

Murray Exhibits Champ Steer at Jr. Livestock Show

Local Club Sustains Record; Never Without a Champion for 14 Years.

Cass City youthful livestock exhibitors of 1943 are sustaining the enviable record of local 4-H Club folks, who for 14 years, starting in 1930, have been awarded at least one championship each year at the Junior Livestock Show at Detroit.

This week, A. J. Murray of this community showed an Angus steer which not only was first in its class but was also champion steer of the show. Don Karr, another member of the local club, exhibited an Angus steer that was second in its class and Lawrence Ball's steer stood sixth in the Angus division.

Cass City showed the best group of three steers in the show. In grade Southdowns, Martel Guisbert's lamb took second place. The fourth prize for pen of Southdowns went to Cass City.

Willis Campbell, adviser of the Cass City Livestock Club, said competition at Detroit this week was very keen in the exhibit of steers, with approximately 100 Herefords, 55 Angus and 48 Short-horns at the show.

Eleven Cass City 4-H boys and girls were among the exhibitors at the Junior show this week. They are:

Lambs — Martel Guisbert, grades; Pauline Littler, Lorette Doerr and Don Doerr, all Southdowns.

Fat steers — Lawrence Ball, Dan Guisbert, Lynn Guisbert, Don Karr, Ed Karr and A. J. Murray, all Angus; Don Doerr, Short-horn; and Bob Maharg, Hereford.

Winners of high awards at the show will broadcast messages at 12:15, fast time, over WBCM, Bay City, today (Friday).

To Elect Conservation Delegates in Tuscola on December 17

Tuscola County farmers will meet in their communities in the 23 townships on Friday evening, Dec. 17, at 8:00, for the purpose of electing delegates to a county convention who will in turn elect the committee of the Tuscola County Agricultural Conservation Committee. Community committees will also be elected at the meetings held Friday evening.

Meetings will be held next Friday evening at the following places in the eastern part of Tuscola County:

Columbia Twp., Village Town Hall.

Elkland Twp., Council Room at Cass City.

Ellington Twp., Ellington School, Elmwood Twp., Town Hall at Gageton.

Kingston Twp., Town Hall, Wilmet.

Koylton Twp., Town Hall, Kingston.

Novesta Twp., Town Hall, Deford.

Wells Twp., Town Hall.

J. A. Krug, director of war utilities of the War Production Board, asks the public to refrain from using outside electric light decorations during the holiday season to conserve power. He is also asking commercial users of electric current to cooperate in the program of conserving electricity.

T-3 Horace Pinney Send Greetings from England to the Folks of This Community

In a letter from T-3 Horace Pinney in England to the publisher of the Chronicle, he writes:

Dear Herb:
“I want to extend to you and through you to all our community the season's greetings. Although this particular season's greeting is more one of thoughtful remembrance than one of joy and happiness, it is even more sincerely offered. I am sure I can speak for all of us who are unable to be with you personally as I thank you people of Cass City for taking so much trouble and effort with packages, cards, letters and your constant thoughts to reassure us of your loyalty to us and of our welcome home.”

“I am now enjoying friends and comradeship in a picturesque country. This is a land where abundance in living among the people has been an accepted fact even as it is with you. Yet it runs you a poor race. When you enjoy con-

U. of M. Faculty Member Is Speaker at Community Club

DR. JOHN MUYSKENS.

The members of the Cass City Community Club will hear an outstanding public speaker in Dr. John Muyskens from the Department of Speech of the University of Michigan, when he appears before the club at its regular December 14 meeting. His subject will be “Changing Viewpoints.”

Dr. Muyskens has been a popular public speaker in Michigan communities for 20 years on subjects pertaining to his work and is an outstanding humorist in his play of words. He is the director of the Institute for Human Adjustment at the university.

The Cass City High School Band under the direction of Vernon Wait will play a short concert preceding Dr. Muyskens' talk. The numbers will be:

Star Spangled Banner
American Patrol (Meacham)
El Capitan (Sousa) Drum majorettes

Teddy Bears' Picnic — Novelty (Bratton)
Pavane (Gould)
Chevalier Overture (St. Clair).

A few specialty numbers will be included in the musical program. The ladies of the Catholic Church will prepare the dinner for the club next Tuesday evening.

The public is invited to hear the band concert and the address, starting at 8:15.

The 1944 officers and board of directors will be introduced to the members of the club during the after-dinner program.

Detroit Couple Celebrated Silver Wedding at Deford

From Deford Correspondent.

An enjoyable evening was spent at the Arleon Retherford home Dec. 4. The occasion was the silver wedding anniversary of Mrs. Retherford's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Norris Boyne, of Detroit. Mr. and Mrs. Boyne were the recipients of many splendid gifts. Earl Redman, best man at the wedding, was present. Their daughters, Mrs. Arleon Retherford and Mrs. Clarence McQuarry of Marlette, sang “Silver Threads Among the Gold.” Fifty-five were present, coming from Crosswell, Ruby, Marlette, Sandusky, Clifford, Kingston and Deford.

Appropriation for Welfare Is $18,000 Less Than Year Ago

At the adjourned meeting of the October session of the Tuscola County board of supervisors held at Caro Tuesday, it was voted to appropriate $45,000 for the social welfare purposes, to be expended as follows: Direct relief, $9,000; afflicted adults' hospitalization, $14,000; county farm, $5,000; county infirmary, $4,000; county hospital, $6,000. The total is $18,000 less than appropriated a year ago, and $15,000 of this decrease is for direct relief.

Chairman Edgar Ross and members of the resolutions committee, Supervisors Neil H. Burns, Ernest Luder and Clarence Harmon, were named as delegates from Tuscola County to attend the regional conference of the State Planning Commission being held in Bay City this week.

Sieland Tells of Experiences in Three Ship Sinkings

As they listened to Harold Sieland of Caro Tuesday noon tell of his experiences in the Merchant Marine, Cass City Rotarians were inclined to be convinced that the young man had a charmed life and was immune to the dangers of ocean travel. Three times vessels on which he was a sailor were lost in enemy action and Sieland, known to his friends as “Squirrel,” had as many escapes.

The first mishap was when a freighter was torpedoed off the coast of Cuba. Sieland, with nine others, spent the night on an overturned lifeboat. The next morning, they rescued about 29 other survivors and the group were picked up by a fishing boat and landed in Cuba.

The second experience was when in a convoy to Malta, his boat was bombed. This time he was picked up by a small boat, transferred to a destroyer and landed in Malta, an island in the Mediterranean, which underwent terrible bombing punishment, day and night, for a considerable period. As many as 200 bombers visited the island at a time he said.

His third thriller was when a destroyer hit a mine. This time he was picked up by a mine sweeper. From a Rotary member, not from Sieland, who is extremely modest, it was learned that he was chosen captain of the group marooned in the lifeboat off Cuba and due to his bravery and ingenuity, many were rescued from a watery grave. Mr. Sieland has been in the Merchant Marine 12 years.

Mr. Sieland was introduced by M. B. Auten, who is the club's program chairman for December.

Hit It Bulletin

In line with the national drive for collection of discarded clothing and rags, the citizens of this community are urged to contribute to their contributions for the county pickup next week.

All have felt the same wave of pity and horror at pictures of shivering ill-clad children, men and women, in territories made desolate by the Nazi. American-like our impulse is “What can I do to help?”

Here is the answer right on your doorstep!
Collect your discarded clothing—don't be too choosy, it doesn't have to be too good to provide some warmth—and you will be notified where to take it by your local salvage chairman.

But start making up your bundle today. Don't put it off, for you will be called on within a few days.
Don't be sorry you did not help!

Michigan Holds National Spotlight in Inflation Battle

Gap Between Farmer and War Worker Has Widened in the State.

Michigan continues to hold the national spotlight in today's home front battles against inflation.

First it was Prentiss M. Brown who sponsored the price-fixing bill for the Administration while he was a member of the United States Senate. Brown is an able man, and his rise to leadership is proof of his talents. But when he ran for re-election, he was defeated by the Michigan farmer.

Then Brown became the nation's price administrator. Fixing and controlling prices when the national income is almost twice the value of all available merchandise is a tough job at its very best. Brown knew it. He said “No” to the President repeatedly until he finally submitted to the appointment on the war-time responsibility of obeying our commander-in-chief. And with the aid of selective subsidies, he was moderately successful in “holding the line” for three or four months and thus keeping the cost of living from further rises of the inflation spiral.

In the meanwhile, the Michigan farm revolt which resulted in Brown's defeat at the 1942 polls has continued—and, in fact, has actually increased in intensity. The gap between farmer and war worker has widened. This is interesting for a state which has received a greater percentage of government war contracts than any other state in the nation. It merely reflects the extreme difficulty which Governor Kelly experiences in trying to deal with both farm and labor groups on matters of this kind. Turn to Mich. Mirror, page 7.

COMING AUCTIONS.

On account of the death of her husband, Mrs. Giles Fulcher will sell her household goods at auction in the Geo. Hitchcock residence, two blocks south of the Ford Garage in Cass City, on Saturday, Dec. 11. Arnold Copeland is the auctioneer. Her advertisement appears on page 7.

On the same page appears an announcement of a community sale at Mac's Store, Cass City, on Saturday, Dec. 18.

Having sold his farm, 6 miles west and 1 1/4 miles south of Sandusky, Fred Ryan offers for sale at auction his personal property consisting of cattle, feed, implements, etc., on Tuesday, Dec. 21. Mr. Ryan's auction advertisement will appear in the Chronicle next week.

Farmers' Tax Deadline December 15

Farmers are required to file declarations of estimated 1943 income and victory tax and make a payment by Dec. 15. Farmers who elected to make declarations Sept. 15 when most other persons made them, will need only to make an installment payment Dec. 15. Persons who made declarations Sept. 15 and wish to amend them or those who made no declarations but since have had a change in income to require them, also should file by Dec. 15. Persons with tax installments due on that date will receive and have received bills from the local collector of Internal Revenue.

Corp. Hoadley Is Awarded the Purple Heart

He Suffered Injuries During the Establishment of Salerno Beachheads.

Corp. Veron Hoadley of the United States Army Paratroops Division, son of Mr. and Mrs. Orville Hoadley of Lansing and former resident of Greenleaf Township, has been awarded the purple heart for injuries suffered during the establishment of the Salerno, Italy, beachhead, according to information received by his parents recently.

Corporal Hoadley, who was wounded in the knee when paratroops were landed at Salerno to aid American forces engaged in a bloody battle with the Germans, is recovering from an operation at an American hospital in Africa.

In a letter to his parents, he anticipates being retired from combat duty and there exists the possibility that he may return to the United States and be released. The latter will depend on his complete recovery from the operation following the injury.

Before participating in the Italian relief action, Corp. Hoadley had seen action in the initial phases of the Sicily invasion. Following the defeat of the Axis forces on the Sicilian front, his parachute infantry regiment was re-equipped and sent into the Italian battle.

Corp. Hoadley is the grandson of Mrs. Guy Hoadley of Greenleaf Township.

Tuscola County's Quota Is $1,146,000

Tuscola County's quota in the Fourth Loan Drive is $1,146,000, which is $411,000 less than the county assignment in the Third Loan Drive last September. The fourth drive starts Jan. 18 and continues to Feb. 15. County Chairman Clarence Bougher plans to have the same committees in 11 districts in the county to handle the campaign in their communities.

The Quiz, So Popular on Radio, Originated in Cass City in the Eighties, Says Gamble

J. Elmer Seed has received a letter from Walter J. Gamble, a member of the Class of 1887, the first group to be graduated from the Cass City High School. The following paragraphs taken from the letter written from Seabreeze, Daytona Beach, Fla., will be of particular interest to pioneer residents:

“Dear Elmer:
“Two or three years ago I called at your house and saw your wife (that little Schwadexer girl) and then went up to your barn to find you. You weren't there.
“Like many old men I am living considerably in the past—and like to do it. It is doubtless impossible to get any sort of a reunion of the pupils who attended school at Cass City in the old schoolhouse down across from the Presbyterian Church. There can't be many of them left. Of those I can call to mind I would name Mack Wickware, Lew Houghton (both in Detroit) and you and George Hitchcock of Cass City. Also I think Do-

Charles A. Smith Fatally Injured in Saginaw Factory

Death Came Early Tuesday Morning After Accident of Evening Before.

Charles Austin Smith, who lived with his family on Rural Route No. 3, Cass City, five miles west and six and a half miles south of Cass City, was fatally injured in an industrial plant in Saginaw, where he was employed, Monday evening and passed away in St. Mary's Hospital in Saginaw early Tuesday morning.

Funeral services for Mr. Smith, 41, were held at 2:00 p. m. Thursday in the Colwood United Brethren Church, the pastor officiating. Burial was made in Almer Cemetery.

Mr. Smith is survived by his wife, the former Miss Maybelle Smith, of Colwood, and six children, the eldest eight years and the baby two and a half months. The children are: David Lee, Wayne Austin, Shirley June, Lowell Thomas, Phyllis Ann and Nancy Lou. Also surviving are his mother, Mrs. Jas. Smith, of Reese; a brother, Raymond Smith, of Ellington; and five sisters, Mrs. Verna Dewar of Harrisville, Mrs. Grace Stockton of Detroit, Mrs. Pearl Cole of Bloomington, Ohio, Mrs. Nellie Haynie of Osborn, Ohio, and Mrs. Mary Minthorn of Reese.

The deceased was born June 19, 1902, in Portage, Ohio.

Dr. Starmann Names Gavel Committees

At the regular meeting of the Gavel Club Tuesday evening, Rev. Dudley C. Mosure was elected to membership. Ben Benkelman, Jr., served as toastmaster for the program with Howard Wooley giving a talk on “Milk” and Vernon Wait speaking on “The Value of Music.” Bernard Ross gave the contents of two chapters on parliamentary law which had previously been assigned to him.

The final bowling match between members of the Gavel and Rotary clubs will be held this (Friday) evening.

Toys which have been completed by members of the club present a most attractive display in the window of the Bigelow hardware store.

The meeting of both the Gavel and Rotary clubs for next week will be combined with that of the Community Club.

Gavel Club committees appointed by the president, Dr. B. H. Starmann, and now functioning are:

Membership — Rev. Frank E. Smith, Glenn McCullough, James Gross.

Program — Glenn Wooster, A. N. Bigelow, Lester Ross.

House — Clarence Burt, Watson Spaven, Dr. Ivan McRae.

Publicity — C. M. Wallace, Herb Ludlow, Vernon Wait.

Birds Have Keen Vision
One of the mysteries of vision in nature is the pecten, a fan-shaped structure in the vitreous humor of the eye of birds. Birds have the keenest vision found in nature and it is believed that the pecten has something to do with making the eyes of birds so much better than other eyes.

Pick Vegetables Properly
Vegetables picked at the right time have much better flavor and quality than those picked too early or too late. Correct harvest also enables many vegetable plants, such as beans and summer squash, to continue production, instead of ripening the first early pods or fruits.

Ate Less Meat
Even in normal times Italians per person had only a quarter of the beef and veal to which Americans and Britons are accustomed, and less than half the French average, says the National Geographic society. Much meat was imported.

Improved Uniform International SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

CHRIST'S NEW COMMANDMENT

LESSON TEXT—Mark 12:23-34: John 13:34, 35; 15:12-14. GOLDEN TEXT—A new commandment I give unto you, that ye love one another; as I have loved you, that ye also love one another.—John 13:34.

The "new commandment" of love which Christ gave was not new in the sense of first being known, but new in its application (John 13:34). Only since Christ had come did men know how to love in truth.

This commandment of love was also first in time, being given before the Ten Commandments (see Lev. 19:18). Then, too, it declared the fundamental of all spiritual life, the first thing man needed to know, that God is love.

It also must take first place in man's thinking, for even as the Decalogue (Ten Commandments) is the heart of all moral law, so love for God and our fellow man is that which makes the Decalogue effective in our lives. Love and obedience go together (John 15:10). Our lesson teaches us four things—

I. Love God (Mark 12:23-30). Because "God is love" (1 John 4:8) He desires man's perfect love toward Him. Because the essence of His being is love, He loves us, and enables us to love Him.

There is more here than a commandment or the performing of a duty. There is the recognition of a controlling principle of all life. In a day of multiplication of powerful machines and organizations, when man is "power conscious" in an unusual way, it is well to recall that the greatest power in all the world is the power of love.

Then let us not forget that all true love should rest upon fellowship with God. It has no real foundation if it does not.

II. Love Your Neighbor (Mark 12:31-34). Everything about our relationship to Christ and to God expresses itself in our living. No spiritual truth is simply to be admired, or kept on a shelf as a cherished possession. It is to be put to work in the affairs of life.

Love for God means love for our neighbor. If we do not love our neighbor (and that means our fellow man—Luke 10:25-42) how then does the love of God abide in our hearts? It is worthy of note that the recognition and appreciation of this truth on the part of the scribe brought him near to the kingdom of God, but not into it. He was "not far from," but he was not in it. It is terrifying to think how close men may come to entering without doing so. Reader, have you entered into eternal life through Jesus Christ?

III. Love Your Brethren (John 13:34, 35). Here we come within the circle of believers and see that the distinctive thing about their fellowship should be love for one another.

The old commandment of love becomes a new one because Christ shows that the measure of that love is to be His great love for us. How did Christ love us? With a perfect, unselfish and thoughtful devotion, which so deeply desired the very most and best for us that He was willing to lay down His holy life as our Saviour from sin.

The thing which marked the early church with glorious distinction was that in a world that hated, they loved one another, and in a world that killed and destroyed, they were even willing to die for their brethren. Tertullian of Carthage (Tunis) said, in the second century, that the enemies of Christianity said of the Christians, "See how they love one another."

IV. Love is Obedient, Joyful and Sacrificial (John 15:10-14). Love is not an impulsive, erratic movement of man's nature which tries to make up for neglect and unkindness by occasional displays of generosity and thoughtfulness. No indeed. Love walks the straight and steady way of obedience to God's commandments.

Keeping God's law is not accomplished by reading it, or talking about it, or even learning it by heart, but by definitely practicing its precepts.

This brings joy into our lives—the real and perfect joy of Christ. How little we appreciate what this means. Our fellowship with the Lord calls for obedience and sacrifice, but that is not a burdensome, dull, distressing experience. It is a joyful one. Who counts it a trial to do that which pleases a loved one? Do we really love God? Then we will rejoice in our response to His will, in any possible act of devotion.

Love draws no limiting line beyond which it will not go. Love says: "I count not my life dear, if in giving it I may bring deliverance to my friends."

We shall not question His guidance nor blush to own His name, even though the testimony may mean our death. This we shall do for Christ's sake, and for the sake of a suffering humanity.

Yule Wreaths Easy to Make

This year, the home wreath maker can use a bit of ingenuity and concoct perhaps handsomer wreaths than ever.

Wire is scarce, so unless last year's wire frame was saved, a substitute will be needed. Some people twist two or more small, tough switches from hazel, maple or dogwood. They use this, bound with moss, as a base for the holly or evergreen wreath.

A wire coat hanger, bent to circular shape, is good for a wreath, and has the merit of being universally obtainable.

The evergreens or holly to be used for making the wreath should be cut into short lengths, longer for a large wreath, shorter for one of small diameter, but about six inches the general length.

The short sections are gathered into little bunches and wired onto the wire foundation. Strong green cord can be used to fasten them on, too, wrapping it over and over around the frame. Small wire is better if obtainable.

Another way of making a wreath is to wire each small bunch of the greens onto a toothpick, then stick these into the moss-covered framework. But for this method there must be a framework an inch or two broad instead of a single wire circle.

Holly, spruce, Douglas fir, cedar and many of the ornamental nursery varieties of evergreens may be used to make the wreath.

Pleasant Work

There's no shirking on this job. Each of the willing helpers knows that in a few days a brightly wrapped package will be waiting under the gaily lighted tree. And nothing could be fairer than that.

Shepherd's Pie Best Meal in Single Dish

A shepherd's pie is a one-piece dish. It originated in the Balkans. The Balkan shepherds probably learned of the dish from a still older land because it is known that shepherds have lived among their flocks since the dim ages. They ate their meals far from their homes or villages, cooking them on the spot. There was only a crude fire and generally but one dish in which to cook the entire meal.

Although it is primitive and simple, a shepherd's pie is a wholesome and delicious meal in one dish. In his kettle, the shepherd boils his rice and saves what he does not eat immediately. For a later meal, he first takes bits of lamb and with slices of onion, places this upon a skewer and browns the meat and onion over a bed of coals.

Then he greases the inside of his dish and covers the bottom with a half-inch layer of left-over rice. Over the rice he slices a tomato. If he has a green pepper, thin slices of pepper are added. Some of the meat and onion are added for another layer. Then salt and pepper, more rice and the rest of the meat and tomatoes and peppers. And finally a top layer of rice.

Last of all, he pours over the mixture enough broth, or hot water if there is no broth, to about reach the top of the pie. Bake for three-quarters of an hour in a medium oven. When the top is browned, the pie is ready to eat.

The modern housewife can follow the same recipe, only she can cook the meat and the onion in a frying pan and use canned tomatoes if she prefers. The pie will bake even better in a good oven at about 450 degrees. The family casserole is a handy dish in which to make the pie. With a pound of left-over lamb as the base, here is a good meal for four.

Christmas in Spring
Quartodecimens, a small sect of early Christians, observed Christmas on the 25th of March, just after the vernal equinox. Their assumption of the date of Christ's birth was based on Pilate's words and acts threatened with excommunication, they finally gave in at the Council of Nice.

Baffling Problem
The proper celebration of Christmas has been improved, but there still is the problem of getting a six-foot Christmas tree home in an overcoat pocket.

EVERGREEN.

Mr. and Mrs. Leo Hall spent the week end with relatives in Ontario. The Evergreen W. C. T. U. will hold their regular monthly meeting in the home of Mrs. Wm. Coulter on Dec. 17. An all-day meeting is planned with potluck lunch at noon.

Mrs. E. M. Gibson of Flint is spending some time with her daughters here.

Miss June Coulter of Detroit came Saturday to spend some time at her parental home here. Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Severance spent from Thanksgiving until the middle of last week with relatives in Flint.

Aids Eyes
One good serving of carrots will supply at least one-half of your daily requirement of vitamin A or carotene, which is the mother substance of vitamin A. Vitamin A is extremely helpful in maintaining a good healthy condition of the mucous lining of eyes, throat, nose, digestive tract, etc. So call upon your victory garden for plenty of carrots.

Seed Difficulties
It is not easy to save seeds of some of the vegetable crops because they do not produce seed until the second year. This includes most of the root crops, most of the cabbage family, and also onions and celery. In our climate these plants or roots must be stored and reset.

Longest Term
Brig. Gen. Henderson, appointed marine commandant in 1820, held the office for the longest term—39 years—and established himself as one of the marine corps' most efficient leaders. He died in office on January 6, 1859.

Lose Zeal

Most gardeners are zealous weed fighters in June, but need to concentrate more on August and September, when the weeds go to seed and store next year's trouble in the soil. It pays to use the wheel hoe on the late crops. It pays to pull weeds among the tomatoes, cucumbers, and other crops that cover the ground. Fence rows and borders should also be cleaned of weeds. As the days get shorter, some weeds go to seed even though they have made little growth.

Farm Ponds

The technique of farm-pond management is built around fertilization. By proper fertilization the productive capacity of ponds may be enormously increased, the gain in fish production ranging from 50 per cent in naturally poorer waters to a three fold increase in ponds draining rich soils.

Wood Seasoning

The greater the surface of wood exposed to the air, the quicker the seasoning; split wood seasons twice as fast as round wood if it is more than six inches in diameter.

Raise Grapes and Olives

Next to the grains, Italy's largest acreage is in grapes, with olives following closely. A million acres are in potatoes, half again that area in beans, with smaller plantings of other vegetables, from which Italy contributed to Germany's war-time supply. Before the war Italy annually exported nearly 100 million dollars' worth of vegetables and fruits.

Sound Locators

A German naval expert, writing in Das Reich, recently admitted that the vaunted U-boat had been at least temporarily outmatched, and attributed part of the defeat to new Allied "sound locators" so sensitive they could even detect a submarine "when it was operating noiselessly."

Keep Tile Clean

Tiled bathroom floors can be kept immaculate by regular scrubbing. Use a scrub brush dipped into warm soap lather. Rinse with a cloth wrung out of clear water, and wipe with a dry cloth. Avoid stepping on the clean surface until it is thoroughly dry. Be sure to scrub around the base of all fixtures.

Christmas Carol

by Charles Dickens

SCROOGE awoke before the hour bell sounded, which it now did with a deep, dull, hollow, melancholy One. Light flashed up in the room upon the instant, and the curtains of his bed were drawn by a small, elfish creature.

"I am the Ghost of Christmas Past," it said.

As the words were spoken, they passed through the wall, and stood upon an open country road.

"Good Heaven!" said Scrooge, "I was a boy here!"

They went, the Ghost and Scrooge, to a melancholy room, made barer still by lines of plain deal forms and desks. At one of these a lonely boy was reading near a feeble fire: Scrooge wept to see his poor forgotten self as he used to be, and glanced anxiously towards the door.

It opened, and a little girl, much younger than the boy came darting in, and putting her arms about his neck, and kissing him, addressed him as her "Dear, dear brother."

"I have come to bring you home, dear brother!" said the child. "Home, for good and all. Home, for ever and ever. Father is so much kinder than I was not afraid to ask him once more if you might come home; and he said Yes, you should; and sent me in a coach to bring you."

"She was a dear girl," said Scrooge.

"She died a woman," said the Ghost, "and had, I think, children."

"One child," Scrooge returned.

They proceeded and the Ghost stopped at a certain warehouse door, and asked Scrooge if he knew it.

"Why, it's old Fezziwig! Bless his heart: it's Fezziwig alive again!"

In came a fiddler to the warehouse and tuned like fifty stomach-aches. In came Mrs. Fezziwig, one vast substantial smile. In came the three Miss Fezziwigs, beaming and loveable. In came the six young followers whose hearts they broke. In came all the young men and women employed in the business.

They danced and ate, then danced some more, and all were gay with the Christmas season.

"My time grows short," observed the Spirit. "Quick!"

Scrooge now found himself by the side of a fair young girl in whose eyes there were tears.

"It matters little," she said, softly. "To you, very little. Another idol has displaced me; and if it can cheer and comfort you in time to come, as I would have tried to do, I have no just cause to grieve."

"What idol has displaced you?" he rejoined.

"A golden one."

"Spirit!" said Scrooge, "show me no more! Conduct me home. Why do you delight to torture me?" [To Be Continued]

When the children go back to school, cover their books with washable oilcloth, which can be wiped clean with a sudsy cloth whenever it is soiled. The covers will protect this valuable public property, and teach the children respect for books and for cleanliness, too.

Removal Doesn't Help
Experiments have shown that removal of the suckers or short side stalks from corn plants does not increase production, give larger or earlier ears. If the suckers are removed when the corn plants are well grown, it actually reduces the yield.

The first United States warship to travel around the world was the USS Vincennes—the ship left the New York harbor on September 3, 1826, returned June 8, 1830.

ON the battle front or on the home front, Meat is fighting food. Its strength-giving and satisfying qualities have made meat the center of the day's meals in 30 million American homes.

More than that, it's one of nature's most nutritious foods. On the basis of average servings, meat is a richer source of more dietary essentials than any other single food. Regardless of sex, age, or occupation, we all need meat—rich in vitamins, minerals, protein, and energy.

RESCUE

Little Miss Phyllis Dodge of Cass City spent Saturday evening with her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Maharg.

Mrs. DeEtte J. Mellendorf visited the past two weeks in Port Huron at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Richard Loos, and family. They brought her home on Sunday and returned home again the same day.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Ashmore and son, David, of Cass City were Sunday callers at Mr. Ashmore's parental home.

Benjamin McAlpine was a business caller in Marlette Monday evening.

The Woman's Society of Christian Service of the Bethel Church met last Thursday with Mrs. John Doerr.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Ashmore, Jr., and children have moved to their new home in Gagetown.

The Grant-Elkland Grange meets at the John West home in Cass City, Friday, Dec. 10.

Mr. and Mrs. Levi Helwig and children of Cass City and Mr. and Mrs. Stanley B. Mellendorf and children of Grant were Sunday visitors at the home of their mother and grandmother, Mrs. DeEtte J. Mellendorf.

Norris and Milton Mellendorf, Gerald Kreh and Leonard Morley were in Marlette Monday evening on business.

Eliminate Crystals
Grape juice and grape jelly are easy to make, but the canning experts say that there's sometimes a problem with the crystals that form in grape products. These crystals are perfectly harmless, but the gritty texture often mars the perfection of your homemade grape juice or jelly. You can beat these crystals if you strain the grape juice and then let it stand overnight in a cool place. The next day carefully dip out the juice and strain it a second time. In making the juice into jelly, use this same trick.

Naval Stores
The term "naval stores" dates from the early 17th century when seamen tarred their ropes and caulked their sailing vessels with tar and pitch. Most of the naval stores then came from Sweden. Now the United States produces more than 70 per cent of the world's supply. Georgia leads in production with Florida second. Alabama, Mississippi, South Carolina, and Louisiana also contribute these war-essential products.

Reconstructs Old Canal
New York state has reconstructed the historic Erie canal at a cost of $170,000,000. Thomas Jefferson's interest in canals prompted a survey, in 1808, by a commission appointed by the New York legislature, of the route between the Great Lakes and the Hudson river. In the spring of 1817 the Erie canal was authorized. Ground was broken at Rome on July 4, 1817. On October 26, 1825, the first boat, the Seneca Chief, left Buffalo for New York. Cannonfire boomed the news along the route in 90 minutes, although it was not until November 4 that the Chief reached Sandy Hook.

Washing Mixed Fibers
When laundering articles made partly of natural fibers such as cotton, and partly of synthetic fibers such as rayon, always wash as though the whole garment were made of the synthetic fiber. Lukewarm water, mild soap, and gentle handling without wringing or twisting are indicated.

Wages Rise
Weekly wages of manufacturing workers have gone up more than 81 per cent since August, 1939. Living costs in this period (August, 1939-June, 1943) have increased only 27 per cent.

Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Purdy entertained the Frances Bell Watson Past Matrons' Club last week at a seven o'clock dinner, followed by a social evening.

Mrs. Theresa Wald went to Saginaw Sunday to spend the week with her daughter, Miss Margaret Wald.

Sour Milk Value
Sour milk has all the food value of fresh milk—its calcium, protein and vitamins. The family will get those food values if it's used in pancakes, biscuits, butter cakes, gingerbread or cottage cheese. To make the cottage cheese, let the milk thicken at room temperature; then place it in a clean cheesecloth bag and drain over night. Add salt (and pepper if desired) to the curds left in the cheesecloth and chill before serving. Chopped chives give it a pleasant tang, and a tomato stuffed with it makes a delicious luncheon dish.

Camphor Hurts and Heals
Every bomber now blasting the enemy is coated with materials containing turpentine and rosin. Bombardiers' and pilots' clothes are waterproofed with pine products. Explosives zooming toward enemy objectives contain synthetic camphor made from turpentine. Military first-aid kits carry heart stimulants, salves, and liniments in which this camphor plays a vital role.

Wasting a slice or two of bread a week in each American home means throwing away the equivalent of two million loaves every week.

GREENLEAF.

The Fraser Ladies' Aid will meet with Mrs. J. Helwig on Wednesday, Dec. 15. There will be dinner and quilting.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Sageman and daughters, Shirley and Charlotte, visited at the Charles Roblin home Sunday.

Miss Colleen Quinn, who is employed in Detroit, spent the week end at her home here.

Mr. and Mrs. Archie Gillies and Mr. and Mrs. Archie McEachern were dinner guests at the G. A. Tindale home last Sunday.

James Dew and Henry McLellan have built a two-car garage at their home on West Huron Line.

Mr. Winter is now doing business in his new store which has just been completed in the same place where the old one was located which was destroyed by fire last spring. The new store is made of cement blocks.

REALLY FAST!

A group of British and American sailors were swapping yarns about their ships. "I'm curious about your carriers," one British tar said. "How fast are they?"

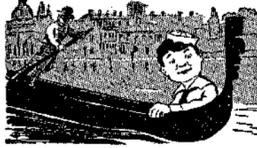

One American turned his wad of gum over. "Well, to tell you the truth, chum," he replied. "I don't know. We've never really opened them up. All they've been required to do so far is to keep up with the planes."

Tough Customers
"Well, ma'am," explained the merchant seaman who didn't like to boast about losing a leg when his ship was torpedoed, "I was swimming toward a lifeboat when a shark grabbed me by the leg."

"Gracious! And what did you do?"

"Oh, I let him have it. I never argue with a shark."

Our Merchant Marine

The Ice Trade
Frederick Tudor, 20-year-old mercantile genius, in 1805 sent a cargo of ice from Saugus, Mass., to Havana. By time of arrival his cargo had turned to water!

Undaunted, Tudor blanketed his ice with white pine sawdust, thereafter sold ice regularly to British West Indian planters, and to New Orleans, Charleston and Savannah.

By 1833, Tudor was selling New England ice to British merchants in Calcutta. Ice revived dwindling India-American trade.

The Ice Trade flourished for seventy years. Up to the invention of ice machinery in 1875, New England ice was sold in every sizeable tropical and subtropical city.

American steamship companies have replaced the old Ice Trade with fleets of modern refrigerated ships now carrying perishable goods to all our fighting fronts.

Christmas Parties and Social News Items

Two Parties Last Week for Newlyweds

Mr. and Mrs. Lester Evens, recently married, were guests of honor at two gatherings last week. Lester Evens, son of Mrs. Chas. Evens, and Miss Doris Wilson were married at Cass City Saturday, Nov. 20, by Rev. Dudley Mosure and are making their home on the Evens farm.

Mrs. Watson Spaven, assisted by Mrs. Clara Spaven, was hostess at a miscellaneous shower in the Spaven home last Thursday afternoon. Thirty-five ladies attended and the bride received many useful and pretty gifts. The hostesses served light refreshments.

Mr. and Mrs. Lee Smith, the latter a sister of the groom, entertained 40 relatives and friends at a reception for the newlyweds, in the Smith home on Third Street Friday evening. Mr. and Mrs. Evens were the recipients of many gifts. The hostess served refreshments.

WOMAN'S BIBLE CLASS AT METHODIST PARSONAGE

Mrs. Dudley Mosure and her mother, Mrs. Orpha Sammons, were hostesses to the Woman's Bible Class of the Methodist Church, in the parsonage last Thursday afternoon. Mrs. Mary Seed was an assistant hostess. Eighteen members of the class and three visitors were present.

It was the annual Christmas party and an exchange of gifts provided much amusement. The devotionals taken from "The Upper Room" were conducted by Mrs. Thos. Colwell, after which the hostesses served refreshments. The class will meet in January with Mrs. R. N. McCullough.

GIFT HUNT AT MISSIONARY MEET AT AUTEN HOME

Christmas decorations adorned the home of Mrs. M. B. Auten Thursday, Dec. 2, when she entertained members of the Presbyterian Missionary Society. She was assisted by Mrs. Ralph Partridge, Mrs. Schram, Mrs. Ernest Croft and Mrs. Christine Goodall.

Mrs. A. J. Knapp conducted devotionals and Miss Lura DeWitt discussed Christmas in other lands. At the conclusion of her talk, Miss DeWitt called on the women for comments on how Christmas had been celebrated in their youth. Many interesting experiences were disclosed.

Mrs. Ella Vance recited several appropriate poems after which a gift hunt was conducted. Partners for the game were selected by matching picture cards, and by following directions, each one came into possession of a small gift.

At the close, light refreshments were served.

CHRISTMAS PROGRAM OF THE WESLEYAN CIRCLE

The Wesleyan Circle of the Methodist Church met Monday evening with Mrs. Dudley Mosure as hostess, instead of Mrs. E. W. Douglas as previously announced.

This was the Christmas program directed by Mrs. Alex Tyo, Mrs. L. I. Wood, Mrs. John West and Mrs. Kilburn Parsons. Mrs. S. P. Kirn spoke on "Home Life in China" with the remainder of the program consisting of Christmas stories and songs. Mrs. J. D. Turner gave the devotionals and a Christmas offering was taken.

Assistant hostesses were Mrs. E. W. Douglas, Mrs. Wm. Profit, Mrs. John Marshall, Jr., Mrs. Edward Baker and Mrs. Edwin Fritz.

BIRTHDAY PARTY FOR MRS. DELLA LAUDERBACH

Eight close friends of Mrs. Della Lauderbach gathered in her home Monday afternoon to help her celebrate her 80th birthday. The affair was a surprise to Mrs. Lauderbach. The time was spent in visiting, with Mrs. Thos. Colwell giving several of Edgar Guest's poems, appropriate to the occasion. Light refreshments were enjoyed.

MRS. E. B. SCHWADERER ENTERTAINS GUILD

Mrs. E. B. Schwaderer will be hostess to the Presbyterian Guild Society Monday evening, Dec. 13. This will be the annual Christmas party with Mrs. Ernest Croft and Mrs. Lyle Koepfgen in charge.

CASS CITY CHRONICLE

CHRISTMAS PARTY OF TOWNSEND AUXILIARY

The Christmas party of the Ladies' Auxiliary of the Townsend Club will be held at the home of Rev. George Bugbee. Each guest is asked to bring a 25 cent gift. Potluck lunch will be served.

EXTENSION GROUP TO HAVE CHRISTMAS PARTY DEC. 14

Extension Group No. 1 will meet Tuesday evening, Dec. 14, with Mrs. Lyle Koepfgen for a Christmas party. In charge of arrangements are Mrs. Ernest Croft, Mrs. D. A. Krug, Mrs. Herman Doerr and Mrs. Albert Gallagher.

C. E. M. C. ELECTED OFFICERS TUESDAY NIGHT

At a meeting of the Christian Endeavor Missionary Circle at the Evangelical parsonage Tuesday evening, the following officers were elected: President, Alice Anthes; vice president, Betty Hower; secretary, Marjorie Kim; missionary treasurer, Ruth Schenk.

The young people are planning to have a worship service for Sunday evening, Dec. 26.

A social time followed the business meeting Tuesday evening during which refreshments were served.

CHRISTMAS PARTY AT THE JOHN DOERR HOME

All members were present except Mr. and Mrs. Amasa Anthes, who are spending the winter in Florida, when the Gagetown Grange met in the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Doerr for a Christmas party Tuesday evening.

A beautiful Christmas tree was in evidence with gifts, popcorn, apples and candy for all present. A program was presented which ended with a candlelight service and the singing of Christmas carols in which all joined.

The next meeting will be held with Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Clara in January.

Victory Produce

This year's Victory gardens are expected to produce 10 1/2 billion pounds of food, compared with 7 1/2 billion pounds that came from such gardens in 1942.

Farm Income

From August, 1939, to June, 1943, prices received by American farmers rose 116 per cent compared with a 41 per cent increase in their living and production costs during the same time.

Tomato Leaf Roll

Tomato leaf roll may result from pruning of the side branches or practices which cut or disturb the plant's roots, such as deep cultivation or hoeing too close to the plant. Lower leaves of the plants roll up and twist, then the rolling progresses gradually upward until those near the top are affected.

Post-War Housing

Exactly 26.4 per cent of those questioned in a recent survey believed that postwar houses will have a bathroom for every bedroom. Nearly 70 per cent believed that prefabrication will not be accepted by prospective homeowners.

Hemispheric Standardization

Mexico is the latest nation to join the inter-American standardization movement, aimed at uniform standards and specifications for industrial equipment. Scientists and engineers here are working to eliminate variations which often make apparatus manufactured in one country unsuitable for use in another.

DEATHS.

Mrs. Ella Henrietta Hartwick.

Mrs. Ella Henrietta Hartwick, 85, a resident of Greenleaf Township for 62 years and widow of the late Richard Hartwick, passed away Wednesday afternoon in the home of her daughter, Mrs. George Seeger, where she has lived since the death of her husband three years ago. She had been ill a month.

Ella Henrietta Pixley was born Oct. 11, 1858, in Franklinville, N. Y., and came to Michigan in 1881. She was united in marriage with Richard Hartwick at Cass City on July 27, 1881.

Surviving are three daughters, Mrs. Ina McCaslin of Rochester, Mrs. Lucy Seeger of Cass City, and Mrs. Florence Klinkman of Dearborn; a step-son, Wm. Hartwick, of Lyons; 12 grandchildren; and eight great grandchildren.

Funeral services will be held on Friday at 2:00 p. m. in the Douglas Funeral Home, with interment in Elkland Cemetery. Pallbearers will be Geo. Seeger, Fred McCaslin, Chas. Klinkman, Earl, David and Edward Hartwick.

Mrs. Mary Lutze.

Funeral services for Mrs. Mary Lutze will be held Saturday at 2:00 p. m. in the Munro Funeral Home in Cass City. Mrs. Lutze died Tuesday evening, Dec. 7, at her home in Niagara Falls, Ont. The remains were brought to Cass City Thursday and interment will be made in Elkland Cemetery.

Mrs. Lutze was born in Dutton, Ont., July 8, 1857, and was formerly a resident of Cass City.

Mrs. Lutze is survived by two sons, Clyde of Sharon, Pa., and John of Niagara Falls; a daughter, Mrs. Kingsley Walker, of Springfield, Illinois; two brothers, John McGillivray of Cass City and Neil McGillivray of Pittsburg, Pa.; one sister, Miss Sarah McGillivray of Jackson, Michigan; seven grandchildren; three great grandchildren; six nephews and six nieces. One daughter and two sons preceded her in death.

Hector D. Livingston.

Hector D. Livingston, a former resident of Greenleaf Township, died at Roscommon, Mich., Nov. 30, aged 69 years. Among the pioneer settlers of the township, he came with his parents from Ontario, Canada, in 1833 and settled in Sec. 10, where he was successful as a farmer and stock raiser. Recently he has resided in Roscommon County, where he operated a small farm and was associated with the county road commission.

For several years he was in the employ of the Ford Motor Co. and while there was a member of the Highland Park Presbyterian Church.

Funeral services in Roscommon were held in the Roscommon Congregational Church, of which he was a member and one of the officers of the church's official board. Interment was in Elkland Cemetery, the burial service being conducted by Rev. Dudley Mosure, pastor of the Cass City Methodist Church.

Deceased, popularly known as "Heck," was a very friendly man, a good neighbor, and a most upright and patriotic citizen. He is survived by his wife, Clara; a step-son, Joseph, now in the U. S. Navy; a daughter, Mary Louise, a senior in the Roscommon High School; one brother, Dr. Geo. M. Livingston, of Detroit; and one sister, Mrs. W. A. Myron, of Highland Park, Mich.

Mrs. Peter Decker.

Mrs. Peter Decker of Peck passed away Sunday afternoon in the Morris Hospital here where she had been a patient for six weeks. She was at her daughter's home in Rochester when she was brought to the hospital here.

Lillian Ellen Decker was 64 years old, daughter of the late Timothy and Rosetta Barnes. She was born June 25, 1879, in Greenleaf Township, Sanilac County, and was united in marriage with Peter Decker on June 25, 1898.

She is survived by her husband; two daughters, Mrs. Margaret Dancey of Rochester and Mrs. Frances Casper of Decker; two sons, Dr. G. Clemens Decker of Ames, Iowa, and Martin Decker of Detroit; a sister, Mrs. Adeline Greenleaf of Cass City; two brothers, Dwight Barnes of Pontiac and Everett Barnes of Greenleaf Township; and 16 grandchildren.

She was a member of the Crosswell Methodist Church.

The remains were in the Douglas Funeral Home until Tuesday noon when the body was taken to the Methodist Church where funeral services were held at 2:00 p. m. Rev. Mr. Townley of Saginaw officiated and burial was made in Elkland Cemetery.

Luada Helen Jones.

Luada Helen, 10-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Vaughn Jones, passed away Monday, Dec. 6, at 6:00 a. m. at the Morris Hospital, following a long illness. The remains were taken to the Munro Funeral Home where they remained until Tuesday noon when they were taken to the family residence in Argyle Township. Funeral services were conducted in the home Wednesday afternoon by Rev. Samuel Lady. Interment was made in Elkland Cemetery. Pallbearers were Randall and Raymond Starr, Jay Sisco and Jerry Pratt.

Besides her parents, Luada is survived by three brothers, Kenneth, Joe and Paul, and two sisters, Inez and Margery, all at home.

She was an attendant of the Greenleaf Mennonite Brethren in Christ Sunday School.

Mrs. Emory A. Cones.

Grace Churchill was born Oct. 7, 1871, at Imlay City, Michigan. When 11 years of age, she came with her parents to a farm in Wells Township where she resided until her marriage on Oct. 25, 1892, to Emory A. Cones. They made their home in Ellington Township where she lived until her death with the exception of 11 years spent in the village of Deford.

Besides her husband, she leaves to mourn their loss, two daughters, Mrs. Carey Wright of Ellington and Mrs. John Zinnecker of Cass City. One daughter, Mrs. Amber Wilcox, of Marlette preceded her mother in death. She also leaves seven grandchildren, two great grandchildren, one sister, Mrs. Clara Putnam, of Almer, and three brothers, Floyd and Geo. Churchill of Caro and Albert of Detroit.

Mrs. Cones was a member of Sutton Methodist Church and of the Ellington Grange.

Funeral services were held Friday, Dec. 3, at Sutton Church, conducted by Dr. Ray E. Willson, a former pastor, assisted by Rev. Mr. Dibley. Burial was in Ellington Cemetery.

Those from a distance who attended the funeral were: Mrs. Bruce Churchill, Albert Churchill, Mrs. Alex Kirkland and Amber Wilcox of Detroit; Mr. and Mrs. Roy Putnam of Dryden; Mrs. Marthe Kilbreath, Timothy Kilbreath and son of Imlay City; Hilton Burgess, Mrs. W. O. Purdy, Mr. and Mrs. Lee Burgess of Columbiaville; Mrs. Tim Sellers and daughter, Sandra, of Unionville; Mr. and Mrs. Fred Kilitz and sons of Pontiac; Billie and Ann Wilcox, Mrs. Ernest Wilcox and Mrs. Henry Cookin of Marlette.

Protect Highways

Highways in at least 15 states, and concrete runways on airplane landing fields, have been made resistant to severe winter conditions through the addition of about a tablespoon of pine wood resin to each sack of cement.

Till Refuge Land

Some 4,000 acres of national wildlife refuge land in California, capable of producing 200,000 bushels of grain, were leased recently to private individuals by the fish and wildlife service to help augment the national food supply.

Air to Cool Motor

Air must circulate freely around a motor. Air surrounding a motor installed in a small tight compartment, or even in a very small room, may become too hot to cool the motor.

Increases Yield

Treatment of seed wheat to prevent decay of the kernels after planting and to control the stinking smut disease may increase the yield of grain as much as 25 per cent.

Paragraphs About Folks in the Service

Yeoman third class Rosa G. Patrick, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Patrick, of Deford, a recent graduate of the Naval Training School for Yeomen on the Oklahoma A & M university campus, Stillwater, Okla., is now on duty at the office of the Cable Censor at New Orleans, Louisiana. Selection to the specialty school was made on the basis of the feminine Bluejacket's past civilian experience and her recruit training aptitude tests. The completed course of study included shorthand, typing, filing and general Naval office procedures.

Mrs. Roy Wright received a V-mail letter this week from Pvt. Clarence Wright, son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Wright, who is now stationed in India. It was dated Nov. 15 and postmarked at New York City Nov. 30. Friends will be interested to know that his mail which accumulated since July when he left the states, has finally caught up with him. He had 89 letters which he says took four hours to read.

Pvt. Dale Jamieson of Camp Edwards, Mass., spent Tuesday and Wednesday at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Alex Jamieson. His sister, Mrs. Merve Goyette and son of Cass City and Mrs. Noble Benson and son of Detroit, his grandmothers, Mrs. Alex Jamieson of Owendale and Mrs. Agnes Roberts of Pigeon spent the fore part of the week at the Jamieson home.

Miss Margaret Harrison took her sister, Florence, her brother, Pvt. Wm. N. Harrison, and Pvt. Harold Beale of Caseville to Detroit Sunday. The boys took a late train Sunday night to return to Camp Howze, Texas. Miss Florence Harrison returned to her work in Detroit and Miss Margaret Harrison returned to her work in Flint.

Pfc. Floyd Hiller, recently of Trux Field, Wis., came Tuesday, Nov. 30, to spend ten days with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Hiller. His fiancée, Miss Betty Force, of Caro and his sister, Miss Irene, of Pontiac spent the week end at the Hiller home also. Pfc. Hiller left Thursday of this week to go to Jefferson Barracks, Mo.

Pfc. Orville C. Healy spent one week's furlough with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Healy. About 36 friends and relatives gathered at their home Sunday, Nov. 28, to visit with him. Pfc. Healy has been transferred from Fort Lewis, Washington, to Camp White, Oregon.

Born to Pfc. James Goetgeluck and Mrs. Goetgeluck a six-pound son on Dec. 2. The baby will answer to the name of Robert James. Mrs. Goetgeluck was the former Elizabeth Windy. The proud father came Sunday from Barksdale Field, La., to spend a 15-day furlough here.

Mrs. Don McLeod (Betty Mark) telephoned her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Mark, Sunday to say that she was going from Watertown, N. Y., where her husband has been stationed to Lebanon, Pa., where Cpl. McLeod is being transferred.

Mr. and Mrs. Jerome Root, Sr.,

have received a letter from their son, Cpl. Jerome J. Root, that he is in a hospital with a broken right arm. Junior has been in the South Pacific area since September 5 last.

Mr. and Mrs. Lyle Zapfe have received word from their son, Lawrence, that he has been sent from Great Lakes Naval Training Station to the U. S. Naval Receiving Station at Shoemaker, California.

A-S Raymond Reid, son of Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Reid, has been transferred from Miami Beach, Florida, to the Kent State University, Kent, Ohio.

S-Sgt. Floyd O'Rourke has been transferred from a hospital in Alliance, Neb., to the Fitzsimmons General Hospital at Denver, Col.

PLEASANT HOME HOSPITAL. Patients in Pleasant Home Hospital Wednesday were Claire Berry, Mrs. Frances McTavish, Mrs. Milton Hoffman, Glen Guilds, Mrs. Frances Harbec, Betty Hempton, all of Cass City; Mrs. Ernest Bradley, Miss Betty Stickle, and Mrs. Emma Ross and infant daughter of Caro; Mrs. Winnifred Moore and infant daughter of Sandusky; Mrs. Gladys Gaddy and Mrs. Lehman of Akron; Steve Carmak of Snover; Mrs. Mary Dunde and Mrs. Stella Martin of Deford; Joan Trzenazalski of Kingston; Oren Jubar of Unionville and Baby John Thomas Smith of Drayton Plains.

Keep Shoes in Shape
Shoe trees help to keep shoes in their original shape, and they should be put in immediately every time the shoes are removed. An economical plan is to wear a different pair of shoes on alternate days in order to permit each pair to dry thoroughly between wearings. This is important because perspiration is destructive to leather. Uppers constantly wet with perspiration will soon crack and rip, especially if not protected by occasional oiling.

Light's Development

The ancient Egyptians torch-lighted funeral processions to the pyramids—lighting some great Pharaoh to eternal darkness with blazing rods of metal, topped with balls of oil-soaked rags or reeds—were among the early picturesque forms of light, along with the Grecian banquet halls, ablaze with intricately decorated torches, fastened to the great walls, lighting brilliantly the celebration of a victory for the glory of Greece; the Roman lamp, ornamented in a style reflecting the art of the Greeks and the Egyptians.

Conserves Vitamin

In contrast to cereal grain milling, it is explained, the process applied to oil-bearing seeds conserves the vitamin B complex values in the same edible milling part with the protein. The hull is the only waste product as far as food uses are concerned. Judging by comparison of assays on seed and seed flour, the removal of the oil leaves the cake with an increased concentration of water-soluble vitamins. From a food standpoint the oil has caloric and culinary value with little if any known specific nutritional properties.

Consider Height of Children

A low, firm stool or a hassock placed near the washbowl, enables little children to reach the bowl with ease and encourages handwashing before meals and after toilet. If it is not possible to place towel bars or hooks in a low part of the bathroom wall, a wooden rack such as is used to hold clothes after they have been ironed, will put towels and face cloths where they can be reached by small children.

Lumbering Threatens Porcupine Mountains

The breath-taking beauty of such spots in the Upper Peninsula's Porcupine Mountains as Lake of the Clouds, shown in the upper picture, is threatened with destruction as logging operators are beginning to invade the isolated "Porkies". The primitive splendor of one of the last stands of virgin timber in the middle west is shown in the lower left hand picture on its way out of the mountain area. When the bridge across the Presque Isle river, shown under construction in the lower right hand picture, is completed, the timber will begin to move out at an even faster rate. A move is now under way to ask the 1944 legislature to appropriate $1,000,000 to purchase the area and turn it over to the federal government to be erected into a National Monument and maintained in its primitive state.

The Quiz, So Popular on Radio, Originated in Cass City in the Eighties, Says Gamble

Concluded from page 1. and first convinced me that some education didn't do a fellow real harm. "It is funny how memories come back to us. A few mornings ago I was awake early, long before daylight, and must have enjoyed a whole hour living again in Cass City back some 60 or 65 years ago. One little scene with you in the center stood out as plainly as you can now see yourself in the glass. You had on a heavy cloth cap, pulled down over your ears. You sat in a cutter or 'pung' with a large milk can in front of you. It was a desperately cold morning, with quite deep snow that crunched under the runners. I ran out with a pitcher and you dipped your long handled dipper down into the milk can, brought it carefully up (for any that you spilled would short weight me) and emptied it into my pitcher. Then I suppose I gave you a ticket, but I just can't remember about that. Then you drove away and I stood there and looked after you and wondered at your diligence and industry, realizing full well that I was only a useless town boy while you were really doing something. I can see that moment so clearly; just where I stood, just where you sat, with the horse headed east and the entire street a dreary waste of snow, with only you and me and the horse alive and moving. I suppose you delivered that milk a hundred times but that once is the only time that painted itself on my memory.

"And I wonder if your wife remembers that we originated 'The Quiz' now so popular on the radio, up in that Grammar Department of the Cass City School. We called it 'Reciting Down' and used to use up a vacant five minutes with it just before dismissing for noon or night. All who couldn't answer sat down and then I would ask someone still standing to give the answer. Sometimes the stampee was bluffing and, instead of answering, he or she (mostly he) would slide down into his seat while the rest of us laughed. I think I remember where 'that little Schwaderer girl' sat in school the year that I taught. We must talk that over when I see you. She would not remember unless she kept one seat during all her time in that room. I will remember that she was an ideal student who always did her work well and was as bright as a new dollar. Unless Charlie survives, you are the only remaining representative of the Seed family. I know a man down here in the newspaper business whose name is Seed and whose ancestors came from North Ireland. His father's name was Hugh, so he is perhaps one of your family. Only thing that could make me question that is that this man is about six feet three inches tall and very slim. Your mother was quite tall but she was a Seed by marriage. Doubtless you know all about the romance of your parents' marriage (by Elder McKinney) and their wedding trip back across the section. No, that was the marriage of Andrew Walmsley at the Seed home and they took the wedding trip, on foot, back east across the section to their home, which remained their abiding place (in another house, of course) all their lives. I heard about that wedding, in detail, only a few years ago. Hugh Seed and his wife made that match. "Well, here you have the results of my thoughts in the darkness of early morning, when I was back in Cass City for an hour—and I enjoyed every minute. "Best regards to both of you. "Sincerely, "W. J. GAMBLE."

Fool Gardener Many weeds fool the gardener who thinks he has destroyed them in good season. Some, like purslane and lamb's quarters, ripen seed even though they just appear to have reached blooming stage, as the flowers, and fruits which have already ripened, are inconspicuous. Others, like field mustard, mallow, and shepherd's purse may be cut or pulled when the blossoms appear, and the gardener will be assured that no seeds will be spread.

Wheat Chief Food Wheat products are the largest items on the Italian menu. Before the war Italy was the third largest wheat-growing nation in Europe, with a crop more than a third the total for the United States. In addition, up to 35 million bushels of wheat was imported from Argentina, Australia, the United States and Russia. About a third of the imports went into the manufacture of macaroni and other food products for export. A 15 per cent decrease in wheat consumption in recent years had been eased by the use of rice and fish.

WAY OUT WEST Out in them thar hills they tell the story of two horse thieves who were finally caught. The posse decided to tie the ropes around their necks and throw them off the bridge. They threw one in and the rope slipped and the thief swam out and escaped. The other one cried: "Be sure and tie the rope tight on my neck. I can't swim a stroke."

FIRST-AID to the AILING HOUSE By ROGER B. WHITMAN

FENCE POST Question: In building a fence, the posts were driven into the ground and a concrete walk and pavement were then laid around them. The posts have rotted and must now be renewed. How can the new posts be made tight in the holes in the concrete, so that they cannot be moved up and down? How can the underground part of the posts be treated to prevent decay? Answer: The inside of the holes through the concrete should be gouged and dug with a cold chisel or a pointed hammer, so that the new concrete will have rough surfaces with which to bond. Give the underground parts of each post a heavy treatment of tar or creosote, return to position, and then pour fresh concrete into the holes.

Single Flue Chimney Question: I would like to replace a side-arm gas water heater with a coal-fired heater. Could I connect this to the single flue in my chimney that serves the furnace? If so, should the connection be close to the furnace connection at the chimney? Answer: As a general thing, two fires should not be connected to a single flue, because each fire will interfere with the draft of the other. However, with a tall chimney, and one connection much smaller than the other, as it would be in your case, there is a good chance of success. Connect the new smoke-pipe close to the old one at the chimney.

Loose Cement Coating Question: Last year I knocked off the loose cement coating of my basement foundation wall and put on a new quarter-inch cement coating. I find that in several places the new coating will not stay on, but bulges and falls off. How can I treat these so the new coating will adhere? Answer: Cement is not adhesive and holds on a surface by hardening around the surface roughnesses. Clean off the bad places and then roughen them by gouging with a cold chisel or a pointed hammer. At the time the new cement goes on the old walls should be thoroughly soaked with water.

Dusty Path Question: A path that was formerly hard surfaced is now dry and dusty. I am now wondering if it would be advisable to put oil on it. If so, what kind and how much? Answer: I should not advise using oil, for it would inevitably get into the house and make trouble with floors and floor coverings. You can get a good dust-laying effect with calcium chloride, which is low priced and on common sale. Scatter it on the path in the proportion of a pound to the square yard. Even on a dry day it will absorb enough moisture from the air to become liquified, and will then combine with the dust on the path to form a crust.

Paint Remover Question: I have bought a can of paint and varnish remover for use on furniture, but find that it works slowly. It also is expensive. I am thinking of using the remover that you have recommended; three pounds of trisodium phosphate dissolved in a gallon of water. I should first like to know if this is likely to bleach the wood. Answer: No; it has no bleaching effect. Put it on boiling hot with a dish mop or brush; the paint or varnish will quickly soften, and can be wiped and scraped off. Finish by rinsing with clear water to take off all traces of the remover.

Attic Insulation Question: Some time ago I insulated my attic with rock wool in batt form. I placed the insulation against the roof boards, with the paper on the outside, that is, facing me. Is this the proper way to place the batts? I have heard that if not placed correctly there is a possibility of condensation. Is the paper on the batts sufficient to prevent condensation. Answer: You have installed the batts correctly and no more covering is needed.

White Lead Question: What kind of white lead is used to give wood a pickled pine finish? Answer: Ordinary white lead paste, thinned with turpentine to the consistency of a thick paint is used.

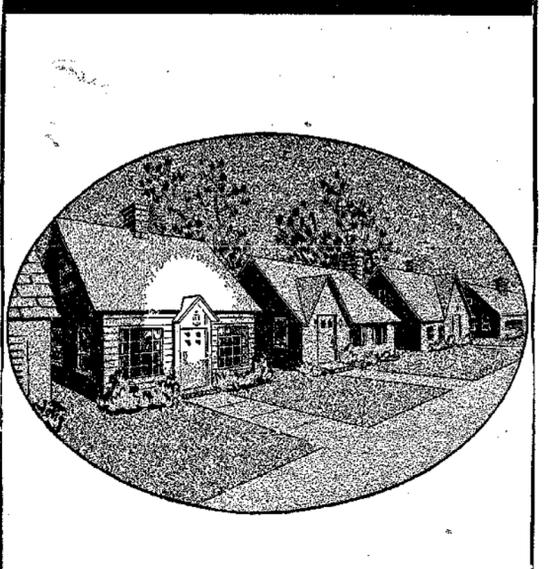

Services Use Refuge Land More than 4,645,000 acres of land on 33 national wildlife refuges in 18 states and Alaska are being used by the army and navy departments for such varied purposes as bombing ranges, gunnery ranges, air bases, tank maneuvering areas, docking facilities and for recreational activities of the men in the training camps.

Elm Disease Brought to the United States from Europe before 1933 in burl elm logs imported by furniture veneer manufacturers, Dutch elm disease is caused by a fungus which is carried from elm to elm by two small insects. These are the small European elm beetle and the larger native elm bark beetle.

Leave in Piece Cooked meats keep better if left in one piece. Cut or chop just before using. Keep meat sandwiches and salads cold until just before serving. Fresh meat should be covered loosely until ready to cook. Wipe with damp cloth just before cooking. If meat is ground, store in an extra cold place until ready to prepare.

THE FORGOTTEN LIGHT

There it shines, a forgotten porch light burning all night long at someone's door. In normal times your porch light is a real convenience: It helps callers find your house number, it discourages prowlers, and it reduces accidents from falls on dark steps. The cost is only two or three cents a week—for electricity is cheap.

Today our country is at war . . . and that light burning needlessly is a serious matter, especially when it burns all night. It uses vital coal and manpower and transportation. And today our Government is asking for the most careful saving of these critical resources. It is asking you to save VOLUNTARILY.

Remember that electricity is a WAR MATERIAL, even though it is cheap and unrationed. There is no shortage of facilities for making electricity. But thousands of tons of coal per day are required for its manufacture in Edison power plants. Use it as carefully as you would rubber or gasoline or other critical resources. Power saved at home means more power for the fighting fronts. The Detroit Edison Company.

CONSERVE ELECTRICITY Even a 5% saving in the monthly use of electricity by Detroit Edison customers will save about 190 CARLOADS OF COAL PER MONTH 1,800 TRAIN MILES 14,000 MANHOURS

Guns Jammed; Spines Chilled In Guinea Skies

Airplane Gunners Tell of Exciting Experiences Fighting Japs.

SOMEWHERE IN NEW GUINEA. —"The Zeros were attacking from above and below, but we held them off until my machine guns jammed and then . . ."

The mere thought of a jammed gun sends chills racing along spines of American gunners who ride Uncle Sam's heavy bombers into combat with the Japanese.

In a sun baked tent back of an advanced airfield somewhere in New Guinea a dozen enlisted men were talking, relating their most exciting experiences. Sergt. Henry Garcia of Fort Morgan, Colo., told what he did in just such a case.

Garcia, black-haired farm worker, found his solution in the skies above Lae last January. He was right waist gunner on a Flying Fortress. Before leaving his base, he applied at ordnance for a tommygun, just in case the plane was shot down in the jungle.

Ordinance had no tommygun to spare so Garcia settled for a Garand M1 automatic rifle and a half dozen clips of cartridges.

"I yanked the cartridges and substituted tracer bullets," Garcia related. "We were flying on the left of a three-ship formation when we were jumped by 15 Zeros.

His Guns Jammed. "The Zeros were attacking from above and below but we held them off until my machine guns jammed and then when I reached for the handle to change it the handle was missing. That Zero was only about 1,000 yards away and he noticed I wasn't firing from my side. He leveled off and started to come in at me.

"I picked up the rifle, kept the machine gun in my left hand to make him think I was using it and started firing with the rifle. When he saw the tracers again he took off. Was I relieved!"

Sergt. Robert E. Griebel, 25, of Riverton, Wyo., related a similar experience as the most exciting of his 34 missions. His Fortress was jumped by seven Zeros. Guns in the ball turret and right waist went out.

"A Zero at three o'clock (to the right at the same level as the Fortress) noticed the trouble and moved in," said Griebel. "He tried to take the ship and as he made his pass he came within 50 yards of the ball turret in which I was sitting.

"I was the scariest I ever was, or ever hope to be. What did I do? I just followed him with my guns, although they were useless. Then we got out of there."

Sergt. Robert F. Watson, 22, of Roanoke, W. Va., as far as the Japs are concerned, is dead, killed in the flaming wreckage of his Fortress.

Shot Down, Japs Thought. "Madame Tojo claimed our plane had been shot down in flames, and I can see why the Japs thought so," Watson explained. Private Minor C. Smith of Paris, Texas, nodded agreement because he was with Watson that day and nominated the fight as his top experience.

"It was over Gasmata, New Britain," Watson continued, "and on the first run we failed to drop our bombs. There wasn't any ack ack either. On the second run we dropped three bombs and all hell broke loose. We were only about 3,500 feet up when I saw a yellow burst of flames under the nose. The engineer said the bomb bay tank was on fire. Then an ack ack shell struck just behind the pilot and exploded.

"We dropped the burning bomb bay tank and that's why the Japs thought we were done for. We put out the fire and came on home."

Week-Long Blazes Raze Big Forests in Chile

SANTIAGO.—Forest fires lasting a week ravaged the environment of Cherenquico, Chile, causing deaths and a vast amount of damage. The inhabitants of Temuco, experienced a heat that was suffocating and knew that a great conflagration was raging somewhere, but it was several days before they learned that great stretches of wooded country were being laid waste. Many have been rendered homeless in the burned area.

Seems That Sometimes a Man Can Be Too Polite!

IRVINGTON, N. J.—Somewhere in this area a thief in the making is kicking himself for being polite.

He stepped up to Mrs. Phoebe Warburton in front of her home here and, in a well-modulated, refined voice said: "Your pocketbook, please."

Mrs. Warburton, unimpressed, screamed and ran. The would-be thief disappeared.

Dead Steer Kicks Him And Breaks Five Ribs

VACAVILLE, CALIF.—George Higson found that even a dead steer can be almost deadly. The animal had been slaughtered, and Higson had grabbed both hind legs to roll it over for skinning. The reflexes in the steer's muscles were so powerful he landed 10 feet away against a kettie. Five ribs were broken.

Lights of New York

By L. L. STEVENSON

From the tallest flagpole in the world—178 feet in height—a great, new American flag floats proudly over the brown sandstone buildings of the recently dedicated United States Merchant Marine academy at Kings Point, Long Island. Those buildings bear names that go away back into the past since the merchant marine antedates the army and the navy and even the Republic itself. But the building names are not confined to days of long ago, since with the nation at war, the merchant marine is again living up to its glorious traditions. So the drill hall and gymnasium bears the name of Edward J. O'Hara, a cadet midshipman who received a posthumous award of the Distinguished Service Medal. Before O'Hara, who learned gunnery at Kings Point, was mortally wounded and went down with his ship, he took over the stern gun and single-handed, sank a Jap raider.

The new Merchant Marine academy, which is to the merchant marine what Annapolis is to the navy, is on the estate of the late Walter P. Chrysler which was one of the show places of Long Island and on which he is said to have expended $3,000,000. It comprises about 15 acres of land sloping gently down to the waters of Long Island sound. The government acquired it in 1942 for $100,000. Since then, in a record-breaking building program, $6,900,000 has been expended. The mansion, a palatial residence somewhat reminiscent of the White House, which was originally built for Henri Bendel, is now the administration building and is known as Wiley Hall, in honor of the late Admiral H. A. Wiley, who, as commissioner in charge of training for the United States Maritime commission, was the "father" of the merchant marine cadet corps.

Much more might be written of the academy buildings, the class rooms, the mess hall where more than 7,800 meals are served each day, or the comfortable fire proof dormitories, but I'm eager to get to the personnel. The day of our visit, the enrollment stood at 2,670. It varies constantly since cadet-midshipmen are always coming and going. All cadet-midshipmen receive a three months course either at the academy or at the basic schools at Pass Christian, Miss., and San Mateo, Calif. Then they go to sea for six months or more as cadet officers. Their sea duty completed, they return and receive nine months more training at the academy. Their studies go on while they are at sea. Graduated, they are licensed either as third mates or third engineers. Or the navy may take them as ensigns.

The cadet-midshipmen, who become members of the navy reserve with their entrance to the academy, receive $65 a month while in school, also uniforms, text books, quarters, subsistence, dental and medical care. At sea as cadet officers, they also receive regular wages and when they are licensed, receive the pay of their grade. The emphasis of their training is of course on the merchant marine side. But this being wartime, they also receive navy training principally in the use of guns. To date, cadets have figured in 309 enemy attacks and 107 have lost their lives. Capt. J. H. Tomb, United States navy (retired) is superintendent of the academy and Capt. Giles C. Stedman, USNR, former commander of the America, is commandant of cadets.

The time of the cadet-midshipmen is fully occupied and when they are not studying, usually they are engaged in athletics of various kinds. Also they drill, one of the reasons for the drills being discipline. During their first three months, the cadet-midshipmen are not allowed to smoke cigarettes, though they may smoke pipes. Again, discipline and a chance to study their response to it. But though they know the meaning of discipline, the cadet-midshipmen still retain certain boyish traits. In the 48-hour interval between the time the cadet-midshipman finishes his studies and is given his license, he is invariably dunked, clothes and all, in the swimming pool.

Having been in existence only a little more than a year, the United States Merchant Marine academy hasn't traditions as yet. But there are customs that will grow into traditions. For instance, on final examination day, the students toss coins into the pool of Amphitrite, the Greek goddess of the sea. The coins are retrieved and put into a fund to be used to erect a permanent memorial bearing the names of all cadets who gave their lives.

British Drafts Thousands Of 7 Nations' Refugees LONDON.—Thousands of Norwegian, Dutch, Belgian, Czech, Polish, Greek, and Jugo-Slav refugees in this country have been called up for military service or to work in industry, it was stated, under the Allied powers war service order. Since the order became operative, fit nationals of military age from these seven Allied nations have been drafted into their own or British services, it was said.

The milk situation was a recent illustration.

This widening gap between farm and city labor has been due, perhaps for one reason more than any other, to the conviction of the farmer that the Administration has been following an easy wage policy with respect to labor, while being unwilling to give the same favored treatment to the farmer. That industrial wages have risen far beyond the cost of living prices and far beyond the comparative earnings of the farmer is the firmly held belief of the average Michigan farmer today. The city workman, paying perhaps 70 cents a dozen for fresh eggs, forgets that the farmer may receive only about one-half of this amount despite high feed costs.

Also to illustrate how complex this inflation problem has become, the action of the House at Washington in defeating food subsidies is being interpreted by competent observers there as a coalition protest by southern Democrats and northern Republicans against a fourth term. And there you have the emotional situation of politics eclipsing economics—a negative action that leaves the basic problem of inflation still unsolved. Responsibility for the partisan vote can be argued indefinitely, like which came first—the chicken or the egg?

The farmers' revolt, based chiefly on the belief of economic inequality, has come a congressional revolt on a 1944 political issue. That food subsidies are inflationary to the degree that they are financed by the U. S. Treasury and hence are payable out of taxes of some kind, tomorrow or a 100 years from now, there can be no question. That the removal of food subsidies would start a rise of food prices that would lead inevitably to higher wages for the city war worker is also conceded. And that the middle-class—the so-called white collar folk—would be hurt worst of all is also generally admitted. Try to reconcile these statements!

What then is the solution—if any? Senator Arthur H. Vandenberg, who enjoys a national reputation for sound leadership, believes that the basic trouble lies in the Washington policy of trying to control wages by Presidential directives and prices by legislative restrictions. The two are like oil and water; they won't mix and won't work.

Senator Vandenberg is of the opinion that we should follow the example of England and Canada in linking together wages and prices, even at this late hour in a war that for us has gone more than two years. If the Administration were required to hold wages along with prices, then the John L. Lewis type of irresponsible labor leader—and he is in a minority—could be restrained from raiding the consumer's pocketbook in the form of higher coal prices that have already followed the granting of higher wages to the coal miners. Then the cost of living could be stabilized through limited and selective food subsidies, and the expense of these subsidies would be far less than the cost of higher prices which become, in reality, hidden taxes. And since the government itself is the greatest consumer of commodities today—food or munitions—the public would ultimately benefit through a brake on the national indebtedness. So goes the logic.

"Cost-plus" has made the manufacturer inclined to be indifferent. If the government grants higher wages, the extra production cost doesn't come out of his pocket—the government pays it. The higher the costs, the higher the profits—except for the profits reclaimed through excess profit tax or re-negotiation.

This combination of cost-plus profits and wages—one being dependent upon the other in an endless cycle—is another invitation to inflation, and is probably one of the prices we must pay in conducting the hazardous business of a war.

Senator Vandenberg has pointed out that inflation is the deadliest menace today on our home front. He warns that unless something is done at Washington with wisdom and courage—putting national interests ahead of selfish interests—a lot of Americans are going to be badly hurt when inflation gets out of control.

We are inclined to believe that Vandenberg has something worth thinking about. The Michigan senator may have the answer.

Judge Worth Painting, varnishing, enameling or lacquering of surfaces need not be a complex, difficult or expensive job in order to properly protect surfaces and promote sanitation, health, safety and morale. For example, it would be ill advised to put multiple coats of finishing material with many intervening rubbings down on a cheap piece of furniture made of an indifferent quality of material. For such a piece, just cleaning, sanding and, if the wood is porous, application of a filler coat before painting, varnishing or enameling should "fill the bill" and save wasted labor.

Abaca Source Our chief source of abaca was the Philippines before the war. We no longer have that source, but immediately south of us are the countries of Middle America, where more fiber can be produced to the acre than in the Philippines. The Philippine average has been 500 to 1,000 pounds of fiber per acre per year. In Panama the average is more than 1,500 pounds per acre.

Spoil Easily Milk and eggs are good combinations, but spoil easily. If custards, cream pies and puddings, and cream puffs are not to be eaten at once, cool them quickly, cover, and keep very cold. Milk should not stand outside the refrigerator. Don't pour left-over milk back into the main supply and put milk away the first thing after each meal.

Replaces Metal The National Lumber Manufacturers association states that 5,249,774,000 board feet of lumber and 456,808,600 square feet of plywood have been used to replace 5,297,078 tons of metal thus made available for urgent war products. The largest items of replacement are in the construction of ships and boats.

Flared Pails Rigid metal pails with flared sides, or wooden picking containers of similar shape are preferred to canvas bags for harvesting tender varieties of apples such as McIntosh, Cortland, and Delicious.

Brazilian Employment
Brazil's wartime industrial expansion is evident in official statistics, showing 78,000 factories and work-shops operating at the end of 1942 compared with 64,000 at the end of 1940. In the same period, industrial workers increased to 856,000 from 825,000 at the close of 1940. Despite this development of industry, the overwhelming proportion of Brazilian employment remains in agricultural, stock breeding and rural industries. Employment in these lines at the end of 1942 totaled 8,860,000, nearly nine times the total employed in manufacturing industries.

DEFORD DIARY

Wm. Zemke sold the Wm. Verbias farm to Clarence Spencer and the Ralph Youngs farm to a Detroit man.

The school has started preparing the pupils for their Christmas program.

The little son of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Stockwell, who was severely injured by being driven over by an automobile, near Royal Oak, was brought home and put in a cast at Pleasant Home Hospital.

The four-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Clark is quite ill of pneumonia at this writing.

Mr. and Mrs. John Elley will entertain the Farmers' Club in their home Friday, Dec. 17, for dinner. A Christmas program will be given and an exchange of 10-cents gifts will be made.

Week-end guests of Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Hicks were Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Collins and Mr. and Mrs. Norman Curtis, all of Caro. Mrs. Collins is a daughter, and Mrs. Curtis a granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. Hicks. Mrs. Curtis was quite elated by being fortunate enough to shoot a 200-pound deer and brought a fine sample of the venison to her grandparents.

Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Johnson spent four days of the past week in Lansing, attending an implement dealers' convention.

Mr. and Mrs. Horace Murry entertained Mr. Murry's mother of Akron Wednesday to Saturday of last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Homer Hemstreet of Bay City were guests during the week of Mrs. Norman Martin and Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Phillips.

WACS Like Job In North Africa

'Like Living in a Dream,' Is the Concensus of American Woman.

WASHINGTON.—The WACs in North Africa feel that they are living a modern Arabian Nights tale.

Such is the report recently made to Col. Oveta Culp Hobby, director of WAC, by a representative sent to that war theater to check on the accomplishments of the first 300 American women in uniform sent overseas. The report is made on the completion of the contingent's first six months in Africa.

The WACs dream and talk of dances and shows, and fashions and frocks and nylon hose they cannot enjoy, but when you get them in a corner, and "make 'em give you the truth," the real lowdown on what has happened to the femmes de guerre is that they are living an Arabian Nights tale.

"I've seen things and been places and met people that I never would have had the chance to... had it not been for the WAC," said Pearlite Hargrave, former rural school teacher of Pillager, Minn., who now drives one of the cars assigned to the staff of the commander in chief.

"I love it. Honestly. Every minute of it," Tech. 4th Grade Irma Bouton of West Orange, N. J., admits, smiling.

Gained in Every Way.

"A trip abroad wouldn't have ever happened to me," she states. Now doing secretarial work for a general, she explains: "I was working in a small insurance office in a small town. My way of life was pretty much of a rut. I'd been working in this office for seven years and used to spend my money on clothes that I now cannot even remember, or on vacations visiting relatives in a big city where I'd never meet as many famous and interesting people, or have as much feeling of being in the center of things important."

The above WAC has gained, her record shows, in health, in education and, undoubtedly, in mental and visual horizons and in general knowledge. She is associating daily with some of the great minds of this war. And her words indicate she is proud of herself and of her corps and exceedingly thankful.

She has learned French and some Arabic, picking it up through conversation. Living as a member of a group, she finds she has learned to get along with people better than ever before. She has listened to tales of other lives and experiences.

Lives Are Enriched.

"Early to bed and early to rise, regular meals, a balanced diet and the care which the army gives its members medically and spiritually, make for satisfaction," she adds.

"I'm doing the biggest job I've ever done and living the most worthwhile life I know of," Catherine Jeane Strong of Iron Mountain, Mich., told Colonel Hobby's representatives.

The report shows she is now a clerk in the postal section that sees to it that wounded soldiers get letters from home as fast as possible. There is so much for her to do that she works long hours and only gets one-half day leisure a week.

"But I still manage to go more places, see more things and have more fun than I ever did back home," she reports. "And, every time I think of my job... and what it means to those boys who get that letter from 'Mom,' or the girl, or wife, back home, in record time... why I just feel swell inside."

The report says that the first WACs sent to North Africa are finding that they are enjoying contacts and personal experiences that have enriched their lives. Their travels and their work tip the scales on the side of the WAC as compared to "not being in."

Dates Set for Nine Cases in Tuscola County Circuit Court

1942 Birth Rate in U. S. Is Highest in 16 Years

WASHINGTON.—In its first full year of World War II—1942—the nation's birth rate was the highest in 16 years and the death rate the lowest on record.

The census bureau so reported recently. Births totaled 2,808,996, an increase of 11.8 per cent over the 1941 figure, and deaths, not counting war casualties abroad, numbered 1,385,187, a decline of 0.9 per cent from the preceding year.

The birth rate of 21.0 per 1,000 population was the highest since 1926, while the death rate of 10.4 was the lowest yet recorded.

Despite an increase of 295,506 in births, both the maternal and infant death rates of 2.6 and 40.4 per 1,000 live births, respectively, were new lows. The respective declines from the previous year were 18.9 and 10.8 per cent.

Total deaths were 12,455 fewer than in 1941.

Penicillin Saves Life Of Georgia Girl, 15

MACON, GA.—Anne Shirley Carter, 15, is home from the hospital, almost fully recovered from a streptococcal infection which was checked by penicillin flown from New York in an army Liberator bomber.

The high school senior credited the drug with saving her life, and said she hoped it soon would be available in sufficient quantities.

Happy Day

Even Santa Claus is smiling at the general hilarity occasioned by his visit to a naval training station. The recruits in front of the barracks may be many miles from home, but they're still celebrating Christmas with as much enthusiasm as ever.

Family Reunions Are Yule Custom

Christmas is a homey time. Family dinner parties and reunions are a traditional part of the holiday season in America, and this year more than ever we will be celebrating Christmas at home.

You can add a festive note to these family get-togethers by turning them into Christmas parties. Don't plan anything elaborate—just think up some simple invitations and a game or two. Regular Christmas decorations will provide the setting.

For the invitations cut out paper snow balls, Santa Clauses or Christmas trees and write or print the invitation in ink of a contrasting color. Or buy small candy canes and attach a red paper tag with the invitation in white ink. If you're ambitious you might try writing a verse for these invitations.

From ordinary paper bags you can make party hats and head bands for the guests. Turn the top edge of the bag back in a roll until the "hat" is the right height. Paint or paste a Christmas design on these hats and they will be ready and waiting for the party. For the headbands cut strips of paper bag 2½ inches wide and decorate with gold stars, paper Christmas trees, holly, poinsettias, or cotton snowmen.

Games.

Christmas Toy Introductions.

When the members of the group are not acquainted with each other, this game will work out very nicely. Give each person a small tag on which has been written the name of some toy or object or subject of Christmas. On the back of each of these tags are written commands such as "Introduce yourself to Teddy Bear." "See that the train meets the wagon." "Discuss the price of eggs with the top." These cards must be prepared beforehand and arranged so that everyone keeps moving about introducing and being introduced to each other.

"Tip"—An English Game used at Christmas Time. Have nuts, candies, popcorn balls, etc., piled in center of table. One player leaves the room and the others select an object as "Tip." The absent player is called into the room and selects an object. He must avoid "Tip" and may have anything he gets. If "Tip" is chosen he loses his turn and must forfeit anything he has already won. A new "Tip" is chosen each time a player leaves.

A Popcorn Relay—This is lots of fun. Divide contestants into two groups. At one end of the room are fastened the ends of two long strings of very strong linen thread with a needle on each of the other ends, stuck in a stationary cork lying on a table beside two bowls of popcorn with exactly the same number of kernels in each. Each player threads a kernel of corn on the string and runs with it to the other end of the room. The contest continues until one bowl is emptied by a team.

Greeting Contest. Write out the well-known poem, "The Night Before Christmas," on slips of paper, one line to a slip. Separate the odd lines from the even lines, and give the odd slips to the men and the even ones to the women. Read the poem and announce that each player is to find the person holding the line that rhymes with his. The partners are then given pencil and paper and told to write as many forms of Christmas greetings as they can in five minutes. The winning couple receives a peppermint candy cane.

Some of these suggestions for Christmas fun have been taken from "The Christmas Book," by Marguerite Ickis, a compilation of background materials and suggestions for celebrating Christmas. The material includes interesting facts about Christmas customs in other lands, ideas for parties and social activities, music, drama, decorations, and refreshments. The book is available for 50 cents from the National Recreation Association, 315 Fourth Avenue, New York City.

Stamp 18 in Book 1 good for one pair until further notice. No. 1 "airplane" stamp in Book 3 good for one pair each until further notice.

Gasoline.
Stamp A-9, good for 3 gallons, good through Jan. 21, 1944. B and C stamps good for 2 gallons until used.

All B and C gasoline coupons issued after Dec. 1 will be worth five gallons each, compared with the present value of two gallons. This means B and C books will contain fewer coupons than in the past, but each coupon will be good for more gallons than before. No increase in the amount of gasoline allowed is involved.

State and license number must be written on face of each coupon immediately upon receipt of book.

Reduce Meat Point Value.

The entire list of rationed beef items has been cut two or three ration points, making the most meat available to civilians since rationing began late last March. Many pork cuts remain at the reduced value set by OPA in mid-November, and point values of lamb, mutton, and all veal remain unchanged. This means an increase of approximately 30 per cent in the housewife's meat ration for December as compared with the ration set at the beginning of November.

Changes in Tire Regulations.

Recent changes in tire rationing regulations announced by OPA are: (1) Recapping of tires for commercial vehicles with truck-type camelback is no longer rationed; (2) Tires manufactured principally from reclaimed rubber (war tires) may now be bought by those persons previously eligible for used tires. Tire and tube rationing quotas for December are not greatly changed from those in November.

BOARD DECIDE ON DRAIN IMPROVEMENT

Henry Harris, Clarence Harmon and Edgar Ross members of the board of determination in the Haebler-Bell Drain in Koylton Township decided on Dec. 2 that the improvement of that drain was necessary.

Deficient in Protein
Feeding records show that corn does not supply sufficient quantity or quality of protein to satisfy the needs of either young or old pigs. Pigs grown in a dry lot should also receive a protein supplement to complete the ration.
