F. H. Pinney, Chapter Treas., Estimates that $15,000 Will Be Paid.

Thirteen of the 23 townships in Tuscola County have reported the results of their campaigns for Red Cross War Funds and in 12 of these the quotas were oversubscribed, one of the townships sending 258 per cent of the amount assigned to it. The 13th township has sent in the exact amount of its quota to date.

The total amount thus far received by Frederick H. Pinney, the treasurer of the Tuscola County Chapter of the American Red Cross, is $8,839.22. Mr. Pinney estimates that the remaining 12 townships yet to report will send in more than $6,000. This would bring the total subscriptions in the county around the $15,000 mark. The goal set for Tuscola at the beginning of the campaign was $10,925.

The following table gives the quotas and payments of the 13 townships that have thus far reported to Mr. Pinney.

Soil Conservation District Hearing Thursday at Caro

Six Townships Included in Proposed District in Tuscola County.

Call for a public hearing on the creation of the proposed Cass River Soil Conservation District will give land occupiers in Elkland, Elmwood, Ellington, Almer, Indianfields and Junata Townships an opportunity to discuss erosion control, drainage problems and land use problems in this proposed district. The hearing will be held at the court house, Caro, on Thursday, April 8, at 2 p. m.

A total of 138,420 acres of farm land is involved. Approximately 900 farms with a total investment of 4½ millions of dollars. As in other sections of Tuscola County, this six-township district is good farm land and three major land-use problems are to be solved: water erosion, drainage and proper use of the less fertile land.

The formation of a soil conservation district of the state soil conservation law will enable farmers within the district to cooperatively solve these problems and to carry out good drainage and erosion control practices on their own farms. Provisions are made for state and federal aid once a district is formed.

Providing that enough evidence is shown by farmers at the hearing, the State Soil Conservation Committee will then set a date for a referendum at which land owners within the proposed district will be asked to vote for the formation of a soil conservation district. It will be necessary for a majority vote in favor of the plan to be shown before the state committee will finally approve the district and grant the charter for the same. Once the district is formed, it will be in charge of a local committee of five farmers, two appointed by the state committee and three elected by landowners within the district.

This Is the Army, Mr. Jones

When, on April 6, the nation observes Army day, it will be the first such observance since the point system of food rationing was inaugurated for the civilian population. The above picture does much to show why rationing was necessary. This mountain of food is what it takes to train a bombardier cadet for 12 weeks at the San Angelo army air field in West Texas, where bombardiers leave by the hundreds for the fighting fronts.

JUNIOR PLAY ABLY PRESENTED BY PUPILS

Members of the junior class of the Cass City High School very ably presented the comedy, "Ring Around Elizabeth," to large audiences in the school auditorium on Thursday and Friday evenings under the direction of Glenn Wooster, dramatics coach. The characters were very well portrayed and reflected much credit upon the ability of their instructor.

Wedding in Holbrook Methodist Church

From Holbrook Correspondent. The Methodist Church at Holbrook was the scene of a pretty spring wedding Saturday, Mar. 27, at three o'clock, when Miss Lillian Lawson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Lawson, of Snover, became the bride of William Morrish, son of Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Morrish, of Holbrook.

The bride who was given in marriage by her father, was lovely in a floor-length gown of powder blue. The skirt of marquisette over tulle was made very full and the fitted bodice had a sweetheart neckline and puffed sleeves. She wore a fingertip veil of matching tulle and carried pink roses. Her only jewelry was a gold locket, a gift from the groom.

Her bridesmaids were Miss Beatrice Lawson, her sister, and Miss Laura Morrish, sister of the groom. Their dresses, floor-length, were identically made of pink marquisette with a square neckline and puffed sleeves. Their headresses were of pink flowers and satin streamers and they carried white carnations.

Junior Morrish acted as best man for the groom and Calvin Morrish was usher.

Mrs. Lawson wore for her daughter's wedding a dress of navy blue and Mrs. Morrish wore a light blue crepe.

Miss Joyce Wager of Saginaw sang "I Love You Truly."

As Miss Alice Wager played the wedding march from Lohengrin, the bride party took their places before an altar where the marriage service was read by Rev. Fred Wager, pastor of the church.

A six o'clock dinner was served at the Morrish home to the immediate families. In the evening, a reception and dance were held at the Holbrook Community Hall. Lunch was served to about 200 guests. The couple received many gifts.

Mr. and Mrs. Morrish will make their home on a farm east of Holbrook.

Maybe the best brains of the United States army and navy and air corps, plus the general staff itself, don't know their business.

Perhaps the war department is wasting many millions of dollars in building a series of huge airports as bases for interceptor planes and in maintaining heavy anti-aircraft forces on both sides of the Sault Ste. Marie, all predicated on the significant belief that the enemy will try to drop bombs on Michigan soil sometime between this moment and the end of the war.

The so-called armchair experts who opine that the war will be over in a month or so—"it's practically in the bag"—and who scoff at Michigan's civilian defense preparedness as a lot of time and money wasted, are, in effect, matching their knowledge (or a lack of it) with the information possessed by the leading military authorities of the United States government.

Please get us right, folks. No general has taken us into his confidence. We haven't talked with the general staff. And we don't know the "inside" facts at all.

But we can put two and two together, and know that it adds four. We do remember the statement in the Michigan tourist lure book (or was it the school geography) that more tonnage goes through the locks at Sault Ste. Marie in a year than goes through the Panama and Suez canals combined. Yes, right in Michigan!

"What kind of tonnage?" you ask. As any tourist can tell you who ever visited the locks, the answer is: Thousands upon thousands of tons of precious iron ore. Without this flow of iron ore, hundreds of important war plants would be idle today. Your hometown boys would be without rifles, and guns, and tanks, and everything else that requires the use of steel.

But what is more important—the safety of the inhabitants of cities and towns and farms, all south of the Soo locks, is dependent upon the vigilance of a civilian army of 30,000 men and women in the Upper Peninsula and in the northern counties of the Lower Peninsula.

Without stretching the point one bit we can state that you may owe your life before the war is over to the watchfulness of some lonely outpost hundreds of miles north of your home.

Let's start at the beginning. The front line of Detroit and Chicago, and every industrial war center in the Middle West, is in the Upper Peninsula right at Sault Ste. Marie.

George P. Dodge sold three stacks of hay to three different neighbors. The want ad appeared Friday in the Chronicle and the last stack was sold by Monday night. Neighbors saw the stacks every few days, but had no idea they were for sale until the ad appeared.

A want ad sells furniture readily, Mrs. E. Hunter of Cass City learned when she advertised bed-springs. They also went in a hurry.

Easter

1943

Still do the bells of Easter
Ring hope for all where men are free;
Still in the hearts of men abide
Kindness born of liberty.

Of ringing truths He taught, they speak
Deep-throated and with honest tongue—
The final triumph of the week
And little folk He walks among.

When Easter dawn comes in again
And rising clouds with light are veiled,
They will ring out their glad refrain,
The promise of a better world.

PETER AND JOHN BECOME DISCIPLES OF JESUS

LESSON TEXT—John 1:29-42; Mark 1:16-20.
GOLDEN TEXT—And Jesus said unto them, Come ye after me, and I will make you to become fishers of men.—Mark 1:17.

Personal faith in Christ is the heart of Christian experience. Since persons are won by other persons it was vitally important that the Lord choose the right disciples at the very beginning of the Church. Outstanding among the twelve disciples were Peter and John, whose lives and letters we study during the next three months.

The manner in which they became disciples is of unusual interest—and is instructive as well. We will observe that our Lord is working in much the same way on the Peters and Johns of our own day. They came to Him by way of

I. Testimony—They Heard About Jesus (John 1:29-34, 41).

John, who modestly refrains from naming himself (v. 40), heard about Jesus from John the Baptist. His testimony is notable for its pointed presentation of Christ, and its unmistakable desire that they follow Him. John was an important man with a vigorous message, but he recognized that his only real business for God was to point men to Christ. He enjoyed having men follow him, but only that he might lead them to Jesus.

In doing Christian work we should learn to bear our testimony that we may magnify Christ, and not ourselves. We must be careful to win men to Christ, and not to ourselves or our cause or church.

Peter was brought to Jesus by his brother Andrew. Andrew was a quiet, modest man of whom we do not read that he preached a single sermon. But he did do personal work (see John 6:8, 9; 12:21, 22). He has been called "Andrew the finder." May "his tribe" increase. We need more like him.

Hearing about Jesus is not enough. There must be the next step, the indispensable personal meeting with the Lord.

II. Experience—They Saw Jesus (John 1:35-39, 42).

The necessity of a personal experience with Christ is so clearly stated in Scripture that one can only marvel that it is so neglected in many churches today.

Neither John the Baptist nor, later, Andrew was content to tell about Jesus. They brought John and Peter to the Lord. John said, "Behold the Lamb of God" (v. 36); and Andrew "brought him to Jesus" (v. 42). These sum up the soul-winning duty. We must bring our family, our friends, yes, the stranger with whom we deal, into the presence of Jesus.

He will look into their eyes and into their souls and see in them all the gifts and graces which may make them useful to Him (v. 42). John was the brother of James and Peter the brother of Andrew—just two humble fishermen in the sight of men. But Jesus saw in them two of the most useful men who have ever lived. Let us give Him a chance to deal with our friends and acquaintances.

Hearing and seeing are both excellent, but they lack one final step—and here it is.

III. Action—They Followed Jesus (John 1:40; Mark 1:16-20).

First of all they followed Jesus in becoming believers on Him as the Messiah. That experience of John's we find in John 1:40, and of Peter's (by inference) in verse 42. There is no salvation apart from that act of the will which follows a knowledge of Christ.

In the passage in Mark we find Him calling them to leave their secular calling as fishers of fish to follow Him and become fishers of men. Before they could become what He wanted them to be, they had to do something—rise up and follow Him.

Their unquestioning response indicated their faith, but more than that, it showed that they were the kind of obedient men who could be used of the Lord. Jesus might have called His disciples from the learned and the mighty. But one wonders whether they would have been willing to respond without argument, and to learn of Him without prejudices or preconceived ideas of theology.

God must often pass the mighty and the noble of this world, and call those who are foolish enough to believe Him and obey (read 1 Cor. 1:17-29). The reason is given there—"That no flesh should glory in His presence." The glory belongs to the Lord, not to His servants.

Because they did obey they became "fishers of men." He led them, trained them, encouraged them, blessed them, and used them.

A disciple is a "learner," but he is learning for a purpose. Learning for its own sake, as an ornament or a selfish pleasure, is always a sad thing, but with the disciple of Christ it cannot be that if he rightly knows Christ.

The disciple is to win other disciples. That is the very heart of Christian witness.

First Flower of Spring

The skunk cabbage, with its yellow center and maroon shell, smells just as its name suggests, but it is a welcome sight in Michigan as it pushes its way through the retreating snows. A bill introduced in the 1943 Legislature proposed safeguarding the less abundant wildflowers by forbidding pickers—especially commercial operators gathering them in quantity for sale—without the written consent of the land owner.

Today's cost of Electricity is only

ONE-AND-A-HALF CENTS

of the average family budget dollar

OF ALL THE ITEMS in the family budget, probably none gives so much for so little as the money you spend for electricity. Only a CENT-AND-A-HALF of the average budget dollar goes to pay your electric bill . . . yet look at the things electricity does:

It lights your house, washes and irons clothes, cooks meals, vacuum-cleans rugs, washes dishes, makes toast and coffee, grills sandwiches, bakes waffles, keeps accurate time, runs a food mixer, operates the radio. Here is how the cost of electricity compares with other items in the average family budget:

AVERAGE FAMILY DOLLAR

Food	35.2c
Rent	17.5c
Clothing	10.9c
Personal Care, Recreation, Household Expenses	10.8c
Gifts, Contributions, Miscellaneous	6.3c
Transportation	6.1c
Household Furnishings	4.4c
Fuel, Ice	3.8c
Medical Care	3.5c
Electricity (at Detroit Edison residence rates)	1.5c
TOTAL	$1.00

(All figures except electricity U. S. Department of Labor statistics)

Small as it is, the 1½ cents for electricity does a BIG job, especially at a time when nearly all other living costs are rising. Electricity is one item that has NOT gone up. The average unit cost of residential electricity is at an all-time low. The Detroit Edison Company.

Who Took That?
Mrs. Brown—That maid I had stole two of my best towels.

Mrs. Blue—You mean she's a thief. Which did she take?

Mrs. Brown—The two marked "Pullman" and "YMCA."

Tit for Tat
Wife—Never kick about the poor quality of the biscuits I make.

Hubby—Why not?

Wife—Because I never kick about the quality of dough you make.

Wrong Girl This Time
Woman—Is the manager in?

Officeboy—Sure he's in. He's always glad to see pretty girls.

Woman—Oh, is that so? Well, tell him his wife is here.

Isn't It the Truth
Mr. Brown—What would you think of a man who was constantly deceiving his wife?

Mr. Blue—I'd think he was a wizard.

Right Wrong Answer
Teacher—Can someone give me an example of period furniture?

Voice in the Back—An electric chair. It always ends a sentence.

PARAGRAPHS ABOUT FOLKS IN THE SERVICE

numerous academic courses, as well as elementary flying training. Upon completion of the course, he will be classified as a navigator, pilot or bombardier and go on to schools of the Flying Training Command for training in these specialties.

Pvt. Robt. A. Matthews, who was stationed at L. S. School, Camp McCoy, Wis., was transferred recently to Texas where he is a "ward boy" in McCloskey General Hospital.

The following item regarding Pvt. Clifton Hillaker is reprinted at the request of his grandmother, Mrs. Hattie Walker, of Cass City. Sheriff and Mrs. Homer Hillaker received Monday a letter from their son, Pvt. Clifton Hillaker of the U. S. Marine Corps at San Diego, Calif., enclosing also a certificate which he had been awarded as the "outstanding member of his platoon." The certificate reads as follows: "Recruit Depot, Marine Corps Base, Naval Operating Base, San Diego, Calif. This is to certify that Pvt. Clifton C. Hillaker, U. S. Marine Corps, has completed his course of recruit training in a most proficient manner, and is awarded this certificate as the outstanding member of his platoon. Capt. E. J. O'Connell, Commander 6th Recruit Bn., Col. (retired) George T. Hall, commanding."

The letter gave some interesting notes regarding the certificate and reads in part as follows: "Got some good news. I was made the outstanding member of my platoon, and am sure proud of the title. The Col., George T. Hall, gave a big speech for me and I was in front of about 500 Marines. I'm sending the certificate home so you can look at it, but send it back, for it may come in handy some time. Was glad to get it for these fellows from New York have been calling me a 'hick' from the sticks, but now they look up to me. I can get a medal for it. It was awarded just for doing my duty good and learning everything that we had. My boxing helped out a lot. Tyron Power won the same in his platoon. I now take care of the platoon in drills. Sure is fun. If I pass my test on my eyes, I won't leave this barracks. We are going to see Bob Hope and 19 other actors."

Mrs. Walker has another grandson in Uncle Sam's service. He is Cpl. Elmer Hillaker in North Africa in the Aviation Signal Corps.

At the home of Mrs. Alphonso Rocheleau, Mrs. Jake Ehrlich and Miss Catherine LaFave entertained several guests at a miscellaneous shower Sunday afternoon honoring Miss Helen Marie Lenhard, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Lenhard, whose marriage to Lieut. Robert Cartwright, stationed overseas, was solemnized Tuesday afternoon. Fifty-fifty was played at six tables. Prizes were awarded to Mrs. H. O. Cartwright, Mrs. Vincent Weiler and Miss Florence Lehman. Ice cream, cake and coffee were served. Miss Lenhard received many lovely gifts.

Lenhard-Cartwright Wedding—

Rev. Fr. John G. McCullough performed the ceremony which united in marriage Miss Helen Marie Lenhard, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. F. L. Lenhard, of Gagetown and Lieut. Robert M. Cartwright, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. O. Cartwright, of Unionville. Vows were spoken in St. Agatha's Rectory at Gagetown on Tuesday, Mar. 30, at 2:30 p. m. The couple was attended by Miss Marie J. Kelly and Kenneth L. Bell, both of Bay City.

For her wedding, the bride wore a white faille, lace trimmed dress and a veil fastened to a tiara of seed pearls. She carried an arm bouquet of calla lilies. Miss Kelly was dressed in blue satin and marquisette and her flowers were yellow roses and sweet peas.

A wedding dinner was served at 6 p. m. at Algona Inn for the wedding party and immediate families and Tuesday night a reception was held in the Gagetown High School auditorium which was attended by 200 guests.

The bride is a graduate of the Gagetown High School and Bay City Business College and is employed as a bookkeeper for Wallace & Morley at Gagetown.

Lt. Cartwright was graduated from the Unionville High School and Michigan State College at East Lansing. He has a three weeks' furlough and after a week's honeymoon spent in Saginaw and De-

Travelling over the northern circle route, Nazi planes could reach the wilds of Hudson Bay and thence strike at the Soo locks. The distance? Only a few thousand miles from their home bases in Norway. Yes, look at your globe.

United States interceptor planes would try to divert them before they reached the vital canal locks. If the interceptors succeeded, the Nazi bombers would have tons of compressed hell ready to unleash upon any Michigan war center.

Bombs would be dropped. Some would hit their targets. Others would fall upon homes in residential districts nearby.

Assume that this responsibility becomes a reality and Michigan's protective services were not on the job. You can imagine what a howl of indignation would arise to the high heavens. The newspapers would be filled with letters from protesting readers.

Somebody had blundered, of course.

Someone should have detected those planes before they arrived at the Soo.

And if the planes were prevented from flying over the locks and dumping their bombs there, then why in the name of common sense didn't the governor, or mayor, or someone—anyone!—protect the innocent civilians who were killed and maimed in bombed cities and towns in the Lower Peninsula?

All right, listen.

We doubt if one person out of ten who reside south of the Bay City-Muskegon line realize today that a civilian army of between 30,000 and 40,000 persons stands guard in shifts of four hours each, sometime during every week, to detect any aircraft in the sky.

Well, it's a fact.

If the air raid warning is sounded and you have a chance to run for cover, you may thank the business men, the housewives, the miners, and farmers, the students—all civilians, mind you—who devote a part of their leisure time each week to the lonely vigil of scanning the skies for enemy planes which, thank goodness, have not come yet and which we hope will never arrive.

These unsung heroes of the northern front line sacrifice their time, not because their own homes are endangered, but because the United States government believes sincerely that it is vital for the safety of thousands of people elsewhere that advance warning be given of any bombing flight.

The volunteers manned their posts on frigid, zero nights. It isn't fun to do so.

And so when you are inclined to enthuse about the front page headlines and conclude that the war is just about over, remember this:

Last year at this very time the talk of the street was that the war would be all over by Christmas!

If Michigan is in no danger of being bombed by enemy planes, then why does the United States government go to such length to build huge airports at the Soo, concentrate many thousands of men there, and establish the only international military zone along the American-Canadian border?

If the war is going to be over in a month or two, why then the need for an army of ten, or eleven, or twelve million men—yes, in 1943?

We hope the military experts are wrong. But we are impressed with the weight of their logic. Michigan must remain on the alert today, tomorrow and the tomorrows to come.

WEEKLY NEWS ANALYSIS

U. S. and British Teamwork in Tunisia Forces Definite Shift of Nazi Strategy; Moscow-Bryansk Drive Ended: Russia; Fortresses Smash Jap Base at Rabaul

(EDITOR'S NOTE: When opinions are expressed in these columns, they are those of Western Newspaper Union's news analysts and not necessarily of this newspaper.)
Released by Western Newspaper Union.

TUNISIA:

Big Punch

Working as a team, Allied armies have thrown their big punch at the Axis in Tunisia.

With Allied planes flying over the southern front in waves bombing and strafing the enemy, the British 8th army opened a powerful assault against the Mareth line. Units of this army smashed through the left side of the Axis positions and raced to within 20 miles of Gabes, a vital communications center for the enemy.

At the same time, Lieut. Gen. George Patton led his armored American forces into Maknassy, which stands 20 miles from the Gabes coastal area. Patton's men held their positions despite the fierce counterforce of German dive bombers.

In the welter of fighting, it appeared as though the British were succeeding in herding the Germans back up the coast, while the Americans were driving eastward to cut off the retreat from the rear. Enjoying air superiority, the Allies claim to have bagged 24 Axis planes in the early stages of the fighting to a loss of seven of their own.

KISKA:

Jap Air Base

The silence shrouding Japanese activities on Kiska island in the Aleutians was broken with word of America's stepped-up air offensive designed primarily to prevent the enemy from accomplishing the task of building an air field on the mountainous island base.

Almost three times as many raids were made in March as in February. The Japs are working 24 hours a day to construct a flight strip from which they can operate land planes. Previously such an installation had been considered impossible, due to the rough nature of the land. Construction of the field would permit the Japs to do a much better job of defending Kiska. From there, too, they might try to raid the American base in the Andreanoff islands.

SILENT TREATMENT:

For Argentina

When Vice President Wallace went no further into South America than to Chile, natives of Argentina began to really wake up to the fact that Washington was handing them a good dose of the "silent treatment." Comment on Wallace's trip became general throughout the country and the government went so far as to issue an official explanation—that it had been learned in Washington that Wallace was visiting only the West coast of South America on this trip.

Argentina, a major food producing nation, received no mention in plans for the United Nations' forthcoming agricultural conference and this, too, caused wide discussion of America's policy toward the republic.

Citizens of Argentina realize that their government is being handled this way because of its policy of failing to cast in completely with the United Nations in political and military action against the Axis.

RUSSIA:

Deeds, Few Words

Even while the Germans were claiming new gains in the area west of Kursk, 120 miles north of Kharkov, Moscow communiques told of beaten Nazi forces up and down the line running from Smolensk to Rostov.

Russian dispatches told of strong German forces which had smashed against the Moscow-Bryansk rail trunk. The Nazis were reported to have lost 7,000 officers and men in killed alone. The Russians said the Nazi offensive had ceased.

In their own offensive west of Moscow toward Smolensk, the Red army captured an additional number of populated places. On the Donets river front, far to the south, the Russians fought defensive engagements with German tanks and infantry in the Belgorod area. Belgorod, about 60 miles northeast of Kharkov, is held by the Germans.

For the first time in weeks the Russians announced an advance in the Kuban area of the Caucasus. There they captured the district center and large railway station of Slavyanskaya, 45 miles northeast of Novorossiisk.

STEEL:

And Faked Tests

Charges of crookedness vs. patriotism were aired before a senate investigating committee when officers and employees of the Carnegie-Illinois steel corporation acknowledged that tests had been faked on steel produced by its Irvin, Pa., plant to fill war orders.

Steel company officials steadfastly denied there was any motive except patriotism—a desire to win the war. Chairman Harry S. Truman of Missouri said he considered the practice "just plain crookedness and cheating on the government."

J. Lester Perry, president of the corporation, testified that the "regrettable failure" to carry out testing procedures on steel plates for the navy, maritime commission and lend-lease was not known to the higher management and declared he intended to "clear it up."

250 JAP PLANES:

Blasted at Rabaul

The Japanese base at Rabaul, New Britain, shuddered under its third heaviest raid of the war when a strong force of Flying Fortresses dropped 54 tons of bombs on more than 250 Jap planes trapped on the ground.

Gen. Douglas MacArthur reported that "a substantial proportion" of the grounded enemy planes were destroyed or damaged. The Fortresses dropped bombs ranging in size from small incendiaries to 2,000-pound block-busters. Rabaul has three airbases—Lakunai, Vunakau and Reppopo. All Allied planes returned.

On their return from Rabaul, Allied planes strafed and set afire a 10,000-ton Japanese transport off Cape Gazelle. Enemy shipping also was attacked at three other places.

DOWN UNDER:

Subs Big Menace

With submarines operating in packs in the North Atlantic, signs pointed early to the opening of the Nazis spring offensive against Allied shipping to the European war fronts.

That the Nazis were concentrating on such an offensive seemed to be borne out by the appointment of Karl Doenitz as commander of the German fleet. Doenitz is a submarine specialist, who has organized the latest technique of operating U-boats in packs.

Thirty-two ships totaling over 200,000 tons were sunk in a recent convoy, the Nazis said. The Allies did not confirm the claim, but survivors from a late North Atlantic convoy said their losses were heavy, although partly compensated by damage to the attacking undersea horde.

The Nazis are said to have 500 subs, with at least a third in action at one time. The practice of operating the submarines in packs under one experienced commander, relieves the necessity for training individual commanders. In the new technique, U-boats attack their prey from both sides of the convoy.

Construction of a fast destroyer escort by the U. S. is expected to assist in running down subs. Volume production of these escorts will allow the navy to use them as the Nazis use their U-boats, that is, in packs. Building also has been speeded on small auxiliary aircraft carriers to permit planes to take off at sea and maintain close patrol over convoys at all times.

RATIONING:

Juggling Act

Almost all the items that go into the American market basket are now regulated under the rationing system and the job of juggling points to insure a proper diet is as an important job for the housewife as is juggling the dollars in the family's grocery budget.

When meat, butter, cheese, shortening, lard and margarine joined the foods brought under the point system the full force of war hit the nation's dinner table. OPA indicated that with the 16 points allotted each week during the first weeks for these items would provide approximately these amounts:

1. Meat—Slightly under two pounds.
2. Butter—About 1/4 pound.
3. Cheese—About 1/7 ounces.
4. Shortening—About 3 ounces.
5. Lard—About 1/4 pound.
6. Margarine—About 1.2 ounces.

Officials reported that in general the attitude to this almost complete rationing of foodstuffs was good. Most Americans realize, it was pointed out, that rationing is the safest way to insure adequate supplies for the armed forces and our allies as well as insure equitable distribution of what is left for the home front.

VIEWPOINTS:

Death, Dust, Ashes

A quiet confidence ran through Prime Minister Winston Churchill's recent speech when he warned the British that it may take two more years to crush Hitler "and his evil powers of evil into death, dust and ashes."

That was Churchill's warning to those people who believe that the war already is won. "I am not able to share those sanguine hopes and my earnest advice to you is . . . not to take your eye off the ball even for a moment."

In a speech both grave and optimistic, Churchill asserted that after Germany is beaten the Allies would turn immediately to "punish the greedy, cruel empire of Japan." The prime minister proposed post-war councils of the Allied nations to insure peace, and drew a hopeful picture of social and economic post-war planning.

Meanwhile, another voice was heard—this one from Berlin. It was the voice of Adolf Hitler, rumored to be dead, ill or insane. Emerging from months of seclusion, Hitler admitted that German soil has become a war zone, but boasted that the eastern front crisis has been overcome and that the German nation was moving toward "success until final victory."

WARNING:

Broadcasts from Tokyo are warning the Japanese people to expect air raids over Japan and increasing submarine attacks upon shipping. A war review broadcast said "the enemy is still continuing air raids on our forces. The American planes in China will be further strengthened and therefore the enemy hopes to carry out raids over Japan . . . The enemy is using her submarines in the hope of destroying our supply lines . . . We must build more ships to replace our lost ships."

FORT BUYS JERSEY SIRE AT ANN ARBOR

A. Fort of Cass City has purchased Mighty Super, a Jersey sire, from the Oaklands Farms at Ann Arbor. For four generations, every dam in the pedigree has been tested. This is quite an unusual record, says Willis Campbell, who selected the animal for Mr. Fort.

Clean Lighting Fixtures

Don't neglect electric light bulbs and reflectors or diffusing fixtures. Conservation is important in these war times, and dust cuts down light making it necessary to use more wattage and cutting down also on the value you get from the current you use. Each week or fortnight, each bulb should be mopped with a damp soapy cloth, then rinsed and wiped thoroughly dry. Make sure lights are switched off before you start mopping.

Purdue university (Ind.) engineering students are producing war machine parts for Westinghouse Electric company as part of their shop practice. Their output equals that of a 75-man machine shop working full time.
