Vassar Boy Is the Youngest Page in the State Senate

Youngest page serving in the present session of the state legislature is Jim Smith, son of Margaret Smith Willis, Vassar newspaper publisher. Jim, 15-year-old freshman at Vassar High School, has already established himself as one of the most popular and outstanding students in the school despite the loss of his left arm in an automobile accident seven years ago.

Jim, according to his teachers, is quite matter-of-fact about his accomplishments, which include many things difficult to do with only one hand. He is a champion swimmer, a good rifle shot, a gifted musician and an outstanding athlete. He has astounded musical audiences with his one-handed rendition of the difficult Rachmaninoff "Prelude in C Sharp Minor" and Dantes "Operetta."

Although a freshman, Jim won a position on the Vassar High School football team last fall. In addition, he won the coveted coaches award for being the outstanding member of the squad.

Jim's classmates regard him as a "regular" and are anxiously awaiting his return to get a first hand report on the current activities of the state legislature where Jim is page for the press and the senate. —Bay City Times.

300 Attended Father and Chum Banquet Tuesday

Youngsters Get Much Enjoyment in the Program of the Magician.

Expectancy ran high with the younger generation and they were not disappointed, and the oldsters didn't mind seeing again the sleight of hand performances of Dell Edwards & Co. which were presented at the "Father and Chum Night" gathering of the Community Club Tuesday evening at the school auditorium.

Following a bountiful dinner served to 300 by ladies of the Bethel Methodist Church, President Frank Reid presented W. L. Mann as program chairman and he introduced Dell Edwards & Company, who gave a program similar to that they presented at the February gathering here a year ago. "Ohs" and "Ahs" from the lips of the chums of the many dads present told of their delight at being mystified by the feats of magic.

Boy Scouts appeared in uniform at the gathering and Frederick H. Pinney, a member of the local troop committee, told of the special significance of this week as the 34th anniversary of the founding of the Boy Scout movement in the nation. He called attention to the value and merits of the organization to the community.

President Frank Reid introduced J. Wesley Charter of Sioux Falls, S. D., and Rev. Melvin Vander, the new minister of the Cass City Presbyterian Church, as guests. Mr. Reid announced that at the March meeting of the Community Club, athletes of the local school would be guests, with Audley Rawson as program chairman.

Taylor, assistant registrar at the station hospital, received his promotion this week. He has been stationed at Fort Sheridan since June, 1942. BOWLING

By G. W. Landon, Sec. of League.

Knoblet's team continues to hold top place, although by the scant margin of one game. Their next three game series will find them tangled with the second place Landon Five and this should prove quite a battle since neither team has yet lost a series to an opponent.

Individually, Mac McCullough was the sensational bowler of the week, as he contributed games of 190-247-195 for a nice 682 pin total. His 247 game also is the highest single game an individual has offered. Mac's superior bowling has brought him within two points of the coveted first place honors, that only a few have yet attained.

Two other bowlers managed to hit above the 600 mark during the week, when "Ace" Collins posted a 609 pin count, while Capt. Schwegler hit for 601. Both Collins and Schwegler rolled identical 286 games, which tied a previous game of the same total rolled by Landon.

Other bowlers with worth mentioning totals were: Croft 577, Willy 563, Maier 558. Games of 200 or over are: McCullough 247, Schwegler 236, Collins 236, B. Benkelman 214, Maier 208, Willy 205, Parns 204, M. Auten 204, Croft 202, Downing 201, Karr 201, Willy 201.

Redhawks Hang Up Season's No. 9 Victory

Take Long End of 61-22 Score from Sebawaing High School on Friday.

Cass City's cagers again were on the winning end of a basketball game after their meeting with Sebawaing Friday. The surprised Maroon and White quintet managed to score nine field goals and four free throws for a total of 22 points which was no comparison with the Redhawks' 28 field goals and five free throws for a total of 61 points. This victory is No. 9 for the local cagers in as many starts.

Kettwell and Bugbee shared the scoring honors of the Redhawks for the evening with 17 points each. Ross was next with 13 and DeLong had eight. Leitch played an excellent game defensively plus dropping in two buckets for four points. Bird again "rang the bell" to finish the scoring for the evening when he tossed a neat one-handed shot through the ring in the last second of the game. Kundering of Sebawaing, who had previously averaged over 20 points per game, was high man with but eight points.

Cass City..... 16 18 13 14-61

Sebawaing..... 3 7 4 8-22

Cass City's seconds also whipped their opponents, 39-20. Strickland with 16 points and Kenney with eight were the Redhawks' high scorers.

Coach Jack London takes his Redhawk squad to Bad Axe tonight to meet the Blue and Gold in their second contest of the season. Cass City was the winner of the first meeting, but the local cagers expect to run into strong opposition on Bad Axe's home court in this second tilt.

Sees Good Prices for Crops in 1944

It's only a guess, yet a Michigan State College farm management specialist gives the opinion that Michigan farmers can expect slightly higher prices for farm products in 1944 as compared to 1943.

Campus visitors attending the 29th annual Farmers' Week program at East Lansing heard Dr. Karl T. Wright analyze prospects for rural families facing the farm-battle fronts in 1944.

Average farm prices can be less, can be the same or can be more in 1944 than they were in 1943, but prospects indicate some increase. The economist pointed out that 1943 prices averaged twice those of 1939 for 20 leading farm products marketed in Michigan.

Will feed grains, protein supplements, labor, machinery, or repairs, seed grains and fertilizers be plentiful? Answers to those factors do not seem to be encouraging, farmers were told. Machinery supplies should be better than last year but other elements of production may be short of demands.

Costs of running a farm may increase another 15 per cent in 1944, Dr. Wright predicts. Farm costs in 1943 were roughly 50 per cent higher than they were in 1939.

Dollars per farm, however, the increase in cost apparently will not exceed the average increase in farm income. That factor, he informed Michigan farmers, means that production of maximum volume will pay well in 1944 if a farmer wisely uses his resources of land, buildings, equipment, labor and feed to produce the most food and the highest net profit.

LESSON

Lesson for February 13

JESUS ON THE MOUNTAIN AND IN THE VALLEY

LESSON TEXT—Mark 9:3-9, 17-27. GOLDEN TEXT—I believe; help thou mine unbelief.—Mark 9:24.

The vision of the mountain top prepares the believer for service down in the valley. "Where there is no vision the people perish," said the wise man of old (Prov. 29:18). For want of a true vision of God, a knowledge of His truth, and the God-given constraint which makes men give themselves in sacrificial service, the people will perish in their sins.

But let men come to know the truth as it is in Christ, learn to know Him as the Son of God glorious and powerful, and then let them translate their knowledge of Christian truth and their personal spiritual experiences into the daily ministry to the needs of their fellow men, and there will be songs of salvation and joy.

I. Knowing (vv. 2-7).

The transfiguration of Christ doubtless meant much to Him in preparation for His coming death and resurrection. It was a foregleam of His kingdom glory.

In this lesson we are concerned with the experience of the disciples rather than the feelings of our Lord. Fundamental in both Christian life and service is a clear understanding of the person and work of Christ.

One may come to Christ knowing little more than that He is the divine Saviour, and one may enter into Christian living with a meager knowledge of the doctrines of the Bible. But the Christian who fails to grow in knowledge will not grow in grace as he should.

God sets no premium on ignorance, in fact it is quite evident that the great blight on the Christian church today is the appalling lack of understanding of God's Word.

The disciples came to a fuller conviction that He was the Son of God as they saw Him transfigured and heard the Father say, "This is my beloved Son." They learned more plainly the truth of His coming death for the sins of all mankind. They saw in the indescribable beauty of that moment the foregleam of His coming glory. What important truths these are—His deity—His redemption—His coming kingdom. Do we have a clear grasp of these truths? If not, let us search the Scriptures.

II. Growing (v. 8).

"Jesus only." He filled their vision and their hearts. They had made spiritual progress as they had seen His glory and heard the commanding voice of the Father.

Great experiences of spiritual renewing and power are necessary to effective life and testimony. They may not be in outward manifestation, in fact they are more often in the inner recesses of the soul; but they transform men and send them forth to magnificent living for God. One wonders if much of the dearth of power in the Christian church is not to be attributed directly to the lack of such experiences with God.

The disciples had an unforgettable mountaintop experience. Even so have many others found the secret of power.

Let us remember that such privileges are not reserved for a few, they are the birthright of every Christian. Power without knowledge is a dangerous and destructive thing, but knowledge without power is a dead thing.

Let us study God's Word, but let the truth be baptized in the overflowing spiritual power of a personal experience with God.

In regeneration all that Christ is and has for us is made available. If we have not taken out our inheritance let us do it at once.

III. Serving (vv. 17-27).

One of the lessons that seems hard to learn and to keep constantly effective in the life of a Christian is that mountaintop experiences of spiritual uplift are not an end in themselves, but a preparation for service. All too often we come to regard such times of peculiar blessing, whether in the privacy of our own room or in the great conference of Christian workers, as something which should glow warmly in our own hearts, making us glad in the Lord, and not as a preparation for ministry to others.

Jesus and the disciples went up to the place of prayer, into the place of glory, and down to the place of service. How fitting is that sequence.

Much confusion exists in the church because those who have foolishly abandoned God's Word and substituted the energy of the flesh for spiritual power have been most diligent in service to humanity; while those who know and accept the truth about Christ, and who profess to believe in the power of the Spirit-filled life, have failed to serve their needy neighbors.

"But Jesus took him by the hand and lifted him up" (v. 27). Verses 28 and 29 indicate that the disciples might have done the same by believing prayer.

Give Cupid a Break... Bake Him a Cake (See Recipes Below)

Valentine Notes

Along about this time, even though it isn't spring, there's a note of precious sentiment that gets into the atmosphere. Perhaps it's those bits of bright red and lacy paper the children have been pasting into heart shapes, the rhymes they've been making. Yes! Valentines!

Cupid has a way of darting into this season and winning us over—even if only with a cardboard arrow springing out of a froth of red and white paper cutouts of hearts. Why not plan to give yourself up to a party with a Valentine theme?

Let's make it simple but festive for even simple gaiety will do loads for your morale. Except for the cake in today's column which is a wee bit party-ish, the rest of ingredients in the party are streamlined to save your time.

Our color scheme for the holiday runs into red-and-white, so our main dish is going to be a variation of the old favorite chicken and cranberries.

*Jellied Chicken and Cranberry Loaf. (Serves 6)

1 tablespoon gelatin
2 cups well seasoned chicken broth
6 small thin slices chicken
2 cups minced chicken
Cranberry mixture

Soften gelatin in a little broth, add remaining broth and heat until gelatin is dissolved. Pour a little into the bottom of an oiled 1-quart loaf pan. Divide remaining gelatin between 1 cup dark and 1 cup light meat of chicken. Add alternating layers of chicken and cranberry, chilling each layer thoroughly until set before adding the next.

Cranberry Mixture. (For Chicken Loaf)

1 pint cranberry juice
1 1/2 tablespoons gelatin
1/4 teaspoon salt
Dash of cayenne
Juice of 1/2 lemon
1 cup minced celery

Soften gelatin in a little cranberry sauce; dissolve over hot water. Add remaining juice and seasonings. Cool and add celery.

Since the main dish is a combination salad and main dish—if served with a lettuce or watercress garnish and mayonnaise if you want it, balance the menu with some attractive assorted sandwiches. Sandwiches should be light snacks for this type of party, so we'll fall back on the old standby: cream cheese.

Cream Cheese Rolls.

Mix 1 package of softened cream cheese with 1 tablespoon of mayonnaise and a dash of Worcestershire sauce. Blend thoroughly. Take thinly Valentine Party.

*Chicken Cranberry Loaf
*Assorted Sandwiches or
*Graham Gems
*Cupid's Cake
Tea Hot Chocolate
*Recipe Given

Sifted white bread, trim off crusts, and spread with cream cheese mixture. Roll, cut in half and brush with melted butter. Toast in broiler until evenly browned.

Other good cream cheese combinations, using heart or diamond-shaped bread slices, include cream cheese and apple butter or cream cheese and currant jelly or raspberry jam.

Hot muffins that pull no nutritional punches would be good foil for the cool, smooth jellied chicken and cranberry loaf. Try these:

*Graham Gems.

1/4 cup flour
1 cup graham flour
1/4 teaspoon salt
4 teaspoons baking powder
1 egg, well beaten
1/2 cup milk

Sift the flour. Sift again with salt and baking powder. Add egg and milk and beat only until mixed with dry ingredients. Bake in small, buttered muffin tins in a hot (400-degree) oven for 20 minutes.

A delicious mouth-watering cake to top off the party is just the thing you need to make it a success:

*Cupid's Cake.

1 1/4 cups egg whites (about 10)
1 1/4 cups sifted sugar
3/4 cup sifted cake flour
1/4 teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon cream of tartar
1 teaspoon vanilla

Measure egg whites and place in a bowl. Sift and measure sugar and add flour. Add half of sugar and 1/4 teaspoon salt to flour. Sift 5 or 6 times. Beat egg whites until frothy, add cream of tartar, beat until egg whites are slightly stiff but still glossy. Fold in sugar, 2 tablespoons at a time. Fold in sifted flour a little at a time. Fold in vanilla and pour into a hot pan that has been set in a hot oven, 425 degrees, while cake is being mixed. Bake in a hot oven 20 to 25 minutes or until cake springs back when touched. Invert pan to cool cake.

Frozen Strawberry Filling.

1 package lemon-flavored gelatin
1 cup boiling water
1 package fresh-frozen strawberries
1 cup whipping cream

Add boiling water to gelatin, stir until dissolved. Break strawberries into separate pieces, add to gelatin and stir carefully. The cold strawberries will cool the gelatin and at the same time thaw the syrup around the berries. If strawberries are thawed, cool gelatin before adding strawberry mixture. Whip cream and fold in 1/2 cup of whipped cream into strawberry mixture.

With a sharp knife cut out center of cake with a sawing motion, leaving a 1-inch shell around top of cake. Lift out center of cake and tear off pieces of center to fill hole at bottom of cake left by tube. Use this extra cake and put into filling or frost small pieces and roll in coconut. Pour strawberry filling into cake. Frost outside of cake with remaining cream. Part of this frosting may be used through a cake decorator tube to add valentines to sides and swirls to top of cake as shown in picture above. Put cake in refrigerator for 1/2 hour or long enough to set filling. Serves 10.

Look in Flavor
Close spice boxes tightly to lock in their luscious flavor. Keep them cool and dry. Snap down the baking powder lid snugly so the next cake will be light and airy. Give extract tops an extra twist and keep them in a dark spot if they're not in dark glass. Be sure a dry spoon conveys spice and baking powder to the sifter.

CITIZENS OF GREGORY, S. DAK., BELIEVE 'IT'S TIME TO CHANGE'

Farmers Remember Triple A Benefits but Feel Too Much Centralized Control Is Unhealthy.

By BARROW LYONS

(EDITOR'S NOTE—This is one of a series of articles written for this paper by Barrow Lyons, staff correspondent of Western Newspaper Union. He has just completed an extended trip through the nation and in these reports gives his first-hand impressions of what rural America is thinking as we enter the third year of war and the first weeks of a presidential election year. Any opinions expressed are the writer's and not necessarily those of this newspaper.)

GREGORY, S. D.—This is a young town—even as western towns go. It was planted by the government in the heart of the prairie—the country of the Rosebud Sioux Indians—39 years ago when the land was opened to homesteaders. With the exception of the lean years of grasshoppers and drouth, when dust storms obscured the sun, Gregory has thrived. It has a population of 1,400, and is the chief trading center of Gregory county.

Usually, the Republicans have carried the county by a slight majority. In 1924, year of the Coolidge landslide, the GOP got 54 per cent of the votes. Again last year the Republican percentage was the same. But in the first New Deal election Roosevelt left the Republicans only 28 per cent of the vote, and in 1936 42 per cent. But in 1940 the voters veered to the other side, and 58 per cent of the votes were tallied under the Republican emblem.

Even though the people of Gregory dislike many things about the New Deal, they do not forget the years when the Triple A saved them through seed loans, helped them to hold their produce for better prices and brought new ways of farming that made the prairie soil more profitable.

Most of them think today that the time has come for a change. This is true even of some of the most staunch defenders of the New Deal, who feel that the administration is becoming too entrenched in power, too set in its ways, too far away from the people.

Gregory is on the edge of the cattle country, but there is extensive growing of wheat, corn, barley and forage along with cattle, hog and sheep raising.

Here is to be found the conflict of social and political trends that underlie the whole fabric of American politics today—the clash between the conservatives and the liberals—the traditional and the new—these seeking safety and those set for adventure.

Dramatically illustrating this conflict are the views of two men living on farms that are close together, both of whom took up homesteads 39 years ago when the land was opened, both of whom have had their ups and downs, but are today more prosperous than ever before.

One is E. C. Biggins, wheat farmer, who came here from the cattle country along the Missouri Breaks. He knew the Indians, ranches and ran cattle, broke wild horses and played poker. Of him a friend remarked: "He's the kind of man who's always been independent and doesn't want to be told." He doesn't like the New Deal. He is 67 years old, and farms 400 acres.

E. C. Biggins Wm. Sinkular
Two farmers—two views.

The other is William Sinkular, who raises cattle, sheep and hogs, and most of the grain which he feeds them. In the last few years he has netted between $12,000 and $15,000 a year from his 1,920 acres. He was the first around Gregory to join the Non-Partisan league, one of the first to speak up for the Roosevelt administration.

"I saw this land come up from nothing. People thought they were making money. A man took a homestead, borrowed money on it and made improvements. They drove the price of land up to where one could mortgage a farm for $10,000 to $12,000.

Rural Credit Took Land by Foreclosure

"Then the deflation came. Steers we thought were worth $50 to $80 dropped to $12 to $14. Rural Credit took land in foreclosure—resold rich farms for $1,500—not a little but a lot of it. When the boom was on we were offered $200 an acre for our land. We saw its value go down to where we couldn't get $10 an acre for it.

"Today we are again in a boom period, but a man who has reason knows he's not really making money. There's nothing that promises you security. The administration has promised good prices for two years, but they can't keep such promises.

"Now I like a Democrat, but I can't stand a New Dealer. They're trying to do all the things that were never thought of before. They're trying to shove this farming back to the birth of Christ. When they begin telling you how much wheat to raise and what to do—wasn't that what they did in Egyptian times?"

"I grew up right beside the Sioux Indians. They'd come in on butchering day and pick up scraps, but they'd never work. The New Dealers, most of them around here, are just like that. The administration tried to rehabilitate them, but they won't rehabilitate, most of them."

Educational Program Helped Country

Now let "Bill" Sinkular state his case:

"The New Deal—not the whole set-up—gave the farmer an educational program that's been a life saver for this country. In 1934 this country was a desert. It had been ruined by dust storms and drouth. In 1934 I received $1,800 for seed, and it saved my farm.

"But I don't think all the subsidies they are paying out now are necessary. All that money that's being paid out now to farmers who are prospering must be paid in by somebody. I don't think the subsidies are an attempt to buy votes; but the farmers themselves should know that inflation won't do them any good.

"Many farmers would take anything they could get hold of, and yet these same men are the greatest enemies of the New Deal—the men who have profited most from it."

E. E. McKee, vice president and director of the Northwest Security National bank, and manager of the Gregory branch, strongly supports this anti-inflation point of view. He has seen the deposits in his branch mount from $751,000 at the end of 1941 to $1,830,000 today, and in the same period has seen loans decline from $684,000 to $480,000. Farmer-speculators are buying up the land today at prices that are too high, he declares.

"In the last year," he said, "the Regional Agricultural Credit corporation has been lending money to anyone who would take care of more livestock to increase the meat supply. In 1940 there were 1,632,000 head of cattle in the county. Today there are more than three million head. It is the same with sheep and hogs; and it is about the same in other western states.

"What we are doing is laying up an enormous surplus on the farms. If they let this go on for another two or three years it will wreck farming. We'll have the same condition that occurred after the last war."

As Gregory, South Dakota, Views It . . .

Listen to farmer E. C. Biggins: "Today many farmers around here are expending themselves too far—buying too many steers, sheep, hogs at prices that are too high. One friend of mine during the last boom kept gathering land at $135 an acre. He was counting his chips before he cashed in.

"Now when they started the Non-

Partisan league, this friend was one of the first to fall into that; and he swallowed all their radical ideas. He boomed up that outfit, and stuck with them for several years. Well, when he saw all the things that weren't right with those boys the tears ran down his cheeks. It was dissatisfaction with the Non-Partisan league that made the people around here fall into the Democratic basket.

Hughesovka
The Russian government, in 1870, gave to a British subject named Hughes a concession to manufacture iron rails. Operations were started and from 1880 to 1914 British, French and Belgian capital were invested in the industry's development which was profitable because of the Donetz coalfield and the iron and manganese deposits in that area. Hughesovka (Yuzovka) was the name of the town where the company was situated but it has since been named Stalin. The iron rail industry fell off following the 1917 revolution but was revived about 1924 and progressed rapidly.

A REMINDER

every time you snap an ELECTRIC SWITCH

Ordinarily when you snap an electric switch that turns on your lamps and electrical appliances, you need give no thought to the miracle that makes this possible.

But behind your electric switch are thousands of men and huge power plants and far-flung transmission lines and complex electric equipment—all essential in the manufacture of electricity. Thousands of tons of coal are burned every day to bring you electric power.

Today it is important to think of what lies behind your electric switch. Let every switch and electric outlet be a reminder—a "string around your finger"—of the need for saving electricity whenever and wherever you can. Even though electricity is not rationed and there is no shortage in this area, the Government asks you to CONSERVE in store and office and home, thus saving coal and transportation and manpower.

Whether the State of Michigan is to have an adequate post-war planning program during the next five years will depend, to a large degree, on what the state legislature does—or does not do—during the next few weeks.

General reception of the program has been favorable by legislators and the public, due chiefly to the careful preparations made by the state planning commission in consultation with key legislative leaders. But the big test is to come.

Auditor General Vernon J. Brown sums up the situation in these words: "The program as developed and adopted by the State Planning Commission is based upon the assumption that the experience of the State of Michigan in the matter of finance over the past five years will be matched by a period of equal affluence during the next five years."

In other words, the sales tax revenues will remain high and the state treasury will be able to accumulate and retain a surplus annually.

Of course not even the auditor general can determine with accuracy today what the economic trends will be during the next five years. He cannot foretell whether the present high level of sales tax revenue will continue to permit, during the next five years, a continuation of the annual surplus that has blessed the state treasury.

But, assuming that the inflationary period will continue for several more years, then the next hurdle before the post-war planning program is already discernible. It is the pressure of local governments—cities, counties and townships—for a greater share of the state's surplus. The township supervisors have already informed the governor that they want some of the Lansing plums, and the governor has informed them that the state's need should have priority.

Actually the records for 1943 fiscal year show that local governments received 62.5 per cent of all

Today's Valentines Reflect Lighthearted Sentiments

Valentine's day again will see greetings going to our men in uniform. Many will strike a lighthearted, affectionate note reflecting the realistic informality of modern lovers whose sentimental expressions are of the gay and humorous school.

For example, one Valentine in this particular category reads: "Maybe you're only a PRIVATE to Uncle Sam— But you're more than GENERAL interest to me!"

But for those who take the affairs of the heart more sedately there are Valentines in the true romantic tradition which this year skillfully blend the stars and stripes with hearts and flowers and are frankly dedicated, "TO MY SWEETHEART IN THE SERVICE."

British Captain Gets 7 Years for Giving Secrets

LONDON.—A British army captain who admitted at a court martial that he gave secret information to a former leader of the Communist party of Great Britain, has been sentenced to seven years' imprisonment. In announcing the sentence, the war office said Acting Capt. Ormond Leyton Uren had communicated to Douglas F. Springhall, former national organizer of the Communist party, "information of a highly secret character which he had acquired in the course of his official duties and which was calculated to be or might be directly or indirectly useful to the enemy."

Fingerprint Proves Unlucky for Moray

WASHINGTON.—The FBI has received its 75,000,000th fingerprint record—to the regret of Elton Bertell Moray of Inglewood, Calif.

Moray was arrested in Chicago on charges of impersonating an army officer. His fingerprint card, the 75,000,000th, showed he also is wanted for questioning by his draft board.

Don't Affect Compasses

U. S. army helmets are of non-magnetic steel and don't affect compasses carried by troops.

This Dog's OPA Spirit Saves Master $4.50

SPRINGFIELD, MASS.—OPA restrictions might be cutting dog rations. But Fido has real OPA spirit. After his master had purchased a new bedspring for $16.75, his dog crawled under it, sniffing. He came out with a tag in his mouth. It read: "OPA ceiling price for this bedspring is $12.25."

Woman Takes Jobs With Eye to Loot

Habitual Thief With Record Given Another Term.

LONDON.—"In telling you how long you are to go away again, it is only like telling you to go home, because prison must indeed be home to you, and no amount of punishment seems to have the slightest effect."

With these words Justice Cassels, at Lewes, England, sent Maude Harrison, alias Kathleen Abbott, 50 years old, to penal servitude for three years, to be followed by five years' probation.

Miss Harrison, a tall, bespectacled woman, had pleaded guilty to stealing property belonging to women with whom she had stayed at Bexhill and Sidley, and also to being an habitual criminal. She asked for 45 outstanding offenses to be taken into consideration.

In the calendar she was described as a cook, and Superintendent Simmons said that during the last 23½ years she had spent 25 years in custody, and twice previously she had been convicted of being an habitual criminal.

In all parts of the country, Miss Harrison had obtained situations as a domestic helper, and she had been employed at many well-known restaurants in London.

The superintendent added that she had confessed that she obtained those positions only for the purpose of robbing her employers.

When apprehended by the police at Bexhill, the woman was alleged to have said: "I have given you a good run for the last 14 months." During that period she had not done a stroke of work.

Mr. Harold Brown, defending, said his client had told him that he could not say anything in her favor.

Before she disappeared from public view for another eight years, the judge told her: "Your occupation is to prey on the public and you have often robbed people who could ill afford to lose their property."

Old Alibi Is Worn Out; Sympathy Racket Fails

CHICAGO.—The day when a husband could come into court and get a sympathetic hearing on his plea that he couldn't find enough work to keep up his alimony payments has passed, Judge Robert J. Dunne said in Circuit court in Chicago when in two cases he ordered men to get to work immediately.

Joseph Patrovsky, 41 years old, a butcher, haled into court by his former wife, Anna, 28, for being $290 in arrears for support of his wife and daughter, Geraldine, seven, was ordered to find a job in 24 hours and pay $200 within two weeks. He also was told to quit drinking and go on a milk diet.

Joseph Shuman, 42, a printer, had a job that pays him only $78 a month, so Judge Dunne told him to get a better one. His wife, Jean, 35, a secretary, is suing for divorce and asking temporary support for herself and their son, Morton, nine. He was forbidden to visit handbooks and ordered to pay $7 a week.

Mother Finds Son in Army; Lost 18 Years

OCEANSIDE, CALIF.—A mother's hope and faith, surviving 18 years of fear and disappointment, at last has brought back her son.

The mother, Mrs. Jewel Peters of Tulsa, Okla., and her son, Private Harry Hensley Jr., 20, of the marine corps, met for the first time since he was 28 months old.

Mrs. Peters' search started 18 years ago following the disappearance of the father and two-year-old boy after a Tulsa court had granted a divorce decree.

She wrote Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt in 1928 seeking aid in locating her former husband, who was an army cook in the First World War. Mrs. Roosevelt turned the letter over to the adjutant general, and Hensley was traced through the veterans department to Blythe, Calif.

A missing persons bureau in Oklahoma City finally located her son.

Shampoo Frees Soldier On Trial for Murder

PINEVILLE, KY.—Private Paris Kelly was a free man today because a court-ordered shampoo proved he was not a murderer.

The brown-haired soldier from Forge Ridge, Tenn., won a directed verdict of acquittal in the shooting of Jack Campbell in a Middlesboro, Ky., bar last December 18, after Judge J. S. Forester ordered him shampooed to determine if his hair had been dyed.

A vigorous scrubbing left his hair still brown—not blond or sandy-haired as witnesses had described Campbell's slayer.

He will return to his post at Fort Eustis, Va.

Every holder of a ration book should make certain that his current address is plainly written in the space provided for that purpose on the cover.

Outdoor Storage

The most satisfactory outdoor storage is a tight wooden barrel or steel drum, which gardeners may get from a junk yard. The barrel or drum may be buried on its side with a heavy cover of dirt, or it may be set into the ground upright with an inch or two protruding above ground, to be covered by a rat-proof cover, and layers of hay or straw, and soil.

It's in the Bag

Save all scraps and slivers of toilet soap. When a half-cupful has been accumulated put them into a four-by-four bag made of old bath toweling. Sew a strap across the back, and presto, you have an ideal soap mitt to use in the shower. A similar bag made with laundry soap odds and ends is very useful for washing out bathtubs, sinks and washbowls.

Police Sergeant Found Guilty of Cunning Fraud

Obtains Money From Civil Defense Funds Using Forged Pay Sheets.

LONDON.—“I placed one sheet on top of another against a window with the sun shining through, and traced the warden’s signatures,” admitted an acting police sergeant when cross-examined in court at Lewes, England, just before he was sentenced.

He is Reginald George Hoare, 40 years old, for 17 years a member of the Eastbourne force, found guilty on 80 counts alleging that he obtained various sums belonging to the civil defense services at Eastbourne, and forged subsistence allowance pay sheets in connection with the warden’s department.

Hoare, who for three years has been chief assistant to the chief air raid warden for the town, was sentenced to 12 months’ imprisonment on each charge, sentences to run concurrently.

“There is not the least doubt that you embarked on a very cunning scheme of fraud, with the full knowledge of what you were doing, and by that means succeeded in making certain financial gain,” said Justice Cassels, passing sentence.

All Rights Forfeited.

“You have forfeited your character in the police force, and brought discredit to it, and all this has been done because you were just a little too clever and thought the scheme would never be discovered. Now both you and your family must suffer.”

Hoare protested his innocence from the dock, and said any money he received through altering the warden’s sheets had been used for the purposes of the canteen.

Mr. Geoffrey Lawrence, prosecuting, had alleged that by a system of false pretenses and forgery Hoare had obtained money from the public funds by stating it was for subsistence allowances for part time wardens. It was nothing of the kind, and he suggested that the forgery of documents had been done to cover up Hoare’s original offenses.

The chief warden was Gen. George Bencroft Lambert, and it was the duty of Hoare, as assistant, to check the subsistence allowance claim sheets, sign them as correct, and pass them on to the general, who relied on their accuracy.

An Ingenious Fraud.

Afterwards Hoare drew the money and it was alleged that a very clever, ingenious and industrious fraud had been committed, for he caused fictitious claim sheets to be prepared, showing amounts in excess of those earned by the wardens.

He got General Lambert to sign them, and then drew the money.

On June 19 Hoare was seen by two police officers from Hastings and Brighton, who found three pay sheets for subsistence allowances covering the same period. Hoare told them: “I am alone responsible for the pay sheets and any errors which may occur therein.” A further search revealed the remainder of the papers which led to his prosecution.

During cross-examination Hoare made the admission:

“I placed one sheet on top of another against a window, with the sun shining through, and traced the warden’s signatures. I did this in order to get the sheets passed by General Lambert, and I also signed his name sometimes, but there was no need to trace that as I had signed his name so often.”

“I did this in order to obtain money to run the A.R.P. canteen, and none of the money thus received was used for any other purpose. I had no intention of defrauding anyone.”

Daddy on Lost ‘Sub’—

How to Tell Butch?

LOS ANGELES.—Just how do you tell a five-year-old son that the submarine his father commanded is “presumed to be lost?”

Mrs. Grace Schneider, 28, saw her husband, Lieut. Comdr. Earl Caffray Schneider, in the East recently.

Returning home, she found the navy telegram awaiting her.

She was talking to reporters about her husband and the submarine Dorado which he had commanded when Butch—that’s Earle Jr.—romped in.

“They want your picture, Butch, with me,” she said. “You know, daddy won the Silver Star . . .”

Butch posed gladly, and ran gleefully outside again.

“You see how it is?” Mrs. Schneider said.

“I wonder about all the other wives . . . and how they tell their children.”

Truck Thief in Texas

Peddles the Proceeds

TULSA, OKLA.—A man arrested for stealing a truck at Waco, Texas, told the police this story of his journey to Tulsa:

He got five passers-by to help him start the truck. Then he sold the vehicle’s three spare tires for $110 and drove to Humble, Texas, where he obtained $102.50 for the truck’s load of hay. Later he disposed of the truck bed for $85 and finally, in Tulsa, he sold the truck for $300.

It took officers three days to re-assemble the vehicle and return it to the owner.

state-collected revenue.

The Kelly administration has adopted the following program for use of the surplus state funds:

1. To create a reserve fund for post-war contingencies. As Auditor General Brown explains it, "the program of expenditures is based upon retaining at all times approximately half of the total accumulated surplus as an emergency fund against any contingency which might arise." This is a broad-and-better insurance for a post-war unemployment period.

2. To spend the remainder, or one-half of anticipated surplus funds, for a state building program plus acquisition of lands for recreation and conservation. This is the state's own responsibility to its citizenry: Adequate building facilities for hospitals, educational institutions, state departments, and prisons and penitentiaries. Fire-hazards would be removed; rentals for state offices would be saved through a new office building.

The state's building program, which is spread over five years, began with an inventory by the planning commission of the state's 1200 buildings throughout Michigan, representing an investment of $500,000,000 and utilizing 20,000 acres.

Here is big business—YOUR business.

Amazing to state elective officials was the discovery of disgraceful fire hazards, actually fire traps worthy of immediate condemnation, through an inventory made by A. N. Langius, acting director of the planning commission. These records alone have meant a substantial saving to the taxpayers in annual operating expenses. For the first time in its history, Michigan possesses a complete technical file of the networks of pipes, conduits, tunnels, sewers, and electrical cables, existing under the ground of every state building. This technical file permits intelligent and economical planning for future needs.

Governor Kelly's policy was expressed by these words in his message to the legislature: "It seems self-evident that it is unwise to reduce taxes in good times and later be called upon to increase taxes in hard times."

It is interesting to note that the New York state legislature, under leadership of Governor Thomas Dewey, recently adopted, with only one dissenting vote, a bill impounding a $140,000,000 surplus in the New York state treasury to be used for a post-war program of the state government.

The same philosophy that prompts the purchase of war bonds during the Fourth War Bond campaign is likely to induce the Michigan legislature to safeguard Michigan's reserve fund for post-war needs. As the governor phrases it, "this fund belongs to the soldiers who are fighting; today as much as it belongs to the people who are such an important part of the supporting line in Michigan."

Modern Valentine Greetings for Servicemen Had Counterparts in Wars of Past Century

Valentines for servicemen are by no means a new idea. The wars of the past century have always brought forth a batch of missives which take cognizance of the fact that many sweethearts and husbands, sons and brothers are in uniform.

As far back as 1855, during the Crimean war, British soldiers were receiving Valentine greetings from the people at home. These cards were usually reproduced on fine white paper from hand-cut wood engravings and delicately colored by hand.

One Crimean war Valentine, now a token prized by a New York collector, depicts a green-uniformed British soldier holding a musket, and carries this stirring message:

Rise and form, behold your duty
Homes and hearths you must defend,
Win the smiles, the love of beauty
Which to courage strength shall lend.

England's eyes are fixed upon you
Bright ones too will shine more bright
When they seek that safety from you,
Yours the duty, theirs the right.

A Civil war Valentine in the same collection is a forerunner of comic Valentines and aimed at "A Newly Commissioned Officer," pictured in full-dress regalia with an ostentatiously bandaged head.

The so-called "comic" Valentine had pestered out by World War I and it is doubtful that any soldier since the Civil war period received a Valentine aimed at his Achilles' heel rather than his heart.

The Valentines sent to doughboy darlings and sailor sweethearts of World War I and the Valentines that will be sent to our boys this February 14 have a definite kinship. Undoubtedly many an American Legionnaire will see quite a resemblance between the Valentines he received while fighting with the A. E. F. and the ones in the greeting card shops today.

As with this year's Valentine greetings, those of 1917 and 1918 were simple in design and verse and went straight to the point in proud, patriotic terms. One particular Valentine which proved most popular with the boys in the last war and which had a space reserved on the card for a kiss imprint, has a repeat performance this year.

The 1944 kiss card shows a cute trick of a gal saying: "It's only a sample, but at least it will show—what the real thing will be when I get you in tow!" Above the verse appears a large white heart. An instruction tab (to be removed before sending, of course) advises that the lips be rouged heavily and then pressed carefully against the heart.

Cocoa Producers

For many years the other Americas were the chief producers of cocoa. Then the cacao tree, of which the cocoa bean is a product, was planted in West Africa. And that section of the world became the chief supply.

Their Valentine to the Axis

A bullet-splattered heart and target best convey the St. Valentine's day greetings of these Harlingen (Texas) army gunnery school students to the enemy. This February 14 greeting came from boys who are now behind machine guns in the turrets of our bombers—whence they deliver a deadlier message in person. A miserable St. Valentine's day, Adolf!

BOY SCOUT REPORT.

By Bill Benkelman.

The scout meeting of Feb. 2 showed the best attendance since September. Edward Baker was appointed to be the new assistant scoutmaster. Troop Committeeman Frederick Pinney presented Mr. Baker with an assistant scoutmaster badge. Dean Leitch, the previous game leader, was appointed to the job of patrol leader for the Fox Patrol. Donald Partridge was appointed assistant patrol leader of the Beaver Patrol. Edward Golding is the new quartermaster of the troop. Two assistants were appointed for him who are Jim Foy and Bob Howell. Dale Little and Douglas Partridge were appointed color bearers.

The investiture of Charles Goff also took place at that meeting. Charles was conducted by his new patrol leader, Dean Leitch. He received his tenderfoot badge from Troop Committeeman Frederick Pinney.

According to Assistant Scoutmaster Hugh Munro when Charles entered the troop it completed its membership. Mr. Munro also stated that it was the first time in the history of Boy Scouts of Cass City the troop had been filled. It is expected that the retirement of some older boys will make way for a few young lads.

Troop Committeemen Willis Campbell and Ray Fleener also attended this meeting. Mr. Fleener showed the boys some pictures which had been taken at some scout camps previously.

The game period was conducted by Scout Aiden Asher. Albert MacPhail presented Troop Committeeman Frederick Pinney with a troop committeeman's badge.

Another Statue of Liberty

This artist's conception of Abraham Lincoln, standing rock-like amid the threatening waters, is symbolic of his steadfast fight against the powers which threatened the republic during his presidential reign. On Lincoln's birthday, February 12, the nation again will remember his determination that "these dead shall not have died in vain—that this nation, under God, shall have a new birth of freedom—and that government of the people, by the people, for the people shall not perish from the earth."

Grown Outside Tropics

Oranges and their cousins can be grown after a fashion almost everywhere in the Tropics; but the most important commercial production is concentrated just outside the Tropics in both the northern and southern temperate zones. This is because citrus trees thrive best when they "live dangerously" just outside the average frost-line. Winter drops in temperature to a point short of freezing keep the trees healthy and productive. But there is always the chance that a temperature drop will be too great and that thousands of trees will be destroyed.

Industrial Health

We think of this industrial health program as rather recent, but the foundations were actually laid as long ago as the 17th century by Bernardino Ramazzini, an Italian physician, who probably was the founder of industrial hygiene. Although living in an age which was far from outstanding in cleanliness, Ramazzini took the very modern viewpoint that clean hands, clean bodies, clean clothes, and clean working conditions are essential factors in good health, and he devoted a long life to working and writing for a better understanding of his convictions.
