

Tuscola Farm Crops Present Fine Prospects

Gross Cash Value May Go as High as 12 to 14 Million Dollars in 1944

Recent rains will add from one-half million to a million dollars to the value of Tuscola county crops, County Agricultural Agent Norris W. Wilbur estimated Wednesday morning.

Wheat yields have been good, he says, and corn and sugar beets are looking fine. Beans never looked better and there's an unusually large acreage of that crop in Tuscola county. Barley is of good quality and the yield in Tuscola is above the state's average. Oats are fairly good in most parts of the county and the hay crop has been a wonderful one. All in all, crop prospects here are most encouraging.

The gross cash value of Tuscola county's 1942 farm crops was around nine million dollars. Prospects are that the gross cash value this year will be at least one-third more, or twelve million dollars, and it may go as high as fourteen millions. Of course that increase will not all be "velvet," Mr. Norris points out, because farm operating expenses are considerably higher now than they were two years ago.

Staff Sgt. Krug Is Reported Wounded

Mr. and Mrs. Chris Krug of Gagetown have been notified by telegram from Washington that their son, stationed in Italy, has been wounded. "Regret to inform you," states the telegram from Ulio, the Adjutant General, "your son, Staff Sergeant John H. Krug, was seriously wounded in action nine July."

Staff Sergeant Krug is a member of a platoon of infantrymen from the 34th "Red Bull" division of the Fifth Army in Italy. The platoon recently received attention when, cut off from their own company, they succeeded in holding 19 German prisoners until relief came. Sgt. Krug was one of three men who crawled through the German lines and brought a tank destroyer to the scene. The incident was reported in detail in last week's Chronicle.

Mrs. Krug, his mother, has received a letter from Pfc. Goodye, one of the men in Sgt. Krug's company. The letter is dated July 10, the day after Sgt. Krug was wounded. It reads as follows:

"I am one of Sgt. Krug's boys. He has asked me to write you and tell you that he is all right in spite of getting hit in the right arm. For that reason he cannot write."

"I for one, and I think I may speak for the whole platoon, think Sarge Krug is one of the finest men I have ever met, and it has been almost a pleasure to follow him into a good fight with Jerry. There are guys that would send their men in, but not Krug; he leads us in. Although there are a few of us who aren't hit so badly as Krug, there are others who are worse. Any and all who return to duty before him shall look forward to the day when he shall rejoin the company."

"He just wants me to let you know that he is feeling fine."

"I am afraid I will have to close as my eyes are giving out. You see, I broke my glasses."

"A friend and follower of Sgt. Krug."

Service News

Miss Florabelle Wright received a letter from Sgt. Roland Wright, son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Wright and grandson of Mrs. Wm. Wright, now somewhere in France. He has attained the rank of sergeant and is also platoon leader and head machine gunner of his company.

He sleeps in a fox hole with only a German blanket over him and has for a partner a Chinese boy from Brooklyn.

They are getting plenty of rain, he writes, but he does not get wet because they have a pup tent over the fox hole.

He had fresh milk for the first time since he left the States in January of this year. He and a few of his buddies saw some cows in a field and decided to milk them. They obtained three gallons of milk.

He says he is all right and in the best of health.

First Lt. Dwight E. Turner of Cass City, returned from service outside the continental United States, now is being processed through the Army Air Forces Redistribution Station No. 2 in Miami Beach, Florida, where his next assignment will be determined. AAF personnel, enlisted men and officers alike, are assigned to a redistribution station upon their return to the United States, but do not report to the station until completing a furlough or leave of three weeks. Lt. Turner, winner of the Distinguished Flying Cross and the Air Medal with one cluster, is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Aaron Turner, R. F. D. 2, Cass City. During 14 months in the Southwest Pacific, he flew 62 missions as an A-20 and B-25 pilot, shooting down one enemy plane. In 1939, Lt. The public relations office with the Peninsular Base section in Italy announces that Pvt. Geo. W. Cook, son of Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Cosgrove, of R. F. D. 1, Cass City, is a member of the Medical Detachment of the 3rd General Hospital that just had the task of setting up and running a hospital to care solely for French wounded after the break through of the vaunted Gustave and Hitler lines. After a long period in North Africa caring for American wounded, the hospital was called upon to care for the French when the offensive broke the long stalemate before Cassino. The patients now at the hospital are a cross section of the entire French Colonial Empire. These include big strapping blacks from the Lake Chad region who earlier fought their way with the Free French up to Libya; the celebrated Goums so feared by the Germans for their stealthy night fighting; Moroccan, Tunisian, and Algerian riflemen; Tahitians, Senegalese, negroes from the Congo basin, the Cameroons, in short from all corners of the dark continent. The Foreign Legion, so well known in fiction and Hollywood films, provided a large contingent of patients gathered from every corner of the world; all volunteers and tough fighters. Members of the hospital detachment were forced to adapt themselves to foreign customs as well as French and Arabic languages which at times were handicaps but made their experiences interesting and stimulating. Vivid stories will some day be told by 3rd General Hospital personnel concerning their recent experiences.

Loans on 1944 Wheat Available

Loans on wheat of acceptable quality produced in 1944 are available to all farmers, Charles B. Eckfeld, chairman of the Tuscola county AAA committee, announced this week.

"The loan rate for our county this year is $1.46 a bushel," Mr. Eckfeld said. He added that the CCC crop loans will be available on acceptable wheat stored in good farm storage or in approved warehouses. In addition to the $1.46 a bushel loan, a storage allowance of seven cents a bushel will be advanced to farmers storing their wheat on their farms. If, after the maturity of the loan which is April 30, 1945, for all farm-stored wheat, the grain is delivered to the Commodity Credit Corporation in liquidation of the loan, the seven cent storage allowance will be kept by the farmer. This will compensate farmers for the use of their farm storage.

It was threshing time at Tecumseh, Michigan, last Saturday. And the "Lord's wheat," planted by Perry Hayden, Tecumseh flour miller, on land provided by Henry Ford, again demonstrated the truth of John 12:24 and its law of natural increase.

"It's the Lord's wheat, not mine," is Hayden's way of explaining why his plantings have been half as thick as nearby "stands" and yet produce 50-fold which is about double the average annual Michigan yield.

Hayden, a Quaker, has dedicated the entire crop to a holy purpose. He remarks casually on the fact that he has been "lucky" enough to plant on low valley soil, and get fat yields in drought and dry seasons when the highland crops "burned up" or "blew down" in high winds. And yet the next year or two he planted on highland, just in time to avoid a succession of valley floods that destroyed all crops along the streambeds.

When drought or floods threaten, Hayden finds peace in this philosophy: "I'm not worried. It's all the Lord's wheat. He can do what he wants with it."

Ex-Governor Chase S. Osborn, "Michigan's Grand Old Man," had returned to Michigan from his winter home in Possum Poke, Georgia. In the Founder's Room, Book-Cadillac Hotel, President Warren E. Bow of Wayne university concluded on page 7.

The proudest title in the Army

IT CONSISTS of two simple words.

Yet every soldier who's worth his salt covets it.

This title is simply:

"Good Soldier."

It isn't just happenstance that so many women in the WAC have earned this title—the proudest in the Army.

For wherever Wacs are working, both here and overseas, there you find a job well done. And done with a spirit so gallant and fine that high Army officers everywhere say of the WAC...

"They're soldiers. Good soldiers!"

The Surgical Dressing staff reports their first quota filled ahead of schedule, but the quota has been doubled and the time shortened this month so everyone is urged to give as much time as possible. Workers were spurred on to greater effort by the word last week that the son of one of our staff members was wounded in the Normandy invasion. Jack Beach sent his mother word that he had a severe face wound but that with the skill of a fine surgeon, he had hopes that there would be not even a scar to show. Mrs. Beach received the Purple Cross for her son last week. It is even possible that the dressings used for Jack may have come from this chapter. So we are accepting with willingness the big increase in quota and hope to have it finished on time. Don't let pleasure interfere with this work on Thursday and Friday from two to five o'clock.

Change Foods

Enzymes or ferments are chemical agents normally present in fruits, vegetables, meats, fish and other foods. They are also produced by growing micro-organisms. These enzymes cause or stimulate chemical changes in foods. Because of the action of enzymes, freshly slaughtered beef and lamb become more tender when ripened or aged properly. On the other hand, enzymes are also partially responsible for old flavors in stored foods and for the rancidity that may develop in frozen pork fat.

Lost Time
Workers' injuries since December 1, 1941, are responsible for the loss of four times as many man hours of production as lost by strikes. Damage and destruction of equipment in workers' accidents far exceeds the value of American cargoes that have been sunk.

Major Disasters
Major disasters in 1943 included three railroad wrecks with a combined death toll of more than 200, two coal mine explosions killing a total of 100 and a hotel fire with 51 fatalities.

Cabbage Vitamins
There are many vitamins in cabbage—some thiamin (vitamin B1), some riboflavin (vitamin B2), some niacin, and some vitamin C. Very green cabbage throws in vitamin A for good measure. Calcium, iron and some phosphorus also add to the cabbage's value.

Steel Consumers
New York, Pennsylvania, Ohio, Indiana, Illinois, Michigan, Wisconsin, Texas and California together consume nearly 80 per cent of the steel produced in a typical peacetime year.

Alcohol Makes Good Auto Fuel

Much Research Remains to Be Done Before It Can Be Made Available.

WASHINGTON. — With minor changes, your car will run on alcohol—when it's available. This is news to a nation with less than an estimated 20-year reserve of known petroleum resources. America, with 27,000,000 passenger automobiles alone, is planning to build a 1,250-mile pipeline to draw oil from the Middle East and is working on ways of getting gasoline from coal and shale.

The first comprehensive tests of alcohol as an automotive fuel have produced an official government report which begins flatly: "Alcohol is a motor fuel."

Whereas oil deposits are not inexhaustible, a new crop of alcohol can be produced every growing season.

Not Very Soon. But don't expect alcohol to supplant gasoline as a motor fuel soon. "The simplest engine fuel today is still gasoline," says Alex Taub, chief of the engineering division of the foreign economic administration which ran the tests on alcohol while looking for a way to make motor fuel from big Latin-American crops.

Alcohol, too, is still on the list of critical war materials. It goes into explosives, synthetic rubber and many other war items. And much research remains to be done.

The tests were made at the bureau of standards with motorcar engines of three different popular makes. It had been commonly assumed that alcohol made motors wear out sooner. It did, but it had been mixed with gasoline and a "binder" to fix the mixture. In the tests, alcohol not mixed with gasoline caused less engine wear than did gasoline.

The results as shown in Taub's report give ethyl alcohol (the common industrial kind) the following points over gasoline:

1. Less bore wear on the engine.
2. Less evaporation.
3. No adverse effect on standard fuel pumps.
4. With ether or acetone added, better starting qualities.
5. "Softer," slower burning, allowing a higher compression ratio and more power.

On 'Debit' Side. On the other hand, it was found that:

1. Alcohol takes 3 1/2 times as much heat to vaporize as does gasoline. This is overcome by adding ether or acetone—both can be made in association with alcohol—to enable faster starting. This may mean, says Taub, that simpler heating systems may be used.

2. At first, distribution of alcohol vapor from the carburetor to the cylinders through the manifold was a problem. But it has been for gasoline vapor, too, because in a simple manifold, vapor reached the cylinders unevenly and resulted in uneven, wasted power until alterations were made through the years. But there is a pattern to this unevenness, and that of alcohol is the reverse of gasoline. Taub says a reversion to the manifold system of 15 years ago is indicated.

If your car were converted to alcohol, the manifold probably would have to be changed.

Ethyl alcohol can be made from anything that ferments—grain, yams, potatoes, sawdust, woodpulp waste—even garbage. The question is how to make it cheaply enough.

Leaps From Locomotive, Saves Baby on the Track

ROSEVILLE, CALIF. — Brake-man "Tug" McDaniel jumped from the front step of a locomotive near here and snatched to safety a baby that an instant later would have been killed.

The heavy freight, coming down the Sierra Nevada slope recently, was moving so fast that it could not have been stopped before it would have hit the child on the track. McDaniel was able to outrun the slowing train.

The child's mother, on a high bank of the right-of-way, fainted.

2,000,000 Berliners Are Reported to Be Roofless

SWISS-GERMAN FRONTIER. — Allied air raids have wiped out or heavily damaged virtually all of Berlin's dwellings except those in the northern suburbs; leaving 2,000,000 Berliners roofless, according to Swiss travelers returning from the German capital.

These travelers, who witnessed the recent American daylight raids on Berlin, told of anti-aircraft units, no longer able to maintain their nests on the caved-in roofs, being mounted on trucks which were rushed to areas of the heaviest bombing.

Hungary to Discharge Half Its Jewish Workers

NEW YORK. — The Germans' puppet Hungarian government has decreed the immediate discharge of 50 per cent of Hungary's Jewish workers and ordered "a certain number" of Jewish-owned firms made available to bomb victims. German dispatches heard by U. S. monitors said recently. The government earlier ordered Jews to wear distinctive signs and refrain from using public transportation.

Graceful Dresses The woman with a large bust should not wear dresses which fit the upper part of the figure smoothly. She should choose instead those with a small amount of fullness to have the fabric fall in graceful lines. She also should avoid fitting the armhole too closely. Restrained curved lines may be created by soft draping or an easy fullness.

Make Army Sleds In Eskimo Fashion

Auto Workers Conquer Hard Wartime Problem.

DETROIT—They called back the old-timers of the automobile industry and taught them the lore of the Eskimo, to do a wartime job for the army.

"They," the automotive council for war production revealed recently, were officials of the Studebaker corporation, and the old-timers were the men who had built motorcar bodies in the days when they were mostly wood instead of steel. The job was to make the sturdy 12½-foot army sleds used in subzero operations, and to make them like the Eskimos fashioned their smaller dog sleds.

"Making these 200-pound sleds posed a unique wartime production problem to the industry," a company official said. "Rawhide knots had to be substituted for bolts, a common practice in making smaller dog sleds but seldom used on vehicles of this size."

Rawhide bindings were necessary, an engineer explained, to meet the need for a certain flexibility and also because bolts often snap under the punishing cold of an Arctic winter and hence were unsatisfactory.

"Binding the sleds to the bows permitted the runners to follow curves behind a tow car, whereas solidly attached runners skidded," the engineer said. "But it looked like a tough one for mass production."
"The assembly job called for 83 knots tied from rawhide strips made pliable by soaking. And wet rawhide is slippery stuff to handle."
But the job was done. Production crews trained other specialists who concentrated on tying knots. Skilled woodworkers were equipped with modern power tools—saws, drills and sanders. Jigs and templates speeded shaping and forming of the wood pieces.

As a result assembly time on the sleds was reduced to less than half that required when the company first took over the job.

ONLY GOOD ONES

On a visit to the cemetery one day little Audrey was showing her mother how well she had learned to read by reading aloud one after another of the epitaphs. After the 12th, she stopped, a puzzled frown on her face.

"What's the matter, dear?" asked her mother. "Have you found one you can't read?"
"No, mother," replied little Audrey. "That's what I was looking for, but they don't seem ever to bury the sinners."

Recipe for Dry Suds

Here is the formula for making dry suds: Measure five cups of water into a saucepan and add a half cup of soap—either shaved bar soap, soap flakes, or soap scraps. Put this mixture over the fire and allow it to come to a boil. Remove and let the mixture cool. The result will be a soap jelly. Then, whip up the soap jelly with an egg beater until it becomes a stiff unguent lather.

Grow Vegetables

Grow plenty of green and yellow vegetables, and don't forget those which can be eaten raw.

Cold Meat Warms Up for Main Dish (See Recipes Below)

Meat Varieties

One of the most difficult tasks that faces the housewife is that of getting variety into the meat dish.

Meat, in itself, is delicious, but if served in the same way, with the same vegetables or without condiments, occasionally, it smacks of sameness. There are many who will always bake ham without varying the glaze to add interesting flavor to the meat. There are others who don't realize that a bit of natural, home-grown herbs will pep up the good, old-fashioned pot roast. Some always serve luncheon meats cold on a slab of bread or with potato salad, and so on. For once, let's try things new and interesting:

Liverwurst Leaf.

(Serves 6)

½ pound bologna
2 tablespoons chili sauce
4 tablespoons mayonnaise
1 pound lemon juice
1 pound liver sausage
3 tablespoons finely chopped pickle
4 tablespoons chopped celery
2 teaspoons onion juice
1 loaf unsliced white bread
3 tablespoons creamed butter

Put bologna through food chopper; add chili sauce, 2 tablespoons of mayonnaise and lemon juice. Mix to a smooth paste. Mash liver sausage, add chopped pickle, celery, onion, Worcestershire sauce, remaining mayonnaise and mix to a smooth paste. Cut crust from bread, slice three inch lengthwise slices. Place one slice on baking sheet and spread with bologna paste. Top with remaining slice of bread. Spread entire loaf with creamed butter. Bake in a moderate (350 degree) oven 30 minutes. Place on platter and garnish with stuffed olives and tomato wedges. Serve with:

Creamy Mustard Sauce.
½ cup sugar
½ teaspoon salt
2 egg yolks
1 cup scalded milk
¼ cup prepared mustard
2 tablespoons vinegar
1 small sprig chopped thyme
½ teaspoon allspice
¼ teaspoon celery salt
½ teaspoon paprika
Dash of tabasco
6 slices ripe olives

Mix sugar, salt and egg yolks together, beating well. Add to scalded milk in top of double boiler. Mix together mustard, vinegar, thyme, allspice, celery salt, paprika and tabasco. Add slowly to milk and egg mixture. Cook over hot water, stirring constantly until mixture thickens. Just before serving garnish top of sauce with olives.

Extra Attractions: Potato chips make nice snacks when there's a rosette of cream cheese on each one of them. Simply soften cheese and force through a pastry tube.

Try a green salad with tender green scallions from the garden, and toss together with a sour cream dressing. It's delicious!

Dredge bacon pieces in corn meal; fry until crisp. Then add onion and flour for thickening and milk for the gravy. Umm...

Roll cooked pitted prunes in orange-sugar or lemon-sugar to use as roll filling.

Make bacon biscuits (adding ½ cup chopped bacon to standard biscuit recipe). Top baked biscuits with creamed asparagus or carrots for an inviting luncheon dish.

Top chocolate ice cream with chopped toasted almonds for a good tasting dessert.

Chopped green peppers and pitted ripe olives introduce flavor and texture contrast to fish salad.

Barbecued Frankfurters.

(Serves 6)

1 medium-sized onion, sliced
3 tablespoons salad oil
1 tablespoon sugar
1 teaspoon dry mustard
Salt and pepper
¼ cup catsup
¼ cup vinegar
1 tablespoon Worcestershire sauce
Drop of tabasco sauce
12 frankfurters

Lightly brown onion in salad oil. Add combined remaining ingredients, except frankfurters. Simmer 15 minutes. Split frankfurters and place in shallow baking dish. Pour over barbecue sauce and bake in moderate oven (375 degrees) 30 minutes, basting several times.

From main dishes and salads we go to desserts. These are designed to be perfect foil, light endings to meals. You'll find them flavor-perfect and easy to make:

Red Currant and Raspberry Ice Cream. (Makes 2½ cups)
2 pounds red currants, stemmed
1 pint red raspberries
1 cup granulated sugar
1 pint cream or evaporated milk, whipped
¼ teaspoon salt
½ teaspoon vanilla

Stem currants, wash and drain. Wash, pick over, hull raspberries. Combine both fruits, crushing coarsely. Sprinkle sugar on fruit, then let stand 1 hour. Then turn mix in enamel saucepan, cover and cook over low flame 10 minutes, stirring occasionally to prevent scorching. Remove, squeeze through double cheesecloth. To this add the following syrup:

½ cup granulated sugar
¼ cup cold water

Stir sugar and water, bring to boiling point and boil 5 minutes. Remove, stir into first mixture, then strain again through cheesecloth. Chill, fold in whipped cream, salt and vanilla and freeze in hand freezer. Use three parts ice to one part rock salt. Freeze until solid, then pack in four parts ice and one part rock salt and let mellow for two hours.

*Fig Ice Box Pudding.

(Serves 10)

2 cups dried white figs
1½ cups water
1 cup granulated sugar
1 teaspoon cinnamon
Few grains salt
1 tablespoon plain gelatin
¼ cup cold water
1 tablespoon lemon juice
1½ cups cream or evaporated milk, whipped
Lady fingers
Cornstarch custard

Cover figs with boiling water, let stand about 10 minutes. Drain, clip stems and grind or chop figs fine. Add 1½ cups cold water, bring to a boil and cook about 5 minutes or until water is evaporated. Remove from heat, add gelatin moistened in ¼ cup cold water. Stir to dissolve. Cool, add lemon juice and blend. Whip cream and beat into fig mixture. Line sides of a 1½ quart ring mold with lady fingers. Pour fig-cream mixture into mold. Chill until firm. Unmold onto serving plate and fill center with cornstarch custard or serve plain.

EXTRA! BARBER GETS A CLOSE SHAVE—FROM BULLET

Maybe somebody was trying to get even with Henry Dast, Bay Port barber, for a too close shave or a too stiff fine — anyway a leather belt which he was wearing at the time saved him from serious intestinal wounds. This all happened when Mr. Dast was returning to work following lunch when a stray 22-calibre bullet struck him. He received a bad bruise, requiring treatment at the Bad Axe hospital. A check by state police officers failed to find the offender.—Sebawaing Blade.

Normandy—British troops close on German snipers in bitter fighting inside battered stronghold of Caen.

EUROPE:
Spotlight Switches

The spotlight of fighting in Normandy continued swinging back and forth between the Americans on the west and the British on the east, with first one, and then the other, exerting the strongest pressure against the German lines in the general drive into the interior.

Focal point of recent fighting was in the area south of the Nazi defensive pivot of Caen, where Gen. Bernard Montgomery's British forces smashed through German defenses into open tank country after 3,000 planes had dropped 7,000 tons of bombs on the enemy's troop concentrations and supply lines.

While the British break offered Montgomery's Tommies open ground for full use of their armored formations, U. S. troops fighting below St. Lo in the west were forced to continue pressing against the countryside's once picturesque, now hazardous, hills and hedgerows, from which stubborn German units slowed up the American advance.

Reach 'Gothic Line'

Picking their way cautiously through extensive mine fields, and inching ahead under the heavy shelling of the enemy, Allied troops drew up before the Germans' vaunted "Gothic line" in northern Italy, one of their last defensive systems guarding the rich industrial and agricultural country beyond.

While the Allied armies in France and Italy continued to make slow progress against bitter opposition, the Russians maintained their sizeable advances in the east, their tactic of massing strength at certain points along the 500-mile front to break through for big mileage before the enemy can set himself for the attack, contributing to their latest gains in southern Poland.

As the Germans were pushed back to the "Gothic line" in Italy, U. S. troops moved in on the big seaport of Livorno (Leghorn) on the west coast, British Tommies punched out gains along the mountainous backbone in the center, and Polish units swept up the east coast.

FOOD:
Storage Peaks

As of July 1, the U. S. larder was well stocked, with supplies of meats, dairy products, fruits and vegetables at high levels and appreciably above those of the same date last year.

Smaller lend-lease purchases and hot weather tended to decrease the movement of pork during June, contributing to the buildup of holdings of 799,516,000 pounds, highest since 1929. Despite decreases in storage over the preceding month, stocks of beef, lamb and mutton were at record levels for July, with beef at 205,502,000 pounds, and lamb and mutton at 14,613,000 pounds. Poultry holdings stood at 131,083,000 pounds, far above last year's 25,379,000 pounds.

Although down from last year, butter in storage totaled 106,922,000 pounds, and cheese was up to 166,802,000 pounds. At 420,861,000 pounds, lard stocks were at the second highest level on record. At 132,513,000 pounds, fruit holdings were well above 1943, as were vegetable stocks of 115,236,000 pounds.

BLAST:

It was 10:20 p. m. when a great bolt of flame shot into the air above the naval ammunition loading depot of Port Chicago, 35 miles south of San Francisco, Calif., where explosives were being put aboard ship. Like claps of thunder, two terrific blasts followed, scattering parts of one of the ship's superstructure for at least a mile.

About 250 men loading the vessels were killed, and at least another 100 on the piers and in the barracks nearby were believed lost.

PACIFIC:
Jap Crisis

With Hideki Tojo declaring "Japan has come to an unprecedentedly great national crisis—the real war is yet to be fought," Tokyo announced changes in the leadership of the enemy's military machine, with Tojo himself being relieved of his post as chief of staff, but keeping his multiple offices of premier and minister of war and transportation.

Even as the Japs made their changes in command, the country mourned the loss of Saipan, with all theaters and amusement centers closed, while U. S. forces which overran the strong defensive outpost prepared for further assaults against the enemy's inner belt of fortifications guarding the homeland and Asiatic mainland.

Latest target of concentrated U. S. effort was Guam, with both light and heavy naval forces battering the defensive installations of the once American island, which the Japs overran after Pearl Harbor.

In northern Dutch New Guinea, Jap forces pinned between U. S. beachheads on the coast, probed against the tightening ring.

SALARIES:
$537,724 Tops

Receiving total compensation of $537,724, the name of Pres. Eugene G. Grace of the Bethlehem Steel corporation topped the incomplete list of personal incomes for 1942 released by the U. S. treasury.

Behind Grace was Thomas J. Watson, head man of the International Business Machines Corp., who drew $428,528, and John B. Hawley Jr., of Northern Ordnance of Minnesota, with $400,000.

Movie stars were high on the list, with Claudette Colbert receiving $360,000; Fred MacMurray, $347,333; Bing Crosby, $336,111 and Comedian Bob Hope, $248,333.

BUSINESS:
War's Toll

No less than 1½ million business enterprises in the U. S. have been affected by war conditions, the U. S. department of commerce reported, with 1,073,000 closing their doors and another 541,000 reorganized or transferring ownership.

The high mortality does not reflect a general depression of business, the department said, since sales and profits in most lines for small as well as large enterprises have been maintained at prosperous levels. Helping to counter-balance the loss was the organization of 572,000 new businesses during the period.

Declaring that firms employing four people or less constituted 95 per cent of the businesses which closed their doors, the department said that many of these smaller operators either found more lucrative compensation in war industries or were inducted into service.

DISEASE

Infected and improperly processed meats sold through Black markets have caused an increase in undulant cases in the United States. About 2 per cent of those affected die. The disease is transmitted from animals to humans, either through direct contact or through meat or dairy products.

Another report showed deaths from tuberculosis are declining year by year. The 1943 figure was 41.9 deaths per 100,000 persons, as compared with 43.1 in 1942.

CIVILIAN GOODS:
Allow Manufacture

Manufacturers with available facilities and manpower will be able to enter into the production of approximately 124 scarce consumer articles August 15 under the limited reconversion program drawn up by the War Production board.

Under the plan, whereby manufacturers would be denied output of any goods if they refused to turn out any of the listed materials for which they were equipped, articles to be produced include cooking utensils of glass, aluminum, enamelware and stainless steel; knives and forks; spray guns; lunch boxes; office machinery and supplies, and plumbing fixtures and sanitary ware.

Although the plans do not call for the production of heavy goods like refrigerators, washing machines, etc., permission has been granted for the manufacture of quantities of bicycles, sewing machines, shotguns and vacuum cleaners.

Auto Production

Even as the WPB's limited reconversion program was about to go into effect, the nation's automobile manufacturers frowned upon plans for preparation for a resumption of production of civilian vehicles.

Declaring they were too deeply steeped in war work, the manufacturers rejected proposals permitting the placement of orders for new materials, parts and machinery for future civilian production, and they discouraged experimentation with a postwar model because of a shortage of engineers and technicians.

The manufacturers also opposed the limited production of civilian automobiles on the ground that less than half of the normal output would be uneconomical, and parts would have to be supplied by 3,000 to 5,000 subcontractors now in war work.

People in the News

Recent visitor of the Fifth U. S. air force in the Southwest Pacific was Charles A. Lindbergh, who studied the workings of twin engine fighters and bombers in connection with the planning of new designs.

During his stay, "Lindy" also offered eager U. S. fliers tips on greater operating efficiency, as reflected in gas conservation.

While flying wing to a squadron commander known for his gas conservation, the "Lone Eagle" had 200 more gallons in his tank than he did when their formation landed.

WORLD FUND:
Stability Is Goal

Aiming to preserve peace by stabilizing the internal economic conditions of the various countries, 44 Allied nations came to agreement on an $8,800,000,000 fund for providing currency to different states to settle trade balances and participate in world commerce without being forced to exchange their own money below its normal value when it was not in demand.

With the U. S. share in the fund $2,750,000,000, each nation has been assigned a certain quota to contribute to the fund, of which gold must make up 25 per cent of the amount, or 10 per cent of the country's total stock of the metal. Great Britain's share is $1,300,000,000, and Russia's $1,200,000,000.

Following approval of the stabilization fund, representatives of the 44 Allied nations worked on plans for a $10,000,000,000 world bank, purpose of which would be to advance long-term loans for reconstruction and development of industry in different countries, or guarantee of such loans by private institutions.

Both plans must be approved by congress before the U. S. can participate.

PEARL HARBOR:
New Investigations

Because of the important military nature of much of the evidence to be presented, the navy announced that the hearings of its special board of inquiry into the Pearl Harbor disaster of December 7, 1941, would be closed to the public.

Organized following congress' order for an inquiry into Pearl Harbor, the naval board is headed by Adm. Orin G. Murfin, once commandant at the big Pacific base, while an army investigating committee will be under Lieut. Gen. George Grunert, who saw service in the Philippines before the outbreak of the war.

Deposed as commander of Pearl Harbor after the Japs' attack, Rear Adm. Husband E. Kimmel welcomed a full investigation of the disaster, claiming that the whole story has never been told.

MISCELLANY

TELEPHONES: Three more groups have just been added by the Office of War Utilities to the priority list for telephone service. These are "producers of substantial quantities of food," sick persons who need a phone to call the doctor, and wives of servicemen, in certain cases. Returned veterans whose telephones have been removed during their absence will be given preference.

Carefree Print
for Play Dress

A carefree border print in waffle pique is the right fabric for a cool summer play dress. This peasant dress with its brief sleeves and scooped out waist is latest style news, prescribed for fun under the sun. Sewing for yourself is economical because of the small amount of material used, and patriotic because you will have saved money for War Bonds. This or a similar pattern is available at your local store. Back the Attack—Buy More Than Before.

When water freezes it tends to freeze as pure water, pushing aside, as it were, any lime, iron, sulphur, or other substances dissolved or suspended in it. When the water in meat juice freezes it does the same thing, pushing aside the material that gives color, flavor, and food value to the juice. Some of the changes in composition are not reversible, that is, the normal meat juice is not reformed when the meat is thawed. The character of thawed meat and the quantity of drip from it are associated with the amount of this change in composition, resulting from freezing.

Camouflage Waistline

A thick waistline can be camouflaged by the use of panels which carry down from the bodice into the skirt, giving a vertical slenderizing emphasis. This is especially true when no belt crosses the panel. Half belts are good, and inconspicuous self belts are permissible. Color contrasts can be used effectively here—a light color inset as a panel running the length of the garment is slimming; so are redingote ensembles of a darker coat and a print or lighter plain dress.

Resin and Rosin
Resin is a thick, usually amber colored liquid, which exudes from many trees and plants, particularly following an injury. It is composed of acids which form after oxidation of terpenes. The resin from these trees is distilled to obtain turpentine and rosin. Rosin is a solid, amber colored, brittle substance. It is used in manufacturing paper, soap, paint and varnish, and a long list of other products.

ferred upon Osborn the honorary degree of doctor of science in natural science, the seventh honorary degree to be so presented to him by an institution of higher learning.

Marshall Frank L. Kemmer of the University of Michigan, described Osborn as "the friendliest of men, yet he loves a fight; a true democrat, devoted to liberty, yet he is by instinct an absolute monarch; despite the force of his character, aggressiveness, his neighbors know him as an incurable sentimentalist."

Chase Osborn at 84 is less vigorous than usual now. He apologizes that he is "blind and paralyzed," but nevertheless, he sees more, travels more, thinks more, writes more, knows more than many a man in his prime, and with all faculties unimpaired. To Chase, long life and happiness!

Wednesday, July 26, was the 25th anniversary of Oscar Olander with the State Police. The organization was created Apr. 10, 1917, with Col. Roy C. Vandercreek as its commanding officer by assignment from the Michigan War Preparedness Board. It was a war-time emergency, Michigan State college loaned property for state headquarters.

During Commissioner Olander's service, the State Police have acquired a national reputation for efficiency. Political interference is non-existent. Posts are housed in permanent buildings. Equipment is modern. Michigan takes great pride in the Michigan State Police—and Commissioner Olander.

The State Bar of Michigan, professional organization for attorneys, has been widely commended by state officials, state legislators and newspaper editors for its reaffirmation of ethics whereby lawyer-members of the State Legislature are restrained from accepting fees from persons or groups having special interest in legislative actions.

There have been rumors at Lansing, some of which were linked to the grand jury investigations, that lawyer-members had accepted fees from regular clients who were affected currently by pending legislation. The action by the State Bar's committee on ethics makes it clear that such a practice has been, and is now, considered to be unethical. Like Caesar's wife, lawyer-legislators should be above suspicion.

Actually, it is understood that the re-affirmation has been considered for nearly one year and was not prompted by any investigations into alleged legislative graft at Lansing.

Associate Justice Frank Murphy of the United States Supreme court prefers the rough and tumble of practical politics to the cloister of the bench. Latest evidence comes from Mrs. VanAuken, Detroit democratic national committeewoman, who reports that Justice Murphy desired nomination for vice president. . . . STAINED SINK

Question: How can I clean brown spots from my sink? They have appeared around the drain.

Answer: The cure will depend somewhat on the nature of the stain. Try filling the sink with water—after you have finished with it for the evening—and mix in two cups or so of Javelle water or some similar bleaching liquid containing chlorine; grocers usually have two or three kinds in stock. Let it stand all night. If this does not work try continued rubbing with a paste with kerosene; ammonia also would help. One of my readers had success with a mixture of salt and lemon juice.

Waxed Floors

Question: My oak floors have been given several coats of a penetrating wax finish. What is the best way to clean soiled spots at the entrances to rooms and stairs? Is it advisable to use a non-rubbing wax to touch up the spots?

Answer: The easiest way to clean the kind of floors you have is to moisten some cheesecloth with a liquid wax (not the non-rubbing variety); go over the floors with this, turning out a clean part of the cloth frequently. Polish with a thin coat of paste wax, allowing it to dry hard before polishing. You may be able to get a booklet on the care of floors from the manufacturer of your own particular finishing wax.

DAMAGE FROM OXALIC ACID

Question: After removing varnish from a mahogany mirror frame, I stood the mirror in my bathtub while applying a solution of oxalic acid to the frame. When I attempted to clean the tub I found the acid had roughened and eaten into the porcelain.

lain. Is there anything I can do to restore the tub to its original condition?

Answer: I am sorry to say that the damage to the porcelain finish on the tub is permanent. Never use a tub or sink for acid mixtures of this kind, as most acids have a tendency to destroy the porcelain finish on plumbing fixtures.

Holes in Furniture

Question: I have seen a substance used for filling the holes in antique furniture that gives good results. It is not as brittle as a shellac stick. I think that it is a combination of beeswax and something else, with color added. Do you know what it is?

Answer: There are many different substances; one of them is a mixture of fine sawdust or wood flour and varnish, with oil stain added to match the color of the wood. Wood putty, on sale at many of the better stocked paint stores, also is used for this type of work.

Attic Stairway

Question: The stairway to our attic starts inside the closet of one of the bedrooms and is not closed off by a door. The closet is cold in winter. The attic floor is insulated, and there are two small windows in this area. Should I put a door at the foot opening into the closet?

Answer: A door in the closet may prove impractical; a hatch-type door at the top of the stair would be better. To avoid any possible accumulation of moisture in the attic area above the insulation, it is advisable to keep the attic windows open somewhat.

Musty Odor

Question: Our brick house on a lake is used on week-ends only. On opening it after an absence there is a strong musty odor. There is no basement. A four-foot space under the house is damp at times. Would insulation help?

Answer: No; what you need is waterproofing. This should begin with a concrete floor under the house, for it is the dampness of that space under the floor that is making the trouble. Also, the space should be thoroughly ventilated. Continued dampness may be rotting the woodwork; better make an inspection.

LIFEGUARDS ON OTHER BEACHES

Stalwart young men who once held themselves in readiness to save lives at Michigan's state park beaches are now saving democracy on the beaches of Normandy, Italy, and the islands of the Pacific, and the conservation department has erected signs like the above, at Grand Haven state park, to warn bathers that they must look after their own safety. Information about air and water temperatures is a new service this season. Early season beach attendance figures are above last year's but fall far short of peacetime totals.

Raglan Sleeve
The raglan sleeve is good for the woman wishing to conceal big arms. Short sleeves are a poor choice, but just below the elbow and long sleeves fitted easily above and snugly at the wrist are more becoming. Sheer fabrics should not be used. Small thin arms may be camouflaged by a short sleeve, not too generously cut, which adds width to the upper arm. A three-quarter or below-elbow sleeve also gives an illusion of width.

Indian Population
Total Indian population is estimated at about 360,000. About 53,000 are actively in the war—23,000 in the armed services, 30,000 in war work. The birth rate is rising, is higher than the level for all population groups. The annual death rate has been cut in half but is still above the figure for white Americans. Rejections for the armed services run about 5 per cent.

Water an Antiseptic
The therapeutic value of hot water has been recognized since ancient times. Hot water and soap have a definite antiseptic value in the treatment of minor cuts and abrasions, and cleanliness is the first requirement in avoiding infection.

Workers' Fatigue
The loss to industry from workers' fatigue is estimated at two billion dollars yearly. Poor vision and inefficient seeing constitute a major cause of fatigue.

Yanks Let Japs Share in Water

Sergeant Tells of Dramatic Fight in Jungles of Guadalcanal.

CHICAGO.—How an American battalion on Guadalcanal for two weeks permitted the enemy to drink of their meager water supply was revealed here by Sgt. Donald R. Wright, one of the five fighting Wright brothers of Oak Park, who is now stationed at Camp Wolters, Tex.

"Often we would see a Jap sneak up to our tiny water hole, dip out a helmet of water and dash off into the jungle," Wright declared. "But we didn't fire upon those Japs for fear they might fall into the water hole and further pollute the little water we did have."

With this explanation, Wright launched into his account of the jungle fight of the communications soldiers for Guadalcanal. He told of the push into the jungle, the storming of Mount Austen and how his battalion signaled for supplies by laying their shirts in a cross on the strategic hilltop.

Helped Bury Brothers.

Also, he related how he and his brother, Capt. Howard C. Wright, buried a third brother after a battle on Guadalcanal, Lieut. Col. William C. Wright. Those three of Oak Park's Wright brothers were in the first great landing on Jap-held territory.

Sergeant Wright landed on Guadalcanal December 7, 1942, on the first anniversary of Pearl Harbor. In the same division were his two brothers. But on the morning of December 18, the Japs got Colonel Wright when he went out in front with a patrol. The sergeant was in reserve then, three miles behind the front. But Howard helped bring him out at night. Two officers were wounded in a desperate effort to rescue him during the four hours he lived under Jap fire.

Donald and Howard helped bury their brother near the trail now called "Wright Road," then pressed forward in the attack.

"I was in the approach march for two days," recalls Donald, who was a battalion message center chief. "We had camouflaged our faces and were ready for anything. It was hot and always dark in the jungle. We were green troops and the jungle sounds were terrifying at first."

Jap Snipers Busy.

"Jap snipers fired on us occasionally, but their aim was poor and we kept moving forward. I carried my message center equipment and a Tommy gun."

"We maintained constant communication with our rear by means of new assault wire."

"We approached Mount Austen at dawn, and climbed up a steep trail to the top in single file before the surprised Japs knew we were anywhere in the vicinity. We immediately deployed on the hilltop and dug our foxholes. Lead flew at us thick and fast."

"For two weeks we were under fire. We expended our C rations on the second day and lived on D rations (chocolate bars) for two days. Sanitary conditions were bad. We had little water, and what we had we shared with the Japs."

"During the heavy Jap assaults we ran out of ammunition. We radioed for rifle and machine-gun ammunition to be dropped to us by parachute. In making the steep climb up Mount Austen, however, we had to discard our radio panel."

Nonfiction Tops List of Books Read in Britain

LONDON, ENGLAND.—For every novel or volume of short stories, the British public is reading from 7 to 10 nonfiction books.

London bookstores reported recently that not a single novel is included in some of their weekly best seller lists.

War books, autobiographies, histories, art, criticism and poetry are among the leaders.

Here are some of the current favorites: "The Truth About Munich" by Lord Maugham; "A Little Place in the Country" by Marjorie Hessel Tiltman; "Desert Journey," a photographic record, by George Rodger; "Weatherwise," a study of climate, by J. H. Willis; "A Survey of Russian History," by B. H. Sumner; "The Cruel Solstice," a collection of poetry, by Sidney Keyes, who died in action recently; "My Long Life," Douglas Sladen's autobiography.

Like Father, Like Son; Wear Identical Uniforms

NASHVILLE.—An army captain and his five-year-old son, in identical uniforms, paused before a movie box office.

The young lady ticket seller smiled brightly at the captain and asked, "One serviceman's ticket and one child's?"

The officer hesitated a moment, and then in response to a quick tugging at his fingertips said, "No. Two servicemen's, please."

Bacterial Growth

Bacteria, molds and yeasts, the chief causes of most food spoilage, grow rapidly at temperatures around 70 degrees Fahrenheit and slowly between 33 degrees and 40 degrees. Some grow very slowly at temperatures between 15 and 20 degrees but there appears to be no microbial action at temperatures below 15 degrees. Fresh foods should be chilled promptly and kept cold until properly frozen.

Grown From Crowns

Both the black and purple raspberries grow from central crowns and are usually kept in hills. Last summer the canes should have been tipped at 18 to 24 inches, to grow side shoots. This spring dead canes and weak growth should be cut out. The lateral branches on black raspberries may be shortened to 5 to 8 inches; laterals on purple raspberries should be left 10 to 14 inches long.

Resembles Buzzard
When grown and in flight, the condor, a very large American vulture, resembles a turkey vulture (or buzzard) in the finger-out of the feathers at the wing tips, but it can be distinguished from the latter by the large white patch on the forehead of the under side of each wing, and by its enormous size. Its wingspread ranges from 9 to 10 feet as contrasted with the vulture's 5 1/2 to 6 feet. Its head and neck are bald and reddish-orange; the strength of its great beak is astonishing.
