gestapo.

Let's send Hitler our scrap—in bombs and bullets.

If production were our only problem we would be well on the way to solving it. Scarcely a day goes by but what the labor-management committees of great industrial plants in the East, Midwest and Pacific Coast report more production records smashed. A single plant has set more than a thousand production records since Pearl Harbor and its workers and management pledged "this is the pace we have set for ourselves until the war is over."

The transportation problem also demands the help of everyone. No unnecessary travel, pooling of rides, staggered work hours and many other ways are open for your help. We cannot put great quantities of war materials into new transportation facilities. Even the present facilities will be curtailed.

Yes, the war news may continue to be bad.

The Home Front can help change the headlines.

Quinine Survey Stresses Care

U. S. Supply Ample for One To Two Years Since Loss Of Indies Source.

WASHINGTON.—The announcement by the Reconstruction Finance Corporation that 500,000 ounces of 2,000,000 ounces of quinine that it purchased on the recommendation of the War Production board had been lost at sea drew attention to America's situation with regard to this highly essential drug.

That situation became an emergency one with the loss of the Netherlands Indies, which supplied the world with 90 per cent of its cinchona bark and derivatives, including quinine.

It is believed that the Netherlands were able to destroy the factory at Bandung that had furnished most of the world's annual consumption of 33,000,000 ounces of quinine, and probably a good deal of cinchona bark, but to apply a complete scorched earth policy would mean the cutting and burning of probably 70,000 acres of green trees, along with their roots.

Supply on Hand.

The United States consumes annually more than 3,500,000 ounces of quinine. Some of it goes into hair tonics and cold remedies. It is believed that the trade and private consumers between them have between one and two years' supply on their shelves.

The government has not said how great its total stockpile is, but Federal Loan Administrator Jesse Jones announced that the Defense Supplies corporation had purchased 1,500,000 ounces; had agreed to buy another 3,000,000 ounces but did not believe this would now be possible; had made an emergency purchase of cinchona bark equivalent to about 3,165,000 ounces and arranged for its immediate shipment to Australia for transshipment to the United States.

Substitute Available.

Cinchona bark is also obtainable from Peru, Bolivia, Brazil, Venezuela, Colombia, and Guatemala.

During the last few years, however, the American government and private American drug interests have fostered experimental work looking towards the production in South America of higher yielding types of cinchona.

There is an acceptable synthetic substitute for quinine, called atabrine. The German patents for its manufacture at present are controlled by one United States firm, the Winthrop Chemical company, a situation that is reported to have led to some complaint. If necessary, however, it could be manufactured in large quantities, since it is a derivative of coal tar.

Armored Unit Seeking Help in Naming Tanks

FORT KNOX, KY.—Uncle Sam's men of action in the armored force have opened a new campaign front—to find earthy, punchy, typically American words to describe their fast, hard-hitting armored fighting machines.

They want to replace "blitz" and "panzer" and other borrowed foreign words with tangy native labels. They want the kind of words that will stand right up in print, picturing the Stars and Stripes going into action with the armored units.

They want talk about their tanks, jeeps, peeps, half-tracks and self-propelled artillery to sound like "good old U.S.A." as it rolls through barber shops and hotel lobbies.

The campaign was launched in the Armored Force Journal as a contest for all enlisted men in the armored force. The prize—$5,000 and the honor of sticking good native labels on the metal chargers.

"What flashes in your mind when you hear the roar of motors, the rumble of tons of steel rolling over the ground, the staccato beat of thousands of machine guns?" asked the journal.

25 Per Cent Clothing Cut Planned for Britons

LONDON.—Britain's clothing ration probably will be reduced soon by an additional 25 per cent, it is understood here.

Rations for clothing at present provide 66 "points" every six months, but this allowance may be cut to 50 units, to provide clothing over a longer period.

Britons may distribute the ration total among various articles of apparel. A woman's coat, for example, requires 14 points, a dress, 11, a blouse, 5, and a pair of shoes, 5. Men's clothes run slightly higher, with an overcoat costing 16 points, a suit, 26, a shirt, 5, and a pair of shoes, 7 units.

Knitting Brings Women Some Real Dividends

WHITEFIELD, N. H.—Fifty women in this tiny town have formed a knitting co-operative that pays real dividends.

Six years ago Mrs. Frank S. Dodge called the group together and suggested they pool their resources, knit caps, mittens and socks, and divide the proceeds from the sale.

Last year the group purled through about 800 pounds of wool and split profits of $4,200.

Farmers Can Beat Hog Market's Glut

One of the most upsetting factors in the hog market has been the great variation in seasonal supply on the market. Nearly three times as many hogs were marketed last year in Chicago during the second week of January or the third week of December as were offered there during the first week in September. The average for all weeks during November, December, January and February was almost twice as many as the average number marketed there per week from the middle of August through September.

This year with a price ceiling on pork and its products, the price of hogs cannot go up much during the period of short supply, yet prices can go down when the enormously increased 1942 spring crop comes to market.

In fact, says V. A. Freeman of the Michigan State College animal husbandry department, there is danger that a large peak in numbers might exceed yard and packing plants facilities in December or January. Large numbers of hogs on the market usually result in a break in prices that in turn reduces the number shipped.

Now is the time to prepare everything for market that can be made ready before November, Freeman advises. He suggests Michigan hog producers should feed the pigs so as to have them ready and sell if possible before there is any drop in the market. Late May and June pigs may profitably be fed limited grain on pasture for the next three months and then fed to heavyweights and marketed after the rush season.

Now is the best time in 20 years to sell sows and heavy hogs. Rather than carry over any sows that farrowed too late for re-breeding for fall pigs, the sows should be sent to market and replaced with early spring gilts that will raise almost as many pigs next spring and now represent a much smaller investment.

Free State Road Deaths Grow

According to statistics just made public the greatest number of victims were between 20 and 30 years of age. The youngest was 1½ years and the oldest 82. Those injured numbered 2,934, which is also a high record.

Mr. Farmer

Are You Prepared To Store Your Small Grain Crop?

The problem of grain storage this season will be a very critical one. Here are some of the reasons why:

(1) The Ever-Normal Granary has piled up a large surplus stock of feed and corn. The Commodity Credit Corporation took over from this year's wheat crop about 200,000,000 bushels. (2) The war has deprived us of foreign markets and inadequate shipping facilities have further reduced exports.

The result is that country elevators are nearly filled to capacity now. Terminal facilities are either filled or largely spoken for. Transportation facilities are limited because of priority movement of defense materials.

It is a situation which calls for immediate action by small grain farmers. If you want to be sure of properly handling your crop this season

BUILD A GRANARY NOW!

We invite you to consult with us at any time regarding plans and costs of a granary adequate for your needs.

Save your WASTE FATS to make explosives

You can serve in a very large measure by a very small effort on your part. All you have to do is to bring in waste fats and grease to our market and receive 4 cents per pound.

1. The need is urgent. War in the Pacific has greatly reduced our supply of vegetable fats from the Far East. It is necessary to find substitutes for them. Moreover, fats make glycerine. And glycerine makes explosives for us and our allies—explosives to down Axis planes, stop their tanks, sink their ships. Millions of pounds of glycerine are needed and housewives can help supply them.

2. Don't throw away a single drop of used cooking fat—bacon grease, meat drippings, frying fats—every kind you use. After you've got all the cooking good from them, pour them through a kitchen strainer into a clean, wide-mouthed can. Keep in a cool, dark place. Please don't use glass containers or paper bags.

3. Take them to our market when you've saved a pound or more. We will pay you for your waste fats and get them started on their way to the war industries. It will help if you can deliver your fats early in the week.

FOUR THINGS NOT TO DO

1. Don't bring less than one pound at a time.
2. Don't bring your fats in glass containers or paper bags.
3. Don't let fats stand so long that they become rancid. If they do, the glycerine content is reduced.
4. Don't bring your fats on week-ends if you can avoid it. Help us by returning them early in the week.

They enable the farmer to check on the balance between animal and vegetable proteins (in poultry and hog feeds).

When made by a reputable manufacturer interested in HIS welfare he knows just WHAT he is paying for.

New Freighter Every Six Days

Industrial Miracle Enacted By Former Builder of Dams in West.

PORTLAND, ORE.—A 10,000-ton Liberty freighter every six days—that's how fast one shipyard is helping to build our bridge of ships to the war fronts.

For any shipyard in the United States that would be a proud record. For the Oregon Shipbuilding Corporation it's an industrial miracle.

Edgar Kaiser, Oregon Shipbuilding's head man, never thought about building ships until the war in Europe was well under way. He was a builder of dams—Boulder and Grand Coulee. Now he's showing veteran shipbuilders how to apply mass production methods to their industry.

Top Producer.

The first Liberty EC-2 was launched at Oregon Shipbuilding last September 27. Recently No. 26 slid into the Willamette river.

What makes the Oregon yard the country's top producer can be told only in part.

Company men say the organizing genius of the boss—they mean Kaiser—is the major factor. He took 30,000 men—most of whom, like himself, never had worked on a ship—and whipped them into a fireball production unit in less than 12 months. Most of the workers are family men with a deep-rooted feeling that this is their war. No side lines to business.

But O. Alexander Mechlin, U. S. maritime commission observer, has more reasons.

This yard, he says, is one of the few built from scratch to turn out Liberty freighters, nothing else.

Result: No time and effort wasted compromising construction methods and facilities.

Ahead of Other Yards.

Kaiser's experts have studied the EC-2 from stern to stern for production speed, Mechlin says, and have developed pre-assembly to a point unparalleled in other yards.

Comdr. Charles Hibbard, supervisor of navy shipbuilding in Oregon, the man who awarded Oregon Shipbuilding one of the first three "V" pennants on the Pacific coast, said:

"The Kaiser men came into shipbuilding with a full knowledge of production methods but with little about shipbuilding. They had no preconceived notion about ship construction; no traditions, no prejudices to overcome. They just figured out the fastest way to put them together and did it."

Nitroglycerin Scare

Puts Policemen in Panic

LANCASTER, PA. — George Franklin, Federal Bureau of Investigation instructor, was explaining the dangers of nitroglycerin to a class of 60 policemen at the FBI civilian defense school here. "A thimbleful of this," he asserted, "would be enough to blow us all out of the courtroom." Suddenly, Franklin's fingers slipped and the vial fell to the floor.

Chairs overturned, pencils and notebooks went flying. Policemen tumbled about the floor as the class rushed toward the door. While cops mopped their brows Franklin admitted it was only a stunt—the bottle contained only a harmless fluid that looked like nitroglycerin.

German Money Used to Pay for British Repairs

LONDON.—German bombs from German planes have damaged houses, offices, shops in London owned by Germans.

And German money has paid for their repairs.

There is plenty of German money in London. One man has it all. He is Sir Ernest Fass, custodian of enemy property.

Says the custodian: "I have all the cash. In case there is a German property needing repair, we see to it—with the German money, if there is any. If there isn't, we think again."

Giant Hospital Gadget

Dismantled for Scrap

CLEVELAND.—A giant shell ball, once used by a sanitarium for pressure treatments of diabetic patients, is being dismantled and its 1,000 tons of metal will go to the mills as scrap.

It was erected 13 years ago at a cost reported as $1,000,000, for use in placing diabetics under air pressure. Five stories high and 64 feet in diameter, it contained 40 rooms and baths and was equipped with an elaborate system of compressors and motors.

Three smaller globes also will be razed.

Britain Advances Clocks

Another Hour Till Aug. 9

LONDON.—Britain on double summer time—two hours ahead of Greenwich mean time—until August 9, four weeks longer than last year.

British clocks have been one hour ahead of Greenwich time since the war began.

Britain on double summer time will be six hours ahead of New York, on Eastern War Time. The normal time difference between London and New York is five hours.

DEATHS

Fletcher D. Wright.
(From Durand Express)

Fletcher D. Wright, 79, native of Vernon Township, and a former Durand business man, died at the Durand Hospital Thursday evening where he had been taken that morning from the home of his son, Mason A. Wright, in Fenton, where he had been ill since the death of his wife a month ago.

Funeral services were held from the Morris Funeral Home in this city Saturday afternoon at two o'clock, the Rev. Harold Nessel of Gaines officiating and interment was made in Greenwood Cemetery.

The deceased was born on the farm, west of Durand, known as the late Cassius Reed farm, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Morrison Wright. Fifty-nine years ago he was married to Miss Eva B. Arthur, who passed away in 1910. Four children were born to them. Following his marriage he left Vernon Township, moving to Sherman, Wexford County, and eight years after removed to Belleville. A few years later he returned here and conducted a store on West Main Street, and six years later moved onto a farm near Cass City, returning again to Durand two years ago, having purchased a home on North Oak Street. He was married to Mrs. Mary Powlison in 1926. Mr. Wright was a member of the Methodist Church.

Fletcher Wright was a member of one of the Vernon Township oldest pioneer families, his grandfather, Ephraim Wright, having come up from Ohio as the thirteenth family to settle in Shiawassee County, and located at Newburg.

Surviving are a son, Mason, of Fenton; three daughters, Mrs. Lou Hart and Mrs. Sebba Hatherill, of Durand, and Mrs. Gertrude Reasoner, of Petoskey; a stepson, George Lewis, of Ploverville; a brother, Amos Wright, 89, of Vernon; nine grandchildren and five great grandchildren.

Melvin Moore.

Melvin Moore, 78, former Cass City resident, died Sunday afternoon in the Gleaner home in Alma following a long illness.

Funeral services were held at 2:00 p. m. Tuesday in Alma Methodist Church. Burial was in Alma Cemetery.

Melvin Moore was born in Ontario on May 6, 1864, and came to the Snover community when he was a small child. About 1901, he moved to Cass City and bought the Elias McKim blacksmith shop. He lived here a few years and then returned to Elmer.

Surviving are his widow, the former Beatrice Kelley; his mother, Mrs. Catherine Moore, Snover; four sons, Harry Moore, Snover, Carman Moore, Sandusky, and Wesley and Robert Moore, both of Detroit; two brothers, Walker Moore, Snover, and Siebert Moore, Detroit; a sister, Mrs. John Dorman, Snover; and eight grandchildren.

Poisonous Drug Plants

Many drug plants are poisonous, and inexperienced growers run a risk in handling them. Since the plants must be grown in quantity to make them profitable, raising them in the small home garden is not feasible. Another factor to be taken into consideration is the difficulty of harvesting and preparing many of these plants for market so that they can be sold at a profit.

SURELY NOT

"I have a friend who is crazy over you!"
"Yes? And might I ask what drove you that way?"

Contact

Striving to point out to one of his flock the error of his ways, the vicar said:

"You know that a man is known by the company he keeps?"

"Is that so?" was the unrepentant reply. "What I'd like to know is if a good man, like me, for instance, keeps company with a bad man, is the good man bad or the bad man good?"

She Hopes

The wife had been put on the budget plan. At the end of each month she and her husband would go over the accounts together. Every once in a while he would find an item, "H.O.K., $3.75," and a little farther on, "H.O.K., $15."

Finally he asked: "My dear, what is this—H.O.K.?"

"Heaven only knows," she replied.

In Hot Water

Thinking an electric iron would be a good substitute for a hot water bottle, a housewife in Helsingfors, Finland, placed it in her bed and turned on the current, but her inventiveness brought unexpected recognition by the city. She forgot about the iron, the bed caught fire, and she was fined for wasting electricity.

Help Win the War--- Save Your Waste Fats

* You will assist Uncle Sam in his gigantic struggle by bringing in waste fats and grease to our market.

WE WILL PAY YOU 4 CENTS A POUND FOR IT.

* Fats make glycerine, a product greatly needed in making explosives. Millions of pounds of glycerine are needed and housewives can supply them.

* Save all cooking fat, meat drippings, frying fats, bacon grease and pour them through a kitchen strainer into a clean, wide-mouthed can, keep in a cool, dark place until you have saved a pound or more and then deliver to our market. We pay you 4 cents a pound and then start the waste fats on to the munition factories. Do not let fats become rancid for the glycerine content is then reduced.

Kathleen Norris Says: Girls Seldom Win in Office Love Affairs

Reel Syndicate—WNU Features.

Martin, our office manager who is married, is a fine friend to me. After a few weeks of his cheerful kindness and many little acts of consideration I confessed my miserable affair with Tod.

By KATHLEEN NORRIS

"DEAR Mrs. Norris," writes Olivette, "I am 19 years old, and find myself in a difficult position, in which your advice would be very much appreciated. For the past year I have been working in a large office. My first sweetheart is a fellow-worker, who happens to be the nephew of one of the members of the firm. This boy is one of the most attractive boys in every way that I have met—handsome, rich, and of course much noticed by all the girls."

"I confess that I was carried away by his attentions, and after a few weeks of wonderful good times, during which he came twice to our apartment and met my parents, I made the mistake of yielding to him what he called the proof of my confidence and love."

"When Tod was drafted, a month later, you may imagine my consternation. In ten days I lost eight pounds, and looking back I seem to have been in tears most of the time. Before we parted I spoke of marriage, feeling that I could better bear bad news in the future if I had that security to go on, but he told me that it would upset his mother terribly and said that she was already sad enough."

Suffered a Shock.
"After he had gone—he had said more than once that he hoped I would some day meet his mother—I went to call upon her. Another girl was there, staying with her, and from what they said I realized that Tod was practically engaged to the other girl. I suppose many a girl has had to bear the shock I then experienced, and it is not about that I am writing you. It is about another man."

"This man is 42, married, and has a daughter of 12. He is the manager of our office, a fine, gentle, considerate friend to me. He asks nothing but my friendship and I want nothing more than this. Sweethearts, dancing, young parties, happiness are out of my life, and I feel sometimes that the years will go by without bringing them back."

"Martin, to call him that, first won my interest by commenting upon my changed looks and manner, when I was first feeling the heartbreak of Tod's coldness. For a time I merely said that matters at home were worrisome—goodness knows they were! But after a few weeks of his cheerful kindness, and a thousand little acts of consideration and sympathy, I broke down one afternoon when he and I were alone finishing some late letters, and confessed my whole miserable affair with Tod."

"But this friendship is being severely criticized, here in the office and by outsiders as well. Now one of my aunts has mentioned it to my mother. My aunt, it seems, knows Martin's wife. But as there is absolutely nothing wrong in our friendship I refuse to be intimidated by her. Martin makes me only the simplest presents; he has given me handkerchiefs, a bag, and flowers to wear once or twice, when he has taken me for a drive."

His Kindness Saved Her.
"We talk books, ideals, or just the pleasant foolishness of two persons who like to laugh at the same things. His greatest delight is to be kind to people, and his kindness has saved me when I was sinking with shame and loneliness. Could you like to receive letters and news from home.

Yes, I have seen a lot of country the past four months. I had my basic training in Arkansas and was fortunate enough to be selected for further training at Fitzsimons General Hospital. The course here lasts for two months which is almost up now. It is very complete and I'm sure we have all benefitted by it. From here we are sent to various units and hospitals. As yet the most of us are unassigned so we don't know where our next stop will be. We hope it will be some where we can all do our part.

The country here is swell—a lot of beautiful scenery and an ideal climate. Denver is a very pretty town. The people take great pride in their homes and lawns. The lawns and yards as a whole are much prettier than ours back east. Denver is also a swell soldiers' town. The people are just grand. Some of them are always taking the men for trips in the mountains or having dinners for them. We all hate to leave here because the places most of us go will not be anything like Denver.

Sincerely,
WINTON ROBLIN.

Vegetable Preparation and Processing Guide

Stock Those Shelves

Well-justified pride is yours if you can gaze at the summer's crop of vegetables, nicely put up on your canning shelf for, comes the winter, you have but to open one of those brightly colored jars with tomatoes, peas, beans, beets or carrots or any of the other vegetable favorites and part of that well-balanced meal is planned and on its way to the table.

Time was when canning was an unscientific and highly questionable process, but all this is past now, and you can now put up any of the vegetable and victory garden produce, and be certain that it will be attractive to look at, good to eat, and will not be spoiled if you take the simple precautions that make for successful canning.

Safest method for canning vegetables is by the pressure cooker. Your concern here is to be sure to process the exact length of time the vegetable requires, as indicated by the table at the top. If not properly processed, the food will spoil.

Selecting Vegetables.

Young, tender vegetables, freshly gathered, give you the best finished product. Canning cannot remedy tough, over-mature produce, so do not expect it to. Nor, should you expect to can what you cannot dispose of at the table while fresh. Commercial canners use vegetables grown to order, not leftovers, so it behooves you, homemakers, to take a tip from them.

Cleanliness is important. You'll enjoy letting cool water trickle, trickle, trickle over the vegetables to free them entirely of every trace of soil. Any soil left on the vegetable can carry bacteria, and thus be a major factor in spoiling an otherwise good product.

Process the jars of vegetables as soon as they are packed, never allowing them to stand around until you get to the serious business of canning.

Spoilage Factors.

Mold, yeast and bacteria cause food spoilage. They lurk in air, soil and water and must be destroyed by proper processing if the food is to keep in perfect condition. Then to assure food keeping well be sure the jar cover is fastened as tightly as possible. This you can do by any number of available devices.

It is also important when packing the jars, after vegetables have been precooked and you are spooning them into the jars, to wipe off any excess before fastening on the cover. Any small particles which lodge between cover and jar will cause spoilage.

Cooling the Jars.

Proper cooling is important to the good keeping of canned food. Do not set them in a draft, but rather away from one, with jars far enough apart to allow a free circulation of air around them.

Stacking the jars or covering them with a cloth does not allow for free circulation of the air. Jars should not be packed in boxes or in the canning cupboard until they are properly cool.

When the jars are cool, test to see if they are sealed properly, by taking a spoon and tapping the lid gently. If they give off a clear, ringing sound, they are properly sealed. If the sound is low and dull, there's a leak somewhere, and you would do best to re-can the food, and prevent spoilage.

Sterilizing Jars, Caps, Lids.

To dip the jars, lids and caps in hot or warm water is not proper sterilization. Before placing in sterilizer, wash all caps and jars and lids in soapy suds, then rinse thoroughly. Place in a pan on a rack or on a cloth laid on the bottom of the pan and pour warm water over them. Bring to a boil and boil for 15 minutes. The equipment may stay in the hot water longer, until you are ready to use it.

Speed Is Necessary.

The time from which the vegetables or fruit are picked and canned should be pared down to exceed not more than two hours. Changes take place in the composition of the food which makes it less desirable for canning, each hour it is allowed to stand without being canned.

Packing the Food.

Sandwiching the food down in the jars too tightly prevents the heat from getting around it and will result in improper processing. Especially important is a fairly loose packing with vegetables like corn, peas, greens and lima beans.

If liquid boils away or evaporates during processing, do not replace this other liquid before sealing the jar. Even though all the vegetables or fruits are not covered with juice, they will keep perfectly well, provided the contents are cooked properly and sealed well.

Since tomatoes are technically a fruit and are acid, they are canned differently from vegetables.

Tomatoes.

Scald tomatoes in boiling water 1 minute. Soak in cold water 1 minute. Peel, core and pack into sterilized jars. Add 1 teaspoonful of salt to each jar and cover with boiling water or tomato juice to within 1/2 inch of the top. Put on cap, screw tightly and place in pressure cooker for 10 minutes at 5 pounds, in a hot water bath for 35 minutes or in the oven for 75 minutes.

Vegetable Soup Mixture.

- 1 large onion (cut fine)
- 1 quart tomatoes (cut fine)
- 2 cups okra (cut fine)
- 2 cups corn (cut fine)

Combine the ingredients, stirring carefully to prevent scorching, for about 12 minutes. Pack loosely into clean jars and add 2 teaspoons salt to each jar. Put on cap fastening it tightly, and process in pressure cooker 40 minutes at 10 pounds.

If the directions for the vegetables you wish to can are not given in today's column, or if you have any vegetable canning problems, write to Miss Lynn Chambers, explaining your problem to her. Address your letters to her at Western Newspaper Union, 210 South Desplaines Street, Chicago, Illinois. Please enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope for your reply.

MAKING ONE ITEM DO FOR TWO—

how standardization saves money for Detroit Edison customers

Why have 41 different styles of outlet boxes when half-a-dozen will suffice? Why buy 16 different cleaning powders when four will do the job? All departments of the Company are cooperating in raising many questions similar to these. As a result, the big catalog shown above looms large in helping us to make savings. It lists some 30,000 items, all indexed and classified, that are purchased for use in our business. And every one of these items is standardized to achieve important economies in their use.

These economies are twofold: (1) the direct dollar saving in the initial cost of the item, and (2) the saving effected through cutting down the number of items, with a consequent lessening of storage, handling, and ordering expense. A few examples will illustrate the point: In our purchases of printed forms, we planned for fewer sizes, weights, and grades of paper, as well as fewer forms. This reduced the number of forms 43%, and saved $40,000 annually.

The apparently simple problem of washing floors, windows, walls and woodwork would not seem to present much opportunity for saving through the standardization of the materials involved. Yet by having cleaning powders made to our specification, we cut the cost more than half and saved over $5,000 a year. The substitution of wool felt for cork in pipe insulation saved 84 per cent of the cost... a total of $1,799 on one job. These examples can be multiplied—pipes and fittings, tools, wiring, lumber, metal polish, fly exterminators, rope and cord, drain solvent, etc. The list is almost endless.

Today we hear much about standardization in industry to help the war effort. Our standards program has been achieving economies for the past 20 years. These economies are reflected in our service and rates. The average price per kilowatt-hour paid by our residence customers for electricity has dropped 45 per cent in the last 20 years. International Court and Police Force For Postwar World Envisioned by Hull; Nazi Drive Increases Russia's Peril; Rommel Stymied by Allied Air Power

(EDITOR'S NOTE: When opinions are expressed in these columns, they are those of Western Newspaper Union's news analysts and not necessarily of this newspaper.)

Maj. Gen. Carl Spaatz, chief of the American air forces in the European theater of action (left), plus the Distinguished Service Cross on Maj. Charles C. Kegelman. Taking part in a recent bombing raid on enemy airfields in Holland, Kegelman brought his ship back safely after one motor was wrecked and a wing damaged in fighting with German air forces.

RUSSIAN FRONT:

"Terrible Days"

The gravity of the Russian situation could not be underestimated and no attempt was made to belittle its seriousness. Germany's report of the fall of Rostov emphasized the crisis.

As the sorely pressed Russians guarding the approaches to the Caucasus and the Volga river had fallen back before the million-man German army smashing its way southeast down the Don river valley, the Soviet army organ, Red Star, said frankly: "Terrible days face the country." It called upon the fighting men of Russia to emulate the example of 28 Red soldiers, who in the defense of Moscow last winter, died fighting a tank charge with little more than their bare hands.

The speed of the new Nazi drive against the Reds' celebrated defense-in-depth technique was believed to be due to the Germans' use of a crushing, mass maneuver which employed monster tanks, armored trains, heavy mortars and an unprecedented concentration of air power.

Only comforting note in the bleak picture was the success of Russian soldiers in regaining ground far to the north in their counter-offensive around Voronezh. By turning the Nazis back here, Marshal Timoshenko might be able to take some of the pressure off Red forces in the deep South who had fought with their backs to the wall in defense of Rostov.

U. S. CASUALTIES:

Casualty figures released by the Office of War Information revealed that the navy's losses since Pearl Harbor were 15 times greater than for the entire span of World War I. The OWI's statistics disclosed naval casualties thus far totaling 12,143 compared with 871 in the first World war. The current casualties included 3,420 killed; 1,051 wounded and 7,051 missing. Those of World War I included 356 killed in action; 58 died of wounds and 456 lost at sea.

The army's losses in the present war, were placed at 19,767. These included 902 killed; 1,413 wounded and 17,452 missing. That the Philippine Scouts trained under General MacArthur had given a heroic account of themselves was indicated by casualties listing 479 killed; 754 wounded and 11,000 missing.

Casualties for all services were placed at 44,413. "The bulk of the army casualties fall into the category of missing," the OWI said.

FEMININE ARMY:

WAAC Trains Hard

Every morning at 5:45 a. m. from now until next November 9, 800 members of the newly organized Women's Auxiliary Army corps will leap from their army cots to begin a crowded day of drills, lectures and training at their camp at Fort Des Moines, Iowa.

By November 9, America's first feminine army of occupation will begin to spread out to 19 forts throughout the country to relieve men in the armed forces for active combat duty.

HIGHLIGHTS . . . in the week's news

LONDON: The British information service said that British women are now nearly 100 per cent mobilized. Of 15,800,000 women between the ages of 18 and 64, the agency said, 7,500,000 are doing full time jobs in war production. About 670,000 others are disabled and 5,500,000 are taking care of families. Many others are serving in the auxiliaries of the army and navy.

WASHINGTON: The importance of the $100,000,000 fish industry to the nation's wartime food supply was stressed by President Roosevelt as he appointed Secretary of Interior Harold L. Ickes to be fisheries co-ordinator. Acting under his wartime powers, the President created the co-ordination office for the purpose of "developing and assuring sustained production."

JAPANESE:

Mixed Tidings

Taking their first offensive action in the southwest Pacific since their disastrous defeat in the Battle of the Coral Sea last May, the Japanese landed an invasion force at Buna, 100 miles directly across the eastern arm of New Guinea from Port Moresby, last Allied outpost of Australia.

A Melbourne communique reported that United Nations planes had attacked the invasion fleet and sank a large transport and barge, but did not prevent the landing.

On the Chinese front the Japs did not have such happy tidings to report to Tokyo. First item of bad news was the recapture by Chinese armies of Kienteh, a key point southwest of Hangchow. Second item was a report that United States bombers had sunk two Japanese naval craft on the Fu river in Kiangsi province.

Meanwhile along the Hangchow-Nanchang railway the Nipponese invaders were being constantly harassed by Chinese guerrillas. The official Central News agency disclosed that Chinese farmers had been armed with 30,000 rifles in each county of western and southern Chekiang province. They are organized into units strong enough to destroy small enemy detachments. If superior Japanese forces approach, they withdraw, leaving their villages stripped.

ANTI-INFLATION:

OPA Gets $120,000,000

Price Administrator Leon Henderson was given $120,000,000 with which to fight inflation, when the house of representatives agreed to adopt a conference committee's recommendations to compromise its differences with the senate.

The outspoken Henderson thus got $75,000,000 less for financing his operations than he had originally asked for, but actually $45,000,000 more. Political wisecracks observed that the result was simply an illustration of the old game of give and take. Henderson had first asked for more than he expected, the house first voted less than he actually needed. The finale was a compromise satisfactory to all.

WAR PROFITEERING:

Halted by House

Drastic steps to curb wartime profiteering were taken when the house of representatives passed a bill outlawing commission fees on government contracts, after Chairman Carl Vinson declared that agents, obtaining war contracts for manufacturers were "feecing American taxpayers."

Testimony presented previously to the house naval committee had disclosed that three Washington firms of so-called "sales engineers" had earned close to $2,000,000 in commission fees on government contracts in the past six months.

EGYPT:

Air Power Tells

It had become increasingly clear that air power was assuming a decisive role in the fight for Egypt. Steady reinforcements of the British air arm had enabled the Imperials to launch an offensive along the 35-mile front from El Alamein on the Mediterranean to the Quattara marshes, paced by an RAF onslaught that drove Nazi planes from the sky.

The British drive dislodged the Nazis from off-disputed Tel el Eisa (Hill of Jesus) in the north and succeeded in making considerable headway along the center.

Activity by the Allies had followed a week-long assault by American and British planes and British warships on the North African coastal highway on which German Marshal Rommel had rushed reinforcements to offset the capture of 6,000 Italians on the Egyptian front in previous engagements. In raids covering 275 miles of Rommel's exposed supply route, British planes virtually wiped out the El Daba airport near the Egyptian lines.

REQUIEM:

For U-Boat Crew

Burial with military honors is the hope of friend or foe alike, if death in battle is the fighting man's lot. Thus a tradition sanctioned by the ages was followed when the bodies of 29 German submarine crew members were buried in Hampton, Va. The victims were the first enemy dead to be landed on American shores since the beginning of the war.

The bodies and a few empty life jackets were all that remained afloat after a destroyer on Atlantic patrol sank the U-boat. The same honors were accorded the enemy as Americans might wish for their own dead, if the circumstances were reversed. Navy chaplains read the requiem. A navy firing squad fired a salute of three volleys. A navy bugler sounded taps.

AIR LEVIATHANS:

Aid War Effort

Giant airplanes shuttling across the seven seas carrying men and materials for the world's fighting fronts will become an increasingly important arm of Uncle Sam's service of supply, it was disclosed by Brig. Gen. Harold L. George, commanding the air transport forces, who announced that the army would rely on commercial airlines to operate greatly increased numbers of transport planes.

Current Wit and Humor

FORWARDED BACK

It was in London in Mount street, W., at about 1:30 a. m., that two old school-fellows who had been dining noticed a little dog running about in the bewildered way which lost dogs have.

"Poor old fellow's lost," commented one. "Pick him up and see if there's a name and address on his collar."

There was. The address was somewhere in Wimbledon, but the noble fellows never hesitated. They decided that the lost pet should at all costs be restored to his sorrowing mistress.

It was a long and dreary drive, but at last the sulky taxi-driver pulled up outside a darkened house. Much knocking and ringing brought a caretaker to the door.

"Mrs. Kerjones?" yawned the functionary. "She did live 'ere, but she left on Monday. She's gone to live in Mount street, in the West-end."

At His Word

First Voter—I'll bet Congressman Bunkum will be defeated for reelection.

Second Voter—Why do you say that?

First Voter—Why, in his first important speech in the campaign he got excited and shouted: "May the best man win!" and a lot of people have decided to take him at his word.

LEARNED HIS LESSON

"Didn't you hear all the professor's lecture?"
"Why, no. He began by saying that sleep is the secret of right living—and then I went home and went to bed."

His (Puff!) Alibi

Puffing and blowing, Robinson staggered into the doctor's office and fell into a chair.

"What ever have you been doing?" demanded the doctor.

"Oh, doctor," moaned Robinson. "I've been having a heavy meal and—"

"What!" gasped the doctor. "How many times have I told you that you mustn't hurry after a heavy meal?"

"That's so; but this time I had to."

"Why?"

"Because I couldn't pay for it!"

Author's Farewell

Between Alexander Dumas and his faithful servant there existed a bond of friendship and affection that ripened with the years. When the celebrated author was lying on his deathbed the servant could not stifle his grief, and stood in a corner of the room, sobbing convulsively. Hearing him, Dumas pulled himself up feebly, and looked at the man. A faint smile crossed his face, and he whispered:

"Don't weep, my friend. If I want anything up there, I'll ring for you."

Engagement

"Can you come to town tonight? We're having an engagement dinner."

"Daughter engaged, eh! I congratulate you."

"Oh, no; we've engaged a new cook."

TAME STUFF

"Are you the man that was married in a cage of lions?"
"I'm the man."

"Did it seem exciting?"

"It did then. It wouldn't now."

Ham On

I think I'll be a druggist when I am old and tough. And learn the name and purpose of all the drug store stuff.

And I'll have a clerk. For the brainy work. And give him ice cream orders till I have had enough.

What's in a Name

Towne—I'm going to call my drama the "Vacuum Cleaner." Brown—That ought to have some drawing power.

How much do you know about Michigan history? As a mid-summer diversion from the war, we suggest that you deduct five points for each question you miss out of the twenty questions listed below. To get a grade of 70, don't miss more than six of them.—Editor's Note.

- Did you know—
1. That Marquette started the first permanent settlement in Michigan at Sault Ste. Marie? This was in 1668 under the French flag.
 2. That the first voyage ever made by a sailing vessel upon Lake Erie or the upper lakes was made by LaSalle, the great French explorer, in the "Griffin"? This was in the year 1679.
 3. That John Jacob Astor founded the American Fur Company with headquarters on Mackinac Island? Profits from beaver skins were invested in New York real estate.
 4. That the Indian massacre of Fort Michilimackinac occurred during the famous Pontiac conspiracy to drive the British from the Great Lakes?
 5. That Detroit (French for "place of the strait") was held by the British twenty years after the Declaration of Independence was signed?

6. That Michigan obtained the Upper Peninsula in exchange for Toledo and other land in Ohio as a result of the so-called Michigan-Ohio war of 1835?
7. That Michigan was admitted into the Union in 1837? Stevens T. Mason of Virginia had been elected governor of Michigan in 1835.
8. That "Port Sheldon" near Grand Haven, "Brest" near Monroe, and "Singapore" in Allegan County were "paper towns" where wild-cat banks issued their own bank notes and swindled thousands of persons in the East?

9. That the State of Michigan started to build three railroads, the Michigan Southern, the Michigan Central, and the Michigan Northern about 100 years ago? Reason: Cheap transportation for pioneer settlers.

10. That Route 112, Detroit to Chicago, was once a favorite Indian trail? Bicycle clubs were clamoring for better roads as early as 1875. The state highway department was created in 1905; Horatio S. Earle, an ardent bicyclist, was named the first commissioner.

11. That Henry Clay opposed the building of the "Soo" canal and locks on the grounds that the "Soo" was beyond the remotest settlement of the nation? The improvement was completed in 1855, and it caused a big boom in Upper Peninsula mining.

12. That the "Soo" canal carries more water traffic each year than the Panama and Suez Canals combined? Because of its military importance, American troops guard the canal and locks on both sides of the American-Canadian border. This special zone is the only one of its kind in the United States.

13. That more than 90,000 men from Michigan served in the Civil War? Austin Blair was the war governor; Zach Chandler, Michigan's "fighting" senator.
14. That iron was first discovered in Michigan near Ishpeming and Negaunee? The ore was hauled in wagons to a place on Lake Superior where Marquette now stands.

15. That on the same night of the great Chicago Fire—October 8, 1871—a conflagration destroyed the town of Holland, nearly wiped out Manistee, and raced eastward through the counties of Lake, Osceola, Isabella, Midland, Saginaw, Tuscola, Sanilac and Huron to the shore of Lake Huron?

16. That a Presbyterian clergyman, a Catholic priest, a judge and a governor (Lewis Cass) founded the University of Michigan in 1817 at Detroit? The institution was moved to Ann Arbor in 1839.

17. That the Republican party was founded at Jackson in 1854 by radical whigs and democrats to oppose the "schemes of aristocracy"? Incidentally, newspaper editors were leaders in the movement.

18. That Douglas Houghton was the first state geologist? A county, a city, and a lake were named after him.

19. That Michigan furnished nearly 100,000 men in the first World War?

20. That Fort Custer, near Battle Creek, was named for a Monroe boy, George A. Custer, of the famous Fourth Michigan Cavalry in the Civil War? This regiment split a $100,000 reward with the First Wisconsin Cavalry for capture of Jefferson Davis.
