Blackouts Over 55 Counties Are Marked Successes

Chief Air Raid Warden Keating Pleased with Response of Citizens Here.

The recent practice blackouts in 55 counties in the western, eastcentral and northern portions of the Lower Peninsula were marked attended previous exercises under the new air raid warning signal system, reports of official observers to Capt. Donald S. Leonard, director of civilian defense, indicate. 1944.

The tests also served to confirm previous judgment that the extinguishing of street lights during the Blue periods is the most effective way to reduce sky-glow.

"Local civilian defense officials were enthusiastic about the new system after these first tests, and judging from the high degree of participation, they were well received by the public too," Capt. Leonard said.

The Upper Peninsula will have a practice blackout June 25, completing a series covering the en-

Lights of New York by L. L. STEVENSON

Gadahout Notes: To the theater to see the new Guild hit, "Oklahoma," a play with music, which we found entirely to our liking. In fact, we got a real thrill out of it since not only is the production colorful, tuneful and swift moving, but is also intensely American. The story, first given the stage by Lynn Riggs' play, "Green Grow the Lilacs," deals with Oklahoma before it became a state and when life was not nearly so complicated. The music by Richard Rogers is top flight while the book and lyrics by Oscar Hammerstein II are in full keeping with the music. Agnes DeMille is responsible for the dances, which are by no means a minor matter, the rodeo dancers, integrated deftly, being both novel and enjoyable. The direction was in the capable hands of Rouben Mamoulian. Add to all that, an extremely capable cast headed by Alfred Drake and Joan Roberts.

Of the various songs, the one that lingers in memory strongest is "The Surrey With the Fringe on Top," not only because of its tuneful lilt but because of the many memories it brought back. Spring, the road winding along the Scioto river, my youth-and a surrey with fringe on the top. I didn't catch all the words, not through the faults of the singers, but because so many scenes of former days were blurring my eyes and ears. Another is "Oklahoma," which emphasizes the Americanism of the whole production. In it Aunt Eller (Betty Garde) declares she doesn't think she's better than anyone else but she's damned if she isn't as good as anybody, or words to that effect. And I guess that sums up the feelings of a lot of citizens of this nation. Wish I could devote more space to "Oklahoma" since it proved to be such a satisfactory evening in the theater.

At Ruby Foo's den we found that the gold Buddha that has reposed on an altar since the place was opened four years ago and before which debs burned joss sticks to see if they would wed within the year, was sitting on the floor. The reason was that a new Buddha, done in bas-relief and gold lacquered, of course, was soon to be installed in place of the old one. The newcomer will not be serious and solemn as his predecessor but will wear a smile because in these times, as David Green, the manager, explained, smiles are needed. We noted other changes at Ruby Foo's-new faces among the staff which seemed strange because up to six months ago, 90 per cent of the employees had been with the place since the start. Of the originals, the only ones that remain are Mr. Green, Billy Gwan, the headwaiter, and Sing, the

JOHN'S COUNSEL TO CHRISTIANS

LESSON TEXT-II John 4-11; III John 5-12.
GOLDEN TEXT—Beloved, I pray that in all things thou mayest prosper and be in health, even as thy soul prospereth.—
III John 2.

Christians need guidance, especially in their home and church relationships. The apostle John, under the inspiration of the Holy Spirit, wrote the two personal letters known to us as II and III John. They abound in sound spiritual, practical advice. Note that these two words belong together, for what is truly spiritual cannot help but be tremendously practical and perfect for the direction of thought and life.

In these letters five admirable lessons are taught. Let us give heed to them. They are appropriate to

I. Set an Example Before Your Children (II John 4-6).

We may not like to admit it, but our children are largely what we make them by their training-or lack of it-in the home. Parents have the grave and at the same time precious responsibility of being what they want their children to be. We set the mold of their thinking and acting, not only about material things, but mentally and spiritually, which is far more important.

Above all we must teach them by precept and example to love God supremely, and to walk after His commandments. Father, mother, have you done your duty? Are your children "walking in truth" (v. 4)?

II. Be on Guard Against False Teachers (II John 7-11).

We are not to countenance false teaching even by entertaining such teachers, or having close fellowship with them. To create the impression before the world and the Church that they are "not so bad," by appearing as their friends, is to partake of their evil works (v. 11). This is a serious matter, and one which is a problem in the Church today.

Such teachers may easily be recognized. They are aptly described by Dr. Douglass: "In all ages the Church has been plagued by those who want to substitute something for pure Christian faith, or to embroider it with bright ideas of their own conceiving. Such people may try to strip religion of its supernatural aspect and reduce it to a merely rationalistic system. They may seek to slyly loosen the moral standards of the Church because their own lives are deficient when measured by such standards. They may try to minimize the teaching of the cross because it stands for sacrifice." Watch against them, and stand

III. Be Diligent in Putting Forward True Teachers (III John 5-8) The door which should be closed against false teachers should be opened wide to those who are faithful teachers of the truth. This refers primarily to the hospitality of the home, and reminds us of a grace which has been all but forgotten in these days of small apartments.

Whether we are able to open our homes to God's servants or not, we can show a Christian spirit of genuine hospitality in helping to bring them forward (v. 6) in their work. This may be done by gifts of money, by kindness shown in time of need. by a real interest in their work, by recommending them to others who wish to hear the truth.

Do everything possible, then, to head at the Stork club, in black as diligent to put forward the ministry of the true man of God.

> IV. Do Not Trust Proud. Self-Seeking Leadership (III John 9-11). A man may be orthodox, and intensely loyal to the denomination, and at the same time be a wicked man whose example is to be shunned. No word is said against the teaching of Diotrephes. He was not condemned for being careless about the affairs of the church, or unfaithful in his attendance and devotion to its interest as he saw them.

The sin of Diotrephes was pride, a desire to be the boss of the church, "No. 1 man" in its affairs. Lacking the true spirituality which always results in humility, he opposed the apostle. Not only did he refuse to receive him, but used pressure on others who were willing to be hos-

V. Emulate the Life of the Man of Good Report (III John 12). A good man! No words of praise could possibly surpass such a testimony. The world is full of brilliant, skilled, wealthy and prominent people, but there is an appalling dearth of good men and women.

How refreshing to meet, and how delightful to know, such a man-such a woman. Like Demetrius, they have not only the witness of the Church, and of the truth, but also of "all men." But last week we said the world hates real Christians. It does, but it also respects them, and is forced to bear witness to their reality and goodness. Professed fellowship with God in Christ which does not result in goodness of life may well be scrutinized.

. another job Electricity is doing to help win the war

A white-hot ingot of steel weighing several tons shoots along on conveyors in the rolling mill, passing between giant rolls that squeeze it to the desired shape. The whole operation is mechanical: Powerful electric motors turn the rollers that guide the steel on its way. Electric motors of five thousand horsepower operate the huge sheet mills and the great "flying shears" that snip off chunks of steel like paper.

Electricity opens and closes the doors of the openhearth furnaces where the molten steel is refined. Electricity operates the furnace fans and valves and a variety of auxiliary equipment. Electricity runs the 125-ton crane. Electricity picks up the 175-ton ladle that pours the molten steel into molds. Electricity drives the 200-ton "stripper," which lifts the mold in a pair of giant "ice-tongs" and punches the ingot from the mold with a huge plunger.

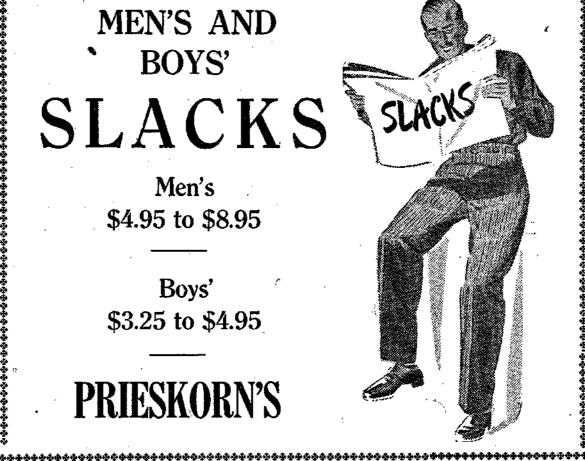

Without electric power, the flow of armor plate for today's tanks and ships and guns would be only a dribble. This is just one more job that electricity is doing to help win the war. The Detroit Edison Com-

Paint Terraces

Coloring of concrete terraces can be accomplished either with paints or stains manufactured especially for the purpose. Before painting, the concrete should be washed thoroughly with tri-sodium phosphate or washing soda to remove any grease or oil. A pound or a pound and a half of the cleansing chemical should be dissolved in a gallon of water. After cleaning, the concrete should be well rinsed with water and two days should elapse before staining or painting.

Illuminate Pedestrian

Phosphorescent trimmings are getting to be the thing in New York's dimout. One can catch a glimpse of a phosphorescent glove on the arm of an army man, a phosphorescent shoe jumping into a bus, or a pretty feather-cut coiffure with a phosphorescent bow vanishing into a restaurant. There are dresses that have a glow, too.

Fertlizer Produces Rust

Fertilizer is probably the best rust-producer known. A handful of fertilizer and a little moisture left in the bottom of the hopper of a fertilizer distributor can literally weld together all of moving parts.

to their young children. This in no way encourages a child to learn good English. It may be "cute" to hear little Johnny lisping out some baby phrase, but it certainly would be better for Johnny if he were encouraged to speak correctly. Children learn by imitation, so the example set them should be good.

Many children ask what parents call "foolish questions"—and unfortunately the parents give foolish answers. Make an effort to give your child a sensible answer to his questions. If he asks you what the moon is made of-don't tell him "green cheese"-but tell him a little story of the planets, and how they came to be.

READ THE STORY BELOW THIS PICTURE

This is a picture of the second wreck on this property, belonging to Dora Westfall and located two miles west and four miles south of Fowlerville. The first wreck occurred May 29, 1942, loss $2,568.94, and the other loss caused by this year's storm, April 27, was $6,465.00. The Michigan Mutual Prompty Paid these losses. It is interesting to note that these two buildings stood on exactly the same spot.

THE BUSY NIERGARTHS

ARE LEAVING CASS CITY During J. Ivan Niergarth's 15 years of association with the Cass City High School as principal and superintendent, 937 seniors have been graduated from that institution. Some of the graduates of the earlier years now have children of their own in the kindergarten and lower grades of the same school.

Mr. Niergarth has been active in civic and church circles of the community. He has served as retary, Rotary Club president, and as a member and treasurer of the drew Cross on Sunday. board of trustees of the Evangelical Church. In school circles, he has president of the Thumb Round the mother of Mrs. Bishop. Table, president of the Tuscola unit of the Michigan Educational Association and a delegate for six years to the representative assembly of the M. E. A.

Mrs. Niergarth has been equally as busy as her husband in community activities. She has been a willing worker in local church societies and as local Red Cross chairman has accomplished a wonderful work.

The Niergarths are moving this week to St. Johns where Mr. Niergarth has accepted a position as superintendent of schools. Their activities here will necessarily have to be left to other competent hands. The community wishes them Godspeed in their new surroundings and the St. Johns area will find them faithful, willing and qualified workers in worthwhile activities.

WEEKLY NEWS ANALYSIS

Mediterranean Victories Prepare Way For New Allied Campaign Against Axis; Essential Production to Be Increased By Simplification of Consumer Items

(EDITOR'S NOTE: When opinions are expressed in those columns, they are those of Western Newspaper Union's news analysts and not necessarily of this newspaper.)

Under the watchful eyes of U. S. guards, Axis prisoners march in internment camp in Camp Atterbury, Ind. Since fighting in North Africa, many of these camps have sprung up throughout the country, the average concentration holding 2,000 prisoners and 500 American troops. Prisoners of war are treated under rules of an international convention.

MEDITERRANEAN: Eyes Turn to Sicily

With Allied shipping reported

massed in the Sicilian straits, all Italy awaited invasion.

Preparatory to the expected blow at the "underbelly of Europe," Allied airmen ranged over the Italian islands of Sardinia and Sicily, the Axis' remaining bastions in the Mediterranean following the fall of Pantelleria, Lampedusa, Lampione and Airfields at Catania and Gerbini in Sicily were attacked. At Catania, enemy fighters rose in force to challenge the Allied assault.

Although Allied headquarters remained silent on their military movements in the Mediterranean, the Nazis reported that their airmen were engaging in running fights with large convoys off North Africa. The Axis also stated that the Allies had massed invasion barges at Bi

Meanwhile, the Allies kept the Axis guessing about their next move. Strong aerial formations attacked Axis shipping in the Aegean sea, where the Nazis have fortified the islands leading to the Grecian

SIMPLIFY GOODS:

From Cradle to Grave In an effort to increase production of necessary essentials, the government has ordered the simplification of more than 1,000 manufactured items. Elimination of frills and variety of sizes is expected to result in enough conservation of material to add to production. The simplification order will affect Americans from the cradle-to-thegrave. Metal will be restricted in baby's cribs, and the length, width and depth of coffins will be limited. Cast iron kitchen utensils will be confined to 12 items, and 40 styles of enamelware have been eliminated. Wood furniture will be reduced to 24 basic patterns. Whereas 1,150 types of tools formerly were made, only 357 now will be permitted. Production of electric bulbs will be cut from 3,500 types to 1,700. Feminine apparel will be simplified along with children's sportswear and rayon

AIR OFFENSIVE: Cities in Flames

Bremen's big Atlas shipyards were rocked by a dozen bomb hits as American airmen continued their joint attacks with the RAF over German industrial centers. Results of the U.S. raid on the submarine base of Kiel were unobserved, as swarms of Nazi fighter planes arose to the defense. While the Americans hammered the Atlas works, strong British units, bolstered by huge four-engined bombers, ripped Duesseldorf and Bochum in the Ruhr. Blockbusters caused heavy damage in both cities, sweeping fires adding to the havoc. Mass evacuations were reported, and the German radio asked people in other districts to make room for the refugees.

Size of the raiding fleets can be gleaned from the Nazi claim of having shot down 46 planes, 29 of which were supposed to be the four-engined machines. German aerial activity meanwhile was limited to a short, sharp sally over a London suburb, where bombs were dropped.

FOREIGN AFFAIRS: World Cooperation

American participation in the establishment and maintenance of post-war peace was unanimously recommended by the house foreign affairs committee,

In a simple, 35-word resolution which it recommended to the house and senate for approval, the committee declared: ". . . Congress hereby express itself as favoring the creation of appropriate international machinery with power adequate to establish and to maintain a just and lasting peace, and as favoring participation by the United States

Introduced by Representative J. W. Fulbright (Ark.), the resolution was passed after being stripped of the phrase calling for the organization of an international body to prevent future aggression, and to maintain law, order and lasting peace. Since this section touched on the highly controversial subject of an international police force, it was

FOOD CZAR: Wanted by Congress

Shortly after a bi-partisan group of legislators conferred with President Roosevelt and suggested that he appoint a single czar to handle the food situation, the War Food administration prepared issuance of a report dealing with unfavorable crop and meat prospects.

Led by Senator Walter George, the five senators and four representatives urged that a single authority be delegated to co-ordinate production, distribution, preservation, rationing and pricing agricultural commodities.

It was reported the President suggested an appropriation from 1½ to 2 billion dollars for subsidies to be used in "rolling back" the prices of foods. Many legislators oppose the subsidies, contending the money used only will have to be repaid in

In commenting on crop prospects, the War Food administration declared floods in the Midwest and dry weather over the great plains have caused considerable damage. Meat slaughter and dairy production have failed to approach expectations.

DRAFT: Fathers Due for Call

"Fathers will be placed in uniform at least by the last quarter of this

With this statement the War Manpower commission, headed by Paul V. McNutt. announced the Selective Service board's new draft policy in informing employers to prepare for replacement of married men with children in industry after October 1. In addressing 5,500 employers who have filed replacement lists with state draft directors, the WMC said that after July 1 the employers also should plan to release the childless married men within six months. Although the WMC's remarks were directed to the 5,500 employers, it indicated that its new policy would be broadly applied throughout all industry. Speaking before a house appropriations subcommittee, Draft Director Hershey said 10,900,000 men will be in uniform by December 31. During the first six months of 1944, 115,000 men will be inducted monthly, Hershey declared.

RUSSIA: Action in the Center

Official announcements pertaining to the Russian front continued to be as confusing as the fighting. While the Reds claimed to have thrown back German counterattacks in the Orel region in the center of the line, the Nazis reported the continuation of the strong Russian offensive in the Caucasus.

In neither sector, however, did either side claim any major advance. In relation to renewed Russian activity in the center, the Nazis said the Reds were massing huge forces there, apparently to press the initial attacks of a week ago when big holes were punched in the German line.

Bolstered by the addition of American planes arriving under lendlease, Russian airmen continued sweeping attacks over the German Military installations and transport were bombed.

OIL: Situation Worse'

"We are rapidly passing from an exporting to an importing nation in

With these words Petroleum Administrator Harold Ickes forecast an increasing shortage of crude oil. Such a shortage, Ickes said, would not develop because of a lack of natural resources but rather because of a scarcity of labor, transportation and other factors.

While stating that imports of oil would have to be increased from Venezuela, the Caribbean and Mexico, he declared that California will not be producing sufficient crude by the end of the year to take care of the Pacific war theater and her own

Ickes also blasted the Office of Price Administration for its handling of the gasoline rationing, declaring the OPA was too lenient in its allotments. He said home owners could expect fuel oil rationing next

CORN:

Plan Call on Loans

Aiming at loosening the tight situation in corn for processors and feeders, it was reported Commodity Credit corporation planned to call its loans on 57 million bushels of 1942

Under the proposal, farmers would be allowed 30 days to liquidate their loans. The call would not interfere with the agency's previous move to redeem 35 million bushels of corn on the 1938-'41 crops, effective July 1.

Decision to call the 1942 loans was reported reached after the War Food administration, headed by Chester Davis, turned down proposals for requisitioning the corn. The WFA said requisitioning only would incense farmers and leave the government with the problem of shelling, grading and hauling the corn off the premises.

MEAT PRICES: Down~10%

Answering to President Roosevelt's "hold-the-line" order, retail prices of meat have been "rolled back" 10 per cent, a move that will save housewives an average of three cents per pound The "roll-back" will be accomplished by government payment of subsidies to meat slaughterers to cover their costs of livestock.

Although the action will reduce meat prices, consumers will be compelled to eat even less beef. The War Food administration announced that federally inspected slaughterers had been ordered to reserve 45 per cent of their steer and heifer production for the army.

Flat price ceilings on meat have been drawn by the OPA for four classes of stores, starting with the small independent doing less than $50,000 worth of business a year, and ending with the large operator with an annual volume over $250,000.

NAZI SPY: Intrigue in Hawaii

In November, 1941, Bernard Julius Otto Kuehn offered his services as a spy to the Japanese vice-consul at Honolulu. In a confession to the FBI, he said he volunteered to supply the enemy with information about the national defense of the U. S. Shortly after, Kuehn worked out a system of signals to transmit intelligence of American fleet positions to the Japs. According to testimony, the signals were developed through a window light in the dormer of Kuehn's home near Pearl Harbor. Mrs. Kuehn played a prominent role in the intrigue, according to the FBI. In 1939, her daughter operated a beauty parlor designed to attract "navy business," and in 1940 Mrs. Kuehn visited Japan, returning with geographical literature describing American and British islands in the Pacific. Kuehn, first sentenced to death, was later committed to 50

Discard of Gold Taken. Much of the bureau's search centers in the discarded material, or tailings, left at placer operations and dredges by mining men of former days who sought only gold. Many of these tailings contain some valuable tin ore, of which Alaska now leads the nation in output.

The bureau's exploration of the Lost River tin mine on the Seward peninsula has indicated a substantial tonnage of low-grade tin ore. Tailings are being examined in the Buck Creek-Potato Mountain area, at Cape Mountain, near Tin City, and in the Lost River area, all on the Seward peninsula, near the Arctic Circle.

Near Sleitmut, on the Koskokwim river, another bureau of mines crew is sinking a shaft in search of more mercury ore. At Moose Creek, near Anchorage, coal prospecting has been done. On Prince of Wales island in southeastern Alaska, the bureau is starting a new project for iron and copper ores.

Vitally needed tungsten is being sought near Hyder, also in Southeastern Alaska, and exploratory projects have been carried on at Yakobi island for nickel and on the Kenai peninsula for chromite. Discover Ore Beds.

"Scattered throughout Alaska's 586,000 square miles are many untapped and unexplored mineral deposits which contain virtually all the strategic, critical and essential war metals," Secretary Ickes said. "The territory thus far has produced near-Iv a billion dollars in minerals, most of which has been gold." The bureau's exploratory work in the territory already has resulted in the development of several ore beds. and reports of the mining engineers and metallurgists are transmitted regularly to various interested government agencies, including the War Production board, the Defense Plant corporation, the Board of Economic Warfare, the Reconstruction Finance corporation and the army and navy

In its Alaskan program the bureau of mines works closely with the geological survey also of the department of the interior, which began its studies of the mineral resources of Alaska in 1895.

Speaking on the future of the aviation industry before more than a thousand members and guests of the Illinois Manufacturers' Cost association, Mr. Breech, who is also chairman of the Central Aircraft council, said:

"Through a startling development hazards of blind flying, day or night, will be definitely conquered. These developments are so broad in the scope of their application for military purposes that I cannot hint to you how this has been accomplished.'

Farmers Advised to Check Hog Cholera

Six Common-Sense Precautions Listed

The swine raiser's old enemy, hog cholera, in on the march againand according to all indications it is likely to be one of the greatest threats to our 1943 war goals in pork production.

Last season nearly 5,000 cholera outbreaks were reported to government authorities, and there were probably that many more which were never officially reported. These widespread outbreaks have undoubtedly left the virus of cholera in thousands of rural areas, ready to renew its attack when it comes in contact with susceptible swine. No one can say exactly what the annual cholera loss is at this There is a gasoline filling station time, but it is reliably estimated to be in the neighborhood of $20,000,this season, according to the American Foundation for Animal Health. So, the first advice to farmers who are co-operating in the nation's stepped-up hog program is: "Watch out for cholera." Here are a few common-sense precautions which every farmer should take to protect his drove against this No. 1 swine killer:

1. Have the entire spring pig crop immunized against cholera by the local veterinarian, around weaning time. If this is done while pigs are small, it will take less serum and virus, conserving available supplies needed to take care of this year's larger pig crop.

2. Isolate newly purchased swine for at least two weeks before allowing them to mingle with the home drove.

3. Do not let trucks or wagons drive through your hog lots or pastures. They might carry the virus of cholera on their wheels.

4. Keep out of your neighbor's hog lot, and keep him out of yours. 5. Raise spring pigs on fresh, clean pasture, away from germ-contaminated old hog lots.

6. If any pigs show signs of sickness, have the trouble diagnosed immediately, so protective steps can be taken in time.

Experience shows that one of the principal problems in dealing with hog cholera is its similarity to various other swine diseases. Typical cholera symptoms include a high fever, partial or complete prostration, lack of appetite and listlessness.

By FLORENCE C. WEED

Broom Corn Vacuum cleaners, carpet sweepers and push brooms made from tropical fibers have decreased the market for the ordinary broom made from the broomcorn plant. At the same time, lower prices do not in-veigle people into buying more Broomcorn is unique among agriculture products in that the brush is the only part of the plant now used. The stalk is left standing in the field and is plowed under the next spring. Some is used for feed but is not much liked by animals. The plant will grow in most states but commercial production is confined to small sections in Oklahoma. Colorado, New Mexico, Kansas, Texas and Illimois. It is a highly speculative crop because it is too costly to harvest. Any bumper crop will cause violent price fluctuations. Dur-ing the last ten years, prices have ranged from $37 a ton in 1932 to $164 for a short crop in 1934. About $70 per ton is the average price to the farmer.

Scientists are trying to improve the varieties by cross breeding with other sorghums. They hope to produce a variety with more palatable seeds which livestock will eat.

It would also be advantageous to develop a new kind that will not turn red as this lowers the commercial value of the brush. Manufacturers would also like a better brush without a center stem. Farmers would like one without hair on the chaff which irritates the skin of those working with it.

To find possible markets for the brush, experiments are needed to perfect methods of using the tough fiber in weaving hats and mats.

Exercise Eves

Even the strongest eyes are likely to get tired if you're an avid reader. You can relieve them by doing this little exercise: Pick up a pencil, hold it in front of your face and gradually extend it at arm's length. All the while keep your eyes focussed on the pencil. Ten or 12 times of this will help prevent eye fatigue and strain.

Army Pain's Drab

Lustreless olive drab paint is used on army vehicles because that color of paint reflects a minimum of light and renders the vehicles harder to distinguish from the air or from a distance on the ground. White stencil numbers have been abandoned because they can be photographed from the air, and blue drab pencil markings, which will not show in air films and are much less legible than white, are now used.

Protection should be adequate, packing in layers of crumpled newspaper and enclosing in a stiff paper box. Twenty-five cents in coin or stamps should be enclosed to cover part of the cost of return postage and handling. Another warning is to write clearly or print owner's name and return address.

The packaged gauges may be mailed to W. H. Sheldon, Agricul-Engineering Department, Michigan State College. Unless a deluge of gauges arrives, the instruments will be checked and remailed the day they arrive.

Information to be returned with the gauge will include any deviation from a normal reading. The gauge will be adjusted to normal or near normal reading if possible.
