

Sandusky and Caro Play Champ Game of Tourney Tonight

Bad Axe Upsets Cass City in Opening Game Here Last Thursday.

In the opening game of the Class B basketball tournament held at Cass City Thursday, Mar. 11, Bad Axe downed Cass City 27-25 in a hard fought contest. Schmidt, Bad Axe high scoring forward, flipped in a one-handed shot from the side of the court to break a 25-25 deadlock, with 37 seconds to go. Cass City got three shots after that time but all missed their mark.

Cass City went out ahead in the first quarter 8-2 and held a 10-15 lead at the half, but faltered in the third quarter and trailed by a 20-15 score. Late in the fourth quarter, Cass City tied up the score at 25 all then lost on Schmidt's last minute shot. Schmidt scored 19 of his team's 27 points to lead Bad Axe to victory. Bugbee kept Cass City in the running with his short pivot shots and led Cass City in scoring with 14 points. Captain Fred Auten and Ed Doerr, seniors, played in their last basketball game for Cass City High.

On Friday night, Marlette and Sandusky tangled in the opening game and Sandusky won by a 35-26 score. Beatty with 11 points, Stolicker with 8 and Woodward with 7 led Sandusky to its victory. Dillon with 10 points and McElhinney with 6 were Marlette's leading scorers. Marlette was behind 18-8 at the end of the first half and came within 4 points of a tie early in the fourth quarter, 18-22, but from there on Sandusky had full control of the game.

The chairmanship of the Cass City unit for the annual Easter seal sale to finance the work of the Tuscola County Chapter of the Michigan Society for Crippled Children has been accepted by Willis Campbell.

The sale will open on March 26 and continue until Easter. In accepting the appointment, Mr. Campbell said that he anticipated the upward trend of the seal sale to continue this year, as it has consistently done in the past.

"The experience of our first wartime year has indicated unmistakably that the citizens of America realize how vitally our services are to the nation," Mr. Campbell said.

"Not only has the size of the civilian job done by Easter seals increased, but the benefits of the experience of all societies for crippled children and adults in programs of occupational therapy, sheltered workshops, vocational guidance, training of the crippled for productive jobs, and placement in employment will be urgently needed as the war progresses," he declared.

Caro 34, Bad Axe 32

In another upset of the tournament, Caro High rallied in the last quarter to defeat Bad Axe by a one basket margin—34 to 32. Scoring was frequent in this game with neither team leading by more than 4 points during any part of the game. Bad Axe led 9-8 at the end of the first quarter, Caro was ahead 20-19 at the half, Bad Axe led at the end of the quarter 27-24. Caro gained the lead with 4 minutes to go and held it to win the game 34-32. Huffman and Ogden paced Caro's victory with 14 and 13 points respectively. Schmidt again led Bad Axe in scoring with 10 points and Flannery was a close second with 8 points.

Caro's victory over Bad Axe puts them against Sandusky for the "area" championship at 8:15 tonight (Friday). The outcome of this game is as much in doubt as any have been in this tournament.

BEEKEEPERS TO HOLD ANNUAL MEETING

The Tuscola County beekeepers will hold their annual meeting on Tuesday, Mar. 23, at 2:00 p. m., in the court house at Caro. The program will cover the various war regulations and production problems, particularly increasing production. R. H. Kelly, apiary specialist, Michigan State College, will be present at the meeting.

Auten's Wildcats Tamed Tuesday Night

The high mark of the basketball season was reached Tuesday night at the "Gay Nineties" game when Frank Reid's Professionals tangled with Meredith Auten's Wildcats, before a large crowd at the school gymnasium.

The Pros' armored division and superior heavy artillery proved too much for the Wildcats' light cavalry. By the end of the game, the Wildcats resembled tame domestic felines, say the south side reporters. The score—Professionals 24, Wildcats 22.

Each team was equipped with a doctor, trainer, crutches, splints, and first aid station.

A preliminary game between boys from the fifth and sixth grades started the action.

The band, decked in the finery of the late nineties, added considerable to the occasion. The proceeds went to the Crippled Children's Fund.

The crowd was promised an evening of fun. They had it.

Frutchey Bean Co. Elected Officers

At a meeting of the board of directors of the Frutchey Bean Co. held on Wednesday, Mar. 10, A. D. McIntyre was elected president and general manager. Other officers chosen were: Vice president, Mrs. Alice Nettleton; secretary, Irene McIntyre; treasurer, George McIntyre; assistant secretary, Arthur C. Atwell.

To Extend Youth Program to the Elementary Schools

The Michigan Youth Farm Labor program will be extended to include pupils of the state's elementary schools. The campaign to enroll boys and girls as volunteer farm workers had previously been limited to students in the 600 Michigan high schools and out-of-school youths of high school age. According to C. B. Dibble, state Administrator of the program, there will be no enrollment drive for elementary school volunteers, but county school commissioners will be called to notify the pupils who are qualified for farm work. Training classes for volunteers are under way in Benton Harbor, Saline, Marysville, Lansing and other cities under the direction of the State Department for Control of Vocational Education.

Leek Ladies' Aid Reunion in Cass City on Thursday, April 1

OUR LORD'S INTERCESSORY PRAYER.

LESSON TEXT—John 17:1-8, 18-26.
GOLDEN TEXT—"Holy Father, keep through thine own name those whom thou hast given me, that they may be one, as we are."—John 17:11.

There are some times and places so sacred that one is instinctively hushed into reverent devotion. When Christ prayed in holy intercession (as recorded in John 17) on the night before His suffering His disciples must have been lifted into the very presence of the Eternal One. It was a holy experience.

He prayed for Himself, but even more did He pray for His believing followers. To know that someone is praying for us is indeed an anchor in a time of storm, a strong help in the hour of conflict or of service for Christ.

But to know that the Master prayed for you and me—that is enough to send us, like the disciples of old, out to face an unbelieving world in His conquering name. He prayed for Himself—and He prayed for me!

I. He Prayed for Himself (vv. 1-8). He looked up and said: "Father," and then He was ready to pray. So close was He to God that there was just this simple recognition of their communion. In Christ are we not as close as He?

What did Jesus ask for Himself? At first thought it seems a little unusual that He asked

1. For Recognition of His Divine Glory (vv. 1-5).

Why would He who had just given the disciples an example of and an admonition to humility desire to have His glory manifested? Be sure it was not a matter of selfish pride. He had finished His work (for He counted redemption as complete throughout His prayer), and now the glory which He laid down when He came to earth (Phil. 2:6-8) was to be resumed.

He wants man to see Him now not only as the compassionate Son of man, but the glorious Son of God, able to save. It is right that the glory of Christ should be magnified and recognized by the whole creation. He the worthy!

2. For the Manifestation of His Grace (vv. 6-8)

The Father had given Christ the heart devotion of those who believed in Him. Note that their faith rested on the name of God (v. 6), and upon His Word which had come to them and to us through Christ.

He recognized their position and standing in Him and established it before God and man. He then prayed for them (read vv. 9-17) that they might be kept in an evil world as a testimony to the grace and power of God in the human heart.

This leads to His intercession for all believers.

II. He Prayed for All Believers (vv. 18-22).

Christians are not simply the avowed adherents to a particular form of belief, they are "sent" ones. As the Father sent Him into the world, "even so send I them into the world," said Christ.

Christ has gone to be with the Father, but He has left those who believe in Him as His witnesses, His representatives. For this they need holiness. He prayed:

1. For Their Consecration (vv. 18, 19).

For their sakes He consecrated Himself. Surely if He needed it, we do far more. It is not only His will for us, but His prayer. How wonderfully that prayer was answered we see as we look back over the intervening 19 centuries, from His immediate disciples on through the martyrs, the missionary pioneers of all ages, the faithful preachers and teachers of the gospel, yes and "livers" of the gospel too. He knew, He prayed, God answered. Are you in that blessed host of consecrated believers?

2. For Their Unity and Glory (vv. 20-26).

There is a refreshing simplicity about the Christian faith which is utterly different from all the complications which man has prepared and superimposed upon it. Essentially it is a matter of God having sent His Son into the world to be the Redeemer of men. He and the Father are one, He and His followers are one, and so we are all one. We who today believe are included (read vv. 20-23).

This is an inward unity of the Spirit, not an outward union of organizations. The answer to our difficulty is not the dissolution of denominations (although there do seem to be far too many subdivisions, too), but the uniting of all groups in a oneness of love and devotion to Christ, and a united emphasis on the gospel.

There is something more here. This unity puts Christ's followers into the place where His glory may be revealed in and upon them. It is His prayer that we should behold in our Saviour the glory which God had given Him because He loved Him before the foundation of the world.

Alaska Food Supply Menaced by Wolves

Reindeer Herds Reduced By Attack of Beasts.

NOME.—Down out of the mountains, wolves are threatening the wartime food supply of the Alaskan Arctic.

In less than 10 years, the wolves have reduced reindeer herds of Alaskan Eskimos from 550,000 animals to 170,000 and still are slashing at the herds forming this region's one food supply which still would be available in case of isolation or invasion of the territory.

J. Sidney Rood, director of the U. S. Reindeer service at Nome, said in an interview recently: "Wolves are solely responsible for the depletion of the reindeer. They have accomplished this by two methods—direct, bloody attacks on the herds and constant pursuit of the animals so that they are driven away from their food supply and starve."

The threat to the reindeer became of paramount importance to this area with the declaration of war. Reindeer meat always has been a winter staple for such towns as Nome, Kotzebue, Teller, Wainwright and Point Barrow, all unreachable by ship during the winter months. With the influx of war workers, the demand was greatly increased.

Should the territory be cut off for any reason from the continental United States, reindeer meat might be the only food supply for these civilians and for any army units in this part of Alaska. Just for normal needs, the army this year ordered more than 100,000 pounds of reindeer to supplement other meat supplies.

There is no immediate danger of a shortage of reindeer meat this winter, unless even local transportation should fail.

Want More Flour Used To Ease Wheat Surplus

WASHINGTON.—The United States has one food which agriculture department officials wish they could advise consumers to hoard. That is wheat flour.

Supplies of wheat are so large that farmers are having difficulty in finding storage space. Recently several members of congress from midwestern wheat states asked Secretary Wickard to appeal to housewives to buy and store extra large quantities of flour in their pantries. It was argued that such action would help relieve the grain storage situation.

Mr. Wickard thought well of the suggestion. But before doing anything about it he asked specialists in his department if such home storage was feasible. They told him it was not, except for sections of the country where the weather was especially dry and cool.

Flour, it was explained, was subject to deterioration through mold and insects. Disappointed, the secretary limited his appeal to a request that housewives do more home baking or use more bakery products.

He 'Bags' Pheasant With Door Handle of His Car

AKRON, OHIO.—The hunting season always brings stories, but this one happens to be true.

John Till, who had never been hunting and had never seen a pheasant, bagged one with the door handle of his car.

He didn't know it until he got home, but when he opened the door to get out, there was a ringneck draped around the handle. He remembered hearing a thump against the side of his car but paid little attention to it at the time.

War Work Story Wins Divorce for This Wife

LOS ANGELES, CALIF.—Mrs. Louise Waller won a divorce on charges that her husband, Stancel, blacked her eyes and slowed her work in a war plant which supplies electrical parts for army airplanes.

"My husband gave me three black eyes at different times," she testified. "I'd have to wear dark glasses on my job in a war plant, which hindered my work."

Mrs. Waller also complained that Waller gambled on everything from pool and poker to ponies.

Hairpins and Bullets

The number of hairpins sold in 1941 contained enough steel to make 140 million bullets for military rifles.

Rule in Tahiti Marks Centenary This Year

PAPEETE, TAHITI.—This year marked the centenary of French protection over the fabled island of Tahiti. Queen Pomare IV, last of the independent monarchs, at first fought European intervention, but later ruled 35 years under the French. Her reign is looked upon as the golden age of Tahiti.

Bull Loves Flowers, Buyer Given Refund

MADISON, WIS.—The Wisconsin supreme court came to the aid of D. W. Norris, a Big Bend farmer, who paid $325 for a bull which liked only to sniff the flowers. Norris sued for the price he had paid for the bull, claiming the animal was of no use to him. The court agreed with him.

How to enjoy SPENDING THE SAME DOLLAR twice

BUY WAR BONDS TODAY for an ALL-ELECTRIC KITCHEN TOMORROW!

Spending your money for War Bonds is just like eating your cake and having it, too . . . because you get every dollar back again, with interest. War Bonds give you the pleasure of spending your money TWICE—once to help buy Victory, and later to purchase all the things you will enjoy when peace comes again to the world.

Today, your money is urgently needed on the fighting front—to arm our soldiers with the weapons they need, to provide planes and tanks and guns and ships and the thousands of other materials of war. Tomorrow, the dollars you have invested in freedom will come back to you, to be used again for your personal wants and to buy new electrical conveniences and comforts for your home. Out of this war will come a new age of electrical living—and your War Savings Bonds can be used to claim your share of it.

Buy War Bonds today—buy all you possibly can, to help speed Victory.

Curb on School Taxes Declared Too Inflexible

U-M Publication Stresses Need for Local Control of Education

ANN ARBOR—Inflexibility of the 15-mill tax rate limitation runs counter to the fundamental idea of retaining local control and initiative over elementary and secondary education, E. Fenton Shepard and William B. Wood declare in a University of Michigan Bureau of Government monograph entitled "The Financing of Public Schools in Michigan."

Mr. Shepard is a research assistant in the Bureau and Mr. Wood is a former research assistant. The authors declare there is little doubt that local control and local initiative are preferable for the maintenance of democratic education, if the local units are large enough in population and economic resources to achieve efficient administration. They believe state support for education should be maintained through equalization grants in order to establish a minimum educational opportunity throughout the state and to equalize the burden of a minimum program on local economic resources.

Limitation's Effect Cited
At the same time, the authors regard it as essential that the local community be allowed to raise educational standards above the minimum and to experiment with new educational methods. However, they charge that the 15-mill limitation makes it practically impossible for local school districts to undertake new capital outlays or to improve the school program.

As a means of securing greater flexibility for local school finance, the authors refer to the suggestion of the committee on finance and taxation of the Michigan Constitutional Revision Study Commission that the time limit during which the tax rate may exceed 15 mills be extended from five years to 20 and that the vote required for exceeding the limitation be changed from a two-thirds majority to a bare majority of those voting.

Financing Is Analyzed
The monograph is devoted to a description and analysis of the existing basis for financing the public elementary and secondary schools and the part played by the three levels of government—federal, state and local.

The small school district type of organization is declared to be one of the stumbling blocks to a truly equitable equalization program. Existence of small, inefficient administrative units in sparsely settled areas makes it difficult, if not impossible, to provide equal minimum educational opportunity, because the cost per pupil would be prohibitive, the authors assert. Need for a state legislative plan or program for consolidating districts is stressed.

Coffee Consumption Doubled
Coffee consumption in the U. S. in the past 30 years has more than doubled, while the population increase has been only about 45 per cent.

On Sunday, Mrs. Samuel Vyse, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Hall, entertained at dinner in honor of the birthday of her mother which is near that day. Guests were Mr. and Mrs. Hall, Mr. and Mrs. McLachlan and daughter, and Mr. and Mrs. Wesley Keen of Flint.

Sunday dinner guests in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Joos were Mr. and Mrs. L. E. Hartman and daughter, Ellen, of Saginaw; Howard Sayers of Caro; Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Joos and son, Richard, of Cass City. A beautiful birthday cake, made by Mrs. Hartman, graced the table in honor of the 88th birthday of her mother, Mrs. Jacob Joos, whose anniversary was Wednesday, Mar. 17. Mr. and Mrs. Fred Joos were also Sunday afternoon guests.

On Friday evening, a surprise party was held for Leslie Steward at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Steward, on West Main St. Thirteen guests were present and Rev. Dudley Moursure kindly assisted in entertaining the young people by conducting various games and stunts. Light refreshments were served and a number of useful gifts were received by Leslie. He has been spending a week here but returned to Willow Run Saturday where he will continue to work at the bomber plant for a few weeks longer until he receives his final physical test when he will probably be inducted into the Army.

Below the Browse Line

Ford Kellum, district game manager stationed in Iosco state game area, brings a branch of cedar within reach of his pet fawn Peggy. For thousands of other deer in some of Michigan's overcrowded yarding areas, this food remains out of reach above the "browse line"—the top limit of the deer's nibbling reach. In yards in which too many deer are concentrated, practically all deer food available below the browse line is already eaten. When Kellum visits such yards on regular inspection trips, Peggy tags along at his heels.

H. L. Benkleman and Curtis Hunt of Ypsilanti spent the week end with relatives and friends here.

Miss Laura Bigelow of Pontiac spent the week end with her aunt, Miss Eleanor Bigelow, and other relatives here.

Mrs. Shervell Kelly and children of Detroit are spending two weeks with Mrs. Kelly's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Theo Hendrick.

Mrs. H. M. Willis returned to her home in Cass City Monday after visiting in the home of her daughter in Pontiac for about seven weeks.

Mrs. Robert Kilburn of Pontiac was the guest of her daughter, Mrs. Theo Hendrick, and daughter-in-law, Mrs. Robert C. Brown, from Saturday until Monday.

An eight o'clock potluck supper was enjoyed Tuesday evening when several neighbors and friends met in the home of Mr. and Mrs. William E. Martus. Following the supper, euchre was played.

The fourth Red Cross Home Nursing class was held Thursday afternoon of this week when the lesson study was "Care of the sick room and equipment". Mrs. Evelyn Wells, R. N., is in charge of the class.

Photo of members made unique place cards at the Art Club supper at the Mrs. Robt. Warner home on Wednesday. Mrs. Claude Karr was initiated as a new member. The April meeting will be held with Mrs. E. A. Livingston.

Sunday visitors at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Ludlow were Mr. Ludlow's mother, Mrs. Fred Ludlow, and Mrs. Ludlow's mother, Mrs. Lester Miller, both of Bad Axe, and Mr. and Mrs. Clayton Bensing and daughter, Bonnette, of Uby.

Mr. and Mrs. James Pethers entertained a number of friends and neighbors in their home Thursday evening, when euchre was played at five tables. Prizes were won by Mrs. Lloyd Reagh, Mrs. Claud Karr, Clifford Martin and James Pethers, William Phelps won the traveling prize. Supper was served.

A missionary tea was held Thursday evening in the home of Mrs. Fred Maier with Mrs. Ben Kirton, Mrs. James Hamilton, Mrs. C. L. Graham and Miss Laura Maier as assistant hostesses. The evening entertainment was charades and prizes were won by Mrs. Alex Tyo and Mrs. James Hamilton. Refreshments were served, tea being poured by Mrs. Keith McConkey and Mrs. James Hamilton. Twenty-six were present.

A few over 20 attended the Tri Sigma Sunday School Class meeting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. H. F. Lenzer Friday evening and enjoyed movie pictures shown by Ernest Goodall. The scenes embraced vacation travels of the Goodall family and those of the Upper Peninsula of Michigan were especially interesting and attractive. At the beginning of the class session, Mrs. Arthur Little conducted a devotional service. Doughnuts and coffee comprised the refreshments, served by a committee.

LOCAL FARMERS ASK FOR A SOIL CONSERVATION DIST.

The State Soil Conservation District Law under which the local district will operate provides that there shall be a public hearing after the petition for the organization of a soil conservation district has been accepted. This feature of the law makes sure that the farmers want a district for it gives them a chance to express their views either for or against. The State Soil Conservation Committee conducts hearing and if the farmers indicate they want the district they will authorize that it be brought to a vote of the landowners living in the proposed area at a later date.

Immediately upon receipt of information that the petition had been accepted and that the public hearing had been set to be held April 8, 1943, the local farmers started to complete plans to contact all landowners and urge them to attend the hearing. They realize that the district is community action and is for the benefit of the townships that will make up the district.

The County Land Use Planning Committee, who have been very much in favor of the district, and who assisted with circulating the petitions have known for quite some time that soil conservation work is important. They say the district will enable the farmers of the proposed Cass River Soil Conservation District to secure assistance with their soil erosion and fertility problems. About 150,000 acres of land is included in the proposed area. At least 100,000 acres of this is fertile rolling clay loam soil subject to considerable water erosion damage.

In their committee work they have found that soil erosion, drainage, and land use can become the foremost problem and not only concerns the local land owners, but the entire county.

The special committee, appointed by the County Land Use Planning Committee to start the ground work necessary to begin the organization of a soil conservation district is headed by Walter Goodall of Cass City. Others on the committee are John Reagh, Cass City; Emory Lounsbury, Cass City; and A. Paul Kreager, Caro.

At a meeting held in the court house, Saturday, Mar. 13, the following farmers were present to help in planning for educational work to be done before the hearing on April 8: Arthur Whittenburg, Caro; B. B. Reavey, Caro; R. L. Hill, Caro; J. C. Hutchinson, Cass City; Fred Hutchinson, Caro; Wm. Higgins, Vassar.

Pickles
The 1942 production of cucumbers for pickles is estimated at 3,453,000 bushels, the largest quantity of pickling cucumbers produced in any season since records were started in 1918.

PARAGRAPHS ABOUT MEN IN THE SERVICE

all go in trucks and other army vehicles to our certain area some place out in the woods which in combat would be the area we were stopping in to camp for the night. We had to hide the trucks so they couldn't be spotted from the air and also dig fox holes which are holes dug for your own protection from bombs and enemy fire. These fox holes are two by two feet and as long as a man. While we were digging these, one of the boys dug an armadillo. These are small animals about the size of a rabbit. They have a hard shell like a turtle and long claws like a mole. Their heads are small and pointed and they have no teeth. Their tails are long and tapered like a snake. They surely are funny looking animals. This is the only part of the world in which they are found. You probably could see a picture of one if you look in the dictionary.

"I finally got a pass to go into town yesterday. Three of us from my barracks went to Brownwood last night. We had a pass to stay out till 12:00. The town isn't very large. It's about the size of Caro and Bad Axe put together but it does have some very high buildings for a small town. A couple of them are 20 or 25 stories high. There isn't much in town. It's more like a big carnival or circus. There are a lot of penny arcades and other amusements of that type.

"I haven't told you yet how well the army equips us so I'll tell you the things the government issues us. We get an overcoat, a field jacket, a wool blouse or suit coat, two pairs of wool pants, two wool shirts, three summer shirts and pants (tan gabardines), three suits of winter and three of summer underwear, three pairs of wool socks, three pairs of summer socks two pairs of shoes, two over-ear hats, one helmet, one wool cap, two pairs of gloves (one wool and one leather), one belt, four pairs of work clothes which are coat and pants, three ties, four handkerchiefs, two barracks bags, comb, toothbrush, razor, gas mask and many other things. You can see why the American soldier is the best equipped in the world."

Gov. Kelly Sets the Victory Garden Week in Michigan

Gov. Harry F. Kelly has issued a proclamation designating the week of March 21-27 as Victory Garden Week in Michigan. Recognizing that the production of food on home garden plots is one of the most important of civilian war efforts, the Governor has called upon citizens to make plans for planting home gardens and to assist in the effort to enlist as many of their neighbors as possible in the Victory Garden army.

Paul R. Krone, director of Victory Gardens for the Michigan Council of Defense, announces that the council's garden program is making excellent progress throughout the state. In many communities garden committees have completely organized their territory. Local contests have been arranged and newspapers are planning cooperation by devoting much space to garden information. A number of the cities have arranged to set aside vacant city property for use as Victory Gardens.

Thousands of Victory Garden folders have been prepared for distribution by the Michigan Council of Defense. Information thus made available should be of value in eliminating waste effort by inexperienced gardeners. During Victory Garden Week stores will feature Victory Garden window displays and libraries, schools and other centers have planned special exhibits. The State Department of Public Instruction and the State Board of Control for Vocational Education are cooperating in encouraging the planting of school gardens. Food grown will be an important item in next year's school lunch program.

WEEKLY NEWS ANALYSIS

Nazi Counter Drive in Kharkov Area Wins Back Part of Russ Winter Gains; Wallace Warns of Future War Menace; Allies Tighten Ring on Rommel Armies

EDITOR'S NOTE: When opinions are expressed in these columns, they are those of Western Newspaper Union's news analysts and not necessarily of this newspaper. Released by Western Newspaper Union.

NORTH AFRICA:

Rommel Rages

Like a wild animal in a cage, Marshal Rommel had struck out at the forces hemming in his 250,000 army in Tunisia. His principal offensive had been a heavy thrust at Gen. Sir Bernard Montgomery's British Eighth army before the strategic Mareth line in Southern Tunisia.

But the wary Englishman had anticipated the German move and his deadly artillery fire had repelled repeated Nazi attacks with "very heavy losses."

Rommel, a master of tank warfare, had attempted to break through the British lines with his heavy mechanized equipment, but when he was forced to withdraw wrecked German tanks were strewn over the battlefield.

DRAFT:

Plans to Save Farmers

Plans of the administration to take the pressure of the draft off the nation's shortage of farm labor apparently contemplate the induction of unmarried men over 38 or those in that age group without dependents. This, at least, was the interpretation of Washington observers concerning orders by the War Manpower commission to the selective service to reclassify such men IA beginning May 1.

The Manpower commission's action followed the announcement of a four-point plan for the deferment of essential farm labor. It came at a moment, too, when the congressional farm bloc had launched a drive to clarify the farm labor confusion.

Local draft boards were under orders hereafter to place no more men in Class 4-H and to reclassify out of 4-H into 1-A all such men now deferred because over the military age limit. At the same time draft boards were ordered to begin reclassification immediately of all men over 38 who may become eligible for class 2-C or 3-C because connected with farm work.

U. S.-RUSSIA:

Need More 'Trust'

Although the storm over Ambassador-Admiral William H. Standley's complaint concerning Russia's failure to inform its people fully about the great extent of American aid had subsided and future lend-lease shipments on an ever-bigger scale were assured, the need for greater mutual confidence between the two Allies continued.

This need was stressed by Vice President Henry A. Wallace in a speech which coincidentally enough was delivered at the time Standley's statement was made public. Mr. Wallace had stressed the fact that a third World War might result unless the western democracies and Russia reach a satisfactory understanding.

"War will be probable in case we doublecross Russia," Wallace said.

VICE PRESIDENT WALLACE ... beware World War III.

"Such a war would be inevitable if Russia should again embrace the Trotskyist idea of fomenting world revolution, or if British interests should again be sympathetic to anti-Russian activity in Germany and other countries."

HIGHLIGHTS ... in the week's news

CHICAGO: With an abundance of diving and cooing, 5,605 fast-flying doves were drafted in Chicago for the army, reducing the city's peace-time pigeon population by one-sixth. The war first drafted a big group of racing pigeons from the city a year ago. These traditional symbols of peace were reported in action from Bataan to Britain, according to a report received here.

RUSSIA:

Nazis Uncoil

Three reasons were cited by military observers for the initial success of the sudden German counter-offensive west of Rostov and south of Kharkov which in its early stages had swept forward 100 miles and resulted in the capture of eight key cities in the Donetz basin which had been taken earlier by the Soviets in their great winter drive.

One reason was the use by the Nazis of 25 fresh divisions. Twelve of these had been rushed from western Europe after previous action. A second reason was the draining of troops from this southern sector by the Russians to supply momentum to their drive on Orel and Vyazma to the north. The third was the superiority of Axis supply lines and communications in the Donetz area.

The serious extent of these early German successes was evident in the fact that Russian official communiques had admitted the loss of the cities the Germans had claimed. Russ reports disclosed that the German move had actually started late in February.

The setback in the south had not prevented the Russians from continuing their drive on Vyazma. Red communiques had reported the capture of Tiomkino.

FOOD SUPPLY:

Nutrition Level Dips

That the food situation in the United States is rapidly bringing the American people down to the Canadian and British level of nutrition was the opinion voiced by Secretary of Agriculture Claude Wickard.

Mr. Wickard likewise disclosed that the amount of food available for civilians "is going to be something less than it is at the present time," in testimony before the senate appropriations committee.

CLAUDE WICKARD ... more vegetables, less meat.

Because of the increasing demand for proteins and fats - including meat, dairy products and some oil crops - from our military forces and our Allies, Mr. Wickard said the American people will probably have to live more on vegetable fats and proteins than they formerly did. "We have about reached the place now where we cannot expand our meat production any more," he said, "because we are not going to have enough of the basic element - feed - to support much more increase."

LABOR MANHUNT:

French Fight Nazis

Adolf Hitler's desperate need for manpower had caused the Nazi to put more than usual pressure on the collaborative Laval regime for more French workers.

The German demand had been for 400,000 men. When Nazi soldiers abetted by the Vichy government set out to meet this goal, the trouble started.

Street fighting, guerrilla tactics and sabotage were the French Patriots' answer to this effort to bolster Germany's waning manpower resources. Reports received by the Fighting French in London indicated that in a single 72-hour uprising, more than 350 German soldiers had been killed.

Swift and cruel were the reprisals taken for this insubordination. But the repressive measures only served to fan the flames of French hatred against the German conquerors.

WHO is fighting whom?

COUNTRIES AT WAR

THE FOLLOWING STATES HAVE SEVERED RELATIONS WITH THE AXIS:

- Venezuela, Colombia, Ecuador, Peru, Bolivia, Paraguay, Uruguay, Egypt, Saudi Arabia, Chile.

The above chart shows at a glance which nations of the world have declared war against the others. Of all the United Nations only three—Britain, Czechoslovakia and China—have declared war on the entire Axis tribe. The United States excepts Finland which yet may be induced to quit the Axis.

PACIFIC FRONT:

Jap Power Wanes

In the Far Eastern war theater, reports from China disclosed that the main Japanese offensive in Western Yunnan province along the old Burma road had been halted on the west bank of the Salween river. Waning enemy air power in the Burma-China area was indicated by Allied reports that repeated attacks by American and British fliers on Jap objectives had failed to lure any Nipponese planes into battle.

On the Solomon Islands battlefield, American planes roved to the northward raiding Kahili, Buin and Ballale in the Shortland Islands area and Viru Harbor in New Georgia. The Japs retaliated with a raid on Tulagi close to Guadalcanal.

Summarizing the situation in the Pacific, Secretary of the Navy Frank Knox said that American forces are stronger than ever before in the Solomon Islands sector while throughout the South Pacific, the Japs are having increasing difficulty in supplying their island bases.

Without adequate shipping, the secretary explained, the Japs cannot maintain their South Pacific bases and face further retirement.

ANTI-VICHY:

Action in No. Africa

Increasing evidence that Gen. Henri Giraud's North Africa regime will move steadily further away from Vichy influences and ever closer to the democratic methods of the United Nations was seen in the high commissioner's summary action in repudiating all Petain decrees relating to African colonial affairs and liquidating the entire government bureau concerned with restrictions on Jews.

"A decree signed in Vichy has no effect in North Africa," was Giraud's terse explanation. "The German occupation interrupted the free exercise of national sovereignty."

General Giraud's action followed that of Governor General Nogues of French Morocco reinstating government workers dismissed under Vichy's orders and repealing the ban on listening to certain foreign broadcasts. In repealing the Vichy anti-Semitic decrees, High Commissioner Giraud ordered General Bounty, who dealt with Jewish problems, to be removed from office.

CHINA:

Destiny's Crossroads

A 10-year reconstruction program for China, including the building of 20,000 transport planes, was proposed by Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek in his book, "China's Destiny."

While his wife, Madame Chiang, was busy winning friends for China on her visit to the United States, the Generalissimo disclosed plans calling for 2,400,000 graduates from various grades of technical schools to aid in developing postwar China.

What You Buy With WAR BONDS

Every shipyard in our country is setting amazing records in the construction of a merchant marine so essential to the transport of supplies and men to the seven seas. The overall cost of these hundreds of ships now building runs into millions of dollars.

Many of them are called "Victory" ships and you are contributing to this victory by your purchase of War Bonds . . . at least ten percent of your income, every payday. We'll need these ships after the war, too, when Peace comes.

Number, Please!
Do you have trouble remembering numbers? If so, you should call on Corp. John Crapp of Fairbanks, Pa., who is stationed at Kessler Field, Miss. Corporal Crapp makes a hobby of remembering army serial numbers and at one time could rattle off those of 150 of his friends with scarcely a pause for breath—and most army serial numbers run into eight digits.

Description "Wretched un-idea'd girls."—Samuel Johnson.

Are you, Mr. Taxpayer, getting your money's worth from the dollars returned by the State of Michigan to Tuscola County for enforcement of liquor laws?

Here are some interesting facts: 1. Municipalities and townships in Tuscola County received the sum of $7,967.05 last year from the State of Michigan for the purpose of enforcing liquor laws within the county.

2. The above allocation to Tuscola County represented 85 per cent of all license fees paid by persons or firms for the privilege of selling alcoholic beverages by the bottle, or by the glass, or possibly both, depending upon the wish of the local public.

3. If the licensed establishment is within a town, 85 per cent of its fee is returned to the municipality to help pay the salary of the village marshal, the local police and otherwise to maintain the law enforcement service.

4. If the licensed establishment is outside of a town, this percentage is returned to the township board—also for the same purpose.

One weakness in the above system whereby local towns and townships derive a substantial revenue from the sale of liquor, is the fact—whether you like it or not—that in some instances this revenue has become almost a "vested right" in the minds of local officials for use in any way they see fit.

We know of instances in Michigan where a town government will order its police officers to stay out of licensed places even for the purpose of inspections, and yet gladly receive the allocation of license fees for purpose of law enforcement!

We're not arguing the point. But in the state law the burden of enforcement of the law (at least 85 per cent of it) is placed squarely upon local officials.

Let's look at the language: "The sheriffs of the several counties and their deputies; and the village marshal, constables, officers or members of the village or city police, and members of the department of state police, and inspectors of the state commission, are hereby empowered and it is hereby made their duty to see that the provisions of this act and the rules and regulations made or authorized by said commission are enforced within their respective jurisdictions."

Nothing vague about that. Furthermore, failure to enforce the law or even "wilful neglect" makes the official subject to a fine not to exceed $500 or a jail sentence not more than 90 days, or both.

This penalty is imposed by the state legislature, and the section of the law begins with these words: "The people of the State of Michigan enact".

Another weakness in the present system is the fact that while the sheriff is held responsible, he derives no part of the state's law enforcement funds. And that goes also for the prosecuting attorney.

Glenn Dunn, chairman of the state commission by appointment of Governor Harry F. Kelly, informs us that he personally favors a change in the law whereby 85 per cent of local license revenues would be returned to the county government and earmarked by the county treasurer for use by the sheriff and prosecuting attorney for the specific purpose of enforcing liquor laws.

A three-man committee, comprising the prosecutor, sheriff and the chairman of the finance committee of the county board of supervisors, would be given power to allocate the 35 per cent fund and see that it was expended efficiently.

In many counties this 35 per cent fund (figure it out yourself from your counties total share) would make possible the employment of special deputies and an assistant prosecutor whose main duties would be to keep conditions clean in the rural roadside taverns and hot-spots.

Take Marquette county as an example. The county has 88 taverns or places where alcoholic beverages are consumed.

Last year the county received $29,918. Under Mr. Dunn's plan the county treasurer would earmark $12,318 to finance the costs of special deputies and an assistant prosecutor. Transcripts of all cases would be sent to Lansing.

Maybe this plan isn't the best in the world. But it does possess obvious merit of having law enforcement by local officials who should know local conditions. If you leave the job to the state, then you must expect a hit-and-miss kind of law enforcement. State inspectors make a flying visit, often catch the more decent operators in an occasional violation, and then the citizenry howls about the results.

Dancing at rural taverns should be abolished outright, at least in the judgment of state inspectors.

Minors are attracted to these places of entertainment. Violations occur. But here again the home community has a social obligation.

As one state official put it, "If small towns would assume some responsibility for providing recreation for their young people, they would have less difficulty on this score. Sturgis has a night club for high school youngsters run by a creamery. We never have trouble there. In some towns the Legion post opens its hall several nights a week to young people."

Do you agree with him? And if so, what is your town doing about it?

Penalties are also an important factor in law enforcement. If penalties are stiff, licensees are apt to be more careful. The new state commission, headed by Chairman Dunn, is imposing heavier penalties than did the former commission, and it is interesting to note that the former commission got progressively tougher the longer it stayed in office. Yes, the trend is definitely toward stiffer penalties.

This liquor problem is as old as the hills. We have only touched upon a few aspects of it. We might sum up our observation as follows:

Enforcement of liquor laws is chiefly a home rule responsibility. By-the-glass licensees must get approval of township, village or city boards before the state will issue a license, and the state must revoke any license if the local board requests such action.

State control of the liquor business is to be preferred to a return to bootlegging, speakeasies, Al Capone gangsterism and other evils. In other words, we concur with majority opinion. Our home town is bone dry. We prefer that, also.

But state control means just that—control. And here we get right back to you, Mr. Taxpayer. Are you getting your money's worth?
