Cass City Defeated Pigeon Thursday, 31-6

The Cass City High School football team continued its victorious march last Thursday at the expense of a weak Pigeon team by a win of 31 to 6.

Cass City's backfield "aces," composed of Ryland, Bugbee, Kettiewell, and McConnell, took turns in scoring Cass City's five touchdowns. The work of linemen Ross, Champion, Shagena, Bird, and Mohr proved to be overpowering against Pigeon's forward wall.

The second half of the contest found Cass City's reserves playing a good brand of football. Uncovered stars from the reserve group were backfield men Foy and Strickland, with Benkelman and Karr from the line.

The football squad is traveling to Marietta tonight (Friday) where they will play the high school team in a night contest. This ball game should prove to be an interesting affair because Marietta's team has lost only one game so far this season.

Perhaps it was the "No Shells" sign in a local hardware store window that induced the beautiful pheasant to walk nonchalantly down Main Street, and then again he might have been attracted by the bright lights of the Reed & Patterson meat market just at dusk the other evening. At any rate, Cliff Champion, office manager at the Ford Garage, and Mrs. Champion cornered the bird in the market entrance and Cliff had no trouble in capturing it alive. One repair class will begin on Nov. 15 and end Dec. 20 and another will begin on Nov. 16 and end Dec. 21. The meetings will be held in Mr. West's repair shop. Because of the limited floor space each class will have to be limited to 12 or 14 members.

After these classes are completed another set will begin about the first week in January. If enough interest is shown, the classes will be continued throughout the winter. Anyone that has machinery to repair is eligible to take the course and may continue throughout the entire winter.

Farmers that are interested in these classes may enroll by calling in person at the high school in Cass City or may telephone either Edwin Baur or Willis Campbell at the high school between 8:30 a. m. and 4:00 p. m. on school days.

Freezing Berries
If you own a home freezer or rent locker space, freeze strawberries for winter's use. After the berries are hulled and washed, they may be packed whole or chopped. Chopped fruit usually retains a better flavor than the whole berries. Use four pounds of fruit to one pound of sugar. Stir sugar and fruit together until the fruit is coated with dissolved sugar and fruit juice. Pack in container made for frozen foods.

Cut Plants When Purple
Cut eggplant fruits when purple, not brown, and take with each one the large firm cap. Branches on tomatoes formed too late to ripen fruits before frost should be nipped from the older branches when so small this can be done with the thumb nail. Squash and gourds formed too late to ripen are useless; nip the ends of the branches after five or six fruits have set on each vine.

Pressure Saucepan
Cooking in a pressure saucepan is especially satisfactory for the saving of food values and also for palatability. This is a good method for many vegetables, including green ones, except asparagus, but is not so satisfactory for strong-jointed vegetables, namely broccoli, Brussels sprouts, cabbage, calliflower and onions.

The patient did. "What is syncope?" asked his wife.
"I don't know," he replied, "but that's what the doctor told me."

When her husband had gone, she looked the word up in the dictionary, which defined "syncope" as "irregular movement from bar to bar."

Suitable Flying Diet
For passengers and crew alike, foods to be taken before and during flight should be carefully selected in order to obviate dizziness, headache, mental sluggishness, air sickness. Desirable are high-calorie diets, rich in carbohydrates, since the chief need of the body while aloft is to maintain its heat and energy.

Clover Causes Bloat
Ladino clover for pasture is as likely to cause bloat as is any other clover. Until cattle are used to clover pasture it is wise to turn them into it only after they have been well filled with dry feed or silage.

Ship Bananas
In normal times Middle America sends us an average of more than 50 million bunches of bananas a year, averaging 150 fruit to the bunch.

Cultivate Raspberries
Raspberry plants should be kept cultivated to a narrow row one foot or less in width, for ease in picking, for production of larger berries, and for effective control of diseases.

Control Clover Height
Wild-white-clover pastures should not exceed a height of four inches at any time during the growing season. Ladino-clover or alfalfa pastures, or those made up largely of grasses may be permitted to make somewhat higher growth before being grazed.

Protect Edges of Screens
The edges of window screens, which do not show when the screen is in place, are sometimes left unpainted, with resultant rotting or warping. This may turn out to be a costly error. The edges of the screen should be kept thoroughly painted or varnished.

A large number of neighbors and friends met at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Manley Endersbe Friday evening, October 22. The evening was spent in visiting, Rev. and Mrs. Ellis Hart sang two duets, and Mr. Hart recited two poems and gave a talk before presenting the gifts, which were lovely clothes hampers, to Mr. and Mrs. Luther Sowden, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Cliff and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Fournier. He also presented a fine picture to Luther Sowden for his mother, Mrs. Jas. Sowden, who moved to Cass City with her son. A potluck lunch was enjoyed by all. ### Lucky Penny Goes To War 4th Time

It Started Military Career During Civil War.

METROPOLIS, ILL.—A talisman, now carried by Arnold R. Kugler in the marines, is going into battle as a good luck charm for the fourth time.

An 1855 United States penny, it started its military career with Rufus Cullom in the Civil war. It received its baptism of fire at Shiloh and went through the siege of Vicksburg and with Grant's army into Tennessee. When the war was over, Cullom returned to his home and put his "lucky penny" away for safekeeping along with other battle relics.

When American soldiers were called in the Spanish-American war 33 years later, Cullom gave his talisman to his nephew, W. P. Bunn. Young Bunn went through the Spanish-American war in the Caribbean area, seeing many of his comrades killed or injured or die of disease, yet he came through the war unscathed.

Nineteen years later, Bunn was watching Yankee soldiers embark for France to fight in World War I. Simon Korte, now a retail merchant in Metropolis, asked Bunn if he had anything that had been carried through the Spanish-American war. And the copper coin went off to war a third time.

Korte fought at the front in France and was with the army of occupation in Germany. When he returned to Metropolis he handed back to Bunn the coin that had kept him uninjured and safe through three years of service.

Bunn, now an overseer at Fort Massac State park near Metropolis, consented to give the good luck token to Arnold Kugler when he asked for it. Kugler was Illinois state assistant superintendent of parks before his enlistment in the marines.

Bunn says he doesn't think he is superstitious, but—

"You just watch," he admonished. "Kugler will get his share of Japs or Nazis and then he'll come home safe and sound, the 1855 penny in his pocket. I hope the coin doesn't have to charm some soldier through another war."

New Steam System Boosts Range of Fleet by Third

WASHINGTON.—The navy revealed one of America's secret weapons—our warships can go farther and hit harder because they consume up to 35 per cent less fuel than the ships of any other navy in the world.

Development of a revolutionary system of propelling American warships has given them "the edge over foreign vessels that many times means the difference between defeat and victory," the announcement said.

This was the first official disclosure of progress made on the fleet's introduction of high-pressure, high temperature steam equipment. Not only has the system been used on destroyers beginning about 1934 but it also has since been incorporated even in the nation's great new battleships, among them the North Carolina and Washington.

Naval authorities said that adoption of high-pressure, high-temperature steam methods marked a revolution in marine engineering which was made possible only by the application of American inventive genius and America industrial resources to the needs of naval construction.

One of the incidental results of the ultimate decision to use the new equipment was that it made American ships' construction dependent only on American resources.

Dog Obeys Boy's Sic 'Em To Rout Elephant Herd

NEWARK, N. J.—Spurred by a little boy's cry of "Sic 'em," a police dog caused a stampede of five circus elephants, giving their trainers and police no end of trouble and electrifying hundreds of pedestrians and motorists.

Nine elephants belonging to the Gilbert Brothers circus were en route to entrain after finishing a week's engagement here. When the little boy urged his dog to go at the beasts the dog, obeying, sped into the street and began snapping at elephant legs.

Amherst, a nine-year-old 2½ ton Indian elephant, first to feel terror, led four African elephants in the escape from the herd. The elephants, despite being hampered by leg chains, traveled three quarters of a mile and took refuge.

Occupants of eight radio cars, two police emergency trucks, and several motorcycle officers and circus men rounded up the elephants

Capacity for War Found 80% Ready

Much of Federal-Owned Plant Can Now Produce.

WASHINGTON.—More than 80 per cent of the country's government-financed war plant was finished by the end of June, the year's half-way mark, Donald M. Nelson, chairman of the War Production board, said.

On January 1 only 61 per cent had been built and a year ago only 34 per cent. Now, out of a total of $14,582,000,000, some $12,038,000,000 worth of plant for the production of ammunition, weapons, synthetic rubber, ships and high octane gasoline is in place. Of $5,000,000,000 of privately financed new war plant, about 90 per cent is complete.

Of the facilities constructed last year, 70 per cent went into the building of facilities for the production of ordnance, aircraft and shipways, while only 21 per cent went into those for the output of raw materials. This year 40 per cent of the facilities scheduled for completion will make raw materials and 50 per cent will turn out finished products.

The extent of the advance in raw materials facilities was illustrated by Mr. Nelson with the statement that the synthetic rubber plant program, which was only 3 per cent finished a year ago, was 61 per cent complete by the end of June.

The largest percentage gain in the half, however, was registered by the 100-octane gasoline program, 39 per cent of which was complete by the half-year, as compared with less than 1 per cent on January 1. Even greater progress has been made by the privately financed high-octane program, 63 per cent of which is now ready.

Idle Sicily Lighthouse Fighter Pilot's Haven

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS IN NORTH AFRICA.—Capt. William B. Reed of Marion, Iowa, was back in action over Sicily with a P-40 Warhawk fighter today after having been shot down and having spent eight days in a deserted lighthouse near Trapani and six days more as an Italian prisoner.

Captain Reed bailed out when his plane was hit, and spent the night on a rubber raft. The next morning he paddled to a deserted lighthouse within sight of the Sicilian coast where he lived for eight days without water and only on concentrated rations.

He then sighted some Italian fishermen and rowed out to them. They gave him water but refused to take him back to the lighthouse. He became their prisoner until rescued by paratroops when Trapani was captured.

Just to show that the experience has not affected his aim, Captain Reed destroyed a Messerschmitt 109 while taking part in a fighter sweep three days after his return to base.

15 of Family in Shipyard And All on Swing Shift

All the men are shipfitters. The girls are welders, welders' helpers and shipfitters' helpers. The family pay roll averages $996 a week.

Giraud Saw His Jailor As a Prisoner in Africa

WASHINGTON.—It was, as Gen. Henri-Honore Giraud told the story, a situation where he might well have said: "Fancy meeting you here!"

One year after he had escaped from the escape-proof German prison fortress of Koenigstein, General Giraud was sharing in the triumph of Allied forces over the Germans in North Africa two months ago. Along came a group of German prisoners. Among them was the officer who had been the general's jailer at Koenigstein.

It stalled en route to Walnut Creek. She hiked to a telephone to report the trouble then hiked back to find the bus gone.

More Pork

when hogs are kept on sanitary CONCRETE

A sure way to increase your pork production is to keep pigs on concrete from farrowing to market time.

One farmer who does this reports: "My first crop is gone to market by the time the second is farrowed... average weights around 275 pounds at six months... 100 pounds of pork with 300 pounds of feed."

Hog floors are only one of many improvements that will make your farm more efficient and productive. A new barn floor, poultry house, milk house, milk cooling tank, manure pit or watering trough costs little to build with concrete and will last a lifetime.

Concrete farm jobs require a minimum of critical war materials. Many jobs need just a few bags of cement, and some sand and gravel or stone.

If you need help, get in touch with your concrete contractor or building material dealer. Let us send you free "how-to-build" booklets.

Best Preventives
Remember dust and sprays serve best as preventives of further trouble and should be applied at first evidence. Avoid poison sprays on leafy crops to be eaten soon; use rotenone or pyrethrum which are not poisonous to humans.

Coated Fabrics
Necessities of war mothered the army's plastic raincoat, but it has proved so successful that synthetic resins may replace rubber in coated fabrics for many post-war products.

This electric light BURNS COAL!

Every time you snap the switch of your kitchen light—or any other electric light in your home—that light actually BURNS COAL. Thousands of tons of coal per day are required to manufacture electricity for Detroit Edison customers—besides manpower, transportation and other critical materials. When you save electricity you save coal, and that is vitally important today.

Our government asks your help and the help of every person in America to make this nationwide conservation program a success. The program is voluntary, but your loyal, wholehearted cooperation is a MUST. Anything you can do to save electricity is a direct contribution toward winning the war. The Detroit Edison Company.

Painting Metal

When applying protective coatings to iron and steel, all rivets and rough edges should be coated evenly and completely. A sensible practice is to brush the paint in the direction of the rivets and rough edges, rather than away from them to insure filling all cracks or small holes in the metal. Prior to painting, the metal should be thoroughly cleaned to make sure that it is free from dirt and grease, salt or other chemical deposits.

Years of history-making decisions are being compressed today into minutes. It is thirty minutes before midnight! Soon only seconds will remain.

The urgency of these minutes and seconds is being indicated this week at the assembly Thursday and Friday, Oct. 28 and 29, at Fort Knox, Kentucky, of a large group of Michigan public officials, war production leaders and newspaper editors, led by Governor Kelly.

The key men were invited there by the war department. The purpose: To hear from high-ranking army officials confidential information about the impending showdown between the United Nations and the Axis; the relative strength of these two forces, military and civilian; and the imperative need for increased production in the United States of munitions and ships.

Washington has announced that the Fort Knox conference is a regional meeting, patterned after the recent national conference at which was attended by approximately 200 leaders. At its close, the war department permitted release of "secret statistics" about the economic resources of the Germans and the Japanese.

Newspaper war correspondents at a recent newspaper meeting in Ann Arbor were critical of the army and navy for alleged failure to give the American people the "facts"; they emphasized repeatedly the vastness of the military task confronting the United States, especially in the Pacific.

If there has been public complacency, many newspaper editors are inclined to blame Washington for sugar-coating the news. Hence, the Fort Knox conference may bring interesting repercussions.

Some editors will accept the facts as the uninspired truth. Others may conclude that talk of a long war is merely a Washington official. Concluded on page 6.

HIGHER BIDDER

A lanky young man came into the office of an editor of a big city paper and handed him a poem several feet long to read, saying in a condescending sort of way: "You can publish this poem for ten dollars."

"All right," replied the editor. "Just hand over the ten dollars. That's less than our usual space rates, but times are hard, and I'll take it."

"You misunderstand me," protested the youth. "I mean you can have the poem by paying ten dollars."

"It would be robbing you to take it for that," answered the editor. "I know where you can get more for it."

"Where?" asked the poet eagerly. "Take it to a justice of the peace and read it to him, and he'll give you your choice of twenty dollars or thirty days."

Joan—What are you so huffy about?

Jane—I got a letter from my boy friend in Guadalcanal the other day. And all there was in it was a note from the censor: "Your boy friend still loves you but he talks too much."

Useless Expense

Rastus—Ah's asking you for a donation to done build a fence 'round de cemetery.
Sambo—Ah don't see no use in no fence. Dem's what's in dere can't come out. And dem what's out sho don't wanna get in.

U. S. army engineers clear path through ruins of a large town in southern Italy, where bitter fighting has raged along the road to Rome. Picture shows streets piled high with rubble, against a background of blackened and hollow buildings, stripped to skeletons by bombings.

ALLIES MEET:
Talk in Moscow

Swooping down over Moscow, two brown Liberator bombers finally came to rest on the Russian capital's chief airfield. From the planes stepped American Secretary of State Cordell Hull and British Foreign Minister Anthony Eden. Waiting to greet them was Russian Foreign Commissar Vyacheslav Molotov.

Although the officials were expected to discuss the possibility of the U. S. and Britain opening a second front in France, it was anticipated that the chief consideration would revolve around re-establishment of European boundaries after the war, with emphasis on Russia's claim to the Baltic states and parts of Finland, Poland and Rumania.

Meanwhile a new lend-lease agreement signed in London, pledges the U. S., Britain and Canada to increase supplies to Russia this winter to help her avert famine and carry on the war against Germany.

Dnieper Battle Rages

The titanic struggle on the Dnieper river increased in violence as the Russians poured more troops across the broad waterway and the Nazis rushed reinforcements to bolster their sagging lines.

Although apparently successful in stabilizing their lines in the north, the Germans found the going rough in the central and southern sectors. The Russians were successful in shifting their attacks from one point to another and keeping the Nazis off balance.

These tactics were evident in the Kiev, Melitopol and Kremenchug regions. After being held near Kiev, the Reds switched their attack to Melitopol to the south. When the Germans rushed reinforcements to the area, the Russians then shifted to heavy attacks on Kremenchug to the north.

OL' MAN RIVER:
Back in Business

America's inland waterway system—once a principal artery for transportation and freight—has come back into its own in World War II.

Addressing the 25th annual Mississippi Valley association convention in St. Louis, Mo., Defense Transportation Director Joseph Eastman declared America's inland waterways will carry 157 billion ton-miles of freight in 1943, a ton-mile being the movement of a ton one mile.

With 95 per cent of the freight on the Mississippi consisting of essential material, Eastman said the river's system embraces 5,000 barges from 100 to 3,000 tons in capacity, and 1,000 towboats from 200 to 2,500 horsepower. Last year, Eastman revealed, 16½ billion ton-miles of freight were carried over the system.

The waterway system has been moving record loads despite a decrease in facilities because of the transfer of many Great Lakes and inland carriers to ocean service.

U. S. PLANES:
Production Lags

Because of changes in models, engine shortages, labor needs, faulty distribution of raw materials and plant reorganizations, American aircraft production for 1943 will fall below President Roosevelt's announced goal of 125,000 planes, the Office of War Information said. War Production board officials have cut estimates of output to 90,000.

In reviewing the aircraft program, OWI noted that the period of experimentation has passed, with the result that production is now being concentrated on proven models. Engine improvements have given American fighter planes increased speed and climb, while developments in armor and gunnery have added to the strength of heavy bombers. Dwarling even the famed flying Fortress, a new long-range bomber capable of carrying heavier loads will soon make its appearance.

JAPAN:
Expand Industry

Japan has moved for maximum industrialization of East Asia as part of her program to meet the Allies' impending onslaught on her rambling empire.

By recent order, the famous business house of Mitsubishi was directed to double the capital of its subsidiaries, with the Japanese government itself putting in 50 per cent of the new money.

Further, Mitsubishi's shipbuilding, steel and aircraft industries are to be reorganized, with vital plants moved to China and Manchuria to escape Allied bombing. The other 10 financial houses which share their rule over Japanese business with Mitsubishi are also expected to come under close government control.

FOOD:
1944 Outlook

Although food production in 1944 will probably equal or even exceed this year's, civilian supplies may be smaller, the bureau of agricultural economics reported. Military, lend-lease and other government requirements will more than offset any increase, it was said.

Supplies of cereals, chickens, eggs, fresh fruits and vegetables, potatoes, dried beans and peas should be as plentiful as this year, the bureau declared, with greater enrichment of bread and flour promising more iron and B vitamins.

However, shorter supplies of meats and dairy products are in prospect, the bureau reported, with a resultant decrease in calories, protein and calcium. Stocks of fats and oils should equal this year's production, it was said.

Happy Meeting

Reunited, the couple decided to serve Uncle Sam as husband and wife, and they climaxed their romance by marriage, which made Pvt. Elliot the first WAC to be wedded in the European theater of war.

CATTLE:
Less Slaughter

Because cattle slaughter for the first nine months of 1943 dropped to 7,962,000 head from the 9,067,005 killed during the same period last year, 700 million pounds less beef have been produced.

During the first few weeks of October, however, cattle slaughter showed an increase over preceding months, with 406,961 head killed. On October 19, 20 major markets received 200,000 cattle for a record run, with Kansas City receipts of 57,000 setting an all-time mark.

According to reports, many thin, grass-fed cattle were finding their way to the stockyards instead of to the feed lots of the Midwest's corn belt. Prime fed cattle were selling only slightly below the July peak.

WAR BONDS

Final tabulations reveal that the 15-billion-dollar Third War Loan was over-subscribed by nearly four billions. Of the $18,943,000,000 worth of bonds sold, $5,377,000,000 was taken by individuals. The popular "Series E" bonds account for $2,472,000,000 of this great sum.

Treasury officials are gratified at the response, because it was the intention to market this issue among individuals, estates and business corporations to as large an extent as possible.

AXIS MORALE IS CRACKING
Military reports that have leaked out of Germany in the past two or three weeks indicate quite definitely that Nazi morale is cracking. These reports, through channels which cannot be revealed, were quite definite even before Propaganda Minister Goebbels delivered his give-away speech warning that saboteurs on the home front would be beheaded.

Reports also are definite that the German army no longer has the reserves, no longer has the fighting backbone for a long war. Resentment against Hitler boils beneath the surface in the German army. German soldiers will keep on fighting, and are toughly trained, desperately hitting adversaries. But their heart isn't in it anymore.

All these factors, plus powerful wallpops by the Allies, have created an atmosphere in which anything might happen. It is an atmosphere not unlike that which existed in the autumn of 1918. There are those in high places who think the war in Europe might be over anytime this winter, depending entirely on Nazi morale.

But in Asia the war is moving at a snail's pace. In Burma, though the rains are already over, nothing has happened. Many observers think that nothing will happen until late this winter, and that the real drive through Burma toward South China will be reserved for a year from now—the fall of 1944.

WILL ROGERS IN LONDON
Congressman Will Rogers of California, son of the cowboy humorist, came back from London singing the praises of American-British co-operation in England.

American troops, which he described as the new "Army of Occupation," live off the fat of the land and are treated royally by the British. There is nothing too good for them. Only trouble is they occasionally take a girl away from a British Tommy.

Will's father was a frequent visitor in London, and everyone remembered him. So it was like old home week for the young congressman from California.

BRITISH IDLE OIL

Maine's eagle-eyed Senator Brewster met Gen. B. B. Somervell, chief of the army's service forces on the Pacific island of Fiji, immediately tackled him on the dynamite-laden, all-important question of why the U.S.A. was supplying nearly 70 per cent of all Allied oil, though we have only 25 per cent of the world's oil reserves.

"Right around the Persian Gulf," reminded Senator Brewster, "the British have oil refineries and limitless quantities of oil. Why don't we get more oil out of the Near East instead of hauling it all the way from Texas?"

"We are rushing refining equipment to Arabia as quickly as we can," replied General Somervell.

"Yes," countered the senator from Maine, "but why use precious shipping space carting refining equipment half way around the world when the British already have a refinery at the Gulf of Persia. The manager of the Anglo-Persian oil company told us that his refinery could produce 60 per cent more oil. Why not put it to work instead of exhausting our own oil reserves?"

"Furthermore," Brewster continued, "the crude oil from Persian wells is so good that it can be pumped right into ships as bunker oil without refining. If we don't get busy and use it, we'll wake up after the war to find the United States with no oil left, and dependent on the British Empire."

CABOOSE SLEEPERS
Corrued Senator Ed Johnson of Colorado got his start as a railroad telegrapher, still proudly carries a union card. So he was well qualified to preside over the War Mobilization committee when A. F. Whitney, president of the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen, testified on manpower and other railroad problems.

Whitney objected to the policy of some railroads in refusing to let train crews sleep in idle cabooses. Trainmen away from home frequently can't get hotel accommodations, but railroad officials argue that it is unsanitary and also dangerous for them to sleep in "cabs," which sometimes have to be switched.

"When I was a working trainman, we always lived in our cabooses," Whitney said, "not because rooms were not available at hotels but because it was more convenient."

"Many's the time I have slept in cabooses myself," reminisced Johnson.

MERRY-GO-ROUND

4 American doughboys in Iran have found a good way to dodge U. S. military police and get out of camp at night. They take advantage of the Mohammedan custom of veiling their women, and slip on a full-length, cover-all veil which Iranian women wear from head to toe. Military police have been instructed to protect Iranian women and prevent all flirting, so they don't dare stop a veiled figure to ask her (or him) to lower the veil, and see whether an American doughboy is behind it.

cial "line" for the purpose of conditioning the public to additional regimentation. The coming 1944 political campaign is a factor.

What are the "secret statistics" as revealed in Washington following the recent pep-up conference? Here are a few:

Germany has 300 well-trained and well-equipped army divisions in Europe. Most of these are on the Russian front. The American army and navy at the end of 1944 (fourteen months from today) will have about 7,500,000 men overseas and 3,750,000 still on duty in this country. Today, the reverse is true. Our overseas armies are not concentrated in France as they were 25 years ago; they are scattered around the globe. At the end of two years of preparations, we are just about ready to transport a big invasion army to Europe. Our big test is yet to come.

Contrary to common belief, the German air force is larger today than it was in 1939, and the Japanese air strength is constantly increasing. Japanese have 2,000,000 men who have not been called yet to the colors; its manpower resources are "very great." Our victories in the South Pacific have been 3,000 miles from the empire itself and only at the fringe of the Japanese-held territory.

Germany is estimated to have 35,000,000 workers in war factories today, compared with 23,000,000 in 1939. Their food ration is higher in caloric content than four years ago.

The American home front must increase production of munitions about 21 per cent in 1944. This means the making of $75,000,000,000 in weapons of war. Much of this will be in airplanes, especially heavy bombers and transport planes. To get our army and their material overseas and to keep our many fronts supplied with replacements and additional supplies, the American home front must produce 20 per cent more ships in 1944 than in 1943.

Such is the picture, as certified this month by the army and navy.

Transfer of pre-war fathers from Michigan war plants to the armed forces is going to tighten Michigan's labor shortage still more. The dearth of manpower should scrape bottom by April or May, 1944. Our army is due to reach full strength by July, 1944—

30 months after declaration of war. Already our war is stretching into length.

Michigan manufacturers are wary about giving approval to any precedent which would possibly embarrass them, later on, in government control of manpower. Today's utilization of labor is on a voluntary basis, although new restrictions went into effect Oct. 15 requiring funneling of employment requests involving "critical" occupations into the United States Employment Service. The new manpower control, based on management-labor committees, is said to be the next thing to a national labor draft.

Organized labor also wants a back door opened wide. Actually Michigan labor is not united on the matter of manpower utilization; some leaders are willing to accept all-out control "for the duration" on a basis of patriotic sacrifice; other leaders violently oppose it as a dangerous invasion of their own rights.

Michigan farmers have succeeded pretty well in the 1943 efforts to deliver the crops on schedule, despite handicaps of shortage of labor and a late spring. In agriculture, voluntary labor has succeeded to date. The national yield was off only about 10 per cent from 1942 bumper production. Victory gardens, scheduled to produce ten to twelve millions tons of food, are expected by the U. S. Department of Agriculture to yield around eight million tons.

As any city dweller knows, prices of fruits and vegetables have approached fabulous levels. Luxury goods—jewelry, for example—are enjoying record sales. Men's suits are up in price, despite the absence of a vest and a second pair of pants. Women's clothing sales are 60 per cent ahead of 1942 at this time.

Inflation is here, although the cost of living has been stabilized momentarily.

Michigan's state government is wrestling with problems of post-war planning, trying to absorb the terrific shock of vast unemployment and heavy relief loads; meeting impending department deficits due to wage rises while other departments return unexpended funds to the state general fund; trying to satisfy liquor buyers with a short stock of goods, rationed strictly on a quota basis, in competition with black market liquor available to private dealers in other states which do not control profit through a state monopoly.

As 446,000 fathers are drafted this year and 500,000 more fathers face military service in 1944, national shortages in manpower, transportation, newsprint, gasoline, tires and perhaps foods are bound to get worse.

During the next few minutes of history, lives of future generations will be vitally affected by what we do or fail to do.

With 12 per cent of all national war contracts concentrated in our factories, Michigan must work harder and keep on eye on the clock. Soon only seconds will remain.

Garden Sanitation
Garden sanitation requires both the protection of plants from diseases and insect pests, and the prompt removal of diseased plants. When a squash, cucumber, or melon vine collapses with wilt, don't even walk near it until you're ready to remove it from the garden. Don't gather beans pockmarked with rust and then go on to handle clean vines. Examine undersides of leaves frequently for young Colorado potato beetles, Mexican bean beetles, and striped and spotted cucumber beetles.

Famed Belleau Wood
Belleau Wood, where U. S. marines stopped the Germans in 1918, was purchased in 1924 by a group of American women.

Brown Rice
Brown rice is superior in food value to polished rice, as it furnishes much more iron, vitamin B1 and riboflavin. It can be used in most recipes that call for white rice.

IMPROVED SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

By HAROLD L. LUNDQUIST, D. D., Of The Moody Bible Institute of Chicago. Released by Western Newspaper Union.

Lesson for October 31

Lesson subjects and Scripture texts selected and copyrighted by International Council of Religious Education; used by permission.

BIBLE TEACHINGS ON ABSTINENCE (International Temperance Sunday)

LESSON TEXT—Leviticus 10:1, 2, 8-11; Proverbs 31:4, 5; Luke 1:13-16.
GOLDEN TEXT—Beware, I pray thee, and drink no wine nor strong drink.—Judges 13:4.

Total abstinence from all alcoholic liquors is the only sensible and effective policy for Christian people. Some, who want to use alcohol themselves, like to stress the Bible's teaching of temperance. They point to the use of wine on the part of people in biblical times, although they fail to note that more often than not it was non-alcoholic. (See "The Bible and Wine," published by Loizeaux Brothers.)

Another thing they ignore is that we live in a different day with a mechanized society, when alcoholic beverages are offered through high pressure advertising and in highly distilled and potent form.

What we are most interested in is what the Bible teaches about the matter. We note that—
Abstinence is Necessary

I. For Spiritual Obedience (Lev. 10:1-2, 8-11).

In the religious life of a nation one expects the leaders to set the example for the people to follow. Two things we may rightly demand of those who serve the nation in its religious life: (1) a vision of God and obedience to that vision in life and service, and (2) the exercise of sound, God-guided judgment in the affairs of the people.

But note what happens when the prophet and the priest turn to wine and strong drink. They err in vision (Isa. 28:7). That is, they have no clear concepts of divine truth, and lead the people into error. Further, we see that "they stumble in judgment."

To every true servant of God comes repeatedly the opportunity and the need of rendering judgment, that is, of advising and counseling those to whom he ministers. If his mind is befuddled by the use of alcohol (or, for that matter, by any other kind of worldly indulgence) he will "stumble," and cause his people to stumble.

A sad incident is related in Leviticus 10:1, 2, of the sons of Aaron. We are not told directly that they were intoxicated, but it is implied in the fact that there is an immediate injunction against the use of wine by the priests (Lev. 10:8-11).

II. For National Order (Prov. 31:4, 5).
It is a notorious fact that the liquor interests strongly influence the political life of a nation. (See "The Wrecking of the 18th Amendment," by Ernest Gordon.)

While political leaders may make sanctimonious protestation that government agencies are not influenced by the liquor interests, it is common knowledge even to those who are slightly informed that the two are closely associated.

The result of that unholy alliance is rightly described in Proverbs 31:5—"They . . . forget the law, and pervert the judgment of any of the afflicted." Much of the sad disorder in the body politic is traceable directly to the door of the makers and sellers of alcoholic beverages.

It is a depressing and disturbing thing when the leaders of a nation are known to lean on alcoholic stimulants—the broken reed on which man can only be pierced. The destructive influence of their example can be imagined.

III. For Personal Usefulness (Luke 11:13-16).
John was to be born into a life of such blessed usefulness to God and man that he was to be a "joy and gladness" to his parents, "great in the sight of the Lord," and instrumental in turning "many of the children of Israel . . . to the Lord."

Such a life is worthy of emulation on the part of every young man and woman. What is the secret of it? Undoubtedly, fine Christian parentage had much to do with it.

Other elements also entered in, such as rearing and training, but of great importance was the fact (v. 15) that he was not to be driven by the false stimulants of this world, but by the infilling of the Holy Spirit of God. No "wine nor strong drink," but being "filled with the Holy Ghost"—there, young people, is the secret of a happy and useful life.

Note that John was to be "great in the sight of the Lord" (v. 15)—nothing finer or more distinctive could be said about a man. That greatness simply could not exist along with indulgence in "wine nor strong drink." Being filled with the Spirit precludes the use of intoxicants.

Let us bear that in mind when we are tempted to be led astray by the smooth arguments of those who talk "temperance" as a ground for indulgence. Our boys and girls—yes, our men and women—need a constant warning against the evils of alcoholic liquor. (See Alcohol, a Deceiver, Depraver and Destroyer, published by Moody Press, Chicago.)

LYIN' TO THE LIONS

A tramp asked the proprietor of a circus for a job. He was informed that he could become a lion-tamer—that all he had to do was to walk into the cage and make the lions eat out of his hand. He was assured that the whole secret was in forcing the lions to believe he wasn't afraid of them.

"No," said the tramp, "I don't think I'll take the job. I couldn't be so deceitful."

Juvenile Delinquency Curb

Of new state laws enacted to help curb juvenile delinquency, Michigan's is the most interesting. Besides making it a misdemeanor to sell liquor to minors except on prescription the Michigan statute, effective January 1, 1944, prohibits sales to persons between 21 and 25 years of age unless they possess identification cards issued by the county clerk.

Sterilizing Infected Rooms
Following recovery of a patient from infectious disease, refinishing the interior of the sick room with a fresh coating of paint, varnish or enamel is a simple and effective way of guarding against danger to visitors or future occupants from germs.

TO THE WOMEN OF AMERICA

NO WHERE has the TELEPHONE been considered so much a part of the home as in America.

NO WHERE has the TELEPHONE been used so extensively in the social and business conduct of the community as in America.

NO WONDER it has been so difficult to curtail the use of the TELEPHONE as during this emergency. BUT . . .

NO ONE has contributed more to keep the lines of communication open and to winning the war than the women of America.

NO ONE will appreciate your continued cooperation more than the armed men and the defense workers of the Nation.

NO ONE offers you greater thanks than your TELEPHONE Company.

HORACE PINNEY IMPRESSED BY ARCHITECTURE

"Since I have been here I have become almost a regular attendant of the Church of England. Perhaps the main reason for this is that the vicar and his family have been especially nice in entertaining one of the other boys and myself. We have a standing invitation out to their home at any time, including a special invitation for Christmas dinner. They seem really hurt if we do not show up at least once a week. Mrs. Hodgson, his wife, was the one who got us a contract bridge game. As they play whist and auction almost entirely here, this was especially appreciated.

A few of us in the company are trying to play soccer. One or two of us played the game back in the States, but most of us are new. All of us are being rather badly banged up around the shins, but we are having fun. We are supposed to play a game with some of the natives, but I am afraid we won't have much of a chance. On the other hand, they come out to watch our softball and baseball games and cannot make out just what we are doing. They are especially amazed at the belligerent attitude and antics of the spectators. I am afraid that they think we are mighty poor sportsmen for the way we boo the umpire and the opposition.

"Of the letters that are sent us from home, the V-mail gets here the quickest. Air mail is not much slower and, of course, is a larger letter. Papers and packages and magazines are the slowest. We can never plan on any of these to meet any set schedule. However, I have received the Chronicle so it will be catching up to me sometime. Your letters have been coming through fine and, needless to say, I enjoy every one of them. If you don't hear from me regularly or quite as often, it will not be because I am not thinking of all of you at home.

"It does not rain every day here in England as we first thought. We have been enjoying a couple of perfect sunny days of late."

WAR PRISONERS' AID PROVIDES BETTER DIET

Packages from home make it possible for many American prisoners of war in Germany to enjoy a better diet than German civilians, according to a report to Clarence R. Myers, chairman, received from the National War Fund.

"Recent pictures of American prisoners of war in Germany, taken by a representative of War Prisoners' Aid, Y. M. C. A., a participating service of the National War Fund, show our men apparently adequately clothed and well fed," Mr. Myers said.

"War Prisoners' Aid delegates have reported that prison camp fare in Germany, supplemented by eleven pound food parcels sent to American prisoners by the Red Cross, gives the captured Americans a better diet than that of German civilians. Member agencies of National War Fund representing our Allies use part of their funds to provide packages for war prisoners.

"The pictures recently received were taken at Stalag IIIB, a German prison camp southeast of Berlin where the largest group of captured Americans has been interned.

"Stalag IIIB is very big and located in a pine forest, according to a report received by the National War Fund. The prison camp consists of huts and is like a little town, with long, straight concrete streets. Between the huts are so many open spaces that air and sunshine can reach all of them. The camp formerly was occupied by Serbian, Russian and French prisoners, some of whom may still be there.

"Not all prisoner of war camps would show conditions as favorable as those at Stalag IIIB, Dr. Tracy Strong, world director of War Prisoners' Aid, warned. Conditions of prison camps vary according to their location, age, and the personnel in charge. In dealing with American prisoners, it is the policy of the German government to live up to the letter and spirit of the Geneva Convention relative to the humane treatment of prisoners of war," Dr. Strong said.

Tuscola County's share of the National War Fund is $24,147.49, of which four townships have contributed their quotas as follows: Almer, $800; Columbia, $1,065; Dayton, $585; and Wells, $560. The drive in Tuscola County is scheduled to end Saturday, Nov. 6, at midnight.

New Ruling on Christmas Parcels in Overseas Mail

Christmas parcels for soldiers who have left home stations en route overseas after September 30 may be mailed as late as December 10, it was announced by Col. S. D. Kingsdorf, district commander of District No. 1, Sixth Service Command, Detroit. The new deadline has been set for the benefit of persons who receive official change of address notification subsequent to September 30. The reason for the separate provision, it was explained by Colonel Kingsdorf, is that relatives and friends of soldiers being shipped now would have expected the soldiers still to be in this country at Christmas time and would not have sent parcels in time for the regular October 15 deadline for overseas mailing.

The change of address notification must be presented by the sender when the package is mailed, Colonel Kingsdorf said. The same limitations on weight and size placed on packages mailed before October 15 will hold for those mailed before the December 10 deadline. Packages may not be more than 15 inches in length or 36 inches in length and girth combined, and they may not weigh more than five pounds.

One other restriction on the delayed mailing is that only one parcel can be sent from one person to any one individual with an overseas APO address.

Cover Crop
Gardeners who do not need the space from the early crops for late summer plantings may sow rye as a cover crop. The rye will keep this part of the garden from becoming a weed patch and plowed under next spring it will add needed organic matter to the soil.
