All age groups except children experienced a decrease in the number of accidents in 1943 in comparison with 1942. The increase in deaths of children despite decreases of 13 to 30 per cent in adult age groups are particularly interesting as an indication of the effect of wartime relaxation of parental supervision.

Date Palm

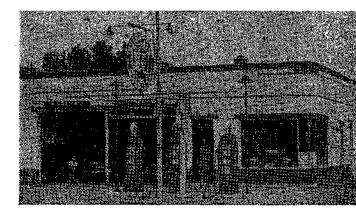

The date palm grows to a height of 60 to 100 feet amid desert conditions in the hottest regions. It will produce from 100 to 400 pounds of dates a year. Some bunches weigh as much as 40 pounds and have to be supported astride a leaf of the palm. An acre may produce more than 5,000 pounds of dates.

One barrier to understanding the Japs' language lies in the failure of some of the students to accept the Japanese way of saying things. Before one can speak fluently, it is necessary, in the linguistic sense, to think as the Japanese do.

service, suggestions about cooking, lighting and appliances, and many other things of interest and value will appear from time to time in "Edison Lines." Make "Edison Lines" a reading habit!

HEATING BY REFRIGERATION . . . Your electric refrigerator "manufactures" cold. Why isn't it possible to "reverse" the refrigeration cycle and produce heat? Then, in winter you could use cold outdoor temperature to heat your home! Actually, the idea isn't new. It originated with Lord Kelvin over 50 years ago. A few installations have been made-mostly in more temperate climates than Michigan's. So far, the idea isn't practical for general use, but our research engineers have it in their "active" file. Someday new developments may transfer it from the realm of experiment into a practical machine.

SUMMER SNACK... For something new and different, try this recipe from our Home Service Department:

Tomato and Salmon Toast

6 slices bread 6 slices American cheese 6 tbsp. flaked salmon, seasoned 12 slices bacon

Place a slice of cheese on each slice of bread. On top of cheese put the flaked salmon. Place tomatoes on salmon and two slices of bacon on each slice of tomato. Broil until bacon crisps and cheese melts.

DISTINGUISHED SERVICE . . . More than 1500 of our employes are now in the armed forces-about one out of every five. Of this number, 36 are women. There are 16 gold stars on the company's Service Flag. Every branch of the service is represented, and over 500 of the 1500 employes are overseas. Five Distinguished Service Crosses have been awarded to Edison men.

POWER GRID . . . Putting the Axis "on the griddle" is more than a figure of speech in southeastern Michigan. The uninterrupted flow of electricity to thousands of war plants has made possible new production records in all sorts of vital war materials. And one of the things that assures this uninterrupted electric supply is the "power grid" or network which covers all this area. If for any reason there is a power failure somewhere in the system, the "grid" connection makes it possible to restore service immediately by feeding in power from another point. Should a turbine in one plant shut down, other Edison plants pick up the load and keep the electricity flowing. The farflung Edison network is interconnected with the Consumers Power Company on the west, and with the Detroit municipal power plant, lending added strength to the combined power grid.

Clean Stoves Cook Better A valuable weapon in the hands of every woman doing war duty on the home front is the kitchen stove. If the family is to be well nourished for the duration, this important piece of household equipment must be kept ship shape. ## Allies Forming Huge Pincer to Squeeze Nazi Armies in France; Permit Essential Goods Output

France—U. S. infantrymen draw beads on Nazi snipers during street fighting for Brittany port of St. Malo.

EUROPE:

New Front

With U. S. and French troops storming inland in southern France, the Allies were developing a huge pincer in that embattled country to squeeze in the Germans.

Even as the new Allied invasion armada swept ashore between Toulon and Nice, U. S. and British troops cleared the Germans from the northeast corner of France. with doughboys advancing within 40 miles of Paris.

Although not conducted on the scale of D-day operations, the invasion of southern France was a gigantic undertaking, with no less than 800 warships from the U. S., British and Canadian navies supporting the landings. As U. S. doughboys and French poilus spilled onto the beaches, paratroopers and glider - borne troops were dropped far inland to paralyze enemy defenses and communications in the rear.

First sporadic, enemy resistance gradually stiffened as the Nazis overcame the shock of the attack and shifted troops and artillery into the endangered zones. Because the terrain in this sector is rugged and mountainous, the enemy was expected to base his defense on natural obstacles.

Although suffering a major defeat in northeastern France, Nazi General von Kluge succeeded in pulling the biggest bulk of his forces out of the huge trap the Allies had formed, with the British and Canadians bearing southward from below Caen and the Americans pressing eastward from Mortain and northward from Le Mans.

Even though von Kluge did extricate the bulk of his forces, Allied armor took a big toll of his desperate rearguard units, while U. S. and British airmen whose dominateα skies, shot up the long columns in

Russ Slowed

As the Russian advance rolled into East Prussia and pointed closer to central Germany itself. Nazi resistance stiffened, with the Reds punching hard for shorter gains.

To the north, 200,000 German troops in Estonia and Latvia cut off from Nazi forces in East Prussia, fought bitterly to ward off Russian attempts to outflank them and compel their surrender or push them into the Baltic sea.

In the hard fighting around East Prussia, the Russ were pressing on the province frontally from the east, and on the flank from the southeast. With the Russians 75 miles away from central Germany to the south, the Nazis threw in strong tank and infantry counter-attacks in an attempt to stop the Red steam-roller.

GERMANY: Drain Manpower

women in industry.

With German propagandists crying for three more months time to build up their sagging armies, Reichs-Mobilizer Paul Goebbels proceeded to drain the last drop of available manpower and bolster civilian economy by extensive use of

According to reliable Swiss reports, about 80 Nazi divisions, or roughly 1,200,000 men, will complete training and be ready for action by the end of October, while another 30 divisions, or 450,000 men from this year's draft, will not be available before 1945.

In mobilizing every available man, technical workers, railway and people were among those called.

CIVILIAN GOODS: Permit Production

With objections of the military chieftains overcome, the War Production board permitted the output of hundreds of items of civilian goods by manufacturers with sur-plus facilities and labor as the fourth step in its program of gradual reconversion. Previous steps included use of such former critical material as magnesium; construction of postwar working models, and permission to order machine tools.

Under the latest step, manufacturers in position to resume civilian production will obtain priority ratings for materials if they turn out such essential goods as vacuum cleaners, electric ranges, heating stoves, pails and buckets, insecticide spray guns, electric flat irons, storage batteries, farm machinery except tractors, tire jacks, gauges and pumps, alarm clocks, copper animal traps and cages, and water storage tanks for agricultural uses.

Despite the WPB order, however, Production Czar Donald Nelson warned: "For the time being, it is not anticipated that any large increases in production . . . will be possible."

DROUTH:

Heavy Rains Needed

With the prolongation of the drouth and hot, burning weather, heavy rainfall was needed throughout wide areas east of the Mississippi stretching clear to the Atlantic ocean, to save corn, soybean and garden acreage and nourish seared pasturage. While areas west of the Mississippi river and in the south benefited from adequate rainfall, drouth-stricken Illinois, Indiana and Ohio reportedly suffered a loss of 83,000,000 bushels of corn, with Ohio one of the hardest hit states, with yields of the grain supposedly off 50 per cent and the potato crop almost a total loss. Because of wilting pasturage, farmers were compelled to dip into their dwindling

In New York, only a half an inch of rainfall in July retarded growth and razed pasturage, and in Massachusetts, the agricultural commissioner declared that an inch of rain would be worth $1,000,000 to the state's farmers.

Consider Boosts

Because of the "winning battle against the black market," OPA officials reportedly considered a boost in "B" card gasoline rations to 825 miles monthly from the 470 now prevailing in the Middle West and the 325 and 400 allowed on the Atlantic and Pacific coast areas.

In considering the boost, OPA of ficials recognized that many "B" card holders were salesmen or other people who depended upon the automobile for their livelihood, and present rations were insufficient to allow them an adequate range of coverage. Because a large part of dale. black market withdrawals have come from "B" card holders, OPA said, an increase in their allotment would further decrease the illegal

Because cuts in pleasure driving are not considered hardships, and rations for war workers and others are sufficient, there would be no increase in "A" or "C" rations, OPA officials said.

During the first 36 days of the fiscal year 1945, which got underway in July, war spending approximated $10,000,000,000, roughly $1,-000,000,000 more than at the same time last year.

On August 11, the public debt stood at $210,640,000,000, an increase of $63,558,000,000 since the same date last year.

Because of the improved wheat supply situation this year and an estimated record crop of 1,132,000,-000 bushels out of 1944 harvests WFA advised farmers that any planting over the established goals would be undesirable.

Even if yields were below normal. WFA said, the goal acreage should provide for safe supplies in view of the adequate reserves.

CANADA: Help Trade

Under an act of parliament, the Canadian government will get directly in back of its exporters in the postwar world to assure part of the rich 3 billion dollar foreign wartime trade that the dominion now enjoys. Terms of the act call for the government establishment of a corporation that would be empowered to issue insurance contracts to exporters up to 100 million dollars.

In addition, the government is authorized to guarantee obligations of those countries to which shipments may be made; to make loans to such countries to assure payments to exporters, and to purchase or guarantee the securities of such countries in order to provide them with the currency with which to buy from Canada.

Grain Carryover

As the result of a 40 per cent reduction from the previous year, Canada's wheat carryover approximated 355,000,000 bushels on July 31, lowest level since 1940.

Sharp reductions also occurred in stocks of oats, which stood at 108,-000,000 bushels; barley, 45,000,000 bushels, and rye, 5,500,000 bushels

High wages and plenty of work has brought hard, dull times to the nation's pawnbrokers. Few people want to borrow money now, and those who do pay off their loans quickly. That means little interest

The other side of the game-the sale of unredeemed pledges-is also at low ebb. Most shops sold out their stock of miscellaneous merchandise in the early days of the war. Now, with plenty of cash customers, the broker has little to sell.
