Grant H. Smith, under said act, expended $1,594.84 for board and care.

A large number of children evidently were taken from the custody of the parents and placed in boarding homes.

My policy under said act was to have parents and children come the matter in question. There are other laws that can be applied in such cases setting forth responsibilities of both parents and children to each other. I firmly believe, that only as a last resort should a family be sep-arated. Every effort should be made to guide both parent and child, as to their responsibilities. The hazard in separation is equal to the number of persons separated. The household, properly ers and sisters: Mrs. Olive Macgoverned, is the firm foundation for American security.

The greater part of the remainder, $20,185.72, was expended for expenses of the County agent in supervision and other duties and the lesser part for other activities, but there are some items, totaling a sizeable amount, I question very much, that they should have been paid by Sanilac County.

I do not wish to convey the idea that public funds should not be expended for benefits under the Juvenile Act.

're ze as pure water, pushing aside, as it were, any lime, iron, sulphur, or other substances dissolved or suspended in it. When the water in meat juice freezes it does the same thing, pushing aside the material that gives color, flavor, and food value to the juice. Some of the changes in composition are not reversible, that is, the normal meat juice is not reformed when the meat is thawed. The character of thawed meat and the quantity of drip from it are associated with the amount of this change in composition, resulting from freezing.

Children's Accidents

All age groups except children experienced a decrease in the number of accidents in 1943 in comparison with 1942. The increase in deaths of children despite decreases of 13 to 30 per cent in adult age groups are particularly interesting as an indication of the effect of wartime relaxation of parental supervision.

Why a Farmer Should Buy and Keep War Bonds

by G. W. Hedlund Head, Dept. of Agricultural Economics University of Pennsylvania

HERE are many compelling reasons why farmers should buy War Bonds. But there is one reason, often overlooked during times like the present, which I believe is fundamental to the individual farmer. That reason is: Farmers should buy War Bonds now to protect their personal financial position against falling prices at some future time.

The typical farmer has most if not all of his funds invested in his farming business. In other words, he has investments in real estate, livestock, equipment and other items that go to make up the usual farm business. Relatively few farmers have sizable investments outside of the farm. Farm investments are excellent hedges against inflation. By that I mean that when prices in general rise, usually the prices of farms, livestock and equipment also rise to some extent, so that the purchasing power of the in-vestment changes but little. There-fore investments in farms retain their purchasing power better than investments in fixed dollar securities in times of rising prices. It is for this reason that many nonfarmers have been purchasing farms during recent years. By so doing they are attempting to buy something whose price will increase as prices in general go up But investments in farm real estate and other farm property do not offer protection or hedges against price declines. When prices of farm products decline, the prices of farm land and other farm property also decline. To make matters worse, net farm income declines more than almost anything else. Farmers must look elsewhere to protect themselves against deflation or price declines.

A relatively small share of a typical farmer's investments is in bonds, mortgages or other fixed dollar investments. Presumably such securities maintain their dollar value regardless of the trend in prices of other things. Therefore, good bonds offer protection or a hedge against deflation or price declines.

The fact that most farmers are well hedged against inflation but are rather poorly hedged against deflation is one very sound reason why farmers should purchase War Bonds at this time. By purchas-ing Bonds they will partially hedge their finances against decreases in prices. They are already hedged against price increases. By being hedged on both sides, individual farmers will be in the safest position to weather the future, regardless of the trend in prices.

How about the "beachhead" on your doorstep?

 A NEIGHBOR OF YOURS has a mission—a war mission. It takes him to your doorstep to enlist your vitally needed help. What kind of a "beachhead" will he establish there?

Don't make it tough. This neighbor is a Victory Volunteer in the 5th War Loan. He's taking time from his work and his recreation to help Uncle Sam raise the money needed to finance the war, money needed to get the boys past the real beachheads-those bitter beachheads that cost so much more than money!

Turn him down? Ask him to come back another time? No! Don'tl Don't ... above all things ... don't tell him you can't afford more Bonds. Make up your mind now that you're going to BUY MORE THAN BEFORE. Think of the price our boys are paying. Then pledge every dollar you can.

Fight By His Side

If a wounded lad home on a furlough, Should drop in to see you tonight, Could you honestly say you are doing Your best to help him in the fight? If he asked you to purchase more war bond: Would you say you'd bought all you can, To a wounded lad home on a furlough, Could you say that to him old man? No, you wouldn't say that to a soldier. For somehow it wouldn't ring true; You'd tell him you'd buy to your limit, And fight by his side, wouldn't you? -EVAN B. JOHNSON

New Ray Shows Up Peroxide Blondes MENNONITE PASTORS

But a Lot of Nice Things May Come of It.

ST. LOUIS.-Dr. Lamar Kishlar is a neat, bespectacled, mustached scientist. He was having a lot of fun with a new black ray of light that brings out the best in interior decorating and the worst in women. Dr. Kishlar is the research manager of a livestock feed company which also dabbles in breakfast food. Dr. Kishlar dabbles in many things, including how to make a peroxide blonde's hair turn green and false teeth show up as phonies with a little beam of light that you can't

The black ray is a variation of the ultra-violet ray, Dr. Kishlar thinks that it is going to throw light on a number of things in the future.

"One wave-length will produce a nice suntan, without inflaming the more tender areas," Kishlar explained. "Another wavelength will tenderize any cut of beef. Still another will sterilize an ice-box, or if you want to go into it wholesale, an entire hospital."

Kishlar's interest in his invisible ray is chiefly in its effect on food, but it includes its possibilities in interior decoration. People, fabrics, rubies and vitamins glow fluorescently under the ray. Any girl is a glow girl

"Take, for instance, a cocktail lounge," said Kishlar. "A hidden ray will make carpets, tablecloths, napkins and cocktail glasses shine —but there will be only a discreet suggestion of actual illumination."

The female customers will shine no matter how dull. Their teeth. eyes, fingernails, rubies and diamonds will gleam. The girl with sound teeth who drinks milk and gets plenty of calcium will look like a super-dental ad, but the girl whose teeth came from the dentist's had better inquire about the lighting before entering the bar of tomorrow. False teeth look black under Kishlar's revealing Peroxided hair may turn a ghastly green under the ray.

U. S. Discloses Good Old Potato Is Not Fattening

WASHINGTON.-The department of agriculture decided that it is now time to let the people in on one of the best kept secrets of the centurypotatoes are not fattening.

With a beavy crop coming up and plenty of last year's spuds still around, the department wants it known that: The caloric content of a "fair sized" Irish potato is about the same as a large orange, a large apple, four average size prunes, a a cup of whole milk. It's not the spuds, but the butter and gravy that pile on the extra pounds, according to Dr. Henry C. Sherman, chief of the department's bureau of human nutrition and home economics. Sherman said the agriculture department has known for a long time that potatoes would not potatoes "are so abundant it seemed a good idea to reassure peopleespecially the ladies-that they can safely eat all the potatoes they

As for sweet potatoes, Sherman said, their sugar content makes them slightly fattening, but not much. Here again, it's principally the butter and gravy.

By Polish Night Patrol NDON.—Lieut. Kazimierz Pic-owski, leading a Polish night patrol along the Sangro river in Italy. failed to encounter any Germans, but captured the "ghost" of a 700-year-old castle said by villagers to have been haunted by the spirit of a long-dead princess who, thwarted in love, hurled herself from the castle balcony. The lieutenant, entering the castle, heard a sound and fired a shot into the ceiling. A girl, later identified as a refugee, appeared, but villagers maintain that subsequent to the girl's capture the ageold spook has ceased haunting the

Now It's 'Shelter Legs'

That War Has Brought LONDON. -- Women who spend their nights sleeping in deck chairs in air-raid shelters are in danger of being afflicted with "shelter legs"an unsightly swelling of the lower limbs-says the Lancet, a medical journal.

The malady, the journal said, is 'caused by pressure during relaxation of the muscles, giving rise to chronic lymphatic obstruction." > Stiffness of the ankle joints, as well as a hard swelling below the knees, often results.

German 'Moon Women' Returning to Berlin

LONDON. — Thousands of "moon women" throng the streets of Berlin when the moon is high and danger of Allied raids is relatively slight.

The broadcast identified the "moon women" as wives who return from evacuation areas for short visits with their husbands who have to stay in Berlin.

ROM General Bradley, leading the Invasion ground forces, right through every rank, American men now face a brutal, desperate, able enemy. For this invasion has only begun - before our fighters lies a hard and bloody task, one that demands all their courage, backed by all your faith in their ultimate victory.

That faith will be tested many times in this invasion—in grim struggles, setbacks, possibly even temporary defeats. It will be up to you to remember that early victories usually only mean more savage opposition from a foe made more bitter, more ruthless as the shadow of his doom grows larger - up to you to keep that faith in days and nights of gloom as well as in hours of triumph.

There is little that you can do to show that you realize what they must face, perhaps for many months. But one thing you can do-back the attack with every dollar you can spare! Let the Bonds you buy in this greatest of Drives be the measure of your belief in their ultimate victory!

Our quota for Elkland and Novesta is $134,600

Out of 3,400 residents, 208 persons have so far bought bonds. $59,075.00 of bonds have so far been sold. We have a long way to go.

Housing Need

New Homes for 15 Millions To Be Required in First Decade After War.

LONDON.-Fifteen million people in the United Kingdom will need rehousing during the first decade after the war, according to Alfred C. Bossom, leader of the British building mission to North America, which recently returned from the United States.

Mr. Bossom, internationally known architect and member of parliament for Maidstone, Kent, said housing would be one of the greatest of the postwar problems facing Europe's statesmen after the war.

"With huge areas of Europe devastated, millions of people will be exposed to disease and possibly death unless means can be found to provide them with some sort of shelter in the place of their destroyed homes.

"In the United Kingdom alone, the problem is bound to be acute immediately after the war. It is estimated that if every available man in the building trades was put to work immediately the war ends, it would take 18 months to rebuild and repair houses damaged here by enemy ac-

Bossom explained that one out of every four or five houses in the United Kingdom had been destroyed or damaged by bombs. In addition, he said, the authorities would have to cope with two things: (1) Thousands of houses had to be neglected during the war, and would be in need of considerable repairs. (2) One million houses would be needed to replace the normal peacetime building program of the United Kingdom. This was 200,000 houses a year, of which the building was war," he said, "possibly more than 1,000,000 temporary houses will be needed in the United Kingdom? These will have to be replaced and supplemented during immediately succeeding years by from 4,000,000 to 5,000,000 permanent homes. We estimate here that between three and four people will have to be accommodated in each new permanent abode, accounting for about a third of Britain's population."

3,000,000 Homes Blitzed.

Explaining why so many houses would be needed, Bossom continued: "Approximately 3,000,000 homes have been blitzed to date. Already at the outbreak of war the United Kingdom was short of some half million houses . . . slums needing to be replaced, etc. Furthermore, our docks and public buildings will have to be rebuilt in many areas. It will take at least ten years to do the

of temporary housing:
"You can't expect people to wait ten years for a home," he said, referring to men and women to be released from the forces and factories after the war. Referring to his recent trip to the States, Bossom said that he and his colleagues on the mission saw a great deal which they thought could be applied in the United Kingdom to considerable advantage.

Tip Soup Bowl and Pick Bones to Help Win War

WASHINGTON. - "Sop up the gravy and squeeze the grapefruit dry." That appeal came from Judge

Marvin Jones, war food administrator, who thinks that it is a crime in wartime to sacrifice food on the altar of dainty table manners. Perhaps as much as 20 per cent of the country's food is being wasted, Jones estimated.

"Pick up the bones in your fingers in order to get all the meat there is and tip the soup bowl to get the last spoonful," he urged. Investigations of city garbage coleach person is thrown away an-

Why Buoy Whistles

The familiar, penetrating, solemn sound or moan of a whistling buoy is produced from a tube from the body of the buoy, closed at the upper, end by a steel diaphragm pierced by an inlet and exhaust pipes, the latter with a whistle attached. As the buoy rises on the waves, water in the tube falls and enters through the inlet valve. While the buoy sinks the air is forced through the whistle and sound ensues that is known to every seafaring man.

Precious Metals

Chile possesses precious metals. Gold has been mined since Inca times. The small-scale placer mining done today makes Chile fifth among American nations. Silver is mined around Copiago. The refuse from the original crude refining was used for making bricks. When more scientific processes were discovered it was found that this "refuse" had 60 ounces of silver per ton. Houses were torn down for the silver in their walls.

Imported Dates

The United States has long imported most of its dates from Iraq, which supplied 40 million of the 45 million pounds imported in recent peacetime years. Iran and China were other sources. Less than 750,-000 pounds were reexported, mostly to Canada.
