Old Rubber, Metal, Waste Fats Are Vitally Needed

A Greatly Intensified Nation-wide Salvage Program Is Designed.

A greatly intensified nation-wide salvage program has been designed to reach into every home and industrial plant so as to increase the flow of all vital scrap materials to the country's war plants. The iron and steel industries, and the glycerine producers are sponsoring a national advertising campaign in an effort to stimulate scrap collection.

The rubber shortage is far worse than most people seem to realize. The enemy controls a large percentage of the world's rubber producing area and every ounce of our stock pile is needed desperately for the armed forces.

A medium tank for example requires 1,750 pounds; a ten-ton pontoon bridge, 3,200 pounds; a half-ton truck, 125 pounds; a flying fortress, 1,250 pounds; a 35,000-ton battleship, 15,000 pounds.

All old scrap rubber can be reclaimed and used over again. Reclaimed rubber can be mixed with crude rubber to form a compound usable in many military products.

The housewife has recently been called upon to do her bit by saving waste kitchen fats. All types of cooking fats are strained, saved in clean cans, and sold to the local meat dealers. The meat dealers in turn pass them on to a rendering works.

Fats are used in making glycerine, which is a base product for many chemicals used by our armed forces.

More than two billion pounds of fats are wasted in the kitchens in United States each year. The cut-off of oils from the East plus increasing needs of fats and oils for our allies makes it necessary to salvage these waste kitchen fats.

In our effort for victory, every pound of waste metal must be salvaged; such as iron, steel, brass, copper, aluminum, lead, discarded tools, metal beds, stoves, railings, tire chains, pots and pans, pipe and Turn to page 4, please.

Home Service of Red Cross Is Greatly Expanded

Guy W. Landon Will Be Assisted by Two Men from Caro and Vassar.

Guy W. Landon of Cass City, who has been conducting the Home Service Department of the Tuscola County Red Cross, will have part of the work of this division, which promises to be greatly increased, assumed by two assistants. They are Albert Davis of Vassar and Don Ellwanger, postmaster at Caro.

the Red Cross has greatly expanded its activities since war was declared last December. Its primary responsibility is to assist service men and ex-service men and their families. This is still the outstanding service which the Red Cross renders, although disasters from flood, wind and fire are given ample emergency relief.

The Tuscola County Red Cross has accepted the challenge of today and the Home Service Department is on the job night and day taking care of emergency calls that come Turn to page 5, please.

Letters from Men in the Service

From Staff Sergeant Pilot Grant Reagh.

Staff Sergeant Pilot Grant Reagh, who anticipated great thrills in flying in his service with the U. S. Army Air Forces, was treated to a super-sensation when he had his first crackup on a California flying field. While making a night landing, he was blinded by lights so he could not see the runway. A burst nose wheel, a long slide on the axle and flames going 40 feet behind each engine were some of the happenings in a very brief period.

"I was half out of the plane for I didn't want to get burned up in it," he wrote his aunt, Miss Gertrude Striffler, in Cass City. "When it stopped, boy, was I happy! I saw Ed Graham again up here. The other night I was over to see Patty and Betty Pinney."

From Pvt. Clark M. Knapp.

Camp Grant, Ill., July 27, 1942. Dear Mr. Lenzner: Some time before I leave Camp Grant, I have wanted to write to you and this being our last week of basic training, decided I had better do it now.

I'm Platoon Orderly today and since this duty isn't too tough, in my leisure moments, will endeavor to write you.

Before doing this, I had the permission of our Company Commander, Captain Theodore C. Lee, to do so. He approved and thought it a fine thing to do.

The training period that is just drawing to a close has been a hard, extensive one, and being a trainee myself, can attest to this fact. Our superior officers have agreed that this eight weeks training period has been a hard one for them, if Turn to page 8, please.

Officers to Hand Out Traffic Tickets

"No U-turn" signs have been erected on Main Street at the intersections of Oak, Seeger and Leach Streets. While local officers have been lenient thus far and have gone no farther than calling attention of violators to the regulations regarding U-turns, the police have a supply of traffic violation tickets which they plan to hand out starting Saturday, to transgressors. The tickets will summon drivers to appear in justice court.

41 Michigan Counties Will Be Darkened Aug. 12

Lights Are to Be Obscured for 30 Minutes from 11:00-11:30 P. M.

Months of preparation and training in civilian defense will be translated into action at 11:00 p. m., August 12, when 41 counties in southern Michigan douse lights simultaneously in the biggest blackout test since the war began.

Participating in the test with Michigan will be portions of Illinois and Wisconsin which, with Michigan, make up the Sixth Civilian Defense Region.

"This is a big assignment, but I have no doubt that we can handle it without difficulty," commented Lt. Col. Harold A. Furlong, administrator of the Michigan Council of Defense. Expressing the same confidence was Captain Donald S. Leonard, State Commander of the Citizens' Defense Corps, who pointed out that to date, Michigan has staged 186 blackouts successfully, some covering large areas.

Most of the counties in the eastern portion of the area to be blacked out August 12 have had one or more blackouts, and most of those in the western portion had planned such tests for nights later in the month.

Lights in all counties south of the northern boundaries of Oceana, Newaygo, Mecosta, Isabella, Midland, Bay and Huron Counties are to be obscured at 11:00 p. m., Eastern War Time, for 30 minutes. These counties make up the first five districts of the Michigan Citizens' Defense Corps.

Regulations for the blackout are being distributed to county, municipal and civilian defense officials throughout the area. These regulations will list the exceptions to the blackout, including airway beacon and obstruction lights, railroad signals, barricade flares and the like.

Not Too Much Paint

Home owners who are planning any outdoor painting during cold weather should bear in mind that a too heavy application of paint will result in a wrinkled surface.

Even though the surface may be dry when the paint is applied, cold or damp weather will retard drying.
An addition of turpentine will reduce this tendency.

One-Eyed Presidents

Two recent Presidents were one-eyed. Theodore Roosevelt, who had weak eyes since childhood, lost the sight of one eye from an injury received in a boxing contest in the White House. President Woodrow Wilson became blind in his right eye from a retinal hemorrhage.

There's Safety in NUMBERS

Telephone switchboards are so made that a telephone number designates the correct connection to be made.

If you are not sure of the number you wish to call, consult your telephone directory.

Wrong numbers are annoying—annoying to you and to the other party called.

Errors cause a waste of time and tie up valuable telephone equipment which is so sorely needed during this emergency.

Annual Meeting

The annual meeting of the stockholders of The Farm Produce Company will be held at the Town Hall in Cass City, Michigan, on Tuesday, August 11

1942, at 2:30 p. m., for the election of directors and transacting any other business coming before the meeting.

Don't forget Tuesday, August 11.

C. J. Striffler, Secretary.

FUEL IS A WEAPON!

Make the Most of It!

On the farm front—as on the battle front—the best use of mechanical power depends upon the use of correct fuel and lubricants. Every tank or tractor that operates at less than top efficiency is a saboteur—wasting vital manpower, oil and time needed to win the war!

If your tractor is below par—here's a tip! You'll get longer life and better performance with our motor fuels and longer-lasting lubricants. Our top quality oils are triple-filtered to minimize carbon deposits and double dewaxed to save motor wear, gasoline and provide easier starting. Remember, Uncle Sam needs your tractor NOW—and needs it in Class 1-A! Make sure sure that you're getting full horsepower from your tractor and the fuel you buy. Call us today.

Here's How to Save Fuel:

 TUNE-UP YOUR TRACTOR

Keep spark plugs, valves, distributor, magneto and other parts properly adjusted for top performance.

 OVERHAUL YOUR TRACTOR

If your engine is worn, new parts can increase power and reduce fuel consumption.

 CHOOSE THE RIGHT FUEL

Let us recommend the fuel which gives you the most power per gallon in your tractor.

Oak Bluff Breezes.

Hopes for the return of the old shore line continues as the water rises gradually even though this is the normal time of year for it to be at its lowest.

The past week-end saw the usual activity.

E. R. Wilson arrived Saturday for the week-end in time for the snack party and heart game which the Karl and Berrien Ketchums gave.

Jim Ballard entertained a number of house guests as did the Charles Ballards, the latter having F. C. Ballard of North Branch and his sister, Mrs. M. Dio, from Saturday until Monday morning.

Myrtle Holmes deserted the camp on Sunday for a family reunion at Vassar and left us again for the day on Tuesday.

Everyone regrets the illness of Mr. Wilson's father, but we hope to see him again before long.

Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Wurm entertained at a picnic dinner Saturday evening for Mrs. J. D. Brooker, who has been a guest at the Burke cottage for the past week.

We shall miss the Berrien Ketchums and Master Bobbie and Miss Susie, but Mrs. Karl Ketchum and Thad will remain for several weeks and we hope for several good sessions of bridge.

Mr. Wilson has added a new bike to our group and when we start off now we are quite a brigade.

Mrs. A. A. Hitchcock gave a luncheon on Saturday for her schoolhood friend, Grace Tennant Connelly. Mrs. O. K. James and Mrs. F. C. Striffler were also out-of-town guests. Needless to say, there was some little reminiscing. Miss Margaret McKenzie spent a few days in Owosso and Detroit last week and true to family tradition attended a Tiger ball game, returning Friday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. B. T. Hallam of Detroit were guests on Sunday at the Burke cottage.

Mr. and Mrs. William Miller occupied the McCoy cottage over the week-end.

Mrs. E. R. Wilson entertained at a bridge luncheon on Friday to honor Mrs. J. D. Brooker.

The weather is conducive to those pleasant, informal beach suppers and the Misses Phoebe and Georgia Kerr have had several have others. A fire on the beach with congenial friends, good food and the gorgeous sunsets is entertainment hard to surpass.

Furs for the Fair Sex

Some 30,000 muskrats which will eventually grace the shoulders of American and Canadian women, are being trapped this spring by Indians on the Two Islands preserve near The Pas, Manitoba. The Two Islands muskrat harvest is being shared by 160 Indian and non-Indian trappers who for three weeks work should receive an average of $20 per month for the ensuing 12 months. The preserve of 160,000 acres has an estimated 60,000 muskrat population.

Smart Woman

Mrs. Harold Ernberger, Mansfield, Ohio, used to rise at 5 a. m. to prepare breakfast for her husband, who had to be at work early. Now she rises at the same time and starts calling a list of 20 customers to whom she furnishes a "waking service," seven calls for 25 cents.

Continuing the column's tabloid review of Michigan history, we present twenty questions this week for the most part on contemporary life.

You'll be doing well to get a grade of 50 this time, so check off five points for every question that you miss, and don't miss more than ten of them.—Editor's Note.

DID YOU KNOW—

1. That the largest art colony in the Middle-West is a Saugatuck where the Chicago Art Institute maintains a summer school of painting?

2. That Michigan's native sons and daughters in literature include Stewart Edward White, Harold Titus, Rex Beach, James Oliver Curwood, Clarence Buddington Kelland, Ray Standard Baker (writing as David Grayson), Edgar A. Guest, Anne Campbell, Douglas Malloch, Arthur Pound, Paul de Kruif, Edna Ferber, Ring Lardner, Helen Topping Miller, Margaret Rawlings and Webb Miller. (There are many others!)

3. That in 1930 there were 173,777 Canadian-born citizens in Michigan. In addition to this group, 25,539 French-Canadians had moved to the state. The second group in numerical strength were Polish with 199,228; third, Germans with 81,714; and fourth, English numbering 62,721.

4. That Michigan's greatest industrial expansion was between 1920 and 1930 when the state's population increased 32 per cent? Only two states—Florida and California—exceeded Michigan during this decade.

5. That Michigan State College, founded in 1857, was the first agricultural college in the United States? As a result of its success, the United States land grant college act was made a law in 1862.

6. That Michigan State Normal College, founded in 1852, was the first normal school west of Albany, New York? Other colleges now include Central at Mount Pleasant, Western at Kalamazoo and Northern at Marquette.

7. That the second oldest continuously maintained parish of the Roman Catholic Church in the United States is St. Anne's, Detroit? This church was established two days after Cadillac's landing on July 21, 1701. Father Gabriel Richards, pastor from 1802 to 1832, was the only priest ever to serve in Congress.

8. That Michigan's nationally famous state department of conservation administers 55 state parks and 12 state forests and maintains a forest fire division to protect 20,000,000 acres of fire hazard area? The world's first forest fire experiment station is located near Rosecommon; short wave radio is utilized.

9. That Michigan sells more hunting and fishing licenses in proportion to its population than any other state?

10. That the Knights of Labor, formed in 1869 on principles of craft organization (the same as the C. I. O.), elected 38 members to the state legislature in 1886 and were instrumental in helping to enact considerable progressive legislation such as compulsory school attendance law, ten-hour day, a moderate child labor law, industrial safety device act and laws requiring mine inspection and abolition of child labor in mines?

11. That Michigan natural resources include copper, iron, gold, salt, limestone, coal, gypsum, oil and gas?

12. That rock salt is mined under Detroit (with huge deposits beneath the Detroit River) at a depth of 1,150 feet?

13. That Michigan has almost twice as much standing timber as Wisconsin? In 1849 there were 558 sawmills in Michigan, employing 2,730 persons. Residents then believed that the supply was inexhaustible!

14. That Michigan laid the first cement highway, built one of the first super-highways, was the first to adopt a policy of "clear vision ahead" in highway design and is leading other states in scenic roads?

15. That the first telephone system in Michigan was built by a mine operator at Ontonagon after he had seen Bell's invention at the Philadelphia exposition?

16. That the Olds Motor Works erected in Detroit first factory built in America for manufacture of automobiles? Ransom E. Olds' first auto steamer appeared in 1887 at Lansing. Steam was generated by burning gasoline.

17. That 135,485 Michigan men served in the first World War? Edwin Denby, who enlisted in Michigan as a private in 1917, became secretary of the navy in 1921.

18. That the last Indian stronghold in Michigan was the Keweenaw Peninsula and Isle Royale which were ceded officially to the government 100 years ago on October 4?

19. That Abraham Lincoln gave an anti-slavery address in Kalamazoo in 1856? The Republican party had been formed at Jackson in 1854; Michigan was inflamed for abolition of slavery.

20. That St. James, a town on Beaver Island off Charlevoix, was once a capital of a Mormon kingdom and the seat of Emmet and Manitou Counties in 1849? James Jesse Strang, leader, ruled the island as a king and later was elected to the House of Representatives at Lansing. His slayers escaped on a United States revenue cutter and were released by the sheriff at Mackinaw City.

Save your WASTE FATS
to make explosives

You can serve in a very large measure by a very small effort on your part. All you have to do is to bring in waste fats and grease to our market and receive 4 cents per pound.

1. The need is urgent. War in the Pacific has greatly reduced our supply of vegetable fats from the Far East. It is necessary to find substitutes for them. Moreover, fats make glycerine. And glycerine makes explosives for us and our allies—explosives to down Axis planes, stop their tanks, sink their ships. Millions of pounds of glycerine are needed and housewives can help supply them.

2. Don't throw away a single drop of used cooking fat—bacon grease, meat drippings, frying fats—every kind you use. After you've got all the cooking good from them, pour them through a kitchen strainer into a clean, wide-mouthed can. Keep in a cool, dark place. Please don't use glass containers or paper bags.

3. Take them to our market when you've saved a pound or more. We will pay you for your waste fats and get them started on their way to the war industries. It will help if you can deliver your fats early in the week.

FOUR THINGS NOT TO DO

1. Don't bring less than one pound at a time.
2. Don't bring your fats in glass containers or paper bags.
3. Don't let fats stand so long that they become rancid. If they do, the glycerine content is reduced.
4. Don't bring your fats on week-ends if you can avoid it. Help us by returning them early in the week.

How to get the most light

from your

LAMPS AND FIXTURES

"Take good care of the things you have" is one of the cardinal rules of the U. S. Government's Consumer's Pledge—and it applies just as much to your lamps and fixtures as to your electric appliances. Perhaps it is even more important, because lamps lose their efficiency little by little, day by day, as dust and dirt collect on bulbs and shades and reflector bowls. The amount of light you are getting may be cut in half before you realize it... and these days you need plenty of good light for easy comfortable seeing, during those extra hours you spend knitting or sewing or doing war work. Good light helps make your time more productive.

Here are a few simple rules to aid in keeping your lamps and fixtures at top efficiency: Wipe all lamp bulbs frequently with a damp cloth, also the reflector bowls and shades. Dust steals light. Replace dark-colored shades with light shades or shades with white linings. This may give you as much as 50 per cent more light. Use the RIGHT SIZE BULBS in your lamps and fixtures—not too large, not too small. Too large a lamp may cause glare, too small a lamp gives inadequate light. Move your lamps closer to the point of use, so that they shed their light more directly on your work. Check the location of all your lamps with this in mind. Use adapter shades and linings to modernize your present equipment. This can be done easily and at low cost, and you obtain good light while conserving materials. The Detroit Edison Company.

Help Win the War---
Save Your Waste Fats

* You will assist Uncle Sam in his gigantic struggle by bringing in waste fats and grease to our market.

WE WILL PAY YOU 4 CENTS A POUND FOR IT.

* Fats make glycerine, a product greatly needed in making explosives. Millions of pounds of glycerine are needed and housewives can supply them.

* Save all cooking fat, meat drippings, frying fats, bacon grease and pour them through a kitchen strainer into a clean, wide-mouthed can, keep in a cool, dark place until you have saved a pound or more and then deliver to our market. We pay you 4 cents a pound and then start the waste fats on to the munition factories. Do not let fats become rancid for the glycerine content is then reduced.

The services which the Home Service can render are numerous and vary in many respects. All families having problems coming under this service should feel free to contact the Red Cross for information as it might tend to speed up and secure a solution to their problems at a much earlier date. As an example, if there is a family with a soldier in the service whom the family wishes to reach because of sickness or death in the home, it is well that you contact your Red Cross Home Service first, as no furloughs are granted until the Red Cross verifies the sickness or death. Through this service the service men can be traced and located regardless of where they might be stationed.

As an example of the persistence of the Red Cross in locating a service man, an instance in which Mr. Landon was active is here cited. Relatives desired to get in touch with a soldier being transferred, whose father had passed away. His last known address was at San Francisco. Red Cross officials traced him to Salt Lake City, then to Chicago, and the Red Cross at Washington finally located him in New Jersey and arranged for him to be here in time for the funeral service.

If there is a dependent of a soldier or an ex-service man in need of assistance because of limited financial circumstances, the Red Cross would appreciate having such cases brought to their attention. If you have a soldier in the service or a boy about to enter his government's service, tell him that the 3,700 Red Cross Chapters all over the world are ready and waiting to give him assistance in any physical, mental or financial difficulty that he might have. Red Cross field directors who are located in every military camp, are there to act in the capacity of a parent to discuss the many and varied problems that sometimes confront the soldier.

Now that salaries of soldiers have been increased and allotments for soldiers' dependents have been granted to become effective November 1st, next, the Home Service will be glad to assist in filling out all necessary papers or answer questions relative to the allotment. In fact, any information on Red Cross activities can be supplied by this department and persons desiring same should not hesitate to call.

As our boys continue to enter the service, the work of the Home Service will necessarily grow, therefore the citizens of the county should avail themselves of the opportunity to know this service and make use of it whenever necessary. Since the first of this year, 62 cases have come before the Home Service Department and practically every township in the county has been covered in making the investigations which these cases have required. Numerous telephone calls and telegrams are going through the Home Service daily to complete the contact between the soldiers and the family and the families that have had occasion to use this service realize its value. The Tuscola County Red Cross Chapter is anxious to extend this service whenever or wherever it is desired.

In cases where parents have failed to receive word from their sons in the service for some time, the Red Cross endeavors to make contacts between the men and their families. Even in cases of combat, the Red Cross is the agency through which relatives may get information from any service men who may be prisoners of war.

Ordnance Soldiers Trained in Repairing

WASHINGTON, D. C.—Twelve leading manufacturers, holding large contracts to produce defense items, have installed a system of training ordnance soldiers in every phase of assembly and repair of weapons they are producing, the war department announced recently.

This instruction, a result of co-operation between the ordnance department, services of supply, and civilian industrialists, is in addition to army training.

A tank or gun, repaired in or near the battlefield and put back into action, is more valuable than one coming off the production line because it is at the front where needed. To get equipment from the factory to the field requires approximately two months. Therefore, when a gun, tank, or other fighting tool is put out of action, ordnance troops must repair it in the shortest possible time. They require special mechanical training and technical knowledge for this work.

A former automobile manufacturer now producing aircraft cannon is holding special classes for this training every two weeks. Prominent gear manufacturers are giving intensified courses in production and repair of spare and replacement parts. A sewing machine manufacturer has a special three-weeks' course teaching the maintenance of complicated fire control instruments. A producer and distributor of spare parts for the automotive industry teaches the repair of new type of aircraft cannon instruments.

Enlisted men chosen for these specialized courses have displayed a special aptitude for their work during their initial school-of-the-soldier training at replacement centers. Ordnance officers of the services of supply report that industrial leaders throughout the United States are planning to train soldiers in the maintenance of all fighting equipment manufactured by them.

Tropical Paradise

Palms line the gleaming coral beach at Nassau, and when the northern lands are shivering in the grip of snow and sleet, the Bahamas are like a veritable tropical paradise. At Nassau, the capital, the water is warm and unbelievably blue, so that the sand looks whiter and the palm trees greener by contrast. The beaches are ideal, sheltered as they are by the jutting coral reefs that surround the island.

WEEKLY NEWS ANALYSIS

Russian Crisis Heightened as Nazis Push on Toward Caucasus Oil Fields; 4,000,000 Men in Service, Says FDR; Japs Resume Offensive in New Guinea

(EDITOR'S NOTE: When opinions are expressed in these columns, they are those of Western Newspaper Union's news analysts and not necessarily of this newspaper.)
Released by Western Newspaper Union.

Attorney General Francis Biddle (right), who headed the prosecution of the eight Nazi saboteurs before the military commission, is shown as he left the U. S. Supreme court in company with Oscar S. Cox, assistant solicitor general, after he fought the defendants' effort to have the Supreme court transfer their trial from the military to civil courts.

RUSSIA:

Nazi Steamroller

Inexorably the Nazi's monster war machine had forced the Russians back mile by mile from Kharkov to beyond Rostov in the lower reaches of the Don basin.

Throughout the cruel retreat of 250 miles Red Marshal Simeon Timoshenko had shrewdly played his string out. His formula: Fall back before the superior Nazi onslaught; contest every inch stubbornly; inflict the maximum damage on the invading Germans.

By thus staying his hand he had kept his own army intact and had forced the Germans to extend themselves. But the Nazi resources in men and machines had seemed to be without limit, for it was reported that 12 fresh divisions and 10,000 tanks had been poured into the conflict after the fall of Rostov.

Hitler was said to be willing to gamble the lives of a million young Germans to gain control of the Russian oil fields of the Caucasus. To turn aside the onrushing Axis flood, General Timoshenko had thrown his Red army reserves into a titanic struggle for the preservation of Russia.

The grimness of the situation was underscored by Premier Stalin's sharp order to his armies: "Not one step back! Every officer and man must stand his ground and fight to the bitter end."

Inspired by Stalin's appeal, Red forces defending the approaches to Stalingrad hurled the German thrust back. The Russians made a determined stand on the Don river south of Tsimlyansk, while on the north flank at Voronezh they dislodged the enemy from strong positions.

4,000,000 MEN:

In U. S. Service

President Roosevelt told the nation that with 4,000,000 men under arms, the slack in America's food supplies is being rapidly taken up and shortages may be expected in specific things to eat. He emphasized, however, that there will be no shortage of food and that America will have enough to eat.

To illustrate his point, the President cited temporary shortages of meat in several sections of the country. A number of similar shortages are likely to occur, he said, and listed these reasons for the beef scarcity: 1—The usual off-season for beef; 2—People with more money than ever before trying to buy more expensive cuts; 3—Greater consumption of meat by the armed forces than they ever ate in civilian life; 4—The necessity of buying in advance for the services, which further tightens the shortages.

The problem of shortages, the President declared, lies in directly with the scrap salvage campaigns now under way—iron and steel scrap, waste fats, tin cans and rubber.

Mr. Roosevelt said he was appealing to every householder, every shopkeeper, every citizen "to dig deep into his attic, cellar, barn and back yard and turn in every ounce of scrap useful to war production."

ALEUTIANS:

Unified Air Command

Vaporous as the fogs that haunt the Aleutian islands was the announcement by the navy of the creation of a unified command of all aircraft operations in that area.

The announcement was purposely vague, however, for as it explained, exact details as to command relationships and the exact location of headquarters could not be disclosed because they would be of value to the enemy.

EGYPT:

Nature Aids Allies

Superior air power, reinforced mechanized troops and a desolate waste of quick-sand marshes combined to give the British defenders of Egypt the upper hand over Marshal Rommel's Nazi invaders.

The strengthened air power manifested itself in sustained attacks on the German fighting positions, devastating bombing attacks on Tobruk, Matruh and other key Axis supply bases by American as well as RAF planes. The augmented tank forces demonstrated their power in Allied advances from El Alamein on the Mediterranean to the Tel el Eiza sector and in the capture of a substantial number of prisoners and supplies.

Of the favorable factors—the third—the impenetrable marshes of Quattara remained as Rommel's biggest obstacle to reaching his goal of Alexandria and the Suez canal. This vast sink which reaches from the interior of the Sahara to within 35 miles of the Mediterranean coast at El Alamein, prevented the wily Axis general from attempting a flanking movement around the British lines. Although Arab caravans have crossed the tip of the Quattara marshes, the shifting dunes, the quick-sands and the marshy quagmires made the use of tanks and mechanized equipment impossible.

PACIFIC AREA:

Japs in the Jungle

After giving Gen. Douglas MacArthur more than three months time in which to ship men, guns, fighter planes and bombers to the eastern edge of New Guinea, the Japs had resumed offensive movements against Port Moresby and extended aerial feelers toward the Allies' rear bases on the Australian mainland.

The Jap strategy was to advance toward Port Moresby by means of land patrols along a narrow trail leading toward a strategic mountain pass in the Owen Stanley range from their recently won base at Buna.

American and Australian troops demonstrated that they were prepared for the Nipponese infiltration tactics, for Allied patrols drove the Japs back from Kokoda area in the foothills. Specially trained in jungle fighting the Allied troops were able to meet the Japs on their own terms and to deal them their first defeat in a type of fighting that earlier had won Malaya and Singapore for them.

MISCELLANY:

WASHINGTON. — Jurisdiction of President Roosevelt's military commission was upheld by the Supreme court when that body denied the seven Nazi saboteurs the right to have their case heard in civil court. Chief Justice Stone made the announcement, holding that court was not granting the prisoners' plea to file writs of habeas corpus after an army tribunal had completed extensive hearings and testimony as to their guilt.

LONDON: Love is enemy agent No. 1 for British youths training with the royal navy to make commando raids. "It's not drunkenness and careless talk in pubs that causes us the most grief," said an officer. "It's love. We find that in most cases the offender who gives away vital information is a fellow who is not particularly impressive and is trying to be a big shot with some girl."

NEW YORK: New York motorists paying their license fees next year will receive a metal strip reading NY-43 instead of new plates.

U. S. MANPOWER:

Total Mobilization?

Mobilization of the total manpower of the United States—estimated at 69 million labor units—was forecast as work proceeded in Washington on the formulation of a national war service bill. This vast reservoir of man power would be assigned as part of the total war effort to essential services in factories, on farms, in laboratories and in educational activities training the nation's youth.

Sponsors of the proposed bill pointed out that it would not only do for this country what the "essential work" order had accomplished for Great Britain but provide additional directives as well.

Back of the sponsorship of the bill, was the urgent belief of the chiefs of the war administration that the longer the war goes on the more imperative will it be for the nation to assign each available man and woman to a specific task in the total war effort.

Looming as a possibility was the registration of 42,000,000 women between the ages of 18 and 65, supplementing the recent registration of all males between the ages of 45 and 64.

LEND-LEASE:

Much More Needed

Critics of the lend-lease administration found ammunition for their offensive when the Office of War Information disclosed that "somewhat less" than 12 per cent of this country's total munitions output was being shipped to America's Allies.

While acknowledging that this was "not as much as they need to do the job," the report declared that in shipments of planes and tanks the proportion was "much higher."

The OWI noted that cash purchases by foreign governments had brought the total war shipments to a figure higher than 12 per cent, but did not name the total.

Although admitting that the lend-lease program was not so large as they wish it to be, the OWI spokesmen asked that "other considerations be taken into account."

FARM-BORN PROPHET:

Ford Sees Prosperity

Beginning the 80th year of his life, Henry Ford emphasized his unshaken conviction that beyond the present war lies an era of prosperity unparalleled in the world's history.

The farm-born industrial genius visualized an intensive development of the soil as a preventive of war and as the keystone of a new peaceful world order.

"Intensive production," he said, "means a world busy at work and a friendly, helpful exchange of goods. Such a world has neither time nor incentive for war."

HENRY FORD

"Make idle land work..."

Idle land, he added, was a hampering factor and he favored forcing it into production through higher taxation if necessary.

Summing up his philosophy of peace, he declared: "The intensive production of the world's goods, new goods to serve human needs and legitimate desires—that is the broad highway to peace."

HARRY HOPKINS:

17th Groom

Social historians recalled that 16 times before the White House had been the scene of weddings. Thus Lend Administrator Harry Hopkins and Mrs. Louise Gill Macy became the 17th couple to say "I do" in the historic old mansion on Washington's Pennsylvania avenue.

The close personal relationship between Hopkins and the President was emphasized by the fact that the wedding was held in the White House and witnessed by Mr. and Mrs. Roosevelt.

Social historians further recalled that it was 24 years since the last White House wedding had occurred. That was in 1918 when Alice Wilson, niece of President Woodrow Wilson, and the Rev. I. Stuart McElroy were married.

AIR POWER:

'Scourge the Reich'

Even as relays of his four-motored RAF bombers were raining 4,000-pound "block busters" on Hamburg's submarine yards, shipping facilities and war factories, Air Marshal Sir Arthur T. Harris warned Germany that unless it overthrows its Nazi war lords and makes peace, the combined forces of the British and American bombing fleets "will scourge the Third Reich from end to end."

AMERICA IN ACTION

For gallantry in action, or distinguished service by officers or enlisted men in the United States army there are seven different decorations.

The presentation of the decoration is made by the commanding officer as soon as practical after the act justifying the award.

Presentation of decorations is made with formal ceremony. If practical, troops attend the presentation. If the award is made posthumously the decoration is made to the next of kin at a military post or camp nearest to the home of the recipient.

The various decorations are:

Medal of Honor: This is awarded to any officer or enlisted man who performed an action of personal bravery or sacrifice above and beyond the call of duty.

The Distinguished Service Cross is given to those who distinguish themselves by extraordinary heroism in a military operation.

A Distinguished Service Medal is awarded to those who distinguish themselves by exceptionally meritorious service to the government.

For gallantry in action by enlisted men or officers the Silver Star is awarded.

If honorably wounded in action an officer or enlisted man is eligible for the Purple Heart.

Members of the U. S. army who have distinguished themselves by heroism not involving actual conflict with an enemy are given the Soldier's Medal.

The Distinguished Flying Cross is awarded to any person who, by serving in any capacity with the air corps of the army of the United States has distinguished himself by heroism or extraordinary achievement while participating in an aerial flight.

In addition to these decorations the army has also issued 13 other service medals, and five other types of medals such as the Army Good Conduct Medal and the American Defense Service Medal.

Weight Illusion

Under red light the average person will tend to judge weights as heavier. Under green and blue lights there is a tendency to judge them as being lighter. One manufacturer had certain boxes repainted green rather than black as he found that his employees were less conscious of the heavy burden of lifting and carrying the green boxes.

Waiting to Work

Banks and savings accounts of Egypt have more than $3,500,000,000 awaiting opportunities to invest in industries, according to Mustapha Bey Sadek, director of the department of commerce and industry.

QUICK CHANGE

A doctor tells me of a man going up for his medical who told the doctor his eyesight was so bad he couldn't even see the board.

That night he celebrated by going to the cinema. When the lights went up he discovered, to his horror, that he was sitting next to the doctor. And, quite obviously, the doctor recognized him.

"Excuse me, sir," he said quickly, "can you tell me if this bus goes to Chicago?"

Brigand

All the guests except one had left the dining room, and he was busy emptying his pockets of the spoons. The host returned to the room suddenly and found his guest there.

"So that's your game!" he exclaimed. "What have you to say for yourself?"

"I can assure you it was all a mistake," replied the guest soothingly.

"A mistake?"

"Yes," explained the guest. "I thought they were real silver."

Bulls With Cameras

Defectives of Sheffield, England, are using cameras in getting evidence against men who stand on sidewalks and solicit bets on horse races.

Grain-Conditioning for Horses

Horses usually need some grain each day during the latter part of the winter, to put them in condition for field work. This is advisable even if grain is high in price.

Even though SUMMER HEAT increases tire wear...

...here's what to do about it. The thermometer on the right tells a story that is vital to every motorist who wants to conserve his tires. It shows how much faster tires wear out in summer than during the rest of the year. Note that the mileage at 40 degrees is 5 times greater than at 100 degrees. At 90 degrees, the wear is over 4 times greater, and even at 60 degrees, it's nearly twice as great.

Rubber weakens under heat—wears away faster when it's hot. Your tires work up their own heat... the faster you drive, the higher the heat. Following are some ways to help your tires beat heat and survive summer temperatures...

1. Easy ways to cool off your tires...

In summer your tires have a hard time throwing off the heat they develop in driving. Help them by reducing speeds—not just to 40 but to 30 miles per hour. This will cut tire heat many degrees. Reduce speed even more on curves. And, of course, avoid "jack-rabbit" starts and "on-a-dime" stops! Cool tires call for cool driving.

2. New tire-saving service by Standard Oil Dealers... Not just tire rotation—but proper rotation—is important.

Arrow Through Buffalo

Bow and arrow records reveal that at least one arrow has been shot farther than a bullet can be fired from an ordinary revolver; another has been propelled with such force as to pass through one buffalo to kill another running on the opposite side.

Scrap Harvest to Comb Farms
for Salvage

The Michigan Scrap Harvest, an intensified program designed to salvage badly needed scrap material from farms and rural communities, was launched at a meeting in the Senate Chamber at Lansing on August 3. Principal speakers opening the state-wide campaign were Governor Murray D. Van Wagoner, chairman of the Michigan Council of Defense, and Herbert L. Gutterson, chief of the general salvage section, Industrial Conservation Bureau of the War Production Board.

The Salvage Committee of the Michigan Council of Defense, headed by Kenneth M. Burns, is co-operating with local salvage committees in the effort to salvage every pound of scrap metal and other essential war materials from the rural districts of the state.

Salvage collection depots have been established and local committees are arranging for transportation of the salvage to designated receiving stations. The Farm Equipment Institute and the National Farm Equipment Association are extending assistance. In most rural sections farm implement dealers will cooperate in handling the scrap.

Mr. Gutterson is a veteran administrator with experience in two wars. In World War I he was in charge of purchases of foods and materials for the Allies, under Herbert Hoover, and after the Armistice he was a member of Hoover's relief administration staff in Paris. In the present war he is heading the program for salvage of materials for conversion into weapons and war materials.

When Sewing Was Popular

During the Eighteenth century, when all clothes were made by hand and there were few forms of female recreation, sewing was popular as a pastime for women of leisure.

not the hardest since the 36th Battalion was opened. This is a rather new battalion and has established a very high rank in the estimation of Camp Grant, mainly due to the fine and splendid cooperation of men, officers and non-commissioned officers.

This is a medical training replacement center and one that the United Forces in our field depend on to send them good medical soldiers and that is just what this camp is doing. Because of the type of camp and its high regard can have anything that they request.

"What's it good for?"
"Guns, tanks, and maybe part of a plane"

In the barnyards and gullies of farms and in the basements and attics of homes is a lot of Junk which is doing no good where it is, but which is needed at once to help smash the Japs and Nazis.

Scrap iron and steel, for example.

Even in peacetime, scrap provided about 50% of the raw material for steel. It may be rusty, old "scrap" to you, but it is actually refined steel—with most impurities removed, and can be quickly melted with new metal in the form of pig iron to produce highest quality steel for our war machines.

The production of steel has gone up, up, UP, until today America is turning out as much steel as all the rest of the world combined. But unless at least 6,000,000 additional tons of scrap steel is uncovered promptly, the full rate of production cannot be attained or increased; the necessary tanks, guns and ships cannot be produced.

The rubber situation is also critical. In spite of the recent rubber drive, there is a continuing need for large quantities of scrap rubber. Also for other waste materials and metals like brass, copper, zinc, lead and tin.

The junk which you collect is bought by industry from scrap dealers at established, government-controlled prices.

Will you help?

First—collect all of your waste material and pile it up.

Then—sell it to a Junk dealer, give it to a charity, take it yourself to the nearest collection point, or get in touch with your Local Salvage Committee.

If you live on a farm, consult your County War Board or your farm implement dealer.

army supply center, evacuation center, where shock patients are taken. Operations are performed in this station, that is the most serious ones. The message center and headquarters are at your clearing station.

In a Battalion Aid Station there are 27 enlisted men, made up of non-commissioned officers and attendants and there are two officers who are the medical officers, a Captain and First Lieutenant. A collecting and clearing station have more officers and enlisted men.

We slept in pup tents on this bivouac, two to a tent. It was lots of fun, but hard work too, and we were glad to get back and get a shower and shave. We looked like cannibals, at least I did with my whiskers. My good friends, the barbers, will agree to that, that they are tough.

The officers and non-commissioned officers are all very efficient men and they are responsible to a large degree to our good work here. We all have been praised for it, specially Companies A and B, with C and D close behind.

The food on the whole has been very good and personally I have no complaints. The fact I have gained some is proof I do like the food and eat all I can get hold of. I wish to express my thanks to all my very good friends for their best wishes to me in the Army. I'm sure I speak for the rest of the boys from home that are in the service the same appreciation. I'm sure, we all are doing our best to help to bring this war to an end.

I hope you and your wife have had a pleasant summer and fine health. "My health is fine."

With kindest regards to all,

Sincerely,

CLARK M. KNAPP.
