Miss Omlor to Speak at Grange Meeting

Miss Mildred M. Omlor of Caro, the Emergency War Food assistant to the county agricultural agent, Norris Wilbur, will be the speaker at the meeting of the Cass City Grange, Friday evening at eight o'clock in the Bird schoolhouse. The program topic is "Farm Victory Gardens" and Miss Omlor will discuss any questions which may develop following her talk. Members are urged to bring questions pertaining to the topic.

The regular business meeting of the Grange and initiation of new members will follow Miss Omlor's address and friends and neighbors of Grange attendants are invited to hear her.

The Bird schoolhouse, usual meeting place of the Cass City Grange, presents a pleasing appearance, the society having recently cleaned and redecorated it.

There is no way to evade the question. Here it is:

Is it sufficient that Michigan men—perhaps your son or husband—should die on foreign soil in 1944, just as other Michigan men did a quarter century ago, just to vanquish an enemy and to win for ourselves another war?

Michigan people are greatly concerned about tomorrow; many of them are not sure about what we are fighting for today.

They realize that the time of destiny is nearing, like the ticking of a clock that heralds the approach of midnight. When the German Luftwaffe is routed from the skies and when the spring rains have ceased and the poppies are flowering once more, the Americans and Canadians and British will unite in a mighty, determined assault upon Hitler's fortress. We have announced to the world that such is to happen.

Translate these words into home-town reality, and you have inevitable casualty lists that always do not effect the "other" family across the street.

Recently we heard an interesting talk by Margaret Bourke-White, the Life photographer who visited the Cassino front in December.

A young woman whose hair is already turning gray, she gave vivid word-picture of the Italian front and the hardships which our American troops were undergoing. She closed with a poignant and unforgettable remark: "Surely, we must have a better world tomorrow to justify such a price!"

Well, how about our world of tomorrow? It is a little strange that while we have been concentrating our resources and energies to make things that are non-productive—for cannons and tanks and the such are intended only to destroy the lives and wealth of

Gavel Club Had Fine Program on Scouting Tuesday

Boy Scout Executives and Troop Members Give Talks on Activities.

Scouting was the theme of the Gavel club program at the Hopper restaurant Tuesday evening and from the time that Toastmaster Howard Wooley announced the subject to the conclusion of the address of Carl Handle, scout executive of the Valley Trails Council, there wasn't a dull moment and a large fund of useful and timely information was transmitted to club members and guests. Preceding the dinner, Rev. Dudley Masure offered a prayer of thanks.

Hugh C. Munro, founder of Troop No. 94 in Cass City, four years ago, told of its sponsorship by the Rotary club, gave the personnel of its first committee and leader groups, and said that the present Scoutmaster, Harold Oatley, the troop's first professional leader, had placed it on a fine basis and the group was doing exceptional work.

Glenn McCullough, finance manager of the present Scout committee, announced the coming camporee at Cass City when 200 or more Scouts from Tuscola county expect to set up camp in the city park here on June 9 and 10. Other members of the Scout committee are: Frederick Pinney, chairman; Ray Fleener, in charge of camping and equipment; Rev. S. P. Kirm, chaplain; E. L. Schwaderer, health and safety member; W. L. Mann, special activities manager; and Willis Campbell, advancer and board of review.

Five Boy Scouts were speakers on the program. Robt. Foy related a week's activity program at a Scout camp; Scribe Albert MacPhail told of the payment of five cents a week for 42 weeks in a year per member as dues and the use made of the money; James Wallace explained the meaning of the Scout badges; Donald Partridge described favorite games enjoyed in recreational periods; and James Mark demonstrated the bowline, a useful knot.

Assistant Scoutmaster Edward Baker said the boys were apt pupils and did satisfactory work in a program in which he taught them the use of tools.

Scoutmaster Harold Oatley said the Scouts hoped to inaugurate a Cub program in Cass City for lads 9 to 11 years of age. The Cub program concluded on page 4.

Leek Ladies' Aid Has Happy Reunion

Thirty attended the annual reunion of the Leek Ladies' Aid society in the home of Mr. and Mrs. F. E. Hutchinson, Thursday, Apr. 13. Guests from a distance were from Detroit and Ann Arbor.

A bountiful potluck dinner topped off with fresh maple syrup and cake was enjoyed. The cake, a gift of Mrs. Joseph Frutchey, was a three-tiered decorated cake bearing the inscription, "Leek Ladies' Aid."

The business meeting was called to order by the president, Mrs. F. E. Hutchinson, and a short miscellaneous program followed which consisted of group singing, a reading by Mrs. Walter Schell, a duet, "Beneath the Cross of Jesus," by the Misses Ada and Anna Youngs of Kingston, short talks by Dr. George Bates and others. Mrs. G. A. Martin, the secretary, read the names of the departed members since 1891. Howard Retherford of Deford reminisced about former members and work of the organization in former days. Mrs. G. A. Martin, the only charter member living, was presented with a gift.

Mrs. Robert Hermer of Novesta invited the group to hold the 1945 reunion in her home.

Officers elected to serve the coming year are: President, Mrs. F. E. Hutchinson; vice president, Mrs. Howard Retherford; and secretary-treasurer, Mrs. G. A. Martin.

The meeting was closed by singing "God Be with You Till We Meet Again."

Basements Are Dug For New Homes Here

With a desire for various reasons to move to Cass City, several families are meeting the situation in different ways. Mr. and Mrs. Earl Harris will move a house from their farm to a location on East Main street where they have purchased one and a half lots from Otto Nique. Dr. and Mrs. Don Miller have the housing problem settled for them, having moved a collapsible house of four rooms to the lot on the corner of Leach and Third streets.

Allen Wanner will erect a house on the East Main street lot just west of where the Martin McKenzies now live. James Parker of Unionville, who is employed with Erwin Wanner, will build a house at the corner of Leach and Seventh streets. The basement has been dug on the lot on East Main street, recently purchased by Floyd Ottaway from Morton Orr.

Hospital Patient a Month Ago, J. A. Benkelman Superintends Sausage Making in 88th Year

A few weeks ago, John A. Benkelman was a patient in a Cass City hospital and his condition was pronounced most serious. Near relatives questioned the probability of his recovery. They failed, however, to reckon on the ruggedness of the patient and his ability to "come back," for Sunday he journeyed to the home of his daughter, Mrs. James Brown, near Pigeon, where he intended to superintend the making of a batch of country sausage which he may sample on his 88th birthday next Wednesday. Of course, he will not do the work, but he will be there to direct the mixture of the ingredients necessary to make a good product. The experience gained in conducting a meat market in Cass City for several years comes in good stead in sausage manufacturing.

John Adam Benkelman, born in Bowmanville, N. Y., April 26, 1856, went with his parents a few years later to Looneyville in the same state, and when he was nine years of age he remembers a railroad train draped in black going through that town carrying the body of Abraham Lincoln, the martyred president.

In 1884, Mr. Benkelman's father, Adam Benkelman came to Cass City to visit his two sisters, Mrs. Jacob Striffler and Mrs. John Striffler. When he returned home, he told his family he had bought 80 acres of land in Elkland township next to the John Striffler farm at $3 an acre. Years after this purchase, Mr. Benkelman's son, John A., served the Elkland community for many years as supervisor.

At a family reunion, John Benkelman related the following facts regarding the pioneer experiences of the Benkelman family in this community:

"In 1865 we packed up our goods and shipped them by railroad to Pine Run below Vassar and in a few days we followed our goods. When we arrived at Pine Run the goods were there. Father went on to a farm and hired a man with a team and wagon and hay rack and we piled all our goods on the hay rack and left a space in the center for us kids. There were seven of us. Rotarians Have Farmer Friends As Dinner Guests

Sugar Beet Talk Is Followed by Program of Sleight-of-Hand Tricks.

Each member of the Rotary club had a farmer friend as his guest at a chicken dinner served at the Baptist dining room by women of that church Wednesday evening.

President Keith McConkey presented State Senator Audley Rawson as program chairman and he introduced Lee Stewart, manager of the Caro plant of the Michigan Sugar Co., as the speaker of the evening. Mr. Stewart, in his talk on the "Sugar Beet Industry," said that government officials are requesting farmers with suitable land to grow sugar beets this year. Cuban sugar will be used largely for munitions and for alcohol in the manufacture of synthetic rubber.

The final payment to growers for their 1943 crop, amounting to 98.6 cents on a ton, will be made on May 1. All payments by the sugar company, together with money paid by the government to beet growers, will bring the farmer's receipts up to $12.60 a ton, Mr. Stewart said. The 1944 price will be $1.50 a ton over last year's.

The labor problem looks much brighter for sugar beet production, according to Mr. Stewart. Michigan has been assured Mexican laborers to the number of 7,000 from Texas and 4,000 from Old Mexico. A $3 an acre bonus to the laborer who stays on the job until the crop is harvested will keep workers here until the end of the season, he said. These laborers will also be available during slack days to care for pickle and bean crops. War prisoners are not likely to be used this season. Their work was satisfactorily done last year, but they spent too much time on the jobs, Mr. Stewart said. A sugar beet grower may purchase without points from the plant he serves, sugar to the amount of 25 pounds for each member of his family, or for each acre of beets grown, whichever is the lesser.

Mr. Stewart answered several questions propounded by his audience.

From the serious consideration of farm crops the program was transferred to a highly entertaining feature by the introduction of Alex Leiberick of Unionville, who is a sleight-of-hand performer of ability. He kept his audience mystified with a series of baffling acts.

Group singing was enjoyed under the leadership of A. C. Atwell, with Miss Betty Hower at the piano. Farmers' Night proved again to be a happy occasion for guests and hosts.

On Run, on Go
On the run in the Pacific, Jap forces remained on the go in India, thrusting forward toward the Assam-Bengal railroad supplying Lieut. Gen. Joseph Stilwell's U. S.-Chinese troops in northern Burma. With U. S. forces closing in from the west, the Japs abandoned the northern and southern coasts of New Britain and fell back toward

DRAFT:
Take Younger Men
Delay ranging from a few days to 90 days in the induction of men over 26 was forecast as the result of orders to local boards to postpone the drafting of registrants in this age group and rush the processing of those under 26, to meet the services' demands for younger men. Following exhaustion of the pool of men under 26, those from 26 to 29, and 30 and over will be next in the order of induction, with fathers granted special consideration in all cases where other factors, such as employment in essential occupation, are equal. Meanwhile, congress studied proposals to push 1,000,000 4Fs into war work, by formation of compulsory labor battalions when 4Fs refuse to accept necessary jobs. The navy needs 400,000 men by September 1 to reach its goal of 3,600,000, and it will require 50,000 to 75,000 monthly after that to maintain full strength. Its objective of 7,700,000 men already attained, the army needs from 75,000 to 100,000 men monthly for replacements.

SUPREME COURT:
Labor Decisions
In three far reaching decisions affecting labor, the Supreme court ruled:
1. That under the National Labor Relations act, an employer must deal with a union designated as a collective bargaining agent, and not with individual members of the union who have not formally renounced it.
2. That the National Labor Relations board can order an employer to bargain collectively with a union that has lost a majority of its membership during negotiations.
3. That under the 13th amendment and the anti-peonage act, no man could be held for criminal action if he failed to fulfill his promise of going to work after receiving money. The court declared that the complainant should have other legal recourse in such cases.

MISCELLANY:
MEAT: Number of cattle and hogs slaughtered in federal inspected plants reached an all time high for the month of March.
QUEEN BEE: A London radio engineer has devised an electronic apparatus to identify a queen bee from among 50,000 ordinary bees. It is only necessary that the queen be daubed with a speck of radio-active material.

AGRICULTURE:
Wheat Prospects
With an indicated yield of 12.8 bushels per acre, the U. S. department of agriculture predicted a 1944 winter wheat crop of 601,759,800 bushels, 72,153,000 more than last year's production. Western Kansas and the adjoining wheat sections of Texas, Oklahoma, New Mexico and Colorado benefited most from recent rain, the precipitation offsetting a moisture deficiency of last fall. Nebraska, however, still was reported in need of rainfall to perk weakened plants. Frequent rains or snows gave the crop producing areas of the country the wettest March since 1922, the department said, delaying farm work in nearly all states.

Farm Values Up
Average prices of farm land in the U. S. were pushed up 15 per cent in the year ending March 1, the department of agriculture reports, with values now 38 per cent above the 1935-39 figures and sales of land are more numerous than during 1919. Much of the acreage is going into "active-farmer ownership," it was stated. More than half the sales were for cash. Some buyers resold for a quick profit, but the majority of purchasers are seeking additional land for planting. Compared with the 1935-39 averages, values have increased almost three-fifths in the East-South-Central states and more than two-fifths in the South Atlantic, Mountain and Pacific states.

POLITICS:
Dewey Boomed
Growing strength of Gov. Thomas E. Dewey, N. Y., as the favorite for the Republican presidential nomination in June, and the strong showing made by Gen. Douglas MacArthur for the position in the Illinois GOP primary, highlight political talk. Of equal interest, however, is President Roosevelt's continued popularity in the Democratic party, reflected in his capture of the Wisconsin convention delegates, and his heavy vote in the Nebraska preferential primaries. Governor Dewey's candidacy boomed sky-high in the Wisconsin primaries, when 18 convention delegates pledged to him won handily over the field. In the Nebraska primaries, approximately 15,000 voters expressed their favoritism for him by writing in his name on the ballot. Running strongly in the rural districts, General MacArthur polled over 450,000 votes in the Illinois primaries.

MEXICO:
President Saved
As Mexico's President Manuel Avila Camacho stepped from his automobile in the courtyard of the executive offices in Mexico City, a 30-year-old army lieutenant strode toward him. As the two men approached each other, the lieutenant suddenly whipped out a revolver and fired point-blank at the president, but the bullet merely ripped through the coat and vest of the president without wounding him. Quickly overpowered by Camacho himself, the lieutenant was taken into custody, where he complained of a recent law prohibiting Mexican army officers from attending church in uniform. Later in trying to escape from guards, the assailant was felled with gunfire. As the news of the attempted assassination stirred the emotional Mexican populace, Camacho calmly warned against turbulence, declaring: "I wish you to see this as an incident possibly caused by a sole individual or at the most a small group. . . . Under no circumstances must we divide the Mexican nation. We must continue our effort for the conservation of its unity."

RUM:
Admit Old Stocks
Because restrictions against importation into the U. S. would not help to divert alcohol to the synthetic rubber or other war industries, the War Production board lifted all bans against the shipment of rum three years old or older into the country. As a result, it is expected that 2,000,000 gallons of rum will be imported from Cuba, Mexico, Jamaica and other foreign countries. Heavy rum producing areas like Puerto Rico and the Virgin Islands will not be affected, however, since the U. S. regulates the production of beverage cane spirits in its territories and possessions. Since the rum affected by the new order was manufactured before the present emphasis on volume sales and lighter grades, it is of high quality, the WPB said.

CIVILIAN GOODS
To prevent a drain on manpower in war industrial centers, the War Production board froze production of civilian goods at the level of the last three months in 1943 labor shortage areas throughout the country. Reflecting the changing needs of warfare, the WPB also raised production of heavy artillery, munitions and gun carriages to top priority. One effect of the order freezing production of civilian goods is expected to be the reduction in output of electric irons.

DISCIPLINE IN OUR DEMOCRACY
WASHINGTON. — One editorialist has implied that my exposures of the laxities in discipline and scholarship in the schools strikes at the heart of democratic institutions — leaving a reader to suspect that discipline would overthrow democracy. Now where in the world did he get that idea? The truth is the opposite, as any reasonable man should be able to deduce for himself. Why did Nazism, Communism and Tokyo dictatorship rise to their present power in the world? Because they said democracies were weak, our people undisciplined, and our systems deficient? Democracy failed in Germany before Hitler on this very ground. The Weimar Republic was a moral forerunner of what weak France later suffered before her fall. The people were not strong, well ordered, but confused and lax in all ways. I say we shall suffer the same fate unless we mend our easy ways and reestablish discipline in home, school and church. Juvenile delinquency is only a first crack that shows in our gift. Deficient scholarship from progressive education is another. So is adult delinquency. These are warnings of the degenerating road that is leading on into business (condoning of black markets, etc.), into politics (easy-going acceptance of lack of common integrity and respect for promises), and into personal attitudes of some of our people who have no righteous indignation against cheapness, ignorance, laziness—or even dishonesty. They are more apt to scorn work than crimes against nature. They not only tolerate sloth, they worship it. These are weaknesses when we need strength. At the end of this road is dictatorship, not democracy. By discipline, I do not mean German heel-clicking, Russian servility, or Tokyo bootlicking of an emperor. These critics even seem to have forgotten the meaning of democratic discipline as well as its operation. It is only a national standard — a state of national mind — maintained insistently by a majority. It is a custom established by the people themselves. FIX A JUST STANDARD The army and navy do not maintain discipline with a cat-o-nine tails. They fix a just standard to which all must subscribe, and all save a very small minority of the misguided do subscribe. The guard-house is maintained for them as a last resort of punishment based on a fair trial under majority democratic standards and customs. If you think the example of the army too strained for civilian application, consider how order is maintained in your church. There, you have no guardhouse or sergeant-at-arms, or even written rules of conduct, yet the sternest discipline is maintained by majority demand. You see very little vandalism such as carving of seats, such vandalism would be practically eliminated also in the movie houses, street cars, and other public places where it is now rampant if a majority of this country only firmly insisted. SCHOOLS CAN HAVE IT Discipline can be restored to the schools the same way. So can good scholarship. Parents can thus be induced or compelled by scorn alone to take the reins at home, and churches invited to assert themselves again. This then is the democratic way of maintaining a strong and orderly nation, and when it fails you get dictatorship; in fact, you must have dictatorship as a necessary consequence of your own degeneration. All today who condone the easy-way doctrines, easy learning, easy discipline, who have only sympathy and "understanding" for everything weak, wrong and inefficient, are the ones who are striking at the heart of democracy and will kill it by leading it to its inevitable ruin. The majority must maintain standards of behavior in home, school and church, in business, in politics, which will require both children and adults to express their better selves, to study, to work, to develop themselves, to obey, to stop condoning and sympathizing with rottenness and laziness, to eliminate the standard of sloth and ease, to make this nation strong within itself and stronger than its dictator enemies or competitors.

OKLAHOMA'S TRUE MEANING
True meaning of the somewhat surprising Oklahoma special election result seems to have been lost. It simply suggested the Democrats can win if they offer the best man. Their candidate for the congressional seat was a former state commander of the American Legion, and the more popular man. The Republican candidate had been to the same well once before, and ran close to victory then solely because the Democrat who then held the seat had become personally unpopular.

Material Handling
The story of material-handling equipment in industry goes back to the two-wheel hand truck used on the docks, by the railroads and in the warehouses in the early '80s. Twenty years brought the fixed platform battery truck; the next step was the power tractor and trailer—then came the elevating truck with the low-cost skid. With it came the tote box for lift and carry, then the elevating platform truck which could lift, carry, tier and store loaded skids and tote boxes.

Early Nali Making
Upper New York state had been represented in the chronicle of American nailmaking even in the year 1787 when Albany was listed as a manufacturing site.

Transplanted Seeds
From hevea seeds taken from the western hemisphere in 1876 grew the fields on which the world has depended for 90 per cent of its rubber since 1920. Replanted in Calcutta, Singapore and other posts in the Far East, these wild seedlings became 9,000,000 acres of rubber-producing trees.

Steam Use
The first successful attempt to utilize steam from anthracite coal was made by the Phoenix rail company in 1825 by means of a 100 horsepower engine in Phoenixville, Pa. Twelve years later when the Philadelphia and Reading Railway commenced operations, anthracite became the principal fuel.

HOUSEHOLD MEMOS... by Lynn Chambers

Daughter Can Make These for Mother
(See Recipes Below)

Food Is Fun!

It's a good idea to let small fry take hold of the kitchen duties once in a while and give mother a rest. The children will enjoy doing new things and mother can feel she is contributing to their all-round development.

Naturally it isn't a good idea just to open wide the doors in the kitchen and leave the children up to their own designs. What I'm suggesting is that they be allowed to make up something they've watched mother do so often they know how.

There's a lot of satisfaction in making cupcakes, especially if they are iced with tinted icings and sprinkled with finely chopped nuts.

*Delicate Cup Cakes.

(Makes 18)
2 cups sifted cake flour
2 teaspoons double acting baking powder
¼ teaspoon salt
¼ cup butter or substitute
1 cup sugar
2 eggs, unbeaten
½ cup milk
1 teaspoon vanilla

Sift flour once, measure, add baking powder and salt and sift together three times. Cream butter thoroughly, add sugar gradually. Cream together until light and fluffy. Add eggs one at a time, beating thoroughly after each addition. Add flour alternately with milk, a small amount at a time, beating after each addition until smooth. Add vanilla.

Bake in greased cupcake tins in a moderate oven (375 degrees) 20 minutes or until done. Spread with confectioners' sugar icing or your favorite chocolate frosting. Decorate with chopped nuts, colored candies or tinted coconut.

A cookie that will keep fine and fresh and uses only a moderate amount of fat and sugar is this delectable citrus bar:

Orange Marmalade Bars.

(Makes 28 1-by-3-inch strips)
2½ cups sifted flour
3 teaspoons baking powder
¼ teaspoon salt
¼ cup shortening
1 cup sugar
3 well-beaten eggs
2 tablespoons orange marmalade
2 tablespoons grated orange rind
1 cup orange juice

Mix and sift together dry ingredients. Cream together shortening and sugar, then beat in eggs, marmalade, rind. Add dry ingredients alternately with orange juice. Turn into a greased pan and bake in a

Lynn Says:

The Score Card: Good news is in store for homemakers for there will be plenty of eggs on the market and cabbage and spinach. All of these foods give a boost to health and to your menus.

You will be eating about a pound less cheese this year than last. The kind available mostly will be Cheddar—also the kind most popular. Kinds least obtainable will be limburger cream, roquefort and Italian. About 5 million more pounds of cheese are going to servicemen to help provide milk nutrients needed by armed forces. Cheese will also go to our Allies and to the Red Cross, which helps provide for our prisoners of war.

When you go marketing, watch weights and watch change. Just because you have more bookwork to do with points, don't neglect your prewar precautions of counting change.

moderate (350-degree) oven for 40 to 50 minutes. When cool, cut into narrow strips and spread with an orange icing made by creaming powdered sugar and orange marmalade. The icing may be omitted.

Frosted Fruit Bars.

(Makes 48 bars)

1 egg yolk
¼ cup brown sugar
¼ cup molasses
¼ cup sour cream
1½ cups sifted flour
¼ teaspoon soda
¼ teaspoon baking powder
¼ teaspoon salt
¼ teaspoon ginger
¼ cup nuts, chopped
¼ cup dates, pitted and cut

Mix egg yolk, brown sugar, molasses and blend in sour cream. Sift together flour, soda, baking powder, salt and ginger. Blend into first mixture. Stir in dates and nuts. Spread into greased pan and bake for 15 minutes in a hot (400-degree) oven. Cool in pan. Frost with: ½ cup confectioners' sugar beaten into one beaten egg white. Add salt and lemon extract.

Have you tried the new toppings that don't require elaborate preparation? Most of these are low on sugar and ideal to use on cakes the children have made. Here, too, is a good basic cake recipe on which to use them:

Standard Cake.

½ cup shortening
¼ cup sugar
2 eggs, well beaten
1½ cups sifted flour
¼ teaspoon salt
2 teaspoons baking powder
½ cup milk
1 teaspoon vanilla

Cream together shortening and sugar. Add eggs. Sift dry ingredients together and add alternately with milk and vanilla to creamed mixture. Pour into greased, floured 8-inch cake pans and bake in a moderate (350-degree) oven for about 35 minutes.

In using any of the following toppings, frost only top of cake. Square and loaf cakes take less icing than layer cakes.

I. Raisin Topping.

1 cup raisins, ground
¼ cup water
¼ teaspoon salt
¼ teaspoon cinnamon
Dash of cloves

Mix ingredients in a saucepan and stir constantly while cooking until thickened—about 5 minutes. Cool slightly. Spread on warm cake.

II. Apricot Topping.

½ to ¾ cup apricot jam
Spread on warm cake.

Meringue Topping.

1 egg white, beaten stiff
¼ cup confectioners' sugar
1 teaspoon flavoring
2 tablespoons butter, softened

Beat sugar into egg white with favoring. Fold in softened butter and spread on cooled cake.

Honey Icing.

2 tablespoons butter
3 tablespoons honey
1 tablespoon hot milk
¼ cup coconut
Dash of salt

Mix all ingredients together. Spread on warm cake and broil slowly until icing bubbles and browns but does not burn.

Monkey Fur

Monkey fur had been worn by Ethiopians long before the fur was used by Paris dressmakers to trim feminine finery. The fashion later spread to the United States. Africa has remained the principal source, supplying United States furriers with as many as 50,000 pelts in a year, including pelts of the West African colobus monkey with long black hair, and the Ethiopian with long white hair.

The Federal Bureau of Investigation has requested the publication of the following article:

If you are a girl 16 to 40 years old, have had a high school education, and would like to help the FBI combat sabotage and crime by working for it at Washington, D. C., here is your chance.

R. A. Guerin, special agent in charge of the Eastern Michigan district of Federal Bureau of Investigation, has announced that there are many openings for girls and women with good records in the Identification Division of the Bureau at its Washington headquarters. Typing or stenographic ability is not necessary, since the work is chiefly clerical and filing. The salary is $1752 a year, including overtime, less 5 percent deduction for retirement and the usual withholding tax deduction.

Applicants need not be concerned about the difficulties of finding living quarters at Washington, for the FBI assures applicants of desirable accommodations in government dormitories at $24.50 a month, and says that accommodations are available also in private apartments and rooming houses. Work in the Identification division is mainly concerned with handling the records and fingerprints of millions of persons listed and indexed in the FBI Annex.

KEEP ON Backing the Attack WITH WAR BONDS

Letters from Boys in the Service

The following are excerpts of a letter written on Mar. 16 to Maurice Joos by Ralph Stone, somewhere in England:

"I am fairly well except for a lame leg which I hurt while playing football. After our day's work is done we help pass the time away and doing other odd jobs.

"We have moved again as you will notice by the A.P.O. I like our new place just fine and there is some beautiful scenery near by.

"I am busy writing this letter in the doorway of our tent before it gets dark as our tent doesn't have any lights in it yet. We don't even have a stove, and boy, some times when we get up in the morning you can bet it is cold and damp but I don't mind it so much now as one gets used to it in time.

"The weather here of late has been real nice and warm in the day time and the farmers are busy in the field and so are the land army girls. I see about seven every morning ride past the camp on their way to work.

"I suppose you are as busy as ever. I'll sure be glad when this war is over and I can be behind a team of horses and smell the good old country air and the fresh ground that is turned up by the plow.

"Well, it won't be long now until Easter, then the Fourth of July. The months surely go fast these days. It hardly seems that I have been in the army over two years and two months.

"Yes, I had a nice Christmas in camp. Christmas eve I rode 46 miles on my bike to some of my friends on a six-hour pass and had a good time. New Years I had a 48-hour pass which I spent with my friends also."

Ralph closed his letter by saying "Cheerio, thumbs up and all the best!"—an old English saying.

gram centers about the home, has the cooperation of parents, involves a series of tests, and aims to make chums of dads and sons. There appears to be a strong demand on the part of young boys for such a program, according to Mr. Oatley.

Carl Handle, Scout executive of the Valley Trails Council, and for a quarter of a century associated with Boy Scout work, closed the program with an address on after dinner speaking and a brief reference to the Scout summer vacation at Camp Rotary.

President B. H. Starmann will head a committee to have charge of boxes at the box social and dance tonight (Friday) sponsored by the Gavel club, C. M. Wallace announced. Other club members named as chairmen of committees are: Vernon Wait, music; Harold Oatley, parking and checking; Hugh Munro, decorating and seating. Lester Ross is master of ceremonies. Proceeds go to the club's service board fund.

Besides the five Boy Scouts, guests at Tuesday's dinner were Mr. Handle of Saginaw, Edward Murphy of Bad Axe, Arnold Copeland and H. F. Lenzner. For the Gavel club meeting next week, Rev. Dudley Masure, program chairman, announced a round table discussion on socialized medicine with Howard Wooley and Jas. Gross as discussion leaders.

SUPERINTENDS SAUSAGE MAKING IN 88TH YEAR

us, George, Louise, John, Sam, Mary, Will and Ben.

"When we were all loaded on the wagon with the household goods, we started for Uncle John Striffler's, on his farm a mile east and a mile north of Cass City. We arrived at a little town called Centerville, now Caro. We drove up to a little shack of a hotel and the driver unhitched his team and fed them. Mother got out her lunch basket and gave us something to eat. We all tried to get off the wagon and the proprietor of the hotel came out and started helping us out of the wagon. After three or four of us kids were off, more came popping up and the proprietor said, 'For goodness sake how many more kids have you got in that wagon?'

"We started out again and came through where Cass City now stands. The street was just logged out and went by the name of the Forks of the Cass river. We finally arrived at Uncle John's and lived in his work shop about two weeks. I was then nine years old. We kids slept on the floor of the shop the first night. Aunt Mary gave a great breakfast and we thought we were in heaven.

"Father bought us three older boys, George, Sam and me, an axe apiece and we went with father to clean up a space for the log house. It took two weeks to get the logs cut for the house. We had a bee to help put the logs together. In the small clearing around the house we planted potatoes and rutabagas and that was what we lived on the winter of 1885-86. The water we used was all carried from Uncle John's until the spring of 1886 when we dug our own well 40 feet deep by hand and curbed it with cedar slabs.

"I remember when I was 13 years old and went to the Bird school and chopped wood for Bill Miles all winter for my board. The school was a little to the north of the present Ben Schwieger farm. The Birds, Jacobs, Edgars, John D. Witheys, Walmsleys, Seeds, Seegers, Wintons, and the two Strifflers—Jake and John—were the residents of Elkland township when we moved in."

The objectives of the Inter-American Trade Scholarship program are: (1) to assist in bringing directly to industrial, agricultural and commercial interests in the United States the culture, background, opportunities and problems of the 20 other American republics and, (2) to help promising young men of the other Americas gain intimate knowledge of North American ideals, standards and techniques.

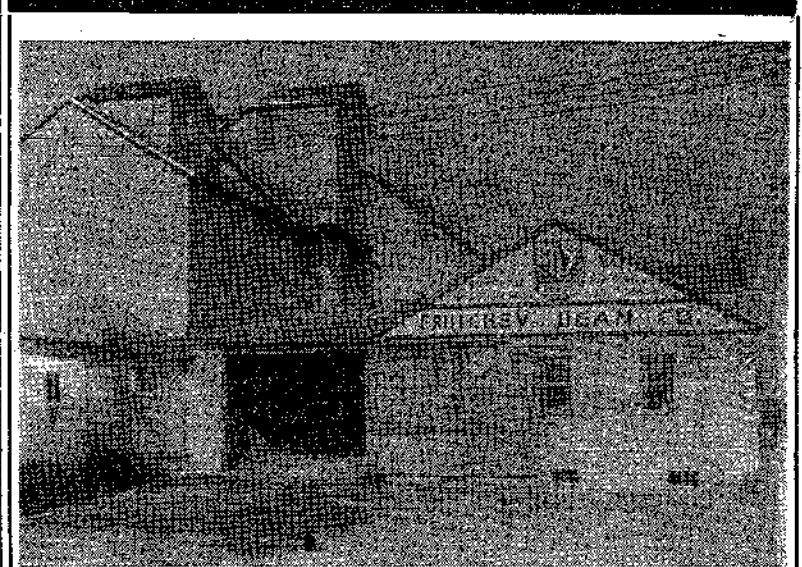

Respiratory Diseases

Among the diseases which are prevalent in this country, the respiratory diseases constitute a very large group; in fact more time is lost to the nation through these diseases than through all other diseases and accidents combined.

Hands Stolen

Someone climbed the wall of the American fountain in Stratford on Avon, England, and removed the hands from all four faces of the clock. The monument was donated in 1887 by a citizen of Philadelphia to commemorate Queen Victoria's jubilee. It is suggested that the theft may be revenge by a traveler who missed his train, as the four faces have been known to show different times.

Prune Late

Fruit trees which are pruned before March are more susceptible to cold weather.

Softens Meat

The milky juice which oozes freely from the stems and leaves of milkweed contains an enzyme similar to that found in the fruit of the papaya and pineapple. Treating a tough steak to a "smothering" of milkweed juice may turn it into an edible delicacy.

Military Saves Copper

Owing to the scarcity of copper and brass, all military hardware like the buttons and buckles on soldiers' uniforms, is now being fabricated of plated steel, protected with non-corrosive dull black enamel which is unaffected by acids, alkalis or boiling water.

YOUR "HIGH COST OF LIVING" WOULD BE LOW
if all prices were as low as ELECTRICITY!

"You take the high road and I'll take the low road" might well apply to the picture above. The rough and rocky mountain path shows living costs during two World Wars, including such items as food, clothing, rent, household furnishings, etc.

The downhill road is the average price of household electricity.

The price of electricity has gone down. Because of many rate reductions and greater use, its cost to you has dropped steadily. The trend is still downward. Electricity is cheap. Today in the face of rising living costs, electricity is one of the smallest items in your family budget. It costs half as much as in the last war.

THE DETROIT EDISON COMPANY

others—we have earned for ourselves a legacy of new and improved products. Let's consider some of them briefly.

As American lives are being saved today through the use of sulfa and penicillin—those "wonder drugs" that kill infection, so many American lives will be saved in post-war years by these newly developed aids.

Chemists have developed atabrine, a synthetic substitute for quinine. The army has an influenza serum that is surprisingly effective.

In the field of electronics, we will have a portable telephone—the military "walkie-talkie" — over which we can talk from a moving automobile to our home or office. General Electric has perfected a low-priced television tube for home use. Televised programs will be commonplace at theatres during the next decade. Radio is making rapid strides, too. Colleges are looking to frequency modulation as a means of extended adult education.

While the airplane will never supplant the automobile, it will become more popular as a speedy and safe mode for long-distance travel. Already a Michigan bus company is planning to inaugurate helicopter service.

This list is far from being complete. It suggests a few of the new benefits—"gasoline" from vegetable products, "rubber" from alcohol that is made from sawdust, plastic furniture and dehydrated foods and other new wonders, all for our world of tomorrow.

But will these wonders, and others like them, be sufficient to balance the cost of war, as Miss Bourke-White voiced in her report of Cassino?

A quarter of a century ago, we were a lad of 18. We enlisted as a volunteer in our home-town infantry company, a national guard unit, and became a soldier in the glorious crusade to "save the world for democracy."

We well remember the memories of the day when our transport convoy landed in England at Liverpool, our boat docked next to a hospital ship that had just arrived from France, and we witnessed the unloading of wounded men from the front.

Today, we are again at war. Convoys are again landing in England. Hospital ships are now in port, ready for the front that is soon to come.

Can we win the peace this time? We know now that we did not win World War I. Should not peace be included in our bargain for tomorrow?

In an interview two years ago, Thomas E. Dewey said that the United States must abandon its pre-war isolationism and be willing to cooperate with its war Allies in preserving the peace.

Leland Stowe, the war correspondent, in his new book, "They Shall Not Sleep," warns that Americans are not prepared to play a role of leadership in the world; that we do not know our world neighbors sufficiently to get along with them; that "we do not know how to listen to our dead."

Stowe says other things that are disturbing, such as his conviction "that the odds are definitely against Americans winning the peace."

To men of the intellectual stature of Dr. Alexander Grant Ruthven, president of the University of Michigan, the answer lies in the field of education. He points out that "the soldiers of a democracy should know for what they are fighting" and that "international cooperation cannot be assured by political guarantees, economic nostrums, force, blood relationships, or fear, but only through knowledge and the resulting mutual understanding."

Bring that idea home to Michigan. According to the 1940 census, the average amount of education—formal knowledge possessed by adults—was 8.6 grades. That is proof to the educator of the imperative need for continuing education through which we may attain a better understanding of our responsibility in a new world. Here is a challenge to the school, church, press and radio!

Just 100 years ago the governor of Michigan, John S. Barry, said in his message to the state legislature: "Universal education is the only sure basis on which republican institutions can permanently exist."

Today, we await the news of fantastic invasion of Europe. We wonder about the world of tomorrow. We ask ourselves, "Shall we win the war, but lose the peace—once more?" Have we prepared sufficiently to win the peace, this time?

We cannot escape. What will be our answer?

Alligator Oil
Oil, rendered from the liver, intestines, and fatty tissue under the hides of alligators, or their South American cousins, caymans, is the newest motor miracle of Brazil. Mixed with other motor fuel, "alligator gallons" pinch hit for straight gasoline to keep taxis, buses, and private cars purring along highways. As a lubricant the oil is used in precision machinery. Electric power plants also dip into the new source for their oil needs.

Ready-Made Shelters
Berdichev, in the Russian Ukraine, is provided with ready-made air-raid shelters of prehistoric origin. A maze of underlying caverns, many of which were used by merchants as warehouses, would total 260 miles if arranged in line, it has been estimated.

New Insecticide Destroys Lice

Proves Effective in Tests in North Africa; Fatal to Many Pests.

WASHINGTON.—A new and powerful chemical weapon against body lice, the carriers of typhus fever and a dreaded fellow-traveler in almost every military campaign in history, has been developed by the United States army.

Moreover, the anti-lice chemical, in experimental tests, rendered a room destructive to house flies for a period of three months, and proved highly effective against a variety of other pests which plague man, beast and plant—thus offering wide possibilities for postwar use.

All production of the chemical—called DDT—now is limited to army and navy uses, except for laboratory experiments.

Army medical department scientists declare the material—used for the first time on a mass scale in the North African campaign—has proved more effective against body lice than any insecticide previously employed. It is used in the form of powder, and a single application to clothing provides anti-lice protection for a month.

Fatal to Many Pests.

Researchers of the agriculture department tried it against flies. They said a single application to the walls rendered a room lethal to flies for three months. And they reported the material apparently is effective against more different pests than any other insecticide of its particular chemical class. They've employed it successfully against 40 to 50 different pests, from Japanese beetles to bedbugs, and from livestock lice to termites.

The army's medical department put some of its outstanding men to work on the chemical in 1942. Trained personnel of other government organizations and commercial laboratories assisted.

When the insect-killing properties of the material began to unfold, high medical department officials bent every effort to get it into quantity production.

A synthetic compound known scientifically as dichloro-diphenyl-trichloroethane, the chemical is prepared from chloral hydrate—a sedative—and mono chlorobenzene, in the presence of sulphuric acid.

The army has devised techniques of applying the new louse powder to underclothing with special hand and power dusters, without necessitating the removal of clothing as heretofore.

Thus, the military doctors say, it now is possible to apply mass protective measures quickly for the armed forces and civilians who might infect the army, with a minimum of equipment and personnel.

Drives Them Out.

It also can be used in a special solution for impregnation of underwear. Clothing so impregnated will remain free of lice for as long as two months, even though it is laundered once a week during that time.

The chemical first was synthesized in 1874 by a German chemist, but it wasn't until 1939 that Geigy, Inc., a Swiss chemical firm, reported on its employment as an effective insecticide against moths and plant lice.

The New York subsidiary of Geigy called the attention of the agriculture department to it late in 1942 when the department's bureau of entomology was well under way with a program designed to provide more effective insecticides and insect repellents for military use.

With a supply of DDT imported by Geigy from Switzerland—none was being manufactured in this country at that time—agricultural scientists investigated. Under direction of Dr. F. C. Bishop, Dr. W. E. Dove and E. F. Knipping, researchers not only demonstrated the utility of DDT against certain agricultural pests—but found a new use for it against body lice.

How It Feels to Be Hit

ADVANCED ALLIED HEAD-QUARTERS IN NEW GUINEA.—

William Batkay of Bayside, L. I., had been evacuated, wounded, from New Britain. He looked up from a hospital bed to see a fatherly looking man who said:

"Son, tell me about it."

"I felt as though the whole world had come up and hit me," Batkay replied.

The man smiled and remarked: "That is just the way I felt the first time I was wounded in the last war. I thought the world had blown up."

The man was Gen. Douglas MacArthur, who spent an hour talking with the wounded in the hospital.

"He's some guy!" Batkay later pronounced.
