

December 1 Is Set as the New Date for Gas Rationing

Registrars at Gagetown and Cass City Schools to Issue A Ration Books.

Gasoline rationing in Michigan has been postponed nine days due to technical difficulties. The new date is Tuesday, December 1.

Wednesday, Thursday and Friday, Nov. 18, 19 and 20, clerks will be engaged in registering car owners in both the Cass City and Gagetown High Schools. At Gagetown, registrations will be made during regular school hours. At Cass City, the hours are from one to five o'clock in the afternoon in Room 11.

Supt. J. Ivan Niergarth of the Cass City school has prepared the following information regarding the registration:

Families living in the Bird, Winston, Paul and Quick districts will register at Cass City. Families in McHugh District in Sanilac County will register at nearby rural schools in that county where additional blanks have been provided. Families in the Heron and Dickout Districts will register in nearby Huron County rural schools. If more convenient they may register at Cass City providing the registrars are told that they reside in either Huron or Sanilac County so that the blanks may be kept separate and mailed to the ration board of their county.

It is still necessary for you to bring the following information:

1. Certificate of car registration.
2. Serial number from all tires.
3. Serial number from your "Used Tax Stamp."

Other facts:

1. Wife may register for husband.
2. A pick-up is considered a passenger car if it carries a passenger car license.
3. B and C ration blanks will be given out by us to anyone requesting one and they are to be presented to the local ration board the following week.
4. Spare tires are not permitted for a trailer.
5. Basic ration or A book permits 150 miles of occupational and 90 miles of personal driving per month.
6. Basic ration or A registration blanks may be secured from your local gasoline dealer.
7. Parents of men in armed forces may register their son's car if the car is at home and used by them.
8. Only one A book will be issued for a car even though several members of the family use and buy gasoline for the car.

Mrs. Martin Again Made Dist. President

Ten women, including four from Evergreen, left Cass City last Thursday in the Nazarene Church bus to attend the sixth annual convention of the seventh district of the Woman's Christian Temperance Union held in the First Methodist Church at Mt. Clemens. Sixteen more were added on the way. Eleven women were represented at the meeting.

Officers elected for the ensuing year are: President, Mrs. Genie Martin, Deford; recording secretary, Mrs. Mary James, Mt. Clemens; corresponding secretary, Mrs. Merle Landon, Marlette; treasurer, Mrs. Mary Dennis, Mayville; vice president at large, Mrs. Mary Davies, Marlette.

The next district convention will be held in Port Huron.

County Presents U. S. Government with Two Brass Cannons

At an Armistice Day celebration held in Caro Wednesday the two brass cannons, which for many years have adorned the court house lawn, were presented to the U. S. Government for scrap metal.

It is estimated that each cannon weighs in the neighborhood of 750 to 1,000 pounds. Each is five feet, nine inches long and two inches at the barrel, and 11 inches in diameter at the breach.

Auction Sales

Roy Brown, having decided to quit farming, will sell livestock, farm machinery and furniture at auction, 1 mile north and 3 miles west of Shabbona, on Saturday, Nov. 14. Arnold Copeland is the auctioneer and the Pinney State Bank is clerk.

Having rented his farm, 1 mile east and 2 miles north of Cass City, Horatio Gotts will sell, horses, cattle, implements and feed on Wednesday, Nov. 18. Arnold Copeland will cry the sale. The Pinney State Bank is clerk.

Arnold Copeland will conduct the auction for the Joshua Curtis Estate, 1 mile east of Deford on Thursday, Nov. 19. Horses, cows, and machinery will be sold. The Cass City State Bank is clerk.

Because of ill health, Duncan Waun will have an auction sale of livestock and farm machinery on Friday, Nov. 20. Arnold Copeland will conduct the sale, 1 mile east and 1/2 mile south of Shabbona. The Cass City State Bank is clerk.

These four auction sales are advertised in detail on page 7.

Wilfred Gillies will have a farm sale Friday afternoon, Nov. 13, 1 mile north and 1 1/2 miles west of Deford. Full particulars were printed in the Chronicle last week.

18 AND 19 YEAR OLD MEN MAY ENLIST

At the present time the 18 and 19 year old men may enlist in any branch of the army. There are 13 branches from which to choose.

If a man is between the ages of 18 and 26, he may become a flying cadet and become a flight officer or second lieutenant, with the pay of $247 to $327 a month.

Radio mechanics are needed urgently by the Army Air Force. If a man can qualify, he will receive a rating to start.

Those interested may write to Army Recruiting, Federal Building No. 2, Saginaw, Mich.

Feather Party.

There will be a feather party at St. Michaels Hall at Wilmet, on Saturday, Nov. 14, at 8 o'clock p. m. Everybody welcome.—Adv.

Happenings in Thumb Towns and Villages

Items Gleaned from Reading Columns of the Chronicle's Exchanges.

Dr. Maurice Hogan, Bad Axe dentist, who was recently commissioned as a first lieutenant in the Dental Corps of the Army, has been notified to report Nov. 16 in Atlanta, Ga.

Within the next four to six weeks, Superintendent George R. Robinson of the Caro Schools will be given a 48-hour notice to enter active service in the U. S. Navy. At a meeting of the school board, Mr. Robinson told the members that he had been commissioned a Lieutenant Senior Grade.

Mr. and Mrs. John Latshaw of Ellington celebrated their 58th wedding anniversary last Sunday. They kept open house during the day for their many friends. Mr. Latshaw, who will be 35 years of age next February, has retired from active farming because of advancing years. Mrs. Latshaw is 78.

Lieut. Fred Hemerick, who is now stationed at Selfridge Field and before that was a dentist in Sandusky, was the winner last week in the skeet tournament at Selfridge Field and his name will be engraved on the General Harold George Memorial. This tournament was made up of 16 contestants with Lieut. Hemerick winning the contest.

The Elmer Methodist Church near Sandusky was recently saved. Turn to page 4, please.

Celebrated 25th Wedding Anniversary Sunday, Nov. 8

Thirty-two relatives and friends were entertained Sunday in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Herman Doerr in honor of the 25th anniversary of their wedding day.

Herman Doerr and Miss Retta Hooper were married in Caro Nov. 9, 1917. They have four children, Mrs. Lester Ross of Lansing, Philip Doerr, seaman 2nd class, of Moffett Field, California, Miss Mary Lee Doerr, a student at Central State College, Mt. Pleasant, and Edward Doerr, at home.

The Doerr home was beautiful with bouquets of cut flowers. Mr. and Mrs. Doerr received many gifts.

Out-of-town guests were Miss Mary Lee Doerr, Mt. Pleasant; Mrs. Norman Fisher and Miss Stickney, Royal Oak; Dr. and Mrs. I. D. McCoy, Bad Axe; Mr. and Mrs. Harry Bay, H. S. Jackson, Mr. and Mrs. Warn Jackson, Detroit; James Doerr and Mrs. Pierce, Sandusky; E. B. Schwaderer and Curtis Hunt, of Ypsilanti.

Rummage Sale.

The Girl Scouts will conduct a rummage sale on Saturday, Nov. 21, at the council rooms.—Advertisement 2c.

TO PREPARE PLAQUE WITH NAMES OF SERVICE MEN OF TUSCOLA COUNTY

M. D. Orr of Caro is supervising the collection of names, addresses and ranks of Tuscola County men in the armed forces for a plaque to be dedicated in the county. Photographs are especially desired, says Mr. Orr.

Unless Harry F. Kelly breaks another precedent in Michigan history, he can look forward to two years of public service as Governor and no more.

The Republican secretary of state, victor in the G. O. P. landslide of November 3, upset one historical habit of voters in not changing their governor during a war. War governors Austin Blair, Hazen Pingree and Albert E. Sleeper were all returned to office by a public which evidently cherished the old adage against "swapping horses in mid-stream."

However, the custom didn't save the genial, capable Murray D. Van Wagoner, smiling "Pat" to thousands of his friends, from being buried beneath a 75,000 Kelly majority. The "war governor" will be retired in favor of an opposition candidate whose record in the World War was most distinguished, having been awarded the French Croix de Guerre for valor.

Another fact still remains: For seven successive elections, a majority of the voters of Michigan Turn to page 5, please.

Committee of Ten to Solicit War Chest Subscriptions

Banqueters at the Cass City Community Club Tuesday evening purchased $100.00 worth of war stamps during the dinner hour.

President Arthur Holmberg announced the appointment of E. A. Warner, Wm. Proft and C. M. Wallace as a committee to nominate members of the board of directors of the club. They are to report their selection at the December meeting of the society.

Mr. Holmberg said that a committee of 10 would be appointed soon to contact prospective contributors to the war chest fund established here several weeks ago. Many have made payments, but others not solicited will be given an opportunity to subscribe by members of this committee.

Following the serving of a chicken dinner prepared by women of the Catholic Church, the evening program was opened by three selections by the recently organized junior high school girls' chorus. They sang "The Star Spangled Banner," "When I Was Seventeen" and "Now the Day Is Over." The group is directed by Miss Eleanor McCallum, vocal music instructor of the local school.

W. R. Fisher of Frankenmuth showed moving pictures of Canadian hunting scenes in which mountain goats and mountain antelopes were shown in their habitats. Beautiful mountain scenery made the films particularly attractive.

THUMB O. E. S. ASSOCIATION TO MEET IN BROWN CITY

The Thumb Association of the Eastern Star will hold its annual meeting in the Masonic Hall in Brown City, Nov. 21, at an all-day meeting.

The regular business of the association will be conducted in the morning. Dinner will be served at the Methodist Church.

Several Grand Officers from the Grand Chapter are expected to be present. Mrs. Frances Reed Glover, worthy grand matron, will give the address.

Cass City Won From Bad Axe Friday, 15-7

Local Eleven Playss Harbor Beach in Final Contest of Season Today.

Playing hard and consistent football, the local gridiron forces beat down a stubborn Bad Axe eleven, 15 to 7, at the Huron County town Friday.

Taking the opening kickoff on their own 25-yard line, Cass City started a determined drive which ended with Eugene Kloc plunging over from the four-yard line, McCoy's attempt for the extra point failed.

On the kickoff following Cass City's touchdown, John Rice, Bad Axe halfback, turned in one of the game's outstanding plays when he raced through the entire Cass City team for a 70 yard touchdown jaunt. His try for the extra point was good and Bad Axe led 7-6 at the end of the first quarter.

Coming back in the second period with a hard running attack, featuring the ball carrying of Kloc Turn to page 4, please.

Many from Cass City Follow Sport of Deer Hunting

When the deer hunting season opens Sunday morning, Nov. 15, many hunters of Tuscola County will be in the woods of northern Michigan for the opening of the 15-day deer hunting period. Several parties have left for the woods and many others expect to leave today (Friday) and Saturday.

Among those who have gone or will leave are the following: George Seeley and Wm. Parrott left Tuesday for Seney. Frank Hutchinson and son, Grant, will join them today.

Mr. and Mrs. A. Doerr with their son, James Doerr, and Mrs. Pierce of Sandusky left Thursday for two weeks at Grayling.

Mr. and Mrs. Clifton Champion, son, Sammy, and Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Champion of this place and Mr. and Mrs. Frank Champion of St. Louis leave today or Saturday and have not decided where they will make camp.

Wm. and Henry Ball, Joe Fredricks, Stanley McArthur and Joe Clement are spending two weeks at Barton City. George Seeger and son, Donald, Turn to page 4, please.

Echo Chapter, O. E. S., Elected Officers Wednesday Evening

A seven o'clock potluck supper preceded the regular meeting of Echo Chapter, O. E. S., Wednesday evening at Cass City. During the business session, officers were elected. They are: Worthy matron, Mrs. Frank Hall; worthy patron, Frank Hall; associate matron, Miss Vera Flint; associate patron, Fowler Hutchinson; conductress, Mrs. D. A. Krug; associate conductress, Miss Gertrude Striffler; secretary, Mrs. Arthur Little; treasurer, Mrs. Neil McLarty; alternates to Grand Lodge, Mrs. D. A. Krug, Mrs. S. B. Young and Mrs. Fowler Hutchinson; auditing committee, Miss Vera Flint, Mrs. Arthur Little and Mrs. A. R. Kettlerwell.

Mrs. Harold Murphy and Mrs. Krug gave interesting reports of the Grand Chapter held recently at Grand Rapids. It was decided to send $5.00 to the O. E. S. Villa at Adrian.

New Dresses, Coats, Hats.

Just returned from buying trip. New dresses, hats, coats, etc., will be on display Friday and Saturday. Prieskorn's Store, Cass City.—Advertisement 1c.

Christmas Mail Should Be Sent Much Earlier

Post Office Department Solicits Hearty Cooperation of the Public.

The Post Office Department now is starting the most gigantic task in its history—the movement of a deluge of Christmas parcels, cards and letters while maintaining the regular flow of millions of pieces of mail daily to and from our armed forces all over the world.

Indications are that the volume of Christmas mail will be the largest on record. Already in September, latest month for which figures are available, retail sales had reached a level second only to the record month of December, 1941, according to the Department of Commerce. Such heavy purchases always presage heavy mailings.

If thousands of our soldiers, sailors, marines and civilian friends are not to be disappointed at Christmas time, the public must cooperate by mailing earlier than ever before and by addressing letters and parcels properly.

About 25,000 experienced postal workers already have been taken by the war services. Arrangements are under way to add thousands of temporary personnel to postal staffs, but this man power is hard to find and is inexperienced. Facilities of railroads and air lines are heavily taxed by movements of huge quantities of war materials and personnel. Extra trucks are almost impossible to obtain. Winter weather, hampering transportation, is beginning.

The free-mailing privilege granted to members of the armed forces has raised their mailings some 30 per cent, it is estimated. Expansion Turn to page 5, please.

Two Hundred Attend Nazarene Rally Day Sunday

The Myers Evangelistic Quartet, consisting of Rev. C. E. Myers, Miss Irene Hawkins, Dan Copeland and Verline Morgan, who are assisting Rev. George Bugbee in revival services at the local Nazarene Church, are attracting good attendances. An increasing interest is shown at each meeting and the pastor says that attentive audiences are present each night and young and old are well repaid by the good received from the inspiring sermons as well as from the messages in song. The meetings are now in their second week and will continue through Sunday, Nov. 22. The public is cordially invited to share in any or all services, says Mr. Bugbee.

Last Sunday was rally day at the Cass City Nazarene Church and nearly 200 were present at the joint meeting of Sunday School and morning worship. Mr. and Mrs. Edward Gingrich were given a beautiful picture for having the largest family present and Wm. Wagner received a picture for bringing the largest number of people, not members of a Sunday School.

Nearly All Men Registered Here Have Questionnaires

Two calls for Tuscola County men to go to Detroit for their induction examinations have been received by the county draft board. One group left Nov. 12 and another group will go on Nov. 27.

Forty-eight inductees leave the county for Fort Custer today (Friday.) Occupational questionnaires have been mailed to approximately half of the fifth registration of men between the ages of 18 to 20 years. The other half of this class will receive similar questionnaires soon. This will complete the mailing of all the occupational questionnaires to persons registered in this county.

Eleven men of Tuscola enrolled in the fifth registration who have recently become 20 years of age were mailed questionnaires on Nov. 6. They include Gordon T. Gibson, Millington; Max Lawrence McLaughlin, Vassar; William Sidney Sayers, Caro; Henry Charles Vanhoost, Unionville; Donald Milton Adams, Fairgrove; LaVern Richard Freeland, Mayville; Bonnie Nalley Hennaght, Vassar; Floyd Fay Pease, Tuscola; Bernard Chris Hogle, Millington; Vincent Oprea, Vassar; Donald Henry Opperman, Millington.

Lights of New York

by L. L. STEVENSON

A metropolitan railroad terminal with trains constantly arriving and departing 24 hours a day, in normal times is a place of noise, confusion and great activity. In wartime the noise, confusion and activity increase a hundred-fold. Added to civilians traveling on business or pleasure—mostly on business these days—are thousands of men in uniform who are being sent here and there about the country for more training or perhaps on a journey that eventually will end at a distant battle-front.

A scene at the Pennsylvania station the other morning was typical. Several hundred sailors, their white uniforms immaculate, their black shoes shined, their clean-shaven faces scrubbed, had just arrived from somewhere and were plainly on their way somewhere else. Without command, they fell in quickly, seabags over their shoulders. A boyish-looking lieutenant gave a command and they moved away like clockwork, their cadenced tread audible above station noises. Then came a company of soldiers. Their nonchalance and precision of movement proclaimed them to be regulars or men who had completed their training, their bearing being further confirmation of the assumption. They too marched away. But there was no absence of uniforms. Casuals took their places—officers and men who had been on leave, officers and men on their way to other units and all seemingly in a great hurry.

In a space guarded by vigilant and efficient military police, were perhaps 200 young men not in uniform—boys who had just been called up by their draft boards. Almost all wore working clothes and few had coats. Their baggage was exceedingly light. In contrast with the men in uniform, they looked seedy, down at the heel and exceedingly awkward. Also they lacked assurance. A stocky, sun-bitten sergeant mounted a box. In the confusion, his voice was inaudible to those of us on the outside. But the boys in the reserved space heard him. They lined up in hit or miss fashion and listened intently as the sergeant gave more instructions. The non-com got down and the recruits, following him, walked, not marched, to an entrance of a stairway leading to a train.

Relatives and friends were present in numbers. As the boys who had been called to the colors, started away, a shout went up, a shout in which was a confusion of names. Some of the boys looked back. Others didn't, either because they had not heard their names or because no one was there to say good-by. There were answering shouts and waves of hands. Tears were shed of course. Many tears. Mothers wept openly and unabashed. So did sisters and even brothers. Most fathers strove hard to mask emotion. But there was much blowing of noses—also many masculine eyes were too bright. And when the last of those boys had disappeared, the crowded station seemed strangely deserted.

A tall worn man whose gnarled hands were calloused . . . Neatly dressed, his suit looking as if it had been pressed only that morning . . . Shoes gleaming like mirrors . . . On the lapel of his coat, a badge with a single blue star . . . The train for which he was waiting, first marked up 15 minutes late . . . Then 30 . . . With each dragging minute, he grew more and more impatient . . . Walked up and down the waiting room, those gnarled hands opening and closing . . . A few drags on a cigarette, then it was tossed away and another lighted . . . Time and time again, the reading of a terse telegram, one well within the regulation 10 words . . . Just as he seemed on the point of exploding, the track was posted and he rushed toward the proper escalator . . . A sturdy young man in uniform was brought up . . . The boy's hand shot out and the man took it . . . Then with the utmost calmness, "Hello, son. What's cookin'?"

Pullman Troop Travel

Troops who enjoy the comforts of Pullman travel, as more than 500,000 do each month, drink approximately 7 million cups of water, use 5 million cloth and paper towels, 4 million sheets and pillow slips, 233,000 small bars of soap, and 3,100 gallons of liquid soap while aboard sleeping cars during that period.

THINGS THAT MAKE FAMILY LIFE

LESSON TEXT—Genesis 27:30-35; Matthew 23:1, 2; Luke 12:13-15.
GOLDEN TEXT—Bear ye one another's burdens, and so fulfill the law of Christ.—Galatians 6:2.

Home is what you make it! Oh, yes, there may be circumstances which hinder us from doing what we would like—such as poverty, illness, unemployment, etc. These are things we cannot control and certainly they do have a bearing. But man or woman when of the right spirit can triumph over such matters and make even the poorest home the gateway to heaven. It is a matter of the attitude of heart and mind. Our lesson then is very practical, for it deals with those sins which mar family life.

Whatever our circumstances may be, we can and must turn away from sin—and in this case, the sins which hinder the home from being what it ought to be. God has provided victory over sin through Christ for all who believe in Him.

What then are the sins which stand as the enemies of the home?

I. Deceit (Gen. 27:30-35).

Whatever the circumstances of the home may be, there can be absolute honesty and candor in the dealings between members of the family.

Our recent study of the story of Jacob and Esau showed us the sad consequences of the deceit practiced by Jacob and his mother in defrauding Esau. Many elements entered in, the favoritism of the mother toward one son, the envy that the brother had of his elder brother's birthright, the wicked scheming of mother and son to outwit the aged father—all a very distressing picture of a home shot through with deceitfulness. To build anything of permanent value on such a foundation was quite impossible.

The family in which deceitful means are used by husband or wife to gain some advantage for self or a favored child is heading for the rocks and needs to turn about and get into the channel of truth and uprightness before it is too late.

II. Divorce (Matt. 5:31, 32).

One of the most destructive elements of modern life is that of divorce. Terrifying statistics could be quoted, but they are not nearly as moving as the knowledge most of us have of broken homes, delinquent children, decadent morals, etc., ad nauseam. The victims of this deadly evil are primarily the children who are sent on into life with disordered minds and hearts.

Jesus declared that the decree of divorce allowed by Moses was not an abrogation of God's original law in this matter. Because of the "hardness of their hearts" (Mark 10:4) Moses permitted it, but the standard of God was and (note this please!) is unchanged.

Marriage, as we saw in our lesson of November 1, is God's plan for the perfect union of the man and woman whereby the two become one in the sight of God. That means that the tie is not one to be dissolved at will or on some purely legal ground; it is an inseparable union.

The only exception recognized by Scripture (v. 32) is that act of unfaithfulness which is such a breach of the holy union as to virtually destroy it. Perhaps it might be called a recognition of the breaking of the union rather than an exception. Adultery is a heinous sin, an extremely serious violation of God's law. Let us press that fact home today when it is so lightly regarded in our sinful generation.

III. Desire (Luke 12:13-15).

Money is necessary and may be a blessing, but the "love of money is the root of all evil" (I Tim. 6:10). That is not just a verse in the Bible. It is the true picture of the thing which has destroyed the happiness of millions.

Here was a quarrel over an inheritance, and in meeting it our Lord laid down a principle which would solve all the money quarrels in every home—and they are endless in number and great in bitter destructiveness.

"Man's life consisteth not in the abundance of the things which he possesseth" (v. 15). Write it large over the minds and hearts of the boys and girls in our homes! Let it control in the attitude of father and mother toward money. It will solve not only the money problems of the home, but will send the children forth into life with a foundation philosophy that will bless them to the end of their days.

Notice verse 14. It is the desire for money that most often makes man desire to be a judge over his brother. The big eyes of envy cause him to look with bitter desire upon what his brother has and he wants. The fine principle of sharing the family's possessions would do much to knit the home into a unit—happy, strong and useful to both God and man. The point is to say "ours" rather than "mine," and to ask, "What can we do?" not, "What can I get?"

Pueblo Corn

Pueblo Indians have an ancient strain of corn that is planted a foot deep to get sufficient moisture in their arid region.

Small Siren Horn for

Air Raids Is Adopted

WASHINGTON.—A quart-sized air horn which can carry an air raid warning effectively over an area of one-quarter of a square mile has been adopted by the Office of Civilian Defense as the "V-horn" to supplement the big victory siren.

The new horn, operated efficiently and effectively from an ordinary filling station air compressor tank, requires only two ounces of steel and about five pounds of cast iron for manufacture, but it depends on electricity.

French People Cannot

Buy Just Plain Pepper

VICHY.—Pepper may no longer be sold in its pure form in France. It must be mixed with other substitutes.

Food rations for the month of August were about the same as for July, according to new ration cards. Rations for adults called for 275 grams of bread daily and 150 grams of fat and about 800 grams of meat monthly. Vegetables and fruit are not rationed but are difficult to obtain.

Enclosures Are Barred

From Air Force Letters

LONDON, ONT.—Post office officials have drawn attention to the fact that no enclosures of any kind can be sent in the new armed forces air letters to the troops overseas. The armed forces air letter form is a combined letter and envelope.

Absolutely nothing may be enclosed, no snap shots or extra sheets of paper. If any enclosure is found, the letter will be sent by ordinary mail—not by fast air service.

Queen and Cigarettes

Queen Mary of England is a cigarette smoker. A disclosure of this fact was made by an English weekly, the People, in July, 1930, and appears to have caused some surprise in court circles and comment in the English press. It was stated that she rarely indulges, and only in her private sitting room, usually after dinner, also that only the most intimate members of her household had ever seen her smoke.

Paging Emily Post

It just isn't good etiquette to cut in on a dance too soon, the men at Camp Barkeley, Texas, decided. They adopted this rule: No man could cut in on a dance until the couple had taken at least 25 steps. Up came Private Charles J. Brown with an idea. When he saw a girl he wanted to dance with, he followed her and her partner, subtly counting the steps aloud in rhythm with the music.

DO YOUR WAR JOB BETTER WITH
ENRICHED
WHITE BREAD
THE ARMY EATS IT . . . YOUR FAMILY NEEDS IT!

UNCLE SAM feeds his army enriched white bread! And now, to help you keep fit the Army way, OUR BREAD is enriched according to Government recommendations.

What Is Enriched White Bread? Enriched white bread contains Thiamine (Vitamin B<sub>1</sub>), Niacin (another "B" Vitamin) and Iron—vitamins and minerals, which you must have to help you keep in fighting trim. These are vitamins and minerals most of us do not get enough of to give us the "fighting energy" to do our war jobs better.

As Good As Ever! Don't expect to see or taste a difference in OUR BREAD. Because in looks and flavor it remains the same delicious, tender loaf that has been a favorite of thousands of women. Just as snowy-white and tempting as ever. Just as good for toasting.

And now, OUR BREAD is better for you. Get a loaf today and every day from now on. Keep fit to do your part for Uncle Sam!

24% or 34% PROTEIN

For 20 years Milkmaker 24% or 34% protein have been the choice of careful, cautious and prosperous dairymen. NOW, Irradiated Yeast with 4,000,000 units of vitamin per pound has been added to Milkmaker.

NOW, cows fed Milkmaker will be helped in assimilating the calcium and phosphorus in their feed. They should produce milk richer in Vitamin D, even in winter. They will be less apt to have milk fever.

Also, manganese sulphate with cobalt has been added to Milkmaker. The combination, we have reason to believe, fights cobalt deficiency and helps protect against Bangs Disease.

Kathleen Norris Says:

Real Women Turn Trials Into Lessons

Sell Syndicate—WNU Features.

My mother-in-law speaks to my babies as though they were her own. When her doctor comes in she takes charge of him too. But I am never consulted.

By KATHLEEN NORRIS

IRENE FOSTER has an efficient, affectionate, well-to-do mother-in-law, and she feels that she simply can't stand home conditions any longer. Yet there are many women who would change places, for awhile anyway, with Irene.

"My oldest little boy is 5," writes Irene. "He was born when I was just 19. The younger baby is only 7 months old. I was delicate for some time after Robert junior was born, and Bob and I stayed in his mother's home with her, because it was comfortable, economical and saved me all responsibility. Bonny, as we call her, is 61, but very young and active for that age. Just listening to her sometimes tires me out.

"Bonny was widowed 20 years ago; she likes to run things and she runs us all. I have no more to say in this house than the baby has. If I ask the cook or the upstairs girl for anything they always refer me to Madam. Bob was 38 and a bachelor when I married him; he has always lived here, no other place, he says, would ever be like home. His father's books, his mother's glass and china, the old rugs and lamps and chairs are a part of his life. But they aren't part of mine and sometimes I feel I will suffocate if I have to stay among them much longer.

Bonny Takes Charge.

"My babies live on the third floor with a little nurse of their own. Bonny speaks of them as though they were hers. 'I'm going to have his tonsils out next winter,' and 'I'm not letting Mollie take the baby out today at all.' If the children's doctor comes in—he is her nephew, by the way, and she runs him, too—I may go upstairs with them and listen, but I'm never consulted. He tells her that little Dick's formula might be changed and she tells Mollie.

"She treats me as though I were a child. Bob she respects and consults, but even Bob will tell her she is a mule for determination. She only laughs at him. She calls after me to ask what coat I am wearing, reminds me of my engagement with the dentist, tells me to ask Jane or Nancy to come to lunch. I can't ask anyone to the house without her permission, and she will as likely say, 'No, not Saturday,' as 'That will be all right.' If I suggest to Bob that he and I give a dinner, he says, 'Fix it up with Bonny, darling.' And Bonny may say, 'I wouldn't cultivate those people, dear. Sooner or later you and Bob will have to drop them.'

"The result of all this," Irene continues aggrievedly, "is that I don't feel like a human being at all. I get up, I go through the day, I see my children when Mollie and my mother-in-law are willing for me to see them, I don't have any duties except filling vases or driving down to get Bob, I don't know what's coming on my own table for dinner; a sort of spell is over me, an invisible cage, and I can't get out.

"Last week Bonny went to visit her brother who is a Detroit doctor. At the last moment she decided to take my older son. She stopped outside my door that morning and said to him, 'Run in and say good-by to Mummy!' That was the first I knew of it. I let them go, but when Bob got home for lunch I went into hysterics and said a thousand things that have been bottled up in my heart for a long time. He was wonderfully kind, but he treated it as a child's outburst and told me that evening that I mustn't ever think of it again, and that he wouldn't either.

LIVE WITH IT

An axiom popular with young doctors is, "Live with your disease." If you can't cure it, learn to endure it. . . . That is what Kathleen Norris urges Irene Foster to do. Not disease, but kindness, is killing Irene. She is being stifled by the unwanted kindness of an overly capable mother-in-law. But the treatment is the same. Irene can't change the situation, but she can learn to make the best of it. Be sure to read this touching story of a girl with whom you, perhaps, would gladly change places.

Smothering Kindness.

"I said then that I was going to find a house of my own, and for two days I did house hunt. But we have no furniture, no kitchenware or linen, or curtains, and it does look like a big job to start with nothing, and also find some woman who will be part cook and part nurse.

"Bob hasn't referred to the matter again. I am writing you to ask whether you think I am justified in trying to break away from all this smothering kindness and service and try to stand on my own feet, as mistress of my own home?"

Irene, my dear, my advice would be that you abandon the idea of finding a real house, with curtains and chairs and pots and pans in it, and build instead the house of the mind and soul, and live in that for awhile. We all have to do this, if we are to grow up, spiritually and mentally. Some women refuse, and go on to years of loneliness and bewilderment, wondering how and why they have missed everything while they live. But real women turn their trials into lessons, into tests of strength and endurance, and finally into blessings.

Most Free Difficulties.

Whether it is poverty, disappointment, physical disability or—as in your case—the inflexible necessity of living with those who are not congenial, who impose upon us and cripple us, we must accept something difficult along with our daily bread. If it is not a husband's faults and limitations, it becomes the infinitely worse conditions that follow divorce. If it isn't an over-officious mother-in-law, it's an idle, useless one who never picks up her cigarette ends or remembers telephone messages. Or it isn't either it's very apt to be the third sort, who pays no attention to her daughter-in-law but expects dear Robbie to listen to her complaints every day.

Most women have money shortage as a worry. Most husbands have the mismanagement or extravagance of wives to think about as they walk to the office. Thousands of mothers today have deeper agonies of spirit to face—the helplessness of spirit to face when the boys are far away and in danger. This woman knows that deafness is coming upon her; this other one knows that in her middle-age she has lost her husband's love and he wants to be free. And many are alone, living in boarding houses, working hard for just enough shelter and food to keep life within them, wondering why they live at all.

An axiom very popular with young doctors is: "Live with your disease." Failing eyesight, missing teeth, certain chronic nerve and heart and kidney affections for which we have no cures, simply must be faced and borne.

After spending a few weeks with relatives in Detroit, Mrs. Hattie Walker returned to her home here Friday.

Fortress Pilots Find Germans Easy

Like Shooting Squirrels in Arkansas, Says One.

WITH THE UNITED STATES ARMY AIR FORCES. Somewhere in England—"Just like shooting squirrels back in Arkansas."

That is what tail gunner Sgt. Felix Trice, of Stuttgart, Ark., said of shooting down one of the famed Reichs Marshal Herman Goering squadron's "Yellow Nose" Focke-Wulf 190's during the Flying Fortress raid on Rotterdam.

Col. Frank A. Armstrong, commander of the Fortress squadron, who has led six of their raids personally, said the "Yellow Nose" fighters made futile "suicide attempts" to halt the big bombers' string of successful raids.

"I had to pull out of line to keep one from ramming me when we bombed the aircraft factory at Meaulte," Colonel Armstrong said. They tried to stop us at all costs. Fighters sprang up from everywhere like mushrooms when we crossed the coast. . . . They sent about 150 up—100 at our fighter escort and 50 at us."

The next day, when the Fortresses encountered the "Yellow Nose" squadron again on the Rotterdam raid, Sergeant Trice was credited with bagging the only Focke-Wulf 190 he has had a chance to shoot at in eight flights over occupied Europe.

"He came up to about 175 yards and I just let him have it," the young gunner said. "It wasn't even as exciting as the time I shot my first squirrel back in Arkansas."

Upper turret gunner Sgt. Christy Faith, 23 years old, of Hagerstown, Md., who also shot down a Focke-Wulf 190, said: "I let fly and he burst into flames and went down in a spin."

Folks Rush to Autograph Bombs Intended for Nazis

CINCINNATI, OHIO.—Crowds of citizens, eager to send their autograph to Hitler on a bomb, thronged the unique sale conducted by the Cincinnati ordinance department and American Legion Auxiliary officials here at the new demolition depot on Fountain square.

Fifty-caliber machine gun bullets went for 20 cents a unit; 37-millimeter high explosive shells at 50 cents apiece, armor-piercing shells at $1.25 and so on up to the big 105 millimeter shells at $18.75.

There were plenty of takers not only for these but for the much more expensive jeeps and tanks. Everything, plainly marked with the purchaser's name, was consigned forthwith to the fighting front and the particular enemy of the purchasers' choice.

As bombs and high explosive shells marked for the personal attention of Hitler or Hirohito piled high for shipment, everybody expressed high satisfaction, which turned to positive glee as the sponsors began returning all the purchase prices in war bonds and stamps.

Ev'rybody Ev'ry Pay Day

6,000,000 Women Enrolled in War Savings Payroll Plan.

WASHINGTON, D. C.—Women At War Week, opening Nov. 22, during which women will seek to sell the greatest single week's volume of War Bonds and Stamps will serve to put the spotlight on the mighty contribution women generally are making toward financing the war.

Six million women are on War Savings payroll plans. Their monthly deductions total $70,000,000.

The customers of 300,000 newspaper boys who have sold more than $50,000,000 in War Bonds and Stamps are mostly women.

Volunteer saleswomen run nearly all the Bond booths in theatres from Maine to California. They also are sparking the War Bond sales in retail stores.

Ralph G. Engelsman, Associate Field Director of the payroll savings section of the War Savings Staff, readily admits that without the support of women the phenomenal record of payroll savings enrollments would not have been achieved. Payroll savings plans are now in operation in 143,000 businesses and factories. Employees of twenty-five thousand of these firms are converting at least 10 percent of gross payrolls into War Bonds every payday.

Associate Field Director Engelsman says that women have contributed directly and indirectly toward this record. When a man devoted 10 or more percent of his pay envelope to War bonds, the woman at home has had a powerful voice in the decision. Her planning her economies and her cheerfulness play their part in the success of payroll savings.

The Treasury Department is counting upon this woman influence in its current campaign to "top that 10 percent by New Year's." By the first of the year the Treasury hopes to enroll at least 3,000,000 women workers in a payroll savings plan.

and 5,000,000 more men with total deductions for War Bonds over the 10 percent mark.

Mrs. John Sovey, Mrs. Maurice Joos and son, Richard, were visitors in Caro recently.

Registration for gasoline users will be made at the Bingham School on Friday, Nov. 20.

Mr. and Mrs. Alex Tyo attended the funeral of Mrs. Tyo's father, Alfred Perrin, at Saginaw Wednesday.

The Woman's Society of Christian Service will meet Thursday afternoon, Nov. 19, with Mrs. Dudley Masure.

Mrs. Ray Reinit and daughter, Sharon, of Deckerville spent a few days this week with Mr. and Mrs. Peter Reistra.

The meeting of Extension Group No. 2 has been postponed one day and will be held tonight (Friday) in the home of Mrs. Harry Young.

Mrs. Bay Crane, Miss Katherine Crane, Mrs. Fred Maier and Miss Laura Maier spent Thursday of last week as guests of Mrs. Glenn Folkert in Bay City.

Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Sovey and three children of Clawson and Mrs. and Mrs. Maurice Joos and son, Richard, were Sunday guests at the John Sovey home.

Sunday guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Schwieger were Mr. and Mrs. Delbert Ostrander, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Youngs and son, Tommy, all of Detroit.

Mrs. R. M. Hunter, son, Bobby, and Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Newman, all of Detroit, visited Mrs. Hunter's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Mark, a few days last week.

Mrs. Leo Powers of Camp Blanding, Florida, where her husband, Pfc. Powers, is stationed, is spending a week with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Quick. Tuesday night and Wednesday, Mr. and Mrs. Quick entertained another daughter and her family, Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Gifford and son, Raymond, of Wayne.

The Elkland Extension Club group met with Mrs. Edward Golding Monday evening, Oct. 26. The two leaders presented the lesson—Mrs. Wm. Martus, Sr., told how to take better care of clothing for longer wear and Mrs. Golding described reconditioning spring unit cushions. The next meeting will be held Nov. 17 at the home of Mrs. Claud Karr.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Maier entertained at dinner Sunday Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Cooley and three sons, Arthur Jr., Frederick and John, of Owendale, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Greenfield of Unionville, Edward and Miss Laura Maier of Cass City. The dinner was in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Greenfield (Ina Cooley) whose marriage was recently announced. Mrs. Greenfield is a niece of Mrs. Maier.

An interesting meeting of the Woman's Missionary Society of the Presbyterian Church was held Thursday afternoon in the home of Mrs. P. A. Schenck with Mrs. R. Taylor as assistant hostess. In the absence of the president, Mrs. A. J. Knapp, the vice president, Mrs. Ernest Croft, led the meeting. Mrs. Croft and Mrs. Schwaderer had charge of the program which consisted of a Stewardship play, "To Be Lived." Parts were taken by Mrs. Charles Wiley, Mrs. Edward Finney, Mrs. Berkeley Patterson, Miss Frances Koepfen and Miss Kathryn Price. At the close of the meeting, refreshments were served.

from destruction by fire when pheasant hunters passing by noticed smoke coming from the windows. The Sandusky Fire Department quickly responded and extinguished the flames by chemicals. The basement was badly damaged and the first floor by smoke and soot.

Pouring of concrete on the 3 1/2 miles of pavement on M-142, east of Elkton, was completed last week. This is the last pavement to be built in the Thumb for the duration. Construction work on the pavement was started early in the fall of 1941 before the United States entered the war. The contractor was permitted to finish the job since he had materials on hand.

The State Public Service Commission has ordered the Moore Telephone System of Caro to reduce its rates and improve its service to more than 900 customers in Caro and Marlette. Acting on a protest filed by the Caro Board of Commerce, the commission said it found the system's service was "not reasonably adequate," that its rates were in excess of a rate schedule the company was ordered to follow 21 years ago.

MANY FROM CASS CITY FOLLOW DEER HUNTING

with friends from Detroit will leave Saturday for Clear Lake.

Cecil Larkin, Irving Parsch, Henry Tate and Frank Haven left on Thursday and will hunt at Germfask, in the Upper Peninsula.

Arthur Flowers of Caro and Arthur Little will leave Saturday to spend a few days hunting near Mio.

Carl Stafford goes Saturday to hunt near Reed City.

Dan Hutchinson, Charles Damoth, Russell Densen and Ellis Mallory leave today for Alpena.

Others in the north woods are Lewis Brooks, Forest Tyo, Otto Priessorn, Martin Kenney, Watson Spaven, Chas. McCaslin, Floyd Ottaway, Lyle Lounsbury, James Mulady, Elmer Atwell, Wm. Harrison, Jr.

While pondering on the number of deer hiding away in the wilderness of the north woods, don't forget that some hunters are likely to lose their lives, too. It happens year after year. You can do your share toward ending this recurring misfortune, Mr. Hunter, by taking care you know what you are aiming at before you pull the trigger. It will too late after that.

Another Game

A few years ago Private Charles Wry was a member of the Army All-Star baseball team in the Philippines and he pitched a game against a Japanese team in Tokyo. Private Wry recalled that the Japanese batter would step to the plate, bow graciously to the catcher, then to the pitcher. No doubt he was hoping to get an easy one. Now Private Wry hopes to toss a few more against the Japanese, but this time he's thinking in terms of hand grenades—not baseballs!

CASS CITY WON FROM BAD AXE

and Kettlewell, Cass City scored again on a ten yard sprint by Kloc. This time the extra point was good on Kloc's plunge through the line and Cass City led at half-time 13 to 7.

In the last half, Cass City made three drives down the field but penalties and stiff Bad Axe resistance stopped each one just short of pay dirt. Taking the ball over on one of these drives, Kladzyk, Bad Axe back, slipped behind his own goal line giving Cass City a safety and two points. The game ended with the locals again in scoring territory and on the long end of a 15 to 7 score.

Tomorrow Cass City ends the football season by entertaining a speedy Harbor Beach team.

Paragraphs About Men in the Service

Sgt. Gary Stine has returned to California after a 15-day furlough.

Fourth Technician Harrison H. Stine arrived Monday from Camp Pickett, Virginia, for a short furlough with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Herman Stine.

Pfc. Carl Schell of Fort Leonard Wood, Mo., was the guest of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Schell, Sunday night.

John Morris of the Aviation Base at Grosse Ile, Michigan, and Miss Norma Hillman of Detroit were guests of Mr. Morris' parents, Dr. and Mrs. F. L. Morris, Sunday night and Monday.

Wm. J. Toner returned to Detroit Tuesday after spending his furlough with his wife and family, who reside on the former David Kitchen farm, southeast of Cass City. Mr. Toner has been remodeling the house on the farm.

Pvt. Bob L. Wilson, son of Orville Wilson, Route 3, Cass City, left the United States June 28 for the Solomon Islands. Tuesday, Nov. 10, the first message was received from him since that time. The heavy card upon which he wrote to his relatives had been mailed Aug. 28. He says he came through the battle without a scratch and is feeling fine.

Ensign Clare L. Bergen, grandson of Mrs. Wm. Little and Mrs. L. E. Dickinson, was graduated from the Naval War College at Newport, Rhode Island, Nov. 6. He arrived at his home in Detroit by plane for a five day furlough Nov. 7 before leaving for his new assignment which takes him by plane to Miami, Fla., thence by clipper to the canal zone in Panama.

Lieut. Howard Taylor of the Station Hospital, Fort Sheridan, Ill., visited his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Roy M. Taylor, from Saturday until Wednesday. Other week-end guests at the Taylor home were Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Warren and son, Wayne, of Detroit and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Edgerton of Bad Axe.

Mr. and Mrs. Alex Henry entertained over the week-end their son, Delbert Henry, Mrs. Esther Smith, daughter, Betty Ann, of Detroit; Mrs. Donald DuFord, daughter, Carol Jean, of Pontiac; and Wally Henry remained to spend several days and will report in Detroit the last of the week for induction in Uncle Sam's Army.

Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Sharrard left last Thursday for San Antonio, Texas, to visit the latter's son, Wm. Spencer. On Tuesday, they attended the graduation exercises of the Gulf Coast Air Corps Training Center at Brooks Field. Wm. Spencer was a member of the class to graduate from the bomber pilot school and now has his silver wings and commission as lieutenant in the U. S. Army Air Corps.

What You Buy With WAR BONDS

The sixteen-inch coast gun is the most powerful of all American guns and costs about $2,000,000 each. It will throw a shell weighing up to a ton many miles. The Coast Guard also has an eight-inch mobile railway gun which will hurl a heavy projectile about 18 miles.

For defense of our homes, the Coast Guard needs many of these powerful weapons. You can do your part to help pay for them by investing at least ten percent of your income in War Bonds and Stamps every payday. U. S. Treasury Department

Every other year an opposition candidate has ousted the incumbent governor—seven times straight!

Between 1892 and 1912 the Wolverine state was tagged by politicians as "Safely" Republican. Republican Gov. Blair had put the state well into the Republican column during the Civil War. The memory of Lincoln became a rallying point in succeeding campaigns, and the state remained G. O. P. for 12 elections until the turn of the nineties. Edwin E. Winans, Democrat, won in 1890 by only 11,500 plurality. The state then remained Republican until 1914 when Woodbridge N. Ferris defeated the field to win by a plurality of 35,000. Michigan then returned to its Republican voting habit until the Roosevelt New Deal swept across the nation like a tidal-wave in 1932, and Wm. A. Comstock, a conservative Democrat, became governor.

Since the advent of the New Deal which hastened the development of social legislation at Washington such as unemployment compensation and old age pensions, the state has gone Republican for two years and then Democratic for the next two.

Wilbur M. Brucker was the first victim of the Democratic upset in 1932. Every governor from that day on has held office for two years—and no more!

Here is the procession, just to refreshen your memory:

1930—Wilbur M. Brucker, Republican.

1932—Wm. A. Comstock, Democrat.

1934—Frank D. Fitzgerald, Republican.

1936—Frank Murphy, Democrat.

1938—Frank D. Fitzgerald, Republican.

1940—Murray D. Van Wagoner, Democrat.

1942—Harry F. Kelly, Republican.

Why have the voters switched favors so consistently, as the above record bears out?

From a state considered in the past to be Republican, Michigan has become fighting ground for both parties every other year with better than even chances of victory for the opposition.

These have been times of depression—ups and downs in employment. They have been years of labor unrest—strikes, sitdowns, organization ferment. Farm prices have been low.

Michigan, once an agricultural state, is now heavily industrial. Security through governmental action has been replacing security through individual initiative more and more centralized control at Lansing and Washington has been the trend. More bureaus, more employees and higher payrolls have followed each administration, almost regardless of party, during these years of economic and social turmoil.

Why did the voters swing the pendulum once again in Michigan? Your guess is just as good as ours. Last March we appraised the trend as follows:

"If the fall elections were to be held today, many Michigan officeholders would be buried in a landslide protest. Right or wrong, the man on the street is pretty mad today. He is mad about the way the war is going. He is mad about labor's insistence of double pay for Sunday work, while the government asks him to buy bonds cheerfully and to pay more taxes. He is mad about a 40-hour week, while his son serves in the army for $21 a month."

It was our observation eight months ago that "voters usually do the irrational thing when they are in a mood to kick someone in the pants—whether the fault lies at Washington or at home."

Again in early August we sized up public opinion as follows: "The key to the 1942 primary and election, will be the war. If the war is going badly as it is today, watch out! If the tide turns, voters will be more cheerful, less in a mood to kick someone in the pants... Generally speaking, 1942 is already tagged an 'emotional year'."

We have an affectionate regard and respect for both Murray D. VanWagoner and Harry F. Kelly. But we still believe the vote in November was influenced chiefly by upset emotions of many Americans who don't like the way the war is going.

Looking for someone to kick in the pants, they found Governor Van Wagoner within ballot-box reach.

Will the voters again swing over to an opposition candidate in 1944? Based upon contemporary history, the chances are seven to one that they will.

We offer one final observation. Harry F. Kelly upset one precedent in 1942. He may do it again in 1944.

Minister Preaches His Own Funeral Sermon

BEAR CREEK, ARK.—Believing that he will die in the near future, an 85-year-old minister, the Rev. F. L. Firestone of Bear Creek, Ark., has preached his own funeral services before a crowd of several hundred persons.

Mr. Firestone, apparently in good health, has completed all preparations for his burial, including the digging of his grave. The minister's casket was made under his directions nearly 12 years ago.

Five-Story Fall Costs Baby Two Broken Legs

OKLAHOMA CITY.—Baby Bernard Schmidt took the quickest way from a doctor's office to the hospital—he fell five stories and suffered two broken legs.

Mrs. Bernard Schmidt, the mother, had taken the 20-month-old infant to a physician's office for an examination. How the baby got to the window and fell to the sidewalk below was unexplained.

So, too, was how he managed to escape without more serious injury.

U. S. Navy Goes Back to Building Wooden Vessels

BATH, MAINE.—The navy's last wooden ship constructor, Lieut. John A. Lord, who retired ten years ago, is back in service, and, at the age of 70, is supervising construction of ships at the Bath Iron Works. Lieut. Lord's greatest assignment in wooden ship construction was in 1931, when he supervised the $800,000 job of refitting a U. S. ship.

To Train Youth For War Work

Every High School Student Given Chance to Take Part in War Effort.

WASHINGTON.—Creation of a war-inspired "High School Victory Corps," open to all of the 6,600,000 in the nation's 28,000 public and private secondary schools, was announced here by Paul V. McNutt, manpower chief.

Established to give "every high school student in the United States the opportunity to take a definite place in the war effort through a voluntary enrollment plan," the corps will be headed by Capt. Eddie Rickenbacker, aviation leader and flying ace of the first World War.

Simultaneously with the announcement here, state school superintendents throughout the country were asked to call on school boards and officials to launch the program locally as soon as possible.

A manual recommending methods of organization was sent to all school superintendents and high school principals along with this statement from the national policy committee for the corps, composed of army, navy, education and civilian aviation men.

AEF Landing in N. Africa Forestalls Axis Invasion, Re-Opens Mediterranean

Large-Scale Action Launches 'Second Front'

When U. S. troops landed at Atlantic and Mediterranean ports of French North African colonies they effected the first big-scale American offensive of this war and thus was launched the much-sought "second front."

Intent on wiping out all Axis forces in North Africa and opening the Mediterranean to Allied shipping, these forces were expected to work with the British troops driving westward from Egypt. Caught in the middle of a gigantic pincers movement was the retreating Axis "Africa Corps" under the command of Nazi General Erwin Rommel.

First word of the opening of the drive by the Americans came when President Roosevelt's announcement of it was made over the short-wave radio beamed at Europe. Speaking in French, the President told the citizens of France that the armies of the United States were coming to them as friends and that their objective was to wipe out the enemies of their country.

LIEUT. GEN. EISENHOWER

"We come... as friends."

At the same time the war department in Washington issued a communique on the same subject.

The White House pointed out that the action was taken to forestall an Axis invasion of this French territory because such an invasion would "constitute a direct threat to America across the comparatively narrow sea from western Africa." Also this action was begun to provide "an effective second front assistance to our heroic allies in Russia."

In charge of the large contingent of U. S. troops (soon to be joined by strong British re-inforcements) was Lieut. Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower, commander of U. S. European land forces. His headquarters had formerly been in Britain. Assault landings were made under the cover of a huge naval and air armada. Thus the Axis got an answer to its "fishing for information" broadcasts of earlier in the week. These accounts reported heavy allied troop convoys gathering at Gibraltar and the Nazi intelligence wanted an answer from United Nations' sources. None was given and the reports were neither confirmed or denied until the President's message went on the air.

French Report Resistance To Landings

That the French were fighting back was first learned in this country when an official French communique announced that landing attempts had taken place and had been "repulsed" and "frustrated with heavy losses." First battles were reported by the French at Algiers and Oran.

Marshal Henri Philippe Petain, Vichy-French chief of state, rejected President Roosevelt's plea to refrain from obstructing the U. S. action when he declared that "We are attacked and we shall defend ourselves. That is the order which I give."

Adm. Jean Francois Darlan immediately took charge of the defense for the French. He is commander in chief of all Vichy armed forces. First reports from the field reaching the newly established "Allied Headquarters in North Africa" indicated that the opening U. S. assault landings on the beaches of North Africa near two main objectives were successful.

Much evidence of careful planning was revealed in the clock-work arrival of all parts of the huge task force. While it was believed that most of the troops engaged in the maneuver had been stationed in Great Britain there was nothing to indicate the route taken nor the time of their departure from their training bases.

Forecast Developments

When military experts began to study the broad implications of this offensive it became clear that the first job would be put down any resistance on the part of the Vichy-controlled French. This had to be taken care of. Next came Rommel. It now became evident when the British forces began their full-scale campaign out of Egypt and started pushing the Germans and Italians back toward Libya they knew that there was something of a major nature brewing to the west.

Crack U. S. Troops First to Arrive

Experts described this drive as perhaps the longest overwater military operation ever attempted. Crack U. S. combat troops, rangers (air borne units) and the best of American fliers were among the first to arrive.

However it was learned in London that newspapers there had known for some time that something of major importance was afoot as far as U. S. troops were concerned. The secret was well kept however. But the tip-off came several weeks ago when top-ranking officers of the American forces were not to be found at their usual stations.

According to one source many of the troops themselves didn't know where they were headed until a few hours before they began piling into their square nosed assault boats and headed for the beaches of Casablanca, Algiers and Oran.

Zero-hour came at dawn with landings being made at numerous points although they were several hundred miles apart. Troops from every state of the union were in the opening drive. First sign of action came to the French colonies when low-flying planes swooped over their cities and showered them with leaflets signed by General Eisenhower and containing President Roosevelt's plea to accept the U. S. action calmly and peacefully.

Then the marines set out in their barges, the Rangers started floating down onto Vichy territory with U. S. fighter pilots standing by to take over airfield captured by the ground troops or ready to strike out in their phase of the offensive.

In North Africa, Vichy had stationed some 150,000 troops, pledged to fight any invader.

President Roosevelt's Shortwave Broadcast

Here are some of the highlights from President Roosevelt's shortwave broadcast:

"Americans, with the assistance of the United Nations, are striving for their own safe future as well as the restoration of the ideals, the liberties, and the democracy of all those who have lived under the Tricolor.

"We come among you to repulse the cruel invaders who would remove forever your rights of self-government, your rights to religious freedom, and your rights to live your own lives in peace and security.

"We come among you solely to defeat and rout your enemies. Have faith in our words. We do not want to cause you any harm. We assure you that once the menace of Germany and Italy is removed from you, we shall quit your territory at once...

"The French government and the French people have been informed of the purpose of this expedition, and have been assured that the Allies seek no territory and have no intention of interfering the friendly French authorities in Africa.

"The government of France and the people of France and the French possessions have been requested to co-operate with and assist the American expedition in its effort to repel the German and Italian international criminals and by so doing to liberate France and the French empire from the Axis yoke.

"This expedition will develop into a major effort by the Allied nations and there is every expectation that it will be successful in repelling the planned German and Italian invasion of Africa and prove the first historic step to the liberation of France."

General Eisenhower also issued a proclamation in which he assured the French in North Africa that the United Nations had only the objective "to defeat the enemy and to free France."

Broadcast in French, his message directed the French forces to "avoid any possible misunderstanding" by signalling their co-operation by methods he outlined "... By day, fly the French tri-color and the American flag, one above the other. By night, turn on a searchlight and direct it vertically towards the sky."

'We Are Attacked'

MARSHAL HENRI PETAIN

Rejecting President Roosevelt's plea that the French should not "obstruct" American and British military action in North Africa, Marshal Henri Philippe Petain, chief of state in Vichy, France, stated that "France and her honor are at stake. We are attacked and we shall defend ourselves."

Work Or Fight

"Sooner or later we will have to come to it."

This was the assertion of Donald M. Nelson as he appeared before the Senate military affairs subcommittee hard at work on its study of the manpower mobilization problem. The statement referred directly to the possibility of a national selective service rule whereby every citizen would be required to either work or fight.

Nelson urged a longer work week and better management to increase productivity.

In these views Nelson found the committee to be in agreement. Also they concurred with the view expressed by the President at his press conference that further study will be necessary before definite recommendations on such legislation can be forthcoming. But the President made it plain that he would oppose any extension of working hours that would interfere with efficiency. He indicated that a work week of about 48 hours was desirable.

While the situation did not yet appear to be critical (except in dairying and other agricultural pursuits), the manpower problem will get more serious as time goes on and more men are drafted into the armed services. Right now, said the President he did not know any factories shut down due to a shortage of manpower.

In many rural communities U. S. citizens were worried about what was going to happen in the spring when another crop must be planted. For now, with harvest ended many farm and small town youths (who had temporary deferments) were off to the wars.

Wage Freeze Called 'Tough'

Only in "exceptional cases" will wage and salary increases be approved by the government, the War Labor Board announced in a far-reaching policy statement which virtually freezes wages and salaries of $5,000 and below at Sept. 15 levels.

The WLB has control over all non-agricultural wages and over all salaries less than $5,000, other than salaries of supervisory or professional employees. The treasury department has jurisdiction over supervisory and professional salaries less than $5,000 and all salaries of more than $5,000. The secretary of agriculture has jurisdiction over farm wages.

Explaining the government's wage policy, William H. Davis, chairman of the WLB, said the "Little Steel" wage formula, permitting increases up to 15 per cent above Jan. 1, 1941, levels and heretofore applied by the board in all recent applications for increases, will be strictly interpreted.

"The board is laying down a policy which, we think, is pretty damn tough," Davis said. "We are going to authorize increases very, very sparingly and then only if it is conclusively shown that they are essential to the prosecution of the war."

He pointed out that because many employees already may be receiving wages higher than the prevailing scale for their industry, wages will not necessarily be raised 15 per cent to cover the increase in the cost of living since early 1941.

BRIEFS:

ROCKET—A new anti-tank rocket is reported to have contributed much to the defeat of the Axis in Africa. The rocket is said to be fired from a rifle and when a tank is hit, the rocket burns through the tank wall and explodes on the inside.

EXHIBIT—The two Japanese suicide submarines, captured at Pearl Harbor and nicknamed "The Tojo Cigar," has been turned over to the War Savings staff for a coast-to-coast tour to promote the sale of war bonds and stamps.

GIFT—The Bank of France claims that it has turned over $200,000,000 in Belgian gold to the Nazis on orders from Marshal Petain.

MARKSMEN—Since the beginning of the war, gunners on British merchant ships have destroyed 98 enemy aircraft, probably destroyed 42 and damaged 98 others.

WARTIME HINTS

for a lady who wants to

electricity and appliances!

SAVING ELECTRICITY

A cardinal rule today is this: "Use as much electricity as you need, but don't waste it." There are many practical ways of saving electricity in your home—in your cooking, lighting, the use of appliances. And not one of them involves any sacrifices in the use of your helpful electrical servants. It simply means:

knowing the most economical way to use them, with greatest efficiency. A few of these suggestions are listed below.

YOUR HOME LIGHTING

Dust steals light—robbing you of as much as one-fourth the light you pay for. This is pure waste. Keep lamps and fixtures clean. Wipe bulbs and reflector bowls frequently. Dust shades inside and out. Use the right-size bulbs in your lamps and fixtures, and select shades with a white lining.

ELECTRIC COOKING

Use the thrift cooker of your electric range often. Plan complete meals that can be cooked in the oven at one time. Finish surface cooking on "low" or stored heat whenever possible. Use flat-bottomed utensils on rolls when not in use, and dry wringer thoroughly. Don't overload your washer.

YOUR REFRIGERATOR

Don't overcrowd your refrigerator. Unless the motor is hermetically sealed, have it oiled and inspected regularly. Be sure there is adequate air circulation all around the refrigerator. Defrost regularly. (Never use a knife or sharp tool for defrosting. Clean inside of refrigerator with lukewarm water and mild soap.

YOUR ELECTRIC WASHER

Wash and rinse tub thoroughly after each washing. Remove agitator or suction cups and rinse. Wipe dry with a soft cloth. Don't force thick, bulky objects through your wringer—hard objects like belt buckles, etc. Release pressure on rolls when not in use, and dry wringer thoroughly. Don't overload your washer.

Thinning Out Crop

As many as 50 to 100 thousand young seedlings can be found on a single acre of forest land, indicating the need for thinning out and harvesting the crop.

Dollar a Pound
During the last war we built a total of 64 light tanks, weighing 7½ tons each. "Light tanks" today weigh almost twice as much, heavy ones around 56 tons, and they now cost $1 a pound to build.

Has 100 Gallons of Water
Wood in nature is a material combined with from one-third to two and one-half times its weight in water so that a fresh cut log 16 feet long and 18 inches in diameter has a liquid content of more than 100 gallons.
