

EVERY DRIVER CAN HELP

KEEP 'EM ROLLING

WAR, 1943 style, is war on wheels. Men, weapons and materials vital to victory must be moved swiftly, safely and without delay.

But each day accidents at grade crossings in America injure or kill 19 motorists and delay 38 trains a total of 22 hours—a drain on manpower and time that a nation at war simply cannot afford.

Will you, as a patriotic driver, enbist in the nationwide campaign now under way to stop these accidents? Here's how you can help:

- 1. Be extra careful—wartime careful—in all your driving.
2. Be especially alert when approaching a grade crossing.
3. Be sure the way is clear before you cross the tracks.
4. LOOK, LISTEN and LIVE!
Help keep 'em rolling for victory!

NATIONAL SAFETY COUNCIL

Quoting Governor Harry F. Kelly: "The vast European continent remains a Nazi stronghold, ringed with steel. Bleeding and helpless and starving, the conquered countries are yet to hear the tread of friendly marching feet."

"Across the world, the Rising Sun of Japan arrogantly flutters over Guam and Wake and the islands of the Philippines. There is only darkness in Burma and Singapore and the Dutch East Indies; Australia is threatened."

"Nor is that all. Just last week, the Navy Department admitted that the United Nations lost more shipping tonnage in 1942 than they built—a figure in excess of a million gross tons more!"

These words were uttered by Michigan's chief executive, not in darkness of despair, but in celebration of the Allied triumph in Africa and Michigan's generous response to the Second War Loan drive.

They recalled to our memory a conference which we attended in Washington several weeks ago at the war department's gigantic Pentagon building across from the Potomac River in Virginia. A number of newspaper association executives, including the president and a vice president of the Michigan Press Association—listened to a review of press problems presented by Col. R. Ernest Dupuy, chief of the news division, war department bureau of public relations.

The army colonel referred to the presence of only four American army divisions on the Tunisian front and the snap judgment of many Americans on the home front that the war will be over soon. He admitted—and so did we—the difficulty of getting true perspective of military values through condensed newspaper headlines.

The resultant conversation veered to the idea of having the war department issue confidential memos to newspaper editors. Colonel Dupuy and his staff replied that Congress would accuse the military of seeking to influence the press. We were reminded that the United States is a democracy.

And yet the readers of Michigan newspapers are getting today the most complete coverage of war news in the history of world journalism.

Correspondents of the Associated Press, United Press and International News Service, as well as writers of leading newspapers, are accorded every facility by the American government to obtain and transmit information. Of all the nations of the world, we permit a voluntary censorship. And it is still possible for editors to criticize freely.

Hanson W. Baldwin, military commentator of the New York Times and Pulitzer winner for his brilliant analyses, has just returned from a 22,000-mile trip to Africa to report—without censorship—that the Allied victory in Tunisia was won chiefly by the British, that Germany is still strong and far from being near defeat and that American troops are still green and inexperienced in modern warfare.

As Colonel Dupuy phrased it in a radio talk May 9, "we are one step forward on the long march to victory." But it is only one step. American troops have yet to land on the continent of Europe.

We Americans like to gossip. Probably not one of you has not heard reports of over-production of tanks and trucks and other war materials at Michigan war plants; that vast fields are filled with equipment that cannot be shipped overseas because of lack of shipping, and so on.

Lieut. General Brehon B. Somervell, chief of the army services of supply, visited Michigan last summer. Recently he declared that the U. S. army will not be completely equipped until late in 1944. Only in the field of ammunition is there a reserve. Rumors of over-production were called the work of fifth-columnists.

Secretary of Navy Frank Knox revealed to the Truman Committee at Washington that the net loss in gross tons of shipping in 1942 was "in the neighborhood of something over a million tons." Submarines have been sinking ships faster than we could build them.

The newspapers bring these facts to your home. Only a democracy can afford such freedom of information!

We hope and pray for early victory yet it is folly for citizens on the home front to relax one moment their efforts for winning of the war.

Michigan rates first in per capita sale of war bonds. It is truly the "arsenal of democracy" with more than eleven billion dollars in war contracts already awarded to Michigan industries.

Yet this is no time for celebration. On the basis of contracts already awarded, Michigan will need 200,000 more workers before the end of 1943.

As Governor Kelly explained in Washington recently, "Michigan is producing one-tenth of all the armaments with which our nation is waging war against the Axis." Yet we cannot afford the luxury of one labor dispute which halts production.

The hour of destiny is nearing when American troops will land on the fortified continent of Europe—many hundreds of miles from the borders of Germany itself. Many thousands of lives is the price which we must pay.

Compared with the price of life itself, the investment of dollars from the citizen soldiers on the home front is a puny sacrifice.

In the last war the OWI reports that "only 241 tanks were used by Americans in combat areas. Only one American-made airplane reached the fighting front in the first year of the war."

In the last war 4,300,000 Yanks were under arms; today at least 10,000,000 are certain to be in uniform. Yanks must be equipped to stand the humidity of jungle warfare, wintry blasts of the Aleutians, desert heat of North Africa.

In 1918 the American war expenditures were only 18 1/2 billion dollars. This coming fiscal year calls for more than 100 billion dollars!

We must continue to produce more arms, to buy more bonds, to grow more food.

As the war department colonel put it tersely, the victory in Tunisia is only "one step forward on the long march to victory." For us on the Michigan home front the unified command must be: "Let's get on with the war!"

What You Buy With WAR BONDS

Many of the women of the Women's Auxiliary Army Corps are already overseas serving in various capacities to help win the war. The WAACS go through a strenuous training to fit them for the arduous duties they must perform.

A uniform for a WAAC, complete, costs approximately $170.00. The quartermaster's department must provide thousands of them. Your purchase of War Bonds helps pay for these uniforms. Invest at least ten percent of your income in War Bonds every payday through a Payroll Savings plan at your office or factory.

In the battle to produce more food, the electric motor is a vital weapon. But motors are made of copper and other materials now restricted to war production. Even repair materials are scarce. So the motors you now have must be kept operating until Victory.

Protect your motors. It requires only a small amount of time and attention to keep an electric motor in good running condition. A motor needs little care, but it must have some! Here are the most important points to remember:

- 1. Lubricate regularly but do not over-lubricate.
2. Keep the motor clean. Beware of dust, moisture, and stray oil.
3. Avoid overload. Be sure that your motor is equipped with some type of overload protecting device.

During this crucial year every farm will need to keep every motor in service and ready for action. Don't let neglect rob you of a trusty weapon. Keep your powder dry!

Allied Leaders Review Grand Strategy As Casablanca Promises Are Renewed Following Finale of Tunisia Campaign; Winter Wheat, Rye Dip to 1936 Levels

(EDITOR'S NOTE: When opinions are expressed in these columns, they are those of Western Newspaper Union's news analysts and not necessarily of this newspaper.) Released by Western Newspaper Union.

TUNISIA: Steak and Potatoes

While captured German generals were putting down steaks, potatoes, and peaches in an American prison camp after they had surrendered with thousands of their troops, Allied forces sealed the fate of the remnants of the once proud Afrika Korps on rocky Cape Bon peninsula.

Blasted by swarms of Allied planes ruling the skies and an Allied fleet that stood off of Tunisia ready to crush any attempt at evacuation, the 80,000 Axis soldiers that retired to the skinny neck of land faced their doom, resisting to the last.

No less than six Axis generals, led by Maj.-Gen. Willibald Borowicz, surrendered to Maj.-Gen. Omar N. Bradley, the infantry specialist who commanded the American Second army in its dramatic break through the rugged enemy positions before Bizerte.

The American forces continued to mop up around Bizerte where scattered bands of Nazis entrenched in the hills continued firing till their last round of ammunition. Much enemy material was recovered, since the German generals agreed to turn it over undamaged as one of the terms of surrender.

Also offering fierce resistance was a formidable Axis group holding out against the British Eighth army in the south. Cut off from the remnants of the northern Axis forces, this group stuck to the mountain fastnesses, while British artillery and infantry picked them slowly to pieces. Even the Nazis realized that their scattered forces were inexorably doomed.

FARM CROPS: Light Prospects

Winter wheat and rye crops will be the smallest since 1936, the department of agriculture predicted early this month.

Production of winter wheat should approximate 515 million bushels, almost 200 million bushels less than last year, the department said. Yields per acre should average 15.5 bushels.

Thirty-six million bushels of rye should be harvested, over 20 million bushels less than 1942, the department reported. Each acre should yield 11.7 bushels.

Condition of tame hay was placed at 81 per cent of normal. Pastures were said to be 78 per cent of normal. Stocks of hay on farms early in the month totaled over 13 million tons, well over last year's.

PACIFIC: Air Warfare

Striking back at Japanese bases northwest of Australia, Allied airmen destroyed or damaged 23 enemy planes in a heavy raid on Babo, Dutch New Guinea. Bombs also were dropped on oil tanks and docks, and flames visible for 80 miles licked the installations.

In China, heavy and medium bombers of the 14th American air force swooped down on the Japanese airfield at Canton, razing hangars, fuel storage dumps, repair shops and factories. Accompanying fighters shot down 13 enemy planes, and Liberator tail gunners accounted for three others.

SOLDIER MAIL: Now Can Get Packages

American soldiers serving overseas no longer need obtain permission from commanding officers to receive packages from home.

If Johnny Doughboy asks that a package be sent to him, it will be delivered without any further formality, save that the parcel must be of the current specified size and weight. The soldier's envelope must be presented when mailing the package.

GRAND STRATEGY: FDR, Churchill Meet

No sooner had Axis resistance in Tunisia collapsed than Prime Minister Churchill of Great Britain was on his way to Washington to map the next step in the Allied grand strategy with President Roosevelt.

Although plans for an invasion of Europe loomed largest in the discussions, the situation in the Pacific also was given much consideration. Continued Japanese aerial assaults on Australia and the pressure the enemy was exerting on General Wavell's forces on the frontier in India, were said to be of concern to the conferees.

The two leaders re-emphasized their "unconditional surrender" decision of Casablanca.

Official quarters predicted the formulation of a concrete plan of action at the meeting. They remembered that Churchill's visit here after Pearl Harbor resulted in the decision to concentrate on the defeat of Hitler first; Churchill's second conference with President Roosevelt in Washington in the summer of 1942 preceded the invasion of French North Africa, and the Casablanca meeting saw the development of plans for the battle of Tunisia.

Discussion of the Russian-Polish controversy, and policies to be framed with the occupation of Europe, also were said to have entered in the latest Churchill-Roosevelt meeting.

UNEMPLOYMENT: 900,000 Still With Us

Despite booming business, there were still 900,000 unemployed in the United States in April, the census bureau reported. Of the number, however, were many merely enjoying an interval from one job to another.

While non-agricultural payrolls dropped 400,000 in the month, agricultural employment jumped 600,000, thus showing a general increase of 200,000 over the month of March.

According to the census bureau, the boost in agricultural employment reflected the return of many industrial laborers to the farms, and the early working of school boys.

CIVILIAN SUPPLY: Agency for Consumers

If the U. S. senate has its way, the supply of civilian goods in America will become the responsibility of a powerful new independent agency answerable only to Stabilization Director James F. Byrnes.

A bill introduced by Senator Maloney of Connecticut and passed by a 44 to 29 vote, provides for the creation of a civilian supply administration which would determine the essential needs of consumers and then place its orders for materials and manpower for the production of the goods. These orders would have the same high ranking as those of the army and navy.

The new administration would replace the recently reformed office of civilian requirements within the War

SENATOR F. T. MALONEY Would determine civilian needs.

Production board. Arthur D. White-side was appointed to head the reorganized office after protests that the WPB had sidetracked civilian industry in its concentration on war production.

Opponents of Maloney's bill contended the WPB office should be given an opportunity to operate before another new governmental agency is created.

LOCAL BOARDS: OPA Increases Power

Authority of local rationing boards was greatly increased through a new order issued by the Office of Price Administration. Boards now can revoke gas ration books if they find the bearer has misinformed them upon applying for the book, or if the operator of a commercial vehicle has violated a provision of the Office of Defense Transportation.

Ration books may also be revoked for speeding.

RUMI PLAN: Returned to Life

Buried more than a month ago, the Rumi plan has sprung back to life, and although it has slightly changed form, it is still recognizable in congress. The latest version of the Rumi plan would forgive all income taxes for one year, except those of persons excessively profiting from the war, and put the nation's taxpayers on a current basis.

According to the latest bill, a 20 per cent withholding tax after legal exemptions, would be imposed on all weekly wages or salaries, on either the 1942 or 1943 incomes, whichever are higher. The remaining year's taxes would be wiped out.

To guard against persons profiting from excessive profits from the war effort, regular normal and surtax rates would be applied against all income over the person's ordinary income for 1938, '39 or '40, plus a $10,000 exemption.

Provisions for special payments by farmers and professional people are included, indications being that farmers would pay all but the last installment this year, and then make a final settlement on March 15 of 1944. The latest bill differs from the one recently passed by the house, in that the house bill would merely forgive taxes on the normal and first surtax rate.

FRANCO: 'No One Can Win'

Appealing to "the conscience of peoples," Spanish Chief of State Francisco Franco again called upon the warring powers to come to peace.

Asserting that the present conflict had reached a deadlock, Franco said that neither side now has the power to destroy the other.

"The world has now undergone three years of war and when this time is passed it is fitting to think of peace, of ending hates and of bringing peoples together," Franco stated.

Again claiming that Spain has preserved her neutrality to be available to the warring powers as a mediator in negotiations, Franco declared: "Abroad, Spain demands a post which corresponds to her history in service, humanity and worth."

To Franco's plea, Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden of Britain replied: "Our terms are unconditional surrender."

INVASION: To Hit Underbelly?

Prime Minister Churchill's twangy reference some months ago to the Mediterranean shoreline as the "underbelly of Europe" was ill received in the Axis capitals. It was much better, Axis officials said, to refer to the territory as the "abdomen."

But "underbelly" or "abdomen," they both look alike to approximately a million Allied troops, facing Europe's southern boundary from one end of North Africa to the other. The big question on everyone's mind was: When will the United Nations swing the knockout punch at the enemy's midriff?

To counter the expected blow, the Nazis were feverishly completing coastal defenses in southern France. Whisked from North Africa, Marshal Rommel was reported inspecting fortifications in Greece, where the Germans have worked out an elaborate outer ring on the many Aegean islands leading to the mainland. Bulgaria was said to be putting the finishing touches on defenses facing neutral Turkey.

Matching the large Allied forces in North Africa are well over two million troops in England, poised for a thrust at any point, or series of points, along the whole occupied European mainland from Norway to southern France. When the invasion comes, several landings undoubtedly will be made, to spread the Nazi defense forces.

SUPREME COURT: Free Air

In a decision read by Justice Felix Frankfurter, the Supreme court broke the grip big radio chains reputedly held over smaller stations. Whereas it was alleged the chains could compel affiliates to carry certain programs, and deny them the right to present others through contract terms, the Supreme court verdict now allows the smaller stations a free choice.

The Supreme court ruled that the Federal Communications commission's order of 1941 providing that no licenses shall be granted to stations or applicants having specified relationships with networks was within the law.

The two big chains contesting the FCC's order argued that the agency lacked the authority to formulate such a regulation. However, the 5 to 2 majority, speaking through Justice Frankfurter, declared:

"The act gave the (FCC) not niggardly but expansive powers . . ."

MISCELLANY:

CUT LINES: As an indication of the tenseness that has gripped southeastern Europe in the expectation of an Allied invasion, telephone communications have been cut between Axis Bulgaria and neutral Turkey.

TOO COMPLACENT: Rookies entering the army are too complacent and think the war is boy scout stuff, Maj. Gen. C. L. Scott at Fort Knox, Ky., has said.

"DO's" and "DON'Ts" FOR RED RATION STAMP SHOPPERS

DO BUDGET YOUR POINTS.

Add up the number of red stamp points your family has each week (16 for each person). Study the Point Value Chart published in newspapers and posted in stores. Get clear in your mind about the period each group of stamps is good for. This is the way it works: Each week a new set of red stamps with a different letter becomes valid. They remain valid until the end of the month.

DO PLAN BEFORE GOING TO THE STORE.

Planning in advance will prevent confusion and waste of time at the store, and—particularly important—will enable you to serve more nutritious, better-balanced meals. Study dealers' advertisements to get an idea of which meats are available and check on their point values. Remember, all cuts of meat contain the same nutritional elements, and are important suppliers of complete proteins, B vitamins, and the minerals iron, copper and phosphorus.

DO HAVE STAMPS READY.

When you get to the cash register, try to be ready with stamps totaling the exact number of points needed for your purchases. Sometimes your dealer will have to "make change" for you. The one-point stamps may be used in making change and may be used again as long as they are valid.

DON'T EXPECT THE IMPOSSIBLE OF YOUR DEALER.

Rationing assures a fair share of the available supplies for everyone but it cannot always assure you just the cut of meat, or kind of table spread, you may want. So be ready to use whatever your dealer has. He can give you more help in making selections if you shop early in the week and early in the day.

DON'T COUNT ON GETTING A PARTICULAR CUT OF MEAT.

Even though your dealer has the skill that comes from years of practice he still cannot always cut a piece of meat or cheese that will weigh the exact amount you ask for. There are bound to be times when the piece he cuts weighs a little less or a little more than you specified. To figure the point values required for these odd ounces, a special table has been prepared. Very likely you have already cut it out of the paper. It is posted in stores, too. Study it and get thoroughly acquainted with its use.

DON'T BE SULKY.

about cooperating with the food rationing program and sharing the civilian supply equally with workers and their families. It is necessary because we are fighting to win the greatest war in history. In a world where millions are starving and dying, how can anyone complain because he can't have ALL the meat or butter he'd like! Great amounts of America's food are going to our fighting forces and to lands where our flag is advancing. The food we do without at home is a vital munition of war.

Tractor Lights Speed War Work

One of the wartime time-saving hints, especially valuable in 1943 when spring farm work has been delayed by the weather, would be to use lights on tractors at night and get double duty out of machines during planting time.

The suggestion comes from the agricultural engineering department at Michigan State College. Few tractors of the thousands in the state are equipped with lights. Many of the late models have fittings on which lights can be mounted.

But any tractor can be rigged with lights, says W. H. Sheldon of the college staff. A storage battery will supply energy and can be charged by a tractor generator or charged when not in use. Regular spotlights or lights salvaged from a wrecked car or truck can be used, with any automotive wiring.

A spotlight on a swivel mounting is especially useful on the rear of the tractor to watch equipment and how it is operating. One or two lights on the front are sufficient for lighting the way ahead.

Batteries mounted on the tractor can be borrowed temporarily from the family car or truck, Sheldon points out. Such a battery with a capacity of 80 to 120 ampere-hours of energy, would supply electricity for three lights burning a total of 10 amperes for a total of eight to 12 hours.

If batteries are recharged by operation of the tractor itself, the generator can be mounted to drive off the fan belt from an additional pulley, or from a pulley mounted on the front end of the crankshaft. The generator should turn 1,500 to 2,000 revolutions per minute. Bulbs in lights would be from 21 to 32 candlepower.
