Gavel Club Members Are Guests of Rotary

Maurice Eveland, Mayville Banker, Speaks on a Nation at War.

The Rotary Club had members of the Gavel Club as guests at a chicken dinner served by the Baptist Ladies' Aid Tuesday evening.

Andrew B. Champion was program chairman and presented Maurice Eveland of Mayville, former state banking commissioner, as the speaker of the evening.

"A world at war places many responsibilities on its citizens," said Mr. Eveland, "and these strenuous times make necessary many sacrifices for the nation's citizens. Our home front must be strong and home folks must have a desire to meet the bravery of our service men in order for this country to achieve victory. No one should make a profit out of this war, either in a financial or political way."

Mr. Eveland expressed the opinion that after the war is over, the saturation point in the manufacture of refrigerators, washing machines, automobiles, etc. could be reached in this country in two years, and after peace arrives, its citizens may expect controlled production in manufactured articles more than today.

"Our duty as citizens is to build a morale higher than ever, for the firing line morale depends upon that maintained on the home front," said the speaker. He predicted a large standing army for the United States after the wars and said the preservation of America depends upon the cooperation of agriculture, business, labor and capital.

Willis Campbell, chairman of the local war bond sales committee, announced Third War Loan sales in the Novesta-Elkland Township area had reached $198,600 on Tuesday, which was $10,500 over the district's $188,100 quota. Frederick Pinney, a member of the bond committee, expressed the appreciation of that group for the fine cooperation of many solicitors in this community in bond selling.

Lt. Wm. N. Spencer of Grenada, Miss., was one of the evening's guests and told of the thrill he experienced in making his first airplane flight over his home town here.

Keith McConkey, Rotary president, welcomed the guests, and Dr. B. H. Starman, president of the Gavel Club, expressed the appreciation of members of his society for the evening's entertainment and predicted another joint meeting with the Gavel Club members as hosts.

Special music was a bass solo, "Tommy Lad," by Guy W. Landon and group singing was under the direction of L. L. Wood. Mrs. Gordon Concluded on page 8.

At the clinic conducted by the Michigan Tuberculosis Association and the Sanilac County Department of Health in the courthouse at Sandusky on Wednesday, Sept. 22, 82 X-rays were taken.

Letters from Men in the Service

Sgt. Gerald Kerbyson, in a letter dated Aug. 18, writes the following from the Middle East to his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Kerbyson:

"The past ten days it surely has been hot here. It has been as high as 138 degrees out in the sun. It does not seem that hot because the air is so dry. Just the same I am glad that I have a job inside.

"I am having some more pictures made and will send them off today or tomorrow. I have over two hundred that I am keeping with me. By the time that I get home I will have a pretty good collection.

"Last week end I did not go any place at all, as it was too hot. I had Sunday afternoon off and I stayed in my hut and read.

"The shows that we are having on the post have been pretty good so there is not much use in going to town.

"You were asking about the things that they grow and eat over here. They grow many of the same vegetables that we have at home like tomatoes, pickles, corn, peas, cabbage, green beans, potatoes and peanuts. They have more but I can not think of them now. They also grow some fruits; they are white grapes, plums, cherries, bananas and a lot of oranges.

"The vegetables that are grown here are not so good to eat as they have many different kinds of sickness that you can get from them.

GAGETOWN NEWS

The Brookfield Methodist Church, formerly the Methodist Protestant Church, like many district schools, has closed its doors and stands as a familiar landmark, located four miles northwest of Gageton and three miles south of Owendale. Last June at an official meeting at Owendale it was deemed advisable to discontinue services for the duration on account of shortage of pastors, gas rationing, and cost of fuel. The congregation of 40 or more members are requested to attend services at Gageton or Owendale, wherever they prefer, as Rev. Earl Geer is pastor at both places. This church was founded June 24, 1886, and on June 24, 1936, the members celebrated the 50th anniversary. It is a regrettable fact to close a church with basement, kitchen and dining room all with modern improvements. The members of the W. S. C. S. have worked with untiring efforts to cooperate with meeting expenses and were especially noted for their excellent quilting. The Youth Fellowship group was comprised of several members. The former pastor of this country church were Rev. Mr. Gray, Rev. N. Mikel, Rev. Mr. Helmbold, Rev. Mr. Morrison, Rev. Earl Geer, Rev. Ray Wilson, Rev. Wesley Dafeo, Rev. Mr. Burch, Rev. Paul Albery, Rev. Wm. Coombs, Rev. Thomas Tamblin, Rev. Chester Miller and the present pastor, Rev. Earl Geer.

Rev. and Mrs. C. Ross Emrick, having closed two weeks of evangelistic services in the Nazarene Church here, have gone to Ellington Nazarene Church where a two weeks' revival will be held. While here, Mr. and Mrs. Emrick made many friends.

Mr. and Mrs. L. C. Purdy returned last week after spending six weeks at their cottage on Otsego Lake. While there, they made extensive improvements to their cottage and grounds.

Mrs. Gertrude Ricker of Detroit, a charter member of Gifford Chapter, has spent several days visiting her brother, Charles Williamson, and her many friends in Cass City, Owendale and Bad Axe.

Mr. and Mrs. Maxwell Michaelson and son, Jackie, of Syracuse, New York, were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Don Wilson Saturday on their way to Crescent Beach to visit Mrs. George A. Wilson, mother of Mr. Michaelson.

Past Matrons of Gifford Chapter met Thursday for noon luncheon with Miss Maude Hendershot. A social afternoon followed.

The W. S. C. S. of the Methodist Church will serve a noon luncheon at the dining room of the church Thursday, Oct. 7.

Miss Helen Quinn of Detroit spent last week at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Quinn.

John Lehman and Miss Florence Lehman left Saturday for an extended motor trip through northern Michigan.

Mrs. James McNeil of Phoenix, Arizona, and son, John McNeil, of Royal Oak spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Creguer.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Nelson of Owendale were Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. L. C. Munro.

Mr. and Mrs. John Karner of Kalkaska and Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Karner of Essexville were Sunday and Monday guests of Mrs. Barbara Weiler.

Calvin Tebedo of Camp Endicott, Rhode Island, recently visited his parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Tebedo. Jack Tebedo was also a visitor of his parents at this time. Calvin was transferred to another camp.

A MILKMAN'S VIEW OF BAY CITY.

(By Joy H. Smith.)

4:30 a. m.—alarm clock does a buck and wing and I capture same and subdue it. Dress rapidly, grab coat and tiptoe downstairs as there is an unwritten law not to wake people in apartment below as they might try to get even.

Progress to dairy, load truck with many cases of milk; only pinch fingers once this morning. Split up 300-lb. ice cake to keep milk cold until delivered. Drive to part of city where my 212 customers live.

Take two quarts and head for first stop. See note in bottle after walking up long flight of stairs. The lady wants only one-half pint coffee cream, so walk back down steps to truck to get cream. Return up the stairs, stub toe and wake up customer who comes to door and changes her mind. She decides she wants the two quarts milk too, so I return to truck to get same!

The notes calling for whipping cream are the last word in wishful thinking.

Plenty railroad tracks are scattered around in Bay City. A locomotive is likely to come strolling out of the morning mists from most any direction. In fact, they actually stroll alongside of you as contented as tabby cats. They will purr like a kitten if you scratch their ribs with your front fender.

An elderly lady waves to me and, thinking she wants to check her account, I pick up the book and go in. It is more important than that. Her soldier son is home from Australia and I must share her happiness.

Ever live in a house trailer? Well, a lot of people over here do and among other things they drink milk. In two more months I can tell you how many empty milk bottles one house trailer will hold. Most house trailer dwellers return the empties when they have saved four dozen.

Among the inhabitants of Bay City are children. To get a bunch of them together, drop a chunk of ice on the sidewalk and watch thirty-odd scramble for the pieces. An iceberg shattered thus would not supply the demand.

It would fascinate a professor of languages to hear how many different ways young children say milk. Five-child family gets eight quarts of milk; ten-child family gets one quart and everybody gathers around and watches baby drink it.

Setting the bottles down and picking up the empties quietly is regular instruction for new milkmen. Do milkmen ever drop a bottle or break one? That is a painful subject. We do. What we hate most is a cracked bottle. For instance, you pick up two bottles in your left hand, place the cracked one under your left arm, not knowing it is cracked. Two more are arched up in your right hand. The pressure of your left arm causes cracked bottle to collapse and the milk cascades down your clean uniform as it takes a short cut to the ground.

A mention of Bay City's parks is in order. Broad lawns, well kept, and many varieties of trees make a treat for anyone who loves them. Birds are fond of parks; in one it is estimated over 10,000 roost every night.

Ample Fresh Fruits, Vegetables Will Aid Winter Food Backlog

Late crops of fresh fruits and vegetables will do much toward relieving any scarcity of other food items during the coming winter.

This is the view expressed by Harvey A. Baum, general manager of A & P's produce-buying operations, based on latest reports from the U. S. Department of Agriculture, and from the company's field men in all parts of the country.

"The outlook is encouraging," Baum said. "The orange crop gives promise of being ahead of last year's heavy production. The nation's grape supply will be a record one, with plenty remaining for domestic needs after a larger proportion of the crop is processed for war needs. The yield of other fruits is below that of a year ago, but of most of these there will be a fair supply.

"The vegetable situation is good, particularly with regard to basic vegetables which are most essential from a nutritional standpoint. The potato crop indicates a record increase of 90,000,000 bushels over last year.

"The outlook for other major vegetables is promising. Acreage and growing conditions point to large yields of sweet potatoes, cabbage, lettuce and late carrots. Some smaller truck crops and less essential vegetables will show decreases from last year's large production, but on the whole will approach normal yields of the past ten years."

Beggar Through Hobby Has $2,200 in Banks

LONDON.—Although Frederick W. Hopkins, 63 years old, apparently begs as a hobby, according to the police, he got 21 days of hard labor in prison as his sentence in Lambeth, England. When arrested for his fifth begging offense police found papers on him showing he had $2,200 on deposit in banks.

'Ghost' to Fight Again for France

Reported Killed in '40, He's Ready to Join Giraud.

NEW YORK.—Max Justes, a tall, sturdy Frenchman, who left New York in 1940 to go to the aid of his invaded country, was with an artillery regiment near Sedan when the Germans broke through the French lines, and soon afterward he was reported to have been killed in an attempt to stem the Nazi tide. Standing at a New York bar, Max Justes announced he was on his way back to the front "to put some of the Nazis where they thought they had put me."

Mr. Justes had a simple explanation of how he rose from the supposed dead to fight once more for France. "I just wasn't killed," he said. "I wasn't even wounded. When my regiment retreated I went with it. We were near Vichy when the armistice was signed. After being demobilized, I returned to New York in 1941."

The report of his death, published in a New York newspaper, spread gloom among his friends, and Mr. Justes said: "I didn't realize I had so many friends until I came back to life." One of them, Marcel Brammer, of 85-48 214th street, Queens Village, Queens, was stunned one day, when, walking down Fifth avenue, he bumped into Mr. Justes. "I thought he was an apparition," Mr. Brammer related.

Before he left in 1940 Mr. Justes operated a travel bureau at the Hotel Pierre and after his return he established the Maxandre Parfums company, at 441 Madison avenue. Though he prefers perfume to gunpowder, he explained, "there's no choice in the matter while Germans are still in France."

Mr. Justes, who has first citizenship papers, has been released by his draft board to return to service with the French army. His two companions, who are naturalized citizens, are awaiting releases.

New Detector Device Marks Flaws in Rails

MILWAUKEE.—Chalk up another victory for the railroads in their effort to speed up vital wartime traffic and prevent rail tieups before they occur.

Under direction of William Brazitis, the engineering department of the Association of American Railroads has perfected a device that can detect hidden or surface flaws in steel rails which would cause untold thousands of dollars' damage to wartime freight in wrecks from sudden rail breaks.

The detector car was built in the Milwaukee road shops here, and made its maiden trip recently between here and Green Bay, Wis. Brazitis reported it worked perfectly except for minor adjustments.

Built in two units—one operating, the other detecting—the car travels as fast as 45 miles per hour on power supplied by a 130-horsepower motor. This motor also furnished power for the generator needed to energize the magnetic pickups resting on each rail. Brazitis revealed that an electro-magnetic field energizes the rails, making them a semi-permanent magnet. The pickup apparatus on the car moves through this residual magnetism and surface or hidden rail defects are set up in a local field, carrying an impulse to amplifiers similar in construction of a home radio.

Sailors Quell Two Bears In Pit to Rescue Girl

SAN DIEGO.—Two sailors leaped into a bear pit at the San Diego zoo, fought off three Malayan sun bears, and rescued 13-year-old Joyce Howlett.

She had been clawed and bitten severely.

The zoo director, Mrs. Belle Benchley, said the girl must have climbed over a fence and leaped a moat to get in the pit.

Her rescuers, W. H. Fields, aviation machinist's mate, and Leon Chriskrut, naval training station sailor, first fought off the bears with clubs, then subdued them by turning a stream of water on them from a hose.

Would-Be Extortionist Finds Job Unprofitable

HOLLYWOOD, CALIF.—The ambitions of 19-year-old Roger Barker to be the nation's greatest shake-down artist came to a sad end here when he was given a five-year prison sentence along with a five-year probationary period. Among the famous people to whom he wrote threatening letters of extortion were Bette Davis, Rosalind Russell, Mickey Rooney, Deanna Durbin and former Governor Culbert L. Olson—without one single paying bite from anyone.

7,000 Drown

About 7,000 Americans drowned accidentally last year. To be safe, swim at guarded beaches and pools if available, don't swim alone, don't dive without knowing the depth of the water, and wait at least two hours after a meal before entering the water. Swimmers, especially good swimmers, are easy victims of the "it can't happen to me" attitude.

How Kimsul Insulation Keeps You Warmer

with less fuel, in winter

Here's a home improvement that really does pay for itself—in luxurious winter weather comfort and in actual dollars and cents clipped off your fuel bill! The thermal conductivity of KIMSUL is only .27 Btu per square foot. (Peebles.) That means that Double Thick KIMSUL, installed in your attic, is capable of holding in up to 80% of the heat which would otherwise escape there. You get more real value out of scarce, expensive fuel.

The needs of our country in wartime will undoubtedly require ever stricter rationing of fuel. It's important, therefore, to plan on insulating your home now with KIMSUL. Many home owners have found that reduced consumption of fuel has paid for their KIMSUL installation in a relatively short time; they enjoy the extra comfort practically as a gift.

CRACKED BOILERS

IT IS not uncommon for a home owner to be startled by the cracking of a boiler during the idle season. With the boiler out of commission, there seems no reason or excuse for such a calamity. Yet there is a very good reason for it, although the origin may date back to the time when the boiler was installed. A boiler is made up of sections, which during installation are held together by what are called tie-rods; that is, rods passing through to draw the sections tightly together by the setting up of nuts at the ends. The tightening of these tie-rods is necessary during installation, but when once the sections are brought together, the tie-rod is no longer needed. The nuts at the ends can then be loosened, or, as a matter of fact, the rods can be withdrawn entirely. If the nuts are left tight, rust will form under them, and in time may produce so much pressure that the sections will give way under it. Unfortunately, there is no way in which the home owner can check up on this condition. He can only hope that the boiler was installed by someone who understood the situation and guarded against it by the loosening of the tie-bolt nuts.

Shellac for Floors

Question: Shellac is recommended for hardwood floors, with scatter rugs. But from my experience with shellac, I conclude that good spar varnish would be better. What do you think?

Answer: When correctly applied, shellac is an excellent finish, and will withstand heavy wear. However, it should be applied only to bare wood. If there is any old finish left on your floors, it should all be taken off with a heavy floor machine. The shellac used should not be more than six months old, and of top quality; the dealer can assure you on both these points. Shellac should not be used as it comes, but be thinned with two to three parts of good denatured alcohol to every two parts of shellac. Under these conditions you can get excellent service.

Scorched Rug

Question: In taking a kerosene stain from an old Persian rug it was covered with brown paper and ironed. But the iron was too hot and the rug was scorched. What will remove the mark?

Answer: The scorch mark is actual damage to the tips of the fibers of the rug. One way to take out the mark is to rub gently with medium to coarse emery cloth.

Wood Shingles

Question: In laying wood shingles I am told that there should be spaces between the roof boards. Is this so?

Answer: No; it is not. Spaces are supposed to be for ventilation, but that seems to be unnecessary. If it were, roof insulation would not be possible. For instructions on laying wood shingles write the Red Cedar Shingle Bureau, Chicago.

Paint Thinner

Question: I have used clear gasoline in place of turpentine for thinning house paint. It seems to work, but evaporates quickly. Could I use leaded gasoline for the purpose?

Answer: Gasoline is not recommended, for it evaporates completely. Turpentine, on the other hand goes into combination with the paint, and the results are longer lasting.

Outdoor Grill

Question: We want to build an outdoor fireplace for cooking. Where can we get plans?

Answer: There have been a number of articles on grill design in the magazines Popular Science and Popular Mechanics. You can look them up at a public library.

Coating Wallpaper

Question: Is there some kind of clear shellac I could use to protect my kitchen wallpaper, especially above the stove?

Answer: You can use good quality white shellac, or a water clear varnish to be had from a dealer in wallpaper.

Painting Fiber Rug

If the rug is used indoors you can use dye to be had at a drug store. For outdoor use, get house paint thinned with one-quarter as much turpentine. Rub it into the fiber instead of merely coating the surface.

DEFORD DIARY

Obsequies of Mary Hack—

Mrs. Joseph Hack passed away in death September 25 at Pleasant Home Hospital in Cass City. Mrs. Hack was in very poor health for the past few years and suffered much for some time past.

The deceased was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Aaron Huffman and was born in Canada March 28, 1868, coming to this locality at three years of age with her parents, who were among the earliest settlers here.

Mary Huffman was married to Joseph Hack in 1883. Mr. Hack died 16 years ago in Deford. Formerly they lived on a farm one mile west of Deford and later sold the farm and kept a hotel here.

They were the parents of ten children, four of whom died in youth. Six daughters survive, Mrs. Russell Bettes of Lowell, Mrs. Ray Walker of Kingston, Mrs. Charles Walker near Almont, Mrs. William Forest of Detroit, Mrs. Howard Parks of Lapeer, and Mrs. William Snyder of Ferndale. There are 20 grandchildren and several great grandchildren. She leaves one sister, Mrs. John Wright, of Caro, three brothers, George of Roscommon and William and Charles of Caro.

Mrs. Hack was a splendid neighbor, a Christian, and formerly a member of the Deford Methodist Church, where the funeral was held on Monday afternoon, conducted by the Rev. J. A. Avery of Pontiac, assisted by Rev. G. N. Bridges of Marlette and Rev. W. S. Hubbard of Kingston. Mrs. Walter Kelley sang two selections, accompanied by Mrs. Malcolm at the piano. Burial was made in Novesta cemetery.

Mrs. Arthur Bruce, Frank Chadwick, and Mr. and Mrs. Howard Malcolm were dinner guests on Friday of Mr. and Mrs. Rolland Bruce at Lapeer. Mr. Chadwick returned to Minneapolis, Minn., after three months spent here.

Glenn Tousey returned to his home on Monday evening feeling well after submitting to an operation two weeks ago at Morris Hospital in Cass City.

The local W. C. T. U. will meet on Thursday, Oct. 7, at two o'clock at the home of Mrs. Howard Retherford. Mrs. Edna Warner will be the leader; topic, "Press and Publicity."

While Bud Rock was on his milk route Sunday morning, the tie rod on the truck dropped loose on one end and the truck headed for the side of the road and collided with a large tree, the only one along that road. The body crushed the cab and then rolled off the chassis. Raymond Phillips had joined Bud only a mile previously, and both were extremely fortunate to escape serious injury.

Mrs. Laura Locke spent Tuesday and Wednesday in Detroit where she attended the wedding of a cousin.

Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Witkowski of Detroit were week-end guests of the latter's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Polheber.

Mr. and Mrs. John Field and daughters were callers on Sunday afternoon at the Charles Randall home in Ellington.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Polheber attended the wedding of a relative on Saturday at Sandusky.

Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Phillips have a Pontiac car bought this week.

Mrs. Lena Curtis entertained on Wednesday Mrs. John Clark of Pontiac.

Fred and Nelson Hartwick were visitors on Sunday of their brother and family, Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Hartwick, at Marlette.

Mrs. Anna Anderson of Saginaw and son, Charles Anderson, of Flint were callers on Sunday at the Malcolm home.

Mrs. Caroline Lewis entertained

Saturday night and Sunday, Mrs. Sam Blades of Cass City.

Mrs. Minnie Drace is spending three weeks in Rochester.

Dr. Kenneth Merriman and daughter, Vianne, of Detroit were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Zemke during the week.

Mrs. Genie Martin of Cass City was a dinner guest on Monday of Mrs. H. D. Malcolm.

Mrs. Fred Hartwick was a supper guest on Sunday of Mr. and Mrs. Ross Russell near Wahjamega.

Mrs. Frank Danielewicz spent the past week visiting in Detroit.

Mr. and Mrs. John Tekiel were visitors on Sunday at Emmett.

Mr. and Mrs. Harley Kelley were Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. Burley Klam at Columbiaville.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur VanBlaricom of Pontiac spent the week end in Deford.

Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Drace, with Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Tewksberry of Kingston, will spend until Oct. 10 at Trout Lake.

Mr. and Mrs. George Spencer are again at home after two weeks spent at Eden, Ohio, with Mr. and Mrs. Ransom Spencer. Ransom has not been at all well for some time, but at present is much improved.

About 22 of Mr. and Mrs. Ollie Spencer's relatives helped them celebrate their 45th wedding anniversary Sunday. Those from a distance were Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Werth of Flint, Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Buffington and Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Adams of Saginaw, Mr. and Mrs. Conrad Buerkel of Reese, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Dora and girls, Maxine and Edlergh, of Gilford, Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Spencer and Mrs. George Spencer of Fairgrove, Mrs. Laura Conger and daughter, Elgene, of Cass City, Frances and Clayton Montague of Caro, and Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Spencer and niece of Deford. A bountiful dinner was served at noon and they received many nice and useful gifts and $18.00. All enjoyed a good time throughout the day.

Auto Accidents Drop
Automobile accidents in 1942 dropped far below the 1941 record. Gas, tire rationing and the 35-mile-per-hour speed limit turned the trick. But the number of accidents for the amount of driving was almost as high as ever. Keep your speed down—and never exceed that wartime speed limit. You can set an example for others in your town.

Fall Shipments of Seedlings Are Started

Fall shipments of seedlings and transplants started this week from the conservation department's Higgins Lake Nursery.

Authorities at the nursery are filling orders for white pine and red pine seedlings and transplants and for jack pine seedlings, to be used for reforestation or wind-break purposes. No trees are sold from the nursery for landscape or ornamental purposes or for re-sale. Prospective purchasers are cautioned that all orders for trees must be made on official order forms, which are obtainable from the conservation department's forestry division at Lansing.

No orders are accepted for less than 500 trees.

What You Buy With WAR BONDS

Booby Trap Detector

In the snow, in the sand, on the beaches, on the roads, in the woods, everywhere the Axis soldiers hide "booby traps," to slow the movement of oncoming fighting men of the United Nations. The detector does the same work on land as the mine sweeper does at sea.

Like buying War Bonds, the soldier operating the detectors will never know just how much they have aided in the success of their campaign, but he knows his work is necessary and must be accomplished. If more Americans on the home front will come to realize this, the success of our War Bond campaigns will be assured.

NATIONAL NEWSPAPER WEEK PROCLAMATION

"Michigan daily and weekly newspapers have been devoted and vigilant soldiers on our war-time home front.

"They have given generously of their space and time for the promotion of our many war programs: purchase of war bonds, collection of scrap metal and fats, recruitment of volunteers for military and civilian services, conservation of vital supplies, as well as the multitude of other state and community causes, both large and small, which contribute toward Victory.

"Today, as perhaps never before, we recognize that a free press is vital to the survival of a free people.

"In recognition of the outstanding public service which the newspapers of Michigan have performed on the all-important Michigan home front, I hereby proclaim Oct. 1 to 8, 1943, as National Newspaper Week in Michigan and request its public observance accordingly."

Governor Harry F. Kelly.

And many Michigan boys in camps and at our fighting fronts are asking a sequel to it: After we win the war, will we win the peace? Victory without peace seems a cost price for death on a battlefield, tomorrow as yesterday. The boys remember the discussions at dinner tables, prior to Pearl Harbor, when Dad and Mom said we should keep out of war . . . mind our own business . . . let Europe run its own affairs. Concluded on page 7.

Michigan's silver stars are turning, in an increasing number, to gold.

The village of Holly, in Oakland County, is typical of home towns everywhere in Michigan. Within the past few weeks, telegrams from Washington have been delivered at three homes of Holly mothers, fathers and relatives. Here were the fateful words: "The Secretary of War (or Navy) desires that I tender his deepest sympathy . . ."

Donald C. Hulet, age 23, son of Mr. and Mrs. Rutherford Hulet. He was killed in the Pacific South Seas.

Robert Bravender, son of Raymond B. Bravender. He was a copilot of a Flying Fortress.

And Allan N. McDaniel, who worked with his brother, Harry, in a welding and blacksmith business at Holly. He also was killed in action, over Italy, while on a bombing mission.

Why were these young Michigan boys killed—one at the Pacific front, half way round the globe, and two at our European front?

A lot of Michigan people—especially the fathers and mothers of young men now in World War II—are asking this question. They would like to know the answer.

10th Annual Thumb Ram Sale Oct. 7

The 10th annual Thumb ram sale, sponsored by the Thumb Purebred Sheep Breeders Association, will be held at the sales yards in Marlette on Thursday, Oct. 7. Over thirty head of the best rams and breeding ewes in the Thumb are offered for sale at 1:30 on that day. This sale is sponsored by the breeders and the extension service to assist the sheep owners to obtain the best breeding stock without undue loss of time and travel. The forenoon will be taken up by a judging contest for all 4-H and FFA members in the Thumb who are interested. The awards will be in the form of a cash certificate good towards the purchase of a purebred ewe for project work in 1944. Floyd Norcutt, Marlette agricultural instructor, and Louis Webb, district 4-H Club agent, will have charge of this activity.

Side street marionette theaters present chivalric plays with the Crusades as their usual theme. Modern mechanized transport have not displaced the two-wheeled peasants' carts, memorable for their gaily painted wheels and bodies decorated with scenes from the Bible, legend, or history.

Bird Dog Points for More Than Four Hours

BOISE, IDAHO.—Mrs. Lee Berry brought two dozen baby chicks into the house to keep them warm. The chicks impressed Sandy, the Berrys' hunting dog. He did what good hunting dogs should do when they see a bird-pointed. He remained that way, tall stiff and front foot raised, for more than four hours.

Play at Cat and Mouse With Japs

Aussies Say They Were Hunted With Dogs.

SOMEWHERE IN AUSTRALIA—Seventeen young Australians, members of the guerrilla force which harried the Japanese throughout the island of Timor for more than a year, have returned to home duty after playing cat-and-mouse with the enemy.

It wasn't fun, said the Australians, and the Japanese didn't play fairly. They used bloodhounds. During the first year of guerrilla warfare in Timor, Allied gunmen killed 2,100 Japanese against the loss of 25 of their own troops. During the first five months, only three Australians were killed, while 30 Japanese officers and 500 soldiers were knocked off.

A number of Portuguese families, the white residents of Portuguese Timor, are virtual prisoners of the Japanese and are confined rigidly to a restricted sector of Dili, the capital.

Signaler Philip Wynne and Corp. John Key went to Timor last November, joining commando units. Australians landed at Dili four days after the attack on Pearl Harbor. When the Japanese raided Dili by air and sea on February 19, 1942, they drove the Australians into the hills.

Then for months the Australians kept hammering at the enemy, sniping at Japanese patrols, blowing up bridges, burning down camps, and making conditions unhealthy for the enemy. The guerrillas usually operated in units up to six men.

"Once," Key recalled, "12 of us were surrounded by 150 to 200 Japs and natives, who opened fire from a distance of 10 yards, and we still managed to fight our way out without a loss."

"We learned they were using bloodhounds to track us," Wynne said. "We used to hear the baying at night. A couple of times they caught up with us, and we always made it a point to shoot the dogs first, then the Japs."

The group was near starvation when finally rescued by Australian and American forces.

American Aid to Russia Is Proving Effective

WASHINGTON.—Lend-Lease Administrator E. R. Stettinius Jr., in a special report on shipments to Russia in the 19 months ended April 30, asserted that American weapons in Russian hands "have made them selfless felt against the enemy with effectiveness."

The most important single contribution of lend-lease to the Soviets, Stettinius said, is completed weapons—tanks, planes and guns by the thousands. Many of the planes have been flown all the way or assembled en route after being delivered part way in American ships.

"A close second in importance as a vital contribution to the Russian offense," the report said, "has been the volume of raw materials shipped by lend-lease and fabricated into weapons of war by Russia's own industrial plants. Of these materials, the largest single item up to April 30 was 725,000 tons of steel and steel products, followed by 145,000 tons of copper, brass, nickel, molybdenum and other materials."

"Large as food shipments have been," the report said, "they have been small in comparison with the critical Russian needs."

Dog Saves Two Sisters; Barks Warning of Gas

CHICAGO.—Police credited a small mongrel dog with saving the lives of two sisters—Miss Dorothy Taylor, 44, and Mrs. Lorraine K. Hill, 46—from asphyxiation in their apartment.

According to police, Miss Taylor, who has been ill, taped up cracks in the kitchen and opened the burners on the gas range. Mrs. Hill was sleeping in the front bedroom.

The dog barked and awakened Mrs. Hill, who threw open the windows and called the fire department. An inhalator squad revived Miss Taylor.

Fishing Tragedy Hired; Fatal to Trout, Heron

IDAHO FALLS, IDAHO.—Dr. E. F. Miller related this fish story: A fellow angler on Snake river snagged a piece of broken line with two hooks. On one hook was a dead blue heron, on the other a dead trout.

The fishermen surmised the trout had broken the line when hooked and had swum away dragging the other hook, possibly baited with a minnow. Later the heron spied the bait, dove for it and was hooked. The trout pulled the bird beneath the water and both died.

Nation to Be Active Factor In Post-War Peace Plans

Majority of American People Ask Participation in International Organization To Maintain Harmony.

By BAUKHAGE
News Analyst and Commentator.

WNU Service, Union Trust Building, Washington, D. C.

Slowly the pattern of America's post-war plans are taking shape, but only the pattern.

When congress returned, it was evident that no matter how much disagreement there might be as to the details of the role the United States will play in the post-war world, the people have registered one idea: they want to take part in some kind of an international organization to maintain peace.

The same opinion turned up in the conversation of three members of congress of widely differing political sentiments with whom I talked shortly after they returned. Speaker Sam Rayburn told me that the one phrase which received the most applause in the speeches he made in the Southwest was when he said that the United States must do a man's job for peace.

Two leading Republican senators expressed the same idea, namely, that "the people seem to be of one mind" that America must join in some kind of international effort after the war to maintain peace.

The disagreements in congress are chiefly a difference in degree and represent a discussion, for the most part, over details that nobody expects congress to decide in advance anyhow.

Of course, there are two things which make for lack of harmony; one is the natural desire of each political party to criticize the other in a campaign year; the other is the effort of small groups to get over their own particular ideas.

Secretary of State Hull, in his speech of September 12, made it plain that the administration was in favor of an international organization which would agree to use force to maintain peace—implying that the United States would offer its armed forces in collaboration with other nations to stop aggression. He went further on the subject than any official so far but there has been a feeling on the part of many members of congress that the people would support such a policy.

Pooling of Resources

Meanwhile, the public has gradually come to the realization that Winston Churchill, as the king's first minister with plenary powers, and President Roosevelt, as commander-in-chief and, therefore, with similar authority, have agreed that the United States and Britain will pool their military resources not only until the fighting ends, but until the emergency is ended. They will do this merely by continuing the committee of joint chiefs of staff.

They have made it plain that they consider the emergency, or as an official spokesman for the United States described it, "a period of transition," will not end until the last peace treaties are signed. In other words, the United States and Great Britain intend, as long as the emergency exists, to take part in an organization to establish and maintain the peace by means of what amounts to a military alliance between the two nations.

Prime Minister Churchill was ready to sign a written agreement which would include Britain's pledge to remain our ally and continue the war with us until Japan was beaten—that much he told the newsmen—and he added, the President had said it was not necessary, that his word was good enough. Presumably, the written agreement would have included the continuation of the joint committee of the chiefs of staff, too. But written or unwritten, such a pact now exists.

It is, therefore, clear that the President intends, if he remains in office, to maintain an interim arrangement which will keep this country an active factor in world affairs to the point where its policies will be supported by military action. This will be of indefinite length, as Churchill put it, until it can be shown that a better arrangement, including all nations, can be found to supplant it.

In one sense, therefore, it is less important what decision the congress or the administration makes right now as to its foreign policy since there will be plenty of time for the people to become fully acquainted with the whole situation during the "transition period" when two of the strongest nations remain united. The important thing, of course, is to obtain the co-operation of the third most powerful nation, Russia.

And that is what is on the fire right now. Until we know a little more about Russia's views and intentions, it will be impossible to make a detailed plan for the post war world.

Battle of Italy Beginning of End

As I write these lines, the startled moon has just slipped behind a jagged curtain of clouds, like a transport sliding under the protecting cloak of a smoke screen.

That comparison leaps to my mind because all day I have been following, as you have and as closely as either of us could, the progress of the greatest military undertaking which an American army has attempted in this war—the battle of Italy. For the battle of Italy is the storming of the very portals of the Reich, the outer rim, it is true, but nonetheless, the first breastworks of Hitler's inner fortress.

Here, for the first time, American soldiers, hardened on the harsh sands of Africa and the cruel hills of Sicily, meet the guardsmen of the Nazi citadel. Not a bi-colored army, diluted by a half-hearted ally, Italy, but dogged German fighters defending the gateway to their own, their native land.

The end of the beginning has ended, the beginning of the end has begun. And we who have watched every sign and every signal as the curtain between what we thought and what we knew was lifted, realize how little we and the world can guess of the inner and complicated workings of this great war machine.

As the armies of the Allies attack the enemy citadel—the leaders of the Allies, Roosevelt and Churchill, plan a new edifice.

The invasion of Sicily and the invasion of Italy were planned at Casablanca where, for 24 hours, the few newsmen who were permitted to know, kept the secret of the meeting itself. Beside the historic waters of the St. Lawrence, in the citadel at Quebec, the marching orders were sealed while we newsmen waited, blinded and deafened to all but the most general ideas.

What are those marching orders? Some other startled moon will tell.

Civilian Defense Proves Its Worth

As Germany begins the defense of her inner fortress and the once-feared Luftwaffe has been converted from an offensive to a defensive machine the problem of keeping up the morale of Civilian Defense in this country is a difficult one. It would be foolhardy to lie down on the job now for history has shown that frequently fierce and bitter conflicts grow out of victories and until the last shot is fired and after that, it isn't safe to desert the ramparts.

Recently the value of civilian defense training was proved in a manner which received very little recognition outside of the immediate vicinity. When the Congressional Limited, the crack train that runs between New York and Washington, was wrecked in Philadelphia, when the Twentieth Century Limited, another crack train between Chicago and New York, was wrecked, and when a hotel burned in Houston, Texas, the civilian defense organization proved its mettle. On all three occasions, invaluable service was rendered by these unselfish men and women who have so long answered mock alarms and gone on duty for practice drills.

It was definitely shown that in the case of the wreck of the Congressional Limited and in the Houston fire lives were actually saved by the defense workers. In Philadelphia a group of air raid wardens meeting near the scene of the wreck were the first to arrive on the scene.

In a short time 7,500 trained workers were at work assisting police and helping the rescue. So effectively did they handle the traffic that in spite of the great crowds, lanes were kept open so that all injured persons not actually pinned in the wreck had been removed to hospitals within 35 or 40 minutes.

INDIA AND U. S.

Despite the Churchill visit and the impending campaign in Burma, conditions inside India still remain one sore spot where Anglo-American relations, frank and friendly as they are, could stand some cleaning up. All of the President's special advisers have brought home more or less the same reports. They include: Laughlin Currie, member of the White House staff; ex-Undersecretary of War Louis Johnson; Special Ambassador Billy Phillips.

Latest evidence of Indian sore spots is a report to Leo Crowley, new Economic Warfare administrator from his New Delhi representative, John Fischer, who writes:

"The government of India, the British army, and many Indian businessmen view the opening of an OEW (Economic Warfare) office here with frank and deep-rooted suspicion. This suspicion is not directed at us alone; it falls on all American representatives in India.

"The American Mission was established here in 1941 in the face of considerable reluctance on the part of the government of India. (Previously the United States had not permitted even a consulate in New Delhi.) The OWI, OSS and even lend-lease representatives have told us that they have been received here with open misgivings—and in the case of the first two agencies, sometimes with hostility. Before our arrival, the government of India raised a number of questions regarding our mission with the American Mission.

"We have reason to believe that our movements have been under close observation, both here and in England, and that surveillance is likely to continue.

Reasons for Coolness.

"There seem to be two main reasons for this attitude," Fischer reported to Crowley.

"1. The fear that American representatives may send to Washington, through channels not subject to British censorship, information concerning the internal situation in India. This, the government of India seems to believe, might stimulate American sympathy for the Nationalist movement and criticism of the government's ineffective administrative techniques.

"2. Fear of American post-war commercial competition. This concern seems to be shared alike by the British and many large Indian businessmen. It has been so pronounced that the mission thought it expedient, shortly before our arrival, to assure the government that OEW activity in India is in no way concerned with trade promotion.

"To offset the cool attitude of the government of India, the American Mission has received us with a helpfulness and kindness which has exceeded expectations. . . . we are confident that despite all this we can manage fairly well."

TO RELAX RATIONING OF FARM MACHINERY

Agricultural officials have been closeted for several days working on an announcement which will be good news to farmers. They are planning to relax the rationing of farm machinery.

Relaxation will take two forms. One will be to permit farm machinery companies more latitude in distributing their products to different parts of the country. The other will be to take certain machines definitely off the ration list.

Although plans are not quite complete, it is probable that most farm machinery will be unrationed from now on except tractors, combines, hay balers, beet lifters and similar mechanized equipment. In general, tractor implements will be taken off the list, though tractors will stay on. It will still be necessary for farmers to go to their ration boards to get permission to buy certain farm machinery, but this will be only for the purpose of making sure that they are legitimate farmers and really need the equipment. The old system of strict rationing on most farm machinery will go by the boards.

Hitherto, farm implement companies have been required to distribute their products equally throughout the United States, so that some counties where little wheat is raised have received as many binders as counties in the middle of the wheat belt. Or in some cases, too much corn machinery has been sent to counties where little corn is raised, while corn belt counties have been slighted.

The new order will permit farm implement companies to use more discretion in order to avoid inefficient distribution.

CAPITAL CHAFF

While congressional solons were away, the house-cleaners have been busy. All the paintings on Sight-seers' Row have been cleaned, statues have been given a much-needed bath, and the subways leading to the senate and house office buildings are resplendent with a fresh coat of paint.

Looking at the hefty girth of Sen. Edwin C. Johnson of Colorado, who tips the beam above 225 pounds, you would never guess that he eats only one meal a day.

THREE-BALL SPECIAL

He was one of those bores who will talk to fellow-passengers in trains. For an hour or more he had been telling tales of his business successes and wearing his companions with his conceit.

When the ticket inspector came into the carriage, the braggart did not stop talking—he merely handed a ticket to the collector.

The latter looked at it and said: "Where are you going sir?" "Can't you read?" shouted the other. "You've got my ticket, haven't you?"

"I've got a ticket, certainly sir," replied the collector, "but it's for a gold watch."

SMART DOG

Jones—My dog stole the show. Smith—Won the blue ribbon, eh? Jones—No, this was a flea circus!

Close Shave

One day while fighting in the jungles of Guadalcanal, Big Joe, member of a colored regiment, pulled out his favorite weapon, a long, well-honed straight razor. He made a pass at his Jap opponent.

"Missed me," hissed the Nip. "Did I, boy!" exclaimed Big Joe. "Yes wait till you tries to turn yo' head."

Half and Half

Jones—Are you putting horse meat in your sausage now? Butcher—Just a little. Jones—How much is a little? Butcher—Not much. About 50-50, I'd say.

Jones—You mean one pound of horse meat to one pound of pork? Butcher—Oh, no, one horse to one pig!

Oh for the Army

Sarge—And remember the important thing is initiative and individuality. Think for yourselves! Understand? Company—Yes, sir!

Sarge—Now get out on the drill ground and do exactly as I tell you!

Same Difference

Bill—I want a 2 by 4, 1 foot long. Carpenter—Sorry. How about a 1 by 2, 4 feet long?

Bill—Now, I don't think that would do. How about a 1 by 4, 2 feet long, instead?

Poor Fellow!

Lady—I want a stiff collar for my husband. Clerk—Yes, ma'am. What size? Lady—Well, I don't know, but I can reach around his neck with both hands.

Welcome Friend

Mrs.—John, I think I hear a burglar trying to open our living-room window.

Mr.—Good! No one's been able to move it since the painters were here!

Manner of Speaking

Jones—They tell me you made a lot of money in oil? Smith—Well, not exactly, but my rich aunt tried to start her kitchen fire with kerosene.

YOU'RE HIRED

Employer—Are you familiar with mules? New Hand—No sir. I know them too well to get familiar!

Hard Worker

Boss—Why did you take a whole day off yesterday? You asked for only a half day.

Worker—I remembered you always told me never to do things by halves.

Small Talk

Mabel—That caty friend of yours said I was half witted! Jane—Don't pay any attention to her. She always exaggerates!

For the Duration

Rookie One—What do you expect to be when you get out of the army? Rookie Two—An old man!

Nice Teacher

Teacher—What good is the reindeer? Johnny—To make the flowers grow, sweetheart.

Unnecessary Exercise

Joan—I walk four miles every day for my complexion. Joe—Is the drug store that far away?

One Way or Another

Bill—Is horseback riding helping Mary reduce? Joe—Well, I don't know but she began to fall off right away.

No Doubt!

Politician—Well, dear, I won the election! Wife—Honestly! Politician—Why bring that up?

"I am now at Camp Edwards, Mass., about 60 miles from Boston. I have volunteered for the Engineer Amphibian Command. I am taking eight weeks' advanced training in Diesel engineering and duck driving. A duck is a 6-ton truck which travels on land or in the water. Their work will be to make beach heads and landing fields. Land troops make bridges and handle dynamite. They transport these things to the enemy territory. We get trained in water, land and air, as it is a combination of army air corps and marines. "This command is something you volunteer for and you have to have a personal interview with your commanding officer. It was a pretty stiff test. There are only 30 men training for this command at this camp. I am the only one that came from my camp and so the rest are all strangers to me."

Pvt. Jamieson left Bad Axe on April 20. He had worked at Mason Motors at Bad Axe 1 1/2 years before he was inducted into the Army. He went from Fort Custer to Fort Bragg, North Carolina. He left Fort Bragg and went to Shenango, Pa., Aug. 21, and left there for Camp Edwards, Mass., on Sept. 20.

Rabbit's Eyes Form Images
A retinal image, similar to that formed in the human eye, can be observed in the eye of a rabbit, says the Better Vision Institute. If the eye of an albino rabbit, whose tissues lack pigment so as to be semi-transparent, is placed in a tube of black paper, a tiny image of an external object, as a tree, can be seen on the surface of the retina of the albino eye. The image is inverted, as in the human eye.

Safe Ladder
There is no safe substitute for a step ladder. Men, women and children are killed every year because they clamber onto boxes, or balance on rocking chairs, or trust their weight to small tables and cane seats. See that there is a safe step ladder in your house.

A LETTER that speaks for itself

OFFICE OF WAR UTILITIES
WAR PRODUCTION BOARD

TO ELECTRIC UTILITIES AND THEIR CUSTOMERS:

"The War Production Board has proclaimed that maximum war production requires the greatest possible conservation of materials, power, transportation, fuel, equipment, and critical material such as copper, steel, tungsten and many others—much greater than has been heretofore accomplished. It believes that this greater conservation can be accomplished by the voluntary cooperation of all citizens of our country in the effort.

"Each principal industry and agency is organizing to carry the objective of the War Production Board to its members and they, in turn, to their customers so that the fullest conservation may be obtained.

"In the electric utility industry, the installed generating capacity, together with capacity now under construction, is ample to meet all foreseeable electric needs. But it is essential TO SAVE THE USE OF ELECTRICITY WHEREVER POSSIBLE so as to reduce, directly or indirectly, the demands for materials, fuel, transportation, and manpower.

"The desired result will be obtained through the full cooperation of millions of people in the conservation program. With everyone contributing, the effect will be tremendous in hastening the day of Victory."

J. A. Krug
J. A. KRUG, Director
Office of War Utilities

All public utilities are included in this nationwide program of voluntary conservation—gas, telephone, water, transportation—as well as electricity. We know that our customers will cooperate loyally and wholeheartedly, to help speed the day of Victory.

Emblem of the government war food program is a market basket carried by an arm and hand obviously belonging to Uncle Sam. Over the basket is the theme "Food fights for freedom."

Reversing the usual procedure of asking German civilians to write only cheerful letters to front line troops, Nazi officials have appealed to German soldiers to make certain letters to their families are in a "humorous vein."

Down Memory Lane

Thirty-five Years Ago.
October 2, 1908.

H. P. Lee lost his barn, two horses, hearse, rubber tired buggy and three harnesses by fire early Monday morning. Mr. Lee was quite badly burned on both arms and one foot.

A. E. Sleeper of Lexington was nominated as state treasurer at the Republican state convention at Detroit Tuesday.

Marc S. Wickware returned Friday from his trip to the Northwest.

The forest fires which have been raging south and east of town were quenched by the rain Monday morning and those whose property was in danger were greatly relieved. The danger was greatly increased Saturday and Sunday and Andrew McKim and Hugh McBurney in Novesta and Leonard Buehrly in Elkland Township were among those whose property was in jeopardy. The fire in the swamp east of town was at its worst Saturday and all day and night men watched and fought it.

Mrs. Janet Livingston, 80, died at the home of her son, Dougald Livingston, in Novesta on Sunday.

Twenty-five Years Ago.
Oct. 4, 1918.

Dr. S. B. Young, who has practiced in Caseville several years, has purchased the residence property of Dr. I. D. McCoy on Seeger St. and expects to locate here about Nov. 1 for the practice of his profession.

Elmwood Township has adopted the volunteer plan of subscription for the Fourth Liberty Loan and has chosen Oct. 7 and 8 as the days on which subscriptions will be received.

Christmas packages for the 2,100,000 or more American soldiers who will be in France during the holiday season this year will be delivered under an arrangement with the Red Cross.

Dr. John M. Ealy, 62, a prominent business man and pioneer resident of Caro, died at his home on Saturday.

Employees of the Hires' Condensed Milk Co.'s plant at Cass City went "over the top" on the first day of the Liberty Loan campaign. They had subscribed $5,500 by early afternoon and celebrated the event by an automobile parade through the village streets.

Dougald Krug has arrived safely at Buenos Aires. This is 10,000 miles from New York and he writes that enroute for his destination there were 21 days when he saw no land.

Dr. F. L. Morris was in Owendale the first of the week and vaccinated 140 persons. The family of Steve Wolverton, who moved to Owendale some time ago from Cass City, are in quarantine, because of smallpox.

Concluded from page 5. And, anyway, weren't we 3,000 miles away, safe and secure?

Sure, we minded our own business, didn't we?

Then the dirty Japs pulled a fast one at Pearl Harbor, and the Nazis just laughed and declared war on us—we, the United States of America!

Of course, we got mad. We're still angry. So are thousands of Michigan boys in camps and with MacArthur in the Pacific and Eisenhower in Europe. Some of these boys are sons of men who served in World War I. They know, and so do we, that we didn't save the world for democracy after Nov. 11, 1918. Something happened.

When a paperhanger in Germany wrote a book called "Mein Kampf," the world smiled. But that wasn't new. A carpenter by the name of Jesus Christ received the same reception from much of the world, centuries before. But each man had an idea—although as different as night is from day.

While we Americans were minding our own business, the German paperhanger was telling the frustrated Germans: "Germany was not defeated in the war. Germany was betrayed by the Jews and the Marxists. The allies imposed an unjust peace. Germany, under my leadership, will be invincible!"

Well, we remember what happened—Hitler accomplished exactly what a member of the German general staff said would happen in a talk with Dr. William Seaman Bainbridge, a distinguished American, way back in 1915, two years before World War I began! And here, in part, is what the general staff officer said with remarkable prophecy should Germany lose World War I: "An armistice will come before any hostile army crosses Germany's frontiers. There will be no scars on the fatherland from this war. . . . Following the war there will be economic hell, industrial revolution. We will set class against class, individual against individual, until the nations will have pretty much all they can attend to at home and not bother with us.

"The greatest struggle will come after the war. The weapon will be propaganda, the value of which we know. The allies will be torn asunder; each will be put at the other's throat like a lot of howling, gnashing hounds. And when they are all separated from France, Germany will deal with her alone."

Then recall how Hitler seized control as dictator in January, 1933. (FDR was elected president in November, 1932.) Germany withdrew from the League in 1933; annexed the Saar and adopted conscription in 1935; repudiated the Locarno (security) treaties in 1936, repudiated the Versailles treaty "war guilt" clause, shelved its "Polish Corridor" agreement with Poland and created the Rome-Berlin-Tokyo axis in 1937, and finally annexed Sudetenland by the Munich four-power pact in 1938.

You know the rest—the Nazis' march into other peace-loving nations, always one by one, until September, 1939, four years ago, when World War I became World War II.

Ten years after Hitler started his march to "Der tag," our nation is again at war. In north Michigan and the Upper Peninsula thousands of men and women, airplane watchers, scan the skies 24 hours a day for the silhouette and hum of German airplanes. Sault Ste. Marie is the headquarters for the air defense of most of Ontario in Canada and 17 American states in the sprawling Middle-West. Why? Because modern air power has annihilated space, changing isolated security of Michigan into a vulnerable target of German planes once they establish a northern bombing base from which to fly over the circle route. Such is the solemn truth, as our highest military authorities vouch for it.

Less than 50 miles from Sault Ste. Marie an important political assemblage was held in September. Governors and congressmen adopted a "Mackinac Charter," pledging post-war cooperation by this country in keeping the peace. A military alliance with the British was endorsed by Michigan's Thomas E. Dewey and Clarence Budington Kelland. Wendell L. Willkie is for it, and so is Rep. Clare Boothe Luce. Winston Churchill assures the absence of partisan opposition in England, and Secretary of State Cordell Hull goes on the radio to confirm official consideration here of such an agreement.

In the House of Representatives at Washington last week, 29 men voted against the Fulbright resolution favoring international machinery to preserve the peace. Five of these men were from Michigan. They came from both parties.

As the casualty lists grow longer, splashing our silver stars with gold, what will we think and do? Will we return to nationalism and its renunciation of world responsibility for winning the peace?

As one Michigan newspaper editor forecast gloomily in an editorial a few days ago, death sentence is being pronounced today on the grandsons of Michigan grandfathers—those kids who are just entering kindergarten or first grades—and who will surely die in World War III if history repeats itself and the judgment of that German staff officer, back in 1915, again becomes the pattern of tomorrow's interlude which we may call peace.

We wonder what those Holly boys—Donald Hulet and Robt. Bravender and Allan McDaniel—would want us to do. We, the people, must give them an answer. There is no escape.

Send Help for U. S. Farmers

Men With Farm Experience From Jamaica, Bahamas To Help Save Crops.

PHILADELPHIA, PA.—The car swung in through a hedge to a rolling field dotted with small, neat, bunk houses. We heard a queer sound from a long building which looked like an army mess hall "Click, clack, clack, click." "Dominoes," explained McDonald, the FSA man who was driving. "They play dominoes with a fine fury."

We looked through the mess hall door. Negroes in sweaters and work pants hunched over tables slapping down dominoes as though their lives depended on it.

"Dominoes are the only recreation they have so far," said McDonald. "It's one of the problems."

These men were some of the 6,000 Jamaican and Bahaman Negro farm hands who have been brought into the United States in the last month to help save crops in the face of labor shortage.

They're housed mostly in farm security camps for migrant labor. This camp was near Bridgeton, N. J., where the men are working on tomatoes, asparagus, peas, beans—and, later, on peaches and apples.

To Bring 15,000.

Other such groups are spotted now in New Jersey, Delaware, Maryland, New York, Connecticut, Michigan and Idaho. There are 3,000 in the Philadelphia area.

It's planned to bring in a total of 15,000. But New York, alone, has just requested 5,000. So the figure may be revised upward.

However, the supply is there—in the Bahamas, 4,000, and at Jamaica, 50,000—men available for American farms.

The Jamaicans seem to be the preferred group. They drink very little. At home, they say, they drink a little rum. But here, it's too expensive.

The Jamaicans have been a little slow to learn. But once trained, they work carefully, for 10 hours a day.

The Jamaicans come from a Negro country. It's a British colony, a fact which lends to amusing situations when the Jersey farmer runs into his first Jamaican.

Both groups have come into the country under contracts between our government and the governments of Jamaica and the Bahamas.

First, all hands were given physical examinations to prevent importation of disease. To keep them healthy here, each camp has an army mobile clinic. So far the ill have been mostly colds and sniffles. The cold, wet spring made them quite unhappy.

Work Only on Farms. Second, the labor is here only on temporary immigration visas, and they may work only on farms.

Third, our government had to guarantee minimum wages, 75 cents a day from the date of entry until they go to work; $3 a day minimum for three-quarters of the time they're here.

That should look good to them. They're accustomed to 50 and 60 cents a day at home.

They pay $1 a day for food at the FSA camps; 50 cents a week to sleep in an FSA bunk house, or 25 cents a week to sleep in an army tent.

The Jamaicans must send home $1 a day, the Bahamans 75 cents. It's deducted from their pay by the farmer who employs them. The farmer turns over the deductions to FSA which transfers the money and records to the home governments.

Give Up Their Holiday To Fill RAF Rush Order

LONDON.—The air ministry has sent its congratulations and thanks to workers of an aircraft factory in western England who gave up their holiday to fill a special order for the RAF.

The plant recently had been scheduled to close for a week's holiday, but two hours before the holiday was to start urgent telephone instructions were received, ordering a certain number of parts to be completed by a certain date. The new plans involved alterations in equipment as well as a time limit.

The management called for volunteers by telephone, telegrams, screen flashes at the local cinemas and by word of mouth throughout the town. The workers canceled their holiday bookings and streamed back to their benches.

The equipment alterations were completed in double-quick time because the workshop staffs did 17-hour shifts. The job was finished with a few hours to spare, for the workers had more than doubled their normally high output.

LETTERS FROM MEN IN THE SERVICE

The only kind that we eat are some that can be cooked and thick-skinned fruits.

"The natives have a bread that they eat that has many different things in it. It looks something like a small pie with different kinds of vegetables baked in it. The higher class eat more as we do. The bread is dark brown and has a lot of barley and maize in it. Wheat is hard to get over here for the civilians.

"Our meals are much better than they were. The main thing is that they are prepared with more care. "You should see how they farm over here. It is all done the hard way, most of it by hand and it all has to be irrigated so that it will grow. The crops are small patches here and there. It never freezes here and they have several crops a year. Right now it is the big harvest for tomatoes, beans and watermelons and other small fruits. In another month the oranges will be plentiful. The ones that we get now are a little dry but when they are in full season they are as good as any at home. The bananas are not very good as they are very small and they are never true ripened and have very little flavor.

"I got a couple of papers in the mail. They were old ones, the first of May, but I still enjoyed reading them.

"Things are going about the same over here, just routine work mostly."

Sgt. Paul Anthes writes the following to the Chronicle from Camp Fannin, Texas:

"It has been so long since I wrote that I thought I would drop you a line this morning. I often think of Cass City and everyone there but just put off writing.

"I have been in Texas just two months now. It's different from Arkansas, but I am getting used to the difference. Our camp is located near Tyler in eastern Texas (not far from Dallas or Fort Worth). The country is somewhat like Michigan but more sandy. They grow a little cotton, peanuts and sweet potatoes. They do raise a lot of roses here.

"The camp has barracks with 50 to a barrack. The mess halls in which I work feed twenty-three hundred each meal. We have modern equipment—steam cookers, dish washers, etc. There are forty cooks and 56 K. P.

"The weather is nice here now—warm through the day, cool at night. It was 110 in July. August usually finds a nice breeze.

"I get the Chronicle each week. Certainly do enjoy reading about people and news from home. I am fine; hope everyone is the same.

"The address is Sgt. Paul Anthes, Mess Co. 1, R. T. C., Mess Co. No. 2, Camp Fannin, Texas."

"I arrived at San Diego OK," writes Pvt. Paul Dewey to the Chronicle. "The food is good. The training is hard, of course, but we expected that. How is Cass City anyway? I suppose lonesome now that I have gone, but don't worry, I'll be home in about nine months at least. Tell Cass City people to write more when they find time."

What You Buy With WAR BONDS

Para-Ski Troopers

When will this war end? Nobody knows, so the Army is continuing its training of Para-Ski Troopers. They're parachute troops who know their way about on skis or any other place in snow covered mountainous country.

A great measure of the success of Russia's victories last winter is attributed to these troops who move with the silence of a snowflake. Our work on the home front is not so hazardous as that of the Para-Ski Troopers but it is important that we perform our daily tasks and make every effort to increase our regular purchase of War Bonds.

Cass City High School Band News

This year Cass City High School has 40 members in its senior band. The band has been marching outside for the past few days in preparation for the home football games at which it will play. Formations are also being practiced.

The pieces which the band will play on the march are "Military Escort" and "Victory March."

On Monday of this week, band officers were elected as follows: President, Lorene Muntz; secretary-treasurer, Eunice Herber; and librarian, Wm. Benkelman. These officers will serve as a committee to plan parties for the band. One is being planned for the near future.

In addition to the senior band, there is also a 48 piece beginners' band. This offers an excellent opportunity for any children who are interested in band. They receive musical instruction and have a chance to play simple pieces. As soon as the pupil is eligible, he may enter the senior band. In order for the child to enter the beginners' band, he must be at least in the sixth grade.

Band members are looking forward to a banner year in instrumental music.

Weeds Killed Now

When the lawn is dry is a good time to get after the weeds. A number of weed killers are on the market. Some come ready prepared in applicators that can be jabbed into the crown of the lawn pests, leaving a drop of poison where it will do the most good.

Women Know Fine Color

The use of color in modern feminine camouflage has become almost a fine art. The knowing thin girl rounds herself out with figured or brightly colored clothing. Satin and velvet, which catch highlights and add to the illusion of solidity, are suitable for thin women; but a fat woman in a velvet dress of bright red (which is an advancing color) is an optical atrocity. Wise plump women select plain designs, and dark or subdued colors.
