

Local Council of Veterans' Affairs Organized Here

W. L. Mann Was Elected Chairman and He Chose Executive Council

"The Cass City community is to be complimented on its foresight in setting up the first unit in Tuscola county of a Local Council of Veterans' Affairs and a Veterans' Counseling Center," Glenn Carpenter told a group of local citizens who came by invitation of Bernard Ross to the council room Monday evening. Mr. Carpenter and Fred Randall came from the Michigan State Office of Veterans' Affairs at Lansing to explain the purpose and aims of a local council and assisted in the organization of a council here.

W. L. Mann was elected chairman of the council and chose as members of the executive committee, Mrs. A. N. Bigelow, Willis Campbell, C. U. Brown and Bernard Ross.

Reemployment and rehabilitation of the returning veteran is a responsibility which every community must plan now to meet, in its full scope, when demobilization comes. Eventually, more than 500,000 veterans will return to Michigan communities to be reestablished in economic and social life. The success in planning for, and meeting, this complex problem will largely determine the course of the state's economic and social life in the generation ahead.

"It is imperative," say the officials of the State Office of Veterans' Affairs, "that we meet the needs of the veterans now returning at the rate of more than 1,000 a month, but even more important, we must also lay a firm and well-considered groundwork for the larger task ahead when 10 percent of our entire population will be returning to Michigan looking for an opportunity to fit themselves into the job, the home and the community that they left. The solution to this problem is largely to be found in each local community."

The local council will be assisted in functioning more successfully by a group of sub-committees. Members of these will be representatives of local societies and groups and will include the following: M. B. Auten of the Rotary club; Frank Reid, Community club; Mrs. C. L. Graham, Woman's Study club; R. D. Keating, veterans of World War I; C. U. Brown and W. L. Mann, village of Cass City; Bernard Ross, Gavel club; Willis Campbell, high school; Ernest Reagh, Novesta township; Mrs. A. N. Bigelow, acting postmaster; Frederick Pinney and G. W. Landon, Red Cross; and Dr. H. T. Donahue, Dr. F. L. Morris and Dr. B. H. Starnann.

These groups will include those to whom will be referred employment of veterans, their rights and benefits, physical and mental health, educational and vocational training, personal and social problems, organization and finance, and publicity.

Summer Marriage at Nazarene Parsonage

The Nazarene parsonage here was the scene of a quiet wedding last Thursday when Mrs. Eva Hopper, operator of the Hopper restaurant, and James Arthur Haley were united in marriage. The wedding took place at three o'clock with Rev. Geo. D. Bugbee officiating. Attendants were Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Guilds, the latter a daughter of Mrs. Haley.

Mrs. Haley chose for her wedding a street-length dress of light blue with which she wore white accessories. Mrs. Guilds' dress was a blue and white combination complemented with white accessories.

The groom returned two months ago from overseas service of 15 months' duration. Mr. and Mrs. Haley left following the wedding for Tawas City where they spent the rest of the week, also visiting friends at Pinconning. They returned here Sunday where they will make their home. Mrs. Haley continuing to operate the restaurant and Mr. Haley working at the Nestle plant.

Thank You.

To My Friends in Tuscola County: I wish to thank those of you who so kindly supported me in my unsuccessful attempt to become the Republican candidate for the office of County Treasurer.

Sincerely,
HOWARD SLAFTER.

Herman Doerr Heads Democratic Co. Com.

At a meeting of delegates, on Monday evening at Caro, who were elected at the Democratic primary election in Tuscola county, Herman Doerr of Cass City was elected county chairman to succeed Dr. E. C. Swanson of Vassar. Other officers are Chas. H. McLean of Caro, secretary; and Carl Sherman of Akron, treasurer.

Named as delegates to attend the state convention at Grand Rapids July 28 are: Herman Doerr, Chas. H. McLean and Maurice C. Eveland of Mayville. Alternates are Carl Sherman of Akron, Jas. R. Blackmore of Vassar and Stanley Turner of Caro.

Krug Experiences Thrill in Capture Of Nazi Prisoners

Reports received from the Fifth Army in Italy relate an incident regarding a platoon of infantrymen from the 34th "Red Bull" division who, cut off from their own company, recently managed to hold 19 German prisoners until relief came. The action took place on the Fifth Army front.

Success of the platoon was made possible, the report says, by three men who crawled through the Ger-

Staff Sergeant John H. Krug, man lines and brought a tank destroyer to the scene.

"The prisoners were members of a German storm battalion," Staff Sergeant John Krug of Gagetown, one of the Yanks, explained. "They were tough babies and wanted to get away."

The platoon was holding the men, waiting for the advance to break the German line behind them when an enemy tank came on the scene and tried one shot, killing a prisoner. It then withdrew, apparently hoping the Germans would make a break in the confusion.

The platoon took cover and Sgt. Krug and Staff Sergeant Mile Brady of Aliquippa, Pa., and Pfc. John Garst of Livermore, Kentucky, started through the enemy line for help.

The German line was broken and the destroyer proceeded forward, finding the German tank and knocking it out.

"We still had the prisoners," Garst explained. "They were so busy ducking that they didn't have time to make a break for it."

"By the time it was all over six of them had been killed, including the one hit by the tank. All of them were hit by their own men."

Mr. and Mrs. Chris Krug of Gagetown received a letter from their son, Staff Sergeant John Krug, on Tuesday in which he says:

Rotary Speaker Praises Chaplains

Declaring the U. S. service men the best fed, best clothed and best educated of any armed force and receiving the best medical attention in the world, Rev. Melvin R. Vender told Rotarians at their Tuesday luncheon at the Evangelical church that the American service man is also receiving more spiritual attention and more moral care than any other in a similar position. Mr. Vender explained the activities that the church exerted in behalf of those in the armed service and stressed the need of further attention being given them by church and service club when hostilities cease and the men and women return to civilian life. Mr. Vender spoke in glowing terms of the heroic service rendered by the chaplains today.

Group singing was led by Audley Rawson with Miss Betty Hower at the piano.

All-Time Record Of Vacationists In Michigan

Cottages and Hotels of Northern Part of State Are Reported Jammed

A reporter's word picture of Michigan in mid-July, 1944:

Lake cottages and resort hotels are jammed to the limits. The 1944 vacation season in Northern Michigan, and many parts of the Upper Peninsula, promises to set an all-time record for attendance and expenditures. George Bishop of Marquette, manager of the Upper Peninsula Development Bureau, tells of visiting the Keweenaw highway commission's park and cabins out at Copper Harbor on the week end of June 24-25. "More than 200 travelers were there," he confided. "Don't ask me how they got to Copper Harbor which can be reached only by automobile. I don't know."

Michigan, the world's automobile center, is awaiting 1946 which now appears to be the earliest date when production of cars can be resumed. As contrasted to California and other states where aviation is predominant, Michigan has an estimated "backlog" of seven billion dollars in automobile manufacture. It should absorb much of the economic shock that will be inevitable when war plants are reconverted to peace-time utility.

The transportation situation is not a bit good. The ODT estimates that 5,000 autos are getting junked per day. Automobiles are wearing out. Trucks are near to a serious deterioration point, especially heavy duty trucks that haul freight inter-state. Railroad passenger trains are overcrowded, and travelers can expect continued discomfort, delays, poor service. Buses are filled; standing room only is common. Strangely enough, air travel is the only service on which improvement is in sight, as plane-space priorities will be abandoned around September 1.

To get a close-up of how global war is affecting Michigan, just look around your own block, if you reside in a town or city. Or survey the neighbors along your rural route. Rare is the house that does not have a service flag in a window. Michigan has sent approximately 500,000 men to war. Nationally, there are more than 7 million.

Koffman Chosen a Vice Commander of American Legion

Earle J. Laur has been elected the commander of Theron W. Atwood Sr. Post of the American Legion of Caro. Other officers include three vice commanders, Harold H. Johnson of Caro, J. Burton Lee of Kingston and Harry H. Koffman of Cass City; adjutant, Ward J. Walker; finance officer, Walter Parsons; sergeant-at-arms, Cecil A. Greenfield; chaplain, Emil O. Braendle; historian, Allison R. Stone; delegates to state convention, Earle J. Laur, Ward J. Walker, Harold H. Johnson and Julius H. Goslin.

Paul Schroeder of Port Huron was elected commander of the 7th district of the American Legion at a recent meeting at Imlay City. Other officers elected were: Vice commander, Clyde Weir, Lapeer; adjutant and finance officer, Miss Agnes Hafsen, Algonac; and sergeant-at-arms, Harold H. Johnson, Caro. Delegates to the national convention are Clarence Myers, Caro, and Paul Schroeder. Alternates are Harold H. Johnson and Dr. L. M. Zimmerman.

1200 Thumb Farmers Expected to Hear Senator Ferguson

A crowd of more than 1200 Thumb farmers is expected to greet Senator Homer Ferguson Monday, July 24, when he addresses the annual picnic of the Huron County Farm Bureau at the county park in Caseville. Farm Bureau members in Tuscola county have been invited to attend by President Ralph Brown, and a special invitation to Junior Farm Bureau members has been extended.

Senator Ferguson is expected to speak on what agriculture may look for after the war and it is possible that he may have something to say as to the work of the Truman committee investigating the national defense program, of which he is a member.

June Delinquent Taxes Total $2,066

In a collection of delinquent taxes during June amounting to $2,066.69 Arthur M. Willits, Tuscola county treasurer, reports that the state received $13.82, the county general fund $713.95, Caro village $86.64 and Vassar village $104.93, drains $41.35, county roads $41.35, townships $1,051.54, and the county jail fund $52.59.

Townships received the following amounts: Akron $48.21; Arbel, $34.24; Dayton, $5.85; Denmark, $23.07; Ellington, $36.21; Elmwood, $6.61; Fairgrove, $125.70; Fremont, $95.05; Gilford, $24.40; Indianfields, $276.26; Juniata, $13.42; Kingston, $96.05; Koylton, $97.30; Millington, $75.04; Novesta, $12.63; Vassar, $50.29; Watertown, $7.35; Wells, $23.16; Wisner, 70 cents.

Farm Safety Week Is July 23 to 29

Even a minor accident is a serious threat to any farm. Farmers should take extra care to keep themselves and other farm workers from getting knocked out of the production line by accident. This extra care will not only safeguard the operations of each farm, but it will result in a larger supply of food and fiber for the nation, says E. G. McKibben, head of the Michigan State college department of agricultural engineering and state chairman of the National Farm Safety week, July 23-29.

There is a special problem in farm safety education at this time, declares Prof. McKibben. Thousands of persons who have had little or no safety instruction are helping out on the farm front. Unless skillful help is given these persons in accident prevention, the accident rate will be much higher than that of experienced farm workers.

About 14,500,000 people worked more than 20,000,000,000 hours on American farms last year and of that number 3,500,000 were volunteer crop farm workers. National requirement this year for emergency workers to produce food for victory is 4,000,000. McKibben states many of these emergency workers may be inexperienced. Consequently, extra attention for their safety is required.

Machinery appears to be the chief source of farm work accidents, with livestock close behind, in the opinion of the agricultural engineering specialist. Falls are in third place. For the home, falls rank first, with burns, second. Safety of farmers and farm workers is vital to victory now. But safety is important all the time in peace or war—for the well being and happiness of farm people.

As safety measures McKibben urges farmers to avoid excessive haste and overfatigue.

Presbyterian Picnic Scheduled for July 27

The July program of activities of the Presbyterian church and Sunday school will culminate in an "all-church" picnic on Thursday, July 27.

There will be swimming opportunities at the pool between 4 and 6 p. m. and probably in the evening. There will be games and stunts for children following supper; a softball game is being arranged and a croquet tournament is in the offing.

A basket picnic supper at 6:00 p. m. (or potluck if arranged by families or groups) will be held on the northeast lawn of the A. B. Champion home, where tables will be arranged and other accommodations provided. Hot coffee will be provided for the adults and ice cream for the Sunday school children. Families may come and go as their schedules permit.

Dairy Feed Payment For May and June

Chas. B. Eckfeld, chairman of the Tuscola County C. A. A., announced today that the dairy feed payment for May and June whole milk and butterfat will be made at the county office from Monday, July 24, to Saturday, July 29, inclusive. Letters and applications have been mailed to farmers who applied for the February, March and April payments. Anyone who does not receive an application but who wishes to apply for the payment, may obtain an application by writing.

MILLINGTON MAN ENDS LIFE IN CISTERN

Wm. Sibert, 64, committed suicide by jumping into a cistern at his home 1/2 mile east of Millington Friday, July 14, at 10:30 a. m. Coroner Lee Huston, in his report, said the man drowned and that his skull was fractured.

Demonstration in Canning To Be Given in Tuscola

Pressure Cooker Gauges To Be Tested at Five Meetings in the County.

In order to encourage greater and more successful home food preservation a series of canning demonstrations are to be given throughout Tuscola county by specialists from Michigan State college and the Farm Security Administration.

Arrangements for the series of demonstrations to be given are being made by Mildred M. Omron, county war food assistant, with the cooperation of local community leaders.

Demonstrations will be given at the following places: Kingston, July 26, high school, 2:00 p. m., CWT. Mayville, July 26, high school, 8:00 p. m. Gagetown, July 28, high school, 2:00 p. m., CWT. Reese, Aug. 2, Odd Fellow hall, 2:00 p. m. Unionville, Aug. 4, high school, 2:00 p. m.

All recommended methods of canning both fruits and vegetables will be demonstrated as well as the various jar closures being used by home canners. All homemakers both in rural areas and villages are urged to attend one of these demonstrations, not only to get the latest information on food preservation but also to get the answers to the many problems on home canning that came up during last year's canning season and the winter storage period.

Information on drying fruits and vegetables will be given as well as recommended practices for preparing fruits and vegetables for the freezer locker. The latest bulletins and time-tables for canning fruit and vegetables both for pressure cooker and hot water bath as well as bulletins on care of can-

CCC Wheat Loan Rate Increased

The seven cents a bushel increase in loan rates on 1944 crop wheat, announced several days ago by the War Food Administration, means that Sanilac county farmers can get loans of $1.47 a bushel on acceptable wheat which they store on their farms, John Wengert, Sanilac county AAA chairman, said this week. The rate previously announced for loans made in Sanilac county was $1.40 a bushel.

These Commodity Credit Corporation loans are made to farmers who want to store their wheat at the time of harvest for sale later on in the year. In addition to the $1.47 a bushel, an additional seven cents a bushel will be advanced as a farm storage allowance. If the farmer should deliver his wheat to the Commodity Credit Corporation in liquidation of his loan next April, he will keep the seven-cent allowance as compensation for the use of his farm storage.

John Wengert said that because of current prices and also the general lack of commercial storage facilities, his office expects to receive a large number of requests for loans on this year's wheat crop.

NEW TOWNSEND CLUB FORMED WEDNESDAY

A group interested in forming a second Townsend club met Wednesday evening in the council rooms. Robert Warner served as chairman of the meeting and Mrs. Ella Vance as secretary.

Officers elected are: President, Robt. Warner; first vice president, Levi Holcomb; second vice president, Walter Gracey; secretary, Mrs. L. E. Dickinson; treasurer, Mrs. Alice Moore.

The newly organized club voted to meet once a month.

Gavel Club Discusses School System

The program for the regular meeting of the Gavel club held Tuesday evening at the Eva Haley restaurant, in charge of Ben Benkelman, Jr., proved to be one of the most interesting of the year. Mr. Benkelman passed out to 11 members sealed questions pertaining to our present school system. The questions were opened and answered by the members in turn, with other members given an opportunity to express their views. Cecil Brown, a member of the school board, also gave his views on various subjects as they came up for discussion.

Clarence Burt will serve as toastmaster and provide the program for the meeting July 25. Otto Frieskorn was a guest at the Tuesday evening meeting.

Neil McLarty Fell Dead on Arising From His Bed Sunday

Relatives and friends were shocked Sunday morning to learn of the sudden death of Neil McLarty. Mr. McLarty had been as well as usual, had retired early Saturday evening and expired quickly as he was arising from his bed Sunday morning. He passed his 84th birthday Friday, July 14, having been born July 14, 1860, near Rodney, Ont. He came with his parents, the late Angus and Margaret Campbell McLarty, to Novesta township at the age of 16. All his life except a few years when he was employed in the state hospital at Traverse City and one year in California, has been spent in this community.

He was first married to Miss Emma Buckingham of Leland, Mich. She passed away in 1916. On July 1, 1919, he was united in marriage to Miss Mary Elizabeth Miller of Cass City. Surviving are the widow and a son, Robert Neil, at home. He was the last of the McLarty family, his sister, Mrs. Wm. Little, having passed away June 19.

Mr. McLarty was a member of the Church of Christ and a trustee of that society. He was a life member of Tyler Lodge, F. & A. M., Cass City, and a past master and a life member of Echo chapter, O. E. S. here.

Funeral services were held on Tuesday at 2 p. m. in the Church of Christ. Herbert Watkins was the minister officiating and burial was made in Novesta cemetery. The remains were in the Munro funeral home until Monday when they were taken to the church home and from there to the church where he lay in state from noon Tuesday until the funeral hour. The grave service was in charge of Tyler Lodge, F. & A. M. pallbearers were A. N. Bigelow, D. A. Krug, Jos. E. Crawford, Ernest Croft, Harold Murphy and Edward Schwegler.

Chas. G. Cook Funeral Held on Tuesday

From Novesta correspondent.

Funeral services for Charles G. Cook, 83, a resident of Novesta township for 49 years, were held Tuesday, July 18, in the home of his daughter, Mrs. John H. Pringle, at 2:00 p. m., conducted by Rev. Mr. Freeman of Kingston. Burial was made in Novesta cemetery. Mr. Cook died July 15 in the Pringle home after an illness of about two weeks.

He was born Mar. 30, 1861, near Armada, Macomb county, and was united in marriage with Sarah Bell of the same place on March 11, 1883. Ten years later they moved to Novesta township where they lived on a farm until the death of Mrs. Cook in 1930. Since that time, Mr. Cook has made his home with his daughter, Mrs. Pringle. He was a member of A. O. G.

Surviving are a sister, Mrs. Abbie Curtis, of Armada; two nephews, Wm. Cook of Armada and Norman Cook of Memphis; three daughters, Mrs. Pringle; three grandchildren, Mrs. Clark Zinnecker, Mrs. Everett Fields and Grant Pringle; and four great grandchildren.

Relatives and friends from a distance who attended the funeral were Mr. and Mrs. Norman Cook and Mr. and Mrs. Avery Bell of Memphis, Mr. and Mrs. Irvin Callender of Marlette, and Mr and Mrs. Wast.

To the Voters of Tuscola County: I wish to express my sincere thanks for your support in nominating me as your candidate for Drain Commissioner.

I will give you my full time and best efforts for an efficient administration of that office.

Letters from Service Men Overseas

Cpl. Frederick Powell writes the following letter to his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Powell, of New Greenleaf. It was dated July 2, Somewhere in France, and was received July 12.

"I received your letter and the package you sent me today, just two days before the 4th of July when you said I would probably get it. I was sure surprised when I found those comic books in it. I never used to read them much, but they sure come in handy out on the field where you can't get much to read. We do have a daily paper called the 'Stars and Stripes,' a very good sheet printed for the armed forces. We also get 'The Yank' once a week so you can see this war is somewhat different from World War I.

"I surely enjoyed reading the Chronicle you sent me. I think you better send it more often. It does my morale good; that is the reason you are getting an answer to your letter so promptly.

"When I sent you a request for candy, I was in England and the weather was cooler then. We do get candy 'life savers,' 'charms' and concentrated chocolate bars and gum in our dinner ration, but as for the chocolates they were a treat indeed. The boys in our section get plenty of packages from home, so we give our ration candy and gum to the children around here. We can't speak their language but a few of the boys can. We were given a 'phrase book' before embarking so we could study up on French. There are some 'cute' kids around here. Today is Sunday and they were all dressed up, probably the first time since the Germans took over.

"We get the news every day over radio BBC. Maybe you get it over the same hook-up from England.

"It is ten-thirty here and just getting dark. I could write more but it is getting rather dark. So Bye, Bye Bonds."

Mrs. A. H. Higgins has recently received two V-mail letters from her grandson, Kenneth Higgins, who is located in France. He says: June 21—

"I am sorry that I haven't been able to write lately but quite a lot has happened since I last wrote. You are probably wondering where I am since the invasion has started and I think it best that I tell you. I am now in France. I haven't been in any action yet and don't know when or if I will be, so please don't worry about it. Everything seems to be going along fine and I don't think it will last too much longer.

"This is supposed to be the first day of summer back home but it surely doesn't feel like it here. The weather has been terrible lately. I am wearing long underwear about the first time I can remember. I Concluded on page 4.

TUSCOLA EMPLOYEES' W. H. TAX WAS $3,035 LAST THREE MONTHS

Withholding tax paid by Tuscola county employees every three months reaches a tidy sum. For the quarter ending June 30, the amount was $3,035.35. County officers paid $890.77 from their salaries, social welfare workers $131.00, and county road department employees $2,013.58.

U. S. Fliers Busy In China's Skies

Days Are Long and Planes Must Be on the Move Constantly.

AIR FORCE BASE IN SOUTH-EAST CHINA.—"Well," said the sergeant, who works in operations and whose ears must be better than mine, "they're back," and he went to the door of the alert shack to look out and count them.

Out of the blue haze that dulled the distant sharpness of the mountains they came—three, six, nine, twelve.

"Twelve," said the sergeant, "that's all." He went back to his typewriter.

They landed, and the pilots, emerging one by one, struggled up the line on stiff legs, with dirty rings around their ears from long pressure by the sponge rubber cushions of their radio headsets.

They resumed their places around the gasoline drum stove, tilting their chairs back, laughing with released excitement, calling back and forth to each other, all trying to talk at once.

They had been out to dive-bomb a railroad bridge.

America's War Spirit.

It words repeated could only catch the spirit of their talk. It is the spirit of America's war in China: easy confidence in themselves and their planes. A miss today would be a hit tomorrow. Just the right balance of cockiness and caution.

Did you see where my bomb hit? Who was it that saw Zeros? I didn't see any. . . I had a dud. . . did you see that machinegun fire from the pillbox. . . Gotta watch our own ricochets. . . I got a bullet lodged in the radio transmitter. . . that was the poorest job of diving I ever saw. . . I betcha my bomb may've weakened one of those concrete things. . . yeah, maybe that bridge will collapse sometime when a train's crossing. . . Say, colonel, couldn't we bomb up and go back there in the morning. . . give me a thousand pounder and I'll go up there by myself. . . I'll get the. . . They had missed lunch. The colonel had briefed them out just after midmorning tea and cakes.

Chow comes by jeep from the hostel. Fried rice, French fried sweet potatoes, roast pork with a bucket of gravy, fried cakes and tea.

Lunch finished and the men relaxed, their colonel, a young Floridian who used to fly in the A.V.G., takes pencil and paper. "Now let's see what happened," he says.

Day Not Finished Yet.

He goes over the whole mission. He gives the men a mild chewing over the way they flew formation and over talking too much on their radios, confesses his own bombing inaccuracy, agrees that everybody will do better the next time.

But the day is not finished. It is only midafternoon. They were up at 4:30 a. m. and won't return to their barracks until nearly sundown.

There is a big celluloid-covered map on an easel near the stove and a telephone beside it. It rings periodically and one of the men jots on a scratch pad tacked to the map the plotted positions of planes within the radio scope of the base.

Another, with a blue crayon pencil for friendly planes and a brown one for known or suspected enemy planes, plots the flights on the map. The telephone rings and a notation is made: "Ten (heavy engine noise) northeast, heading southwest."

"Well," says the colonel, "I guess we had better get into the air-planes."

They had been out to dive-bomb a railroad bridge.

America's War Spirit.

It words repeated could only catch the spirit of their talk. It is the spirit of America's war in China: easy confidence in themselves and their planes. A miss today would be a hit tomorrow. Just the right balance of cockiness and caution.

Did you see where my bomb hit? Who was it that saw Zeros? I didn't see any. . . I had a dud. . . did you see that machinegun fire from the pillbox. . . Gotta watch our own ricochets. . . I got a bullet lodged in the radio transmitter. . . that was the poorest job of diving I ever saw. . . I betcha my bomb may've weakened one of those concrete things. . . yeah, maybe that bridge will collapse sometime when a train's crossing. . . Say, colonel, couldn't we bomb up and go back there in the morning. . . give me a thousand pounder and I'll go up there by myself. . . I'll get the. . . They had missed lunch. The colonel had briefed them out just after midmorning tea and cakes.

Chow comes by jeep from the hostel. Fried rice, French fried sweet potatoes, roast pork with a bucket of gravy, fried cakes and tea.

Lunch finished and the men relaxed, their colonel, a young Floridian who used to fly in the A.V.G., takes pencil and paper. "Now let's see what happened," he says.

Day Not Finished Yet.

He goes over the whole mission. He gives the men a mild chewing over the way they flew formation and over talking too much on their radios, confesses his own bombing inaccuracy, agrees that everybody will do better the next time.

But the day is not finished. It is only midafternoon. They were up at 4:30 a. m. and won't return to their barracks until nearly sundown.

There is a big celluloid-covered map on an easel near the stove and a telephone beside it. It rings periodically and one of the men jots on a scratch pad tacked to the map the plotted positions of planes within the radio scope of the base.

Another, with a blue crayon pencil for friendly planes and a brown one for known or suspected enemy planes, plots the flights on the map. The telephone rings and a notation is made: "Ten (heavy engine noise) northeast, heading southwest."

"Well," says the colonel, "I guess we had better get into the air-planes."

They resumed their places around the gasoline drum stove, tilting their chairs back, laughing with released excitement, calling back and forth to each other, all trying to talk at once.

WHO'S CRAZY NOW?

A visitor at a state insane asylum had gone all through the buildings and wards and had wound up on a walk around the beautiful grounds. He came to a lovely little shaded nook and on a bench sat three men patients. They said nothing, but watched him until he came to a clean, white stone upon which these words were carved: "Turn me over." The man turned the rock over after a hard pull, and found on the underside of the stone these words:

"Now turn me back again, so that I can catch some other dope." There was loud laughter from the bench where the three patients sat.

SIMPLE REMEDY

Hubby—Did you sew the button on my coat, dear?
Wife—No, darling, I couldn't find a button, so I just sewed up the buttonhole.

An Orphan
Conductor—You'll have to buy a ticket for that boy, ma'am.
Lady—I do not!
Conductor—He's big enough. How old is he?
Lady—How do I know? I never saw him before!

Tit for Tat
Mrs. Brown—I like everything about our new apartment except that our neighbors can hear everything we say.
Mrs. Blue—Why don't you put some heavy hangings on the walls?
Mrs. Brown—Then we wouldn't be able to hear what our neighbors say!

But He Breathes
First Private—I never thought they'd take that fellow in the army. Why he can't even wear suspenders!
Second Private—Why can't he wear suspenders?
First—He's so weak-kneed they lift him right off the ground!

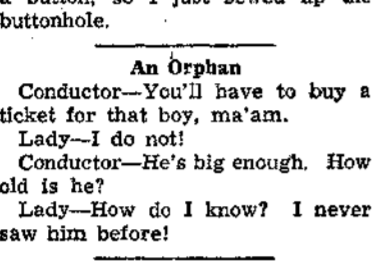

Where's That Siren?
Mrs. Gutz—Do you think I'll ever be able to do anything with my voice?
Music Teacher—It might come in handy in case of fire!

Army Life
Private—I've a week-end and I don't know what to do with it.
Sarge—Just keep it under your hat!

Good Memory
Joe—Have you forgotten you owe me ten dollars?
Bill—No, but give me time and I will!

Pleasant Rest
Jones—Do you have hot and cold water at your boarding house?
Smith—Yeah. Hot in the summer and cold in the winter!

FROM THAR TO THAR

Nit—Who invented the accordion?
Wit—Probably some guy who couldn't decide how big the fish was that got away.

Drowned
Nit—Have you ever visited Chicago?
Wit—No, I heard it was at the bottom of Lake Michigan!

Withholding
Wife—Oh, darling!
Hubby—Yes, dear.
Wife—There's a corner torn off your check. What did you spend it for?

Right Answer
Sonny—What's a person called who brings you in contact with spirits?
Daddy—A bartender, son!

Old, Old Story
C. O.—Any special reason you should have this week-end leave?
Private—Yes, sir, but stop me if you've heard this one!

Stack!
Lawyer—Do you drink?
Witness—That's my business.
Lawyer—Do you have any other business?

Nothing Registered!
She—Do you know why I refused you?
He—I can't remember.
She—You guessed it!

No Excuses!
Employer—But these aren't references.
Boy—Why not? They're copies of my four grandparents' death certificates!

Real Comfort
Harry—Was your brother in comfortable circumstances when he died?
Jerry—I'll say. He was asleep on a feather bed!

Lights of New York

by L. L. STEVENSON

Manhattan Scene: Mrs. Grace Cahill, who looks enough like Jane Pickens to be her sister (she is), being mobbed by the bobby-socks brigade at 44th and Broadway. . . Georgia Gibbs and his nibs Jimmy Durante, munching hamburgers at a Madison avenue burger bar after their broadcast. . . and Jimmy having plenty of trouble keeping his nose out of the ketchup. . . Kathrin Kuhn at the Wedgwood room (she did Corinna Mura's gowns) telling how she was snowbound for three days on her New Jersey poultry farm recently. . . Before the snowplows arrived, she had designed 18 gowns. . . An entire squadron of RAF pilots storming into the William Morris offices to request photographs of their GI friend, Yvette, whom they had met in England last summer. . . Patsy Kelly, the girl with the cast-iron lungs, giving out with a boisterous Kelly-laugh over Imogene Coca's antics at the Ruban Bleu.

Chatter: Sixteen proposals of marriage—three by mail—have been received by pretty Mary McNamara since she assumed her post as "lady doorman" at the Astor. . . She turned them all down because she's waiting for her own soldier boy to come back from the war. . . Dr. Giovan, the "world's greatest pickpocket" who once sneaked the suspenders off FBI's J. Edgar Hoover, lost his wallet to a pickpocket the other day. . . Willie Howard, who has been making folks laugh for the last 40 years, is slated to make three pictures for MGM. . . Ina Ray Hutton, whose yellow tresses caused her to be billed over the country as the "Blonde Bombshell," prefers conjugal happiness to glamour—the sunshine in her hair has given way to chestnut brown. . . Overheard in the Central Park zoo: "Supervision is what the characters have around Radio City when the wind blows."

Faces and Places: Celeste Holm, the girl who can't say "No," in "Oklahoma," discovering she can't say "No" either—to a tempting chocolate éclair in Theodore's. . . Perc Westmore, the makeup man, making up to a steak (yes, he got it) at Cafe Pierre. . . Paul Whiteman, darling like a bolt from the Blue (Network) to catch the 5:15 to his New Jersey cattle farm. . . Florence Walton, who danced with Maurice when they and the Castles were in a world of their own, dining unrecognized at the Cotillion room. . . Jacques Pearl, the comic, coat unbuttoned, topping a Fifth avenue bus going cross-town on 57th street. . . Tall Paula Laurence towering over a crowd of folk in an Astor elevator. . . Morose Oscar Levant and gloomy Ned Sparks dining at the Aquarium—genets of two different scowls of thought.

This and That: The Second avenue bus driver who cheers his grouchy morning passengers with: "A nickel plus a smile, sir, that's the fare here"—and in these days too. . . Fourteen-year-old network singer, Marion Lovridge, being a real "Betsy Ross Girl" as she carries leftover subway newspapers to Manhattan's CVDO center on Fifth avenue. . . The elevator man in the RCA Building who's a double for Frank Sinatra. . . and who icily warns off any innuendos by tittering office girls.

On Fifth Avenue: Clare Boothe Luce, the Connecticut Yankee, watching taxis whiz by as she waits for an empty. . . Constance Bennett, looking like the perfect cosmetics model, eyeing the new lipstick in the window of a shoppe. . . A traffic-harried cab driver having his own private war with the driver of a surrey at the entrance to Central park. . . The tap dancing messenger who delivers telegrams in Rockefeller Center with a hop and a smile. . . The astounding Amaya wearing a jewel-covered weskit with matching gauntlets, and challenging: "How you like dees, hah?" . . . Benny Goodman's eight-month-old daughter, Rachel, being wheeled into the park, a lass whose poppa swings lullabies to put her to sleep. . . Benay Venuta on her way to be photographed for the cover of MovieLand magazine.

Addenda: At the Coq Rouge, the presence (all on the same evening) at various tables of Gene Kelly, Patsy Kelly and Nancy Kelly turning the ringside into a sort of Kelly's Stables. . . Ebullient Eddie Davis in the incongruous role of ringsider at Leon and Eddie's (where he usually is the whole show) applauding the glib and garrulous Joey Adams who is pinchhitting during Eddie's annual brief vacation. . . At Jack Dempsey's, Joan Davis, popular radio comedienne, swapping autographs with Sgt. Barney Ross.

Nazi Secret Weapon Displayed by Soviets

MOSCOW.—A Moscow exhibit of newly captured German arms includes a self-propelled, electrically controlled land torpedo used as an anti-tank weapon.

Tass news agency said the torpedo had been held a close secret by the Germans but had been abandoned during the rapid retreat from the Leningrad sector.

Oak Bluff Breezes

The annual stockholders meeting was held at the Maxwell cottage last Friday afternoon. From the secretary's and treasurer's reports the club is in the best financial condition in its history. H. L. Ballard and G. H. Burke were re-elected as directors for three year terms to succeed themselves, and at the directors' meeting the following officers were chosen: G. H. Burke, president; H. L. Ballard, vice president; Miss Myrtle Holmes, secretary; and Louis Walton, treasurer. Plans for the 50th anniversary celebration next month were discussed and a committee appointed to arrange a program. Dates will be announced later.

Dr. and Mrs. M. M. Wickware arrived Saturday afternoon for a six weeks' stay. The doctor is not in his usual good health, but we trust that a few days here in the fresh air and sunshine will restore him to perfect physical condition and hope to hear again the jingle of the horseshoes.

Mr. and Mrs. Archie Vallier of Lansing are at the Sandham cottage for several days' vacation.

Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Knapp have opened their cottage and will be here until about Sept. 1.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Ballard and family of Flint have returned home after a three weeks' stay at the Ballard cottage. Charles' fishing trips seemed to be very successful.

Dr. and Mrs. Alex McIntyre of Brown City were Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. Alex Maxwell.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Waterhouse of Vassar and Claude Cole of Watrousville were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Wellemeyer at the Walton cottage Friday and Saturday.

Announcements have been received of the arrival of a baby girl at the Roland Mason home in Detroit on July 3. Congratulations!

Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Walton of Vassar have arrived for their vacation and had as Sunday guests Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Montague and Judge and Mrs. Almon Pierce of Caro.

Mrs. Eva B. Hutchinson of Westmore and Mrs. Frank Starkweather of Detroit visited with their sister, Mrs. Lewis Walton, from Saturday until Tuesday.

Mrs. Walter Willis and son, Bill, spent the week end with relatives at Yale.

Mr. and Mrs. C. R. Todd of Grosse Pte. Farms returned to their cottage Saturday. Mr. Todd left Sunday afternoon for home, but Mrs. Todd will remain here for at least this week.

Dr. and Mrs. H. H. Madigan of Saginaw were guests at the Burke cottage over Sunday. Mrs. Madigan is the daughter of the late W. D. Schooley, who was one of the charter members of the club and as such is interested in the anniversary celebration which is planned for later in the season.

HOLBROOK.

Mr. and Mrs. Forest Smith of Shabbona visited Sunday at the Gordon Jackson home.

Mrs. W. I. Moore of Cass City is visiting at the home of her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Loren Trathen. Wednesday and Thursday Mrs. Moore visited her sister, Mrs. Rhoda Schram, at Pinnebog.

Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Souden are entertaining their grandchildren, Myrtle and Marshall Souden, of Cass City.

Apprentice Seaman 2-c Lloyd Hill from the naval training station at Sampson, New York, is visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Hill, on a short leave.

Mrs. Elgin Willis and children visited Wednesday and Thursday in Memphis and Port Huron.

The W. S. C. S. will meet July 27 at 1:30 o'clock with Mrs. Jesse Souden. Everyone is welcome.

Mrs. Clifford Jackson entertained the W. S. C. S. at her home July 13 when about 40 were present. Refreshments were served by the hostess.

Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Shubel of Detroit visited over the week end at the Edgar Jackson home. Their children, Dorothy and Donald, returned home with them after spending two weeks with their grandparents.

Mrs. Mary Walker entertained over the week end Mr. and Mrs. Nelson McIntyre and Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Shubel of Detroit.

Deadly Diseases

Preliminary information indicates that only four diseases caused more deaths than accidents in 1943—heart disease, cancer, cerebral hemorrhage and nephritis. Only two diseases, heart disease and cancer, were more important among males alone.

Dates Prized

Dates have been prized from antiquity as one of the most nourishing and satisfying of foods. They were raised on the banks of the Euphrates more than 4,000 years ago. Persians, Arabs and North Africans eat them as Americans eat potatoes. They constitute the main food of the inhabitants in the dry parts of North Africa, and are eaten by dogs, horses and camels. Egypt alone has over five million date palms.

Summer Favorites

If appetites are dawdling, a real job confronts the cook. Summer or winter, the body needs nourishment, and the basic seven foods must be included in the diet.

What, then, must be done? Well, for one thing, the appetite must be coaxed with new and different combinations of food. Even in summer there should be one hot food in the meal, but the cold ones should be very cool and tempting. Attractive serving can help consumption, too. If there are cool, crisp looking tablecloths, napkins and dishes, the appetite will naturally perk up. Add to this, green, crisp garnishes, pleasing color combinations and well prepared foods, and there need be no difficulty in having the food eaten even on the warmest day.

Save Used Fats!

Today's round-up of recipes will help in planning palate-pleasing menus for hot summer days:

- *Veal-Cheese Sandwich. (Makes 6 sandwiches)
- 1/2 pound prepared veal loaf
- 1/2 cup cottage cheese
- 6 stuffed olives
- 1 teaspoon grated onion
- 1 tablespoon mayonnaise
- Butter
- 12 slices bread

Chill veal loaf and slice thinly. Mix cottage cheese, chopped stuffed olives, onion and mayonnaise. Place veal slices on buttered bread. Top with bread spread with cottage cheese mixture. A leaf of lettuce may be placed in between. Serve with pickles and potato chips for lunch.

- Jellied Chicken and Vegetables. (Serves 6)
- 1 tablespoon unflavored gelatin
- 1/4 cup cold water or stock
- 1 1/2 cups hot chicken stock
- 1/2 teaspoon salt
- 1 cup chicken, chopped
- 1 cup cooked vegetables (peas, string beans, beets, asparagus, carrots)
- 1/2 pimiento or green pepper

Soften gelatin in cold water. Add to hot stock and stir until dissolved. Rinse a square mold in cold water, pour a thin layer of liquid jelly. Let stiffen slightly and decorate with pepper and other vegetables. Arrange the thickening jelly, chicken and vegetables in layers and chill. Unmold on lettuce.

Lynn Says

The Score Card: Potatoes and onions are coming into the markets. They are very much usable in summertime menus. Plan to use plenty of peaches, apricots and melons this year. Crop supplies look plentiful. Ice cream consumption has increased from eight pounds per person in 1924 to sixteen pounds in 1942. Homemakers are urged to can as many fruits and vegetables this season to give themselves point-insurance for the winter. Last year, more lard was produced than at any time during the nation's history. Egg supplies are still plentiful. Use at least one a day to fortify your diet. Sugar stamps 30 and 31 (book 4) are each good for 5 pounds of sugar. Sugar stamp, number 40, will give you 5 pounds of sugar for canning. An extra 20 pounds of canning sugar is available with stamp 37, upon application to your local board. This will give you 10 pounds now and 10 pounds later.

Save Used Fats!

Kidneys and liver are both delectable if prepared with the proper seasonings:

- *Roast Kidney Loaf. (Serves 6)
- 1 pound beef, veal, pork or lamb kidney
- 1 cup milk
- 8 slices bread
- 1/4 cup bacon drippings or butter
- 2 eggs
- 1 green pepper minced
- 1 1/2 teaspoons salt
- 1/2 teaspoon pepper
- 3 tablespoons grated onion
- 1/2 teaspoon powdered sage

Wash kidney in cold water. Drain well and grind, including the internal fat. Pour milk over bread and soak. Combine all ingredients and mix thoroughly. Pack firmly in a loaf pan. Bake in a moderate oven (350 degrees) for 1 1/2 hours.

Liver Deluxe. (Serves 6)

- 6 tablespoons bacon drippings
- 1 large onion, thinly sliced
- 6 cups shredded cabbage
- 1 teaspoon salt
- 1/2 teaspoon pepper
- 1 pound cubed liver
- 1/2 cup water
- 1 tablespoon soy sauce

Brown onion in 4 tablespoons drippings. Add cabbage and seasonings. Cover and cook over low heat for 15 minutes. Remove from pan. Roll liver in seasoned flour and brown in remaining drippings. Add water and simmer 5 minutes. Add soy sauce and cabbage.

- Bacon and Beans. (Serves 4)
- 1/2 pound bacon
- 1 pound fresh green beans
- 2 tablespoons bacon drippings
- 1 teaspoon salt
- 1/2 cup chopped green onions
- 2 tablespoons chopped pimiento

Wash green beans and cut lengthwise. Cook in a small amount of water. Add bacon drippings and salt. Ten minutes before green beans are cooked, add green onions and pimiento. Serve with strips of crisp bacon.

The outdoor flavor of the barbecue is captured with this barbecue ham. The sauce is seasoned just right, tangy but not too hot:

Barbecued Ham. (Serves 6)

- 1 slice ham (2 pounds, 1 inch thick)
- 1/2 large onion
- 1/2 clove garlic
- 1/2 cup catsup
- 1/2 cup Worcestershire sauce
- 1 small can tomato soup
- 1/4 cup vinegar
- 1/2 tablespoon butter
- 1/2 tablespoon sugar
- 1/2 teaspoon pepper

Simmer ham 1/2 hour before baking. Chop onions and garlic very fine. Add remaining ingredients and pour over ham; bake uncovered for 30 to 40 minutes in a moderate oven.

RAILROAD COURTESY

A class in English was given the task of writing four lines of dramatic poetry. The results were various, and selecting the verse of a bright boy, the teacher read:

"A boy was walking down the track,
The train was coming fast;
The boy stepped off the railroad track
To let the train go past."
"This verse is very well done," said the teacher, "but it lacks the dramatic. Try again, Johnny, and make it more dramatic." Whereupon Johnny produced the following in a short time:

"A boy was walking down the track,
The train was coming fast;
The train jumped off the railroad track
To let the boy go past."

GOODBY FOREVER!

Maid—I'm very sorry but Mrs. Brown said to tell you she's not at home.

Mrs. White—That's all right. Just tell her I'm glad I didn't come!

Wise Parent!

Junior—When I bring home my report card, why do you always sign it with an X?

Mother—I don't want the teacher to think that anyone who can read and write would have a son like that!

Real Hero!

Smith—I hear your brother married a widow with four children so he'd be reclassified out of 1-A.

Jones—Yes, but the draft board said anyone that brave was just what the army needed!

Coeducation

Jane—I didn't know she was a sorority girl!

Joan—She's not! That hungry look comes from all the boys being in the army!

Trouble Ahead

Harry—Well, I just got married to Helen. Aren't you going to wish me anything?

Jerry—Yes. Better luck next time!

Word to the Wise

Joe—A wise man never beats his wife.

Bill—A wise man doesn't have a wife!

Correspondence School?

Jane—How many lessons did you take to learn how to make love?

Joan—I didn't count them. All I know is that they came by mail!

Like Mother Made?

Wiley—I cook and bake for you and what do I get? Nothing!

Hubby—You're lucky! I get indignation!

ON SECOND THOUGHT

She—Darling, do you love me still?

He—Yes, better than any other way!

Easy to Turn Off

Wife—You think more of that old radio than you do of me!

Husband—Well, I get less interference from it!

Tooth-Hurty?

Joe—I just had a fight with my dentist.

Bill—Who won?

Joe—It ended in a draw!

Same Difference

Nit—Your opening sale has closed.

Wit—Our closing sale opens!

Take Your Choice

Nit—Statistics prove that marriage is a preventive against suicide.

Wit—And suicide is a preventive against marriage!

Don't Mention It

Native—The death rate of this town is lower than any place in the state.

Stranger—I believe it. I wouldn't be caught dead here myself!

Happy Solo

Harry—A bachelor has nobody to share his troubles.

Jerry—Why should a bachelor have any troubles?

How Dare You?

Lady—I want to see some gloves.

Clerk—What kind, kid?

Lady—Young man, I'm not accustomed to being addressed in that manner!

Try Toasty Waffles

Bill—Do you like animal crackers?

Joe—Well, I tried dog biscuits once and I didn't care for them much!

By ROGER B. WHITMAN

REFRACTORY CEMENT

Question: The heat of the past winter's fires has burned out the mortar between the bricks. I was told that I should use fire clay and that the fire back should have been laid up with fire clay instead of lime and plaster. I am told that lime and cement mortar are used in fireplaces. None of the lumber yards here know anything about fire clay. What can I use to repair the back wall of the fireplace?

Answer: Mason material dealers and plumbing and heating supply houses handle refractory cement and fire clay. Refractory cement is generally used and preferred as a mortar between fire brick. If you cannot get the material, try the following: Rake out the old cement to a depth of a half-inch or more; then brush out the loose particles. Soak the spaces with plenty of clear water and pack the joints with a fairly stiff mixture of one part portland cement, one part hydrated lime and five parts of clean, coarse sand. Keep the new mortar damp for several days and do not use the fireplace for at least one week.

CHIPPED SINK

Question: How can I improve the appearance of my kitchen sink? Parts of the porcelain have been rubbed off, showing the black iron surface.

Answer: If the damaged places are not below the water line, get a white enamel made especially for patching chipped porcelain surfaces. After cleaning the spots brighten the exposed metal by rubbing with steel wool, then wipe with turpentine and apply a coat of special undercoat and follow with porcelain enamel.

wool, then wipe with turpentine and apply a coat of special undercoat and follow with porcelain enamel.

Blackened Sills

Question: I have had plants on my varnished window sills, and the water from these plants has gone on the sills and turned them black. Is there anything I can do to get them clean again? The black seems to be in the wood.

Answer: Take off the finish down to the wood with paint remover. The stains can be bleached out with a saturated solution of oxalic acid and denatured alcohol. Apply this liberally and allow to remain for several hours. Rinse well with clear water and allow the wood to dry thoroughly. Finish with a top quality spar varnish. If the woodwork has had a stain, try to match the color with the other woodwork before applying the varnish.

Javelle Water

Question: Will you please tell me how Javelle water is mixed?

Answer: Dissolve one-half pound of washing soda in a quart of cold water, adding one-quarter pound of chloride of lime with the lumps crushed. This mixture is allowed to stand until the sediment has settled; then the clear liquid is drawn off, strained through a thickness of cloth and bottled. In use, one part of the solution should be diluted with three parts or more of water. If used for laundering, remember to rinse out very thoroughly; for, otherwise, the fabrics will be weakened—if not ruined.

Cleaning Aluminum

Question: How can I remove a black line from the inside of one of my aluminum saucers? This line was caused by a liquid standing too long.

Answer: Boil a half-and-half mixture of vinegar and water in the pan for 20 minutes or so; further rubbing with a special aluminum cleanser (to be had from your grocer) or fine steel wool and soap may be needed.

Galvanized Pipe

Question: I would like to take down my galvanized furnace pipe. What can I do to prevent water forming on the pipe? Would the attic be a good place to store it?

Answer: After giving the pipe a good cleaning to free it from dust, coat both sides with light oil and store in the attic. If there are any rust spots, rub them off with steel wool or fine sandpaper before applying the oil.

Rusted Caster Holders

Question: I am using a metal bed that had been stored and the casters are attached on sections that fit in the legs of the bed. The holders are quite rusty. What should I do to make them usable now?

Answer: Take out the caster holders and soak them in kerosene. After a half-hour or so, the rust can be removed by rubbing with steel wool or sandpaper. When the metal is clean, give it a coat of light oil or varnish. This will retard further rusting.

Tire Inspection.

Be sure to keep your tire inspection records because OPA will continue to use them in the rationing program. Before you can get a ration certificate to replace a tire certificate to replace a tire have to have your tires checked by an authorized OPA tire inspection station.

Greater Frequency

When we speak of an "octave" in the other spectrum, we are using a term that denotes an electrical frequency twice as great as some other frequency, just as in music, when a note has twice the frequency of another, we speak of it as being an octave above it in pitch.

Pots Once Classed With Gems

During the reign of England's Edward III in the 14th century the royal household's iron utensils were classed among its jewels.

RESOLUTIONS.

"There is only a curtain between us, Between the beyond and the here; They whom they call dead have not left us, Nay, they were never so near"

In memory of Brother Neil McLarty, who died July 16, 1944. Once again a Brother Mason, having completed the designs written for him on life's trestle board, has passed through the portals of Eternity and entered the Grand Lodge of the New Jerusalem and hath received as his reward, the white stone with the new name written thereon.

And Whereas, the all-wise and merciful Master of the universe has called from labor to refreshments our beloved and respected brother, and

He having been a true and faithful brother of our beloved Order, therefore, be it

Resolved, That Tyler Lodge, No. 317, F. & A. M., of Cass City, Mich., in testimony of her loss, be draped in mourning for thirty days, and that we tender to the family of our deceased brother our sincere condolence in their deep affliction, and that a copy of these resolutions be sent to the family.

The RITE-WAY MILKER

SOLVES YOUR MAIN PRODUCTION PROBLEMS

If your producing herd is big enough to require machine milking, especially with acute labor shortage, then make sure that you get the one milker that gives you correct milking action.

There is no machine on the market like the Rite-Way. It is fast and safe, because its individually designed inflations massage gently and naturally, as does the feeding calf. Our special Rite-way pulsator has no springs or gaskets. These two features should quickly settle your question of choice — in a hurry.

Call in to examine it, or phone for any information you want.

FIRST-AID to the AILING HOUSE

Roger D. Whitman—WNU Features.

CRUMBLING FOUNDATION

Question: Our house has been neglected for some time and the foundation seems to be crumbling. Rubbing against the cellar wall makes the cement break off like sand, and water seeps in after heavy rains. What can be done to stop this condition?

Answer: If the concrete is very sandy and porous there is little that can be done, especially if it is sandy for its entire thickness. However, it may help to coat the outside of the foundation walls down to the footings with liquid tar or asphalt, and paint the inside of the walls with a cement base paint obtained from a dealer in mason materials.

CARE OF NEW LADDER

Question: I have a brand-new ladder that I keep in the garage. What shall I paint it with to keep it in good condition?

Answer: Give the ladder a liberal coat of raw linseed oil, wiping off the excess. Repeat in a few days and continue for as long as the wood absorbs the oil. Repeat every three months.

Removing Enamel

Question: How can I remove enamel (three layers deep) from a breakfast-nook set? I have not had much success with a prepared paint remover.

Answer: Three pounds of trisodium phosphate dissolved in a gallon of hot water makes an excellent paint remover. Put this on liberally, using a dishmop for convenience; and when the enamel has softened, remove it by wiping with steel wool or scrape it off with a putty knife. Rinse off all traces of the solution with clear water and allow the wood to dry thoroughly. Smooth, if necessary, by rubbing with fine sandpaper, and wipe off the dust. Trisodium phosphate is sold at grocery stores under various trade names. It is a coarse, whitish powder that makes no lather.

Cleaning Floors With Wax

Question: You sometimes have said that hardwood floors and even linoleum should be cleaned with liquid wax. Just what do you mean? How can a liquid wax have cleaning properties?

Answer: There are three forms of floor waxes on the market: paste wax, which is of the consistency of butter; liquid wax, which is paste wax thinned with naphtha or other solvent; and water wax, or water-emulsion wax. The last is what generally is known as a self-polishing or non-rubbing wax. Floors polished with paste wax can be cleaned with a liquid wax because the solvent in such wax will loosen the dirt that has worked into the old paste wax on the floor.

Painting New Cabinet

Question: How should I paint a new, unpainted kitchen cabinet? When should the nail holes be filled? Should I use putty for this?

Answer: Clean the wood and see that it is smooth, then apply a first coat of enamel undercoat or flat paint thinned with a pint of raw linseed oil to the gallon of paint. After the first coat is dry, fill all nail holes with putty. Put on a second coat of undercoat or flat paint, and, when dry, smooth the surface by rubbing lightly with 000 sandpaper. Wipe off the dust and finish with good quality quick-drying enamel.

Fuzz on the Floor

Question: What can I use, besides warm water, to loosen newspaper and fuzz from a cheap pad off my floor boards?

Answer: Rub the fuzzy area with turpentine and fine steel wool, without using too much pressure. Polish with paste wax.

Rain Slicker

Question: How can I treat my rain slicker that became sticky during the hot weather?

Answer: Many sporting goods shops and department stores that handle this type of raincoat sell a preparation that is intended to revive the finish.

Local Happenings

Duncan McKellar of Sandusky was a Sunday visitor at the Leslie Muntz and H. McKellar homes.

Right Mood To get into the right mood there is nothing better than a bath and a change of clothes. Even if your idea of recreation is playing a game of solitaire while listening to a favorite radio program, you will get more real rest and refreshment when work clothes have been doffed and fresh garments donned.

Date Palm The date palm was brought to America by the Spanish Mission fathers in the latter half of the 18th century. The tree supplies leaves for the observance of Palm Sunday, and for the Feast of the Tabernacle.

Concluded from page 1. am getting my fill of camping out and eating C rations. Some of the local Frenchmen have been bringing cider around to us almost every day. They don't ask anything for it but the boys always give them enough cigarettes and things to more than pay for it. I guess the Germans took about everything else when they left. I haven't had any mail for about three weeks but will write whenever you can as it will catch up to me eventually." July 2— "I have a new address now so be sure to take note of it. There is not much to write about other than to tell you I am well and ok and hope that you are the same. I haven't had any mail for about a month. I guess I have been moving around too much for it to catch up to me. I was in Cherbourg for a few days and had the chance to sleep in a bed and live inside for awhile which was a relief. It looks like it was quite a pretty town at one time as it is situated in a beautiful spot but it is quite a mess now. "I suppose that you are getting some warm weather now that it's July. The weather hasn't been too good here lately as it rains quite often. Write whenever you can."

Youth from Tuscola Enter Nation-wide Vegetable Contest

Two youths from Tuscola county, Alice Tetli of Caro and Rosella Walker of Mayville, have enrolled in the fourth annual National Junior Vegetable Growers' association $6,000 production and marketing contest. Prof. Grant B. Snyder of Massachusetts State college, advisory chairman of the organization, announced.

The contestants are competing for a $500 national championship, a $200 regional award, ten $100 sectional scholarships and two $25 war bonds provided the association by the Great Atlantic and Pacific Tea Co., Prof. Snyder said. The winners will be decided on the basis of the efforts made by the contestants on studies of vegetable production and marketing methods, their vegetable projects and their community activities.

Walk Right You may walk enough already, but do you walk properly? Here are a few hints: Swing arms vigorously—point toes straight ahead—lengthen stride—get more push with your back leg while reaching forward with opposite arm—see how much you can speed your rhythm—run a short distance, stopping before you get breathless—hop and skip—walk a little farther and more vigorously each day—then count the benefits in pep, appetite, agility and stamina. It's fun to be fit.

Attention Farmers!
Small dealers are restricted on the amount of Dairy Products they may sell. At the same time the same goods are rationed, War Food Administration has restricted sales of fluid milk. Now if we knew the chief of the dairy division of the War Production Board came from, we could understand why some of these restrictions. These Conditions Can Be Corrected If you are interested, come to the next United Dairy Farmer, District 50, UMWA, meeting. And it isn't likely that our local dealers are to blame for this condition.

Krug Experiences Thrill in Capture Of Nazi Prisoners

he has been in several battles but is unharmed with the exception of a broken finger which he is carrying in splints.
Through his commanding officer, John recently sent to his parents, a hat or clothing band carrying the name, "Herman Goehring." The first German prisoner John captured was so grateful for John's humane treatment that he gave him a bar from the prisoner's camp indicating the captured man's rank. Mr. and Mrs. Krug would be glad to show these trophies to anyone interested.

Sgt. Krug has five cousins in active service at the present time. One cousin is Tail Gunner Frederick Hart, who notified his parents through the Red Cross, that he is a prisoner of the Germans, that he is in fine condition and is studying Spanish in prison camp. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Basil Hart. Mrs. Hart formerly taught in rural schools near Gagetown.

An aunt, Olive McDonald, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John R. McDonald of Gagetown, was recently promoted to captain. She was on duty as a nurse at Ann Arbor before she left with a group of 30 nurses for England. She is now in France.

Accidental Deaths
Accidental deaths of children under five years in 1944 increased 13 per cent from 1942, the 5 to 14 age group rose 6 per cent. Young adult deaths 14 to 24 years dropped 17 per cent and for persons 25 to 44 years, decreased 10 per cent; increases for ages 45 to 64 years—4 per cent, and over 64 years—up 6 per cent.

All in Illinois
In these days of restricted travel it is possible to visit Cairo, Athens, Sparta, Crete, Palestine, Venice, Milan, Genoa, Warsaw, Vienna, Geneva, Paris, Marseilles, Hanover and Windsor without leaving Illinois. They're all towns in that state.

Army Salvages Many 'Bad' Boys

Make Good Soldiers Out of Men Convicted of Minor Offenses.

WASHINGTON. — Rehabilitation centers are transforming many "bad actors" into good soldiers.
Major Perry V. Wagley of the Sixth service command center at Fort Sheridan estimates that 40 per cent of military offenders are "capable of making a definite contribution to the war effort as soldiers."

Major Wagley, who in civilian life is superintendent of the Pontiac State hospital, Pontiac, Mich., tells of the accomplishments of the rehabilitation centers in the current issue of Federal Probation, published by the administrative office of the U. S. courts in cooperation with the bureau of prisons.

Each service command has a rehabilitation center to which are sent soldiers convicted by courts-martial of such offenses as desertion, absence without leave, mutiny and sedition, drunkenness on duty, arson, burglary, housebreaking, robbery, larceny, embezzlement, perjury, etc.

Training Same as Units.
Major Wagley, convinced that "crime thrives on severe punishment and that retribution is not the solution," explains that "we are concerned primarily with restoring to active duty those persons who have seen the error of their ways, and who have a sincere desire to amend their wrongs, and who are reasonably safe risks for return to active military service."

The centers are also interested in those soldiers whose limited mental, emotional and physical equipment precludes an adjustment to the demands of military life.
The training program at the centers compares with the basic training at replacement centers and in units. The Fort Sheridan center formerly was located at Fort Custer, Mich., and while there its honor company was selected by the post commander for the entire post.

Major Wagley offers these statistics on 500 patients studied by the department of psychiatry and sociology:
Age: Average 24 years, with a range from 18 to 42.
Education: Average of 7 1/2 years.
Intelligence: From 42 (inferior) in the army general classification test to 151 (superior), with an average of 97, indicating below normal mental ability. Thirty-one found to be mentally defective.

Most From Broken Homes.
Family and environmental background: Of the 500 patients studied, 266 (53.2 per cent) came from homes broken during childhood by divorce, desertion, separation or death. Only 24 (4.4 per cent) came from well-to-do homes. In 44.6 per cent of the cases, parental discipline during childhood and adolescence was considered lax. More than 22 per cent disclosed histories of truancy from home.

Marital status: A total of 233 (46.6 per cent) were single; 138 (27.6 per cent) were married; 55 (11 per cent) were divorced; 38 (7.5 per cent) were separated or deserted; 36 (7.2 per cent) lived in extramarital relationships.

Employment: More than 70 per cent were unstable in their employment. Many had histories of public relief, about 75 per cent were unskilled.

Arrest and institutional record: Of the 500, only 120 (24 per cent) were known to have been convicted in civilian life.

Military offenses: The 500 were charged with a total of 949 military offenses, desertion and absence without leave leading all others with 389. The final disposition of 431 cases showed 213 returned to active duty.

Tank 'Sling-Shot' Hurls Japanese Out of Trees

BOUGAINVILLE, SOLOMON ISLANDS. — Tankmen here have great sport slingshooting Japanese snipers out of trees.
When a sniper is spotted, the crew drives the tank against the sniper's tree, bending it. Then the driver puts the tank into reverse and gives her the gas, and the tree whips back so smartly it hurls the sniper, or snipers, many feet, stunning them.

Food, Not Women, Chief Topic of Yanks in Jungle

CAPE GLOUCESTER, NEW BRITAIN. — Food, rather than women, is the leading topic of marines in the jungles. Although there is ample solid, wholesome and well-cooked food, marines miss their favorite dishes, particularly if they are of foreign extraction. Giuseppe dreams of ravioli, Karl of apple strudel, and Pancho of frijoles and tortillas.

Noted Stavisky Jewels Sold to Meet Claims

MADRID, SPAIN.—The Serge Stavisky jewels were reported in a Paris dispatch to have been sold at auction for more than 7,000,000 francs to satisfy creditors. Failure of Stavisky's chain of pawnshops 1933 led to a series of financial scandals, the death of Stavisky and resignation of the Chautemps cabinet.

Big Returns For every 500 pounds of cotton lint there are 900 pounds of cotton seed. This seed yields 140 pounds of oil, 400 pounds of meal, 240 pounds of hull for feed and chemicals, and 80 pounds of linters which are made into smokeless powder, plastics and other items.

WEEKLY NEWS ANALYSIS

U.S. Farmers See Bumper Crops; Red Army 'At Germany's Gates'; Allies Continue Normandy Gains

(EDITOR'S NOTE: When opinions are expressed in these columns, they are those of Western Newspaper Union's news analysis and not necessarily of this newspaper.)

Slowly but steadily, Allied armies are closing the steel ring around Hitler's vaunted Fortress Europe, with the Russians making the most spectacular advances from the east.

PACIFIC: New Goals
With Saipan under U. S. control after defeat of its big Jap garrison after some of the bloodiest fighting of the Pacific war, the American high command turned its attention to neighboring islands in the steady drive toward the Asiatic mainland.

AGRICULTURE: Good Crops
Answering the government's demands for heavy food production despite machinery and manpower difficulties, the nation's farmers will harvest bumper crops this year, with output of only dry beans and peas, peanuts and potatoes below 1943 levels.

Less Cotton
Not expected to share in the bumper harvest were the nation's cotton farmers, who planted the smallest acreage since 1895 in the face of unfavorable weather and labor shortages.

MEAT PRODUCTION: Top Levels
Matching the all-out production of field crops, busy U. S. stock raisers sent record volumes of hogs and cattle to market during the first six months of 1944.

TWINS
To the amazement of medical authorities, twins have been borne by a Connecticut woman 11 days apart. An interval of four days is the longest previously recorded.

EUROPE: Head-On Action
Fighting all along the Allied front in Normandy developed into a milling, head-on action, with units of both sides working behind each other's lines and the men scattering to engage in individual clashes.

Russ Smash Forward
With heavy fighting continuing in the rugged mountains of northern Italy, only in Russia were Allied gains measured in miles instead of precious yards.

Need for potato rationing in Germany was reflected by the small harvest of 36,000,000 bushels in 1944, a 20-year low. Besides potatoes, basic weekly German rations include 85 oz. of bread, 9 oz. meat, 8 oz. sugar, and 1/4 oz. fat.

closer to the big Latvian port of Riga and the Lithuanian capital of Kaunas, and farther to the south the German lines also gave to prevent encirclement from the rear as the Reds charged toward the 1939 boundary line in Poland.

FOURTH TERM: FDR's Bid
Declaring that the people of the United States are the superior officer of the nation's chief executive and commander-in-chief, President Franklin D. Roosevelt said that reluctantly, but as a good soldier, he would accept and serve for another four years if elected.

BLACK MART
Efforts to curb the "black market" in the choicer grades of beef will probably take the form of higher prices being allowed for high quality cattle, and possibly lowered prices on utility grades, according to packing industry experts.

RUSSIA: New Morals
With the war having exacted a heavy toll of life, the Soviet government moved to stimulate the Russian birthrate by awarding special financial assistance and social recognition to mothers of large families, and easing the family's lot by reducing income taxes.

At the same time, the Soviets sought to further bolster family ties by putting an end to easy divorces and solemnizing wedding ceremonies. Both parties must now appear at divorce proceedings and furnish witnesses, and courts will attempt to affect reconciliations before granting separations.

CIVILIAN GOODS: Buck Production
With War Mobilization Director James F. Byrnes intervening, Donald Nelson's plans for a gradual reconversion of industry to civilian production through use of idle plant facilities and surplus materials and manpower were made effective over the strong opposition of the military chiefs.

FURS: U. S. Bag
With at least 19,500,000 fur animals caught in the U. S. and Alaska during 1943-44 trappers earned $100,000,000, or an average of more than $5 a pelt, the fish and wildlife service announced.

THE WEASEL
Latest of the army's all-service vehicles is the M-29 or "weasel," powered by a passenger car engine and capable of operating over snow, deep mud, sand, or paved highways with its broad, rubber-added tracks.

MUNITIONS: More Shells
Reflecting the intensity of the fighting in Europe, the war department called for a 200 per cent increase in the production of heavy artillery ammunition to blast enemy defenses.

MISCELLANY
BAKES ON DESERT: An army officer died of heat exhaustion and thirst on a lonely desert trail when his car stuck in sand 45 miles southeast of Kingman, Ariz.

NEWS BEHIND THE NEWS

DEWEY CAMPAIGN MAY SURPRISE COUNTRY
CHICAGO. — This coming Dewey presidential campaign is likely to surprise the country.

Not unlike the earlier Mr. Roosevelt he has novel ideas (though not the same ideas). He does not work in political grooves, is far from party bound.

But to go deeper than this example, there were three factions within the committee as indeed within the whole convention — not Deweyites, Bricker boys, Stassen men, etc., but a group of senators, a clan of governors and a third crowd of just plain delegate political workers from back home.

However, governors are not up on the national issues to the extent that the senators are, who handle them daily. In fact, the governors seemed to have little to complain about and apparently they just wanted recognition for themselves rather than any special viewpoint.

Actually this platform was just the party's preparation for the candidate to take over. Some political as-sayers are now reading great hidden meanings into the thinly shaved words which were adopted.

Personally I expect him to be a lot more liberal than the country suspects. I think he will strive for an enlightened common sense liberalism as distinct from the sheer political liberalism which thinks for instance a poll tax is still important.

On the surface of the platform adopted here and Dewey's international declarations, there appears to be Democratic-Republican unity on foreign policy, but this is only a mutual acceptance of Democratic principles (sovereignty, etc.).

His labor stand will likewise surprise you. The CIO political action crowd has made the front pages look like Dewey is anti-labor. Fact is he has gotten along well with union labor in New York state.

Social unrest is shown by the number of reaty transfers and railway travel. Labor turnover is still high. People are on the move. Theatres are thronged. Betting on horse races has reached dizzy heights. This craving for entertainment is a part of the war picture, an inevitable escape from war jitters. A good laugh is a good mental tonic. That's one reason the newspapers still continue the daily comic strips, despite stringent rationing of newsprint. People demand them.

The Michigan Mirror forecast Dec. 30, 1943, that the Nazis would surrender unconditionally by late autumn of 1944, still stands. If our American troops continue to receive a sufficient flow of munitions and supplies, and American industry—labor and management in a team—will not fail them, it's better than an even bet that the German war will be over before the Michigan landscape is covered with snow again. This is the time to deliver the goods! Shortening the duration of the war against Germany may save the life, or limb, of that kid next door—or perhaps your own son! Stay on your job and buy another bond!

Shortage of manpower for the army and factories, shortage of oil and other vital supplies, and inability to overcome the Allied superiority in arms and airplanes due to the terrific punishment given to Germany arms plants by Allied bombings—these are the things that are pinching Germany most at present. Hence, the urgency for more increased production in American armament, for more manpower controls, for driving ahead to fight both wars at once. Gen. George C. Marshall, Gen. Henry H. Arnold, and Adm. Ernest J. King recently signed a joint statement warning against optimism over early military victory and urging war workers to stay on their jobs. They reported that successful battles, such as the Normandy landings, involved heavy equipment loss which must be replaced by American industry and that slackening of production will delay victory.

The WPB reports that over-all war production was one per cent BELOW schedule in May, with the principal lag being in ammunition, motor vehicles and radio and radar equipment. Material and labor shortages are blamed. It is not generally known that the serious shortage of motor trucks compelled the government to recondition used trucks for shipment to our troops overseas. In June the airplane output slumped to 8,042 units from May's total of 8,902, although heavy bomber production exceeded quotas.

The July 11 primary produced two significant results: The victory of Auditor General Vernon J. Brown of Mason over Dr. Eugene C. Keyes of Dearborn for the Republican nomination of lieutenant governor, and the triumph of Edward J. Fry over two opponents, William J. Cody of Detroit and Earnest Brooks of Holland, for the Democratic nomination of governor. The two-to-one vote of Republicans over Democrats has been interpreted widely as a sign of a continued trend of Michigan voters to Republicanism. Marquis Child, newspaper columnist visiting Detroit, reported a Michigan swing to Dewey, a native son.

Democrats will center their efforts to re-elect President Roosevelt as a war-time "commander-in-chief." This is smart strategy, especially so since the Republican nominee was born in 1902 and hence is a "young man" of 42. Edward J. Fry, Democrats' standard-bearer in Michigan, is expected to rely heavily on the urban vote in industrial centers—such as Detroit and Flint. Fry is an independent who differed with Governors Frank Murphy and Murray D. Van Wagoner and declined to go along with the state committee's selection of Brooks as a tentative nominee. He conducted a vigorous campaign and may produce a surprise or two on the night before election day. It's Roosevelt and Fry—any resemblance of humor being purely accidental!

Bird Bash Fate ironically conspired against the condors, very large American vultures, in the early 1900s, when it became known that they were getting scarce. According to Dawson, "Anyone who could stuff a bird and any village junk-pile calling itself a 'museum,' promptly went out to get a bird while the getting was good." Oologists joined in the rush, and the remaining birds were driven to nest on the high cliffs of the mountains of southern California (west of Santa Barbara) in the most inaccessible cave-like nooks.

Don't Peel Potatoes Scrub potatoes and don't peel. Pop them in a pot of boiling salted water and cook covered. Use them in soups, salads, chowders and stews. Whip them until light and fluffy and use them as a crust for a meat and vegetable pie. Serve them with minced parsley or sprinkle lightly with chopped chives.

NOTICE OF MEETING OF DRAINAGE BOARD To whom it may concern: Notice is hereby given that on the 17th day of June, 1944, a petition was filed with Michael W. Murray, County Drain Commissioner of the County of Huron, asking for the deepening, widening, extending and relocating of the Sterton Drain located in the Township of Greenleaf, County of Sanilac, Townships of Grant and Sheridan, County of Huron, and Township of Elkland, County of Tuscola.

And whereas, a certified copy of said petition was served upon Melvin Pollard, County Drain Commissioner of the County of Sanilac, James Osburn, County Drain Commissioner of the County of Tuscola, and the Commissioner of Agriculture, by Michael W. Murray, County Drain Commissioner of the County of Huron.

Now, therefore, in accordance with Act No. 316, P. A. 1923, as amended, a meeting of the Drainage Board of said drain will be held at Old Greenleaf at the Huron-Sanilac county line, on M-59, in the Township of Greenleaf, County of Sanilac, on the 2nd day of August, 1944, at 10:00 o'clock, E. W. T. in the forenoon, to determine the practicability of said improvement.

Now, therefore, all persons owning lands liable to an assessment for benefits or whose lands will be crossed by said drain, or any municipality affected, are requested to be present at said meeting, if they so desire.

Dated at Lansing, Michigan, this 7th day of July, 1944. CHARLES FIGY, Commissioner of Agriculture. By John Hudson, Deputy. 7-21-2

He just didn't like his brother-in-law and was always threatening him. At last his wife took him to task. "It's ridiculous for you to talk like that. You know it will cost you a $100 fine if you touch him." When a month had elapsed and he hadn't mentioned the name of his brother-in-law once, his wife expressed her pleasure. "So you've given up the idea of hitting Jim?" "Given up?" he snorted. "I'm saving up!"

Losing Battle Jones—Before I got married I said I'd be the boss or know the reason why Smith—Well, why are you telling me that now? Jones—Now, I know the reason why.

Army School First Lieutenant—I just took a tough exam. Second Lieut.—Finish? First Lieut.—No, Russian!

Wanna Poke? Harry—How did you get such a big nose? Jerry—Keeping it out of other people's business and letting it grow!

ARMY DAZE

Pvt.—I had a narrow escape last night. I thought I saw something moving across the tent. I grabbed my gun and shot it. And when I got a light I found it was my helmet. Sarge—And where does the narrow escape come in? Pvt.—Suppose I'd forgotten to take off my helmet before I went to bed!

Like Daddy, Dear? Junior—Don't men go to heaven? I never saw an angel with whiskers. Mother—I imagine a few do go, but they all get there by a close shave!

And Succeeding? Joan—That new blonde is very trying, isn't she? Jane—I'll say—trying to get her hands on every man she sees!

With Jam, Please Nit—Do you believe in Buddha? Wit—Of course, but I think oleomargarine is just as good!

Happy Birthday to You! Tommy—What did your brother get for his birthday? Johnny—A gun, a baseball and bat, some soldiers and the measles!

A Lotta Bull Farmer—I sold twenty head of cattle yesterday. City Fellow—What did you do with the rest of them?

Tea Hee! Duffer—You must be the worst caddie in the world! Caddie—No, sir—that would be too much of a coincidence!

School, Daze Teacher—If I gave you all a piece of candy, would it be a banquet? Voice in the Back—No, it would be a miracle!

SIMPLE DIVISION

Mother—Did you share your three sticks of candy with Jimmy? Sonny—Yes, mother, but it was sort of difficult to divide three up evenly so I ate one first and divided the other two with Jimmy.

Ready! Aim! Fire! Girl—Are your kisses dynamite? Soldier—They sure are, sister! Girl—Praise the Lord and pass the ammunition!

What, No Points? Housewife—If my husband brings company home, would you be prepared? New Cook—Yes, ma'am. I'm all prepared to tell him to take his company to a restaurant!

Real Results! Jane—Last night I questioned my husband for hours about where he'd been. Joan—What did you finally get out of him? Jane—A lovely bracelet!

Paint Fights Germs While paint in general long has been demonstrated to be a discourager of germs by sealing pores in surfaces in which they might take harborage, and by rendering the surfaces easy to sterilize or clean, the English trade journal "Paint" reports that two English paint specialists have discovered that a paint based on a combination of phenol-formaldehyde resin with a very high percentage of polymerized tung oil produced a medium which inhibited the growth of most bacteria even after the film had been dried for six months.

UNFORTUNATELY for us, fortunately for spies, we take certain people for granted. During a war, they continue to do the same things they did before it was declared. So, if you are in war work, don't talk to anyone about your work. That jolly old bartender, or waiter who has served you for years, may be a spy, trained in the art of piecing together scraps of seemingly innocuous information into data of real value to the enemy. A perfect example of this was the Belgian woman, Romany Rondeel, who, during the first World War, was known to the German army of occupation as Canteen Ma. A year before the start of the war, Romany's husband, a carter of produce for neighboring farmers, was incapacitated by disease. So Romany, in spite of her large family, took over her husband's work, picking up the farmers' produce, and delivering it to town. Shortly after war was declared, her husband was killed by the invading Germans. It is safe to say that this act cost the German army thousands of lives, for it turned Romany into one of the Allies' most dangerous spies. When she was approached by a British intelligence officer who had worked his way into the German supply corps, as a quartermaster sergeant, she was ready and willing to do anything to punish those who had killed her Jules. Ready and waiting was the carrier system she had devised to communicate with two of her sons, in the Belgian army. At first she served only as a means of getting the British agent's messages out of the country into Allied hands. She was supplying the canteen at Roulers, where the British agent was stationed, with all of its fruits and vegetables, and taking with her payment, messages which promptly reached the Allies. Also, she sold fruit and vegetables to soldiers in the German army, who, with rough good humor, named her Canteen Ma. A bantering passage of wit with a German soldier told her that an attack was planned at Ypres. A joking inquiry about the welfare of some wag of a German soldier brought the answer: "Oh, him! He's throwing his bad jokes at the Tommies at Fasselendale."

In this way, her British agent learned that another crack company of machine-gunners was in the line. Although she sheltered spies, even when she had German soldiers billeted at her house, she was never detected nor suspected. To the German army, Romany Rondeel, spy extraordinaire, was just old Ma Canteen, from whom they bought fruit and vegetables. Don't talk. To an astute spy, even bits of gossip can be useful.

Industrial Deaths Since Pearl Harbor wartime industrial accidents killed 7,000 more persons than were killed in battle up to January 1, 1944.

Electric Shock Is Used To Ease Woman's Grief
 BOSTON, MASS.—A Boston doctor, Abraham Myerson, reported in the New England Journal of Medicine that four women suffering from pathologic "grief reaction," precipitated by the loss of someone close and dear, were successfully treated by electric shock therapy. "All the patients fell into a vicious circle of nervous and mental disturbance from which it seemed impossible to rescue them by the ordinary therapeutic measures," he stated. Adding that the treatment "does not appear to have a psychologic foundation," he said that apparently "physiologic alterations of an unknown type take place and this is the basis of recovery."

Army Chaplains Suffer Heavy War Casualties
 WASHINGTON.—Only the air forces and the infantry have suffered a larger proportion of casualties among their officers than the chaplain corps, the army reported. From the start of the war to the end of last year, 19 chaplains were killed in battle, 19 wounded, 33 were taken prisoners, one was missing in action, and 31 died of accidents or illness.

Eighty-five chaplains have received a total of three Distinguished Service Crosses, three Croix de Guerre, 26 Silver Stars, 15 Legion of Merit, 39 Purple Hearts and four Soldiers Medals, or 90 decorations in all.

At the end of the year there were 6,998 chaplains, 4,255 in the United States and 2,743 overseas.

Army Horse Awarded Highest Jap Honors
 NEW YORK, N. Y.—The Tokyo radio said a Japanese army horse named Himegame had been awarded the order of the golden kite — one of the highest court decorations — as part of the annual observance of Horse day in Japan. The broadcast said the horse was decorated for "meritorious services" in China.

DEMONSTRATIONS IN CANNING TO BE GIVEN IN TUSCOLA

 ning equipment will be available. Any person who has a pressure cooker and who has not had the gauge tested recently may bring the gauge or cover of the cooker to any of these meetings and have the gauge tested. Homemakers who were fortunate enough to get a new cooker this year are urged to attend a demonstration and learn the proper procedure for operating the new pressure cooker.

Sanilac County.
 Owners of pressure cookers will be interested in a series of clinics in Sanilac county, Miss Isabel Raymond, emergency war food assistant, from the extension office, will be at the following clinics with a pressure cooker gauge tester:
 Tuesday, July 25, Fox's store, Peck, 12:00 to 6:00 p. m.
 Wednesday, July 26, Extension office, Sandusky, 1:00 to 5:00 p. m.
 Thursday, July 27, high school at Brown City, 2:00 to 5:00 p. m.
 Saturday, July 29, Schleicher's Hardware, Marlette, 2:00 to 5:00 p. m.
 Monday, July 31, civic center at Crosswell, 2:00 to 5:00 p. m.
 Tuesday, Aug. 1, high school at Carsonville, 2:00 to 5:00 p. m.
 Thursday, Aug. 3, town hall at Minden City, 1:00 to 3:00 p. m.
 Friday, Aug. 4, town hall at Shabbona, 1:00 to 3:00 p. m.

Quick Freeze
 When meat is frozen rapidly the meat juice sets before much of the water can separate from it. In meat frozen slowly the separation of the juice is greater. Quickly frozen meat, therefore, more nearly resembles fresh meat, after thawing, than does the slowly frozen product. Some investigators believe that there is less damage to the cell structure in quick-freezing meat than occurs where freezing is slow.

Fig Rubber
 Rubber from trees of the fig family is not an altogether new development. One of the first sources of natural rubber was the India rubber tree—"Ficus elastica." Even the cultivated fig, grown chiefly for its fruit, drips a latex containing natural rubber, but the presence of resinous materials has made it commercially unprofitable.

Airplane Accidents
 Two fatal accidents occurred in the domestic operations of scheduled air transport carriers in 1943 resulting in the death of 23 passengers and 7 crew members. The passenger death rate was 1.4 per 100,000 passenger-miles, compared with 3.7 in 1942. During the first 10 months, there were 143 fatal accidents in private and unscheduled flying—a 26 per cent increase over 1942.

Cutting Boards
 Boards cut from green lumber should be cut a full inch in thickness. Green shingle bolts should be sawed so that the butts of shingles will be one-sixteenth inch thicker than seasoned shingles.

Signs of the Times: A young matron, badly in need of a maid telephoned an agency. The next morning a rather personable girl showed up with the announcement that her fee would be $5.40 for the day. The matron, though a bit taken back, assented. Then the girl wanted to know if she could have breakfast before starting work. The matron fixed orange juice, eggs, toast and coffee and was promptly asked for bacon as well. After she had eaten breakfast, the maid continued, "You know of course that I do no heavy work, just light dusting—and that I expect steak for luncheon."
 "You might have told me that before you ate 50 cents' worth of breakfast," answered the housewife, "because under such circumstances I cannot use you."
 "Okay, okay, here's 50 cents for the breakfast, and," stabbed the maid, "here's another dime for yourself."

Exclusive: Some time ago Sherman Billingsley, in response to a masculine demand for an eating place where women would be barred, set aside the Cub Room of the Stork Club for men only at luncheon time. Strictly man food, such as corned beef and cabbage, is served and usually, during the luncheon hour, the place overflows. Well, the other day, Miss Dorothy King, of the Stork press department, recognizing a number of celebrities lunching stag, grabbed a camera and went into the Cub Room. With her entrance conversation ceased and despite the fact that Miss King is a young woman of most pleasing appearance, manner and personality, some diners got up to leave. Now when there are Cub Room luncheon pictures to be taken, a male photographer does the work. Men, it seems, are jealous of the few sanctuaries they have left these days.

Big Town: When George M. Read, clerk of the United States District court and United States commissioner, Detroit, was here a short time ago, he telephoned that he'd be in the office within a few minutes as he was on East Forty-second street, about four blocks away. He didn't show up for an hour and a half, his explanation being that he always gets lost in Times Square. He added that since for ten years he had been trying to get to Wall Street without ending up in the Bronx or over in Brooklyn, he opened New York to too great a mystery for him. Well, I have just received a letter saying that a taxi driver had taken him to the Metropolitan Museum of Art instead of the American Museum of Natural History and he'd had to walk clear across Central park. So he judges that New York is a mystery to some New Yorkers also. But we did have a good visit.

Readjustment: Reports a Hollywood scout: "Lou Costello's long illness is now beginning to pay him handsome dividends. All through his and Bud Abbott's collective careers, the roly-poly clown has had to take all the falls and bumps. In their return cinematic appearance in M-G-M's 'Lost in a Harem,' care has been taken to spare Lou from as much rigorous action as possible. Accordingly, Bert and Lou, working as ham actors in the 'Cafe of All Nations' in 'Port Inferno,' start a riot in the bistro climaxed by Abbott being conked with a breakfast table. It's the first time Costello hasn't been the fall guy and he's enjoying the change immensely as a bit of revenge on his thin-man partner."

Thrift: Permanent guests of low-priced hotels in the mid-town sector used to receive fresh linen every day. Now beds are changed twice a week and the towel issue has been cut down to one hand and one bath towel. Certain guests were quick to find out that if they tipped the chambermaid, they could get an extra towel which was laid away for emergencies. Thus everything was satisfactory. But now, once a month, the maids tip off the housekeeper and she goes around and collects all the spares. Thus, to get a new supply, another tip is necessary. The system is said to be quite satisfactory to the chambermaids but obviously is not so pleasing to the guests. Kicks avail them nothing since if they leave, their rooms can be rented to transients at much higher rates.

End Piece: A New York young woman, visiting in Texas, found "nylons" available at $4 a pair, the explanation being that they had been smuggled across the border. Back home, she washed a pair with most disastrous results. And then she learned that her "nylons" were Mexican celanese. Incidentally, New York black market nylon quotations run from $7 to $12 a pair.

Defective Eyesight Is On Increase in Britain
 LONDON.—Defective eyesight has increased 100 per cent in Britain since the outbreak of war and is largely the result of bad lighting, it was revealed by the registrar of the Joint Council of Qualified Opticians. He said twice the number of people are wearing glasses than before the war, adding: "People are ruining their eyes by having feeble lighting because of bad blackout curtains."

WHERE THEY STAND

Two Swiss business men, interned in Japan, protested to a Japanese official, who smiled apologetically and explained: "I realize that you are neutrals. But you are neutral enemies."
 "What do you consider the British and Americans?" asked the Swiss.
 "They," snapped the Japanese, "are belligerent enemies."
 "What about the Germans?"
 "Oh, they are friendly enemies," replied the Nipponese official.

Home Accidents
 Home accidental deaths totaled about 33,000 in 1943—5 per cent over 1942. Disabling injuries were about 4,950,000—with 130,000 resulting in some permanent disability.

Mosquito Control Measures Given

Victims of mosquitoes may derive some degree of comfort in knowing that of the 20 to 25 different species in Michigan, only the females of a few species attack human beings. According to E. I. McDaniel, Michigan State college entomologist, the males do not have piercing mouthparts and are limited in their feeding to the nectar of flowers and plant juices.

This matter of species is important in organizing control measures on a large scale, although the backyard gardener or householder need not worry whether he is being bitten by Culex pipens or by Aedes vexans. What he wants to know most of all is what he can do about the pests. Here are some suggestions made by Prof. McDaniel:

1. All containers holding water should be emptied at least every third day. Dumps or ditches containing pockets of quiet water should be sprayed with oil or dusted with paris green to kill mosquito larvae which may be present. A systematic effort should be made to check all possible places where water may collect around the premises.

2. If one lives near a swamp or a pond, a satisfactory method of killing mosquito larvae is to dust the surface of the water with paris green. By using only 1/2 pound to an acre of water, there is no health menace and vegetation is not harmed. A knapsack type duster may be used to apply the dust which should be diluted with 10 to 15 parts of talc or other neutral carrier to facilitate distribution. A film of oil on the surface of the water will also kill mosquito larvae. Sometimes, however, oil may injure fish, waterfowl, or vegetation and may be unsightly. A cupful of medicinal oil in a cistern will kill mosquito larvae without affecting the water for household purposes.

3. Adult mosquitoes may be killed on lawns and in the gardens by spraying with nicotine sulfate. This application, if properly made, should provide protection for at least two or three weeks, says Professor McDaniel. Details on the spray application as well as other information on mosquito control are contained in Quarterly Bulletin Article 26-50, "Mosquito Control in Michigan—1944." A copy will be sent upon request to the Bulletin Office, Michigan State College, East Lansing.

Unless freight shipments materially increase by August 1, the Public Service Commission will be petitioned for permission to tear down the freight and passenger depot at Metamora, the New York Central Railroad has notified the Metamora village council.

One of the oldest business establishments in Crosswell changed ownership last week when A. J. Edgar sold his 50-year-old tailoring, cleaning and pressing business on Wells Street, to a young man who served as his apprentice through high school, Don Desjardins.

Members of Vassar council have passed a resolution to call a special election on Monday, September 18, 1944, for the purpose of voting on the question, "Shall the village of Vassar be incorporated as a Home Rule City as provided in Act 279 of 1909 Session Laws of the State of Michigan being section 2228 and following sections of the 1929 compiled laws of Michigan and as amended."

Indians Buy Bonds
 At the year's beginning Indians had put more than $2,000,000 into war bonds through the Office of Indian Affairs. Twenty jurisdictions were willing to buy bonds with tribal funds, but were turned down because the government as trustee already had use of the money. Outside purchases by individuals would swell the total substantially.

Promotes Growth
 Riboflavin promotes growth and is essential for normal nutrition at all ages. Insufficient quantities of riboflavin for any length of time may be followed by digestive disturbances, nervous disorders, and some types of "eye strain" and a lowered general resistance.

Close Work
 Most important work is done at about 16 inches from the eyes.

ATTENTION!!
 ALL HOME CANNERS!
 Before you begin your 1944 canning Good Housekeeping Magazine advises you: use the boiling water bath method for tomatoes and fruits, only. Can all vegetables except tomatoes by the correct use of a pressure cooker to be sure of killing botulinus germs. In the last few years, cases of botulinus food poisoning have cropped up in widely different parts of the country. Buy, borrow, share a pressure cooker—but don't can low-acid vegetables any other way. If you want further information, write Good Housekeeping Magazine, 959 Eighth Ave., New York 19, N. Y.

EVERGREEN.
 A special school meeting was held at the McHugh school in Evergreen township on July 17, to determine whether the children of the district should be sent to the Cass City school again this year. This was the second meeting held this year. The resulting vote was 18 favoring transportation to Cass City and 16 opposed. As the first meeting was considered illegal, the second was called by petition.
