Celebrated Golden Wedding

Mr. and Mrs. James L. Purdy.

The relatives and many friends of Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Purdy of Gagetown called to extend greetings and congratulations to them on Wednesday evening, August 30, and to acknowledge their golden wedding anniversary.

The marriage of James L. Purdy and Cora O. Warner took place at Cass City in what was then called the Tenant House, operated at the time of the wedding by George S. Farrar, step-father of the bride and bridesmaid, and a former resident who was widely known by all old residents and road travelers of that time.

Mr. and Mrs. Purdy were married on August 30, 1894, by the late Rev. F. M. Gilchrist, then pastor of the Methodist church of Cass City, who performed the ceremony. The couple were attended by C. T. Purdy, brother of the groom, and the late Edith Warner Leipprandt, sister of the bride.

Lloyd McGinn, genial hardware merchant who still operates a general hardware store in Gagetown, says he can remember very well, when he was employed by the groom at that time, of getting old Dobbin and the top buggy all decorated up at high noon of that eventful day and starting the groom for Cass City to be married. J. L. Purdy was born at Pontiac, Michigan, August 30, 1869, so the occasion Wednesday was also Mr. Purdy's 75th birthday. Mrs. Purdy was born one mile west of Cass City and lived in Cass City all her life before coming to Gagetown as a bride.

Mr. and Mrs. Purdy have been residents of Gagetown and Mr. Purdy has operated a bank in Gagetown for 54 years, and so they have a wide circle of friends and associates in and near Cass City and vicinity and in the Gagetown community.

They have two daughters, Florence Purdy, at home, and Carolyn Wilson, wife of Donald G. Wilson, who lives at Gagetown. Concluded on page 4.

Funeral of Former Sanilac County Sheriff Held Wednesday

Funeral services for Archibald C. Graham, 81, a former resident of Sanilac county, were held here on Wednesday at 1:30 p. m., in the Baptist church. Rev. Arnold Olsen officiated and burial was made in Elkland cemetery.

Mr. Graham passed away Monday night at his home in Louisville, Ky. He had been in failing health for some time. He was born Sept. 28, 1862, in Aldboro, Ont., and came to Michigan at an early age. For many years he conducted a store at Freiburger. He was sheriff of Sanilac county from 1910 to 1912 and was a former school teacher, starting his teaching career at the age of 17. In 1924, he moved to Kentucky and for many years was superintendent of the Anti-Saloon League for that state. He was a member of the Baptist church.

He was first married to Miss Frances Brown, who passed away in February, 1928. In November of 1935, he married Miss Bessie Brown, who survives him. Also surviving are six sons and daughters: Mrs. George Bigge of Washington, D. C., Russell Graham of Ann Arbor, Miss Johanna and Mrs. John Brewer of Detroit, Curtis Graham of Uby, and Mrs. W. Whipple of Indianapolis, Ind.; nine grandchildren; a sister, Miss Reba Graham of St. Petersburg, Fla.; and a brother, Hugh Graham, of Sault Ste. Marie, Ont.

Leslie Profit Married Caro Girl Saturday

At a very pretty late afternoon ceremony in the chapel of the Methodist church in Caro Saturday, Aug. 26, Miss Maxine Abke, daughter of Mrs. Myrtle Abke, of Caro, became the bride of Leslie Profit, son of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Profit, of Cass City. The service was read by Dr. E. Ray Willson with only near relatives present.

Attendants were the bride's brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Abke, of Caro, and the groom's sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Willits, of Midland.

The bride chose for her wedding a floor-length gown of net over white satin. Her fingertip veil was held in place by a wreath of orange blossoms. Her arm bouquet was of yellow roses and baby mums centered with an orchid tied with white. The matrons of honor wore floor-length gowns of aqua. Their shoulder-length aqua veils were held with bands fashioned of small pink roses, and their bouquets of white mums and pink roses were tied with pink.

For her wedding trip Mrs. Profit wore a green suit and the orchid corsage from her wedding bouquet. A dinner was served by the bride's mother, following the ceremony, to the bridal party and relatives numbering about 20.

The bride was graduated from the Caro high school in 1940 and since then has been employed as a bookkeeper in the Penney store in Caro. The groom is a graduate of the local high school with the class of 1937 and has devoted his time since to farming. Mr. and Mrs. Profit will make their home on a farm north of town.

The bride was complimented with three showers given by friends before her wedding.

Miss Henderson and Henry R. Hulburt Exchange Vows

On Sunday afternoon at four o'clock, Rev. Robert Morton officiated at the ceremony which united in marriage Miss Grace M. Henderson of Flint, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Henderson of Bad Axe, and Pvt. Henry R. Hulburt, youngest son of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Hulburt, of Cass City. The rites were performed at the parsonage at Uby.

Attendants were Miss Jean Baker of Flint and Harold Hulburt of Cass City, brother of the groom. The bride wore an afternoon dress of rose crepe trimmed in lilac. Her accessories and her orchid corsage were of the same lilac shade. Miss Baker, her bridesmaid, wore an afternoon dress of aqua blue with pale blue accessories and red roses.

Mrs. Henderson chose a dark blue suit for her daughter's wedding, and Mrs. Hulburt was dressed in light blue. Both mothers wore gardenia corsages.

After the ceremony, guests were served wedding cake and ice cream at the home of the bride. Those in attendance included, besides the parents of the bride and groom, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Hulburt and family of Cass City, Mr. and Mrs. Grover Hulburt of Flint, the bride's sister and brother, Ethel and John Henderson of Bad Axe, Mrs. Dorothy Rohnkol and two children, Billy and Patricia, of Detroit and Mr. and Mrs. Fay McComb of Romulus. Mrs. McComb is a sister of the bride.

Mrs. Hulburt has been employed for several years at the A-C Spark Plug Co. in Flint, and her husband is on a 10-day furlough from Camp Blanding, Florida. They will leave today (Friday) for Camp Blanding where they expect to make their home.

Like a postman who prefers a 10-mile hike for a holiday, a group of Michigan newspapermen journeyed recently to the Cassidy Lake "honor camp" of the state corrections commission, located in the Waterloo recreational area in Washtenaw and Jackson counties. Then the newsmen innocently stumbled upon a series of news stories.

It was just "one of those things" that makes Michigan so interesting. F'instance:

First, the escape of Norman Mundt, a life-term inmate member of the Jackson state prison band which had been detailed to Cassidy Lake for the day. Mundt was captured in 24 hours. It seems that he had selected, as his haven of refuge, a nearby farmhouse owned by a Detroit policeman. Irony itself.

Second, a significant experiment in modern penology whereby 83 inmates from the Jackson prison—36 of them being first offenders and 47 others being about to receive parole because of their good behavior—have been accorded partial freedom at an attractive lake camp that is entirely without walls or armed guards.

And third, a study in contrast between two groups—six delinquent youths assigned to the camp by probate judges and the 83 selected inmates from the main prison at Jackson.

The escape of Norman Mundt turned out to be one of the interesting incidents of the day. It was the unheralded, indirect result of a program of special entertainment which had been arranged by the corrections commission for the benefit of the visiting newsmen.

The program consisted of drills by the Michigan State Zouaves, a group of prison inmates, garbed in the traditional military costumes of the original French zouaves—red fez hats with black tassels, red jackets, bright blue knickers, white

Miss Walker Married In Church Rites

In a pretty church ceremony at nine o'clock on Wednesday morning in St. Columbkille Catholic church in Sheridan, Miss Lila Walker, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James C. Walker of Cass City, became the bride of Mr. Stephen Linus Maurer, son of Mr. and Mrs. Leo Maurer of Bad Axe. Rev. Fr. Edward Werm performed the ceremony before an altar decorated in pastel shades of gladioli and white candles.

The bride was lovely in a gown of white brocaded chiffon over satin with fitted bodice, sweetheart neckline, and long leg-of-mutton sleeves ending in points over the hands. A row of tiny buttons trimmed the back of the bodice, and the floor-length skirt had a short circular train. She wore a fingertip veil of illusion edged in lace and carried an arm bouquet of white roses and gardenias. Her pearl necklace was a gift of the groom.

Miss Norine Maurer, sister of the groom, was bridesmaid. Her gown had a blue net skirt and matching taffeta bodice with a sweetheart neckline, short sleeves and long full skirt. Her headpiece was of matching blue flowers and she carried an arm bouquet of shell pink roses. Mrs. John Krug, sister of the bride, was matron of honor. Her gown and arm bouquet were identical in color and style. Concluded on page 5.

C. C. H. S. Teams Were Champions in Four Fields of Sport

In his first year at the local high school athletic teams under his tutelage compiled a most impressive record by winning championships in all four fields of sports.

The football season of 1943 ended with the Redhaws as county champs and runner-up to Bad Axe by one percentage point in the Upper Thumb race. Coach London's basketball team of last year proved to be tops when they won the county district and regional championships and then brought home the state runner-up trophy. Concluded on page 5.

Next Week Cass City School Open Wednesday Only

Regular Sessions Will Commence on Monday, September 11

At a consultation of the school administration, Village Health Officer Evelyn Wells and local doctors, it was decided that school at Cass City next week for all grades above the kindergarten would be limited to one day only—Wednesday, Sept. 6. Kindergarten pupils will not report until the following Monday, Sept. 11.

This action is taken because of the poliomyelitis prevalence in the state. There is but one case of the disease reported in Cass City and that is well on the way to recovery. The one-day session next week is taken as a precautionary measure.

School authorities in designating Wednesday, Sept. 6, as enrollment day for all pupils in grades one to twelve inclusive are particularly anxious that new students of the school be sure to be present that day so that the school program for the fall term may be arranged by Monday, Sept. 11, when the regular sessions commence.

WEEKLY NEWS ANALYSIS

Nazis Fall Back Toward Border Under Attack of Allied Columns; 'Big Four' Shape Postwar World

Released by Western Newspaper Union.

(EDITOR'S NOTE: When opinions are expressed in these columns, they are those of Western Newspaper Union's news analysts and not necessarily of this newspaper.)

EUROPE:
Clearing France

With swift Allied columns hacking at their hard-pressed flanks in the north, remnants of German Marshal von Kluge's Seventh army straggled across the Seine toward the borders of their homeland, while to the south, other Allied mechanized forces swept forward before weak resistance.

Having pulled the bulk of his Seventh army out of the Falaise-Argentan trap in Normandy, von Kluge confronted another immediate threat when dashing Lieut. Gen. George S. Patton raced his armored columns to the retreating Germans' rear along the Seine river and harassed their crossing.

With Patton's men slashing the enemy's flanking rearwards near the Seine, British and Canadian troops pressed against the Nazis from the north of this pocket, and all the while swarms of Allied planes roared overhead, bombing the Germans' frantic withdrawal eastward.

As the Allies by-passed Paris to concentrate on the crumbling German defenses in the north, that famed French capital fell to Patriot forces after brisk skirmishing.

Aided by mobile surgery and reconditioning treatment, 96 per cent of the wounded American soldiers have recovered, with about two-thirds returning to duty, the war department said. From figures compiled between June 25 and July 25, the department said 23 per cent of the men released from hospitals with serious physical limitations elected to remain in service.

POSTWAR PEACE:
Powers Confer

With representatives of the U. S., Great Britain and Russia sitting down to discuss postwar peace plans at the quaint Dumbarton Oaks estate in Washington, D. C., favor was shown the U. S. proposal for organization of a world assembly under leadership of the big powers, which would use force, if necessary, to suppress aggression. Because Russia is not at war with Japan, China was not to join in the conference until the Reds left.

As the meeting got under way, American participation promised to be of a non-partisan, non-political nature, with John Foster Dulles, Gen. Thomas E. Dewey's advisor on foreign affairs, consulting with Secretary of State Cordell Hull on the course of the conferences. Hull extended an invitation to Dewey to participate in the discussions following the latter's apprehensions that the interests of smaller nations might be overlooked.

Before force would be employed under plans discussed by the conference, attempts would be made to settle disputes peacefully, with a world court provided for adjudication. Promotion of world prosperity was recognized as an important factor in the maintenance of stability.

DEMobilIZATION:
Gradual Process

Although from one to two million American soldiers may be released upon the defeat of Germany, their discharge will not be accomplished "in one day," Selective Service Director Lewis B. Hershey declared.

"If we let out 1,000 an hour," General Hershey said, "it will still take 10 months to get rid of 2,000,000 to 2,500,000 men."

Although endorsing the system of gradual demobilization when the war ends, General Hershey admitted its unpopularity. Said he: "... When the war is over, people want their boys to come home ..."

Even after Germany is defeated, General Hershey said, the present induction of between 70,000 to 100,000 men a month will continue to remain in force.

PACIFIC:
Soften Foe

As U. S. ground troops prepared for further assaults on the strategic outer defense system of the enemy, American bombers ranged over the whole western Pacific, softening up the Japs' military installations.

While the Americans girded for new blows, they tightened their grip on the Mariana islands, where 44,866 Japanese fell in the conquest of Saipan, Tinian and Guam, with a U. S. loss of 4,470 killed, 721 missing and 20,345 wounded.

In ranging the Pacific, American bombers walloped Paramushiro in the north and the Carolines and Marshalls to the south, while still other wingmen under General MacArthur's command blasted enemy islands leading to the Philippines and shipping plying in nearby waters.

GI SPORTS

Servicemen overseas will soon get the benefit of an expanded entertainment and sports program. Lieut. Col. Henry Clark, head of the athletic branch of the special services division, plans to organize championship contests between various units to stimulate competition and interest. Most popular games, Colonel Clark found, are softball, volleyball, boxing and horseshoes. These require less room and equipment than baseball or football.

COTTON:
Wants Parity

Advising cotton growers to keep their product off the market to boost prices, Sen. John H. Bankhead (Ala.) declared his willingness to fight to Christmas to bring returns up to parity.

Sponsor of an amendment to the price control bill ordering increases in textile prices to reflect parity, Bankhead conferred with manufacturers, shippers and government officials on means of raising cotton returns, with consideration given loans from 95 to 97 1/2 per cent of parity as a last resort if other methods fail.

In advocating withholding of cotton from the market, Bankhead clashed with famed Georgian Agrarian Tom Linder, who said such action would result in the government dumping its stocks to further aggravate the price situation. Countering Linder's statement, Bankhead said that with prices now depressed because of insufficient demand, farmers should put their cotton in loan until a profitable marketing program was developed.

FUEL:
Supplies Cut

With demands exceeding production, civilian stores of industrial fuel oils, heating oils and gasoline declined 32 per cent from the fall of 1941, Deputy Petroleum Administrator Ralph K. Davies reported.

Next to industrial fuel, stocks of gas showed the biggest decrease, being 68 per cent of 1941 supplies. From July 1 to August 5, Davies said, shipments exceeded production by 95,000 barrels a day, with stock totalling 43,038,000 barrels as of the latter date.

Reserves of heating oils showed the smallest dip, being 88 per cent of the 1941 figure.

VETERINARIANS:
Report Progress

Approximately 100,000 dairy cows in New Jersey, New York and Wisconsin received artificial insemination in 1943, Dr. C. S. Bryan of East Lansing, Mich., told the American Veterinary Medical association convention in Chicago.

Delegates also were told of plans to provide for equal distribution of veterinarians throughout the country after the war, and of the current practice of promoting preventive medicine through proper nutrition, breeding, management and sanitation.

Speaking of artificial insemination, Dr. Bryan declared: "The advantages of the method, such as extending the usefulness of outstanding sires and providing thousands of dairy herds with the services of prize bulls which would otherwise not be available to them, are obvious."

News Briefs

As a product of Japan's current deliriousness on postwar problems, the Tokyo radio said, Nipponese statesmen have conceived the development of a co-prosperity sphere based upon division of the world into three spheres of influence—East Asiatic, North and South American, and European—with leader nations in each one promoting neighborliness, joint defense and business.

Back from a tour of Soviet Russia, Eric Johnston, president of the U. S. Chamber of Commerce, declared: "In my travels I have rediscovered America. Never before did I realize the importance of our freedom, our standard of living, our right of habeas corpus, our bill of rights ..."

If plans materialize, the Erie railroad's 4 per cent first mortgage bonds issued in 1947 will be retired. Due in 1947, the bonds are the oldest railroad securities outstanding.

JAP RELOCATION:
Seek Return to Coast

Three American citizens of Japanese descent—one the widow of a Japanese-American soldier killed in action, and another a discharged U. S. vet—filed a writ in federal court in San Francisco, Calif., seeking the right to reestablish residence on the Pacific coast.

Although the complainants did not challenge the validity of the original exclusion order, they said that grounds for its further enforcement no longer existed, in view of the fact that there was no apparent danger of a Japanese invasion and the army itself has recognized this by taking such steps as cancellation of dim-out regulations on the west coast.

Of 112,000 Japanese-Americans evacuated from the Pacific coast, some 70,000 of loyal character scattered throughout relocation camps in the west would be affected by the decision. Another 27,000 have been relocated in jobs elsewhere in the country, while 18,000 disloyal Japanese-Americans have been segregated at Tule Lake, Calif.

LIVING COSTS

A slight rise in the cost of living took place in July, the National Industrial Conference board reports. For the country as a whole the increase was .06 per cent as compared with June. Sixty-three industrial cities are included in the monthly survey. In all but six the cost items advanced.

The largest rise was in Trenton, N. J., where a jump of 2.2 per cent was noted. Declines were few and small, the greatest being only .04 per cent in Spokane, Wash.

Carry the salad right along with you on that next picnic. It won't melt if you pile ice cubes in the bottom of a double boiler and tuck the crisp vitamins or gelatin on top.

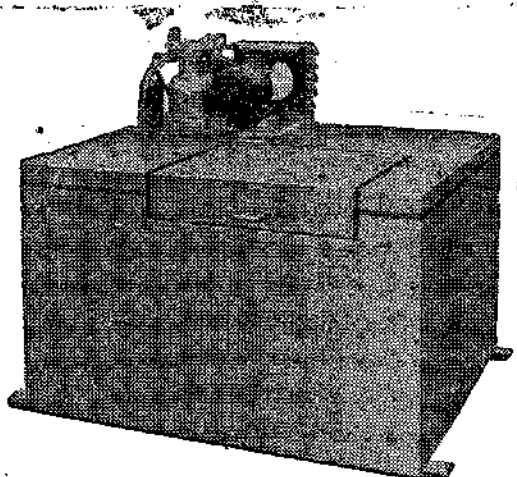

.... I'm worth more to my boss now that he's installed a SCHULTZ Electric Milk Cooler

Because Schultz Electric Coolers quickly cool my milk—and keep it cool they insure my boss, the full butter fat test I have worked so hard to produce. Schultz Coolers also halt bacteria growth and make my milk more salable.

The Schultz principle is that of floating ice and top cooling without the need of a circulating pump of any kind. The coils automatically manufacture the ice on the smooth inside surface of the cabinet walls. This allows the ice to release and float on top of the water where it is needed. Schultz coolers effectively reduce labor costs; keep the nights milk under 40°. Many users say, "I wouldn't sell my Schultz Cooler for $1,000.00 if I couldn't get another."

Available in sizes to cool from 2 to 12 cans at one time. Buy the cooler to fit the job—not the milk house. Can be very easily installed in the average milk house. Easy payment plan can be arranged. See us today for further facts and prices.

Armed patriots also were rising throughout all of southern France as Allied armies drove northward from beachhead positions along the Riviera and around Bordeaux. Meeting slight German resistance in the scenic mountain country, the U. S. and Free French columns fanned out in all directions, while big cities like Marseilles, Grenoble and Lyon came within their grasp.

The French political picture took another quick turn, with Gen. Charles de Gaulle established firmly on home soil, and the Collaborationist government of Pierre Laval in exile. Having refused to leave French soil, 88-year-old Chief of State Marshal Petain reportedly was taken prisoner by the Germans.

EASTERN FRONT:
Fighting Stiffens

With the Germans standing their ground and beginning to fight back after deep withdrawals into central Europe, the war increased in intensity on the eastern front, with the Russians still knocking hard at the door to East Prussia.

While bitter fighting raged on the East Prussian border, Nazi troops to the north cleared a corridor to their Baltic armies previously shut off by a quick Russian thrust to the Gulf of Riga.

In the flaming fight for Warsaw, Russian troops gained ground to the northeast of the city in bitter tank and infantry battles, while south of the city, the Reds brought up additional forces west of the Vistula river to menace the flat, plains country leading to the border of the Silesian industrial province of Germany.

Equally stubborn fighting flared on the northern Romanian border, where the Russians drove for the rich Ploesti oil fields. Early fighting was marked by the Germans' abandonment of the big industrial city of Iasi, hub of the Nazis' successful defense of the region last spring.

Drought Takes Fruit Crop Toll

Michigan's fruit crop has suffered at least a 20 per cent reduction in volume from early July estimates, but has received a definite boost in quality in the case of some fruits such as grapes as a result of the relatively high temperatures. That is the way V. R. Gardner, professor of horticulture and director of the experiment station at Michigan State college, sizes up the present situation. An even greater cut will take place in fruit volume if the dry weather continues, predicts Gardner.

An optimistic note is from the viewpoint of the consumer who will benefit by getting fruit of a higher sugar content and better flavor. At the same time the consumer may be called on to pay slightly higher prices as a result of the smaller production, and the producer is taking a loss from smaller yields of nearly all crops.

Conditions as of July 1 indicated that Michigan would have good pear, peach and grape crops, and a medium apple crop. But according to Director Gardner, growers are harvesting substantially less than anticipated due to the drought. As the dry weather continues, volume is shrinking every day.

It is now too late for rains to benefit grapes, Bartlett pears, and Wealthy and McIntosh apples. Immediate rains can help late maturing fruits.

Most common factor resulting in reduced volume is the shrinkage in the size of fruits, such as apples and peaches. Wineries and those canning fruit juices will particularly benefit, however, from the improved quality.

for a family-size farm.

"The county committee, which reviews and passes on applications, will give special consideration to each veteran's application," continued Mr. Wills. "The loans bear 5% interest and are usually repayable within five years. The county supervisors and we committee give advice and assistance in every way possible. The average loan in this area is around $1200 but may be higher or lower to meet the particular need of the family."

Veterans are also eligible to buy farms under the Bankhead-Jones Tenant act but since Congress cut the appropriation for this purpose about 50%, only a limited number of loans can be made. The Farm Security Administration can also make supplementary loans to veterans who wish to take advantage of the provisions offered in the GI Bill of Rights. The FSA has already assisted many veterans to get reestablished on farms. They are working closely with service officers and veterans' organizations. For further information, see John McDermott, FSA supervisor, whose office is in the State Savings bank, Caro.

Labor Saver
Good tools kept knife-edge sharp are the greatest labor saver any gardener can produce. Five minutes spent in sharpening the hoe, lawn mower, or even the shovel before work will save hours of time on the job, and the back won't be so lame the next day.

County Kitchens Become Tin Mines

For War Items

Women of Tuscola county can "mine" tin sufficient for 120 Flying Fortresses this year.

These figures were compiled by J. A. Stewart, vice president of the American Can company, on the basis of canned foods consumed by civilians in the county during 1943. On the basis of last year's consumption, civilians will open 2,891,220 cans of food this year, he said. According to a table recently issued by Washington, 24,000 cans provide tin sufficient for one Flying Fortress.

Meanwhile, the armed forces consumed approximately three billion cans of food during 1943 and needs for the current year are expected to rise to three and a quarter billion cans, Mr. Stewart said. He pointed out that with a greatly increased number of the armed forces in overseas duty, more canned foods will be needed because the can has proved the most practical container for the shipment of foods abroad.

Betty Chapdelaine and Shirley Surprenant sang the nuptial mass accompanied by Mrs. Sam Magher at the organ. John Krug, brother-in-law of the bride, was best man. Frank Bukowski served as acolyte during the ceremony, and John Maurer and Eddie Ross were the ushers. They wore gardenias on their lapels.

A reception for the wedding guests was held in the bride's home after the ceremony. A beautiful bouquet of salmon gladioli artistically arranged centered the table which was covered with a white linen cloth.

A three-tiered wedding cake topped with flowers and encircled by a wreath of tiny white flowers was cut by the bride before the couple left for a short wedding trip to northern Michigan. For traveling the bride chose a navy suit with white accessories. She wore the gardenias from her bridal bouquet.

Mrs. Walker, mother of the bride, wore black and white, and Mrs. Maurer, mother of the groom, wore navy and white. Both had corsages of red roses.

Mr. Maurer is a graduate of the Uby high school. Mrs. Maurer was graduated from the Cass City high school and has been employed at the Mac & Scotty drug store.

For the pleasure of their many friends, a reception was given in the St. Andrew's hall in Sheridan Wednesday evening. The couple received many lovely gifts.

On Sunday, August 20, Miss Walker was guest of honor at a miscellaneous shower given by Mrs. Clarence Murray and Mrs. Bob Graham at the home of Mrs. Murray at Verona.

After September 6, Mr. and Mrs. Maurer will reside one and one-half miles south of Verona.

Sand Loose
Sand is loose and holds plenty of air, but water runs right through and carries the minerals with it. So, to make sandy soil fertile, one needs to work fertilizers into it, or decayed leaves, grass clippings and the discarded tops and casings of vegetables such as beet and carrot tops and pea pods. These give the soil a body which will hold water and minerals.

DETROIT EDISON LINES

Timely items concerning your electric service, suggestions about cooking, lighting and appliances, and many other things of interest and value will appear from time to time in "Edison Lines." Make "Edison Lines" a reading habit!

DOGS FOR WAR . . . Lance V. Liebestraum and Rhett of Palm Hill have joined the Marines! These two registered German shepherd patrol dogs of Detroit Edison, their home-front duty ended, recently left for active roles with the "Devil Dogs" of the U. S. Marine Corps. Two years ago the dogs were acquired to assist in patrolling the company's outdoor 120,000-volt step-down stations. Intelligent, alert and highly trained, these dogs increased the effectiveness of each company patrolman, thus saving manpower for other important war work. For donating the services of these two canine warriors, the company has received a citation from Lieut. General A. A. Vandegrift, Commandant, U. S. Marine Corps.

WAGES 1c AN HOUR . . . Your household electric servants work for a few cents a day. They do such a big job in the average home—washing and ironing and cleaning and cooking—that most people do not realize how little they cost to operate. Actually, many of them operate for only a fraction of a cent per hour. Here are the wages of some of your common electric servants: clock, 3 1/2 cents per month; vacuum cleaner, 5 cents per month; toaster, 6 cents per month; coffee maker, 11 1/2 cents per month; electric fan, 1 cent for 10 hours; shaver, 5 cents per month; clothes washer, 6 cents per month; electric iron, 5 cents per week; electric range, 6 cents per day (average cost for family of four).

SUMMER RECIPE . . . Our Home Service Department suggests this recipe for an appetizing lunch:

Shrimp Luncheon Dish
In a skillet melt 3 tbsp. butter. Add in order given: 1 onion, minced; 1 green pepper, minced; 1 clove garlic, minced; 1/4 cup pimiento, minced; 1 cup rice, washed well. Clean and add 1/2 cup mushrooms, 1 1/2 cups shrimp. Add 1 tsp. salt, 1 bay leaf, 2 cups water. Cover skillet and place on unit turned to "high." When steaming freely, turn off for 45 minutes.

THANKS! . . . We hesitate to say anything like this about ourselves. But when someone else sends it in as his own opinion, unsolicited, we cannot resist passing it along. It comes from an officer in the U. S. Army:

" . . . Thanks again for the best residence electric service in the world. At least, I have heard it so described, and from 18 years' experience, I believe the compliment justified."

Mixing Periods
With discretion, periods may be mixed, but to avoid incongruity
there are things to remember about the general tone of a house or a room. Color should be the keynote to its mode. Louis XV and other French period furniture is usually ornate and frail in appearance, calling for pastel walls and dainty silken drapery. Flowered chintzes, ruffled curtains and prim walls are proper for Colonial. Modern, Spanish, and Chinese themes express themselves
in vivid splashes of color.

Soviet Mother Wins Revenge

Husband, Two Sons Lost In Battle, She Takes To Piloting Tank.

MOSCOW, USSR. — "A Mother's Revenge" might be the title of the story of Maria Vasilyevna Otkya-brskaya. She is a 38-year-old guards sergeant in the tank corps and has recently been awarded the order of the Patriotic War first degree for valor in battle.

Maria comes from Sevastopol. In prewar days she, her husband and their two sons had a happy home life. A chauffeur by profession, Maria was domestically minded and gave much time to sewing, em-brodering and decorating her modest apartment. But like so many Russian women she was trained for war. She had received the Voroshilov badge for marksmanship and had mastered the machine gun.

War came. Maria's husband, Ilya Fedotovitch, became a regimental commissar. Her two sons enlisted.
She remained at home. Soon she received the news that her husband had died "the death of the brave."
Her two sons also perished. Her father and mother found themselves in German-occupied territory. Sevastopol was in flames and Maria, alone now, had to abandon her home and flee eastward. She couldn't settle down to any peaceful pursuit.
She wanted to go to work not as a Red Cross nurse, stretcher bearer, sniper or infantryman but as a tank driver. She was consumed with a passion to avenge the death of her husband and her two sons.

Writes to Stalin.

She wrote to Premier Marshal
Josef V. Stalin that she was contributing 50,000 rubles for the purchase of a tank which she herself
wanted to drive. "I want the tank named Fighting Comrade," she wrote. "I am a chauffeur by profession and can handle a machine gun and have also earned the Voroshilov badge for marksmanship."

Stalin replied: "Your wish shall be fulfilled."

Maria went to the front with her "Fighting Comrade." Her crew was made up of young men and she treated them like a mother. She rose earlier than they, cooked breakfast for them, washed and mended their clothes and in the evenings sat up with them talking about their homes, their families, their plans,
their future.

Then came the first baptism of fire. She was sent in to attack advancing German infantry. She piloted the tank while gunners took a heavy toll of the enemy. This battle proved a real triumph for Maria and her crew. Then came other battles. Maria became a seasoned soldier. Her "Fighting Comrade" went on scouting expeditions, lay in ambush, participated in frontal attacks and pincer movements.

Has Her Revenge.

Maria was having her revenge on the army that had killed her husband and her sons, that may have made slaves of her father and mother, might even have ended their lives.

Then a shell struck the "Fighting Comrade," disabled it. There was no one near to tow it to the rear. Maria and the crew remained for three days beside the damaged tank.
When it was repaired she once more went into battle.

Once, after a hard fight, the "Fighting Comrade," together with other tanks, hid in a forest. Suddenly German artillery started shelling them. The "Fighting Comrade" was hit. Maria and her crew jumped out and started to repair the damaged caterpillar. Shelling continued incessantly. Maria was urged to leave the repairing to the men.
But she insisted on doing her share.

Two shells exploded nearby and Maria fell. But she wasn't dead. She was taken to a hospital and it was there that the colonel of her unit brought her the news that she was awarded a high decoration for valor.

"My men must also be decorated," she said to the colonel.

"They have been," he answered.

Although still in the hospital, Maria is happy. Her one desire is to recuperate quickly and go back to the front with her own or another "Fighting Comrade."

Mrs. Jerome Root received word that her nephew, Lt. Ted Kara, is missing in action in New Guinea.
Ted was a bombardier in the Army.
Before entering the service of his country, he was a bantam boxer.
In the fall of 1936, Ted entered the Golden Gloves and won several boxing matches, winning the title of champion of the world. He was once sent to Berlin to box in the Olympics in 1937, but lost that contest. Ted was well acquainted in Cass City and had many friends.
Before he took up boxing, he came to spend his school vacations at the farm home of his aunt and uncle here for many summers. Ted has a brother, Lt. Frank Kara, who also spent most of his school vacations
here. He is an air pilot in Italy.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Wright received the following letter from Pfc. Lance Robinson, who is stationed in India:

"Dear Friends: I received your very welcome letter the other day,
and as I had a little time to myself, I thought I would write to you. I am feeling as good as can be expected.

"I came back from a swell furlough about a week ago. I took a trip up in the Himalayan mountains to a place called Darjeeling,
the Queen of the Hill Stations.
What a place it was, situated eight thousand feet up in the clouds. One of the things I noticed was that when I was walking up a hill, I could hear it thunder below. The scenery there was beautiful. A bunch of us would take a walk every evening just to see the beautiful changes the setting sun made on the surrounding hills. The flowers there were more beautiful than I could ever tell about, but only to remember the rest of my life.

"Monsoons are a heavy rainy season, and we sure get enough of them. I will close for now and get ready to eat dinner. Write when you can, for I will."

THIS AND THAT—
Frank and Louis Striffler, down in Detroit, have been missing the
"25 and 35 years ago" items in the Chronicle. Frankly, they comment, there's not much in the paper when the "old timers" items are omitted and, through their relatives, let the editor know about it too. Yet they continue sending their two dollars per annum regularly even when their favorite paragraphs are omitted months at a time because of labor difficulties. This week, we publish the 25 and 35 items again for the sake of these and other "old timers."

Ball Bearings
It was in 1880 that the first patents for the manufacture of commercial ball bearings was taken out
by William Brown of Birmingham, England. While these English companies were making ball bearings
by hand methods under great secrecy and not worrying about interchangeability of parts, Americans were busy designing and building machinery for production operations on balls.
