Kercher, Kerbyson Write from Overseas to Cass City Folks

Lt. Ferris A. Kercher, who has been stationed in Iceland, writes his parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Kercher from London as follows: "I'm in England on leave and at present am down in London. I spent a couple of days in Scotland and I think I'll go back for a few more days. London is ok but it's too big and too hard to get around. I've met officers from all of the Allied nations here. It seems the town is the center of the whole war. After not having seen a tree for a year and a half, I think I'm more impressed by the scenery than by the historical sites of London. It really seems good to get back to a warm climate again, but I'll be leaving soon."

Under date of Mar. 31, Gerald Kerbyson, in the Middle East, writes to "the gang" at the Cass City Oil and Gas Co., as follows: "The weather has been swell over here all week; just like June weather back home. It will not be long before the swimming season opens over here. Michigan has had its share of snow and cold weather. I did see a little snow while I was at the Holy Land. There has not been a frost here all winter. "I have been places and seen things that some people wait a lifetime to see and feel. There are other places that I want to see before this thing is over. Many places I will not be able to write about. "The home town paper is very slow in coming, but I get clippings from home every week and get some idea of what is happening there. The other day I got the paper for the first week of January. "We have two shows every week. Turn to page 5, please.

Will Americans Be More Tender with Their Money than with Lives of Their Sons

Washington, D. C.—A blunt challenge—whether Americans will be more tender with their money than with the lives of their sons—confronts U. S. citizens as they prepare to meet the appeal of the government to put an additional 13 billion dollars into the fight in the next three weeks.

American dollars which run off to some cozy shelter to hide while American boys are dying to defend our cities and towns from destruction and invasion will face a rising demand from all classes of patriotic citizens to come out and fight.

Millions of workers who now are buying War Bonds regularly out of current income must lend extra money to their government during the Second War Loan campaign (which started April 12).

In recognition of the spirit of sacrifice which is sweeping over the land as our troops swing into offensive action in Africa and await the signal for a landing in Europe, the Treasury Department is offering a series of government bonds to fit every pocketbook.

No matter whether Americans buy the familiar Series E Bonds or 2½ per cent bonds or 2 per cent bonds or tax certificates, they will be doing their part to make the Second War Loan drive a success.

Consumer Spending Too High.

Consumer spending in 1942 was much too high to meet the war situation of 1943. Last year more than 82 billion dollars of our soaring national income went to feed the desires of Americans for clothes, recreation, foods and luxuries. As these items grow scarcer, more of our income must be diverted from such expenses into government bonds.

During 1942 millions of our fathers, sons, relatives and friends were in training here and abroad. Some were already in action. Casualties were beginning to bite into every community. War Bonds became a vital link between the home and fighting fronts.

Today sacrifice has become a way of life for America's fighting men. Civilian spending on the 1942 scale must go out the window if the home folks are to attempt to match the heroism of our boys at the front.

Not every American can take his place in a bomber or in a foxhole or on a fighting ship but he can fire away at the enemy by lending money to the government.

Local Churches Arrange Two Good Friday Services

One Group Will Meet at Evangelical Church and Another at Mizpah.

The annual observance of Good Friday by the Protestant churches of Cass City will be held this year at the Salem Evangelical Church on Apr. 23.

A two-hour service will be conducted by the pastors of the city churches, beginning promptly at 1 p. m. and closing at 3 p. m. The general theme of the observance will be "The Seven Last Words of the Cross" and a specially prepared order of worship will be used, including congregational and special hymns, public and silent prayer, Scripture readings and meditations given by the pastors.

The merchants and business places will be requested again to display the "We Close Good Friday" window cards during the several days previous to Good Friday and until the worship period is ended. The community appreciates this courtesy on their part and are requested to cooperate with the merchants in keeping this period free.

Everywhere, Christians are increasingly aware of the moral and spiritual significance of the life and death of Jesus Christ, and of the values, individual and social, found in the Good Friday observance. All citizens of the town and surrounding communities are cordially invited to attend and worship together.

At the Mizpah Mennonite Brethren in Christ Church, a union service of seven churches will be held on Good Friday from 1:30 to 3:00 p. m. A sermon appropriate to the occasion will be given. Cooperating in this service are the Shabona Methodist Church, the Wilmet and Evergreen Free Methodist Churches, the Novesta Free Will Baptist Church, and the New Greenleaf, Riverside and Mizpah Mennonite Churches.

PETER AND JOHN IN GETHSEMANE

LESSON TEXT—Matthew 26:36-46;
John 18:12-14.
GOLDEN TEXT—Watch and pray, that ye enter not into temptation.—Matthew 26:41.

The morning of that great day when atonement was made for the sins of all the world was nearly at hand. In the darkness of the night, following the institution of the Lord's Supper, and the words and prayer of our Lord (John 15-17), He and His disciples came to the Garden of Gethsemane. Taking three of His disciples He went deeper into the shadows to pour out before the Father His soul, "exceeding sorrowful even unto death."

It is a sacred scene, and we feel a sense of awe and reverence as we approach it, feeling that we too would prefer to tarry outside the garden, did we not feel that we should try to understand a little better what took place that night.

We are especially concerned with Peter and John, who with James shared our Lord's sorrow up to a point, and then so sadly failed Him.

We note that they had a

I. High Privilege (Matt. 26:36-38).

To be asked by Christ to stand by in this crucial hour was to be entrusted with one of the greatest privileges a man could ever know. As there swept over His holy soul a great tidal wave of sorrow unto death, He wanted and needed their fellowship. As Dr. MacLaren puts it, He "grazed the very edge" of human endurance. "Out of the darkness He reaches a hand to feel the grasp of a friend, and piteously asks these humble lovers to stay beside Him; not that they could help Him bear the weight, but that their presence had some solace in it. His agony . . . they could not bear with Him, but they could watch with Him, and that poor comfort is all He asked."

Undoubtedly they intended to do it. Jesus bore witness that their spirit was willing (v. 41), but in spite of that, and all the boasting of Peter at the table that he would never desert Him, they failed Him in His hour of need. It was

II. Sad Weakness (vv. 39-46).

Our Lord's prayer showed great faith in God the Father, the terrific recoil of His soul against being blackened with the burden of sin, and a complete surrender to the Father's will. Here was true denial of self and submission to God, but it was nonetheless an appalling experience for our sinless Lord. So He went back for fellowship with His three trusted friends—and they were asleep.

Jesus recognized that the weakness of the flesh caused them to forget and slumber. We may profit by a little closer scrutiny of the scene. Was it just a physical tiredness? That doubtless entered in, but was not Jesus even more tired than they could possibly be? Was it not rather the weakness of indifference? They did not yet fully believe that their Lord was about to die. That was why they were quickly scattered in unbelief when He did die. This matter was not so serious in their sight, so it was not difficult to yield to the tired body and the deep, quiet darkness, and fall asleep.

We are in much the same position. Danger—grave, spiritual danger—threatens our souls, our families, our nation. We who call ourselves Christians have declared our readiness to stay awake and alert. But we have become at home in this world, the enemy soothes us with the assurance that all is well, time goes on and nothing too serious happens. So, we go to sleep right in the midst of danger, and sleep on even though the Master awakens us again and again.

But now the scene changes. The mob has come to take Christ, and then the sleepy Peter, now much awake, indulges in

III. Foolish Courage (John 18:10-12).

The act of Peter was courageous, even to the point of recklessness. What chance had he against a great armed multitude? It was the natural impulse of a loving heart, but it was misguided and foolish. What did he think to accomplish—to deliver Jesus from those who would crucify Him? That would have meant no death on the cross and no redemption. The hour for the offering up of the Son of Man as Saviour had come. Peter might have learned that with our Lord in the garden, but then he was asleep. Christ who had hitherto walked right through the crowd of enemies (Luke 4:30), now submitted. In the dark hours of the night He had been prepared to drink this bitter cup (v. 11).

We need to learn from this experience of Peter's lest we make the same mistake. There are all too many in the Church who are asleep as far as its spiritual struggles and opportunities are concerned, who are eager to wield a reckless sword in outward conflict. In their folly and ignorance they do more harm than good, and yet they think they are working for Christ.

FIRST AID TO THE AILING HOUSE

by Roger B. Whitman

Roger B. Whitman—WNU Features.

You may not be able to replace worn or broken household equipment. This is war. Government priorities come first. So take care of what you have . . . as well as you possibly can. This column by the homeowner's friend tells you how.

DUST FROM REGISTER

Question: The hot air from our furnace carries an excessive amount of dirt into our rooms. We thought of fireproofing cheesecloth and installing it just below the hot-air register grille. How can we fireproof this material?

Answer: The dusty air probably is due to the fact that the joints between the cast iron sections of the firebox of your furnace need recementing. This should be done every three or four years. The air ducts, register outlets and the air space around the furnace very probably need a complete vacuum cleaning.

There are several shields made to direct warm air away from the walls and ceilings (perhaps you still can get them). One or two thicknesses of dark mosquito netting, placed over the pipe of the register and held in place by the front of the register, will help to filter the air. I do not think fireproofing will be necessary.

Gasoline Odors

Question: I have a garage attached to my house over which there is a sunroom. I have noticed that automobile exhaust odors seep into the sunroom, also into the kitchen. If I have insulation blown in between the sunroom floor and garage ceiling, also into the wall between kitchen and garage, would this stop the condition?

Answer: If heating or plumbing pipes go through the wall between the garage and kitchen and also through the sunroom floor, the gasoline odors may get into these rooms through the spaces around the pipes. Have such spaces filled with cement or plaster. Three or four inches of rock wool blown into the spaces specified, may help to some extent. If there is a door leading from the kitchen to the garage, it should be tightly weather-stripped. Garage also should be ventilated.

Wood Floor in Cellar

Question: I have been told that if I build a recreation room with a wooden floor I will encounter trouble with mold and wood rot. What is your opinion?

Answer: If the wood floor is laid properly, you should not encounter either of the above conditions. The concrete floor should be clean and dry, then given a mopping of liquid asphalt. Over this put down a layer of heavy asphalt saturated felt, overlapping the sheets at least half their width. Mop the liquid asphalt between the overlaps. Then a wood-block flooring is cemented down with mastic cement. Your local flooring contractors are familiar with this method.

Lost Key

Question: My children locked and lost the key to a cedar chest. We've tried everything, but the lock refuses to yield. Must we break it open—if so, should this be done from the front or the back?

Answer: Before breaking the lock, try all the keys on which you can lay hands; ask your neighbor for his box of keys, if he has one. The best thing to do is to get a locksmith to open the chest. In the meantime, if there is something inside the chest that you need at once, you may be able to unscrew the hinges at the back and get at the contents in that way.

Building a Fire

Question: I cannot get logs to burn properly in my fireplace. I start with charcoal, but after the charcoal burns up the log never blazes; just looks dead and finally smolders through. How can I get a good fire?

Answer: The fireplace should be proportioned correctly, the flue large enough, and the damper in the flue should be open. The next thing is to have well-seasoned wood. You should lay twisted or crumpled newspapers on the hearth, then dry kindling; then place three or four logs well toward the back and make sure there is enough air space for a good draft. You will not get a good draft if all windows and doors are closed.

Removing Wallpaper

Question: The wallpaper on my plasterboard walls is soiled. Can I take it off without damaging the board?

Answer: You can do it by soaking carefully with water; use no more water than will be needed. If you use too much, you may soak off the paper finish of the board. At best, the plasterboard surface will be left rough. To smooth it, put on a coat of shellac, which in drying will stiffen the paper surface of the board. You then can rub it smooth with sandpaper. It then will be ready for papering.

Controlling Rust on Roof

At the first sign of rust, says D. S. Weaver, extension agricultural engineer of North Carolina State college, or when the roof shows dark discoloration, the galvanized roofing should be painted with metallic zinc paint. Before applying the paint, the roof should be put in good physical shape and all gutters and low places should be cleaned of fallen leaves and dirt. If the roof has been painted with any kind of paint previously, all loose and scaly parts must be removed with a wire brush, rinsing the roof with water, and allowing it to dry.

Understand Bomb Explosion Effect?

Earth shock, one of the most dangerous and least understood effects of bomb explosions, endangers large and small buildings of nearly every type of construction and foundation in an area under attack. With the exception of all-steel or concrete frame buildings, all structures are affected to some degree by the vibrational effect, or earth shock, produced by a bomb explosion below the surface of the earth, an effect which is similar to that of a local earthquake, except that earthquake movements may be said to be slower.

Meant Just That

Synthetic rubber has been a fascinating subject ever since a few years before the last war when valuable work was done on the constitution and synthesis of natural rubber. In those early years of the present century the term "synthetic rubber" meant just that—namely, the product formed by the actual synthesis of the rubber hydrocarbon which is the chief constituent of natural rubber.

Misconception

One glaring misconception about funerals is the mistaken belief, held by many, that the casket and other furnishings are worth more than the funeral director's services.

Today, the scientific training and experienced skill of the funeral director are responsible for the beauty and dignity of funerals. His professional ability is the most valuable factor in every service.

U. S. Coffee Is Held in Brazil

Government Is Unable to Move Stores, Brazilian Scientist Reports.

NEW YORK.—While Americans must ration their consumption of coffee, their government owns more than one billion pounds of coffee beans stored in Brazilian warehouses that it is unable to transport to the United States, it was reported here by Dr. Moacyr E. Alvaro, secretary-general of the national committee for the prevention of blindness in Brazil and professor of ophthalmology at the Sao Paulo school of medicine.

Change in Feeling.

Dr. Alvaro, who arrived here by clipper from Brazil to address a meeting of the National Society for the Prevention of Blindness, said there is a great surge of friendly feeling for the United States throughout Latin America.

"We Brazilians like America more and more," he said with a smile. "Of course, we were always friendly with your great country, but never so friendly as now. The people of Brazil feel that Americans and Brazilians stand for the same democratic ideals."

Dr. Alvaro, who was in Argentina last summer, declared that more than 80 per cent of the people of that country are pro-Allies in their sympathies. He said that on the basis of his travels and experiences in Argentina he believed the people there would back with enthusiasm any action of their government to aid the United States in the war.

War Upsets Economy.

The war has upset the economy of many Latin-American countries that counted on their trade with the United States, Dr. Alvaro declared. He pointed out that in Brazil, for example, no one is allowed to use a private automobile and that many coffee plantations are being converted to cotton, alfalfa and soy bean cultivation.

Dr. Alvaro will confer with American leaders about the Pan American congress of ophthalmology scheduled for Montevideo next November. He is the secretary-general of the congress.

He said that through Latin America about one person out of every thousand is sightless. He declared that at least 72 per cent of such blindness can be prevented. For the first time, he added, many Latin-American countries are organizing societies for the prevention of blindness and these organizations are endeavoring to spread education about sight and to make available more medical facilities for combating diseases of the eye.

These Identical Twins Keep Step Right Along

MANLIUS, ILL.—A new chapter has been written in the amazingly similar development of Charles and Allan Thompson, identical four-year-old twin sons of Mr. and Mrs. Orville D. Thompson.

At birth in Princeton hospital, they weighed within 1½ ounces of each other, and have varied little in height or weight since then. There were only a few hours difference in times they learned to walk and talk.

They had the whooping cough and mumps together, and in February, 1941, they both underwent appendectomies within an hour. This time? It was their tonsils. Both developed the same symptoms with identical infections, and underwent tonsillectomies.

Chinese Prison Inmates Boost War Bond Sales

VANCOUVER, B. C.—When one of the officials instructed a Victory loan salesman to take a trip out to the B. C. penitentiary to "sell a couple of bonds" he didn't think the salesman would take him seriously.

But the salesman went out anyway and when he returned to the office he announced, rather proudly, that he had sold two $500 bonds.

"Two Chinese prisoners bought 'em," he said. "There's a good market there. A number of other inmates have signified their willingness to purchase later on."

Warrant, Flight Officers Ruled Entitled to Salute

WASHINGTON.—The war department solved a problem in military etiquette by ruling that warrant officers and flight officers are entitled to salutes from enlisted men and non-commissioned officers.

Warrant officers and flight officers rank just below second lieutenants, but this ruling affirmed the fact that they were commissioned officers.

Among other prerogatives granted to them is the right to obtain membership in officers' messes.

Fighting Family Are All Officers in Service

SALEM, ORE.—"I guess I'll have to salute the whole family," complains J. McNeil, navy quartermaster third class.

His wife is a civilian defense major; one son, James, is a sergeant pilot in the army, and another, Robert, is a naval aviation cadet.

One half-brother, Curtis T. Youngblood, is a navy lieutenant commander, and another, Edwin Youngblood, is an army sergeant.

Indians Visit Buffalo Refuge
Old Indians still visit the Wichita Mountains National Wildlife refuge at Cache, Okla., during buffalo roundup time, when Refuge Manager Ernest Greenwalt disposes of surplus animals. The Indians usually obtain delicacies from the slaughtered animals.

Flavoring and Gravy
Sour cream poured over the meat balls and allowed to simmer slowly for a few minutes sends a delicious tart flavor into the very center of each plump meat ball and eventually cooks down into a thick sauce, just right for serving as gravy.

Clean Milking Machine
If butterfat is allowed to remain on the rubber parts of a milking machine, the rubber becomes oil soaked and loses its elasticity. Cold water should be used to remove milk from the rubber immediately after milking.

The Easter vacation of the Cass City Public Schools will include two days in addition to the usual week end recess. School closes for the Easter vacation on Thursday afternoon, April 23, and opens again on Tuesday morning, Apr. 27.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Putman of Farmington were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Clark Zinnecker Saturday and Sunday. On Saturday noon, Mr. and Mrs. Zinnecker, son, Grant, and their guests surprised Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Zinnecker when they went with well filled baskets to have dinner with them and to help them celebrate their birthday, both being on that day. A beautiful cake centered the table.

Mr. and Mrs. R. D. Hanby and children of Ypsilanti visited Mrs. Hanby's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Ward, from Friday until Sunday afternoon. Mrs. Wm. G. Moore, who had spent three weeks with her granddaughter, Mrs. Hanby, returned to Cass City with them. Mr. and Mrs. Fred Ward and children of Pontiac and Mrs. Florence Dawson and son, Billie Jim, of Alma were also Saturday night and Sunday guests at the Ward home.

J. Ivan Niergarth served as a delegate to the representative assembly of the Michigan Educational Association in session at Lansing Thursday, Friday and Saturday of last week. Previous to going to the state capital, he stopped over at St. Johns to attend a meeting of the board of education in that city on Wednesday night. He will serve as superintendent of the St. Johns schools next year. The Niergarths have purchased a residence in that city and will move there this summer.

Sunday was the occasion of the christening of Nancy Isabelle, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Carnegie, of Grosse Pointe Park. Dr. Vance, pastor emeritus of the First Presbyterian Church of Detroit, conducted the rites which were witnessed by Mr. and Mrs. Clark McKenzie of Kalamazoo, Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Knapp and Mrs. A. Hitchcock of Cass City. Nancy Isabelle is a niece of the McKenzies, Knapp and Hitchcock families. Other friends of the Carnegie family were also present at the ceremony.

Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Casper of Mason came Monday to spend a few days in the home of Mrs. Casper's sister, Mrs. E. W. Douglas.

Mr. Casper is recovering nicely from a terrible wartime experience. He was with a convoy in the North Atlantic when a boat in which he was riding was torpedoed and sank. He was in the water for four hours when he was picked up by another ship. This boat was also torpedoed and he was in the water five hours before he was again rescued and this time sent to an overseas hospital. Both legs and both arms of Mr. Casper were frozen.

FIVE UNIONS HONOR 7TH DISTRICT PRESIDENT

After a few remarks by the leader, Mrs. Tirrell read an appropriate Scripture passage. The reading of the poem, "The Taper," by Mrs. W. S. Hubbard was most effective. Mrs. Arleon Retherford contributed a vocal solo and Mrs. Wm. D'Arcy a reading, both being very pleasing. Mrs. L. A. Heideman, county vice president, gave a brief but stirring appeal for active Christian work to protect the youth of our country.

United States Army Nurses in North Africa

20 from Tuscola in TB Sanatoriums

On the first day of 1943 there were 20 persons from Tuscola County in tuberculosis sanatoriums, according to the records of the Michigan Department of Health. Because tuberculosis is a germ disease, it is likely that these persons had spread the seeds of their disease to others in this county.

The Michigan Tuberculosis Association, which is observing its Early Diagnosis Campaign during April, urges every one who has been in contact with a tuberculous person, to have a tuberculin test or chest X-ray.

The early stage of tuberculosis gives no warning symptoms. A person may feel fine although the germs have attacked his lungs. For this reason periodic medical examinations are good policy for even healthy persons.

Uncle Sam demands a chest X-ray of every recruit. And he turns down one in each 100 for tuberculosis.

Since Scott Field, part of the vast new work of the Technical Training Command schools under Maj. Gen. Walter R. Weaver, is devoted solely to radio. The destination of Cpl. J. Downing may be a more advanced radio school, a gunnery school, or an operational training school, where he will receive instructions as part of a bombing "team."

Deer that failed to survive the long hard winter in northern Michigan are being found in considerable numbers in the yarding areas where winter food was known to be deficient. This picture was made in Alpena county, where deer were reduced to eating balsam—known from deer feeding experiments to be worthless as food. To trim the herd in these areas to fit the winter food supply, and so prevent starvation, the conservation department has long advocated special hunting seasons.

5,000 Victory Gardens for Tuscola County

At least 5,000 Victory Gardens should be grown in Tuscola County in 1943, according to Paul R. Krone, director of Victory Gardens for the Michigan Council of Defense. Michigan's garden goal is 700,000 based on the national quota of 20,000,000. On this basis there should be a garden for every 6 1/2 citizens.

A quota list for all Michigan counties has been forwarded to County Victory Garden chairmen by Mr. Krone, with the urgent request that every effort be made to surpass the allotted number of gardens.

Reports from county and local chairmen indicate that Victory Garden Week activities were highly successful in practically all counties. Mr. Krone said. Victory Garden chairmen had fine cooperation from newspapers, radio and local civic and social organizations, schools and churches in planning and carrying out observance programs, with the result that thousands of citizens, who have never before attempted gardens, have been enlisted in Michigan's food-growing army.

Victory Garden Week in the Upper Peninsula was delayed until April 18, due to heavy snows covering much of the territory north of the Straits of Mackinac, but Mr. Krone has been assured by all Victory Garden chairmen that every U. P. county will meet its quota of gardens despite late plantings.

The club dinner was prepared by the Novesta Church of Christ Ladies' Aid. Easter emblems were used in the table decorations. The evening's program was opened with vocal selections by a trio of Arthur Holmberg, A. C. Atwell and G. W. Landon, numbers that were particularly pleasing to the audience.

The speaker of the evening was Philip Adler, Detroit News editorial staff writer, who chose "Russia" as his subject. A Russian by birth and one who has travelled extensively in that country in recent years, Mr. Adler was well versed in Russian history and that nation's resources and its strength in manpower and industry. He answered several questions of his audience at the conclusion of his address.

What You Buy With WAR BONDS

Women at War today are saving for Women at Peace when the War is won. They are buying War Bonds as thrifty housewives, saving to buy those handy, convenient and necessary electrical appliances when their Bonds mature.

Women know that money saved now will help win the peace, putting their menfolk to work in our domestic factories when the war is over. They know purchase of War Bonds today will help their family and the whole country tide over the readjustment period from War to Peace.

Takes Broad Detour
Ancient caravan trails, some modernized and capable now of handling truck traffic, are the only means of ground transportation from Lake Chad to the northern war theater. Of these, two routes stand out on the map. One (more than 2,000 miles long) makes a broad detour through the Chad colony of French Equatorial Africa, turning westward finally to join a road that cuts across eastern Libya all the way to the Mediterranean port of Bengasi. The other (the one which runs from the northwest shore of Lake Chad to Tripoli) passes through French West Africa and western Libya.

Cattle Grubs Controlled
These pests are the young stage of the heel fly. They usually appear on the backs of cattle about this time of the year and cause considerable irritation by cutting holes in the hide. If grubs are present the treatment of cattle with a powder made by mixing one part 5 per cent rotenone content dorrer or cube powder and two parts of wittable sulphur is recommended. Apply to the backs of the animals from a shaker can and rub in lightly with the hand.

Urge Farmers to Make Labor Needs Known

Farmers who will need any kind of farm help in 1943, whether it be year-round hired men, or seasonal hands to help with haying or harvesting, are urged to make their labor needs known now.

"The department of Agriculture," according to Chas. B. Eckfeld, chairman of the Tuscola County AAA and U. S. D. A. War Board, "has requested the Triple-A to find out what farm labor will be needed this year in order to get our war crops planted and harvested. We want to get every request for help now so that every effort can be made to get all of the essential farm help we need."

The department's plan calls for the AAA to collect all requests for labor in the county. These requests, then, will be turned over to the Extension Service which will locate help for the farmers according to the needs indicated on the farmers' applications.

AAA Community committeemen, who have been calling on farmers in their neighborhoods already have collected a number of requests for labor, Mr. Eckfeld said. However, farmers who have not made an application for the help they will need this year should do so right away. Requests for help can be left with AAA Community Committeemen or at any County Triple-A office.

American People Face Acid Test in Treasury's 2nd War Loan To Raise 13 Billion Dollars in Three Weeks

The Nation Dare Not Fail in This Greatest Financing Task in History—"They Give Their Lives—You Lend Your Money."

Washington, D. C.—Coming as it does upon the heels of income tax payments, the people of America will face an acid test this month when the Treasury's Second War Loan drive opens April 12 with an objective of thirteen billion dollars to be raised through sale of Government securities.

A substantial part of this huge financing, the most stupendous ever undertaken by any government in the world's history, must be loaned by people in ordinary walks of life.

High Government officials have pointed out that the nation must not fail in this duty to our men on the battle fronts who are now carrying the offensive to the enemy at every stage. It is obvious to every thinking man and woman that as the United Nations take this offensive against the dictators, the cost of war operations increases in proportion.

The American people must no longer think of war costs in terms of equipping a soldier, building a tank or plane or a ship. We must now think in terms of the cost of battles, invasions and new offensives. Attacking armies cost more money than equipping that army and we must meet that increased cost by buying more War Bonds and Second War Loan Securities.

They Give Their Lives.

It is not only necessary that the American people left here at home assume this additional participation in the war effort—it is an honor to do so . . . for we here at home can do no less than attempt to approach the sacrifices of our brave men out on the fighting fronts to whom the last great measure of sacrifice is but a daily offering. They give their lives . . . we are asked only to lend our money.

And that is the theme of the Second War Loan, "They Give Their Lives—You Lend Your Money."

Financial experts who know monetary conditions in the nation point out that at the present time there is in liquid funds, cash and commercial bank deposits over and above taxes and present investment in Government Bonds, and over and Rabbit Brush for Rubber?

Studies of the rabbit brush as a source of rubber are being made by federal scientists. A desert dweller like guayule, it is distributed over ten western states. It grows well at elevations around 7,000 feet, frequently on inaccessible rocky hillsides, and rarely occurs in solid stands. Authentic analysis of the rubber content, together with current estimates of the existing stands of rabbit brush, indicate that not more than 30,000 tons of rubber could result from the slaughter of this shrub, the domestication of which is not favored by plant scientists.

Coal Plastic Material Source

Coal is an important source of material for the plastics industry. The prospects for a tremendous increase in the volume of plastics production will render the future for coal derivatives extremely bright, if every effort is made to maintain research, reduce basic cost of manufacture, increase yields, and produce a varied and flexible number of intermediates.

Locust, Malaria Scourge

Of Spanish Morocco's 800,000 inhabitants, mostly Moslems, the highlanders raise sheep and goats; the lowlanders grow grains, beans, olives and fruits. Stable export items included almonds, oranges, potatoes, canary seed, oxhides, wool, sheepskins, millet, fish and eggs. Malaria and locusts are scourges fought in large-scale campaigns by the government.

Fell Out of Plane

At Yorkshire, England, Aviation Cadet Derek M. Sharp fell out of a training plane 500 feet up. As he plunged through space, something bopped him on the head. Instinctively he raised his arms and found himself hugging the tail of his own plane. He managed to wiggle himself up on the plane's elevator surfaces. All this made the plane bounce, and when the pilot learned the reason he made a quick and careful landing. Cadet Sharp was unhurt.

HIS BUSINESS

The strong man was explaining his act to his agent.

"I place a heavy stone on my head," he asserted, "and then my assistant picks up a 16-pound sledge hammer, swings it with all his might—and cracks the stone in half."

The agent grew dizzy at the thought.

"That's marvelous," he enthused. "But, how about your head—don't you ever feel it?"

The strong man waved a hand. "Yes," he admitted. "That's why I carry aspirins!"

THE 2nd WAR LOAN DRIVE IS ON!

America...you've got to get tougher!

AMERICA — Let's be frank about it . . . so far, many of us back home have been fighting this war from an easy chair. Many of us have bought War Bonds out of extra cash, out of money we didn't miss too much. We haven't been really tough with ourselves.

But this war is a hard, down-to-reality war. And many of our boys are dying in it.

We've got to buy MORE

So your government asks you to buy Bonds and more Bonds—to get really tough with yourself. We're asking you to give up the frills and "extras."

We know how human it is not to make sacrifices until the crisis drives us to it. In England they felt the same way until the bombs started falling.

Bombs are such persuasive things. But just as persuasive ought to be the spirit of our brothers, sons, husbands.

If you could see

Look at it this way—suppose you had a magic carpet that could take you to Africa and New Guinea. Suppose you could hear the groan of American boys wounded, and American boys dying. . . . Say now, how many Bonds would you buy?

That kind of war

THEY . . . are dying. And they will keep on dying until we drown the enemy in an overwhelming torrent of bombs, bullets, guns, tanks, planes, ships, and shells.

That's why we're asking you, in this one month of April alone, to lend Uncle Sam 13 billions of dollars—by buying War Bonds. 13 billions of extra dollars—over and above any buying that you'd be doing anyway!

A lot of money

Of course, 13 billion dollars is a lot of money. It'll take sweat and tears to raise it. It'll mean going without now. But also—it will mean savings now—to buy later. It'll mean giving up everything you can't square with your conscience, so that we, us, our children, can have a better, more decent place to live in when this war is won.

The drive is on

So during this month of April, if someone calls on you to ask you to buy War Bonds in this 2ND WAR LOAN DRIVE, will you buy to the limit—and then buy more?

Better yet, will you go to your Bank, Post-office, or wherever you're used to buying your Bonds—and buy NOW? Will you lend extra money this month? Money that can hasten the day of Victory? Money that can help to save American lives.

Money buys money

Remember, what you're really buying with your money is still more money. For after all, these Bonds are money! Money plus!

Every dollar you put into War Bonds will bring you a dollar plus interest.

So the more Bonds you buy the better for you. Americans — Get Tough — with yourselves — for your country.

Soybeans Deplete Land's Nitrogen

Fertilizing, Rotation Counteracts Losses

How to fertilize soybeans is a question that faces hundreds of thousands of farmers since the war's demands have so greatly increased the production of this crop.

When soybeans are grown for hay or grain, they are definitely a soil-depleting crop, according to R. E. Yoder, chief agronomist, Ohio Agricultural Experiment station.

Results of tests covering 22 years at the Ohio Agricultural Experiment station revealed that a 25-bushel-per-acre soybean crop removed 25 pounds of phosphorus and 30 pounds of potash per acre from the soil.

In other words, soybean grain removed 1½ times as much phosphorus and twice as much potash as did corn grain from the soil.

In spite of the fact that the soybean is a legume, it breaks down soil organic matter and depletes the land's nitrogen supply even in generously fertilized rotations at rates almost identical with those caused by clean-cultivated row crops.

Obviously the nitrogen fixed by the plant is transformed into protein in the beans removed from the soil. Soybeans leave behind in the soil only half as much root residue as corn grown on the same land. The haulm is likewise high in a carbon residue similar to that of any other straw.

Farmers should offset the degrading effects of the bean's on the soil's fertility by means of soil building practices.

Soybeans should be fertilized. Experiments thus far have failed to show that soybeans respond to direct fertilization.

That's chicken from U. S. farms, 7,000 pounds of it for one meal, these seamen of the galley crew are preparing.

The first step in fertilizing soybeans is to be sure the land is generously supplied with active calcium and lime. Next increase the rate of fertilizer application to wheat, corn and other crops grown in rotation. Soybeans should be confined to the most fertile fields on the farm, so that production goals may be attained on the smallest possible acreage of land. They should be planted on the most level fields to minimize erosion and wherever possible on the contour.

In fitting soybeans into a rotation system, it is always best to substitute this crop for one of the other row crops or small grains. Soybeans should never be substituted for soil-building sod crops.

Up in Smoke

Burning of pastures and meadows costs farmers millions of dollars each year in soil losses and decreased yields of grasses. Experiments in Kansas show that the yield of blue-stem grasses was cut 43 to 89 percent depending on the time of burning. Fall burning was most injurious. Oklahoma tests show that where wooded pasture was burned the runoff was 28 times as great and soil loss 12 times as great as for areas not burned.
