Feb. 22 to 26 Inclusive Are Dates Set for Distribution Here.

Registration for and the distribution of War Ration Book No. 2 will be held in Room 15 at the Cass City High School building from 3:00 to 7:00 p. m. each day from Feb. 22 to 26 inclusive. Residents of Tuscola County whose school districts are represented by pupils attending the Cass City schools will get their new ration books here. The school districts included are Cass City, Winton, Bird, Paul and Quick.

Residents of the Heron and Dickhout school districts may register at the nearest Huron County high school on Feb. 24, 25 and 26.

Those in the McHugh district may go to one of the schoolhouses in an adjoining district in Sanilac County to register.

Issuance of war ration book No. 2 will begin February 22. The new book will govern purchases of canned and other rationed foods to be announced later, such purchases to be made possible after March 1.

No purchases of canned goods may be made between the freezing date, February 20, and March 1.

Here's how you go about to get your ration book No. 2. An adult from the family should take the No. 1 (sugar and coffee) ration books of her family to the school nearest her home and fill out a consumer's declaration form.

On this she declares the number of eight-ounce or larger cans, bottles, and jars of commercially packed vegetables, fruits, juices and soups on hand February 21, exceeding five cans for each person. Also, she must declare the quantity of coffee she had on her shelves last November 28 in excess of the allowed quantity of one pound for every person aged 14 or over.

Applicants are warned that declaration of all canned goods on their shelves is not demanded. Each member of the household is entitled to a shelf stock of 5 cans and the number of cans or bottles declared must be only that figure.

Governor Kelly Urges Merging of State Departments

One Inspector Would Represent a Number of State Agencies.

Non-partisan News Letter.

Meet your new "deputy governor," folks.

Trouble-shooting, efficiency-ferreting Robert S. Ford of Ann Arbor is your man.

Officially his title is director of the state department of business administration, a new agency created at Lansing by the 1943 state legislature. Ford is to be a "one-man band," representing the governor in investigations into various state departments and bureaus and bringing recommendations back to the governor for executive action.

And because his boss, Governor Harry F. Kelly, has some ideas of efficiency himself—witness his inaugural message to the legislature last month—the noise henceforth in the vicinity of the statehouse may consist of loud protests and gnashing of teeth. You may even hear it from your own front porch!

For six years Ford has been associate professor of economics at the University of Michigan at Ann Arbor and also director of the "bureau of government" there, a research agency which studies Michigan governmental and taxation problems.

Like Harold Smith, another university professor who became Michigan's budget director in 1937 and later the national budget director at Washington, Ford's Lansing appointment is his first.

Cass City Trims Bad Axe High School

In a game packed with thrilling action, the local high school cagers bounced back in the win column Friday night when they defeated a strong Bad Axe team 31-23.

The two teams battled on even terms for the first two periods and when the half ended, the count was knotted at 10-10. Cass City gained a slight edge in the third quarter to lead 21-18 and then went on to build up their lead to a 31-23 final.

John Bugbee led the home team with thirteen points, while John Rice collected 12 for the Huron team.

In the preliminary, the Cass City reserves, led by Dick Root and Don DeLong, went on a scoring spree to outclass completely the Bad Axe seconds 41-20.

Group Plans "Ton of Beef" Club Here

In harmony with a recent message from President Franklin D. Roosevelt to 4-H Club members in the United States in which he said that "it is particularly gratifying to learn of your extensive mobilization plans for 1943 to help the farmers of America to bring about still greater food production," members of the Cass City Livestock Club plan to pledge each "beef boy" to raise one ton of beef this year.

Heretofore those fitting calves for show purposes have fed only one steer, but this season, according to Willis Campbell, club adviser, each beef raiser is urged to fit two animals—one show steer and one "saleable" one.

Letter from New Guinea—

MIS Frank L. Jankech, New Guinea, writes the following letter to his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Jankech:

"Hello there:
"Well, I will break my long silence by writing a letter. I answered Mr. Downing's letter. I suppose you know he has written me. Oh yes! The Holy Name Society sent me a package for Christmas. You can let them know it was well appreciated. I might add, by more than myself. We attend mass here in the woods when Father Shea happens to pass through. It would seem rather strange to you seeing an altar set up in the woods. Father uses a small table for the altar which he carries with him to the different camps. Things seem to be looking on the better side here. Still alive, Frank."

GOVERNOR KELLY

debut in public service. His salary is $7,500.

It is interesting to note that the legislative act gives Ford the power, with approval of the governor, to consolidate state agencies. He will decide the usefulness of a public job, a function which recently has been performed by the Michigan civil service commission under its powerful constitutional amendment. In this function there seems to be some overlapping or duplication, but the civil service director is said to have given his blessing to the efficiency expert plan.

If Robert S. Ford "goes to town" as well as going to Lansing, this 1943 legislative creation may become the most important accomplishment of the Kelly administration. Surely, the possibilities are great.

In his January inaugural message, Kelly asked for consolidation of the corporation and securities commission, state banking department, state department of insurance, building and loan division of the department of state, finance company division of the state treasurer's office, and public trust commission.

And as for the time-honored custom of creating a new commission at Lansing every time a group of business men want to "protect the public" through collection of fees and issuance of licenses, an obvious method to control competition and prices, Governor Kelly has this to say:

"Many of the so-called regulatory boards and commissions should be brought together under one administrative control resulting in considerable savings in costs and reduction in operating personnel."

Since the new "deputy governor" is to be responsible to the governor himself and will serve as a new ambassador-at-large, the forthcoming tug-of-war will be interesting to watch.

Governor Kelly would merge the public debt commission and the loan board into a new agency, the Municipal Finance commission. He would eliminate the office of budget director, transferring the duties to the auditor general. (The fiscal feud between Budget Director LeCraw and Auditor General Vernon J. Brown produced conflicting

DEFORD NEWS

Services for Mr. Martin—

Funeral services for George A. Martin were held on Tuesday afternoon at the Martin home. Because of extremely inclement weather conditions and impassable snow drifted roads, the service scheduled for Sunday afternoon had to be postponed.

Rev. W. Threlk of the Deford Methodist Church conducted the services and was assisted in part by a member of the Caro Christian Science Church of which Mr. Martin was a member. The remains, borne by Walter Schell, Frank Hutchinson, Philip McComb, Howard Retherford, Joe Vampell, and Howard Malcolm, were laid to rest in Novesta cemetery.

The Chronicle of last week carried the main facts concerning his life, but one important fact was not mentioned. Mr. Martin had a kindly disposition and a ready response if anyone could be helped in any way; he was never too busy to offer assistance. As his mail carrier for 30 years, this fact is a pleasant memory.

Visitors on Monday of Mr. and Mrs. George Spencer were Mr. and Mrs. Fred McCaslin and Mr. and Mrs. Beryl Franklin, all of Rochester.

The Clarence Smith farm was sold to Detroit parties through the Wm. F. Zemke Agency.

Mrs. Charles Kilgore spent two days with her sister, Mrs. Ralph Youngs, who had contracted pneumonia. Mrs. Youngs is recovering nicely at present.

Wm. F. Zemke was a business caller at Vassar Wednesday.

Mrs. Neil Martin received a telegram on Wednesday informing her that Donald Cross, her grandson, had been wounded in action in Africa.

Charles Gage leaves this week Thursday for Fort Custer to answer his country's call.

Mrs. Cook entered Pleasant Home Hospital and submitted to the removal of a cancerous growth. The children are staying at the Cecil Lester home at present. Mr.

and Mrs. Lester are near neighbors.

Church services have been called off for the past two Sundays because of weather conditions.

Ralph Purdy spent the week end here with his parents, and his return to East Lansing was delayed. When returning on Sunday, a snowdrift changed the course of the car and it overturned. No one received any noticeable injury and the Purdy family was brought back to their home.

Gerald Hicks of East Lansing spent the week end at his parental home.

Kenneth Kelley and Hazen Warner made a business trip Thursday to Battle Creek and also visited Fort Custer to look around the encampment and to see Kenneth Warner, who is stationed there.

Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Bruce and Mr. and Mrs. Bemis Bentley, all of Lapeer, were Sunday dinner guests at the Howard Malcolm home. Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Malcolm of Detroit were week-end guests of their parents.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Roblin of Greenleaf were Saturday visitors of Mr. and Mrs. George Roblin.

Mr. and Mrs. Bub Wright of Utica were week-end guests of Mrs. Wright's parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Clark.

Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Kelley entertained on Sunday Mr. and Mrs. Joe Kelley of Pontiac.

Clarence Cox of Pontiac spent Sunday here at the Kenneth Churchill home where Mrs. Cox is staying with her sister, Mrs. Churchill, and family.

Earl Hicks, who is employed in Detroit, spent Sunday here with his family.

Mr. and Mrs. George Urban of Detroit spent the week end with Mrs. Urban's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Kelley.

Miss Elsie Pringle and Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Graham spent the week end in Fort Custer visiting Pvt. Kenneth Warner.

Mr. and Mrs. Chauncey Tallman have sold their 80-acre farm to Clarence Smith and have bought the Kastruba farm, two miles south of Cass City. They will move on it as soon as the weather permits. Mrs. Anna Kastruba and daughters, Neda and Mary Kastruba, and Joseph Keese of Detroit were callers in Cass City Saturday to close the sale of their farm to Mr. and Mrs. Tallman.

Rust, Dust, Corrosion

Rust, dust and corrosion are silent but powerful enemies of a smoothly running war machine. They are particularly damaging if they can attack before the parts are finally assembled and the weapon, instrument or vehicle put to use. Delicate shafts and gears made to fit to the ten-thousandth of an inch would be ruined by the thinnest layer of rust.

It heats steel

in less than two minutes—

... one of the thousands of jobs
Electricity is doing to win the war

The electric induction furnace is an important tool in helping to speed up war production... and it is most unusual in its manner of operation. You can place your bare hand inside the furnace and not feel a bit of heat. But place a steel bar in the same spot, and in one or two minutes it becomes WHITE-HOT.

Induction heating has several clear-cut advantages. For example, it is useful in hardening the surface of a steel piece without affecting the toughness of the steel below the surface. Armor-piercing shells are point-hardened by this process. Engines and parts for airplanes, tanks, submarines, armored cars, etc. are made with the help of induction heating. A crankshaft whose surface has been hardened in this way will last five to ten times longer before needing attention than it would without such treatment.

Gun barrels of a certain caliber are now centrifugally cast from alloy-steel melted in an induction furnace. Stainless steels and "fussy" alloys are commonly melted in these furnaces, as are most of the high-speed and tool steels used for cutting. And bronze castings for naval torpedoes also come from the induction furnace.

Induction heating and melting represents only ONE of thousands of jobs that electricity is doing today in arsenals and war plants. Electric power is a weapon of war.

Michigan Foods Fill Extra Need

Those certain extra values in foods, such as vitamins and minerals, are not so far from the grasp of the average Michigan consumer. In fact, some of the most common Michigan products get a high rating from home economics extension specialists at Michigan State College.

One such food is milk. A quart a day for a growing youngster, a pint at least for an adult provides some of the needed protein, calcium and riboflavin.

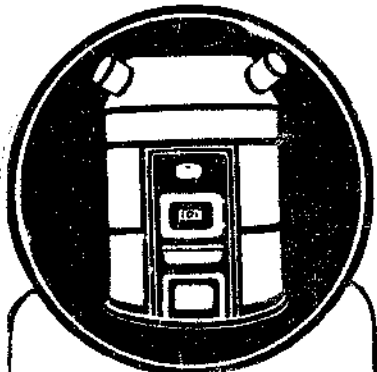

Then there's the potato. It's more than starch. A Michigan potato supplies one-tenth the daily vitamin B, one-seventh the daily vitamin C and one-twelfth of the iron.

Michigan beans, one cup cooked, offer a fifth of a day's protein needs, one-half of the vitamin B and one-third of a day's need for iron.

A half cup of cooked carrots or yellow squash yields one-half a day's need for vitamin A. A half cup of cooked greens include a fourth of a day's need for iron and all the vitamin A for a day.

Vitamin C appears in several common sources. Raw cabbage, home grown apples and canned tomatoes rate high. Three-fourths of a cup of raw cabbage supplies half of the vitamin C for a day for an adult; one apple gives one-fifth and a half cup of tomatoes one-half of the amount needed for a day.

Continued Story

The last rainy spell out at Keeler Field, Miss., nearly succeeded in destroying Tech. Sergt. Reid L. Molleston's faith in his fellow M.P.S. Sergeant Molleston's raincoat disappeared mysteriously from its hanger at M.P. headquarters. Chagrined, but not despondent, Sergeant Molleston obtained raincoat No. 2, hung it on a hanger and went to work. A few hours later he decided to leave the office—but no raincoat. Sergeant Molleston, now desperately in possession of raincoat No. 3 (it's still raining) is on the lookout for a sure-fire coat-snatcher-catcher.

'Mr.' and 'Mrs.' in Colonial Days
In American colonial days, the prefixes "Mr." and "Mrs." were generally accorded only to the gentry, including ministers and their wives.

Sunken Wrecks for Scrap
Army engineers are surveying navigable rivers in the Middle West to locate sunken wrecks that may have metals and other materials for the scrap drive.

Pvt. Ira Gerou Writes from Carlsbad, N. M.

sunshine. I don't have very much to do, yet we must keep our plane in tip-top condition. We tighten the bolts and watch for oil leakage and keep the engines shining as well as the plane. We have inspections to pull such as a 'daily,' which is filling it up with oil and gas and draining the fuel strainers, looking over the tires and whole plane to see if anything is wrong.

"Another inspection is the 'pre-flight' which is starting the engine and seeing if it is running all right and that all the controls are working correctly.

"After they fly them 25 hours, we have to check several things and grease them. After they fly 50 hours, we have a lot of other things to do. I don't fly with the plane because I am the junior mechanic. The other fellow who has worked on planes for a couple of years most generally goes. He sometimes goes to California and several of these western states. I begin work at eight in the morning and quit at 4:15. Sometimes I have to work a little longer when we are busy. Before we start to work in the morning at 8 o'clock, we have our calisthenics for fifteen minutes.

"Last night, another soldier and I went to a card party in Carlsbad over to the Pierce home. His father is the president of the potash mines out here. His mines were written about in the Saturday Evening Post recently. They are a very important part of the war machine inasmuch as they supply much of the country's supply of potash. He said, prior to war, that they used to make a lot of commercial fertilizer. I told him that we used to use potash in our farm fertilizer. Well, we had a swell time there anyway. They had a couple of girls from Carlsbad, so we had a party of eight. We got back to camp at twelve midnight which is the deadline during the week.

"The other soldier is a farmer's son from South Dakota. He was like me in that he left the farm. He used to work on steamships out of California. He said that he has sailed around the world four times. He has been to China, India, Egypt, Europe, South America, Alaska and many, many places. During his travels he did manage to work his way through an engineering college in San Francisco so that's the reason he is working on planes now. He says, when the war is over, he is going back to South Dakota and be a master farmer. He is a very interesting fellow and a swell guy.

"The reason we are getting acquainted in Carlsbad is that the doctor who brought him into the world back in South Dakota, now lives in Carlsbad, so a couple weeks ago, we went down to see him. He was a jolly fellow who has retired from practice and dubs and dabs a little out here with dry farming. He says he makes quite good money out here on cotton and cattle. He told me that in pasturing cattle out here, one has to figure 600 acres for each head, because the grass is so scarce. Even though, they have to have many acres he says there are several thousand head in New Mexico. Out here, as you probably imagined already, they brand their cattle so they don't have to build fences. Cattle out here graze the year around.

"Whenever they want a water system out here, they dig a well and put a windmill with their supply tank about half way up on the tower giving them a forceful gravity system. This is possible out here because it never gets cold enough to freeze their plumbing, although I did notice that on some mornings there is a thin crust of ice on water around here that we have at the camp."

WILL REGISTER FOR NEW RATION BOOKS NEXT WEEK

above the number resulting from the multiplication of the total number of family members by five.

For each can or bottle of rationed food above the allowed total, one stamp will be removed from the newly issued book 2. For families declaring considerable stocks above the quota, stamps equaling one-half the total allowed for the first ration period will be removed at the time the book is issued and more removed at the beginning of succeeding ration periods until the excess is accounted for by deducted stamps.

Heavy penalties are provided for those giving false declarations.

All the above regulations refer to commercially packed rationed foods, not to home canned produce, and be sure those cans declared are not under the eight-ounce size.

Provision is made for certain consumers who may require additional points over the allotted 48 points. Such persons by presenting a doctor's certificate explaining why extra rations are necessary may obtain from their rationing board the required extra units.

Explanation of further workings of ration buying will be made public at an early date. The important thing for the present, however, is to count your canned goods stock and get your ration book No. 2.

Warm Welcome!

These are days when families are divided and diminished, and there comes the urge to say to the neighbor, come take "pot-luck" supper with us. Thus, your neighbor will bring over some salad and muffins and herself and the youngster, you can make a main dish and dessert, and have company with it besides!

It's heart-warming to visit, too, and have someone to help with the meal if your one-big family is somewhat reduced. Most people welcome a visit now and then with just one of the ordinary meals—and pot-luck is the perfect answer.

Your first must-not with pot-luck is do not fuss. Just get together on who is to bring what—and have what you ordinarily would have. Your plans need not be made with campaign-like precision, simply do it on the spur of the moment, since this makes for spontaneity.

Let's take it easy on meat with some grand casserole dishes—including this on shrimp and crabmeat with a crisp, corn-flake crust:

*Baked Shrimp Salad.

(Serves 6 to 8)

1/2 cup chopped green pepper
1 cup minced onion
1 cup chopped celery
1 cup cooked crabmeat, flaked
1 cup cooked shrimp, cleaned
1 cup mayonnaise
1 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce
2 cups corn flakes
1/2 cup butter

Combine all ingredients and mix well together. Place in individual shell dishes or one large casserole. Cover with crushed corn flakes, do with butter, and sprinkle paprika over top. Bake in a moderate oven (350 degrees) about 30 minutes. Serve with lemon.

Spaghetti's a fine dish to serve at pot luck. Should hamburger supplies be low, try some of Sunday's leftover chicken in the sauce.

Spaghetti With Chicken.

(Serves 6 to 8)

1 8-ounce package spaghetti
1 onion, cut fine
1 small clove garlic
2 tablespoons fat
2 1/2 cups cooked tomatoes
Salt and pepper
1 tablespoon sugar
Dash of cayenne
1 cup diced, cooked chicken
1 cup grated cheese
1/2 cup mushrooms, sauteed

Cook spaghetti in boiling salted water until tender. Drain and place in a greased casserole.

Saute onion and garlic in hot fat until tender but do not brown. Add tomatoes, salt, pepper, sugar and cayenne. Heat to boiling, then add

Lynn Says:

No Waste, No Want: Rationing and decreased supplies of food have diminished our leftover problem, but not entirely done away with it. That's why I'm passing on these thoughts of what-to-do:

Use cooked meat or fish seasoned and moistened with cream in between the omelet. Vegetables, put through a sieve moistened with cream, butter or gravy are good, too.

Stewed tomatoes go together with scrambled eggs. Especially nice is a rating scrambled eggs get with minced tongue, chicken or ham. Use them if you only have a half a cupful.

Sweeten fruit juices with sugar and thicken with one tablespoon of cornstarch. Yes, mighty good on hot puddings, cottage, apple, or brown Betty puddings!

chicken, mushrooms, and pour over spaghetti. Toss with fork and sprinkle with grated cheese. Bake in a moderate (350-degree) oven about 30 minutes.

For ease in serving, and ease on your budget serve your salad course with the hot bread and skip dessert! It's a smart and simple note in budget suppers:

*Wildshire Salad.

(Serves 8)

1 head lettuce or romaine
4 slices pineapple
1 grapefruit, peeled and sectioned
1 red apple, sliced
1/2 pound grapes, cleaned
1 orange peeled and sectioned
Mayonnaise

Line salad bowl with lettuce or romaine. Arrange fruit in an orderly but pretty pattern, alternating slices of pineapple with apple, and orange sections with grapefruit. Sprinkle halved grapes (seeded) over whole of bowl, or place clusters of grapes among other fruit. Serve with mayonnaise.

You can take the B-r-r-r out of winter by serving a delicious hot bread that breaks open like a twink and when spread with butter is the answer to perfection!

Apple-Walnut Muffins.

(Makes 12 medium)

2 cups sifted flour
3 teaspoons baking powder
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/2 teaspoon cinnamon
3 tablespoons sugar
1 egg, well beaten
1 cup milk
3 tablespoons mild salad oil
1 cup raw, grated apple
1/2 cup broken walnut kernels

Mix and sift dry ingredients. Combine egg, milk and salad oil and add to flour mixture, stirring only until mixed. Fold in apple and nuts. Drop by spoonfuls into greased muffin tins, filling 3/4 full. Bake in a hot (425-degree) oven for 20 to 30 minutes, according to the size of the muffins.

It's a pleasure to bring freshly baked bread to the table because it's a sign you have gone to the trouble of trying to make the meal as good as possible. You'll like the following nut bread both for table or lunch-box use.

If you're using this bread for the lunchbox, slice it thinly, spread with cream cheese, blended with apple sauce, or cream cheese with crisply fried, drained and crumbled bacon.

Brazil Nut Quick Bread.

(Makes 1 5-by-9-inch loaf)

3 cups flour
4 teaspoons baking powder
1/2 cup sugar
1 cup chopped Brazil nuts
1 egg
1 1/2 cups milk
3 tablespoons melted shortening

Sift dry ingredients together, add nuts. Beat egg, add milk and shortening. Stir quickly into dry ingredients. Pour into a greased loaf pan and bake in a moderate (350-degree) oven 1 hour.

Victorious Red Army Continues Drive As Nazi Winter Line Fails to Hold; Establishment of 48-Hour Work Week Expected to Release New Labor Supply

(EDITOR'S NOTE: When opinions are expressed in these columns, they are those of Western Newspaper Union's news analysts and not necessarily of this newspaper.)

Carter, Secretary General of the Institute of Pacific Relations; and Maj. Gen. Dai Fung King, member of the Chinese military mission to the United States. This photo was taken at a Washington luncheon at the Institute of Pacific Relations met to celebrate the renunciation of extra territorial rights in China by the United States.

RUSSIA'S GAIN:

And the 'Experts'

When the Germans surrendered Rostov before the Russians captured Rostov the Red army again crossed up the military experts who for weeks had been predicting the opposite. But the fact that Rostov was the major anchor point on the Nazi winter line to fall only added to the importance of this strategic victory for Russia.

It is a city of 60,000 and a railway junction of vital importance to the Nazis. It was one of three points (Rostov and Kharkov were the other two) which the German radio once said must be held at any price "of German blood." Germany had held the town since November 11, 1941, and its loss meant that the Russians had breached the Nazi winter line running from Bryansk, Orel and Kursk to Kharkov, Voroshilovgrad and Rostov.

Fall of the latter point meant the entrapment of the entire Nazi force in the Caucasus but even the Russians admitted that some of the 200,000 soldiers caught there were escaping across the Kerch peninsula and through Rostov itself.

All along the line the advancing Russians gained mile after mile and with the territory gained vast quantities of military supplies and hundreds of Nazi and Rumanian prisoners.

48-HOUR WEEK:

For Industry

Approximately 1,500,000 men and women ultimately are expected to be released for more essential work as the result of President Roosevelt's order establishing a minimum war-time work week of 48 hours.

The order, which coincided with a warning by James F. Byrnes, director of economic stabilization, that the government intends to hold wages and prices at present levels, made it clear that workers will be paid for all hours over 40 at time and a half, as provided by the Fair Labor Standards act. The initial order took effect immediately in 32 designated "labor shortage" areas. The order will be extended from time to time.

The shift to the 48-hour work week by employers now working on a shorter week would result in the necessity of releasing certain numbers of workers. These workers will be used in other vital jobs.

Stern Program

In his speech, OES Director Byrnes explained the 48-hour week ruling and listed the following program which the government intends to follow:

1. No further increase in hourly wage rates beyond those allowed by the Little Steel formula, which permits a 15 per cent rise since January 1, 1941.
2. Draft of civilians for jobs where they can do the most good.
3. Effective control of food prices and other prices influencing the basic cost of living.
4. Incentive payments to farmers to increase basic food production.
5. Higher taxes to close the estimated $1 billion dollar gap between cost of income and available funds.

BRIEFS . . . by Baukhage

Peace Move: Count Ciano's appointment as Italian ambassador to the Vatican might be the harbinger of Axis peace moves. Not only has the pope been known to be in support of feasible peace formulas but the Holy See remains one of the few neutral localities of Europe with a wide representation of diplomats from the Allied as well as Axis countries.

NORTH AFRICA:

New Air Blows

American air forces continued to strike telling blows at Axis North African supply and communications lines while neutral dispatches reported hectic preparations for a gigantic Allied offensive in Tunisia.

U. S. bombers, lashing at Marshal Rommel's forces, blasted the airbase at Gabes and the docks at Sousse, starting heavy fires among buildings.

Dispatches from Algiers said the Allies were expected to strike from the west at the moment. Gen. Bernard L. Montgomery's British Eighth army resumed its pursuit in force of the Africa Corps. The Eighth army was said to be poised along the Tripolitanian-Tunisian frontier, with forward elements reaching within eight miles of the Mareth line, inside Tunisia.

It was believed the Allied pincers movement was being held for better weather or until all preparations were definitely complete.

GUADALCANAL:

American Victory

When six months of bitter warfare ended with the Japanese evacuation of Guadalcanal island in the Solomons, the enemy's desperate, futile investment was estimated to have cost them 50,000 men, about 800 planes and a considerable fleet of ships.

For the first time the tenacious Japs were forced to give up an important position completely, thus paving the way—in the words of Navy Secretary Knox—for blows by the United States against "some of the most important bases of the Japanese." The enemy had relinquished hope for a stronghold there from which they could blast shipping lanes to Australia.

Knox expressed the opinion that widespread recent sea and air activity in the Solomons might have been "a demonstration to cover their withdrawal." He added that "The story of the Southwest Pacific would have been a vastly different story for the last three or four months had we not established our positions in the Solomons."

PANIC BUYING:

Held Unnecessary

As shoe rationing went into effect a wave of "panic buying" of clothing swept some parts of the country and immediate efforts were extended by government officials to halt this trend. Donald Nelson, War Production board chairman, and Prentiss Brown, price administrator, issued a joint statement pointing out that no shortage of clothing exists and no plans have been made for its rationing.

Part of the statement read: "WPB has not asked OPA to undertake rationing of clothing and no machinery has been set up for such a program. . . shoe rationing appears to have stimulated scare buying in some parts of the country. . . such buying is unnecessary."

Supplies of wool were said to be larger by several hundred million pounds than they were at the outbreak of the war.

OFFICIAL PROCEEDINGS
BOARD OF SUPERVISORS
TUSCOLA COUNTY

JANUARY SESSION—1943.

Regular meeting of Tuscola County Board of Supervisors called at Court House in Caro on January 4, 1943.
Meeting called to order by Chairman Luder.

Clerk called roll. All members being present excepting Supervisor Burns and Harris.
Clerk read communications from Meosota County Clerk. Moved by Supervisor MacFarlane and supported by Supervisor Ross that communication be accepted and placed on file. Motion carried.

AFTERNOON SESSION.

Meeting called to order by Chairman Luder. Quorum present.

Supervisor Barriger, Chairman of Special Committee, reported as follows: To the Hon. Board of Supervisors: Your Committee appointed to investigate the proposition of a plan, suggested by Judge Desjardins for the appointment of a Friend of the Court, Special Deputy County Clerk and Probation Officer combined in one person, with report as follows: We believe the adoption of such a plan would in no way relieve the Circuit Judge of any of his work or duties, nor add to his financial income but would make more effective his services and labor in dealing with those who may become involved with the law in various ways. We believe it will give a better and more complete record of all Court Proceedings than has been the case in the past. It should have a tendency to give closer supervision and contact with those who might be placed on probation and aid in the prevention of crime, and a gain financially to the County in better collections of Probationary payments. The plan would be to have a friend of the court, who would be a member of the County Bar, and who would be appointed by the Court, thereby saving expense to the County and creating better social and moral conditions for all parties interested and the public in general.

In other words, it is the practice of what is being recognized by many Bar Associations in different parts of the country as Preventative Law.

From our observation, we do not feel that it will be a burden on the County. Over period of time both directly and indirectly it will be good economy.

We recommend the adoption of the plan at least long enough to give it a fair trial. Signed—Wm. B. Barriger, Ernest C. Luder, Fred Mathews.

Motion made by Supervisor Mueller and supported by Supervisor Gussell that we accept and adopt the report. Motion carried.

Mr. Childs came before the Board in regard to putting a candidate for Circuit Court.

Supervisor Barriger called attention to the fact Mr. Childs was now leaving the County and was not a resident of the County. Over period of time both directly and indirectly it will be good economy.

Motion made by Supervisor Mueller and supported by Supervisor Gussell that we accept and adopt the report. Motion carried.

Supervisor Mueller, Chairman of Special Committee to attend State Association of Welfare Boards and Boards of Supervisors held in Alpena July 14, 15, 16, 1942, reported as follows: Mr. Chairman, I have the honor to report to you the results of the State Association of Welfare Boards and Boards of Supervisors held in Alpena July 14, 15, 16, 1942.

The first meeting was held in Memorial Hall in the afternoon of July 14. We were very much impressed by the large attendance and interest shown by the representatives of the various counties and State Welfare Boards.

All meetings of the convention were conducted in an interesting and business-like manner. Many legal questions came up during group discussions on certain debatable points of the Welfare Law. Cooperation was given mostly with hospitalization and welfare transactions between Counties, County and State Welfare Boards.

Attorneys from the State Welfare Department, also from Detroit, Flint, Pontiac and Mt. Clemens attended the convention. They were invited upon by Chairman VanDeusen to give their opinion of the Law as they saw it, which helped to clear up many conflicting points on certain phases of the Welfare Law.

The main speaker in the afternoon session was the Hon. Judge Desjardins, Chief Justice of the Michigan Supreme Court. He gave a most interesting talk on State Finances. He stated that the State of Michigan collected over $168,000,000 from all sources in the last fiscal year, an enormous sum of money. Federal grants received by the State amounted to $19,174,914.80 in the last fiscal year.

Taxes, fees and other revenues collected by the State and the amount of local taxes totaled over $129,287,850. Education and highways received the largest share of the total. The remainder was used in financing medical and surgical treatment of children and adults, direct relief, aid to dependent children, taxes distributed to municipalities totaled $2,066,990.64.

Grants to school districts were the largest item, amounting to $46,811,218.22, while vocational training for war and defense workers consumed $2,992,410.97. The State of Michigan collected over $168,000,000 from all sources in the last fiscal year, an enormous sum of money. Federal grants received by the State amounted to $19,174,914.80 in the last fiscal year.

Direct subsidies paid to county T. B. sanatoriums totaled $2,046,745.50. Revenues derived from sale of tax reverted lands netted $3,071,875.25.

Retail liquor license money distributed amounted to $2,552,045.69. Medical and surgical treatment of crippled and afflicted children paid from state funds cost $1,006,454.27. Cost of the State of Michigan with state funds was $38,432,976.13; of this amount $5,414,688.15 represents direct relief. $23,850,408.31 for old age assistance. Other items totaled $3,231,990.58.

In his closing remarks, he emphasized that the people of Townships and Counties be careful and alert not to grant their rights and privileges to someone else and that the present system of Township and County Government as the foundation of the Republican form of Government be always in contact with their Supervisor, the Supervisor and his people are often in contact with County Officers, many of them being former Supervisors who know the problems and needs of their County much better than someone else appointed, made for political reasons to look after the people's interest and welfare.

He stated that the State is now out of the red for the first in many years, wiping out the $30,000,000 deficit from the Murphy administration.

Monday, January 15—The main speaker was George S. Lusk of the surplus marketing administration. He talked about the surplus marketing plan and gave an outline of the work of the surplus marketing administration. He talked about the surplus marketing plan and gave an outline of the work of the surplus marketing administration. He talked about the surplus marketing plan and gave an outline of the work of the surplus marketing administration.

year was about $19,000,000. He also stated that 40% of driftless rejected from the army was due to malnutrition. The surplus marketing plan was given by Mr. Woodworth, representing Wayne County Medical Society. He gave a very interesting and comprehensive report on the work of the County Government. He brought out facts and figures to show that smaller branches of Government are run much more cheaply and more efficiently than larger branches of the state. He warned the people to be careful and reluctant not to grant their rights and privileges to someone else. He said even though the County Government of Wayne County is being criticized by the press and many others, it is by far administered more economically and efficiently than the City Government of the City of Detroit by a nine man council.

Added talks were given by two members of the Welfare Committee of the House of Representatives. They said in their talks it was a hard fight to pass the present Welfare Law. They said it was a hard fight to pass the present Welfare Law. They said it was a hard fight to pass the present Welfare Law.

He said certain people who are in the future; he said that no one will know from now on what the destiny of our Nation will be after the war. He said our financial income but would make more effective his services and labor in dealing with those who may become involved with the law in various ways.

He also warned delegates to safeguard their rights and privileges they now have, and not grant them to someone else. He said certain people who are in the future; he said that no one will know from now on what the destiny of our Nation will be after the war. He said our financial income but would make more effective his services and labor in dealing with those who may become involved with the law in various ways.

The last day Committees reported and election of officers took place. The next convention will be held in Bay City next summer.

Conrad Mueller, Howard Slatter, Henry Schmitt, and others were present. Moved by Supervisor Barriger and supported by Supervisor Blackmore that the report be accepted and placed on record. Motion carried.

Motion made by Supervisor Miller and supported by Supervisor Beatenhead that we adjourn until 3:30 p. m. Motion carried.

JESUS THE GOOD SHEPHERD

LESSON TEXT—John 10:1-16, 27-30. GOLDEN TEXT—"I am the good shepherd: the good shepherd giveth his life for the sheep."—John 10:11.

Beautiful and meaningful as they are, none of the other figures or types of our Lord's redemptive work have a stronger appeal than that of the good shepherd. Even those who have never tended sheep nor yet seen them under the shepherd's care sense the telling assurance of the allegory of the Good Shepherd. We know how much we are like sheep needing the tender shepherd's care, and we soon learn to know and to trust Christ as the True Shepherd of the flock.

The center of the picture is the Good Shepherd, and it is around Him that we group our thoughts.

I. He Knows His Sheep (vv. 1-5). At night, whenever possible, the sheep were brought into a fold, a walled-in enclosure with shelters and with a single gate. Many different flocks were kept together under the care of an undershepherd. In the morning the shepherds came to lead forth the flock. They came by the door, not as the thieves of the night, who sought to come in by stealth over the wall.

When the shepherd called, his own sheep responded. We are told that they would not come at the call of a stranger—not being ready to trust him.

The application is obvious, and yet a word is in order. We ought to examine ourselves and see whether we do indeed know our Lord's voice. Do we respond when He calls us? Then, too, let us be on the lookout against those who profess to be shepherds, who call themselves "pastor" or "reverend," and have only one purpose—to despoil the sheep. They are "thieves and robbers"—Jesus said so. They are only interested as long as it pays. The true shepherd cares for his sheep.

II. He Protects His Sheep (vv. 6-15). Not only thieves, but wild animals would attack sheep, and it is said that often the shepherd died to protect them from harm. But the hireling, serving for what he can get out of it, is not interested any longer. When danger appears, he flees. He has not the real shepherd heart and cares not if the sheep be destroyed. Having stolen them to enrich himself, he will not defend them at the cost of his own life.

Note the sharp contrast of "I am the good shepherd" with the dark picture of the faithless hirelings. Not only does it magnify His goodness, but it deepens the blackness of their treachery.

We should recall that the Good Shepherd is able to protect His sheep; for while He lays down His life for them, He takes it again in victory over sin and death (see vv. 17, 18). The Saviour seemed to have been defeated at Calvary, but He arose again, and ever liveth to make intercession on our behalf (Heb. 7:25).

III. He Seeks Other Sheep (v. 16). The other sheep Jesus had in mind were probably the Gentiles. The believers He then had were Jews, but the day was to come when the Gentiles were to hear and believe. His desire for them may well stir in our hearts an eagerness to go out and bring in all—both Jew and Gentile—who will, by believing in Christ, become members of His one fold.

Note the word "must" in verse 16. It does not say "if convenient," nor "when we can raise enough money," nor "after our local debts are paid" we will go out and seek others. There is a divine imperative here—it "must" be done.

Let us not fail to gather the full significance of the expression "one flock, one shepherd." We are not interested in any manufactured unity of man-made organizations. Certainly we will not accept union which means compromise of essential truth. But unity under Christ, the one great Shepherd, that we want—yes and will have. He makes that certain—"they shall be one flock."

Let us not put hindrances in the way of that kind of unity, and let us not be delinquent about seeking the "other sheep." Now a final word.

IV. He Keeps All His Sheep (vv. 27-30). These words (said after a period of weeks had elapsed) stress the blessed assurance which comes to those who follow Christ. Jesus rebuked the Jews for their unbelief, telling them that they were not His sheep.

Those who are His have been given to Him by the Father—an eternal gift to Him—and He gives to them eternal life.

The power back of this whole matter is evident in verse 30. Christ is God. He who is in Christ's hand is also in the Father's hand, "and no man is able to pluck them out of the Father's hand." Instead of trying to modify that statement, or to quarrel with those who believe it, every Christian ought to accept it and shout "Hallelujah!"

With the army taking all the large filleted smelt it can get and the civilian market good, as housewives find other meat supplies short, the business of producing this "victory food" is booming at Escanaba. Fishermen here are dipping smelt from a pound net lifted through a hole in the ice. Last winter commercial fishermen operating 78 pound nets and 35 miles of small mesh gill nets in Michigan waters of Green Bay marketed more than two million pounds of smelt in the three-month ice fishing season.

Nazarene Church Board Votes to Add New Hymnals

At the regular monthly board meeting of the Nazarene Church at Cass City, the members voted unanimously to raise the pastor's salary. This is the third time the board has taken such action. They also voted to buy 150 new Nazarene hymnals and some collection plates.

The Sunday School is being organized under John Wagner as superintendent to expand all its ranks and to equip the school with new furnishings and supplies.

The young people are organizing a crusade band under Herbert Wagner as president to do an extensive work for the entire church. They will sponsor a revival with Rev. C. Ross Emerick as evangelist in June, with the sanction of the church board.

The pastor, Rev. George D. Bugbee, has almost completed his first three years as pastor and is slated to stay another three years. As soon as the war is over and material is released, the church edifice will be completed. It will be of a beautiful modernistic design.

The pastor and the people are very happy over the progress made up to the present and with the prospects for the future.

Income Tax.

When, Where and How Taxes Are to Be Paid.

Taxes due on a return filed for the calendar year 1942 may be paid in full at the time for the filing of the return on or before March 15, 1943. The tax may, at the option of the taxpayer, be paid in four equal installments instead of in a single payment, in which case the first installment is to be paid on or before March 15, the second on or before June 15, the third on or before September 15, and the fourth on or before December 15, 1943. If the taxpayer elects to pay his tax in four installments, each of the four installments must be equal in amount, but any installment may be paid, at the election of the taxpayer, prior to the time prescribed for its payment. If an installment is not paid in full on or before the date fixed for its payment, the whole amount of the tax remaining unpaid is required to be paid upon notice and demand from the collector.

The tax must be paid to the collector of internal revenue for the district in which the taxpayer's return is required to be filed, that is, to the collector for the district in which is located the taxpayer's legal residence or principal place of business, or if he has no legal residence or principal place of business in the United States, then to the collector of internal revenue at Baltimore, Maryland.

In the payment of taxes a fractional part of a cent is to be disregarded unless it amounts to one-half cent or more, in which case it shall be increased to one cent.

The tax due, if any, should be paid in cash at the collector's office, or by check or money order payable to "Collector of Internal Revenue." In the case of payment in cash, the taxpayer should in every instance require and the collector should furnish a receipt. In the case of payments made by check or money order, however, the canceled check or the money order receipt is usually a sufficient receipt.

Lawnmowers Require Winter Care

Lawnmowers frequently are put away in the fall while damp, a practice which is likely to render them dull and hard to push when spring comes around again. They should be wiped clean, the edges of the blades well oiled, and the remainder of the mower well painted or varnished before the machine goes into storage. It is a good idea to repaint the garden wheelbarrow at the same time.

Mrs. Samuel Bigelow.

Mrs. Samuel Bigelow passed away Monday morning, February 15, at her home on North Seeger Street, following a long illness.

Funeral services were held on Wednesday afternoon in the Munro Funeral Home. Rev. Dudley Moore, pastor of the Methodist Church, officiated and burial was in Elkland cemetery.

Jennie E. Walmsley was born on a farm, one mile east and one-fourth mile north of Cass City and has spent nearly all her life here. She was married to Samuel Bigelow in 1896.

She is survived by her husband; three daughters, Miss Florence Bigelow of New York City, New York, Miss Laura Bigelow of Pontiac and Mrs. Harold Jackson of Carsonville; two sons, Andrew N. Bigelow and Charles Bigelow, both of Cass City; two sisters, Mrs. Anna Gillies of Plymouth and Mrs. Belle Gilles of Maplewood, New Jersey. She also leaves five grandchildren.

Mrs. Bigelow's readiness to lend a helping hand won for her many friends. For as long as her health permitted, she spent much of her time doing for others with loving words as well as in deeds.

Caverly, and son, Ray Strickland, both of Pontiac, and Mr. and Mrs. Pat Cannon of Marlette attended the funeral of Mrs. Strickland's brother-in-law, Robert Ernest Cory, 59, of Caro Thursday afternoon at the Huston Funeral Home. Mr. Cory was a well known musician of this community. While living in Detroit he played with symphony and theatre orchestras. He was a graduate of the Vandercook School of Music.
